Cotton Crop Estimates Fall To 15,290,000 Million Bales

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (UP)—Any government plans for repositioning of export controls on cotton have been shelved at least temporarily despite the smaller-than-anticipated crop, informed sources said today.

Government estimates for the 1951 cotton crop fell from the initial August prediction of 17,266,000 bales to yesterday's final estimate of 15,290,000 bales.

Government experts feel the 1951 crop still be large enough to take care of both domestic and foreign demands without seriously reducing carry-over supplies.

With domestic consumption moving slower than expected, domestic needs now are set near 9,500,000 bales, according to export predictions also seem to have been set too high earlier this year.

Since the 1,000,000 bale reduction in cotton estimates last month, cotton prices have been hovering near ceiling levels. Because many foreign buyers find themselves pinched for funds to buy American cotton, experts now figure foreign shipments will be nearer 5,500,000 bales than 6,000,000.

Demands for a congressional investigation of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics' methods of gathering crop statistics also will be postponed until export controls.

Cotton farmers have complained that BAE "miscalculations" caused them to lose a lot of money they would have made if BAE estimates had more accurately forecast the smaller crop. Export limits would stand to cause another dip in prices and more complaints from farmers and cotton belt congressmen.

The final BAE report, beside showing a 81,000-bale decline, admitted that cotton acreage estimates in July were about five percent too high. It said it is "apparent from information now available that acreage of cotton actually planted was smaller than indicated earlier."

Mother Killed By Son After Being 'Bawled Out'

OAKLAND, Calif., Dec. 11 (UP)—A 15-year-old boy who dreamed of "violence against my parents" months ago, admitted today that he killed his mother with a hatchet then set fire to her body because "she bawled me out for playing hooky."

Samuel Hutchins, an Oakland high school sophomore, surrendered quietly yesterday when an under-sheriff spotted his car parked before the Grass Valley, Calif., high school.

Earlier, the youth had escaped from pursuing officers in a high speed chase over back roads in the Sierra Nevada foothills.

The youth offered no resistance. He had a .5 caliber automatic with him.

His victim was Mrs. Evelyn Hutchins, 51, the wife of Ralph W. Hutchins, 58. Firemen called to extinguish a minor blaze in the basement of the Hutchins home found her charred body.

A coroner's report showed her skull had been split and battered by at least a dozen blows from a small hand axe found near the body.

"She bawled me out for not going to school and for breaking my promise not to play hooky any more," Samuel told police.

"I blew my top and hit her with the axe while she was facing me. She didn't say anything, just fell to the floor. Then I hit her some more—I don't know how many times."

Oakland police sent out an alarm after questioning members of the family and discovering that Samuel's whereabouts were unaccounted for. Grass Valley police were alerted because the Hutchins have a summer home there.

A few hours later, the youth was spotted traveling through Grass Valley at high speed. His car was finally forced to a halt before the high school and the youth climbed peacefully out of the car.

Sheriff's officers said three unidentified witnesses had appeared voluntarily and said the youth had told them several months ago that he had "thought of violence against my parents."

Hutchins was questioned about their statements and he told officers that he had "dreamed" such thoughts.

Thirty-Five Injured In Riots At Iranian Parliament Meeting

TEHRAN, Iran, Dec. 11 (UP)—Riots inside and outside the Iranian Parliament injured at least 35 persons today as opposition deputies shouted down Premier Mohammad Mossadegh with taunts of "Get the hell out of here."

About 600 newspapermen and 35 spectators took part in a free-for-all in the parliament gallery as an open session of the house was to begin this morning.

The Parliament guard broke up the fight inside the building. Cries of "I'm killed" and "I've been struck fatally" were heard above the other shouts of the rioters.

The guards drove both government and opposition supporters out of the building and the fight continued there.

Trucks of black-helmeted armed troops were rushed to the Parliament building to guard the gates following this morning's clashes.

After the guards cleared the chamber the session began. When Mossadegh went to the rostrum to speak he was shouted down repeatedly by opposition deputies, who are camping in the parliament because of fear of the mobs outside.

"I'll go outside and address the true Iranian nation if you don't let me talk here, and then they can truly judge for themselves," Mossadegh said.

"Don't threaten us," shouted opposition leader Jamal Enami. "Get the hell out of here."

"Let me speak first and then you can judge if I'm at fault," Mossadegh cried. "If I'm at fault I'll resign." He was to speak on the government decision to give former customers of the nationalized Anglo-Iranian Oil Company 10 days to buy oil on a priority basis.

