Cable franchise changes owners

Dimmitt's aldermen approved Monday the transfer of ownership of the city's cable franchise from CATV, Inc. to Lewis Communications of Colorado.

Jack Miller, president of CATV, told the aldermen that CATV had been looking for someone to purchase CATV holdings in Dimmitt and elsewhere.

"We were very selective and particular in our search. Lewis Communications has a lot of technical expertise and financing, and we feel they will do a fine job," Miller said.

Lewis Communications is a limited partnership, headed by Robert Lewis. Lewis formed the company in September, and currently operates systems in Wray, Colorado, and St. Francis and Bird City, Kansas. For eight years, Lewis was President, Chief Operating Officer, and Director of Jones Intercable, Inc. The company grew from 10,000 subscribers to nearly 400,000. Lewis was responsible for acquiring and evaluating approximately $240 million in cable systems.

Prior to his joining Jones Intercable, Lewis was in various management positions with Cablecom-General, Inc., now a part of Capital Cities Communications, Inc. He was elected, in September, 1971. President, Chief Operaating Officer, and Director of Cablecom, until he resigned in 1975.

Lewis will be joined in the partnership by James F. (Pete) Collins, the minority shareholder, and Ken Kendall. regional manager. Kendall has been operations supervisor for CATV for nine years, and will oversee the day-to-day operations of the systems.

Lewis told the aldermen Monday that the city's cable system will be expanding in the near future, with USA Network, featuring family and sports programming, The Nashville Network, featuring a variety of entertainment programming, and the Disney Channel, providing premium family programming service, to be added.

"We'll continue upgrading the local system," Lewis said. "We have learned that service will be the real key to our success, and we will try to provide the finest service available."

Lewis said he plans to keep all employees currently working for CATV, and will relocate out of the offices of Schaeffer. Sutton and Schaeffer in the coming weeks.

Effective date of the transfer is Nov. 30.

The aldermen approved a raise in the city's motel-hotel occupancy tax from 3% to 7% effective Dec. 1.

business representatives met Saturday night in Dimmitt to lay the groundwork for the Texas Agricultural Energy Users Association fight to control rural energy rates in Texas.

Heading the TAEUA effort in Austin will be lobbyist Bill Clayton, a Springlake farmer and former four-term speaker of the Texas House of Representatives.

Clayton told the audience Saturday that an energy fight 22 years ago whetted his political appetite.

"We went down there (to Austin) 22 years ago to fight a similar battle, and lost by one vote," Clayton said. Clayton pointed out in-fighting at that time between the North Plains Gas Users Association and the Association that dealth a death blow to the 1962 effort.

In the 1960's, many North Plains Gas Users had their own gas contract with Emerald Gas Co., providing energy at a much cheaper rate than almost anyone else in the state. "Most of the gas is not as good as it was 20 years ago," Clayton explained. "We expect that group, and any other groups that may have been opposed to those earlier efforts to stand behind us this time around."

Clayton and others pointed out that TAEUA is not going to be taking on any single company, but is seeking "fair regulations, with no harsh restriction. We are simply seeking a public forum, where these companies will have to provide justification for rate

All of the cities in this region recently held hearings on a rate increase from Energas, and we want a similar forum.

Clayton said energy companies are already joining together to fight the TAEUA

"Everyone, including the big oil companies, will be in Austin to fight us," Clayton said. "They're already aware of what we're trying to do. I would almost bet there will be a price decrease between now and Jan. 1, just to thwart our effort, and if they do decrease the price, we'll want a public forum to determine why they were able to decrease that cost."

Two male juveniles were identified as the suspects in the burglary Nov. 14 of the Margarito Garza home at 609 W. Andrews and the burglary last Thursday of the Jody Watts home at 107 NW 5th. Firearms were taken at both residences and police were concerned that some of the weapons had been loaded.

Nazareth held off the Mustangs, 20-14, last year in Memphis. And, like the Swifts, Wheeler has some key people back from last year's unit.

Tailback Toby Collins, who scored once on the Swifts last season, is back to lead the Mustang offense, along with quarterback Steven Snapp. Snapp was the backup signalcaller a year ago, but was pressed into action against the "They'll just line up and come right at us," said Nazareth coach Rex Minshew.

"They won't do a lot of fancy stuff, and they probably won't try to throw much. In fact, they'll just about mirror us on offense."

Wheeler will be one of the best even-up matches for the Swifts this year, with a front line that averages close to 200 pounds-per-man.

"Wheeler's a good football team, but they're not great," said Minshew. "They've got a little more experience than they did last year, and they've got good tradition."

"Anybody who misses this one will be missing a good game," Minshew said. "If it's possible, it may be even closer than last week's game (20-20 tie with Whiteface). I hope it's not - I hope we win it on points."

YOU CELEBRATE A TIE BY WINN-ING-That's what the Nazareth Swifts did Saturday night in Sudan, as they upended Whiteface in a District 2-A zone playoff. The Swifts and Antelopes tied, 20-20, but the Swifts had a 5-3 edge in penetrations. Here, Thanksgiving Greetings! It is great to be a Christian! The Community Thanksgiving Service sponsored by the Castro County Ministerial Alliance was held at the First United Methodist Church on Sunday evening with a record attendance. Marie Winders and Cindy Reynolds were the organist and pianist. The Bell Choir presented the call to worship, Rev. Wendy Downing of the First United Methodist Church gave the welcome.

The flag presentation was by the Royal Ambassador chapter from the First Baptist Church under the direction of Brian Davis. Joe Higgs of First Baptist Church directed the hymns of praise, Father Norman Boyd of the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church read the scripture, the invocation was given by Rev. Steve Ulrey of the First United Methodist Church in Hart. Rev. Ed Freeman of the Presbyterian Church introduced all the pastors and churches represented.

Responsive reading was led by Rev. Ronnie Travis with Lee Street Baptist Church. The offertory prayer was given by Rev. Wayne Mullin of the Church of God of Prophecy.

Rev. Tom and Linda Mullins with the Assembly of God Church thrilled the audience with their music. Minister Terry Griffith of the First Christian Church introduced the speaker, Rev. Vernon. O'Kelly, pastor of First United Methodist Church. He gave such a flowery introduction that when Rev. O'Kelly got up to speak he said he didn't recognize that he was introducing him! Rev. Cecil H. Golden of the First Baptist Church offered the dismissal prayer.

It was a great evening worshipping with other Christians.

A snack supper of sandwiches, chips and dips, and cookies was served in Fellowship Hall following the service.

An error was made last week in my column. Here is the correction: Nathan Boone's granddaughter, Netta Zumwalt Maxwell, was the late Troy Maxwell's grandmother, not his granddaughter, and she was the great granddaughter of Daniel Boone, not his granddaughter. Netta Zumwalt Maxwell and Sam Maxwell were Troy Maxwell's grandparents.

