Duel With Cisco Opens Bulldogs' '64 Grid Season

The 1964 Ranger High Bulldogs open their fall grid combat Friday night, Sept. 4, going against the highly-touted Cisco Lobes in a non-conference contest.

The battle will be waged under the arcs at Cisco, and kickoff time is set for 8 p.m. The Maroon & Whites, tutored by Coach Thomas J. Duvall, make their home debut at Bulldog Stadium a week later — on Friday night, Sept. 11 — when they host Dublin's Lions in another inter-sectional clash.

Four other home bouts are booked for the coming football season:

The Bulldogs open their District 10-A play here on Oct. 2 when they tangle with the Baird High Bears. In another home stand on Oct. 16, the Bulldogs will contest with the Rising Star Wildcats in a non-conference tilt. A week later — Oct. 23 — the RHSers meet one of their sternest tests of the year when they collide with their longtime rivals, the Eastland High Mavericks, in another District 10-A encounter. Final home game is slated against 10-A Cross Plains here on Nov. 6.

Road away - from - home scraps include a set-to with the Gorman Panthers on Sept. 18 at Gorman, Clyde Bulldogs (a 10-A contest) at Clyde on Oct. 9, the De Leon Bearcats (another loop foe) at De Leon on Oct. 30, and a crucial duel with Albany's No. 1 rated Lions at Albany on Nov. 13.

There's one open date on the Bulldogs' battle card — Sept.

25 — which gives Coach Duvall's charges two weeks to get ready for their District 10-A opener against Baird.

Assisting the RHS mentor in whipping the Bulldogs into shape will be assistant coaches Jerry Trice, O. C. (Stubby) Warden and Leroy Duke.

Workouts are scheduled to begin next week.

John L. Shooks Assume Duties At County Jail

Eastland County's new jailer-deputy sheriff and his wife, the jail matron, are longtime residents and natives of this county and come to Eastland from Ranger.

John L. Shook and his wife assumed duties on August 1, moving here from Ranger then. Mr. Shook has been an Eastland county police officer since 1950, logging 13 years experience as an area officer.

The couple was married in the old Eastland County court house in 1925 when Ernest Jones was county clerk, Mr. Shook said.

The couple lived in Fort Worth during the war while Mr. Shook worked at Convair, then they moved to the Chaney community in 1945 where they farmed until 1950. Then Mr. Shook entered the police work that has been his primary occupation since. He worked in Abilene as a printer briefly.

The couple own their home in Ranger. They are members of the Baptist denomination. They have three children, Mrs. Lamar Perry and Donley Shook, both of the Chaney community, and Grady Shook of Abilene. Mr. and Mrs. Shook have nine grandchildren.

USDA Okays Grazing Soil Bank Acreage As Drought Assistance

Approval for emergency haying and grazing privileges on diverted cropland because of the severe drought in Eastland County has been granted in Washington Cong. Omar Burleson announced, and procedures for securing local permission were expected to be given immediately by the local Agricultural Stabilization Conservation Service office.

A telegram from Cong. Burleson received by this newspaper Monday said: "Eastland County today approved for haying and grazing privileges on diverted cropland, through October 31, account drought."

Gilbert Meredith, local AS-C-S office manager, talked with the state disaster committee headquarters Monday afternoon by telephone and reported that although the state office had not received the official approval, officials expected it momentarily.

Meredith had estimated that there are about 10,000 acres in the county presently diverted and that approximately 7,500 acres of this has good, acceptable cover which will be of immeasurable benefit for stock.

Minimum cost to stockmen for grazing the diverted land will be $1 per acre per month on diverted grazing land and conservation reserve (soil bank) acreage. Haying cost will be one-half of the annual payment rate, he said. Some of the diverted land has good cover and some doesn't, he said. "Our records indicate the quality of the cover and landowners will be charged on the basis of the quality at the $1 minimum." This cost, he said, may initially seem high, but will be found to be considerably less than in buying and hauling in feed stuffs.

Persons must fill out the necessary forms in the Eastland office and make arrangements for payment before grazing of the diverted land is permitted, Meredith warned. He stated that envelopes are addressed to all eligible persons in the county, and official notice of the program will be sent as soon as word is received by the local office.

There are presently 225 farms under the feed grain diverted program in the county; 43 in the conservation reserve; and 53 in wheat diversion. Making a total of 321 farms.

