The Weekly

WINDBAG By The Office Loafer

Well, at last I have bought a ticket to the Ranger Volunteer Fire Department's benefit picture show set for midnight Saturday at the Ranger Drive-In Theatre. I got cornered by Rex Mitchell, and let me tell you when you get cornered by that man, you are cornered, and I turned loose of my fifty cents, but I made him pay for the coffee. Any way I am ready to go to the picture show. Are you? If not, just grab one of the volunteer firemen by the arm and tell him you want a ticket. It won't make him the least bit mad.

Things are happening fast around this place called Ranger. Friday night, its baseball, Texas League style at Fort Worth for the Little Leaguers, who will be the special guests of Spencer Harris, president of the Fort Worth Baseball Club and Al Vincent, Cat manager. Those men promise to show the Ranger boys, big and little a real time.

On Saturday night, there will be the Ranger Bathing Beauty Review, when someone will be named "Miss Ranger," and she will go to Cisco on July 5 and compete for the title of "Miss Eastland County."

Shortly after the judges will have made their selection in the Bathing Beauty Review, then will come the picture show of the firemen.

This will give Ranger folks a pretty good variety of entertainment.

The Chamber of Commerce has picked three newspaper men to judge the contest. That shows good judgment on their part, and furthermore, they picked out-of-town newspaper men. That move takes the pressure off this corner, because there are two things I have never had a desire to do; judge a local baby contest, or to judge a local bathing beauty review.

Well, if this isn't luck. Charles Hamilton, the Texaco gas and oil peddler, just dropped by this country boy's desk, and has invited me to a free meal. It is the occasion of the Men's Methodist Club, at the First Methodist Church, Thursday night at 7 o'clock. He promised me a lot of good fried chicken, and if I don't break a leg between now and then I'll be showing my feet under the table. Thanks for the invitation, Charles.

V. V. Cooper, who assumed the responsibility of having Pioneer Cemetery cleaned by Father's Day, is to be commended for his work. He said he took the responsibility of having the work done, because it needed to be done. From our viewpoint it would seem to us that he is due Ranger's sincere thanks and assistance for taking that much interest in the resting place of so many of the people who helped build Ranger in other years.

If you are driving on your vacation this summer, or plan a holiday trip around the Fourth of July, please be careful. Don't let your name be in the headlines of this paper because of an accident. Too.

College Year Book Dedication Honors Three Who Have Helped Toward Building A Better School

Three people who have been vitally interested in the work of Ranger Junior College, and who have contributed much to its growth and development, have been given recognition by both college students and faculty members, in the 1954 edition of The Ranger.

This year's college annual was dedicated to Mrs. Dell Newell of Albany, Dr. P. M. Kuykendall of Ranger, and O. R. Cooper of Tyler. The dedication of the year book to those who have contributed to the college, was made as an expression of the gratitude by all identified with college life, in appreciation for the generous gifts of both money and other services they have rendered, according to Mrs. Mamie Ruth Hamrick, who was a sponsor for the yearbook. The editor of The Ranger for 1954 was Perry Sullivan of Woodson.

"Such contributions as these people have made," Dr. Price R. Ashton, college president, said, "have enabled the college to grow and progress, and to achieve the notable recognition it now enjoys."

Mrs. Newell has given scholarships for the past several years to worthy students who might have been unable to further their education without her help. In this way she has expressed her desire to help educate those who will be the leaders of tomorrow.

Dr. Kuykendall, in addition to his other gifts, has presented the college library with a medical section which will be designated as the P. M. Kuykendall Medical Section. The worth of these books can only be seen in the future as they are enjoyed and employed by students who would previously have had to do without this valuable material.

The beautiful, brick structure which graces the campus of RJC is the 1950 gift of Mr. O. R. Cooper as a lasting memorial to his mother and to his wife. This building offers to the student a quiet place for study and houses the growing volumes that are so beneficial and necessary for college research work. Mr. Cooper died July 8, 1953, but his name will always be remembered by those who enter the doors of the building which his gift made possible.

"These are only a few of the vast number of people who have shown their interest in the college," Dr. Ashton continued. "To everyone who has had a part in helping make the college what it is today, the students and faculty say, 'Thank You.'"

Ranger Firms To Close Hour Early On Sat.

