

Ravaging Drouth Plagues Area Farmers, Ranchers

Parched Eastland County continues to wilt under over-100-degree temperatures and day by day a ravaging drouth continues to harass farmers and ranchmen.

Spotted, brief showers over the weekend, ranging from half to a bare trace up to half-inch, did little to relieve the acute situation.

And — just how serious is the current, prolonged dry spell?

Some interesting answers come from J. M. Cooper, Eastland County agricultural agent.

County Agent Cooper mailed out 50 questionnaires. Forty-four were returned and here are some of the comments:

"Most severe drouth since the early '50s," Thornton Cooper, Bullock.

"Generally speaking, we have an adequate supply of stock water. Some ranchers are beginning to run short in some pastures and will either be moving cattle or hauling water," Glyn Gilliam, Ranger.

"Driest in history. 10 per cent of peanuts planted will not come up and some are dying now. I will have to sell or start haying soon. Am feeding grain and cake now," John Love, Cheaney.

"On a trip from Cisco to Rising Star in the past few days, I only saw two small fields, belonging to the same person, planted with peanuts," Ralph Berry, Rt. 3, Cisco.

"My tank will be dry in one more week. Many of them are very low," Hayman Lawson, Pioneer. (The survey letter was dated July 3 and conditions haven't improved since that date.)

"Most of the cattle will be moved to market if it doesn't rain the next 30 days," D. B. Warren, Gorman.

What is the condition of the temporary summer pastures?

"Grazed to the ground and no moisture," L. A. Harbin, Flatwoods.

"Ten per cent of the peanut farmers have not planted here," J. R. Cox, Okra.

"This drouth is worse in our locality than I have seen since 1934," Cecil Shultz, Rising Star.

"I think about 25 per cent of the grain sorghum is not planted," Oral Davis, Okra.

"Native pastures burned up," W. E. Kurklin, Cisco.

"Only about half of the peanuts in my locality are planted," Glenn Justice, New Hope.

"Pastures have dried up, temporary grazing is at a standstill. Stock water in surface tanks is very low or dried up completely. The calf crop will almost surely be a little one and I am afraid it will affect next year's as every one I have talked to doesn't think their cows are breeding back as they should," James Chessheir, Pioneer.

"Yes, more than normal number of livestock have been marketed from our area. If it doesn't rain I believe that there will be 30 to 40 per cent leave our community by fall. This drouth is as serious as any we have ever had. You might start to look for some government relief feed, unless it rains soon we are sure going to have to have it," Sam Kimmell, Cisco.

"Yes, more than normal number of stock in my area has been sold. And more will be sold if something isn't done soon, the stock can be held over," Garland Garrett.

"About 60 to 65 per cent of the peanut acreage in this area is not planted due to lack of moisture," Guy L. Yerie, Flatwoods.

"I am going to have to sell 15 or 20 head if it doesn't rain in two or three weeks. We need some kind of hay in Bluff Branch."

"Stock water is low and with few exceptions, is reaching the critical stage requiring emergency actions," Homer E. White, Yellow Mound.

"Water supply is only fair. Some tanks are lower than have been since first filled," W. R. Usery, southeast of Carbon.

"My community seems to be in center of very dry area. Rainfall at my place — May, .7 inches, June, 1.1 inches," Hubbard Gilbert, Carbon.

"All native pasture is from poor to no grass at all," Bill Childers, north of Cisco.

"Some tanks are getting 'boggy'," Walter Mitchell, south of Strawn.

"The drouth is critical in my area. We have not had a measurable amount of rain since late February," D. F. Williamson, Morton Valley.

"Within a 5 or 6 mile radius of here, I would say there is less than 5 per cent of peanuts planted due to lack of moisture," P. P. Plambeck, Pleasant Hill.

"Worst condition and our look in years," W. E. Tyle, Rising Star.

"I would say that about per cent more livestock has moved to market than normal," G. T. Dawkins, Saba no.

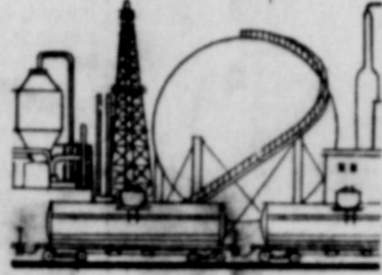

"The most serious condition we have seen in a number years," Arlin Birt, Dothan.

"90 per cent of the peanut farmers have not planted here," Herman Schaefer, Nurrod.

"It is as dry as I have ever seen it since I began here years ago," Albert A. Hanse, Cisco.

Local Woman, Vonceil Hopper, Wows Fans Of NBC Show Tuesday

Ranger received a fine plug on nationwide network television Tuesday at 11:30 a.m. Mrs. Vonceil Hopper, local business woman, civic worker and political leader, appeared at that time as a guest on Bob Barker's "Truth or Consequences" show on the NBC-TV network.

The daily presentation, emceed by Bob Barker, is seen on channels 5 and 9 in this area.

When she was introduced to the nationwide audience by Barker, Mrs. Hopper proudly informed the viewers that she was born in Ranger and had lived here all her life.

