

SEEN OR HEARD

Lester Crcasely said yesterday that the city commission would probably consider the opening of the swimming pool at the meeting tonight.

Four-hundred and fifty-thousand gallons of water is a lot of moisture in these drouth stricken times, but maybe it will rain and we can have an ample water supply.

One feature of our pool is that the under water is changed every twenty-four hours by filtrations. You have a filtering plant at the pool similar to the one at Haganman Lake that cleanses the water continually.

The sponsors of Ranger High will present their play tonight at the Recreation Building.

And we hope that this class is given a grand reception and reward for their efforts in producing this play for you to enjoy.

The price is nominal and will go for a good purpose, make a date tonight to be at the senior play.

We notice where Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. has taken on a more formidable opponent in the rate increase request in court.

They have filed a suit similar to the Raliger rate case against the city of Beaumont. The mayor of that city has taken to same stand as our mayor—he said that they would fight to the highest court with the phone company.

The telephone company lawyer were to appear before Judge Davenport the other morning at Eastland, but failed to keep their appointment, maybe they have a change of heart and agree with us for once. Or maybe, just maybe, the judge's statement to the lawyers has some bearing on the conduct.

Lovely weather, but no rain. Temperature was 88 high, and 66 low in Ranger yesterday. Ideal weather for growing crops, but crops won't grow without water.

How much longer can this drouth, continue? Everyone is asking that question, but no one knows the answer.

Another question is how much longer can we last without rain. Our water supply is dwindling with the hottest part of the summer yet to come, and it won't be long until we reach the bottom of the lake.

Maybe something will happen before we run completely out of "wet stuff."

FFA Judging Team Places In 2nd Group

The Ranger FFA Dairy Judging team placed in the second division at the state meet held at Texas A&M College May 3. Ranger's team consisted of Jimmy Arrendale, Tommy Harper and Billy Ferguson.

Eighty teams were entered at A&M, and the judging was graded in five divisions of 16 teams each. Ranger placed in the second or silver division. No position among any of the groups was given.

On their trip to College Station the three boys on the judging team Beverly Dudley, Jr., Lloyd Jones and Byron Galley stopped at the Neale Dairy Farm in Waco and inspected the farm's registered Holstein herd. The Waco herd is recognized as one of the best in the Southwest.

CORRECTION
The summer round-up for preschool children in Ranger will be held in the Recreation building on Thursday, May 15, not May 6 as heretofore stated.

Southwestern Bell Seeks Rate Raise By Court Order, Beaumont

BEAUMONT, May 13 (UP)—The city of Beaumont has been accused of interfering with the efforts of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. to collect "fair and reasonable rates." As a result, a hearing has been set for May 22 on the company's application for an injunction to stop such action.

Turkey Growers To Meet May 15 In Rising Star

Discussion and adoption of a proposed Constitution and By-Laws as well as other business will be in order at the monthly meeting of the Central Texas Turkey Growers Association in the Agricultural Building at Rising Star, Thursday night, May 15th, at 7:30 o'clock.

Dr. Ben H. Bradley, president, of that city is extending a cordial invitation to turkey growers of surrounding counties as well as others who are interested in the promotion of the turkey industry in the area to attend the meeting, which is expected to get started promptly on time.

Bradley pointed out that growers and others interested would be welcome to join the organization. Membership is growing rapidly and shows that a definite need has been felt for such an association, he said. It was pointed out that there are many organizations within the area for the purpose of promoting beef and dairy cattle but none for the promotion of turkeys and turkey raising, an expanding business in the area surrounding Eastland County.

Other officers include J. H. Tidwell, Desdemona, vice president; Mrs. J. H. Tidwell, treasurer; and Miss Beuna Van Winkle, secretary, Gorman.