The majority of the members of the Retail Merchants Association in Ranger have expressed a desire to adopt an earlier closing hour on Saturdays for the summer months. Mrs. Mae Belle Oyster, secretary-manager of the association, announced today.

The new closing hour will be 7 p.m. instead of 8 p.m. beginning Saturday, June 26, Mrs. Oyster said. All merchants are requested to join in the earlier closing during the hot summer months.

It was also mentioned today that July 4 is one of the regularly designated holidays to be observed by firms closing, and as this date comes on Sunday this year, July 5 will be observed.

FREE SWIMMING CLASSES GIVEN AT RANGER'S POOL

Free swimming classes at the Ranger Municipal Swimming Pool in Willow Park began this morning, according to an announcement today by John "Hoot" Gibson, pool manager.

The classes will be conducted by Seldon Wood, who has just returned from Denton where he attended a Red Cross Swimming instructors class at North Texas State College.

On Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, beginners will be given instructions from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. Age for this class is from six years up. From 11 a.m. to 12 noon there will be a class for intermediate swimmers; those who know some of the fundamentals but want to improve their swimming ability.

On Monday, Wednesday and Friday, from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. Wood will hold junior life saving classes for swimmers from 12 to 16 years of age, and from 11 a.m. to 12 noon, there will be a class for senior life saving for swimmers 16 years and older.

An adult class for persons wanting to learn swimming will be arranged, Wood said, if there is enough demand for it.

Gibson said that for the present the pool will remain open during week days for regular swimming from 1 p.m. to 9 p.m. and from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. on Sundays. Monday and Tuesday evenings are now reserved for women only. After getting off to a slow start at the beginning of the season, Gibson said attendance is increasing almost daily.

Bosides Gibson and Wood, Twister Polston is also a life guard at the pool, and Miss Cecelia Mooney is cashier.

There is no advance in pool admission prices while swimming classes are being taught.

Ladies Organize Softball Teams

The organization of two Girls Softball Teams in Ranger appeared in prospect today, according to Mrs. Betty Ryan, one of those active in getting the sport started.

A new softball field is being completed on North Austin on vacant lots adjacent to the Terry Place Apartments.

A practice game is scheduled for tonight at 6:30 p.m. Any lady, married or single, who desires to play will be welcome to join one of the teams. Mrs. Ryan said, C. E. Harper is assisting in the organization of the softball teams.

NAMES FOR THE NEW EASTLAND COUNTY LAKE COMING IN FAST

Judges in the "Name the Lake Contest" being conducted jointly by the Ranger and Eastland Chambers of Commerce are going to have a difficult time selecting names for the new lake of the Eastland County Water District.

In a conference Monday afternoon, Herb Tanner, manager of the Eastland C of C and Rip Galloway, manager of the Ranger chamber, both expressed pleasure at the large volume of mail as a result of the contest which will bring $100 to the person suggesting the name for the new lake.

The publicity already given the Eastland County lake appears to be widespread.

This morning both organizations had received a total of almost 300 entries and Tanner predicted that it would exceed the expectations.

Work Started On Road Jobs In This Area

Work of re-surfacing 12.4 miles of Farm-to-Market highways in Eastland County was begun Monday morning under the direction of the office of G. L. Smith, Highway Department resident engineer.

A project of resurfacing FM Highway 571 for a distance of seven miles southeast from Ranger with a coating of heavy asphalt covered by aggregate, was the first of three sections of highways to be started.

A three-mile section from Ranger north on FM Highway 717 to the county line, and a 2.4 mile section on the Gorman end of 571, are to all be completed this week, according to highway engineers.

C. Hunter Strain of San Angelo has the contract, and supervision of the work is in charge of J. W. Eidson and T. C. Samuels from the office of the resident highway engineer in Eastland.

Contract for the present work in Eastland County was awarded by the Texas Highway Commission at its May letting.

Auctioneer Chants a Song of Cash As Cattle Move Through Sales Ring

A point of unusual interest in Ranger will escape being noticed by most automobile drivers traveling along Highway 80 east. This is especially true if the driver's attention is centered upon traffic and road conditions ahead.

However, if on a Monday morning, a visit is made to the big silver-colored metal barn on the north side of the highway, there will be found an unusual amount of activity and hundreds of head of cattle being shuttled about in the two dozen or so stock pens. Parked nearby are large cattle trucks, small pickups, cars and trailers. All have come to Ranger for the livestock sale.

