The Pathfinder

"You should buy an encyclopedia now that your little boy is going to school."
"Not on your life. Let him walk, like I did."

Now here's a new wrinkle in the milk industry, quite different from the milkmaid of old.

Milkmen in Dallas toting the dairy product for Metzger Dairies in Dallas has adopted Bermuda wear shorts as the official working apparel for its milkmen. Metzger boasts that it has become the first dairy in the United States to depart from the usual working dress for men.

THEY say this
And THEY say that:
THEY make me wonder
Where I'm at.

Identify those Who are known as THEY.
And I'll have more respect
For what THEY say!

Joe Daskevich, president of the Little League here, says that he and other league officers and team managers have a headache in the making. He says he knows that it is but knows also that he can't do a lot about it.

He's speaking of the Little League player auction that will come Tuesday night.
There is going to be several boys he indicates, a great number in fact, who will not be bought by the standard point system for one of the existing four teams.

For these four teams approximately 20 to 25 players will be needed. Those selected will be chosen from a pool of nearly 75 boys who are trying out for the first time this year.

With about 50 of the hopefuls left over, there will be some whose parents will wonder why their son wasn't chosen for one of the regular teams. The son of these parents are the best prospective athletes on the field in the mind of the parents. That's the way it should be. However, there are many approaches to consider.

Suppose a boy wants to play second base and that each of the four teams has a regular second baseman and an able replacement who has been tried during the past season. A manager is not willing to sacrifice those that have been tested for an untried rookie.

And these managers, like the major leagues, are out to win the championship. They are toying with each other now attempting to find who, from the poll of newcomers, they are willing to pay the most points for. And during the player auction the competing managers are going to make that "sought after player" cost many more points than the buyer ever thought, thus weakening his buying power in the years to come by reducing his number of accumulating points.

Also, from the list of this player pool that will be left over after the auction, most of the contenders are in the eight year old brackets. At that tender age, the boys have not grown to much size and most have not gained the experience, balance, poise and coordination that is required from the Little League regulars.

However, from this pool, the teams for the minor league will be chosen. They too will have a league all their own, and have regular scheduled games just like the Little League.

It is in this process that they will gain the necessary traits to become one of next year's team members.

Also, during the year as the season progresses, managers through deals of their own, may possibly trade players from one team to another.

This should be no indication that the boy or boys traded are disliked by their present manager, or that he is not a fine ball player or athlete, but that he is being traded.

Little League Auction Planned Tuesday Night

Prosper or Wither

(An Editorial)

It's a pathetic state of affairs in which our city government has grown.
The question raised most by friends in neighboring towns in these recent days is, "How's the mess in your city hall?"

Certainly its curiously amusing to most and curiosity and amusement are two of the most difficult traits in these United States to dispel, even in the period of static wars and "police actions."

However, to some groups of people it isn't so amusing. Consider for instance, an executive of some factory who is diligently and cautiously studying plans for expansion, growth, and movement.

What does he see in Ranger? You may ask.
This is what he sees. Water, transportation, communication, and a growing source of labor.

He also sees a strife ridden, troubled and divided city government. Immediately he skips this city, and one day he circles in red on his map, where operations of his plant will soon begin.

Again we will be left to wither, die and slowly fade into the history books as a "city that once was, but isn't anymore."

Who are we to blame? Ourselves individually as the voter? Maybe! Those currently in power in the city government? Maybe! Or possibly those that we call our "political enemies." It's none of these.

It's the mass as a whole. All those who have known each other for the largest portion of their lives, and suddenly overnight have become discourteous, unfriendly and impudent toward one another, because, "he voted wrong."

The city has reached a climax. Either it will grow and prosper or drop to an ebb that has been an obituary for neighboring cities.

Awaken, reclaim your life-long friends, before empty, rotting skeletons of buildings mark the passage of a once thriving city.

Pre-School Roundup Scheduled Tuesday

The annual pre-school roundup will be held Tuesday, beginning at 1:30 p.m. in the Recreation Building at Ranger High School, it was announced here today.

