

Ranger Will Welcome Farmers Saturday

Homespun

By UNCLE BOB

"You All Come." That is the song in the air of Ranger, Texas, because Saturday is Farmer's Day and the welcome mat will be placed before the door of every business establishment in Ranger and the key for the city will be hung on the front door. Prizes will be given away. Specials will be offered at the business establishments and a how-do-you-do with a smile to each visitor.

The only thing that I can see wrong with Farmer's Day is that we don't have it oftener. We should stress activities for the farmers, back them up in their problems, and make plans for better farm to market roads. I don't mean write or read about it, but do something about it. We need our farmer trade and we must help them if we expect them to help us.

I have noticed in the fair city that merchant cooperation is something that needs to be stressed. Old Benjamin Franklin said, "Divided we fall, together we stand." I know everyone doesn't agree to everything that is presented. If they did all of the houses would be white and all of the neckties black, but we can work a little together. I don't expect every business man in this city to go on every project that comes up, but every business man should meet with the Chamber of Commerce and the various other organizations that make Ranger the hub of farm activities and let the majority rule be in effect. Go along with the others once in a while, if the reasoning is good, it will help and not hurt Ranger, because we must stick together and we must build Ranger. We can do it as a team, we can't do it on individual responsibility. Meet with the organization of your choice and when a meeting is called, go to the meeting, because you are a part of Ranger and Ranger is a part of you.

Question: Will the Chinese Nationalist Government maintain its stay in Formosa? Answer: Miss Pat Perrin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther H. Perrin, Ranger, Texas; inasmuch as the Chinese Nationalist Government has established a strong hold on Formosa it does not mean that they will stay put. The time is not now, with the United Nations in Korea and with the United Nations more or less holding them back the Chinese Nationalist Army will not move until the conflict in Korea is over. When the police action in Korea is over under all probabilities the mainland of China will see another war. It might be noted that the Chinese Army on Formosa recently gained a complete division from the prisoner exchange. The Chinese Army in Formosa is not a shoddy type army but a fast moving, well equipped machine with the latest in air power, sea power and land power. The question for Tuesday's paper will be: What is your opinion of our Ranger School System?

Welcome to a glimpse of the RHS corridors.

A representative from the William Woods College in Fulton, Mo., talked to some of the senior girls last Friday. It was a beautiful school but it takes that plenty of that "green stuff" to.

The Junior Class sponsored the sock-hop that was held Saturday night.

Dad rat that said! It kept the Seniors from having their party at Cisco. But we want let the sand get us down—we are still going to have the party.

Student: Teacher, I don't think I deserve this zero.
Teacher: That is right, you don't, but it was the lowest grade I could give you.

A student bus was taken to the basketball game Tuesday night. The trip was worth it to see the Bulldogs play Merkel although we did get beat by one point.

The Senior play has arrived and the cast will be picked later this week.

Posters are appearing in the halls of RHS about our grades, character, etc. Just reminding us to keep on our toes because when we finish school, our high school record will follow us.

Saturday is the day—yes sir, he day for the cake sale sponsored by the Senior class. All you Seniors cook some "sweet stuffs".

That trip to Abilene was for a good cause, wasn't it, Neida Caraway?

The RHS band will be honored Friday night with their banquet at the First Baptist Church. These students should be congratulated for their hard work during the last months.

President (at class meeting): The chair does not recognize you, Miss White. Sit down.

Miss White: Oh, you stuck up thing! I was introduced to you last week!

I heard a comment the other day that Barbara Flowers has a taffy on Phil Herrington. Could this be true?

Mrs. Henderson seems to be doing pretty good with those boys in Home Ec, teaching them to cook. Some day they will be good cooks.

FIFTH ANNUAL LIVESTOCK SHOW ENDED WITH SUCCESS

A 1954 auction record in Texas was set last week at the Fifth Annual San Antonio Livestock Exposition and rodeo, when the Grand Champion Steer of the show owned by Ann White, of Big Springs, brought $12,750 from the Lone Star Brewing Company and its San Antonio Distributors.

Miss White, who fed the Champion Hereford, is the Sue White, recent Grand Champion winner at the Chicago Stock Show, and is a 4-H Club member of Howard County, Durwood Lower, who has had several grand champion winners in the past years at San Antonio, is her County Agent.

Wayne Poe, of Goldthwaite, Tex., won the Reserve Champion title, and also the Boys' Grand Championship and netted $4,500 for his prize from the St. Anthony Hotel, San Antonio.

Three San Antonio hotels also bought the three champion lambs of the San Antonio exposition. The St. Anthony bought the Champion Fine-Wool Lambs for $1,200 from Maurice Tow of Waurika, Okla. The Plaza Hotel took the champ Crossbred Lamb from Fred Walta, another Oklahoman from Kingfisher, for $1,100, while the Gunter Hotel paid $1050 for the Champion South-down Lamb, owned by Larry Tow, Waurika, Okla.

