NEWS * NOTES * BRIEFS

MANY HAPPY RETURNS to these Rangerites who'll be celebrating birthdays during the coming week:

- Monday — Sylvia Anna Camacho.
- Tuesday — Vera Stewart.
- Thursday — A. T. Barron, Chuck Milliken, Delinda Ainsworth.
- Friday — Mrs. Wesley Poyner.
- Saturday — Jimmy Drennan.

Word was received by the Ranger Times early Saturday morning that Bill Holliday, Olden resident who is a burn patient in a Galveston hospital, was in critical condition several months ago in an auto crash near Gordon. Area residents contributed over $700 to help pay expenses for his treatment.

IN THURSDAY NIGHT'S action at Little League Park the Yankees topped the Indians 5-2 and the Giants kept on top with a 9-1 triumph over the Dodgers. During Thursday morning's breakfast session at the Porky Pig, Ranger's Jaycees mapped more rodeo plans including a new Rodeo Queen contest. Details in Thursday's Times — this issue is tight. The grads have it! . . . Contrary to persistent rumors, the W. C. Bradfords, 437 Pine, are not even remotely considering moving from friendly Ranger. Their many friends probably will be glad to read that declaration. . . . The Lions and Rotary Clubs will hold a joint meeting at the RJC cafeteria next Thursday at 12:15 noon, reports Bill Collings, president of the Ranger Rotary Club.

CONGRATULATIONS to these couples who'll be celebrating wedding anniversaries during the coming week:
Wednesday, May 27 — Mr. and Mrs. Dick Tucker.
Friday, May 29 — Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Williams.

BREAD of Life

Praying always with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit.—Ephesians 6:18.

Were half the breath now vainly spent,
To heaven in supplication sent,
Your cheerful song would oftener be,
"Here what the Lord has done for me."

Garden Club Members Plan RJC Project

At a special called meeting of the Ranger Garden Club in the home of the president, Mrs. Jesse W. White, the Civic Committee of the club voted to take as a project, the landscaping and planting of the oval flower bed at the entrance to the new Administration Building of Ranger Junior College. The new building is one of five which have been built on the campus in the past year and will be occupied this summer.

Mrs. R. L. Hamrick, immediate past president of the club, and chairman of the division of humanities at the college, is chairman of the Civic Committee. Others who will work on the committee are Mmes. J. Floyd Killingsworth, G. B. Rush, David B. Allsup, W. C. Lummus, Joe Jackson, J. D. Johnson, Joe Dennis and Charles Arnett.

This will most surely be a civic project for nearly all the members of the committee, for so many of them have close ties with the college. Along with the years of service given the college by Mrs. Hamrick, Mrs. Killingsworth's husband is an ex-student and a former regent; Mr. Allsup is a biology teacher; the children of the J. D. Johnsons attended RJC; Joe Dennis is a former regent; and the daughter of the G. B. Rushes is an ex-student.

Along with these, the others on the committee have long been faithful Garden Club members and dedicated civic workers.

RJC Band Director Is Banquet Speaker

Ranger Junior College band director, Roger C. Martin, was speaker Friday evening at the Brewer High School's annual band banquet, held at Riddle Country Club, in Fort Worth. He was accompanied by his wife.

Martin is completing two years at RJC and the band which he organized in the summer of 1962, is widely known over Texas. He is a graduate of Texas Christian University and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Perl C. Martin of 4909 Donnell in Fort Worth.

Plans are being made for the RJC Dixieland Band to play at the Brewer banquet.

VISITS GREAT NIECE Mrs. Lovely Walker of Odessa, who has been visiting in Ranger about two weeks, visited a while Thursday morning in the home of her great niece, Mrs. Tommy Huckaby.

In March, 1853, Congress ordered an exploration at public expense to find the best route for a railroad to the Pacific Ocean.

Annual Class Day Program Given Tuesday

Multi-colored spring flowers entwined in decorative wickets set the mood for spring and graduation Tuesday as the senior class presented a very impressive Class Day program in the high school auditorium at 2:45 p.m.

Marching down the isles as the Processional was played by Catherine Stroud, the Seniors took their front row seats for the last time. High school principal, C. L. Garrett, gave the invocation. In his Thoughts to Juniors, David Sutton reminded them of the great responsibility and places of leadership that every senior must accept. He then requested that the junior and senior classes rise, and as the seniors filed onto the stage, the juniors took their new places on the front rows.

The program consisted of the senior class singing "Hail to the Bulldogs," Janice Smith's reading of the Class History; Sandra Tibbels, the Class Prophecy; Susan Woods, flute solo; Class Pessimist and Optimist, Sue Graham and Cookie Falls; Class Will, Brenda Weaver. After the graduating class sang "Graduation Bells," G. B. Rush, Superintendent of Schools, gave the benediction.

Many friends and relatives of the class were present for the occasion.

806 Persons Are Examined for Glaucoma in Lions Clubs' Screening

"Certainly one of the most successful, if not the most successful glaucoma screening I have ever worked in," was the observation of Mrs. Pauline Outland, executive director of the Texas Society for the Prevention of Blindness, describing the screening held in Eastland Sunday.

The coordination and cooperation of the many volunteers and the marvelous acceptance by the public were remarkable, Mrs. Outland said, echoing what Eastland Lion President Marcus O'Dell labeled the perfect public service.

