town talk NEWS * NOTES * BRIEFS

CONGRATULATIONS TO four Ranger couples who will be celebrating happy wedding anniversaries during the coming week:

WE'LL let you look over our shoulder and read an interesting epistle we received over the weekend:

"This comes to you as a suggestion for an article in The Ranger Times.

"The Fine Arts Department of Ranger Jr. College is in dire need of a phonograph. The use of a phonograph is an absolute necessity in the teaching of two courses in the music curriculum.

"We find that a machine can be redeemed for 27 4-5 books of Gold Bond Stamps, whereas the same machine takes 35 books of S&H Green Stamps.

"We feel that an article in your paper might create interest among the town-people to help us out in our situation.

"I will thank you in advance for your cooperation and for any suggestions you might have.

"Sincerely, 'KENNETH E. ALFORD 'Division of Fine Arts' (Continued on Page Four)

Fox Presents Museum Report To Lions Club At Thursday Session

Charles Fox, executive director of Ranger's Texas Oil Museum, Inc., presented a review of progress on the project during the weekly meeting and luncheon of the Ranger Lions Club Thursday at noon in the Ranger Jr. College cafeteria.

"In June of 1964," Fox told the Lions, "I read an article in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram which reported that a group of business men in Ranger was interested in preserving the history of the Ranger oil boom.

"After making an extensive study of this matter, and contacting oil companies and independents who participated in the Ranger boom, I learned they were deeply interested in an oil museum to preserve the history of the Ranger oil boom, the State of Texas, and the history of the oil industry — worldwide — the first museum of that kind.

"Girls," the manager of the restaurant said, "I want you all to look your best today, greet every customer with a smile, put on a little extra makeup, and see that your hair is attractive."

Industrialization Techniques, Successes Heard In Another City

Small Business Administration and the Area Development Administration. State sources include municipal bonds, both revenue and general obligation (now being utilized in 25 states, not including Texas); tax concessions; business development corporations; and industrial development authorities.

Eastland County residents who were among the some 500 who attended the day-long seminar were Frank Sayre, Division Manager Texas Electric Service Co. and H. V. O'Brien, both of Eastland.

Keynote speaker was Stuart Parry Walsh, president Development Planning Associates, Inc. of San Francisco, whose firm has been hired by Fort Worth to survey assets and needs of that city, and is due to issue a report May 1.

Plus factors cited by Walsh in industrialization included the importance of city and-or county cooperation; the vitality of the chamber of commerce; the availability of financial resources; the importance of utilizing youth; and a concern for a long-range planing. Minus factors include low or little concern for the surrounding area; lack of teamwork; caution in industrial land development and lack of understanding of available sites and knowledge about sites.

Financing, a key industrialization factor and one to be discussed at the fourth Eastland County-65 seminar to be held in Gorman March 4, was subject for James R. Bradley, executive director Industrial Economics Research Division, Texas A&M University, who listed the eight sources of financing in three categories: federal, state and local. RJC Ends Schedule With Win; Meet Wolters AFB Quintet Tuesday Night

The Ranger Junior College Rangers, in a final warmup encounter prior to entering the state junior college basketball playoffs next weekend, will host a rugged Wolters Air Force Base quintet Tuesday night on the hardwoods of the new RJC gymnasium.

Coach Ron Butler, who has piloted his Purple & White charges through an impressive season, said the roster of the military team is composed of exceptional athletes, most of them having played in senior colleges.

The AFB crew should provide formidable competition and the Tuesday night contest should be a crowd-pleaser, the RJC coach said.

The Purple & Whites wound up their 1965 hardwood schedule in the RJC gym here Wednesday night with an impressive 75-56 win over the Tarleton State College Junior Varsity.

Four of the Rangers ran up individual scoring totals in double digits. Richard Hooper led the scoring with 12 points, and Oscar McClendon, Bob Hughes and Joe Dooley racked up 10 points each.

Highest scorer of the night was Tarleton's Robert Licier who poured 16 points through the mesh.

Ranger (75) — McClendon 18 10; Nolan 13 5; Hughes 4 2 10; Hooper 5 2 12; Chamberlain 3 0 6; Bond 2 2 6; Davison 2 0 4; Bowman 1 0 2; Morse 2 2 6; Wolfinger 2 0 4; Dooly 3 4 10; Totals: 26 23 75.

