

BIRD YEAR

HEARD

County Attorney Joe Neusale paid us a visit last night and we asked him what action they were going to take against the two men that broke into Anderson's Grocery a while back.

Joe said they had changed their tune and both of them had admitted entering the store, therefore they would both be tried for the crime.

Seems that they thought with only one of them taking the "rap" they thought the other would be able to give more aid from the "outside." The guy agreeing to take the blame for all the work must have lost his faith in his buddy.

"No honor among thieves."

Neusale said that three other local men involved in some recent thefts may be allowed to join the Army if they will agree to do this.

He probably believes that this would do them more good than the association they would have with hardened criminals, were they given a prison sentence.

Ranger seems to be "perk-ing" up lately in their civic undertakings. From our observation larger attendance and harder work from members of various groups here are netting results for the town.

The prolonged drought has caused most everyone hardships, but they are pitching in to do something about it, and not let their fellow men down.

As was said at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon Tuesday, there is nothing that can compare with unity.

When everyone in town joins together for the betterment of the town there is bound to be improvement. As long as we are going to live here, we should try to make it the best place in the country to live and work.

The Ranger Junior Chamber of Commerce is promoting the livestock industry with their Tri-County Livestock Show in March. And the senior chamber is promoting the town every day. Telling the world about the assets and getting new firms in here to help the old ones prosper.

One of these days somebody will decide that "so goes the Chamber of Commerce, goes the town."

Brann Garner, talking about a new movie, asked someone if they knew what "Quo Vadis" meant. When no one answered he said it means "Where Goest Thou?" and we have another phrase for it in Texas: "Where you'all goin'."

Forty-Seven Attend Chamber Commerce Membership Kick-Off

There were 47 persons in attendance at the Ranger Chamber of Commerce Membership Kick-Off Breakfast this morning, including four members of the local Boy Scouts.

H. C. Henderson, chairman of the membership committee presided at the breakfast; he and W. F. Creager are co-chairmen of the Membership Drive.

M. Henderson introduced the president, Dr. C. W. Harris; president of the Eastland County Water Board, C. B. Frut; secretary of the Water Board, David Pickrell; and all made short talks to the workers at the breakfast.

The Boy Scouts delivered to the workers a telegram Wednesday afternoon, telling them not to prepare breakfast for their husbands, as they would be at the Membership Breakfast at seven o'clock, Thursday morning.

The six Scouts working with the chamber also gave a card listing the names of persons supposed to be at the breakfast, which they were to call this morning starting at 6:50 a. m., and remind them to attend the breakfast.

Prizes will be given to the Scouts whose group listed on the cards made the largest attendance percentage.

Concluding the breakfast the group was divided into pairs, and each pair was given the names of three firms to call on during the drive. The workers were asked to call on the firms before reporting to their businesses this morning.

Attending the breakfast were: H. C. Henderson, Dr. C. W. Harris, John Smith, Max Star, C. O. Phillips, C. A. Campbell, D. Joseph.

Rangers Crown Gaylia Carter BB Sweetheart

Gaylia Carter of Ranger was crowned as the 1952 Basketball Sweetheart of the Ranger Junior College Rangers at the Tarleton-Ranger game. The Rangers defeated Tarleton in their first conference meeting with the Plovboys, 70 to 55.

Captains Tommy Wilson and Neal Peary presented Miss Carter the sweetheart's corsage at the half of the ball game. Miss Carter was ringed by the other members of the basketball team as Peary presented her with the corsage.

Gaylia will be featured among the other college favorites in the Ranger Junior College annual, "The Ranger."

In the game, Jimmy Bridges was high point man for the Rangers with 24; Tommy Wilson, making his first appearance after missing the last four games with a strained ankle, boosted the point making with his 18 points, followed by Neal Peary with 12. Strebeck of Tarleton was high for the Plovboys with 23.

The Rangers journey to Schreiner Friday for a return bout with the Schreiner quintet at a conference game.

The Rangers will close out their basketball season by meeting Tarleton in Stephenville. Coach Yarbrough stated he was going to try to get the date of this game moved up as to expedite the closing of the season for the Rangers.

Four of the Boy Scouts were present, they were:
Duke Dixon, Howard Oliver, Jr., Stanley McAnnally, Jr., and Clifford Estes.

Chamber of Commerce manager, R. V. Galloway, stated this was one of the largest membership breakfasts that he had ever attended since he has been in Ranger. The results of the large attendance and high interest will be tabulated tomorrow.

Ranger Seaman On Destroyer

William L. Sadler, electrician's mate, third class, USN, son of W. I. Sadler of 561 Mesquite St., Ranger, is serving aboard the destroyer USS Remy, which was re-activated at the U. S. Naval Station, San Diego, Calif.

After post activation overhaul at one of the West Coast Naval shipyards, and extensive training exercises in the San Diego area, the Remy will become part of the Destroyer Force, U. S. Atlantic Fleet.

Egypt Will Pay Riot Damage To Foreign Nations

CAIRO, Egypt, Feb. 14 (UP)—The Egyptian government said today it deplored the bloody Cairo rioting of Jan. 26 and offered to pay a maximum of 5,000,000 pounds ($14,000,000) in damage claims.

The offer was made in identical notes to 15 nations which protested the rioting and destruction, in which more than 40 persons died.

The government said preliminary investigation showed the rioters sought to exploit for their "sinister desires" demonstrations that protested clashes between British troops and Egyptian police at Suez in the Suez Canal Zone.

