Lost: One freight car of pre-mix topping for a Ranger street.

Somewhere between the shipping point and Ranger somebody has lost a car load of topping for Sinclair street. Les Crossley, city manager, hasn't been able to get it located. Some folks are sure getting absent-minded or extremely careless when something as big as a freight car gets lost. Of course, B. A. Tunnell is of the opinion that someone misplaced the freight car before it got a chance to get into the hands of the T&P folks.

If anyone sees a stray car load of street topping please notify the city manager.

I have found where I can buy a horse collar if I ever need a horse collar. Yes, they have them at Killingsworth's.

It is possible to buy things in Ranger all the way from the horse and buggy age down to the atomic age. You would be surprised at some of the things you can find by browsing around Ranger stores.

Fishing Department.

A scientist says a trout loses

2.4 per cent of its length in death. And then fishermen stretch them!

Fishing forecast: It don't look too good, in fact it will be poor fishing, until about Wednesday, and then it ought to pick up some, and this time next week it might be so good you will have to let them line up to get on the hook.

Here is one old country boy that hopes these eating contests are over.

There is no doubt that C. E. Harper is the current champion when it comes to eating ice cream. He puts me in the shade. I could not keep up with him at all Thursday night.

I ate ice cream, several different flavors, and cake too, until I couldn't eat and yet there was no chance to get ahead of Harper. He just has a better technique. As far as I am concerned he is the champion. Now if anyone wants to challenge him, it would be a pleasure to promote a contest with Harper, and my backing would go to him.

This ice cream eating business sure has odd angles. Thursday night, by the time of the fourth or fifth round, and with me trailing Harper, something happened to the ice cream. Actually the flavor of the ice cream began to fade, and it faded rapidly. When we started I thought Ed Freeman had whipped up some pretty good eating, but it didn't hold its flavor. By the time I fell by the wayside, that ice cream didn't taste very good. Somewhat the same thing had happened on Tuesday night when some claimed I outate Harper on watermelons. The last piece of melon I ate didn't taste as good as the first one, but I thought there might have been a difference in the quality of the melons. However, on the ice cream, Ed Freeman declared it was all made just alike. (Of course in passing it can be said that Mrs. Dempsey made some very excellent ice cream.) But despite the fact that Ed's cream looked alike every time we opened another freezer, the flavor seemed weaker than the one before.

Need A Horse Collar?

Store's Stock Extends From Horse-Buggy To Atomic Age

It has been a short distance, measured in years — from the horse and buggy days to the atomic-hydrogen age.

Friday marked the ninth anniversary of the dawn of the atomic age, the date the first atomic bomb fell on a Japanese city. From the time the first atomic bomb was released from a plane over Japan, the speed of living for man on this earth has been increased many fold.

Gazing upon an item which only a few years ago was a leading line in hardware stores across the country, it was difficult to imagine that a little more than a generation ago, horse collars were an important item in man's most common method of transportation.

A few marks of the horse and buggy days still remain in the sleek, modern and attractive store that is Killingsworth's in Ranger. Fastened to a shelf is a buggy whip holder, and hanging from a nail is a buggy or carriage wrench, an important tool in every family before the gasoline motor came into its own and faster moving automobiles side-tracked horse drawn transportation. Only a few feet away are the fashionable designed electronic household appliances of this age — the television, the automatic electric range, the automatic washer and drier, to name a few.

Despite all the advances of recent years, Floyd Killingsworth says there are still a few calls for both leather and cloth horse collars. They even have a few sets of harness hames, but not a complete set of either wagon or buggy harness. Also, still in stock, are a few double-trees and single trees.

When the "big boom" was on in Ranger, a large part of the store's sales came from items dealing with horses and mule transportation, especially wagons, and heavy harness. What were then considered extremely heavy loads were all moved by horse drawn wagons. The heavy loads of those days, were a mere trifle compared with oil field equipment moved by gasoline and diesel powered trucks of today. Motor trucks in those days were a novelty and today's light pick-ups will haul much heavier loads than the first trucks in the early boom days of Ranger.