Tip-off time is set for 7:30 p.m. sharp.

Site for the state meet will be determined Sunday during a meeting of coaches of the four teams to be held at Temple. Ronald Butler, RJC roundball mentor, will represent Ranger at the Sunday conference. Butler said Friday that the playoffs probably will be held at Temple.

Top teams in the South Zone are Wharton Jr. College and San Antonio Jr. College. North Zone leaders are Cisco Jr. College and Ranger Jr. College.

Butler said that during opening Thursday night action in the state playoffs Ranger will meet Wharton and Cisco will take on Ranger. The winners of those encounters meet Friday night for the title and the losers battle for runner-up.

EASTLAND WILL SELL WATER TO OLDEN

Eastland City Commissioners agreed to sell water to the proposed Olden water system at a rate of cost, (to be calculated annually), plus ten per cent, during a harmonious huddle with Olden residents at the regular commission meeting Monday evening.

However, the city of Eastland cannot enter into a 40-year contract, the Olden people were told because Eastland is presently ten years gone on a 40-year contract it holds with the Eastland County Water Supply District.

The flexible rate would benefit both parties it was explained, in the event water consumption continues to increase as it has in the past. Based on last year's figures, the present rate, if Olden were to begin buying immediately, would be 33 cents a thousand gallons, City Manager Lewis Tiner explained.

This is based on the cost, which last year was 28.9 cents per 1,000, plus 10 per cent. Cost has gone down in recent years, he explained, pointing out that cost in 1961 and 1962 was 36.4 cents; 31.4 in 1963; and 28.9 in 1964.

Asked what the "cost" included, Tiner explained that it includes the seven cents a thousand paid to the Water District for the treated water, plus a proportionate share of the fixed amount of $3,750 the city pays the District monthly under contract for the retirement of bonds, and a proportionate share of the $12,000 paid annually by Eastland residents to the District in taxes. It does not include normal billing expenses or maintenance expenses which the city pays, and which affect the cost of delivered water in Eastland.

The Olden residents agreed that they would have to meet with their engineers to see if a 30-year contract can be negotiated on the proposed FHA-financed system that is being considered.

Friday's hearing was the third trial with defendants who were among 66 men arrested southeast of Ranger on Jan. 10 and charged with "being concerned with a chicken fight."

In the first trial seven Abilene men were found guilty and assessed fines by a six-member jury. They appealed to 91st District Court, Eastland.

A. B. HALBERT

SPOTLIGHT
On the RJC Faculty

This week's spotlight on the faculty of Ranger Junior College falls on the instructor of physical and chemical science and mathematics, Mr. A. B. Halbert.

Mr. Halbert came to Ranger Junior College from Nacogdoches High School although prior to teaching there he had taught for two years in Stephen F. Austin State College in Nacogdoches.

With a dual major chemistry and mathematics, in college, he received his Bachelor of Science degree and Master of Education degree from Stephen F. Austin. He has done graduate work at the American University in Washington, D. C.

Sponsor of the RJC Radio Club, he has contributed much towards improving the science and mathematics department of the college.

He resides with his family at 815 Cherry Street. Mrs. Halbert is home economics teacher in Ranger High School. The Halberts have three children, Robert, 10, Janet, 7, and Mary Evelyn, 5 months.

They are members of the First Methodist Church, Ranger.

Hamrick Fetes
Masquers Club
With Supper

The Masquers Club of Ranger Junior College had a Mexican supper Tuesday night in the home of Mrs. R. L. Hamrick. Guest speaker at the supper was Mrs. Howard Swanson, the drama coach for the Breckenridge one-act play. Mrs. Swanson talked about the many phases of drama. She was introduced by the Masquers president, Ken Royal.

The sponsor of the Masquers Club is Miss Nancy Coody, speech teacher at Ranger Junior College.

