[Continued from Page 2] at Sandia Peak and rode the tramway. Stayed in Grants the first night, saw the Painted Desert in Arizona, Petrified Forest, Meteor Crater, drove on through Flagstaff, stayed in a motel near Grand Canyon. Spent one day at the canyon. From there they took route 89 to Poje, Ariz. to see the Glen Canyon Dam and Lake Powell, no trees but the earth formations are most picturesque. Drove through Utah to Salt Lake, saw the Capitol, Visitors Center and Mormon Square. On the way to Yellowstone made a side trip to Fort Bridger, went through the museum. Saw lots of relics from the past. Velma's great grandpa passed through there in 1865 on his way to California. One of his children is buried in that vicinity on the Bear River. From Fort Bridger they back tracked to highway 89. Spent the night in Montpelier in Idaho, went through the Tetons country and Jackson Hole. There was lots of snow on the mountains. Spent most of a day in Yellowstone, saw Old Faithful erupt and pretty lakes and tall trees. Went out at the east entrance and went high enough to see snow by the side of the road. Chris and Paula played in it and made snowballs. Was a pretty drive to Cody, Wyo. Saw Buffalo Bill Dam and the Wild West Museum along the wagon train trail. Also went to the Bill Cody Museum. They were in rain showers most every day. Came home by Denver, Colorado Springs, Pueblo and Raton, N.M.
Velma went to the McKnight school reunion and said it was a treat to see all her former school mates and friends that she had known in the community. They met at the Western Cowpuncher building on the Dumas highway. The McKnight community is located east of Hedley in Donley Co.

KENNETH CLEVELAND left Thursday for coaching school in Houston. He is the North All Star selection committee chairman in charge of the 10 boys on the All Star team. He will be with them all week.

Kevin and Libby are flying to Houston to meet Kenneth and go to the All Star games. Kenneth will receive a watch at a ceremony during the half. Kenneth played on the North All Star team 20 years ago and will attend an ex-All Star players barbecue. They will also visit Mark Wohlgenuth while they are there.

Vicki Cleveland and Lori Dyer are flying to Austin to visit Vicki's grandmother who lives on LBJ Lake. They will visit the LBJ Library and go on the tour to LBJ's home. Beth is keeping the pool at Dimmitt Country Club while the parents are away.

BERAL HANCE and Glenda Price visited in Panhandle Sunday with the Jack Hodges and Charles Howell families. Ruby Howell is Glenda's cousin.

Faye Kenmore is at home after a three week vacation trip to Canada. She met Hoyt Kenmore and his family in Grand Junction, Colo., where they visited the George Ray Jr. family and then went on to Duchess, Canada for a visit with Hershell and family. They went sightseeing in and around Calgary, where they attended the "Stampede". They went to Banff and to Lake Louise. They attended the World's Fair in Washington and also went to Yellowstone National Park. "Old Faithful" still attracts lots of sightseers. Neal Kenmore joined them at Duchess where he had been visiting his uncle this summer.

Alicia Blasingame, Angeliq and Justin of Farmington, N.M. are spending a few days with their grandmother, Faye Kenmore.

MRS. ROCKY KAY

Kays at home after July 12 vows

Mr. and Mrs. Rocky Kay are at home in Dimmitt following a July 12 wedding and a trip to Hawaii.

THE BRIDE, the former Sherry Barton, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Barton of Dimmitt. Kay is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kay of the Bethel home.

Rev. J. Lennel Hester, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Dimmitt, performed the morning ceremony in front of an altar decorated with candelabra and baskets of spring flowers. Sheila and David Barton, sister and brother of the bride, lighted the candles. Spring flowers and white satin bows adorned the pews along the bridal path.

Shelly Barton, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Teresa Bruegel, Mary Hamilton and Sherri Vaughan, all of Dimmitt, were bridesmaids.