Dr. Bob Alexander, chairman for the screening, reported at the Eastland Lions Club Tuesday that a total of 806 persons were examined, and that of that number 26 were referred to specialist for further tests. "This does not mean," he said, "that 26 persons had glaucoma. It means only that our test revealed that these people had excessive pressure on their eye balls and need further attention."

It will be perhaps 60 days before final reports on the screening are complete, Dr. Alexander said. The Society for the Prevention of Blindness carefully follows up the referrals to see how many need treatment, how many are actually treated, and makes final reports.

"Certainly the public screening made people in our area conscious of the dangers of glaucoma and aware of the need for frequent examinations," Mr. O'Dell said. He further expressed the club's appreciation for the many volunteers who assisted. Dr. Jim Wittington, now of Fort Worth, and a former Eastland specialist, was in charge of testing, assisted by Dr. Criswell, also of Fort Worth. Area physicians assisted, as did nurses from throughout the county. The Eastland Lion Club was joined in staging the service by the Cisco and Ranger clubs, to which O'Dell expressed special thanks.

"This project," he said, "is symbolic of the continuing program of sight conservation practiced by Lions Clubs in our county, the nation and the world."

"The number that reported to the Eastland High School Gyn Sunday afternoon was about twice as many as I thought might come," Dr. Alexander told the Eastland Club Tuesday. He thanked the various committee chairmen for their work, including, Wendell Siebert, physical requirements; Leon Musgroove, supplies and nursing assistance; Herb Weaver, medical supplies; Lewis Tiner, workers refreshments, and H. V. O'Brien, publicity.

School Hill was virtually full all Sunday afternoon, and processing of patients through the testing centers was swift, Dr. Alexander said.

Program for the club Tuesday was an on-site inspection of the new elementary school building, arranged by Program Chairman Ed Freyschlag, in cooperation with Supt. Wendell Siebert.

Senior Class Prophecy

by Sandra Tibbels

I don't think I'll ever forget the day we were assigned our parts for the Class Day Program. I nearly collapsed when Mrs. Deffebach and Mrs. Hagaman said, "Sandra, you are to write the Class Prophecy." Class Prophecy? The world spun around like a top gone mad. How could I know what the members of the class would be doing in ten, fifteen or twenty years? That evening I decided I would make a visit to the gypsy that was in Ranger that week. I told her I was to give the Class Prophecy and that I wanted her to tell me what my class friends would be doing in 1980. She invited me to sit down and look into her crystal ball. At first I could not tell what it said but things got clearer and Austin, Texas flashed on. The next thing I saw was a football game. The team looked familiar and as the scene became clearer I saw it was the Texas Longhorns. I could not figure out why this famous team was appearing in the crystal ball but then I saw the head coach walking back and forth. I couldn't tell at first who the coach was but soon I could tell that he was JOHNNY CAMACHO who was a great football star in high school. In the press box I saw JIMMY DRENNAN, Governor of Texas, and BRENDA WEAVER, First Woman President of the United States, being entertained by the football game. Still in Austin the crystal ball flashed to a laboratory where SUSAN WOODS had invented a way to preserve food so that food can be taken to the moon.

In a few seconds the crystal ball showed Dallas, Texas. Again a football game was being played, and as the scene became clearer I noticed that the team was the Dallas Cowboys. As the players were having a time out, I could tell who the players were. On the team was No. 78, DOUGLAS BROWNING. The scene changed to the courtroom in Dallas. The Ruby trial was still going on. Ruby chose for his lawyer DAVID SUTTON the person in our class who was always right and who could always argue. Also in Dallas was DONNA FYFFE a model for Neiman Marcus.

Main Street of Fort Worth flashed on the crystal ball next. As the scene became clearer I saw signs of names that I was familiar with, Marriage Counselor - JANICE SMITH and Worth Food Mart-Manager-ROGER POLSTON.

The scene changed to Ranger, Texas and also there were signs shown. Ranger Mattress Factory-owned and operated by RICHARD HERWECK. Richard just invented a chair that when the person sitting pushed a button he would rise. On the principal's desk of Ranger High School ARTHUR MENDOZA'S name was on the name plate. Arthur seemed to enjoy that office. Also at R.H.S. COOKIE FALLS was teaching World Geography. Still in Ranger the scene changed to a ranch. On the entrance gate was DWIGHT ROGER'S name. However, Dwight was not at home. He was appearing before a Senate investigating committee on slanted oil wells. He is said to be the biggest fraud since Billie Sol Estes. The chairman of the in-

RICHARD HERWECK

Richard is the 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Wm. Herweck of 728 Blundell. In Ranger High School he was in the senior play, a member of the football team for 3 years, FFA 4 years, and played basketball for two years.

Ranger Junior College is the school he plans to attend next year after which he plans to transfer to Texas Tech in Lubbock. He wants to major in business education and perhaps be a CPA.

JANICE SMITH

She was an office assistant her senior year, a member of the Spanish Club for two years, in the junior and senior plays, and in senior play she was the business manager and announcer.

On June 8, she will begin a business executive secretarial course in Fort Worth at Branley - Deaughon Business College. After finishing she plans to work as a secretary.

RONNIE HINDS

Ronnie is the 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Hinds who now reside at 809 Adkins Street in Bowie. He is staying with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Craig while finishing high school here. He was a 2-year letterman in football, made all-district and all-area in football, was a 4-year letterman in basketball, made Honorable-Mention All-Area in basketball played track 4 years, went to the regional track meet in low hurdles, and was in the senior play.

With a major in business and a minor in physical education, he plans to attend Ranger Junior College and North Texas State University. His career plans are in the field of business as a C. P. A.