"Comida tipica," prepared by Mrs. Hamrick, was served to the following members and guests: Larry Lee, Skipper Voss, Billy Clary, Ken Hefner, Ken Royal, Billy Wheeler, William Clinton, J. T. Wisner, Peggy Neeley, Howard Starling, Lewis Stroud, Harvie Chaney, Donny Bell, Terry Loetz, Jacky Bridges, Emil Halencak, Larry Buch,

Music Course
Credit Proves
RJC Excellence

Three former Ranger Junior College students have had the pleasant and profitable experience of receiving credit at West Texas State College for six hours of Music Literature without having to take the course, thanks to the comprehensive nature of Music 150 (Music Appreciation) taught in Ranger Junior College the spring semester of 1964 by Kenneth E. Alford, Chairman of the Division of Fine Arts.

James Loven of Fort Worth, Larry Prather of Weatherford, and Johnny Creager of Breckenridge enrolled in a course in Music Literature at West Texas State, but found that they were already familiar with the material being presented. As a result of their extensive background and mastery of the material included in the course and a letter from Mr. Alford to the teacher of the music literature course at West Texas verifying the subject matter covered in the music appreciation course at Ranger Junior College last spring, the three boys were automatically given credit for Music 211-212, six hours of music literature.

This special well for the music department of Ranger Junior College. According to Loven, West Texas State students couldn't understand how two semesters of music literature were crowded into one semester of music appreciation at Ranger College.

Loven has found that the background in music obtained at Ranger Junior College prepared him well for senior college work, and he is most complimentary of the thoroughness of Mr. Alford and Roger C. Martin, band director, in presenting courses for music majors.

The RJC Student Council sponsored a Valentine dance in the Student Union Building Temple-Ranger basketball game Monday night.

SPORT SHOTS

SOME RJC freshman boys on the track team should make the blood of fans run quickly, almost as quickly as the fine runners. Here is what to watch and expect of freshmen tracksters this year.

Dale Carroll of Weimer will give out with grunts and groans, but listen for the ohs when you hear the distance on his shot put Billy Smith and Rickey Bridgewater will be throwing the discs.

In field events Joe Fitzgerald will be high jumping. Johnny Zachary should give the team a victory in the conference mile relay Ray Reynolds and Clyde Creighton will be in the 100- and 220-yard dashes.

Two of the most promising freshmen, Ishmal Benavides and James Sneed, both fine young athletes, appear to be in fine physical condition for this time of year. James is a 24 second or better hundred-yard dash man. Ishmal comes from a nationally ranked team in the sprint and mile relays.

Floors Aren't
Ash Trays

Surely a person should, by the time he reaches college age, have enough consideration and pride to refrain from such thoughtless acts as throwing cigarette butts on the floor. Nevertheless, one can walk down the halls of Ranger Junior College's class-

100 Heart Fund Volunteers To March In County March 1

The fight against heart and blood vessel disease, Number One killer of our time, will be carried to every home in Eastland County Sunday, when more than 100 volunteers will each call upon between 15 and 25 neighbors in observance of Heart Monday, March 1.

Serving as Eastland County Heart Fund Chairman is Mrs.

Mrs. Choate pointed out that last year in Texas over 40,000 persons died of a heart disease and in Eastland County 161 died while over 1,138 were afflicted with a heart disease.

Heart Fund Dollars fight a vast complex of disease — heart attack, stroke, high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, rheumatic fever, inborn heart defects and many others. They are responsible for about 54 percent of all deaths in the nation.

Over $100 was raised in Eastland Saturday in the Heart Fund balloon sale, she said.

John Paul Jones Commemorated By National DAR

The Charles Crawford Chapter, Daughters of American Revolution, joining with the National Society during American History Month in calling attention to American patriots in the nation's history, points today to John Paul Jones, according to Mrs. Joe Clements, Regent.

Jones was in command of an old, leaky ship, the Bonhomme Richard, when he met a convoy of 40 British ships headed by the Serapis. The Bonhomme Richard, a 12-pounder, engaged the Serapis, an 18-pounder.

After a fierce fight, the BR began to sink, and the captain of the British ship signaled: "Have you struck?" To which John Paul Jones made his immortal reply, "I've just begun to fight." Lashing his ship to the Serapis, he forced the Serapis to surrender after three hours of hand-to-hand fighting.

Jones and other patriots are being commemorated during the month of February, Mrs. Clements announced.

Altitudes in Eastland County range from 1,200 to 1,800 feet.

