The emergency March of Dimes for the National Infantile Paralysis Foundation is going to be a brief one, and for that reason the appeal for funds should be met by an immediate response. This will not be an elaborate drive, nor will it be prolonged, but there is dire need for additional money with which to carry on the work. This includes care and treatment for existing cases of polio, and preparation for unknown numbers of cases in the future, as well as research for a means of combatting the disease, and efforts to halt its spread through mass vaccinations.

Jess Cole points out that there is no quota set for the county. He also reminds you that there is a need in the local county treasury of the foundation for money. This drive like all other drives for the National Infantile Paralysis Foundation leaves fifty cents of every dollar received in the local chapter. This gives the local workers funds with which to meet emergency conditions.

When you get a special letter in the mail from the local March of Dimes headquarters, hurry and mail it back to them with some dimes, and better still, if you can do so make it some dollars.

Citizens of Ranger were generous and immediate in their response to an appeal for cash to aid Mrs. C. S. Maddux following the polio attack on both of her children. This is a case where neighborly thoughtfulness was in order. It is that kind of spirit which helps make Ranger a wonderful place in which to live. To the knowledge of this writer there were people who could not really afford to help, who contributed to this fund.

Ranger's Civic Affairs Committee with W. F. Creager as chairman, has started the work on an ambitious program for civic improvement. This is a program which merits the cooperation of every individual in Ranger, and it is going to require the united spirit of a community on the whole to fully accomplish it. This long-range program of civic development at a glance looks like a gigantic task, but with the entire citizenship lending support to the leaders who are planning the various phases of it, the accomplishments can be much quicker than you might think.

The heart of any alert, wide-awake community is the civic pride of its citizens. Some call it home town loyalty; others say it is bragging, or boastfulness. Call it what you may, but in order for any city, town, or community to be built to grow and expand, the citizens must be "sold" on the place. That doesn't mean a few, or a working minority, it means that the vast majority must be ready to unite and cooperate in order to put across a program for the betterment of the community—something that will add to the attractiveness of making Ranger a still better place in which to live.