Next year he plans to attend Ranger Junior College.

At least 20 Texas streams are known as Mustang Creek.

TEMPLE VISITOR

Miss Bessie Leverette of Temple visited with her brother, Bill Leverette over the weekend. While in Ranger, she also visited in the Onis Littlefield home.

HOSPITAL News

The following were patients in Ranger General Hospital Saturday morning: Mrs. Onis Littlefield, Mrs. L. A. Moody, Mrs. Madge Zeigler, Mrs. Ruth Ridling, Mrs. Georgia Stifler, Mrs. W. W. Calhoun, Mrs. Mae Whaley, Mrs. W. O. Calloway, Mrs. Emma Green, Miss Eunice Toome, Mrs. T. J. Fonville, Mrs. Lether Buckbee, Mrs. Mary Fullum, Mrs. H. S. Brown.

SISTER VISITS

Visiting with Mrs. Alva Burnett was her sister, Mrs. T. E. Harper of Cisco.

Investigating committee was Sen. PEGGY NEELEY, one of the most powerful Senators in Washington who had defeated Gordon McClendon to become the Senator from Texas. Also being investigated was myself, head of General Motors, on charges of creating monopolies on the automobile market. Also shown in Ranger was BETTY ESTES, now Mrs. Frank Miller at Worth Food Mart, with five baskets of groceries for her ten children.

As the crystal ball focused in on New York City, I saw a cocktail party given by NAMI BRADFORD in honor of CAROLYN DEMPSEY, a Nobel prize winner. The party was attended by many famous people. The famous hair-stylists from Dallas DAVID VINSON and SUE GRAHAM were present. Other guests attending were NANCY BOEN an accomplished artist from Greenwich and KAYE EDMONDS a famous psychiatrist from California. The famous reporter SYLVIA HEADA HOPPER ROBINSON was present to get the news for a leading magazine. In the Pentagon at Washington RONNIE HINDS was a Certified Public Accountant.

Next in the crystal ball was the olympics. ARMA WOODRUFF was on the Women's American basketball team and MARY ANNA HERWECK was running the low hurdles. When nothing else flashed on the crystal ball, I realized that had completed our class of '64, our class leaves "old R.H.S. I hope we all find success and happiness in the future . . .

Senior Class Optimist

By COOKIE FALLS
 Did you listen to Sue? Honestly! How could anyone be so crude? Perhaps I can say something which will overcome the effect such ideas are bound to have on unsuspecting listeners.

I could have cried at the way Sue ridiculed small children starting off to school. Why, except for graduation, and perhaps getting married, that is the most important day of their lives. No wonder they are smiling! Even for the tiny tots who are frightened because they have never been away from their mothers before, it is a big day, and the teachers understand their responsibility and understand the minute that it doesn't make any difference whether they start or not!

According to Sue, there isn't room in the world for the average man or woman. In fact, she tries to give the impression that only a favored few are permitted to hear Opportunity knocking on their door. Let me assure you that Sue is wrong! The saying "There is always room at the top" is by no means "hot air". There is always room for the people who are willing to put forth every ounce of effort of which they are capable. Perhaps the world does not roll out the red carpet commencement night and wait at the door with a brass band, but depend upon it, there is a place for the man or woman who fits himself or herself to occupy it.

As for rules and regulations, according to Sue, they were invented to make life miserable for everyone, but can you imagine what the world would be like without any?

I'm positive Sue must have eaten something that didn't agree with her, for just see how she raved about Jimmy's getting the big head because he made so many scores in football last winter. Why, all of us know that he won those honors fairly and squarely, just as anyone can win honors in America if he puts his best into what he is doing. If you'll look around, you will see dozens of people who have gone to the top in their chosen work just because they were willing to dig in and make a future for themselves.

Obnoxious! Sue left the impression that Douglas is fat. Can't everyone see that those are muscles? Also, I think we ought to commend Johnny. After all, staying at the bottom is a good way to keep warm.

We did have a great football and basketball team this year, and I, along with everyone else, am proud of them. But I believe that each student should try to do his best for all teachers and not just the one who teaches his favorite subject. Of course each teacher thinks his subject is the best, but look where we'd be if students only studied the one subject they like best!

I think Ranger is a grand town, and RHS is a great school. The teachers know their business and are interested in the entire student body. Nothing anyone could say would change my mind.

There aren't any rules and regulations which do not make life better for all of us if we obey them. Nobody, I am sure, would want to live in a country without any rules.

One time I heard a man say the difference between a pessimist and an optimist is that when everything looks dark the optimist turns on a light, but the pessimist slips up and turns it out. I'd rather make a little more light than to turn out what already exists, wouldn't you?

Some folks laugh at Optimists and say they look at the world through rose tinted glasses. Well, isn't that better than putting on smoked glasses? The world needs all the joy it can get, and there certainly isn't much to be seen through dark lenses.

We needed optimism all through school. Some way, it makes everything better when you can catch a gleam of hope and find something beautiful in what otherwise might be humdrum. Optimists are people who see things as they are, or as they could be if people everywhere looked at them right and did their best to engineer the world's affairs so they would remain right.

The Grumbler gave you her side. Now I have given you mine. You may take your choice. We have been looking at the same building, the same people, and the same circumstances. After you go home today, think it over.

Decide for yourself what you will believe and how you will govern your own life. Whichever side you take, thank you for listening.

State Has Draft Quota Of 234 In Month Of June

AUSTIN — The state draft quota for June calls for 234 men, compared to 253 for May. Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said Tuesday.

