

SEEN OR HEARD

The directors of the youth center have certainly gotten off on the right foot with the operational plans for the Teen Canteen. They're going about the thing in a very democratic manner. Not only do they meet and make plans, but they are calling together everyone involved to help in the formation of the project. There is probably nothing revolutionary about his plan, but in most cases you will find it will work better than the domineering type rule.

When those teenagers meet with the board and the manager they will be on a common ground. Rules made by the young men and women will not be broken as readily as ones laid down by the directors alone. Besides, the kids know better than anyone what they want to do; and nothing will be proposed by them that would sound unreasonable by virtue of their interest in having a recreation center.

Possibly the best enforcement of rules set-up would be for whom the Teen Canteen will be operated. Other places have adopted this plan with some success. Funds will be limited. The Teen Canteen, as a member of the community chest, will have only a certain amount of funds allocated to its operation, wise use of the money at hand to provide the most enjoyable for the greatest number will be a step forward for our city.

Parent co-operation can either make or break their plans. If the parents work with the board, manager, and the youth by giving of moral support a large portion of the success would be insured. As a matter of personal opinion we think at times parents are inclined to be too helpful. By that we mean that the joy of being part of the youth center could be robbed by the parents. The kids themselves can probably do more in limitation of time of the elders.

Over supervision could drive the teenagers away from the Canteen to undesirable haunts. The "medium" must be found that will most nearly suit everyone. When that is done we have solved our youth recreational problem in a manner.

About this time, when the sun is really getting hot, we think of how nice it would be if we were able to take a quick dip in the swimming pool. Have patience with your water commissioner, Addie Williams. He and his fellow commissioners are doing their utmost to get the pool open for you aquatic athletes. The operator question seems to be the greatest right now.

Cloudy Skies, Thundershowers Due Over State

By United Press
Skies are due to turn cloudy throughout most of Texas today, but temperatures will average about the same as yesterday.

The weatherman says scattered thundershowers are in store for the northern half of the state, except for West Texas. Skies will stay clear today and tomorrow in West Texas.

The coolest spots in the state last night were Doherty and Salt Flat. In both cities the mercury dropped to 56 degrees. Little rain was reported in Texas yesterday. Wichita Falls, however, received .51 inch and Mineral Wells .19 inch. A trace was recorded at Dallas, Austin and Texarkana.

President Truman has vehemently denied charges that he secretly plotting to capture the Democratic presidential nomination for himself.

Mr. Truman told his news conference that charges he wants to run again for president are the product of warped minds.

The president was asked about Eisenhower's statement yesterday that one party has been in power too long. Mr. Truman said that's up to the people to decide.

Eastland, Ranger Commissions Call Water Contract Election

The City Commission of the cities of Eastland and Ranger have given notice of election asking approval by the voters of the two cities of water contracts applied for by the Eastland County Water Supply District.

The individual elections in the two cities would give the governing bodies the authority to make the contracts and buy water from the district when the water became available.

The election has been set for June 20. Voting at Ranger will be done in the City Hall, and Eastland voters will cast their ballots at the city hall in Eastland.

Authorization granted by the voters of Eastland and Ranger would allow the two cities to enter into the contract and make the Eastland County Water Supply District bonds saleable.

If the two contracts are approved and the bonds issued, construction could start on the proposed dam and facilities as early as September.

Another Atomic Test Exploded At Las Vegas

Atomic scientists have exploded a nuclear device on the Nevada Proving Grounds near Las Vegas. The device was set off atop a 200-foot steel tower and the flash was reported seen near the Canadian border.

The explosion gave off only a light flash that appeared to local observers much smaller than a test on Sunday which was seen 450 miles away. However, the glare of the exploding atom was reported seen in Kallispell, Mont., about 735 miles northeast of Las Vegas. It was not seen at a vantage point in Arizona 350 miles from the test site where all previous blasts were observed.

Atmospheric conditions may account for this. The blast was the 20th in Nevada, and observers believe it may be the last in the current series.

Fighter and Motor Launch Collide; Fifteen Killed

A Dutch Air Force Thunderjet crashed into a British motor launch during maneuvers off Holland today, exploding and sending both craft to the bottom. The pilot of the plane was killed and 14 of the 15 men aboard the launch are dead.

Ike Has No Way To End Korean War He States

ABILENE, Kansas, June 5, (UP)—General Dwight D. Eisenhower told a press conference today he has no prescription for bringing the Korean War to a successful end. He said that the ideological situation there makes retreat from present United Nations lines impractical.

"I do not believe our forces (in Korea) can carry through," Eisenhower said when asked how the Korean War could be ended successfully. The question was the first posed to the retired general at his first political news conference since shedding his Army uniform to plunge into the Republican presidential campaign.