Andy Mays of Dimmitt was best man. Groomsmen were Eddie Harris and Jay Stanton of Dimmitt, and Danny McDowell of Edmonson. Pat McAndrew and Jerry Matthews of Dimmitt seated guests.

ESCORTED to the altar by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of antique white organza and reembroidered lace. The Victorian-style gown had a fitted bodice and chapel length train, and featured full sleeves, gathered on bands of lace above the wrist, extending in a ruffle of lace to the fingertips. The panels of the skirt and train and the hem were outlined in matching heavy lace.

The bride's elbow-length veil was attached to a Victorian bonnet trimmed in lace to match her gown. She carried a nosegay of daisies, pom poms and other spring flowers.

The bridal attendants wore Victorian style formal gowns in various pastel colors, and matching picture hats. They also carried nosegays of spring flowers.

Ronda Tidwell of Dimmitt played wedding music at the organ, and accompanied Mrs. Betty Parish, who sang "The Twelfth of Never" and "Whither Thou Goest."

A reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. A three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a large satin wedding bell which has been in several wedding celebrations in the Barton family. Delese Kay, sister of the groom, Kim Lindsey and Delynda Stanton served the pink fruit punch and wedding cake. Mrs. Darla McAndrew, sister of the groom, registered guests.

SPECIAL guests included Mrs. Alma Barton of Earth and Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Land of Anson, grandparents of the bride. Mrs. Minnie Kay of Plainview, grandmother of the groom, also attended.

The bride attended Dimmitt schools and will graduate from Lubbock Christian High School this summer. Kay is a Dimmitt High School graduate. He attended Texas Tech University and is presently engaged in farming.

Lid sealing failures big problem this year

By IRENE KEATING

Many of you are quite busy with canning and freezing now. There have been many calls about failure of lids to seal. This is definitely a problem and I have called Hattie Hinkle of the Kerr Company about this. She said they have had numerous calls this year about the failure of lids to seal. She gave three reasons. Be sure you screw the bands down very tight. (She said as you get older you lose strength in your hands — therefore, some of you have canned for years are having trouble now.) Be sure you use the proper canning technique. She said the lids won't seal with the open kettle method — pressure is required. Lastly, be sure your rings are in good shape. Rusty rings are not good to use. Ocie Bolton gave me a good hint several years ago that makes rings easier to remove. Before you put the rings on, rub the inside with oil or shortening and it makes it easier to take off.

THE 4-H'ers are going to be at Palo Duro Canyon tomorrow for the annual 4-H Fun Day. The junior leaders are sponsors of this event. Edd McLeroy will give a program on outdoor cookery and there will be a talk on safety.

Next week I'll be in Austin to attend our Texas Association Extension Home Economists state meeting. It will be a good meeting with tours of the Governor's mansion and the L.B.J. Library planned.

Here are week's best food buys

Cost of "convenience" in convenience food has risen more than the cost of the food itself, one expert said this week.

MRS. GWENDOLYNE Clyatt cited use of completely prepared convenience foods as one of the reasons for higher food costs today.

The consumer marketing information specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said consumers can counter this trend with selective shopping.

"One way to shop selectively is to change from a higher cost grocery list to one with lower costs," she said.

"For example, on the higher cost list, consumers might include frozen carrots with sugar glaze, fresh whole milk, boneless ham and instant rice.

"ALSO, ready-to-eat cereal, ground chuck or round, a cut-up fryer and rolls."

Mrs. Clyatt said a similar list with lower costs, instead, would include home cooked carrots, nonfat dry milk, smoked picnic, regular rice, cooked cereal, ground beef, a whole fryer and bread.

CONSUMER WATCH-WORDS: "Impulse items" usually aren't a problem to informed shoppers.

These shoppers know where to look for items on shopping lists — and won't be as readily attracted to the message of an impulse purchase.

The average American family spends from seven to nine percent of its income on clothing, according to Mrs. Vivian Simmons, clothing specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Any woman who thinks there is even a possibility that she may be pregnant should not have an X-ray examination or radiation treatment, particularly to the abdominal area during the first three months of pregnancy, Dr. Barbara Sears, health education specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service noted this week.

