55TH YEAR

The Pathfinder

by Lee Harr

Often, certain sports writing figures, with the use of statistics which we are often without, delve into subjects which are of interest to a wide majority of people.

Such was the case of a recent article written by J. G. Taylor Spink, publisher of the Sporting News, and this week Pathfinder takes a back seat and lets Mr. Spink have the wheel.

Here's what he had to say.

Proud Midwesterners argue that the Big Ten plays the finest brand of football. Pennsylvania states the case for graduates of its schoolboy program located from Maine to Missouri.

Football had its roots in the East, and conquests on the striped green are as rich to the Southern memory as the Battles of Manassas.

But the best football in the country, perhaps, is played in the State of Texas, according to records submitted to The Sporting News.

At any hour of the day or night somebody is kicking a ball or passing it or running with it in the 801-mile vastness extending from Brownsville to Amarillo.

Boys in the biggest state grow up dreaming not of being president, but All-Texas.

Before other sections cry that Texas is better at kicking the ball than the rest of the country, let's look at the evidence.

The Lone Star State sponsors the largest and most varied high school and college program of its kind in the nation. There isn't another state even close. Organized football is offered at 890 high schools — the figure doesn't include private and parochial institutions — and they supply the talent for the state's junior and senior colleges while also lending a hand to such neighboring institutions as Oklahoma, Tulane and LSU.

While the Big Ten is represented by seven states and draws its talent from throughout the Midwest, six-sevenths of the Southwest Conference is made up of Texas members, and they stay right at home to do their recruiting.

There's the highest percentage of home-grown talent in the country competing in the SWC, The Sporting News discovered.

Texas, always a favorite for the conference championship, depends entirely on native sons this year. All 55 Longhorns stayed in the state for their training. Rice offered only one out-of-state player on its 58-man squad, Texas Christian went for three "foreigners" out of 61 and six non-Texans were members of the 62-man SMU squad.

Only the Texas Aggies, rebuilding under Paul Bryant, shows signs of breaking away from the stay-at-home trend.

On the varsity squad of 47, the Aggies had nine out-of-staters. Unable to meet with a great deal of success proselytizing in his first season in the Southwest, principally because of a late start, Bryant went heavily for products of other regions and the freshman squad was represented by 17 players from ten states.

Even Arkansas, the only member of the Southwest Conference from out of Texas, has begun to appreciate the value of its neighbor's product.

Four Texas champions are crowned, and the 4,656 varsity games played in the 1953 season were witnessed by more than 7,000,000 fans. Rhea Williams, director of the Texas Interscholastic League, estimates that 40,000 boys play high school, junior high and B team football.

Try to beat that, The Sporting News challenges.

Legion To Meet Monday Night

Ranger's Carl Barnes Post of the American Legion will hold their regular bi-monthly meeting Monday night at 7:30 instead of the regular Thursday meeting date as the previous schedule conflicts with the Thanksgiving holiday.

The Auxiliary will meet at the same time.

Teachers Plan Trek For State Convention

Twenty-three teachers from the Ranger school system will join more than 10,000 fellow educators for the 6th annual convention of the Texas State Teachers Association at Fort Worth November 25-27.

Nationally-known authorities on education will speak at the three general sessions and at many of the 45 sectional meetings pertaining to every phase of education of interest to Texas teachers.

Those who will attend from Ranger High School are: Mrs. Anna McEver, Mrs. Hal Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Koenig, Mary Joy Wilson, Imogene Haun, H. L. Coody, Mrs. Charles Murr, Mrs. George Robinson, Mrs. W. D. R. Owen, Carl Elliott, John Wilhelm, A. S. Dudley, Charles Garrett, Boone Yarbrough, Sam Houston, and G. B. Bush.

Morris Jeffries, Mrs. E. H. Robo, Mrs. H. L. Coody, Mrs. C. C. Harris, Mrs. N. E. Landers, and Mrs. H. H. Oliver will represent Young School. No list was available from Hodges School.

Principal speakers at the general sessions are Dr. Herold O. Hunt, Eliot professor of education at Harvard University; Dwayne Orton, editor of Think and education consultant for International Business Machines Corporation of New York City; Waurine Walker, president of the National Education Association and director of teacher relations and certification for the Texas Education Agency; H. W. Stilwell, chairman of the TSTA Legislative Committee and superintendent of schools at Texarkana; and Charles

Mrs. Lottie Davenport has received word of the arrival of her son, Major Norman Davenport, in Orleans, France, where he will be stationed with the U. S. Army for the next 3 and one-half years.

Major Davenport's wife and daughter Jan, 4, are expected to visit here in Ranger before joining him in France around the first of the year.