The state quota of 234 for June is the Texas share of a national call for 6,000 men, all for the Army.

The state Service director also announced pre-induction physical and mental examinations for 6,000 men in June.

Local board quotas for the June call already have been figured and sent to the state's 137 local boards.

The June quota will be filled mostly with men who are volunteers under 26 years old and nonvolunteers ages 19 through 25. Most of them will be 22 years old.

No man whose draft board file reflects that he is maintaining a bona fide family relationship with a wife or a child or children will be selected in response to this call.

All males are required to register under the draft law on their 18th birthday or within five days thereafter.

High school graduation is an important achievement and the first step toward even greater accomplishments. In the years ahead success will be attained by energetic young people with vision and determination . . . who prepare themselves mentally and physically to meet the challenges of the space age. Education is an increasingly important factor in employment opportunities and will become even far more so in the next two or three decades. Education is the foundation of democracy and the American concept of liberty and of our superior free enterprise system.

The board of regents, administration and faculty invite young people who want to prepare for tomorrow to investigate the many advantages and opportunities offered by Ranger Junior College, one of the fastest-growing educational institutions in the Southwest.

happen to be teaching. I think there are a lot of things more important than that. For instance, we had a stem-winder of a football and basketball team this year. They took all kinds of honors, and had to miss several days of school. Naturally, they practiced every chance they got and did the teachers get mad! They said they could never count on certain assignments because the coaches were always sending for the players, and the rest of the students were held back because so many of them were gone. The teachers were getting fed up with the idea that sports were more important than anything else! Well, why not? They were swell teams and looked fine on the football field and basketball court. Who cares whether they had algebra and geometry and a lot of other things?

Most of the students of Ranger High School have had or will have had the opportunity of taking English under Mrs. Robinson and she has two bad habits — she's not fair, and two — she picks on me. She is unfair because she separates us and gives each student different tests, and she picks on me, by always giving me the hardest test.

Although treading on dangerous ground, I have a few comments on our Superintendent, Mr. Rush. Outwardly, one would think he is a model superintendent. But the chemistry class knows he does have a few small defects. For one thing, half of the class is expected to need hearing aids at the end of the year because of burst eardrums. However, he doesn't push his class too much to turn in assignments, because he has a small lazy streak, and if the papers aren't turned in, he doesn't have to grade them.

Sometimes I wonder if school teachers and school board members really are human beings. They look so stern all of the time, and to hear them talk, we don't have a bit of sense. Do you suppose they were always like that, or does having authority make them forget what it was like to be young? Of course, most of them are so old, they couldn't remember back that far!

Yes, there are a lot of things that have peeved me as far back as I can remember — having to go to school whether I felt like it or not, having to study when I'd rather be outdoors, having to be polite when I wanted to stick out my tongue and make ugly faces. Oh, there isn't any end to the gripes I have heid back. I actually thought I'd have to live to be an old, old person — maybe even 'till I was dead — before I could get these off my chest. I didn't even know there was a subject like this on the program, and I nearly fell over when Mrs. Hagaman and Mrs. Deffebach said, "Well Sue, here's your chance to say just what you think without any body finding fault." After I got the diploma which has cost me so much misery, safely put away in the bottom drawer, the chances are I've said this much and I am sure my fellow classmates agree with me. Perhaps I have spoken for them as well as for myself.

My time is up, and I must stop. If you'll take a few minutes to think without prejudice, I'm sure you'll understand what relief it has been to rid myself of all of this. Thanks for listening and remember that there are a few good things about this school, but I will leave that for other speakers.

Senior Class History

By JANICE SMITH

On a bright September morning in 1952, a group of children who seemed somewhat excited and frightened, started to school. Going to Young were Richard, Cookie, Mary Anna, Susan, Peggy, Brenda, Carolyn, Dwight, David Vinson, and I. Starting at Hodges Oak Park were Johnny, Jimmy, Sue, Sylvia, Doug, Nancy, David Sutton, Arthur, Sandra, Roger and Ronnie. After his second year in Ranger, Jimmy moved away, and Carolyn transferred from Young to Hodges during the third grade. Dawn followed suit after her fifth year at Young. In the sixth grade Kyge became a new addition to the Hodges group.

The next year, 1958, our class was together for the first time. How excited we were going to be in Junior High! Jimmy again became part of our class, and during the second semester Donna Fyffe was added. Naomi and Betty were the new additions in the eighth grade. During our two years in junior high, a firm feeling of unity developed, and lasting friendships were formed.

Almost too quickly it seemed, we were "Fish". Johnny, Kyge, Arthur, and Jimmy were elected as class officers, and Betty was chosen as class favorite. By the end of our first year of high school, we had adjusted ourselves well.

The next year we chose Jimmy, Kyge, Johnny, and David Sutton to lead us; Brenda and Arthur were our favorites. Sue was chosen as basketball sweetheart; and Betty, Susan, and Peggy made All District Band.

Becoming juniors, we finally began to receive some recognition. The Junior Class won the March of Dimes Contest, and our Junior Play was a big success. Also, our class broke the record in the magazine sales. Chosen as class officers were Kyge, Johnny, Naomi, Sandra, David Dutton, and Nancy. The class favorites were Nancy and David Sutton. Jimmy was chosen by the whole student body as Mr. Personality. Acclaimed as one of the most beautiful banquets ever, the Junior-Senior Banquet completed a great year of success.