This is the headquarters of the Ranger Livestock Commission Company, headed by Lloyd Coan, of DeLeon, and Monday is the time of the weekly auction sale of cattle brought to Ranger from farms and ranches in the surrounding trade area.

Activity at the livestock barn and the cattle pens starts early Monday morning and there is the Sales at the Ranger Livestock Commission Company auction Monday numbered 450 head of cattle and 30 hogs.

Top hogs brought $23.10, and a few yearling cattle brought $21.50. There was a nice run of good butcher cattle, ranging from $16.00 to $19.50. Packer cows brought from $6.50 to $13.50. A few bulls sold at $10.00 to $14.50.

hustle and bustle of unloading cattle and shifting them in the pens until 1 p.m., when the sale begins in the auction ring and then the tempo of activity begins to increase.

The cattle pens, due to their position to the large barn, and the small embankment along the highway, are not fully visible to the passers-by. The area devoted to pens for cattle is found to be surprisingly large by the first-time visitor. In fact when the visitor looks over the pens from a position on the cat-walks around the edges he sees what seems to be a corner of some stockyard in a large cattle marketing center.

Four-Inch Main Plan Of City To Cemetery Area

The City of Ranger will lay a new four-inch water line to replace a two-inch line now serving Evergreen Cemetery, and several residents in Ranger Heights, Lester Crossley, Ranger City Manager, announced today.

Crossley and City Commissioner Les Cantrell, went to McCaskey Friday and purchased 3,000 feet of four-inch pipe for the project. Water pressure at the cemetery and for residents in Ranger Heights has been a problem which the city has been endeavoring to overcome, Crossley said.

It has been proposed that in order to obtain better water pressure at the cemetery that the lines within the cemetery be tapped in such a way as to permit watering of lots on alternate days. The city has ordered the necessary valves to be installed for this arrangement.

It was decided, however, that under such an arrangement the volume of water would be a problem despite added pressure from a booster pump on the line.

The new four-inch line will increase the volume about four times the capacity of the present line. The city hopes to begin work on laying the new line within the next two weeks, the City Manager said.

No Damage From Grass Fire Sunday

The Ranger Fire Department answered an alarm at 11:15 a.m. Sunday on a grass fire in the 700 block of Cypress street. No damage was reported as a result of the fire which was extinguished by a small amount of water.

Members of the four Little League teams, the Yankees, Giants, Dodgers and the Indians, have been invited to Fort Worth by Spencer Harris, president of the Fort Worth Cats to see the Texas League game.

In extending his invitation to managers of the Ranger teams to attend the game, Harris was high in his praise of Little League baseball.

"Ranger is to be congratulated," he said, "upon the organization and the support of its Little League. This type of clean, organized play is important in the lives of our young boys of today. We heartily endorse the Little League movement everywhere, and it is for that reason that we want to recognize them by having the players as our guests at regular Texas League games."

At a meeting Monday night at the Chamber of Commerce office, representatives of the Little League, the Ranger Jaycees and the Chamber of Commerce accepted the invitation of the Fort Worth Baseball Club management to take the Little League players to see the Friday night game, was accepted.

For those baseball fans who want to follow the Little Leaguers to Fort Worth, tickets to Friday night's game were placed on sale in Ranger this morning.

Morris Campbell, president of the Ranger Jaycees, said today the Jaycees would take this opportunity to join in helping organize a "Ranger Night" in Fort Worth and advertise the 1954 Annual Ranger Jaycee Rodeo for July 21-24.

Joe Daskevich, vice president of the Ranger Little League, presided at Monday night's meeting in the absence of the president, Bernie Milne. Representatives of the management of the four teams were enthusiastic in support of the plan to take team players to Fort Worth.

All members of the Little League teams will go in uniform. Managers are today arranging transportation for the teams and will go by automobile. Anyone who

V. V. Cooper Takes Lead In Cleaning Ranger Cemetery

Ranger's Pioneer Cemetery on Clay Street presented a neat appearance on Father's Day, June 20. This was the result of one man, V. V. Cooper, taking the responsibility of having the cemetery cleaned up, with the weeds and grass cut and cleared away.

He took the lead in sponsoring the clean-up and said that a special effort was made to have the general appearance improved by Father's Day. Anyone wishing to assist in this work would be welcome to do so, Mr. Cooper said. He can be contacted at his residence at 926 Vitalious.