Responsible for the thousands of visitors who swarmed the exposition grounds daily was the added number of outside exhibits and side shows which were opened to the public for grounds admission alone.

The Antique Auto tent, featuring cars of the past, was a center of interest to many. In the military exhibit section, the largest ever shown, visitors were attracted to the Brook Army Air Force Base's radio station which sent messages to anyone, anywhere for Stock Show visitors, free of charge.

The 182nd Squadron of the Texas Air National Guard displayed jet and fighter planes for public inspection, and the Marines presented a display of the latest in military weapons. The Ride-A-Link, a link trainer designed to teach individuals to fly, was included in the Kelly Air Force exhibit. There was also a B-29 plane, open to the public, brought from Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio.

The Fourth Army, including engineers, quartermaster and medical demonstration teams featured helicopters, a photo facsimile booth and a soldier's home in cold climate.

Farmers and ranchers were impressed with the million-dollar display of farm and ranch equipment which was set up by commercial exhibitors to show the latest in all types of tools and machinery.

The dual horse show, which featured Quarter Horses the first five days of the show, and Palominos horses the second half, met with complete approval from exposition visitors. The Palominos, a brand new addition to the 1954 show, thrilled rodeo audiences who viewed the parade of champions at the closing rodeo performance, Feb. 21.

The Don Franklin Carnival, featuring 19 major rides, seven side shows and many concessions, reported top returns for the 1954 exposition.

"The officers, directors and life members of the San Antonio Stock Show are most enthusiastic over the results of our 1954 Stock Show, and we believe that we are heading in the right direction toward becoming one of the top shows of the nation," stated W. L. Bickett, president of the exposition.

Bickett added, "However, without the excellent cooperation of our South Texas, as well as San Antonio, neighbors, we could not have accomplished this goal. Some 3,000 workers, representing every county in South Texas, pitched in and did a tremendous job to promote and support our show. . . . and their efforts were repaid by the fine turnouts we had at every performance. We want to thank everyone for helping to make this show a great success."

T. E. Hale Home After 30 Months Service In Japan

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Hale received a telephone call from San Francisco Tuesday night. It was their son, Airman 1-c Leslie U. Hale, who landed there Tuesday after serving 30 months in Japan.

Hale expects to fly home by this week end. He will be stationed at Dover, Delaware at the termination of his leave.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Deaton have received word from their son, Gene F. Deaton, that he has landed in Korea and is now stationed in the K-9 Air Force Base near Pusan. He sailed on the U. S. S. Walker, Jan. 5.

as the season last.

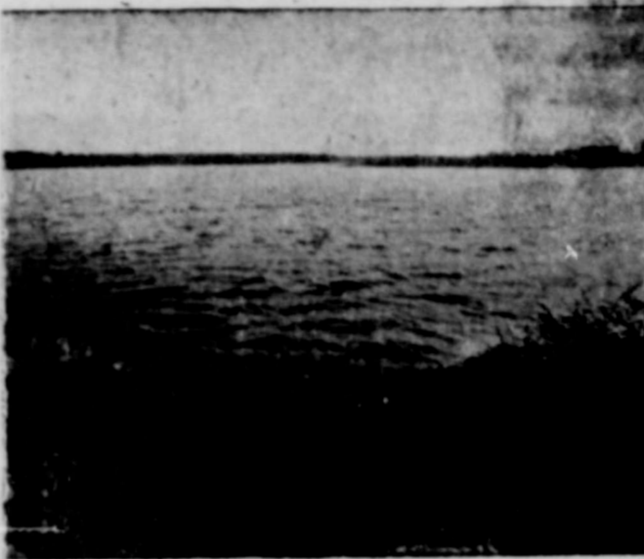

Mr. Whisenant finds that his experience in the produce wholesale business helps him with his farm. If he has something to sell he knows the proper market, and the gentleman to call to secure the best price. Most of his vegetables go to the Fort Worth market.

On the Whisenant farm tomato and pepper plants are up and will be ready for the local market as soon as the weather allows. What plants that are not used at the Whisenant farm are sold to grocery stores all over West Texas.

Mr. Whisenant stated that radishes and green onions are his best crops inasmuch as you can raise them almost the complete twelve months and the market for those products are always good. His radishes played out in January but this month the radishes are back in the ground.

Mr. and Mrs. Whisenant have eight children and when asked why he liked the truck farming business, he remarked with a grin, "I like it for the money it makes."

Mrs. Ethel Wright is spending a few days here before going to Fort Neches to visit her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Wright.

THE COOL WATERS of Hagan Lake located east of Ranger is used by Leslie Hagan to supply water for his irrigation project. Water pumped at the rate of 800 gallons per minute from this lake supplies the moisture needed for the wheat, oats and range grass on the Hagan Ranch.

