

RANGER DAILY TIMES

West Texas—Considerably cloudy with thunderstorms and showers through Wednesday. Not much change in temperatures.

34TH YEAR

RANGER, TEXAS, TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1952

PRICE FIVE CENTS No. 81

If any little word of ours
Can make one life the brighter;
If any little song of ours
Can make one heart the lighter;
God help us to speak that little word.

And take our bit of singing,
And drop it in some lonely vale
And set the echoes ringing.

Hi there, neighbor!
I'm Grover Lee, your new editor, with the first of a new string of paragraphs to appear daily in your hometown Ranger Daily Times under our 14-year-old col'm caption, "Between Us."

And it's with a mixed feeling of humility and elation that we greet all of you. Because to us you're all like "home folks." Our mother resides at Strawn, 15 short miles eastward over in nearby Palo Pinto County, where we're currently hanging our fedora. So we already know some of you, and hope, as the coming weeks and months roll by, to have the pleasure of meeting many more of our Rangerites and Eastland Countians.

Ranger has a far-flung reputation as a friendly, hospitable city of fine folks. We've known that a long time.

We've known most of the Ranger Times family, headed by Publishers Joe Dennis and O. H. Dick, a long time, too, and they're all grand men and women.

Add all that up—and no wonder we already know, we're going to our job.

Well, introduction: Graduate Central (now Pascal) High, Fort Worth, attended TCU, University of Texas... Slaved on newspapers in Austin, Fort Worth, Tulsa, Detroit and Toledo before switching to weekly newspaperdom several years back—and now mighty happy to get back into daily harness... Unmarried... Member of Baptist Church... Chain-smoking Chesterfield and a coffee-lover... Alias known as "The Bone Pile" and "Heavy, the Walking Meat Shortage"... Lifelong occupation: Newspapering... Favorite hobby: Newspapering... Favorite pastime: Newspapering.

"Why haven't you mended the holes in these socks?"
"You didn't buy that fur coat I wanted," replied his wife, "so I figured that if you didn't give a wrap, I didn't give a darn!"

As your editor, my job is to coordinate efforts with the other members of our newspaper team to speedily and efficiently produce a newsy, interesting and informative Ranger Times for you to enjoy reading every afternoon. And, of course, the more local news, the more items about local people and events, the more interesting your newspaper will be.

So—we need and we're humbly asking for your help and cooperation. And we'll deeply appreciate it if you'll give us a helping hand. In other words—

We want to remind you that the Ranger Daily Times is at your service, that it's your newspaper, and that it's dedicated to you and your neighbors.

Yes, and we want you to feel free (furthermore, we urge and invite you!) to call us at 224 with news items, trivial or important, anything you'd like to report—in fact, whatever you think would be of interest to our big family of Times readers.

So—lend us that helping hand, don't you, neighbor? Just pick up your telephone—and call 224.

From then on, we'll do our level best—just for you!

In this new era of slacks and such, Lee Shippey of the Los Angeles Times, recently conjured up this headline: "How To Tell Ladies From Men Now That Both Wear Pants."

Shucks, that oughta be easy. The one that is listening is the man!

This is your newspaper, neighbor. So thanks to you for this opportunity to introduce ourselves and get acquainted. Tomorrow afternoon in this same spot about this same time, we'll get down to the business of writing a col'm in the traditional "Between Us" manner.

Until then—think of us... and we'll be thinking of you!

Taft Joins Ike On Ohio Jaunt To Win Voters

ABOARD EISENHOWER SPECIAL, Sept. 23 (UP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower wooed Sen. Robert A. Taft's staunch Ohio supporters Tuesday with the senator he beat for the Republican presidential nomination at his side.

They buried for the moment their differences over foreign policy, in the interest of party harmony, and scheduled a 300-mile ride across the senator's home state aboard Eisenhower's presidential campaign train.

The schedule called for real platform appearances at Middletown, Dayton, Springfield, Delaware, Galion and Wellington, in addition to a talk from the capitol steps at Columbus and a night speech at Cleveland.

The winning of old line Taft backers, whom Ohio political writers report have been less than enthusiastic since the Chicago convention, was Eisenhower's major problem of the day. He shunted in to the background the vexing problem of Sen. Richard M. Nixon's $18,235 expense fund pending his running mate's promised public explanation Tuesday night on a national radio and television program.

Rains Brighten Currently Dismal Peanut Outlook

Eastland County's dismal outlook for the current peanut crop was brightened—at least, slightly—by the break in the drought, T. C. Wylie of the Ranger Peanut Company reported Monday afternoon.

The new moisture, he said, will possibly result in a 10 per cent gain in this year's goober output which is estimated at about 500 tons.

Up until last year when a prior dry siege whittled the area's peanut production from 15,000 to 20,000 tons to a low of only 500 tons, the lowly goober had been paying off handsomely for raisers to the tune of around $2,000,000 annually.

This year's crop may bring Eastland Countians about $35,000,000 a figure in far contrast to pre-1951 seasons.

Already battered by the long, merciless drought, the peanut picture also is dimmed by the possibility of an early frost this fall. That also can slash production drastically, Wylie said.

A recent government order setting a $26-$38 per ton price on legume hay from the over-produced Michigan and Minnesota areas is also proving a discouraging factor to area goober planters who, after the falling peanut crop were depending on hay production to pull them through.

