

GM Builds New 'Two-Way' Plant in Texas

Construction work has begun on the new General Motors "dual purpose" plant (above) at Arlington, Texas, where GM's Buick-Oldsmobile-Pontiac Assembly Division will build a Grumman-designed airplane for the United States Navy and assemble passenger cars simultaneously. The flexible layout of the plant will permit combined aircraft-automotive operations or it can be converted in a matter of days to either total aircraft or total automotive production, depending upon military requirements. The "dual purpose" plant idea was first proposed a year ago by C. E. Wilson, GM president, as a means of maintaining strong military and civilian production levels without disruption of plant facilities or working forces. Most of the Buick, Oldsmobile and Pontiac cars produced in the Arlington plant will be for distribution in Texas.

THE CURE FAILED—Bobby Spain, two, of Westgate-on-Sea, England, took his first puff at the age of one. Daddy thought it would cure him of wanting to smoke, but Bobby's still puffing away. He likes to smoke, and his parents can't object. It seems to have improved his appetite.

Uncle Sam Has No Set Birthday; Origin Of U. S. Symbol A Mystery

WASHINGTON (UP)—Uncle Sam is a man without a birthday. He has been around for nearly 140 years but historians admit the exact date of his initial appearance is still a mystery.

Just about everything else of the tall, bearded gentleman's history is now on display at the Library of Congress. Included in the exhibit are five prize-winning paintings of Uncle Sam and early representations of other symbols of the United States.

That he and the defendant had been married since the attacks. "We haven't had a fight since," he grinned.

Crisp levied a fine of $100 anyway and Waters paid it for his new wife.

Uncle Sam was first heard of during the War of 1812. Legend says he was named after a government supply inspector, a Samuel Wilson, who was called "Uncle Sam" by his workmen.

The nickname was switched from Wilson to the government when the workers, noting the letters U. S. marked on the supplies began referring to the goods as "Uncle Sam's beef" and "Uncle Sam's flour." They had Wilson in mind and not the government for which the letters stood. Use of the term spread until it came to personify not only the government but the people and nation as well.

Sam was not always bearded in his now familiar attire of stars and stripes, nor has he always sported whiskers. In most of the early representations he was pictured as clean-shaven and wearing top hat and tails (colonial style). Sometimes he appeared in the guise of a well-to-do southern planter.

The red-striped pants and the star-spangled vest became the indispensable part of his wardrobe during Andrew Jackson's administration. He and Abraham Lincoln grew beards about the same time.

Actually, a character known as Brother Jonathan preceded Uncle Sam as symbol of America. The name, probably signifying him as the younger brother of John Bull, was more appropriate in colonial times.

Another emblem of the United States, the eagle, had a more specific beginning, though a less auspicious one.

That bird's first official appearance was on the seal of the United States, right where the founding fathers placed it. It got there only after some vehement opposition by Benjamin Franklin.

He did not go for the story which said the eagle was a symbol of strength. Instead Franklin called it a bird of "bad moral character" that does not "get its living honestly" and is "a rank coward."

Franklin held out for the turkey. The eagle, he argued, is found everywhere. The turkey, a peaceful bird, is a native of America.

Business Men Checks 'On Speed Of Police'

MUNCIE, Ind., (UP)—It pays to check on everything but police here think a new partner in a local business went a little too far. It was 4:55 a.m. when an ADT alarm rang at headquarters and the dispatcher promptly sent officers to check.

Episcopalians Have Picnic Lunch Sunday

Following the spiritual service of Rev. Arthur E. Hartwell, new Rector of the Trinity Episcopal Church Sunday morning a picnic lunch was served at the Eastland City Park, sponsored by the Church Guild.

Thirty four parishioners of the Dallas Cathedral, where Father Hartwell had been stationed, before coming to Eastland, were present for the occasion.

Members of the Trinity Church of Eastland, Ranger and Cisco, with their friends swelled the attendance to about 100 persons.

Rev. Albert, former rector and family and some of his church membership of Breckenridge were among those present.

Shouldn't Have Agreed Assault Victim Says

DURHAM, N. C. (UP)—Henry Waters, Negro, the prosecution's witness in a triple assault case against Mary Woods in court here accepted the blame for it all.

"It was my fault," Waters testified about the woman's attacks on him with a knife, a bottle and a drinking glass. "I had no business arguing with her."