Eisenhower said he is not familiar with the "local tactical problem in Korea," although he has discussed the situation there with Gen. Matthew Ridgway, who left the Far West to succeed him at North Atlantic Headquarters in Paris.

"I have no prescription to bring it to a decisive end," Eisenhower said. The division was the 36th, will also be in the reviewing stand.

Boys Awarded 9 Duroc Pigs

The winners in an essay contest sponsored by the Sears-Roebuck Foundation, swine program, were awarded registered Duroc pigs at a meeting held here last Saturday, stated C. V. Whitaker, assistant county Agricultural Agent today.

There were 8 gilt pigs and one boar awarded the 9 winners. The boar went to Wayne Anderson, Ranger 4-H Club boy. Boys receiving gilts were Charles Veale, Ranger; Deval Bible and Ronnie Bastick, Serranton; Charles Steel and Horace Witt-Rising Star; Gene May and Lynnall Morrow, Carbon; and Freddie Fox, Olden.

General Grow to Be Given Court Martial by Army

The Army says that Major-General Robert Grow will be tried by a court martial on charges that his diary was stolen by a Soviet agent while he was on duty in the American Embassy in Moscow.

Grow was formerly the military attaché at the embassy. No date for the court martial was given, but the Army says it will be convened in closed sessions at Fort Meade, Maryland. Grow's diary allegedly was stolen while Grow was in Frankfurt, Germany, last summer. Photographic excerpts from the diary were used in the Communist press as "proof" that the United States advocates preventive war against the Soviets.

Kefauver Visits President Today

WASHINGTON, June 5, (UP)—Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee pays a call on President Truman at the White House today. He says he asked for the appointment to "tell the president what I've found around the country, what the people think I'm the man."

Informed Democratic circles believe Kefauver will ask Mr. Truman to stick by his promise to remain neutral toward candidates bidding for the presidential nomination.

36th Division Taking Teamwork Drill at Camp

FORT HOOD, June 5, (UP)—Members of the 36th Texas National Guard Infantry Division are moving through teamwork drills today. They are also getting more firing practice and work in small unit tactics. Later today the division is scheduled to witness a demolition demonstration.

Saturday will be Governor's Day at North Fort Hood, where the training is taking place. Governor Allan Shivers and other civilian and military officials will be on hand. Also among the dignitaries will be Lieutenant General John A. Hulen, of Palacios.

General Hulen is known as the "Daddy of the 36th." He organized the division after World War One and was its commander for several years.

The division will stage a parade for Governor Shivers, Major General H. Miller Almsworth, present commander of the 36th, will also be in the reviewing stand.

Dope Peddlers Cut Narcotics Men at Houston

HOUSTON, June 5 (UP)—Two federal narcotics agents have suffered minor stab wounds here. They tried to buy marijuana from a suspected Negro dope peddler, but the pusher and an accomplice got suspicious and pulled knives.

The dope peddler was later arrested, but the accomplice escaped. The suspect was identified as Wilber Moore, a laundry worker.

The agents said they met Moore on a downtown street corner. They tried to buy "tea" or dope. Moore and his accomplice tried to find some marijuana they had buried in a vacant lot. Failing that, they told the two officers to drive to another part of town to pick up some of the narcotic.

Koje Commander Enters Compound With Troops

KOJE ISLAND, June 5 (UP)—American troops led by Brig. Gen. Hadyon Boatner entered a prisoner compound on Kojelands during the day and split it in two with barbed wire as 3000 Red prisoners jeered.

It was the first time a camp commander entered a compound since May 7, when prisoners kidnaped Col. Francis Dodd, then a brigadier general.

The new operation was the opening move in Boatner's plan to cut the Kojelands prisoners up into smaller groups.

Movie Producer Scrubbing Los Angeles Jail Floors

Union And Steel Men Meet At White House

Chicago to be Last Meeting for Ike And Taft; July No New Offers From Either Side Evident

The next round is the final one for Taft and Eisenhower. They have faced each other in their last primary, in South Dakota. Next, it's the convention in Chicago on July 17th.

It was Taft, by a handful of votes in South Dakota. The senator nosed out Eisenhower in a photo-finish for the state's 14 delegates. However, the Eisenhower forces refuse to concede, and a recount is likely.

Counting 14 South Dakota votes for Taft, the race now stands; Taft 431 pledged national convention delegates — Eisenhower 337 pledged delegates. It takes 604 convention votes to win the nomination.

Governor Earl Warren of California has 76 votes, and Harold Stassen has 25 votes. Sixty-one delegates, from South Dakota, are contested. And the G-O-P National Committee will have to decide whether they'll go to Taft or to Eisenhower.

Twenty-eight delegates are committed to other candidates including four votes for General MacArthur.

A factor giving Eisenhower possible strength, even though he's 25 votes behind Taft, is that both Warren and Stassen delegates say they'll vote for Eisenhower on later ballots at the convention.