Numerous foreign owned business places, including the famed Shepherds' Hotel and American-owned theatres, were burned down in addition to many Egyptian firms accused of cooperating with the British.

The notes were sent to the United States, France, Switzerland, Austria, Argentina, Brazil, Sweden, India, Belgium, Italy, Greece, Turkey, Iran, Poland and the Netherlands. It was understood a separate note was sent to Britain.

Meanwhile the government of Premier Aly Maher Pasha will expand the military training of Egyptian youth for an emergency.

Fine, Sentence Levied Against Grain Operator

DALLAS, Feb. 14 (UP)—George M. Morris, Kansas City, Mo., grain warehouse owner, was fined $500 and sentenced to six months in jail yesterday for giving "influence money" to a former Production and Marketing Administration employee.

Morris gave Stephen G. Benit, Jr., the JMA employee, $290 during January and February of 1950, and the government charged the sum was to influence Benit to keep government-commodities stored in Morris' Shawnee, Okla., warehouse.

Morris was sentenced by Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson, who on Tuesday had given Benit a sentence equal to Morris' for accepting a bribe and money in addition to his government salary.

Morris pleaded before Judge Davidson yesterday that he gave Benit the money out of "genuine sympathy for the man." Morris said the former PMA official told him he had large medical bills to pay.

Morris also said he gave Benit the money after the Shawnee Warehouse was sold to Ed Smith, Jr., St. Louis, Mo.

Smith committed suicide after being indicted for bribing Benit.

Firing Of Scofield Follows Suspension One Other Official

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14 (UP)—Frank Scofield, Internal Revenue Collector at Austin, whose office currently is under investigation after suspension of Eugene L. Meyer, a top official there, was himself asked to resign.

The surprising development came late yesterday after Scofield said in Austin he was resigning because of his health.

John B. Dunlap, Internal Revenue Bureau commissioner, said the resignation of Scofield was requested "for the best interest of the revenue service."

President Truman said he had accepted the resignation, but Dunlap provided the shocker a short time later when he said: "This office suggested to Mr. Scofield that our preliminary investigation of the administration of his office indicated that it would be for the best interest of the revenue service that he submit his resignation."

"Our investigation is continuing. There will be no further statements until this investigation is completed."

Scofield's resignation brings to seven the number of Internal Revenue Collectors fired or requested to resign since tax scandals broke in the tax collectors agency last summer. In all 130 Internal Revenue employees have been forced out of government service.

An investigation of income tax officials in Texas was announced last month by James N. Cooper, special agent in charge of the intelligence unit of the Bureau of Internal Revenue at Dallas. He termed the inquiry "fronting."

Meyer, assistant chief of the Austin Income Tax Division, was suspended last month. F. E. Parson, chief deputy collector of the Austin office, said the suspension resulted from an investigation of Meyer's personal income tax.

Parson declined comment on Scofield who is ill in Setton hospital at Austin.

Scofield wired Dunlap yesterday that "after five weeks of serious illness and upon repeated advice of my physician that I must have complete rest from all business activities for several months... I tender my resignation."

Scofield, who had held the job since October, 1934, when he was appointed by the late President Roosevelt, became ill last month while en route to Washington to attend a meeting of Internal Revenue Collectors from over the nation. He was hospitalized for a time with influenza here.

Bureau sources say Scofield's salary as collector had been "more than $11,000 a year." The position is appointive and does not come under civil service.

Mrs. Scofield was quoted as saying in Austin her husband had not been asked to resign.

However, she declined to confirm the report.

American Sabres Damage One MIG

SIN ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Feb. 14 (UP)—American Sabrejet pilots damaged one Communist MIG-15 fighter plane today in the first air battle in three days over North Korea.

Thirty of the Russian-built jets attempted to break through a screening force of F-86 Sabrejets to attack United Nations fighter-bombers hammering away at Red supply lines. Twenty-nine Sabres chased the MIGs back to the Yalu River before they could get at the Allied bombers.

Maj. Zane S. Hmsel of East Lansing, Mich., damaged the enemy fighter. He now has one MIG destroyed and three damaged.

F-80 Shooting Stars teamed with Meteor Jets of the Royal Australian Air Force to attack a Red convoy south of Siphon. The American and Australian pilots rocketed and strafed the string of enemy trucks. Thirty per cent of the convoy was eliminated reduced to charred wreckage in the attack.

On the ground, a flurry of Chinese Communist probing attacks exploded along the quiet western front Thursday and an Allied officer described the period as "one of the most active in two months."

The scattered Red assaults by units up to company size were made under cover of darkness accompanied in one sector by 75 flares of various colors, set off by the Communists from a hillside.

United Nations forces were forced to yield two advance hill positions northwest of Yunchon to attacks by a reinforced Communist company and a platoon. However, Allied infantrymen outposted the positions without opposition shortly after daybreak.

Breakdown by services:
Army—86,600 casualties; 16,380 dead; 59,673 wounded; 9,122 missing, 988 prisoners, 1,525 previously missing but returned to service.
Navy—1,211 casualties; 238 dead; 925 wounded, 46 missing, two previously missing but returned to service.

Air Force—1,034 casualties; 360 dead; 36 wounded, 635 missing, three prisoners, 40 previously missing but returned to service.

Marines—16,763 casualties; 2,289 dead, 14,105 wounded, 205 missing, 20 previously missing but returned to service.