The county's request for emergency livestock feed assistance because of the drought was denied by the state disaster committee recently. Approximately three and a quarter million pounds of feed was delivered in the county last spring under an emergency feed assistance program.

The county disaster committee forwarded a second appeal for the feed assistance program last week and County Judge Scott Bailey urged the Farmers Home Administration to assist local qualified farmers and ranchers in securing low-interest loans through that agency.

'Critter' No Hoax, Says Former Area Resident In Letter To Newspaper

A railway mail clerk who travels through Ranger and area regularly on Texas & Pacific passenger trains believes that the "Caddo critter" actually exists.

The former Ranger area resident, Thomas R. Blair of 2733 South Adams St., Fort Worth, was quoted in the Star-Telegram Tuesday morning as saying "it is absolutely no hoax."

Another quote: "All the money in this world for the past 46 years wouldn't get me to enter a certain canyon east of Ranger." Blair apparently is referring to Wiles Canyon. Many Ranger residents assert that there are a number of yet unexplored areas in the canyon.

Blair wrote a letter to the Fort Worth Star-Telegram and it appeared in the Tuesday morning edition.

Here is what it said: "Recently I have been reading about the so-called thing near Caddo. For almost 50 years now I have known of this monster, although I really never did see it. As a boy I lived near Ranger, which is just beyond Caddo. A few miles east of the city there was and still is a small lake in which I went swimming long ago. One day several of us local boys were in the water when we heard a mighty scream or growl and not so far away. We quickly grabbed our clothes and took off for Ranger. I could see no honor in lagging behind so I led the parade.

"Some of the old-timers told me that there was a monster in those canyons and now for 40-odd years I have believed it. All the money in this world for the past 46 years wouldn't get me to enter a certain canyon east of Ranger. I was made a believer once and for all that something really did exist and I'm convinced it still does.

"It's no secret that I am afraid to stand in the door of the T&P mail car on which I work when it is traveling this sector. Just what this thing is I don't know and am one that isn't trying to find out. But it is absolutely no hoax."

Boy, 3, Drowns Monday at Lake

Tragedy struck at Lake Leon Monday afternoon when the first drowning of the year occurred.

Victim was Little William Lopez, three-year-old Houston boy who drowned in a wading area at the lake sometime before 4 o'clock when an emergency ambulance call was received in Ranger.

The tot was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Lopez of Houston. The Lopezes were visiting with the C. L. Westbrook family at their lake home.

Efforts to revive the child at the scene, en route to the hospital in a Killingsworth ambulance, and administration of adrenalin and heart massage at the hospital all failed.

Funeral arrangements were pending early Wednesday at Fogle-West Funeral Home in Houston.

Born Nov. 21, 1960 in Houston, the child is survived by the parents, four brothers, Nicholas Jr., Frederick W., John J. and Joseph; two sisters, Peggy Ann and Karen Ann; and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Keener of Abilene.

The Lopez child's life was the third claimed by drowning at Lake Leon, according to records here.

County To Get $32,196 For Use In Road Projects

Eastland County Commissioners, in a meeting Monday morning, passed an order requesting Eastland County to receive its lateral road funds from the state, for which it is due to receive a total of $32,196.04.

These funds are made available each year through a surplus accumulated in the road bond indebtedness fund. The funds may be spent only on improving county lateral road systems. Each precinct will receive a little over $9,000.

Commissioners accepted a bid from the Tramer Equipment Company of Abilene for the purchase of a used backhoe machine for the Rising Star precinct.

Other routine business was transacted at the Commissioners meeting.

Tourney at Norfolk, Va., beginning Aug. 17. The champ of the Norfolk playoffs will move on to the Little World Series to be unreeled at Williamsport, Pa.

Ranger's Little League All-Stars, one of the state's top eight LL aggregations, was eliminated last Friday night in the Sectional tournament at Lubbock.

NEWS • NOTES • BRIEFS

Thirty-nine copies of the new 1964 Ranger Bulldog annual haven't yet been picked up by their purchasers. They are in possession of Miss Naomi Bradford, co-editor of the yearbook, 437 Pine, phone MI 7-3264. Miss Bradford says that they are available at her home.