Purposes of the organization include: the dissemination of better turkey feeding, management and marketing practices, to encourage the public to eat more turkeys, to cooperatively purchase equipment and supplies when deemed feasible and practical, to publicize the area as a producer of top quality turkeys, to better inform members on turkey markets, to encourage turkey growing among rural youth, to disseminate information on ways and methods of financing turkey growing as a means of securing additional farm and ranch income. It is expected that a regular monthly meeting of the association will be held for the next several months.

RJC Graduation Recital Tonight

The initial Graduation Recital of the Fine Arts Department of Ranger Junior College will be presented Tuesday evening, May 13th in the Fine Arts Building on the campus.

The public is cordially invited to attend the recital. Beginning at 8:00 o'clock in the Fine Arts Building. Mary Baumgardner will be the accompanist for the soloists.

Ranger Man With Signal Corps In Field Training

CAMP GORDON, Ga.—Signal Corps Training Center students, like Pvt. Weldon O. Hunt of Ranger, have been putting their technical training to the test under conditions much like those found in combat. The result: the man himself is now better prepared to step into his signal job with any Army outfit, according to Lt. Col. J. V. Nicholas, director of the field training division of the Southeastern Signal School.

Pvt. Hunt, husband of Mrs. Patricia Hunt of 314 Walnut St., Ranger, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hunt of Goldthwaite, has recently completed eight weeks of technical training in switchboard operation at the Signal Corps Replacement Training Center, Camp Gordon, Ga. He spent the last week of his training out in the field where he put his technical training to work under field conditions. In addition to his Signal Corps training, Pvt. Hunt received eight weeks of intensive basic combat training at Camp Gordon.

Pvt. Hunt has been chosen to get further training at SCTC's Southeastern Signal School. He is slated to attend the 22-week carrier-repeater course here. Before coming into the armed forces Pvt. Hunt worked as an installer-repair man for Southwestern Bell.

Local Red Cross Reports April Aid Activities

Forty families were given assistance during the month including twelve in Eastland, eleven in Ranger, nine in Cisco, five in Rising Star and three in Gorman. The assistance rendered included: reporting and communication service, assistance with applications for government benefits, counseling in personal and family problems, referring applicants to other community sources of help, financial assistance.

The needs of the service men's families are given priority in the Red Cross Home Service program. For them as for veterans, Home Service provides specific services toward meeting problems of families and individual resulting from military service.

Counsel Argues Steel Case In Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, May 13 (UP)—The government has just 19 minutes to wind up a case that has been in the making for 162 years.

Solicitor General Philip Perlman, arguing for the administration, will conclude his arguments on steel this morning before the supreme court.

He maintains the president had every right to seize the steel industry in an emergency. The basic issue the court will decide is: just how much power does a president have.

After Perlman finishes, the chief attorney for big steel, John Davis, will have one hour for rebuttal. But there's speculation he won't take it, that he's content to rely on the arguments he presented yesterday.

It may be two weeks before a court decision is handed down.

The union involved in the case opened its convention at Philadelphia today. The CIO Steelworkers say they're determined to stick to their demands for the 25-cent package pay hike recommended by the Wage Stabilization Board.

With the Texas Rangers standing by, a grand jury subpoenaed by District Judge Sam Reams is checking voting activity in past years and reports of threats made by some residents about the way they cast their ballots.

The investigation centers around Sheriff George B. Parr, the political boss of the county for years. Parr looked in on proceedings yesterday in the courthouse but he took no active part. In yesterday's hearing, the jury issued no subpoenas and heard no witnesses.

Water Districts Application For Water Rights Continued

The State Water Commission has continued the Eastland County Water Supply District's application for water rights on the Leon River "day to day until such necessary lacking forms are completed and filed with the board."

Millard Parkhurst, district counsel, S. W. Freeze, engineer, C. B. Pruet, district president, and Beverly Dudley, Sr., and R. V. Galloway, who went as observers, appeared before the board at Austin yesterday.

Pressing business and other matters kept other members of the board from appearing at the hearing.

