By UNCLE BOB

Lets all go back to school—if only for a day. Do you remember the smell of chalk when the blackboard were erased? Or the mixture of odors coming out of the chemistry laboratory? And the flag raising ceremony, an occasion? Well, you can experience all that again during Public School Week, March 1 through 6, here in Ranger. Lets attend some school if only for a few minutes so we can relive those memories that we cherish.

A pretty sight is a peach, apple, or cherry tree in bloom. With about one-half of an acre planted to a variety of fruits chosen to ripen in succession will supply a family of five with fresh fruits in season and a surplus to can, dry, preserve and pickle for the winter. It cost only a few dollars to prove that you can produce fruit on a small scale, at least. One quart, of course, have some land, either his own or a willing landlord's. With this as a start, and with the willingness to spend a few odd hours during the year attending to the trees and plants, almost any farmer or farm wife may have home-grown fruit in abundance, a quality that will provide each family member the two servings a day or 300 pounds yearly needed for good nutrition.

Here is a thought that is needed at this time, the planning of the garden. The selection of a suitable

COLLEGE OFFERS NUMEROUS CURRICULA ACTIVITIES

By BETTI HUFFMAN

Ranger Junior College is a place where ideals are kept in the heart, in an atmosphere in which they can breathe, a place of worship, work, and play, where students can "find themselves" under the tutelage of capable instructors and develop personalities that will help them to participate fully in life and make large contributions to the life of the community, state, and nation.

The curricula of the college include those courses and activities

Retired Farmer Dies Here Today

Funeral services for Abe Pool Barton, 79 year old retired farmer, will be held at 2:00 p.m. Wednesday, March 3, at Killingsworth Chapel. Mr. Barton died Monday, March 1, in a local hospital after a long illness. Rev. D. D. Brian, pastor of the Second Baptist Church, will officiate.

Mr. Barton was born April 23, 1874 in Hill County, Texas, and had lived in and around Ranger for most of his life. He was a member of the Baptist Church.

He is survived by his wife of Ranger; two sons, Virgil R. and Joe M., both of Ranger; two daughters, Mrs. Horace A. Browning of Anaheim, Calif., and Mrs. Lottie M. Emerson; two brothers, Jim of Bakersfield, Calif., and Truman of Breckenridge; a sister, Mrs. Annie Kestison of San Antonio; eight grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

Burial services will be held at 10:00 a.m. Wednesday at the Evergreen Cemetery.

which lead and guide the student in the accomplishment of his educational goal. For those who wish to enter the professional courses, Ranger Junior College offers required pre-professional courses in agriculture, dentistry, engineering, law, medicine, nursing, pharmacy, and teaching, as well as courses leading toward the various degrees offered in liberal arts colleges.

Ranger Junior College was organized in the summer of 1926 under the leadership of a group of public-spirited citizens of Ranger and began work under control of a College Council, composed of three members selected from the Board of Education and nine other Ranger citizens.

The public school system, through the board of education, maintained a friendly attitude toward the college at all times, but it did not assume full financial responsibility during the first two years.

The credit for the earliest inception of the idea of a junior college for Ranger belongs to R. F. Holloway, then superintendent of the Ranger school system. During the early spring and summer of 1925 he had been studying the possibilities of such an institution for the Oil Belt area where more than 2,000 high school students of Eastland, Stephens and adjacent counties might have an opportunity to extend their education beyond the high school level.

Since the junior college was not a part of the public school system

Services will be held at the Swedish Lutheran Church in Rhineland Wednesday with burial in the Rhineland cemetery.

Public School Week Will Be Observed In Ranger System

Ranger Junior College

In the cedar hills of Texas where the longhorns used to roam, stands a western Junior College that we love to call our home. It's full of western spirit and its rich in cowboy lore—and the happy days we've spent here we'll remember evermore! Raise a cheer for dear old Ranger, in the dear old lone star state, where there's lots of room for friendship, and no room at all for hate! When the years have wrought their changes, when our days fade into night, we will remember Ranger, and the purple, and the white.

All School Doors Open To Public

The doors of the School System will open this week for visitors to the class rooms. A class room has been set up in the window of Killingsworth Hardware and Furniture Co. for those who will not have an opportunity to come to the classes. In the window actual classes are in session.

