

33RD YEAR

RANGER, TEXAS, SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1951

PRICE FIVE CENTS No. 149

SEEN OR HEARD

Bob Gans, director of the Bulldog Band, was really in the dumps the other day. It seems that the Band members are getting a show free from Bran Garner at the Arcadia Theatre to raise money for their band jackets, and no one will buy any tickets. All year long the band plays for any and every occasion regardless of the weather, or how badly they needed to be studying for other subjects, parades, cake walks, and anything else that came along the band came right out and did their best. Now are we gonna turn our heads when they come around selling tickets to their show, and mumble something or the other to keep from buying a ticket, or are we going to show our appreciation and give the kids a boost. If we are going to see that they get a jacket for their splendid performances and untiring efforts let's get on the band wagon and buy some of those tickets. It is much better to give them a jacket now rather than wait until they are gone and say they should have had one.

Now that everyone is about over the efforts of the big Turkey dinner and the football game, things can return to normal around Ranger for a few days. That food didn't taste so good after we lost to Winters Thursday.

The Volunteer Fire Department is the best institution Ranger has bar none. They do a splendid job of handling traffic at the ball games, fight the fires, and any other chore that no one else wants to do, without grumbling.

Old man weather brought Ranger 26 of an inch of moisture during the night the rain gauge showed this morning, with the light rain and drizzle continuing through most of the day.

Mostly light drizzle was coming down during the morning with some scattered showers lasting a short time. Not that we need any cold weather, but if it would happen to freeze along with this drizzle maybe some unwary ducks would land around here and give local hunters a chance to fill up the deep freezer.

WFR&S Railroad Man Loses Foot In Accident

A motorcar accident about seven miles north of Ranger on the Wichita Falls and Southern Railway hospitalized two of the three members of the bridge crew riding on the car, with one of the men losing a foot in the accident. The cause of the wreck is still unknown according to W. J. Wininger of the railroad. B. N. Gifford, G. C. Grogan, and foreman A. W. Strickland, were the men involved in the accident. Gifford had his right foot severely broken and it was later amputated after he had been taken to a Ranger hospital. Grogan's right foot was broken and A. W. Strickland escaped uninjured from the wreck. Grogan is expected to be released from the hospital "in a day or two," according to Wininger.

Radio Equipment For Sheriff's Department Has Been Purchased

Eastland county peace officers will be using 2-way radio equipment within the next few days. Part of the equipment has been ordered, and will be delivered immediately. Sheriff Tucker deserves much credit for this, as he has put in many days and hours soliciting funds for the purchase. As a matter of fact he is still short about $1,100, though the sheriff says he will get it within the next few weeks. With this money he will purchase an aerial to be placed on top of the standpipe in Eastland City Park. Broadcasting will originate in a private room in the sheriff's office, and county patrol cars driven by the sheriff and his deputies will be equipped with 2-way radio sets. In order to make the plan more effective Cisco councilmen have purchased equipment for the Cisco police department, and it is highly probable that Eastland and Ranger city officials will do likewise, it is said. The cost for equipping cities of this size with 2-way radio service is less than $1,000, we are told. With Eastland, Cisco and Ranger hooked up with County Sheriff's department, the lawless element will possibly think twice before they enter this section. To the East we have Fort Worth's radio service, and on the West we have Abilene. Should a crime be committed along this route, every peace officer in the country would be alerted, and giddy parties would find it rather difficult to escape. Every road would be blocked by officers within ten minutes after the crime was committed. Those who have not contributed to this fund are requested to contact Sheriff Tucker.

Ridgway Says Russia Shot UN Plane Down Over Neutral Sea

PARIS, Nov. 24 (UP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway told the United Nations today that two Soviet fighter planes attacked a missing UN weather reconnaissance aircraft more than 20 miles outside Russian territory. Ridgway's report, submitted to the UN Security Council, blasted a formal Soviet accusation to the United States that the UN twin-engine plane with 10 men aboard deliberately flew over Russia's naval base at Vladivostok.

The report from the UN supreme commander in Korea said an intensive search for the Navy P2V Neptune patrol bomber proved fruitless. It disappeared Nov. 6 while on a weather reconnaissance mission for the UN command. "The route this plane was following did not approach closer than 40 miles to U.S.S.R. territory, and the plane crew had been thoroughly briefed not to approach closer than 20 miles to USSR territory under any circumstances," the note said. "It can only be concluded that the plane made neither an intentional nor an unplanned approach to the Russian coast and that the plane was intercepted and attacked without warning while over international water, and furthermore, while well outside of 20 miles from the Russian coastline."

