RJC Quintet To Open Cage Play With Two Foes

The Ranger Junior College basketball team opens its 1964-65 season Monday, November 23 when it charges into action against Odessa Junior College in Odessa and then travels to big spring for a Tuesday night clash with Howard County Junior College.

The Rangers, apparently in fine shape for their first two games of the season, will be trying to redeem their losses to both of these teams last year.

Scrimmages with Abilene Christian and Fort Worth Christian Colleges have shown much progress. The big guns in scoring thus far have been Robert Hughes (Yank) of Syracuse, New York, and David Nowlin (High-pockets) of Breckenridge.

Probable starters include Richard Hooper of Dallas, Jerry Chamberlain of Carlisle, Oscar McClendon of Houston, Hughes, and Nowlin.

The boys, according to coach Ron Butler, make up as a whole for whatever they lack as a team with aggressiveness and spirit.

Community 4-H Club To Meet On Tuesday

The Ranger Community 4-H Club will meet Tuesday, November 24, at 7:30 p. m. at the C.I.O. building on Highway 80 East.

The program will be on Wildlife. All members and parents are urged to attend.

A Pro-Am golf tournament will be held at Lakeside Country Club, north of Eastland, Sunday, Nov. 22, beginning at 1 p. m., Mrs. Loretta Brown has announced.

Battle Acquitted After Long Study By Eastland Jury

(See Related Story Inside)

It took two days to get a jury, one day to present testimony to the jury in the James Battle murder trial in 91st District Court, and six and a half hours for that jury Thursday to acquit Battle.

A $4.95 Barlow pocket knife appeared to be the hinge on which the case hung.

Battle, a 49-year-old Ranger Negro, was indicted by a grand jury in the July 4 slaying of Don Gonzales at Battle's Little Gem Cafe in Ranger. From the day of the incident Battle had contended that he had killed Gonzales at Battle's himself because the Latin American Gonzales was attacking him with a knife.

The knife wasn't found and the grand jury indicted the murder with malice aforethought. During the testimony Wednesday Defense Attorney Bill Hart got admitted evidence a knife, identified by several witnesses, as identical to that which Gonzales wielded during the fracas at the cafe.

This apparently established self-defense in the minds of the ten men and two women jurors, resulting in the "not guilty" verdict. However, what took the group so long in coming to this conclusion was not known.

District Attorney Earl Conner Jr. was prosecutor and showed with witnesses including County Sheriff Lee Horn and others that Battle had a "bad reputation" in Ranger. Fanny Bee Russell, the Negro woman with whom Gonzales scuffled in the cafe before Battle intervened also testified.

Six jurors were picked Monday and six Tuesday as the questioning on the death penalty note consumed hours. The state finished its case Wednesday morning and the defense, using the same witnesses as the state, finished Wednesday afternoon. The charge was given the jury by District Judge T. M. Collier Thursday morning and the attorneys finished their summations at 10 a. m.

Speculation was for a quick return of the jury, but it proved to be unfounded second-guessing as the hours whittled on. The jury sent out twice for information.

At 4:30 p. m. Thursday, the jury came back in and Foreman James Reid of Eastland turned the verdict over to Judge Collier who read it.

Battle's wife and young child sat by his side throughout the trial.

Another murder trial, involving a Ranger woman who is indicted for killing her husband, is expected to go to trial soon after the first of the year. Attorney Hart will represent the woman.

New Insurance Plan Available To NSLI Holders

A new plan of permanent GI insurance — called "modified life" — is being made available to all holders of National Service Life Insurance through the new law which re-opens NSLI for disabled veterans.

Glyndon Hague, Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Waco, said the VA plans to notify all term policyholders at the time of renewal of the opportunity to obtain "modified life" policies.

Any type of NSLI insurance, including policies already issued may be exchanged for or converted to this new plan which will be issued at lower premium rates than the present permanent plans.

The "modified life" plan provides a level premium through the life of the insured. However, the face value will be reduced automatically 50 per cent when the insured veteran reaches the age of 65.

At that time, Hague said, the policyholder will have the option of restoring the full amount of coverage by purchasing ordinary life insurance without a medical examination.

The new plan is offered as an inducement to NSLI term policyholders to convert before the premium on renewable term insurance become prohibitive with advanced age, the VA Manager said.

There are still some three million NSLI term policyholders who have not converted to a permanent plan. The new policies will become available May 1, 1965.

