34TH YEAR

PRICE FIVE CENTS No. 27

SEEN OR HEARD

Mrs. Oma Leona Merritt, who is in the Ranger General Hospital as a result of Monday morning's alleged assault, is in need of financial assistance, with two children to clothe and feed, and doctor and hospital bills facing her upon recovery.

One person has already voluntarily given $20 to aid Mrs. Merritt. Vincent Jones, who hardly knew the woman, but realized she could use assistance, gave that amount the other evening.

We are sure that any amount that anyone would care, or be able to give, would be sincerely appreciated by Mrs. Merritt.

She will probably be unable to work and care for her children for some time, regardless of that, bills keep mounting.

Anyone wishing to volunteer aid can send it to the Ranger Times.

We received a small piece of correspondence from Frank Sparks of Eastland this morning concerning the candidacy of L. R. Pearson for representative from this district.

Mr. Sparks says: The office of State Representative is one of the lowest paid, but one of the most important in our state.

Mr. L. R. Pearson is our present Representative in District 107 (Eastland and Callahan). However, under redistricting, Shackelford County has been added, and the District is now the 76th.

Mr. Pearson has made us an able and dependable Representative. He is thoroughly qualified, experienced, capable, energetic. He has sponsored only sound legislation.

I believe his re-election is in the interest of good, conservative state government. I hope you will join in re-electing Mr. Pearson to the important office.

Sincerely,
Frank Sparks.

Mr. Pearson's candidacy is picking up more and more support as time draws nearer to the primary. He is making this race at the insistence of his friends, who filed his name for re-election.

It will be to our benefit to support him in his candidacy with the vital issues facing Ranger and Eastland County in the approaching terms of the legislature.

One of these issues is the possible loss of our district court, which we have need for and should be allowed to retain.

Mr. Pearson's experience and knowledge of the affairs of state government can probably do more to aid us in the time we need him more than anyone that could run for the office.

Something ever voter should do is vote for a man on his qualifications. Not what an opponent tells you about him.

Beware of mysterious letters and eleventh hour rumors that cannot be readily approved. You know better than anyone else what to believe of publications that are left in your yards or cars in the dark of the night. That type of campaigning never did anyone any good.

Nor can that type of smear campaign be hidden from everyone. In the end it actually hurts the persons doing it.

In any race pick out the most qualified man and vote for him.

Ping Pong Tourney At Canteen

A ping pong tournament is scheduled for the Teen Canteen members, manager Paul Rogers has announced.

The tournament opens Tuesday night. Matches will continue through the week with the finals being played on Saturday.

Rogers said entries should be in as early as possible in order for the matches to be scheduled. Members only are eligible to participate.

Volunteer Fire Meeting Called

Volunteer Fire Chief Verge Johnson has called a meeting of the Ranger Volunteer Fire Department for Wednesday night at 10:00 o'clock at the fire station.

Mass Anti-Polio Inoculation At Houston Past Halfway Mark

HOUSTON, July 9.—Doctors stepped up the pace of inoculations Wednesday as a mass test of gamma globulin, the new serum which may whip poliomyelitis, as the experiment moved past the halfway mark.

An "extremely rare" case of repeat polio was reported at Houston, meanwhile, and the nation's worst polio epidemic continued unabated. Eight new victims were admitted Tuesday to Houston's two hard-pressed polio treatment centers, pushing the year's total to 440 cases and 18 deaths.

There also was fear the Texas polio siege was spreading to neighboring states.

Oklahoma Fears Epidemic
Oklahoma health authorities warned polio incidence was approaching the major epidemic stage. Nineteen new cases were reported Tuesday in Oklahoma, pushing the state's total for the year to 112 with five deaths, compared to 64 cases and three deaths this time last year.

Kansas reported its 60th case for 1952, with three deaths on record, with the state board of health, compared to only 22 cases for the corresponding period of 1951.

"This definitely looks like a very bad year for Oklahoma," said Bill Epperson of Oklahoma City, state representative for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Repeat Polio Discovered
John Richard Hammond, six, was diagnosed Tuesday as a rare case of repeat polio.