The summer flew by, and our big year had finally arrived. After eleven years, we were at last seniors! David Sutton, Kyge, Johnny, Nancy, Naomi and Betty, were chosen as class officers; Sandra and Roger, class favorites. Personalities from our class who were chosen by the entire student body were Peggy, Band Sweetheart; Sue, Football Sweetheart; Brenda, Basketball Sweetheart; Ronnie, Basketball Beau; Kyge, FHA Beau; and Arthur and Betty, Mr. and Miss RHS. Jimmy was chosen as President of the Student Body; Brenda, Beta Club President; Sandra, President of the FHA; and Peggy president of the FNC. Nancy and Naomi were editors of the annual. Other members held positions of responsibilities in the Beta Club, FHA annual staff, band, FFA, annual staff, band, FFA, PTA, FNC, track, football, and also basketball.

On the sports scene Doug received the "Helmet Award"; Jimmy, Most Valuable Player; and Ronnie and Johnny, All District in football. Sue was co-captain of the girl's basketball team; and

Senior Class Pessimist

By SUE GRAHAM

All of my life I've been told I shouldn't find fault and be disagreeable, no matter how I felt, but when Mrs. Hagaman and Mrs. Deffebach assigned this subject to me, they said I could say anything I pleased. Like as not I'll never have another chance, and believe you me, I'm going to take advantage of it!

You have heard how wonderful our class is and how Ranger High School is such a grand and glorious place, but let me tell you that there are plenty of things I would change if I had a chance. What's more I am sure the world would be a whole lot better for the changes, too.

This school business is funny anyway — don't you think so? Kids five and six years old were never supposed to sit still, but just let them try running around unless someone tells them they can't! Even after they are up in the grades other occasions. This year has been filled with much success; our class won the March of Dimes contest again. As this year draws to a close, we can sincerely say, "We, the Senior Class of 1964, hope that the future will be as exciting and as successful as the past twelve years have been for us."

(Douglas, for those of you who don't know) is big and fat, but he doesn't need to get the big-head just because he made a few lousy tackles. Of course he never missed blocking his man on passing plays, he just never knew which one was his man!

Along this same line, we also have the star of the Albany game, Johnny Camacho, who found the secret of staying warm in sub-freezing weather — being on the bottom of the pile!

Teachers are funny, too. They think you ought to spend all your time studying, especially studying whatever they

Senior Class Will

by Brenda Weaver

Faculty, underclassmen, and visitors, greetings. We, the class of 1964 of Ranger High School, are about to cast aside our high school ways and depart for that sedate land of adulthood. Being mindful of the needs of those we leave behind in Ranger High School, we are going to endow them with many of our intangible and very worthwhile riches. We have given a great deal of time and attention to these matters, and we trust that you will agree that we have acted wisely.

Thereby, we of the senior class, being of sound mind and strong body do hereby designate this as our last will and testament.

1. Our great store of memories we take with us to cherish forever and forever.

2. We leave behind us for other classes to follow, our fine record of athletic accomplishments and scholastic achievements.

3. To the entire faculty we leave our sincere thanks for their patience and never-failing interest in our welfare. We trust we shall never disappoint them in what they expect of us.

4. To our principal, Mr. Garrett, we suggest that if he ever wishes to make an assembly talk and should need an example of worthy students, that he consider our class as such an example. Where could he do better?

5. To our wonderful senior sponsors, Mrs. Hagaman, Mrs. Deffebach, and Mr. Auvenshine, we leave the job of sponsoring some other class, though we know they will never receive such inspiration from any other class as we have given them.

6. To the future freshmen class we leave our freshman record for them to follow closely. When we were the freshman class, we adjusted ourselves quickly to our surroundings, and soon the whole school was aware of our presence — sometimes much to our regret.

7. To the present freshman class we leave a warning that if you don't want to work the rest of your years in high school, stop now. Next year will be too late, for then you will have developed enough school spirit to attempt to rival our outstanding record and that, of course, is impossible. Also to the freshmen we will a plot next to ours in the graveyard.

8. To the sophomore class we leave the title "Upper Classmen," remembering fully well how important we felt on becoming Juniors. We also request that the sophomores look up our junior record to follow as a perfect model.

9. To the juniors, so eager to become seniors, we will our front seat, our lofty title, and our becoming modestly exhibited in this will with the wish that your senior year will be as great a success as ours has been.

10. To the school as a whole we leave our class picture in the annual that it may ever be an inspiration to those who gaze upon it, and they will exclaim as they look upon our likeness, "Ah, there was a class — yes, a class, a wonderful class."

We, the individuals of the senior class, in remembrance of you, hereby bequeath the following:

I, Nancy Boen, will my recording of "Wolverton Mountain" to Oscar Hutchins.

I, Naomi Bradford, will my hair coloring kit to Mary Sue Twyman.

I, Douglas Browning, will my ability to high jump to Joe Jimenez.

I, Johnny Camacho, will my oversized muscles, along with my Charles Atlas physique to Catherine Stroud.

I, Carolyn Dempsey, will the pestering of my little cousin Gary Hames to anyone who will let Gary pester him next year.

I, Jimmy Drennan, will the company of two of my sophomore friends, Johnny Mcgee and Dan Collins, to the girls of RHS because I will not be here to protect Johnny from the girls, nor the girls from Dan.

I, Kyge Edmonds, will my big ears, my supposedly bad attitude, and my permanent seat in Mr. Garrett's office to Walter Jacoby.

I, Betty Estes, will my ability to stick with the same boy for four years and finally catch him to Miriam Poyner.

