JAYCEE RODEO OPENS TONIGHT

SEEN OR HEARD

Frank Mariani says they have a novelty bull in the rodeo stock out here this year. A novelty in that the bull has never been ridden and is not all Brahama.

The red half Brahama and half Hereford member of the rodeo bulls has removed all riders from his back in the arena, bar none.

After parting company with the poor cowboy who paid good money for such a short, short encounter with him, the bull turns and proudly walks away from the scene of his latest triumph. Thus his name — "I'll Walk Alone."

Being more kind hearted than his fullblooded brother the little red animal wants nothing to do with violence usually connected with the Brahama bull riding.

His name tells the tale—he walks or ambles quickly out of the way of the human animals that could be so foolish to think that they could for a few short seconds remain astride his back.

"I'll Walk Alone" will be defending his independence against some of the top bullriders hereabouts for the next four evenings at the Jaycee Rodeo. Whether he will retain his distinction or not is to be seen.

From what we can see from the sideline about any bull—we'll bet on the fourlegged animal.

After plunking down a number of good old American eagles to enter the show and then drawing this little bull you can probably over-hear the cowboy advancing this bit of philosophy to his comrades:

"If my foresight was as good as my hindsight, I'd probably be better off by a damn sight."

We unto he that draws "I'll Walk Alone."

The Jaycees are still giving away those free tickets on the two Shetland Ponies to be given away Thursday and Friday nights at the Rodeo.

All you need is tickets, a good seat at a good rodeo, and luck.

They are all free for the asking. You can get your tickets at the gate as you go to the rodeo and drop the stub in the box for the two drawings. Your ticket remains in the hopper for both nights unless you win the first night.

Some one is going to be mighty pleased to take home one of those valuable little animals those two nights.

A team of baseball players from Ranger under 15 years of age traversed the ten miles separating Ranger and Eastland and defeated a like size team from that city.

The Ranger Eagles as they have dubbed themselves showed remarkable ability in their first game of the year.

Ranger's other team, the Dodgers, is planning on a game here Sunday if it can be arranged.

Joe Angel is managing the youngsters as well as the older team.

Veteran Pilots Report Seeing Flying Saucers

MIAMI, Fla., July 16 (UP)—Two veteran airline pilots added to the flying saucer lore Wednesday accounts of seeing huge discs slipping in formation at supersonic speed near Norfolk, Va.

Pilots W. B. Naah, 35, and W. H. Fortenberry, 30, of Pan American Airways, said the "glowing, orange red" saucers maneuvered too sharply for human endurance at a speed of "far above 1,000 miles per hour."

"Whoever was in those things," the pilots declared, "had capabilities far beyond our own. Those things absolutely did not contain any human beings as we know them."

First they flew in an echelon formation—a diagonal straight line—at about 2,000 feet altitude, Naah said. As the DC-4 passed over them, he said, turned sharply westward and were joined by two other discs. He said the eight "saucers" zoomed upward to an estimated 10,000 feet altitude.

Lone Star Men To Be Commended On Accident Free Plant Built

Recognition of the perfect safety record set by employees during construction of the $1,500,000 McKelroy-Wilshire gasoline plant will be a feature of special dedication ceremonies to be held Saturday, July 19, on the 30-acre plant site located in Upton County eleven miles northeast of Crane. The plant, owned jointly by the Lone Star Producing Company and the Wilshire Oil Company, Inc., was constructed by Lone Star and will be operated by the firm.

Officials of the two most companies have announced that the general public is invited to attend the program which will get underway at 9 o'clock with inspection of the plant and the adjacent big drilling rigs of Wilshire. The dedication ceremony at 11 o'clock will be followed by a barbecue luncheon served by the Odessa Check Wagon Gang. Open house and conducted tours will continue until 4 o'clock.

Starting at 8:30 o'clock Saturday morning, shuttle buses will make regular trips to the plant from Crane and may be boarded at the Pettit Grill in Crane. This transportation is provided without cost to dedication ceremony guests, officials stated.

The perfect safety record represents in excess of 50,000 man hours worked by an average of 42 men since last January without a disabling injury, according to A. W. Breeland of Dallas, Lone Star's assistant director of personnel in charge of safety. Mr. Breeland will present a safety certificate which will be accepted

Sam Stern, Fargo, N. D., banker, merchant and civic leader, who was elected Grand Exalted Ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks at its 88th Grand Lodge Convention in New York City.

