

SEEN OR HEARD

BASEBALL SUNDAY

The only Dodgers are not in Brooklyn—Ranger has a baseball team known as the Dodgers who are rivaling the Brooklyn name-sakes in playing ability.

Last Sunday afternoon they met third in a hotly contested game, that ended with Ranger's Dodgers coming out on top by a narrow margin of 10-11.

This approaching Sunday the hotnetowners meet their most formidable foe of the year in the Merkel Tigers. Ranger last played Merkel in 1948.

Joe Angel, Dodger manager, says everyone that comes out Sunday afternoon to the local park should get their money's worth—there is no admission charge. The team has their own public address system, which some of the members made in radio school here, and their own announcer to enliven the game.

Richard Flores will start on the mound for the Dodgers and Angel will back him up at the plate. Jess Rehner will start at first base; Pete Mendoza at 2nd; Junior Art-erburn at 3rd; Tommy Hinds at Short; George Comacho in right field; Paul Mendoza in center; and Joe Angel, Jr., in the left field position.

The game is scheduled to start at 3:00 p. m. in the local park. This will be the Dodgers seventh game of the 1952 season. They have won four and lost two of the previous six, which is a good record for any club. At least three more games are to be played here before the Sunday swatters file their equipment away for the season.

Rumors leaking into the "Times" from persons who have seen some of the games this year, indicate the club is as good as they have ever seen for a team that is made up of volunteers, and without sponsors or help in operation. Anything the team does is entirely at its own expense and for the sake of playing ball.

SWIMMING

Eastland's not having their swimming pool open this year may have a lot to do with the crowds splashing in the Ranger Municipal Pool.

A day hasn't gone by without a number of swimmers enjoying the refreshing waters of the local "swimmin' hole". Swimming is healthful as well as a way of beating the heat, and more and more people hereabouts are taking advantage of our being able to fill the pool this year.

Eastlanders must not be paying the preacher. Each time it has rained in the past, the rain fell everywhere but on their water shed. And well drilling near the lake has relieved the shortage of water some, but not as much as they first expected.

Their water rationing is not voluntary—it is enforced by city ordinance. We've noticed where they are having some trouble keeping violations down.

"Rip" Galloway has been telling everyone in town that he was going to "pin our ears back" in a little grudge game of golf Sunday morning.

Recognizing that "Rip" isn't getting any younger, and can't withstand the heat, we're going to have the battle of cow pasture pool in the wee hours of the morning.

W. C. Whittle and John L. Smith are going along and pin both our ears back. From the participants you can imagine what will happen to old man par Sunday morn.

It is doubtful that anyone in the crowd will endanger the course record, par, or anything close to par.

"Rip" might reverse Chamber of Commerce procedure and "deduct" from his golf score—rather than that which is standard with the Chamber of Commerce fraternity, to add a little for good measure.

