

Around
Town...by Dwaine Dennis

The first Sunday morning that Rev. W. A. Flynn, new pastor of the First Methodist Church, was in the pulpit, Fred Bennett was in his usual place in the congregation. However, before Rev. Flynn started preaching, Fred felt ill and had to leave church.

Rev. Flynn saw Fred the next day and told him that it was very unusual for someone to get sick and leave church before he had started preaching — he said that most people didn't get sick until after the sermon.

Mrs. A. R. Huffman has placed many beautiful handmade articles on display in the Joseph Building window. Mrs. Huffman said that she made all but one of the articles. The hand made skirt is the one given away on the Queen for a Day Show. Each sequin is separately hand tied. She made the skirt for her niece and also made another one for her granddaughter. Mrs. Huffman said that she did the sewing as a therapy for arthritis. Go by to see the articles, they are all works of art.

O. C. Warden and M. L. King said the other day that they were afraid that the rent on their office was going up (the back booth at Crawford - Doss Drug Store) since a new partner had been added to the Rexall Store.

Ever see a one dollar bill that had been split? Eddy Jones of Ranger Hill Service Station said that a customer gave him a dollar bill recently, and he (Jones), by chance, turned the bill over as he placed it in the cash register. The bill had been split and nothing was on the other side. Jones said that the customer was sure embarrassed when he asked him where the twenty side of the bill was. The man said that he didn't know where he got the bill, but undoubtedly he had received it when getting change.

You know, counterfeiters split one dollar bills and twenty dollar bills and then paste a one on a twenty together — which makes a neat profit on a $22 investment. The only trouble with it is that it's against the law.

Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Mathena, owners of the Ranger Floral Company, have bought a house on Meade Street and plan to move it to 421 West Main. The foundation is now being built by Bill Bourdeau Construction Company. Mr. and Mrs. Mathena plan to add two rooms to the house and finish the outside with brick veneer.

Life's most embarrassing moment: A stranger walked into the First Federal Savings and Loan the other day and asked Mrs. Shirley Massee if she could tell him where to find 204 Main Street. She said that she didn't know, but would be glad to help him locate the address. Shirley looked in the telephone directory, but couldn't find anything.

About that time she looked across the street at the C. E. Madocks building and a n d discovered that it was in the 200 block. And — sure enough — the First Federal building is at 204 Main Street. Moral of this little story — know your address.

Parking Rails Built At Club House

After the Community Club House was repainted and its yard put in order, Mrs. J. R. McLaughlin, who looks after the Club House as well as being librarian, saw that a guard rail to protect yard and sidewalk was a necessity. Calling Archie Robinson, superintendent of Lone Star Producing Co., to ask where pipes for the rails could be located, she was told by Robinson that the Lone Star would give the pipe and see to the construction of the rail.

Under W. J. Van Bibber's supervision men from Plant No. 108 cut and welded the rail, set it in concrete in three-foot holes, and painted it. Many Building
Improvements
Being Made

Improvements on the Ranger Independent School District buildings are moving along at a fast pace this summer. Workmen are busy on four buildings, some of which will receive major changes and others only minor improvements.

The Young school building is undergoing major changes. All old desks have been removed from the building and 225 modern desk-chair units will be installed. All floors will be refinished with a seal-coat and wax finish. Also lockers will be installed in each room at Young, enabling students to store their books and supplies.

New fluorescent lighting fixtures have been purchased and will be installed, along with new wiring, before the new fall school term starts in September. Plans also include the installation of two new backstops on the playground. These backstops will be erected on the Young Street approach to the building. Approximate cost of the new desk units and lighting fixtures for Young School is estimated at $2,700, excluding installation costs.

Hodges Oak Park lunch room will receive a complete new floor covering of vinyl linoleum. Other minor repairs will also be made in the cafeteria. Additional playground equipment is being added at the Slaughter School.

At the High School building, regular summer maintenance is in progress, which includes painting and etc. A new storage closet has been built in the building for storage of band uniforms.

