PRICE FIVE CENTS

the Pathfinder

By Lee Harr

I came to Ranger a little before five Sunday afternoon. I suppose that I was a little disheartened. The town was closed for the weekend with the exception of one or two cafes and the hotels. It was just a typical quiet afternoon for most of you natives I suppose, but just being out of the city (Austin) I wasn't used to all this peace and quiet.

There were a few towns people loitering on the street, passing idle talk and thoroughly enjoying the week's only non-working day. They gave me somewhat of a leery eye that seemed to ask, "You're a stranger in town aren't you mister?"

After strolling around the city for awhile, and still encountering these sinister, corner of the eye glances, I said to myself, "Bud, you are now a resident of Ranger, these people are strangers to you, but they belong here, they run the city government, they pass the laws, they pay the taxes for bigger and better schools, they have developed this city to what it is now and you will have to be accepted by these people before you're a Mister Anything here."

They alone will be the jury, the judge and the prosecutor.

Monday, I began meeting these people. Unlike the city residents they are unusually friendly, they have time to say a few cheerful words and offer their assistance.

It made me recall my younger days in my hometown which is about the size of Ranger. There I knew most everyone. New people in town were strangers to me. But in a few days these strangers were either accepted in the various social circles that existed or shunned accordingly to their actions and habits.

Now it is my duty to be accepted by these people, to gain their trust and to be wanted in their community.

One of the members of Ranger's last year's state champion football team continues to shine in college play as a freshman. Charles Massee, now at Hardin-Simmons University, was credited with making the most spectacular run of the game Saturday as the North Texas State Eagles dropped the Cowboys 20-7.

Massee took the ball on the Eagle 40 yard line, skirted his end position and tight walked the left sideline into the end zone for the Cowboy's only score.

He was also on the receiving end of a 60 yard pass play that was nullified by the only penalty the Cowboys collected in the entire fracas. He led the Hardin-Simmons ground attack with 51 yards on 12 carries.

The annual Merriman Cemetery Association meeting scheduled for Saturday has been cancelled for this year, Mrs. Dick Jones, Secretary-treasurer of the organization, announced today.

Suicide Is Ruled In Staff Woman's Death

Justice Jim Boggs Monday returned an inquest verdict of suicide in the death of Mrs. Ola Faye Blackwell, who died of cyanide poison almost two weeks ago.

The long-delayed verdict came after Boggs received a report from the Department of Public Safety in Austin confirming that cyanide poison was the cause of death. His verdict gave the reason for death as "poison, self-administered."

The Eastland JP still refused to release a death note left by the woman. He said the note did lean toward suicide; however, the note was written on a section of a cover of the Saturday Evening Post. Boggs said it had been confirmed that she wrote the note. Samples of the dead woman's

Plans for the annual Boy Scout Finance Campaigns are being completed and campaigns will be held beginning October 25.

Meetings will be held this week, Tuesday and Thursday in Lometa and DeLeon attended by the Community Finance Committees and their respective areas.

Firman Smith, campaign chairman for the eighth-county Comanche Trail Council, will attend these meetings. Also present will be Dr. T. C. Graves, Goldthwaite; Rio Cox, Brownwood; Charles Graham, Cisco; V. D. Gillen, Lantieri; Neil Brown, Lometa, and Sam Cleveland, Stephenville.

"The purpose of this meeting," according to Smith, "is to suggest plans for the campaign to the representatives of the 12 communities of which we are to conduct independent campaigns for the Boy Scouts Movement."

The Comanche Trail Council is an agency of the Community Chest in Brownwood and Brown County, Stephenville, Ranger, Cisco and Brokenridge. Therefore, no independent campaigns will be held there.

Campaigns will be held in each of the following twelve communities in support of the Boy Scout Movement: Goldthwaite, Lometa, Richard Springs, Priddy, Comanche, De Leon, Gorman, Dublin, Rising Star, and Eastland.

Grady Pipkin of Eastland, chairman of the finance committee of the Council stated, "Our budget for 1955 is $25,126 which is more money than we have raised in the past. We have need for this amount because of organizing more Scout units and increasing the program for boys. One additional Field Executive has been added to our staff. We have confidence that the fine citizens of our area will continue to give of their money in interest of this character building movement for boys."

Dr. T. C. Graves, Goldthwaite, is president of Comanche Trail Council.

Legion Auxiliary Rummage Sale Set

The chairman of the Ladies Auxiliary to the American Legion has urged that all persons who have pledged clothing for their rummage sale to either deliver them or phone one of the members of the auxiliary so that the clothing may be picked up.

