SEEN OR HEARD

It is said that the wheels of justice turn slowly, that might also be applied to the wheels of the City government in this case. They're just now repairing damage to the exterior of the City Hall from the Arcadia fire.

Water did some damage to the city offices and at long last they are going to correct the disfigurement for once and for all, it is hoped.

We hope that next week grinds just as slowly as the wheels of justice purportedly do when you are waiting on them to act. We're gonna take a week's rest.

One thing for sure we are going fishin. Outcome of the trip may not be what we desire before we go but we're taking that chance.

We might even be able to get acquainted with our son in that period of time for a change. He can't understand why so much of our time is spent at work and not at home taking him fishing. His idea is good, but not manageable.

We see where Dean Sutton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Sutton is in Alaska with the Headquarters Squadron of the 531st Air Control and Weather Group (Radar). He's been working for his uncle in Alaska for the past two years.

Dr. Dickie Hodges was telling us about some of his hunting exploits the other day. And it seems he bought himself a new gun and shot up about a box of ammunition "zeroing" the weapon in. Sometime later he took the rifle and knocked over a couple of birds on the wing with it. He said he just knew that it was the best gun he'd ever get his hands on and all you had to do was point the gun and it went true to the mark.

His optimism was somewhat shattered when he later encountered a big buck deer (during season Mr. Dry) with more points than he could count less than one hundred yards away. The "Doc" said he shot until he was blue in the face and never even made the deer move, sitting down of course.

From what he said the other day Dr. Hodges is about ready to quit calling himself a hunter and stick to his doctoring.

Joe Fraley who was listening accused him of getting "buck fever," but Doc said it wasn't that, he just missed.

Veep Candidate Cautiously Backs TV Debate Idea

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 (UP)—Sen. John J. Sparkman, Democratic vice presidential nominee, gave cautious backing Saturday to the proposal for televised Eisenhower-Stevenson debates.

Sparkman told reporters the TV debates would be "a good thing" and such an undertaking could be arranged.

The proposal, paralleling the historic Lincoln-Douglas debates of 94 years ago, will be taken up with Stevenson at Springfield, Ill., this weekend in a series of campaign strategy huddles which Sparkman, Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell and other party leaders will attend.

Mitchell told a news conference Friday that he regarded the idea of direct debates, first advanced by Sen. Blair Moody of Michigan, as "very interesting," and one which he would "certainly" discuss with Stevenson. Mitchell added that he thought both Stevenson and Sparkman would come off very well in face-to-face debates with Eisenhower and Sen. Richard M. Nixon, the GOP vice presidential candidate.

By an odd twist of history, it was Stevenson's great grandfather, Jesse Fell, who arranged the Lincoln-Douglas debates during the 1858 campaign between the two men for the Illinois Senate seat Lincoln lost the Senate race to Douglas, but through the debates achieved a national prominence which contributed greatly to his later successful bid for the presidency.

SOCIALITE PLAYBOY CHARGED—Socialite playboy Minot F. "Mickey" Jelke, right, 22-year-old heir to an oleomargarine fortune, is booked in a New York police station following his arrest in connection with an expensive call-girl racket. Also charged in the case were publicity man Ray Russell, center, and TV bit actress, Erica Steel, left, who seems unconcerned about the proceedings. Violation of the Sullivan law was charged against Jelke for possession of the two guns on desk in front of him. (NEA Telephoto).

East Upsets West All Stars, 14-0

As is usual Jimmy Camacho was playing on the side of the victors, in the East-West All-Star game at Childress Friday night. Observers from here said that Camacho played in the second and some in the final quarter of the game for the East.

A local coach attending said the East team had Camacho running straight up the middle from the Split "T", whereas everyone knows that he does his best going wide and getting a little running room.

His biggest gain was for approximately eight yards even "running up the gut". He added to his night's work two or three first downs to keep the East rolling.

The only time Camacho was given the ball on a pitchout the quarterback threw the ball wild and Jimmy had to run back about ten yards to pick up the pigskin, but true to form he slipped and slithered, butted and rammed his way back to the line of scrimmage and a two yard gain.

The coach said in his opinion Mrs. Aston, 76, Buried Saturday

Funeral services for Mrs. Ada E. Aston, 76, were conducted from the Hanner Funeral Chapel in Eastland at 10:30 a. m. Saturday, with Rev. Alfred Nelson, Olden Baptist pastor, in charge.