Then he told Judge A. R. Crisp

Alias Basil Willing

THE STORY: An unscrupulous little man had been using the name Basil Willing's name at a party at the home of another psychiatrist, Dr. Zimmer. Basil, without revealing his own identity, threatened to expose the impostor, but offers the man a chance to explain. They go to a small cafe where the impostor dies, apparently from poison. Basil and Inspector Foyle are questioning Dr. Zimmer about the other guests at the party.

VI "WHAT about Miss Shaw's nephew, Brinsley?" demanded Inspector Foyle. "On the companion, Miss Dean? The little guy may have been blackmailing Miss Shaw because of something they did and one of them killed him. Perhaps he just picked the name of a well-known psychiatrist, Basil Willing, at random."

Basil quoted softly. "I hear someone coming. They're always watching. That's what Miss Shaw said to me when she thought I was the false Willing. It sounds as if she and he were in alliance against them. Were any of the others the sort who might get mixed up in blackmail?"

This amused Zimmer. "Judge for yourself. Besides the Shaws and Miss Dean, there was Stephen Lawrence, the poet, and his daughter, Ferlita, Theron York and...

"The man who runs the Stardust Club" interrupted Foyle. "Twenty-five years ago he was dealing with bootleggers."

"Is there anyone who didn't deal with bootleggers in those days?" returned Zimmer. "The rent were his wife, Rosamund, my twin sister, Greta Mann, and the Cannings, Hubert and Isola."

Foyle seemed to lose a little of his seat for this interview. Cautious, the contractor, was active in city politics. "I'll see Mrs. Mann tomorrow," Foyle was on his feet. "There's not much we can do until we talk to Miss Shaw. And identify the little guy."

"Were there no identifying marks on his clothing?" Zimmer asked Foyle.

"No. The evening dress was ing proclaimed himself a psychiatrist, Rosamund York tested him by asking him about the Heisenberg variation. He suggested it shouldn't be talked about in the presence of ladies."

Zimmer laughed heartily. "So Rosamund doubted his identity?"

"She seems to have been the one person here who knew me by sight."

As they moved into the hall, they found Otto loitering. Foyle halted. "Did a taxi driver call here for Dr. Willing at 9:30?"

Otto glanced at Zimmer before he answered. "Yes, sir. I told him Dr. Willing had gone. But he wouldn't leave until I threatened to call the precinct police."

"Do you recall anything odd about the man you announced as Dr. Basil Willing earlier this evening?"

"Well—thirteen is a number the doctor always avoids at dinner and the man was the thirteenth guest. But he gave the name of a guest who had been invited."

Otto glanced at Basil. "... So I began to wonder about this gentleman."

Zimmer intervened. "For your future information, Otto, this is Dr. Basil Willing."

"Indeed, sir?" Otto's eyes opened as if he could hardly believe anyone would abuse Dr. Zimmer's hospitality.

Zimmer started as if a thought had struck him abruptly. "Now I wonder..." He went to the hall table and pulled out a drawer. "Could his name have been Duggan?"

"Why Duggan?" demanded Foyle.

"After all the guests had gone my sister and I spent a few moments in the drawing room talking over the party and I found this between the seat and cushion of my chair." Zimmer took something out of the drawer.

It was a leather envelope with a cellophane window on one side. There was a printed form under the cellophane. Foyle moved nearer the lamp to read it.

"This is made out in the name of Jack Duggan," he said. "It's a license for a private detective."

high office. I base my campaign upon the fact that I am an average man, like the average working man, the average mechanic, the average clerk, the average farmer, the average man that makes up the majority of the population of the 76th representative district. If elected to this responsible office, my chief desire will be to represent the people of this district fairly and impartially to the very best of my ability. I do not claim that I have floated level with the heights of thought, or that I have descended to the depths of things. I do not claim to be a genius in literature, or have the intellect of a scholar, the accomplishments of a parliamentarian, or the gift of a statesman. I only profess to be an average man with the desire to represent you as you would like to be represented in the affairs of state; to attend to your legislative matters like you want them attended to.

"I present myself to you as a Democrat, standing before you stripped of all influences, a d free from all political bosses. I am in this race on my own free will, and I owe allegiance to no one except my country and my God. I am the slave of no man and no organization, and I realize that the responsibility upon my shoulders will be tremendous.