Clothing has been received at a faster pace than anticipated and it is the auxiliary's desire to schedule the sale as soon as possible.

The proceeds of the sale will go for entertainment for patients in nearby veteran's hospitals. Clothes may be delivered to the residence of Mrs. H. C. Croom, 227 South Austin, or Mrs. Don Butler's residence, Strawn Highway or to the A. H. Powell grocery.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

The decorating committee for the Chamber of Commerce has stressed their needs for volunteer workers to assist in making arrangements for their banquet October 21.

handwriting were checked by experts.

Mrs. Blackwell died Thursday, Sept. 30 in her farm home two miles southeast of Staff. An autopsy was performed the next day in Ranger. The autopsy was ordered by Boggs at the request of the dead woman's father, Walter Duncan of Staff. Mrs. Blackwell's husband, John Blackwell, gave permission.

For a while, Texas Ranger Jim Riddle was called in on the case to help investigate. Sheriff Frank Tucker was in California at the time of the death to bring back a prisoner.

Following the first investigation of the death, Justice Boggs told a Times reporter the following story:

Boggs said Mrs. Blackwell's husband told him that his wife was resting on the bed when she suddenly reached over and picked up a glass at the side of the bed and drank from it.

As soon as she put down the glass, Mrs. Blackwell said, "Get me to a doctor." Boggs said Blackwell told him, Blackwell said he asked his wife what she drank and she wouldn't tell him. Then he took her to his car, but she died soon after and he took her back to the house.

Investigators believed the poison was purchased at a Ranger drug store. A bottle of "rat balls," which are cyanide type poison, which kills in three minutes, was found in the Blackwell home. Boggs told this reporter that drug stores in the area were not forced to keep records of the sale of such poison.

Pen Sentence, Jail Term Given In Local Courts

Two cases were cleared from the court dockets during the past week.

Helen Belcher of Mineral Wells entered a plea of guilty to a charge of forgery and was sentenced to three years in the state penitentiary. Mrs. Belcher had forged the name of E. W. Belcher, her husband, to each of two checks in the amount of $20 and cashed the checks at two Eastland stores.

Riley Freeman of Eastland plead guilty in County Court to a charge of possession of whisky in a dry area for the purpose of sale, and was assessed a fine and court costs totaling $227.35, together with a five day jail term.

Also, District II officers for 1954-55 were installed.

Ranger High School Band To Attend State Fair October 23

The Ranger High School Band, will take its place with similar organizations from all over the state October 23 which has been designated Band Day at the State Fair in Dallas. Sam Houston, Band Director, announced today.

The Three R's—Then and Now will be the theme of a gigantic music and marching spectacle staged by more than 4,000 students at 8 p.m. in the Cotton Bowl Wednesday, climaxing Music Festival Day.

It will be a free show, including fireworks.

The Little Red School House of Yesterday will come alive right in the middle of the Cotton Bowl.

This will happen when twenty-two bands, ten orchestras and fourteen choruses from all over Texas and adjoining states march into the cavernous Cotton Bowl, form a silhouette of the Little Red School House, then sing the haunting melody.

It is a fitting program, for the festival also climaxes Public School Centennial Day.

Bands will form a big school house and the letters Texas Scholastic, 1854-1954 as well as the little school house.

Chorus numbers will include School Days, Little Red School House, By the Light of the Silvery Moon, Texas Our Texas and Lord's Prayer.

Band numbers will be School Days, Texas Our Texas, High School Cadets, Hosts of Freedom, Les Preludes by Liszt and the Star Spangled Banner.

Orchestra numbers will include The Melody From Kismet and Knightbridge March.

G. Lewis Doll of San Antonio and Robert Fielder of Abilene will direct orchestra numbers. Harry Barton, James Murphy and Robert Fielder of Abilene will direct the mass band numbers and the chorus will be directed by Ed Hatchett of San Benito. All are members of the Texas Music Educators Association, cosponsors of the fair of the event.

The spectacle will conclude a day-long program with the bands, orchestras and choruses playing from three points in the fairgrounds.

Beginning at 9 a.m. and ending at 4 p.m., the twenty-two bands will play on the Magnolia stage and in the Hall of State Plaza; the fourteen choruses will sing in the Museum of Fine Arts and the ten orchestras will play in the Hall of State auditorium in programs of twenty minutes each.

Values Parade Fires Dollar Day Reductions

Ranger shoppers will have another opportunity for immense savings Wednesday when merchants again throw open their doors for another Dollar Day Sale.

Not only will the merchants offer late summer items at a giant reduction but also fall merchandise which has arrived in advance shipments, and stocked for the consumers demand.