Three buildings in the district, the Recreation Building, High School and Hodges Oak Park will receive roof repairs during the summer vacation period.

The Ranger Independent School District bond obligation is approximately $17,000 each year, including principal and interest. The school district is now $8,000, or one-half a year ahead on payments at this time. Of the $1,500 school tax pay $100 valuation; the Ranger District has set aside 35 cents of this income toward bond retirement and the remaining $1.15 is used for local maintenance.

The local school district is participating in the NEDA program and will spend an estimated $3,500 this year on the science program in all schools in Ranger. Most of the expenditure will be for physics equipment in high school, but a portion will be used for biology and secondary science equipment.

Ranger High School is among the very few of the nine high schools in Eastland County that offer courses in driver training, mechanical drawing, foreign languages and advanced math.

Wilson Beats Warford In Tournament Finals

It was a long, tiring tournament even for the college boys this past weekend at Lakeside Country Club in Eastland, but when the last ball hit the bottom of the cup North Texas State's Don Wilson stepped up from last year's runner-up to this year's champion.

Wilson defeated game-hearted Tommy Warford of Ranger Junior College two and one. The championship final was marred by miserable putting by both contestants and it was a putt which hung on the rim of the cup which ended the match.

There were some big surprises in the 11th annual tournament. The first surprise was the beating the course took in qualifying rounds when all championship fighters equalled or beat par. Probably the second biggest surprise came when Eugene Byrd, the defending champion and a finalist for the past two years, was dropped by Archer Marx of Cisco, 1-up.

It was a battle of the brothers in the first flight final, Bill Sikes of El Paso fired sub-par golf at his older brother, Bob Sikes of San Antonio, to win the crown. Bill Lambert of Tyler was the consolation champion in the bracket.

Other winners included: Second Flight—Glenn Allen of Denton defeated Joe Carl Leach of Graham, 1-up, Clayton West of Albany won consolation honors.

Third Flight—R. P. (Buddy) Haun of Eastland won out over Max Pierce of Gorman, 2 and 1. Consolation winner was Tak Kunkushige of Stephenville. Jim Littlefield of San Angelo defeated N. V. Kim of Abilene, 2 and 1. Harold Prescott of Ranger took consolation.

Mary Ellen Rhoads Receives National Science Grant

Miss Mary Ellen Rhoads, granddaughter of Mrs. R. L. Hamrick, is enrolled this summer in the Summer Science Training Program at Texas Woman's University for exceptionally talented girls who have just completed the junior year in high school. She is one of fifty girls selected to participate in the program, girls chosen from Arizona, Arkansas, Louisiana, and Oklahoma as well as Texas.

Each of the girls was nominated by her high school principal and recommended by her science teacher before she was considered for the program, which runs from June 12 through August 4. The program, which includes both biology and chemistry, is sponsored jointly by Texas Woman's University and the National Science Foundation. The objectives of the program are to offer those ambitious girls who are accepted an enriching summer experience in carefully supervised and specially planned science study; to encourage these young women to follow technical curricula upon eventual matriculation in college or university; to permit these more capable students to begin their college studies with advanced standing in biology and chemistry; to foster interest in creative work in science by association with those engaged in research activities and thus set the stage for future graduate work; and to enable the individual to adapt herself to the more rigorous demands of college life. Numerous visiting scientists are scheduled to speak before the group and the girls will take four field trips to points of scientific interest in this area.

Miss Rhoads, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Rhoads of Van Horn is participating in the chemistry program. She will complete her high school work in Abilene, where her family is moving July 1.

She was a guest over the week end in the home of Mrs. Hamrick and of Mrs. F. E. Langston, her great grandmother. Accompanying Miss Rhoads to Ranger were two young ladies enrolled in the program, Miss Virginia Church of Hope, Arkansas and Miss Kerry Jean Sexton of Burk Burnett.