In commenting on the changes, Killingsworth said it was interesting to notice that items which a few years ago were important to a store's business are now considered in the antique class, and the leading items of today, were unheard, and in most instances considered fantastic and unreal when Grandpa came in to buy a new set of harness for old Dobbin.

Service Pipe Line Company Plans Series Of Meetings For Employees

A "Let's Talk It Over" program is being sponsored next week in Ranger, it was announced Saturday by R. D. Roff, connection foreman and E. D. White, chief station engineer of the company.

It was stated that the program primarily planned for the company employees will be open to the public, and will feature Dr. Charles O. Lerche, Jr., associate professor of Industrial Science at Emory University of Atlanta, Ga.

The meetings will be held at the Gholson Hotel in Ranger, and those on Tuesday and Friday, August 10 and 13 will begin at 1 p.m. The sessions on Wednesday and Thursday August 11 and 12 are scheduled to begin at 2 p.m.

The program was started last year by the Service Pipe Line Company to give its employees an opportunity to meet in small groups for a series of informal discussions on the American way of life and how it compares with non-democratic countries.

Roff and White said the company sponsored the program for the reason that "when public problems arise we, in this country, like to talk things over with our friends and neighbors. The town meeting once common in our country is almost unheard of today. We believe we can contribute to the country's welfare by making it possible for employees to talk things over."

The coming series of open forum type meetings will be on the theme of foreign affairs and national security, a subject of increasing importance at this time.

Church of Christ 225 South Rusk Remodeling Bldg.

Members of the Church of Christ at 225 South Rusk are making improvements to the front of the building occupied by the church.

Large plate glass windows have been removed from the front, and a new vestibule has been built, with an attractive double doorway. It is planned to refinish and repaint the entrance to the building.

Thomas F. Shropshire, minister, said Saturday that they plan other improvements in the building. Labor for the work is largely contributed by church members.

Lions Are Told Of City Project Using Salt Water

Ranger Lions heard a discussion at the weekly club meeting Thursday noon at the Gholson Hotel on the city's experiment of salt water treatment of an unsewered street. R. V. Galloway, Chamber of Commerce manager, told of the experiment and outlined some of its possibilities as an inexpensive means of obtaining a hard surface on streets and roads.

Oil News—

Two New Wells And Five More Slated In County

Oil activity in Eastland county during the past several days has seen two new producers completed and five additional locations staked.

Both completions were south of Eastland.

The E. C. (Joe) Parsley, trustee, of Olney, No. 1 Guy Parker, in the regular field five miles south of Eastland has been gauged with a daily potential of 26 barrels of 36 gravity oil. It is being pumped from 36 perforations at 1,304-10 feet. It was bottomed at 1,344, and casing set at 1351 feet. Location is in Sec. 30, Blk. 2, H&TC Survey.

Nine miles south of Eastland, Jack Hally, et al of Cisco completed the No. 2 J. V. Harbin with a daily potential of 12 barrels of 40 gravity oil. This well is located in Sec. 10 Blk. 2, H&TC Survey. Pumping from open hole at 1,203-08 feet, it was carrying 50 per cent water. Top of pay was 1,205 feet.

A 4,000-foot well has been staked five miles northwest of Cisco. It is the Bankline Oil Co. No. 8 Lyman Evans. This well will be drilled with rotary rig and is located 3,175 feet from the north and 1,825 feet from the west lines of Sec. 47, Blk. 4, H&TC Survey. In the regular field three and a half miles north of Rising Star, No. 6 G. A. Dunn Jr., 3-5 has been staked 495 feet from the north and 810 feet from the west lines of Sec. 25, Blk. 2, ETR Survey. This 1,200-foot well will be drilled with a rotary rig.