Davenport has served in the Army since 1942, having spent 33 months in Japan during World War II and 11 months in Korea. He was home for two weeks before leaving for France.

Mrs. Davenport To Join Husband In France

Other nominees for freshmen favorites were Della Joiner of Austin, Beverly Cary of Vernon, Buddy Caddell of Crowell, A. & M. College. Judging will be on December 11.

Entries will be accepted from growers in adjoining counties, it was decided. Seedlings, oblong and round pecans will be in one class. There must be as many as three entries in each variety before cash prizes will be awarded. Ribbons will be given, however, in classes with less than three entries.

Those who wish to enter the contest may leave pecans—each entry should be about one pound — at the office of the County Agent or at the Chamber of Commerce.

A new division for the show will be for pecan products—pies, cakes, candy, nut bread and cookies. These products will compete for prizes. Plans call for an auction of the products on Dec. 11.

Collision Damages Two Automobiles Thursday Night

Two cars were damaged Thursday night in a collision at the intersection of Main and Austin Streets.

A 1949 Ford driven by Clara Smith, 18, Ranger was attempting to turn left on Austin from Main Street when she was struck by a 1947 Chevrolet driven by Johnnie Gray, 17, also of Ranger, who was approaching from the east. Miss Smith was traveling east when she attempted to turn. John Shook, investigating officer estimated damages at $300.

Noticed That New Sign?

Here's Facts And Figures On Radar Speed Control In Area

Noticed that new sign just outside of Ranger? If you haven't it might be worth your time to slow down enough to read the letters "SPEED LIMIT RADAR ENFORCED."

For the sign simply means that the Texas Highway Patrol is watching for speeders — with radar. The sign recently went up on the outskirts of Eastland. To help acquaint our readers with the new device before they meet up with it face to face, the Telegram has worked up the following information on the highway patrolman's new ally.

This device sends out micro-waves from one antenna on a known frequency which bounce back from any moving object at a different frequency, depending on the speed of the object. The wave which comes back is received by a machine on a second antenna and the difference in frequency is measured and indicated on the meter calibrated in miles per hour. The speed is also recorded by pen and ink on a recording graph.

This machine is the outgrowth of the Radar used by our Armed Services during World War II and the war in Korea.

The accuracy with which bombs are dropped and the manner in which large ships are navigated during foggy weather, speaks for the accuracy of radar.

The Electro-Matic Speed Meter — using the same principle as the Armed Services Radar — is every bit as accurate in the recording of speed on the highway as it is in locating a target for a high flying bomber.

The accuracy of this machine is guaranteed by the manufacturer to be 98 per cent in speeds ranging from 0-100 miles per hour.

The uses of this machine are many — the investigation of complaints in regard to speed, to measure the effectiveness of patrol car enforcement, to check speed for comparison with accident statistics, and finally for enforcement of the speed laws themselves. This enforcement may be against drivers either traveling at high speeds or at very low speeds.

Operation of the radar detector is fundamentally on the same principle as used in radar aircraft spotting. It requires two patrol cars and two officers. One car is equipped with the indicator and records the speed of passing vehicles. The second car is informed by radio telephone when a speed violation is recorded. The second car intercepts the violator.

Radar is being used in 31 states by State or City Police.

In Texas, during the last five years, we have had 11,779 people killed in motor vehicle traffic accidents. Now, 8,557 (72 per cent) of these victims were killed on rural roads. These 8,557 traffic deaths were killed in 6,934 rural fatal accidents. In 69 per cent of these accidents only one driver was involved. And in 37 per cent of these rural fatal accidents, the drivers did not collide with anything. For the most part they simply ran off the roadway or turned over in the roadway.

These figures help point up the facts that Speed is Public Enemy No. 1 in Texas and is a prime factor in Texas motorist deaths on rural highways.

Quality and finish determine whether or not turkey growers get a premium price for their products," Morris Newnam, manager of the Ranger Frozen Food Lockers told those attending a meeting of the Central Texas Turkey Growers Association at the Ranger Chamber of Commerce Thursday night.

Newnam told the growers that he had observed the quality of turkeys recently in other parts of the state and that the birds raised in this section were of much better quality and brought higher prices than most places in Texas.

"The public is more demanding than ever and it's up to us to satisfy that demand in weight, quality and finish of the turkey," Newnam said.

"Turkey buyers will eventually buy on quality altogether instead of by weight and it's up to the growers to realize this as soon as possible and get better bred stock that will insure proper finish before they are marketed," he added.

Newnam continued, "There are times of the year when there is a greater demand for toms than hens, while around Thanksgiving and Christmas lighter weight hens are more in demand." He added that it would benefit the growers to make a study of these facts.