The roundup is held each year shortly before the school year ends for children who will become students during the next school semester.

Medical doctors will make certain physical checks on each child, while Dr. M. E. Jolly will conduct eye examinations and Dr. W. L. Dowd will examine teeth.

Also, small pox vaccinations will be given to each child who has not before had the vaccination. Each student must have the vaccination before he is admitted to school.

The vaccination will be given free of cost to the children during the roundup. However, parents will have to bear the cost of the vaccine if it is given at a later date.

Officials have urged that all parents bring their children to the Recreation building for the roundup.

Mrs. Young's car was the most heavily damaged, while a fender on Dockery's car was smashed.

Police estimated the damage at $75.

Mayor, Miss Johnnie Young In Car Accident

Slight damage was reported on two cars in a collision on Main St. Friday afternoon.

The accident occurred when Miss Johnnie Young, as she backed from a parking space, struck a new car driven by Mayor Lee Dockery.

Mrs. Young's car was the most heavily damaged, while a fender on Dockery's car was smashed.

Police estimated the damage at $75.

TWISTER DAMAGE to one of the rooms in their home near Eastland is surveyed by Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Gibson. The blow funneled across a corner of Eastland Lake Wednesday afternoon and snatched the roof of most of their farm residence. Mr. Gibson was slightly injured by a flying timber but Mrs. Gibson was unharmed.

75 Contestants Vie For Fifteen Vacancies

The climax of Little League spring training will be realized Tuesday night when team managers meet in the Chamber of Commerce building to buy replacements for their team losses from last year.

Nearly 75 prospects are vying for 12 or 15 existing vacancies on the four teams.

Each of the 75 boys will be placed on team rosters temporarily, however, within five days before the first game of the season must alter their playing roster to 15 players. This is accomplished by submitting to league officials the names of the 15 players they wish to field in contest.

The remaining prospective players will form the Minor League, where all other players who do not make Little League teams will play during the season. They also will have regular scheduled contests and night ball games.

Plans now call for Little League games to be played on Monday and Thursday nights and for the Minor League games to be played on Friday nights.

Little League point system works on an accumulative basis. At the beginning of the initial season each manager is allowed 35,000 credits for the purchase of players.

At the beginning of each subsequent season each manager receives 10,000 credits in addition to his unexpended credits from the previous season.

Immediately preceding the auction, each manager receives an additional 2,000 credits for each player to whom he holds title and who cannot play during the coming season, as a result of illness, or having taken residence beyond the boundaries of the League.

Brothers who become candidates at the same time are auctioned under the family name to avoid separation, while a boy becoming a candidate while his brother is a member of one of the teams has an option price of 500 points set on him and the manager owning his brother shall have the opportunity to take up the option.

Local Marine Gets Promotion In Japan

CAMP GIJU, Japan (PHN) — Marine Cpl. Richard E. Powell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aibry D. Powell of 1334 W. Washington St., Ranger, Tex., and husband of the former Miss Billie S. Pulk also of Ranger was promoted to his present rank in April while serving with the Military Police Company, Headquarters Battalion, 3rd Marine Division here.

His unit maintains a constant state of readiness for any emergency in the Far East.

Before entering the Marine Corps in 1953, he was employed by the American Aggregate Co., in Ranger.

Each player purchased is the property of the team making the purchase for the duration of his Little League career, unless he is sold or released.

Following the auction, managers may exchange players until 14 days after the first scheduled game. Credits as well as players may be used in making exchanges.

Each contestant is selected solely on his ability to play baseball. There are no barriers of race, religion or color. There is no room for cliques or groups in the Little League organization.

March of Dimes Heads' Warn

Confusion Of Voices Cause Of Polio Vaccine Distrust

The situation regarding the Salk polio vaccine has become unnecessarily involved through a confusion of voices, Basil O'Connor, president of the National Infantile Paralysis, said today in a letter to Jess Cole, county March of Dimes chairman.