Hijacker Arrested After Service Station Holdup

A patient from the Veterans Hospital, Big Spring, heisted a Ranger service station at 12:15 a.m. Tuesday and was jailed less than an hour later.

Charged with armed robbery, Ranger Justice of Peace M. D. Underwood set his bond at $5,000.

B. H. Warren of Crain, accompanied by a Gladewater man who alleges that he was only a hitch-hiker, and not an accomplice, drove into Curtis Blackwell's Gulf Service Station and ordered his 1957 Ford gassed up.

Monroe James White, 34, the hitch-hiker, got out of the car and went to a rest room.

After his car had been serviced, Warren followed Willis Blackwell, lone attendant on duty, into the service station.

Inside he whipped out a new .22-caliber revolver and ordered Blackwell to clean out the cash register.

The attendant, at gun point, handed the gunman $140.66 and then was ordered into a backroom.

Warren locked the door, ran to his car outside and sped away, leaving his traveling companion in the rest room.

Blackwell escaped from the backroom through a rear door which was unlocked.

Jack Therwanger, Texas Highway patrolman, was in the area investigating an accident on U. S. Highway 80 east at the time of the holdup, according to Ranger police, but about 1 a.m., heading west on Highway 80, he spotted the red and white Ford parked at the side of the road.

He radioed local police and Patrolmen J. W. Vinson and J. C. Rose, "breaking in" as a new member of the RPD force, rushed to the scene and Warren, still in the parked car, was placed under arrest by the trio of officers.

Warren and his hitch-hiking companion both were very heavily intoxicated, officers said.

The Gladewater man, after having been abandoned at a service station by the holdup man, slipped into the nearby used car lot of Anderson Chevrolet Co., climbed into an automobile and went to sleep. He was taken into custody early Tuesday morning.

Both men immediately were transferred to the county jail at Eastland.

An investigation by office revealed that Warren has been released from the V hospital at Big Spring Sunday. A check of his car also indicated that the man had been in Hobbs, N. M., Monday 1:15 p.m. when he was issued a ticket by police of that city for a minor traffic violation.

A number of empty liquor sacks and two notions bags bearing the name of Clark Discount Stores were found in the car. Sales tickets indicated he had purchased a .22-caliber revolver, a new wrist watch and several clothing items at the store Monday. It had not been determined early Tuesday in which city the purchases had been made.

Isabell said results of the examination are being computed electronically and firemen will be notified of their grades via mail.

A "Jane Doe" warrant was issued here Sunday for the arrest of a woman who damaged a gasoline pump at Bill's Truck Center, Highway 80 east, Saturday night.

According to officers, the woman rammed into the pump then sped away.

Complaint was filed against the motorist by Mrs. Bill Meador, owner, alleging damage in excess of $50, and charging leaving the scene without making arrangements to pay for the damage.

Tuesday morning, the City Police Dept. said the wanted woman was Dorothy Brandt, 1500 Josephine, Sweetwater.

City Earns 15% Fire Credit For Last Two Years

Ranger has received a 15 per cent credit for a good fire loss record in 1963 and 1964, Fire Chief Charlie Isabell reports.

In 1960 the city earned no credit, in 1961 a five per cent allowance was received, and it climbed to 10 per cent for 1962.

The city's average net fire insurance premiums over the five-year period totaled $161,011, average net losses only $56,753, for a loss ratio of 35 per cent.

Boy Driver, 11, Wrecks Car, Knocks Out Power

An 11-year-old boy, driving a 1959 Pontiac, smashed into a signboard at the Armory, U. S. Highway 80 east, then careened into a light pole shearing it in two on a wild escape Sunday morning at 1:45 a.m.

The accident, resulting in broken power lines, put Ranger in darkness and without electricity for 30 minutes in most sections of the city. There was no light or power in the Cooper Addition, however, for two hours.

The boy suffered only minor injuries in the mishap.

The car was the property of H. H. Henry of Ranger. It was demolished in the accident.

MRS. VONCEL HOPPER of Ranger is shown in candid shots of TV screen during her appearance on "Truth or Consequences" on NBC network Tuesday. Emcee above is Bob Barker.

MRS. HOPPER (Continued from Page One) how much and when they'll pay. Mrs. Hopper also let it be known that she was a Democrat. After she said the word, she was "gushed" by the emcee who "promised Senator Goldwater equal time."

As a gag, Milt Larson of the "Truth or Consequences" staff posed as a real estate man, ostensibly attending a convention at Los Angeles. He had been "picked at random from the audience," Barker baited the Ranger woman.

He wore the usual identification badge with ribbon attached on his left coat lapel. What Mrs. Hopper didn't know was that the ribbon would keep getting longer.

As the emcee chatted with the Ranger woman about salesmanship, real estate, etc., Larson kept pulling out more ribbon. The audience was roaring, but the ribbon kept getting longer. It even was piling up around her feet.

Finally, of course, she discovered the gag. Ranger viewers agreed her television performance was excellent.

RJC GRADS (Continued from Page One) book come from many sources, however, the majority of the nominations are made by Junior Chamber of Commerce chapters and College Alumni Associations.