Those who took advantage of recent dollar day sales are well aware of the marked down prices on the various goods and eagerly anticipate the giant sale tomorrow.

The advertising in today's issue of The Times featuring a portion of the Dollar Day specials well portrays the bargain prices stamped on the tags of the summer and fall merchandise for the shoppers.

Mrs. Gibson Resigns RJC Library Post

Mrs. Kathryn Gibson, librarian at Ranger Junior College for the past seven years, has resigned her position to take a library post in the Odessa Public Schools.

Mrs. Gibson is a graduate of Ranger High School and RJC. She was a charter member of Phi Theta Kappa at RJC.

Mrs. Gibson received her B.A. degree from North Texas State and her M.L.S. from Texas State College for Women. At North Texas Mrs. Gibson pledged Alpha Lambda Sigma, and at T.S.C.W. she was a member of Alpha Beta Alpha.

Mrs. Gibson is a member of the Presbyterian Church and of the Ranger branch of the American Association of University Women. She is the daughter of Mrs. E. B. Fritton of Ranger.

E. R. Gibson, her husband, is employed by the Magnolia Petroleum Co. in Odessa.

It is with deep regret that we lose the services of Mrs. Gibson," stated Dr. Price Ashton, president of RJC. Mrs. Gibson is a superior librarian, but her many friends on the campus and in Ranger are pleased with her new position.

Mrs. Dorothy Ashton has taken Mrs. Gibson's place as RJC librarian.

Phi Theta Kappa Elects Officers

Allan Gibbs, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Gibbs of Newcastle, was elected president of the Delta Tau Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa at a meeting held this week at Ranger Junior College.

Lee Otis Clayborn, son of Mrs. Eleonora Clayborn of Newcastle, was elected vice president, and Miss Delores Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Cox, Sr. of Ranger was elected to serve as secretary of the honor group.

Audit Report Shows Top Management

A check on the financial condition of the city of Ranger during the period ending April 30, 1954 has been completed by James P. Williams, Jr., a Dallas accountant.

The report reveals some interesting and pertinent facts, one of which is that the City incurred a net loss for the year of $7,878.12.

There were many factors involved in this loss but in general they were the improvement of the police department, unusually heavy improvements to the city streets and the sanitary department and an increase of other municipal services such as swimming pool safety measures in the form of a larger staff at the pool, better maintenance and better chemically treated water.

It will be remembered that this loss of $7,878.12 is a book loss and not a dollar loss. The city of Net Loss $ 7,878.12 Less: Depreciation 27,646.75

Fourth of A Series Seventh Amendment Deals With Jury Service For Texas Women

(Editor's Note: This is another in a series of 11 articles prepared by the Texas League of Women Voters for this newspaper. The article today is listed as proposed constitutional amendment no. 7 on the Nov. 2 general election ballot.)

The amendment that is attracting the most local interest deals with women jurors.

This amendment would change the Constitution by extending the qualifications of jurors and including women in that right and duty. The amendment would not grant at present constitutionally disqualified from jury service, the criminal and the insane. Women would be governed as to exemptions from jury service to the same extent as men, when provided by law, not on the basis of sex.

Jury service is one of the highest duties of citizenship. It is a form of participation in the process of government and a responsibility that should be shared by all citizens.

A great need exists for more qualified jurors.

Texas is one of five states not permitting women to serve on juries. Jury service for women on federal juries is now compulsory in those 43 states which do not disqualify women.

Judges whose courts have had women on juries have been unanimous in the opinion that women make satisfactory jurors.

Separate dormitory facilities would have to be provided in all courthouses in Texas to accommodate male and female jurors.

Testimony presented in some court trials is unfit for women to hear.

Couple Held On Charges Of Forgery

A California couple are being held for investigation by local and California officers on charges of forgery and burglary.

Mrs. Ann Hagler, 27, is in custody in the Eastland County jail facing charges of forgery. She was returned from California by Sheriff Frank Tucker last week.

Sheriff Tucker received word last night that her husband, Joe Hagler, about 35, had been arrested in San Bernardino, Calif. and is being held on charges of forgery and burglary by officers there for Eastland officers. Tucker said he would pick up Hagler as soon as papers are ready. It is believed he will waive extradition.

Officers in several other cities want to question the pair.

Phi Theta Kappa Elects Officers

Phi Theta Kappa is a national honorary scholastic fraternity. Its purpose is to promote scholarship, develop character, and cultivate fellowship among the students.

Members are chosen by the chapter and a faculty committee on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and character.