Nightclub Raid Nets Big Haul

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 14 (UP)—Negro bandleader Duke Ellington and W. S. Welch, manager of the Harlem Globe Trotters basketball team, were among 15 persons jailed early today after police raided a nightclub in an investigation of after-hours drinking.

Officer Charles Kilgore, one of three policemen who battered down the rear door of the Silver Slipper, said Ellington, his manager, Harry Carney, Welch and the others were drinking liquor from coffee cups at 3:15 a. m. Texas has a midnight liquor sales curfew.

Also arrested were Vernice Harlitz, owner of the Silver Slipper, Johnny Phillips, operator of the Monte Lisa, another San Antonio night spot, six Negro patrons, four white patrons and two Negro waitresses.

Ellington gave his name as Edward Duke Ellington, and his address as 1619 Broadway, New York City. All but the two witnesses pleaded guilty to violation of the curfew and were released after paying $5 fines.

Breckenridge Girl Killed As Car Overturns

Dorothy Burton, 19, Breckenridge telephone operator, was instantly killed last night (Wednesday) in a automobile accident just south of Woodson. She was thrown clear of the car which overturned three times, and passed over her body.

Four other persons were in the car at the time of the wreck. John Oliver of Jacksboro, was hospitalized in Breckenridge. The other three occupants were not injured.

Survivors are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Burton, a brother, Lynn, and sister, Carroll, all of Breckenridge.

County Farmers Protest 1952 Peanut Program At Meetings

The program set offered for 1952 by the FMA was outlined for the farmers at the meeting last night by John Wright, manager of the Southwestern Peanut Growers Association.

A series of these farmer meetings are now being held throughout the peanut producing area of central Texas, advising the farmers of the type of program being offered.

Plans have been formulated to call a meeting in Ranger on Wednesday, Feb. 20, at which time the program will be outlined to peanut producers in this area.

The petition that was presented protesting the type of program was signed by all the farmers who attended the meeting. Copies of the petition will be sent to the Representative and Senator from this district, the Department of Agriculture, the State FMA, the Farm Bureau, and others in order to acquaint these officials with the feeling of the farmers in this area in regard to the type program offered.

This was the second meeting that has been held in Carbon in recent weeks, another meeting two weeks ago a protest was signed and sent to Washington in the form of a telegram. This petition was signed by 26 farmers of that area. And the telegram was read in a meeting in Washington where the Department of Agriculture was attempting to map out the 1952 peanut program.

The telegram had its effect at that meeting and the farm interest in this section feels that other meetings of this type would be necessary if the united feeling of all farmers regarding their sentiments in the program should be known.

A notice will be published in this paper next Tuesday regarding the time and place of the Ranger meeting for the farmers of this area.

Ranger Jaycees Sponsor Show For Better Livestock Locally

March 21-22 has been set as the dates for the annual Tri-County Livestock Show, sponsored and financed by the Ranger Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Jaycees sponsor this show each year at Ranger in the hopes that it will help in the improvement and expansion of the livestock industry in these three counties.

All livestock producers who are eligible according to the following listed rules, are invited to enter and take part in this civic project, at no cost to themselves. It is only desired by the Jaycees that both visitors and exhibitors will reap an educational benefit worthy of their efforts.

Entrance rules are:

(1) All entries will be under the control of the show officials, but the show will in no case be responsible for any loss or damage that may occur.

(2) All exhibitors are requested to notify B. S. Dudley, Jr., Box 277, Ranger, Texas of their intentions to enter the show by March 15, 1952.

(3) All animals must be bona-fide property of the exhibitors not less than thirty days prior to the show.

(4) All animals in the breeding class must be purebred.

(5) All animals may be shown only in the one class in which they are entered.

(6) All animals must be in their places by 11 a. m., Friday, March 21.

(7) No animal may be removed from the grounds before 4 p. m., Saturday, March 22.

(8) All entries will be subject to the decision of the shifting committee. Upon the committee recommendation, any objectionable animal may be disqualified, or by reason of disease.

(9) Where there are fewer entries in a class than the number of premiums offered, judges may award prizes of such value as the animal deserves. When there is no competition, the first prize may be awarded if the animal merits such.

(10) All prizes are for the junior classes only. Identical classes for adult entries will be judged and ribbons will be awarded. No prize money will be given adult classes.

(11) Junior classes are open to any and all residents of Eastland, Stephens and Palo Pinto counties under 21 years-of-age.

(12) Adult classes are open to all exhibitors who wish to display good livestock.

(13) Every exhibitor must furnish the bedding for his entries.

(14) Ribbons will be awarded at the time of the judging, but all cash premiums will be mailed following the show.

Judging will be by classes of beef and dairy cattle, swine, sheep and goats.

The stock, while in the barns at the Ranger Junior Chamber of Commerce Bodee grounds, will be under the direct supervision of four members of the Ranger FFA Chapter. Floyd Woods will supervise beef cattle, dairy cattle by Billy Ferguson, sheep and goats assigned to Byron Gailey, and Jimmy Long will handle the swine.

Judges in all classes will be members of the Agriculture Department of Abilene Christian College.

The shifting committee will be composed of R. E. Harrell, H. C. Wilkerson and Dr. Dick Hodges.

B. S. Dudley, Jr., chairman of the Jaycee livestock committee and Vocational Agriculture teacher of Ranger high school is the show secretary.

Prizes offered in the Junior classes will total more than $500.00 this year.

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

By United Press
Latest developments in the presidential race:

DEMOCRATS
Truman — Sen. Clinton P. Anderson of New Mexico predicted President Truman will run for election because "I haven't seen any evidence anywhere that (he) has urged anyone else to get into the race."