A South Texas irrigation district and G. A. Fox, a landowner, submitted by letter the only two objections that came before the hearing. Fox's objection was that he operate a gravel pit and had peacan trees on his property in the lake basin, the loss of which would deprive him of his means of making a living. The irrigation district objected on the district's taking water from the Leon in a conflicting period with the operations of the South Texas District.

C. B. Pruet said the "water board granted approval of the water rights, subject to completion of further forms." And that as soon as the forms were in a ruling would probably be given.

The local district's application was to take from the Leon River, 11,000 acre feet of water per annum for storage in the reservoir to be built. The water is intended for domestic and commercial use.

Next step before actual construction can start on the reservoir is voting of water contracts to the district by Eastland and Ranger, and then marketing of the bonds.

Duval County Voting Gets Good Scrutiny

SAN DUGA, May 14 (UP)—Voting conditions in Turbent Duval County in South Texas are being given their most serious examination in years.

With the Texas Rangers standing by, a grand jury subpoenaed by District Judge Sam Reams is checking voting activity in past years and reports of threats made by some residents about the way they cast their ballots.

The investigation centers around Sheriff George B. Parr, the political boss of the county for years. Parr looked in on proceedings yesterday in the courthouse but he took no active part. In yesterday's hearing, the jury issued no subpoenas and heard no witnesses.

Commissioners Reject Walker's Settlement Plan

County Commissioners of Eastland county have voted unanimously that they opposed compromise or settlement with Horace Walker, former special tax collector in this county, who is charged by indictment with embezzling county tax funds.

The proposal, it was understood, carried with it an agreement to dismiss all criminal cases against Walker now pending in State Courts. Walker in turn would have paid 15 per cent of the total asked in a civil suit, of a little more than $107,000. A conference on the proposal was held in Eastland last Wednesday, with Walker's representatives, a member of the Attorney General's staff, District Attorney Joe Nussie and special prosecutor, Frank Sparks, present, as well as members of the Commissioners Courts.

Commissioners stated that if Walker is guilty he should and would be prosecuted; if he is innocent he should be cleared of all charges and claims. In addition to the five cases sent to Breckenridge on charges of venue, Walker is under indictments here charging forgery and theft by false pretense.

Also growing out of his five-year tenure as special delinquent tax collector here, is a federal court indictment alleging use of mails to defraud, which on April 22, was passed by U. S. District court at Abilene, until the October term.

Cave-In Injures Ranger Rancher

Leslie Hagaman was injured Saturday afternoon about 3:30, when a creek bank in Wild's Canyon gave way beneath his horse. The horse fell forward and Mr. Hagaman fell the opposite direction, injuring his back.

His son, John, was riding with him at the time of the accident. John summoned aid, but due to the rough terrain, some 2-1/2 hours was required to carry Hagaman out of the canyon. The ambulance was unable to proceed to the scene of the accident. John also pulled his father out of the water in which he fell immediately after the accident.

The West Texas Clinic reported Hagaman's condition as improved and satisfactory. He is suffering immense pain from the sprains and injuries sustained.

Colson Fired As Prison Chief; Dodd Reassigned; Probe Started

KOJE ISLANDS, May 13 (UP)—A lot of loose ends remain in the case of the captured commander of Koje Islands.

And the Pentagon has called on the new Allied supreme commander in Korea to tie up some of them.

Army headquarters in Washington has asked General Mark Clark for a full report on the seizure of Brigadier-General Francis Dodd by Communist war prisoners last week.

An army spokesman in Washington says Clark already has asked Eighth Army headquarters for the report, and it soon will be on its way to Washington.

What the Pentagon is disturbed about is the agreement reached between Brigadier-General Charles Colson and the Communist for Dodd's release. A Defense Department spokesman says it contained "several erroneous impressions."

Annual FFA Father-Son Banquet Held

The annual Future Farmers of America Father and Son Banquet was held in the Ranger Community Clubhouse Friday night. Dean W. W. Smith of Ranger Junior College was the principal speaker.