Hunters Asked To Send Hides To State Agency

ABILENE — "If you bag one — bag it!" deer hunters are reminded by Mrs. T. C. Campbell, Abilene. "At least bag the hide," she pleads, "as we're begging every scrap of buckskin for patients in our state hospitals and special schools."

The Volunteer Services Council, headed by Mrs. Campbell, once again will have donated hides tanned and distribute the leather among the 28,000 patients in Texas mental hospitals, tuberculosis hospitals, and schools for the mentally retarded. It is used in rehabilitation projects.

"Throw a handful of table salt on the hide, let it drain, 'bag it' in heavy paper and send it to Austin Taxidermist Studio, 2708 South Lamar, Austin, and we'll do the rest," explains Mrs. Campbell. "Mark the shipping tag 'charity', and most motor freight lines will haul hides without charge. If hunters request, locker plant operators will send in hides," adds the Council leader.

"The 28,000 Texans in the hospitals and schools join me in saying, 'we hope it's in the bag' for every sportsman," said Mrs. Campbell.

Battle Trial Testimony

The State prosecutor called five witnesses Wednesday morning before resting his case just before noon. Witnesses testifying for the State included Sheriff Lee Horn of Eastland, Dr. W. P. Watkins of Ranger, Chief of Police Bill Ogden of Ranger and two Negro men, Robert Jackson and James Woodruff.

Tommy Morrow of Ranger was called as the first defense witness. He testified that he was well acquainted with the victim, Don Gonzales, who was also called Shannon. He said that on several occasions Gonzales had gotten after him with a knife and that on the last two occasions someone had to pull him (Gonzales) off.

James Goodwin, Negro, of Ranger took the stand and testified that he and Gonzales had stayed together and that he had stopped Gonzales on two different occasions when Gonzales was involved in fights with others. He also said that he had seen Gonzales with a pocket knife.

Battle, the accused, then took the stand. He testified that he had been a resident of Eastland County since 1920, coming here at the age of 5. He told of his honorable discharge from the Armed Service in 1956 due to the death of his mother and that he assumed the operation of the Little Jim Hotel and Cafe and other properties that belonged to his mother. He also said that he operates a barbecue catering service and has a number of rent houses in the block where the Little Jim Hotel is located.

When asked how well he knew Gonzales, he said they had been reared together and had always been good friends, never having any trouble before.

In relating the events on the evening of the shooting he said, "I was leaning over the counter when he (Gonzales) came in. We talked a few minutes and he wanted some beer. I told him I didn't have any beer but that he could get some and bring it back there and drink it if he wanted to. He left and I went out back to the barbecue pits to braise my meat.

"A little later," Battle said, "Johnny Tucker came running out to the pits and told me that Shannon (Gonzales) had knocked Fannie Bell (Russell) down and asked me to come and stop them fighting. I went around between two buildings where they were fighting and saw that Shannon had a knife pulled on Fannie Bell. I said 'Shannon, don't do that, don't get yourself in trouble, then he turned on me. I had stopped him before in fights but this was the first time he had ever turned on me. I kept backing off and telling him not to come up on me with the knife. I got my gun out and he knocked it out of my hand. I picked it up and kept backing up telling him not to come up on me with the knife that I didn't want to shoot him, but he kept on coming. I shot him in the right shoulder the first time, then I shot him again and the third shot hit him in the mouth and he kept coming at me with the knife. I ran into the house and told them to call the ambulance and the police, but they said the ambulance was at a funeral but the police was on the way. I ran back outside and began begging someone to help me get him to the hospital before he bled to death. Tucker backed his station wagon up and we put him in the back. The police came then and I said, I done it, Mr. Bill, he made me do it."

When asked why he carried the gun, he said he carried it for protection against a mean bear hog which he had in the pens in back. He said he usually kept the gun in a drawer in the cafe for protection.

When asked what kind of knife Gonzales had, Battle said that it was a pocket knife similar to the one he carries and produced his own knife to show the jury and attorneys what size and type knife Gonzales had. He explained that the knife Gonzales had, had originally belonged to him and that he had given the knife to his son and his son in turn had given it later to Gonzales. Battle said a search was made for the knife after the shooting but it was not found.