Kefauver — Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee said Mr. Truman is a "good man," but "there is a need for more youth and vigor in government" to restore the "confidence of the American people."

REPUBLICANS
Taft — Sen. Robert A. Taft said the State Department must be shaken up to rid it of dominance "by a strange Communist sympathy, by a complete absence of consistency and principle, and by the worst of judgment."

Warren — Gov. Earl Warren of California opposed Taft's views on the East policy, by saying he couldn't "see how we can arm the Chinese Nationalists to fight the Chinese Communists unless we plan to finish the job if they fail."

Leaflet Starts Chain Of Events That Sends German To Texas A&M

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 14 (SpL) — An anti-Nazi leaflet which fell into the wrong hands in 1936 started a chain of events which brought Dr. Joseph Stadelmann to Texas A&M College—by way of a Nazi prison and the Swiss border.

Dr. Stadelmann, now an associate professor of modern languages at A&M, was imprisoned by the Gestapo for reading the leaflet and refusing to tell who had given it to him.

Mrs. Stadelmann was imprisoned for reprisal but later was released as she was expecting a child.

The Nazis found that Dr. Stadelmann was writing a novel, then nearing completion, which was built around the social changes inflicted by the Nazi regime. The manuscript was destroyed. He was held in prison and was permitted no activity, the Gestapo hoping that the monotony finally would force him to reveal his anti-Nazi connections.

To occupy his mind, Dr. Stadelmann devised a system of cubic chess, whereby the game can be played in the third dimension. Unable to diagram the system in prison, he kept the method in his head until he escaped to Switzerland.

After eight months in the prison at Stuttgart, some of his fellow prisoners picked locks to free themselves and Dr. Stadelmann. Making their way into Austria, they frequently lay in the mud for hours, waiting for the Nazi searchers to pass.

After crossing the Swiss border, they were permitted to stay and join the hordes of Polish, Czech and German refugees from the Nazi terrorists who were given asylum in Switzerland.

Mrs. Stadelmann, hearing of her husband's escape and knowing the probable fate of any of his family left Germany, concealed money in her shoe and trekked alone through the forests to reach the Swiss border. Within a few hours after her arrival in Switzerland, she gave birth to their daughter.

She was ill for many months. But Dr. Stadelmann was notified by police of her arrival, and they were reunited.

Since refugees in Switzerland were not permitted regular employment, Dr. Stadelmann eked out an existence by giving courses in chess, by painting and giving language lessons.

"I must have had at least a dozen professions during that time," he said.

When he painted, Mrs. Stadelmann was his understudy. She still paints, but her husband has long since abandoned the art. Instead of painting he now plays the piano. His wife is a violinist.

During their stay in Switzerland, the Stadelmanns were planning their move to America. Their first opportunity was to go to South America, and since they had friends in Venezuela, they went there.

For eight years, Dr. Stadelmann worked in a library in Caracas. During that time their second child, a boy, was born, and Dr. Stadelmann wrote another book—an effort to eliminate the deficiencies of Esperanto, the proposed universal language.

The book was printed and was being shipped to distribution points when a revolution occurred in the South American country. Almost all the copies were lost.

When Dr. and Mrs. Stadelmann gained entry to the United States, it was to teach at the University of Denver. He taught there one year before coming to A&M in 1947.

Accustomed to mountainous terrain, they found this section of Texas quite different from anywhere they had ever lived.

"It took us a while to become accustomed to the flatness of the landscape," Dr. Stadelmann said. "But the people are so friendly here. I love it very much."

Since his escape from the Nazis Dr. Stadelmann has reconstructed a small part of the book which the Hitlerites destroyed. "But I shall probably never finish it," he said.

The language professor took his Ph.D. degree from the University of Munich in 1931.

In Germany, he taught English and French. At A&M he teaches German, Spanish, and Russian, including technical readings in German.

Still interested in a universal language, he is the originator of the "Voldu," a universal tongue based on English and is engaged in writing a grammar and dictionary for the language.

He admits, however, that a universal language probably never will be adopted because "there are too many prejudices to overcome."

Concrete Made With Corncobs Is Developed

A corncob concrete strong enough for 1-story farm buildings has been developed. Structural strength, light weight and good insulating value are qualities of the new product, reports Capper's Farmer.

Corncob concrete is 3 times as good an insulator as regular sand and gravel concrete, says the nationally-circulated farm magazine. You can drive screws and nails into it easily and they hold well. After some remaining problems are whittled it should be suitable for building milkhouses, machine sheds, workshops, hog and poultry houses.

One problem is to find a good "sealer" to keep out moisture. The corncob concrete, being porous, absorbs water readily.

The new concrete consists of 1 part cement, 2 parts sand, 3 parts corncobs, and one-fourth part hydrated lime by volume. The lime increases strength because it neutralizes acid in corncobs that tends to reduce strength of the concrete. The cobs are prepared by running them thru a hammer mill and screening to between one-eighth and one-fourth inch

Minnesota Youth; Suspected Killer Taken In Texas

DEL RIO, Feb. 14 (UP)—A Minneapolis youth who threatened to shoot himself to prevent arrest today awaited extradition to Minnesota to face a charge that he murdered his pretty young wife.

John G. Boyko, 22, was arrested by Border Patrolmen near here yesterday after a midnight chase at 100-mile-an-hour speeds.

The emotional teary-eyed youth was picked up on suspicion of car theft.