Phoebe Claborn, Letha Messenger, and Fay Kenmore were honored with a birthday luncheon last Friday at K-Bob's in Hereford. Others attending were Oleada Hance, Gladys Leeth, Maurine Henderson, Lorena Cates, Ruby Ramsey, and Betty Renfro of Amarillo.

Martha and Jake Isaacs and C. A. and Oleada Hance attended the first production of the year for the Amarillo College Theatre Dept. Saturday night. It was "Amadeus" and they enjoyed it very much. It was directed by Terrel Lewis and it was fun to visit with him and other friends of Jeff Isaacs from Amarillo College.

The Chamber of Commerce Breakfast was a big success again this year in spite of the inclement weather and the early hour. Louise Mears and I went at 7:30 a.m. and stayed until 10:30. Bob and Sue Caddell, Michelle and Melanie from Canyon were there

Jim and Robertha Bagwell entertained some of their relatives in their home recently: Grace Marie Holland from Midland, Marianne Bishop and Christopher from Odessa, Darla Kay Sralla and Timothy from Elk City, Okla., Pauline Rothwell Bates from Plainview and Christine Bell from Perryton. They all enjoyed the get

The Dimmitt Book Club met on Wednesday at the Rhoads Memorial Library for their annual Silver Tea with Ronda Wise presiding over the business meeting. Myrtle Lois Moran introduced her guest reviewer, Mrs. Virginia Holmes of Hereford, who reviewed the book "The Far Side of Victory," by Joanne Greenberg. Hostesses were: Sara Hill, Mona Merritt, Walter Maynard, Michelle Bell, who served party cakes and coffee from a table decorated with two Pilgrims in a colorful wreath flanked by candles and pine cones.

Cleo Forson had company over the weekend. Her two stepdaughters, Claudine Cowell and husband Earl, from Dewey, Ariz., Natalie Sanders and husband Buck, from Lubbock, and stepson Kenneth Forson and his wife Doris from Lubbock. Also visiting were a granddaughter Elizabeth Soreson and husband Lane, and two sons from Hereford.

Susie Reeves was hostess to the Thursday Bridge Club which met at the Senior Citizens Center for a delicious lunch and a day of bridge. Susie won high score and Cleo Forson was second. Others playing were Louise Mears, Josie Bradford, Jo Gregory, Evie Froehner, Loranell Hamilton, Dude, Helen Richardson, Elizabeth Huckabay, Jean Christian, and Alice Collyer.

Carolyn Copeland was hostess for the Friday Bridge Club which met at the Senior Citizens Center. Jennie Miller won high score and Gladiola Shipley won second high. Others playing were Josie Bradford, Retta Cluck, Dorothy Elder, Cletha George, and Ruth Coleman.

Seven tables of the Duplicate Bridge Club met at the Civic Center in Hereford for an evening of bridge and to honor Jennie Miller, Faun Welker, and Tina Rawlings on their birthdays. They served chips and dips and cake and John and Sue Merritt entertained the Dimmitt Dinner Bridge Club with a Thanksgiving dinner, serving turkey and dressing and all the good trimmings. Those enjoying the evening were: Aural Davis, Russel and Myrtle Lois Moran, Ralph and Avis Smith, Harold and Shirley Stephens, Charles and Esta Vandiver, Ted and Dorothy Sheffy. Their son, Johnny Merritt, came by from a meeting at Hereford and ate with the group.

Rev. Bedford and Elsie Smith went to Knox City to help Elsie's father, L. W. Graham, celebrate his 97th birthday. Several family members and friends were there to wish him 'Happy Birthday.'

The Smiths came home and had to return to Knox City for the funeral of a sister-in-law, Mrs. Jeff Graham. Mr. Graham was a retired postmaster and Mrs. Graham had been a postal clerk.

Susie Reeves, Nelle Newton, Fay Varner, and Oma Stokes were among the 37 who went on the Chamber of Commerce bus trip to Dallas to watch the football game between the Dallas Cowboys and the New York Giants. They stayed at the Sheraton Grand Hotel where the Giants were staying, so of course they got several autographs. The group went shopping and to a show. They saw Brenda Andrews who has moved from Dimmitt to Dallas. Ruby Broadstreet entertained in her home with a baby shower for Barbara Sears. The hostesses presented Barbara a car seat, a baby book, and a five-piece gift set. The register table held an arrangement in a miniature bassinet. The centerpiece for the serving table was a pretty cake decorated with tiny baby shoes, safety pins, rattles, and other baby items, all made from icing of course. Lemon punch and lime punch, nuts and mints were served with the cake squares. Those present and sending gifts were: Gerri Chaney, Valerie Cooksey, Kathy Waller, Oleta Raper, Ann Mayhew, Brenda Black, Deanna Birdwell, Nelle Newton, Pat Glidewell, Elaine Broadstreet, Ruby Broadstreet, Tommie Poteet, Teresa Parsons and Shawn, Fannie Broadstreet, Fay Varner, Mary Jo Birdwell, and Mary Edna Hendrix.

Chuck Braafladt took his wife, Patricia, to Levelland to help her celebrate her birthday. They saw the Amarillo Sandies (their alma mater) play the Dimmitt Bobcats in a scrimmage game.

Charles and Jill McLean took their daughter to High Plains Baptist Hospital one day last week with an ear infection.

Susie Reeves went with her sister to Kingfisher, Okla., to visit a niece. Before returning home she spent several days with her mother in Amarillo.

Virgil and Geneva Justice attended the Bingham family reunion on Thursday and Friday at Wolfforth in the home of Mrs. M. K. Bingham. Four sisters and one brother were there: Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Bingham of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Keeton also of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Keeton of Post, Mr. C. B. Keeton of Oklahoma City and Rev. and Mrs. Fay Rogers of Post and a host of nieces and nephews. They all enjoyed a meal and then gathered around the piano for a sing-

Four former employees of South Hills Manor drove to Yukon, Okla., recently to spend the weekend with another former employee. Geneva Justice, the former owner and manager, Walter Maynard, bookkeeper, Joyce Adrian, director of nurses, and Dorothy Musick, social and activities director, visited Delores Gilliland, the former administrator. They reported sleeping very little, eating a lot, going shopping and on Sunday morning they all attended church.

Betty Patterson from Kerrville and Odus Hastings from Grand Junction, Colo., have been visiting friends and relatives in Dimmitt. They were having dinner with Millicent Davis on Sunday. Betty was excited to show the cute pictures of her grandson, Lonnie Joe and his wife's baby. Elzie and Sarena Teague's daughter, Vernell Byer, called from her home in San Rafael, Calif., last week to tell them Dr. Frank Pollard would be preaching in her church on Sunday. She was just as excited on Sunday afternoon as she called her parents again to tell them what a great preacher she thinks Dr. Pollard is, after having heard him preach. The subject of his sermon was "Putting People Up" and his scripture was found in Ephesians 4:29-32. Dr. Pollard was the pastor of First Baptist Church in Dimmitt for two years but he is now president of the Golden Gate Seminary in Mills Valley, Calif. We called him Bro. Frank, so Dr. Pollard sounds too formal!