"While I work in the church, and in civic clubs and veterans organizations, I do not think of the voters of the 76th representative district of Texas as men and women of different lodges, or of different churches; or of different commercial organizations, or of different races. I think of you as one great brotherhood of average people, striving for the best interests of this district and of this state and this nation. I am running in this race the way I believe any candidate ought to run. If I am entitled to this office, give it to me. I do not want it through any trick of politics. I do not seek office through any medium other than the individual voter. The only true way to attain office is through the individual voter, not by special groups to whom favors must be returned after election. That is the right way to attain office, and not through highly organized institutions.

"My experiences in life have been varied. I have made my living from farming, storekeeping, peace officer, business man, the oil business, and, otherwise by hard work. I have been right here in this representative district of Texas for 28 years, farming near Ranger and Pioneer. At present my home is at Cross Plains. I was a combat infantry soldier in World War I.

"If you see fit to elect me as your state representative, I shall work for (1) free lunches for all public school children, (2) adequate assistance for elderly citizens

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

PLATFORMS AND CANDIDATES

FROM ALL STATES IN THE UNION, MEN AFFILIATED WITH OUR TWO MAJOR POLITICAL PARTIES WILL BE HEADING SHORTLY FOR CHICAGO FOR THE NOMINATING CONVENTIONS THAT ARE PART OF OUR ELECTORAL PROCESS. ALL AMERICA LOVES A BIG SHOW—AND THESE WILL BE BIG SHOWS.

BUT MORE IMPORTANT, OUT OF THE SHOUTING AND THE TUMULT, THERE WILL EMERGE THE CANDIDATES AND THE PLATFORMS ON WHICH THEY WILL GO BEFORE THE PEOPLE. THE ISSUES WILL BE JOINED. EVERY CITIZEN WILL HAVE FULL OPPORTUNITY TO FORM HIS OWN CONVICTIONS—AND A SOLEMN RESPONSIBILITY TO VOTE THOSE CONVICTIONS ON ELECTION DAY.

BE SURE TO VOTE THIS YEAR.

with no strings attached, and (3) rural fire and police protection. I propose a tax on fines and criminal bonds to help pay for this legislation. I am definitely against higher taxes. I favor freedom of the press. I believe that all chiefs of police should be elected by the people. In fact, I believe every law enforcement officer from city marshal to the head of the Department of Public Safety should be elected by the citizens. I would like to see the enforcement of all our laws, especially those found in Section 71, 97 and 105 of the new Texas election code. These require metal boxes with locks, to be used at the election polls, and make it unlawful for any member of an election board to reveal information regarding the election before the hour of closing the polls.

"Your support of my campaign and your vote in the Democratic Primary will be greatly appreciated."

Here's Recipe Eclair Dessert

French in origin but long acclaimed by the American hostess is the finger-shaped pastry, chocolate éclair. Following the recipe below you can reproduce this exciting dessert right in your own kitchen. And says Rega Stagger, home economist, you'll find the recipe is three-in-one—bake the batter in round form and you have cream puffs, french fry teaspoonfuls of it at 365 degrees until brown and you have golden fritters, an ideal accompaniment for your dinner roast.

Eclairs or Cream Puffs
1-2 cup lard
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup boiling water
1 cup enriched flour
4 eggs

Add lard to salted water and bring to a boil. Add flour all at once, and stir vigorously until balls form in center of pan. Cool. Add unbeaten eggs, one at a time, beating after each addition until mixture is smooth. Mixture should be very stiff. Shape eclairs on greased cookie sheet with a spoon or using pastry bag and tube, in strips about 1 inch wide and 4 inches long. To make cream puffs drop mixture by tablespoon.

Cancer Cure Not In Sight, Research Indicates

BERKELEY, Calif. (UP)—After five years of intensive cancer research, the University of California reports that discovery of how the disease starts and how it can be cured seem as far off as ever.

"Definite answers to the practical problems of the early diagnosis and effective treatment of cancer in man appear no more immediate than they did five years ago," Robert G. Spruel, president of the university, said.

Spruel said, however, that "Progress in research toward the understanding of the cancer process is unmistakable."

"Patience, continued and adequate financial support on a long-term basis, remain the keys to the problem," Spruel said.

Arthur A. Hansen, supervising engineer of the Hartford Accident and Indemnity Co., said personal conflicts have much to do with an "accident-prone attitude."

He said a man has "got to want to do his job (and) if something sours him, it is inviting danger."

"If the wife sees him off with a smile, a good breakfast, a pat on the back, he will do a better job," Hansen said.

Church Picnic To Be Held Friday

The all-church basket picnic for the First Baptist Church will be held on the south end of the football field, in the soft ball bleacher area. The time is 6:00. The day Friday, June 6th.

