Town Talk

NEWS • NOTES • BRIEFS

E. W. Mince, president of Ranger Junior College has received a wire from Congressman Omar Burleson authorizing a supplement grant of $32,340 for the summer 1966. This, with previous grants, makes available the sum of $46,220 for June, July and August to be spent through the college for student help.

A FEW DAYS ago, a couple left Tucson, Ariz. on a trip to Florida. A week later, the wife was recuperating in the home of a son in California, and a mound in Evergreen Cemetery marks the final resting place of her husband—the result of a wreck near Ranger.

A few years ago, a family left Dallas in early morning for a visit with relatives in West Texas. At 10 a.m. a five-year-old boy was the sole survivor of a family of eight—there was a wreck near Ranger.

A California couple and their four-year-old daughter were driving from California to New Jersey. The child, asleep in the car, awoke to find herself an orphan hundreds of miles from acquaintances—because of a wreck near Ranger.

Pages could be written of similar tragedies, not only in Ranger but in any small town situated along our national highways; and yet—out of the paths of these experiences, is born a deep and abiding faith in the Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man.

Passers-by have responded to emergencies; ambulance drivers, doctors and nurses have worked harder and longer; citizens have shared their blood, their money, and their time as the community united in a common cause and was drawn into the ministry of empathy "weeping with those who weep"; and the stranger in our midst found friends—as the result of a wreck near Ranger.

Members and all others interested in Ranger High School Quarterback Club are asked to meet at Ranger High School at 7:30 p. m. Monday, May 30, according to announcement of the president, Earl Lebrede who adds, "refreshments will be served."

MANY HAPPY RETURNS to the following Rangerites who'll be celebrating birthdays during the coming week: Sunday — Mrs. Wesley Poyner, Brent Brown. Monday — Jimmy Drennan. Wednesday — Margaret Speed, Mrs. J. A. Bates. Thursday — Wesley Poyner, Maudie Kitchens. Friday — Elverta Maddox.

CONGRATULATIONS to the couples who will observe wedding anniversaries this week: Sunday — Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Butler. Wednesday — Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Stiles.

HELPING HANDS — Mrs. Beulah Harrison has made 557 cancer dressings since Sept. 1, 1965.

ENJOYING VACATIONS — Mr. and Mrs. Jack Robinson in Arkansas; Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Lowe in Colorado.

TO ABILENE — Mr. and Mrs. Beach R. Smith, 325 Pine, moved to Abilene this week. Mr. Smith an employee of McWood Company is being transferred to that area.

MINUS POSTMASTER — John R. Maddox has been named postmaster at Minus. A native of Minus, he succeeds Harry Spratt who retired in 1965 after serving for 33 years.

Reward Offered For Information In Theft of Pipe

A $500 reward is being offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the persons taking some $4,000 worth of equipment from a farm south of Eastland, Bill Hoffmann has announced.

The equipment that included pipe, fittings and just about everything but the pumps, was taken on or about May 14 or 15, he said. The material had been purchased in 1964 and used one season on his farm along side State Highway 6 between Eastland and Carbon, he said.

Persons having knowledge of the material were urged to contact either Mr. Hoffmann or County Sheriff L. E. Sublett, it was reported.

New Contracts for S'west Machine Total $169,000

Southwest Machine and Engineering Co. is one Ranger business that will not experience a summer slump this year, according to the owner, G. E. (Red) Langford.

Total of new contracts just received amount to some $169,000.

In addition to regular business and smaller contracts, the company has recently received two contracts, the sum involved sufficient to stagger the average citizen.

Supplying bulkhead parts for the TFX program, F-111, their contract calls for parts to the amount of $105,000 over a period of ten months. A contract with McDonnell Aircraft calls for wing fittings valued at $64,900 over a period of six months.

At present there is a weekly quota of 60 pieces, but they expect to produce 100 pieces per week in the very near future. Their payroll for the past week was $5,400, according to Mr. Langford, who said that there are workmen on the job for at least 22 every 34 hours.

The firm has been operating for the past two years in Ranger and has expanded regularly.