"Get out, get out," the opposition deputies roared.

"I'll continue my struggle until the end," Mossadegh cried as he left the rostrum and sat down without having spoken.

Enami charged that Mossadegh was responsible for all local disturbances throughout Iran.

One newsman and one spectator were hospitalized after the fight inside the parliament building. At least 23 others were reported injured.

Outside the parliament the fighting continued in a court yard where more than 10 persons were reported injured. The police barricaded the parliament gates, and newsmen and spectators were held in the yard for hours.

The kidnaping was reported by a Casa Grande, Ariz., mechanic, James E. Beard, 44, who said the egotistical gunman kidnaped him near Casa Grande and forced him to drive to a spot near here.

Beard said the bandit flagged him down on the highway and robbed him of $64 at gunpoint. The man then ordered him to drive nearly 200 miles at 80 miles an hour before he spotted the couple's car parked beside the highway 22 miles from here.

The mechanic said the couple was standing beside a 1951 model car with green out-of-state license plates and appeared to be watching the sunset.

The highwayman ordered Beard to stop his car, Beard said, and he ripped some wiring from the engine. He then approached the couple gun in hand and curly told them to get in their car and drive away.

Beard said the car headed toward the California border, but a California entry station just outside Yuma reported that no car fitting the mechanic's description had crossed the border.

Authorities said the gunman boasted of being "smarter" than man-murderer Billy Cook, killer of six persons.

Desert Search In Full Swing For Bragging Gunman

YUMA, Ariz., Dec. 11 (UP)—Men and airplanes fanned out across the desert near here today in a desperate search for a boastful gunman believed hiding in the sun-baked wastes with a young couple he kidnaped from a roadside.

Authorities said the gunman boasted of being "smarter" than man-murderer Billy Cook, killer of six persons.

Korean Armistice Talks Remain In Deadlock Stage

PANMUNJOM, Korea, Dec. 11 (UP)—The Communists rejected today a United Nations proposal for a man-for-man exchange of war prisoners during a Korean armistice.

They also refuse to disclose the location of their prison camps or permit international Red Cross representatives to visit them unless the allies agree to free all 120,000 Red prisoners during the truce.

The Reds at the same time took back an offer made only a few hours earlier to permit the American rotation program to continue if the allies agreed to "neutral" policing of the armistice.

The stubborn Communist stand in twin, simultaneous subcommittee meetings in adjacent tents at Panmunjom left the armistice negotiations still deadlocked with only 16 days remaining before the Dec. 27 target for agreement.

Both subcommittees will meet again at 11 a.m. tomorrow (9 p.m. today EST).

The day's sole favorable development was the sudden Communist agreement to appointment of the new subcommittee on war prisoners and the holding of its first meeting.

But the new group ran into an immediate stalemate.

North Korean Gen. Lee Sang Cho opened the session with a proposal that all war prisoners of both sides be released after an armistice has been signed.

"All prisoners possessed by both sides should be released," he said. "Release all the prisoners and let them go home."

In effect, he was proposing an exchange of up to 120,000 North Korean and Chinese war prisoners in UN hands for an unknown number of allied prisoners in Red hands. In all, fewer than 60,000 UN and South Korean troops, including about 11,000 Americans, are missing in action, and the Reds have refused adamantly to say how many of them have been captured.

8th ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Dec. 11 (UP)—American jet fighters clashed with Communist MIG-15 jets for the first time in three days today and probably shot down two Red planes and damaged two others.

Sixty-two F 55 Sabrejets, fought with about 115 of the Russian-built jets in two battles over northwest Korea. The 8th Air Force said all Sabrejets returned safely to bases.

Renewal of the air war coincided with the end of bad weather that caused a two-day lull.

Shorter Still Now—SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (UP)—Francis J. Campbell, 62, was fined $125 after he told a judge that despite his $175-a-week salary as a steamfitter, he had "postponed" registering his automobile because he was "a little short of cash."

Decision to drag the lake came yesterday after an extensive search turned up only body, that of Shirley Thomas, about 19, of Odessa, Thomas' body was found half-floating in the water near an island where the hunting party of five had started for early Saturday.

The fifth member of the party, Robert R. Davenport of Odessa, survived by clinging to their capsized boat for nine hours then making his way to a tiny sandbar where he was later found.