About 45 attended the banquet, including members and guest. The banquet was opened by the FFA members with the usual opening ceremony for such occasions, and closed in a formal ceremony.

Chapter President Byron Galley acted as master of ceremonies, and Roddy Carter gave a year's activity report. Each member introduced his father or his guest for the evening.

Dean Smith's address was on the meaning behind the symbols in the FFA emblem, and on better agriculture through better education.

The local chapter is sponsored by the high school vocational agriculture teacher, Beverly S. Dudley, Jr. Twenty-seven of the 32 members are attending classes at Ranger high, the other five have graduated or working with the chapter under other circumstances.

The tabulation is based on votes that are pledged or publicly committed for various candidates on the first ballot at each convention.

OPS Business Analyst Will Visit Eastland

Businessmen from Eastland, Erath, and Palo Pinto counties can get the answers to their price control problems by conferring with the OPS business analyst who will be available at the price clinic.

Each businessman will confer privately with the representative.

The meeting was arranged through cooperation of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce.

Betty Reuwer Makes Tour With Chorus
Betty Reuwer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Reuwer of Ranger, has recently returned to Baylor University after being on a Rhapsody in White and Baylor Bands choir trip. The fifty-five members of the choir sang in Palestine, and in Pineville, New Orleans, Crowley, Jennings and Lake Charles, Louisiana. The group was away from school a week and all reported a very enjoyable trip. Miss Martha Barkema is director of the group.

For example, under the terms of the agreement, the Allies promised to stop forced screening of war prisoners and the re-arming of certain captives on Koje.

The Defense Department says there was no forced screening to stop, and as far as re-arming prisoners is concerned, the department apparently has no "knowledge of it."

In Tokyo, Clark's headquarters refused to comment on the Pentagon Denial that Communist prisoners were forcibly screened.

General Colson, himself, has been fired from his short-lived command of the Koje Prison, which began shortly after Dodd was captured. Colson has been returned to his former post as chief of staff to the First Corps on the Korean fighting front.

General Dodd, also has been reassigned to a new post at Eighth Army headquarters and a third officer, Brigadier-General Haydon Boatner, has been put in charge of Koje. Boatner is a former assistant commander of the Second Infantry Division and a native of New Orleans.

The former Allied supreme commander, General Matthew Ridgway, commented on the Koje riots shortly before taking off from Honolulu for home, on the second leg of his journey to Paris to relieve General Eisenhower.

Ridgway said the riots have "great significance." He said they are part of a "Communist general plan to cause maximum worldwide embarrassment and destruction of the United Nations through Public opinion."

However, Ridgway expressed the belief that the UN can handle the situation.

Omar Burkett Announces For Legislature

To the citizens of Eastland, Callahan and Shackelford Counties:

I herewith announce for State Representative, District 76, a new district comprised of the above named counties and does not, at this time have a Representative.

It was my pleasure to represent Eastland and Callahan counties in the 40th, 47th and 48th sessions of the Legislature. This experience gives me a knowledge of the rules that govern the procedure in the House and the Parliamentary steps necessary to enact into law, or prevent bad legislation to become law. I served on many of the most important Committees, especially the committee appointed by the Speaker of the House to investigate and make recommendations to the succeeding Legislature having to do with the re-organization of our State Elemenary Institutions. that we made have largely been followed in re-organizing the entire system.

The records will disclose that I as a member of the Appropriations Committee stood for strict economy, always opposing wasteful spending of the people's tax money. In every way I could, I helped in the passage of conservation laws, pertaining to soil and water.

It shall be my purpose, if elected, to work for constructive legislation for all the people I shall favor the outright repeal of the "much discussed" Car inspection law, as I am opposed to such type legislation that can be "turned on and off like a water faucet" at the will or whim of the Law Enforcement Agency. It is indeed a very bad precedent.

The Driver's Responsibility Act has many bad features and should be either amended if not repealed. I shall oppose the proposal to issue the Five Million dollar Road Bonds.