MRS. BENJAMIN LIPSEY, JR.
(formerly Miss Linda Adams)

Linda Adams Becomes Bride Of Benji Lipsey Saturday

Miss Linda Ruth Adams became the bride of Luther Benjamin (Benji) Lipsey Jr. of Cisco in the Holiday Methodist Church Saturday evening with Rev. James E. Weaver officiating the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Adams of Holiday and the granddaughter of Mrs. Ethel Rowch of Olden. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther B. Lipsey of Cisco. The ceremony was performed in the hands of the fitted bodice front of a pyramid arrangement of white gladioli mingled through the four tapered candleabra. Pews were marked with a single white satin bows.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an original gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over satin, designed and made by the bride's mother. The gown was designed with a scalloped Sabrina neckline and long sleeves that tapered to petal points over flowed a bouffant skirt with gathered tulle flowing into a chapel train. Satin covered buttons detailed the back bodice and tapered sleeves. A tiera of pearls and iridescent sequins held the fingertip veil. She wore a white pearl necklace, a gift from the groom, and carried a white orchid atop a white pearl-studded Bible.

Miss Sandy Adams, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a blue taffeta street length dress featuring a boat neckline, cap sleeves, and a long waisted, fitted bodice. The pleated skirt was accented by a straight princess panel in the front. She wore a picture hat of blue net trimmed with blue rosebuds and carried a bouquet of white net with a white mum and lily-of-the-valley.

Miss Lorelei Andrews of Dumas, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Kay Freeman and Miss Pat Heathington were bridesmaids. They wore identical dresses of pink.

Best man was Freddie Rowch, the bride's uncle, of Olden. Grooms men were Dean Andrews, the groom's brother-in-law, Charles Lipsey, brother of the groom, and Jerry Adams, brother of the bride. Roy Don Hoing and the groomsman were ushers.

The bride's mother was attired in a blue eyelash sheath dress made by the bride. The groom's mother wore pink. Both mothers wore orchid corsages.

A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. The table was covered with blue net over taffeta and draped with white satin ribbon caught in clusters of wedding bells and love birds. The center piece was formed of white gladioli.

Miss Loretta Whitehead of Cisco presided at the bride's book. Wedding cake was served by Miss Doris Rowch, cousin of the bride, and pink punch was served by Miss Diana Prentiss of Fort Worth. Assisting with the reception were Mrs. Floyd Hubbard, Mrs. Andrew Hoing, Mrs. Bill Smith and Mrs. C. E. Toner.

The bride is a 1959 graduate of Holiday High School, where she was valedictorian of her class. She was a member of the Eagle Band, serving as drum major, majorette, and solo clarinetist. As Future Homemakers officer, she was a recipient of the Betty Crocker Home-maker of Tomorrow award. She also received the Arion Music Award, belonged to the National Honor Society, and was a state declamation finalist for football queen. She attended Texas Christian University, where she completed a secretarial course and was named to the Dean's Honor Roll every semester. She belonged to the Dormitory Council, Ivy Club and the Business and Professional Women's Club.

The groom graduated from Cisco High School in 1957. He was a four year letterman in football, basketball, baseball and track. He was football captain and made all-area, was elected all-school favor-

Austin Report

By REP. SCOTT BAILEY

In response to many of the interested citizens of this area, I would like to submit a report of some of the accomplishments of the Regular Session of the 57th Texas Legislature. Your local hometown editor and publisher are to be commended for their efforts in helping to better inform you concerning the affairs of our State.

True, the Legislature was not able to agree on and send to the Governor a tax bill which would clear up the State's deficit and support the cost of the Texas State government for the next biennium at a level desired by the Legislature. That task, together with the perennial appropriations act, remain the chief objects for the First Special Session when it convenes next month.

Insurance Company. Agreed motion for extension of time to file Appellant's brief. Harris

Despite the complex and unique problems faced by this Legislature, it demonstrated a determination to take the long-range view in seeking many solutions. Time after time it refused to be content with patchwork, piece-meal solutions which would tide the state over another biennium and postpone the problems until the next Legislature meets.

