PRICE FIVE CENTS No. 203

SEEN OR HEARD

Easy now. Those people that are approaching you with a steady, determined look on their face mean no harm. They're selling tickets to the Quarterback's Football Banquet scheduled for February 7, which is on Thursday night.

You ladies don't let the men of the house fool you about that banquet being for men only. The club made it a point to welcome the fairer sex to the dance.

Just like the judge at the Lions Club said the other day "I looked around for the five most intelligent persons I could find for a rent board and what did I turn up with? The only all-woman rent board in the nation."

They're expecting a full house for the banquet and the ticket committee is hard at work.

That too you heard this morning of the fire siren was to remind you to pay your poll tax. You've got a big job this year, seems like all the boys at the capitol who have had their name in the paper or on the radio more than twice are touting their hat in the presidential race.

We see the Volunteer Firemen haven't put the bite on you with the surprise package in the poll drive yet. Bet you don't need to know when they do—and you better come across. Those boys are sure hard to get along with when they're working for the March of Dimes.

This isn't March but the wind is sure getting strong. We hope it is blowing in a little moisture instead of more cold and wind.

This month we've had one snow which was on the 4th that amounted to .15 of an inch another that wouldn't measure on the 20th.

Since October 1, 1951 we have had only 4.83 inches of rain with 3.04 inches of that coming at one time, October 23—that was the night the derrick was toppled by the wind storm.

The situation as far as moisture is drastic in this section. Eastland County was declared a disaster and the farmers can receive disaster relief.

They can get this relief through a government agency after they have exhausted all other means of getting funds to finance their farming operations for next year. "We believe that this undertaking by the various interested agencies and persons of the county to hold a meeting and do what they can is a very good idea if in the entirety of the gathering only one good idea can be found to aid Eastland County Farming operations. Of meeting of this type come some of the more recent developments for agriculture and it show the farmer and stockmen that his fellow citizens are interested in him.

We should have told you but we didn't, that Price Crawley is donating the other half of the food for the Quarterback Banquet. Price and Morris Newman will be the one's giving the club the biggest boost it has had in many a day. Remember that when you are asked to come to the banquet that other people are doing as much or more than you are.

John Nix Makes Plea To Voters

To the Voters of Precinct No. 1 of Eastland County:
Talks with friends of mine helped me to decide to make the race for County Commissioner.

I have lived in this precinct all but two years of my life, and I have always tried to treat people right.

I feel that I am fully competent to do the work required of the office of County Commissioner any time I see an opportunity to help the people of the district. I will not fail to do my best to do so.

I am running on my own merits and have no criticism for my opponents. I hope to make the kind of race that regardless of the result of the July primaries, I will still have the good will of my opponents and their friends.

If the voters of the precinct see fit to elect me, I will be greatly appreciated. John H. Nix.

LIONS TO AUCTION SERVICES OF 3 MEMBERS TO AID POLIO DRIVE

The Ranger Lions voted yesterday to sell the services for one half day of three of their members to the highest bidder at an auction to be held at a later date and that the person bidding for and getting the services of these three Lions may assign them to any chores of their design.

The three "volunteers" voted into the auction ring by the Lions were Ranger's Mayor Price Crawley, druggist Nick Crawford, and clothing store operator Saul Perlestein. The selling of the services of these three distinguished Ranger citizens will be held at an auction in prominent place in the city and will probably be highlighted by an appearance of the Ranger High School Band.

Ronald Pruet presented three ideas for raising money for the March of Dimes campaign in Ranger and this was the one chosen by the Lions.

The Lions heard an address by the County Judge of Parker County who was brought here by Dr. C. W. Harris for the Lions meeting.

Some of the interesting facts brought out by the Judge about Parker County were the facts that the county operated on less money than the budget called for and gave each of the county's employees a twenty-five per cent increase in salary; Parker County has the only all women rent control board in the nation; and that the budget is less this year than it was the past twelve months.

In the absence of Morris George, Lion President Pat Thomas told the Lions that the Safety Program for the Ranger schools had been completed with the showing of the safety films at the

Eastland Youth, Machine Gunner, Is Now In Japan

Midwestern Deep Freeze Death Toll 21 Now; Cattle Freezing

By United Press
A numbing cold wave moved into the eastern states today as a 40-year-old man described the misery of three days marooned by a midwestern blizzard which cost 21 lives.

Winter relaxed its frigid grip on the northern midwest states as the cold front invaded the upper reaches of New England with zero temperatures. Low thermometer readings were reported throughout most of the Atlantic Seaboard states.