In a doubleheader Little League attraction at Coleman Thursday night, first it'll be the Ranger All-Stars vs. Brownwood at 7 p.m., followed at 8:30 with a contest featuring Eastland's All-Stars going against Cisco. Ranger's mighty mites squeaked by Weatherford's All-Stars, 8-7, last Friday night at Ranger to continue in the important playoffs.

CONSIDERABLE mail is being received by the Ranger Chamber of Commerce relating to its proposed Texas Oil Museum.

Correspondence of this nature is respectfully sought and will be deeply appreciated. Here's an apistle from Mrs. Alvis Wood which will probably be of interest to many of our readers:

W. T. Eaton
Chairman: Pioneer Oil-Boom Museum
Ranger, Texas
Dear W. T.,

When we first came to Ranger and put in a storage house a lot (shipment) of goods was entrusted to our care by another warehouse-man who had lost contact with the owner. This was in 1945.

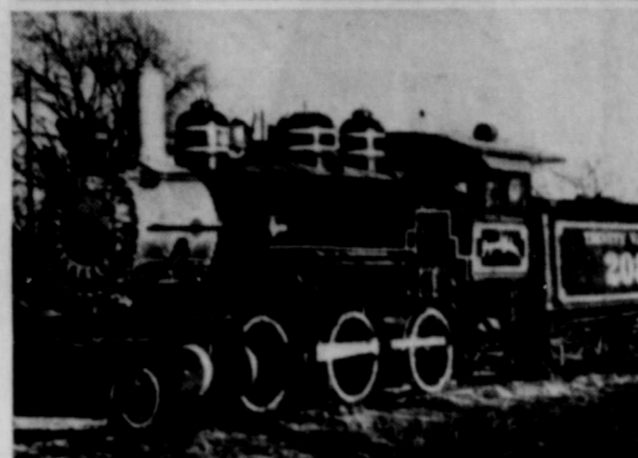

It contained papers, etc., in old trunks.

Recently we complied with necessary legal procedure and I brought these trunks to our ranch, taking possession for our lien.

Some dear one had stored her beautiful handwork of quilt tops pieced by hand and embroidered and applique quilt tops plus embroidered bed spreads with matching dresser scarves and bolsters.

You may have some of these. I'd like maybe to keep one where there are two similar sets.

I also have her old high top bedstead, but it is not as fancy as some you may can get. We are waiting with interest this museum's progress. Alvis's dag was a teamster in the Ranger boom. Then when Ranger had a small revival of oil play twenty plus years later, Alvis was active in the same field as an oil-field trucker.

There used to be an old teamster's bolster trailer on the road out of Ranger toward Graham. Seems it is in a pasture near the heavy traffic intersection past half way. I'm poor at judging distance but I often wanted this old bolster—I guess it's called a trailer—but a team would pull it.

We have an out dated bolster pole trailer on our lot at Ranger but I can't see much general interest in it. However teamsters and truckers would sure reminisce.

You'll be interested to know a tourist from Webster, Mass., had been in Ranger in the 19-46 or 1947 time and the derrick was standing then. So he primed his family for the sight of that derrick in the last few weeks. That was one deflated group when they turned off Hwyway 80.

As you begin to see a particular need in the museum, let me know — a lot of small, common and non-valuable of that era I have. Like flat irons, waffle irons, pictures, dishes, hair curlers, butter molds, etc.

You may also have this relic of a family Bible complete with pressed Bridal Bouquet and locks of hair (was in one of the trunks).

Happy birthday, Friday, July 31, to Weldon Cunningham and also to Leonard Arterburn.

ALL THE STARS won't be in grid combat out at College Stadium Thursday and Friday night's during the six-man and eight-man classics featuring the state's top schoolboy talent in those divisions.

At halftime intermission, one of the most talented and adept baton twirlers in the business will be demonstrating her talents for the spectators.

She's Miss Joan Elizabeth Vidrine, shapely 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert H. Vidrine of Ville Platte, La. and sister-in-law of Coach Ron Butler of Ranger Jr. College.

Miss Vidrine, 5-foot-1, 105 lbs., is brown-haired with blue eyes. She has received many awards in state and open National Baton Twirlers Assn. competition.

She heads the widely recognized Ville Platte (La.) Twirling Corps and also is the featured twirler for the VPHS band.

Ranger merchants are making possible a special deal for movie-goers. Every Thursday night out at Ranger Drive-In Theater customers of these stores are admitted by passes received from these merchants: Western Auto Store, The Globe Clothiers, Inc., Frigid Queen, Ranger Frozen Food Center, Ranger Dry Cleaners and the Porky Pig.

See Ranger Drive-In's ad elsewhere in this issue of The Times for further details.

MEMBERS OF the Eastland County chapter of Young Farmers learned a great deal about agricultural financing during their monthly meeting at Olden Monday night.

Three experts participated in a panel discussion and answered questions. The panelists were Glyn Gilliam of Commercial State Bank, Ranger; Honer Cole of the Eastland County Farmers Home Administration, and Dick Western of the Eastland County Young Farmers meet once monthly — on the fourth Monday — for an interesting and informative program. Here is the way a local citizen tried to con Greer's Boot Shop and Western Wear Store the other day: He came in picked up a shirt — thought he wasn't watched — carried the garment back to the pay-out counter and asked to exchange the western garb. Needless to say, it didn't work. And that reminds Town Talker of a paperback he read a Sunday afternoon a couple weeks ago. It's a non-fiction opus entitled "The Big Con" and explains the many, many and devious methods employed by confidence men in fleecing their victims. If everybody read this book, the con men would have to just con each other.