Joe E. Wilson, reservoir manager at Denison, said yesterday an all-night search would be conducted but it was called off shortly after dark when the lake became too choppy for small boats preferred in dragging operations.

The bodies of Jerry Herrod and Robert Reed of Odessa and Harry Kirkin of Abilene were still missing.

Wilson said it was believed one other member of the party had on a partly-inflated life jacket at the time of the mishap.

For that reason, he said, one other body may be located on the surface. However, the other two were not believed to be wearing life preservers.

OTHER STEPS TO BE TAKEN TO COMBAT POLIO IN TOWN

The forthcoming clean-up campaign was organized at the meeting held in the fire station last night by the volunteer firemen, and representatives from other civic organizations of Ranger.

Next Monday afternoon was set as the date of the actual trash pickup. Eight of the volunteer firemen were appointed team chiefs by Volunteer Fire Chief Virge Johnson, who was in charge of the meeting last night.

It was decided to ask each of the businesses of Ranger, that could, to contribute trucks and labor for the drive, or in the event they were unable to take time off from their duties, they will be asked to contribute enough money to pay one laborer for the time devoted to the clean-up campaign.

It was also decided at the meeting to burn off the weeds and grass on the two streams running through Ranger that drain into the city water supply, to avoid contamination and a possible outbreak of polio here in Ranger.

Also, the dump grounds will be sprayed as well as the creek beds after the burning, to cut down on contamination and danger of infection.

County Representative

A representative from the Commissioners court of Eastland County, Earl Blackwell, was present at the meeting to represent the commissioner of precinct number 1. Earl said at the meeting that the county would have all the equipment that they could possibly spare next Monday for the clean-up here, as well as men to operate the equipment.

Mr. Blackwell also volunteered to try and secure rat poison from the County Farm Bureau for a rat killing campaign that would follow the trash clean-up. He will also try to bring with him and the equipment Monday, DDT spray units to aid in the spraying to be done after the drive is completed.

Prizes To Be Given

A decision to offer prizes for the largest pile of trash in any one place picked up during the drive was made.

City To Cooperate

Mayor Price Crawley of the City of Ranger was at the meeting and promised the full cooperation of the city, its equipment and employees. The mayor said the men and trucks of the city would be at the disposal of the Volunteer Fire Department that day, and the city would pick up the left-over piles of trash that the clean-up campaign missed.

The burning of the grass and weeds along the two streams mentioned before will take place Saturday, starting at 1:00 p.m.

Chief Virge Johnson urged all volunteer firemen to be on hand Saturday afternoon to assist in the burning. They are to report prior to one o'clock.

Restrictions

Some restrictions were brought out at the meeting as to just what extreme the pickup teams would go to getting the trash collected.

It was decided that all trash must be neatly available to the trucks. Placing the trash in the street in front of residences or lots was decided as the most logical place, trash not readily available will not be picked up.

The firemen wish to make known the fact that they will pick up the trash gathered by the citizens, that they do not have the time nor the equipment to do the actual cleaning up around the yards and vacant lots; this must be done by the property owner.

Public Urged To Cooperate

It was brought out at the meeting that the season may have some bearing on the success of the attempt to make Ranger a better place in which to live by cleaning out all threats of disease through contamination in the trash lying around the town. Being the Christmas season it was mentioned that some people may not go all out in assisting in the drive.

This was taken into consideration and decided that the people of Ranger have enough pride to know that an attempt to clean up their town at any time of the year is of vital importance to their well being and health and will get the job done.

Chief Virge Johnson dispelled any doubt that the drive might fail by saying that "it is Christmas time and freezing in Odessa and they have polio."

Clayton Rand Says

I attended the 52nd International Live Stock Exposition and Horse Show at Chicago, to witness the pageantry of the world's most distinguished quadrupeds on parade.

This biggest show on earth outdid itself in 1951, with 11,967 head of cattle swine, sheep and horses on exhibit. The $10 million dollars worth of stock came from 25 states and six Canadian provinces. There were 4 breeds of beef cattle, 11 breeds of sheep, 8 breeds of hogs and 3 breeds of draft horses on exhibit. And thousands of samples of prize hay, seeds, grains, meats and wool.

It was an inspiring spectacle to see the nobility of the animal kingdom strut their stuff in the amphitheater. Well-groomed cows, with marcelled coats nonchalantly chewing their cud, pigs of character, looking down their proud snouts, and gentle lambs covered with virgin wool, registering their innocence—the exposition is a tribute to American husbandry and genius. Many of these animals looked even better bred than their keepers.

