

SEEN OR HEARD

The merchants in Eastland may as well get prepared. We predict a run on baseball bats in that city within the next few days.

They've quit fishing in Eastland's lake and are wading among the stumps and knocking them in the head with bats.

Those people in Eastland must not be living right. Or maybe that editor at the Eastland Telegram scares rain on to Ranger with those "hot words" he is in the habit of publishing.

Whatever the case may be—we wouldn't alter it for anything.

The longest days of the year still face local school kids. The last two or three days are always the hardest to take of any in the scholastic year for most of the students.

Most of them know by now whether they have made the required progress in the scholastic learning, and whether they will advance the next school year.

When school is out there is a void of those hours spent in school each day that must be replaced by some type of activity that will pacify the energetic minds of people that age. What is there for them to do in Ranger this summer?

Did you ever wonder what a man handling plate glass all day would do if he got drunk. A United Press story said three plate glass company employees in a northern city became intoxicated and threw bricks through plate glass windows.

Maybe they were just drumming up business for their company.

Our friends who form the policies of the telephone company in Fort Worth, or maybe as high as the head offices in Missouri, have decided to appeal Judge Davenport's decision in the local rate case.

This time the three judges of the appeals court will decide whether the decision by Davenport was in accordance with the principles of the law. Should the court rule that it is—the only recourse the company would have then would be the Supreme Court of Texas.

Eventually the unlimited resources of this far-flung corporation will exhaust the finance of the city and we will no longer be able to hire legal counsel to defend us, then the phone company will get the precedent they need to use in other like circumstances.

They can just deduct their expenditures from their income taxes. We're here in Ranger will have to do without some improvement for the city. Such as a fire truck, maybe a sewer line to someplace not now served. That is what the unlimited desires of the telephone company for more money may be costing the people of Ranger.

They seemingly ignored Judge Davenport's suggestion that they allow the new rates to adjust themselves and see if they would allow a fair return on their investment.

For a corporation from Missouri that pits so little back into a town, the telephone company sure wants to take a lot out, in our opinion.

All the big fish have not perished from this earth, we now conclude. Since Joe Dennis and O. H. Dick, of Eastland, brought back grandpas from a week end trip to Pecos Kingdom.

All the misery of spending the night in the rain storm was forgotten when they hauled in a 43 pound catfish.

We didn't know whether fish that size existed or not, but they must. That sure was a whopper. It seemed such a shame that the fish had to be killed and eaten. We'd much rather have it stuffed and just keep it around to admire.

When we heard they caught that fish we near broke and ran to get our pole and head for the lake. Better — we should have headed for their freezer where the fish was stored.

Some time when you fishermen have nothing to do figure how much each fish costs you per pound that you catch.

Include the cost of your equipment, time, and expenses in the calculations. Some of the figures may be shocking.

Taft Is Leading By 26 Delegates In GOP Battle

The contest for Republican convention delegates is heading into the home stretch.

And at the moment, it's Senator Taft by 26 votes.

The Ohio lawmaker walked off with seven of the eight delegates from Montana to give him a total of 336 delegates.

General Eisenhower has 360 delegates.

But supporters of the retiring European commander hope to close a gap this week. Republicans in Washington state elect 25 delegates on Friday and Saturday.

And Eisenhower backers think they'll win most of them.

Senator Taft himself is getting set for the last primary battle. He leaves Washington tonight for South Dakota, where he and Eisenhower will fight it out for 14 convention delegates June 3rd.

After that contest, the next stop will be the G-O-P nominating convention.

A California Democratic leader says President Truman is taking sides against Senator Estes Kefauver in California.

State Attorney General Edmund Brown says Mr. Truman has endorsed a slate of conventions opposed to the Tennessee Democrat.

Brown, who holds a favorite son slate, made his statement after a conference with the president at the White House.

During the conference, he asked Mr. Truman to approve the controversial tideland oil bill. Brown said the president told him he hasn't decided yet whether he'll vote the measure which returns to ownership of oil rich submerged lands to the Coastal states.

Hot weather has again descended on Texas after welcome relief from showers last weekend.

Weathermen report there was no rain yesterday in the state, and they say there won't be any today, just sunshine and warmer.

The thermometer reached 96 degrees yesterday at Presidio and it may go higher today. The lowest maximum yesterday was 76 degrees at Texarkana.