He is accused of shooting to death his wife Jacqueline, 17, last Monday in Minneapolis. The wife was found on the bedroom floor with a bullet wound in her temple.

Mrs. Boyko's mother, Mrs. Julian T. Johnson, found the victim's body after neighbors heard cries of the couple's four-month-old daughter Roxanne, who was in a crib, unharmed but hungry, near the body of the young woman.

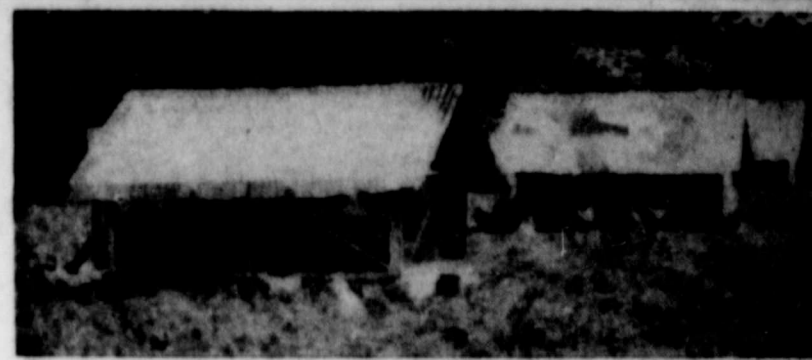

Boyko went when Patrolmen Edwin C. Dennis and William E. Eaton stopped him after the 40-mile chase.

He put a pistol to his head and threatened to shoot, the officers said.

"Well, if I come out, will you not hurt me?" they said he answered when they called to him. Then he stepped from the car and surrendered, when they assured him safety.

Minneapolis police notified local officers they would leave today to take custody of Boyko.

Boyko was driving a car with Kansas license plates. He told officers he left Minneapolis Feb. 3 under contract to deliver a car to Long Beach, Calif.

DENVER, Feb. 14 (UP)—The majority of CIO Oil Workers in Colorado, Wyoming and the Texas Gulf Coast area favor a nationwide strike in support of demands for a $2 a day general wage increase, the union said today. In Denver, the CIO Oil Workers International Union said that all of its local units reported on a strike vote so far have voted in favor of the strike, with a "number of units" yet to be heard from. Members of the union at plants in Beaumont, Fort Arthur, Fort Neches, Texas City and Houston in Texas have voted to walk off their jobs if the oil companies turn down the wage increase request. At Casper—oil capital of Wyoming—and Sinclair, Wyo., union spokesmen said the vote among the workers had been "overwhelmingly" in favor of a walkout in the industry.

The union called for a strike vote among 350 of its 600 bargaining units Feb. 6 after lashing out at "arrogant refusal on the part of the companies to even talk seriously about a substantial wage."

Some 50,000 workers would be directly affected by a strike. The workers include all phases of petroleum production, but the major concentration is in refining, a spokesman said.

Hardest hit if a strike were called would be the Gulf Coast of Texas and the rim of the Great Lakes, it was said.

The average oil worker is paid about $2.10 an hour, though the scale ranges from $1.60 for common labor to $2.50 for the more skilled jobs.

Better Medical Service Forecast For Many Texans

Increased medical service for the one out of twenty people in Texas who suffer diseases of the heart and blood vessels was forecast yesterday by Ben H. Wooten, president of Dallas First National Bank and chairman of the 1952 Heart Fund drive in Texas. Local heart campaigns will be conducted in most of Texas' 254 counties during February to make such necessary service possible, Mr. Wooten said.

With the striking keynote "New Hope for Hearts", the 1952 Heart Fund will seek to secure $347,000.00 during the month long campaign to help achieve new scientific advances and public health progress in combating heart diseases, recognized as the leading cause of death and disability in Texas.

The Texas campaign is being held simultaneously with the nationwide drive of the American Heart Association. Seventy five cents of all money invested in the fight against heart disease will remain in Texas to carry on the continuing program of scientific research, education and community service. Twenty five cents will go to the national headquarters for research at the national level.

Gov. Shivers, honorary chairman of the 1952 Heart Fund, has designated February as Heart Month in Texas to focus the attention of all citizens on the medical, social and economic aspects of this primary health hazard.

THE STORY: Alma Conroy believes her husband Tommy when he says he has a new, responsible, but confidential position in the Jewel Firm of Trumbull & Company, where both are employed. Tommy makes his wife a gift of expensive furs to prove it. Then Alma leaves from Joe Denton, a friend, of a second in a series of inside robberies at the firm, and Tommie makes his wife a gift of expensive furs to prove it. Then Alma leaves from Joe Denton, a friend, of a second in a series of inside robberies at the firm, and Tommie makes his wife a gift of expensive furs to prove it.

JOE DENTON motioned toward the door as he spoke to Alma Conroy. "I just took mother home and came rushing back to see if you'd like to have dinner?" "You're taking the very food off my stove!" Alma declared. "I'd love it." "Come on then. Let's go. We'll stop at the Blue Cat Bar for a drink first."

"What?" "He's had an important promotion. But I mean important! It's a confidential matter. Joe. He won't tell the details even to me." "Then it isn't the photography spot?" "No. Apparently it's something much better. But he'll still be with us at The House except when he's away on trips, like tonight. Isn't it wonderful?" "Wonderful! It's positively uncanny!" "I knew you'd be pleased. That's why I told you, even though please remember that it's a secret for the moment. I'm so happy and proud I'm ready to burst!" "Dear Alma, you must be," said Joe softly, "after all these years of standing up for him."