To be eligible for membership a student must have completed one semester in Ranger Junior College carrying at least fifteen hours, twelve of which must be in arts and sciences. He must be of good moral character and must possess recognized qualities of leadership. He must be in the upper ten percent of the regularly enrolled student body, and he is required to have a scholastic average of eighty-five or above on all subjects.

No greater honor can come to a student of Ranger Junior College than to belong to Delta Tau, the local chapter of Phi Theta Kappa.

Mrs. Dorothy Ashton is faculty sponsor of the Delta Tau Chapter.

HASTILY SIGNED HOME PURCHASE CONTRACT MAY CAUSE TROUBLE

The signing of a contract of sale is an extremely important step in the purchase of a home. Once buyer and seller have signed, they are bound by the provisions of the contract. Their respective legal rights in the transaction are thereby set and determined. If the contract is poorly and haphazardly drawn, a harvest of regret may be reaped at a later date.

Sales contracts are often called by other names, such as earnest money contracts, binders, receipts, etc. All of them are for the same purpose and almost without exception involve the deposit of money by the buyer. Some require the seller to put up a good faith deposit. The fact that such deposited sums are usually to be forfeited in event the depositor later fails to go through with his specified contractual obligations lends additional weight to the often stated admission that no contract should be signed without complete understanding as to its terms.

But many home purchasers (and sellers) rush to sign a hastily prepared contract with very little knowledge of its contents. The pressure of time, the informality of the occasion, the casual appearance of the contract, and perhaps the fact that a partially printed form is used may contribute in causing the true importance of the act to be overlooked. At any rate, many are lulled into a lapse of good business judgment.

Every significant detail of the bargain should be crystallized in unmistakable terms in the contract of sale. Land and fixtures being sold should be clearly described. A complete description of the property by lot and block, or by metes and bounds, is a must, the street number being inadequate by itself. Articles and fixtures included in the sale but not always sold with houses generally should be specifically listed. Included in this category are such items as venetian blinds, removable floor coverings, draperies, air conditioning units and others. In purchasing property under construction, complete plans and specifications form an essential part of the agreement.

The price to be paid must, of course, be specified, along with method and terms of payment. If a certain sized loan is a prerequisite to the buyer's ability to complete the purchase, this fact should be noted. Sad indeed is the prospective purchaser who loses his earnest money when a contemplated loan transaction falls through, his contract requiring payment of the entire consideration in cash.

The sales contract should also state the quality of the title to be conveyed to the buyer and the type of title evidence to be furnished.

The buyer's individual circumstances and desires may require that various matters not mentioned above be provided for in the contract. All too often people try to squeeze a sales contract to fit the type of printed form on hand, omitting or leaving to easily misconstrued or forgotten oral agreement many vital provisions. Do not fall into the "pitfall of the printed form." Too many unfortunate entanglements have been announced by clients to lawyers with the words, "I have just signed a receipt for a house on Blank Street. Will you take over now and see that everything is O.K.?" A free pamphlet containing useful information on legal problems involved in buying a home has been prepared by Texas lawyers. To obtain a copy, print your name and address on a postcard and mail to State Bar of Texas, Colorado at Fifteenth, Austin 1, Texas.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)
The 1954 estimated yield of Texas cotton is 212 pounds an acre. This compares with 233 pounds an acre from the harvested acres last year. Dry, hot weather can still cut this year's crop.

Water, Irrigation Studies Planned

The Texas Board of Water Engineers has granted to the A&M College system a permit to use up to 500 acre-feet of water a year from the Brazos River. Studies will be made to determine how to use water most efficiently to supplement rainfall in the production of common crops and to protect valuable stocks of new plants being developed in the plant breeding program of the college system.

Studies dealing with rates and timing of supplemental water application on such crops as cotton, corn and pastures will be made. Answers to questions regarding irrigation being asked by agricultural producers, particularly in the eastern third of the state, also will be sought, says Experiment Station Director R. D. Lewis.

The continuing drought, he adds, has greatly increased the use of water for supplemental irrigation in East Texas and the queries from farmers regarding the place of irrigation in their operations. The interest in efficient use of water is statewide.

Our immediate concern, says Lewis, is to save the valuable breeding blocks on which experimental crops are now growing but our longtime program will be developed to get information farmers and others can use in their operations.

The water will be taken from the Brazos River by means of a portable pumping plant.

H-SU Gift Horses Make Appearance At Football Game

ABILENE (Sp.)—Two new white horses made their first appearance with the Hardin-Simmons University Cowboy Band Oct. 2 at half-time activities of the H-SU Trinity University football game held at Parnamore Stadium in Abilene.