Denying reports that the vaccine is a "cure-all" O'Connor said, "When two doses of the salk vaccine are given there may be 10 to 20 percent of those receiving it who will not be protected against paralytic polio according to the Francis report."

The National Foundation is interested in the proper manufacture, testing and administration of the Salk vaccine and in its most effective use to prevent paralytic polio. It stands, ready, able and willing to do all it can within the limit of its power, to make this safe and effective vaccine available to the American people as soon as possible, he added.

Cole said that the National Foundation with the support of the American people has sponsored the development, testing and evaluation of a safe polio vaccine which, when properly manufactured, tested and administered (three doses properly spaced), will be effective in preventing 80 to 90 percent of paralytic polio cases. He emphasized that this was clearly set forth by Dr. Thomas Francis Jr. in his evaluation report released in Ann Arbor, Mich. on April 12, 1955.

Clarifying other points, he said, the National Foundation has no control of the manufacture of the vaccine, all of which is produced by commercial pharmaceutical companies.

The National Foundation has no control of the testing of commercially produced vaccine. This is the sole responsibility of and is done by the U. S. Government through the National Institutes of Health and U. S. Public Health Service.

Except for the vaccine the National Foundation is making available without cost to children in the first and second grades of the country, the National Foundation has no control over the distribution of the vaccine.

Apart from the element of time there is no insurmountable difficulties in the manufacture, testing and administration of the Salk vaccine.

It has never been claimed that one dose of the Salk vaccine would prevent paralytic polio. Two doses properly spaced are necessary to accomplish that result. To date only one dose has been given to children in the first and second grades from vaccine made available by the National Foundation.

R-Day At VA Hospitals To Be Observed

"To often we are prone to forget the price of freedom," Miss Doris Anderson, state president of the American Legion Auxiliary, declared today. Announcing that Eastland — and other Texas — citizens are asked to join the American Legion Auxiliary in its observance of R-Day at the V.A. hospital, Thursday, May 12, which is also National Hospital Day.

In extending the invitation, Miss Anderson said, "We know the battle is not won for many, and many are paying for the privileges we enjoy today. To reawaken our appreciation of the sacrifices of our men who served in the armed forces, R-Day has been designated to emphasize REHABILITATION of the veterans, RECOGNITION of service of the American Legion Auxiliary volunteer hospital workers, and of the COMMITMENT — to awaken within the hearts of most of us a desire to contribute actively to the rehabilitation program by volunteering as hospital workers."

"R-Day will be observed Thursday in most Veterans Administration hospitals with open house, tours and special programs. These hospitals, where the American Legion Auxiliary has duly appointed representatives, are located at Amarillo, Big Spring, Bonham, Dallas, Houston, Kerrville, Marlin, McKinney Temple and Waco. R-Day will also be observed at the U. S. Naval Base hospital in Corpus Christi and at the Brooke Army General Hospital in San Antonio.

where its program is being followed.

To date more than 4,500,000 children have received one dose of the Salk vaccine supplied by the National Foundation and approved for use by the National Institute of Health. In this entire group only 22 cases of paralytic polio have been officially reported including 17 in the group who received Cutter vaccine. In the group of 4,165,000 who did not receive Cutter vaccine only five cases of paralytic polio have been officially reported.

The word "control" has been used continually since April 12 without anyone indicating what it means or what it involves. The National Foundation has no authority to control the distribution of the Salk vaccine.

The only compulsory control that will approach effectiveness is that which involves the Federal Government acquiring by purchase or otherwise all of the Salk vaccine manufactured during some period of time and then allocating it to the states for use through their health services on terms and conditions which are supported by scientific fact.

To acquire enough vaccine to give three shots to all children and adolescents in the 0 to 20 year age group would cost $144,000,000 based on prices at which the manufacturers are said to be prepared to offer the vaccine to federal, state and county governmental agencies.

"Assembling In The Holy Place" Will Be First Baptist Subject

The entire 16th chapter of first Chronicles will furnish the scriptural background for the message Sunday morning in the First Baptist Church. The theme for the morning worship will be, "Assembling in The Holy Place."