Election Ballot Deadline May 3

All Democratic candidates desiring their names placed on the election ballot must file for office not later than Monday, May 3, F. C. Williamson, committee chairman, said today.

Williamson urged candidates to contact A. J. Blevins Jr., in Eastland, who has the applications and loyalty affidavits.

Army In Korea Tries To Teach Unschool'd Men

SEOUL—In a chilly quonset hut near the Korean front, a U.S. sergeant stood up and asked: "Okay, Rodriguez, how much is 1 times 2?"

"I don't know," was the answer.

A few miles away, in a dark mess tent, another sergeant held cards bearing the words "cows", "pigs", and "today."

Slowly, fumblingly, a private first class tried to read them.

Almost six percent of the American soldiers in the Eighth Army are like these two. The Army calls them "basics"—men who could not make the fourth grade. They become the special charges of the Army's Troop Information and Education program. Some of them are illiterate.

Officers are embarrassed that these men are overseas. An Eighth Army education officer said "it is a waste of time, money, and energy to have these men in the Far East," and added:

"These men should be trained in the States—if they should be in the Army at all. But since we have them here in Korea, they must get first priority in the education program."

So front-line units are now putting great stress on education. In many units, the "basics" must go to school every day until they pass fourth grade.

The Army works on them ten weeks before giving up. Most of the time it is successful, where the public schools were not. Last fall, more than 20,000 Eighth Army soldiers graduated out of the "basic" class.

Today one-fourth of the rest are taking daily instructions. One of those classes is taught by Pfc. Bert Gividen, Mapleton, Utah, just a few hundred yards behind the front in a greasy tent with no lights—the generator is off in the daytime.

There are 14 students in his class. Gividen, who went to Brigham Young University, spelled "finish" and turned to the class.

"Is that okay, Proctor?"

"I don't know," Proctor replied.

"I can't spell finish?" Alone among the 14, the class bores him.

"Can you try?"

"No. I don't know how."

After class, Sgt. Basil Presti, Great Neck, Long Island, who runs the education program in the battalion, talked to the soldier:

"Proctor, wouldn't you like to write your wife? Suppose you finish reserve and go back to the line—wouldn't you like to tell her that?"

"Sure I would," replied Proctor. "Only I don't know how to spell. What do I do?"

All boys currently enrolled in college are eligible to take the test, according to Dr. Ashton. Those who make high scores will be deferred from military training in order to continue their education.

No Goot!

BOSCAWEN, N. H. — James Lee, chief state research biologist, asked to identify a bird shot by a hunter, replied: "It's a coot, a distinct species. It's tame and, when cooked, tastes like an old rubber boot."

It's possible to remove lipstick stains from clothing by rubbing them with lard before washing in hot suds.

Presti concluded, "It is life. The Army gives you a chance to learn what you don't know. If you try, you can do it."

The soldier went back to class. "He'll come around," Presti said. "We had 40 guys like that last time, and 30 of them passed."

Teacher Outlines Farm Problems

For two years in a row permanent pastures have been dealt staggering blows by the weather, and pastures of all kinds went to the winter in a weakened condition.

Fall rains came too late to revive plants so they could build up winter food reserves. This spring pastures will get off to a slow start, and that means carrying capacity will be greatly reduced, emphasizes E. P. Sylvester, Iowa State College.

"Not so with weeds," declares the Iowa pasture specialist. "They produced abundant seed last season. Unless you take steps to lick weeds now, they will further slow the comeback of your pasture."

Sylvester suggests in a Capper's Farmer article that farmers this year can "turn a bad situation to their advantage." One difficulty in pasture renovation, he said, is getting a good kill of old stands of bluegrass so young legume plants can get started.

Now, nature has already weakened the old sod, making the renovation job a lot easier, he adds. If you can't improve the whole pasture, work on half of it now, do the other half next fall or next spring.

Sylvester continues, "Cheap livestock gains are a must, and you can't get cheap gains with run-down, worn-out pastures. You can increase the carrying capacity of your pasture by one third to one half with the following program."

Use lime if the soil is too acid for best legume growth. If it is too alkaline, commercial fertilizers will help correct such alkalinity.

Fertilize wisely by following soil test recommendations. Don't waste money on materials you don't need; don't skip on what is needed.

Prepare a good seedbed. Work up the soil thoroughly by disking as soon as you can without "puddling" it.

Reseed the kind and varieties of grasses and legumes recommended by your state experiment station. Use good seed. Use treated seed.

Delay pasturing, for seedling need plenty of time to establish themselves. Allow 4 to 6 inches of top growth before you turn on the pastures.

Plan supplemental pasture. Oats make good feed in the spring. Sudan grass, later.