Elks Elect New Exalted Ruler

NEW YORK, July 14—Special—Sam Stern, Fargo, N. D., banker, merchant and civic leader, who was elected Grand Exalted Ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks at its 88th Grand Lodge Convention here today.

Stern, who was unopposed, was elected unanimously as Convention business sessions got underway in the Waldorf Astoria following the colorful public opening ceremonies Sunday night. He is the first North Dakotan to head the Order of Elks in its 84 year history. Stern has served as North Dakota Chairman of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis since its inception, has been Chairman of the North Dakota State Crippled Children Commission for 11 years, and was a founder and for many years head of the State Elks Association's Crippled Children Program, which established Camp Grassick, an institution for handicapped children, near Bismarck. Stern will be installed at the closing convention session Thursday, July 17, succeeding Howard R. Davis of Williamsport, Pa.

Grand Exalted Ruler Davis reported that membership showed a gain for the 13th consecutive year, an increase of 28,604 which brought the Order's membership to an all-time high of 3,969,868. Nineteen new lodges were instituted in 14 states and Alaska during the past year bringing the total to 1,610.

Convention officials reported over 15,000 Elks and their wives in attendance, and said this figure would climb to nearly 30,000 before the meeting ends.

In behalf of employees by Joe F. Francis of Breckenridge, gasoline plant superintendent and among the Lone Star supervisory personnel assigned to the building project.

The certificate will bear signatures of D. A. Hulcy, president; Elmer F. Schmidt, senior vice-president; and Julian L. Foster, vice-president and general superintendent for Lone Star Producing Company.

Other Lone Star supervisors on the plant construction were J. A. Bates of Ranger, district superintendent; H. H. Saunders and J. O. Simpson, district construction foremen; W. J. Van Bibber, gasoline plant superintendent at Ranger, and D. W. Hale, gasoline department engineer.

Another Record Week Of Polio Facing Texans

By United Press

Another record-breaking week of dread poliomyelitis appeared assured for Texas Wednesday.

Incidence of the disease also increased throughout the Southwest as five new cases pushed Oklahoma's count to 159 so far this year, 68 more than at this time a year ago, and the 1952 toll in Kansas soared to 80 with four new cases. For a similar period of 1951, Kansas had only 30 polio victims.

Houston, hardest-hit city in the hardest-hit state, had 15 new cases of polio diagnosed Tuesday. At Fort Worth, the City-County hospital announced its polio ward was so overtaxed that only critically ill victims may stay past 10 days.

Tuesday's new cases at Houston pushed the number treated at its two centers so far this year to 521. Some 58 persons were under treatment for polio at Ft. Worth, five of them in iron lungs. At Dallas, 84 persons were being treated and 56 polio victims were hospitalized in the Lower Rio Grande valley.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis said at Oklahoma City 128 persons now are hospitalized in that state, including 62 victims suffering acute forms of polio.

A huge anti-polio experiment, to test the effectiveness of the new serum, gamma globulin, in preventing death and paralysis in polio was concluded only last weekend at Houston.

Results of the test won't be known, however, until next year, after a research team records incidence of the disease among half of the 33,000 children injected with gamma globulin and the other half inoculated with harmless gelatin.

Trans-Oceanic 'Copter Flight Is Postponed

PRSEQUE ISLE, Me., July 16—The first trans-oceanic helicopter flight in history was delayed Wednesday by adverse weather.

Maj. Richard B. McVay of David City, Neb., project officer for the flight of two "flight windmills" from Westover Air Force Base in Massachusetts to Wiesbaden, Germany, said the second leg of the flight might be held up "at least until late Wednesday and perhaps until Thursday."

The four pilots, who gained rest by the delay, said they didn't intend to push their "egg beaters" but hoped to "make the unprecedented trip to England in about six days. One of them is Capt. George O. Hambrick of Sayre, Okla., a co-pilot.

In announcing his candidacy for County Clerk, Mr. Smith says:

I will greatly appreciate your support.