The Teagues went to Tulia for the funeral of a cousin, Albert

Cecil and Ella Oglesby, former Dimmitt residents, from Hereford were guests in the Baptist Church services on Sunday morning. Cecil spoke for the Gideons, a Christian organization.

We extend our sympathy to the W. E. Thorntons on the death of their son-in-law, Don Helmcke, the husband of their oldest daughter, Irene. The Thorntons and their other daughter, Susan, all flew to Clearfield. Utah for the service.

tions County Extension Agent Seth Ralston.

The rush to harvest, coupled with recent weather patterns, is creating some major problems across the South Plains. Elston Grubaugh, agricultural engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Lubbock, has reported that several gins have received modules too wet to run through module feeding equipment.

Green material in the modules also damages the lint and seed, causing loss of revenue to the producer, Ralston warned.

The weather pattern this year has caused many fields to shed a lot of leaves and the remaining leaves to blacken. Many such fields are being harvested. These plants are still alive, and there is still a lot of green material in them. In some places, regrowth is starting. to occur. Harvesting of these fields is resulting in a tremendous number of hot modules. Crops in areas which haven't received a killing freeze need to be killed before harvest, stressed Ralston. Over most of this area, a quart of arsenic acid will finish off the crop. After this application, seven to ten days must be allowed for plant material to dry down before strip-

Plant material and lint going into a module must be below 12% moisture content or that module will heat from internal combustion. Modules should be frequently checked by inserting a temperature probe in at least three places down each side, Ralston advised. A rapid overnight temperature rise of 15-20 degrees indicates the module has excessive moisture. If the temperature rises to 120 degrees or higher during a two to three day period, a very 'sick' module is indicated.

Hot modules will cause cotton to be downgraded to B-G and result in excessive ginning cost. They also will ruin the cotton seed in them.

"A temperature of 120 degrees in a module will cut the germination percentage to zero in just a couple of days," the county agent said. He added that in much of the cotton now being harvested the seed is too immature to be of use to the delinter. Seed should be dark, hard and dry at harvest, he noted.

The county agent suggested some rules of thumb a producer can use to judge whether cotton is dry enough to harvest and put into a module

One is the boll test. If the plant has a number of unopened bolls, squeeze one. If it pops open, the boll would open by itself it if had enough time.

Another is the lint test. Squeeze a ball of lint in your hand. If it stays wadded up when you release the pressure it's too wet; it's more than 12% moisture. If it springs back and fluffs up, it's probably dry enough to harvest.

Since lint should be below 12% moisture at harvest, the relative humidity of the air at harvest should be less than 65%, the agent advised. "Don't begin harvesting too early in the day," he cautioned.

MORE than 700,000 people are injured each year in alcohol-related accidents — 74,000 of them seriously.

By JERRY MARVIN HANNERS

Today, communities of all sizes throughout the world are seeking new industry as a remedy for economic aches and Dimmitt is only one of location of MCC. thousands that have recognized the contribution of industry to their economic base. For example, in 1983, the Amstar Corporation paid 15% of all county taxes paid in Castro County. The corporation paid 24% of all Dimmitt School District taxes and 44% of all Dimmitt City taxes. A total of $714,300 was paid to local taxing entities by this one industry in one year. It is estimated that the plant contributes more than $5 million monthly to the local and area economy.

It makes sense to believe that when our economic base needs a "shot-in-the-arm," we should simply recruit another taxpaying industry. It is easy to say what we need, the problem is how do we get it?

We must begin by asking ourselves these questions: Is this a place where industry would like to locate? Can we meet the needs of industry? Can we meet and beat the competition?

Let's consider the question · doves of competition first. Statistics say that for every industry castles that is actually seeking a site for location, there are at least 30 to 40 communities actively pursuing that industry. The community that wins the contest must prove that it is the best of all possible locations for that industry.

> Here is an example. Microelectronics and Computer Technology Corporation, a high-tech consortium, earlier this year announced its plans to locate in Austin. MCC considered 57 cities in 27 states before choosing Austin. How did Austin do it? Here is just part of the package promised by Austin and the state of

MAIL AND PHONE ORDER PROTECTION NOT THE SAME

Many mail-order companies now offer toll-free telephone numbers for easy ordering. "Using the telephone may seem more convenient than ordering by mail, but it's also riskier, since phone orders are not covered by the Federal Trade Commission's mail order rule," says Extension home economist Nancy L. Granovsky. The mail-order-rule - which applies only to orders placed through the mail, or shipped through the mail - requires companies to ship your order, she explains. If the company must delay shipment, the mail order laws require that you be notified and allowed either to give your consent, or cancel your order for a full refund. When you order by phone, however, you aren't covered by this rule and you assume responsibility for merchandise that is not delivered or is

Oklahoma City is new home for Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Ferguson are at home in Oklahoma City, Okla., following their honeymoon trip to Red River, N.M., after their Oct. 27 wedding.

The bride is the former Keri Hodges, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hodges of Panhandle, and formerly of Dimmitt. She is also the granddaughter of Beral Hance of Dimmitt. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ferguson of Hampton, Va.

Rev. Steve Vernon officiated at the ceremony in the First Baptist Church of Panhandle.

Serving as matron of honor was Mrs. Richard Bowersock of Wichita Falls, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Mindy Ferguson of Hampton, Va., sister of the groom, and Mrs. Dave Smith of Plano.

The father of the groom served as best man. Groomsmen were Boyd Hodges of Tulia, brother of the bride, and Dean Hirschy of Oklahoma City. Ushers were Richard Bowersock of Wichita Falls, Ron Hance of Lubbock, cousin of the bride, and Boyd Hodges.

Organist for the ceremony was Mrs. Douglas Smith. Mrs. Bing Seal sang "Longer Thou," "The Wedding Song," and "God, A Woman and A Man," accompanied by Zan Walker on the guitar.

Cousins of the bride Paige Compton and Susan Hance sat at the registry.

The bride wore a formallength gown of white Quiana ®, fashioned with a Victorian neckline edged in Venice lace. The same lace formed appliques on the sheer yoke of the empire bodice. Appliques were also scattered along the full angel sleeves of shirnet, which was edged with lace at the cuff line. The A-line skirt flowed into a chapellength train. Edged in lace, the chapel-length veil of illusion was attached to a pearl tiara, which had been worn by the

The feminine attendants wore floor-length gowns of dusty rose satin, and carried bouquets in shades of rose and

A tree candelabra flanked by spiral candelabras holding wedding tapers decorated the altar. On either side were flower arrangements in shades of dusty rose.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. De Holliman. Guests were registered by Mary Ann Holliman.