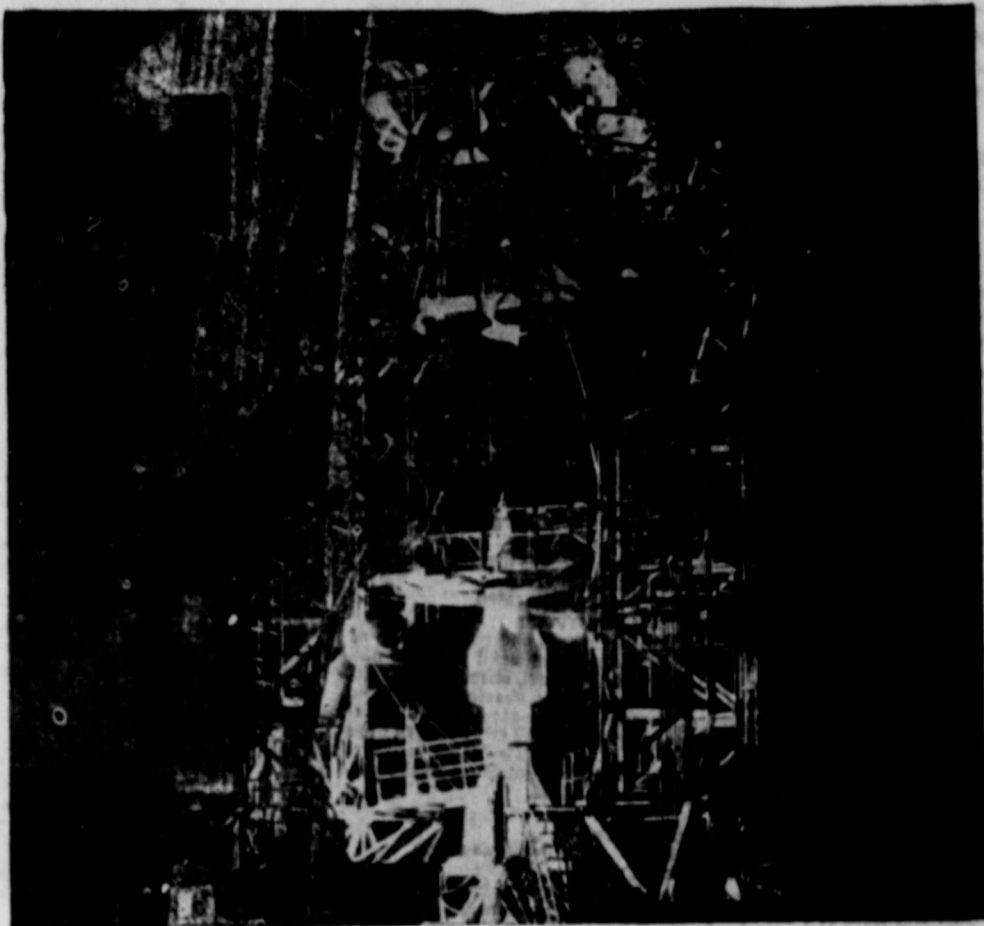

Won't you now promise yourself that when the time comes you will agree to do your part to help make Ranger more attractive to the casual visitor, the newcomer, or folks who have been here a long time. When the time comes to launch the civic improvement program in its several phases, it is going to take a lot of help from a lot of people. It can be accomplished by a little time and work by each of us.

DONATIONS TO MADDUX FUND REACHES $217

A total of $125.20 in cash donations to the Maddux fund from three collections points, The Chamber of Commerce, the 500 Cleaners and The Ranger Times, was delivered to Mrs. C. S. Maddux Saturday. This amount, together with the $92.50 reported from the Second Baptist Church "love offering" for Mrs. Maddux, made a total of $217.70.

Contributors to the fund since the report of Thursday, August 12, included, Mrs. R. A. Jameson, Jack Donohue, J. E. Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Urban, A. F. Stephens, and Mark Calhoun.

Mrs. Maddux at home for a few hours Saturday reported that both Robert and Mary Jane, who are stricken with polio at the Hendricks Memorial Hospital at Abilene, were showing some improvement. Attending physicians have advised her that both children will require treatment for a long time, and it is likely that both children will show some effects of paralysis from the disease.

The first bale of cotton of the 1954 crop has been pulled and hauled to Ranger to be ginned. It was grown by Frank Penn, a Ranger City Commissioner, who is farming 24 acres in cotton east of the city limits.

W. F. Creager said the cotton was hauled to the gin yard late Monday and in advance of the gin being ready to receive it. The gin plant is scheduled to be ready for operation within a few days and the cotton will be ginned at the time.

Penn will receive the $50 cash award of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, R. V. Galloway, manager said this morning, as a bonus for bringing the first 1954 bale of cotton to Ranger. The presentation will be made to Mr. Penn at one of the civic club meetings, either the Lions or Rotary club, after the cotton has been ginned.

It was estimated that there is about 1,700 pounds of lint cotton in the first picked bale brought to Ranger and Mr. Creager today estimated that it would gin out about a 500 bale.

Penn began pulling the cotton last week and covered an estimated 15 acres to get the first bale. It is early planted, cotton, and due to the heat and drought conditions the early bolls matured rapidly.

The first bale for 1954 reached the gin two weeks and a day earlier than the first bale of cotton from the 1953 crop. The first bale last year came from the farm of H. H. V. Ables, Route 2, Ranger, and in the Salem Community.

It was stated that the Penn farm last year produced cotton averaging approximately a half bale per acre, but this year's crop is expected to be considerably less, due to the prolonged hot, dry weather this summer.

SHORT BALLOT FACES COUNTY VOTERS IN SECOND PRIMARY; ABSENTEE VOTES BEING CAST

Qualified voters, who are eligible to cast an absentee ballot, have until Aug. 24, to vote in the Democratic run-off primary election on Aug. 28.

The run-off ballot, both for state and local offices, will be a short one. Only three places for state offices, one district, one county, and one precinct are on the ballots to be cast by voters in the immediate area around Ranger. There will be two run-off races for the office of Constable in Precincts Five and Seven.

Only one name, that of Lloyd W. Davidson, will appear on the run-off primary ballot for the office of Court of Criminal Appeals. Davidson did not get a majority over three opponents in the first primary and a run-off was declared necessary, but his nearest opponent did not desire to make the run-off campaign and the one name is required to legally elect him.

The ballot for Eastland County on the whole will show the following:

For Governor: Allan Shivers; Ralph W. Yarborough.

For Supreme Court of Texas: (Place 1) Few Brewster; Alfred M. Scott.