Welcome to Ranger to Mrs. Elizabeth Bennett, sister of Calvin Brown, who's making her home here this summer. Mrs. Bennett recently ended an illustrious career in the oil industry. She'll be associated with Southern Methodist University, Dallas, this fall.

WE SINCERELY REGRET that in the story of the newly-appointed Garden Club committees in our Sunday, July 26 issue, the name of Mrs. Robert Allen, program, was unintentionally left out. Forgive us, please, Mrs. Allen.

TODAY'S TERSE VERSE One thing we learn in growing old, No doubt you've noticed too: The kids to whom you gave advice Now give advice to you.

RETURN HOME Kay and Ben Bunn and Tollie Norton have returned home after a few days visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Bunn of Sweetwater. While there they were joined by Mary Sullivan of Snyder, Donnie and Dearn Bates of Monahans, Mrs. Clay Bunn of Sweetwater. The group made a tour of Carlsbad Caverns.

GOLIAD — Presidio La Bahia, where the Goliad Declaration of Independence was drawn in 1835. Sunday mass is still celebrated here. Nearby is a monument to Col. Fannin and his men who were massacred in 1836.

LIFE AND LIVING by Dolly Hunt

DEAR DOLLY: I'm a girl of 19 and will be a freshman in college this fall. I've had a number of dates with a nice young man of 21 who will be a junior this coming year. He is from out of town and lives alone in an apartment which he maintains from the salary he earns in a part-time job. He's always been a perfect gentleman towards me, and I am sure he's a man with the highest sort of moral standards. Now here's my problem. For quite some time he has been telling me stories of what an accomplished cook he is, and he wants to prove this. He's extended several invitations to me to have dinner with him in his apartment. So far I've put him off on one pretext or another, but he keeps repeating these invitations. Do you think it would be proper for me to accept such an invitation? J.V.L.

DEAR J. V. L.: Unless there are to be other guests present, I think it would be better to avoid such an engagement. Of course, everyting might work out very properly if you were to attend this dinner date alone with this young man in his apartment — but for the sake of your reputation, it's better not.

DEAR DOLLY: I'm a woman of 42, and although I'm considered better — than average looking, get along fine with people, and have lots of friends, I've never married. This is not because I don't want to marry. I should like very much to love, and be loved by a good man — if only I could find the right one. But, although there are a number of men I know who I'm sure would need only a little encouragement from me to become serious, still each one of these men has certain little faults that would surely irk me in the long run. Maybe my standards are too high and maybe I have too many principles — I just don't know. What do you think about this? SPINSTER.

DEAR SPINSTER: Marriage is something entered into by two persons, each with "certain little faults" — but those two persons love each other so much that they accept those faults without a qualm. You know, of course that none of us is perfect, and many of those friends you have like you despite "certain little faults" — you probably have. Try to look less critically at some of those men you know — concentrate more on their good qualities, and stop picking them apart.

WEEKEND VISITORS Visitors in the C. F. Chestnut home this weekend were their son Donnie of Dallas and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Wheeler and children of Odessa.

Judge Grissom's Ambition: To Serve the Law

By KATHARYN DUFF
Abilene Reporter-News
Assistant Editor

If Clyde Grissom could start over, could relive his 66 years, he knows what he would want to do and he would learn the law, then serve it. He would become an attorney and if he could, a judge — preferably a judge at the appellate level of the judicial system.

That was his dream for this life. As a skinny, red-headed, freckled-faced kid, working in his dad's store at Haskell and peddling Saturday Evening Posts on the side, he so made up his mind.

These years later, his freckles faded and his hair frosted, he can recall his early ambitions — and without the wryness which usually goes with the man's recollection of the boy's dreams.

Judge Grissom became what he wanted to be an attorney in 1918, a district judge in 1931, an appellate judge in 1935, chief justice of the 11th Court of Civil Appeals in 1945.

He remained what he had wanted to be — and in so remaining has amassed a record unmatched in the Texas judiciary, rarely matched anywhere. He has been a chief justice longer than any other in the state. And the quality of his work, as the tenure is high. A recent compilation showed that 97 per cent of the decisions of the three-justice appellate court he heads were left undisturbed on Supreme Court Appeal.

Described Dependable

"A steady man," that was the description of Justice Grissom voiced by the Reporter-News by Chief Justice W. O. Murray of the Fourth Court of Civil Appeals at San Antonio, a judicial historian and source of the information on Judge Grissom's record in the courts.

"Serenity" is another apt word for Judge Grissom. He might have lived a different sort of life. He might have chosen private law practice, as he has been tempted, and accumulated more wealth. ("Any pretty good lawyer, moving to Abilene when I moved here, could have, if he worked pretty hard, got rich by now," the judge said.)

He might have cultivated political ambition, as he was also tempted, and won wider public acclaim. (A Supreme Court seat was offered him by Gov. Jester in 1949. He went so far as to go to Austin to look over the situation. But he decided there is "more politics" in Austin than he savors.)