R. Q. GRAHAM, Rt. 1, Gorman, who resides in the Kokomo community, did very well on his cantaloupe crop. He planted four and one-half acres of melons. But cows got in on two acres and devoured the output. On the remaining two and a half acres — with melons still being harvested — he already had sold $221.80 worth of the popular fruit. We've got to admit that's a pretty good cash return per acre. Especially when you consider the crop endured two freezes, one frost and received only about a quarter inch of rain in recent months.

John Thomas Robinson of Ranger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Robinson, was one of the 221 students in the University of Texas College of Engineering who were named to the spring semester scholastic honor roll. The City Commission of Gorman has accepted a lease from W. C. (Check) Smith for the runway located east of that city which will be operated as a City Municipal Airport. A number of Gorman residents are taking flying lessons from Flight Instructor Norman Short who is conducting a pilots' school at Gorman.

A strange reptile, killed on a farm-to-market highway between Eula and Clyde, was shown in Cross Plains last Saturday. The lizard-like creature was found by R. G. Morris. It measured 46 inches from head to the tip of its tail — a little under four feet — and weighed slightly more than two pounds. Persons who viewed the rarity thought it had body conformation somewhat similar to pre-historic dinosaurs.

HATS IN THE RING
Time was when a hat maker could just make hats. Today's hat maker has to keep an ear attuned to political doings, for fear he gets caught turning out the wrong kind.
When President Johnson took office, things picked up for the hat people after a period of comparative doldrums. President Kennedy, who rarely wore anything on his head, had not been much of a help. The advent of Johnson brought a boom in the manufacture of what has come to be called the L.B.J. hat, a Texan sufficiently modified to be worn in the East without self-consciousness.
Now the hat makers have a new problem. They've got to turn out the L.B.J. hats in quantity. They've got to produce Goldwater hats, also Western style. And they've got to make them different enough so the one won't be taken for the other. As we say, time was when a hat maker could just make hats. Now he's got to make politics, too.

CIVIC LEADERS in Cross Plains and Rising Star have joined hands to create a $60,000 club and recreational facility midway between the two towns. The new project will be on property known as Lakewood Country Club. The old golf course will be rebuilt, the water system modernized and a concrete swimming pool are some of the features of the project. A loan of $60,000 to finance the facilities has been approved by the Comanche County Farmers' Home Administration. The director of the Georgia Historical Society, Savannah, Ga., in a recent letter to Mrs. Ethel Brooks Gilmore, Ranger writer and historian, made this comment: "The Texas

Court Decisions, Youth Meet Officers' Topics

A report on Supreme Court decisions on taking voluntary statements and a review of the recent state attorney general's youth conference were program for the regular monthly meeting of the Eastland County Law Enforcement Association in Ranger Monday evening.

Sgt. Roger Sosebee, Department of Public Safety sergeant, read information on recent court rulings regarding the taking of voluntary statements from defendants. The trend appears to be toward not allowing the taking of statements before the defendant's attorney appears, it was reported.

Jim Wright, recent Eastland High School graduate, reported on his participation at Attorney General Waggoner Carr's Youth Conference in Austin, describing the lectures and information that was disseminated there.

The association met at the oil museum at Ranger is a wonderful idea. It is good to get it under way before too much of the beginning of this great industry is lost." Lonnie Baker, one of our Times readers, is clipping the "Just for Fun" feature from every issue. . . . San Angelo's Little League All-Stars, who shut out Ranger's entry, 6-0, last Friday night out at Lubbock, were dumped 3-1 by Lubbock Southern which will be in action at the Breckenridge state tournament this week. Beaver Wilson, the San Angelo mighty mite who pitched a no-hitter against Ranger, led off the Angelo futile one-run rally in the bottom of the fifth Saturday night when he singled. Two men walked to load the sacks, and then Wilson breezed across the plate to score on a single by Chris Ostrand.

2. Lincoln was elected president in 1860, and Kennedy was elected in 1960.
3. Both were slain on Friday, and in the presence of their wives.
4. Their successors, both named Johnson, were Southern Democrats, and previously had served in the U. S. Senate.
5. Andrew Johnson was born in 1808; Lyndon Johnson was born in 1908.
6. John Wilkes Booth the assassin of Lincoln, was born in 1839, and Lee Harvey Oswald was born in 1939.
7. Both Booth and Oswald were Southerners, both favoring secessionist causes.
8. Both Booth and Oswald were murdered before trials could be arranged.
9. Both presidents lost children through death while living in the White House.
10. Both were shot in the head.
11. Kennedy had a secretary named Lincoln; Lincoln had a secretary named Kennedy.

