

Lone Star Purchases City Gas Franchise Change To Be Effective In Mid-March

The Lone Star Gas Company has purchased the interests of Community Public Service in Ranger and Olden, Lee Dockery, Community Public Service manager in Ranger, announced today.

Dockery said that Lone Star would probably take charge of operation in mid-March. However, Lone Star offices in Eastland and Dallas were not prepared to make an official statement at this early date.

The Community Public Service manager said that the change over was a result of the Ranger City Council's refusal to grant Community Public Service an additional 20 year franchise on city gas utilities. The franchise expires in May, 1960. The original franchise spanned a 20 year period.

Dockery said that his company was not able to operate on an "undetermined basis" after the 20 year franchise had been denied.

Financial terms were not revealed.

Lone Star will occupy the Community Public Service building and maintain the equipment now in use, Dockery added.

School Tax Collections Top 83% Mark

H. C. Wilkinson, school tax collector, has announced that 83.6 percent of the 1954 school tax roll has been collected.

A total of $83,712.49 was entered on the rolls for the past year. Wilkinson said that during the fall and winter of 1964 and January, 1955, the collections had been better than at any time since he has served as collector here. He will complete his eighteenth year in May.

He said also that delinquent tax collections were much above average this year and that total collections tapered off at 86.3 percent.

The tax office had issued more current receipts and collected more money at the period ending Jan. 31 than at the same period at any time during the past years.

Wilkinson indicated that the amount of delinquent taxes would probably decrease this year, as first delinquent cards were just mailed this week, and his office has not had sufficient time to get a response on them.

ASC Announces Pre-measuring Cotton Service

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office in Eastland is offering a service of pre-measuring cotton, Emmett Powell, office manager, announced today.

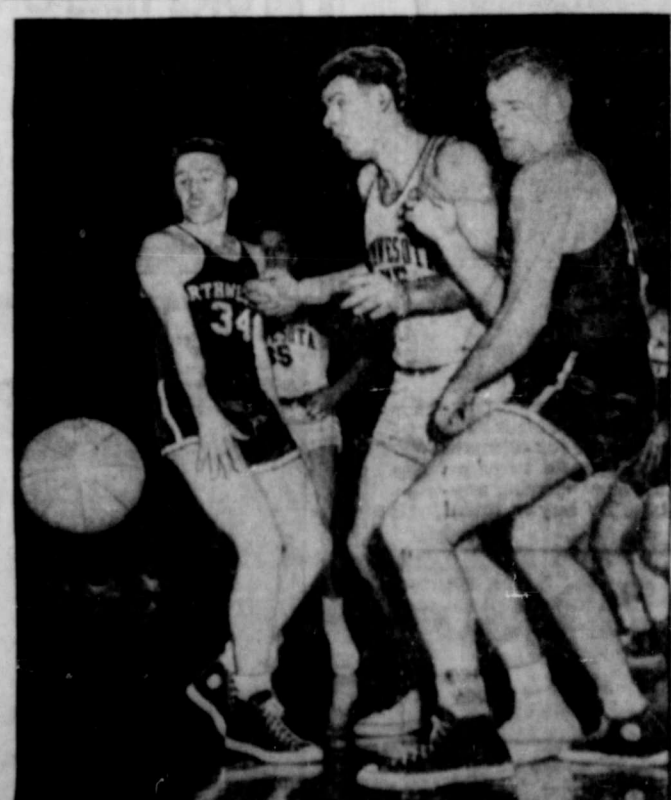

Mr. Powell said that if a producer wishes, the fieldman will visit his farm and stake out the cotton allotment before planting and that measurement will be used for measurements this summer when other crops are measured.

A charge of $7 for the first plot plus $2 for each additional plot will be charged for the service.

"We have a new flight of maps and will be glad to be of any assistance in working out your acreage on the maps," Mr. Powell said.

Closing date for pre-measurement of cotton is April 15.