THE bar at the Blue Cat Club was one of those chic and expensive places of which Alma had often read, but to which she had never been. It was not the sort of restaurant that people like Tommy and herself could afford to frequent. But tonight she felt expansive and glowing and in the mood to celebrate. The long, low room was dim and intimate-looking as they stood waiting for a place and Alma was already enjoying its unfamiliar luxury when she was startled by Joe's voice. "Let's get out of here," he said. "It's stuffy as the devil!" He took her by the arm to steer her away but by then it was too late. She had already seen what Joe was trying to keep from her. Tommy was there and Tommy was not alone.

to one of the most exotic young women Alma had ever seen: like a tropical fruit just ripe for eating, she thought with a sort of sickening detachment.

The long oval face beneath the dark, sleek hair was slashed by a soft, wide mouth of startling color; the low-cut dress clung over her full, pointed breasts as though part of her skin was satiny black below the long white throat. There was that eternally naked look about her which certain women flaunt at all times, and the thing Alma recognized behind it, brought forth the fear, the utter helplessness with which all good women are filled by the mere presence of such a rival.

Joe Denton was tugging at her arm, but Alma continued to stare, unable to tear her eyes away from the woman.

"Come away," said Joe very softly. "Come away before they see us." And this time Alma allowed herself to be taken out into the street, scarcely knowing what she was doing, her blood beating thickly in her ears, a faint nausea swaying her.

Joe led her down the block, holding her hand tucked closely under his arm. But she scarcely knew he was there. The new world she had built up for herself had collapsed, and she was still stunned by the concussion of its falling. But she must not go to pieces, she told herself—not in front of Joe!

Foreign Labor Influx Control Told Farmers

FORT WORTH, Tex., Feb. 14 (UP) — Importation of foreign labor should be restricted enough to prevent lowering of the standards of American workers, secretary of labor Maurice J. Tobin told a farmers' convention here yesterday.

Tobin said the Senate approved "wetback" bill would provide needed farm help not domestically available. He said it would enable the country to acquire foreign labor in a "legal and orderly manner."

Here for the annual Farm Labor Conference of Central and Great Lakes States, Tobin said that in Texas only Beaumont and Laredo now have substantial unemployment.

Tobin was scheduled to address the delegates today at the second session of the three day meeting. He said the United States will need 1,500,000 more defense workers this year.

A six million crop acreage increase this year will necessitate importing farm hands, Ed Keenan, Deputy Director of the Labor Department's Bureau of Employment Security, told the delegates yesterday.

Keenan said the so-called wetback bill offered a solution for the migratory labor problem. He said the Labor Department is striving for legislation to prevent lowering the standards of American labor.

The bill passed by the Senate provides penalty for persons who harbor, conceal or transport Mexican wetbacks, Keenan said.

The law provides no penalty for the farmer who unknowingly hires an illegal immigrant, but Keenan said immigration authorities would be empowered by the bill to inspect employers' premises within 25 miles of the border without a search warrant.

Joan Fontaine Granted Divorce

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Feb. 14 (UP) — Film star Joan Fontaine was single today for the third time, but filmland gossips were linking her name romantically with that of writer Collier Young.

Miss Fontaine got her final divorce decree yesterday from movie producer William Dozier, whom she divorced in 1951 because "he said our marriage didn't suit him."

The 33-year-old star testified in divorcing Dozier, her second husband, that he walked out on her in 1949 and refused to come back. They were married May 2, 1946 in Mexico City.

Neighbors Call Cops; Too Many Dogs For Quiet

NEW YORK, Feb. 14 (UP) — Author-sportsmen David Irwin of Milford, Pa., had eight reasons for appearing in Mid-Manhattan Court today—seven howling Eskimo dogs and a bear cub. He had been housing them in the fashionable Sutton Place section of New York.

The charges against Irwin were cruelty to animals and illegal parking. The Sutton Place crowd objected to the ruckus the dogs and bear raised in the truck that served as their traveling home. Irwin is here for the annual Sportsman Show which opens this week.

Airplanes Aid Game And Fish Commission

AUSTIN — The story of the air arm of the Texas Game and Fish Commission is told in the February issue of Texas Game and Fish Magazine.

It relates how Game Warden Claude Keller, flying a Stinson two-seater, not only patrols the Gulf of Mexico coast line but also serves as a flying transmitter to relay messages for his ground-pounding associates on duty inland.

Keller, who has been a pilot for more than ten years, flew an artillery spotting L-5 during the war. This background as a "grasshopper pilot", pin pointing targets for the big guns, helps him locate law violators in the Gulf as well as in nearby inland rivers.

Warden Keller watches particularly for netting in closed waters along the coast and for use of illegal equipment, and faulty oil barges that pollute the waters of the inter-coastal canal.

Inland, he locates illegally placed fishing nets by noticing the corklines on the surface of the water.

Over the Gulf, Keller sometimes has to use wartime tactics to surprise offenders, such as diving out of the sun on, on cloudy days, suddenly dropping through a hole in the overcast.

Warden Keller also spies on the waterfowl hunters. He said he "doubted" if anybody ever shot at him but he recalled the times when he commercial fishermen, caught cheating, threw fish at his plane. Another time he flew so low studying a violation against closed fishing waters that a boatman threw an oar at him.

Hornets Are To Tackle Gorman Friday Night

Olden Hornets will need to be at their best Friday night when they take on the basketball club from Gorman. Games will start in the Olden gym at seven o'clock.