From the plane's last reported position, the report said, there is no doubt it was the same aircraft referred to in a formal Soviet protest delivered Nov. 7 in Moscow. The Russian note said that two Soviet fighter planes fired on a twin-engine bomber Nov. 6 in the vicinity of Cape Ostrovnya.

U. S. delegate Warren B. Austin handed the report to Secretary General Trygve Lie for the information of the Security Council which established the UN command in Korea shortly after the outbreak of hostilities there last year.

The report did not say that any action be taken. However, in San Francisco Mrs. Franz Rosenfeld, mother of Lt. Sam Rosenfeld, one of the missing Navy crewmen, disclosed a letter that he had flown over Soviet territory previously.

The parents of another crewman—Lt. (J.G.) Judd C. Hodgson—said in Dakota, Ill., that they had been informed by their son's commander, Cmdr. G. U. Howard, that the Navy "exhausted every possibility to locate" the missing flier. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Hodgson said Howard's letter told them that "no debris or life raft" was ever found.

Chief of Police W. G. Pounds issued 10 requirements that your car must meet to pass the inspection called for in the new safety law that goes into effect January 1, 1952.

Chief Pounds said that these requirements should cover generally the law as it pertains to the general mechanical condition of your automobile. 1. Car must have a motor number. 2. Steering system must be in good condition. 3. Wheels must be in proper alignment. 4. All glasses must be in good condition, no stickers on windshield or back window glasses. 5. Horn must blow. 6. Windshield wiper must work properly. 7. All lights, including stop and tail lights, must burn and must be in proper focus. 8. Emergency brake must hold. 9. All foot brakes must be in good condition and work properly. 10. Exhaust system must be in good condition, car must have straight exhaust pipe, must have a muffler.

Deep Freezes Come Later

TOKYO, Nov. 24 (UP)—An aroused Japanese press and radio crusaded today against government officials who spend taxpayers' money for gay parties with Geisha girls. Mounting public anger over the situation disturbed the thriving Geisha houses that provide the "perfumed heat." "Too much democracy," one owner grumbled. Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida took a different tack. He demanded evidence. Newspapers obliged immediately. They printed lists of guests at the better known "houses of joy." They offered photographs of government cars parked outside.

Three Die In Two-Car Wreck Near Conroe

CONROE, Nov. 24 (UP)—Three women were dead and a Kansas City insurance man was in critical condition today as the result of a two-car collision near here.

The dead were identified as: Miss Virginia J. Stone, about 55, an employee of the University of Houston; her sister, Mrs. Electra B. Thompson, about 60, office secretary of the David Burnett Elementary school of Houston, and Mrs. Bayard T. Gross, of Kansas City, who taught school in Houston 25 years ago. Critically injured was her husband, Bayard, a Kansas City insurance man.

The highway patrol said Miss Stone and Mrs. Thompson were en route to Palestine, to visit Mrs. Thompson's only son, William, a former coach at Sidney Lar Jr. Junior high school. The Gross family were en route to Houston to visit Gross's mother, Mrs. Joseph L. Gross.

The accident occurred at 4 p. m. on Highway 75, four miles north of here. Texas Highway Patrolman Fred Burns, who was driving behind the car driven by Miss Stone said it skidded on wet pavement and slid into the path of the Gross automobile.

Burns said both cars were moving at a reasonable rate of speed.

Texas Oilman Closes Deal In Egypt Today

PARIS, Nov. 24 (UP)—Texas oilman Glenn McCarthy said today that he has signed a contract involving the exploitation of more than 4,000,000 acres of Egyptian oil lands.

The contract calls for purchase of a majority interest in the National Petroleum Co. of Egypt which controls the exploitation of oil lands in the Sinai Desert, McCarthy said. The Houston oil tycoon said he planned to invest about $10,000,000 in the project. His contract he said, calls for the purchase of an option which French oilman Dr. Stanislas Delazert held on between 92 and 93 per cent of the company's stock. McCarthy said he and his associates had bought, subject to conditions now being fulfilled, nearly all of the approximately 93 per cent. His personal share is 51 per cent, he said.

Midwest Hit By Severe Cold; Rain In Texas

A severe cold wave, with temperatures more than 35 degrees below normal, chilled the northern Midwest today while a soaking rain drenched a wide area extending from Texas to New England.

The cold wave was centered in Minnesota with below-zero temperatures report in all sections of the state. Alexandria, Minn., had 12 below and Minneapolis 5. It was 16 below at Jamestown, N. D., six below at Grantsburg, Wis., and two below at Mason City, Ia.