State 4-H Dog Show scheduled for Aug. 10

Texas 4-H youth and their canine friends are preparing for the fourth annual State 4-H Dog Show which is scheduled for Aug. 10 at the Fairpark Coliseum in Lubbock.

THE SHOW is open to any Texas 4-Her and will feature entries of many breeds, announces George McArthur, 4-H and youth specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

American Kennel Club (AKC) approved judges will evaluate the entries. The AKC is the supreme authority for bloodline of any registered dog in the United States as purebred, although some of the entries in the state show will be neither purebred or registered, notes McArthur.

Check-in time will be from 8 to 10 a.m. and judging will begin at 11 a.m. Judging will Want to take the edge off the high cost of driving?

The higher price of gasoline isn't the only thing that makes driving more expensive today. That's just what you notice the most.

EVERY OTHER phase of the automotive industry has been hit by inflation, too (just as your own business has). New-car prices, parts, tires, service costs — all are higher nowadays.

But there are still ways to save money on the maintenance and repair of your vehicles, if you know what to look for.

For instance, if your car has to have a new carburetor, you can either buy a new one at the new price, or save $15 to $25 by buying a Champion factory rebuilt carburetor. You can get either a new one or a rebuilt one for any model car at Powell Auto Parts & Supply. It's up to you.

OR MAYBE it's a new distributor you have to have. Here again, you can save $15 to $25 by buying a factory rebuilt one through Powell Auto Parts & Supply. Just tell your service man whether you want a new one or a rebuilt one.

The story's the same with many other auto parts — you can get a rebuilt one if you don't really need a brand-new one.

Generally, you'll save money in the long run by using the proper spark plugs, tune-up parts, batteries, filters and replacement parts that were made for your car, because you'll get better efficiency. Powell Auto Parts & Supply carries complete lines of General Motors parts (Delco and AC) and Ford parts (Motorcraft).

AND YOU can get the best value by sticking to name-brand products that have proven through the years to be dependable. Powell Auto Parts & Supply stocks such brand-name products — AC, Champion, Delco, Motorcraft, Willard, Perfect Circle, STP, Black & Decker, Monroe, Champlin, Firestone, Gates.

Despite inflation, you CAN cut down on the high cost of driving if you know how to economize. Just ask your service man, or Buck Powell at Powell Auto Parts & Supply. They'll be glad to work with you.

By MARY EDNA HENDRIX

The Friends of the Library held their annual book sale here at the Rhoads Memorial Library last Wednesday. Those helping with the sale were: Sybil Steffens, Maxie Horton, Martha Dannevik, Ann Touchstone, Jean DuLaney, Ydolina Sepeda, Edgar Dennis, Tom Moss, Brad DuLaney and John Blackburn. Since they had so many books left they decided to leave them in the library for a while — so if you missed the "Big Sale" come on in and look through the books that were left.

SEVERAL more grandmothers have brought their grandchildren in to check out books: Katie Burkett brought David's children who live in Phoenix — David Jr., Kati, and Connie — Gladys Leeth brought her daughter Sandra's boys in — Mark and Greg Michaels from Houston — Mrs. Agnes Martin brought her grandson in — really he brought her since she had a fractured bone in her foot so he drove for her . . . Mrs. Arthur Schreck brought her granddaughter, Sandra Land, from Clovis, N.M. to check out some books . . . Mary (Nelson) Burnham's husband from Albuquerque came in to see the new library . . . Gay Roper Uselton and her two little daughters, Amy and Lisa, came in with Carolyn and Kim Watts. Gay's husband is pastor of Kingswood United Methodist Church in Amarillo. Gay lived in Tulia before she married and knows my relatives over there. . . Mrs. Blanchard and Stephanie came in after being in England for nearly two years . . . Maxine Tidwell brought Glenda (Smiley) Heller in to show off the library. Glenda is living in Dallas now, and has a young son, Ron . . . Ray Murphy, from Sunray, came in to see our new library . . . Mr. Huggins made a quick tour of the library while he was in . . . Mrs. Trent Downing has refinished two cabinets for the library — and if you have seen any of her work you know they are very pretty. We plan to use them for records. Mr. Downing helped her bring them to the library since they were on their way to celebrate their wedding anniversary.