Business as usual will go on in the school system, thus giving the visitor an opportunity to witness the teaching and the school room atmosphere that we rarely get to observe.

Ed Harper Is Killed In Car-Truck Crash

George Edward Harper, 45, of Ranger, was killed instantly at 8:30 Saturday night when his 1953 Ford sedan failed to make the curve on highway 108 at Thurber and ran under the bed of a two-ton truck. Harper, riding alone, was traveling south and the truck was headed north. Occupants of the truck, Virgil Lee Robbins and O. C. Deatherage, both of Vernon, escaped injury.

Harper's car was almost totally demolished and the truck was badly damaged by the terrific impact. Harper was born Dec. 11, 1908 in Ranger and had lived here all of his life. He was married to the former Annie Kimmel Nov. 27, 1928 in Ranger. He was a member of the First Baptist Church and the Elk Lodge.

He was a district repairman for Lone Star Producing Co., and had been employed by them for the past twenty years. He had previously been employed by the Prairie Pipe Line Co.

He is survived by his wife, of Ranger; four sons, Billy E. of College Station, Robert E. of Sweetwater, Fred R. of Crane and Tommy J. of Odessa; two daughters, Mrs. Gene Boney of Eastland and Barbara Jane Harper of Ranger; his mother, Mrs. Dessie Harper of Abilene; three brothers, C. E. and Joe R. of Ranger, and Truman T. of Abilene; and two sisters, Mrs. Odie Allen and Mrs. Pete Denham, both of Premont, Texas. Also four grandchildren, Eric Ann and Carla Jane Boney of Eastland

Fire Destroys Hughes Home

The Ranger Fire Department reported that at 11:50 p.m. February 27th, an alarm was received on a house fire on Byrnes Ave. The person turning in the alarm thought that their home was on fire inasmuch as the smoke was coming in all around her doors. The fire proved to be at the A. F. Hughes home, which was gutted before the fire could be halted. The owner was not at home at the time of the fire, thus a late alarm was received by the Fire Department and the house was engulfed in flames when the equipment arrived.

PUBLIC SCHOOL WEEK

GREETINGS:

The Public School System in Texas goes back literally to the very beginning of our State. Texas' first Constitution made provisions for a system of public education. President Mirabeau Buonaparte Lamar, in his message to the Texas Congress in 1838 stated, "It is admitted by all that cultivated mind is the guardian genius of Democracy, and while guided and controlled by virtue, the noblest attribute of man. It is the only dictator that freemen acknowledge, and the only security which freemen desire."

The progress of our public schools from small beginnings to the fine educational system we have today has not been easy. It has required a cooperative effort of State and local officials, the active interest of parents and of citizens generally, and the energy and devotion of public-spirited men and women who have been willing to devote their lives to the teaching profession.

In recent years we have had to face great problems in the administration of our public schools. We have learned that the solution of these problems is only possible with public interest, understanding and cooperation.

One of the best evidences of public support is a definite effort on the part of each citizen to become familiar with the public school system and to keep in touch with it. THEREFORE, I, Allan Shivers, Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the period March 1-7, 1954, as Public Schools Week in Texas and urge every citizen to visit one of the public schools during this period and become acquainted with the programs and accomplishments of our educational system.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 15th day of August, 1953.

Allan Shivers, Governor of Texas

EASTLAND COUNTY DEMOS CAUSE RIFT AT CONVENTION

Two Eastland county Young Democrat clubs caused the only open rift in the meeting of Young Demos held over the weekend in Mineral Wells.

A group from Ranger, headed by W. A. Bauman, opposed the group recognized by the pre-convention charter committee, saying that it (The Ranger group) should be the club to be recognized since it supported the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee, Adlai Stevenson, and since the Eastland group allegedly supported Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The club recognized, is headed by W. A. Wright of Cisco.

Convention delegates heard Gov. Allan Shivers make what has been considered as a bid for another term as governor. He met with a reception that could mean nothing but approval. The convention was heavily pro-Shivers in sentiment, and liberals for the most part, did not attend.

Wallace Savage of Dallas, state executive committee chairman, announced that cross-filing of candidates in party primaries will be regarded by the Democrats as illegal in the future.