For Court of Criminal Appeals: Lloyd W. Davidson.

For State Representative, 76th District: Omar Burkett; Paul Brashers.

For County Sheriff: J. Frank Tucker; J. E. Williams.

In Commissioners Precinct One, candidates in the run-off for this office are Frank Castleberry and J. E. "Tip" Arther.

In Constable Precinct Five, (Gorman and vicinity), Tom Greer and V. E. Overstreet, are in the run-off for that office.

In the other run-off race in Eastland County for Office of Constable in Precinct Seven (Rising Star and vicinity), Sex Hulin and R. B. "Blake" Forehand are the candidates.

Services Held Sunday In Cisco For Mrs. Carey

Funeral services were held at the Hamner Funeral Home in Cisco Sunday afternoon, Aug. 15, for Mrs. C. C. Carey who died at 4:30 p.m. Saturday at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Albert Harris, in Ranger. Rev. Ralph Perkins, pastor of the Mrs. Baptist Church in Ranger, officiated. Burial was in the Gungstier cemetery.

Pallbearers were Mrs. Carey's grandsons, Guy Roy Doolan, C. W. Doolan, Buddy Doolan, Wilson Doolan and Lyndall Carey of Colorado City and Ray Carey of Eastland.

She is survived by her husband, C. C. Carey of Cisco; six sons, C. F. of Floydada, J. C. and H. A. of Colorado City, J. A. of Belton, and M. C. and M. L. of Cisco; three daughters, Mrs. G. A. Doolan of Colorado City and the two in Ranger; 44 grandchildren and 26 great grandchildren.

Lone Star Honors Three Men For 10 Years of Service

Three Eastland County men have this month completed 10 years of service in continuous employment with the Lone Star Gas Company, it was announced today. Each of the men have been presented with the company's award signifying the 10 years of service.

Those who began work with Lone Star 10 years ago, are, Luther A. Moody, repairman, Joe E. Smith, assistant storekeeper, both of Ranger, and Joe F. Tow, production foreman of Eastland.

An absentee ballot may be cast in person, or by mail. In order to be eligible for voting absentee, a person must be either ill or disabled, or may expect to be out of the county and away from his voting precinct on election day. In either case a voter must sign an application for the absentee ballot. If he is physically unable to write, the application may be signed by some other person at the voter's request.

If an absentee ballot is cast in person it may be done at the office of the County Clerk at the courthouse during regular office hours before the closing date on absentee balloting.

In requesting an absentee ballot by mail, the individual voter is required to forward his poll tax receipt or exemption to the County Clerk. In case it may have been lost or misplaced, an affidavit to that effect may be filed.

When an absentee ballot is cast by mail it must be sworn to before a notary public.

Absentee voters who are ill or physically disabled must accompany their application for a ballot with a statement from a physician certifying to their inability to go to the polls and vote.

Voters who were 60 years of age prior to Jan. 1, 1953 and who do not live in a city with a population of 10,000 or more are not required to have either a poll tax receipt or an exemption certificate. If such persons apply for absentee ballot their sworn application should include the statement that they are exempt due to their age.

At Freeman the oil will be delivered into Service Pipe Line's big-inch syol production in the Denver-Julesburg Basin of Colorado and Nebraska; the Powder River Basin ten for transportation to refineries in Kansas City, Wood River, and Chicago areas, and to other connecting pipe lines.

Similar demonstrations are being conducted by Miss McNair this week in Gorman and De Leon.

FAIR AND CONTINUED HOT THROUGH Wednesday.

The Emergency March of Dimes drive in Ranger was opened Monday, with an appeal for funds by mail. M-Sgt. Jess Cole, chairman of the Eastland County Chapter for the National Infantile Paralysis Foundation, said this morning that almost 5,000 letters of solicitation would be in the mail by noon today. The special drive is scheduled to end, Aug. 31.

Shepperd Reviews Voting Laws For Men In Service

AUSTIN (Sp.)—Former members of the Armed Forces, the U. S. Maritime Service or the U. S. Merchant Marine who have been active duty within the last 18 months are entitled to vote in the August 28 run-off primary without the payment of the poll tax, according to a ruling by Attorney General John Ben Shepperd.

Shepperd said the waiver also applies to any person who is now on extended active duty as a member of any of the reserve components of the Armed Forces, a selective service draftee, a member of the National Guard, the U. S. Maritime Service or the U. S. Merchant Marine.