But in Minnesota and the Dakotas residents searched in snow drifts up to 15 feet deep for additional victims of the four-day deep freeze which was spearheaded by a howling two-day blizzard. Kenneth Grebing finally made it back to his home at Pierre, S. D., bringing with him a tale of long hours of agony trapped by the snow.

Grebing, operator of a trucking firm, said his ordeal began Monday at the height of the blizzard when he plowed into a snow-bank because he was blinded by the storm.

The truck he was driving carried 125 gallons of fuel, he said, but the motor failed and with it his heat was cut off.

He walked 12 miles through the storm until he came upon the stalled auto of the Rev. and Mrs. L. J. Ray. The back seat was covered with a foot of snow.

Grebing said he pleaded with the Rays to walk with him. He told them they would freeze to death if they stayed in the car. At last he convinced them and they started off down the wind-whipped road.

But after only three-quarters of a mile, Mrs. Ray collapsed and the three of them took refuge in another stalled auto they found on the road.

They spent 20 hours huddled together in the front seat, trying to keep warm with their hands. About 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, another lonely traveler, Loren Chase, stumbled onto their car. He had walked 20 miles guided only by the telephone poles protruding from the snow.

Soon after that they left the car and followed Chase to the farmhouse of Herb Smith a few miles away.

Proceeding the game between RJC and CJC, girls teams from the two colleges clashed. Ranger lost this one to Cisco 26-38.

Two newcomers at RJC saw action in the game last night, they are David Anderson and Bobby Skipworth.

Coach Boone Yarbrough said that Don Ashcraft came "unbuckled last night and played his best game of the year in the wide open affair at Cisco.

The Rangers next scheduled game is with San Angelo here next Wednesday night.

Judge Sentences Widow Swindlers To Twelve Years

EL PASO, Jan. 25 (UP)—Judge R. Ewing Thomson sentenced the unindicted "talent and personality" of two naive young men and then sentenced them to 12 years each for swindling Mrs. Gertrude Joyce, Roswell, N. M., widow.

Victor E. Pereira, 38, who married Mrs. Joyce and his friend Eugene H. Brading, 37, were convicted of defrauding the wealthy widow of $48,000. Judge Thomson sentenced them yesterday in Federal District Court here.

Five years of the sentence was for defrauding through the mails, and another ten was clapped on, to run concurrently, for transporting their spoils in interstate commerce.

The concurrent sentences would run only 10 years, but Judge Thomson added two years on a third count of fraud and specified that it follow the first 10 years.

"It is unfortunate that young men of your personality, intelligence and talent directed your activities in unlawful pursuits," Judge Thomson told the pair.

The announcement gave no details as to whether the trains were carrying troops, passengers or freight. No casualties were mentioned.

Heavy French reinforcements, believed to include armor, poured into Tunisia today. The nationalists may have derailed the two trains to slow down this reinforcement of garrisons here. In the past nine days 69 persons have been killed and more than 200 wounded in clashes between nationalists and police and troops.

Eastland Boys Meet In Japan

It's a small world after all, is the opinion of three Eastland county boys now in a hospital in Yokasuka, Japan.

Marine Sgt. Clifton Osborn of Cisco went down with an attack of yellow jaundice while in Korea. He was flown from he battlefield to the hospital, where he located another jaundice patient, Billy Rex Berry, also of Cisco. While renewing their schoolboy friendship they were overheard by a navy corpsman, Dub Grimes of Gorman, who said: "Say are you two guys from Eastland county, Texas? They were, and in all probability they will stage a West Texas Rodeo, as soon as they are dismissed from the hospital.

10 Red MIG's Downed Over Korea Today

8th ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Jan. 25 (UP)—American Sabrejets shot down 10 Communist MIG-15 jet fighters today in four flaming air battles over Northwest Korea.

It was Sabrejets' second largest one-day bag of enemy jets. They scored their biggest victory last Dec. 13, when they shot down 13 of the speedy, sweepback wing MIGs.

An 11th MIG probably was destroyed in today's swirling dog-fights over "MIG Alley." Three others were damaged.

Five of the enemy jets were sent crashing to earth by Sabres of the 51st Interceptor Wing in a single dogfight late this afternoon. Three others were shot down by the 4th Fighter Interceptor wing in another dogfight at almost the same hour.

Two more of the Russian-built fighters had been knocked down and one probably destroyed in a morning clash southeast of Sinju on the Manchurian border, northern terminus of "MIG Alley."

U. N. losses, if any, were not given in accordance with standing practice.

The aerial fighting highlighted the day. Ground activity dwindled to patrolling in freezing temperatures ranging to nine below zero. Most of the 145-mile ground front was under heavy snow.