Deliberately, and studiously, Justice Grissom has stayed with this life he had wanted as a boy. And, with a few changes ("I would learn more law, would be more careful of the law, if I could start over") he would do the same again.

This makes for serenity, a serenity chiseled into the face of the dignified, courtly, well-groomed judge.

Alvord Native

Judge Grissom is a first-generation Texas, born at Alvord in Wise County, son of C. D. Grissom, a rancher-farmer merchant whose family came to Texas from Mississippi after the Civil War.

Mr. and Mrs. Grissom and their children — Hardy, long-time Abilene merchant-rancher now deceased, Ernest, Abilene merchant and former mayor now in semi-retirement in Arizona, Mrs. J. V. Hudson, now of Haskell, and Clyde — moved to Haskell County in 1900 when Clyde, the baby, was two years old.

They made the journey in classic American style — as part of a 14-family wagon train.

The senior Grissom ranched and farmed before opening in 1906, the Haskell store, later expanded into a chain of stores, which established the name "Grissom" in the merchandising field.

Mr. Grissom taught his children respect for the law, tried to interest them one by one, in the study of it. Hardy and Ernest chose, rather, their father's work. Mr. Grissom got one lawyer out of three, Clyde.

Attended TCU

Clyde went to Texas Christian University for his bachelor's degree (in the fine arts department — public speaking) and on to the University of Texas law school.

Then, his last year at U-T. World War I broke out and young Clyde "got a little bit excited," quit school and joined the Army.

"Took a war to get me through law school," he explains it.

He was on duty in Ohio with a gas outfit, the first one the Army formed ("Everybody knew that all wars from now on would be gas wars — just as everyone now knows all wars will be atomic"), when he got the word that the U-T law school had "graduated" all such students as he who had quit for military duty.

The judge was in the Army about a year.

His was an unusual record. He went in as a first class private and came out as a buck private.

"Jimmy Allred told me one time I was the only man he ever appointed anything who could say he lost rank while in military service."

Discharged, with this "glowing" record, in December of 1918, young Clyde went immediately to Fort Worth and became a practicing attorney, starting Christmas week with the old Fort Worth law firm of Paddelford, Turner and Doyle.

In this firm he got his first taste of a "new" type legal work, oil and gas law. The oil booms were coming to Texas and with them some new concepts in oil and gas law as Texas, differing with some principles in vogue in earlier oil areas of Pennsylvania, was inaugurating this system of property rights which holds today.

Returned to Haskell

Within a year Clyde left Fort Worth to return to Haskell and to work with H. G. McConnell, "one of the greatest lawyers I ever knew."

In 1919 he was appointed city attorney for Haskell. He held that post, while working in Judge McConnell's firm, for some six months, resigning it so he could take some railroad cases which as city attorney, he could not.

Judge Grissom began in 1920 his "political" career, one which has had but a single brief interruption.

That year he was elected county attorney of Haskell County.

He held that post until 1926 when he resigned to go to Wichita Falls for a year.

A friendship he had made as county attorney led to that resignation — and to some other milestones in his career.

While he was Haskell County attorney a sensational murder case was moved to Haskell

JUDGE CLYDE GRISSOM

MRS. CLYDE GRISSOM

Family First With Judge's Wife

'Behind every good man is a good woman', and certainly the case of Mrs. Clyde Grissom is no exception.

A native of Haskell, she and Judge Grissom were married there in 1924. They have three children, Mrs. James Jennings of Abilene, Mrs. Bill Sikes of Eastland, and Tom Grissom of Fort Worth. They have six grandchildren, Amy and Emily Jennings, Tom Paul and Jack Hardwick Grissom, and Cindy and William Clyde Grissom Sikes.

Mrs. Grissom is an active member of the Episcopal Church and of the Eastland Civic League Club.

A modest lady, she said, "Most of my time has been devoted to raising my children and now enjoying my grandchildren, so I have never been too active in civic affairs, outside of the Civic League and my church."

Opposing them was an overpowering array of legal power.

Won Case

The two prosecutors were too young and too eager to know they were licked. They tied into the case with all their might. They won.

In 1926, when Allred ran for the office of Attorney General, Clyde resigned his Haskell post and moved to Wichita Falls to join Allred's firm, Martin, O'Neal and Allred — and Grissom.

He stayed there but a year, returning to Haskell where in 1927, he was appointed to fill a vacancy as district attorney of the 39th Judicial District.

From his DA days Judge Grissom remembers, most of all, Kent County.

While he was DA both he and Kent County did some growing up.

Kent County was, when he moved into office, a rather lively place.

Things seemed to happen in Kent County. And the courts had had problems there. In fact it had been the custom to move criminal cases out of Kent County because Kent juries were not very quick to punish Kent Countians.

His first night spent in Kent as DA is one the judge will never forget.

He was staying at the home of the county judge in Clairemont.

Ranchers Confront

That night a delegation of a half-dozen ranchers rode up to the judge's house and yelled in the announcement they wanted to see that new, young DA.

With some hesitancy the new, young DA went outside in the dark to meet them.