HIGHWAY 80. EAST
Your Business Will Be Greatly Appreciated

Remember when mother worked all morning preparing the picnic lunch and after putting the finishing touches to the bowl of potato salad just had time to grab her hat and rush breathlessly to the car? Sometimes the work of preparing for these family outings takes all of the fun out of the picnic itself. Now, however, the sandwiches, salad, carrot sticks, strips of green pepper, celery—all of the time-consuming food items—can be prepared at her leisure even the day before and still be just as moist and tasty when taken out of the picnic basket. Thanks to a new transparent food wrap made of saran. It enables mother to "beat the heat" and also avoid that last minute rush.

During the picnic the wrap serves as a protective, highly transparent cover as it clings to the edge of the tray or bowl so that hands or strings are unnecessary. It keeps foods appetizingly attractive and meets the challenge of insects or dust. Each person simply lifts a section of the saran, helps himself, and then tucks the material back again.

Potato salad, of course, is a traditional dish among picnic-going Americans, and a home-made, boiled salad dressing will make the dish even more flavorful.

Boiled Salad Dressing

- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 tablespoon dry mustard
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon paprika
- 3 eggs, or 6 yolks
- 1/2 cup vinegar
- 1/2 cup water
- 1 tablespoon butter

Mix dry materials together in top of double boiler or heavy saucepan. Beat eggs slightly; add water and vinegar, and blend into dry ingredients. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Remove from heat; add butter and cool before using. Makes about 1 pint.

It is best to cook the potatoes in their jackets; peel while warm and put the salad together in alternating layers of sliced potato, salt and pepper, minced onion, salad dressing and sliced, hard-cooked eggs. The warm potatoes take on the flavor as they cool. Garnish the top with egg slices and tuck leaf lettuce around the edge. Cover with the moisture-proof saran and let stand at least an hour before serving.

Corn Dogs Provide Quick Picnic Or Luncheon Treat

Whether you plan a Fourth of July picnic, a summer luncheon on the terrace, or a quick winner supper for friends, Corn Dogs will win praise for a common food differently prepared.

Long before the original Independence Day in 1776, America's native Indians and early settlers used corn meal to add flavor to their meat. Well liked by young and old, the frankfurter becomes something entirely different when served with corn meal. A crunchy covering to make a Corn Dog out of an ordinary wiener.

They are easily made, for the corn dog covering is a simple mixture of corn meal, flour, egg and sweet milk, into which the wiener is dipped and then fried in deep fat, for home serving, or roasted over a picnic fire. Chunked or sliced tomatoes provide excellent taste appeasers to accompany the Corn Dogs.

For a picnic, prepare the corn meal batter at home and carry it in a tightly covered quart jar. Skewer the wiener on a freshly cut stick or roasting fork, cover it with the corn meal mixture and pop the corn covered wiener over an open fire that has settled into a hot bed of coals. Rotate continuously until the corn covering is crusty and you'll have a perfect Corn Dog.

CORN DOGS

- 2/3 cup self-rising corn meal
 - 1 cup self-rising flour
 - 2 tablespoons sugar, if desired
 - 2 tablespoons fat
 - 1 egg, beaten slightly
 - 1/2 cup sweet milk
 - 1 pound wieners
- (If plain corn meal and flour are used add 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder and 1 teaspoon salt to dry ingredients.)

Combine first three ingredients. Cut in fat to resemble fine crumbs. Combine egg and milk; add to first mixture, and stir until mixed. For cooking over an open fire, skewer the wiener on a freshly cut stick or roasting fork; spread wiener with corn meal mixture and roast over hot bed of coals, turning continuously until corn covering is done. For deep fat frying at home, insert wooden skewers into wieners; spread wieners with corn meal mixture and fry until brown in deep fat, which has been heated to 325 degrees F. Serve with slices or chunks of tomatoes.

Remedy For Screw Worms In Cattle Given By A&M

Texas stockmen are advised to lookout for screw-worms and to treat all livestock wounds to prevent worm infestation.

Mild winters, similar to the one just past, induce an early worm build-up, says Neal M. Randolph, extension entomologist.

To prevent and curb infection Randolph recommends EQ-335 smear. It contains lindane which gives a lasting killing effect. One application a week, except in severe cases, will do the job.