In the boys' division, a win for Coach Weaver's boys, so far as the writer knows, would put them in a tie for first place honors in the district.

Olden, Gorman and Scranton have all been heavy contenders for district honors throughout the season, and Friday night will be another of who's it ball games worth watching. So mark your calendar, put a string around your finger, put off that dinner date and be present to back the Hornets.

Potent Coffee Pot Bests Fire Trucks And Men

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 14 (UP) — While answering a fire alarm yesterday a fireman tumbled off a truck and another fire engine smashed into a big truck, but a wheel and backed into a Portland trolley bus—but the fire was controlled.

It started out to be smoke from a boiled-over coffee pot.

Miss Jean Valentine Became The Bride Of Clarence Shull Jan. 19

The Sexton Memorial chapel of the First Methodist church of Shreveport was the scene on Saturday afternoon, Jan. 19 at 5 o'clock of the wedding of Miss Jean Valentine of Ranger, and Clarence Shull of Minden. The Rev. William P. Fraser performed the double ring ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Daisy Frazier Hartley of Shreveport and C. Earl Valentine of Minden, La., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar L. Shull of Arlington, Texas.

Vows were exchanged before beautiful arrangements of pale pink gladioli, woodwardia fern, and jade leaves, with slender pink tapers in seven branch candelabra casting a soft glow on the wedding scene. Each of the five windows in the chapel held an arrangement of tall pink tapers in pink styrofoam surrounded by garlands of southern smilax, Huckleberry leaves and a single pink gladioli tied with pink satin bows marked every other pew of the chapel.

Mrs. Harold Booth, organist, rendered selections of nuptial music as guests assembled and were seated by the ushers who were Walter W. Nobles of Arlington and Harold Narrett of Minden. Ned Wrigh sang Greig's "I Love Thee" and "The Lord's Prayer" at the conclusion of the ceremony while the couple knelt for the benediction.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Merrill C. Valentine of Minden, was lovely in her wedding gown of candlelight nylon net and Chantilly lace. The pencil pleated ballerina length skirt was fashioned of nylon net over taffeta, and the separate bodice was of Chantilly lace with scattered iridescent sequins and fell in a demi train to the back. Over this she wore a Chantilly lace sleeveless bolero. Her slippers were candlelight satin pumps and on her hands she wore tiny matching lace mitts. A single strand of pearls, of the bridegroom, was her only ornament. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a coronet of Chantilly lace and clusters of valley lilies. She carried her grandmother's white Bible topped with a specimen white orchid surrounded by graceful hyacinth blossoms and puffs of imported French Maline. Tiny white hyacinth blossoms were tied in the narrow satin streamers.

The bride was preceded down the aisle by her sister, Mrs. James P. White, matron of honor. She was wearing an imported French faille ballerina length dress of palest blue, with full skirt and softly shirred bodice edged at the neckline with matching lace and scattered rhinestones. Over this was a tiny jacket with brace rhinestones. She wore a halo of dainty palest blue forget-me-nots and carried a bouquet of pink tea roses and hyacinth blossoms with puffs of pink illusion from which fell small pink streamers tied with hyacinth blossoms. Miss Sonja Simmons, candlelight, wore a deeper blue French faille ballerina length dress with matching lace and rhinestones at the neckline. A small arrangement of pink tea roses with illusion was pinned in her hair. A. E. Shull was his brother's best man.

Immediately following the wedding, a reception was held in the bride's parlor of the church. The highly polished bride's table was centered with two three-branched silver candelabra in which burned slender white tapers. These were entwined with plumosa fern and dainty candytuff.

Extending from them to opposite corners of the table were white satin streamers bordered with tulle ruching on top of which were placed garlands of fern and candytuff blossoms to resemble dainty bridal bouquets. Opposite the candelabra was the beautifully embossed wedding-ring cake on a mirrored reflector surrounded with tulle, fern and candytuff. Mrs. Proctor Simmons, aunt of the bride, served the wedding cake.

The punch-bowl table was similarly decorated with tulle ruching, garlands of fern and candytuff, and punch was served by Mrs. A. E. Shull, sister-in-law of the bride. Mrs. Merrill C. Valentine invited guests to sign the bride's book.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hartley wore a navy sheer afternoon dress with navy accessories. Her hat was a small cloche type of white straw and veiling sprinkled with rhinestones and her corsage was of white gardenias. Mrs. Shull, mother of the bridegroom, was becomingly gowned in brown crepe with a small gold hat, and brown accessories. Her corsage was of bronze chrysanthemums.

When the couple left on their wedding trip, Mrs. Shull was wearing a cherry red gabardine suit with patent accessories. Her hat was a closely fitted black straw, and she pinned a corsage of white orchids at her shoulder. Out of town guests for the wedding were: Mrs. Frederick Yonker, Mrs. Linda Forney, Mrs. Gertrude Palmer and Hall Walker, all of Ranger; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nobles, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Shull of Arlington, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Barrett and Mr. and Mrs. Merrill C. Valentine of Minden, La.; Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Valentine of Homer, La.; Mr. and Mrs. Leon Noel of Gilliam, and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Valentine of Lisbon.

Mr. and Mrs. Shull will make their home in Minden.

Miss Willena James and Miss Bernice Clark of Mineral Wells visited at the Ranger Times Wednesday evening. They are employed by the Mineral Wells Index.