I shall oppose the movement proposing to take from the Counties their percentage, as now allocated, of Car License Fees and return same back to the State.

I shall oppose the re-allocation of the 1-2 cent gasoline for any other purpose than which it now goes, which is to the Counties for the construction of Rural Roads. I shall oppose any new tax levies, increase of present levies or the going into our tax structure for any purpose, proposing re-adjustment of same.

I shall favor adequate support for all Public Education, which includes our Junior College Program and Higher Institutions of Learning. I was co-sponsor of the Ciso Junior College and of the Bill that gave to our State Junior Colleges their First Per capita appropriation for maintenance. I assure you my all-out support looking to adequately providing for their maintenance.

In conclusion, let me say that I am humbly grateful to the voters of the District for the support you have given me in the past and I appeal to you with confidence that my past record justifies your support at this time. I won't "let you down" in any manner.

Gratefully and Sincerely Yours, Omar Burkett.

Radioactive Iodine Helps Heart Cases

GALVESTON, — Radioactive iodine is proving a successful treatment in many "hopeless" heart ailments, a University of Texas scientist says.

The iodine depresses the thyroid gland, decreasing oxygen consumption throughout the body, and consequently, easing demands on a heart that can't pump normally. Dr. Arthur Ruskin, associate professor of internal medicine at the Medical Branch, explains.

Painstaking research is gradually sharpening the effectiveness of other scientific weapons against heart disease, he says in a report on recent advances in cardiac drugs.

Chemical derivatives of drugs long used in heart failure cases are bringing more exact relief in minutes instead of hours, he comments. New non-poisonous mercurial drugs now treat heart failure, where previously the ill effects had to be tolerated, and a new drug, khellin, alleviates pain in coronary diseases, he added.

Ancient Car Is Now On Display

You may see the New Buick and the "old one" too, if you will visit Muirhead Motor Sales Rooms in Eastland. They are both Buick's alright, but their resemblance is quite foreign. In fact the new Buick and old Buick are about as much alike as an ox-cart is a B-29.

The old slogan has been proven true, in a way—When Better Cars are Built, Buick Will Build Them. Judge L. B. Pearson of Ranger brought the old family buick, an old Buick Touring Car, that has been in his family for 42 years, and while it shows some signs of wear, it still operates under its own power.

The motor is in good shape, apparently the body and tires are not so hot. In fact the old "climber type" tires are obsolete—have not been made for 20 years. It will make about 15 miles an hour on good road if you will use white gas—the very poorest grade. If you should fill it with ethyl gas it might explode—just wasn't made for that kind of stuff. It has two kinds of light. One burns kerosene, the other type uses carbide.

Bulldog Band Enjoys Annual Picnic Monday

The Ranger Bulldog Band enjoyed an afternoon of fun and food Monday when they spent several hours at Lake Cisco on their annual picnic.

They left here around 2:45 and motored over to the specified place and then scattered out for various forms of recreation and exercise. Some went swimming, played miniature golf, skated and took a trip through the dam.

Late in the afternoon, a picnic lunch was spread on the long tables and some sixty band members and guests enjoyed the food and fellowship.

Adult sponsors for the afternoon were Mr. C. F. Brizgo, Band Director; Mrs. Arthur Deffebach, and Mrs. Jack Love.

Mission Program Given Monday

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Second Baptist Church met at the parsonage Monday evening for the regular mission program of the month—"The Multitudes Need Christian Homes."

The meeting was opened with the singing of "Rescue the Perishing" and a devotional on "The Heavenly Pattern" based on the pattern for worship that God gave Moses on Mt. Sinai. Testimonies of the influence of Christian Homes and the inspiration for missions as received in the home and told by a number of missionaries were related by Meses. Betty Bush, D. F. Duncan, Caroline Lindsey, Tom Edwards, Verne Hartfield, Ida Coleman and G. P. Rose.