A spokesman for the cowmen addressed Mr. Grissom. "We're getting damn tired of 'em moving our cases over to Haskell and Jones County," he said bluntly.

"How you gonna run things? You gonna let us try our cases here?"

"Well, how are you going to do things? You know the reason they move your cases — because you won't convict anybody of anything in Kent County," DA Clyde replied.

The cowpunchers thought this over.

"Whv, what's the damn truth!" one of them decided. That decision started negotiations.

Things had been a bit rough in Kent, the ranchers admitted. It was time to straighten out the situation, what with the kids coming on.

"If you'll try our cases here," they proposed, "we'll let you know what's going on. We don't mean stuff like playing a little poker or taking a drink — but we'll let you know what's really going on — and we'll give you good juries."

DA Grissom agreed.

Both sides bent the bargain. "I never had a 'not guilty' verdict in Kent County," Judge Grissom says.

Stories were told of the death penalty for murder and maximum penalties for other crimes in Kent County, you know the statute book law."

It was in Kent County that he learned his basic lesson — that the law is of and by the people as well as for them.

"The people must respect the law — and I want to run my court so that it is worthy of respect," he says.

The chamber of appellate court may be a tiny thing, but it is that sort of court, but "I want the people when they walk into the courtroom, to be able to look and listen and say, proudly, 'That is my government.'"

Judge Grissom served as 39th DA until Jan. 1, 1931, when he was appointed by Gov. Dan Moody to the vacant bench of the 39th court.

Stevenson Appointee

He was district judge until May of 1935 when his old friend Jimmy Allred, then governor, appointed him to a vacancy on the 11th Court of Civil Appeals. He's since been reelected each term — without an opponent all these years. He was made chief justice of the court by Gov. Coke Stevenson.

As chief justice Judge Grissom serves with two other justices, Cecil C. Collings, formerly of Big Spring and associate justice since January, 1949, and Esco Walter, formerly of Abilene and associate justice since 1957.

Justice Grissom was married in Haskell to Helen Shook member of a longtime Haskell family on Jan. 11, 1925.

They have three children, Emily, Mrs. James R. Jennings of Abilene; Tom, who is in the ceramics business at Fort Worth; and Zena, Mrs. W. E. Sikes of Brownwood.

Each of the children has two children, giving the Grissoms three grandsons and three granddaughters.

The judge has through the years had various business ventures, alone or with his brother.

He got into the registered Herford business at one time (and that, he says, is a complicated business which the amateur should avoid). He has farm interests, and has interests in the Grissom merchandising firm at Abilene.

But, primarily, his business is law.

He suspects he has become a bit better at law the last few years because of something he learned. He learned that a man does have time, after all, to do some hunting and fishing.

"Took me 60 years to learn that," he says ruefully.

Now he finds that by taking off to lure the bass, by unlimbering his gun in dove and quail season, he can really do more and better work.

And that work is law, the appellate procedure which may be carried out in the chambers on the top floor of the Eastland courthouse, or may be in any other appellate court in the state to which the 11th justices, under the Texas system, may be assigned service.

This is the sort of work he always wanted.

Big Figures Are Necessary When You Talk Of Oil

BIG — It takes a lot of millions, billions, and trillions to measure the Texas petroleum industry, according to Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association, which this week published its annual "64 Facts About Texas Oil and Gas."

The annual leaflet, which rounds up frequently used statistics about the state's oil and gas operations, included those among the 64 selected this year:

Texas has produced 26.7 billion barrels of oil, or 36.3 per cent of U. S. total.

Texas produced 973,097,000 barrels of crude oil in 1963; 35.4 per cent of U. S.

Texas has 18.6 billion barrels of oil reserves — 14.6 billion in crude oil; 4.0 billion from natural gas liquids.

Texas drilling in 1963 totaled about 63 million feet of hole.

Young Man Dies, Bride Injured In Automobile - Train Collision

Auto Demolished In Mon. Mishap

A young Abilene man was fatally injured and his bride less than three weeks was seriously injured late Monday when their late model car was in collision with a T&P freight train at the North Avenue D crossing in Cisco.

The man was Charles Crabtree, 31, an employee of McWood Corporation in Abilene, and his wife was the former Hazel Marie Humphreys, 29, also of Abilene. They were married July 19 in Abilene.

The accident occurred at 6:35 p.m. Police Chief S. E. Parkinson, who directed an investigation of the mishap, reported that the car, a 1963 Chevrolet, was north bound toward Lake Cisco, and the train was west bound.

Chief Parkinson said they interviewed several witnesses who were waiting for the train to pass. The regular signal lights were operating in a normal way, he added. The train appeared to catch the car's rear bumper as it went across the tracks and spun it around into the side of the engine.

Crabtree was thrown under the wreckage of the car with his head against the track. His wife also was thrown out of the car. Both were taken unconscious to the Graham Hospital. The man was pronounced dead at about 7:40 p.m. His wife had head injuries, a broken arm and other cuts and bruises. She was taken to Hendrick Hospital in Abilene at 11 p.m. Monday by Rust.

An Abilene funeral home sent for the body of the young man Tuesday morning.

The auto was demolished. It was knocked about 100 feet from the crossing. Graham Motor Company picked it up with a wrecker.