Peanut hay, prior to its competition with legume hay as a result of the government's competitive, price-setting move, brought $40 per ton in the field.

HARROWING 6-DAY HUNT FOR TEEN-AGER, SOUGHT IN AUTO THEFT, ENDS DRAMATICALLY

A stirring drama, starring a fleet-footed 16-year-old lad who had successfully eluded officers of two counties for five hectic, suspense-packed days and nights, came to an end at Strawn late Sunday night when the weary, frightened boy, sought for an automobile theft, was taken into custody.

Later, after a refreshing bath, a welcome change of clothes and some food at home with his relieved family, the youth was turned over to Ben Bradford, Strawn constable, who took him to Palo Pinto where he now is being held in the county jail.

The dramatic unfolding of the six-day long story began early last week when the teen-ager sped away from Strawn in a grey 1951 Ford which he had "borrowed" from Leo Cosby, Strawn used-car dealer.

BULLET OPEN CHASE
Wednesday morning about 2 a. m. the stolen car was spotted in Ranger by Ralph Veal of the Ranger Police Department. A wild, nip-and-tuck chase up and down deserted Ranger streets and alleys followed and a few seconds before the fast-moving Ford was wrecked near the Ranger swimming pool when the frantic youth driver attempted to skid around that corner at terrific speed, the pursuing officer fired a shot which ricocheted off the moulding around the upper edge of the rear window. Had the bullet been only a fraction lower, it might have struck the panic-stricken driver in the head. Desperate the youth quickly leaped from the vehicle which had plunged into a deep culvert and in his hurried escape lost one of his moccasin-type shoes. Officer Veal fired another shot as the fleet figure disappeared into the darkness of the pre-dawn and fled across the site of the old lake. There his trail temporarily ended.

TRAP IS SET
At night, knowing the youngster would get hungry and seek food, the father chose a likely spot, the luncheon room of the Strawn Public Schools, for a long vigil. Officers agreed with the belief that the lad would break in the school eating place to appease his hunger.

Friday night, Saturday night and Sunday night the father spent the long nocturnal hours hidden in the luncheon room, waiting hopefully, patiently, prayerfully for the appearance of his son.

The hunch paid off. For Sunday night about 10 o'clock the lad did enter the luncheon room. His father was waiting. And then it was all over.

An entire community tense during the three-day wait, heaved a sigh of relief.

And somehow, regardless of what had happened, anger at this deed was quelled and transformed into sympathy and understanding. There's always a chance another chance—for a kid whose future lies ahead of him. And there's always a hope—a fervent hope—that chance will pay off.

Delma Dean Is Now In Germany
WITH THE 28TH INFANTRY DIV. IN GERMANY — Pvt. Lorenzo Dean, whose wife, Neida, lives in Cross Plains, Texas, is now serving in Germany with the 28th Infantry Division.

Now in Bavaria, in southern Germany, the division is receiving intensive field training under simulated combat conditions. It is part of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) Army that is guarding Western Europe.

Private Dean, an air compressor specialist, arrived in Europe August 23.

Before entering the Army last January, he was employed by the King Motor Co. in Eastland. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Delma Dean, live in Rising Star.

Scout Meet In Eastland Draws Many Visitors
Scout executives, committeemen, troop leaders and other interested in the Boy Scout movement, attended the North District Boy Scout Council's annual meeting at the Comanche Trail Council, Boy Scouts, at the Comanche Hotel in Eastland Monday night.

The 34 men and three scouts came from Breckenridge on the north to as far south as Goldthwaite, and their enthusiasm indicated that they came from choice rather than as a matter of duty.

The meeting was called to order by Homer Smith, who served as toastmaster and presiding officer. Invocation by Ray B. McCorkle, after which the group was seated and each individual was called upon to tell his name, where he was from, and if possible to briefly mention some "high point" in scout activity. This proved to be instructive and quite entertaining, as some of the "speeches" went from the sublime to the ridiculous, and caused much laughter.

By this time food had arrived, and each man in attendance faced a half chicken, fried to a crispy brown, together with such trimmings as usually go with a "chicken dinner." The meal which had been sponsored by Arthur Murrell, of Eastland, was greatly enjoyed. Once the meal was completed there was a shifting of chairs, and the evening's program began.

Mercury Skids As Rains Usher In Fall Season

Eastland Countians, who sweltered in shirt-sleeves amid the sizzle of torrid temperatures up until the drench-breaking showers late last week, began grabbing for heavier garments and lighting home heaters Monday as the mercury slid down into the upper fifties, accompanied by orizzling rain.

Yes, the calendar said fall was here today, and Eastland Countians believed it.

Autumn arrived officially Monday night. The first real fall weather started pushing southward through the seven-state region from Wyoming to the Rio Grande two days before the official arrival.

The cold front that transformed the Southwest from an oven to an area ready for football and scarf-ripping had edged its way almost to the Rio Grande Tuesday. Weathermen said it was still moving slowly southward.

Along with a welcome drop in temperatures, the front brought desperately needed rains in its wake. The thirsty plains of northwest Texas were soaked with their first good rains in weeks.

Big Spring, received 1.26 inches and Abilene had 1.11. Numerous other points received less than an inch.

Hobart, in drought-ravaged southwest Oklahoma, recorded .20 inch. Showers were scattered in the Sooner state.