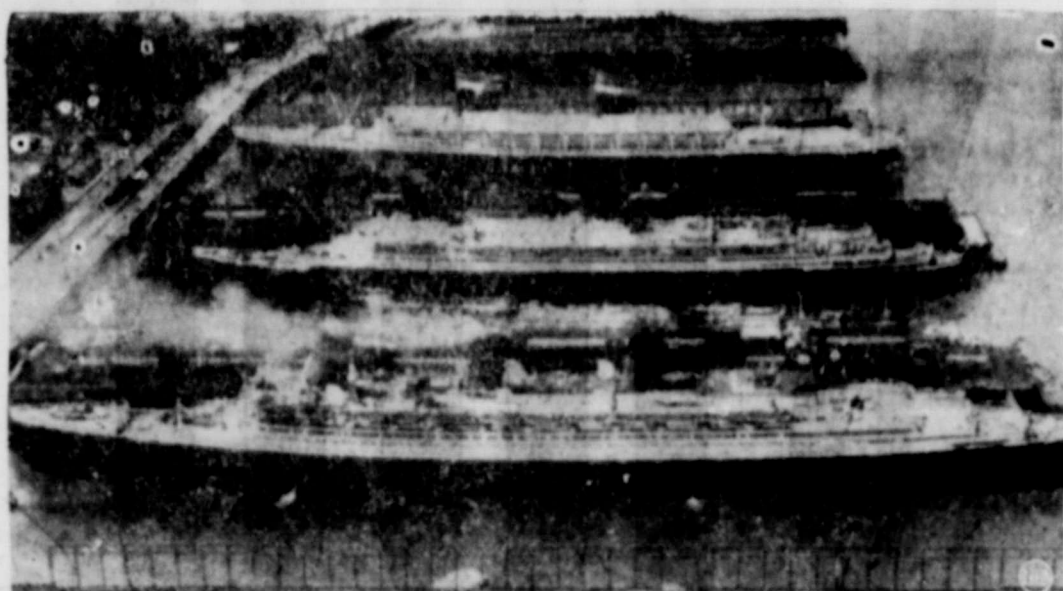

The very hour of playing will be a handicap. We're allergic to seeing the sun rise, but when we have to watch the moon go down too, that is just too much.

We'll see if Mr. Galloway is as efficient at hitting little white pills as he is at publicizing Ranger through his capacity at the Chamber of Commerce.

CARRIERS WANTED

Wanted at once boys with bicycles for Ranger Daily Times routes.

Any boy interested in securing one of the routes should contact Mrs. Joe Dennis at the Times office any time.

THREE QUEENS

Three queens of the sea find themselves docked side by side in North River in New York. Representing maritime pride of three nations, the vessels are, from bottom to top: Queen Mary, England's largest; The Liberté, France's biggest, and America's newest and largest, the United States. Malik's Tenure On UN Council Expires Friday

By Bruce W. Munn
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., June 27 (UP)—Soviet delegate Jacob A. Malik bowed out Friday as president of the United Nations Security Council without getting anywhere on Russia's germ warfare charges against the U.S.

Malik's month-long term as head of the 11-nation council will not end officially until midnight Monday, but delegates put him on a "lame duck" status Thursday night by adjourning until Tuesday.

When the council resumes debate on July 1, British delegate Sir Gladwyn Jebb will be sitting in the president's chair. Jebb will preside throughout July.

Even though Malik failed in his bid to capitalize on charges that U. S. troops waged bacterial warfare in Korea, the burly Russian prevented action on an American demand for an impartial inquiry into the discredited Soviet claims.

Malik thwarted the U. S. demand, presented by Ambassador Ernest A. Gross, by using the usual Soviet stalling strategy.

He put the American request for an on-the-spot investigation by the neutral International Red Cross in third place on the agenda behind two Russian items.

Item No. 1 was a proposal by Malik for a UN appeal by all nations to ratify the 1925 Geneva convention banning poison gas and germ warfare. Ten members abstained and only Russia voted for the resolution, which needed seven affirmative votes for passage.

Item No. 2 was a Malik proposal for the blanket admission of five Russian satellites and nine Western proteges to the United Nations. It will be brought up again Tuesday, with Malik speaking from the floor rather than from the president's chair.

Area Golfers In Breckenridge For Annual Tourney

BRECKENRIDGE (SpI)—The 11th Annual Invitational Golf Tournament of the Breckenridge Golf Club will be held June 27-29, Russell Crowover, defending champion from Abilene, will be on hand to defend his title.

Widespread interest has been shown in the tournament and among the players already signed up for qualifying rounds on Friday are Jimmy Phillips, winner of the Cisco Tournament and A. N. Larson, E. L. Norris and Earl Pittman, all of Ranger; Paul Mosley, C. W. Blackburn, Claude Wilson and Aaron Robinson of Cisco; and Eastland players Neil Lay, Bruce Pipkin, Joe Sparks, Garland Poe, and Jack Gourley.

George Rollins of Stamford, runner-up to Crowover in the Anson Tournament, has signed up along with Dick Stovall of Abilene and Hardy Loudermilk of Ft. Worth.

James Rountree will be the official starter. Qualifying takes place on Friday with matched play on Saturday and Sunday. An orchestra dance will be held Saturday night.

Murrell Brown is General Chairman of the Tournament and George Hannon is the pro at the Breckenridge Club.

Tornadoes And Hail Thursday For Southwest

A Canadian cold front mingled with record June heat atop the nation and kicked up tornadoes and hail in the Southwest Thursday.

A tornado, accompanied by hail and lightning, cut a swathe through the wheat fields of north-eastern Colorado, but no injuries were reported.

The twister swept through a 5 to six mile area southwest of Akron, Colo., but it is sparsely populated and Theodore Goestel, CAA aircraft communicator at Akron, said heavy hail damage to wheat appeared to be the only damage.