Chief Parkinson described the accident as one of the worst in Cisco in a long time.

Fiesta Bowl Celebrates Re-Opening Saturday

The "all-new" Fiesta Bowl in Eastland will have its re-opening celebration Sunday — and a "real blast" is being planned.

The Eastland County entertainment center, located on Highway 80 just east of Eastland, has recently been purchased by a veteran bowling lane operator, and according to advance announcements, big things are planned for the entertainment of county citizens of the center.

O. D. Hill, in the professional bowling business for the past 37 years, is new owner and has announced that the local firm will be managed by Tom Pierson, another long-time bowling professional.

To mark the opening celebration, Saturday has been declared "Fiesta Bowl" Day in Eastland, and beginning at 1 p.m., the excitement begins at the bowling emporium. There'll be door prizes (gifts, games and surprises) Hill said.

On tap too, will be live entertainment in the appearance of a jazz combo, the Tempests, featuring a noted vocalist. There will be a live radio broadcast from the bowling center beginning at 1 p.m.

There'll be free refreshments, free bowling instruction, and a featured attraction will be an exhibition bowling match between well-known Eastland kieglers.

Indicative of the progressive planning being done for the center to make it the true "entertainment center for Eastland County people — young and old", is the immediate expansion and improvement of the snack bar facilities. Capacity is being doubled and an expanded menu will be offered, Mrs. Pearl McWhorter, concession manager, said.

Pierson, 33, is a native of Eastland last week. They live in the H. L. Gibson place at Lake Eastland. In professional bowling for the past ten years, Pierson is also a veteran of 14 years service in the Marine Corps.

The new owner is also a military career man — having recently been discharged from the Air Force after 23 years service. Both men spent much time in aerial services division of the branches in connection with bowling center operation. Hill is credited with installing the first automatic bowling center in Japan.

He also owns and operates a bowling center in Stamford, and with his long career in the bowling business is well-known in all bowling circles and, particularly among officials of the American Bowling Congress.

Chief of maintenance at the local center is E. M. (Slim) Mills who has been associated with the firm since 1940. He and his wife have three children — one married and two at home.

Under the heading of mechanical improvements, Slim says, are the planned addition of new top first-line pins, to be installed in time for the fall league play, and the re-surfacing of the lanes soon. The lanes were completely re-finished last year including sanding and finishing, and will be re-finished again, in order to insure top quality facilities for county bowlers.

Of interest to many will be the addition of a business men's lunch and a pizza oven soon, Hill said.

The public is being invited to the Sunday opening of the fun center and Hill emphasized that there will be surprises galore for each and all.

Ranger's Scout Group Returns Home After Attending Jamboree

By EDWINA EDMONDS
Sunday six Rangerites and thousands of other Boy Scouts from all over the nation returned to their homes from the sixth national Boy Scout Jamboree held at Valley Forge, Pa.

Five Ranger scouts and their leader were met Sunday in Fort Worth by their parents. Making the trip from Ranger were Gary Don Bennett, James Dixon, Tommy Brashier, Jimmy Ratliff, and Scoutmaster Fred Bennett.

The group left Stephenville Thursday, July 9 and went to Fort Worth where they boarded a Rock Island Express. Stopping first in Washington D. C., they toured all of the famous monuments, the Capitol, Mt. Vernon, and Arlington National Cemetery. Here they waited in line with thousands of others to visit the grave of the late President John F. Kennedy.

The next day the boys boarded a train for New York City, where they spent a very exciting two days, the first of which was spent sightseeing. The day's agenda included visits to Chinatown, Harlem, the Bronx, the Statue of Liberty, the United Nations Building, and the Empire State Building. The day was foggy and cloudy, and the top of this giant structure extended far up into the thick roof of the clouds. Remarkable Scoutmaster Bennett, "Looking down from the top of the Empire State Building, it seemed as if the building were floating on top of the clouds: it was impossible to see the ground.

The boys were free their second night in New York City. Dividing up in pairs, they could go any place they chose. Most of them chose a Broadway play or musical. The last day in New York City, the scouts boarded the subway for the gigantic World's Fair. This was a thrilling experience for the Rangerites as they had never ridden on one of these underground streaks of lightning. In pairs, the boys were again on their own at the Fair. They visited many of the pavilions, but most agreed, it was reported, that the General Motors and Bell Telephone Pavilions were most interesting to them.

Early the next morning, baggage was collected and some 2,000 Boy Scouts checked out of the Hotel New Yorker, boarded a train and were on their way to Philadelphia, the last leg of their journey. The morning was spent in a tour of Philadelphia's historical places—the home of Betty Ross, Independence Hall, and the Liberty Bell. Shortly after noon on Wednesday, they arrived at the Jamboree site, Valley Forge, Penn. Late that evening most of the scouts had arrived and set up their camps. Population of this Boy Scout City was 52,790.

The next week was very busy, with all of the campfires and meetings to attend and new friendships to be made. Scouts attended region campfires, inter-troop, and inter-section campfires. Four special guests were present at Monday night's regional campfire. A very hearty greeting was given to Hoss and Ben Cartwright, stars of TV's "Bonanza"; singer Anita Bryant, and radio veteran, Lynne Ross, who was the Jamboree song leader.

