Swine Raisers Urged To Kill Parasite Lice

COLLEGE STATION (Spl.) Hog prices are favorable and pro-fits can be stretched further if producers will control the lice on their animals.

This parasite constantly irritates the hog, slows its rate of gain, and in turn, raises the producer's feed bill, explains E. M. Regenbrecht, extension swine husbandman. Lice also are a common preader of Swine Pox.

Hog lice too often are taken for granted, but they can be easily ontrolled with DDT, chlordane, toxaphene or methoxychlor sprays at 0.5 percent concentration or with 0.06 percent lindane or gamma BHC. The latter two insecticides give best results, Regenbrecht

FOR FATHER'S DAY Bible Comment:

How often have you wracked your brain for an appropriate gift for father—and then find yourself resignedly settling for old standbys whose very package shape betrays its content—usually handkerchiefs or tice.

This year, lift your offering out of the doldrums by buying Dad an unusual pipe. You won't be blazing any trails in gift-giving but you will be in step with the current vogue among women.

It seems that women are buying more than 70 per cent of the gift pipes sold these days, and pipes are being styled to appeal not only to men but also to the women buying them.

We Can Move Mountains In Jesus' Name

DERHAPS the most distinctive, and at the same time the most puzzling, thing that Jesus said about faith is in the words re-corded in Matthew: "If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, remove hence to yonder place; and nothing shall be impossible unto you."

These words offer no puzzlement for us today, when we see such things actually being accomplished.

Hills that have stood for cen-turies are daily leveled by huge power equipment of puny man's words of Jesus that we could easily make today of the greater works that were yet to be accom-plished. Perhaps it is the in-terpretation that Jesus intended.

terpretation that Jesus Intended.
What did the words mean to the disciples to whom they were spoken, and what did Jesus intend them to mean?
Jesus was about to give to these disciples a seemingly impossible task. He was sending them out to preach the Gospel to every creature, to make disciples of all nations.
What a vast, mountainous task that must have seemed to those few unknown men as they faced that must have seemed to those few unknown men as they faced the immense Roman Empire, with its materialism, its power and its paganism.

Perhaps it was those very words of Jesus that they must have recalled as they faced that mountain-moving task.

And with what amazing results the power of faith was vindicated, both the Roman Empire and the whole world have known.

It is that sort of faith that world leday.

Around the World in a Coffee-Cup

WILL you take your coffee black or light, with sugar or without, served in a jumbo cup or demi-tasse? Do you prefer it made with beans reasted to a delicate cinnamon shade, to a deep, hearly brown—or, perhaps, toasted to a rich brown-black? Whatever your choice—embody, somewhere, will prefer te of the alternatives with a "Now, ve's a good cup of coffee!" It all nds upon which part of the you live in.

ong but not bitter. We thought, abugh, that you might like to try coffee as enjoyed by people in other lands, so this is what we're going to do. We're going to take you on tour to learn coffee-making around the globe.

First of all, let's run through the rules for making our own coffee well. A coffee-pot should be sparkling clean—and that means a thorwigh sudsing after each use to remove the bitter oils that collect on the sides. Be sure that your coffee is fresh and of the correct grind for your brewing method. Then, remember that it takes two level measuring tablespoons (or one Standard Coffee Measure) of coffee to each three-quarters of a measuring cup of fresh, cold water to make a flavorful brew. Use water from the told tap often gives coffee a flat taste. Never brew to less than three-quarters of the full capacity of your coffee-maker, and take care with the timing. Percolators should perk six to eight minutes only, and vacuum coffee should brew for no more than two to three minutes after the coffee has risen to the upper bowl. Finally, never let coffee boil. That's all there is to it.

Well, here we are, home again, to eight minutes only, and vacuum coffee should brew for no more than two to three minutes after the coffee has risen to the upper bowl. Finally, never let coffee boil. That's all there