The library board had a special meeting Saturday morning with Jack Miller, Mary Acker, Jackie Armstrong, Leora Little and Edna Riley attending.

On the go

Mrs. George Elder is home from a trip to Minnesota where she visited her son Mike, who is district manager of a beauty supply house. She and Mike took a trip on north to Winnipeg, Canada, did some sight-seeing in that area. They went to Grand Marais in Minnesota. They came home through the Dakotas and Wisconsin. Bessie has retired from her long time job with Carver Pharmacy.

STATE AWARD WINNERS — Plains Memorial Hospital's Candy Stripers captured the state second-place award with their 1973-74 scrapbook at the junior hospital auxiliaries' state convention in Houston last week. It was the local chapter's first state award. Attending the convention were [from left] Carol Drerup, reporter; Joyce Welty, historian; Pam Heard, incoming historian; and Mrs. Joe Nelson and Mrs. Doug Lapins, chapter advisors. Chapter President Pam Oldham, not pictured, also made the convention trip.

Candystripers capture honors at convention

Joyce Welty of the Castro County Candystripers picked up a second place ribbon in the local groups scrapbook competition and Pam Oldham of the local unit received a second place ribbon on the poster she made at state junior volunteer convention at the Shamrock Hilton in Houston last week. OTHER county Candystripers attending the convention included Pam Heard and Carol Drerup. Attending as sponsors were Mrs. Doug Lapins and Mrs. Joe Nelson.

Miss Drerup was the local representative in the "Outstanding Junior Volunteer of Texas" contest. Each contestant was required to tell what they had learned from being a hospital volunteer in 100 words.

Tuesday the group toured the Astrodome and Tuesday evening they viewed a program by Spencer Guimarin, John Haddad and the "Sunshine Alley" band, all from the THA Health Careers program of Austin.

Wednesday morning a program entitled "The Tragic Side of Life" was presented. People from professions which deal with death spoke on how to face "what we all must face in the end."

A LUNCHEON and style show were held at noon and workshops were held in the afternoon. The entire convention was transported to Astroworld in the evening for a picnic.

Thursday morning world-famous heart specialist Dr. Michael E. DeBakey of Houston addressed the delegates, and the convention closed with the awards banquet.

Approximately 1,004 delegates from 68 organizations attended the convention.

THE DIET of affluent Americans has decreased in quality during the last 20 years, but the poor may be eating more nutritiously. The reason is Food Assistance Programs, including commodities and food stamps, Sally Springer, foods and nutrition specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, reported.

PEANUT and soybean planting in the State is almost complete.

Ag influences price of farm lands

Does agricultural production and income influence the price of Texas farm land?

ACCORDING to Kenneth E. Graeber, economist in real estate for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, it does.

"Despite the varied reasons for purchasing land, such as recreational use, inflation hedge, prestige and speculation, and an apparent discrepancy between land prices and productivity, agricultural income has tremendous impact upon the value of certain lands," says Graeber.

"Prices of crop land, which has little aesthetic value, are more closely related to agricultural productivity than the more appealing wooded and grazing lands," notes Graeber.

He points out that productivity and profits are influenced by the soil type, crop hazards such as droughts, floods, insects and disease, the farm layout, location with respect to markets and roads, and other improvements. In addition to these physical factors of productivity, management strongly influences yields and profits.

"HOWEVER, productivity and management generate only part of gross farm income; price represents the remainder," says the economist. "In 1973 agricultural commodity prices began to rise, and the returns to land encouraged land purchases by full-time agricultural producers who wanted to expand. In addition, investors found their holding costs reduced, thus encouraging additional investments. The result was a substantial increase in land demand and prices."