Control weeds. If you fall here, much of your effort and expense of renovating your pasture will be wasted. Mowing—yes, and repeated mowing—is your best bet for pasture weed control.

There are instances where limed, fertilized and reseeded pastures with weeds under control yielded three times as much forage as test areas where weeds went unchecked, points out Sylvester.

"This is the year when pasture improvement is really necessary, almost certain to be profitable and easier than usual. You have much to gain if you help your pasture make a comeback."

HOFFMAN SAYS SPORTS CARS GAIN POPULARITY

One of the nation's top automotive officials believes that the American family is gradually switching from the four-door sedan to the American version of the sports car.

Paul G. Hoffman, chairman of the Studebaker Corp., South Bend, Ind., says the growing popularity of the sports models stems from the "new look" and the basic engineering design which gives the car both a lower center of gravity eliminating road sway, and better visibility through the forward sloping hood.

"Actually, for most trips today, American cars are occupied by one or at most two persons," Hoffman said. "Statistics say that the average number of persons per car per trip is about 1.5 persons. Naturally, the American type of sports car is ideal both in economy and ease of driving for this typical or average 'load' for an automobile."

Christian Science

The Golden Text of the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christ Jesus" to be read in Christian Science churches this Sunday is from Isaiah: "Unto a child is born, unto us a son is given; and the government shall be upon his shoulder" (9:6.)

According to the Lesson Jesus' mission was to teach all men the way of salvation through the Christ-like understanding of their present at-one-ment with God. In answer to Thomas' inquiry concerning the way, Jesus said: "I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me" (John 14:6).

Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science has given the "following explanation of Jesus and his mission which will also be read in his week's Lesson: 'Born of a woman, Jesus' advent in the flesh partook partly of Mary's earthly condition, although he was endowed with the Christ, the divine Spirit, without measure. This accounts for his struggles in Gethsemane and on Calvary, and this enabled him to be the mediator, or way-shower, between God and men. Had his origin and birth been wholly apart from mortal usage, Jesus would not have been appreciable to mortal mind as 'the way'" (Science and Health, with Key to the Scriptures, p. 30).

Area Scout Leaders Meet In Eastland

Nineteen North District Scout, Cub and Explorer leaders were present at the District Leaders Roundtable held this week in Eastland.

Homer Tudor was in charge of the Scout and Explorer section and Chief Brown led the Cub section.

A movie, "Cub Scouting in the Home," was shown to Cub leaders and plans were discussed for the coming month.

In the Scout section, Bill Jessop of Eastland showed how to make and pack a rack, and how to tie a diamond hitch on it. He also had several other suggestions of things for the boys to make.

Bill Wilson of Breckenridge, showed how to make a reflector out of a five gallon tin can and how to make a camp stove out of one gallon cans. He had several other articles made out of cans.

The movie, "Out of the North," was shown as an entertainment feature, and refreshments were provided by Hank Sims, neighborhood commissioner for Eastland and Carbon.

conferred last week with officials of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in Washington and were assured that the adjustments will be made if the state committee requests that it be done, Fielder explained.

In announcing the WTCC action, Fielder said that the organization had been preparing data for the request and had been conferring with representatives of the cotton industry, the State ARCC, U. S. congressmen, and the Department of Agriculture since August of last year.

Reliable figures on actual cotton plantings in 1953 were not available until recently. The WTCC letter to Claude McCann, chairman of the state committee, pointed out that the 1,205,627 acres lost in 1953 as compared with 1952 acres "is more land than is planted in cotton in any other state except Arkansas and Mississippi," and that Dawson County alone "showed a reduction of 304,184 acres, which is more land than is planted in cotton in the entire state of New Mexico."

The trip to Washington followed the advice of Representative Clifford Hays of Kansas, chairman of the House Agricultural Committee, who told WTCC representatives in a conference on January 15 at Waco, that the "best course of action is to get an administrative decision from the office of the Secretary of Agriculture that the losses can be adjusted."

Fielder said that this decision, obtained last week in Washington, clears the way for the state committee to request action by the Department of Agriculture.

NEWS FROM CHEANEY
Mrs. Bill Tucker

Mr. and Mrs. Tose Varner and baby daughter, who moved to Coleman recently, visited home-folk at Alameda and Dendemonia, over the week-end.

Mrs. Monroe Ainsworth was able to attend church services, after an illness of several days. J. B. Blackwell is still feeling definitely improved.

Mrs. John Love was ill and unable to be about on Sunday.

Mrs. Henry Perrin tells us of the serious illness of a sister, Mrs. Virginia Franklin of Ranger, who is scheduled for surgery Tuesday.

We had the nicest chat with the Z. O. Mehaeffes of Gorman late Saturday afternoon. And we can't think of anything nicer than meeting nice friendly people.

We also saw and waved to a couple Wednesday, who formerly lived in our neighborhood—they were Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Wooten of Stephenville.