The outlook for the next day or so was for continued relatively cool weather, with scattered showers, except in Colorado and Wyoming, where the mercury was expected to rise several degrees.

The hottest spots in the Southwest Monday were two cities that the cold front had not yet reached. Presidio and Brownsville, both near the Mexican border, recorded .97.

Grand Junction had the top Colorado temperature Monday, 75 degrees. Cody topped the Wyoming list with 79. The New Mexico high was 84 at Columbus.

In Missouri, the highest reading was 80 at West Plains. Hutchinson, Kans., had the high for that state, 76. Tulsa, Okla., topped the Sooner state roster with 81.

Officers Split $50 Reward For Wanted Fugitive
Two Ranger police officers — J. L. Shook and Joe Faircloth — were richer to the tune of $25 each Saturday.

Crime didn't pay for the culprit. But in this instance it did pay off for the minions of the law.

The pair of alert blue-clads split a reward of $50 when they ended a hunt by arresting a much-wanted Ranger man on the outskirts of the city early Saturday morning.

A statewide pickup order on the man, in his mid-20s and wanted on an assault and robbery charge, had been issued three weeks ago.

Father of the assault and robbery victim, a local resident, offered the bonus for the suspect's arrest.

Mrs. Ed Nail Is Top Winner In Weekly Drawing
Mrs. Ed Nail of Ranger was the top lucky winner in the weekly Trades Day drawing held in Ranger Saturday afternoon at 5 p. m.

Mrs. Nail was awarded $50 in the regular weekly event sponsored by merchants of Ranger. More than 1,000 shoppers registered for last Saturday's drawing. Other winners:

Florece Ashcraft, Ranger, $25; Artie Pilgrim, Rt. 1, Ranger, and Charles Tolston, Ranger, $10 each; and Mrs. Mildred Squires, Ranger, $5.

Funeral Rites For C. H. Beauchamp Set For Today
Charlie H. Beauchamp, veteran oil man who had been a resident of Ranger for 10 years, was found dead in his room at the Travelers Hotel Sunday afternoon.

It is believed that Beauchamp, about 74 years of age, died of natural causes about 1 p. m. Sunday.

Nation Awaits Nixon's Speech On Air Tonight

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 23 (UP)—The St. Louis Post-Dispatch said Tuesday that Dana C. Smith, administrator of the controversial $18,000 fund for Sen. Richard M. Nixon, got help from the Republican vice presidential candidate's office in pressing a claim against the government for a tax refund of $500,000 to $600,000.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 23 (UP)—Sen. Richard M. Nixon goes before the American people Tuesday night to tell them what he did with a widely-publicized $18,235 expense fund donated by wealthy backers.

The young Republican vice presidential nominee secluded himself in his hotel room during the day preparing the most important political speech of his life.

He already had been told by Dwight D. Eisenhower, the GOP presidential nominee, that his place on the Republican ticket hinged on his explanation of how he used the money.

National Radio-TV Speech
Nixon's aides said advance copies of the speech would not be available and no one would know what it contained until it addressed the nation in a radio and television broadcast.

There was a flurry of conflicting reports last night, however, on what Nixon would say.

Harold Beckley, a U. S. Senate press gallery secretary traveling with Nixon as a press attache, told two United Press correspondents Nixon would quit the race.

The reported was denied by Nixon and about an hour or so later by Beckley. However, the UP correspondents said he had given the information to them.

"Thrown To The Wolves"
Nixon has been thrown to the wolves," Beckley told the two newsmen.

Shortly after Beckley was quoted, Nixon's press secretary, James Basset, said:

"I will not deny or confirm any report concerning Senator Nixon's intentions. All I will say now is this: You will have to wait for Senator Nixon's talk to learn his intentions."

Newsmen could not reach Nixon for further questioning as special guards blocked approaches to his hotel rooms.

However, Basset had told the reporters to be ready to "resume the tour" Tuesday night after the broadcast. His tour was scheduled to resume in Missoula, Mont., Wednesday.

It was indicated Nixon would list his own net assets during the radio-television address to show he was unable financially to meet Senate office expenses solely on his $12,500 yearly salary and $3,500 government expense fund.

Ellis O. Cozby, Father Ranged Man, Is Buried
Funeral services for Ellis O. Cozby, 75-year-old pioneer De Leon resident and father of Lonnie Cozby of Ranger, were held at the First Baptist Church in De Leon Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Rev. Sparkman, pastor of the church, officiated, assisted by the Rev. D. D. Kidwell of Brownwood, former pastor of the De Leon church.

Mr. Cozby, a retired rancher who had been in ill health for many months, died Sunday afternoon at 4:20 o'clock in the hospital at Dublin where he had been receiving treatment for several weeks. He had been a member of the Baptist Church for more than half a century.

Mr. Cozby, a frequent visitor in Ranger, was born at Cleburne on February 7, 1877.

Survivors include four other sons in addition to Lonnie Cozby of Ranger, four daughters, fifteen grandchildren and five great-grandchildren; also two sisters and two brothers. His grandsons were pallbearers at the Monday funeral rites.

Other Rangerites attending the final services for Mr. Cozby were Mrs. Johnny Boyd, Mr. Allen Jones, Mrs. Annie Mills, and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Everett.