Following is a review of some of the significant work by the 57th legislature in the Regular Session just closed. In the House of Representatives, 1,186 bills were introduced, and an additional 480 were introduced in the Senate. In addition, there were 88 House Joint Resolutions and 25 Senate Joint Resolutions—all proposing amendments to the Texas Constitution—and numerous concurrent and simple resolutions were considered by both houses.

From this mass of legislation introduced and referred to committees in both houses, 314 House bills, 225 Senate bills, 8 Senate Joint Resolutions, and 6 House Joint Resolutions were finally passed. Some of these have just received the Governor's action, but all completed the legislative process.

About one third—or—33 per cent—of the bills introduced were finally passed. They range all the way from the highest level of State policy to the most detailed housekeeping operations. Only a few of the more than 1,600 bills considered by your State lawmakers at this session are noted and will be mentioned in this and later reports that I shall submit to the people.

One of the more important laws passed was the legislative redistricting bill, H. B. 343, which apportions the State into representative and senatorial districts in such a way as to take into account population changes recorded by the 1960 decennial census. Eastland, Callahan and Shackelford Counties remain in the same District with Palo Pinto and Stephens Counties being added. Palo Pinto County will be the largest County, population wise; Eastland County however, has more voters as was shown in the recent Senate runoff election. Your Representative voted for H. B. 343, because of the fair and equitable representation that it gives to all the People of Texas.

Because of the length of this report I shall endeavor to continue it next week. Again, thanks to the press and radio for helpfulness. I can be contacted at Route 3, Cisco.

Dairy Kream Is Hit By Fire In Early Morning

Fire caused an estimated $500 damage to the Dairy Kream drive in at Eastland early Monday morning.

Fire Chief Guy Robinson said a refrigerating unit caught fire and the fire spread to the roof. The alarm was turned in at 1:30 a.m. Monday by a truck driver who spotted the fire while traveling east on Highway 80. Chief Robinson said the unidentified trucker turned his truck around and came back to town to give the alarm. He credited him with stopping what could have been a major loss.

The building is owned by Harry Jordan of Eastland.

FOR 4-H GIRLS

Dress Review Set June 30

The Eastland County 4-H Dress Review will be held June 30 at 8 p.m. in the American Legion Hall in Eastland.

The girls will be modeling garments they have made in a unit of clothing in the 4-H program. Garments will range from simple skirts and blouses to dressy dresses.

Most of the units were started last September and the dress review will be the highlight of the year's work for all of the girls. The clothing leaders were trained by the assistant county home demonstration agent and then the leaders in turn trained the girls. All of the leaders were women who volunteered to help the girls in their respective communities.

The following girls will enter the dress review:

Gorman — Patricia Everton, Joyce Joiner, Glenda Jordan, Margaret Porter, Janna Pullin, Joyce Burgess, Toni Lawrence, and Joy Love. The Clothing leaders from Gorman are Mrs. Melvia Love, Mrs. Glen Jordan and Mrs. Joyce Eaves.

Carbon — Nancy Justice, Madge Justice, Sharon Harbin, Jo Ann Beeh, Mrs. L. A. Harbin and Mrs. Glenn Justice are the Carbon clothing leaders.

Girls who will enter from Olden are Glenda Fox, Dina McBride, Della Ann Fox, Carolyn Sue Thomas, Pam Brock, Linda Cagel, Carolyn Henderson, Carol Fox and Brenda Henderson. The leaders from Olden are Mrs. A. E. Fox, Mrs. J. D. Cagle and Mrs. J. M. Fox.

Mrs. Leo Brooks from Deadman reports that Mary Stacy, Ruby Ann Lewis, Brenda Roberts and Jacqueline Brooks will participate.

The Nimrod Club will have Linda Pharr, Rosa Boland Ruby Ann Stewart, Mary Tonne, Sue Morgan, Mary Frasier, Diane Thompson, Sandra Bible, Nelda Thompson, Sharon Donham, Linda Harris and Sandra Teague, entered in the dress review. Mrs. Merle Stroebel and Mrs. Tonne were the leaders at Nimrod.