Western Style Banquet Held

The Young People and Intermediate departments of the First Baptist Church Training Union combined efforts last evening to have a Sweetheart Banquet. Ninety-three persons turned out for the evening to enjoy a fine program and meal. The banquet was labeled as "A Leap Year Sweetheart Banquet—Western Style." The young people came attired in western clothing and made a fine group of cowboys and cowgirls.

C. A. Roberts, student from Baylor University, was the speaker for the evening. The message he brought was based on the scripture "This other commandment I leave with you, that you love one another." He continued by saying that church attendance was not enough, that true Christian spirit would bring love into the heart of the individual unequalled in any other realm. Mr. Roberts then took his listeners on an imaginary trip through a building which housed the outstanding men of the ages who, because of love for mankind, had given en their lives through fields of statesmanship, science, medicine, religion, and finally into the room that housed the Christ who, while we were yet sinners, gave His life for us because of love. His message was well received by the young people.

Mr. Walter Arterburn was general chairman for the banquet. Mrs. Melba Richey was decoration chairman. She and her assistants had the lower auditorium of the church decked in western style which was a wonderful asset to the atmosphere created for the "cowhands." Mrs. W. W. Smith was program chairman, and Mrs. W. J. Arterburn in charge of the foods committee.

The spirit of fellowship, and the joy expressed by the young people was proof of a successful evening, so stated Mr. Arterburn.

Darrell Pryor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pryor fractured both arms Monday afternoon and is having to carry two casts around. He returned to school yesterday but reported that his arms hurt him some. Darrell suffered the accident in descending from a tree near his home.

District Meeting In Abilene Fri.

The Seventeenth District of the Baptist General Convention of Texas will convene February 15 for their regular convention program at the First Baptist church, Abilene.

The meeting will open at 10 a. m. and will close around 9:30 p. m. with J. Frank Weedon of Dallas bringing the Evangelistic address.

Officers of the district are President, Melvin Byrd, Abilene; Secretary, Byron Bryant, Stamford; Treasurer, W. H. Littlefield, Anson; Sunday school Superintendent, M. D. Rexrode, Haskell; Training Union Director, Ralph Perkins, Ranger; WMU President, Mrs. O. B. Woodrum, Abilene; Brotherhood president, W. A. Stephenson, Abilene; Music Director, J. O. Strother, Breckenridge; Pianist Emma Joyner, Abilene; and District Missionary, Henry Littleton, Leuders.

All phases of the work of the convention will be discussed and conferences held during the session.

The Elementary Department of the First Baptist Church of Ranger will have charge of all the Elementary conferences of the Training Union with Mrs. Ralph Perkins presiding.

There will be a number from Ranger attending the meeting. Anyone desiring transportation may call either of the church offices of the Baptist churches.

Mrs. E. C. Reynolds is back home after spending some time in the hospital here and also in Fort Worth, but her doctor has requested her to stay in bed for some time. She says that she is improving and hopes to recover completely soon.

Mrs. Tankersley Hosts Meeting

The Elizabeth Truly Circle of the First Baptist Church met Monday afternoon at 3:00 p. m. in the home of Mrs. L. D. Tankersley, Ranger Heights.

The opening prayer was offered by Mrs. Gorman Morton and Mrs. E. L. Hargraves presided over the short business meeting in the absence of Mrs. Jimmie Jones, circle chairman.

During the business meeting the minutes were read and approved and a gift was decided on to be sent to the scholarship girl, Mary Snipe at Hardin Simmons University.

Mrs. H. E. Brooks gave the review of the book "Pilgrimage to Spanish America," and Mrs. L. D. Tankersley led in the closing prayer.

Cake and coffee was served to Mrs. E. L. Hargraves, H. E. Brooks, Gorman Morton and the hostess, Mrs. Tankersley.

Come-as-you-are Breakfast Wed.

The "Come-As-You-Are" breakfast held in the home of Mrs. Leoma Arterburn and assisted by Mrs. Laura Todd for the members of the Royal Neighbors Lodge proved to be a very hilarious occasion Wednesday morning.

Maudie Ellis met the guests at the door and registered them as she also collected their fees, to be used in the convention fund and pinned a small valentine on each one.

The group visited until they were called by name to the beautifully decorated dining room. The Valentine motif was carried out with the table being covered with a large valentine and centered with silver candles. The thanks for the delicious food was offered by Ethel Wright. At the close of the meal, a plate of valentines were passed and each one had the pleasure of receiving one. Mrs. Opal Kelley drew the lucky number that made her the Lucky Valentine and was presented a box of candy.

The group also enjoyed receiving candy hearts and remarks were made "guess the old saying of once a grown person and twice a child still holds true." Some of the members said that it did a lot of good just to forget the worries of the day and have a good laugh, which it seems that everyone at the breakfast did.

Those attending were Maudie Ellis, Laura Melton, Irene Sides, Edna Huffman, Mattie Cox, Ethel Wright, Laura Todd, Auda Lumms, Winnie Pirkle, Lillie Anderson, Winnie Phillips, Claudie Campbell, Bertie Shipman, Tilly Hicks, Opal Kelley and Leoma Arterburn.

Young School PTA Met Tuesday

The Young School Parent-Teacher Association met Tuesday afternoon in the school auditorium at 2:45 for their regular meeting.

The second grade pupils under the direction of Miss Johnnie Young presented the program and Rev. Garland Lavender spoke on "Ways to Mental Health."

At the close of the program, a short business session was held.

Mrs. Maggie Masters is confined to her home this week with the flu and virus infection.