No dust has been reported anywhere, but weather officials say some is likely in the Big Spring area today. And the weather will generally be windy over most of the state.

The coolest point last night was Amarillo which had 55 degrees. At El Paso, the minimum was 68 degrees.

As for the general world situation, he said it remains "difficult and dangerous in the extreme." And he warned that "no one should assume that the possibility of world war has become remote."

However, Mr. Truman said he believes "we are well on the way to preserving our freedom without paying the frightful cost of world war." He pointed to the fact that United States has tripled its military production in the past year and that our Allies are rolling forward rapidly with their rearmament programs. He warned Congress that any "substantial" cuts in his defense and foreign aid requests will have "extremely serious effects."

Mr. Truman said that Americans must not "relax" their defense efforts. He said "the forces of the Soviet Empire are large, well-trained, and equipped with modern weapons, including the atom bomb." And he added that the "Kremlin's desire to dominate the world is obviously unchanged."

Turning to Korea, the president restated this country's firm refusal to give in to Communist demands on exchange of prisoners. He said it "would be a betrayal of the ideals of freedom and justice for which we are fighting."

Mr. Truman admitted that the situation in Korea is "still difficult and uncertain." But he said "The plan is that the Communist have utterly failed in their objectives in Korea."

And he said that as a result "The Kremlin knows that free men will stand up and fight against aggression"—and "free men around the world know that if they stand up for what is right, they will not be deserted by the United Nations."

Eastland county candidates must file their first expense account on or before May 27, according to Frank Williamson, County Democratic chairman. These reports must be filed with the county clerk, though information may be had from Mr. Williamson, Jay Blivins or J. C. Allison.

Three reports are to be filed. The first of which is May 27. The second 40 days before the primary, and the final report 20 days prior to the primary.

Police say that truck number two overran truck number one in a dense fog at Chicago Heights, Illinois. Truck number three smashed into them. The driver of the third truck walked around back to set out warning flares. A fourth truck piled into the wreck. Then a fifth truck hit the debris.

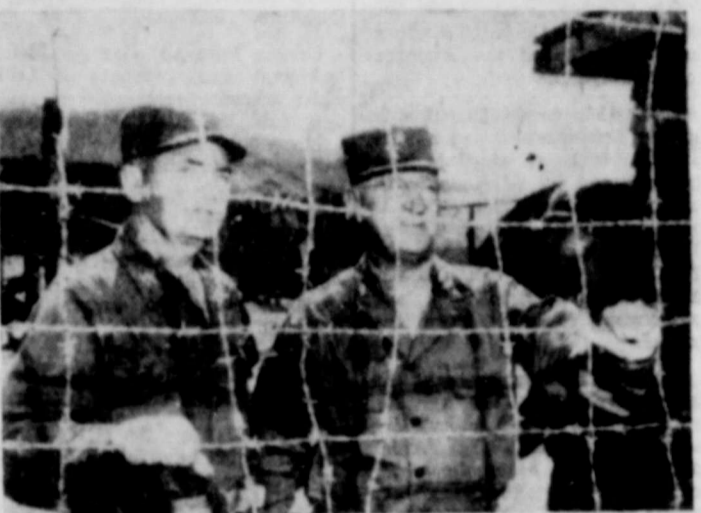

It took five wrecking cars to pull the battered trucks apart.

The long rail dispute may be nearing the end of the line.

Sources predict that three railroad unions will accept a White House proposal to end their three-year-old contract quarrel with the lines.

The sources believe the unions will accept the package proposals, although reluctantly, as the best terms they can win. Leaders are voting on the settlement plan this morning.

The proposal calls for wage boosts up to 37 cents an hour, retroactive pay, and cost-of-living wage escalator clauses. The government reportedly will act to return the railroads to private ownership if the unions accept the settlement.

Truman Covers World Affairs In West Point Birthday Talk

WEST POINT, N.Y., May 21 (UP)—President Truman drew up a balance sheet on the general world situation Tuesday.

Mr. Truman, speaking at ceremonies marking the 150th anniversary of the Military Academy, alerted the nation for possible renewal of large-scale warfare in Korea. He said he's still hopeful of concluding "a just and honorable armistice" in the Far East.

But, he said, "we must also be alert and ready to meet treachery or a renewal of aggression if that should come."