A white linen cloth with lace inserts covered the table. The wedding cake was formed in four tiers and decorated with roses, wedding bells and fresh flowers. Three satin wedding bells topped it off.

Marzipan fruit decorated the groom's cake. Various buffet foods and condiments were

(Continued from Page 1) previous burglary, and observed that this is the fourth or fifth time his department has dealt with the youths for criminal activity.

"And now they're back out on the streets," Franklin stated. They have been remanded to the custody of their parents until they can be referred to the juvenile authorities.

Four other incidents involving burglary and theft have been attributed to three female juveniles, two of whom have been apprehended, according to Franklin.

Items taken include clothing. household articles, small furniture and bathroom articles taken from the home of Sylvia Jouett at 301-B NW 5th; a tape player and tapes, assorted tools and bathroom articles removed from a mobile home located on the north side of the Colonial Inn Motel; tapes taken from a car; and two bicyles taken from the home of James Killough at 623 NW

"These three have a history of running away from home and having trouble at school, but this is their first criminal involvement, as far as we know," Franklin said. He noted that they are 14, 15 and 16 years of age. The majority of items taken in all of the incidents have been recovered, according to Franklin.

80% of crime by juveniles

By LINDA MAXWELL

"Over 80% of the felony crimes committed in Dimmitt are attributable to juveniles," Dimmitt Police Chief Don Franklin remarked Monday in the wake of a series of burglaries solved recently, which involved two groups of juveniles.

Two house burglaries in which over $8,000 in property was stolen, including several loaded firearms, involved two male juveniles who were on probation for a previous burglary.

They have been apprehended three or four other times for criminal activity, according to Franklin, and yet they are back out on the streets - on "probation" again.

Franklin said that in informal probation, on which he youths had been placed, they are generally required to pay restitution for any damage done and must observe a curfew, usually 8 or 9 p.m.

"This type of so-called 'punishment' does not constitute an effective deterrent to juveniles like this who have been caught time and time again," Franklin declared.

He observed that the juvenile probation department also has their hands tied by "recent tremendous changes in the juvenile justice system."

"Whatever is being done now is obviously not enough. Something is definitely wrong somewhere," Franklin remark-

With an 80% clearance rate for crimes, Franklin said he feels the problem lies with the system after his department releases the juveniles.

"We have some of the best kids anywhere, don't get me wrong, but the few who need different handling are definitely a problem for our community," Franklin stated.

He related the crime problem to what Joe Wilkerson and others are trying to do in getting a youth center and youth programs started in Dimmitt.

"If we get the counselling center facilities we want in connection with the program, we think kids could get help with problems like this before it's too late," Franklin said.

The burglary at the Garza residence was reported at 9:45 p.m. when Garza returned home. Entry had been gained through a bedroom window, which the male juveniles had broken. Firearms taken included a handgun, one shotgun and three hunting rifles. Binoculars, a hunting knife, and two radios were also taken.

The Watts burglary was reported at 1 p.m. by Mrs. Watts as she returned home for lunch. After trying unsuccessfully to gain entry through a kitchen window, the youths apparently kicked open the back door of the residence. Three shotguns, three handguns and two rifles were taken, along with a video cassette recorder and several tapes, a video game and cartridges, a radio and several miscellaneous household items.

In other law enforcement activity this past week, a 20-yearold Dimmitt man was arrested Sunday for unlawful carrying of a weapon. Monday, a Lubbock man, 33, was jailed to serve time on traffic warrants in lieu of paying the fines. Last Thursday, a 39-year-old Hereford man was jailed on a violation of probation warrant, which was subsequently cleared.

Operation Christmas to benefit merchants

Although the turnout was light, merchants were very receptive to the Operation Christmas Season program set forth by the Dimmitt Police Dept. in a meeting last week.

Police Chief Don Franklin said part of the program will include foot patrols by uniformed officers in retail stores in the downtown area during the holiday shopping season in an effort to discourage forgery, hot checks and shoplifting.

Another aspect of the program will be the establishment of a Merchant Watch program, similar to the Neighborhood Watch program. Signs will be posted saying, "This business is a member of the Merchant Watch and will report any suspicious persons or activities to fellow merchants and to the police department."

The police also asked merchant cooperation in allowing barrels to be placed in their businesses to receive donations of clothing, food, toys, blankets and small household items to be distributed to the needy in the community.

Called "Operation Blue Christmas," the project is set up for both new and used

"We need the cooperation of all our merchants in order to make this program a real suc-Franklin said. cess,"

Merchants wanting to participate may sign up by phoning the police department at 647-4545 or the Dimmitt Chamber of Commerce at 647-2524.

Christmas parade set

Dimmitt's second annual Christmas parade will be Saturday, Dec. 1, at 3 p.m.

Theme of this year's parade is "A Biblical Christmas." Churches, organizations, businesses wanting to enter a float or marching unit in the parade need to sign up at the Chamber of Commerce office soon, and choose from the scriptural passages for a theme for their unit.

The chamber and the Castro County Ministerial Alliance are co-sponsors of the parade. Rev. Edward D. Freeman is the general chairman.

Greg Odom of Dimmitt was recently recognized along with 700 other outstanding members of the Future Farmers of America as a recipient of the American Farmer Degree.

A member of the Dimmitt FFA Chapter, Odom was honored at the 57th annual National FFA Convention held Nov. 9 in Kansas City, Mo. The degree is the highest attainable by FFA members.

Odom, the son of Glenn and Beth Odom of Dimmitt, was presented with a certificate and gold key on the convention stage. He is a student at Clarendon Junior College, having graduated from Dimmitt High School in 1983. He serves as state First Vice President in Texas.

The American Farmer program is a special project of the National FFA Foundation, cosponsored by J. I. Combest trying for ag committee seat

Congressman-elect Larry Combest came to "hostile" territory Friday, promising to work for all of the 535,000 residents of the 19th congressional district.

Combest told the Dimmitt Rotary Club last Friday that he has been assured a seat on the House Agriculture committee "if one is available."

Combest told the Rotarians that he applied for the seat in September of 1983 with the Republican minority leader, Rep. Robert Mikel of Illinois. "I'll get the seat, if there's one available," Combest said. "Because of the change of makeup of the House, and because one of the republican members of the committee was defeated, there should be a place available on the committee." Combest said the 1985 farm bill may be one of the most important pieces of ag legislation

"I would like to see us mandate some things that have been left up to USDA, like sign-up dates," Combest said. "I would also like to see more power given to county and state ASCS committees. The county committee can do so much more than someone in Washington, who has to try to answer the needs of the entire nation."