Mrs. Aston passed away at 8 o'clock Thursday evening in Odessa, following a lingering illness. A short service was conducted in that city Friday morning, after which the body was brought to Eastland for final rites and interment.

Deceased, a former resident of Eastland, was buried at the side of her husband, Charles B. Aston, who passed away in Eastland a number of years ago.

Survivors include five sons, Orval and D. D. Aston of Eastland, and A. C., Hubert and Charles B. Aston of Odessa. One daughter, Mrs. Johnnie Aston Roy of Odessa, and a granddaughter, Mrs. Raymond Powers of Monahans.

Funeral services were held at 8 o'clock Thursday evening in Odessa, following a lingering illness. A short service was conducted in that city Friday morning, after which the body was brought to Eastland for final rites and interment.

New Jordan King May Symbolize New Greatness

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, Aug. 16 (UP)—King Hussein I of Jordan may symbolize new greatness and the hope for another great monarch to his people.

But to some Lausanne youngsters the 17-year-old is just one of them—a youth who likes the movies, sports, and speeding 80 miles per hour in a sleek sports car.

When it comes to kings, Lausanne society does not fall so easily. There is no city in the world which houses more royalty than this lakeside center. But with Hussein it's different.

"He's all right," his Lausanne friends say. "He is so straight forward and proud in a quiet way."

Hussein, who succeeded his father, Talal, to the Jordanian throne this week, has been here two months.

He has been easy to recognize, even if he isn't the type expected to climb out of a fast car which seems unable to stop without a screeching of brakes.

There is no loud laughter from Hussein. He is a big, strong, dark young man, a bit heavy in the way he moves and talks.

He displays great self-confidence and deep earnestness when meeting visitors.

His seriousness is a contrast to his fondness for movie comedies—he goes to see them two or three times a week.

He looks older than his years and members of his entourage say that the assassination of his grandfather, King Abdullah, almost a year ago was responsible for his quick maturity.

Hussein's favorite sport is fencing and his teacher says he is progressing rapidly although it is a relatively new hobby.

And he likes to read stretched out on the sofa where photographs of several American movie comedians are pinned on the wall.

Strikes Threatened In Two Industries

International Harvester And Packinghouse Workers On Verge

A strike threat loomed in the International Harvester's huge industrial empire Saturday as packinghouse workers called a strategy meeting to discuss stalled contract negotiations.

Raymond Merritt Declared Insane Thurs. By Jury

Raymond G. Merritt, who was charged with assault and attempt to murder for the alleged shooting of his wife Ono Leona Merritt at the Ranger Housing Authority on the 7th of July, was found insane by a jury at the time of the alleged incident and at the present.

An affidavit was presented to the court on behalf of the defendant by the Hon. Roy Creighton, Sr., stating in part: "That defendant, Raymond G. Merritt, is now and was at the date of the commission of the crime charged in this indictment, in this cause, insane and did not have sufficient mind to know the difference between right and wrong."

"Wherefore he prays the court that a jury be empaneled to try the sanity of the defendant, as required by law and for such further procedure thereof as may be proper under the facts."

A jury was sworn in and after hearing the testimony, brought in the following verdict which was received by the court:

"We, the jury, find that the defendant, Raymond G. Merritt, was insane on the 7th day of July, 1952. We, the jury, find that the defendant, Raymond G. Merritt, is now on the 14th day of August, A. D. 1952, insane."

Merritt was placed in the custody of Sheriff Frank Tucker until disposition is ordered by County Judge John Hart.

T. R. Atwood Has Resigned Post; Go To Comanche

T. R. Atwood, Eastland high school band director, has been elected band director for the Comanche high school band, and according to the Comanche Chief, Mr. Atwood has accepted the post and will move his family to Comanche at an early date.

The destructive gale, which did "thousands of dollars" damage to U. S. Army property on Okinawa, at first was thought to be going up the north China coastline.

But Japanese weather observers said later reports indicated it was moving northeast in the direction of Kyushu.

The storm, dubbed "Typhoon Karen," smashed communications facilities, flooded military installations, and dislodged roofs and doors on the U. S.-held island. Four persons were reported injured.

Seven inches of rain fell at Okinawa during the storm.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16—Cotton futures, after a faltering start this week, pushed ahead with increasing confidence to end the period with gains up to $3 a bale.

At Friday's close the 41st ruled 17 to 64 points-85 cents to $3.20 a bale—higher than the preceding week.