POW Demonstrations Shift Back To Koje

Red Leaders Try To Attract Allied Newsmen With Display

Communist War Prisoners have staged a new demonstration on Koje Island.

The demonstration was carried out by some 60 Red prisoners inside the notorious compound 76—only a few feet from the spot where Brigadier-General Francis Dodd was kidnaped two weeks ago.

Two prisoners representative from each compound on the island had gathered at the gate of compound 76 to talk to the Reds inside. Five American Soldiers, their M-1 rifles pointed skyward, stood guard in the dusty road.

When a truckload of Allied newsmen drove up, the prisoners demonstrated in an effort to talk to them. The newsmen were escorted away by officers and no violence occurred.

Almost at the same time, the Koje Island Commander, Brigadier-General Hayden Boatner, reported that an Allied guard killed one Red prisoner last Saturday. Boatner says the prisoner made what appeared to be a threatening gesture toward the guard, and the guard opened fire.

The riot at Pusan camp yesterday made propaganda material for the Communist truce negotiators at Panmunjom. The chief North Korean delegate charged the Allies with "bloody murder" in killing one Red prisoner and wounding 85 others in the riot.

Ike Backers Blocked In Attempt To Have Taft Forces Kicked Out

AUSTIN, May 21 (UP)—Texas Eisenhower backers have been blocked in their attempt to have opposition Taft forces kicked out of the state GOP convention.

The state supreme court has denied application for a writ of mandamus and an injunction aimed at enjoining Secretary of State Jack Ross from transmitting returns of Taft "rump" conventions to the Republican State Executive Committee.

Attorneys for Eisenhower backers contended that the law provides the reporting of only one convention in each county. They accused Taft supporters of holding illegal meetings.

However, the action by the high court apparently blocks the "Ike" men for good. The court ruled that no motion for a rehearing of the case "will be entertained."

Texas republicans will hold their state convention May 27th at Mineral Wells. Taft supporters say the decision on which delegations will be seated should rightfully be decided by the GOP state executive committee.

Henry Zweifel of Ft. Worth, the GOP national committee member and leader of the Taft forces in Texas, says he "expected" the decision.

Zweifel's statement said in part: "We expected the court to reject the application of the petitioners because the supreme court has held many times that a political party is the judge of the qualifications of its membership."

"We hope that all good Republicans will abide by the decisions of the State Executive Committee."

Getting Married Easy; But Getting Unwed Troublesome
MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 21 (UP)—A 32-year-old venetian blind salesman explained his philosophy on marriage to police in Memphis, Tenn., today. He told them, "redheads, blondes and brunettes—I love them all."

"Getting married is the easiest thing a fellow can do, but getting un hitched is a heap of trouble. I never bother with it."

To prove his point, Robert James named wives in six cities. When arrested, he was courting a Memphis belle.

Vacation Bible School Clinic To Be Held In Eastland Friday

Vacation Bible School workers of the churches co-operating in the Claco Baptist Association will attend a one day Clinic beginning at 10:00 a.m. Friday May 23 at the First Baptist church in Eastland.

The day's activities will seek to present clearly and concisely the main features of a Vacation Bible School. The purpose of the clinic is to encourage and help more churches to have schools this year.

The churches of the Association plan to hold schools in their own buildings of worship and sponsor mission schools for Negro and Latin American groups in centers where these groups reside.

Rev. Jasper Masseege, Bible School leader for the Association, announces that plans are under way to help every church to have a school.

The Invincibles, a group of college students dedicated to this special work, will be available to churches who want their leadership in Vacation Bible Schools.

Clinic leaders for the Friday's one day clinic will be: Mrs. Alvis Woods, Ranger; Nursery conference; Mrs. A. J. Blevins, Jr., of Eastland; Primary leader; Mrs. Van Martin of Rising Star, Junior Leader and Mr. J. O. Strother of Breckenridge, Intermediate leader.

The Clinic will be open at 10 a.m. with a professional by all departments followed by a joint worship service as a demonstration and will be carried on in the same manner in which the school is.

At 1 o'clock department conference period will be held. At noon everyone will enjoy the fellowship of eating together. Each one is to bring a sack lunch.

The clinic will re-convene at 1 o'clock for a general conference and from 1:30 to 2:00 department conferences will bring the clinic to a close.