"We must try now to avoid a crisis in agriculture like the energy crisis," said Combest. "No one believed there was an energy crisis until they had to pay $1.50 for a gallon of gas, and had to stand in line two hours to get it. If people had to pay $2.50 for a loaf of bread, they might understand just how serious the agriculture problem really is."

"I also want to invite every member of the ag committee to come to West Texas to see how our agriculture works," Combest said. "Our operations are different from operations anywhere else in the country, or the world. Of course, I want to see how other people operate, to understand their problems, but those folks need to visit here, to understand the difficulties we face."

"Another advantage of being on the ag committee will be the formation of a 'bloc' in this part of the country," Combest pointed out. "With Charles Stenholm from the district to the east, and Joe Skeen from the district to the west, we'll have this part of the country well-represented."

Combest told the Rotarians that the transition from the Kent Hance-era to the Combest operation is well under-

"Kent has given me lots of help, and I'll be needing his help on legislation that has already gotten off the ground that will be considered in January," Combest said. "I want to hit the ground running. My office staff is already being interviewed and formed, and we want to be ready next January. We want to do the best job we can, and we want to do it for at least as long as George Mahon (50 years) did

"In Wildorado, a couple of years ago, we had three elevators and six fertilizer salesmen. Now, we have no elevators and one part-time fertilizer salesman. You can see what happened in Hereford, Friona, Bovina, everywhere else. It's the same in the valley, and it's the same around Houston. Some of the best farmland around is west of Houston, and they have many of the same energy problems we're facing."

Cleavinger pointed out that Energas has lost a lot of business in the past three

"Five years ago, Energas had 35,000 meters on wells. Two years ago, they lost 10,000 of those meters," Cleavinger said. "I've had Energas officials tell me they were being pulled because of the declining water table, but some of those wells are being pulled on the best water in the country. Five years ago, they sold 50 billion cubic feet of gas to rural customers, and now they're down to 19 billion. Farmers are using fewer wells and less water, and more people are reverting to dryland farming all the time. I don't think any of us want to go back to that, but that may be the only option left for a lot of folks if we don't get something done in the next legislative session."

Cleavinger also pointed out that more companies are importing out-of-state coal for energy generation.

"Holly Sugar is going to be building their own coal-fired generator for use beginning next year," Cleavinger said. "They will be able to generate their own energy for half the cost they are paying now, and will pay for the generator in just three years. You can hear and read the commercials on Southwestern Public Service. They are telling everyone about how they can bring in coal, and pay every tax that can be thought up, and make Burlington Northern Railroad rich, and generate electricity cheaper than they can using natural gas being brought in from their back yard. That tells me there is something very wrong somewhere."

Hanners presnted aldermen with folders that are mailed to prospective business and industry, and told the aldermen, "It costs us $1.50 each for these folders, and by the time they are mailed, cost us about $3 each. If we mail a thousand of them, that's $3,000. This is not a tax on the local people. This money would come solely from people staying in hotels and motels overnight."

Hanners also explained that Plainview and many other cities in the area are raising the tax to the seven percent limit allowed by law.

Aldermen approved a hike in rental rates at the Dimmitt Municipal Airport from $40 to $60 per month for west hangar rental. The aldermen voted to table any increase in the fees for east hangar rentals until improvements are made in thise hangars. The aldermen will hold a public hearing at their Dec. 3 meeting on proposed new rules and regulations for the airport, drawn up by the airport adivisory board.

The aldermen opted to table once again a proposed new franchise agreement with Energas. The aldermen had suggested several changes in the proposed ordinance, but Energas officals, who were not present at the meeting, had not had time to inspect the Wayne Collins.

Riverside/Terra plans facility expansion

Riverside/Terra Chemical Co. in Dimmitt is expanding its present facility on US 385 North by another 2,700 square feet for a chemical storage warehouse.

With an estimated cost of $21,000, the 45x60-foot structure will hook onto the north end of the present building and is expected to add 30% to the firm's business volume, according to Hubert Backus, manager of the local office.

Work on the project was scheduled to begin Monday with completion planned in 30 days if the weather remains favorable.

"It will add considerably to our business, being able to have supplies on hand," Backus said. "Currently we have to obtain our chemicals from Plainview and it takes storage area will make it much seat belt."

BASKETBALL PREVIEW 1984-85

"If this team makes a commitment to play as a team, we'll have a good season."

Those are the words of Dimmitt Bobbies head coach Doug Porter, as he takes over the Bobbies this season. Porter has reason for optimism, as he welcomes back a wealth of experience for the 1984-85 season.

Tammie Washington and Kim Howell, both seniors, are back for their third year as starters for the Bobbies. Junior Becky Schroeder is back in the post for her second season. Washington was an all-district pick last year, while Schroeder gained honorable mention.

Junior Jill Smith is expected to help Washington on the wing, with Stacie Jackson, a senior, to join Schroeder in the

"Our biggest asset is going to be our quickness," Porter said. "We're not very big, but we can move with anyone. In our scrimmages, we played very aggressively, especially when we started playing humans. In our first scrimmage, against Levelland and Nazareth, we couldn't tell a whole lot, because those are probably the best two teams in the state. We scrimmaged against Plainview and Vega last week, and we could see how good we really are."

"Our man-to-man defense, and the press, are our breadand-butter," Porter said. 'When we played a zone defense, we had a lot of holes. We can play man-to-man with anyone, though. We made up for a lot of mistakes with our hustle and aggressiveness."

Porter said more work needs to be done on the offense.

"We will have to be more patient in our half-court game," Porter said. "We have the people we need to run the offense. we have everyone we need, but we have to be patient with it.'

Porter says the Bobbies' depth will pay off.

"We will have some good people we can rely on to come off the bench any time," Porter said. "We had a good JV team last year, and those folks will help.'

Stephanie Killingsworth, Lisa Nelson, Cindi Nutt, Stephanie Ryan, Camille Summers, and Soncia Tischler will all see plenty of action, Porter said, "and there may be others who are on the JV at the first of the year that will be on the varsity before the year is out."

Porter said the Bobbies schedule will be rough, before and during district.

"We'll have three of the toughest tournaments in the state, with Canyon, Levelland, and Caprock. District will be tough, too. Littlefield took second place last year, and they have four starters back. Tulia has a bunch of good athletes back, and Bill Schneider (former Sanford-Fritch coach) is one of the best in the business. Those are probably the two best teams in the district, but it should be pretty well balanced. I don't think anyone will run away with the district, but it should be tough.'

Bobcats renew search for yellow-brick road

After last year's basketball season was finished, a lot of Bobcat fans were wishing the two-teams-in-the-playoffs had been in existence for, oh, 20 years.

Remember all those times Dimmitt lost in the playoff, or just finished second — the best team in the state went to the state tournament, while the second-best team stayed home?