The horses were presented as gifts to Hardin-Simmons University just before game time by Charles E. Hipp of Graham, Texas and Guy Caldwell of Abilene.

Hipp donated one of the animals and the other was purchased from him and given to the University by Caldwell.

Both horses are pure white geldings and have appeared in parades since they were four years old. They are now nine and ten years old.

One of the animals was Hipp's personal horse and was ridden by him in numerous parades throughout the nation. The horse lead the parade of the Lions International in Chicago and also appeared in the Rose Parade in California and in the Frontier Days Show at Cheyenne, Wyoming.

The animals will replace two of the famous six white horses which parade with the Hardin-Simmons University Cowboy Band.

OIL PRODUCTION IN MANITOBA IS RISING

WINNIPEG — Manitoba, always considered a distribution center for both manufactured goods and agricultural produce, has developed a new field, and present indications are that it will be twice as valuable in 1954 as it was last year.

The new field is oil. Manitoba had 80 producing wells at the end of 1953, with more being discovered every day. The monthly production for the Manitoba fields was not high for the first 10 months of 1953 — it amounted to only 440,000 barrels — but in November of last year the wells spouted 100,000 barrels.

Manitoba's Premier Douglas Campbell said he expects the 100,000-barrel-a-month figure to remain all through 1954. This rate would double last year's total.

The value of Manitoba oil in 1953 was $1,475,000, a sizeable figure compared with the 1952 production of only $229,299. Oil companies should get something approaching $3,000,000 this year.

AT RANGER DRIVE IN THEATRE

Jack Palance shields lovelies Joan Fontaine and Corinne Calvet from danger in this exciting scene from Paramount's brand new Technicolor adventure drama, "Flight To Tangier," which is due to open Wed and Thursday at the Ranger Drive-In Theatre. Motley County Farmer Uses Unusual Method for Cleaning Cotton Field

"The geese went to work and covered the acreage in a week," says W. C. Pallmeyer, Motley County agricultural agent. They did not molest the cotton but covered their interest on grass and "goat-heads." With the exception of a few large "careless" weeds which geese won't destroy, the field was cleaned — just as if regular hoe hands had done the job.

"One week convinced me," said Hand, "as long as I plant cotton I'll keep geese." His inspiration came after watching three of the fowls "mow" grass on the front lawn. Hand and a neighbor, Charles Long, traveled to Las Cruces, New Mexico to get the birds. Long also has found them extremely satisfactory.

"The geese work at night when the moon is shining. They stay in the shade of the water wagon when the sun is hot and usually begin work about five o'clock. They seem to be singing all the time," Hand said.

The only cost of running the geese has been 100 pounds of barley each day. The efficiency of the fowls is not limited to their capacity for food, says Pallmeyer. They apparently eat only a small portion of the grass they destroy. They pull it up, leaving it to die in the middles. They attack tall Johnsongrass at the top and cut it to the ground, eating some in the process.

In a few instances the geese nip the cotton, especially around the water wagon, as if they might be appeasing some form of restlessness, notes Hand. No insects were found in fields where the birds worked — to make geese even more attractive to Farmer Hand.

According to British Admiralty sources, Russia may have 500 submarines in operation within the next three years. Although many are believed small or obsolete, the Reds are estimated to have a building capacity of 60 modern subs a year.

There's A Story In Your Coffee Cup About It's Use As Money

A strange variety of objects have served the world as money at one time or another. As a matter of fact, the subway and bus tokens in use today in many cities are in direct line of descent from cowrie shells, stones, wampum beads, and even dried fish. They, too, were tokens of value, rather than coins with an intrinsic value of their own.

Beef Profits Increase From Better Roads

What have good roads got to do with the price of beef? Quite a bit, according to the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. Fifty years ago, most cattle, as well as other livestock, made a part of their journey to market on the hoof with a considerable loss of weight. Today, thousands of head of beef cattle are trucked to market over the highways. That saves a lot of weight loss, but there is still a premium on time.

hour extension in trip time will knock another six pounds off his steer. Thus at 15 cents a pound, any time saved by better highways, would be worth 30 cents an hour per animal.

Obviously, the Chamber notes, good farm to market roads have a definite effect on the price of beef. Actually, good roads mean good business in general. That is why the Chamber expects to provide President Eisenhower and the state governors late this year with comprehensive recommendations for street and highway improvements throughout the nation, in line with the President's proposal for a $50 billion highway program. The Chamber also will sponsor at least three highway conferences in coming months, the first to be held at Topeka, Kansas, September 30.

OIL IS AT YOUR SERVICE

The products of the petroleum industry are literally everywhere. Every hour of the day, oil or natural gas serves you and virtually every other American. Oil is indispensable to our way of life; it makes the United States a better, safer country to live in.

