

Candy Your Own Fruit for this Wonderful Fruit Cake

This new, easy method and how-to-do photos courtesy of Jean Porter, C and H Sugar Homemakers' Bureau

1 • How would you like to candy your own fruits and use them to make a wonderfully good fruit cake? A can of sliced pineapple, a few dried apricots and pears, some pitted prunes, and the peel from breakfast oranges—plus C and H-Cane Granulated Sugar—are all you need for the candying. Do this simple job a couple of days before you make the cake.

2 • Cook the light-colored fruits first, then the darker ones, in a sugar syrup, using a broad kettle or saucepan. (See recipe for complete directions.) Drain and dry 24 to 48 hours on cake racks with waxed paper underneath. Cut in coarse strips and add raisins and walnuts, ready to mix with batter. (Good fruit cakes like this one have much fruit, little batter.)

3 • Have pans and/or cans ready before you mix the cake. Grease them first. (This will hold paper linings in place.) Line bottom of each pan with 3 layers of waxed paper cut to fit. Stand a high "collar" of triple-layered waxed paper around sides, overlapping ends loosely. These collars help keep cakes from browning too quickly on top. Grease the paper. Fill pans 3/4 full. Bake as directed.

4 • Come Christmas, wrap some of your mellowed fruit cakes in bright household foil, fancy papers and ribbons for special gifts. (No, don't tear off those paper pan-liners; they help to keep the cakes moist.) Of course, you'll save some of your cakes to slice thin with a sharp knife, and serve with coffee or tea or dessert wine—and with justifiable pride! Plan now to make your cakes very soon.

RUNNERS-UP—What hosiery manufacturers hope will become a fad is displayed on the legs of Hollywood actress Julie Adams. Her stockings, in proper non-artisan fashion, feature the names of Ike and Stevenson. But feminine voters will probably want to match 'em instead of mixing 'em.

ACCIDENTS LEADING DISEASE IN YOUNGSTERS FATALITIES

Accidents, rather than disease, constitute the greatest single threat to the lives of American youngsters, statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company pointed out today. About 6,000 children between 5 and 14 years of age are killed in accidents each year in the United States, the statisticians said. This is nearly twice the number of young lives taken by leukemia and other cancers, pneumonia and influenza, and acute poliomyelitis together. Accidents now account for one-third of all deaths at the elementary school ages, whereas 15 years ago the proportion was only one-fifth. This relative increase reflects the more rapid gains achieved in the conquest of disease than in the control of accidents. While the fatal accident rate for these ages dropped 30 percent during the 15-year period, the mortality from disease dropped 65 percent. Motor vehicle mishaps are the leading cause of accidental death at the school ages, accounting for 39 percent of all fatal injuries last year. Of the 186 children killed by motor vehicles in this insurance experience, at least 145 were hit or run over; relatively few of the victims were passengers. The records point up the hazards children face in using streets and highways. Twenty-two of the fatally injured children were hit or run over when they ran into or played on streets or highways. About the same number were killed while crossing thoroughfares; among girls hit or run over, crossing accidents led all the rest. About 30 youngsters, nearly all boys, were killed by motor vehicles while riding bicycles. Drownings account for 30 percent of the total accidental deaths in this study. Reflecting their greater tendency to play away from home, nine tenths of the victims were boys. Activities of the victims at the time of the drownings included playing along the water, fishing, wading, swimming, using boats and rafts, and playing on the ice. Among other causes of accidental death in this study, burns and conflagrations killed 45 children, firearms killed 23—all boys—and falls accounted for 17 deaths. Other deaths result from hanging or strangulation while playing with ropes, belts, and the like; from walking or playing on railroad tracks; and from playing near third rails. "This study," the statisticians concluded, "clearly shows the need for intensification of safety education both in the schoolroom and in the home. Particularly emphasis must be put on reducing motor vehicle accidents and fatalities arising out of recreational activities. Accidents—by far the leading cause of death among children—are, for the most part, preventable."

"No third term" was the GOP battery as their standard-bearer Willie faced Franklin Roosevelt's third-term aspiration. Although Willie garnered more votes than any previous Republican nominee, the voting public abided by the Democratic slogan—"Two good 'e's deserve another."

The nation was involved in a global struggle with the Axis and the Dem's nominated FDR for a fourth term. Tom Dewey and the GOP, in blasting the administration, said "It's time for a change." John Q. Voter returned the verdict—it is not time for a change.

Included in the contract is the building of a four-lane divided road from Ranger to Eastland. Widening of the strip from Main street to the East city limits will take place at the time the contract is let for the rebuilding of the highway East to Thurber Hill. We have been informed by highway engineers. This program will come up within the next two years.

It looks as if the most important project in Ranger's history, the building of the dam and reservoir for the new lake South of Ranger will be realized the coming year. Committees from the Chamber of Commerce filed on the water rights, sponsored a bill through the Legislature creating the water district and sponsored the project to the point where a board of directors for the district was elected, and they are doing a wonderful job in bringing this dream to realization.

The civic committee of the Chamber of Commerce contacted the Auxiliary of the VFW Post and that organization canvassed the business sections and sold about 40 U.S. flags to firms who promised to display them on special occasions.

Assisted in the program of Oil Progress Week and helped to arrange a joint meeting of the Rotary and Lions clubs to celebrate this event.

Assisted financially and otherwise, the Ranger Junior College Home Coming in November, 1951, which was the largest ever attended at that time. Arranged for a welcoming committee to meet the special train from Arlington at Strawn and also arranged for bus transportation for the visiting football team from the depot to the football stadium.