In Remembrance

In Flanders Field so far away, The poppies grow from day to day Above our soldiers, who bled and died, That freedom from wars might our land betide. They left their homes and loved ones dear, To fight the battles they thought would clear Our land of future deaths by war, That selfsame shame doth our country mar. All praise to them who gave their all, Who answered to their country's call. Their valiant spirits live on and on, Within the lives of each loyal son. Then let us give thanks to Him above, Who showers us with unending love, And never forget (tho' time has healed) Those who lie asleep in Flanders Field.

Bessie Judy.

RANGER BOYS WIN FIRSTS IN JAYCEE GOLF TOURNEY

Ray Pearson and Dowell Hartsfield, both of Ranger, were winner and runner-up respectively in the open class of the Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsored tri-city golf tournament held Friday at the Cisco Country Club.

A Ranger boy, Richard Williams, also won first place in the novice division for those who had not played in a state or national tournament. He beat runner-up James Wheat, Cisco, by one stroke on the 19th hole, breaking the 86 tie both had at the end of 18.

Pearson, with a score of 76, and Hartsfield, with an 87, qualified for a trip to Lubbock for the Junior Sports program July 7-9. If they place first, second, third or fourth in that event, they will be eligible for the National Junior Tourney in August in Greensboro, N.C.

Twenty-six boys entered the tournament, one of the summer sports events for young people sponsored by Jaycees of Eastland, Cisco and Ranger. Eight entered the open class. Third place in the open was Ciscoan Bryan Cotton, 89, and fourth place went to Larry Miller of Cisco with a 91. Par for the course is 58.

Mike Childers of Cisco was third in the novice class with an 88. Jim McNally of Burkett was fourth with an 89. All entrants were given golf balls.

Out of the Bowling Bag

The match bowling games with Breck Lanes of Breckenridge were played at Fiesta Bowl on Sunday, May 22. The number one team, The Dodge Boys, came out on top to beat the best from Breckenridge. The number two team, The Fiesta Bowl, also won by a big margin.

The number one ladies team, "Gann's Herefords," won two games and lost one; number two team lost all three games this time, but oh what fun!

We have one bowler who is really improving these last few weeks — Holman Bagwell of Ranger. He rolled a 685 series during the match game and he also rolled 12 strikes in a row which is equal to a perfect 300 game, but it doesn't count as it was bowled in two different games. But what a record and what a fine bowler!

Orman Released On $7,500 Bond

Gus Orman of Cisco, who is appealing a five-year prison sentence for possession of marijuana, was released from the Eastland County jail last Thursday on $7,500 bond after spending ten days behind bars.

A motion asking for a new trial has been denied by District Judge J. Frank Sparks, but Orman and his attorney apparently are in the process of perfecting their appeal. The Cisco Negro pleaded guilty in the 91st Court and was assessed a five-year sentence by Judge Sparks. He was placed in custody on May 16 after Judge Sparks raised the amount of his bond.

Several indictments were quashed and some cases continued because of improperly drawn indictments in action of the court during the week beginning May 16. In several cases, the prosecution was given ten days to redraw indictments.

Most of the cases pertained to DWI, liquor sales and possession violations and personal property damage.

A DWI charge against an 80-year old man was dismissed after the defendant promised not to indulge in alcoholic beverages again.

Three cases were continued on the motion of the state's attorney because the prosecution was not ready due to the absence of material witnesses.

FIVE GOOD REASONS FOR CHOOSING ELECTRIC CENTRAL AIR CONDITIONING

- LOW INITIAL COST An all-electric central air conditioning system for your home costs less to buy. The overwhelming preference for electric air conditioning has resulted in money-saving volume production by manufacturers. Installation cost is lower because of the basic simplicity of the equipment, which requires only one service—electricity—to do the complete job.
 - LOW OPERATING COST Thanks to lower electric rates, the cost of operating residential electric central air conditioning has declined in recent years for customers of Texas Electric Service Company.
 - COOLING EFFICIENCY You stay cool and comfortable in spite of sizzling summer heat. An electric air conditioner, with its efficient compressor, has the reserve power to keep you cool even on hottest summer days.
 - HUMIDITY CONTROL You'll enjoy superior humidity control because the low temperatures of the electric unit's cooling coils wring out dampness. The air in your home stays dryer... you stay more comfortable.
 - PROVED DEPENDABILITY Electric air conditioning operates on the same simple, ruggedly dependable compressor principle as your electric refrigerator. That means extra savings in long life and low maintenance cost of the equipment.
- Thousands of installations throughout this area are proof of the value, efficiency and dependability of electric central air conditioning. If you are planning to buy or build a new home or add cooling to your present central heating system, choose electric central air conditioning. Our air conditioning advisors, or your contractor, will be glad to show you why it is your best investment for summer comfort.