Mrs. E. C. Ward spoke on "Making Homes Mission Conscious" and the meeting was closed with a "Challenge to American Homes." Programs in the form of cut-out homes were used to direct the service.

A prayer of dedication for our homes today was led by Mrs. Duncan as the benediction.

Study Course To Begin Wed.

The regular mid-week services of the First Baptist Church will begin tomorrow evening with the Officers and Teachers meeting at 7:00 p.m. Last week the plans were proposed and accepted for the Officers and Teachers meeting to include in its program a study course for all the members of the Sunday School organization, so stated Wilson Guest, Sunday School Superintendent. Due to the Study Course being included in the program it will be necessary to adjust the time schedule to include this period, therefore the departmental meetings will be limited to thirty minutes. Prayer meeting will begin at the regular time.

In the absence of Rev. Perkins who is in Miami, Fla., for the Southern Baptist Convention the laymen of the church are conducting the prayer services on Wednesday evening. They are carrying out topics on the subject of personal evangelism. The subject for tomorrow night will be "Christ's Methods in Personal Evangelism."

You are invited to attend the prayer services.

The Low-Down On Presbyopia

The unrelaxed state of ready-made, uncorrected spectacles in 44 states is based on one of the most curious misunderstandings about the human eye that are likely to be found anywhere, says the Better Vision Institute. Most people, as they get along in years, begin to have trouble in seeing to read or to do other close work. This condition, known as "presbyopia", is due to the gradual hardening of the crystalline lens in the eye, making it impossible to focus on near objects.

The treatment of presbyopia, taken by itself, is very simple. It consists in wearing magnifying, convex spherical lenses, known as reading glasses. So it is argued that anyone having presbyopia may prescribe his own glasses, merely by trying them on at a drug or dime store. If he can see to read with them, the glasses are believed to be "okay."

Ophthalmic specialists point out that this argument is as full of holes as a Swiss cheese. No one can know, without an eyesight examination, whether he has presbyopia or some other seeing trouble which reading glasses are powerless to correct. With or without presbyopia, vision may be impaired by myopia, hyperopia, astigmatism, anisometropia, and other errors of refraction plus a whole catalog of outright eye diseases.

Young Drivers Pay High Rates For Insurance

Auto insurance companies charge 60 per cent more to insure young drivers against accidents, and some won't insure a driver under 25 at all. This is because harsh statistics show that the average young driver is 60 per cent more likely to have an accident than the older driver, and 67 to 100 per cent more likely to have an accident in which somebody is killed, says the family economics bureau of Northwestern National Life Insurance company.

Youthful cocksureness, publicized leniency in treatment of young offenders, and slacker parents were given major shares of blame by traffic safety authorities interviewed for the bureau's report.

As example of resulting higher insurance rates, the report points out that standard insurance coverage for the minimum $5,000-$10,000 personal injury & $5,000 property damage costs $50 a year in Little Rock, Ark., for a pleasure car driven only by people over 25; this rate jumps to $49 if a driver under 25 is allowed to take the wheel. For the same coverage in Miami, Fla., the rate jumps from $48 where only persons over 25 drive the pleasure car, to $74 if a younger driver has access to its wheel. In San Francisco the corresponding rate hike is from $54 to $87. In Chicago, the rate for older drivers is $58, against $93 for younger motorists. In New York City the rate is $115 for the minimum coverage for over-25 motorists, and $189 if the car is handled by a younger driver.

While these rates are based on the insurance companies' own experience, says the report, previously published accident studies conducted in Connecticut, Nebraska and Wisconsin have shown from 60 to 85 per cent more accidents per thousand drivers under 25 than among the group 25 and over, and from 67 to 100 per cent more fatal accidents among the younger drivers.

A recent breakdown of Minnesota traffic accident figures indicates that excessive speed is the main reason for the higher accident frequency among younger drivers, with failure to yield right-of-way as a close second in destructiveness, says the bureau.