The past year saw the destruction of a very prominent landmark in Ranger, the oil derrick at the intersection of Main and Commerce streets which blew down on Oct. 22, 1951. Many requests came from citizens and ex-Rangerites for the derrick to be re-erected. The Chamber of Commerce made the announcement that the derrick would be salvaged and the proceeds placed in a special fund and that if enough public subscriptions came in to finance the replacing of the derrick the Chamber would have it done. While many favored the project, only three people sent-in contributions of one dollar each, so the idea was abandoned.

Gave a $50 prize to Paul Norris of the Carbon community for the first load of 1951 peanuts of the 1951 crop.

Held the first membership luncheon for the present year on Nov. 20, 1951. Several other such meetings were held before hot weather with an attendance of from 30 to 75.

Assisted the National U. S. Highway 80 Association in their drive for members and over 50 were secured in Ranger.

Assisted the Retail Merchants Association in putting on a program for the opening of the 1951 Christmas shopping season.

Assisted in every way possible the March of Dimes drive for funds.

Assisted the organization of a local group to handle the solicitation of pledges for blood on the occasion of the visit of the mobil blood unit in Ranger on March 4-5, and 297 pints of blood were contributed.

Assisted the chairman of the agriculture committee in organizing a series of meetings over the county in protest to a proposed peanut program of the Agriculture Department.

Contacted local citizens who had put money into the local aggregate plant and got their consent to release stock in the company which was being held in escrow in the Commercial State Bank, in order that the corporation might rearrange its financial and corporate set-up.

Just before Ranger voted on the approval of the bonds for the construction of the lake the Chamber of Commerce organized ten committees and furnished them with petitions favoring the issuance of the bonds and these committees secured the signatures of about 400 people and a list of these was printed in a full page advertisement in the Ranger Times. Also arranged with local automobile dealers to furnish transportation to the polls for those who did not have a way.

Attended the hearing before the Board of Water Engineers in Austin on May 12 in regard to the granting of the permit to impound water on the Leon River by the Water District.

Have worked with the City in securing the right of way deeds to property affected by the widening of the highway through Ranger, and all property owners have signed up.

Mailed congratulatory letters to over 600 high school students in this section and invited them to investigate Ranger Junior College before making plans to enter college.

Assisted the Ranger Country Club in putting on one of the most successful invitation golf tournaments in the club's history.

Arranged for the County 4-H Club to have their annual outing at the Willows Park, also arranged with the city for concessions on swim tickets for the group.

The chairman of the trade extension committee, working with the Retail Merchants Association and business men during July, organized a trades day program which is now drawing from 800 to 1200 people to Ranger every Saturday.

The Chamber of Commerce awarded its check for $50 to Kenneth Brown of Route 3, Gorman, on Aug. 15th for the first bale of 1951 cotton to be ginned in Ranger.

Assisted in the organization of local committees to handle the set-up of the Red Cross mobil blood unit which paid an emergency visit to Ranger on Oct. 2, 1952.

Helped the local Highway Boosters in entertaining the directors of the Central Division of the U. S. Highway 80 Association with a barbecue at the Country Club on June 29. Sixty-six local people were present. J. E. Meroney of Ranger being a member of the board of directors of the Central Division.

What's the Use of an Abstract—
... if it doesn't cure the title? Is another puzzling question to some abstractors, but we have never worried much about this one. Neither does the doctor's prescription cure human ills in all cases, but it may help. The abstract never was designed to cure anybody's title, but the better type of abstract will reveal the condition of the title and place it in position where it may be perfected, if necessary, by the examining attorney.

How To Plan Fall Menus With Appeal

With autumn leaves of yellow, orange, rust, gold and brown, come autumn fruits and vegetables. Pumpkins, egg plant, pop corn, persimmons, apples, pears, red peppers, winter squash and sweet potatoes are just as colorful as other signs of the season.

Measna Cox, foods and nutrition specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service says these foods not only bring color to the family table, but a fresh appeal to appetites.

Take for instance, the sweet potato. The bright orange color is in season. The flavor and food value make it a good provider of energy.

Miss Cox says the sweet potato is a rich source of vitamin A, a worthwhile source of vitamin C and contains small amounts of the B vitamin and minerals. Since the Texas Food Standard suggests at least one serving of potato each day, the specialist recommends sweet potatoes alternately with Irish potato for balance and variety.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Warford and family were among those attending the ball game in Arlington Saturday night.

These are two kinds of sweet potatoes. One kind is dry, mealy and rather light yellow in color. The other is a deep yellow variety which is grown in Texas. This is moist and juicy in texture, and because of its rich color, is especially good for vitamin A.

Baking the sweet potato to retain this food value and color is the method of cooking recommended by the specialist. Select smooth and uniform size potatoes, wash and dry, brush with butter or bacon drippings and bake in a hot oven (425 degrees Fahrenheit) until tender. This requires 35 to 60 minutes, depending on size of the potato.

YOU GET THE ONLY FULL-TIME POWER STEERING

In the most beautiful CHRYSLERS ever designed!

AMERICA'S FIRST FAMILY OF FINE CARS • WINDSOR • NEW YORKER • IMPERIAL

CLARKE MOTOR CO. • Main and Marston Sts.

See them... drive them... judge them... at your Chrysler-Plymouth dealer's!

IT WORKS FULL-TIME!... unlike some other types of power steering which aren't effective till you exert up to 7 lbs. pressure on the steering wheel!

IT'S SAFER!... on rough roads, soft shoulders, or in case of a blow-out! Hydraulic power helps you turn... and keep a true, steady course with a constant, predictable "feel" to the wheel.

You enjoy complete control of your car at all times... with far less fatigue!

IT'S EASIER!... 85% of the steering effort is taken off your hands—substantially more than with any other type of power steering. Even with car at a standstill, you can turn wheel with one finger... a real boon in traffic, on hard-to-negotiate driveways or when parking!