State Bar For Loan Law To Get Rid Of Sharks

HOUSTON, July 15—Declaring that loan sharks in Texas "in numbers and nuisance are now even more in evidence than ever before," the State Bar of Texas has thrown its support behind a proposed small loan law.

The measure, modeled from laws already in effect in almost all other states, provides for licensing and supervising the small loan industry, with both civil and criminal penalties, and for a maximum charge for loans "that will be fair to both borrower and lender."

Action by the State Bar at its recent convention in Houston was based upon a year's study of the problem by a special committee headed by District Judge W. S. Barron of Bryan and Tom Heasley, Lufkin attorney. Hearings were held and attorneys and executives of lending companies were heard.

DEMOCRATS CAUTIOUSLY PREPARE 1952 PLATFORM

By Robert F. Loftus

CHICAGO, July 16 (UP)—Democrats, moving with the gingerly approach of a bomb disposal crew, began work on a party platform Wednesday with the left wing demanding an even stronger Civil Rights plank than the one that blew up the 1948 convention.

If the left gets it, there probably will be another Southern bolt.

A 21-member preliminary drafting committee under House Democratic leader John W. McCormack of Massachusetts began four days of televised public hearings Wednesday.

It will make its recommendations to the convention platform and resolutions committee, which in turn will send the finished product to the convention Wednesday, July 23.

Wednesday's hearing mainly concerned the farm plank, a problem tricky enough in itself. A drafting committee source said the plank probably will favor continued farm price supports at 90 percent of parity, as in a bill passed in the closing days of Congress. It probably will steer clear of the controversial Brannan plan, attacked by most major farm organizations.

But it was the Civil Rights issue, subject of Thursday's hearings, that caused party leaders the most headaches. Some top Democrats, believing the party cannot lose any 39 electoral votes as it did in 1948 in the Dixie walkout, have been trying for a quiet compromise.

But Francis Biddle, chairman of the politically potent American Council for Democratic Action, said "the heat is certainly not off" the Democrats because the Republicans adopted a noncommittal Civil Rights plank.

"The Ads will fight for 1948 plus," Biddle said.

The 1948 plank advocated fed-

Truman Bemoans Congress' Cut Spending Bill

WASHINGTON, July 16 (UP)—President Truman took another swing at "exceedingly dangerous" congressional economy cuts Tuesday night as he signed the $11,790,776,225 "catchall" appropriations bill.

The measure provides funds for foreign aid, atomic expansion and construction of a global network of secret air bases during fiscal 1953 which began July 1.

Mr. Truman said in a statement he was particularly concerned about slashes in appropriations for civil defense, anti-inflation controls and mutual security.

The president said Congress repeated "the gross error of the last two years" when it chopped requested civil defense funds by 90 percent. He said the appropriations for economic stabilization agencies were "another case of reckless slashing without regard to the consequences to our people or to defense."

Here are the main features of the bill, representing a 15 percent cut from Mr. Truman's original requests:

- $6,031,947,750 for military, economic and technical aid to free nations. Mr. Truman had requested $7 billion.
- $3,679,988,000 for atomic expansion. Mr. Truman had sought $3,191,000,000 for this program.
- $2,228,794,840 for improvement and construction of about 250 military bases in this country and abroad, including a world-wide ring of air bases from which to "saturate" an enemy with atomic and other bombs. Mr. Truman had sought $2,990,487,740.

Churchill Ignores 'Red Dean'

LONDON, July 16—Prime Minister Winston Churchill refused Wednesday to order a special investigation of the pro-Communist activities of the "Red Dean" of Canterbury, saying that it would only exaggerate their importance.

Virginia Sends Economy Minded Senator Back

RICHMOND, Va., July 16 (UP)—Virginia's anti-Truman Democrats celebrated Wednesday the primary election landslide victory of Sen. Harry F. Byrd as a mandate for him to carry on a fight against waste in government.

Byrd, overwhelmingly renominated for a fourth full Senate term, expressed amazement at defeating by "such a large majority" Col. Francis Pickens Miller, who had bitterly attacked "the Byrd machine" in Virginia.

Campaign leaders called Byrd's renomination, tantamount to election in Virginia, a "triumph of all that Senator Byrd stands for," and a repudiation by Virginia of policies of the Truman administration.