The Houston city health department revealed that the child suffered a case of non-paralytic polio in June, 1950. Doctors at the Southwestern polio treatment center at Jefferson Davis hospital, Houston, said such repeat cases are "extremely rare."

The gigantic Houston experiment with gamma globulin continued with more than half of the 35,000 children inoculated. Half received the serum and half receive a harm less gelatin.

If a normal percentage of children who receive gelatin contact polio, and those who get GG inoculations do not, doctors will know gamma globulin is a success.

'13 Cent Killer' Probably Testify In Court Today

HASKELL, Tex., July 9 (UP)—Clifford Livesay, a 36-year-old Amarillo laborer, was expected to testify Wednesday against a charge of murdering 85-year-old Hermit Joshua Blocher for 13 cents.

The state paraded 20 witnesses to the stand Tuesday. Attorney for Livesay, second man to be tried for the murder of the Bailey county hermit, said defense testimony would require about two hours and District Judge E. A. Bills said the case should reach the jury late Wednesday.

The trial was switched four times on charge of venue before being set for Haskell district court.

Blocher, founder of the small town of Progress, near Muleshoe, was found dead in a field last Aug. 15. Livesay and Lester Douglas Stevens, 31, another laborer, were arrested at Amarillo last fall.

Authorities said Blocher had been beaten with a bottle and left to die of exposure. His killers got 13 cents from his pocket, but missed $14,000 figures later found in fruit jars, buried under the floor of the old man's shack.

Stevens was found guilty of murder last December and sentenced to die in the electric chair, but the conviction has been appealed.

State witnesses testified the floor of Blocher's shack was dug up in spots before Blocher was killed, but that the would-be robber missed the fruit jar cache of money by six inches.

Ex-Scooner Tackle New Breck Coach

BRECKENRIDGE, July 9.—Joe Kerbel, ex-Oklahoma-University tackle, was the new head football coach Wednesday at Breckenridge High School.

Kerbel, a former pupil of Scooner Coach Bud Wilkinson, replaced T. W. Carpenter of Mineral Wells who held the Breckenridge post for only a few hours. Carpenter was hired to fill the spot left vacant by Cooper Robbins' who moved to Texas A&M, but the Mineral Wells principal resigned the position upon the advice of his physician.

Southwest Enjoys Sleeping Under Blankets In July

By UNITED PRESS
Southwesterners treasured a memory Wednesday of sleeping under blankets in July.

That was Tuesday, however, and the U. S. weather bureau said effects of a cool front which broke July 8 temperature records at Denver, Oklahoma City, Dallas and Fort Worth and sent the mercury 10 to 20 degrees below normal in New Mexico were already fading.

The heat-over had area, plagued by sections with drought, wind and dust and generally with sizzling temperatures for more than a month, got temporary relief as a Canadian-cool front dropped in to visit briefly.

A 100-degree reading at Alice, Tex., was the only century temperature mark in the Southwest. Beaver, Okla., had a 46 and it was 48 at Guymon and 54 at Oklahoma City. Low coolest July 8 on record there. Oklahoma also was treated to rain ranging to a soaking 2.74 inches at Marlow.

The cool air mass drove temperatures to 43 degrees in Denver Monday before it moved into New Mexico and dropped the state's reading from 10 to 20 degrees below normal. Carlsbad recorded a 64-degree low, 30 below the norm.

The mercury fell to 42 at Goodland, Kans., and 56 at Kirksville and St. Joseph, Mo.

At Dallas, the high-riding mercury slumped to a low of 63 degrees, a fall five degrees under the previous July 8 low record, and the cool front kept temperatures in the 70's and 80's across the state. Fort Worth's low of 62 also was an all-time low for July 4, 1924, mark of 56.

But warm air already was beginning to warm the entire Southwest again and the job should be completed by Thursday.