You may wake in the morning in a room warmed by a furnace burning fuel oil or natural gas.

You drive to work, and your car burns gasoline, uses petroleum oils and greases for lubricants, rolls on tires of synthetic rubber which had their beginning in an oil refinery.

The plant where you work may depend on oil or natural gas as the source of its power. The oil and gas industry supplies 65% of the nation's energy requirements.

Meanwhile, if you live in Texas, your children are attending schools to the support of which the oil industry pays heavy production and ad valorem taxes. And your U. S. Army, Navy and Air Force plan the national defense with confidence that the oil industry has developed the proven reserves that can fuel their machines of war. Oil also supplies munitions — TNT for instance.

Finally, the lady of the house may prepare dinner on a stove fueled with natural gas, and you may go to bed in pajamas laundered with a petroleum detergent, after reading a newspaper printed with ink made from oil, in a room decorated with a paint manufactured from petroleum.

... And that's only a beginning.

The products of the petroleum industry, oil and natural gas, head the list of our most useful resources. A progressive, competitive oil industry, encouraged in the future as in the past, will undertake the further development that will keep them there.

Third Proposed Amendment Deals With Federal Social Security

(Editor's Note: This is the third of 11 articles prepared by the League of Women Voters of Texas for this newspaper. All of the articles give the pro and con of Constitutional amendments to be voted on Nov. 2.)

Texas voters in the Nov. 2 general election will decide on 11 proposed changes in the State Constitution. All persons who are qualified to vote on candidates are qualified to vote on amendments.

The third proposed amendment deals with social security for proprietary employees.

This amendment would empower the Legislature to pass a law permitting cities and other political subdivisions to place their proprietary employees under the Federal Social Security coverage.

The Supreme Court of Texas has held that present statutes, passed several years ago to cover employees of like status of Port Authorities, Water Improvement Districts and other political subdivisions.

FOR No political subdivision will be compelled to adopt coverage under Federal Social Security. It is a matter of local option with the governing bodies.

Local retirement systems are too expensive for some political subdivisions to adopt and it seems unfair to offer social security coverage to only a portion of their employees.

The system has incurred no administrative expense to the State. It has more than paid its way out of the small handling fee charged on the basis of the number of contributing members.

AGAINST A municipally owned utilities system should provide a retirement plan for its employees just as many private enterprises do.

Many political subdivisions have adopted the Texas Municipal Retirement System.

Private employers make Social Security returns and payments directly to the Bureau of Internal Revenue but political subdivisions must make return and payment to the State Department of Public Welfare, which in turn makes payment to the Bureau of Internal Revenue. If the political subdivision defaults the State would be responsible for these funds. There is no reason why the State should act as the middle man and take on this responsibility, thus requiring additional clerical help at additional expense.

Next: A pro and con discussion of proposed amendment four which concerns pension surplus for buildings.

1920 Club Begins Activities With Brunch In Mineral Wells

The 1920 Club, which will celebrate its thirty-fifth anniversary this club year, has begun its activities for the year. The Reassembly on Saturday, September 25, was a brunch in the Orchid Room of the Baker Hotel in Mineral Wells. An autumn motif was used in table decorations and place cards. Mrs. R. L. Hamrick, president, welcomed guests and introduced new members of the club.

Mrs. Price R. Ashton, program chairman, presented the yearbooks and briefly discussed the year's programs, which will be a continuation of the study of Trends begun last year. Thirty-four club members and guests were present.

The first regular meeting of the club was held Thursday, Oct. 7, in the Community Club House. Guest speaker was Dr. Grady G. Tice, who spoke on Conservation of Natural Resources and showed a film to illustrate his talk.

Dr. Tice, who is the head of the Department of Agriculture of Ranger Junior College, has the Bachelor of Science degree from East Texas State College, the Master of Arts degree from Sam Houston State College, and the Doctor of Philosophy degree from Louisiana State University. He has also done observational study in Africa, Italy, Germany, France and Mexico.

A business session was held following the program. The members discussed the club project for the year, "Improvement and Beautification of the Community Club House," and made tentative plans for the book tea to be given for the benefit of the Ranger Community Library, the Ranger High School Library, and the Ranger Junior College Library.

Because of the Chamber of Commerce banquet, which is set for Oct. 21, the date of the book tea has been changed to October 28. The books received will be divided among the three libraries.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Smith visited her aunt, Mrs. Beulah Evans at the Convalescent Center in Fort Worth Sunday. They also attended the annual homecoming at the First Methodist Church in Euless.