I, Cookie Falls, will my seat in Home Ec. next year, and my eyelash curlers to Dan Collins.

I, Donna Fyffe, will my graceful easy going walk to Sue Ann Stokes and my soft voice and shy ways to Mary Sue Twyman.

I, Sue Graham, will my basketball uniform and muscular legs to Ray Newnham.

I, Mary Anna Herweck, will my athletic ability to Kay Aishman.

I, Richard Herweck, will my crutches to Jesse "Crip" Renteria.

I, Ronnie Hinds, will my ability to keep calm without losing my temper in any situation to Coach Duval and Ray Newnham.

I, Arthur Mendoza, will my height to Joel Jimenez, my very aggressive ability to play basketball to "gawky" Jack Watson, my ability to run the 4-mile without falling at the finish to Lee Ausburne, and my natural ability to come up with a dull joke at the wrong time to Billy Matthews.

I, Peggy Neeley, will my bottle of brown Miss Clairol to Emery Ford, Jr., who seems to need it.

Spanish Class Is Feted With Mexican Dinner

Members of the Spanish 103 class were entertained with a Mexican dinner by their instructor, Mrs. R. L. Hamrick, Tuesday, May 19, at 6:30 p. m.

Present were Joan Cleary, Gary Watson, Parke Davidson, John May, Butch Owen, Ed Callarman, and guests, Mrs. F. E. Langston, Mary Rhoads, and the hostess.

DEL RIO STUDENTS AUDITION AT RJC

Carl Fricke and Mike Deaton, members of the Del Rio High School band, were on the RJC campus Monday, May 18, to audition for the RJC Band.

Use of "abracadabra" as a "magic" word began in the second century when it was recited to expel fevers, inflammations and agues.

I, Roger Polston, will my ability to bring new ideas and improvements to RHS to Tommy Lenzi.

I, Sylvia Robinson, will my ability to type on the electric typewriter and to learn where everything is on the typewriter of Roy Leonard, who is an excellent typist.

I, Dwight Rogers, will my loud and noisy ways to Billy Lee.

I, Janice Smith, will my '58 Ford to anyone who can make it run as fast as I can.

I, David Sutton, will a pair of gold plated horse shoe taps to Mr. Garrett so next year's trig class can hear him coming down the hall.

I, Sandra Tibbels, will the chairs in the office to Kenny Seymour, who seems to admire them so much.

I, David Vinson, will my ability to do the ballet to Sheila Barker.

I, Brenda Weaver, will my cheerleading ability and uniform to Jack Watson.

I, Arma Woodruff, will to David O'Shields my ability to refrain from saying certain words when he makes errors in typing.

I, Susan Woods, will my ability to wear low cut dresses to Miriam Poyner.

In witness whereof, we have hereunto set our hand and seal this 19th day of May, 1964.

Student Gives Views Of Summer Vacation

By ROYCE BERNARD

What is summer? People have different ideas about summer.

Students think of it as a vacation, leisure months, time in which they are able to recuperate from two long semesters of school.

The working man looks at summer as just three more months. To him it will be just another long hot summer. Maybe he will have a vacation, or maybe he won't.

The summer months are to be enjoyed no matter what the situation is. The summer is to me, with its beauty, time to be thoroughly enjoyed by all.

No, Audrey, It Just Won't Do—

It's very nearly but not exactly accurate. In arithmetic a near miss will never satisfy teacher. The same principle applies to insurance. You may think, because you are approximately covered, that you are well protected.

But often when disaster comes it strikes the chink in your armor—the hole in your insurance coverage. That is one reason why you should have an experienced agent in your community handle your insurance.

Another is that the competent agent represents only strong capital stock insurance companies.

Rush Creek Flood Control Planning Is Approved

The Soil Conservation Service of the Department of Agriculture has been authorized to assist all sponsoring local organizations in preparing a watershed work plan for the Rush Creek Watershed, under authority of the Watershed Protection and Flood Prevention Act, according to an announcement by Cong. Omar Burleson this week.

C. M. McCann of Eastland, chairman of the Upper Leon Soil Conservation District, was advised by letter by Cong. Burleson that final approval for planning has been okayed.

Irvin Poff, Area Conservationist of Stephenville, contacted late this week in the Eastland Soil Conservation District that most of the work involved in this project would be in Cronache County. He pointed out that Rush Creek headquarters are in the Rising Star Area, flow toward the De Leon area when Rush Creek joins and enters the new Proctor Reservoir.

Mr. Poff and E. E. McAllister, Eastland SCS manager, explained that the project involves small water shed reservoirs and might possible include some 15 on 20 small dams for flood protection. The Rising Star area is level, they pointed out, and there probably wouldn't be any need for basins there.

The present authorization is for planning, it was stated.

Cong. Burleson's letter further stated: "As you know, of course, the Watershed Protection and Flood Prevention Act authorizes the Department of Agriculture to give technical and financial assistance to organized groups of farmers living in small watersheds where floods, droughts and soil erosion are causing serious damage. Of course, the application has been approved by the Texas State Soil Conservation Board, which was necessary before the Soil Conservation Service could take this action."

A SAD STORY

Behind many "For Sale" signs there is a sad story: A family borrowed more than they could afford to pay for a home, or payments and interest rates were too high; the home had to be sold, often at a loss. This tragedy could often be avoided if the families would seek help from a home loan specialist, such as our Association.

We work with you to arrange for a loan that's as easy to handle as monthly rent.