Near Plainview, Tex., a small twister and a hailstorm pounced on an area three miles northwest of town and overturned two trucks, tore a porch from a building and damaged four residences.

A small boy in one of the houses was hurled into a cotton field and hail stones poured down on him, but he was not seriously hurt.

In Colorado, the CAA said the tornado swept on toward the Kansas border and dissipated.

It was still hot in the Southwest Friday and Thursday—temperatures soared to 100 degrees or above in New Mexico, Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri and Kansas—but maximums generally were below those of past weeks.

Scattered showers in the area brought local relief.

Clouds and showers in Wyoming kept temperatures there to a high of only 77, at Rawlins.

Commission Will Select Jurors For August Term

The Jury Commission for the 91st Judicial met in the courtroom Friday for purpose of selecting Grand Jurors and Petit Jurors for the August term of District Court.

The commission is composed of E. T. Eubank, Ranger; J. C. Allison, Eastland; Haywood Cabaness, Cisco; and R. H. Reed, Carbon. They are to select a list of 16 prospective grand jurors, 12 of whom will serve. A total of 36 petit jurors will be selected.

Taft Defeat Is Predicted; CIO Reuther States

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 27 (UP)—Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers CIO Thursday night predicted the defeat of Sen. Robert A. Taft and proposed a new national minimum wage of $1.25 an hour.

"Any candidate running on the platform of Senator Taft cannot be elected president," the head of the 1,000,000-member UAW union said.

Reuther added that a candidate running on a "forthright New Deal and Fair Deal platform" will be elected.

Reuther said the CIO probably would recommend both Republican and Democratic platforms carry a plank calling for a national minimum wage of $4.25 an hour.

Reuther held a press conference after addressing the 43rd annual convention at Oklahoma City of the National Association for the Advancement of colored people Thursday night.

"I don't see how a fellow can live on less than $2 an hour," he said. "But our recommendations probably will not be that high."

"It amazes me," he said, "how millions of Americans can live on less. But some live on a third of that."

Averell Harriman of New York, the Mutual Security administrator and Democratic presidential hopeful, has the most "forthright" position on civil rights of any of the avowed candidates," Reuther said.

In his address before the NAACP the UAW head called fair employment practices legislation a "must."

Motley's Add New Feature

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Motley of Motley's Grocery and Market have recently completed extensive remodeling and additions to their establishment.

Jaycees Hear Kefauver And Stage Parade

DALLAS, June 27 (UP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee visited Dallas Friday to address the 32nd annual convention of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce and woo Texas unattached delegation to the Democratic national convention.

The indefatigable candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination may be running square into his most formidable campaign test yet—the Jaycees, not the Texas Democrats.

The chairman of Thursday's Jaycee program, R. W. Kemler of Marshalltown, Ia., put it this way when he cautioned his colleagues: "No Firing During Speech."

"Let's not fire our pistols while Senator Kefauver is speaking to us. Not in the building here, anyway."

D. John R. Steelman, acting director of defense mobilization, was exposed yesterday to both 45 caliber revolver fire blanks and Indian war dancing by Ponca City, Okla., delegates, as he spoke to a Jaycee session.

Frank X. Tolbert of the Dallas Morning News reported Friday that Steelman immediately hurried from Dallas to Mexico City for a rest.

Kefauver was scheduled to address the Jaycee political luncheon in the same $5,000-square-foot Automobile building of the State Fair of Texas where Steelman appeared.

New Jaycee national officers then will be elected. Horace E. Hunk Henderson, 34, of Williamsburg, Va., and Douglas L. Hope, 31, of Cincinnati, Ohio, are the candidates for national president.

It may be the rebel influence of the 1952 convention site, but Henderson appeared to have an edge in the race Friday.

Kefauver To Meet Delegates
After his tour of duty with the Jaycees, Kefauver will meet with Democratic national convention delegates from Texas from 2 to 2:30 p. m. and at 4 p. m. will hold a press conference.

Steelman spoke at a Jaycee session held after a 52-block-long "Roundup of States" parade through downtown Dallas.

Steelman presented the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce with a special plaque in recognition of services rendered by informing American communities on the need for and development of the national defense program.

The Jaycees' convention ends Saturday.

Shivers Denies Planned Bolt

HOUSTON, June 27 (UP)—Gov. Allan Shivers, though at odds with the current Democratic administration, flatly denied at Houston the claim of the governor of Mississippi that Shivers has pledged Texas to a proposed southern bolt from the Democratic national convention in July.