Recent visitors—who should have been mentioned last week in the news, in the Oliver Galloway home, were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Galloway from Ranger, and his sister, Mrs. Elwanda Robertson and family of Fort Worth.

We waved to Mrs. Sarah Wilson Sunday afternoon. She is staying with her daughter, Mrs. Zeedie Melton, for an indefinite time.

The Jack Rogers and Mrs. Richard Tucker, and Mrs. Melva Love were all shopping in Fort Worth the past week.

The Eastland County Council met in the Commissioners Court room, Feb. 25, with twenty-three members, representing nine clubs, attending.

Mrs. R. W. Gordon, of Cheaney club, Mrs. M. P. Farnsworth, of Cheo, and Mrs. Herman Schaeffer, Pleasant Hill, were elected as delegates to the District 8 meeting of Texas Home Demonstration Association, which convenes in Clifton, March 25-26.

Alternates are Mrs. Minnie Foster, Flatwood; Mrs. M. M. Sheffield, North Star, and Mrs. W. D. Haseel, Lake Cisco club.

Mrs. John Love was elected county T.H.D.A. chairman, who will begin serving in this office, following the state meeting in August.

Mrs. H. C. Fridge, Pioneer, council chairman, was extended the courtesy trip, expenses paid, to the Clifton meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ferrell entertained with a buffet supper, featuring stainless steel cookware, Wednesday night, Feb. 17. Members of the Cheaney Home Demonstration club, their husbands and invited guests attended. A menu of roast, rice and brown gravy, lima beans, carrots, corn, baked Irish potatoes, and cabbage, also pear halves was served, along with a choice of cocoa or coffee to drink. The supper was prepared by a representative of the Cory Co., makers of stainless steel cookware.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Hatley Dean, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Blackwell, Mr. and Mrs. John Love, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rogers and Lou Gene, Mr. and Mrs. Thebert Jones, Odie and Jerry, Miss Betty Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Gordon and Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Jameson, Pete and Fat, of Ranger, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Ferrell.

For the benefit of any persons who have contributed ads to help the Home Demonstration club women of Eastland county in their fund raising project, "A Cook Book," we are happy to state that the book is in the hands of the printer, and should be out very soon. These cook books will contain tried and true recipes of the club women, and others, and will be on sale for $1.00 each. If you would like a copy, just tell us, and we'll see that you get one.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Strickler, Virginia, Fred, and Jerry, of Caddo, attended church at Cheaney and visited with his mother, Mrs. J. P. Strickler, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hatley Dean went to Athens, Texas, Thursday, to attend the funeral services of his sister, Mrs. B. C. Hall. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Freeman. The group returned home Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Underwood and Mrs. Eva Underwood were Cheaney church visitors, and dinner guests of their son and grandson, Alton Underwood, and family.

The Alton Underwoods visited his brother, Chac, and Mrs. Underwood, in Eastland Saturday night.

Thanks Elwanda for appreciating the column each week in the paper.

Infant Died In Roadside Park Outside Of Eastland

A long trip in search of employment was halted in Eastland early Wednesday morning when death struck the two-month-old child of a transient family.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Davis died about 2 a.m. Wednesday while the family was bedded down for the night in a roadside park four miles west of Eastland on U. S. 89.

Reached by phone late Wednesday, Davis said, "I woke up and looked to see about the baby and found that he was dead. I began hollering for my wife, telling her something was wrong with our baby. We got everybody up and drove late town to the hospital."

Another couple and three other children of the Davis' were also in the car. The infant was rushed to the Eastland Memorial Hospital where it was declared dead on arrival.

Justice of the Peace Jim Boggs of Eastland, returned a verdict of death by natural causes, following an inquest.

"We had plenty of cover," Davis said, when asked if the infant was well covered while sleeping in the chilly air. "Sure, we had plenty of cover," he said.

The infant's body was taken to Hamner Funeral Home in Eastland. The father indicated Wednesday night it would be buried in Eastland. "I don't know when we will have the funeral," he said, with emotion rising in his voice.

"We'll leave just as soon as the funeral is over," the grieving father said.

Dr. Ray Taibl To Speak At Teachers Meet

Dr. Ray M. Taibl, a living example of his subject, will address the third General Session of the Texas State Teachers Association at Abilene Saturday, March 13 on "Education of Children and Youth with Physical Handicaps." The man who refused to give up is now director of Special Education at Pueblo Public Schools, Pueblo, Colo.

Dr. Taibl was so physically handicapped at birth that it was almost impossible to ascertain whether he had normal mental equipment. During his talk, he spares nothing in revealing his own struggle. For a number of years he was unable to handle his own body or take care of his hygienic needs. He drooled because he had not the power to control his saliva. Only with great difficulty was he able to learn the simplest of physical skills.