British Spy Enters Not Guilty Plea

LONDON, July 9 (UP)—William M. Marshall, 24-year-old radio operator for the British foreign office, pleaded innocent at the opening of his trial in Old Bailey Wednesday on charges of betraying British secrets to a Soviet diplomat.

Solicitor-General Sir Reginald Manning told the court that Russia constituted "a potential enemy with whom we might some day be at war."

"In the course of his work," Manning said, "Marshall had to use information which was confidential and which was secret. And some of it, members of the jury, was highly secret."

If convicted, Marshall would be liable to a sentence of up to 5 years in prison.

Negro Who Ended Discrimination At UT Flunks Out

AUSTIN, July 9.—Herman Marion Swatt, the 39-year-old Negro postman whose four-year court struggle ended segregation at the University of Texas Law School, has flunked out.

Swatt who fought to the U.S. Supreme Court before he gained admission to the law school, revealed Tuesday he has withdrawn "for academic reasons-failure."

He did not plan to attempt readmission later, although "I really wanted to be a lawyer."

Swatt said he had been plagued by poor health and would return to Houston, where he was a mail carrier. He said he expected to spend the remainder of the summer under medical supervision.

He told the Dallas Morning News that he "doubted" he had been graded unfairly by the faculty of the Texas Law School because of his race.

Swatt began his court fight to enter the University of Texas law school, located on the main campus at Austin, in 1946. Two years ago last month, on June 6, 1950, the U. S. Supreme Court ruled Swatt must be admitted under the equal protection clause of the 14th Amendment to the Constitution.

Since the court ruling was made there has been a number of Negro law students at Texas. Other Negroes also are studying in various graduate departments.

Hoover Declares Only GOP Can Save American Freedom

SYKES GOSPEL SINGERS of Los Angeles, Calif. who will appear in Ranger Thursday evening at 8:00, sponsored by the Ranger Lions Club on behalf of their Sight Conservation Program. The program supplies glasses for needy children free of charge. The singers are well known and present endless enjoyment at every appearance. They appear regularly over MBS and make special recordings of spiritual, classic, gospel and folk music.

Lions Sponsor Sykes Singers Here Thursday

The Ranger Lions Club is sponsoring on behalf of their Sight Conservation Program an appearance here of the renowned Sykes Gospel Singers of Los Angeles, California, Thursday evening at eight o'clock in the Recreation Building.

The singers have been heard in Ranger previously and popular demand has made the Lions Club sponsor this return engagement Thursday.

In the past appearance the singers have received such glowing praise as: "Negro spirituals were featured during the program that held the audience spellbound for a full hour. Rhythm that is characteristic of the Negro race had the audience tapping their feet in time. Even after the program ended the audience demanded more. Response was by Prof. Charles Hall, reputed to be one of the world's greatest piano players, as well as an organist. He played his own accompaniment for a number of solos, hitting them high and low with equal ease."

That aptly describes the versatility of the singers and the fine programs they present whenever they appear. The Lions Club is indeed fortunate in being able to present this group in Ranger.

Spirituals, gospel, classic, and folk songs will be on the program for those attending Thursday night. Wherever the singers have gone they have paved the way for better relations between the two races. And promote a better community understanding. A special section has been reserved for the colored members of Ranger who desire to hear this group.

All proceeds from the group's appearance go to the more than worthwhile Lions Sight Program which has helped at least eight youngsters in Ranger the past year.

The Lions have asked the co-operation of everyone in helping them to further this program by attendance Thursday night at the singing. You will not be donating your money. You will receive a world of enjoyment.

BOTH IKE AND TAIT FACTIONS CONCERNED ON COMING CONTESTED DELEGATE SHOWDOWN

IKER MEN EXPECTING LESS SUPPORT ON SECOND VOTE SHOWING
By John L. Steele
CHICAGO, July 9 (UP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's strategy gists looked worried but talked confidently Wednesday about the outcome of the Republican convention fight for Georgia, Louisiana and Texas delegates.

After counting and re-counting their potential support through the night, the general's strategists put it this way for the United Press: Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., the Eisenhower campaign manager, "It looks very good. I'm very confident."