Fifty-five convention delegates still remain to be chosen. And 133 presently are uncommitted to any candidate. It appears that these delegates may hold the balance of power in picking a G-O-P presidential candidate.

Corpus Christi Mayor Indicted, Taking Payoffs

A Corpus Christi grand jury has returned wholesale indictments against the mayor and seven other men on charges of offering and accepting bribes.

A 105th District Court Grand Jury returned the sensational indictments shortly before noon Wednesday. Besides mayor Leslie Wasserman, the jury indicted Houston oil man A. W. Gregg and six prominent Corpus Christi men, Sam Russen, H. T. Parr, Buford Nicholson, L. K. Mason and Morris Liedeker.

The mayor is accused of accepting bribes amounting to as much as $15,000. The others have been implicated on charges of offering the bribes, ranging all the way from permitting gambling in the town to obtaining oil leases.

Gregg has been indicted on two counts of bribery, the others on one. Wasserman is in the cotton business in Corpus Christi in addition to his duties as mayor. The payoffs are alleged to have been going on for more than two years.

Federal Officers Hunt Ft. Hood Post Office Bandits

Federal officers are pressing their search for two men who broke into a post office in the Fort Hood dependent housing area.

A 150-pound safe, containing $202 dollars in cash and 691 dollars in stamps, was taken from the building. Postal inspectors, Army investigators and FBI men are all in on the investigation.

POKER GAME ROBBED, ONE PLAYER KILLED AT HEARNE

HEARNE, June 5—Three men held up a poker game near Waco and killed one of the players. The bandits burst through the screen door at the home of one of the players. They were wearing red paint on their faces, along with women's stockings used as masks.

They told the players "If you make a move, we'll kill you." The hold-up men also fired two shots into the floor.

Steel Companies and the Steelworkers Union Have Taken Their Troubles to the White House This Morning

The top-level meeting began this morning in the office of presidential assistant John Steelman. He'll try to get both sides in the steel strike to settle their six-month-old battle over wage and price increases.

It's reported that the government has nothing new to propose. But it's believed the offer of a four-and-one-half-dollar a ton price boost on steel is still on the table, along with the government recommendation of a 26-cent hourly pay increase.

C-4-C Chief Phillip Murray has stated he will hold out for that 26-cent hourly increase.

President Truman told reporters at his news conference he isn't planning to ask congress for additional legislative authority to deal with strikes in vital industries. However, it's believed that the Senate may act late today or tomorrow on pending legislation to cope with the steel mills is affecting more and more the railroad and mining industries. Ore shipping in the great lakes is stopping.

Another C-I-O union, made up of 71,000 electrical workers, has called for "demonstrations" by its members at 53 General Electric plants. The union is protesting against what it calls a "chiseling" wage offer by the company.

Jaycees Ride in Mineral Wells Parade Wed.

A number of Ranger Jaycees went to Mineral Wells yesterday afternoon, and took part in the pre- rodeo parade and grand entry of the Palo Pinto County Livestock Assn. rodeo.

About twenty Jaycees and five girls riding as color bearers represented Ranger.

Late arrival of the Jaycees' mounts held up the parade for ten minutes. And then they caught it on its halfway mark.

Later that evening the Jaycees joined some 200 other riding clubs, color bearers, contestants and individuals in making a very colorful grand entry for the opening of the show.

Two of Ranger's color bearers, Mrs. Helen Bradford and Novella Edwards, entered the girls barrel race. Among the new times turned in Mrs. Bradford's twenty-one seconds plus was the best. Miss Edwards circled the barrels in about twenty-four seconds.

Swimming Pool To Open Soon

The Ranger swimming pool should be opened in the early part of next week.

City employees are at work on the pool today getting it in readiness for the opening. Delay has been in getting an operator for the pool heretofore. But cleaning and painting work is all that remains to be done.

Mr. C. C. Hoffman was said to be the operator the city had secured. He has run the pool in a number of past years.

Duval County Sheriff Under Fire From Political Opponents Again

SAN DIEGO, Tex., June 5 (UP)—Accusations of economic and political pressure exerted by Sheriff George B. Parr of Duval County were made in San Diego today, and at the same time Parr countered with a charge that Judge Sam Reams is trying to replace the present grand jury with a new one.

The charges of pressure by Parr were sent to the State Railroad Commission of Donato Serna, a candidate for county judge on the Freedom Party, or anti-Parr ticket. Serna, operator of a drug store in San Diego, says that the Union Bus Company moved its station from his drug store to a filing station because of pressure by Parr.

The sheriff denies it, and levels a few charges at the opposition himself.

First the bus squabble: Serna claims officials of the Union Bus Lines advised him that the city and county had filed a complaint.

Next the grand jury: Serna says that the city and county officials are trying to bring about a new grand jury to probe voting irregularities.

