

10 Amendments On Tuesday Ballot

Ten amendments to the Texas Constitution will be put before voters Tuesday, November 2, including proposals to increase the governor's term of office to four years and to increase the terms of state representatives to four years.

Of the ten amendments, three relate to state education, three to general welfare, and four to administrative proposals.

Listed as Amendment 4 on the ballot is the proposal which would increase to four years the governor's term as well as all other state-wide officials; that is, lieutenant governor, attorney general, comptroller, treasurer, land commissioner, secretary of state, and commissioner of agriculture.

Advocates of the four year term point out that 35 other states have a four year term of office for their governors, indicating a national trend. Also, they stress, four years would give a governor enough time to develop his programs more fully and to carry them out.

It is also argued that the high cost of campaigning for state-wide office makes elections every four years instead of every two years more reasonable. They say that county offices have already changed to the four year term and have found it provides more effective leadership.

Those who oppose the measure, however, are quick to point out that although 35 states have established four year terms for their governors, 23 have placed restrictions on their continued reelection. They say that the major weakness of Amendment 4 is its failure to include any limitation on the number of terms a governor may serve.

Advocates of the measure claim that its adoption would relieve representatives from frequent and expensive campaigns, would remove them from the influence of lobbyists in the capital, and would strengthen state government by increasing continuity in office.

Opponents say that elections every two years keep the House members closer to the wishes of the people, and that four year terms would not give the people an opportunity to make their wishes known. They also say that history has shown that long tenure in office and political corruption often go hand in hand. In addition, they point out that only four other states have given such terms to state representatives.

Amendment 1 increases the state ad valorem tax by 5 cents and changes the method of allocation to a projected enrollment basis to provide an additional source of revenue for state college facilities.

The administration of the Texas Teacher Retirement Fund would be clarified by Amendment 5, and Amendment 6 would authorize the sale of as much as $85 million of general obligation bonds by the state to provide loans to needy college students, which would be repaid with interest.

Welfare proposals include Amendments 2, 3, and 7. Amendment 2 would increase the Veterans Land Fund by $200 million from the sale of bonds if passed. If not passed, the Veterans Land Program will cease on December 1, 1965.

Amendment 3 would enable the state to continue its cooperation with the Federal Government in providing assistance and medical care to the aged, needy, blind, and permanently disabled. Tax exemptions to hospitals which give more than $1.5 million annually for free hospital and medical care to the indigent if Amendment 7 is passed. At this time, it applies only to Hermann Hospital in Houston.

Amendment 8 provides for the automatic retirement of state district and appellate judges between age 70 and 75, and Amendment 9 would permit the Legislature itself to set an annual salary for the speaker and the lieutenant governor, as well as to increase the per diem allowance to all legislators when in session to $20 from $12 per day.

Doe Permits To Be Issued To Landowners On Nov. 2

Antlerless deer kill permits will be issued to landowners (not hunters) from a specific area in the northeast part of the county on Nov. 2 at the County Sheriff's office from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Game Warden Maurice Dry has announced.

Deer season in this county will open Nov. 13, he explained, and continue through Dec. 31. Mr. Dry attended a special meeting in Palo Pinto Monday at which Parks and Wildlife regulations and new laws pertaining to this county were explained.

A Commission survey of the county has shown that a surplus of doe exists in the northeast part of the county.

and permits will be issued for this area and the dual landowners will be. The excess is to be killed. The landowners can pick up the permits and either elect to issue them to hunters or not.

The area is bounded on the north by Highway 89 (Int. 20); on the west by a part of Farm-to-Market 571; on the east by the county line; and on the south by an unimproved road running from near Chaney, eastward.

State Highway 16 virtually bisects the area. West of 16, one permit will be issued for each 100 acres. Dry explained.

RHS FOOTBALL

After the halftime intermission the Bearcats opened action in the third quarter by taking the opening kickoff and marching 71 yards to paydirt. The drive was capped with Donny Sharp, quarterback, scoring on a keeper. Lamb's kick for the extra point was good to hike the score to 25-0.

On the return kickoff, De Leon recovered an on-side kick on the Ranger 47 and scored eight plays later from the 1-yard line with Smith plunging through the middle. The kick for the point was blocked.

Ailing Johnny McGee, Ranger first strong quarterback, was in for a few plays in the first half, but couldn't get set on his passing and his knee injury made it impossible for him to attempt any running moves.

Quarterback Jerry Watson, Fullback Larry Blackwell, and Halfbacks Mike Landroop and Phil Brown looked good for Ranger on occasions. Blackwell's performance was good in the last half. The Bulldog defense, although far from what it was a few weeks ago before injuries hit the club, looked good, too, on occasions.