When tap water is used in steam irons, deposits of calcium and other minerals are almost certain to form. These deposits usually lead to sputtering irons, drops of water splattering on clothes and disgruntled housewives.

To correct the problem, follow these simple directions: Dissolve one tablespoon of a non-precipitating, packaged water softener in one cup of distilled or demineralized water. Fill the iron with this solution and let it steam for five to ten minutes, shaking it constantly during this time.

Empty this water and fill the iron with a mixture of two tablespoons distilled white vinegar to one cup distilled water. Let the iron steam five to ten minutes, again shaking constantly. Pour off this water and rinse the iron with distilled or demineralized water.

Don't neglect to shake the iron while you're steaming it clean. This is the secret to success. If this does not completely clean the iron, repeat the procedure.

You should clean your iron every two months to keep it in proper working order. Use only distilled or demineralized water, available at most drug or grocery stores, in steam irons.

Honey Tips
To measure honey — measure shortening first and then measure honey in the same measuring cup — slides out with ease.

To replace other sweetening with honey — In a cake or cookie recipe that calls for other sweetening, the general rule is to reduce the amount of liquid one-quarter cup for each cup of honey used.

To liquify honey that has granulated or solidified — Place the container in a bowl of warm water (not warmer than the hand can bear) until all crystals are melted and honey is liquid. Unless otherwise specified, honey in recipes should be in liquid form. Granulated honey may be used with equal success in baked goods.

To purchase honey — Select the flavor you desire. The flavor depends upon the kind of flowers from which bees gather the nectar. If you have storage space, it is more economical to buy honey in large containers. A cup of honey weighs approximately 12 ounces, one-fifth of which is moisture.

To store honey — Keep liquid honey in a dry place. Freezing does not injure the color or flavor but may hasten granulation. Avoid damp places for storing honey as it has the property of absorbing and retaining moisture. Do not put honey in the refrigerator. Crystallized honey is just as good as liquid honey.

Valedictory
Members of the School Board, members of the faculty, parents, friends, and fellow classmates:

We sincerely wish that we could thank each of you personally for making possible the happiness we feel at having reached this milestone in our lives, but time does not permit. We hope you will feel some of our pride of accomplishment and will know some of the meaning this evening holds for us.

In the past, when we have attended other commencements, we looked forward to the time we would be sitting in the front rows wearing the distinguished caps and gowns. Now, we find it difficult to realize that we are the graduates, and this is our commencement.

We, the graduating class of 1966, are facing important problems and obligations as we take our places in the world. What the world is to be, depends in a great measure on us; on the knowledge we gain in the next few years; on the type of mature adults we become.

SENIOR CLASS WILL
BY DOROTHY EWING

Faculty, underclassmen, and visitors, you have gathered here today to send your seniors further into the world of success and failure, but of course it will be success for us. We, the class of 1966 of Ranger High School, as we leave behind our high school years and take on more responsibility in the land of adulthood, understand your extreme need of our presence. Therefore, having in mind those we leave behind in Ranger High School, we are going to endow them with many of our worthwhile riches. Hereby, we of the senior class, being of sound mind and body, do declare this our last will and testament.

1 — Our great store of memories we take with us to cherish forever.

2 — We leave behind us for other classes to follow, our outstanding record of athletic accomplishments and scholastic achievements that they may marvel at them.

3 — To the faculty we bestow the right to mourn in secret over the passing of the most brilliant class they have ever known. No doubt they realize that never again will such witty, talented, cooperative, studious pupils.