The Texas Constitution prohibits its members of the "regular" military establishments from voting. Voters covered by Shepperd's ruling are not required to accompany their application for an absentee ballot by either a poll tax receipt or an exemption certificate, though the county clerk may require the voter to make a statement setting forth his military status.

history, and the tremendously costly new program of polio prevention additional funds, and an envelope which can be used in forwarding contributions to the local chapter.

In addition, coin canisters are being displayed in stores throughout Ranger and Eastland County and contributions can be deposited in these.

The coin holders carry a picture of a small girl in an iron lung, symbolizing the thousands of polio patients whose lives depend on the March of Dimes help. At the time the picture was taken the child relied on the huge respirator for every breath she drew. Today, thanks to care made possible by the March of Dimes, she can romp with other children.

"There is no county quota, but we have a goal of trying to assist as much as possible," Cole said in a radio talk Monday. The National Foundation needs at least $20 million in order to carry on this heavy program.

Cole said today that if $2,000 were raised in this brief drive that this would mean only $1,000 to the national headquarters, with the other half remaining in the funds of the local chapter. He said that during 1953, this chapter alone gave assistance and aid to 12 patients with the expenditure of $3,800.

"When we are hit with polio, the burden is heavy and often treatment is prolonged," Cole said. "Many will recall that during 1951 our funds ran out, and $9,000 came back to Eastland County from national headquarters. It is a case of everyone doing what they can to battle this silent, crippling disease, which never gives warning before the victims are stricken. Some counties in Texas are now without polio funds, and others are going to their rescue with finances because the national funds are exhausted. This is a time when we all need to help one another."

The appeal for aid to the Emergency March of Dimes points out that the historic attempt to prevent polio through the development of a trial vaccine and the use of gamma globulin will require many millions of dollars in this year alone if the fight is to be successful.

This unprecedented drain on funds has come at a time when tens of thousands of patients are desperately in need of the costly care that will help them to walk again.

And, most disturbing, the appeal continues, polio epidemics once again are a flame in countless communities which depend upon the March of Dimes for iron lungs, medical personnel and financial assistance.

Cole said that any person who wants to help in this emergency drive, who may not get a letter, can mail their contributions directly to the Emergency March of Dimes, Box 104, Ranger.

Airy Coffee Chiffon Pie Hits New Summer High

Cool and with the lightness of air whipped in, chiffon pies are beautiful to look at and delicate to taste. They provide a fancy food touch to any party entertaining yet are easy to make. This one achieves a sophisticated coffee flavor with instant coffee and an envelope of unflavored gelatine and beaten egg for its fluffy mocha filling. An easy crust is fashioned of chocolate cookie crumbs, butter and sugar... no baking necessary. Unflavored gelatine and chiffon fillings are just naturally associated. When the gelatine custard mixture is folded into beaten egg whites, each little air bubble becomes encased and held by the gelatine.

COUNTY SHIVERS SUPPORTERS TOLD AIKEN BACKS GOVERNOR

Men and women from over the county and some from other parts of the state were present Monday afternoon at a meeting in the County Courthouse in the interest of Governor Shivers. Placards, stickers, and pennants were distributed and literature read in behalf of the re-election of the present governor. Judge Bill Wright of Cisco presided and among other comments was the following one, written by A. M. Aiken, Jr. of the well-known Gilmer - Aiken school law team, of Paris: "Governor Shivers has had the best interests of our public schools at heart throughout his distinguished career of public service. The Governor and I have, at times, disagreed over the details involved in bringing about the improvements we both were seeking in the public school system, but I have never doubted, for one moment, his sincerity, his integrity or his ability. The special session of the Legislature he called early this year to give our teachers a pay increase demonstrated once again his fine statesman-like leadership, of which all Texans should be proud. We are going to need Governor Shivers' leadership more than ever during the next two years and I am proud to give him my whole-hearted support." Judge Wright read the statement from an ad in volume 38 of "The Texas Outlook" for July, 1954.

Port Arthur Group To Visit

A caravan composed of citizens of Port Arthur will be in Eastland at 7 a.m. Wednesday to "tell their story." The group will hold their meeting in the courthouse at that time. They will tell of "communist infiltration" into Port Arthur unions. Port Arthur was crippled by a "red-led strike" just a few months ago. A spokesman said the public is invited. Miss Florence Ashcraft has returned from Glen Rose, where she served as counselor at the Methodist Youth Camp at Glen Lake.