Gov. Hugh White of Mississippi said in a keynote address to the convention of Mississippi State's Rights Democrats at Jackson Thursday that the governors of Texas, Georgia, South Carolina, and Louisiana had agreed to walk out of the convention.

The Texas governor has worked for an unattached Texas delegation to the convention at Chicago, the better to bargain with the national party, but has not favored a bolt if southern demands are not met by the party.

Youngster Found Seven-weeks After New Mexico Kidnapping

LUBBOCK, June 27 (UP)—A woman who kidnapped a three-year-old boy from the front porch of his New Mexico home because she liked him and couldn't have a baby of her own said Friday she'd do it again.

But Mrs. Fred R. Elrod, 22-year-old wife of an itinerant oil field worker, stroke from behind Lubbock's city jail bars. And she and her 25-year-old husband were to be charged by federal authorities later Friday with kidnapping.

The three-year-old boy they admitted kidnapping, Johnny Wade, was found healthy and happy in a Levelland, Tex., home Thursday more than seven weeks after he was kidnapped from his parents' front porch at Aztec, N.M.

The child's great uncle, Jim Wyman of Levelland, led officers to the house after he saw the boy playing outside a nearby apartment building and thought he recognized his nephew, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Arthem Wade, for whom a $10,000 reward was posted.

She Cried Too
Johnny's would-be mother cried, too, when FBI agents transferred her and her husband from Levelland to Lubbock city jail Thursday night.

House Would End Control Monday

By Vincent J. Burke
WASHINGTON, June 27 (UP)—Congressional leaders groped for a compromise Friday between a Senate bill that would decentralize almost all prices at midnight Monday.

Administration officials, agast at the amendment-crippled control measure which the House passed 211 to 185 late Thursday, pinned their hopes on a Senate-House conference committee to salvage some inflation curbs from the wreckage.

As the conference committee began its closed-door deliberations Friday, Chairman Burnett R. Maybank, D-S.C., of the Senate Banking committee served notice that he will "fight to the last ditch" for a compromise to "protect consumers." Maybank headed the Senate conferees.

Price stabilizer Ellis Arnall said he was confident that "Congress will yet enact a controls law that will afford protection to the people of America."

But it was abundantly clear that whatever legislation finally emerges from Congress will not even remotely resemble President Truman's request for a two-year extension of "strengthened" controls over all segments of the economy.

The present controls law expires June 30. If the conferees find it impossible to agree on a compromise legislation before that deadline, they will ask the House and Senate to rush through stopgap bills extending the existing controls for five days.

The Senate voted last week to continue wage, price and rent controls in substantially their present form for eight months, until March 1. The Senate measure called for extending controls over credit and allocation of scarce materials for a full year.

LIONS INSTALL OFFICERS; C. E. MAY NEW PRESIDENT

The Ranger Lions Club installed its new officers for the year beginning, officially for the club, July 1. Lion Al Larson was the installing officer at the Thursday ceremonies.

Taking their offices for the new year were President C. E. May; 2nd Vice-President, Morris George; 3rd vice-president, Pete Brasler; Directors: W. H. Clark, Sr., Dr. Marshall Jolly, and Joe Fraley; and Lion Tamer John L. Smith. New officers but absent from the meeting yesterday were Vice-president Dr. C. W. Harris, who is in Mexico City attending the Lions international convention; and Tail Twister Dr. John White.

May expressed his appreciation to the Lions for bestowing the honor of holding the presidency upon him, and made known his intention of fulfilling that office to the best of his ability.

Outgoing president Pat Thomas reported activity and projects of the clubs under his regime. Among them were eight pairs of glasses bought by the club for underprivileged children under the sight conservation program; a scholarship for RJC; a club sponsored safety program for the schools; attendance at an outing at LaCassa; Lion leadership in the Ranger March of Dimes campaign; the Mystery Man fellowship; program, active part with other civic organizations in the Red Cross blood donor program; awarding a plaque to the outstanding farmer in the Palo Pinto Soil Conservation District; and instigation of the recent DDT spraying of the city of Ranger.

Thomas said he had enjoyed his tenure as president and hoped he had fulfilled the trust and responsibility placed upon him by his fellow Lions. He said that the job "has been a great help to me, more than you realize."