A flameless ELECTRIC water heater needs no flue... installs almost anywhere

You'll have greater flexibility in kitchen and home planning, when your water heater is flameless electric. Because an electric water heater needs no flue or ventilation, you can install it almost anywhere, close to the point of greatest use. You can put it under a counter top, beneath a stairway, in an otherwise wasted corner, even way back in a tightly enclosed closet. An electric water heater with immersed heating elements is fast and efficient, too. And because it's flameless, it's clean, safe and completely silent in its operation. See the new quick recovery water heaters at your dealer's soon.

Ice Cream Supper For Lacasa Club

The Lacasa Home Demonstration Club met Thursday, May 14, for their regular meeting.

The president, Mrs. Lottie Harrington, called the house to order for a business meeting. Roll call was answered by the best laugh I've had lately. After the minutes and treasurer's report were given, plans for the covered dish luncheon for the next meeting were made. Then the program was turned over to the leader for her demonstration.

Mrs. Freda Mitchell gave a program on Party Settings and Etiquette. She prepared points of interest, and a discussion was made of some changes that have been made. A gift was planned for a member, Mrs. Doris Watson, who is ill in the M. D. Anderson Hospital at Houston.

Tentative plans were also made for the Ice Cream Supper to be given when the community formally receives the Achievement Award. The date will be announced later.

Attending this meeting were Mmes Lottie Harrington, Mary Harrington, Mable Jackson, Topsy Jackson, Ora I Templeton, Florence Raney, Pat Jones and Freda Mitchell.

The next meeting will be an all day affair. Miss Barbara McAnelly, Home Demonstration Agent, will be present.

JIM LEWIS

Jim Lewis Is RJC Teacher Of The Week

Athletic Director Jim Lewis has been selected by the RJC journalism class as Teacher of the Week. Lewis coached the 1963-1964 basketball team, which placed Ranger Junior College second in both the north zone of the Texas Junior College Athletic Conference and the TJCAC State Tournament.

Lewis spent part of his childhood in Arkansas, where he was born. He did his first college work at Ouachita College, Arkadelphia, Arkansas, and then entered the Air Force. After his discharge from the Air Force he attended Trinity University of San Antonio, where he earned both the Bachelor of Science and the Master of Education degrees.

He is now attending North Texas State University, where he is studying Educational Administration. He has a leave of absence from Ranger College to pursue work on his doctor's degree at North Texas next year.

Lewis is married to the former Charlotte Quick of San Antonio. The Lewises have four children.

A coach who enjoys classroom teaching, he encourages students interested in teaching. He is a conscientious teacher and teaches his students to think for themselves.

He thinks that Ranger Junior College has great potential in advancement in the next few years.

Lewis is interested in reading, fishing, and golf as well as in football and basketball.

RJC CAMPUS QUIZ

ARE TODAY'S YOUTH DIFFERENT?

Are the youth of today different from the youth of yesterday? The consensus of the RJC journalism class is that today's youth are no different from those of yesterday.

John May of Salt Lake City says that today's youth live at a faster pace than yesterday's and are perhaps more restless, but essentially they do the same things that they did in the past.

Jack Taylor of Fort Worth says that the same basic desires, prejudices, and convictions persist today that were present a hundred years ago. Today, however, environment and progress have combined to alter the shape of these factors, though people will always be the same, no matter how far we progress or how much the environment changes.

In the opinion of Ken Browning of Breckenridge, the reason that the youth of today seem different is that with our modern technology they can do more and better things than they could years ago. If they are destructively inclined, they can do a lot more harm with a car than with a cart. Only the environment is changed. Kids today are no smarter, dumber, meaner, crueller—or in any way different. The difference is in the outlook.

Ken Burchfield of Fort Worth thinks that the youth are no different; the only difference lies in the opportunities. There are more things for modern youth to do.

The youth of yesterday are the elders of today. Just because they are too old to understand, they think the things we young people do for enjoyment are absurd, though the things they did when they were young were also considered absurd by their elders. So says Royce Bernard of Graham.

It has often been said that today's generation is going to the dogs. According to Judy Waggoner of De Leon, if this is true, the blame is to be placed on the adults for being lax in their discipline.

Bill Wilkinson of Newcastle maintains that the youth of today are not different; it is just that yesterday's youth have grown up and are saying the same thing their elders said about them: "Our American youth are going to the dogs!" With the increase in the number of people, we just hear about it more.

Floyd Mahaney of Graham says the people who say that today's youth are worse than yesterday's actually have done many things just as bad as or worse than modern young people have. Older people notice only the bad things, not the achievements of modern youth.

Quay Lee of Graham thinks that if the young people of past eras had had the same things we have now, they would have acted the same way as modern youth.

Gerald Naile of Newcastle is of the opinion that the young people of the present are in much more trouble than they were a few years ago because almost no responsibilities are demanded of them and they have nothing to do but run

RJC Freshmen Have Unusual Summer Plans

Several RJC freshmen have very unusual plans for their summer vacations.

Walter Henson, a freshman from Fort Worth, plans to go to the Gulf coast and work as a deck hand on a shrimp boat. Boyd Brazeel of Graham has made plans to do extensive body-building and enter a few local weight-lifting contests around the Fort Worth and Dallas areas.

James Davis of Fort Worth plans to be an assistant in a Fort Worth night club this summer.

Lewis Stroud intends to go home to Devine, where he will do actually nothing except make an extensive study of Mexico and its culture.

Jane Spears of Clyde plans to work for her father, operating a new machine in his print shop. She will also attend a twirling school in order to polish her skill as a major-ette.