Closing on higher ground in four of the five sessions, the market erased almost 60 per cent of the loss suffered a week ago following publication of the government's Aug. 1 crop estimate.

Factors causing the turn-about in market sentiment included a resurgence of inflationary psychology, plus growing fears of crop damage in the western belt, particularly Texas, because of extremely hot and dry weather.

The New York cotton exchange service bureau estimated domestic consumption of all cotton in the five week period ended Aug. 8 at 675,000 bales. This compared with 680,000 bales used in the previous four week period and 668,000 bales consumed in the corresponding five week period last year.

The daily rate of use in the latest five week period was 23,100 bales against 24,000 bales and 22,000 bales, respectively, in the two comparative periods.

International Harvester And Packinghouse Workers On Verge

A strike threat loomed in the International Harvester's huge industrial empire Saturday as packinghouse workers called a strategy meeting to discuss stalled contract negotiations.

Employees of the International Harvester tractor works in Chicago voted 2,854 to 433 in favor of a strike after contract negotiations covering 26,000 Harvester employees were broken off Friday.

Workers at Harvester plants at Rock Falls, Ill., and Louisville, Ky., have already voted to stop work when the current contract expires Aug. 20.

Packinghouse Closes Plans Meet

Meanwhile, the CIO United Packinghouse workers called its 14-member executive board to meet in Chicago Sunday to discuss contract negotiations with the "big four" meat packing companies which have dragged on for a week with no progress.

Harvester and the independent Farm Equipment Workers union broke off negotiations for a new work contract and the union shortly after midnight under cover of a thunderous artillery and mortar barrage.

Meat Packers May Vote

In issuing its call for a strategy meeting with CIO packinghouse union, the executive board would meet to "discuss the status of negotiations and other matters." In the past such meetings have often resulted in strike votes.

Other developments on the labor front:

President Truman told a group of CIO leaders Friday that the Democratic party platform was "as liberal and forward-looking as any party has ever adopted," and called Democratic presidential nominee Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson an "honorable and progressive man."

CIO President Philip Murray replied that Mr. Truman was "the greatest friend of labor in my lifetime."

The Continental Can Co. and the CIO United Steelworkers signed a new contract which will give 14,000 Continental workers a 12 and one-half cent hourly wage increase and "fringe" benefits.

The Wage Stabilization Board approved a 16-cent hourly wage increase for steel fabricating plant employees who can prove their wages generally follow those in the basic, metal-producing steel industry.

Marines Hold Bunker Hill Position

Red attackers to pieces and sent the survivors fleeing for their lives.

It was the seventh and eighth times in five days that the Reds have tried in vain to wrest the strategic western-front height from grimly-determined Marines. The hill is only five miles east of the truce village of Panmunjom.

Five hundred Communists, spearheaded by a platoon, jumped off in Saturday's first attack immediately began taking a strike vote.

HOUSTON SCIENTISTS WATCH RESULTS OF NEW POLIO CURE

HOUSTON, Aug. 16 (UP)—Scientists watched the results Saturday of the first use in the United States of an ink-like drug which a Belgian doctor claimed was a cure for poliomyelitis.

Dr. Albert Trencavel, a 64-year-old emigrant Belgian now living in Mexico, said the drug, "anoxic," has cured some 180 cases of polio.

The drug was injected Friday into the veins of a man desperately ill at Hedgcock clinic here.

Hedgcock physicians said they had tested the drug, which looks like blue-black ink, and found it could do no possible harm, even if it failed to do any good.

Trancavel, had the drug flown to Houston from Mexico City. It was administered to Barry Bishop, Jr., 20. Injections will continue every six hours.

Bishop was brought to Hedgcock Monday with spinal polio. He was completely paralyzed. Bishop was placed in an iron lung. Friday he developed bulbar polio paralysis of the respiratory organs.

Trancavel calls himself a "free-lance scientist." He said he was a naturalized American. AMA records in Chicago showed he was originally from Belgium.