A lot of Bobcat fans were just grateful the system was in effect last year.

Some of the close calls in the past were rectified last year, when the Bobcats, ravaged by graduation after 1983's 38-0 squad, struggled through the first part of the season, then came up short aginst Abernathy in conference play.

Then came one more shot at the Antelopes - a Dwight McDonald shot, actually - to defeat Abernathy, 63-61, in the regional finals, and a thirdstraight trip to Austin. The season ended with a 60-59 loss to state champion New Boston.

"I was right here in March with goosebumps all over me,' said Dimmitt coach Kenneth Cleveland last Thursday at the Booster Club pie supper at the Expo Building. "We were getting ready to board that Greyhound to go to Austin. Nothing would make me happier than to go again this

To get back to Austin, the Bobcats are going to have to rebuild again, with junior post Pat McDonald the only starter back from last year. Part-time starter Nathan Nelson is expected to start at forward, but other positions are up for grabs.

"We have a lot of people fighting for positions, and we may have people moving in and out of the starting lineup, and between the varsity and the JV, for a good part of the year. We did that some last year, and we'll be looking at quite a few folks."

Just five seniors are on the floor for the Bobcats: Nelson, Darrell Washington, Michael Love, Danny Martinez and Ray Cameron. McDonald, Blake Brown, Todd Braafladt, Mark Smothermon and Woody Glass are juniors. That adds up to some young faces Cleveland will be watching.

Freshman Jeremy Warren, a 5-10 guard, and Jamie Alexander, a 5-10 post, will get floor time as the puzzle pieces ar fitted by Cleveland.

"I was pleasantly surprised with our Tascosa scrimmage,' Cleveland said. "We played it just like a game, and they beat us at the buzzer, but we did a super job against them. We didn't take any of the football players (forwards Nelson, Love and Smothermon, and guard Glass) and did a good job. Those folks are an important part of our team, and they're already off to a good start. It's going to be tough to decide who goes on the JV, because our talent is going to be so even.

With Abernathy out of the district picture, the 2-AAA race figures to be a bit easier for the Bobcats, but Cleveland feels there is going to be plenty of talent in the conference.

"This could be a tough district, because everyone does have some talent in the district. Idalou is new, and they were in playoffs against us (area round) last year, and everyone is going to be improved, I think. It'll be real competitive again this year, and, like always, everyone's going to be shooting for us.'

The Bobcats schedule will be no piece of cake, with the Plainview, Reese, and Caprock tournaments, plus Morton, Hereford, Canyon and Levelland.

WELCOME TO DIMMITT-Coach Doug Porter, a Spearman native, is the new Dimmitt Bobbies head coach. Porter says the Bobbies, in the background, can have an excellent season

"as long as they continue to play as a team." The Bobbies opened in Morton Monday, and will go to Hereford Friday.

Swiftettes trying to set new standard

What do you do for an encore after you've won it all? And all, and all, and all

"Well, anyone who comes to see us play will see us peak sometime later in the year," says Nazareth coach Joe Lombard, "because we're not going to have to worry about peaking too early. These girls are about a month behind a year ago. We've got a lot of improving to do."

"We've got one advantage over last year - we'll have a lot more depth. We just didn't have the back-up people last year like we'll have this time around," Lombard said. "We're in great shape from our cross-country, and we'll be able to sic the press on people all game long.'

"Our guard play is going to be second to none," Lombard said. Leona Gerber and La Dawn Schmucker will lead the Swiftettes out front, with Ramona Heiman as swingman. All three were all-state selections a year ago. The post has Lombard worried.

"Kelly Schilling is back, and she'll help, but we've got to have some folks come through for us underneath. Our defense, I feel, is in good shape," Lombard said. "Our problem is with our offense - there's no consistency. We may have someone in double figures one game, and no points the next. We need to have a good, consistent offense every game from everyone. If someone gets a

Swifts prepare for another Austin trip

What can "Jet Lag Joe" do for an encore?

Nazareth coach Joe Lombard saw a lot of Texas from 30,000 feet last March, as he took the Nazareth Swiftettes to their seventh state championship, and took the Swifts to the state finals.

Lombard will be pulling double duty again this season, and relishes the chance to fly the friendly skies again.

"Both teams have the same goal: go back to Austin," Lombard said. "The girls, of course, know what it takes to get there. The boys found out what they are going to have to do, last year. They were probably a little awed by finally getting to PLAY at the Super Drum. Of course, most years they were playing in Levelland (at the Region 1-A tournament) while the girls were in Austin, so, for a lot of them, it was their first time in the building."

"It was super for our boys' program to finally get past the regional tournament, to win that trip to Austin. We played well down there, but just couldn't keep it together against Snook," Lombard said. "Snook was so tough because those folks have been there so many times. Now we know."

The Swifts, just like a year ago, will be a little late getting the roundballs out, because of the football playoffs. The Swifts will also be without the help of graduated post Mark Huseman, an all-stater last

"Even if we had everyone in the gym, we'd still be unproven,"Lombard said. "We're optimistic, though. We'll have lots of good leadership, and they all know how hard they'll have to work."

Three starters, forwards Russell Hoelting and Chris Gerber, and guard Ricky Backus, will be back for Lombard. But the underneath positions are still up for grabs.

"We may have some of the biggest post people in the state." Lombard said. Juniors Randy Leavitt, Billy Steffens, and Kevin Hoelting, and sophomore Kenny Kern are all expected to battle for starting spots. Kern and Hoelting weight in at 190, with Steffens at 215 and Leavitt at 222.

"The biggest problem with our offense is going to be finding a point guard," Lombard said. "Backus may play there, or we could have one of several other people, like Darryl Hoelting, Craig Huseman, Chris Schmucker, or Todd Hill out front, and move Ricky to the other guard. We just won't know who'll fit where until we get everyone in the gym.'

District 6-A proves to be improved by the realignment.

"It's really going to be wide open," Lombard said. "Kress and Farwell are coming down from AA with good clubs, and Happy will always play us, and everyone else, tough. Lazbuddie is going to be stronger, too. The district is not going to be easy. But we'll be ready for it.

Share Your Blessings

YOU TAKE THIS-Hart Longhorns coach Sam Browning has been involved in some intense teaching the past two weeks in the gym, as the Longhorns move inside from the gridiron. Leaders for Hart this season will be returning lettermen Bruce Finch, Mark Castillo, Omar Longoria, and Paul Ramirez.

Horns facing tougher district

Coach Sam Browning's Hart Longhorns are facing an uphill battle in the 1984-85 season. with a lack of height in a highly competitive, and tall, district.

With three of the six teams in the district in the playoffs a year ago, including perennial AAA powerhouse Abernathy, Bovina and Hale Center, 3-AA figures to be tough.