Stevenson Plans 'High Cost Living' Address Tonight

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 (UP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson Tuesday rolled up a prescription for the American wage earner and his housewife to use against a lingering economic upset, the high cost of living.

The prescription required two active ingredients — Stevenson's election, plus a co-operative Democratic congress.

The Democratic presidential nominee will outline his formula Tuesday night when he speaks from Baltimore, Md. His speech will be carried nationally by radio and television.

This will be Stevenson's first major statement, since he received the Democratic presidential nomination, on the sensitive subject of the daily damage to the American billfold.

His speech on how to reduce the cost of living comes at the end of a considered, month-long program to familiarize American voters with himself and his views on the basic issues he feels will influence them in November.

California Is Injured Monday In Auto Mishap
Joseph M. White, a Californian, received minor injuries in an auto accident out on Ranger Hill on Highway 80 east of Ranger shortly after noon Monday.

White was hurt as a result of the crash when he skidded on the pavement and lost control of his Buick sedan. He was brought to the Ranger General hospital in a Stillworth ambulance. Hospital attendants said he received treatment for "bruises and very minor injuries."

The motorist was accompanied in the vehicle by his wife and their two small children. At the time of the highway mishap, the White family was enroute from Norfolk, W. Va., to their home in California. Mr. White had just been discharged from the U. S. Navy at Norfolk.

Bootleg Probers Call Stevenson
AUSTIN, Sept. 23 (UP)—The Texas Legislature's House Crime committee continued closed-door sessions Tuesday in its investigation of charges that a multi-million-dollar bootleg ring has secured a virtual monopoly over illegal liquor supplies in West Texas.

Coke Stevenson, Jr., liquor control board administrator, was scheduled to testify Tuesday along with spokesmen for retail liquor dealers.

72 INCH RAIN HERE
Monday's rainfall, according to the official U. S. Weather Bureau gauge here at the Ranger Times, measured 72 of an inch for the period between 8 a. m. Monday and 8 a. m. Tuesday.

JUNIOR GRIDMEN MEET STEPHENVILLE TONIGHT
Ranger's Junior High Pups open their 1952 pigskin campaign here tonight when they clash with an invading junior high grid machine from Stephenville on the damp turf at Bulldog field.

Opening kick-off is set for 8 p. m. sharp.

STIFF GRID DRILLS SLATED FOR TODAY
Ranger's two football aggregations — the Ranger High School Bulldogs and Ranger Junior College Rangers — were unable to get rough and tumble in Monday afternoon drills due to soggy turfs and inclement weather.

But both squads are due to be lashed through jarring practice sessions this afternoon as the coaching staffs prep their stalwarts for crucial high school and college tilts this week-end.

SCOUT--

on the program, their remarks were brief, and only one man, Dr. T. C. Graves of Goldthwaite, president of the Comanche Trail Council, used more than two or three minutes.

The Doctor outlined future activities for the Council, and gave a report on activities during the past year. He had quite a bit to say on the subject of fitness, which we will learn more about just a little later.

Three scouts who attended camp in New Mexico this summer, told of their experiences at Philmont, the National Boy Scout ranch given them by Mr. Phillips, Oklahoma Oil man.

The first to speak was George Harris who told of the camp. It is in the Cimarron, New Mexico area, and contains 127,000 acres or almost 200 square miles. Situated near, and in the foothills, of the Rockies, its elevation ranges from 6,500 feet to about 11,000 feet. Camp and camp sites will be found at numerous places, and Scouts from all over the United States gather there for their summer outing.

John Whately told the listeners seems too, that it rains up there, and the group learned to hike in the rain, wear wet clothing and sleep on a wet bed. However, it was enjoyed, he said. Then Joe Muirhead issued a few highlights. He told of their failure to "swipe" groceries they did not need, as Scout Executive Brantley Hudson, Brownwood, was always present to frustrate any such plans. He told of the numerous half-breeds up there, and of one incident that came near re-opening the Civil War. A group of New York boys, according to his statement, resented the Texas group. They did not like this at all, so after a hasty session they decided to draw a new Mason-Dixon line and see how many of the Yankees wanted to cross it. Bill Jessop and other leaders finally persuaded the boys that it was all in fun, and that there was no reason for bringing something about what one will find inside the ranch. Hunting and trapping is very good, and the boys were active. They caught a couple of bob-cats and several other predatory animals. John also admitted that the air up there is not like the kind we breathe down here. It is light and dry, and for a day or so the boys would find themselves "puffing and blowing" following even slight exertion.

He also told of their visit to Santa Fe, Los Vegas and other points of interest, where they found more "half-breeds." Their last night was spent at the bottonless lakes near Roswell, where the boys enjoyed a swim. All had enjoyed the trip and gave a vote of thanks to Bill Jessop, who helped make the occasion possible.

Much more could be said with reference to the meeting, but space forbids. Scout work is growing in this area and other stories are to follow at an early date.

CHAPLIN LANDS
SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., Sept. 23 (UP)—Charlie Chaplin set foot on his native English soil for the first time in 21 years Tuesday but insisted it was only for a visit and he was determined to return to the United States. As for the prospect that the United States might bar him from re-entry pending an investigation of his political conduct, Chaplin told reporters he was "still domiciled in the U.S."