Rodeo Grounds Go To College In Lease

Certain areas of the Ranger Junior Chamber of Commerce's rodeo grounds has been leased to Ranger Junior College for experimental purposes in conjunction with their new agriculture program, it was announced here today.

The new Agriculture Department, headed by Dr. Grady Tice, will run experiments on beef cattle, chickens and sheep within the next few months.

Dr. Price Ashton, college president said that Morris Newnam is loaning most of the stock for the beginning experiments.

However, the college is not planning to purchase any of their own livestock at the present.

The president said that the program has a two-fold purpose. One to give the agriculture students the experience they need for such

Paved Road Mileage To Be Doubled In County - Formby

Staff - Ranger Road Needed, Guest Says

The continuation of the Texas highway system to be the greatest in the nation was pledged in Eastland by Marshall Formby, member of the State Highway Commission, as he addressed guests at the Ranger-Eastland Chamber of Commerce banquet Tuesday night.

Formby was guest speaker of the banquet which honored highway officials in this area, after a ribbon cutting ceremony formally opened the Staff - Eastland Road over Lake Leon earlier in the afternoon.

During the lake ceremonies, the Highway Commissioner gave Eastland counties hope for a loop road connecting the new farm-market road to Staff direct into Ranger.

"I'd have to agree with you Mayor, you do need a little paved road towards Ranger," Formby said after Mayor Calvin Harris of Ranger, had said "I know we shall, in the near future, ask Mr. Formby to help us dedicate a paved road from the dam into Ranger."

Formby quickly added that he could not make any promises since the entire commission would have to act on any approval. He also added that he hoped to see the road connected with Desdemona. He said that decisions of the Highway Commission are always unanimous and that one member could not promise any action. He pointed out that there had not been a two-to-one decision by the commission for a number of years.

At the banquet, that saw the dining room of the Connelley Hotel taxed to capacity, by nearly an even representation of Eastland and Ranger citizens, Formby said that the entire nation was going to get better roads. "There is going to be a lot more construction on roads like Highway 80 because President Eisenhower has recognized the importance of coast-to-coast roads as a military advantage," he added.

The Commissioner said that 84 miles of farm-to-market road had been built in Eastland County and about that much more is in the offing. He indicated that the Carbon-Gorman road would be rebuilt in the next two years.

Pausing temporarily to dwell upon the "true cause" of the banquet, Formby stressed, "If anybody is to be honored here tonight, it should be the people of Eastland and Ranger who have, in forgetting their differences, like football, joined together in building the new dam and lake."

He said that the highway picture was bright for Eastland County as $1.5 billion had been earmarked for the area in the next two years.

Training Plans Basis For Guard Award

The Ranger National Guard recently received a report from the 4th Army's Inspector General Office with Headquarters at Ft. Sam Houston in San Antonio explaining the basis for which the local unit was awarded the Silver Certificate during their last inspection ceremony.

The National Guard Silver Certificate is a coveted award that is presented to units who have over a year's time proven extremely efficient in their training program.

Lt. Col. Wm. C. Scoggin, who made the inspection here in January and submitted the report to the 4th Army headquarters, said that the perfect attendance of all officers and nearly perfect attendance of enlisted men at all drills through the past year reflected a high stage of morale within the organization.

Drill attendance averaged 91 percent for the enlisted men.

Col. Scoggin also credited the group with active participation in Army extension courses, the neat appearance of all individuals during inspection, the physical and personal qualifications of personnel and the leadership of officers and non-commissioned officers, the

Bagwell, Ewing Announce For City Council

Two other persons announced this week that they would seek seats on the City Council in elections scheduled for April.

Homer Bagwell announced for Finance Commissioner while Billy Ewing filed for Police Commissioner.

Bagwell, in filing for Place 3, said, that his announcement came entirely in the interest of the city.

"I have no personal gains to accomplish and wish only to become a servant of the public in the interest of building a stronger city for the people," he added.