A wildcat listed as L. O. McNeill, et al of Abilene No. 1 Mrs. Lula Webb, et al, is located six miles southeast of Eastland, and has a proposed depth of 1,990, and will use rotary tools. It is staked 350 feet from the north and west lines of the southwest quarter of Sec. 15, Blk. 2, H&TC Survey. A 1,200-foot wildcat test, using cable tools, has been staked four miles northwest of Dedeemona and is listed as the C. F. Fourqurean of Oil Center, N. Mex., No. 1 Able. It is spotted 590 feet from the east and 330 feet from the (Continued on Page Two)

Rail Worker Killed Near Cisco Friday

DUBLIN (TNS) — Funeral services for Roy Oliver Kunkler, 55, who was killed Friday morning, eight miles west of Cisco when he was struck by a Texas and Pacific freight train, will be held Sunday at 2 p.m. in Dublin.

Mr. Kunkler, a resident of Stephenville for the past years, was killed when the engine of a freight train struck a hand car trailer he was attempting to remove from the tracks. Witnesses said Mr. Kunkler, who was a member of a T&P section crew, was with the crew on a motor car and trailer. The crew saw the train approaching from the east and began removing the hand car and trailer from the track. They succeeded in removing the car and got the trailer partly off. Seeing that they could not complete the job, the crew, with the exception of Mr. Kunkler, abandoned it and ran. The fatally injured man apparently was still trying to free the trailer when the engine struck him. He was reported killed instantly.

Mr. Kunkler was born in Duster May 10, 1899 and lived in Dublin most of his life. He moved to Stephenville from Putnam recently. Rev. Dewitt Chandler, pastor of the Putnam Baptist Church, will officiate at services, which will be held at the Harold Funeral Home Chapel. Burial will be in Dublin Cemetery. Wylie Funeral Home of Cisco forwarded the body to Dublin.

Survivors include his wife and two daughters, Anna and Dailley, all of Stephenville.

Ranger Water Use Is Below Peak Period

The City of Ranger is managing to maintain an adequate supply of water in the city storage tower on Eastland Hill, Les Crossley, city manager, said Saturday.

Since water rationing restrictions were lifted a week ago, the water storage problem seems to be under control for the present. Water used by Ranger citizens during the past few days has been below the peak load during most of July. The day-to-day water pumping records at the Lake Hagaman station show the following:

Monday, 701,000 gallons; Tuesday, 701,000 gallons; Wednesday, 810,000 gallons; Thursday, 874,000 gallons; and Friday, 966,000 gallons.

Ranger Firms Have Bargains For D-Day

Ranger Street Job Is Delayed By Missing Car

A misplaced freight car of pre-mix asphalt topping is delaying the finish of paving a 1400-foot portion of Sinclair from Blackwell Road to Cooper Street, Les Crossley, city manager said Saturday.

The city started work on this small paving project about three weeks ago and it has been delayed by reason of a mix-up in the shipping of the topping for the street.

Originally, Crossley said, two cars of the pre-mix had been ordered shipped on a certain date, with two more to follow. This was planned so that it could be handled as fast as it arrived. Instead three cars arrived at one time and the fourth was sidetracked enroute.

When the Sinclair street project is completed it will provide paved surfaces on four sides of the principal portion of the Ranger Junior College.

The city crews have done a considerable amount of patch work on Pine Street paving within the past few days. Crossley said Saturday that early results of the test on the one-fourth mile of salt water treatment of Dedeemona Road has proven satisfactory up to this time. It is the opinion of several who have observed this experiment that it will make a satisfactory hard surface after it is bladed a n d rolled some more.

The salt water treated section is almost dust free compared to the untreated portion of the street, and during the rains of last week it did not get muddy except for a little loose dirt that had not been packed.

Soil Conservation Men Making Study Of Unusual Farm

Two members of the Eastland Soil Conservation Unit saw the result of a revolutionary new idea on building soil fertility with legumes first hand this week. Bill Garner and Jack Leaves were in West Point, Tex. to attend a demonstration on the Clinton Habers farm there.