To the south and east, a band of rain 200 miles wide stretched from north-central Texas all the way to the Atlantic coast.

It rained almost all day yesterday in the lower Ohio Valley. Forecasters said that Paducah, Ky., registered a total rainfall of 3.66 inches, and West Plains, Mo., recorded 2.76 inches.

Temperatures in the west also were below normal. Phoenix, Ariz., caught both the cold and the rain with a temperature reading of 49—very low for that area—and a .78 inch rainfall.

The Mississippi River at Minneapolis was frozen over and half a dozen families fled their homes yesterday when an ice pack swept away gangplanks and ground the boats into splinters.

The giant ice jam also snapped the morning lines holding two 400-ton barges which broke loose and started on an uncontrolled journey downstream.

The ice climbed the river bank to where the houseboats had been drydocked. The stricken families ran from the advancing ice. Only a few were able to save any of their household possessions.

At Sioux City, Ia., five-year-old Dennis Rapp was seriously chilled when his father left him in a pickup truck then went to "go drink beer." The father was arrested for intoxication several hours later.

Along the lower Atlantic Coast and Gulf states, temperatures were mild. Chicago weather forecasters said it was doubtful that the cold wave would move into the east.

West coast temperatures also were below normal. Los Angeles reported a temperature reading of 49 at midnight.

The guest said a Shriner beat a drum just outside his room at 3 a. m. yesterday. "The guy says he is a camel herder," the victim told the clerk. "But I didn't know they herded camels with drums."

Soviet Delegate Says West Preparing For War, Not Peace

PARIS, Nov. 24 (UP)—Russia rejected the west's disarmament plan today on grounds its "two-faced" authors are preparing for war while talking about peace.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky broke a five-day silence to dash hopes he might be considering a softer attitude to the global proposal sponsored by the United States, Britain and France.

"The tripartite proposal circumvents all questions of reduction of armaments," Vishinsky told the United Nations main political committee. "There are two faces to this coin. One is the face of peace, the other war. Such two-faced visage never has and cannot serve the interests of the peace-loving nations."

Although some delegates saw hopes in Vishinsky's 110-minute address, the majority felt he had not come up with the predicted "concessions."

"We will not bargain with our principles," he declared. The glib-tongued foreign minister announced he is preparing a series of amendments to the West's proposal but did not describe them.

Normal Soviet practice is to offer emasculating amendments in an effort to block all major western moves before the UN. In unfolding details of the arms reduction plan last Monday, Secretary of State Dean Acheson pleaded with Russia to accept it and thus bring about "a turning point in history."

Acheson is a "two-faced Janus," Vishinsky snapped. "How can the authors of the tripartite proposal claim they have reached a turning point? They do not in any manner rule out more increases in arms and armed forces."

President Truman's statement that the U. S. relied on armed strength instead of negotiations with Russia "sounds almost bizarre," Vishinsky said, "but is wholly in accordance with American deeds."

The West's plan calls for an international census and verification of the world's arms before they would be reduced in a step-by-step program. The West's disarmament program is based on the belief that Russia will refuse to negotiate a cold war settlement until the West speaks from a "position of strength."

Dave Fiensy In Hospital; Hurt In Auto Crash

Dave Fiensy, Eastland City Commissioner, is in Ranger General hospital where he is being treated for injuries received Friday afternoon when the car in which he was driving collided with another car driven by Earl K. White. The collision occurred on the 400 block of W. Commerce in Eastland. Both cars were badly wrecked.

Mr. Fiensy was rushed to nearby Canton-Treadwell clinic in Eastland, where he received first aid treatment. His condition was found to be of serious nature, and he was taken to the Ranger hospital as soon as doctors felt that he could be moved. Word early today indicated that while his injuries are serious, they need not be considered as being fatal.

White's injuries are not of a serious nature. Mrs. Fiensy was rushed to nearby Canton-Treadwell clinic in Eastland, where he received first aid treatment. His condition was found to be of serious nature, and he was taken to the Ranger hospital as soon as doctors felt that he could be moved. Word early today indicated that while his injuries are serious, they need not be considered as being fatal.

Mrs. Alice Odom Passes Away At 5 A. M. Saturday

A Ranger resident since the early boom days, Mrs. Alice Odom, passed away at her home Saturday morning at 5 p. m. Funeral services are pending the arrival of two of Mrs. Odom's sisters.

Her church membership was in the Ranger Church of God. Surviving Mrs. Odom are three daughters and one son; daughters Pauline Odom, Ranger, Mrs. W. J. Kohanek of Big Spring, Mrs. E. M. Howard, Fort Worth; the son is Russell Odom of Ranger. She is also survived by 7 grandchildren and 5 great-grandchildren.