Altogether, 68 allied jets tangled with about 167 Communist jets in the four separate aerial battles.

The day's bag brought the 6th Air Force MIG total to 182 destroyed, 33 probably destroyed and 349 damaged.

Reds Offer New Plan To Break Truce Deadlock

PANMUNJOM, Korea, Jan. 25 (UP)—The United Nations offered a new plan today to speed up a Korean armistice.

The Allies gave the Reds a choice of three ways of settling the deadlock over airfield construction and proposed that staff officers begin at once to work out details of supervising a truce.

Chinese Maj. Gen. Esieh Fang promised to study the proposal and reply later. Possibly at the next meeting of the truce supervisory subcommittee at 11 a. m. tomorrow (9 p. m. today EST).

The UN command was believed to have introduced its plan after getting a directive from Washington to "ease up" on Allied demands in the interest of concluding an early armistice.

In the war prisoner subcommittee, the Communists began stalling out a claim to 87,000 captured Red troops who the Allies say are South Koreans impressed into the Red army. The UN command has balked at returning them to the Communists.

The Reds also served notice that they have no intention of turning back to the allies as war prisoners some 50,000 South Korean troops who, since their capture, have been incorporated into the Communist armies.

Globe Girdling Congressman Is Headed To Dallas

TUCSON, Ariz., Jan. 25 (UP)—Globe-girdling Congressman Peter F. Mack planned to fly to Dallas today in his light plane for a two-day visit before returning to Illinois.

The Illinois Democratic Representative, who flew solo around the world on a good will tour, said he expected to return to Springfield, Ill., Sunday to attend a reception in his honor.

His air tour of 30 countries and 450 cities began at Springfield last Oct. 7 and was financed by his constituents.

Mack said yesterday his trip convinced him that America's stock was higher in Greece and Turkey than in any other country in Southern Europe because those nations benefited most from the Truman Doctrine.

Egyptian Police Rebel At British Disarmament Plan; Battle Ensues

By Peter Webb
United Press Staff Correspondent
BRITISH HEADQUARTERS, Suez Canal Zone, Jan. 25 (UP)—More than 1,500 tank-supported British troops shot and shelled defiant Egyptian police into surrender at Ismailia today in the bloodiest battle of the Anglo-Egyptian conflict.

At least 43 Egyptians and British were killed and scores wounded in the six-hour engagement in the center of Ismailia, main trouble spot in the Canal Zone. More than 300 dusty, bloody Egyptian survivors surrendered.

The last Egyptian resistance collapsed at mid-day when a small group of police disbanded in the governor's mansion finally gave up in the face of pointblank shelling by 20-pounder guns mounted on Britain's big Centurion tanks.

(In London, Prime Minister Churchill's government gave full approval to the disarming of Egyptian police in Ismailia—which started the battle.)

Local Jaycees Attend Mineral Wells Meeting

A group of Ranger Jaycees headed by the local president, Charlie Milliken, attended a business meeting of Junior Chamber of Commerce Clubs from this area.

Allen Full, Harlan Phillips, Charlie Rose, Joe Fabry, Earl Lebrede, and James Townsend accompanied Milliken to the meeting at Mineral Wells.

Representatives from Jaycees Clubs at Mineral Wells, Ranger, Fort Worth and Weatherford attended the gathering and heard guest speaker explain salesmanship.

Plans were also made last night for the Bi-Regional Convention at Austin; the State Convention at Dallas; and the National Convention at Dallas.

Firemen Answer Call To D & C Salvage Co.

The Ranger Fire Department answered a call to the D & C Salvage Company last yesterday morning about 11:15.

A fire that started in the form of a grass fire spread and caught fire to some of the greasy timbers stored on the lot and burnt two tires off a truck.

Cause of the fire was undetermined.

Mrs. J. H. Caton Now Improving

The condition of Mrs. J. H. Caton who is ill in a Ranger hospital, was described as being improved today. She spent a quiet day yesterday, and word from the hospital early today, indicated that she had a good night.

Mrs. Caton is suffering from the effects of a severe heart attack, which occurred a week ago. Her condition has been described as critical all week, and while she is not out of danger, as yet, her condition is improved.

HIGH SCHOOL CHEERLEADERS TO HAVE CAKEWALK SATURDAY

The Cheerleaders of Ranger High School are sponsoring a cake walk Saturday night between six and seven to overcome their recent loss due to someone robbing the high schools.

One of the cheerleaders stated this morning that they had all of their funds in the safe and the culprits made off with the whole $14.56. They have about two dollars left that was not taken in the robbery.