Rocky Gets Nod As Favorite In Bout Tonight

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 23 (UP)—Rock Marciano expects to knock out Jersey Joe Walcott in the sixth, seventh or eighth round Tuesday night at Municipal Stadium and become the first white heavyweight champion in 15 years.

The unbeaten tiger-man from Brockton, Mass., admitted indirectly his kyo intentions at an unprecedented mass interview Monday night when he said, "I cannot disagree with my trainer."

Trainer Charley Goldman declared, "Rocky will knock him out in the sixth, seventh or eighth rounds. He can't miss." Goldman said he would be the first white champion since Jim Braddock was knocked out by Joe Louis in 1937.

The relaxed Rocky appeared supremely confident he would register his 43rd consecutive professional victory and his 38th knockout when he battles the oldest heavyweight ever to defend the crown. That Rocky was the first heavy with a perfect record to challenge did not put him under any perceptible measure. In heavy betting the 28-year-old Italian remained the favorite at 7-5. There was much talk of higher and lower odds, but the actual wagering commanded that middle price. Rocky may be a 2-1 favorite by ring time.

The fight shaped up as a slugfest in which either of the participants might be knocked out before the scheduled 15 rounds had been fought. For that reason, promoters Jim Norris and Herman Taylor expected a crowd of at least 50,000 and a gate of at least $550,000 if the weather remained favorable.

The forecast was "cloudy and cool." In case of a postponement, the bout will be staged Wednesday night.

NEW LEBANON LEADER

PEIRUT, Lebanon, Sept. 23 (UP)—Camille Chamoun, parliamentary leader who led the fight to force President Beshara El-Khoury to resign, was unanimously elected president of Lebanon Tuesday.

Chamoun was named on the first ballot by the parliament after El-Khoury's resignation had been read. There were no speeches. Chamoun immediately was sworn into office.

Sports Can Sack League Pennant With Win Tonight

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 23 (UP)—The Shreveport Sports, who fought their way out of eighth place in the Texas League in mid-season, hoped to take home all the marbles Tuesday night by winning what could be the last final-round playoff game.

The Sports took a three games to one lead over the Oklahoma City Indians Monday night with a 2 to 1 victory at Oklahoma City.

Tuesday night's game is the last slated for the Indians' ball park. If Shreveport wins, then the best of seven series is over. If the Indians take it, then the series moves back to Shreveport.

The winner of the series will meet the Southern Association champion in the Dixie Series. Memphis and Mobile are tied at one game each in the Southern Association final playoffs.

Jim Willis is due to hurl Tuesday night's game for Shreveport, while Bill Greason will try to keep the hopes of the Indians alive.

Yanks, Sox Open Crucial Series

BOSTON, Sept. 23 (UP)—The New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox met Tuesday night in Fenway Park with the backs against the wall as they faced the opener of a crucial three-game series.

The American League leaders were only a game in front of Cleveland as they faced the Red Sox in the park where the proximity of the left field wall has been a boon to Boston batters all season.

Meanwhile, the Indians met the Chicago White Sox at Cleveland going with their ace Mike Garcia in a final push to add to their 13 victories already recorded this season over the third-place club.

Victories by the Red Sox and the Indians would tie the American League race. It would mean the pennant would be decided in the closing days of the campaign.

Longhorns Gun For Victory Over Tar Heel Crew

Texas University returns to the scene of its greatest modern-day football disaster Saturday. That's when the Longhorn's invade Chapel Hill to face North Carolina, a team that handed them a stinging 34-7 setback in 1948 on their only previous visit to the Blue Ridge country.

That was a sweet victory indeed for the Charley Justice-led Tar Heels of that season, for it avenged a blistering 34-9 defeat which Bobby Layne and his Texas mates handed them here in Memorial Stadium in 1947.

T-Talent is Green
The engineer of the Tar Heel split-T machine will be a green one, however. Carmen Anillo and Charley Motta gave impressive performances at the vital quarterback post in spring training but neither has previous college experience at the job.

Backfield talent is rich at other positions, however, with such proven stars as halfbacks Larry Parker, Bob White, Billy Williams and Fullback Bud Wallace available for duty.

Experienced hands are few in the offensive line but some of these are capable operators like end Dick Kocornik, guard Chuck Ellenwood and tackle Ken Yarborough.

Defensively, the Tar Heels have the nucleus of a strong unit in end George Norris, linebacker

Mr. Houghton And Mrs. Hearne Wed Saturday

Mrs. Wynell (Connie) Hearne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Minnick, became the bride of Ernest Houghton, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Houghton, in a double ring ceremony at 8:30 p.m. Saturday night at the First Baptist Church. The Rev. Ralph Perkins, pastor of the church, officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Robinson were the couple's only attendants.

The bride chose a navy crepe dress trimmed in white with navy accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Robinson's dress was of blue polka dot nylon with white accessories.

Janice Rule, Dancing Star, Reads Feet And Legs Instead Of Palms

By Aline Mosby
HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 23 (UP)—Janice Rule, the long-legged dancing star, doesn't go in for palm reading or eye gazing when she wants to tell a person's sex appeal and character—she looks at their feet.

Miss Rule, Hollywood's only foot reader, confessed she sits at parties with her eyes downcast because she's sizing up those 9As next to her.

This may prove confusing to the other guests, but she says it gets results.