Killingworth Funeral Home will be in charge of the funeral arrangements.

UN And Red Negotiators Fail To Agree On Cease Fire Line

PANMUNJOM, Korea, Nov. 24 (UP)—United Nations and Communist negotiators agreed today on half the Korean cease-fire line but their failure to complete the last line set back the "truce by Christmas" program at least 24 hours.

Two staff officers from each side spent five hours and 10 minutes poring over maps trying to reconcile their versions of the location of the present battleline, which will become the cease-fire line if other armistice terms are settled within 30 days.

They agreed on 15 to 20 miles of the east coast sector and then on small segments of the line all the rest of the way to the west coast. The agreed portions added up to about 65 to 75 miles.

A UN spokesman said "certain areas of major disagreement" remain, but would not tell how many. In the case of several disputed areas, Col. James E. Murray of Alexandria, Va., suggested the group fly to the front in a liaison plane. The Reds declined. "They are making claims not only on positions in no-man's-land, but on positions behind our lines," the Allied spokesman said. "But we are still bargaining on the assumption they want to establish the line as much as we do."

The four-man committee will meet again at 10 a. m. tomorrow (8 p. m. today EST) in an attempt to trace the remainder of the 145-mile front. Both sides already have agreed that the opposing armies shall withdraw 1 and one-fourth miles from the contact line to form a buffer zone when the armistice is signed.

Failure of the staff officers to complete their work today meant that the armistice subcommittee will not be able to approve the line before Sunday at the earliest and perhaps not until Monday. This in turn will delay final ratification of the line by the full five-man armistice delegations until Monday or even Tuesday.

Ride The "ROCKET" And Save Osborne Motor Company, Eastland

Time was when guests came by invitation to Sunday dinner or supper. But today they drop in anytime, sure of a welcome, and light refreshment which may be served at the dining table, from end tables, coffee table, or anywhere in the house. This pleasant custom makes quick tidying up the rule of the day. Early in the morning to put rooms in company order, after family meals, and again when guests leave. And that's where today's modern carpet sweeper serves as a convenient helpmate. Modern in design and action, light weight and easy to use, carpet sweepers whisk up crumbs, bits of paper and flower petals leaving rugs and carpets in apple pie order. The woman who finds a modern carpet sweeper under her Christmas tree is sure to welcome it warmly as a time saver in keeping rugs bright and new looking. Child specialists say that children learn in more learning between the time they learn to walk and the time they go to school than they possibly can in any amount of time later. And they recommend toys that teach. The toy carpet sweeper gives a child an opportunity to imitate mother, and helps establish the good habit of cleanliness and neatness.

Six weather stations, operating in the Arctic regions, record weather observations for accurate short range forecast and accumulate research data for long range forecasting. Five of the stations established in 1947, are operated jointly by the United States and Canada, while the sixth is a joint operation of the United States and Denmark. Resupply of this chain of Northern outposts has been a yearly mission of the U. S. Navy Task Group, commanded by Captain Walter C. Ford, U.S.N., of Buffalo, New York, was composed of the Atka, a navy icebreaker; The East Wind, a coast guard icebreaker; USS Wyandot, and the USS Acheonar, cargo ships and the USS Neptun, a tanker. Supplies for the coming year were unloaded at central weather stations at Thule, Greenland and Resolute Bay, Cornwallis Island. From these central points supplies for the satellite stations are flown by planes of the United States and Royal Canadian Air Force.

HANDICAPPED ON ASSEMBLY LINE—Down the production line goes this North American F-86 Sabre, world's fastest aircraft. And helping out in the procedure are these three handicapped workers, veteran employes of the plant. Paul K. Johnson, of South Gate, Calif., (left) patiently goes about the business of burring parts for the plane, while Harvey Singer, of Los Angeles, who was injured in a civilian accident, installs equipment on the jet. Also helping in the burring operation is Miles S. Candy, of Hawthorne, Calif., who was a hard luck victim of World War I. He served in the Fifth Marines and was wounded by a shell burst an hour before the close of hostilities November 11, 1918.

PHYSICALLY HANDICAPPED VETERANS ARE TOP WORKERS IN WAR PLANTS

William A. Betterly, president of the Fibrous-Glass Insulating Co., of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., drops by to check one of the 40 disabled veterans employed by the firm, which manufactures aerial parachute packs for the U. S. Air Force. The man working on the grommet machine, which punches holes in the packs, is Joseph E. Harvath, of 1002 Prospect Street, Nanticoke, Pa., World War II veteran who lost his left arm while fighting in the Navy. Once discouraged and ashamed of his disability, Harvath is now considered one of the fastest machine operators in the country. Since the Air Force awarded the Fibrous-Glass Insulating Co. its first contract—for $125,000—the firm has turned out 30,000 parachute packs. The packs are used to parachute supplies of ground troops.