There's nothing that stimulates my thinking like communing with a magnificent bull. I saw one there, however, that gave me inferiority complexes. Any bull that's worth more than I am, financially, makes me a little ashamed of myself.

I ate a $7.50 blue-blooded steak in Chicago. On account of artificial breeding, a royal bull is now worth more than ever—he has gained a much wider influence.

Big Four Agrees To Study Atomic Disarmament Plan

PARIS, Dec. 11 (UP)—The Big Four powers announced today that they have agreed to discuss outlawing the atomic bomb and general disarmament in a new 12-nation United Nations commission.

The U. S., Britain, France and Russia disclosed the agreement in a communique summarizing the failure otherwise of their 10-day effort to reconcile divergent East-West views in closed conferences here.

The 4,000-word communique mainly restated "serious and fundamental differences" separating the East and West on disarmament.

However, the U. S., Britain and France said in a separate statement that the talks had proven "useful." Moreover, the three powers said, they were "encouraged" by Russia's agreement to make a new attempt to find common ground in the proposed disarmament commission.

The Big Four's last attempt in the UN to agree on a disarmament program ended in 1948 in failure.

The next step is up to the 60-nation UN political committee. To it will fall the task of carrying out the Big Four's recommendation to merge the present Atomic Energy Commission and the Commission for Conventional Armaments into a new disarmament commission.

Attorney General Called Before Tax Investigators

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (UP)—House tax investigators called Attorney General J. Howard McGrath to testify today amid speculation he soon may quit or be fired.

McGrath was scheduled to have a private talk with Mr. Truman yesterday, but it was postponed. The White House said the conference would be held soon, but no date was fixed.

Mr. Truman was reported to feel that "the cheap chiseling that is coming to light is unpardonable."

"He is heartbroken because all his political life, his personal integrity has been unshaken," the President's friend said. "And now some of the lesser lights of government are making his administration look like a school for scandal."

As McGrath was called to testify (at 10:30 a.m. EST) in the tax inquiry, there were these other developments in the fast-moving investigation by a House Ways and Means Subcommittee:

1. Sen. Richard M. Nixon (R., Calif.) demanded that Mr. Truman fire both McGrath and Secretary of Treasury John W. Snyder because of the tax scandals, Nixon predicted on the basis of private information that McGrath would quit before Jan. 1.

2. Sen. John J. Williams (R., Del.) said in a radio interview that Internal Revenue Bureau employees dismissed from office for misconduct should either be tried or exonerated. He seconded Nixon's demand that Mr. Truman fire McGrath or Snyder or both.

3. Authoritative sources reported that Bert K. Naster, alleged accomplice of Frank Nathan in a $500,000 tax shakedown attempt on Chicago attorney Abraham Teitelbaum, was ready to deny part of the story told under oath by Nathan. It was understood that Naster would dispute Nathan's testimony that he (Naster) offered to help Teitelbaum employ a tax attorney for $125,000 or $175,000. Nathan mentioned both figures.

5. Subcommittee chairman Cecil R. King (R., Calif.) accused Teitelbaum as the government's chief tax prosecutor, of a "breach of the public trust" for his conduct while assistant attorney general.

His subcommittee dismissed Caudle last night after keeping him under subpoena for more than a month. The testimony showed that Caudle got cut-rate mink coats and automobiles and free airplane rides through persons interested in tax cases, and that he knew about the shakedown attempt on Teitelbaum but never reported it.

Here Is Straight Information On New Auto Inspection Law

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article appeared in the Abilene Reporter-News:

There's many a headache between ordering the inspection of 1.5 million Texas automobiles and getting the job done. That's the way Sgt. Luther Moore of the Abilene Highway Patrol sees it. Even the top officials of the new program, working under a full head of steam have just dented the task's surface, Moore said.

Moore is handling the program in this district. Under the new inspection law, passed by the Legislature, all Texas motor vehicles must be inspected and approved before registration time next Spring.

If your truck or car doesn't pass the 10-point program, you don't drive it—legally. Here they are:

1. A verification of the motor number.
2. The muffler system—and here the hot rods may fall by the wayside because the straight exhaust tubes won't go unless they actually cut motor noise.
3. YOUR BRAKES GOOD? Brakes—Both hand and foot brakes are to be checked, and an emergency brake is a necessity. A wheel will be pulled to check the linings. Worn drums or linings will call for a repair job, and proper fluid in hydraulic brakes is required.