2221 pupils were enrolled in the twenty-two vacation Bible schools held last year in this association and only two mission schools were reported, one in Claco and the other in Ranger.

In 1950 there were 1849 pupils enrolled in fifteen schools. The goal this year is a school in every Baptist church which would be thirty-two schools.

Humble Stations Getting Ready For Celebration

HOUSTON, Texas — Humble service stations in this area are busy getting ready for a big, neighborhood celebration to be known as WELCOME WEEK, May 23-30.

"The purpose of WELCOME WEEK is to give Humble station operators all over the state a chance to say 'Thank you,' to Texas motorists for their friendship, and for the privilege of being good neighbors in the communities they serve," officials of the company said.

A lot of work has gone into planning for the week-long event. Stations have been given an extra good spring cleaning, with rest rooms coming in for particular attention.

Station managers have been invited folks by letter and in person to stop by during the week.

The campaign is being accompanied by a vigorous advertising schedule in more than 500 newspapers in the state, and all stations will wear bunting banners to lend festiveness to the occasion.

Texas Sports Hall Of Fame Dinner Told

DALLAS, May 21 (UP)—The Texas Sports Hall of Fame dinner will be held at the Baker Hotel in Dallas June 9th.

The dinner will honor golfer Ben Hogan and the late Joe Routh, Texas A&M football great. It is the second sponsored by the Texas Sports Writers Association honoring the athletic figures who have brought lasting fame to Texas.

Tris Speaker, the Texas-born all-time major league outfielder, was honored last year at the hall's first nominee.

This year's dinner will mark the first posthumous award, to Routh, made by the association. Hogan, the mighty mite of the golfing world, who has won the last three National Open tournaments in which he has competed, will be present to receive the award, a plaque.

"Routh was killed in action during the Battle of the Bulge in World War II while commanding an infantry company.

Legion Magazine Note Education Target Of Reds

How a small but influential group of educators has been working to change the character of American education, to prepare future generations for a "new social order," is described in an article "Your Child is Their Target" by Irene Corbally Kuhn in the June issue of the American Legion Magazine.

The article emphasizes that relatively few teachers are a party to this movement which is being steamrollered by a clique in the powerful National Education Association. It also stresses that not all those who openly advocate "the swing to the left" in education do so because they favor communism, socialism, or welfare statism.

"Many of the professional educators involved in the agitation are actually rightists, even extreme conservatives," the article points out, "but as administrators or highly paid educational executives connected with high power, high pressure educational hobbies, they are more concerned with the perpetuation of the 'educational trust' than they are with pedagogical methods or left-wing education. These people protect the pinkees, collectivists, Marxists and communists because they are part of their gang and the gang must stand together."

Tracing the manner in which the "frontier thinkers" moved in on American education, the article describes the Teachers College, Columbia University, group headed by Dr. John Dewey, "the father of American progressive education," and tells of the profound influence they wielded.

Significant evidence of this is offered in the form of a transcript of a panel discussion presented by a group of Deweyites at Teachers College in 1933. This discussion, attended by hundreds of teachers, showed how far the clique was prepared to go in its efforts "to capture young minds in the public schools and educate them to accept a form of centralized state government."

Paschall said he and Gordon B. McLendon of Dallas, president of LBS would head the new network, which will operate in California, Oregon, Washington and Arizona.

Mrs. Bray had been going down each day and feeding them. That didn't satisfy the mother, and wishing to accommodate Mrs. Bray, she brought the pups with her to the Bray home and became a permanent ornament. At the time she moved her family to Owen's house, all but five of the pups had been given away.

Now there are still three pups and the mother that need a home. If you need a pup—Owen Bray is the man to keep in contact with. Sooner or later he and his wife will be adopted by a family of canines.

Mrs. J. D. Drennan gave a pledge for the children; and Mrs. Vernon Deffebach brought the highlights from the White House conference and youth work. The main thought was "What Could Not This Child Become?"

Third U. S. Thunderjet Lost In Mysterious Air Blast

An American jet fighter plane exploded in the air and crashed near Manston, England, today the third mysterious jet crash in a month.

The pilot of the F-84 Thunderjet was killed.

All American Thunderjets in England, about 70 of them, had been grounded over the past week end for examination as result of two other crashes.

One Thunderjet crashed in the main street of a town, another went down in the English Channel. In each case, the jets caught fire in the air.