Net income and net returns

CHILDREN are fascinated with adult activities. When parents encourage imitation, children acquire new skills and an increased sense of competence and self-worth, according to Dorothy Taylor, family life education specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

CATTLE growers in Freestone, Leon and Milam Counties face more brucellosis testing before shipping beef or dairy breeding cattle.

to land are considered important in determining land value. Net income and net returns are dependent upon production costs, which include operating, fixed and management costs. Thus agricultural investors must know the costs for major crops within their area to aid investment decisions, points out the economist. These data are available through the county Extension office.

To evaluate agricultural land values, Graeber suggests "capitalizing" the net income to land from agricultural production by dividing the annual net to land by an appropriate capitalization rate. This rate is normally determined by the market, with many farm land owners historically accepting about a 4.5 percent return on their land values. The capitalization rate must be determined by each potential investor.

WHAT CAN you afford to pay for good crop land?

According to Graeber, there is no one answer. "Not only does it vary with land, management, yield and price expectations, but it also varies with the method of financing, sources of outside capital, expectations of future values, rate of return required and even the tax strategy for the investor. "However, by considering only one specific case at a time and taking into account the aforementioned factors, you can pretty well estimate what you can afford to pay for the land from an agricultural standpoint," notes Graeber.

Tammy Ross undergoes surgery after freak accident Sunday

By TEENY BOWDEN

Tammy Ross underwent surgery in Central Plains General Hospital in Plainview Monday about noon after a freak accident at her home last Sunday night. She slipped on the wet grass of the lawn, and the way she fell she broke her shoulder bone and twisted her arm joint. She was admitted to Plains Memorial Hospital in Dimmitt following the accident and transferred to Plainview Monday morning for surgery. Two pins were required to repair the damage, but she was dismissed

Monday night and is recovering satisfactorily in her home.

J. E. SHIREY underwent major surgery in Central Plains General Hospital in Plainview. He is making a satisfactory recovery.

Lynn Myers of Hart, great nephew of Mrs. R. V. Bills, after a crisis situation on Monday was moved from intensive care to a private room on Saturday.

She was dismissed from the hospital this week, but there are still gaps in her memory.

Holly Axtell made progress this week in Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo. As of Sunday she had gained about an ounce a day. She now weighs 3 pounds, 9 1/2 ounces. Mrs. Duane Fields returned to her home in Goldfield, Iowa Tuesday.

MR. AND MRS. L. B. Bowden and Mrs. Ed Thompson dug a rattlesnake out of a hole in the pasture about three feet deep and about five feet long with post hole diggers Monday. L. B. had shot it as it went into the hole and felt sure it was a rattlesnake. It was 37 inches long and had eight rattlers and a button. It was well worth all the hard work because there were ten baby snakes inside her almost ready to be born. Saturday morning Felix Sanchez killed a garden snake that had 43 little ones inside her that were alive. We took a picture of them. There have been a lot of these black-green snakes we call garden snakes because we don't know what kind they are. They get about three feet long also.

VETERANS' SERVICES

By BEDFORD W. SMITH
County Service Officer

Families eligible for the Veterans Administration's Civilian Health and Medical Program (CHAMPVA) will soon be receiving in the mail a new VA pamphlet on these health benefits services for dependents and survivors.

The just-published CHAMPVA pamphlet (VA Information Bulletin 13-6) furnishes detailed information on eligibility, medical services and methods for filing claims. Copies are available at all VA hospitals, clinics, domiciliaries and regional offices, at the veterans' assistance centers, nationwide, and at US embassies and consulates overseas.

Request for the pamphlet should be sent to the nearest VA hospital or regional office, not to the VA Central Office in Washington, D.C.

CHAMPVA provides partial VA payment for the health care of wives and children of veterans who are 100 percent disabled from service-connected causes and for the survivors of those who died of such causes after leaving military service.