Delia Camacho Wins Honors At Twirling Camp

Delia Camacho, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Camacho, won second place in the twirling and band camp held at West Texas State College.

While at the camp Delia placed in the highest group of twirlers. There were 600 music and twirling students at the two-week school at Canyon.

Delia was first chair contra-bass clarinet in the honor band.

A surprise birthday party was given for Delia during the school.

Extension Dept. Meets July 27

The Extension Department of the First Baptist Church met Monday, July 27, at 9:30 a.m. in the home of Mrs. Lee Mitchell.

The opening prayer was given by Mrs. W. A. Reuser. Mrs. Lee Mitchell read Psalm 91.

The minutes of the previous meeting were given and reports were made of visits to shut-ins. There were 163 visits made.

Plans were discussed for the annual lawn party to be held on the lawn of the church Friday, August 7, at 6:30 p. m.

After Mrs. K. F. Kirk gave the closing prayer, refreshments of cake and punch were served.

Those attending were Misses Lee Mitchell, R. E. Barker, Matt Robinson, K. F. Kirk, W. A. Reuser, Tom Lang, W. S. Adamson, W. E. Herwick, and Miss Ethel Adams.

Anna Squiers To Marry August 15

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Squiers, Jr., of Route 3 Ranger, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Anna Marie, to Roland Murray Owens, son of Mrs. Ruby Owens, 709 E. 10th, Cisco.

The couple plan to be married at 6 p.m. August 15 in the home of the bride.

Miss Squiers attends Olden High School. Her fiancé is a 1962 graduate of Avoca High School and attended Cisco Junior College. He is employed by T&P Railroad and is presently working in Eunice, N. M.

Twelve Ladies Attend HD Camp In Goldthwaite

Twelve women from Eastland County attended the 4-County Home Demonstration Camp held in Goldthwaite in the First Methodist Church on July 23rd.

Approximately 80 home demonstration club members attended from Brown, Comanche, Eastland and Mills Counties. Each county prepared and presented a craft, a skit and recreation during the day.

Eastland County extended the invitation for the camp in 1964 during the business meeting.

Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: Mrs. W. V. Fenter of Rising Star, North Star Club, president; Mrs. Arlin Bint of Cisco, Lake Cisco Club, vice president; and Mrs. C. M. McCain of Flatwood, Flatwood Club, secretary and treasurer.

The camp closed with the drawing for the door prizes. Awards were presented to Mrs. Arlin Bint and Mrs. C. H. Stephens, both of Cisco, for having traveled the longest distance to the camp, and to Mrs. Lee Burkhead of Rising Star, as one of the longest memberships in a home demonstration club.

Mrs. Strong Hosts WMU

The WMU of the First Baptist Church met last Tuesday afternoon, July 21, in the home of Mrs. C. A. Strong.

The opening prayer was given by Mrs. T. J. Anderson. Mrs. Lee Mitchell read the missionaries' names that appeared on the calendar and the scripture, Acts 17:11. She then led the prayer for the missionaries.

The president, Mrs. C. A. Strong presided over the meeting and read Psalm 101. She called on the secretary, Mrs. H. B. Weathers, to read from the minutes of the last meeting. Mrs. Weathers also read the Card of Thanks they received from Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Watson.

Significance Of Junior Colleges Is Praised In Newspaper Editorial

One of the key aspects of the proposed new program for excellence in higher education for Texas puts greatly increased emphasis on junior colleges.

This is of prime significance to the West Central Texas area, for three junior colleges are located here: Ranger Junior College, Cisco Junior College and Howard County Junior College at Big Spring. A fourth is farther west, at Odessa.

The report of Gov. John Connally's Committee on Education Beyond the High School last week put heavy stress on the programs of junior colleges.

Several important points were made clear:

The trend of junior colleges aspiring to become state supported senior colleges will be stopped, if the philosophy of Connally's committee is followed.

The state would encourage the development of more junior colleges.

State support of existing public (not private) junior colleges would be increased. The state would pay all instructional costs. Now the state pays the cost for academic courses.

The academic role of junior colleges in providing the first two years of instruction for thousands of students who will go on to four-year institutions will be strengthened.

Technical, vocational and adult education will be developed, for those who do not seek a college degree, and for adults who lack basic education.

Texasans need more orientation to the junior college concept, for these schools offer the best opportunity for meeting the crush of increasing enrollment already upon us.

The junior college function has been developed to its highest degree in California. Tens of thousands attend the two-year schools there, leaving the four-year institutions to concentrate on upperclass and graduate work.

Junior college's objective are two-fold:

Mr. and Mrs. William Williams said the wives of the Ranger High School coaching staff, Mrs. Thomas Duval and Mrs. Jerry Trice, would also be guests at the parties for the visitors.

Also invited as special guests are Mrs. Theodore Nicksick, Jr., wife of the RJC president, Mrs. Ernen Haby, wife of the college dean, and Mrs. Richard Henderson, wife of a member of the Board of Regents.

A banquet for the 125 visiting coaches and their wives, sponsored by Ranger Chamber of Commerce and the college, will be held in Fine Arts Building Wednesday evening.