4. Lights (both headlights and rear lights)—Minimum and maximum candlepower and connections. Two headlights, one red tail light, and one white rear license plate light are necessary.
5. Steering.
6. Wheel alignment — proper toe-in.

7. Horn — proper connections and must be heard at 200 feet. sirens are forbidden, and horns may not be too harsh or loud.
8. Windshields (except on motor bikes or trailers)—If there is discoloration, diffusion, or oil splashes three inches above the bottom of the glass it's a new windshield for you. More than one crack from a given point is out, and scars larger than a quarter are disqualifying. Stickers other than the inspection sticker or required military stickers are not allowed in front.

9. Mirror—must reveal the area 200 feet to the rear.

WIPERS MUST WORK

10. Windshield wipers—manual type are allowed, but electric types must function under power. Dead or worn rubber must be replaced.

Sgt. Moore says applications are still pouring in to his office for inspection stations. Many of the garage or service station owners do not qualify because of insufficient equipment or space, he added.

Final approval of the stations will come from the office of the new chief inspector, Capt. G. W. Busby in Austin, Moore said, but the patrolmen all over Texas are checking the potential stations.

There must be one inspecting point for each county, Moore said. If nobody applies, then the state may have to set it up. So far that appears to be a small problem.

The inspection will cost $1.00, and a recheck will be done free if the repairs are made within seven days. After that another $1.00 fee will be assessed.

The motorist must carry his copy of the inspection approval along to register his vehicle. An inspection will be required each year. Moore estimates the inspection will require 15 to 20 minutes after the program is well underway.

Inspection stations must pay a $5 fee and make $1,000 bond before final approval is granted. They will be supervised by the new inspection division of the Department of Public Safety and violators of their requirements may have permits revoked and are subject to $500 fine. Permits granted this year and next will be good until Aug. 31, 1953, Moore said.

Texas will be one of 13 states to have the inspection system, Moore said. Pennsylvania has had it 20 years, and they have cut mechanical defects from 13 to 2.5 per cent.

Entries For S. A. Livestock Show Close This Week

Saturday, December 15th, is the deadline for entries in the San Antonio Livestock Exposition to be held Feb. 15-24 at the Bexar County Coliseum.

As the deadline neared, Bob Tate, general livestock superintendent, predicted that animals entered for competition will show a 20 per cent increase over the '51 show.

Basing his forecast on the unusually heavy influx of requests for entry blanks, Tate said he expected that the entry lists for the open and boys' show would total about 4,500 head of stock. There were 3,700 animals entered in the 1951 exposition.

TODAY'S SPORTRAIT

By Ed Feinen
United Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Dec. 11 (UP)—Dick Hoover a bulky Akron, O., bowler, hit an athletic jackpot at 21.

He hoped today to turn up the three bars again with a repeat victory in one of kegling's top classics, the Annual National Match Game Championships, ending Sunday.

Hoover, who packs slightly more than 200 pounds on a five-foot 10 inch frame wasn't pessimistic about his chances.

"It all depends on how you're going when you go in," he said. "You know you got to hit over 200 a game to win this, and there's no way to tell how much over 200 you got to be."

"I'm bowling about the same now as I did last year, hitting 202 and 216 in the two leagues I bowl in. But you got to have the breaks too."

Hoover had no break in winning last year. In fact he came from behind on the final day to pull down the top prize, posting an 876 total for four games with a 246 final game. The victory led to a contract with a bowling ball manufacturer, and since then, Hoover has given up his job as a warehouse worker to display his skill on the alleys.

"I've given about 30 exhibitions," he said, "and it's a nice life. If my sponsor renews my contract, I'll go right on doing it."

Hoover unmarried, lays off bowling for "a couple of months" each summer. But otherwise he bowls some 30 games a week, just to keep in shape, and he plays no other sport.

"I bowl six games in the two leagues and about 24 in practice," he said. "You can figure four hours for the league bowling and it takes me about seven minutes for each other game."

Hoover has bowled five 300 games in eight years at the sport. When he was 16, however, he tallied the highest series in the nation that year, 847, on scores of 300, 268 and 279.