"Why Don't You Play Ball With Him?"

Your dollar buys less now than at any time in the last 150 years, as indicated by the Newschart above. Based on data from the Bureau of Labor Statistics and the National Industrial Conference Board, the chart shows how war and postwar inflation have whittled down the purchasing power of both the wholesale and the consumer dollar over the past century and a half. The current outlook is for the buck to continue along the downward path.

38% Mens Suits Are Selected By The Wives

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 (UP)—The Agriculture Department said today that 38 out of 100 men take their wives along when they go shopping for a suit of clothes. And for the 38, it said, taking the little woman along ends any voice they may have had in making the selection. They moaned to the department that the only role they play in the purchase is to "stand up straight" while being fitted—and, of course, pay the bill. The department's check on men's apparel buying habits was made to guide manufacturers in the use of scant wool supplies. Among other things, the department discovered that the vest—once considered an essential part of a suit—is now regarded as "out of date and useless." Only 37 out of 100 men actually want vests and most of these die-hards live in the deep south. He said in an exclusive interview that the final agreement was signed last night after negotiations here with Delazovert and executives of the company to conclude an initial "memo agreement" reached in Cairo last week. McCarthy said the Egyptian government will take a royalty of 15 per cent of the company's total production. Asked if the investment worried him because of the tense international situation, McCarthy said: "I'm going in like I am blind but I am not. I do not think the West can ever allow Russia to take those oil fields." The "conditions" of the agreement, he said, number 16 and are chiefly concerned with changes in existing Egyptian law relative to foreign ownership of Egyptian companies and the taking out of Egypt of profits earned by the company. The law now forbids any foreigners from holding a controlling interest in an Egyptian firm. "I have been promised the law will be changed during the month of December. Once it is changed, I'll get started with the development of the oil lands within two weeks," he said. McCarthy said considerable equipment was available already but he will have to bring in some of his own. The company controls exploitation of 121 "lots", each covering 60 square miles, for a total of 4,646,000 acres of Sinai Desert land on the eastern side of the Red Sea. McCarthy said he and Meyer will leave Monday night by plane for New York. Rainmakers who use modern scientific methods may soon have to be licensed to curb amateurs who can seriously affect the weather over wide areas.

Bandit Has His Scruples

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. (UP)—Mrs. Eli Swenning was waiting on customers in her husband's grocery yesterday when a nattily-dressed young man entered and asked for a pack of cigarettes. He then pulled out a revolver and demanded that she open the till. Mrs. Swenning hesitated. "Please, let me talk to my husband," she said. "He's blind." "Forget about the money," the young man said and walked out. He left the cigarettes on the counter. Mexican Cotton Pickers Complain About Conditions

TIPTONVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 24 (UP)—Disgruntled Mexican laborers imported to pick cotton on a 800-acre Mississippi River plantation complained to their government today about "bad mattresses," cold barracks, not enough water and inadequate pay. The charges were leveled against planter Terry Jamison at a hearing conducted by Angel Cano, Mexican consul at Memphis, and W. O. Crittenden of the U. S. Labor Department's Division of Employment Security. The hearing was held at the Lake County courthouse here last night to determine reasons behind the exodus of 77 of the 150 Mexican laborers Jamison signed up to pick his cotton. Six spokesmen for the 73 pickers who remained on the farm poured out the complaints of fellow workers in rapid-fire Spanish and Cano took voluminous notes for a report which he immediately transmitted to the Mexican Embassy in Washington. Crittenden also filed a report, but neither would comment on their recommendations. Dissatisfaction among the Mexicans came to light Thanksgiving Day when 50 of them plodded into Memphis to see Cano after a 100-mile trek from Jamison's riverside plantation. Jamison told Cano that he had "done my best" to make conditions pleasant for the Mexicans and invited those who had left his farm to return for the remainder of the picking season. However, he said he would wash his hands of the laborers if the Mexican government cancels its contract for their services. "If the cotton pickers will continue work," he said, "I will pay them everything coming to them, including transportation back to Mexico. And that goes for those 77 in Memphis." "But if the Mexican government cancels my contract, they can walk every step of the way home. I'll not pay out another cent if that happens." The Mexican's, who claimed each had between $15 and $50 to show for his season's work, made seven specific charges against Jamison. They maintained: 1. They were brought 1,100 miles from Eagle Pass, Tex., to Tiptonville in open trailer trucks, one of which had no water, and were given only three five-minute rest stops on the way. 2. They were housed in six converted Army barracks on the windwept shore of Sunkist Lake, "bad mattresses" and insufficient blankets for their triple-deck bunks. 3. Only one stove, which doubled for cooking and heating, was installed in each barracks, and then only after the season's first freeze and snow early this month. 4. Only one water faucet for cooking, drinking and bathing purposes was provided for the entire camp. 5. Two laborers were arrested and charged with theft when they threatened to report on conditions to Cano. 6. Too many pickers were hired for the plantation and they were unable to make enough money. 7. Recently they have been required to pick the same fields for the third and fourth times, drastically reducing the amount of cotton available and thus cutting income. Jamison testified he paid the workers the "prevailing wage" of $2.50 per 100 pounds of cotton picked. He said he maintained a non-profit commissary for the camp at which he sold food, clothing and other essentials and denied that any of the workers had complained to him about the bedding. "They say they don't have enough money," he said, "but all of them have new shoes, new socks, new shirts, new sweat shirts, new jumpers and new caps. When they came here they were ragged and hungry." Pedro Rojas-Campos said two men who deserted the camp were taken off a Memphis-bound bus and charged with theft by Lake County sheriff J. C. Haynes. They were released when they agreed to return to work, he claimed. The two said they wanted to report on conditions to Cano. Jamison said they had blankets, cotton sacks and cooking utensils in their possession. Sebastian Oviedo said the principal dissatisfaction besides living conditions was "we can't get enough cotton to pick." Jose Prieto-Alfara testified he had been able to send his wife and six children only $20 since Sept. 20. Others fixed their savings at between $15 and $50. Jamison said the workers averaged between $16 and $35 weekly. Cano made only one comment during the proceedings. He said he thought 150 pickers were too many for an 800-acre plantation.

Tommie Ruth Browning Becomes Bride Of Lonnie Jack Norton Wed.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Robinson of Ranger was the setting Wednesday evening, Nov. 21 at 7 p.m. for the marriage of Miss Tommie Ruth Browning and Lonnie Jack Norton.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Browning of Ranger and Mr. Norton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Norton of Olden.

The Rev. Garfield Lavender, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Ranger, was officiant at the double ring candle light ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, T. L. Browning, the bride wore a costume of nylon lace over white bridal satin, scalloped ballerina skirt with petal topped satin bodice covered with fitted lace bolera fastened with tiny lace and satin covered buttons from the wing collar to the waist.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Hayett L. Browning of San Saba; Pfc. Jack R. Browning, Connally A. F. B., Waco; Mrs. Marvin Nash of Eastland; Mrs. G. L. Whitley of Gorman; Mr. and Mrs. Billy Jack Jackson of Eastland; Juanita Gorman and Peggy Payner.

Festival Feast In Shofner Home

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Shofner entertained with a Thanksgiving luncheon at their home south east of town Thursday.

The feast was spread on an improvised table on the lawn. The house was decorated with autumn foliage of Spanish Oak. A Thanksgiving prayer for the repast and for the blessings of the year was offered by Mr. Shofner. During the meal, a plane circled over the house twice.

Those attending were R. H. Atchley, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Atchley and daughter Janet of Hockley; Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Atchley and son Wayne of Novice; Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Gotlin and daughter Rita Ann of Goldthwaite; G. L. Strane, Mrs. Myrtle Strane, Mrs. Opal Williams, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. GIVE!

A Helping Hand through SERVICE — Not Charity . . .

. . . the RED FEATHER SYMBOL of the Community Chest stands for service, not charity! It encompasses far more than economic boundaries—for the needs of man are many, and a helping hand must be extended to those needing physical, emotional, spiritual or mental help. The Red Feather Theme—"Everybody Benefits—Everybody Gives", is more than a slogan. It expresses the idea that the man who gives and the man who receives may well be one and the same. It is an American custom to share responsibility. Aid to the physically-handicapped, the aged and the blind . . . visiting nurses . . . hospitals . . . child aid and guidance . . . community centers—are all neighborly services. These are the groups who benefit from your Community Chest contribution. Be sure yours is generous enough to cover them all! Be sure to give to the Ranger Community Chest . . . and be sure to give enough!