Our grandmothers would be amazed - and - delighted - at our colorful table spreads. White linens are still lovely as of old, but the unusual materials and gay hue of today are so exciting. Both whites and colors must be kept in perfect condition, and the fastidious homemaker knows that there are two ways to achieve this: First, the habitual use of bead-bluing in the wash water, and second, cosmetic starching for beautifully ironed clothes. To make this special starch, simply add one of those boue-wax ironing aid tablets to each quart of your favorite hot starch.

Here's an idea for a fall desert that looks as autumnal as its name - Amber Russet - sounds. Dissolve a package of orange-flavored gelatin in 1 cup of hot prune juice. Add a dash of salt and 1 cup cold water. Pour into individual molds and chill in your gas refrigerator until firm. Makes four servings.

Those beauty-conscious models, who must always be ready to be photographed, actually take as much care with their hair brushes as they do with their hair. One successful blond model washes her hair brush in hot soapuds every day of her life, and wipe it off with a clean towel after every single brushing. She says it makes sense to brush the dust out of her hair, not in.

A reducing salad dressing that tastes good, too. Just put one-fourth cup water and 4 teaspoons vinegar into a bowl. Then add one-fourth cup non-fat dry milk and a pinch of salt. Beat until stiff. Then beat in one-fourth cup chili and serve on lettuce or tomato salad. Make it fresh each time, rather than keep a quantity on hand. It's more satisfactory.

calves on the ground are like MONEY IN THE BANK

It costs a lot of money to keep a cow. A lot of that money is lost if she fails to settle or drops small, weak calves that die or develop into "tail-enders."

BIG CROPS of husky calves are a must, if a fellow is going to make money ranching. This is especially true when the price of cattle is off.

Your range needs help. It takes more than grass alone to give your cows what they need to grow and drop the kind of calves that will bring top prices next fall.

PURINA RANGE CHECKERS have proved their worth in research tests and on thousands of ranches. This favorite range supplement has what it takes. Cattle love Checkers, do well on them. Cows stay up in good shape at calving time, have lots of milk for the calves, too.

More and more Southern cattlemen are planning their breeding program so that calves come in the late fall. These calves are ready to eat early grass—hit the early market, which is usually best.

Feed for big calf crops the Purina Way. Purina Range Checkers can help you keep your operation on the profit side of the ledger.

WOMEN AND WHEELS

Changing Modes and The Suburban Look

By Mary Lou Chapman

The suburbs of almost every American city have expanded with great vigor in the last ten years. Whole new communities have sprung up, and with them new ways of living.

The casual way of life is evident everywhere in the suburbs, where there is more space and more trees and grass than in our cities.

Suburbanites are doing more gardening, generally have more children and more pets, take more interest in sports, and do more traveling than their city-dwelling cousins.

Shopping centers have appeared to cater to the needs of suburban dwellers. Sports wear and casual dress departments in women's clothing shops have expanded phenomenally since World War II.

CLOTHES GO SUBURBAN

Women are wearing looser clothes for a more active existence. Sweaters are more popular than ever and they are now worn over everything from a pretty cotton dress to an evening gown. Middy type sweaters go to the beach and jeweled sweaters are worn to the theater and to parties over silk dresses. Even women's suit jackets are designed to resemble the loose cardigan sweater.

Shoes, too, reflect the pattern. One manufacturer came out right after the war with a moccasin type shoe with a well-shaped wedge heel. This sold extraordinarily well — mostly to suburbanites — because it was smart but comfortable and could be worn almost anywhere. Since then the design has been copied by every shoemaker across the country and in every conceivable color.

"LONG" SHORTS POPULAR

Bermuda shorts are another item currently making a big hit. These stop just above the knee, and are usually worn with British type walking socks which come just below the knee. Both men and women are wearing these. With smart women, the Bermuda shorts have almost replaced slacks as well as short shorts.

Hair styles are in keeping with the trend toward easier fashions. They are all above the collar line, with some versions a "little softer and others more severe like a little boy's cut. Often in the suburbs, you will see a mother and daughter both wearing the same simple, easy-to-care-for style.

THE CASUAL CAR

"Suburbia" has fostered a new range of style in cars as well as in clothes. For these families, the station wagon has really come into its own.

In 1936 the station wagon made up less than one tenth of 1% of the total output of the automobile industry. By 1954 the total zoomed to over 5% of all cars made.

Demand for these station wagons was created largely by the new move to the green-grass areas. The housewife lived farther away from her needs, and she wanted a special kind of car for carrying shrubs for the garden, for carting the children to school and taking the dogs to the vet, not to mention shopping trips. The suburban station wagon was the answer.