Total cost of the jackets for Cooke Kirkpatrick, J. D. Harper, Jo Ann Ball, Sue Ewing, Beverly Crawley, and the mascot, Kay Hopper will be $96.

The loss of the money they had

(Units of the British Mediterranean Fleet were ordered to put to sea from Malta. A spokesman at Naval Headquarters at Valletta said only that it was a precautionary move. He would not say it was connected with the Egyptian situation.)

The Egyptian police alone lost a minimum of 40 dead, plus an undetermined number of wounded. The preliminary British casualty figure was three soldiers killed and an officer and a soldier wounded.

The fighting centered around police headquarters and an auxiliary police barracks, but the last group to surrender was a small force enclosed in the governor's mansion. They had vowed to fight to the death, and some did.

An Egyptian army captain left the mansion under the truce flag British for permission to summon at one point and asked the ambulances for the Egyptian wounded.

The British refused the request. Retorted the captain: "You can come and collect our dead bodies."

He returned to his comrades in the crumbling building. They were outnumbered at least 20 to 1.

The British crushed the main resistance at Ismailia Police Headquarters and a health office used as a barracks by auxiliary police at noon (5 a. m. EST), when the last group fled out of the buildings with arms upraised in surrender.

The auxiliary police barracks were a shell-shattered wreck, with blood running down the stairs. Bodies were found in grotesque positions amid the ruins inside.

Fighting broke out after the British surrounded Ismailia's main municipal buildings with two battalions of paratroopers, the 4th Royal Tank Regiment and armored cars of the First Royal Dragoons, with Lancashire Fusiliers in reserve.

The British called on all police to lay down their arms and surrender.

While police authorities sought to negotiate, a number of auxiliary police fired on the British forces. The British replied in kind and the worst Anglo-Egyptian clash since the Egyptians first sought to expel the British from the Canal Zone developed.

Costs For Food Now On Upgrade

Eat, drink and enjoy your groceries, for tomorrow they may be higher.

The U. S. Department of Labor in a recent bulletin stated food prices seem to be more or less stable in most Southern cities. Pork, fish and some cuts of beef have shown slight declines, while fruits, vegetables and dairy products are slowly climbing.

Flour, round steak and butter are steadily climbing, with lettuce, tomatoes, cabbage and bananas showing the biggest gains. Potatoes have done a rocket climb since the first of the year, and navy beans have done almost as well.

Pork chops have shown a drop of more than 16 per cent, and eggs are on the toboggan, though just before the holidays they showed a 68 per cent gain.

The slight net gain of about 1 1/2 per cent is a fair general average.

Place Emphasis on Texture

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Unlikely as it seems in the middle of winter, summer is really on its way. When designers create cottons that will be important hot weather fashions, summer must be considered.

In a season when silhouette is not drastically changed, the emphasis falls on fabric. This year, summer's cottons have a "three-dimensional" look created by the use of dobby dots, shadowed over-plaids, satin stripes woven into gingham, and lots of cording. Color, too, gains new importance. Colors in cottons this year start with an entire family of blues, from deep sapphire to clear sky-blue.

They continue into sun-yellows, the clear, candy pinks, hibiscus orange reds, deep raspberry reds, and so into neat black-and-white combinations in pencil-line stripes, tiny checks or outstanding squares. The textured look (left) in a blue Dan River cotton with a raised dobby dot has an organdy insert below the Peter Pan collar and organdy cuffs. Crystal buttons with a raindrop sparkle are used from neckline to the full skirt. A green chambray that sheds wrinkles (right) is cut into a dress with scalloped, portrait neckline and cap sleeves. Full skirt of unpressed pleats, billowed out by a crinoline, has white embroidered eyelets and scalloped design.

This Hotbed Keeps Both Plants and Gardener Warm

Working Drawing for Hotbed Outside Basement Window.

If you have a basement window facing south, a hotbed can be built around it which is most economical and convenient for the user of any.

Using heat from the basement, which usually can spare it, it is also accessible from within, so that the operator need rarely brave wintry winds to use it.

For such a hotbed can be found the gear around, and the cost of construction is small, especially if you build it yourself from the complete working drawing which accompanies this discussion. Dimensions in the drawing provide for a frame covered with two standard 3 x 8 sash; but these can easily be changed to fit any size sash you prefer to use.

Start by making an excavation in front of the window about 6 inches deep. Its area must be figured carefully, so that it will hold a frame fitted to your sash. As in the case of other hotbeds, a plastic substitute for glass may be used if preferred.