CHURCH NEWS

Rev. Robbins and Rev. Kershaw To Exchange Pulpits

This Sunday, November 25, Rev. A. Lynn Robbins, pastor of the local First Christian church is trading pulpits with Rev. Kenneth B. Kershaw, pastor of the Christian church in Big Sandy, Texas. Rev. Kershaw will conduct all the regular services, Sunday at the local church, as will Rev. Robbins at Big Sandy. Rev. Kershaw is a graduate of Bethany College, Bethany, West Virginia, and former pastor of the Christian church in Allison, Penn. Bethany was originally founded by Alexander Campbell, the founder of the Restoration Movement among Protestant churches. Out of this movement came the present Christian church and Church of Christ.

The guest speaker has chosen as his sermon topic for the Morning Worship and Communion hour at 11 a.m., the theme: "Our Hungry World." At the Evening service, his subject will be: "The Teachings of Jesus." This service will be at 7:00 p.m. The Church School, with classes for all ages, will convene at 9:45 a.m. and the Christian Youth Fellowship will meet immediately following the evening service at 8:00 p.m.

The public is extended a most cordial welcome to hear this outstanding guest speaker and to participate in any or all of the services at the First Christian Church this Sunday and during the coming week. First Christian is a small friendly church serving your community in the tradition of loyalty to Christ and the New Testament plea for organic church union.

The morning services will be held as scheduled. Church School at 9:45 with a class and competent teacher for everyone. The morning service will begin promptly at 10:50 with the organ prelude. The Chancel Choir will sing the anthem: "Lovely Appearance." The pastor will use for his sermon topic, "Absent Without Leave," based on St. John 20:24.

The pastor calls every member to a deeper loyalty and devotion to God and His church as we have enjoyed another Thanksgiving, and as we enter into the Christmas Season may we be faithful to the vows we took when we became Christians.

The annual all-church night will be held this coming Wednesday night, November 28, at the First Christian church of Ranger. There will be a delicious covered-dish dinner and then reports will be heard concerning the activities of the church during the past year. New officers for 1951-52 will also be elected by the congregation during the evening festivities.

It is especially urged by the pastor, Rev. A. Lynn Robbins, that every member and friend of the local First Christian church be present Wednesday night so that the church can get off to a flying start for the coming year which promises to be one of the best in the churches history.

The evening services will begin at the regular time with Rev. Ralph Perkins preaching at both services.

'Pioneer Women' To Be Continued
Mrs. Frank Arrendale will continue the mission study on "Pioneer Women", at the Second Baptist church Monday evening at 7 p.m.

This is the regular mission study period for the Woman's Missionary Union and is very interesting as well as inspirational.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICE
That God, Soul, not matter, is the real life of man will be stressed at Christian Science church services next Sunday. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "Soul and Body." At the outset the Golden Text states, "Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you?" (1 Corinthians 3:16).

Selections from the Bible will include the following: "And when he was demanded of the Pharisees, when the kingdom of God should come, he answered them and said, the kingdom of God cometh not with observation: neither shall they say, Lo here! or lo there! for, behold, the kingdom of God is within you (Luke 17:20,21).

From the Christian Science textbook will be read this comforting assurance: "If God, who is life, were parted for a moment from His reflection, man, during that moment there would be no divinity reflected. The ego would be unexpressed, and the Father would be childless—no Father. But man cannot be separated for an instant from God, if man reflects God. Thus Science proves man's existence to be intact" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, by Mary Baker Eddy, page 306).

New Team Added To Girls Basketball District

The Ranger girls basketball team will compete Region 3, District 8 this year.

One addition has been made to the district the girls will compete in this year. Mineral Wells will be a conference opponent of the Ranger girls.

Coach Sam Aills said the boys would get a week off from the time the football season ended until they start working out for basketball.

Movie Bad Man Says He Will Quit Drinking

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 24 (UP)—Screen tough guy Lawrence Tierney said from a county jail cell today that he intends to "stick to my work" to "lay off" drinking.

Tierney, who rose to fame as the "John Dillinger" of the screen, was placed on three years probation yesterday on condition that he serve the first three days of a suspended 180-day jail sentence for drunkenness and that he give up liquor.

The 32-year-old actor has been arrested 13 times in the past seven years, mostly on drunk charges. His latest arrest came when he appeared barefoot in a bar and offered to "whip anyone in the house."

"I give you my word of honor I won't drink again," Tierney told municipal Judge Roger Pfaff. "And I've never given my word of honor before."

Sam Rayburn Has Brought Added Prestige To House Speakers Job

The office of Speaker of the House has grown in prestige during Sam Rayburn's tenure, it is pointed out in the current (November 24th) issue of the Saturday Evening Post.

A full length article on the venerable Texan cites the fact that Congress has raised the Speaker's salary and changed the presidential succession law so that he would become Chief Executive in the event of the death of both the president and the vice president.