Houston Press Reports Grain Fraud in Area

The Houston Press has reported that government agents are checking alleged fraud in wheat exports from Houston or Galveston.

According to the newspaper, there have been reports that the U. S. government was cheated out of untold sums in subsidies on Canadian wheat.

Low grade Canadian wheat is said to have been mixed with higher grade Canadian grain. The lower grade was classed as "not fit for human consumption," but the mixture was classed as "good for human consumption."

Shippers receive a 66-cent per bushel subsidy on the high grade, but no subsidy at all on the lower type.

The Press said agents of the Production and Marketing Administration are investigating the reports.

Eastland Lawyer Named Director State Bar Assn.

AUSTIN, June 5 (Special)—J. Glenn Turner, Dallas attorney, has been elected president of the State Bar of Texas in a statewide election just completed among the 11,000 lawyers of the state, Austin attorney Everett L. Lookey was chosen vice-president.

Also elected, but for three year terms, were seven members of the State Bar board of directors, each representing the lawyers of one of the state's congressional districts. These included C. M. Kennedy, Texas (1st Congressional District); John P. Blair, Beaumont (2nd District); Earl Roberts, Longview (3rd District); Floyd Ealow, Angleton (9th District); Albert M. Walker, San Marcos (10th District); Virgil T. Seaberry, Eastland (17th District); and W. F. Nowlin, San Antonio (20th District).

that the bus station at his drug store was blocking traffic. Serna claims two members of the Railroad Commission promised it would not be moved without a public hearing.

But in the meantime the bus company secured permission for the move, and on May 29th switched the station to a San Diego service station. Says Serna: "It's nothing but political pressure and I can prove it." Parr's reaction: "I'm not interested in it whatsoever."

But Parr is interested in his charges made against the Freedom Party. He said Sam Reams, the 7th District Judge who opposes his regime and who has twice instructed the county's present grand jury to return indictments, dismiss, adjourning them subject to recall as is customary. Then Parr, says, about July 6th or 7th, when absentee balloting is under way, Reams, could call into existence a new grand jury to probe voting irregularities.

Parking Meters To Be Patrolled, Police Announce

Chief of Police W. G. Pounds said this morning that a manpower shortage had caused a neglect of enforcing parking meter violations in the recent past, but effective Friday morning at 10 a.m. this would be corrected.

He asked for cooperation in avoiding violations of the parking meter law. And stated that offenders would be given tickets.

The meters, as well as being an aid to shoppers in Ranger, are a badly needed source of income for the city; any of you can remember in the past when it was impossible to find a parking place on Main Street during the shopping hours.

Pounds said that if everyone would cooperate no conflict would arise.

The courtesy meter is still in operation at the city hall and if you pay a nickel between an hour passes you save a dollar fine.

Rapist Gets 30-day Stay Of Execution

Gov. Shivers has granted the customary 30-day stay of execution to Major Preston, Huntville Negro. Preston has been sentenced to death for the rape of a 44-year-old white woman.

The action by Shivers extends the electrocution from July 9th to August 8th. Preston's conviction had been appealed to the Supreme Court, but the court refused to review the case. The high tribunal said Preston's application "was not made within the time provided by law."

Wooden Lumber Schooner Gives Challenge To Davy Jones' Locker

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (UP)—The auditor for Davy Jones who checks off the names of old dead ships can revise his books.

Opposite the name Daisy Gray he now probably has the notation "dead." He can change that to read "resurrected as the Dorteia."

The Daisy Gray came into San Pedro harbor in November, 1950, on what appeared to be the last leg of her journey to the ship graveyard. She was the last of the wooden lumber schooners. She lay in port for 15 months, gathering barnacles and rotting at the seams.

The faithful old lady is ready to drag her ancient pine hull to sea again and the happiest man to hear about is Capt. Aksel Backman of San Pedro, who skippered the Daisy Gray for almost 27 years.

The Daisy Gray was built in 1923 at Portland Ore. The 225-foot schooner cost $225,000 and she made history as a 30-year-old when she became the first ocean-going cargo ship to navigate the man-made channel to Stockton, Calif.

Her new owner, E. B. Loughran of Seattle, Washington plans to operate her under a Panamanian flag hauling freight between ports from South America to the Pacific northwest.

She will have the new name, Dorteia.

With her clanking engines and eight-knot speed, the ship is a throwback to the era of the steam schooner, which stretched roughly from 1890 to 1940. Steam schooners reached their zenith in the late 1920's when 167 were listed as engaged in west coast trade.

Steel hulls began replacing wooden ones after World War I, although they never became really popular among steam schooner owners.

Old-time seamen claimed the steel schooners had no resiliency when unloaded and lost their rivets to the wind and water.