Joe B. Scott, of Ranger, presided at the meeting in the absence of both the president and vice president. He headed a discussion of the problems confronting the turkey growers.

John R. Hutto Is Buried In Abilene Friday

ABILENE (Spl.) — Final rites for John R. Hutto, 75, West Texas educator and historian, were held Friday afternoon at the First Baptist Church in Abilene.

Mr. Hutto died at 1:30 a.m. Thursday in an Abilene hospital. He was admitted to the hospital Wednesday after suffering a heart attack.

Dr. Elwin L. Skiles officiated at the services and burial was in Cedar Hill Cemetery.

Mr. Hutto was born Sept. 29, 1879 on a farm near Lincoln, Ala. He moved to Anson with his family in 1897. In 1899 he enrolled in the old Simmons College in Abilene. After teaching in several West Texas cities he returned to Abilene in 1941. He edited the West-Texas Baptist newspaper in the 1930's and later worked as a staff correspondent for the Big Spring Herald and Abilene Reporter-News.

In May, 1953, Mr. Hutto received his Master of Arts degree. He was 73 at the time.

His last major undertaking was research for the "History of Abilene."

Survivors include his wife; a son, Nelson Hutto of Dallas; a daughter, Mrs. Raymond Hall of Abilene; seven grandchildren, one great-grandson; two brothers, W. W. of Waco and J. B. of Grand Prairie; and several nephews, including Marvin Hutto of Olden.

Welcoming address will be given by Dr. J. W. Edgar, state commissioner of education; Mrs. Leon Price, president of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers; and Dr. Joe P. Moore, superintendent of Fort Worth schools.

Over 100 other leading educators and laymen will participate in the programs of sectional meetings, breakfasts, luncheons, and dinners.

The association will consider numerous matters of proposed legislation which it may sponsor before the next legislature to improve the state's public schools.

ROUND-UP on the CAMPUS at Ranger Junior College

As the first day of September drew near, much anticipation for the coming football season was seen among the students of Ranger Junior College.

The first game was played at Wharton Junior College on Sept. 11. At that time, Wharton was rated tops by national poll. The Rangers downed Wharton by a score of 21 to 13.

For the next game the Rangers traveled to Bryan to play Allen Academy, winning this contest in afternoon play, 18 to 7. The following week end rivals, Cisco Junior College, 44 to 7.

In quick succession, the Rangers were defeated by Navarro, 13 to 7, San Angelo, 36 to 7, and Tarleton gained a victory by a margin of one point, 14 to 13.

Reorganization of the team in the following two weeks proved successful. Hard work and spirit payed off at Arlington, Arlington, rated number two nationally and first in the Southwest, fell before the Rangers in the last half, 21 to 14.

Then the Rangers, not to be denied their new standing, met Henderson and emerged victorious, the scoreboard showing 39 to 14. On the comeback trail the Rangers will play Schreiner Institute Saturday night at Kerrville. Schreiner goes into the game as a two touchdown underdog.

Congratulations, Rangers, on a good season.

Mrs. R. A. Jameson is in charge of 25 young ladies who live in a beautiful dormitory on the Ranger Junior College campus.

These girls have a devotional period each evening. Friday evening, Pat Simpson had charge. Jo Ann Crider opened the meeting with a prayer. A personal testimony followed. After the singing of several hymns, the meeting was closed by the Lord's Prayer in unison.

Miss Vivian Simmons, chairman of the business department, was guest soloist at the homecoming

Christian Science

How the assurance of God's protecting care destroys anxiety and brightens human experience will be brought out in the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Christian Science churches this Sunday. On the subject, "Soul and Body," this selection from Psalms will be read (42:11): "Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and why art thou disquieted within me? hope thou in God: for I shall yet praise him, who is the health of my countenance, and my God."

One of the passages which will be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is the following (p. 390): "We cannot deny that Life is self-sustaining, and we should never deny the everlasting harmony of Soul, simply because, to the mortal senses, there is seeming discord. It is our ignorance of God, the divine Principle, which produces apparent discord, and the right understanding of Him restores harmony."

Any homemaker who spends all her time cleaning house in this day and age is either a glutton for punishment, or she just does not keep up with what's new in the world.

Keeping the average home in apple pie order is certainly no fulltime job, if the fabrics and furnishings are selected with an eye to easy upkeep. Soap-and-water washable paints, floor coverings, furniture, curtains, and draperies have taken the expense and hard labor out of housecleaning, and also assure longer service—a real economy in the long run!

For a change, serve German apple pancakes for Sunday night supper. Use your favorite recipe for puff pancakes, and add 1-4 teaspoon cinnamon to the flour and 1 cup finely chopped pared apples to the batter before cooking on the built-in griddle of your gas range. These measurements are proportional for a batch of eight 4-inch pancakes, so if you intend to make double the quantity, increase the amounts of cinnamon and chopped apples to correspond.