4 — To the furnace we bequeath our textbooks. It is our hope that when the winter winds howl during the coming term, the fire blazing in the furnace will cause a warmth in the rooms of this high school, and will bring a reminder of our happy days here.

5 — To our class sponsors,

Mrs. Hageman, Mr. Carter, and Mr. Dudley, we will our most sincere appreciation and gratitude for their help and wonderful year as seniors.

6 — To the freshmen of next year, we leave our wish for strength to withstand the strain of entering high school, our ability to quickly adjust ourselves to changing conditions, and our brilliance as freshmen — such brilliance as soon attracted the attention of all high school — sometimes to our great embarrassment.

7 — To the present freshmen class we leave a strong wish to labor the rest of your years in high school, stop now. Next year will be too late, for by then you will have developed enough school spirit to rebel our outstanding record, and that, of course, is impossible.

8 — To the sophomore class we leave the title "Upper Classmen" remembering fully well how important we felt on becoming juniors. We also request that the sophomores look up our junior record to follow as a perfect model.

9 — To the juniors we will not only our front seats and our becoming modesty exhibited in this will but also the victorious pride and honor of becoming seniors. During our senior year we have uniquely upheld the senior tradition of honor and pride — much to the junior's regret.

10 — To the school as a whole we leave our class picture in the annual — which is dedicated to us this year — that it may ever be an inspiration to those who gaze upon it, and they will exclaim as they look upon its likeness: "Ah, there was a wonderful senior class."

We, the individuals of the senior class, in remembrance of you, hereby bequeath the following:

I, Guinn Adams, will my quiet ways to Paul Ausburne.

I, Kay Aishman, will a calmer temperament, my red hair, and my freckles to that Janie Clark kid.

I, Don Bunton, will my ability to sleep through four years of high school and still pass to Tom Fox.

I, Cecilia Camacho will my height to Donna Johnston my buck teeth to Charlotte Dunsen, and my quiet and reserved ways to Suzanne Rourke and Jane Pearson.

I, Delia Camacho, will all my jokes to Karen Mince and Frances Revels who have made my senior year so successful.

I, Willie Cantwell, will my deer hunting ability to Bill Watkins.

I, Zuella Carwile, will my 1965-66 hairdos, my 1965-66 boy-friends, and my ability to open my mouth at the wrong time to Ruby Cole.

I, Dan Collins, will to Mrs. Hageman my Neiman-Marcus labels and to Ricky Bryan I leave Gary Poyner.

I, Ellen Cozart, will my little brother Deibert to all the high school and junior high girls because he seems to think they need him.

I, Mary Craig, will Janie Kay Clark and Meekie Ruth Herrington to anyone who wears a size 34 band jacket.

I, Doug Crawley, will my good times on Saturday night and my hard times on Sunday morning to David Speed.

I, Bobby Dempsey will my ability to control my temper and have patience in P.E. to Coach Cumpston.

To be worthy of the responsibility which must necessarily be ours, we must yearn, read, study, evaluate, so that when the time comes, we will be equipped to take our places in life. We must be prepared to be intelligent citizens, informed citizens, so that we may use wisely the tools of democracy.

Certainly, one could say that with this momentous occasion tonight, our class is on the threshold of life. We have tried (with your help) to prepare ourselves for this great step. As we enter this great doorway of life, we carry three lamps of the past to guide us in the future.

We carry Faith as our first lamp. All our strength and force comes from our faith things both seen and unseen.

"He who believes is strong; he who doubts is weak." We carry the lamp of faith that we may know right from wrong, that we may have faith in ourselves and in our judgment. We hope you will have faith, also, in our generation as we step into our places of leadership.

Courage is the second lamp. An echo of long ago wept because he had no more worlds to conquer. How little he knew of life and its endless challenges of worlds still unconquered! We take with us courage to explore these new worlds, courage to face the future, to tackle the peak, and to accept the responsibility.

Our third lamp is Hope — hope for ourselves, for the opportunities we seek, for the contributions we make to life. For the world, we have a God-inspired hope that we may live in peace and unity with our fellowmen.

These then, faith, courage, and hope are the three lamps you have given us to light our paths into the future.