Public schools were slow to admit him to regular classes and he was often sent home. After struggling through grade school and high school at Milwaukee, he attended a teachers college for four years but because of his handicaps was not able to obtain a practice teaching assignment. He went to the University of Wisconsin and discovered a new field, physical therapy, by way of his duties at part time work as a trainer for athletic teams.

He continued his task of self-improvement and was awarded a scholarship in physical therapy at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn. Later he attended the University of Maryland where he received the master of arts degree, did special physical therapy organizational work in California and became director of Special Education for the Nebraska Department of Public Instruction in 1946.

Spools, Spools And More Spools

Mrs. Mary E. Beck, who was a nurse in the home and school for Cerebral Palsey victims in Denver, Colorado for eighteen months before coming to Ranger, is asking that everyone donate empty spools to be sent to this school. The need for material for these afflicted children to work with is very great.

A Box will be placed in front of the Gholson Hotel in which to put the spools. Everyone coming to Ranger for Farmer's Day please remember to bring your empty spools.

Use aluminum foil in the bottom of the oven to catch spillovers from fruit pies or baked dishes.

HAWTHORN TREE ALSO HOLDS LUCK OF IRISH
 For good luck on St. Patrick's Day, a hawthorn tree rates with the shamrock, according to a tree expert, Martin L. Davey, Jr.
 Irish legend holds the hawthorn sacred, for the wee folk are said to dance beneath its boughs at night. St. Patrick's Stone, on an island in the River Shannon, is shaded by a hawthorn tree. Water that collects in the hollow of the stone is believed to be medicinal.

SEVERAL DIFFERENT breeds of goats are found in the Ranger area where experienced shepherds maintain the finest flocks and raise purebred stock.

RANCHING is a big industry in the Ranger trade area. Thousands of white face cattle each year go to market from the Ranger area. Pictured is the cattle on the Hagaman Ranch east of Ranger.

INTESTINAL DISEASE MUST BE WATCHED BY CATTLEMEN

Cattle raisers were warned today to watch for signs of a late winter intestinal disease which seems to be growing more serious every year.

The American Foundation for Animal Health said the next two months will mark the peak period for outbreaks of winter dysentery, especially in stabled cattle. The problem is particularly serious in dairy herds during early spring, officials said.

Today's report says that a typical outbreak may at first involve only one or two cows with mild scours, which appear unimportant. But 24 hours later a majority of the cattle may be affected and milk flow may be cut in half.

Because the disease may be confused with another cattle problem, coccidiosis, an immediate diagnosis is advised.

"Winter dysentery is seldom fatal but takes a toll through reduced milk production and dehydration of affected cattle," the Foundation says. "With proper treatment, the course of the disease may be limited to three days or a week, but dysentery outbreaks often run two weeks or more if left untreated."

Veterinarians have reported good success in combatting the condition if treatment is started early. The Foundation also recommended several routine preventive and control measures, including the barring of visitors from feed alleys, reducing the feed intake when the disease strikes, and avoiding sudden changes in rations.

Registered Guernsey Produces Record In Single Lactation

PETERBOROUGH, N. H.—A registered Guernsey has just become the first cow of any breed ever to produce 1000 pounds of fat in a single lactation as a Junior two-year-old on either two or three-time-daily milking, according to The American Guernsey Cattle Club.

This new world's champion is Hominy Hill Prince's Harp, owned by Weston Howland of Howland Farm, Ferrisburgh, Vermont, and bred by Henry D. Mercer of Hominy Hill Farm, Colts Neck, N. J. "Harp" completed a record of 16,738 pounds of milk and 1,017 pounds of fat on January 27 to establish herself as a champion of champions.

Guernsey is equal to about 8000 quarts; and, if sold at today's average retail price, would be worth approximately $2,000.

At the start of this record, Harp gave birth to one son, Howland Master's Prince Royal, sired, incidentally, by her own great-grand sire, Flying Horse Bandmaster. During over 200 days of her world-shattering record, Harp has been carrying her second calf. She is due the latter part of April.

Harp, purchased by Howland in 1951 for $1200, has really justified her price tag. Further, she has also justified one promise presented by the great Guernsey blood lines remain true. She is a prime example of how careful breeding of purebred cattle pays off at the milkpail.

National Peanut Week In March

Special weeks, concocted by publicity men, overcrowded the new year's calendar, which still contains only 52. Nor have press agents overlooked the broader possibilities of special months. January is Egg Month, February is Butter Frostings Month, May is Salad Month, June is Dairy Month and so it goes.

March is not a special month but it has more than its share of special weeks. It includes National Peanut Week, National 4-H Club Week, Girl Scout Week, Camp Fire Girls Week and Boys Club Week among others. The busiest of all will be the week of March 7 to 13; that's when the Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, 4-H Clubs, Boys Clubs and Peanut Week will vie for public attention. Logical enough probably—kids and peanuts sort of go together.