The Sunday school department is studying the Kings of Judah, and the "great thrill of these men of old as they follow God and seek Him with open minds and pure hearts. Victory and triumph always comes their way. When they turn from God's commandments, they suffer as individuals, households, and nations." "All of Ranger ought to be in the House of the Lord these Sundays studying and seeing the power of the Lord," Rev. Perkins stated.

Throughout the summer months Training Union will meet at 7 p.m. The month of May is always a challenge to the Training Union department. All members are urged to be in attendance these next three Sunday nights and build for a greater attendance and knowledge in Bible teachings. Spiritual growth depends upon the "Training Program" of the church.

The evening worship service begins at 8 p.m. The choir and congregational singing is a thrill that will make the week a better one for every one. Come and enjoy the evening worship hour. The pastor's message for the evening will be, "Christ's Teaching Concerning Righteousness and Wickedness."

The nursery is open for 1 1/2 hours. We have capable workers and a most delightful arrangement for babies in beds and the toddlers. Germicidal lamps are in each of the nursery rooms. Christian Science

Man's true selfhood is a spiritual child of God — possessing dominion over sin, sickness, and mortality — will be set forth at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon "Mortals and Immortals."

Among the passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be the following: "Immortal man was and is God's image or idea, even is coexistent and coeternal with that Mind. . . Immortal man is not and never material, but always spiritual and eternal" (356:9-12, 14).

Scriptural selections will include the following from Psalms (1:1, 6): "Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful. . . For the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous; but the way of the ungodly shall perish."

A 30-minute nationwide program on Christian Science will be broadcast on the Columbia "Church of the Air" Sunday, over Radio Station KWFT, Wichita Falls, at 4:15 p.m.

Colonel Robert Ellis Key, editor of the Christian Science religious periodicals, will be the speaker on the subject, "Beneath God's Sheltering Wing." Musical selections from the Christian Science Hymnal will be sung by a special quartet and by Frederick Jagel, soloist of The Mother Church.

These programs on Christian Science are presented four times throughout the year.

Chicken Dinner in Foil

Each individual serving of Chicken 'n Rice is cooked and then served in its own silvery serving dish. After broiling in hot fat, pieces of chicken are sealed in an aluminum foil packet along with browned onions, mushrooms and tender cooked white rice. For a real easy meal, assemble the packets early in the day and store them in the refrigerator. An hour before meal time, place them in a hot oven to bake to a succulent goodness.

CHICKEN DINNER IN FOIL
Tomato and Lettuce Salad
Garlic-Paprika French Bread
Lemon Tart

INGREDIENTS:

- 2 cups water
- 1 cup uncooked white rice
- 1 teaspoon salt
- Fat for frying chicken
- 1 frying chicken, cut into serving pieces
- About 12 small mushrooms
- 12 small white uncooked onions
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 3/4 teaspoon black pepper
- Top milk or cream

METHOD: Put water, rice and salt in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover with a lid and leave over this low heat 14 minutes. While the rice is cooking, brown chicken in the fat. In the same skillet, lightly brown the onions and mushrooms.

From a 12 inch roll of aluminum foil, tear off pieces 16 inches long (one for each person to be served). In the center of each piece of aluminum foil arrange the chicken, rice, mushrooms and onions. Sprinkle with the salt and pepper. Pour 3 tablespoons of top milk or cream over each arrangement of rice and chicken. Bring the edges of the aluminum foil together and seal with a double fold over the top and the sides. Place these packets on a cookie sheet or other pan and bake in a 425°F. oven for 1 hour.

Open aluminum packets, turn edges back and serve. The delicious rice and chicken dinner can be eaten right out of its own aluminum foil nest.

This is a perfect party dish since it can stay in the oven as long as 2 hours. If the heat is reduced to 250°F. after the first hour, this dish can also be made in the morning and put in the oven at meal time.

This recipe makes 4 to 6 servings.

Cruise Book of Jordan Boys Is Received Here

Two Eastland navy boys have sent back home a prized possession—the Cruise Book of the USS Henry W. Tucker. They're both on this ship.