In his last official appearance of the class of 1966, my duty is to say farewell. We say farewell to the Board of Education which has ably directed the school system. As we say farewell to the school you have provided for us, we hope that our future course of action will give you joy, pride, and partly repay you for your endeavor.

To the members of the faculty we say farewell. None of us would have been able to reach the place we occupy tonight had it not been for the understanding and patient ways you guided and molded our minds and characters.

Our appreciation will be lasting and will grow in us even more as the years go by.

To our parents we do not say farewell, but we wish to thank you for making possible such a valuable education. You have sacrificed your own desires, your own interests, to give us every chance possible. As we go forth now into the world to our rightful places, we take advantage of all you have done for us.

Friends, our heart felt thanks go out to you for all the encouragement you have given, the interest you have shown, and the faith you have maintained in us throughout the years.

Lastly, I would like to thank my classmates for their continued and constant friendship. We have worked hard for this position; we have attained our goal, and we know in our hearts it is well worth the effort. To our undergraduate friends we give the challenge that each of them may know the satisfaction of such an occasion as this.

A valedictory speech is to say "farewell," but farewell is too final. Instead, I, for my class of 1966, will merely say "adieu" — which is to say — "until we meet again."

—THANK YOU—

Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Scott, Celeste, Joe Shelby, and Caprice, and Mrs. J. S. McDowell will attend baccalaureate services, senior class luncheon, and graduation exercises for their daughter, Mrs. Dennis Beach in Dallas today. They will return to Ranger on Monday.

GRADE SCHOOLS PLAN LIBRARY SCHEDULES

Beginning Tuesday, May 31, Hodges Oak and Young schools will conduct a program to encourage reading during the summer months.

Through July 15, the libraries will be open during the afternoons to permit students to check out books to read for pleasure.

Much work has been accomplished in these libraries and the schools are anxious to make full use of the facilities while encouraging leisure-time reading.

Students may check out books from the school where they were enrolled the past term; this includes kindergarten. There is no fee for the service but students must furnish address, phone number, and parents permission, submitted on the form available from the librarian.

Beginning Tuesday, the library at Hodges Oak Park will be open from 1 to 4 p.m. each Monday, Wednesday and Thursday. The same hours will be observed at Young on Tuesday and Friday.

In addition to the library, Mrs. Gary Beauchamp will begin a project of remedial reading for children in grades one through eight. This instruction is designed to aid students who have experienced difficulty in reading skills, children who might benefit from additional reading experience.

Students will report for voluntary classes on Tuesday afternoon, and will follow a scheduled pattern of study.