Peanut Week is sponsored by the National Peanut Council, a Washington trade association made up of manufacturers of peanut products, processors and growers. Grocery stores, dime stores and dime stores will install special peanut displays festooned with posters which picture an A-bomb explosion and refer to peanuts as the "An-A-TOM-IC Energy Food" (a very nutty pun). The peanut crusade will be advertised in newspapers, on radio and television and in trade journals and magazines.

A Peanut King and Queen, selected from motion picture, radio and television stars, will lead in acclaiming the lowly goober. Last year the "King" was Hollywood comedian Bob Hope and the "Queen" was his radio songstress Margaret Whiting. This year's "Peanut Royalty" will be equally famous, says the Peanut Council.

Nearly $80,000,000 worth of cotton is sold to the automobile industry every year.

Steaming up Cow Gets Results

"Steaming up" cows, a term coined by British researchers for fattening dairy animals during the dry period so they produce more milk in the next lactation, can put extra dollars in the American dairyman's pocket.

Scientists in England turn a cow dry 1 1/2 to 2 months before she freshens, then feed up to 21 pounds of grain a day during her rest period. Their idea is to lay on flesh as fast as they can.

Why do the British want their cows fat when they freshen? They know the modern dairy cow has been bred up so her milk production machinery is more efficient than her digestive equipment. She can't eat enough to make the milk and fat she is capable of producing.

But this latest theory doesn't leave her out put to what can be made by the feed she can stow away. She pulls fat off her ribs and puts it in the milk pail.

The English plan was brought to America's farmers attention by Ken Harshbarger, dairy production specialist at the Illinois station, who keeps up on dairy research around the globe.

He says steaming up ought to start 6 to 8 weeks before freshening.

For a cow capable of producing 40 pounds a day, the British scientists suggest 1 pound of grain daily the eighth week before calving. The feed is stepped up 1 pound a day at the start of each succeeding week. That would mean a daily ration of 8 pounds the week before she calves.

Grain feeding would be much heavier for higher producers, the Illinois dairy expert adds. The cow capable of 61 pounds of milk a day would get up to 16 pounds of grain daily during the dry period. The 21 pounds a day is for still heavier milkers.

The average cow can be expected to produce about 20 percent more when she is 3 years old than when she is 2. A leading British researcher got 41 percent more by steaming up.

Another found that 250 pounds of grain fed during the dry period produced 440 pounds of extra milk the first 4 months of the next lactation. If you can get $4 a hundred for your milk, that much extra would be worth $33.60 to you, a big price for 250 pounds of dairy grain, Harshbarger explains.

He believes that many cows in this country "fail to get rest period that are long enough." And they don't get enough feed to make them produce at top capacity in the following lactation.

"We're inclined to cheat a dry cow," he said. "Too often we think the rest period is a time to save grain. The English research seems to indicate that our thinking is wrong. Their experiments suggest that the best way to get top production and save dairy grain is to feed the cow plenty."

ANIMAL FATS SATISFACTORY IN LAMB FATTING RATIIONS

Rendered animal fats at levels of five to 10 percent are satisfactory sources of energy in lamb fattening rations.

In a 100-day feeding trial conducted recently by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Choice white grade tallow and Special grade tallow was incorporated into the rations of three groups of fattening lambs at levels of five, 10 and 15 percent. A fourth group of lambs served as a control.

Other feeds in the rations were grain sorghum, cottonseed meal, molasses and alfalfa hay.

Lambs on a ration containing five percent rendered fats made the highest, most efficient and cheapest gains, had the highest dressing percentages and the highest carcass grades.

At the 10 percent level, lambs made more efficient gains than the control group which received no fats but were about equal to the control in rate of gain and dressing percentage. Although this group had slightly higher carcass grades, the cost of gain was increased slightly.

The lowest, least efficient and most costly gains were produced by the lambs fed 15 percent animal fats, hair dressing percentages were lowest and carcasses poorest.

Results of these studies are reported in Progress Report 1044 which is available from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

Teen-agers Run Traffic Court

Teen-aged traffic violators in Ponca City, Okla., now face a court composed of their classmates.

City commissioners set up the teen-age traffic court by law, and high school students elected Judge Bill Boas and other court officers to try all driving offenses committed by youths under 18.

However, violators may choose to appear before regular police or traffic courts.

The only power not in student hands is the authority to arrest. A violator can have a "public defender" to plead his case against a prosecuting attorney, and if found guilty his punishment could include suspension of his driver's license.

Cash fines are not allowed, but the judge can "fine" a guilty student any length the judge requires.

Violators also may be sentenced to attend sessions of the traffic violators training school conducted by police.

There even a provision for contempt of court. The teenage judge can transfer cases of disrespectful drivers to municipal court, where a defendant has to post bond, and face a cash fine.