Fannie Bell Russell, Negro, of Ranger, was called as the next witness. She testified that she and Gonzales had been living together since November. She said he came in and wanted to talk to her shortly before the shooting occurred and that he became angry and knocked her down when he found out that she was planning to go to Breckenridge with Johnny Tucker. When she got up she said that Gonzales had an open pocket knife drawn on her, so she ran out of the building and in between two buildings trying to get away from him. She testified that she thought he might kill her. She said he cut her dress and tore off the straps. She said that when Battle tried to stop Gonzales from fighting with her, that he (Gonzales) turned on Battle with the knife still drawn and open.

Johnny Tucker, Negro, was the last defense witness to testify. He told how Battle tried to talk to Gonzales and keep him from coming at him with the knife but that Gonzales told Battle "You'll have to kill me."

Conner recalled two witnesses for the prosecution, Sheriff Lee Horn and Chief of Police Bill Ogden and asked them what the general reputation of both Fannie Bell and Battle were in their community and each testified, "bad." Horn testified that he examined Fannie Bell's dress but found no cuts on the dress but that the straps were torn but still on the dress.

Conner also called Fred Wood, Negro, and Lewis Martinez to the stand and questioned them about the general reputation of Fannie Bell and Battle in their community and both replied "bad."

RJC Students Attend Seminar At Brownwood

The American Heritage Seminar held at Howard Payne College November 14-15 was a rewarding experience for Donny Bell and Larry Bush, who represented Ranger Junior College.

In addition to speeches on government, an outstanding feature of the seminar was "High Wall," a film which dealt with Stalin's rise to power.

Saturday the students divided into different groups and discussed such subjects as civil rights, totalitarianism, space developments, moral standards, and the United States foreign policy.

Bell and Bush agree that the seminar was most worthwhile. It illustrated other peoples views on the world situation and at the same time created thoughts about how our national government deals with foreign problems. Both said they would readily accept a chance to attend the meeting again in the spring.

In the opinion of Mrs. James P. Morris, who accompanied the boys to Brownwood, the chief values of the seminar lie in the exchange of ideas and the stimulation of concern about national affairs.

Howard Payne College, sponsor of the seminar, paid all expenses for 110 college and high school seniors and their sponsors to attend the two-day meeting.

1964 Rangers In Final Grid Tilt Next Week

The Ranger Junior College Rangers play their last football game of the 1964 season on Friday, November 27, when they compete with an all-star team from Instituto Tecnológico and the Universidad de Nueva Leon in Monterrey, Mexico.

The Rangers will leave at 5 a.m. Thanksgiving Day and will return to Ranger Saturday. They will travel by Greyhound Bus to Laredo, where they will be met by Mexican buses from Monterrey, which will take them the rest of the way and then return them to Laredo on Saturday.

This is the third year that the RJC football team has played in the Mexican Orange Bowl in Monterrey, having competed with the Monterrey All-Stars in 1959 and 1961. The Rangers were victorious in both previous games, winning with scores of 49-31 and 28-24.

Along with a thirty-one man squad, the coaches and their wives, Miss Nancy Coody, Spanish instructor of the college, will make the trip as interpreter for the group. She has been working with the coaches to get everything ready for the trip. She arranged for the tourist cards and helped make arrangements for accommodations in Monterrey. The group will stay at La Favorita Hotel. Dr. W. P. Watkins supplied the vaccine for the smallpox vaccinations necessary for the boys.

Introducing 1964-65 RJC Band

Perhaps every marching band owes its clean, brilliant sound to its trumpet section. This is true of the Ranger Junior College Band. The trumpet section this year is composed of eight members, representing four cities in Texas.

The leadline trumpet of the section is William Clinton, a sophomore from Houston. A 1963 graduate of M. B. Smiley High School, he is now majoring in music at RJC.

Bobby Owen, a Ranger hometown sophomore is next in line. He was a 1963 graduate of Ranger High School, and is interested in business administration as his major. He lives at 729 Young Street in Ranger.

Jeff Richard, son of Mrs. E. L. Richard of Fort Worth, is a freshman at RJC. Jeff is a graduate of Polytechnic High School in Fort Worth. He was a member of the Marching 100 in which he was Right Guide, and Sargent at Arms. He plans business as his major.

Robert Smith, a sophomore, is next in line. A 1963 graduate of C. F. Brewer High School, Fort Worth, Robert plans to become a commercial artist after graduation.