"So Sorry"

"Sorry I took a nip at that stranger. Now my master is being sued and it may cost him lots of money. It could be a very expensive bite!"

The danger of damage suits is always a possibility. Your dog may bite someone—a tradesman or visitor—may be injured on your property, your slice might hit someone on the golf course. Various accidents can happen and you might be held liable for them.

A Family Legal Liability policy is what you need. It gives you a lot of protection for very low cost. Let us talk you about it.

AUSTIN — The new hunting and fishing licenses required for the state fiscal year beginning September 1 should be in the hands of dealers by August 14, it was announced by J. Weldon Watson, executive director for the Parks and Wildlife Department.

He said they will be ready in ample time — 2,350,000 licenses for hunting and fishing and for a sorted commercial fishing uses. Approximately 2,800 official deputies handle the licenses which are available generally where sporting goods are available and at departmental offices.

All persons 17 years and under and 65 and over are exempt from the regular hunting and fishing licenses but they need to get a regular exempt license if they hunt deer or turkey. Hunting licenses cost $3.15 and fishing licenses cost $2.15.

The only new provision in the licenses is that persons obtaining exempt licenses for hunting deer or turkey on their own land must present an affidavit along with their application. "In other words," Watson, "just the mere verbal statement that they will hunt on their own land of residence is no longer adequate."

Watson said that for the fiscal year ending August 31 the total hunting and fishing licenses issued show an increase of about 25,000 over the preceding year.

Revenues from the combined licenses approximate $3,000,000 annually. The money is used to finance wildlife restoration, law enforcement, administrative functions and other activities.

Fees for the forty-eight different kinds of licenses sold range from fifty cents for exempt doe licenses in Eastland County to $200 for both non-resident trappers licenses and wholesale fish dealers.

Watson cautioned sportsmen that their old licenses are not valid after August 31 "under any circumstances."

His memberships include: First Methodist Church, Nacogdoches; American Chemical Society, Texas State Teachers Association and local Classroom Teacher's Affiliate, National Science Teacher's Assn. and local Parent-Teacher Assn., and Cub Scout groups.

The band members are to report to the college on September 6 for intensive training in preparation for the coming football season, which opens on September 19 with a game against New Mexico Military Institute in Roswell, N. M.

The band will accompany the football team on all the season trips and will also perform and play at all home games. This will be the first year for the team to play in the new stadium, which has just been completed, along with five other new buildings on the extended college campus.

The band makes an annual Spring tour, playing all over Texas. Last season the group traveled more than 1000 miles, playing in some 16 Texas high schools, as far away as Houston.

Roger C. Martin, director, said there were a few places and scholarships available for other students who wished to join RJC band.

SOCIAL SECURITY OFFICIAL CLEARS MISUNDERSTANDING

Over the years three major misconceptions have arisen here and there concerning social security financing, according to R. R. Tuley, Jr., district manager of the Social Security Administration in Abilene.

Tuley lists the most common of these as the belief that the social security trust funds are "in the red." In the opinion of such believer, the social security program is bankrupt and there won't be enough money to pay off when many of those working today reach retirement age.

"These critics," Tuley said, "base their assertion on the fact that we do not operate on a 'full-reserve' basis like private insurance companies do."

Tuley pointed out that private insurance must be ready to pay off 100 per cent on the dollar if they should cease to operate. No such total reserve is required under the social security program, because social security is a non-voluntary program for coverage of future as well as present generations of workers.

The program is thus guaranteed new entrants year after year. Therefore, the social security program does not need a 100 per cent reserve because it is assured permanent income from those who work for a living.

"A second misconception," he stated, "is that the social security program always pays out more than it takes in. Here again it is implied that the social security program is slowly going broke and won't be able to meet future commitments."

He added, "This is simply not true. It is true that for short periods of time the expenditures exceed the receipts. But this is a temporary condition due primarily to expanding the program. The point the critics miss is that the social security law has provided for a higher tax rate at specified times to assure its solvency."

The third misconception, cited by Tuley, is that the payment of full scale benefits to people who have worked under a social security only a short time is financially dangerous. Here the critics fail to understand the basic concept of social legislation, he said.

Tuley explained that social security was born during the depression of the 30's. A primary concern at that time was to get purchasing power into the hands of the older people who were the first thrown out of work and would be the last rehired. Over the long pull, social security was intended to compensate for loss of earning power due to old-age, death or disability.