Bank That Money Detective Warns

AKRON, O. (UP) — It used to be fear of bank failure but now it's fear of the tax gatherer that makes people hide their cash and valuables under the mattresses and under the dressers.

That's the conclusion of John Struzenski, detective captain, who says Akronites have about $5,000,000 hidden in and around their homes, just waiting for the wily burglar to trace it.

He said the number of burglaries were large sums of money are taken from homes is going up, with the case of the New England baby sitter who took $25,000 as an extreme example.

No very large burglary has been reported here so far, Struzenski said, "but we expect one any day."

"There isn't any safe home hiding place for money or valuables," he said. "You can think you're pretty smart but I'll bet that if a burglar gets in he'll find your hiding place first thing."

—Jack Bearden, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Bearden, left Monday to report for duty with the armed forces.

State Finds Murder Hard To Discover

BURLINGTON, Vt. (UP)—Only one out of every 10 murders in Vermont ever is discovered, according to Joseph Spelman, state pathologist.

He said it was easy to get away with murder in the state because Vermont is the only state which has neither coroners nor medical examiners to investigate violent or sudden deaths.

Vermont reports only 71 homicides a year per 100,000 population while FBI statistics for the country's rural areas as a whole show 5.05 annual murders per 100,000, Spelman said. The cases of aggravated assaults are on par with other rural areas.

"My opinion, therefore, is that many murders have been committed in Vermont in the past several years that haven't been recognized as such," he said. "These murders have been ruled out as suicides, accidents or as deaths brought on by natural causes."

Spelman said it not only was easy to get away with murder in the state, but that it was a simple matter to dispose of a body.

"Within the past three months," he said, "I have heard of three instances where a body either has been buried or taken out of the state without a death certificate or an investigation."

Movie Big Shots Tell Methods of Handling Women

Some celebrated Hollywood men have revealed their secrets on one way to get along with women. Here are some samples of the male stars' favorite ways to win an argument with a woman:

Hard boiled Humphrey Bogart is a bit sheepish about it. He says, "I just grab my hat and run when an argument starts."

Handsome Tyrone Power resorts bribery with his wife, Linda Christian. Ty says, "I always keep a present hidden around the house so I can produce it in emergencies."

Young Star Rory Calhoun thinks the best way in an argument with a woman is to be menacing. Calhoun says — "I start cleaning my rifle. It gives me peace of mind and has a quieting effect on the woman."

Cary Grant is the strong silent type. He says, "I agree with them till they come to their senses."

Procedure For Broiling Kidneys Given

Many outstanding chefs boast of dishes prepared with kidney. There's the famous steak and kidney stew and pie and creole kidney to name a few. And one more dish which you'll find a thrifty and satisfying choice is broiled kidney.

Either veal or lamb kidney may be prepared by broiling, according to the meat expert Reba Stagg. She points out that beef kidney is less tender and should be cooked by moist heat—either by cooking in liquid or by braising.

To broil kidneys the surrounding fat may or may not be removed. Veal is temptingly broiled without removing the fat and by cutting the kidney into slices about 3/4 inch thick. If not covered with fat, as is often the case of lamb kidneys, wash them thoroughly and remove the membrane. Split lamb kidneys through the center, brush with melted butter or margarine and broil about five minutes on each side. If desired, wrap kidney with bacon before broiling.

Vikings Got Here First, Researcher Believes

NEWPORT, R. I. (UP) — New measurements of Newport's controversial "Old Stone Mill," using an ancient Scandinavian "foot," lend support to the theory that the stone relic was built by exploring Vikings centuries before Columbus discovered America.

Big, burly William Bendix is cautious. He explains, "I wait until my wife is finished. Then I say 'yes dear.'"

Patentable Ideas Protected By Simple Precautions

Many people have good ideas about new or improved machines or gadgets, but never do anything about them because they don't know how to protect their rights while perfecting such items and going through the necessary patenting procedure. Here's what you can do to protect your invention before you have it patented.

Under the patent laws of the United States the person who first conceives of a new and novel patentable idea is entitled to it. Therefore, if conflicting claims arrive as to who is entitled to a patent, it is necessary to establish who first had the idea, not who filed the first application for patent.

Of course, it is always advisable to make application for patent as soon as possible in such cases. But don't forget to protect yourself while you are completing your final drawings and ultimate plans and making such tests as may be needed to perfect your patent. To do this, you should, as soon as you conceive the idea, make a written record of the facts, dating the same, including a general statement of the nature of your invention, and a rough drawing if possible. This should be witnessed by two persons who could be called on later on to certify that they witnessed the same on the date set out in the instrument you have drawn.

Some inventors place such witnessed statements and drawings in an envelope. They seal and mail to themselves by Registered Mail. Their post office stamps each seam of the envelope in such a way that any opening of same can be detected. Upon receiving the registered envelope and its contents, the inventor merely files it away in a safe place unopened. Then, if a contest should later develop, postal records will lend additional support to the testimony of his witnesses.