I don't want to lose you as a reader.

A few days ago, one of the Times newboys, Teddy Neelley, who delivers papers in the Ranger downtown area, came by this desk and was proudly displaying a new hand-tooled leather belt. Teddy was quite proud of the belt. He as justified in being proud of it. The belt was a gift to him from Jack Garner, the leather shop and boot man on North Austin. It was a gift to the boy because he had, to use Garner's words "been such a good paper boy."

Our thanks to Jack Garner for the boost given our newboy. There's no finer way than that of being a newboy, when it comes to learning early in life some of the problems of business and the matter of dealing with the public. It helps them a lot and encourages them to go on, when they get a pat on the back for the job well done. Again, our thanks to Jack Garner for his spirit of encouraging boys.

It is a small world after all. Dropped by to meet some of the folks at Ranger's Federal building (meaning Post Office, of course, cousin), and the first smiling face I encountered was that of Max Orr. After battling the breeze for a few minutes I learned that I had known for many years, one of his closest friends in by-gone times at his home town of Honey Grove, Texas. Ain't that something? But, cousin, neither one of us are going to tell you how many years ago that has been.

So often those of us who usually take things for granted most of the time find it very easy to complain about our "public servants," but I don't believe you will find a nicer, friendlier bunch of people in the world than you will find at the Ranger Post Office. They are a friendly, smiling bunch of folks who want to help and if it is a pleasure to do business with them. Postmaster Alvin Craley, Mrs. Bessie Wilson, Max and all the rest seem happy to serve all of us all of the time.

Our generation as brought up on the wrong side of the tax. That's me, cousin.

Only 35 pounds of a 1,000-pound steer are the "fancy" porterhouse, T-bone and club steaks. Only 450 pounds can be utilized as retail cuts.

BETTI'S BUDGET of HELPFUL HINTS

To keep cool, calm, and collected in summer, treat yourself to two baths—or a bath and a shower—each day. There's nothing like warm water and soapsuds to make you feel fresh and look lovely, even with the temperature rising. (Experts say that a 20-minute soak in warm soapsuds will keep you cool for five or six hours.) Additional tips for feeling fine when it's hot: don't rush, keep calm, and drink lots of liquids.

Want your legs to look glamorous in your new swim suit? Then don't neglect the de-fuzzing. Shaving legs is a simple matter if you first work up a good soapy lather on the skin. Then the razor whizzes right through the suds—and in case you nick the skin, there is less chance of infection if it's clean.

Try mixing a little quick-cooking tapioca with the apples, sugar and other ingredients next time you make that deep-dish apple pie. Serve the pie warm right from the oven with a topping of whipped cream or hard sauce.

A new dishpan made of soft pliable plastic is now on the market, with several features to commend it to homemakers. It muffles the clanging of dishes and silver and won't scratch the kitchen sink. It's unbreakable and won't chip or dent.

Rinse your faded nylon stockings in the special color-restorer you can buy in any five-and-dime store. If you follow the simple instructions, your nylons will look like new again and the color will hold for quite a few washings before it's necessary to repeat the rinse.

Wedding Tip: The bride should avoid using heavy make-up for her photographs. Almost no make-up at all results in the loveliest of bridal pictures.

Unflavored Gelatine Designs Many Foods In Festive Style

The French, and it was a Frenchman who in 1682 first recorded research on gelatine, have long appreciated the decorative touch of foods "en gelée". By appealing to the eye, gelatine creations hold the promise of meal enjoyment.

For a wedding reception, unflavored gelatine gives a decorative touch symbolic of the occasion to ever-popular chicken salad. One ring combines diced cooked chicken with pineapple and celery. The second one has chicken, green pepper and celery in a creamy base. The chicken and other ingredients are fully savored because unflavored gelatine offers no competing taste of its own.

The ring molds used are common in most households, but the salads may be moulded for individual service. The salads can be unmoulded on serving platters some time before the reception if the platters are kept chilled. The rings are filled with mixed greens just before serving time and each guest helps himself or herself to a portion of one or both the salads.