Neglected Ranges

If you've inherited a badly neglected gas range, don't despair. Porcelain top-of-the-range fixtures, drip and boiler pans respond magically to a strong solution of washing soda and water. You'll have to do the top burners in two installments, as two of them will have to do the work of boiling up the range parts in the pan containing the washing soda solution. Place parts in pan when water is cold and let come to a boil, continuing to boil for five minutes. Wait until fixtures are sufficient cooled off to handle comfortably, then scrub with a stiff brush. For disincrustated ovens, apply some of the new brush-on pastes and leave on overnight. Follow directions accurately for best results and repeat treatment as often as necessary.

PRES. MILTON HULT OUTLINES POWERFUL VALUE OF MILK

Milk is a powerful food. An 8-ounce glass gives you 167 calories. If America's 100 million adults were to drink a glass with breakfast tomorrow morning, human energy for the day would be enhanced by enough "zip" to drive the Twentieth Century Limited from New York to Chicago 132 times.

This was the gist of a talk before leading milk distributors of New York City recently by Milton Hult, president of the National Dairy Council, Chicago.

Hult said reports coming into his office from across the country indicate pronounced increases in milk drinking. This trend may be partially in response to the coffee situation, he said.

BAYLOR STUDENTS TO STUDY IN THE FIELD

Baylor University, Waco, plans to use "nature's own laboratories" for summer courses in geology, biology and art.

Dean Monroe S. Carroll has announced courses in each of the three subjects will be taught at field locations in the Sangre de Cristo mountains of New Mexico.

College credit will be given for the courses to be taught by regular Baylor staff members.

Biology and geology students will use dormitories of the Southern Baptist Assembly at Glorieta, N. M., as headquarters for the six-week term July 12-Aug. 19. The town is located 7,500 feet above sea level. Daily field trips will be made from there.

Frederic Mizen, chairman of Baylor's art department, and a painter of the western scene, will teach the art classes. Headquarters of this group will be at Gageon Ranch, near Las Vegas, and classes will be from July 1-31. Enrollment is limited to 24 students.

County Stock Show Dates Are Released

By J. M. Cooper, County Agt.

The date for the annual Eastland County Livestock Show has been set for March 26 and 27 at Eastland according to Boyd Hilley, President of the County Livestock Association sponsors of the annual show.

The show will again be held at the old Aeroplane Hangar about one mile northeast of Eastland he said.

C. M. McCain was again named General Superintendent of the show. Assistants named to help him are Luther Wilson, former County Agent of Fisher County, now in the feed business in Eastland and Bob Lavender, Agricultural representative of the Texas Electric Service Co., Eastland.

More than $1000.00 in prize money will be awarded owners of winning animals in the Junior Division it was said. The adult breeding classes of livestock are to get ribbons only.

Entries are limited to two animals per person except that any FFA Chapter or 4-H Club may show 5 animals as their club project. This applies to fat animals as well as to breeding classes.

Superintendents of the various divisions will be named soon it was said.

The ground and buildings are expected to be cleaned up and in proper shape by show time.

Committees are at work on the catalogue and it is hoped to get them printed and in the hands of exhibitors by the middle of February.

The Eastland County Livestock group is one of the oldest agricultural organizations in the county and have for years sponsored the annual Livestock show.

ARMY KEEPS NAMES OF ITS HEROES ALIVE

The Army keeps the memory of its heroes alive long after their heroic deeds are forgotten by giving their names to forts and army camps.

For example, Fort Dix, N. J., honors Maj. Gen. John Adams Dix, who was commissioned at the age of 13 and later fought in the Battle of Lundy's Lane in the War of 1812. Dix went on to become secretary of the treasury in 1861.

Fort Lewis, Wash., got its name from Meriwether Lewis of the famous Lewis and Clark expedition. Fort Bliss, Tex., was named in 1854 in honor of Maj. William S. Bliss—known as "Perfect Bliss" because of his efficiency as Zachary Taylor's adjutant general in the war with Mexico.

Fort Crockett, Tex., took its name from Davy Crockett, the famous hunter and legislator who died at the Alamo.

Today there are about 52 camps and forts in the United States that bear the names of Army officers who devoted their lives to serving their country. There are four camps named to honor enlisted men.

THIS IS NO WAY TO RUN A BASKETBALL GAME

CLAREMONT, N. H. — When the final whistle blew, the West Lebanon High School basketball team had beaten St. Mary's 58 to 57, according to the scoreboard.

The fans left the gymnasium talking about the close game. Moments afterward it was discovered that West Lebanon's scorekeeper had a tally of 58 to 57 and St. Mary's scorebook read 58-58.

Twenty minutes later, the referee decided upon an overtime period. West Lebanon won, 66 to 61—but there wasn't a soul in the stands.