Morton Valley — Alta Jo Fowler, Diane Yancey, Kathy Kincaid, Iela Ann Lee, and Janet West. Mrs. Robert Kincaid is their clothing leader.

The girls have to make their own dress or garment, and be a 4-H member, and complete a clothing record book to be eligible to enter the dress review.

Their record books count 25 points of their total score, the construction of the garment will count 25 points, the girls grooming will count 25 of their score and the appearance of the garment on the girl will count 50 points of their total score, thus making a total of a possible 125 points.

The dress review will be in a setting of a Paris sidewalk cafe and there will be a short program while the judges make the final decision. Debbie Johnson of Cisco will give her speech on "Freedom."

"We are hoping that the dress review will be a big success and it is open to the public," Miss Melbae Hobert, assistant HD agent, said.

I Give You Texas

By BOYCE HOUSE

John S. Blount — the horse-and-buggy photographer whom I knew in Cisco in the 1920's — was born in Hancock County, Ga., in 1849 and came to Texas in a covered wagon when he was only four years old. After a year in Rusk County, he moved to Hopkins County which he regarded as home till he went to Cisco in 1907. His first real job was working for a man who was gathering cattle which roamed in great numbers, unowned, over West Texas.

"During the Civil War," Blount said, "large losses were sustained in Hopkins and other counties because of horse thieves. They had a highly organized system. The horses were taken a certain distance and were left with a member of the ring who then took them to the next 'station' and so on until they were gotten out of the country. The thieves even had passwords."

"A young man lived near my father's place who was in the ring and, when he was discovered, agreed to make known the secrets if his life was spared. With this information, the law-abiding citizens were able to ferret out the thieves and in ten days something like sixty were hanged between Shreveport and Bonham."

"I was on horseback one day, with my head down, holding on to the horse's mane when a man's foot struck me in the face. Looking up, I saw the foot belonged to a lifeless man hanging from the limb of a tree. Horror-stricken, I looked around and there were others hanging from nearby trees. I wheeled my horse and galloped back to tell what I had seen. Every one merely remarked, 'The hell you say!'"

Later, the youth had another experience with horse thieves. He was a member of a posse pursuing a gang whose stolen animals included several belonging to Blount's father. Thirteen of the pursuers, Blount among them, went ahead of the main body of the posse and, just at evening, came upon their quarry in camp, preparing supper. The pursuers opened fire and the completely surprised outlaws tried wildly to escape. Only one of them returned the fire and Blount was wounded in both arms. None of the horse thieves got away.

Blount enlisted in the Confederate army and was in the last fight of the Civil War, near Brownsville, Texas. He married in 1873 and engaged in farming until his wife's health became poor and he decided to take to the open road. He had learned photography and they traveled to the Ozarks, where for four years he made photographs.

"When we traveled over the country with a team and wagon," he said, "we would stop a week or longer, usually at a schoolhouse, and people would come for miles to have their picture taken. Twenty-five cents was the charge but we were not always paid in cash. At one house, I recall that, for free tins, we received a bushel of apples a supply of lard and fryers."

Mrs. Blount spoke of tinting a picture for a woman who had no money and gave a breast-pin then 50 years old, in payment. The photographer's wife was still wearing the breast-pin after half a century.

For seven years, the Blounts lived in Indian Territory and he made pictures of the Indians. "They were the best friends I ever had," he declared. He charged them the same price for photographs that he charged white customers and this probably was the reason the redskins were his friends, (as usually they were exploited). The tent studio could have been robbed with ease but was never disturbed. The only trouble he had was caused by a white desperado, who had been drinking. Indians rushed into the tent from front and rear and a n d marched the trouble-maker out. An idea of the volume of business Blount did can be gained from the statement that in moving from a location after a year's stay, he destroyed 4,000 negatives.

He kept on making pictures until he was 78 (which was in 1927) and even after that he would say, wistfully, "I'm going to get a horse and buggy and my wife and I are going to ramble around taking tins just as we did fifty years ago."