END OF FRIENDSHIP—Showgirl Gregg Sherwood waits in the Detroit police station following her arrest on a complaint by auto heir Horace E. Dodge. Dodge complained to police Miss Sherwood was attempting to leave his home with three "jeweled" cigarette lighters but refused to prosecute. Home Buyer's Attorney Performs Varied Functions.
When the real estate sales contract provides that the seller is to furnish to the buyer an Abstract of Title, when it is up to the later to employ an attorney who will examine the abstract. After the examination, the lawyer will give the buyer a written opinion as to whether or not the seller has a good marketable title. If the title is defective, then his opinion will state what action is necessary to bring it up to par.
In addition, the attorney usually advises on important matters not revealed by an abstract. He will ascertain whether any delinquent taxes exist against the property. He will check on the possibility of some third party being in possession, claiming the property as his own. He will determine whether a survey has been made so that the buyer may know that required footage is there and that the neighbor's fence, driveway, etc., is not encroaching upon the property being purchased. He will explain the practical effect of each legal paper which you sign or accept in closing the deal.
If the contract of sale provides that the seller is to furnish the buyer a Title Insurance Policy, then the latter should employ an attorney to examine the policy offered and advise him on other details in closing the transaction. The fact that an attorney designated by the Title Insurance Company examines the title is not sufficient to protect the purchaser in every respect.
A title insurance policy is similar in principle to a fire insurance policy. Just as you insure against damage caused by fire, so you can insure yourself against damage caused by failure of title. As is also common with fire insurance policies, you must be named as the insured in the policy, in order to collect the proceeds. You cannot recover more than the amount stated on the policy even though the damage caused by the fire or the title failure is greater than that amount. The property insured must be accurately described in the policy. There are exceptions to the coverage which may cause harm to a particular buyer who is not aware of their meaning, or even of their existence.

Insurance companies, in order to stay in business, cannot afford to accept to great a risk in proportion to the premium charged. A fire insurance underwriter decides whether your property is a risk for his company in view of the coverage provided by the fire insurance policy. An attorney hired by the title insurance company decides whether your property is a safe title risk for his company in view of the coverage provided by the Title Insurance Policy. Making such decision is the sole obligation of that attorney in the transaction. He is not in a position that enables him to advise you as to the quality of the title you are acquiring—his only duty is to his client, the title insurance company.
It might also be said that an attorney who passes on the title for the mortgage lender is in the same position. His main obligation in the transaction is to advise his client on whether your title is adequate security for the loan, which is for quite a different purpose than if his client was buying the place, as you are doing, for use as a home.
(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

FOR PEOPLE WHO THINK

Modern christendom is fearful of controversy. Developments of men have been contingent upon viewing both side of an issue—selecting the better course. National parliaments extend freedom to their populace only upon this basis. Democracy stands or falls according to open approach to controversial issues. The church was born and nurtured in controversy—no sooner born than some accused it of falsity and debauchery—Acts 2:13. This provoked out of the most controversial sermons of history—Acts chapter two. Persecutions soon started, for the church's enemies soon learned their weapons of logic were sadly deficient in honorable controversy.

The apostles of Christ sought argumentation and controversy—Acts 18:4; 19:8-10. Christendom today says that argumentation on the Scriptures is beneath the dignity of religionist, that controversy by debate and honorable polemics is the "horror of horrors". Shame upon this effeminate and disastrous attitude! It sounds the death-knell to freedom of worship. It is truly the Spirit of Intolerance we hear so much about today. When man ceases to "debate his cause with every man", soon he will cease to hold his cause at all.

The religion of Christ must be from the heart. When the very foundations of denominational christianity are undefendable, is it any wonder that the good fruit of attempts to uphold are ignored and we have our social troubles multiplied? The church of Christ is no part of—has no fellowship with—denominational christianity. It is not one of the religious denominations—it is opposed to all such—it stands ready to follow the example of Christ and His apostles in honorable investigation of the Scriptures. This, surely, is well worth the attention of people of strong character and sincere hearts—those that love the truth and will defend it with befitting zeal.

C. R. MANSFIELD, Evangelist.

During the past two weeks, the floor has been sanded and refinished by a crew of faithful workers, under the direction of Dr. Calvin Harris. Linooleum covering for the kitchen floor was laid by Mr. G. B. Rush, assisted by the same workers.

Those, whose names we have who have participated are as follows: R. F. Webbs, Bob Nichols, Gaston Dixon, Dr. John E. White, Dr. W. P. Watkins, C. E. May, Bill Johnson, Wallace Johnson, Carvis Beck, J. Floyd Killingsworth, W. O. Cantwell, Robert Cantwell, John Tibbets, and W. G. McComas.