MANY MEN and women who have served in the Armed Forces of the United States are unaware of their eligibility for medical care through the Veterans Administration hospital system. Unfortunately for some, the inquiry concerning this eligibility comes only after they have spent all of their ready assets for private hospital care. Every veteran should acquaint himself with the benefits to which he may be entitled.

Under present laws, a veteran may be eligible for admission to a VA hospital if the period of military service terminated under conditions other than dishonorable. This applies to both men and women, and to wartime and peacetime service. Some veterans may be eligible even though their discharges were other than the regular honorable type.

Eligible for admission to a Veterans Administration hospital for treatment of any condition is the veteran whose discharge was either Honorable or General under Honorable Conditions. If a person received an Undesirable Discharge or a Bad Conduct Discharge, he may or may not be eligible for VA hospital care, depending upon the circumstances causing the discharge. In such instances, a veteran should apply for medical care when it is needed, and the VA will obtain the military records and determine whether the discharge is a bar to benefits. A Dishonorable Discharge is given as a result of a General Court Martial, and will always serve as a bar to veterans benefits. A number of veterans who served only during a period of peacetime have in the past been denied admission to a VA hospital. Such veterans, if their service was honorable, may now be eligible for hospital care. Public Law 93-82, effective on Sept. 1, 1973, placed wartime and peacetime veterans on the same basis with reference to VA hospital care. Any veteran who is in need of hospital care should contact his local Service Officer.

THE 20-PAGE booklet from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department this year features a county-by-county listing of seasons and bag limits for popular game species along with fishing regulations. Hunting & Fishing guides on the way

I KNOW you've been kicking yourself for not knowing more about fire trucks. Well, digest this fire-truck quiz and amaze your friends at the next party:

- Which of our new fire trucks is fastest — the yellow county one or the white city one?
- Which fire truck is really two trucks in one?
- Why are the two new trucks white and yellow, instead of red? And why are the people in Hart and Nazareth holding their breath?

HERE ARE the answers, upside-down (well, why not?):

1. That big yellow county truck looks strictly villainous.

2. The new city truck (the white one) looks smaller with its cab-over design and lack of the high side-panels. But with its longer bed, it has all kinds of extra pumps and sophisticated equipment built into it, so that it can cope with nearly any situation it's likely to run up against in a commercial, residential or open-property fire.

The firemen claim it can do as many jobs as two or three old-style fire trucks could do.

3. The white and yellow colors are easier to see at a distance — especially at night — so are safer. They don't hardly make red fire trucks any more. (But I still wish they were red.)

The people in Hart and Nazareth are holding their breath because they have new fire trucks coming, too, and the company is turning out a few fire trucks now in fluorescent lime green.

By DON NELSON

"Sir Winston," the Women's Christian Temperance Union president accused her group's honored guest at a banquet, "we have computed your regular intake of alcoholic beverages and the cubic volume of this meeting room, and have concluded that to this point in your life you have drunk enough liquor to fill this room up to that mark on the wall behind you."

Arising at the head table, Churchill turned, spotted the mark, and slowly raised his piercing focus from the mark to the ceiling. Then, turning back to his audience, he lamented: "So much yet left to accomplish, and so little time. . . ."

THAT SAME lament will apply to all of us this month. June streaked past so quickly that I don't remember whether it really happened or I just imagined it.

Then July made it in a slow walk. Just ask anybody who spent the month hoeing, keeping their well motors going, canning and freezing, sewing for school or waiting for rain.

Now we're into the first day of August, and we're already running behind for the month.

First: — ROUNDUP WEEK starts in just 10 days.

— Dimmitt's teachers go back to work in two weeks (while the rest of us are enjoying "Kid Day").

— Corn harvest will start any time now, and milo harvest will be right behind it. Both crops are running about two weeks early.

— And classes for the 1974-75 school year will start in just 25 more days.

So much yet left to accomplish, and so little time. . . .

Happy anniversary!