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York: "I think it'll be fine." Sen. James H. Duff of Pennsylvania: "we'll have a substantial majority of the Pennsylvania delegation and enough votes to put us over."

But some highly-placed Eisenhower's 110-vote victory margin, on the "fair play" convention rules test Monday would be repeated in the first-floor showdown on the "states' delegates." Even the most skilful Eisenhower men conceded their vote on the far-reaching test would be considerably smaller.

DEMOCRATS BLAMED FOR OUR PRESENT GOVERNMENT STATE

By Rex Chaney
CHICAGO, July 9 (UP)—The old gentleman won't soon forget it.

He stood before the 25th Republican national convention, a wisp of a smile on his face, waving his hands in gentle circles to the thundering galleries.

Once or twice he opened his mouth as if to speak, but there was no stopping the demonstration. He waited, his eyes shining with tears as they had four years before when he stood on another Republican convention platform in Philadelphia to receive the acclaim of his party.

Finally the tumult subsided, the delegates returned to their seats, and the brassy crash of the bands died away.

A Sign of Appreciation
"Ladies and gentlemen," said Herbert Hoover, "that was certainly welcome."
"I am grateful for it. I will

Texas Split GOP Enjoys Limelight At Windy City

By Roy Calvin
CHICAGO, July 9 (UP)—Texas Republicans, who never before had so much attention, held their place in the limelight Wednesday as angry rival factions went before the GOP convention credentials committee to accuse each other of fraud.

One group would give at least 30 of Texas' 38 delegates to Sen. Robert A. Taft. The other would give 33 to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The televised performance before the credentials committee was the next-to-last round of the long and acrimonious fight. The full convention will give the final decision later when it votes on whether to accept or reverse the committee's ruling.

The Texas case was expected to be called up by the credentials committee by noon. The committee had planned to stay in continuous session until it disposed of all contests, but pro-Eisenhower members secured an overnight recess, partly out of the desire to assure a TV audience for the squabble.

The credentials committee majority report was expected to favor the pro-Taft Texans, headed by National Committeeman Henry Zweifel of Fort Worth. Taft backers controlled the credentials committee by a comfortable margin. Eisenhower backers planned to offer a minority report to the convention.

Compromise was more remote than ever.

H. J. Jack Porter of Houston, the Eisenhower faction leader, rejected flatly any suggestion of compromise.

This yearling was on appeal by both sides from the national GOP committee decision—inspired by Taft himself—to split the Texas delegation 22 for Taft and 16 for Eisenhower.

Candidates To Meet At Union Center Friday

A place on the program will be arranged so that candidates may have an opportunity to get in their plugs.

Randolph Based B-29 Crashed Near Gonzales

GONZALES, Texas, July 9.—A B-29 Superfortress from Randolph Air Force Base near San Antonio, Tex., crashed six miles west of Gonzales Wednesday.

Twelve men were aboard, according to Randolph officials. One witness said he saw 10 parachutes in the air as the plane went down.

A civilian plane passing the scene of the crash said eight parachutes were in the air. The plane left Randolph base at 7:14 a.m. and crashed about 7:30 a.m. Randolph officials said it was the first crash of a plane from the base since March 12.

Miss Deana Pulley of this city has been selected as Duchess to represent Ranger in the Gorman Indian Trail Festival, July 10 and 11.

Miss Pulley chose as her escort Mr. Frank Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Johnson. Miss Pulley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Pulley.

Each town in this vicinity sends a representative to the festival. The queen of the annual affair is from Gorman.

Democrats Scoff At GOP 'Hot Air' More Veniremen At GOP 'Hot Air' May Be Called In Barber Trial

WASHINGTON, July 9 (UP)—Candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination added their hit to the Republican national convention hullabaloo Wednesday by scoffing at Gen. Douglas MacArthur's keynote address as "meaningless orator" and "empty promises."