By taking the above precautions you will establish a preliminary date showing the time when your original idea was conceived. After that you can continue with your work, perfect your idea, and after the same is perfected, make application for a patent, if you feel that you have a patentable idea.

One should not just make a preliminary sketch and put it away and think that is sufficient to protect his rights. That is just one additional bit of evidence to help him establish his right to the patent. The patent should be sought as soon as one possibly can after conceiving his patentable idea and working out details of the same.

Americans Still Like Rural Life

Statisticians Say

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Americans are still predominately a small town and rural people despite the rapid growth in city population, statisticians have pointed out from a study of populations trends as shown by the 1950 Census.

Three fifths of the American people live in places with fewer than 25,000 residents, the statisticians said. Less than one quarter of the people live in cities with populations as large as 250,000. In fact, 25 states have no cities as large as 250,000 and 13 have no cities above 100,000.

In general, the South has the largest population of people living in small towns and rural areas, while the Northeast has the lowest percent in such places.

In 1950, 60 per cent—Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Illinois, and California—do the majority of people live in cities larger than 25,000. On the other hand, in states such as Mississippi, South Carolina, and North Dakota, the percentage of rural population runs as high as 70 percent. New York is the most urbanized state, with 59 per cent of its residents in cities of 250,000 or over.

The movement of the population into cities has been steadily growing over the last 50 years, the statisticians pointed out. In 1900, three fourths of the population lived in places under 25,000, and well over half the population lived in rural areas. At that time, 37 states did not have a single city with as many as 250,000 residents, and 11 states had no cities larger than 25,000.

"The preference of many families for life in small towns and the countryside is also evidenced by the rapid expansion of suburban areas," the statisticians added.

Aged Persons Needing Care

Officer Says

In the past, medicine and public health have concerned themselves largely with the health and disease problems of youth and middle age said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. We have neglected our aged population and have waited upon the devastations of time before extending aid to the old.

Our population each year includes an increasing number and percentage of older people. In 1950 in the United States, it is estimated that there are 11,000,000 persons over sixty-five years of age, as compared to 3,000,000 in 1900. In absolute numbers, aged persons among us have almost quadrupled in the last fifty years, whereas the proportion of elderly persons to the remainder of the population has merely doubled.

Dr. Cox stated that preventive medicine, private medical care, and social service have assisted in extending the life span. As encouraging as this fact may be, there is an accompanying tribulation; the aged are subject to the chronic diseases which, because of destroyed tissue structure, are especially weakened. Heart disease, cancer, diabetes, and other long-term illnesses resist the physician's most skillful attack and are notably disabling and lethal.

To insure health and peace of mind to our old people, preventive and curative medicine and social service can contribute techniques of prevention and care. These techniques should properly include the early discovery of beginning disease processes through periodic examinations that begin in early life and continue for one's remaining years. By such means many cases of chronic disease, with all their agony and sure fatality, might either be prevented or, through the substitution of different living regimens, be rendered tolerable.

Hybrid Corn Is Now in Demand

COLLEGE STATION, June—Seed of Texas 15W, a new white corn hybrid developed by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, will be available for planting by Texas farmers in 1952.

Under comparative tests in experimental plots over the State the past two years, Texas 15W has produced higher yields than any white hybrid now sold.

The new hybrid was developed by Dr. John S. Rogers and his co-workers in the corn breeding program, according to Station Director R. D. Lewis. Rogers also developed Texas 12W, the highest yielding, most popular white hybrid for Texas growing conditions, and Texas 26, 28 and 30, high-yielding, yellow hybrids.

Since Texas 15W does not have as good shuck coverage as Texas 11W, it is better adapted to the Blackland Prairie than it is to the more humid area of East Texas and the Gulf Coast.

However, it is not objectionable to either of these areas and has produced yields as high or higher than 11W in both locations. Texas 15W is not as resistant to ear worms and ear rots as Texas 11W but the stalks will stand up slightly better in the field.

Most white corn in Texas is produced in the Blackland Prairie and Texas 15W should replace 11W in this area as the seed becomes available to farmers, Lewis said.

Wind Damage Preventable

Ninety per cent of the damage to buildings caused by wind is preventable, reports Capper's Farmer.

Studies by insurance companies show that only a small portion of total wind damage results from storms such as tornadoes, says the nationally-circulated farm magazine.

The large part of wind damage is due to poor construction, lack of maintenance or carelessness.

Poor building construction causes the biggest single losses insurance companies sustain. One important item is the need for sufficient and well-designed interior bracing. Since a dwelling is divided into rooms it offers considerable more space for interior bracing. This explains why farm dwellings are only one third as subject to damage by wind as farm utility buildings.