It's easier to iron large pieces of laundry if you reserve the board's position so that the iron can be placed on the narrow, pointed end of the board at your right. This leaves the broad, square end free so that you get maximum working space from the board. Newly-laundered tablecloths, curtains, and sheets can be done with a single motion taking the place of two.

To make an inexpensive sour cream dressing, add 3 tablespoons vinegar slowly to a cup of undiluted evaporated milk and beat until smooth, then add 1-2 teaspoon salt.

Those luscious long loops and loops of beads everybody's wearing in 1954 will wash beautifully. First baste them to a Turkish towel and then dip them up and down in a basin full of lukewarm soapsuds. Tackle only one necklace at a time to avoid tangling, and use a soft complexion brush to scrub between the beads. Rinse the beads in the same fashion and hang them up to dry—still sewn to the towel.

Scientists To Hold Services On Thanksgiving

A special Thanksgiving service, open to the general public, will be held in Christian Science churches at 11 o'clock in the morning on Thanksgiving Day. The Golden Text of the Lesson-Sermon to be read is from Psalms (60:14): "Offer unto God thanksgiving; and pay thy vows unto the most High."

Selections on the subject of thanksgiving to God such as the following will be read from the Christian Science textbook by Mary Baker Eddy as well as from the Bible: "To those leaning on the sustaining infinite, today is big with blessing" (p. vii). In proof of the practicality of this statement, the latter portion of the service will be devoted to spontaneous expressions of gratitude by Christian Scientists in the congregation for God's goodness as shown in the healing of physical and mental disorders, and other blessings. All are cordially invited to attend this service.

CWFM Meets For Luncheon Thurs.

Mmes. E. T. Matthews and Mamie Moffett were hostesses to the Christian Women's Fellowship of the First Christian Church when they met at 1 p.m. Thursday for their monthly covered dish luncheon.

The president, Mrs. Henry Martin, presided over the business meeting which followed. Mrs. B. G. Pirkle gave the secretary and treasurer's report.

The devotional was given by Mrs. Dick Jones. Boxes of food and clothing were packed to send to the Juliet Fowler Home in Dallas.

Present were Mmes. B. S. Dudley, Sr., R. A. Jones, T. J. Adams, O. R. Ervin, Annie Mills, Edgar Black, Dick Jones, John Bryan, Richard Cox, Henry Martin, Lottie Davenport, Pirkle, Lowe Wallace, Rev. Don Fordyce and the hostesses, Mmes. Matthews and Moffett.

First Baptist Plans Department Devotionals

Sunday morning will find special devotionals in the several departments of the Sunday school of the First Baptist Church. Rev. V. Robinson, in Adult 2, Walter Arterburn in Adult 1, Lloyd Bruce, Young People, Charles Layton, Intermediate, and Rev. Perkins, Juniors.

The Virginia Wingo Circle of the WMU will sponsor a covered dish dinner at 12:30 with each family bringing the food they need. Mrs. Jimmy Jones, chairman of the Circle expresses a desire to have all the members join in this fellowship on the closing day of the bible revival.

Dr. J. P. McBeth will preach Sunday morning on the theme, "Faith Brings A Sufficiency." This sermon will be of outstanding value and interest because of the preacher's ability to interpret the scriptures.

Sunday night Dr. McBeth will bring the message on the, "Spear Riven Side of Jesus." All the city could hear this sermon with profit, says Rev. Ralph Perkins.

Training Union will meet at 6:30 and an outstanding program is planned for the many departments.

The nursery is open for all these services. Sunday morning is the time set aside to vote the budget for 1955. It is customary for the membership to study the proposed budget for one week before voting and subscribing same. Sunday is the time when as many signers for the Tithe will be secured as possible.

Rev. and Mrs. Wallace N. Dunson of Taylor visited in the home of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Clarke, Jr., and daughters, Thursday night.

Mrs. Larry Griffith attended a gift wrapping school in Fort Worth Monday and Tuesday. The school was conducted by the Fort Worth Public Schools.

Setting for one

Season of Thanksgiving,
and how thankful are we? For the harvest from the fields and for the cattle on the hills, yea, Lord, may we give Thanks. On this Thanksgiving Day, may we set a place for God at our house. We owe it all to Him. Surely gratitude to the Master should find expression in Thanksgiving and Thanks-living. May we open our hearts wider and lift our voices higher, as we sing with more meaning—"Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow." The Pilgrims sought Freedom of Worship for us, and may we pause to thank God for them and for the benefits we enjoy... Amen.