Latest United Press returns from 1,673 of the state's 1,780 precincts gave Byrd 212,460 votes to 124,083 in a record-breaking ballot for a senatorial primary in this state.

Faced with the stiffest challenge of many years, the apple-cheeked Shenandoah Valley orchard man known as the "watch dog of the treasury" had labeled Miller as a "Truman Democrat."

and Entary Clubs at noon honored the Jaycees and several rodeo figures in Ranger for the rodeo.

A parade at four p.m. will give fans and townsmen a preview of what to expect tonight and the following three nights from the ever colorful, original sport of the west—the rodeo.

Rodeo secretary, Mrs. Mary Kenney of Stephenville said that among the 118 entrants in the various events were some of the best known and top cowboys of the professional rodeo circuit.

Some of the well known cowboys and cowgirls who will compete here in this rodeo are:

Marvin Holmes, Oklahoma; Joe Vinas of Houston, Cotton Proctor of Belton; and Guy Weekes of Abilene in the calf roping, and Troy Fort of New Mexico; Don McLaughlin of Ft. Worth who was the 1951 World's Champion Calf Roper; Lanham Riley of Lake Worth and brother Don, of Balinger; and Whit Kenney of Stephenville, one of the top money winners of last year's show.

Among the saddle bronc riders you will see in action such top hands as Alfred Cox of Sticewood; Bill Barton of Clyde; Bob Enzier of Auburn, Oklahoma; Cotton Proctor of Belton who took home a big slug of Ranger rodeo money last year; and Neil Gay of Carrollton another last year's money winner.

Whit Kenney of Stephenville; Bill McGuire of Ft. Worth; Jack Finnas of Arlington; Dub Phillips of San Angelo, Cotton Proctor of Belton; and Joe Vinas of Houston are being touted to be the boys to watch in the steer wrestling event.

Ira Ackers of San Angelo, Billy Hall of Georgetown, Harold Watson of Belton, and Bill Barton are the ones to keep your eye on when they turn out riders and the wild Brahama bulls.

In the Girls Barrel race you can see three hometown girls, Norvella Edwards, Helen Bradford, and M. A. L. McCotter compete with such well known trick and fancy riders and barrel racers as Ted and Betty Lamb; Peggy Gaitner of Heaton, Okla.; Fannie Cox of Sticewood; and Jo Anne Bradley of Dublin.

The cutting horse contest will feature some of the best in cutting horse competition that can be assembled anywhere and we'll let the Judges rule and say who they think is the best.

Dan Coates of Fort Worth will announce for the rodeo again this year. Dan is a veteran of many years of announcing and his familiarity with the lore and cowboys of the rodeo make any show more entertaining.

Judges are Robert Flowers of Duncan, Oklahoma, and Red Tilford of Ardmore, Oklahoma.

When it is all told and boiled down you have to admit that it looks as if the Jaycees have hit the nail on the head and are presenting the best show in their history here Wednesday through Saturday nights.

Grand entry is at eight o'clock.

Doctors Fight To Save Baby Left In Weeds

HOUSTON, July 15—Doctors fought Wednesday to save the life of a newborn, premature baby found abandoned in a weed-choked vacant lot, blue from cold and covered with a swarm of ants.

"Believe me, it's a miracle that little baby is still with us," said a policeman who rushed the infant to a hospital.

The night supervisor at Jefferson Davis City-County hospital, who asked not to be identified, said early Wednesday the little boy was "perkling up wonderfully with a little tender love and care."

Doctors gave the child, who weighed four pounds, eight and one-half ounces, a "fair chance" to survive. They estimated he was from two weeks to one month premature, but said the baby was perfectly formed.

Eugene Yargo, 18, heard a whimpering noise Tuesday as he walked by a vacant lot some 50 feet from the nearest house and about 40 feet from a railroad track. The youth said he investigated, thinking a kitten was lost in the brush.

He found, instead, the infant. The child was covered with dry leaves and brush which struck to his naked body. Ants still swarmed over the baby's skin when police investigator H. E. Coats arrived at the scene.

Coats brushed off the ants and wrapped the child in a blanket. He laid the baby on the hood of his police car and started the motor to warm the infant rushing him to the hospital.