DALLAS, July 9—It appeared Wednesday that more prospective veniremen might have to be called up for the trial of Robert Barber Jr., 27, of Fort Worth, as the trial ground into its third day of jury selection.

Barber was charged with the $11,000 armed robbery of Burt's cafe in Dallas. He has already been convicted of the pistol slaying of detective H. E. Cleveland, who went to arrest him in Fort Worth in connection with the cafe holdup.

Barber received a 50-year-sentence for killing the detective. The prosecution has said that it will seek the death penalty for the holdup. Under Texas law armed robbery may be punished by death.

Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee charged that MacArthur made "a political football" out of U. S. foreign policy. Averell Harriman said the general's speech was filled with "self-contradictions."

Sen. Richard B. Russell didn't join his rivals in deriding MacArthur. The Georgian, at Little Rock to see the Arkansas delegation, predicted he will receive 300 votes on the first ballot at the Democratic national convention which opens in Chicago July 21.

Kefauver, who claims to have 402 pledged first ballot votes, headed into Illinois Wednesday following a three-day tour of Minnesota. He said in a speech at Eveleth, Minn., Tuesday night that MacArthur's speech was a mass of "platitudes and inconsistencies—a series of generalities which show that he has not been keeping up with what his party was doing while he was in Tokyo."

Harriman said in a statement released during a visit with West Virginia Democratic leaders in Charleston that MacArthur showed "a complete ignorance of the simplest economic facts."

"He claimed our standard of living has been cut almost in half since 1951," Harriman said, "whereas the truth is we have the highest standard of living ever—about one-third higher after taking account of taxes and price rises."

Was Zimmer one of those plausible quacks who specialize in neurotics with ample checking accounts? "Brinsley Shaw is a patient, too," said Basil. "Dr. Zimmer's parties usually include his patients and their families!"

"Oh, yes," Rosamund answered readily. "That's another reason I was surprised to see you there. And that's why I said we were all supposed to know each other. Max believes a psychiatrist should study a patient in his normal social environment. He says biologists used to study cross-sections of dead animals, but now they study animal tissue kept alive in serum and see life functioning in the fourth dimension of time and change. He thinks psychiatrists should study patients while they are functioning socially. So he gives weekly dinners for us and our families and watches our responses to each other."

"Who were the other patients last night besides Brinsley and yourself?"

"The only other one I know about is Perdita Lawrence."

"But one of the Cannings is probably a patient!"

"Of course. Only I don't know which. It's hard for a layman to tell."

Swim Suit Attractions Beach Wear Has a Costume Look

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The costume look in swim suits is showing up on beaches everywhere this summer. Its attractions are many. With it, it's possible to make one swim suit serve the purpose of several—as, for example, when a brief cape also doubles as an overshirt.

on the matching jacket. Both pieces are done in a satiny rayon-nylon fabric that's quick to dry. The suit has sleek lines and a cuffed top.

The costume look is achieved through use of a tiny cape with permanent pleated edge that doubles here as wrap-around skirt. The suit is in smooth rayon bengaline, is elasticized for sleek fit.

Alias Basil Willing

THE STORY: Private Detective Jack Duggan, who had been posing as Dr. Basil Willing, a physician and died before he has a chance to tell the real Dr. Willing his reasons. The next morning Miss Katherine Shaw, used blind woman who had apparently mistaken Basil for the impostor at a party given by Dr. Zimmer, a psychiatrist, also is dead. Basil and his associate, private investigator Brinsley Shaw, who suggested Duggan was murdered because he was supposed to be Basil Willing, Brinsley and Miss Shaw's secretary, Charlotte Duggan, also were at the doctor's home, where the poisoning was believed to have occurred. Brinsley recognized the real Dr. Willing and knew Duggan was an impostor.

LATE that day Basil and Gisela Willing called on Rosamund York.

She was entertaining guests. She introduced her husband, Theron, who was mixing cocktails, then after the Willings were settled she demanded: "Who was that little man at Dr. Zimmer's? And what became of him?"

"The little man was named Jack Duggan," said Basil. "He died a few minutes after he left Dr. Zimmer's."