Salutatorian

Faculty members, Board of Education, friends, parents, and classmates: As Salutatorian for this year's graduating class, I am pleased and honored to extend greetings. I bid you welcome and am happy that you are sharing this high moment with us. As we, the Senior Class of 1966, graduate from Ranger High School, we realize that we could never have attained this important step, this significant hour had it not been for your help and guidance. We wish to express our hearty appreciation for all the help and encouragement you have given us these past years. Perhaps it is only natural that we think of our teachers first, for they have been our friends as well as our instructors. We wish to salute our teachers, for they have tried to encourage the good in us, and develop our individual possibilities. They have endeavored long through extra hours to prepare us for the next vital step: that of finding our places in tomorrow's world. As we take our places in the future, we shall try with diligence to benefit others as others have benefited us. We owe special thanks to our sponsors, our principal, and our superintendent for their faithful guidance and splendid leadership rendered so effectively this year. Another group who deserve special recognition and who have been guiding instruments behind our activities and efforts the past twelve years is our efficient Board of Education. We truly hope that some day we may repay you in kind with outstanding achievements and noteworthy undertakings as we take our places in the world. We thank you for your consideration and generous application of your wisdom. Deserving strong salutation are our friends. They are a varied sort. The townspeople, the businessmen, all who backed us in all we did — to them we say thanks. The crowds who cheered our games, applauded our concerts, and flocked to our activities, the janitors, the bus drivers, the cooks in the cafeterias — to these and all others who supported us in any way we wish to say: it could not have been possible without you. Merely a cordial thank you would hardly seem just or appropriate to our parents. A casual thank you would never be enough, weighed in the balance of the nameless opportunities our families have afforded us, the hours, days, and years of dedicated service given us, directing us toward this cherished occasion. We sincerely hope that we have exemplified in part and warranted in portion, some of your highest expectations. For as Goethe said: "Expect great things from people and you leave them nobler than they were before." — you, our parents, have personified this maxim for us. Without your vigilant direction and conscientious concern toward our personal betterment, few of us would be present here this evening. It is for these things, and for the countless kindnesses left unrecited that we salute you, Mother and Dad. Classmates, we may say farewell but there is no farewell among us, for we will forever be held together in mutual appreciation of all the good things we have shared together in dear old RHS. The diplomas we are about to receive represent four years of painstaking effort, but we know that this task has not been in vain. We know that from our school we have gleaned the necessary tools of trade as we reach for tomorrow, that from these honored halls will continue to go forth some of the best trained men and women, leaders and citizens the world will ever know. Tonight, the Senior Class of 1966, as such, will cease to exist. Tomorrow, we begin to record our accomplishments, write our histories, and make our ways in life. Whether we succeed or fail depends largely on what we have absorbed here. No matter where our lives may lead, there is one thing the Seniors of 1966 will hold in common — the favorable influence that you, our teachers, friends, parents, classmates and school have transmitted to us during the years spent here. We trust that what we have learned and experienced in high school, with your help, will aid us in leading better lives and being better citizens. As we go different ways in our lives to come we will be held together by the common possession of principles and ideals taught in this school. It is for these reasons that we, the Senior Class of 1966, salute each of you for helping us to achieve this goal that we have reached tonight. —Thank You— Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Williams of Jacksboro and Mrs. Herbert Williams and daughter were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Williams. E4 Jerald Varner has returned to Fort Hood after a visit with relatives in Ranger. Mrs. Dorothy Harris is in Sweetwater, to attend graduation exercises for her granddaughter, Jill Guest. Butch Owen, student at NTSU, is spending the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Owen. He will return to Denton on June 2, to register for the summer semester.

Should You Become A Librarian?