"If elected," Bagwell continued, "I promise a non-partisan, impartial city government, and one that will not be swayed by the many temptations that occur when the time comes for my ballot to be cast on critical subjects that arise from time to time."

Six New Locations Brighten Oil Picture

Six new oil projects brightened the area oil news picture this week.

Nearest was a project staked four miles south of Eastland.

Location for a Harbin Field project was staked four miles south of Eastland. It is W. H. (Bill) Hoffman of Eastland No. 11 J. V. Harbin.

Having a proposed depth of 1,250 feet with cable tools, it is located 1,000 feet from the north and 1,000 feet from the west lines of Section 27, Block 2, T&P Survey.

Don and Sundefer, operating from Breckenridge, staked two new locations 20 miles northwest of Albany in the Whistler Bend Moutain Field, both on the Hendrick Ranch and in Section 157, ETRR Survey.

No. 9 Hendrick spots 756 feet from the south and 456 feet from the west lines of the section. No. 10 Hendrick will be 750 feet from the south and west lines of the section. Both are slated for 1,750 feet with cable.

In the Cook Ranch Field, Marshall R. Young of Fort Worth spotted No. 20-A Cook 62 as a new project seven miles northwest of Albany.

Slated for 1,500 feet with cable it spots 120 feet from the north and 350 feet from the east lines of the southwest quarter of Section 62, ETRR Survey.

Jones and Stasney of Albany completed No. 1-B James L. Snyder as a new producer in Callahan County's Jerriani (Ellenburger) Survey.

Family-sized Cotton Farmer May Get Break Under New Law Change

"There is the strongest possible effort being made to correct some of the inequalities brought about by the administration of the cotton allotment law for this year," Rep. Omar Burleson of the 17th District, which includes Eastland County, said Thursday.

Rep. Burleson pointed out that the question of changing the law, so as to allow the family-size farmer a better opportunity to earn a living, is receiving serious consideration in Congress.

In a round-up of other Washington facts, Mr. Burleson pointed out the following information:

"According to post office officials, it requires eighteen separate operations and the work of nineteen postal employees to assure the delivery of an ordinary three-cent letter.

by Lee Harr

One of the lighter remarks at the Ranger-Eastland Chamber of Commerce banquet Tuesday night in Eastland honoring certain members of the State Highway Commission came from our mayor, Dr. Calvin Harris, when he said that Ranger's participation in the ribbon-cutting ceremony at the Lake Leon Dam came as an excuse to see only a slight favor.

The favor asked was "just a paved road."

Dr. Harris added, "There just happened to be some highway officials there to hear the request."

Judge Milburn Long, who acted as master of ceremonies of the program, counterpunched with, "The Ranger delegation was way ahead of us during the entire afternoon with Rip Galloway leading dice pack later in the evening."

Marshall Formby, one of the three members of the State Highway Commission and guest speaker at the banquet, also added other light bits to the evening with two or three choice jokes. His first effort concerned the west Texas judge, who had become disappointed with the type of jurors he had been receiving in previous court cases and appointed a panel of 11 lawyers to decide a case.

The case being minor and simple, after both sides had presented their facts, the judge ordered the jury into the jury room to appoint themselves a foreman, and to reach a verdict. After one hour, the judge became anxious and could not understand why the jury had not returned with a verdict.

Three more hours of waiting and the jury had still not returned.

On the sixth hour, the judge instructed the bailiff to investigate the cause of the delay.

Moments later the bailiff returned and reported that the lawyers were still making campaign speeches for the foreman's position.

Another of the visiting speaker's bit of wit was the story of the traveling salesman confined in a mental institution. The doctor in charge of the institution, in explaining the salesman's condition to a visitor, said that he had been stationed in Waxahachie for nearly a year and had written many orders and generally established a good business.

But just as he had learned to spell Waxahachie he had been transferred to Naacogloches.