Fair-skinned, quite but genial, Hoover was rolling a special match today with 1945 match game champion Junie Mac Mahon. Both will enter the finals of this year's tournament automatically. Hoover will be 22 Saturday, the day before the tourney ends.

"If I can stay up at the top," he said, "I've found my livelihood. But if I slip off, then I can turn to something else. But I'll always bowl either as a job or for fun."

Hoover has advised hundreds of bowlers how to improve their game, both around his home town and on his exhibition tours.

"I'd say the biggest problem the bowler has," he said, "is that so many of them get themselves

Abdullah King's Egyptian Dancer Is Family Boss

CAIRO, Egypt, Dec. 10 (UP)—Sheppard (Abdullah) King of Texas said today he found complete marital bliss by letting his 12-day bride, Egyptian belly dancer Samia Gamal, be the boss.

"I've never lived in a happier days than since Samia and I were married," the Texas playboy said. He and Samia were married after two months of courtship and legal complications, reaching from the Rio Grande to the Nile.

"Samia and I had a small fight a few days after the wedding over who should be boss," King said. "Samia won. But she isn't a harsh boss at all. She treats me very well."

Samia said she was in charge of the family since "the woman should always be the boss."

She said she is completing work on her last Egyptian film before she and King take a honeymoon trip down the Nile, after which they will go to the United States. Kings stays home writing letters and taking lessons in Arabic.

Four Pioneer Conference Teams Entered In Junior College Meet

The Ranger Junior College Invitational Basketball Tournament scheduled for this Friday and Saturday will give local basketball fans a preview of all but one of the teams Ranger Junior College will meet in the Pioneer Conference this year.

Four of the five Pioneer teams will be pounding the hardwood in the local gym this week-end competing for team and individual honors.

The four entered are Arlington State College, Tarleton State College, San Angelo Junior College, and the Ranger JC Rangers.

Dropping on down in the lower half of the pairings you can find Ranger Junior College pitted against Cisco, and Howard County will meet San Angelo.

Four games are scheduled for Friday evening and night. The first tilt will be between Decatur and Tarleton State at 2:00 p.m., followed by ACC - Arlington at 3:30. Ranger Boys Beat Strawn

Coach Sam Aills said this morning his boys basketball team lit their stride last night and started cooperating with each other in the game against Strawn, which they won 75 to 26.

Aills said heretofore the team had been failing to work together as well as they should, although winning all their ball games thus far. He said last night was the first time the ball club had actually acted as a complete unit in a game.

Chico Mendoza hit his stride last night and racked up 25 points to lead the points scored department. He was followed by Hinds with 18 Cole with 16, Rush with 10, and Forney with 6.

Coach Aills said he played all nine of the boys that he took with him last night. The other four to make the trip were Carter, Cantrell, Bagwell, and Varner.

The teams go to Dublin Thursday where they will compete in the Dublin High School tournament.

The Ranger boys will play their first game Thursday evening at 6:30 against the Comanche Indians.

BIG FOUR—

The Big Four powers met behind closed doors for 10 days under the chairmanship of UN General Assembly President Luis Padilla Nervo of Mexico at behest of small nations in the political committee.

Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky represented the Soviet Union, Dr. Philip Jessup, the United States, Minister of State Selwyn Lloyd, Britain, and Jules Moch, France.

The communique said the talks disclosed the main differences between the East and West centered on the problems of international control of atomic energy, the steps by which disarmament should be accomplished, and the directives which should be given the new disarmament commission.

The three Western powers held out for their plan of "progressive and continuing disclosure" by all powers of conventional armaments, armed forces and atomic research with inspection teams empowered to verify the information wherever and whenever it desired. Vishinsky demanded that atomic weapons be outlawed at once and inspection teams be permitted to enter a country only "when suspicious of a breach of the convention on the prohibition of atomic weapons arose."

It's foolish to drive any car a city block without ample insurance. You may hit somebody the first 50 feet and get sued for 50 thousand. You may not have 50 thousand, but the law may take your home or attach your wages for years. Or your car may burn, be stolen, be damaged or cause damage. Yes sir, a car is full of risks. The Fellow Who Sees Flying Saucers—

... may be somewhat like the one who buys real estate without an abstract—he sees and believes but he never knows! The land looks fine, so do the improvements, but how about the title? The title itself is invisible, but there is an easy way to find out about it. Land and it's possessions are one thing, titles thereto are quite another. Yes, brother, when you buy real estate without an abstract you may be seeing things and it could be flying saucers!