Eastland County 4-H'ers Win Prizes In Rodeo

Teddy McCulloch of Scranton won first place and Benny Gray of Cisco was seventh place winner in the calf scramble at the 1965 San Antonio Stock Show and Rodeo last Sunday.

Eastland County furnished three of the 10 winners out of the 20 contestants under the 4-H Banner. Bobby Williams of Gorman was third place winner.

The prizes ranged from $50 for first place, to $40 for third and $20 for seventh. The purchase certificates are used to purchase livestock for feeding programs.

Other boys in the scramble from the county were Eddie Kincaid of Morton Valley and Tommie Lee of Cisco. Each caught a calf but couldn't hang on, and other youngsters were waiting to catch anything that broke free. Ten calves weighing 150-200 pounds were turned loose in the arena with 20 hopeful young 4-H'ers and FFA boys waiting to tackle, halter, and drag them across the finish line.

Also attending from Eastland County with the boys were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Williams and Barbara of Gorman, Jimmy Lee of Cisco, and Assistant County Agent, Bill McCutcheon.

Clark said, "but because there are so many qualified, professional people at work in our state." That's the basis on which the commission works, he said, coordinating the efforts of the some 1,000 professional and literally tens of thousands of volunteers in the state.

Clark, who told the Eastland Countians that plans are shaping up well for the March Gorman meeting, outlined the five-point program which is being tested in the pilot Eastland County project. And as is his forte, "inspiration" was the highlight of his talk, as he introduced the brand-new Bob Hope-narrated Texas film which was shown for the first time, and which will go into international distribution soon by a commercial film firm. Still lacking editing, the film attempts to depict Texas and Texans in their true light, to dispell pre-conceived conceptions of out-of-staters, and it does a strong selling job.

Industrial developers should draw a head on more than 30,000 corporations in the nation, capable of moving or expanding their operations. Winthrop Rockefeller of Winrock Farms, Ark., told the delegation in his noon lunch-Add Industrialization story — noon address. He also pointed out that industry seeking new locations demands straight information on communities it is considering. (He also let it be known that he will again be a candidate for governor of Arkansas in 1966.)

Rockefeller, scion of the famous capitalist family, served for eight years as chairman of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission and warned that industrial development can not be confined to city, county or even state limits. Every state in the union is out to grab new industry and careful planning and research is the key to success, he said. Industrial prospects should be treated in a friendly, helpful manner and not be burdened with "snow jobs." He urged a sound, continuing educational program be geared to industrial development.

Success stories included a report on Omaha by M. L. Woodburn, executive director of that Nebraska city's non-profit industrial foundation, who told how a consulting firm had suggested that such a foundation be established, separate from the chamber of commerce, and that an industrial tract be completely developed. He explained how a 320-acre tract (that had partially supported four farm families prior to 1964) is now completely sold to 45 firms, providing jobs for more than 3,000 persons. A second tract is nearing completion there, he said.

Success via a different route was explained by Paul Strausbaugh, manager, industrial division, Oklahoma City chamber of commerce, who pointed out that their industrialization has been "through" their chamber, and "through" a profit-seeking industrial foundation. Results have been spectacular, he showed.

Atlanta set a goal of 10,000 new jobs a year and has added 70,000 jobs in the past three, he said. The organization recently raised $1.65 million for continuing the program for three years.

Mrs. T. J. Anderson was hostess to the Dorene Hawkins Circle of the Woman's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church Tuesday, February 16th, for their regular monthly mission study.

Mrs. Kay McCleskey, circle chairman, called the meeting to order and presided over the business session. Reports were given by officers and committees. Forty-four visits were reported.

The calendar of prayer was read by Mrs. H. E. Brooks with scriptures reading taken from Galatians 3rd chapter, 38th verse. She also offered a special prayer for those missionaries having birthdays on this day.

Mrs. McCluskey introduced Mrs. Pete Miller who reviewed the 2nd chapter of the mission book "Winds of Change" by Gerald Palmer. Mrs. Miller closed the meeting with prayer.

A delicious plate was served to Mmes. A. W. Warford, Earl Horton, C. W. Stubblefield, Roy McCleskey, H. E. Brooks, Pete Miller, H. B. Weathers, and the hostess, Mrs. Anderson.