High Winds To Su' side Over Texas Friday

By United Press
Texas could at least look forward Friday to slightly better weather. Forecasters said winds that have been buffeting the entire state for the past several days had subsided some by mid-morning and were expected to stay in the "moderate" range.

It was also cooler over the state Thursday than it has been for two weeks. The highest temperature was 100 degrees at Wichita Falls, Mineral Wells and Cotulla. And Presidio, which normally has the nation's highest reading, reported a maximum of only 89.

Rainfall at several West Texas and lower Gulf Coast stations accounted for most of the lower temperatures. In West Texas, Wink reported 1.06 inches of rain, Childress 41, Marfa 29.—El Paso 0.5, Amarillo 0.8 and Lubbock .61. In South Texas Del Rio had .61 and Presidio .02.

A small tornado and hail storm hit near Plainview Thursday, overturning two trucks, tearing a porch from a building and damaging 4 residences.

A small boy in one of the houses was hurled into a cotton field where hail stones pounded him, but he was not seriously hurt.

It was partly cloudy over most of the state early Friday, with new rain clouds developing over West Texas. Some blowing sand was reported at Big Spring.

Other temperature extremes in the state Thursday included low maximums of 77 degrees at Marfa. Overnight the high minimum temperature was Galveston's 80 degrees, and the low was 61 at Marfa.

49th Armored Gets Payday

NORTH FORT HOOD, June 27 (UP)—The 49th Armored division of the Texas National Guard lined up Friday for the most pleasant part of summer maneuvers—payroll.

Then it's time again for the guardsmen, their two-week summer training completed for another year. Men of the 49th will turn in their equipment Friday and Saturday and return home Sunday, but some units with long distances to travel were scheduled to bivouac along the road Saturday night. All were scheduled to be home by late Sunday.

Yarborough Is Touring Texas; Visits Eastland

JUDGE RALPH YARBOROUGH brought his campaign for Governor of Texas to Eastland Thursday morning with a talk at the Court House.

The former assistant attorney general of Texas and district judge in Austin stressed in his talk the need to "clean house" in the Governor's office and pointed out the present Governor has been in public office for eighteen years, has served nearly two full terms in the governor's chair, and now seeks a "third" term.

The Eastland appearance was only one stop in a busy day of stump speaking by Judge Yarborough. The energetic, veteran of World War II made other appearances at Dublin, Breckenridge, Mineral Wells, and Jacksonville.

"I'm applying to the people for a job," Judge Yarborough said, "and I'm coming out to see them."

Two Boys Are Held On Car Theft Charges

A pick-up truck, stolen earlier in the week in Arlington, was picked up in Olden Friday, by Sheriff Frank Tucker, following a tip that two boys had abandoned a pick-up in Olden and were heading west on Highway 86, on foot.

The boys, Henry Charles Gilchrist and David Shockey Hines, were arrested by the sheriff and lodged in the Eastland county jail. One of the boys made a complete confession, and police in Arlington were notified. Later in the day the boys were released to Tarrant county authorities and are now in jail in Fort Worth.

One of the boys gave Illinois as his home, while the other came from Alabama. The boys were enroute to California.

Chicago Cleans House For July Two Conventions

By Robert T. Loughran
CHICAGO, June 27 (UP)—The lid will be clamped "tighter than a stripper's G-string" on the girlie joints when the political convention delegates come to town, police officers revealed Saturday.

The word already has spread through the loop and filtered into the neon-lighted jungles of the two great honky-tonk areas of this city.

"The lid's on," is the way habits of the jungles express it. The order came directly from Police Commissioner Timothy O'Connor and an energetic roundup of known police characters had been underway.

The casual onlooker might have his doubts.

He could start from the downtown intersection of Madison and Clark Streets and walk north on Clark or west on Madison and find enough night spots to keep him busy from now until election morn.

Life-sized photographs of girls in enticing states of undress smile from countless walls. Music drifts from open doors to compete with the noise of traffic and trolleys.

But there's a difference—at least from Chicago some months back.

"B girls," who lounged around bars and offered companionship and conversation in return for a few drinks have already disappeared from their haunts.

Most strippers are careful not to venture too far in their efforts to please the crowd.

The police have cracked down on "knockout drop artists," who specialize in putting wealthy-looking patrons to sleep in order to rob them. And pickpockets have been chased.