The boys are Billy Bruce Jordan, 21, and Landon Jordan, 19. Presently the craft is in port at Long Beach. It's story is told in word and picture in the Cruise Book—which contains photos of the Jordans. They are both gunners.

Billy Bruce Jordan will finish his enlistment in October and go to work for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company at Lubbock. His younger brother, Landon, has another year and a half to serve.

The boys' father, J. Y. Jordan, is a veteran of World War I. He was turned down in the States because of his age—35—but joined the Canadian Air Force, 36 years ago. And, after the war, in 1923 he served in the Texas State Guard, 27th Bn., under Gov. Coke Stevenson.

5 Farmers Form Soil Dist. Unit

The Upper Leon Soil Conservation District Board is composed of five soil conservation farmers. The governing body consists of W.J. Fritts, chairman; J. D. Gardner, H. W. Turney, secretary; Bernal Hickman and F. M. Spurien.

Each member of this board is duly elected by land owners of the district for a period of five years. To be a member he must be a land owner and operator.

Their primary objective is to get conservation on the land.

Mr. Fritts owns and operates a 355 acre bottomland farm in the Van Dyke Community near Comanche. He has applied some type of conservation to each acre on this farm. Some of these practices include: eradication of 150 acres of brush from his pasture, seeded and sodded 130 acres of pasture grasses, planted Madrid clover in his Johnson grass meadows, plants Vetch with small grain for grazing and cover crops, plants Italian rye for winter grazing and fences his pasture in blocks to control grazing.

Mr. Turney lives in the Purves Community south of Dublin. He owns a livestock farm and operates the Vickers Estate. Mr. Turney is a former Soil Conservation Service employee, regarded as an outstanding authority on range land and range management.

Turney has applied a complete conservation plan on both farm units. He has seeded many acres of land to native grasses with good success. He plants his cropland to small grain and vetch and clover and grazes these crops with livestock during winter and early spring.

Mr. Gardner owns and operates a sandy land peanut farm in the Round Grove Community near De Leon. Mr. Gardner has preached conservation farming for a decade or more. He was one of the first farmers in his community to plant winter cover crops on his deep, coarse-textured sandy farm. In addition to the other practices he has done lots of pasture improvement such as brush, eradication, providing temporary pasture consisting of vetch, winter peas and rye. He has planted weeping love and King Ranch Bluestem grasses for permanent pasture.

Mr. Hickman, commonly known as "Hairy Vetch," is a progressive young farmer and rancher reared and residing near Rising Star. In '61 Bernal Hickman was voted the most outstanding farmer conservationist in the state. He operates a 2,463-acre livestock farm. He has applied 100 per cent of his conservation program on his land.

Mr. Spurien lives east of Eastland on a 63-acre farm, which he owns, and he leases 500 additional acres and practices conservation on both places. Mr. Spurien has planted vetch and winter peas for over twenty years. He has carried out a good program of brush control and seeded 20 acres of land to native grass this year.

The supervisors meet the second and Friday of each month at the DeLeon Work Unit Headquarters. They welcome anyone interested in any phase of Soil and Water Conservation.

"Mummy, what happens to us if the bomb drops?"

She looks to you for a real answer. She knows what she must do when the sirens sound at school. But what happens if they sound when she's at home? Will you be ready, like teacher is? Ready to protect her from harm? Ready to help her if she is hurt?

An atomic blast is something like a tornado, a fire and an explosion all rolled into one. Any of these may happen any day. They do happen every day, somewhere. But when they happen all at once, lots of people get hurt. Everybody needs help at the same time—and it may be hours before it comes to your home.

U. S. Civil Defense, working with doctors and atomic scientists, has developed a list of "must" disaster first-aid supplies. These few simple items may already be in your home or, if not, you can get them at any drug counter. For the sake of your children, your neighbors and yourself, these supplies should be in your home—and you should know how to use them.

BE SURE YOU HAVE THESE OFFICIAL DISASTER FIRST-AID ITEMS!