Mike Butler of Fort Worth will again act as a life guard at a Fort Worth swimming pool.

Royce Bernard of Graham plans to go to Acapulco and simply enjoy himself.

Floyd Mahaney, Quay Lee, Terry Logan, and Mike Cook, all of Graham, plan to follow the rodeos this summer.

around in their hot rods, spinning ad sliding at every stoplight, looking for something to do.

Doug Welborn of Boerne, on the other hand, thinks that today's youth are different, that progress makes us different. As youth is always moving forward with ideas and achievements, this generation, according to Welborn, will accomplish things unheard of in years past. He adds though, that today's youth, as a whole, just are not the kind that many respect. Modern living has brought a breakdown of individual independence, a trait in which Americans of the past heartily believed, for, he continues, youth was more dependable in the past than now. Progress is a good thing, but when it comes, other admirable traits usually go. This, in Welborn's opinion, is the American way of life.

New Buildings On RJC Campus Near Finish

Times r'up—new buildings. The changing scene at Ranger Junior College is gradually nearing completion. As a result of the efficiency of the workmen, construction is progressing so rapidly that the buildings under construction may be finished before the proposed August deadline.

The gymnasium and stadium are to be finished before the end of July so they can be used for the Texas six and eight-man football coaching clinic to be held here July 27-August 1. With the completion of the gym, RJC will be the only junior college in Texas with full athletic facilities.

Students are impressed with the spacious classrooms in the new classroom buildings and are generally pleased with the appearance of the new complex as well as the gym.

At the present time plans for a new girls' dorm are being discussed. If these plans materialize, a girl's dorm will be built and made ready for occupancy the fall of 1964.

Library Notes

Mrs. James P. Morris, English and history instructor in Ranger Junior College, has presented two new books to Cooper Library: "The Presidents of the Presidency" by Arthur Bernon Tourtellut and "Encyclopedia of American History" by Richard B. Morris.

These books are valuable additions to the college library. "The Presidents of the Presidency" tells of the public and private writings of our presidents, extracting the essence of their varied opinions on such aspects of the presidency as these: the President as national leader, as administrator, as Commander-in-Chief of the Armed Forces, and as leader of his political party.

The second book, the "Encyclopedia," presents for the first time in a single volume the essential facts about American history, government, culture, and the economic, scientific, and technological development from pre-Columbian times through the present time.

ABOUT SPONGE CAKE

By Leon Bowman

Sponge cake I have no use for whatsoever. To me sponge cake is a waste of time, money and materials. After one spends two hours in the kitchen mixing up a sponge cake, he has nothing. I like a cake that you know you are eating when you bite into it. I like one that you can taste. Sponge cake feels like a rubber cake or one with some ingredient left out that makes it feel like a sponge.

When one bites into a sponge cake, if he is lucky and his mouth doesn't bounce open again, he gets a large bite of cake and he doesn't even know it. It seems just to melt in his mouth. One doesn't even have to chew it; therefore he can't taste it and it's gone.

What use is there for making something like this? If one is going to spend money and time, why not make something worth eating, like a big German chocolate cake? Now, there is something one can eat and know he is eating it. It has a good flavor and taste.

Sponge cake is just what the name signifies. It feels like a sponge and has no taste, and I don't care anything about trying to eat a sponge.

THE RANGERS ARE A LONELY BREED

By JOHN MAY

Girls? More Girls? Who needs girls? Ranger Junior College needs more girls.

"We want more girls," the boys shout. "We're going crazy looking at each other."

What do the girls shout? When it's 9-1 odds in their favor, they don't complain.

Even though three new buildings will be built at Ranger Junior College and the campus expanded next year, the boys will still shout for more girls. Why? Because girls are fun and there will be room for only 20 girls on campus in Mary-Francis Hall next year.

Of about 225 students enrolled at Ranger Junior College only 25 are girls. When girls have to be imported from Strawn, Eastland, and even our rival, Cisco, the situation needs to be remedied.

To remedy this situation Ranger Junior College needs to build a newer and larger girls' dormitory the scope of the boys' new dorm. Then and only then can Ranger Junior College become a true co-education school.

RJC To Require Health Form Of All Students

All students entering Ranger Junior College next year will be required to file a health form. This form is to be completed by a recognized physician.

The physician must state that the student is not suffering from any communicable disease, that he has no condition that would endanger the health of other students, and

Capers Of Twins Are Interesting, Muses Mother

By JUDY WAGGONER

It has been said that there is never a dull moment where twins are concerned. Not only that, but they are an education in themselves. There are many theories about twins which I am having ample opportunity to test or discover. One concerns their closeness.

Closeness in twins is a common thing. Mine can not get along without each other. If one wakes before the other, he calls the other so both will be up. If by chance I get the one awake out of the room, he slips back and wakes the other or just sits around and whines until his "amigo" is up.

They trade all their food, and I can always depend on their eating exactly what was given to the other. They trade all their toys; half the time Bub is playing dolls while Sis is playing football (much to daddy's discontent).

They chase each other all day and fight and fuss, but neither can function without the other.

Higher education in Texas began in 1840 with the founding of Rutgersville University in Fayette County.

You would reach the Pacific Ocean sooner by traveling due south from Austin, Texas, than by traveling due west.

that he is physically fit to carry on regular college work.

This is the first health certificate required of RJC students as a whole. Its requirements is in keeping with the practice of senior colleges as well as many other junior colleges.