"You can spot everything about a person just by casing their feet and ankles," said Janice.

She curled up on a couch in her sunny living room, waved her pretty feet in the air, size 6-D, and explained it this way:

"I learned this from my dancing teacher, Sonja Dobrozinska, in Glen Ellyn, Ill.

"She believed you could tell a person's sex appeal and character from their feet and she taught me how to do it. You know the way some people read palms."

Men with narrow feet and skinny legs, she said, don't make good lovers because "they're too much on the intellectual side and oblivious of the heart."

"They're usually stingy and suspicious, too," the brown-haired beauty went on. "Men with too heavy legs are usually over-bearing and aggressive. 'Of course,' she blushed, "it's hard to see men's feet except on the beach or tennis courts."

"Broad feet," she says, usually mean a generous and understanding nature. Her's are wide, she said modestly. One actress she knows has very narrow feet, meaning she's "cold, calculating and cunning, as well as being creative and sensitive."

Rounded toes mean a warm heart, according to the Rule rules.

Members Of Women's Society Of Christian Service Meet Monday

Mrs. Arthur Deffebach presided at the meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service when members met Monday afternoon in the church. Mrs. K. L. Willis led the opening prayer and the opening song was "The Kingdom is Coming." Mrs. W. F. Creager made a brief announcement concerning the literature for the group and the prices for the material.

Mrs. J. D. Drennan gave a report of the District Seminar held recently in Eastland and Mrs. C. E. May, Sr., introduced the program "World Federation of Methodist Women."

Mrs. Stanley McAngly discussed the three phases of the Federation's work. They were (1) History of the Federation of Methodist Women, (2) Neighbors in Latin American Countries, (3) Women of New England and New Zealand.

Mrs. May told of the Federation's meeting held in Berkeley, Calif., and stated that representatives of 24 of the 34 counties who are members of the Federation, were present at the meeting. The main thought stressed at the meeting was "To Know Christ." It was reported that five counties have joined the Federation in the past four years and at the present time, the WSCS members of Europe are making a concentrated effort to help two hundred thousand mothers find their children that were lost during the war.

It was announced that the Mission Study would begin on the second Monday in October and the theme will be "Home Missions and Human Rights."

The devotional, taken from Matthew 9:22 was presented by Mrs. Lillian Wolfe who spoke on "Jesus' Services for Women — Their Faith and How They Acquired it." This was followed by a song "My Faith Looks up to Thee."

The Next Best Thing—

... to a clear conscience and a good night's sleep is the feeling of security in owning your own home with a clear title. Peculiar to the real estate field values are based on land and the improvements thereon, if any. But values on these are based on the title. The title then becomes the most important item to be considered when purchase of real estate is contemplated. So be careful to buy only good titles based on an abstract of title.

You Don't Have To Register In Order To Vote

Many inquiries have reached this office concerning registering for the purpose of voting. Most of those asking the question are either young people who have never voted in this state, or those who are new comers and know nothing about Texas election laws.

In this state, as well as eight others, voters are never required to register, but must purchase a poll tax. When this is done you are automatically registered for one year. In something like 40 states, voters are required to register, and a registration period is announced. These states where registration is required vary in some minor details. Usually the period for registration is set several days in advance of an election.

Some states require voters to register each year, while others do not. In Oklahoma, while the voter resides in that state, you re-registered only when you changed your place of residence or voting precinct.

But in Texas you are never required to register—merely pay your poll tax, and you are listed on the books as a qualified voter. This poll tax receipt will enable you to vote in all elections other than what might be termed finance or revenue elections. Then you have to be a property tax payer as well as a poll tax payer. As in our recent bond elections, only property owning and tax paying individuals could vote.

The man who owns no real estate or other property on which he pays taxes, could not vote to assess his neighbors with an additional tax. He may vote for candidates, but not for bonds or levies of any kind.

1952 State Fair To Offer Many New Features

The fair is in the air in Texas. And the tempo of preparations for the 67th annual exposition of the great State Fair of Texas in Dallas is beginning to speed up as the opening day, Saturday, Oct. 4, draws nearer.

Prilliantly re-decorated — for the first time since 1946—the magnificent 187-acre, $35,000,000 fairgrounds glisten with a new color scheme: Hues of autumnal green and brown on major exhibit buildings, contrasting with bright circus colors on the re-furnished Midway.

The latest sensation announced for the fair is the breathtaking new ROTOR ride, one of two in the country. It'll be one of the Midway. Shaped like a huge barrel with a floor inside, the device takes its riders on a dizzying spin, leaving them pinned to the walls by centrifugal force, suspended in mid air when the floor drops away.

The fabulous "Sky Wheels" ride, 33 other rides of all kinds, a dozen sideshows, the three-ring Variety Club Circus and "Show Boat", the popular musical presented by St. John Terrell's Music Circus, also will be Midway features.

4,000 LIVESTOCK ENTRIES More than 4,000 beef and dairy cattle, horse, sheep, swine, goat and Jr. livestock entries have been received for the big 27-breed livestock exposition, over 250 for the Pan-American Holstein Show Oct. 10-17. Junior livestock entries have broken all records.

Approximately 3,500 entries are expected by the Women's Department for its greatest program yet.

Participants in the multitude of activities at the fair are expected to take home more than $250,000 in prizes, premiums, awards, and auction sale proceeds from art, livestock, poultry and women's show competition.