THE STORY: JACK DUGGAN, a private detective, happens on Dr. Basil Willing's name and dies. On the same night aged and blind Miss Katherine Shaw, who was to meet Duggan at the home of Dr. Willing, a psychiatrist, also dies. Duggan, member of Miss Shaw and Katherine Shaw, her secretary, cannot shed light on the aged woman's death or her connection with Duggan. In pursuit of clues, Basil goes to the country club where the suspects seem to congregate. There he talks to Bert Canning, who with his wife Isolde, were at Willing's place the night Duggan was poisoned.

XIV

BERT CANNING snipped off the end of a cigar and lit it. "I didn't pay attention to you at Willing's that evening. I had no idea that you were Basil Willing and I had no idea that anybody was going to be murdered." Canning drew on his cigar. "Do you like working with the district attorney's office?"

"Yes, or I wouldn't do it. Do you like politics?"

"I'm not in politics." Canning's face was expressionless as his voice. "I've never been able to understand why men in their senses become candidates for office."

"Perhaps they like power."

"Power?" Canning came as near to smiling as he ever did—a mere parting of the lips with a sour tinge at one corner. "It's not they who have power. It's the men behind the scenes who get them elected."

"And you are one of those?"

"I'm not admitting anything." The stolid eyes shifted to Basil again. "But that's what I would be—if I wanted power."

"I was wondering if a man like you would kill for the sake of power."

Canning laughed harshly. "Murders differ in detail. They kill for money or lust, fear or revenge. All sorts of things. But, essentially, they're all relieving tension. All seeking peace of mind."

"How can a man have peace of mind once he's killed?"

Truman Enters Hospital For Complete Check

WASHINGTON, July 16 (UP)—President Truman was admitted to Walter Reed hospital Wednesday for a checkup following a four-day bout with what the White House described as a "mild virus infection."

Press secretary Joseph Short said the chief executive might be in the hospital for "two or three days."

"But it won't be for very long," Short said.

Mr. Truman entered the hospital on the recommendation of White House physician Maj. Gen. Wallace H. Graham.

Short said the president entered the modern Army medical center because Graham "wanted to do some checking out there where they have equipment."

Short said Mr. Truman had no temperature Wednesday morning for the first time in several days. Graham said, however, there was a possibility that some "slight" fever might develop during the day.

The president has been confined to his personal quarters on the second floor of the White House since Monday. He canceled all engagements and spent most of his time in bed. While confined, however, he has been able to work on the hundreds of bills left for his signature by Congress.

White House staff members said it is quite doubtful that Mr. Truman will be able to see Thomas J. Gavin of Kansas City, his alternate on the Missouri delegation to the Democratic national convention, who is to vote for the president's choice.

Gavin arrived here Tuesday and planned to fly back to Missouri late Wednesday. He did not see the president Tuesday.

WASHINGTON, July 16 (UP)—Truman's power of Voice of America broadcasts to Russia will be increased to counter Soviet "strangling" of the magazine America, State Department officials revealed Wednesday.

"The Soviet government can't control the airwaves," Dr. Wilson Compton, chief of the Department's international information administration, told a reporter. "We are doing everything we can to make the Voice of America more effective in reaching the Russian people."

The Voice of America is the sole remaining U. S. information link between the American and Russian people.

The only other information contact, the State Department's Russian-language magazine America, was suspended Tuesday after the Soviets had steadily reduced its Russian readership by intimidating tactics. The department at the same time ordered the Kremlin to suspend all Russian publications in this country, including the Soviet embassy's slick-paper magazine, the USSR Information Bulletin.

"The strangling of the magazine America, regrettable as it is, is not the end of our effort to tell the Russians the truth," the Voice said in its first broadcast to the Soviet Union following the suspensions.

U.S. Broadcasts To Russia Will Be Stepped Up

DETROIT, July 16—Five men were believed killed Wednesday when their 28-foot speedboat exploded while they apparently were trying to steal gasoline from the police boat pier at Belle Isle Park.

The blast rocked the nearly deserted island park in the Detroit river at daybreak. Police said the boat was reduced to small chunks of floating wreckage.

Sgt. Hiram Phipps of the Honi-dee squad said no bodies had been recovered. He said the blast must have made mincemeat of the victims. Neither they nor their boat were immediately identified.