"Died?" Rosamund's eyes rounded. "How?"

"He was poisoned by some opiate, probably codeine, while he was at Dr. Zimmer's."

"But no one there knew him except Dr. Zimmer."

"Even Dr. Zimmer says he didn't know the man," returned Basil. "He was invited as a guest of Miss Shaw. Apparently she was the only person there who ever met him before."

Why on earth did he want Miss Shaw to think that he was Basil Willing?

"What makes you think she did?"

"Miss Shaw would never lend herself to that preposterous masquerade!"

"Actually he was a private detective," answered Basil. "And there is a record in her checkbook of a check made out to someone with the initials J. D. It seems likely that he was employed by Miss Shaw under his own name."

"Basil, have you any idea in the world why Miss Shaw should employ a private detective?"

"I've been hoping for a chance to ask you that," returned Basil. "You knew Miss Shaw, I didn't."

"So that's why you came to see me so promptly!" Rosamund's mocking glance took in Gisela. "To your husband, I'm just another witness. Or should I say suspect?"

Basil laughed. "Would I bring Gisela here if I thought that?"

"Thank goodness you brought her!"

Rosamund had recovered her usual manner, an air of mocking challenge. "But I haven't the faintest idea in the world why Miss Shaw should engage a private detective. I really can't help you at all."

"I think you can," said Basil mildly. "There was a curious atmosphere at Dr. Zimmer's last night. Why were you so surprised to see me there? Why did you say you always supposed I was on the other side of the fence?"

"You are on the other side of Max Zimmer's fence," was Rosamund's answer a shade too glib? "You're a modified Freudian and he is strictly Gestalt. I'm a patient of his."

For the first time Basil looked at Rosamund with a clinical eye. He had some women patients who seemed healthy but none who radiated vitality as Rosamund did.

"That explains one thing," he said aloud. "You were a rather oddly assorted company. An elderly invalid like Miss Shaw, an intellectual recluse like Stephen Lawrence, and then a rather frivolous pair like the Cannings."

"And another rather frivolous pair like the Yorks," added Rosamund gaily.

"I shouldn't have been surprised to meet you and Miss Shaw together," he answered. "But the Cannings and the Lawrences seemed out of place, each in a different way."

Star Le Gorey and Huntz (Sach) Hall have a clash of rank in "Here Come the Marines," new Monogram laugh treat, playing Thursday at your Tower.

ARGUMENT—Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge argues vigorously with Guy Gabrielson, chairman of the GOP national committee, as Eisenhower supporters kick off floor battle on their so called "fair play" amendment to the rules. Lodge engaged in discussion with the Chairman after Gabrielson recognized the Taft supporter, Rep. Clarence Brown of Ohio. (NEA Telephoto).

Prevention Plan To Cut Down On Polio Is Noted

AUSTIN.—It is believed that the majority of adults have at one time been infected by the virus of poliomyelitis, usually without manifestations, says Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer. In view of the above it is expected that most of the recognized cases will be among children.

Only a small proportion of infected persons are clinically recognizable. When symptoms are manifested, they usually comprise an acute illness with fever, headache, and almost always a characteristic stiffness of the neck and spine. Some degree of paralysis may or may not occur during the first few days of illness.

During the poliomyelitis season the following measures are recommended:

1. Insist upon safe waste disposal so that human excreta is not exposed to disease transmitting vectors.
2. Insist on elimination of fly breeding sources and do not depend upon community wide air plane spraying of fogging machines as a substitute for basic sanitation.
3. Food supplies, including milk, must be protected against contamination.
4. Always demand safe water for drinking or swimming pools.
5. Insist that garbage be kept in covered containers and disposed of by incineration or sanitary fill.
6. Eliminate all unsanitary conditions on your own premises.
7. Practice good personal hygiene, with particular attention to personal cleanliness.
8. Avoid excessive physical strain during poliomyelitis season.
9. Isolation in bed of all children with fever pending diagnosis by physician.