SCS Drought Plan . . .

Ranchers who have been practicing a system of station deferred grazing for four or more years say they build up a reserve of feed and can go through a two year drought without having to worry.

Drought is a definite part of our climate. Keeping livestock operations flexible will cushion the effects of drought. Weather records show there are more years with below average rainfall than with above average rainfall.

Experience and research during the drought of the fifties both conclusively prove that protecting the grass from excessive use during droughts will pay high dividends. The grass plants can manufacture and store food for a good period of growth following effective rainfall. The grass leaves act as an overcoat for the plant in the winter and hold rainfall and snow on the land where roots can use it for grass production. Evaporation and soil temperatures are also reduced. Floods, which are often an aftermath of prolonged drought are also prevented and lake or reservoir sedimentation is reduced.

Confining livestock to a pen or trap during the time when all feed eaten by the stock is provided in the form of protein and hay has proven to be beneficial. Research shows that trampling and actual damage to the range will be reduced as well as the actual feed intake necessary to maintain the body weight of the livestock. A lot of energy is used by the livestock in searching for feed that is not there. This damages dormant grasses, reduces soil cover and increases the feed requirement of the livestock because of the extra energy used in searching for grass.

9 ESSENTIAL DIFFERENCES BETWEEN REPUBLICAN & DEMOCRATIC PARTY PHILOSOPHY

Within the two major political parties, sharp differences exist on the specifics of various national and local issues. This occasionally causes people to wonder what holds Republicans and Democrats together — what prevents fragmentation into innumerable splinter parties. The answer is that the two party system relies on adherence to fundamental beliefs. As an American voter, you should examine these philosophical principles carefully.

INDIVIDUAL LIBERTY
Republicans believe in the worth, the ability and dignity of the individual citizen. They believe that whatever can be done, should be done by private, local or state government, and that a job should be done in Washington only when it is determined that only the federal government can do that job. They encourage the individual to speak up and are opposed to an increasing, centrally controlled bureaucracy, which is manifestly the way of the Democrats.
They are guided by principle and do not believe that expediency have to give way to expediency as the problems become more complex.
The Republicans think and act in terms of the individual American citizen and believe in a form of government which enables the most people to do most for themselves. They trust you.

A STRONG FOREIGN POLICY
The Democrats, on the other hand have been openly dedicated to operating on an experimental policy of huge deficit spending and make no pretense of expecting to balance the budget for another two years.
The Republicans, although of course dedicated to peace in the world, take a much firmer, more realistic and consistent attitude than the Democrats in dealing with international Communism.
They call for a much better defined foreign policy, and feel a much deeper sense of responsibility in the efficient use of taxpayers' dollars in foreign aid.
Through such policies and more consistent adherence to them they feel that American prestige must be restored and that we cannot rely primarily on buying it.

CONTROL OF UNEMPLOYMENT
The Republicans call for a much more accurate and pin-pointed analysis of the labor force than now exists so that practical solutions can be applied.
The Republicans also propose a 5-point program to equip teenagers with skills needed to get good jobs rather than inventing new versions of make-work projects which proved unsound in the Thirties.
Highlights include expansion of vocational training in public schools and revision of the Manpower Training Act to place more stress on training young persons.
The Democrats refuse to meet the problem at its core, and on the other hand fall back on the politically alluring but economically wasteful concepts of the handout and the public works boondoggle, in the meantime branding the Republicans as "the party of unemployment", etc.

EQUITABLE TREATMENT OF LABOR AND MANAGEMENT
The Republicans believe in a very minimum of government intervention in labor disputes and in protecting the rights of collective bargaining, but when the public interest is importantly involved, they believe in meeting the issues head-on, with restrictive legislation as a last resort.
In other words they believe in exactly what Democrats promise but conveniently forget until crisis demands a policy of expediency, delay and last minute intervention.

INDEPENDENCE FOR THE FARMER
The Democrats, from the very beginning of the New Deal, have persisted in tinkering with the American farm economy, imposing quotas, setting prices, buying up surpluses and constantly adding to the bureaucratic burden of the taxpayer while at the same time worsening the market position of the farmer and the buying position of the consumer.
Republicans believe that this is probably the sickest part of our economy today and one which can be improved only through a gradual return to the basic laws of supply and demand under which our producers of food and fiber can operate on a basis of self-determination, rather than as wards of the federal government.

INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS
Historically, ever since the Emancipation Proclamation, the Republicans have indicated by deeds their basic and inherent dedication to Civil Rights.
Under the Eisenhower Administration in 1957 and 1960 the first Civil Rights legislation since Reconstruction was enacted.
Over the years the Democrats have not only watered down the original Civil Rights laws, but have consistently resisted new ones. Only because it was forced upon them politically have they now seen fit to do anything about their repeatedly-broken campaign promises.
Additionally, Republicans uphold the voting rights of persons not necessarily associated with the so-called minority groups. We have consistently pointed out that an individual whose vote is stolen by dishonest election procedures is deprived of his rights just as much as one who is not permitted to vote at all.

FISCAL INTEGRITY
The Republicans believe that there should be as much sense of fiscal responsibility and integrity in running a government as in running a business or a home.
They believe in a balanced budget and a reduction in the national debt, and are prepared to demonstrate that this can be done with a reduction in taxes and with a sound, prosperous and growing economy.
They seek to preserve the purchasing power of the dollar at home and respect for it abroad.
They believe that a government big enough to give you everything you want is big enough to take away everything you've got.

RESPECT FOR THE CONSTITUTION
Republicans uphold the time-tested system of check and balances built into the federal government by the Constitution.
Yes, the system can indeed produce a measure of delay, waste and inefficiency. But these drawbacks are much the lesser of two evils. And so far as that goes, bureaucratic abuse flourishes best under a dictatorship.
Impatient of restrictions imposed by the Constitution and enabling the judicial or legislative branches to frustrate the will of the President, Democratic leaders downgrade the Constitution as a document written for another age. They would "pack" the Courts and Committees not subservient to the executive. They call for a free hand for the President in the conduct of foreign policy.
But Republicans have profited by the lessons of history and realize that without the Constitution's checks and balances this nation cannot maintain true representative government, responsive to the will of the people.

LIFE AND LIVING

by Dolly Hunt

DEAR DOLLY: I'm a man of 39 with a wonderful wife and three fine children. I'm facing a dental operation soon involving a number of tooth extractions, and I'm worried sick about this — and not because of any possible pain, because I know I can take that. What I can't take is the prospect of the anesthesia accompanying this operation. My lovely wife, devoted to me as she is, insists that she'll be with me during the whole thing, holding my hand. What I'm afraid of is the possibility that I'll talk while I'm under the anesthetic and maybe blurt out some of my lurid past, things I did before I met my wife and of which she has no knowledge, and that might disillusion her and maybe wreck the happiness of our marriage. Can you offer me any advice? APPREHENSIVE.

DEAR APPREHENSIVE: Most dentists don't permit any guests during the "operations," and I'm sure you'll have no trouble at all in persuading your dentist to keep your wife in the waiting room until your operation has been completed and you are completely out from under the anesthetic.

DEAR DOLLY: My husband has the terrible habit of exaggerating and embroidering the stories he tells to a ridiculous degree. All our money to spend, and I'm always hesitant about suggesting anything for fear of its being too expensive. Do you have any suggestions on how I can handle such a situation? TEENER.

DEAR TEENER: Of course, no boy should be asking any girl for a date unless he's sure he can pick up the tab for the entertainment, and especially if he leaves the decision up to her. However, your solution is to suggest several different ideas for entertainment representing a variety of price and interest-range. Then turn the decision back to him.

DEAR DOLLY: Our daughter has been married for six months to a fine young man, and they live in his hometown which is about 600 miles from us. She writes to us regularly, telling us how "supremely happy" she is, and how kindly and wonderfully her husband's parents have treated her. We haven't yet been able to attempt to gain the spotlight of attention. You'll just have to speak frankly to him, telling him how his wild stories are affecting other people and embarrassing you, and if he's the "finest of men and the best of husbands," as you say, he'll make a big effort to tone his stories down to correct proportions.

DEAR DOLLY: I'm a girl of 16, and have just begun dating boys. Here's the problem that keeps coming up. Some of these boys, when they call at my home for me, seem very uncertain or undecided about what we shall do for the evening's entertainment, and they ask me what I'd like to do. This always poses a problem. Some of these boys, I'm sure don't have too much

1200 METHODIST MEN PLAN TO ATTEND ANNUAL MEET

Approximately 1200 men of the Central Texas Conference will hear Rev. Kenneth W. Pope, recently appointed bishop of the Fort Worth-Dallas area, as they congregate at Glen Rose Aug. 28-30 for the annual Methodist laymen's retreat.