The two Eastland Soil Conservation workers were given an explanation of how the Texas farmer took a run down farm and in five years turned it into one of the best dry-land productive farms in the state. Habers produced two bales of cotton to the acre without irrigation, and 80 bushels of corn to the acre in a below-normal moisture year.

The same question that enters your mind was also topmost in Garner and Leaves' minds. How does he do it? They wondered and so they found out. Here is how they explained it to a Telegram reporter.

First he perfected a combination fertilizer and seeder. Using a Graham-Home plow, he installed two fertilizer boxes, 20 inches apart. Then he attached his seeders right behind, on the back cross-bar. As he pulls the plow down the rows, a small pivot point opens up a six-inch-deep small furrow; into that trench a band of fertilizer flows; thereupon another attachment covers up the fertilizer; and the planter, right behind that, opens up a shallow trench, right above the covered-up fertilizer. It was with regrets that I had to pass up a second go-round on ice cream Thursday night. Some ladies were kind enough to call and invite me to the Second Baptist Church for more cream if they didn't have enough at the contest. Frankly I couldn't look at ice cream after that deal.
Women may be smart, but sometimes a newspaper editor can outclass them a bit. Gene Baker, publisher of the Garman Progress, in his column, "Peanut Pulls," has publicly explained how he got his wife home early from her vacation trip. He tells it this way:
Last week I received a card from Theresa which said, I am having a wonderful time in California - wish you were here."
I answered, "I'm having a wonderful time too, glad you are not here." Theresa arrived home Tuesday (a week early).
No doubt this move on the part of the Garman publisher reduced vacation expenses too.
My special correspondent from Mysight says he heard someone say, "If you don't think the dollar's worth anything today, just try to collect some that are owed you." Well, cousin, maybe he has something at that.

Clinton's rows are 40 inches apart and the boxes are only 20. What he is actually doing is planting on the sides of the bed instead of on the top. The top he leaves untouched until later when he plants his cotton there.
The legumes quickly grow to the fertilizer with the top growth spreading over the top of the furrow and the bed, blanketing it completely and making his field a complete mass of green.
The top of the bed, the eventual money-crop planting area, is still free of vines. And the soil under the covering stays moist and mellow. A short while before corn-planting time, Clinton knives the roots, using a disc cultivator, with sixteen 18-inch discs to the row. The discs are set almost straight, but each section is set at a slope to follow the pattern of the side of the bed. This operation cuts the roots of the vetch without disturbing the top of the bed.
When time comes to plant corn,

Job As Baby Sitter Led To Citizenship For WAC In Texas

In 1947 a young German girl broke her date with a boy friend to do an American couple a favor. Unknowingly she had taken the first step toward American citizenship. Toni Stephan, now a private in the Women's Army Corps, was dressed and ready to leave her home in Karlsruhe, Germany, when the Americans, Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Thornhill of (908 Whittier St.,) Akron, Ohio, asked her to baby sit with their daughter, Lois. It was an emergency and Toni was happy to cancel her date and help.

Three years later, the Thornhills, now back home in Akron, had an opportunity to return the favor. Fluent in English and a good secretary at American Red Cross headquarters, Toni had one ambition — to come to the United States. She waited patiently for her place on the immigration quota.

However, she needed sponsors, people who would vouch for her and stand ready to help her in this country. She remembered the Thornhills, whom she had come to know well after the baby-sitting incident. She wrote them. They had not forgotten. They were delighted to sponsor her and offer her their home address in Akron.

First Baptist Announcements

This is the last Sunday before the big two-week-tent revival begins. A special sermon is planned for the eleven o'clock service. "The Right Kind of A Friend." This message is a Christian challenge from the throne of Grace and from the teachings of Jesus. The tenth chapter of the Gospel according to Luke will be the scriptural basis for the message.

Sunday school attendance was up last Lord's day and we hope that there will be an increase this day. Teachers, officers, and other workers are most anxious for the attendance to go back towards the 400 mark.