Probate Code And Corporation Laws To Get Modern Look

Two major—but antiquated—Texas laws soon will be modernized to meet present-day requirements, if recommendations of the State Bar of Texas are adopted by the Legislature.

A New Probate Code and Corporation Act were endorsed by the board of directors of the state lawyers organization at its meeting just concluded in McAllen, and will be introduced in the Legislature as bar-sponsored measures.

Both measures have been studied carefully over a period of several years by many of the outstanding lawyers of the state. Present drafts have been discussed at a number of legal institutes held in all parts of Texas.

The Corporation Act is intended to be a complete statutory framework for corporations from the time of organization to their dissolution. Except for provisions relative to fees and franchise taxes which would continue to be found in other statutes, the Corporation Act would be the complete body of law governing the corporations to which it would apply.

Drafters of the proposed Probate Code rearranged present statutes in logical order and eliminated present uncertainties. The new code has collected all statutes relating to probate matters and brought them together in one code.

State Bar President R. N. Gresham of San Antonio, said: "Revision of these laws is long overdue. Modernizing them will be a service to Texas lawyers as well as the clients they advise." He pointed out the Probate Code was first enacted in 1848, and re-enacted with little change in 1878.

Directors Also Named Two Nominees Each for the Bar's Top Posts

The directors also named two nominees each for the Bar's top posts—president and vice president. Nominated for the presidency are Maurice R. Bullock of Fort Stockton, now vice president; and W. W. Naman of Waco, chairman of the board in 1952-53.

Nominees for vice president are R. L. Dillard, Jr., of Dallas, a present director; and Newton Gresham of Houston—no relation to the president. The new officers will be elected in May by mail balloting of the more than 11,000 bar members and will take office at the close of the annual bar convention in July.

INCOME TAX BREAKS FOR FARMERS
The new internal revenue code provides several income tax breaks for farmers ranging from filing dates later than those allowed other persons to extra deductions.
As mentioned in a previous column, persons other than farmers, required by law to file declarations of estimated tax, have only until January 15 to file their tax return and pay their taxes in full to avoid penalties for failure to file quarterly estimates.
The new code has not changed the January 15 due date for declaration of estimated tax by farmers. However, a farmer may file his income tax return and pay the full tax required by it on or before January 31 and thus eliminate the need for a declaration of estimated tax. This provision gives the farmer fifteen days more than other persons in which to assemble his records, compute his income, and file his return. Beginning in 1956, he will be allowed an additional fifteen days, until February 15.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas
A 1955 Edition

The biggest break for farmers under the new act is the right to deduct as an expense at least a portion of soil and water conservation expenses. The costs which may be deducted include earthen dams, leveling, grading, terracing, contour furrowing, diversion channels, drainage ditches, watercourses, outlets, ponds, removing brush, and planting windbreaks. Assessments paid to a soil or water conservation district are also deductible if the district performed work of the nature just listed.
The deduction is limited to 25 per cent of the farmer's gross income from farming in any particular year. If the entire deduction is not entirely allowable in one year, the excess may be carried over to the following year, and so on indefinitely until the farmer has been able to deduct the entire amount.
The deduction is allowable only for expenditures in 1954 or later years, and the farmer must elect in the first year in which he has expenditures whether he will capitalize them as in the past or deduct them under the provisions of the new law. Once this election has been made, it cannot be changed without permission from the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Under the former law, if payments were made to a farmer because of the destruction or sale of livestock due to disease, such payment was taxable income to the extent it exceeded the cost of the livestock. Under the 1954 act, this is called an involuntary conversion. The proceeds will be taxable income only to the extent that it exceeds the cost of the replacement.

Another change which may be of considerable advantage to the farmer is the one setting up two new methods by which depreciation may be computed. It is now possible to deduct greater amounts for depreciation in the first years. This change will be explained in greater detail in a subsequent article in this series.
(This column, based on Federal law, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret the law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change — the application of the law.)