BISHOP POPE

Assisting Bishop Pope in leading the retreat will be the conference lay leader, Roy Joe Grogan of Weatherford, Paul Whitton of Cross Plains, and his associates of the Cisco District. All pastors and over 125 laymen from the Cisco District are planning to attend. Dr. S. Wayne Reynolds, superintendent of this district, and Mr. Whitton will lead this group.

Theme of this year's retreat will be "One Witness, One World." Leaders were announced as follows: Bishop Pope; Dr. Thomas A. Carruth from Asbury Seminary; Tom Reanley, District Judge from Austin; James M. Walker; Oris Balwin, pianist; and Bill Mann, song leader.

AUSTIN — Texas' progress in the field of race relations was commended by visiting federal officials here to discuss aspects of the new Civil Rights law.

Gov. John Connally met briefly with Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges; former Florida Gov. LeRoy Collins, director of the new Community Relations Service; and former Gov. Buford Ellington of Tennessee.

Session was one of a series to be conducted with governors in all states at the request of President Johnson to discuss the Community Relations Service operation. Agency will provide conciliation service at the state and local level to resolve discrimination disputes.

Governor Connally predicted Texas will continue to move forward without outside help.

Texas legislative leaders, who have been the target of many lobbyists, have turned lobbyists themselves.

At Gov. Preston Smith, Speaker Byron Tunnell and Sen. George Moffett, chairman of the Legislative Council's redistricting committee, have been lobbying in Washington for passage of federal laws to clarify the congressional and legislative redistricting situation.

Moffett wants Congress to say that a state may have as much as 15 per cent variation from the average population in its Congressional districts. He and Smith also spoke in favor of the proposed amendment to the U. S. Constitution which would allow the states to set up one house of their Legislature on a basis other than population.

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr has ruled that: A county commissioners court may decide whether or not it shall appoint county hospital managers with overlapping terms;

A county attorney has the duty of filing suits for foreclosure of the State's lien for delinquent inheritance taxes; District courts in that county have jurisdiction of these suits even in those instances in which property formerly belonging to a decedent is not within the county, so long as it is within the jurisdiction of this state.

New hunting and fishing licenses are scheduled to be sent to some 2,800 dealers by August 14. State Parks and Wildlife Commission announces.

Old licenses expire on August 31. More than 2,300,000 are expected to be paid during the coming year — at the rate of $2.15 for fishing license and $3.15 for a hunting license.

Sen. George Moffett of Chillicothe believes redrawing of state congressional districts is the hardest job ever to face the Texas Legislature. Moffett is chairman of a special committee studying the problem. Moffett, who holds the all-time record for continuous service in the Legislature (34 years), spoke out on the eve of his committee's fourth hearing in San Antonio.

Committee waded through five new redistricting plans at the Bexar County hearing. Fifth hearing will be held in Lubbock on August 20.

Sen. Louis Crump of San Saba meanwhile announced he has called on Texas Congressmen to support federal legislation authorizing states to retain full authority over both congressional and legislative apportionment.

State Board of Insurance has issued notice to statewide and local aid associations and burial associations that they must adopt, by November 1, rates which will produce enough income to build their mortuary funds to the point where they can back up all benefits promised policy holders.

This action followed a hearing by the State Burial Association Rate Board at which State Insurance Department actuaries expressed alarm that many small local mutual and burial associations were not collecting large enough premiums to pay all potential claims.

Many associations already have voted to increase rates and two have obtained board approval.

Under the order, each of the 528 associations must appear before the Insurance Board between now and July 1, 1965, and prove they have rates in effect which will bring mortuary funds up to the reserves required by law.

Texas Water Commission has been busy trying to help communities suffering from the extreme drought. A little more than a week's time, the Commission sent one of its members, H. A. Beckwith, to Brackettville to help that city drill a water well when Las Mores Spring went dry; granted Thorndale a permit to pump 20 acre feet of water from the San Gabriel as an emergency measure; and secured a Kerr County court order restraining irrigators in the county from using water from the Guadalupe River and its tributaries for anything except domestic, municipal and livestock purposes.