Double Wedding Ring Molds To prepare chicken: 2 4-pound ready-to-cook stewing chickens

Celery tops 2 carrots 1 medium onion, sliced 1 tablespoon salt 1 bay leaf 6 whole cloves

Half cover chicken with boiling water; add celery tops, carrots, onion, salt, bay leaf and cloves. Cover and simmer 1 1/2 hours or until tender. Remove chicken from stock. Chill stock, remove fat; reserve for liquid in moulded salads. When chicken is cool, remove skin, fat, gristle; finely dice meat. YIELD: Approximately 6 cups diced chicken.

Chicken and Pineapple Ring 2 envelopes unflavored gelatine 1 cup cold chicken stock 1 1/2 cups hot chicken stock 1/4 teaspoon salt 3/4 cup lemon juice

1 14-ounce can crushed pineapple, 3 cups diced cooked chicken 1/2 cup diced celery Sprinkle gelatine on cold chicken stock to soften. Add hot stock; stir until gelatine is dissolved. Stir in salt, lemon juice and pineapple. Chill until the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Mix in chicken and celery. Turn into a 5-cup ring mold; chill until firm. Unmould; fill center with salad greens. YIELD: 12 servings.

Chicken and Vegetable Ring 2 envelopes unflavored gelatine 1 1/2 cups cold chicken stock 1/4 teaspoon salt 2 tablespoons lemon juice 1 1/2 cups mayonnaise or salad dressing 3 cups diced cooked chicken 1/3 cup diced green pepper 1 cup diced celery

Sprinkle gelatine in 1 cup of the chicken stock to soften. Place over boiling water; stir until dissolved. Add remaining 1/2 cup chicken stock, salt and lemon juice. Cool, gradually stir into mayonnaise. Mix in chicken, green pepper and celery. Turn into a 5-cup ring mold; chill until firm. Unmould, fill center with salad greens. YIELD: 12 servings.

NOTE: Canned chicken and chicken bouillon cubes dissolved in water may be substituted for chicken and stock. Omit salt.

Thinking Twice May Help Avoid Traffic Accidents On The Road

Nationwide surveys show that one or both of the drivers are at fault in about 75 percent of all fatal traffic accidents.

The best advice, according to the National Safety Council, to avoid a traffic accident during the approaching Fourth of July holiday period, is to think twice—once for yourself and once for the other guy.

With 40 million vehicles—and drivers—jamming the nation's highways during the three-day week-end the chance for driver mistakes will be multiplied many times over the normal accident risk, warned Ned H. Dearborn, council president.

"Traffic accidents don't just happen—they are caused," he said. "They are caused by human indifference, ignorance, recklessness, or lack of plain courteous and decent behavior."

"A car does not go out of control until the driver loses his control over it."

In an effort to reduce the holiday toll, the Council is coordinating a nationwide campaign in which 160 national organizations are participating. The campaign is designed to increase public awareness of the extra holiday hazards on the highways and the extra caution needed to overcome them. It also seeks to help officials, traffic officers and safety leaders in their efforts to reduce traffic accidents over the Fourth.

The Council suggests five points for the Fourth to help balance the extra holiday hazards:

1. Don't drive after drinking—
2. Cut your usual cruising speed 10 miles an hour.
3. Double check before passing or changing lanes.
4. Don't follow the car ahead too closely.
5. Don't compete in traffic—let the other guy go first.

even a little.

Railroads Are Big Buyers of Oil Products

America's railroads are one of the biggest customers of the petroleum industry, according to figures compiled by the Association of American Railroads. The railroad industry spent nearly $400 million for petroleum products in 1953.

This amount topped last year's petroleum expenditures by more than $21 million. The railroads' total bill for all the fuel, materials, and supplies they used in 1953 was a whopping $1.92 billion. Of this amount, $510 million (27 percent) went for fuel.

Fuel for train operations comprised the biggest chunk of the railroads' petroleum purchases, totaling $355 million, or 66 per cent of the total spent by railroads for all kinds of fuel.

Railroad purchases of diesel oil alone in 1953 were $300 million, an increase of $38 million over 1952. The railroads spent an additional $42 million for lubricants, grease, boiler compounds, and other similar products.

The importance of the railroads as a customer of the oil industry is pointed up by the fact that they bought half the diesel oil used in the United States. Dieselization of railroad trains has expanded so rapidly that 80 per cent of all railroad service is now performed by modern diesel locomotives.