Near the end of the third quarter the Bulldogs got an impressive drive going from midfield. They were stymied, however, at the De Leon six-yard stripe by the stubborn Bearcats.

A. G. Langley, Jr., is doing special post-graduate work in business administration. With these students Ranger is well represented at Ranger Junior College.

RJC TAKES TO AIR

By Susan Moos

Classes were disturbed at 1 p.m. Wednesday, by a low-flying airplane, which made an emergency landing on the Ranger Junior College football field.

The plane, although only a model, drew several spectators, one of whom was Jack Duvall, RJC football coach. The pilot, Stephen Howard, of Fort Worth, has been flying model planes a number of years and has taken them to competition all over the United States.

Ranger Junior College is now going air-borne. From this start with Stephen's spreading around the campus. There is even talk of starting a model plane flying club.

RJC JOURNALISM CLASS

By EARLENE MOORE

The 1965-1966 Ranger Junior College journalism class consists of 34 students. The class handles much of the publicity concerning Ranger Junior College and is responsible for preparing the college annual for publication. The journalism class is also composed of students hailing from far and near — from many different sections of Texas and of the United States. From Ranger we have Sarah Cooper, Robby Robinson, and Martha Lebedo.

Students from Ft. Worth are Kenneth Dickinson, Judi Hobbs, Susan Moos, and Ronnie Steadman.

Representing Dallas are Sharon King, Martha Lewis, Janet King, and Earlene Moore.

From Dublin come Larry Looney and Danny Prater. Representing Possum Kingdom we have Charles Mitchell and David Nicklas. Here from Andrews is Martin Barrow and from Henrietta, Carolyn Johnson.

A long way from home is James Lavelle of Syracuse, New York, and from Louisiana we have Lester Humbles. Sherry Langston comes to us from Freeport, Stephen Howard from Fort Worth, and Charles Haggard from Stephenville.

Representing Bowie are Terry Chokas and Keith Brewer, and Weiert is represented by Larry Caddell.

From Spanish Fort we have Gloria Goolbsy; from Wylie, Mike Hale; from Winters, Bob Foster; and from Vernon we have Lanny Gilley and Bill Belev.

Jacksboro representatives are Dennis Forbus and Gary Phillips. From Ringgold comes Jimmy Medley and Jerry Blivens; from Graford comes George Edgin.

Members of the journalism class hope to make themselves known to the readers through by-lines in the Ranger Times.

AMENDMENT 3 IS IMPORTANT TO SENIOR CITIZENS MEDICAL AID

Governor John Connally warned this week that 1,349 aged residents of Eastland County will have their medical benefits jeopardized if Constitutional Amendment 3 fails to win passage in the November 2 election.

During the past year, $317,142 was expended on behalf of these needy aged in this county. Governor Connally urged all Texans to support and vote for this crucial amendment.

Council Is Ready To Begin Study of Highway Act

Governor Connally also endorsed Amendment 4 which extends the two-year terms of statewide officials to four years.

"Texas is one of the few remaining states which has not enacted this far-sighted and efficient legislation," Governor Connally said.

The governor warned against voter apathy. He pointed out that only 606 voters in this county went to the polls last month in another Constitutional Amendment election.

Governor Connally emphasized that absentee voting had already started and would continue through October 29. He asked all voters who will be away from their homes on election day to vote absentee. A total of 10 proposed amendments to the Constitution will be on the November 2 ballot.

At the request of Lieutenant Governor Preston Smith, the Texas Legislative Council will undertake a study of the new Federal Highway Beautification Act and its implications for Texas.

Smith, who is chairman of the Council, named Senator George Parkhouse of Dallas to head the Study Committee on the project. Other members are Representatives Wayne Gibbons of Breckenridge and Ralph Wayne of Plainview.

Council members approved addition of the Highway Beautification Act study to the Council's interim work program by mail ballot submitted last week at the direction of Smith and House Speaker Ben Barnes, Council vice chairman.

The law, signed by President Johnson on Friday, will control outdoor advertising and junkyards along Interstate and Federal-aid primary highways and encourage scenic enhancement by providing funds for roadside parks and landscaping. Some 17,500 miles of Texas highways will be affected.

Penalties in loss of Federal-aid highway funds are provided for states which fail to comply with provisions of the law by January 1, 1968. Smith said the Council will seek to determine effect of the law on zoning ordinances of Texas cities and whether new state legislation will be required to permit compliance with the Act. A report and recommendations will be made to the 60th Legislature which convenes in January, 1967.