White Assails GOP Policy On Agriculture

BRYAN, July 8 (UP)—Agriculture commissioner John C. White, attacked the farm policy of the Republican party as "the groundwork for a second great depression," in a speech to the Texas Pecan Growers annual convention Tuesday night.

White said price supports, while not as desirable as the ideal method of supply and demand, have proved sound economically under present day conditions.

He said the Republican proposal to put farm support prices on a sliding scale basis instead of fixed by law places farmers at the mercy of the whims of professional politicians, bureaucrats and corporate interests.

Miss Sara Frances Jones Wed
To George Holder In Strawn

Miss Sara Frances Jones of Strawn and Mr. George Mitchell Holder of Fort Worth were united in marriage during nuptial rites at the First Presbyterian Church in Strawn at 6:00 p.m., Friday, July 4. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Jones of Strawn, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. George Madison Holder of Palo Pinto.

Rev. M. E. Elder, pastor of the church, performed the double ring ceremony, witnessed by relatives and close friends of the couple.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore an aqua blue georgette gown over taffeta, designed with a fitted bodice, buttoned in front and a full skirt—with an accordion-pleated ruffle. A white-velvet hat, crocheted white gloves and a corsage of white gardenias completed her wedding ensemble.

Mrs. Owen Lewis was the bride's only attendant. She wore a blue and white print organdy gown with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Mr. Louis Nowak of Dodson Prairie, was the best man.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The table was laid with a white crocheted cloth and was centered with an oblong arrangement of sinias and fern. Mrs. Owen Lewis presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. H. L. Thompson served the three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom.

After a short wedding trip the couple now are at home to friends at 3701 West Fifth Street in Fort Worth, where Mr. Holder is employed by the Consolidated-Vulcan Aircraft Corp. A former student of the Lone Camp and Santo high schools, Mr. Holder served in the United States Navy during World War II and spent many months in the Pacific Theatre of operations.

Mrs. Holder graduated from Strawn high school in 1947 and later attended Draughon's Business College in Abilene. She was employed by the First National Bank of Strawn and then joined the staff of the Strawn-Tribune, remaining in the newspaper's employ until a few days before her

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Ray Burnett
Gloria Jean Roberson And Billy Burnett Wed Thursday

The home of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Burnett was the setting for the candle lit wedding ceremony of Miss Gloria Jean Roberson and Billy Ray Burnett at 8:00 p.m., Thursday, July 3. Miss Roberson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Davis and Mr. Burnett is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Burnett, all of Ranger.

The double ring ceremony was read by C. R. Mansfield, minister of the Church of Christ of Ranger.

An arch was formed with large silver candelabra, graced with emerald foliage and white asters, with long white streamers. In the background were tall white tapered candles, and on each side of the arch were huge baskets of white gladiol and white asters entwined in fern foliage.

Guests were registered in a white bride's book, by Mrs. Claude Roberson, sister-in-law of the bride. The table was decorated with daisies and asters. Mrs. Roberson wore a ballerina length dress of blue chantilly lace over blue taffeta. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Proceeding the ceremony, soft music was played. The selections were "Because," "Always," "I Love You Truly," and "Bridal Chorus."

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Claude Roberson of Abilene.

The gown of the bride was made with a long full skirt and a fitted bodice with high neck, small collar, and cap sleeves. The bodice was buttoned from the neck to the waist-line with small, lace-covered buttons. Her gown was made of white chantilly lace over white slipper satin. She wore matching mitts of lace and satin that came to a point over her hands and buttoned with small covered buttons. The bride's fingertip veil was fastened to a sweetheart-shaped halo, with double ruffles of silk net and piped in white satin. She carried a white Bible, to which was attached an orchid, with long sprays of stephanotis and white satin streamers.

Barbara Ann Roberson, sister of the bride, was matron of honor.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding and reception were Mrs. H. L. Thompson of Vernon and Mr. and Mrs. George Holder and daughters, Maureen and Bertha, of Palo Pinto.

or. She wore a floor length gown of pale pink taffeta with fitted bodice covered with rhinestones, and small puff sleeves. She wore a corsage of white carnations.