APPELLATE COURTS INSURE JUSTICE

The institution of appellate courts, of which the U.S. Supreme Court is the highest, illustrates how America has tackled the problem of attaining justice. The idea of justice in the abstract is difficult to come by. It is perhaps even more difficult to translate into human conduct and apply in the settlement of individual cases.

How does a case come before an appellate court? If you and your neighbor have a dispute over the property line between your two lots, you would be foolish to go to court for a settlement if you did not believe that right was on your side. Therefore, practically every civil action that comes before a trial court originates in an honest difference of opinion as to what the law or the facts of the case are.

But right cannot be on both sides; so one or the other of the litigants must be mistaken. When you seek legal counsel on such a question, it frequently happens that your lawyer will advise you not to go to court. Only a relatively small percentage of cases reach trial. The law is clear enough so that among the millions of transactions taking place in the country only a relative few ever result in lawsuits.

But suppose you and your lawyer have decided that your case has enough merit to warrant going to court. The facts on both sides are presented, the lawyers on both sides argue the merits of their clients' cases and the court is then called upon to render a decision. In some cases this decision will be based on findings of a jury. The vast majority of the cases are settled then and there with the decision of the trial judge.

Put judges, like all of us, are human, and the law is complicated and subject to varied interpretation. At times the trial judge may err in admitting or evaluating the facts, or in interpreting the law applicable to the facts. Under such circumstances your case may be appealed to an appellate court.

Some states have no intermediate courts between the trial court and the state Supreme Court. In such states a case from District Court is appealed directly to the Supreme Court, the highest court of appeal in the state.

In Texas, cases are appealed from a District Court to one of eleven Courts of Civil Appeals. Sometimes the judgment of the latter court is final, as in ordinary divorce cases not involving property. But, if the case meets certain requirements it may be further appealed to the Supreme Court of Texas. Criminal cases are appealed directly from the District Court to the Court of Criminal Appeals, which is the highest state court in criminal matters.

Federal cases are appealed from a U.S. District Court to a Circuit Court of Appeals and from there to the Supreme Court of the United States, provided the latter will assume jurisdiction of the matter.

When you appeal your case, you ask that the error you believe you have found be corrected. If it was an error, that is what will happen—the trial judge's decision will be reversed.

Sometimes the courts are compelled to decide a question one way because the law says so, but the results bring to light serious defects on the existing law. When such an injustice is discovered, the legislature may remedy the defect by passing laws to correct it.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts because the facts may change the application of the law.)

OF EASTLAND COUNTY: HERE ARE THE FACTS CONCERNING MR. BURKETT AND YOUR 91ST DISTRICT COURT

On Monday, August 9, in a radio address over Station KERC at Eastland, Mr. Burkett, in discussing his position on the court matter, made the following statement:

"I introduced in the regular session of the 53rd Legislature a bill that was recommended by the State Bar Association, the Eastland County Bar Association, and the Administration Committee, to redistrict the State into as nearly equal judicial districts as possible."

It is difficult to imagine why Mr. Burkett would make such a statement when the proceedings of the Legislature reveal that House Bill No. 565, being the bill sponsored by the State Bar Association, was offered by Honorable J. M. Kilgore of McAllen and Honorable Hulon Brown of Midland.

This bill was introduced on March 10, 1953 and provided among other things for the abolishing of the 91st District Court and attaching Eastland County to the 90th District Court. After many amendments, this bill, being House Bill No. 565, was finally passed by the House on April 28, 1953. Mr. Burkett voted for its passage which, if it had become the law, would have abolished the 91st Court and would have joined Eastland County to the 90th District. This bill provided for the abolishing of two district courts and the creation of ELEVEN new ones.

It is difficult to imagine why this action on the part of Mr. Burkett would appeal to the public as a measure of economy, which he so consistently preaches during his campaign. This bill as passed by the House was not favorably received by the Senate and when all of the facts were submitted to the Senate Judiciary Committee, at considerable expense on the part of the attorneys of Eastland, Stephens and Young Counties, that Committee amended the House bill so as to restore the 91st Court to its original status. The bill finally died in the closing days of the Legislature without being enacted.