Phipps said five men aboard the cruiser hailed the police patrol boat a few minutes earlier and asked to buy gas. The officers aboard the police boat explained they couldn't sell and and the two boats parted company.

Minutes later the explosion sent the police boat speeding back to the dock. The cruiser was a tangle of wreckage. Lying across the pier was the gas pump line from the police storage tank.

New York, July 16—Charles M. Gee of Baltimore got his upper teeth back Wednesday with the aid of New York police.

Gee sneezed violently while rushing in a taxi, to catch a train from New York to Baltimore Monday. His upper plate flew out of the taxi window and plopped through a subway grating.

Fearing he might miss his train, Gee didn't stop to retrieve the teeth. But he telephoned police from Baltimore and asked for help. Officers fished the plate out of the subway ventilator.

Collie's Vigil Continues; And Workers On Job

JOPLIN, Mo., July 16—Volunteer workers determined to solve the mystery of a water-filled mine shaft and the homeless Collie dog who has guarded it for 17 days Wednesday learned their task would be a difficult one.

Old diagrams of the mine, found Tuesday, revealed the shaft has three horizontal drifts, which meant there was "hundreds of yards" of water, 70-foot deep, which must be drained.

But volunteer workers were convinced the Collie's vigil at the mine shaft means his master had met with an accident down the deep hole. They said they would go ahead "at any cost."

Meanwhile, H. C. Schildnecht, head of the Joplin Humane Society, told authorities he had received a telephone threat that the dog would be killed unless the abandoned mine shaft and its mystery, if any, was left undisturbed.

The Joplin Machine & Electric Co., which furnished a large electric pump after the Rural electrification Administration completed a special power line to the mine shaft earlier this week, estimated it now would take four to five days to drain the shaft and the cost would run into "thousands."

Pin Or No Pin It Is Illegal

WASHINGTON, July 16 (UP)—Strip-teaser Dorothy Harlinger claimed that a misplaced pin forced her to add some unladylike gyrations to her act.

In court to answer a charge of indecent exposure, Miss Harlinger explained that she was wearing two bras, one pinned over the other.

"A pin-point was gouging my shoulder," she said. "I couldn't quit in the middle of my act, so I just had to shift my bra."

Trial Magistrate Nita S. Crane was not impressed. She fined Miss Harlinger $50 with a 60-day suspended jail sentence.

West Germans Send Protest Red Seizures

BONN, Germany, July 16 (UP)—The West German government plans to send to the United Nations evidence of 169 proved kidnappings by the Communists in West Berlin, it was announced Wednesday.

All-German Affairs Minister Jakob Kaiser disclosed the plan. He said the evidence also will be sent to the European Co-Operative Council, in the form of a diplomatic "white book." Parliament by an almost unanimous vote formally protested the most recent big kidnapping—the seizure of anti-Communist leader Dr. Walter Linn. Only the 11-man Communist group opposed the protest.

Next Move Is Probably Up To Government

PITTSBURGH, July 16 (UP)—The latest round of joint negotiations to settle the 45-day steel strike has ended in failure, and it appeared Wednesday the government would have to make another effort to get the opposing sides together again.

The industry blamed Tuesday's negotiation collapse on the insistence of the CIO United Steelworkers for a "compulsory" union shop and claimed the union would not discuss the walkout of 23,000 iron ore workers until the union shop issue had been solved.

The iron ore workers joined the steel strike on June 2. Industry sources have urged the union to permit the shipment of ore into the mills to prevent a serious shortage this winter, even if the steel dispute is settled.

Murry Terms Offer Inadequate
Union President Philip Murray countered the company charges by terming the industry's latest offer "inadequate and unsatisfactory" and accused the industry of handing out "distorted propaganda" on the union shop issue.

Following the break up of the talks, Murray announced a meeting of the union's wage policy committee would be held next Monday in Pittsburgh to "decide the union's future course of action" in the strike.

Tuesday's counter-charges followed a two-hour meeting between the union and officials of Bethlehem Steel, who represented the big six of the industry.

Industry Reveals Offer
An industry statement revealed the union had been offered wage increases averaging 16 cents an hour, six paid holidays, improved vacations and increased shift differentials. The statement claimed the package deal would cost about 25 cents an hour.