One evening, during the past week, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Rush, Mr. and Mrs. J. Floyd Killingsworth, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Coody and Mrs. Calvin Harris, outlined and redecorated the walls and on the front of the lunch counter. Mrs. Kay Cornelle of Wichita Falls, an outstanding artist, who is a sister of Dr. Harris, arrives Saturday morning to supervise and help paint the silhouettes.

A general letter of thanks to all who participated will soon be published.

As soon as completed, the public will be invited to inspect the lunchroom.

QUESTION: I would like to know the name, color, and cure of the white powdery deposit on the inside wall of a bathroom. I have a bathroom in the winter house. Is there any way of treating this deposit? Please be sure to bring out the color of the rock.

ANSWER: The powdery deposit is called efflorescence. It is a result of moisture in the rock bringing chemical salts to the surface. The moisture evaporates, leaving the salts behind. Scrubbing with muriatic acid, diluted 1 part to 8 parts water, will remove it. Rinse thoroughly with clean water. The treatment will also bring out the color of the rock by removing all rust deposits and oxidized areas of dirt which blur the coloring of the rock crystals. Protect hands and eyes while performing this cleaning job.

QUESTION: How do you prime galvanized metal drain pipes so that paint will not peel off?

ANSWER: A coat of oil, thinned about 50% with alcohol will serve as a primer coat to make virtually all outside paints adhere.

QUESTION: Our house is finished in imitation brick with white trim on the window moldings. I would like to know if you consider a white trim with the window moldings a better color. The trim has four decorative, black, red, and green and I thought the blue window trim would bring out the blue in the trim.

ANSWER: We think a white trim on the window molding, would be better than blue, since two dark colors on the walls will take much of the liveliness from the appearance of your home.

First Methodist Sermon Topics

Religious services at the First Methodist Church for Sunday, Aug. 17 will follow the usual line of procedure. The pastor will preach at both the morning and evening services of worship. The theme for the morning message will be built around the unusual request made by two of Jesus' disciples, "Grant unto us that we may sit one on thy right hand and the other on thy left hand, in thy glory." (Mark 10:37).

As usual, the church school will begin promptly at 9:45 with Frank Deaton, general Supt., presiding over the general assembly. Floyd Killingsworth will bring the morning devotion, at which the various groups will meet for Bible study in their respective classes. Mr. Deaton comments as follows: "For the past two Sundays our attendance has been very good, but far from what it ought to be and what we would like to see."

Miss Lorrain Burdette will bring the special music at the morning hour, using for her solo, "Face to Face", by Tuller. Miss Mildred Dahn will be at the organ for the prelude and postlude.

The evening worship will be the usual informal service with a very special emphasis on "the songs you love to sing." Some type of special music will be a feature of the evening service. The sanctuary at the Methodist Church is always cool and comfortable. "You will enjoy worshipping with your friends where the atmosphere is cool and the spirit of Christian brotherhood is always warm," the pastor states. You are always welcome here, "where you are a stranger but once."

The School features classes for all ages under competent leadership and you and your family will always be welcome at the First Christian Church School.

First Christian Sermons Sunday

A tract sermon: "THE MOVEMENT OF GRACE" will be preached this Sunday morning at the Ranger First Christian church by the churches pastor, Rev. A. Lynn Robbins. The Morning Worship and Communion Service will begin at 11:00 a.m. and will center around the weekly observance of the Lord's Supper, to which all are invited to participate.

At the 8:00 p.m. Evening Service the pastor's sermon title will be: "AN UNHOLY ALLIANCE." This message will be taken from the New Testament story of the associations between the Pharisees and the Herodians during the Ministry of Christ. This service will also include the regular period of fellowship singing and evening meditations.

The Christian Youth Fellowship is cool and the spirit of Christian brotherhood is always warm," the pastor states. You are always welcome here, "where you are a stranger but once."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICE

Freedom from chaos, confusion, and calamity is assured, as it is sought in spiritual instead of material values, stresses the Lesson-Sermon titled "Soul" to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, August 17.

The Psalmist sang, "I have longed for thy salvation, O Lord; and thy law is my delight. Let my soul live, and it shall praise thee:

and let thy judgements help me" (Psalms 119:174, 175), which is the Golden Text.

This thought is further developed in the Bible verse: "It is good that a man should both hope and quietly wait for the salvation of the Lord" (Lamentations 3:26). And from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read: "We must destroy the false belief that life and intelligence are in matter, and plant ourselves upon what is pure and perfect" (p.222).