Ranger Sending One Fireman to Annual School

Texas cities have saved a total of more than two million dollars in fire insurance ratings over the past 24 years by receiving credit from the State Fire Insurance Commission for sending members of their fire departments to the annual Firemen's Training School of the Texas A&M Engineering Extension Service, according to Col. H. R. Brayton, director of the training school.

Ranger will send at least one member of the fire department to College Station to attend the annual training school which will be held from July 11 to 16, it was announced today.

Brayton made this statement in his report before the annual convention of the State Firemen and Fire Marshals Association in San Antonio. The association is a co-sponsor of the fireman's school, a two-week course which annually attracts hundreds of firemen and representatives of the armed services who wish to learn the latest techniques of firefighting.

Brayton said that the school's major objective, however, is not to reduce insurance rates but to help prevent loss of life and property through training local firemen.

More than 1200 firemen, and fire marshals from all over Texas and other states, in addition to members of the armed services are due to attend this year's 25th Annual Firemen's Training School.

Garage 'Bathhouse'

Your own garage and a few self-adoring plastic hooks and towel bars, such as shown here, provide a handy solution to the problem of where to doff and hang wet swimming suits this summer after a bit of fun in the portable backyard pool or at a nearby beach. Convert a corner of the garage into a "bathhouse" by sticking these handy new hanging aids, known as Selfix, on the wall. Then change from your swimming suits in the garage, where a wet floor is no worry, and hang dripping suits, towels, wash cloths, and bathing caps there to dry. The plastic accessories are easy to stick up simply by moistening their adhesive-coated wood backing with water, then pressing them against the wall.

ROBERT BEEKS DIES IN CAR BRIDGE CRASH

A Cisco man was killed instantly last night when the car he was driving smashed into a bridge seven miles northeast of Cisco on the Cisco-Breckenridge highway. The accident took place near the Eastland-Breckenridge intersection on Highway 6.

Dead is Robert Lee Beeks, 34. He was a dirt moving contractor. Beeks was reported driving alone at the time of the mishap.

Funeral services are pending.

Geiger Counters Used on Allergies

CHICAGO — Geiger counters, originally invented to measure radioactivity, now are on the trail of allergies.

Doctors think they can find out what happens in the body of an allergy victim when he swallows or inhales or touches the substance he is sensitive to, thanks to the counter.

"It is a simple laboratory trick," said Dr. Samuel M. Feinberg, head of allergy research at Northwestern University, "to attach a radioactive iodine molecule to a protein, thus making the protein 'labelled' or 'tagged'."

"Then, when the protein is injected into the system of a guinea pig or a human being, the molecule can be recognized anywhere in the body by the 'click-click' on the magic lanterns of the Geiger counter machine brought near to it."

One of the puzzles in developing a treatment for allergic diseases has been to locate the tissue in the human body where the allergic reaction takes place.

Success Story

--- AND A GOOD TIP FOR YOU ---

WHEN it comes to sales, every car maker aspires to be up at the top of his price class. Which is only natural. Popularity like that means success.

We know, because for years Buick has held such an envied position—the unquestioned sales leader in its class. And with good reasons in styling, room, power, value.

But today, folks like you have pushed Buick success even beyond such bounds.

Today, the top sales standings of a full generation have been changed. Today, latest sales figures for the first four months of 1954 reveal this phenomenal fact:

In total national volume, regardless of price class, Buick is outselling all cars in America except two of the so-called "low-price three."

That's a tip too good to pass up. That's the tip-off that Buick must have the hottest styling of the times and the sweetest performance of the year.

More important, that's the tip-off that Buick prices are well within the reach of more and more people—and that such prices buy a lot more automobile per dollar.

So why not look into the tomorrow-styled Buick that puts you so far ahead today?

Come in, or phone us this week for a demonstration. Then you can judge for yourself that Buick really is the beautiful buy—by far.

'Come A Long Way' Turkey Growers Told

DESEMONA (TNS) — They talked turkey here Thursday night. It was the regular monthly meeting of the Central Texas Turkey Growers Association, held at the J. H. Tidwell turkey farm near Desdemona.

Doing most of the talking was George Draper, supervisor of the Texas Turkey Plan and an associate of Texas A&M. Among the things Draper had to say to the group was, "You Texas growers are producing a quality that will stand up with that of any state. Without that high quality, I don't know where we would be today."