To determine the attitude of Mr. Burkett so far as it relates to the 91st Court, it is only necessary to refer to the proceedings of the 53rd session of the Legislature which reveals that on February 26, 1953, Mr. Burkett introduced House Bill No. 269 to abolish outright the 91st District Court and to join Eastland County to the 90th District Court. This bill was introduced on Thursday, February 26, 1953 and the first intimation that Judge Collier, or anyone interested in the 91st Court, had of its being introduced, was on Monday morning, March 2nd when it appeared in the public press.

When this information reached the friends of the Court, the officers and attorneys of Eastland County requested that the interested parties be given notice of the date of the hearing on the bill in order that they might be present. Judge Collier was informed through a friend of his in the Legislature that Mr. Burkett had advised him that the hearing on the bill would be held at 7:30 p.m. the following evening.

To verify the date, Judge Collier talked with the Chairman of the Committee on the same day at 5:00 p.m. and was advised at that time by the Chairman of the Committee that the bill had been set down three days previously for hearing on that very day at 2:00 p.m.; that the bill had already passed out of the Committee with the assurance of Mr. Burkett that all the interested parties had been duly notified.

The bill was heard by the Committee some thirty-six hours earlier than was expected and without the people of Eastland County having an opportunity to be heard on it.

After the Committee had passed out the bill, and while it was pending before the House, a petition, signed by 1855 citizens of Eastland County, including all of the attorneys of Eastland County except two, was presented to Mr. Burkett, requesting him to withdraw the bill. This effort on the part of the citizens of Eastland County was totally disregarded by Mr. Burkett, who later was able to secure its passage by the House.

When Mr. Burkett's bill reached the Senate, that body was not friendly toward his attitude and his activities and refused to give consideration to the bill and permitted it to die in committee.

Had it been a matter of economy on the part of Mr. Burkett, it would seem that instead of offering a bill to abolish the 91st Court which was within his representative district, he could have just as easily and economically offered a bill to attach other counties to the 91st District and have permitted the 91st Court to remain. The whole activity of Mr. Burkett in connection with the 91st Court reveals clearly to an unprejudiced mind that there was something more than economy that prompted his action in offering this bill.

House Bill No. 269 introduced by Mr. Burkett is the only bill offered or sponsored by him abolishing the 91st Court. He states, however, in his radio speech that he had introduced a bill recommended by the Eastland County Bar Association as above quoted. Certainly, Mr. Burkett is in error in this statement since the Eastland County Bar Association has never recommended any such bill. The Eastland County Bar Association is wholeheartedly in favor of the continuance of the 91st District Court and last year unanimously passed a resolution to that effect.

"Section 11-h. (a) The State Building Commission is hereby created. Its membership shall consist of the Governor, the Attorney General and the Chairman of the Board of Control. The Legislature may provide by law for some other State official to be a member of this Commission in lieu of the Chairman of the Board of Control, and in the event said State official has not already been confirmed by the Senate as such State official he shall be so confirmed as a member of the State Building Commission in the same manner that other State officials are confirmed.

(b) The State Building Fund is hereby established, and the first day of January following the adoption of this amendment, and each year thereafter, the Comptroller of Public Accounts shall certify to the State Treasurer the amount of money necessary for the ensuing calendar year as provided by the constitution and laws of this State. Thereupon, such year the State Treasurer shall transfer forthwith from the Confederate Pension Fund to the State Building Fund all money except that needed to pay the Confederate pensions as certified by the Comptroller of Public Accounts in self-selecting. The State Building Fund shall be expended by the Commission upon appropriation by the Legislature for the use and purposes set forth in subsection (c) hereof.

(c) Under such terms and conditions as may be hereafter provided by law, the Commission may acquire necessary real and personal property, necessary equipment, supplies, materials, fuel, and other things, and may employ such persons and negotiate and make contracts necessary to carry out and effectuate the purposes herein mentioned.

The second major structure erected from the State Building Fund shall be the State office building and shall be used by whatever State agencies as may be provided by law.

Under such terms and conditions as may hereafter be provided by law, the State Building Commission may expend not exceeding five (5%) percent of the moneys available to it in any one year, for the purpose of erecting memorials to the Texans who served in the Armed Forces of the Confederate States of America. Such memorials may be upon battlefields or other suitable places within or without the boundaries of this State. The authorization for expenditures for memorials herein mentioned shall cease as of December 31, 1955.