Officers said word about the "lid" also has been passed around the country in the hopes of discouraging the usual outsiders who flock to the convention city to prey on the crowds. Chicago wants them to stay away.

"If they don't they'll find it mighty hot these nights in our jails," one officer said.

The cops plan to enforce strictly the 2 a. m. closing hour for taverns and the 4 a. m. halting point for restaurants. Saturday nights the closing hours are an hour later.

But the tiny bands still blare and the strippers still shimmy down the runway and take off clothes.

Chances are the convention delegate who wants a little fun after dark can find it.

Wetback Control May Be Cut For Shortage Funds

WASHINGTON, June 27 (UP)—The federal immigration service said Friday a drastic reduction in its "wetback" control program along the U.S.-Mexico border would be necessary unless Congress restores a House-imposed $4 million cut in the service's appropriations.

The reductions would include, the service said, halting the "Wetback Airlift," stopping work on 2 $250,000 detention camps for wetbacks and laying off 250 border patrolmen.

But the Senate Thursday rejected two attempts to grant the immigration service extra funds to continue its crackdown on the illegally-entered Mexican aliens, or "wetbacks," who cross the border to work on American farms.

Immigration Commissioner Argyie R. Mackey immediately announced that if Congress fails to restore the $4 million in appropriations the service will have to make drastic reductions in its wetback program.

The immigration service, granted a supplemental appropriation of nearly $1.4 million for the year ending June 30, has accelerated its enforcement activities against illegally-entered Mexican aliens.

More than 300 border patrolmen were put to work on two $250,000 detention camps for housing wetbacks and the "Wetback Airlift" was resumed in Texas and California this harvest season, to transport illegally-entered aliens by air deep into the interior of Mexico.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn. offered an amendment during floor consideration of the appropriation Thursday to increase the immigration fund from $40,399,000 to $42,899,000. This proposal was rejected 65 to 11.

Allies Recess Korean Truce

By LeRoy Hansen
PANMUNJOM, June 27 (UP)—Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison abruptly called a three-day recess in the Korean truce talks Friday and walked out of the truce tent despite objections of Communist negotiators.

The chief United Nations representative called the "respite from propaganda," the third such recess in a month, when the Reds demonstrated they had nothing new to offer.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il protested strongly when Harrison said the UN would not show up for any meetings until next Tuesday.

"Nam's tone was very high," UN spokesman Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols said. "Toward the end it was approaching a strident scream."

Nam opened Friday's 15-minute meeting with a long statement bringing up his old charges that the UN was guilty of mistreating Communist prisoners of war.

'52 CONVENTIONS WILL BE FIRST AIR CONDITIONED

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS

WASHINGTON, June 25—Those political conventions in Chicago next month will be hot affairs, but the air cooling folks figure they have the situation licked. Never before has a national political convention been air-cooled. And air-conditioning people admit it's pretty hard to calculate the amount of steam coming out of 12,000 persons. But one outfit, the Carrier Corp., has made a stab at it. The Carrier experts, who provided the cooling system at the International Amphitheatre, where the meetings will be held have done some figuring. A Lot of Hot Dogs They estimated that the body heat let off by the 12,000 persons per session should be enough to cook for 15,000 dogs and hour. That would be more than enough hot dogs to make it once around.

The human hotplates, it is estimated, also can produce enough heat to make more than 16,000 16-ounce steaks. The engineers have rigged up machines to control humidity as well as cooling comfort. They claim, by the way, that 12,000 people attending each session for a week would evaporate more than 25,000 gallons of perspiration, which is really sweating it out. There will be a complete change of air every hour on the hour through the cooling system. That's going to knock reporters away from one of their best clichés—the one about the "smoke-filled hall." The caucus rooms, though, likely will be smoke-filled and also awful hot. Also the press rooms. Some Big Dicks Some of the dicks carrying air in and out of the place are so large that four sky-high modern basketball players could walk through the things, side by side, without crowding one another as stepping. And how much heat does the human body throw out, anyway? Well, the experts say that each person in the hall will throw off heat at the rate of 550 British thermal units per hour. BTU means the amount of heat required to raise the temperature of one pound of water one degree Fahrenheit. The British thought up the term, and our engineers use it now, too. For non-engineers, the experts put it this way: The 600 million BTUs released in the big Chicago convention hall each hour equal some 530 pounds of coal or 46 gallons of oil, or 6,600 cubic feet of natural gas. This is enough heat to steam a three-bedroom house for 10 days during the worst cold spell of winter. It takes only 350 of these units to cook a pound of hot dogs.