Sunday night will find a renewed Training Union program. After a most successful Training Union work shop the directors are expecting a big attendance of over 200. Training Union is for all members and visitors. The pastor will bring a message at 8 p.m. using the theme, "Christ's Call To Service." Christ's first call is to the sinner, when the sinner accepts the call of Jesus to Salvation and is regenerated by the power of God, then the call is to follow him. Hear this message Sunday night.

"When the citizens of our community become conscious of Sunday belonging to the Lord Jesus, then and then only will there be an opportunity for his people to receive all that God has given to us in Salvation," states Rev. Perkins. The Nursery is always open for the services. Trained and efficient women care for the babies. There are germicidal lamps that burn and thereby prevent any contagious diseases. All beds are disinfected, and changed with fresh linens after each using.

There is always a welcome for visitors and those who have no church home in this area.

Christian Science

How the individual can find true joy, health, and courage through gaining a spiritual understanding of God will be explained at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Spirit" is the Golden Text from Galatians (5:22, 23): "The fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance: against such there is no law."

The blessings bestowed on man by God, divine Spirit, will also be brought out in reading from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, including the following (7:28-30): "Spirit blesses man, but man cannot tell whence it cometh. By it the sick are healed, the sorrowing are comforted, and the sinners are reformed."

From the Bible, the following passage will be among those read (John 4:24): "God is a Spirit; and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth."

BOOK of LIFE

Is my name written there?

Am I ready for the roll call? Am I listed in "Who's Who of America?" Does Dun & Bradstreet have my rating correct?—WHAT IS LIFE? Could I mistakenly think it is just a crashing of the upper "400"? No! Friend, Life is much more than that. IT IS A PERIOD TO MAKE READY... TO GO TO CHURCH... TO ACKNOWLEDGE GOD. Life is a "sheet of paper white, whereon each one of us may write his word or two and then comes night." IS MY NAME WRITTEN THERE?

from a Queen Ann's cap. The gown was an original, fashioned by her mother. She carried a bouquet of feathered carnations centered with a white orchid. The bride carried the old tradition of something old, new, borrowed and blue. She wore her great-great grandmother's wedding band, which was hand carved in Germany 210 years ago and a pair of white earrings borrowed from Miss Charlotte Rose. Her garters were blue and she wore a lucky penny in her white kid slipper.

The bride's only attendant, the maid of honor, wore a gown of pink daisy lace and carried a bouquet of pink feathered carnations. Airman Arthur Hart of Wolters Air Force Base, Mineral Wells, was best man.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held for the thirty close friends and relatives attending. The bride's chosen colors of pink and white were carried out in the decorations.

BETTI'S BUDGET OF HELPFUL HINTS

The proper way to wash plastic handbags and shoes is to use "dry" soap. Whip up a lot of soap with very little water until the suds stand up stiff, then dab some on a clean cloth or sponge, and go over the soiled surface. Wipe quickly with a damp-dry rinse cloth, then with a dry cloth. Wash off the slightest smudge as soon as it appears and these summer accessories will always be clean.

Here is an interesting sauce to serve with cold ham, tongue or corned beef. Beat one cup of heavy cream until very stiff. Add—and beat in—1/4 cup drained, prepared horseradish. Press out the juice before mixing with the cream, and then add a little salt for flavor. Freeze until firm. Cut into small cubes and serve with your cold meat.

The enamel on your sink is acid resistant, but not acid proof, so long exposure to acid foods will pit it. After you've been preparing tomatoes or acid fruit at the sink, always be sure to suds it and rinse well when you're finished.

If you want to serve something different to your unexpected guests, mix a few coarsely chopped walnuts or pecans with a cheese spread, and serve it on potato chips.

What to do to make yourself more comfortable on a hot day? Believe it or not, the best cooler is a lukewarm bath. Cold water will only stimulate you; therefore it has a heating effect and should be avoided. Bath time is a wonderful time for not only relaxation, but for a round of beauty routines designed to keep your complexion soft and lovely.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Miss Gwen Gaye Anderson, and Mr. Hurley was his son's best man.

After the wedding a reception