'Springlake-Earth and Olton will be bringing a lot of people back, but we'll be right there with them," Browning said. "Our biggest problem is going to be learning the offense, and working on, well, everything. Everybody on the team played football, and they're way behind where they probably need to be. Our scrimmage (last Thursday with Friona and Vega) helped a lot, because we got to learn what we need to do against other teams. We'll have plently of learning opportunities early in the year.'

"One thing I'm glad to see are all these seniors," Browning said. "Last year, a bunch of the seniors decided they just didn't want to play basketball. I'm really glad to see these kids out here. We just had one or two that decided to forego basketball.'

Heading the list of returnees is 6-0 post Bruce Finch, who averaged just over five points per game a year ago, 5-9 wing Freddy Washington, who averaged 5.3 ppg, and Mark Castillo, a 5-8 guard with a 5.2 scoring average. Omar Longoria, a 5-8 guard, is back with his 9-point average, but he's been slowed by a knee injury suffered early in the football season.

"We don't have much height, but our quickness is going to make up for a lot of that," Browning said. "We're running basically the same offense and defense as we did a year ago. It's not like having to learn something new. We are going to be pretty scrappy, and we'll outhustle a lot of folks. We're not really scared by Abernathy, Hale Center, or anyone else. We know they've all done well in the past, and they'll have good clubs this year. But we'll be able to play with them. Our fans will see a good, quick ball club."

The University Inter- try to use our team quickness cholastic League, during its realignment process about a year ago, looked at this part of the country and said, "Let's make a district that's tougher than any other district in the state, and call it 3-AA."

"That's what it feels like," said Hart Lady Longhorns coach Ken Hoskins. "Every team in our district has been to the playoffs in the last three years, and I believe it's going to be a dogfight this year."

When 3-AA was pieced together, it kept last year's champion Bovina, who came within a basket of going to the regional finals; Springlake-Earth, who went three years ago; Olton, a qualifier the last two years; and Hart, who went 21-6 two years ago under Hoskins and into the playoffs.

The conference picked up AAA state champion Abernathy, and AA state runner-up Hale Center.

Hoskins led the Lady Longhorns to the playoffs two years ago, then was out of coaching last season. This year he's back, and he has a team he feels will be in the thick of the district dogfight.

"I'll have 11 kids on the varsity, and all 11 can play," Hoskins said. "Gwen Wilson (6-0 sophomore post) will stay in the post, but everyone else is 5-4 to 5-7, and they can all play just about anywhere. I'm not afraid to play any of them."

"We'll put a lot of pressure on the ball all game long," said Hoskins. "We're not looking to play a run-and-gun game, but we're going to make the other team work hard all game. We'll

"They played a lot of zone last year," Hoskins said. "Two years ago, we played man-toman, but last year they played a lot of zone, and we're having to relearn the offense."

Heading the offense will be returning all-district point guard Diane Montiel, who averaged 12.5 points per game last season, but Hoskins feels everyone on the roster will contribute.

"One thing we have to find is someone to come forward and take charge in a crucial situation," Hoskins said. "We've got some folks coming back with experience, like Noemi Ponce, Susie Reyna, Susan Montiel, Christi Rowland, and Gayla Kittrell. They've worked hard, and they have a good attitude. We just need for one of them to come forward in crucial situations."

THIS IS WHAT WE'VE GOTTA DO-Coach Ken Hoskins, back to lead the Hart Lady Longhorns, shows returning lettermen Susan Montiel, Diane Montiel, Cristi Rowland, Gayla Kittrell and Noemi Ponce the road back to the playoffs. Hoskins led the Lady Longhorns to the playoffs two years ago.

THERE AIN'T NO STOPPIN' HIM-Nazareth's Chris Gerber, despite the efforts of Whiteface linebackers Manuel Contreras (on ground) and Bobby Chambers, is about to score on a 47-yard pass from Ricky Backus. The touchdown put Nazareth ahead, 13-7, midway through the second quarter. Nazareth and Whiteface tied, 20-20, but Nazareth advanced to the bi-district round with a 5-3 edge in penetrations. Gerber had 202 rushing yards to go along with his pass reception, and scored on a 70-yard run earlier.

Win on penetrations

Swifts squeeze past Whiteface

Along time ago, a coach coined a phrase: "A tie football game is just like kissing your sister," the coach said with disgust. "Nobody wins."

Some folks just don't appreciate their siblings.

The Nazareth Swifts walked away with the victory kiss in a 20-20 District 2-A zone playoff tie Saturday against Whiteface at Sudan.

Nazareth won on penetrations, 5-3, with two drives inside the 20-yard line late in the game. The Swifts didn't score on those drives, but the plunges provided the winning margin and set up a bi-district rematch with Wheeler Friday night at 7:30 at Dick Bivins Stadium in Amarillo.

Nazareth had defeated Whiteface earlier in the year, 14-12, and had to hold off the Antelopes in the fourth quarter. Saturday night, Whiteface grabbed the early lead, then roared from behind twice to forge the tie.

Tailback Chris Gerber rushed for over 200 yards for the fourth game in a row. The senior picked up 202 yards on 24 carries, and scored the Swifts two offensive touchdowns, on a 70-yard first quarter score, and a 47-yard pass from quarterback Ricky Backus.

Backus was playing "at about 50 percent" according to Nazareth coach Rex Minshew. Backus had injured his right knee in the Swifts final regularseason game against Farwell, and had the knee inspected Friday by Texas Tech trainer Ken amination, Minshew decided to go with freshman Chris Schmucker, but inserted Backus midway through the first quarter. Backus re-injured the knee in the third quarter, though, and was not as effective afterward.

"Chris ran real tough all game long, even though he was being keyed on," said Minshew. "We had a pretty good effort all game long, and when we had to have those penetrations, we did what we had to do."

The Swifts needed the penetrations, because they trailed on first downs. 10-8. Had the penetrations been tied at the end of the game, first downs would have decided the contest. Whiteface led, 10-8, in first downs.

Gerber ran for 31 and 20 yards to give the Swifts the winning penetration at the Whiteface 10, but, four plays later, Gerber's field goal attempt was blocked.

Four plays later, Whiteface gave the ball up on downs at the 23, and Gerber's four-yard gain to the 18 on second down gave the Swifts the final penetration.

The Antelopes took the lead early with Marek's one-yard run, after a Gerber punt was blocked at the Swift five. A bad snap foiled the PAT kick, and Manuel Contreras was tackled at the two, after he took a pitchout from holder Tim Franklin.

Gerber's two touchdowns gave the Swifts a 13-6 halftime lead, but Whiteface closed to within a point in the third quarter as tailback Bobby Chambers, who had scored the two touchdowns for the Antelopes in the earlier game, broke loose for a 70-yard score to make it a 13-12 game. The two-point conversion run fail-

The Nazareth defense provided the last score, as defensive back Kenneth Kleman returned a Marek pass 47 yards for a touchdown. Gerber's kick put the Swifts ahead, 20-12.