New officers named were Ed Drake, Dallas, president; Dean W. Turner of Henderson, secretary; Mrs. Charles W. Lynch of Lampasas, assistant secretary; Raymond Fields of Freepert, parliamentarian; and C. J. Allen of Hearne, sergeant at arms.

HISTORY OF RANGER HIGH SCHOOL TRACED BY STUDENT

By PATSY K. PERRIN

On August 10, 1881, the Texas and Pacific Railroad Co. deeded to the County Court of Eastland County, Let 8, Block 6 of our Original Townsite for school purpose only. This deed was transferred to the Trustees of Ranger School District on March 24, 1886.

Our present day high school is located on the same property which has been continuous in use as public school grounds since the original deed was issued.

The school year 1883-84 was a real step in education in Texas. During this time the school administration began to change to the present district system, wherein, local control took over the affairs of this district.

The first school building was erected upon the property given by the Texas and Pacific Railroad Co. and was made ready for use by Oct. 15, 1881. This small school cost approximately $59.90. This is said to be the beginning of the present school system.

In 1885 there were fifty resident citizens of Ranger that petitioned the County Judge to order an election to determine whether

Capps Studio Will Temporarily Close

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Capps, well known business and civic leaders in Ranger, plan to take a well earned rest after being in the photography business twenty years.

Delbert and Mrs. Capps recently sold their building where the Capps Studio was located to Anderson Chevrolet of Ranger and Mr. Capps told a Times reporter that it was really a good time to take advantage of the things that they have had planned a number of years and take a rest.

Mr. Capps also stated that he does not intend to leave Ranger as this is really home to the Capps family. As soon as their rest is over Mr. and Mrs. Capps will once again open up a brand new Capps Studio of fine photography. It is expandable, but in Ranger on the first day of the official closing the Times editor found that Capps Studio was in excellent condition. We need the type of business the Capps family had in Ranger, and we are looking forward when it will be re-opened.

A VISIT WITH RANGER JUNIOR COLLEGE DURING SCHOOL WEEK

By MRS. E. L. BLANKENSHIP

"Visit a School" is the slogan of the week. Come, be our guests at Ranger Junior College. The "whistle" blows at eight o'clock, so don't be late.

You will enter the front door of the main building, go up a flight of steps, and find yourself right in the heart of RJC. Just at the head of the stairs you will see the office, presided over by Kathleen Earnest, who is the school's right arm. Just beyond Miss Earnest's office is the inner office where you will find Dr. Ashton—always friendly, always smiling, ready to set aside his work to hear whatever problems you might have, important and trivial alike.

Down the hall to your left you will come to the office of Dean Willis, affectionately known as "Prof" to his students. As head of the Social Studies Department and sponsor of the International Relations Club, Mr. Willis is likely to be surrounded by eager students.

Next to Mr. Willis' office, you will find the office of Mrs. Hamrick, guidance director and teacher of English. Just at this time of year you will be likely to find Mr. Capps with his picture taking paraphernalia in company with Mrs. Hamrick and her annual staff, for that "deadline" on getting the RANGER to press is uncomfortably close.

We leave the first floor and go up the steps. Here we find the commercial rooms. From one side of the hall comes the varied music of a dozen typewriters clacking away. Across the hall are the office machines, and you will see a group of students determined to "conquer" them—with a bit of help from Miss Simmons, of course.

Now, back down the steps, all or set the town should be incorporated for public free school purposes. This election was held on Saturday, Sept. 19, 1885, at the school house in Ranger. The returns on this election was 31 for and one against.

The district established by this election was two miles square. The boundary line being one mile east; one mile west, one mile south and one mile north of the Texas and Pacific Railroad Co., and containing approximately 2560 acres. In 1903 this boundary line was changed to increase the size of Ranger Common School District to about twenty square miles.

In 1905 the first brick school building in the county was built. This building contained six rooms and was built for approximately $5,000, but the state scholastic appropriation was only $3,000 compared to the $38,000 today.

In 1917 all the grades from the first through high school were taught.

After 100 years of progress the Ranger School have made many new developments with many subjects being offered.

ite for the garden may mean the difference between success and failure.

If possible the site should be in the vicinity of the house for convenience in planning and working the garden and in harvesting the crop. Nearness to an adequate supply of good water for irrigation also is important. This is especially true in this area where the rainfall is light.