This picnic is being sponsored by the men's brotherhood in cooperation with the other departments of the Church. All members of the church and those who visit or attend any of the departments as well as friends are invited to this picnic. It is a basket supper and each family is asked to bring what their group will eat. Drinks will be furnished according to Lloyd Bruce who is chairman of the drinks and water committee.

Dr. Marshall Jolly is at work with the table captains and assures the group that he will have the picnic there in good numbers.

President Lem Rushing will be with the Juniors and has many fine games and a full evening for them.

Harman Shockey will plan the games for the Intermediate and with his experience with Boy Scouts, we just know that the Intermediates will have a big evening.

With the pastor and the Education director planning for the Adults just about anything can happen from the old fashioned sack race to "apple ducking."

According to Hugh Smith there will be enough tables to serve the food from and that the bloachers will have to serve as chairs, and he adds, "It just looks perfect for a church picnic."

Mr. G. E. Rush will see that all the impediments are removed from the grounds. According to a statement made by the pastor, "the most important thing a church can do is to lead the lost to Christ, and then following along the line is the teaching and the learning to play together in fine Christian fellowship. Too long the public has let commercial amusements furnish the whole entertainment program for the entire family until the art of individual participation is almost a lost art. In too many instances church members will sit in public places with "just any body" and will belong to lodges and clubs with people for whom they have little respect and yet will fail to see the wonderful opportunity to participate in a Church activity, this is a universal fact and not just a local situation."

Those present were Mmes. Lynn Robbins, B. G. Pirkie, R. A. Jones, F. M. Moffett, Lottia Davenport and hostess, E. T. Matthews.

Madeline Bond To Become New Member of RN

The Royal Neighbors of America Lodge No. 9058 met in regular session Monday evening with Mrs. Opal Kelley in the vocal chair. Opal Laura Todd was reported as being away on a vacation.

Roll call was made and absentees noted. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Application of Miss Madeline Bond for membership was read and an investigating committee appointed and reported favorable. A ballot box was prepared and votes cast.

Those present were Ivetta Smith, Lena McDonough, Maodie Ellis, Johnnie Poyner, Julia Brown, Bertie Shipman, Leoma Arterburn, Carla Daniels, Ethel Wright, Eary Wallace, Laura Melton, Lee Graham, Lillie Anderson, Edna Huffman, Madeline Bond, Alta Harris, Eleanor Horton, Della Rushing, Ellen Jones, May Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Stevens have as their guests this week their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Stevens of Salyey, S.C.

Priscilla Class Met Tuesday

The Priscilla Sunday school class of the First Baptist church met for their regular business meeting and social hour Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Charles Bott. Co-hostesses were Mmes. T. P. Rains and Hardin Bridges.

The meeting was opened with a prayer by Mrs. O. C. Warden and Mrs. Bill Bullock presided over the business session. It was decided that the vice president would preside over the meetings for the next four months, since the president, Mrs. Earl Blackwell has moved to Crane.

The group will provide as follows: June, Mrs. Bill Bullock, stewardship vice president; July, Mrs. Bruce Harris, membership; August, Mrs. Mildred Herweck, ministries and September, Mrs. J. M. Hunt, fellowship. The class voted to send a gift to Mrs. Blackwell in appreciation of her work with the class.

Mrs. Hunt reported that the hostesses for July would be Mrs. Herweck, Mrs. R. F. Webb and Mrs. Ralph Perkins.

Mrs. Bruce Harris brought the devotional entitled "Take Heed To Thy Self", using the scripture in 1 Tim. 4:16.

The group joined in singing "Blest Be the Tie" and adjourned to the patio for the social hour.

During the social, each one wrote a note on a card to send to Mrs. Blackwell.

Refreshments were served to Mmes. Bill Bullock, Glen Graham, J. M. Hunt, George Falls, Bruce Harris, O. C. Warden, J. T. Belsnap, Ralph Perkins and the hostess, Mrs. Rains and Mrs. Bridges.

Report from VBS
At First Baptist

The second day of V.B.S. at the First Baptist Church met with continued gain in attendance with each department showing a gain in both enrollment and daily attendance. There were 195 present Tuesday. The boys and girls are finding the work and play most enjoyable, and there are enough teachers and helpers to really make it a pleasure for the adults to have a part in this important program.

All departments will be air conditioned for Thursday meetings on through the school. The men will complete the work today and the Nursery, Intermediate, and Primary departments will all be air cooled.