"Under such terms and conditions as may hereafter be permitted by law, the State Building Commission may expend not exceeding thirty thousand ($30,000) Dollars in the aggregate for the purpose of erecting memorials to the Texans who served in the Armed Forces of the Republic in the Texas War for independent battlefields, in cemeteries, or other suitable places within or without the boundaries of this State. The authorization for expenditures for memorials herein mentioned shall cease as of December 31, 1955.

"(4) The State ad valorem tax on property of Two (2) Cents on the One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars valuation now levied under Section 51 of Article III of the Constitution, as amended by Section 17, of Article VII (adopted in 1947) is hereby specifically levied for the purposes of continuing the payment of Confederate pensions as provided under Article III, Section 51, and for the establishment and maintenance of the State Building Fund hereby created.

"(5) Should the State Legislature enact a law or laws in anticipation of the adoption of this amendment, such shall not be invalid by reason of their anticipatory character.

"Sec. 2. The foregoing amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of Texas at the general election to be held throughout the State on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1954, and the ballot thereon favoring such amendment shall have printed or written on their ballot the following:

"FOR the amendment transferring that portion of the Confederate Pension Fund not needed for the payment of Confederate pensions to the State Building Fund to be used for the payment of Confederate pensions as provided by law, and also permitting not more than six (6%) percent of such fund to be used for memorials for Texans who served in the Texas Republic and Confederate States.

"These amendments shall have printed or written on their ballot the following:

"AGAINST the amendment transferring that portion of the Confederate Pension Fund not needed for the payment of Confederate pensions to the State Building Fund to be used for the payment of Confederate pensions as provided by law, and also permitting not more than six (6%) percent of such fund to be used for memorials for Texans who served in the Texas Republic and in the armed forces of the Confederate States.

"Sec. 3. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamations for such election, and shall have the amendment published as required by the Constitution and laws of the State of Texas.

BETTY'S BUDGET OF HELPFUL HINTS

Manufacturers are constantly improving washday equipment and the latest help is a pulley-type clothesline that eliminates pins, poles, and grips. A zipper arrangement opens the line so you can slip in a corner of the cloth and then it closes again as you run the line out. When the clothes are dry, and the line is reeled in, the clothes automatically drop into a basket placed underneath.

Roasts may be salted before, during or after cooking since salt penetrates less than one-half inch.

Causing for someone on a sugar-free diet? All fruits can be successfully canned without this sweetening since the sugar is used to improve the flavor of the product and does not keep it from spoiling.

We should eat liver in some form once a week regularly, nutritionists tell us. This recipe requires one and one-half pounds of low-cost beef liver as the basis of a delicious casserole dish:

Cook three slices bacon until crisp and remove from skillet. Drain slices of beef liver in flour and brown in hot bacon fat. Line casserole with one cup diced celery, three or four small carrots cut across into rounds and one small onion, minced. Place browned liver slices over vegetables and crumble crisp bacon over top. Add a half cup of boiling beef stock, leftover chicken broth or bouillon. Cover casserole. Cook slowly in oven at 300 degrees for one hour. Bake potatoes right along with this, to get extra mileage out of the oven heat.

As a general rule, the newer fabrics — such as nylon, Dacron, Orlon, Dynel, Acrilan — don't require long immersion or action to come clean in soapsuds. The reason is that soil doesn't penetrate these "test tube" fibers and is easily washed off the surface.

Try combining sliced cucumber and tomatoes with pork chops for a meal that's easily pan-fried on the top burner of your gas range. Cut both the cucumber and tomatoes into one-half-inch slices; dip in cornmeal and fry with cornmeal-coated pork chops until both sides are browned. Then cover, and cook 20 minutes or until meat is done and vegetables are tender. Remove cover just before meat is ready to serve.

Drain 3-4 cup canned, crushed pineapple and heat with one cup of maple-blended syrup. Nothing tastes better when poured over tangy lemon sherbet.

Windstorm Fails To Halt Service At Tent Revival

The windstorm damage late Sunday afternoon to the large tent being used for the Cliff Brannon revival services sponsored by the First Baptist Church in Ranger, was only minor, Rev. Ralph Perkins, pastor, said today.

It was described by some as being a freak whirlwind that collapsed the tent around 5 p.m. Sunday. The tent was damaged some, but repairs are being completed today. It did not delay the start of the Sunday night services, Rev. Perkins said, as the tent was hoisted into place and the chairs were rearranged for the services to begin on time.