Suspected Slayer Oklahoma County Attorney Held

By JACK MORRIS

PRYOR, Okla., June 27—Oklahoma Crime Bureau Chief George Howard Wilson announced Friday the arrest of a suspect believed to be the slayer of Mayes County Attorney Jack Burris and said an "underworld alliance" plotted the shotgun murder of the young prosecutor. Wilson said officers seized a pickup truck which was believed to have been used by the assassin and indicated two or more men have been arrested. Burris was shot through the back of the head with a .12 gauge shotgun in the backyard of his Locust Grove home June 8. The arrest followed an all-night raiding party in Ottawa county in northeastern Oklahoma in which state agents confiscated a number of shotguns, pinball machines and whiskey. Wilson said officers spotted the truck some time ago and had kept a close watch on it the past 10 days. Wilson said officers seized the truck some time ago and had kept a close watch on it the past 10 days. Wilson said officers spotted the truck some time ago and had kept a close watch on it the past 10 days.

Linked to Alliance

Investigators indicated the raids were linked to an underworld alliance which planned the killing of Burris. At the time, officers described his death as a vengeance slaying. Wilson said the pickup truck, a 1950 green Chevrolet, belonged to C. W. Dawson of Afton Okla., whom federal records show, purchased gambling stamps from the U. S. collector of internal revenue. However, Wilson said Dawson was not being held and that the truck's title had been transferred to Dawson after the slaying. Seized Gambling Equipment The truck was hauled into Pryor and parked in front of the temporary Crime Bureau headquarters here. The truck was loaded with contraband slot machines, pinball machines and other gambling paraphernalia.

Captured Red Armaments Used

NEWPORT NEWS Va., June 26—The United States is shipping Russian-made armaments captured in Korea to Yugoslavia to supplement Marshal Tito's Soviet-produced 122-mm Howitzer battery it was disclosed Thursday. The truck became a prime clue shortly after the slaying when a witness reported seeing it near Burris' home the night he was killed. Wilson said officers spotted the truck some time ago and had kept a close watch on it the past 10 days. Wilson said officers seized the truck some time ago and had kept a close watch on it the past 10 days.

Baptist Revival At Olden Draws Splendid Crowds

The Baptist revival at Olden, which began on Friday night of last week, will continue over through next Sunday. Two services are being held daily, and attendance has been remarkably good. The early morning service, at 7 o'clock, has been very popular. Pastor C. Melvin Rathel of Eastland is doing the preaching, while Rev. Alfred Nelson, Olden pastor, has charge of the song service. Evening services are conducted each evening at 8 o'clock, and the public is urged to be present.

INVENTOR—Mary F. Speers, 72-year-old inventor of taps for rumble seats, released after being held illegally in Michigan mental institutions for 16 years. Miss Speers said she obtained a patent on the tap April 2, 1950, and came to Detroit to discuss the product with Chrysler officials. A manager of a Detroit hotel had her arrested on a trumped-up bad check charge, and later, on testimony of doctors that she suffered hallucinations and had delusions of grandeur and wealth, she was committed to the hospital. Texas Has Third U.S. Polio Cases Counted Friday

Polio-beinged Texas counted more than a third of the nation's cases of the dread disease Friday. The U. S. Public Health Service announced at Washington Thursday that of 421 new polio cases reported last week—a 43 per cent increase over the previous seven-day nationwide total—146 were in Texas. Texas, California, Ohio, New York and Iowa accounted for more than half of the total, the service said. The announcement came as polio incidence dropped off slightly at Houston, hardest-hit of Texas cities, but where the polio death toll climbed to 16. Parkland hospital at Dallas simultaneously reported that it had admitted seven polio patients in 24 hours. At Dallas, the administrator of Parkland hospital said hospital space and nursing care had become a critical problem. The new Dallas patients brought to 77 the number treated at Parkland from Dallas and Dallas county so far this year. Only six cases of polio were diagnosed at Houston Thursday, and seven Wednesday, compared to an all-time record high for a day of 18 on Tuesday.

One authority on titles put it this way: "Titles were good yesterday, fair today, but sure to be worse tomorrow." Better insist on an abstract when buying real estate of any kind.