Draper explained that there was no danger of anyone getting the disease by eating an infected bird. A turkey barbecue featured the meeting. Mr. and Mrs. Tidwell played host to the entire group.

of from 20 to 25 people to keep the movement of cattle running smoothly. This includes work from the time they are unloaded by the seller, records made, the animals tagged, through the sales ring and back to the pens from which they are again loaded and hauled away by the persons who have bought them at auction.

Coan, who has operated a livestock auction business each Wednesday in Stephenville, for the past 18 months, started the auction in Ranger in November 1953. He states that the weekly sale day in Ranger has been successful and its popularity is on the increase.

Regular buyers for meat processors make Ranger every Monday. R. V. Galloway, Chamber of Commerce manager, today said the "Ranger Night" at La Grave Field would be a wonderful opportunity to advertise Ranger, and that the larger the group the more advertising Ranger would receive.

Company and Swift, all of Fort Worth; Hormel Packing Company, Dallas and Brooks Packing Company, Sweetwater.

Loy Williams of Ranger is one of the chief assistants to Coan in the management of the Monday sales. The largest single day's run went into the record books of the company on June 7, when 700 head of cattle were sold under the auction gavel. The June 14 sale saw a top price of $22.60 per hundred paid for one calf in the total sales of over 400 head of cattle. Play Program Sponsored At First Baptist

All of the Young People are invited to the "play program" on Tuesday night at 7:30 at the First Baptist Church. The youth program under the leadership of Dick Waters, Walter Arterburn, Glenn West and Rod Carter, president of the Youth Crusade, and the entire membership of the church.

The program is for those who are Christians and those who do not attend any church, or who attend any other church. This is a youth program for the youth of the city.

The program will be sponsored each Tuesday, Saturday, and Sunday nights. A variety of programs are planned a month in advance and the evening is always designed to meet the needs of our youth.

Those between the ages of 13 and 17 are included in this program. The cleavage of age is primarily for the working basis of the activities sponsored. Whole-some recreation, sing-song services, inspirational talks, and Christian movies are featured. Outside speakers with a youth perspective are secured for main services.

Parents may rest assured that the finest Christian laymen are always in attendance at all of these programs. Questionable amusement and activities are not used.

There is no charge and no attempt is ever made for the individuals to change their Christian views. Parents and adults are invited to look in on any of these services at any time. Pastors, and members from other faiths are welcome to look in on the programs.

Planning Meeting Wednesday Night At First Baptist

A special treat is in store for the officers and teachers of the Sunday School department of the First Baptist Church Wednesday night when they get first hand information concerning the program for Sunday School workers in Glorieta during August. These plans will be presented by those who attended the programs last week.

A renewed effort is being made to strengthen the Sunday school forces and thereby prevent a summer slump. Too often during the lazy days of hot summer the tendency is for the nominal churchgoer to relax his spiritual efforts and remain at home. Concerned Christians are called to the Christian colors to undergird the summer programs for Christ.

At 6:30 the officers and teachers will have their first session in a general meeting. Then departmental meetings with the teaching and preview of the next Sunday's Bible lesson.

The hour of inspiration will begin at 7:30 with songs, prayers, and Bible study. Wednesday night belongs to the Master and even the "world" recognizes this mid-week prayer service as important to the welfare of the Kingdoms work. Choir practice will begin at 8:20 and both the Youth Choir and the Adult Choirs are expected to be present.

If you have burdens, problems, or the day seems too heavy to bear, attend the Hour of Inspiration each Wednesday night at the First Baptist Church. You are always welcome.

Mrs. Bruce Is Hostess to YWA Group Monday

The sponsors of this group are Misses. Alvis Wood, Dick Henderson and Jesse White.

The hostess had arranged a table of refreshments consisting of punch, cookies and cake.

Prayer preceded and adjourned the meeting.

Those attending were Misses Barbara Flowers, Deloris Cox, Letty Fraser, Lida Jane Smith, Misses. R. V. Robinson, Walter Arterburn, Wood, White and the hostess, Mrs. Bruce.

Gone Are the Good Old Days—

... when grandfather boasted that he bought bananas at a dime a dozen and his farm from the State with only one deed in the chain of title. Today the chain may contain hundreds of transactions and as it lengthens defects multiply and enlarge. The abstract is the only means yet devised which may reveal these defects and place them in position for correction. That's why more and more people are demanding an abstract when they buy real estate.