The tent revival opened on Sunday night. It is being directed by the Cliff Brannon evangelistic group, and Rev. Perkins today stated that there had been large crowds at all services, many of whom had come from other places to attend.

The tent is located on the baseball field at the playing field at the athletic park on West Walnut and Hodges Streets. Rev. Perkins stated that the grounds are sprinkled, eliminating dust for the comfort of those attending the services.

Gas Producers Ask Suspension Of FPC Order

AUSTIN (Sp.) — The Federal Power Commission has been petitioned to suspend its "completely unwarranted" order freezing field prices of natural gas sold by independent producers into interstate commerce pending a "hearing to determine producer-by-producer whether they are in fact 'natural gas companies' within the meaning of the Natural Gas Act." The order resulted ostensibly from the June 7 decision of the Supreme Court holding that Phillips Petroleum Company is subject to FPC regulation.

Jack Woodward of Dallas, president of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association, said the order "constitutes an effective denial of the 'due process of law' guaranteed private citizens by our Constitution." A TIPRO survey, he said, shows that "many if not most independent producers, in the absence of the traditional notice and hearing, lack the understanding and legal assurance required to comply with the difficult requirements made of them by Order No. 174."

The Association requested that a hearing scheduled for November 4 on the escalation and favored nation clause proposal "be broadened to include questions and problems arising out of the Commission's Order No. 174 freezing natural gas prices in the field and prescribing regulations governing the filing of rate schedules and applications for certificates of public convenience and necessity by producers and gatherers."

Woodward said most oil attorneys so far have declined to offer affirmative counsel until additional clarification is made. "It seems to us inevitable that should the Commission fail to suspend or amend its order, an intolerable situation will be created to the discredit of the Commission and industry alike. Practical administrative procedure alone, we believe, dictates the postponement of the date for filing certificates of public convenience and necessity and sales contracts until this problem is resolved after due notice and hearing."

It was pointed out by Sgt. Collier that the Army maintains service schools to train personnel in all of these branches.

"Another unusual incentive, the Army is now offering prospective enlistees in the Army Technical School Training Program, which allows high school graduates to actually select the training school of their choice and have their attendance guaranteed before they are required to enlist," Collier concluded.

The U.S. Army Recruiting Station, located at County Court-house in Eastland, is open daily, except Sunday, to furnish expert assistance and advice to both men and women interested in a military career.

Relationship Between Diseases Of Animals, Fowls and Public Health Studied By State Body

Diseases in domestic animals and fowl is coming under closer examination since July 6 when state health and veterinary authorities launched a new system of reporting presence, prevalence, and distribution of animal disease.

Depending on how much cooperation is forthcoming from private veterinarians, of whom the success of the program hinges, State Health Officer, Henry A. Holle, said the new system ideally will reveal bi-weekly incidence of domestic animal disease occurring in any of the state's 254 counties.

Included among diseases reported are anthrax, brucellosis, equine encephalomyelitis, leptospirosis, orinthosis (pittacosis), rabies, and others.

Thus, health officials will have an up-to-date check on infections afflicting household pets and farm animals, providing ailing animals were seen by veterinarians.

Infections in animals are exerting increasingly greater influence on human health, state health leaders point out.

Agencies cooperating in the new venture are the State Department of Health, Livestock Sanitary Commission, A and M College School of Veterinary Medicine, Texas Veterinary Medical Association, the Disease Control Branch of the Agriculture Research Service, and the United States Public Health Service.

The State Health Department for years has maintained a reporting system for human communicable diseases. And for the past three years the department has conducted a monthly survey pinpointing the country of origin and species of all rabies-positive animal heads autopsied by the Bureau of Laboratories.

tem is separate from the human disease record, and absorbs the monthly report.

The report system works like this: Two identical self-addressed, postage-free report cards are mailed to each of the state's 700-plus private veterinarians. One card covers the first half of the month; the other the second half.

A column of most important animal diseases is printed on each card. The veterinarian has only to check the number of cases of each disease he has observed during the appropriate two-week period and return the card to the state health agency.

Accumulative results for each monthly period are by the Bureau of Laboratories, and a copy sent to each veterinarian when new report cards are mailed.

The tabulation shows any unusual incidence of specific disease in a given area, so that appropriate control measures can be started to prevent its spreading.