The walls of a barn are called upon to keep out the weather; hold up the roof; support additional floor; resist interior and exterior pressure. A vertical wall without interior bracing will do all of these except resist pressure. But there is more than a ton of weight just from the air alone on every square foot of a barn. This weight neutralizes itself when the air is still. However, it throws all kinds of strain on the barn when the air is in motion.

Foundations should extend below the frost line and go all the way around buildings. Anchor bolts should not be more than 8 feet apart and should be well embedded in the concrete and securely fastened to the structure above. Portable buildings should be se-

ACC Enters Six Men in College National Meet

ABILENE, June 5, (Sp.)—Abilene Christian has entered a six-man track and field team in the National Intercollegiate meet here Friday and Saturday—a team which will vie seriously for the championship team trophy.

George Adrian, who won the 400-meter event in 48 flat in San Antonio Saturday night in the Sixth Texas AAU event, looks as ACC's most likely winner. The Hollywood, Calif., freshman will also anchor the Wildcat's mile relay team, winner of 10 of 11 races this season.

Co-capt. Sam Volpe of Akron, Ohio, ranks as a threat in the 800-meter run. Volpe also won in San Antonio with a fine 1:53.8. He runs the No. 3 lap on the mile relay team.

Paul Faulkner of Fort Worth gives the Wildcat strength in the pole vault and javelin throw. He won both events in the South Texas AAU meet. He will have plenty of opposition in both events, however, in the big national meet.

Buri McCoy of Merkel will present ACC in the 400-meter hurdles, as well as running No. 2 lap on the mile relay team. Buddy Garner will also be entered in the 400-meter dash along with Adrian. Buddy is lead-off man on the Wildcat's mile relay team.

Les Vanover of Beaumont, high jumper who ranges from 6-3 to 6-6, will be entered against East Texas State's Chuck Holding, who is the heavy favorite in the high jump.

ACC Coach Jackson is directing the first annual track meet sponsored by the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball.

FLASHBACK

Sometimes it's a fleeting moment, sometimes weeks, months and years in the headlines—

Then they drop from sight—

For instance, whatever happened to Pastor Martin Niemoller? The minister is one of the most controversial men of his generation. He was a German submarine skipper in World War I, and admitted that he shot a helpless seaman whose ship he had sunk. He defied Hitler between wars, and was thrown into prison. But from his prison cell, he wrote Hitler, offering to command a U-boat for him. When American troops rescued him in 1945, he shocked those who had regarded him as a symbol of resistance by saying he'd never opposed Hitler on political grounds but only because of his treatment of the church. In recent days, little has been heard of Pastor Niemoller.

Niemoller now is serving as president of the Hessian Protestant Church in Germany. He recently came out against the western German.

Gets Record Crowds

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—The Indiana High School Athletic Association considers its schoolboy basketball tourney the "greatest show on earth" of its kind.

It has figures to back that statement up.

The four-week show drew more than 1,312,000 cash customers, which means that about a third of the state's population witnessed some of the sessions.

They paid more than $700,000 in gate receipts.

Program And Picnic to End Bible School

Friday, June 6 is the closing day of the 2 week's Daily Vacation Bible School that has been in progress at the First Methodist Church. As closing features for the school this year, there will be a picnic for the children at the city park beginning at 10 o'clock on the closing morning. Each child will bring a sandwich and piece of fruit. The church will provide bottle drinks. The picnic will be over by 11:30 so that the children can get home by noon. The teachers and workers will be on hand to guide and direct the organized games during the picnic. The parents of the children are cordially invited to be present for the gala occasion.

On Friday evening, June 6th in the sanctuary of the church a program will be presented by the children. Those who have met the requirements of attendance will be presented certificates and awards. The program is open to the public.

According to records, the attendance has been slightly above that of last year.

"We will be glad for parents and friends of our boys and girls to be present for the closing exercises of our Daily Vacation Bible school," states Mrs. Edwin Deffebach, Supt. of the School.

Miss Beverly Anne Matthews, former Bi Beta Phi Sorority president at SMU, will become the bride of Ensign William Joseph Wood June 28, at the First Methodist Church here.

SOCIETY

June 28 is Announced As Wedding Date for Anne Matthews, W. J. Wood

Mr. and Mrs. James Ernest Matthews have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Beverly Anne Matthews to Ensign William Joseph Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Henry Wood of Mounahans.

Miss Matthews studied at Hockaday Junior College and was graduated from Southern Methodist University where she served as president of Pi Beta Phi sorority. Ensign Wood, also a graduate of Southern Methodist University, was a member of Kappa Alpha frater-ernity and is listed in Who's Who in American College and Universities. He is now stationed at Norfolk, Va., with the Naval Air Corps.

The couple will be married June 28 at the First Methodist Church of Ranger.