Ronnie Austin, a sophomore, is also a graduate of Polytechnic High School in Fort Worth. His major is sociology. He plans to continue his education at a senior college after he finishes at RJC.

Bobby Davidson, also a sophomore this year, plans his major field to be sociology. Bobby is a 1963 graduate of Polytechnic High School, in Fort Worth, where he was in the Marching 100.

Next, from Del Rio, we have Darryl Wibbert. A sophomore, he plans his major in business.

The only girl in the section is Delores Smith, who is a freshman this year. Though this is her first year in band, she is doing exceptionally well. Delores is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Smith of Fort Worth. She was a 1964 Jervis-High School in Fort Worth graduate of Diamond Hill -Worth.

Eight College Sophs, Six Boys And Two Girls, Are RHS Grads

There are eight sophomore students attending Ranger Junior College who are graduates of Ranger High School, six boys and two girls.

Joe Barker, an industrial arts major, participated in football and basketball while in RHS. He was also on the annual staff and a member of the Spanish Club. A drummer in the RJC Band, Joe is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Barker.

Jerry Cole, whose hobbies include fishing and swimming, is a history major. He was a member of FFA at Ranger High. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Cole.

Edwena Edmonds, who also plans a career in industrial art, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. C. Edmonds. Elected senior favorite at RHS, she was a member of Sub Debs and FHA. She was elected football sweetheart at RJC this year.

Johnny Bob King, who was a member of the Bulldog Band, is a mechanical engineering major. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. King.

Bobby Owen, a business major, was selected Outstanding Bandman at RHS. He also participated in tennis. Vice-president of the RJC Band this year, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice E. Owen.

David Pickrell, who was a member of the RHS Bulldog football team, is a business major. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. David Pickrell.

Wayne Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Ross, is a 1961 graduate of Ranger High School. He has not decided on his major.

Glynda Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Wilson, was a member of FFA and the Bulldog Band at RHS. She is majoring in business administration and plans to attend North Texas State University.

PERSONALITY OF THE WEEK

IMOGENE JONES

As personality of the week, the journalism class has chosen Imogene Jones because of her participation in campus affairs. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Jones of Brownwood and is a sophomore at Ranger Junior College majoring in education.

As a freshman Miss Jones received many honors. She was class favorite, basketball sweetheart, and Homecoming Queen nominee. In the spring she played girls' singles in tennis.

Her hobbies are tennis and piano.

After graduating from Ranger Junior College, she is planning to enter East Texas State College at Commerce to complete her college training.

Attractive brunette, she is friendly and is well-liked on the Ranger Junior College campus.

CAMPUS LIFE

Cakes? Cookies? Anyone want to buy any cakes or cookies?

This is the call that is being heard around campus by the Ranger Junior College faculty and students.

Peggy Neeley, a freshman at RJC, thought of the idea of having a bake sale to raise money for the band fund, and the girls in the band liked the idea. Delores Smith of Fort Worth and Jane Spears of

Students Deliver Clever Talks Utilizing Several Visual Aids

One of the challenges of a course in speech is to learn the different types of speech and to be able to give them. A recent assignment on the use of visual aids resulted in some very unusual and interesting speeches in Miss Nancy Coody's freshman speech class.

Some of the better speeches with good use of visual aids were those of Glynda Wilson, of Ranger, who showed the Rose Bowl Parade on slides, and of Cookie Falls of Ranger and Ken Hefner, of Howell, Michigan, both of whom used diagrams to illustrate the steps in making fudge and the fundamentals of skiing respectively.

Dickie Le Doux of Eunice, Louisiana, spoke on the use of football equipment, and Joe Fitzgerald, of Big Sandy, baseball equipment.

Ken Burchfield of Fort Worth enlightened the class when he brought in a whole combo to illustrate his talk on a kind of music, and the class was captivated by the hummer also used pantomime in Dale Fruge, on how to hunt duck in the bayous of Louisiana.

Mrs. Floy Williams of Ranger also used pantomime in portraying different phases of married life.

The speeches and illustrations covered a wide range of subjects, and the cleverness and originality of the members of the class in presenting them made the project both interesting and worthwhile.

With Thanksgiving just around the corner varies RJC students were asked what their plans were for the holidays. Home seems to be the general destination of most students on the campus; however a few have unusual and interesting plans.

'88 Chronicle Shares Secrets --- Was It In Rip's Tomb?

