The Rangers moved closer to the center of the spotlight in junior college football Saturday afternoon by taking the measure of the Allen Academy with an 18 to

The Rangers scored on one of the early plays of the game when Quarterback Tommy Wood passed to Cecil Gilstrap in a play that covered 63 yards and accounted for the first touchdown. Try for point was missed.

This lead was wiped out in the second quarter when Allen Academy came back to go ahead by one point after Halfback Bucky Whitehead took a handoff and ran 68 yar's for a touchdown af-ter which Tackle Gerald Losack kicked the extra point for the Ranger again moved to the front late in the second period and had as 12 to 7 lead at the end of the half. Tommy Wood circled left end to score six points after the Rangers had moved the ball to the tilen two yard line.

The Rangers held the Ramblers in check during the second half. The interception of three Allen

Economy Tricks

Arrangements for the trip are being made by R. S. Higgins, assistant county agricultral agent and Miss Minnie Mae Billingsley, county home demonstration agent.

According to Higgins and Miss Billingsley, a bus is being chartered to take the group of club boys and girls to Dallas. Those making the trip are to be selected on the basis of having done outstanding age of them.

A wise driver can get at least five more miles per gallon of gasoline if he copies the techniques used by expert competitive drivers.

The economy tricks don't require high skill, according to the September issue of Better Homes & Gardens magazine. Any driver with a little partieuce, knowledge and forethought can take advantage of them.

Present Ranges Cause Need For Other Feeding

Caused by a lack of green feed, the deficiency is characterized by hight blindness and in later stages by loss of appetite and energy, savs U. D. Thompson, extension animal husbandman at College Station.

When green grazing disappears, so does vitamin A, he explains. To maintain proper levels of the vitamin, Thompson recommends that Mr. and Mrs. Barney Salter are

Versatile, Young Co-Ed Holds Many Home-Canning Awards

Everywhere, it seems, home canning enthusiasts are appearing in lower and lower age brackets. Young people, for instance, like Beatrice Luoma, the charming 20-year-old Finnish-American girl who, over the past nine years has won innumerable blue ribbons for her outstanding work in home canning.

work in home canning.

"I've been home canning as long as I can remember; canning everything I could lay my hands on," says this attractive young co-ed. As the oldest of nine children, living on a farm near Floodwood, Minnesota, Beatrice helped her mother with canning as a youngster; started winning home-canning prizes from her first days as a member of the 4-H when she was a mere 11 years old, and has continued rolling up a high score for her home canning ever since. In 1953, she demonstrated at the St. Louis County Fair (Minnesota), where she also won the champion-thip for her canned vegetables; and that same year she took the blue ribbon at the Minnesota State Fair.

Last year, Beatrice put up over 100 quarts of pickles with the results ugain proving this young lady's remarkable ability for successful food preservation. Her sliced cucumber pickles, which she says are more ender when peeled, are made like this;

6 cups sliced cucumbers 1 pound onions 1 green pepper

Wash and peel cucumbers. Slice thin, Peel and slice onlons. Seed and hred pepper. Mix vegetables, add salt, cover with lid and let stand at ast 3 hours. Place in a colander to drain excess liquid; and then rinse well by run-ting cold water over the mixed vegetables. Add to hot syrup (given elow) and heat slowly to just below boiling, stirring occasionally. Put a Ball Mason Jars; seal with Ball Dome Lids.

Syrup: Mix ingredients, bring slowly to boiling point and boil five

2 cups brown sugar 1/2 tsp. celery seed 2 cups mild cider vinegar 1/2 tsp. turmeric 1/4 tsp. ground clove

In two years, when Beatrice Luoma graduates from the University of Minnesota, where she's now majoring in home economics, her experience and knowledge in the homemaking arts will become doubly useful. For she plans to combine a career in Extension work with marriage to a young geologist.

Today, the many hobbies of this popular young college girl include quare dancing, water skiing, church work, writing for a school paper, and cheer leader. But of them all, home canning, she finds, is the most hallenging and rewarding. And, it was due in large measure to her teen interest in, and aptitude for, home canning that this personable roung woman eventually decided upon a career in the home economics teld.

They gotta stop kickin' my dog around. When Champ Clark, Missouri's great senator, was candidate for the presidential nomination, some forty years ago, the "Houn' Dog Song," which has an attractive nelody, was heard throughout the land, Additional stanzas were added and the song copyrighted as

"The Missouri State Song." The
rhyme quoted above, which served as a refrain, did not originate in Missouri, but is actually older that Missouri's statehood, having been brought there by the restless pioneers from farther east. could well be that the followers of Stephen F. Austin brought the song to Texas. At any rate it is one of the best known items of American childlore, and is fully in keeping with the Mother Goose

The houn' dog has always been regarded as willing and anxious please, but, except for his abiliy to trail varmints, just a little affectionately regarded of all do-mestic animals, he was the subject of many rhymes by pioneer kids, such as:

They had quate free-board, spillway, from three terraces built on the house and back slopes and top width; a field by the road. This field is deep pond is highly desirable since rather steep and has washed some evaporation alone will take apin spite of the limited rains of re- proximately six feet of water per cent years. Soil Conservation technicians were able to good stable grass outlets to empty these terraces. The Harts have been Dis trict cooperators for several years. They believe the terraces will do much to conserve water from flash rains as well as handle excess water in case of heavy rains. Hart farms small grain and realizes the value of litter or organic matter Irven Pipper and C. V. Brown of the Dothan community are hav ing terraces constructed on their farms at the present time. Pippen and Brown both are building about two miles each on their places. Soil Conservation Service men ran all of these terraces to empty onto pasture land which affords a good stable outlet. Many landowners in the District within Eastland County are building farm ponds for livestock water. The purpose of these ponds in addition to a source of water for livestock is to obtain proper distribution of livestock and encourage rotation or deferred grazing and better grass land management as valuable grasses. Technical assist-ance is also furnished by Soil Conservation Service Personnel on this practice as well as terraces. diversion terraces, waterways and and range land.