The giant "Story Book of Texas Agriculture" has begun to take shape, with every county in Texas represented. Exhibits are being built in the new Electric Building.

Cobalt 60 May Be Promising Aid In Curing Cancer

Cobalt 60, now recognized as a cheap and plentiful substitute for high-priced radium, holds great promise in the treatment of cancer. Lois Mattox Miller and James Monahan, co-authors of an article on Cobalt 60 in the October Reader's Digest, say this "poor man's radium" may be our biggest and most beneficent dividend from the atom bomb.

Like radium, Cobalt 60 emits powerful cancer-destroying gamma rays, but with greater uniformity. Doctors are now using radiocobalt needles inside malignant tumors particularly those that can not be removed surgically. Thin tubes of flexible nylon, loaded with bits of Cobalt 60, are being sewed into cancerous tissues, to be withdrawn when the radiation treatment is complete.

Any hospital qualified to employ radiotherapy can afford Cobalt 60. It is safer than radium for the patient, the authors say, and easier for the doctor to handle. "Its versatility," says one radiologist, "opens up entirely new possibilities for the internal irradiation of cancer."

Studies by Dr. William G. Myers of Ohio State University College of Medicine resulted in the findings which established Cobalt 60 as a promising tool for cancer research. Myers' conclusions, published in The American Journal of Roentgenology and Radium Therapy, in December 1948, showed that Cobalt 60 is capable of anything that radium can do, yet is free of many of radium's disadvantages. Only in one respect is Cobalt 60 inferior to radium: it loses its original radioactivity much faster.

Science Building, General Exhibits Building and all museums on the fairgrounds.

20 Red Attacks Repulsed By UN Forces In Korea

SEoul, Korea, Sept. 23 (UP) — Communist soldiers launched 20 probing attacks across the Korean battlefield Tuesday. U. S. UN troops battered them back with artillery, mortar and machine gun fire.

Six of the assaults came in the Bunker Hill area, four came around Heartbreak ridge northwest of the Punchbowl and three were on the east-central front near the rocky peak called "Luke the Gook's Castle."

An Eighth Army briefing officer said he believed the probes were just "harassing actions."

Fighter-bombers, hampered by dense clouds, flew close support missions for infantry fighting Tuesday. U. S. Sabre jets swept MIGs in northwest Korea without sighting a single Russian-built MIG-15 jet.

Blast Supply Centers

Fighter-bombers blasted supply points directly behind Communist lines north of Kumsong, damaging or destroying bunkers, supply shelters and mortar positions.

The Eighth Army announced that Allied ground troops last week inflicted the fourth highest casualties of the year on Communist forces.

Some 3,332 Reds were taken out of action, including 1,858 killed, 1,442 wounded and 32 captured, a drop of 400 from the preceding week. The record for the year was set during the first two weeks in January when more than 5,000 Communist casualties were inflicted.

South Korean soldiers of the Eighth Republic of Korea division solidified their control of "cradle hill" northeast of the Punchbowl, which they lost Monday to North Koreans, but recaptured after 15 hours of bitter fighting.

Four MIGs Damaged

An estimated 117 North Koreans were killed and 322 wounded in the action.

The air war Monday was highlighted by the downing of four MIG-15s by Allied Sabre jets. The claims brought the Sabre pilots' September toll of MIGs to 50 destroyed, four probably destroyed and 48 damaged. The total of 103 equals the war's record.

B-29s unloaded nearly 100 tons of 100-pound bombs on two military supply areas, eight miles north of Pongyong, the North Korean capital, Monday night.

Knowland, Cain, Taft Mentioned As Nixon Subs

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 (UP) — Sen. William F. Knowland of California and Harry F. Cain of Washington figured prominently Tuesday in capital speculation about a possible successor to Richard M. Nixon as Republican vice-presidential candidate, if he quits.

Also mentioned—admittedly as a long-shot guess—was Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio. Veteran political observers doubted that Taft would accept second place on the ticket headed by Dwight D. Eisenhower. But they saw an outside chance that "Mr. Republican" might yield to an appeal to help bind the party together in an hour of crisis.

Reports from Los Angeles that Nixon will withdraw from the GOP ticket found no immediate confirmation here. In fact, some Republican organization "regulars" professed confidence that Nixon will remain in the race.

But they acknowledged that they were still waiting for the final word on Nixon's fate, which probably will be spoken by Eisenhower after Nixon's "tell all" broadcast to the nation Tuesday night.

Should Nixon bow out, Chairman Arthur E. Summerfield is expected to call the Republican national committee into emergency session at once to choose a replacement. Under party rules, the committee can either make the decision on its own, or call a special national convention to nominate a new vice-presidential candidate.

With the campaign already in full swing, the committee doubtless would take the speediest course and do the job itself, with Eisenhower having a dominant voice in the selection.

Both Knowland and Cain were regarded as contenders for the GOP vice-presidential nomination before Eisenhower settled on Nixon at the July convention in Chicago. Besides being comparatively youthful—a qualification Eisenhower particularly wanted in his running mate—both are westerners and could succeed Nixon without upsetting the "regional balance" of the GOP ticket.

Other westerners who might fill a vacancy on the GOP tickets include Govs. Dan Thornton of Colorado, Howard Pyle of Arizona, and Earl Warren of California, who was Thomas E. Dewey's running mate in 1948.