Build a frame to fit in the excavation. The sides must slant sharply from a point above the window, almost to the ground. Fit the sash into this frame, using hinges at the top so the sash may easily be raised for ventilation. Earth may be banked around the frame to keep out the cold; and the sides should be as tight as possible to keep out the wind. The frame should be caulked where it joins the foundation to prevent drafts.

Heat is supplied to this bed by opening the basement window. The window is left open at night, and may often be closed during the day, when the sun is shining. Hotbeds of this type have been tried and tested, and although they do not maintain temperatures as high as other kinds the heat will be more even, and the ventilation much better.

The main things to watch are temperature and drafts. Ventilation is necessary on warm days, and for very short periods on cooler days.

Christian Youth Now In Action; Many Projects

CHICAGO, ILL.—A "paint brush and hammer" religion is giving new impetus to the beliefs of thousands of young Protestants across the nation.

These young people, spurred on by a national project, The Call to United Christian Youth Action, are going further than reading their Sunday school lessons. They are putting their beliefs into action in their own communities.

These views were expressed by Don Shiver, 25, national chairman of the United Christian Youth Movement, which administers The Call. The then proceeded to point out some projects that have already been undertaken.

CRISTIAN YOUTH PROJECTS
Twenty-three teen-agers of various New Brunswick (N. J.) churches spent a recent week-end renovating a Baptist church in suburban Piscataway. They painted the Sunday school room in the basement, hung curtains, put hymn book racks on the pews and scrubbed the floor.

In Jonesboro, La., a small community of less than 4,000, young whites and Negroes have united forces to build a park for Negroes. Jonesboro doesn't at present have a park of any kind, but the youngsters know that the city is planning to build one. They also know that it will be for whites only.

Two successful attempts at evangelism have been held in Bushnell, Ill., and Fort Wayne, Ind., where United Christian youth missions have been held. The week-long mission includes a survey of the community's youth, their church preferences, discussions on teen-age problems, visits to the unchurched youth, and a new look at their own church's youth program.

These are typical of the hundreds of projects that will be carried out in thousands of communities across the nation," Shiver pointed out.

Belgian Doctor Comes To States To Help Girl

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 25 (UP)—The fate of a six-year-old girl, dying from tumor of the brain, today lay in the hands of a noted Belgian brain specialist who flew here from Brussels to treat her.

Dr. Roger Haentges told reporters last night during a brief stop at Dallas he was sure he would help the child, Sue Ford. But he declined to discuss the case further until he examined Sue and talked with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Ford.

Dr. Haentges, who has four children, read an appeal in Brussels from Sue's father, "to the medical profession throughout the world" to do something for his daughter. Ford said an operation would kill the child and that she had only a few weeks to live.

Sue doesn't know she has a tumor or even that the doctor is here to help her, although she is in bed at her home.

Dr. Haentges will use chemical injections and put the child on a special diet.

Nepal Leaders Orders Curfew To Hunt Rebel Chief

NEW DELHI, India, Jan. 25 (UP)—The Nepal government ordered a dusk to dawn curfew today in the Khatmandu Valley and gave rebels who took part in a 24-hour revolt three days to surrender.

An official Nepal spokesman here said all movement out of the Khatmandu Valley would be prohibited while Nepalese troops hunted down K. I. Singh, leader of Tuesday's short-lived uprising against the Congress party government.

Permits are needed to leave the valley in which the Nepalese capital is situated. All meetings and proceedings, except ceremonial gatherings, were banned in the capital. A state of emergency was declared yesterday by King Tribhuvana.

Singh was reported last seen seven miles from Khatmandu after collapse of the uprising, which was built around the Nepal Home Guard—the Raksha Dal Volunteers.

The week's best joke, we think, as told by an octogenarian of our community, concerns the Arkansas Ozarks, noted for the longevity of life of its people.

A tourist approaching an humble cottage on the mountain side, found an old man gray with years, crying and sobbing. When asked why he was crying the old one replied:

"Paw whipped me this morning."

The astounded tourist blurted out, "Whipped you?" "Why in the world did he do that?"

And the old fellow answered tearfully, "Well I knew I shouldn't have, but I 'sassed' my grand-paw."

Truman Dodges Politics In Letter Writing

KANSAS CITY, Kan., Jan. 25 (UP)— President Truman sidestepped mention of his political intentions today in a letter to Nebraska Democratic National Committeeman James C. Quigley, chairman of a midwest party conference calculated to boom a Truman draft.

Mr. Truman said 1952 is a critical year for defense, that the Democratic party will not play politics with national defense, and that his "purpose in this election year" is to make sure the party continues to work for the nation's strength and people's welfare.

He shed no light on his availability as a candidate for reelection.