To parents who do not know about Vacation Bible School, all children between the ages of 2 and 17 are invited and attendance is free, and a full 3 hour program is provided for all except the 2 and 3 year olds and they have a 2 hour period.

Bible study, missions, character stories, memory work, hand work, games, and light refreshments are provided during the morning. For those children whose own churches are not having a school you are most cordially invited to attend the one at the First Baptist Church according to the pastor, Ralph Perkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Fuller and Mike of Aniston, Ala., formerly of Ranger, are here visiting in the home of Mr. Fuller's mother, Mrs. T. J. Fuller, and his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Warford and children.

This house on a typical suburban lot can be bought complete, except for fences, for $14,000 in the San Francisco area. It has 1,114 sq. ft. of enclosed space, and its features include paved terrace, fenced service yard, private garden, storage room, double carport, and completely equipped kitchen. The price is based on quantity production by the builder. On your own lot it would cost about $16,000, and in other parts of the country an additional 10 percent for a larger heating plant and more insulation. As shown in House Beautiful magazine's special issue "Guide for the Bride," this house is completely fabricated of wood and plywood on a concrete slab floor.

Velma Lou Rose
Feted at Shower

Miss Velma Lou Rose, bride-elect of Charles Walker of De Leon who is now serving in the air force, was the honoree at a miscellaneous shower Tuesday evening, June 3, 7:30 to 9:30 in the home of Mrs. Maxie Cunningham, 1117 Oddie Street.

Miss Betty Jean Falls presided at the lovely bridal book and registered some forty guests.

The refreshment table was laid with a lace cloth over Nile green and centered with an artistic arrangement of pink snapdragons. Lime punch and white cake squares with white and green frosting and dainty mints were served by Mrs. Morris George and Mrs. E. R. Green.

Other flower arrangements of gardenias, pansies and roses were used throughout the house.

The gifts were attractively displayed in the bedroom with lovely bouquets of shasta daisies adding to the beauty of the room.

Others assisting with the shower were Mmes. W. H. Gay, L. E. Gray, J. L. Smith and Lee Hickerson, Tommy Fox and Raymond Long.

Former Eastland Girl Marries In Fort Worth

Miss Ann Underwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Underwood 5407 University Dr., Fort Worth, became the bride of Rev. Leighton K. Farrell, Fort Worth, Saturday in Matthews Memorial Methodist church.

Revs. G. Alfred Brown and Thomas Sterck were officiating ministers. Miss Clementine Hardy, Waycross, Ga., sang the wedding music, and Emmett Smith played the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by her father on her parents' wedding anniversary, wore a gown of ivory satin having a Chantilly lace bodice with stand-up collar and a bouffant skirt of alternate panels of lace and tulle, extending into a train. A beaded crown held her illusion veil. Her bouquet was a white orchid with aspidochloas. She wore her great-grandmother's wedding band.

Miss Sylvan Harrington of Plano was maid of honor and the bride's sister Peggy, was junior maid of honor. They wore gowns of blue net and lace over taffeta. Bridesmaids were Misses Helen Jo Plasek of West, Elaine Barton, Beverly Campbell of Jackson, Miss. and Marian Armstrong of Fort Worth. They wore identical gowns in pink. The attendants carried bouquets of Esther Reid daisies, dyed to match their frocks. Vicki Ann Frossard, Longview, cousin of the bride, was flower girl.

Jack V. Farrell of Waco attended his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Karl Swain and Howard Ramsey of Dallas, Don Eastland and Don McCauley of Hillsboro, and Doyle Beavers of Abbott.

For travel the bride wore a navy linen suit with red accessories. After a short trip they will be at home at 2855 W. Bowie, Fort Worth.

Attending from Eastland were the bride's aunt, Mrs. T. J. Haley, and Mister Haley, and her uncle, Mr. T. M. Collie, and Mrs. Collie.

Strawn Church In A Revival

The First Baptist Church at Strawn will begin a revival meeting this evening at 8 p.m. and will close on June 15.

Rev. V. D. Walters, pastor of the Indian Creek Church just east of Haskel, will do the preaching. He is a graduate of Hardin-Simmons University and is now a student in the Southwestern Seminary in Fort Worth.

The pastor of the church, Rev. Charlie Hargrave, will direct the singing. Special music will be provided each evening and a cordial invitation is extended by the church to the public to attend.

Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Perkins and family were in Garland Monday evening to attend the Sander-Taylor wedding.