Mrs. Hattie Baker of S. Seaman St. has found a true Eastland relic — and what might prove to have been diet for Eastland's famous Old Rip.

It is a copy of the June 21, 1888 "Eastland Chronicle," forerunner of the Telegram. The masthead carries Volume No. One, and Issue No. 12 — indicating that the paper is a very early edition of that journal.

June Kimble was publisher (and also a county commissioner, by the way), and the paper differed in appearance in many ways to those today. World and national news comprised the front page — and local and personal items (some very personal) make up the inside pages, along with patent remedies.

Mrs. Baker reports that the copy had been stored in some of her belongings, and that she can almost remember that her son, to whom the paper belongs, has told her that it was among those taken from the same courthouse cornerstone in which Old Rip, the horned toad, spent some 31 years. A check of dates makes the likelihood of the paper having been in the stone seem possible — plus the fact that it was an early edition of the paper, which likely would have been chosen for burying alongside the famous frog.

The remains of the paper are in far less than perfect condition — much poorer than the remains of Rip, indicating that if the paper was buried with the frog, he might have nurtured himself on the '88 Chronicle for low, those many years of entombment. It gives rise to speculation.

In '88, national politics had a ring similar to those of late October, 1964. Democrat Grover Cleveland was president and was opposed by Republican Benjamin Harrison. The tariff was the major issue in the campaign and President Cleveland, seeking reelection, favored lowering duties on manufactured goods, while Harrison was a high-tariff advocate.

According to the editorials and "columns" in the old Chronicle, the Democratic Party was spent through this part of the country, and an effort was being made to pull the party together.

(The Humble Book of Presidents, courtesy of Obie's Service Station, informs that Harrison won in 1888, only to be defeated by Cleveland four years later.)

A sample classified ad in 1888 went like this: "Shilohs Cough and Consumption Cure is sold by us on a guarantee. It cures consumption. L. C. Downtain & Co."

M. L. Coker was a general stock hunter, and doctors and lawyers advertised their services in 1888.

The 76-year-old paper described a "Sunday School Picnic" like this:

"... After a long speech the hour having arrived dinner was announced and all invited to partake. This, of course, made everybody happy. An elegant, bounteous meal had been prepared and all came away supplied."

A report of action in district court (presumed to be 42nd which has since been moved from Eastland County. Name withheld for obvious reasons)

"On Thursday, the case of State vs. xxx, theft of cattle, was taken up and tried, resulting in a verdict of guilty and punishment assessed at two years in pen.

"On Friday the case of State vs. xxx, charged with the murder of one xxx in 1981 was called. A special venire having been summoned after empanneling a jury the defendant plead guilty to manslaughter and takes two years in the pen.

"The case of xxx, the Cisco coon was set for Saturday, a jury empanneled and case tried, verdict of guilty, two years in pen.

"State vs. xxx verdict of acquittal. xxx was charged with robbing the depot at this place.

A four-line brief note on the first page reminds one of the era in which this newspaper was begun:

"Gen. Sherman was much better this morning, and expects to be able to get out Monday next. At no time did his illness take a serious turn."

Quail Shooting To Begin Dec. 1

AUSTIN — While big game hunters are stalking deer and turkey, the bird hunters also will be having their day in Texas, according to A. J. Springs, wildlife coordinator for the Parks and Wildlife Department.

The quail season opens November 14 in regulatory authority counties east of the Pecos with the exception of the Possum Kingdom region. The mourning dove season in the South Zone continues through November 24, except in counties which had a white-wing season. The closing date in those counties is November 20.

Quail shooting opens in most counties covered by state law on December 1.

Springs said sportsmen could well study the departmental hunting season guide or check with their local game warden or both, because of the many local variations in regulations.

First areas in Texas to have quail hunting were in La Salle and McMullen Counties in deep East Texas where the season opened November 1.

Meanwhile, said Springs the goose season which opened October 31 continues statewide but the duck season does not open until November 23.

Small nails were cut from sheet iron in the early 19th century.

The couple plan to make their home in Abilene.

Clyde began to organize the sale. To their surprise and delight all the girls joined in to help make the project a success. They take orders for pies, cakes, and cookies on the campus and around town; then it is back to the dorm kitchen, where they bake them.

Many late night sessions and several orders later the girls have made a total of $27.50 for the band treasury.

The money is to be used for the band in any way needed, and the girls are still hard at work promoting the bake sale to make the fund grow.