By EARLENE MOORE Are you still puzzled and undecided about your professional career or have you just given up and decided that there is no specific field that you would like as your career? Have you considered being a professional librarian? Dorothy Linn, head librarian of Cooper Library, Ranger Junior College, maintains that librarianship is an excellent career which is quite often overlooked, because people know little about it. Many people think librarians are strictly prim, stern ladies, whose main jobs are to sit at a desk and check books in and out and to warn youngsters to observe "No Talking" signs. This is believed to be a factor which now contributes to the shortage of librarians. "Librarianship is a modern profession," Miss Linn pointed out. She says that it is relatively new and has grown very fast to keep pace with the phenomenal expansion of our libraries. The basic career requirement is four years in college leading to a bachelor's degree, followed by one year at one of the thirty-five accredited library schools for a master's degree in library science. The library is not the place for those mainly interested in making a fortune, though salaries are at a level for which no apology is needed and compare favorably with those in other professions allied with teaching and social service. A library school graduate, with out experience, receives $4,250 in some parts of the country; chief librarians in major cities may receive as much as $16,000. The library has high standards. It deserves and demands the best, but in return it gives rewards beyond any counting in money. Miss Linn also said that to be a good librarian you must like books and people and you must be able to like books with people. She stressed the need of a wide range of knowledge, for with it the "future is unlimited." If you are a good student and have a respect for knowledge, the chances are that you will make a good librarian. Librarianship offers an uncrowded field, challenging service, continuing education, diversity of work, personal growth, intellectual stimulation and companionship with books. If science is your hobby, but do not want to be an engineer or technician; if you are interested in law, but do not want to practice it; if you love music, but do not compose it; if you like history, but do not want to teach it, it is possible that you will find much satisfaction in a library career. Assistant librarian of Ranger Junior College is Mrs. Eva Bobo of Ranger. Mrs. Bobo was born in Comanche, Texas, and attended Comanche County Public Schools. She attended North Texas State University to get her B. S., and finished at Hardin Simmons to get her master's degree. She taught the first grade in public schools for 42 years, 20 of them in Ranger. She retired from public schools in 1961 and started her own kindergarten. Mrs. Bobo's opinion about the help needed to be given to a kindergarten student compared with that to a college student is this: Kindergarten are more helpless, but college students also need help. She said, "I am happy working with people and am willing to help college students with their work in the library when they need assistance." Class Prophecy When I was assigned the class prophecy I didn't have a single idea as to what my classmates would be doing in ten, fifteen, or twenty years. That night, I started thinking. I suppose I thought about it so much I dreamed about the future. I found myself at Ranger Airport boarding a rocket for Mars. When the passengers had been seated, the captain told us that we would be in Mars in only a matter of hours. By each seat there was a daily newspaper. I decided to find out what was happening in this extremely extraordinary world. The date on the paper was May 17, 1966. On the front page I noticed two very unusual articles. One was from Austin, Texas. Governor Jim my Ratliff had conferred the previous day with Speaker of the House Gary Smith and President of the Senate Doug Crawley regarding the building of 30,000 miles of highway across the Atlantic Ocean in the near future. Chief engineer David Mahaffey and his assistant Heulon Perrin, who will have charge of the construction of the watery highway, were also present at the conference. The second article concerned the appointment of Ronald Tomlinson as editor of the Saturday Evening Post. She plans to feature the stories of Cecilia Camacho. These stories are the true to life adventures of her last five years on the edge of a desert in Africa. As I looked through the paper, I found many familiar names. In the field of education I noticed that Alberino Garcia had worked out a new plan whereby children can master arithmetic without bothering to learn the multiplication tables. Needless to say, his system is extremely popular with both teachers and pupils. There were many names I knew on the social page. Bertha Hernandez had gone to New York, then on to Europe to study voice. Her recitals were given great publicity by the Soviet Russian newspapers. The great pianist Verganna Goswick has agreed to play for one of the civic clubs in Ranger. To do this she has canceled her 30th appearance in Carnegie Hall. I see here where the boile of our graduating class has become First Lady. I'm sure you all remember Marilyn Nash. Her private secretaries are none other than Cathy Rogers and Nancy Veale. And here is the author of the latest best seller "Gone With the Garbage". No book has ever had such a phenomenal sale. And Zuelia Carwile never uses a typewriter in writing one of her books. She writes it all in long hand, and gives most of the credit to the brand of pencil she uses — the pencil that thinks for you invented by Thee Hale. Sherry Sullivan, famous for her cooking and original recipes, has just written her own authoritative cook book "How to Feed on Less than Nothing." Oh, there is a new lightweight champion Lee Roy Pearson. He knocked out the heavy weight champ in a half round last night. I also see where it has just been announced that Johnny McGee will be the new head football coach at the University of Texas. Joel Jimenez is leaving tomorrow from his multimillion dollar home in Ranger for the Antarctic to take charge of the uranium mines being established there. Universal Soap Laboratories will soon put on the market a new cleaning fluid taking the place of all soap. Whale blubber is the principal ingredient, it is said, and is a product of the work of the famous chemist Debbie Johnston. The award for scientific service is to be awarded to Willie Cantwell. That little bundle of brains discovered a way to extract energy from a snowflake and make enough electric current to light a flashlight. Will wonders never cease? Dr. Dan Collins has just opened his office in Dallas. It is said that his offices are among the most elegant in the world. I also notice where Dixie Hodges will be his medical technician.