Price Posting Be Instituted By OPS

DALLAS, Sept. 22—Eastland County grocers on September 29 will be required to begin displaying posters listing ceiling prices on approximately 400 major food items as part of an Office of Price Stabilization community pricing program, Frank C. Tomlinson, OPS regional food and restaurant branch chief at Dallas, announced today.

The posters, listing uniform price ceilings for local marketing areas covered by OPS district offices at New Orleans, Little Rock, Oklahoma City, San Antonio and Dallas, are now being printed. They will be mailed directly to grocers, in time for posting on September 29, Tomlinson said.

Community pricing will apply to all grocery stores in Louisiana, Arkansas and Oklahoma. In Texas, it will be limited at first to a 72-county area in the northern half of the state, and Bexar, Harris and Galveston counties in south Texas.

The 72-county Texas area will embrace the entire northeast corner of the state. It will extend as far west as Wichita, Archer, Young, Shackelford, Taylor, Lampasas, Hill, Limestone, Falls, Freestone, Anderson, Cherokee, Nacogdoches and Shelby counties to the Louisiana line. The program probably will be extended to the remainder of Texas about a month after the opening date, Tomlinson said.

Debt At End Of '51 Is $19 Billion

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 (UP) —Americans were carrying a debt load—both private and public—of $519 billion at the end of 1951, the Commerce Department reported Monday.

Private and public debts increased $33 billion during 1951, more than in any other non-war year. The department pointed out, however, that the debt expansion was accompanied by "a general growth in economic activity and a record volume of business and individual investment."

Private debt rose $31 billion, and debt of state and local governments jumped $2.5 billion while the net debt of the federal government showed virtually no change, standing on $219 billion at the year's end.

Two Gun Judge Tells Them How To Hold Court

DALLAS, (Special) — Texans' political independence is no surprise to historians, says Joseph Leach, professor at Texas Western College in his new book "The Typical Texan" just published by the SMU Press.

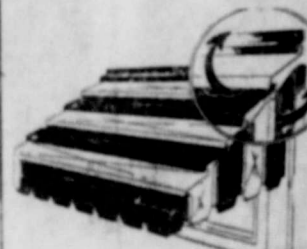

As far back as the 1830's when Three Legged Willie Williamson was appointed district judge by Sam Houston he let the community know how things were going to be, after some of the citizens had informed him that they wanted none of Houston's courts there. Williamson placed a rifle at one elbow and a pistol at the other and declared: "Hear ye, hear ye, court for the third district is either now in session or by God somebody's going to get killed."

Leach says, however, the popular conception of a Texan as someone belligerent, independent as a hog on ice, and given to loud and long boasting about his state came more from the East than from Texas. For instance, a New York magazine in 1882 said "the typical Texan is half-alligator, half-human who eats raw buffalo and sleeps out on the prairie; he is peaceable only after he has killed everybody in sight and can find no fresh material to practice on."

According to Professor Leach, the politically recalcitrant Texans are direct descendants of the Kentuckians who saddled his horse, shouldered his gun and set out for Texas to "fight for his rights."

While "The Typical Texan," Professor Leach's new book is in no sense a political work, it will no doubt be helpful in explaining Texans to unhappy members of both political parties.

Texas To Display Wealth In Roses

TYLER, Sept. 23 (UP) — A two-mile parade of rose-adorned floats, bands, drill teams and pretty girls will unveil the festival Oct. 3, 4 and 5 in this rose-crowned city.

The rose blooms turn the east Texas town into a floral fairyland and attract tourists from all over the country. Sixty per cent of the field-grown rose bushes planted in the United States are produced within a radius of 50 miles of here.

Each year Tyler ships more than 288 carloads to the various states and foreign countries. The planting of roses dates back to shortly after Civil War days.

There are about 16,000 named varieties of roses produced by Tyler's 400 growers.

Al Hamel, Tyler rose grower, recently claimed to have discovered that a rose contains four times as much vitamin C as an orange. He said the British made syrup of rose blooms during the war.

School Health Programs Vital—Declares Dr. Cox

Every school shop have a definite school health program. Situations such as, the kind of drinking water, arrangements for the school lunch, the lighting, seating, ventilation and cleanliness of the schoolroom, and the personal practices of the teachers and children are the basis of the school health program, said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, in Austin.

Every school has tremendous opportunities to promote the health of its pupils and of its community. From early childhood to early manhood and womanhood, most children are enrolled in schools and are under the supervision of school staffs for a substantial part of the day for approximately half the days of the year. The conditions under which they live in school, the help which they are given in solving their health problems, the ideals of individual and community health which they are taught and the information and understanding that they acquire are factors which operate in developing attitudes and behavior conducive to healthy, happy and successful living.

Schools alone, however, cannot enable children to attain all the desirable goals of individual and community health. Considering the magnitude and multitude of the diverse and continuing efforts that must be made to satisfy the health needs of children, many people and groups, in addition to schools and health departments, should be interested in promoting health.

Parents have a prime responsibility; physicians, dentists, nurses, social and welfare workers organizations, such as medical, dental, nursing societies and voluntary health agencies should all lend their support to local and state health departments in their effort to secure better health not only for school children but the community as a whole.