In "They're Just Crazy About Sam," author Paul F. Healy finds that Rayburn himself has added to the prestige by becoming a strong Speaker and he has held the post over nine years, longer than anyone else in U.S. history.

Few men have dealt so closely with such a cross section of human nature in the raw, Healy says. He has managed to move adroitly through a series of national crises with two Presidents of contrasting temperament and background, and simultaneously has headed an 434 usually hot and boisterous colleagues, each from a different part of the country and each a full blown personality in his or her own right.

The story says one of the secrets of his success is that he goes beyond his duties as presiding officer of the House, leader of his party in the House and highest advisor to the President on legislative matters to function as a combination father - confessor, counselor and Dutch uncle to members on both sides of the aisle.

Rayburn likes Congressmen. He figures he has served with nearly 3,000 of them during his nine years in Washington and has tried to know intimately as many as possible. Evidence that they also like him is reflected in the statement of Representative Abraham Miller, a New York Democrat, that to the new members of Congress Rayburn has been more than a leader, "he has been our guardian angel."

Both Republican and Democrat members are said to seek him out continually for advice on their personal problems. Even wives of congressmen have gone to the 69 year-old Speaker, who is a bachelor, for tips on how to handle their prima donna husbands.

At the same time, Rayburn is reported to receive more propo-

NEWS FROM OLDEN

The chapel program presented by Mrs. J. T. Weaver's fifth and sixth grades, last Wednesday, was enjoyed by a large crowd.

Mrs. Bill Hicks and small son of Odessa, and her mother Mrs. Clyde Garrett of Eastland, were visitors in Olden last week.

Mrs. C. U. Norton of Coleman visited Mrs. Dick Yielding and Mrs. E. A. Norton last Friday.

Mrs. Jack Elliott received a telegram last week from her sister in England, saying her mother had passed away. The people of Olden wish to extend their sympathy to her at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Rouch and family of Odessa, visited his mother, Mrs. Ethel Rouch and brothers Gene and Freddie over the weekend.

School children will enjoy a four day holiday over this weekend, after having completed the six weeks test.

Miss Billie and Peggy Fox of Ranger, and Wanda Yielding of Olden spent Saturday with their grandmother, Mrs. Nettie Fox.

Mrs. Willie Bockman visited friends in Breckenridge Sunday afternoon.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Sulpur over the week end were a daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert of Quanah, and a son, Sidney and family, of Stanton.

Word was received last week that Grandma Nabors is very ill in a hospital in Hammond, La.

A ladies' basketball game is scheduled for December 7th, in the gym at Olden. Tickets will be on sale soon. All money will go to the Community Christmas tree fund.

Mr. and Mrs. Tyrone who are employed in Ft. Worth, spent the weekend at their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hendricks and son, have returned to their home in Lamesa, after an extended visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lois Groves.

O'Dwyer Leaves For Tijuana To Spend Weekend

LAREDO, Nov. 24 (UP)—United States Ambassador to Mexico William J. O'Dwyer left here today to spend the weekend at Tijuana, Mex. after Laredo citizens gave him a farewell barbecue.

O'Dwyer, who inspected the international Falcon Dam now being constructed on the Rio Grande 75 miles south of here yesterday, refused to answer newspapermen's questions concerning U. S. affairs.

The former New York mayor, a strong backer of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for the presidency in 1948, said he had not read a New York Times report that the general had been offered next year's Democratic nomination by President Truman.

Reporters fired questions at him about politics, graft and gambling in New York, but he answered them all:

"Was that in Mexico?" O'Dwyer had high praise, however for the $47,000,000 dam, now being built as a joint effort by the U. S. and Mexico. He termed it "more eloquent than any number of speeches on international relations between our two countries."

The ambassador knew of no negotiations for a revised U. S.-Mexico trade treaty, and said conferences on a new immigrant labor agreement between the two nations had not yet begun. The present agreement expires Feb. 1.

He also disclaimed knowledge of any program to ship more U. S. scrap iron to Mexico.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 7TH AT 1:15 P. M.

The proceeds from the sale of tickets and donations to the fund will be used to purchase band jackets for all forty members of the Ranger High School Band.

The members of the 1951 Ranger High School Band have worked long and hard and have done a wonderful job at the many football games and other civic events the past year and let's all get together and show them our appreciation by supporting this worth-while cause by contributing liberally.

The picture selected for this show is a first run movie, never before shown in Ranger and is a story of high school activities and features the orchestra of Freddie Slack and Jan Sault. The principals in the picture are Freddie Stuart and June Preisser and is titled "The High School Hero."