Carol Drennan is the first woman ever appointed Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States. Her first move after she was appointed was to have the Supreme Court bench repainted and redecorated. I, Marilyn Nash, will my cheerleading skirt to Gary Willingham. I, Roy Pearson, will my ability to throw a golf club without breaking it to Coach Smith. I, Heulon Perrin, will Vicki Hatton to Bill Clark. I, Jimmy Ratliff, will my fire-fighting ability and my spot on the Volunteer Fire Department to Jimmy Watkins. I, Cathy Rogers, will all my touchdowns to the Bulldogs next year so maybe they can win more games and my get-up-and-go to Betty McKelvain because I think her get-up-and-go got up and left. I, Sandra Saint, will my ability to be class genius to Jimmy Watkins. I, Gary Smith will to Mrs. Hagaman all the luck in the world to get me out of her class. I, Latoria Stephens will all my Texas History notes to Mary Lou White. I, Sherry Sullivan will my thick straight hair to Mr. Dudley my knobbed knees to JoAnn Hamilton, and Dicky Drewes to Mr. Fox. I, Ronda Tomlinson, will my excellent American Government and Texas History grades to Mary Lou White. Maybe she can improve them. I, Nancy Veale, will all my nicknames to anyone who can stand them, my giggle to Betty McKelvain, and my straight red hair, my freckles and my striped polka-dot hose to Midge Williams. I, Jack Watson will one-third of my height to Phil Brown so he can join the tall boys in the junior class and my ability to be a senior to my brother, Jerry Watson. In witness whereof we have hereunto set our hand and seal this 17th day of May 1966.

Class Will I, Carol Drennan, will my long dark eyelashes to Suzanne Rouke in hopes that they will help her flirt. I, David Dunson, will my slow temper and my ability to get along with others to Coach Cumpton, and also my peanut shovel to Coach Duke, and my beetle wig and elevated shoes to Coach Smith. I, Dorothy Ewing, will my ability to keep quiet in class and my ability to get along with the teachers to Frances Revels who seems to need some help in some of these areas. I, Al Garcia, will my smile and ability to laugh at almost everything to Mr. Dudley. I, Billy Gideon, will my height to Miss McEver. She needs it. I, Verganna Goswick, will my ability to stay on probation in the Beta Club to Tommy Brasher. I, Eddie Greer, will my ability to stick people with tacks and then look innocent to Preston Sunday. I, Theo Hale will my goat-roping ability to Brad White. I, Bertha Hernandez, will my good behavior to Doug Needham and my quiet ways to Becky Adams. I, Gary Hise, will my ability to cheat off other people without getting caught to Frances Revels. I, Alice Hodges, will my ability to keep calm in a crisis to Bob McKelvain and my ability to lild my temper in FTA meetings to Bobby Daskevich. I, Dixie Hodges, will Paul Ausburne to anyone who can live through the experience without having a nervous breakdown. I, Joel Jimenez, will my ability to behave in Mrs. Jameson's class to Russell Hill, Ronnie Guley, Kenneth Collins, and James Langford and my steel comb to Mr. Dudley. I, Debbie Johnston, will the space between my teeth to Ann Ratliff, my ability to write second-rate poetry to Mr. Dudley, and my bongos to Miss McEver. I, David, Mahaffey, will my quiet ways and my even temper on the basketball court to Charlie Orms. I, Johnny McGee, will my thick black hair and all my bottles of Mr. Clean to Coach Smith. I, Marilyn Nash, will my cheerleading skirt to Gary Willingham. I, Roy Pearson, will my ability to throw a golf club without breaking it to Coach Smith. I, Heulon Perrin, will Vicki Hatton to Bill Clark. I, Jimmy Ratliff, will my fire-fighting ability and my spot on the Volunteer Fire Department to Jimmy Watkins. I, Cathy Rogers, will all my touchdowns to the Bulldogs next year so maybe they can win more games and my get-up-and-go to Betty McKelvain because I think her get-up-and-go got up and left. WALTER DANIELS COMPLETES 30 YEARS WITH LONE STAR Mrs. Daniels retired from teaching in 1964, and keeps busy with home making, church and club work, being a good neighbor, and enjoying a few hobbies. On April 30, 1966, Mr. Daniels surrendered the keys of his truck to a fellow workman and announced that he was going to sleep late on the morning of May 1. When a reporter visited them later in the week, they were, as always, enjoying life and the wonderful idea of having time to plan activities without thought of alarm clock or calendar. This couple know the difference between relaxation and retirement, and they intend to find that "happy medium." Miss Pamela Sue Davelin, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Horton, will receive her diploma from Robert Lee High School in San Antonio this week. Mrs. Lillian Smith plans to leave this weekend for a visit with relatives in Snyder.