In selecting the spot which will produce good vegetables the following points should be considered: (1) A deep rich sandy loam soil which crumbles easily; (2) Avoid sites having steep slopes, poor surface, heavy shade and trees.

When you have selected the spot, fence it not only to keep dogs and other animals out but newspaper editors.

When your crop is ready for harvesting call 224 and let me know and I will harvest your crop on the halves. Or better yet, on a one for you, 10 for me. If you raise watermelons, cantaloupes, or strawberries, don't call me because chances are your crop would never be harvested, it would be consumed by the writer before it reached the table.

COLLEGE-

and therefore ineligible for support from public school funds, the greatest problem was maintaining it financially. In order to handle this situation the school was placed under the supervision of a college council, which secured subscriptions of cash and loans from interested persons, in order to maintain the college during its first two years. The board of education furnished the housing facilities without any of the cost of maintenance being prorated to the college. During August of 1926 a very intensive drive was made and completed at a banquet meeting on August 23. The voters of Ranger authorized a tax of twenty cents on each one hundred dollars of taxable property for the support of the College.

The Ranger Junior College was formally opened for classes in the high school building on Monday, Sept. 13, 1925 with an appropriate program, held in the high school auditorium at 10 a. m.

Despite financial obstacles and the usual difficulties met in bringing any institution up to full standardization required by both the American Association of Junior Colleges and the Association of Texas Colleges, the faculty and board of education were persistent in their efforts to reach this goal. Ranger Junior College was recognized as such by the State Department of Education on March 23, 1927. Under the Junior College act of the 41st legislature the Ranger institution was incorporated as a definite part of the Ranger school system under full control of the public school board in 1929.

In 1932 the college remained in second class rank by ruling of the Association of Texas Junior Colleges, due only to conditions in biology and chemistry. In 1933 the college took first rank, all courses offered being fully accredited. This first class ranking has been steadily maintained since that date, with a wide margin above and beyond these state and national association requirements. Its library receives more volumes annually than the State requires; its laboratories are more fully equipped than the standards specify; more departments are maintained than the minimum, and the faculty is composed of men and women whose graduate university training is far in advance of the scale of requirements set up by the State.

Through depression, recession, good years and lean ones, the members of the Ranger Board of Education, inspired by their loyalty to the young people of Ranger and the surrounding territory, have kept Ranger Junior College up to date, and with the faculty, have made it one of the greatest service institutions among the junior colleges of the South. Ranger Junior College has had four presidents, the first being R. F. Holloway, the second, W. T. Wallon, and the third, Dr. Grover C. Boswell, who was president from 1941 to 1953. Dr. Price R. Ashton became president in 1953.

The students attended classes in the High School Building until September, 1948, when the College moved to its present site in Cooper Addition. The College has expanded its administrative organization, faculty, physical plant, and program to meet the needs of a growing student body and the increased demands upon a trained citizenship.

Enrollment has increased from 42 in 1926 to its present figure of nearly 400.

Cooper Library was donated in 1950 by Oddie Cooper, of Ranger, in memory of his mother and wife. Boswell Hall, named in honor of Dr. Boswell who died in 1953, was built in 1952.

Ranger Junior College was expanded in 1948 to include branches at Albany and Breckenridge. These schools offer a full two-year college program, exactly as is offered in Ranger. They are an integral part of the college and not "extension" schools.

The College runs its curriculum from 8 in the morning until 10 at night. Evening classes a r e scheduled for those who work and cannot attend morning classes, and is not a separate "night" school. Active clubs and organizations include: Fraternity Club, a social club for boys, sponsored by Dick Henderson; Dubs Club, a social club for girls, sponsored by Mrs. Mamie Ruth Hamrick; the International Relations Club, a service organization, sponsored by Mrs. Kathryn Gibson; Baptist Student Union, with Mrs. Hamrick as faculty advisor; and Student Council, sponsored by Barney Blankenship. The student officers for 1953-54 include the Student Body President, Johnny Wilson, of Quanah; Freshman Class President, Peggy Russell of Ranger; and Sophomore Class President, Freddy Sanders, of Ft. Worth.

The 1953-54 faculty includes: Fred D. Baumgardner, Music, B in Mus. Ed., TCU.

Mamie Ruth Hamrick, English and Spanish, M. A., TSCW.