The automobile industry watches the fashion world carefully, because fashion tells much about the living patterns of America. From different ways of life come needs for different car designs. The colorful and sturdy suburban wagon is an answer to a way of life.

SOIL, WATER CONSERVATION LOANS ARE NOW AVAILABLE

Soil and water conservation loans are available to eligible farmers in Eastland county, Geo. I. Lane, Eastland County Farmers Home Administration supervisor announced Saturday.

The loans may be used to carry out measures for soil conservation, water development, conservation and use, and drainage. This will include the construction and repair of terraces, dikes, ditches, ponds and tanks, the establishment and improvement of permanent pastures, basic application of lime and fertilizer, tree planting, well drilling, and the purchase of pumps and other irrigation equipment.

The new loan program was made possible by legislation recently passed by the 83rd Congress which greatly expanded the water facility loan program.

Soil and water conservation loans may be made from funds supplied by private lenders and insured by the Government or from funds appropriated by Congress. Loans from appropriated funds will be made only when insured funds are not available. Loans, either direct or insured, will only be made when the applicant is unable to obtain the credit he needs at reasonable rates and terms from other sources.

The three-member county committee of the Farmers Home Administration will certify the eligibility of applicants. Applications from veterans will receive preference in processing.

Loans will be made to carry out only the types of soil and water conservation practices that are in accord with the recommendations made by the Extension Service and the Soil Conservation Service, Lane said.

Soil and water conservation loans will not be available for annually recurring costs that are generally considered as farm operating expenses.

To be eligible for a soil and water conservation loan, a farmer must have sufficient experience or training to indicate that he has reasonable prospects of conducting successful farming operations and be unable to obtain the necessary credit on reasonable terms.

and conditions from private and cooperative sources.

Non-profit associations such as incorporated water associations, mutual water and drainage companies, irrigation and drainage districts, and soil conservation districts are eligible for a loan when they are unable to obtain adequate credit elsewhere and meet certain other conditions. For example, associations to be eligible must be primarily engaged in extending to their members services directly related to soil conservation, water conservation and use, or drainage of farm land.

The loans will be scheduled for repayment within the shortest period consistent with the ability of the borrower to repay. No loan will be scheduled for repayment over a period which exceeds the useful life of the improvement of the security, whichever is less. In no case will the repayment period on loans to individuals exceed 20 years. Loans to associations will be repaid on the same basis as individual loans but in exceptional cases can be amortized over periods up to 40 years. Each borrower will be required to refinance the unpaid balance of his loan when he is able to obtain a loan at reasonable rates and terms from other sources.

Individuals can borrow amounts up to $25,000. It is expected that the average loan to a farmer will be less than $5,000. Water facility loans last year averaged $4,500. Loans to associations have a ceiling of $250,000. All loans will be secured by the best lien obtainable on chattels or real estate to the extent necessary to adequately protect the Government's investment.

Applicants will obtain whatever technical assistance they need from the Soil Conservation Service, Extension Service, other agencies, individuals and firms. Technical assistance of this sort from the Farmers Home Administration will be limited to a review

Cotton Council Reports Source Of New Linens

When was the last time you took an inventory of your linen closet? Counted your sheets and pillow cases and checked them for worn spots and tears?

If you are like most women, you no doubt consider this an important part of keeping house. You probably see that you have more than enough of these items on hand and you also take advantage of every bargain that comes your way.

The National Cotton Council reports that you can now get a supply of pillow cases anytime you want or need them at your local feed store. A new cotton bag is designed to do double-duty, first as a 50-lb. container of feed and later as a bright bedroom accessory.

Cotton bags made of dress print material have long been a boon to women who sew at home. However, you don't even need to be handy with a needle and thread to convert the 50-lb. feed container into a pillow case. All you have to do is empty the feed, launder the bag, and put the pillow slip to work in the bedroom or in reserve on the linen shelf.

If you happen to have more than enough pillow cases in good of the engineering and economic soundness of the improvements to be financed. The Farmers Home Administration will also take whatever steps are necessary to make sure that loans are used for authorized purposes and that the construction carried on with loan funds meets required standards.

When necessary, farmers who use loan funds to finance major land adjustments and extensive reorganization of their farm business will receive assistance from the county supervisors of the Farmers Home Administration in the development and execution of sound farm and home plans.

repair, then you can use the 50-lb. feed bag for home sewing. Ripped, the container provides a yard and one-sixth of material for making children's dresses, napkins or place mats, curtains, skirts, sun suits, and aprons. The pillow case bags are available in plain white, border trims, or all-over print patterns.