Miss Matthews has chosen her sister, Mrs. Jack Butler of McAllen as her matron of honor. Bridesmaids will be Miss Joan Cameron of McAllen, Miss June Poteet of Kingsville and Mrs. Thomas V. Patterson of Denton.

Second Baptist Church Votes to Launch New Building Campaign

In a high spirit of joy members of the Second Baptist Church made their first special offerings at Wednesday night's monthly business session looking forward to the building of a new church home at the Elm Street location adjoining the church's parsonage.

In a Deacon's meeting earlier this week the decision was made to recommend for the church's approval the launching of a building fund for the new project. The offering Wednesday night had not been planned, but members immediately upon voting approval of the new building plans, asked to have the privilege of beginning the building fund at once.

A planning committee will begin an over-all study of the church program, the church building and the future needs. This committee will make general recommendations to the church with reference to specific needs and opportunities and with reference to the course that may be followed.

The committee members are: Clyde Rogers, G. F. Landroop, Edgar Ward, Eddie Squiers, J. D. Nichol, Mrs. D. F. Duncan and Mrs. Eddie Squiers.

The Second Baptist Church was organized in 1940 as a regular co-operating missionary Baptist church with about fifty charter members and now has a resident membership of two hundred and sixty members.

An indebtedness of about $2,000 on the present property was cleared in full in 1943 leaving the church at its present location on the corner of Commerce and Pine Streets entirely debt free. Practically all of the Sunday School rooms have been redecorated and work is in progress to make the present church building even more attractive so as to inspire a true spirit of divine worship.

Rev. Jasper C. Massacree, pastor, came to the church in the spring of 1941. He served the church as pastor for about two years and entered the army chaplaincy where he served until February 1946. He has been serving the church continuously since returning from service in Europe early in 1946.

The pastor states that he believes in the people of Ranger and rejoices in the fine opportunities for divine worship and service provided in the churches of the city. He desires to see a greater spirit of unity among Christians of every

Rev. Vernon Shaw Spoke at Service in 1st Baptist

Prayer meeting at the First Baptist Church was conducted by Rev. Vernon Shaw, field secretary of the Texas Baptist Children's Home in Round Rock.

The five points of discussion were as follows: The fact of God; God loves; God gives; God saves; and God keeps.

The Sunday School teachers and officers meeting was presided over by Supt. Wilson Guest.

Mr. Bill Bullock continued the study of "The Church Using Its Sunday School." This book is being taught to the entire staff of teachers and officers. There are a few teachers and officers who have not been attending this study and truly the Sunday School is basically a church organization and each teacher and officer ought to have completed this course before the summer is over, states the pastor.

The Children's Home in Round Rock has 80 children who have come from broken homes. They have been deserted by their parents and have been left in alleys, barns, on the streets, and many other public places.

Most of the homes were broken because of drinking, dancing, gambling, and mothers working, the pastor said. There fore we would assume that no home can become a Christian home with the above causes that wreck and ruin the individual, he said.

The records show that there are over 4,000 children in Texas orphanages and most of them are from broken homes, broken because of sin, he concluded.

WSCS Held First Meeting of the New Conference Year Monday, 3:30

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church met Monday evening at 3:30 for their regular meeting.

A short business session was presided over by the newly elected president, Mrs. Arthur Deffebach. This was the first meeting of the new conference year.

The treasurer gave a good report and presented the planned budget for the ensuing year, which was adopted as a whole. The new officers gave a resume of the work they had planned.

Mrs. C. E. May had charge of the program on "The World Federation of Methodist Women." This federation was organized in 1923 and is the only organization of its kind. The chief object is the binding sisterhood of Methodist women of all churches in the world. The motto is "to know Christ and to make him known to others," reported Mrs. May.

The group joined in singing "I Love Thou Kingdom Lord" and Mrs. Deffebach lead the opening prayer. Minutes for the past meetings were read by the secretary, Mrs. R. L. Willis.

Mrs. M. L. King brought the devotion on "Faith in the Kingdom of God," using the scriptures Matt. 25:31-40 and Isa. 35:6-7. She said that life has a purpose but not our purpose in the kingdom of God, but should serve as an important resolution as a co-

DAVIS, Calif. (UP)—Rudolph Valentino's gray Arabian stallion, Jadaan, is now a prized skelton.

The skelton of Jadaan, one of the most photographed Arabian stallions in history, was preserved through the efforts of C. E. Howell, professor of animal husbandry at the University of California college of agriculture here.

Jadaan carried the matinee idol to fame in such motion pictures as "The Son of the Sheik", "Beau Ideal" and "Garden of Allah." When old age claimed the stallion six years ago, Prof. Howell made the necessary arrangements for the future mountings of the skelton. It now has been completed.

Jadaan, an outstanding parade horse, was ridden by the grand marshal of the 1931 Rose Tournament parade at Pasadena. He