The mothers of the couple wore navy blue street length dresses, white accessories and aster corsages.

The candle-lighters were Jimmy Don Burnett, brother of the bridegroom and Norma Mace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mace. Norma wore a gown of brown net over gale yellow taffeta, with a velvet sash and a corsage of pink carnations.

Roselin Roquemore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Roquemore of Ponca City, Okla., was flower girl. She was dressed in white chantilly lace, and nylon net over white slipper satin. Her headpiece was nylon net and lilies of the valley. She carried a small white basket with a large satin bow and jestered white rose pedals in the pathway of the bride. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Charles Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Williams, served as best man for the bridegroom.

The reception was also held in the home of the bridegroom's parents. The refreshment table was laid with a crocheted table cloth of ecru and pink. The centerpiece was a bouquet of daisies and baby breath, flanked by large tapered candles in sterling holders. The cake was of four tiers, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. The cake was baked and decorated by the bride. Crystal and silver appointments completed the table arrangement.

Mrs. A. G. Langley and Mrs. L. I. Burnett of Fort Worth laded the lime frosted punch, topped with cherries. Mrs. F. G. Head served the cake. Nuts, mints and coffee were also served.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Head, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mace, Dean Sutton, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Mansfield, Mrs. Sudie Jones, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mace and family, all of Ranger.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Austin Roquemore, Ponca City, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. L. I. Burnett, Catharine and Betty of Fort Worth; Paula and Nelita Stroud of Abilene; Mrs. C. B. Wekes, Strawn; Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Mace and Shirlee of Breckenridge; Mrs. Joan Williams and children, Breckenridge; and Mr.

FIRST BAPTIST HAPPENINGS
Wilson Guest, Walter Arterburn
Re-Elected First Baptist Posts

Wilson Guest, who has served as Sunday School Superintendent at the First Baptist Church for the past year has been re-elected by the church to serve for the second year in that capacity. Mr. Guest has done a splendid work as Sunday School Superintendent, stated Bill Bullock in making the announcement of the election of Mr. Guest to the place of Sunday School Superintendent.

The past year the average Sunday School attendance has steadily grown, the enrollment of the School has increased, and the projects and program of the Sunday School organization has enlarged its scope and effectiveness. The past year has seen the organization of a number of new classes, many new teachers enlisted, and the Evangelistic note of the Sunday School organization emphasized continually.

The Sunday School, under the leadership of Mr. Guest, is expected to continue its growth and ministry. He has been careful to praise the corps of Officers and Teachers that have worked with him in the past year when he mentions any of the outstanding progress that has been made. He feels that it has been due largely to the faithfulness of these workers that so much has been accomplished in the Sunday School work of the church.

The new church year does not begin until October of this year, but as is the custom the Sunday School Superintendent is one of the first officers elected for the coming year. Mr. Guest will be installed Sept. 28th along with all of the Sunday School workers for the new church year.

Members of the First Baptist Church recently selected Walter Arterburn for the fifth consecutive year as Training Union Director. The fact that Mr. Arterburn has been elected for the fifth year indicates in some respect the confidence and high esteem placed in him by the membership of the church.

In the past year there has been a steady strengthening of the Training Union program for the church. Mr. Arterburn has been tireless in his effort to give the membership an organization that can train them in church doctrine and prepare them to take places of leadership throughout the church and its many organizations.

There have been several new unions organized in the past year offering greater training and opportunity for service to the new Christian as well as to those who have been Christian for many years.

and Mrs. Claud Roberson, Abilene.

The bride's going away dress was grey and white linen. Her accessories were navy blue, and her corsage, an orchid.

The couple spent their wedding trip at Pikes Peak, Royal Gorge, Seven Falls and other points in Colorado.

They will make their home in Fort Worth, where Mr. Burnett is employed by the Consolidated Aircraft Corp., and Mrs. Burnett by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.