"Kenneth, and the whole defense, did a pretty good job for most of the game," Minshew said. "Billy Steffens (noseguard) played a great game. We had a few mental breakdowns, though, and they really hurt us."

A Thanksgiving Message

Today, the traditional day of counting blessings taken for granted throughout the year, we give our thanks for the blessings we enjoy as citizens of a free democracy.

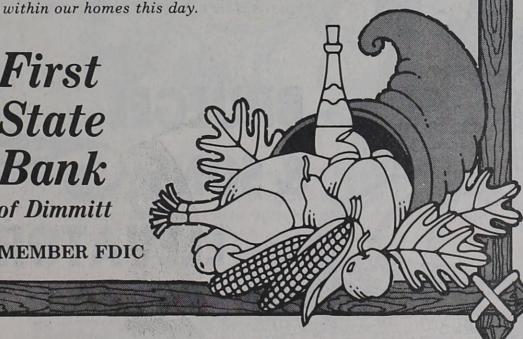

We are grateful for the freedoms which we often take for granted ... the right to choose our religious faith ... to elect those who govern and the obligations of the governed to guide ... to criticize and even condemn those who misuse their official responsibilities.

As a nation and a people, we're grateful for the beautifully rich soil we are blessed with and the means to produce food to feed not only ourselves and our allies, but also the hungry throughout the world.

We send our wishes, hopes and prayers that next year, on this day and everyday, we can be thankful for the blessings showered on those less fortunate ... the presence of the dignity of man among the poor ... the return of love, decency and morality into the hearts of the powerful ... the enlightening of the minds of those who oppress ... and the returning of peace to this currently troubled world.

On this day of family unity, as we relax from the food and drink which has filled our bodies, we offer a prayer to the god of every faith for unity, love and blessings in the world, such as those felt

Shrimp shoppers should select shrimp shrewdly

Roadside shrimp vendors are popular in many parts of Texas. But before buying shrimp from these vendors. consumers should check for cleanliness standards in the operation and good quality shrimp, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service seafood specialist.

First, look for shrimp that are stored or displayed in a clean container, says Annette Reddell Hegen. There should be enough insulation and ice to keep the shrimp at a temperature of 45 degrees F or below.

'Whether you buy your shrimp from a roadside vendor or a supermarket, you can judge the quality of the shrimp, too," says the specialist. Fresh head-on shrimp will have the head firmly attached to the tail. As shrimp deteriorate, the enzyme action causes the two sections to separate. Also look for shrimp that are free of discoloration on the flesh. The flesh should have a healthy bloom and look somewhat translucent.

The shells, however, may vary in color. Shrimp may have pink, white, gray or brown shell color depending on the species. Shell color has nothing to do with quality unless the shrimp is very pink, indicating exposure to too much heat, Hegen says.

Your sense of smell can also help in shrimp selection, says the specialist, since fresh shrimp have a mild, fresh and clean odor.

The Texas Dept. of Health does not issue a license for mobile shrimp vending units. However, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Dept. has licensing requirements. The Texas Dept. of Agriculture also regulates the accuracy of all commercial weighing and measuring devices. Sanitation guidelines for mobile vendors inlude a holding tank to retain all liquid waste, a handwashing facility, equipment cleaning sink and accessability to toilet facilities.

Register now for AC spring semester

Advance registration for Spring Semester 1985 at Amarillo College is continuing through Nov. 30.

The advantages of early registration to students are many. Students are able to register at their convenience during a two-week period rather than at a specified time on a particular day. Course selection is excellent, since few class sections are "closed."

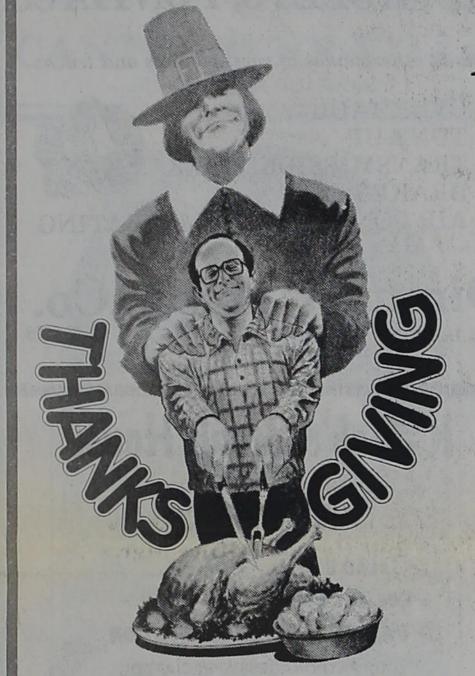

Students can plan payment, with tuition and fees due Jan. 4. Likewise, thorough counseling or academic advising is possible prior to enrollment.

First day of classes for Spring Semester '85 is Jan. 14.

Currently enrolled day and evening students report first to the Registrar's Office, Washington Street Campus, for registration forms. Allied health, ADN Nursing, and industrial technology students may report to the Business Office on the West Campus, 6222 W. 9th Avenue.

Students not currently enrolled at Amarillo College report to the Registrar's Office for admission clearance Monday through Thursday between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m., and Friday from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Questions should be addressed to the Registrar's Office, 376-9341.

Simpson to direct county spelling bee

For the 37th year, the Amarillo Globe-News and West Texas State University in Canyon, are again sponsoring the National Spelling Bee for students in public and parochial schools in this area.

Directors of the 46 counties of the Panhandle of Texas, parts of Oklahoma, New Mexico and Kansas are being named to handle their respective events. Directors select the dates of their county bees and report their champions to the Amarillo newpaper. The director for Castro County will be Mrs. M. L. Simpson, county

Information relating to the county program may be obtained from the director. Other information concerning the 1985 Regional Bee, scheduled for April 27 on the campus of WTSU, will be available on request from Gene Parker, bee coordinator. Parker is director of placement for WTSU.

The deadline for directors to report their county champs to Jeane Bartlett, Spelling Bee Editor for the Amarillo newspaper, will be April 6. The winner of the 1985 regional bee will be sent to Washington, D.C., to take part in the National Spelling Bee early in June, with all expenses paid, courtesy of the Amarillo Globe-News. This includes expenses for one parent.

Rules established by the national sponsors (the Scripps-Howard Newspapers) state that any student who will not be older than 16 by June 1, or in a grade higher than the eighth by the end of the current school term, may participate.

A Junior Bee for younger students, grade six and under, will also be conducted in each

THE sport of "talking turkey" is on the rise, says National Wildlife magazine. No longer just a rural, southern sport passed from father to son, the art of turkey calling is turning into a true national pastime. Some say it's contagious. The object is to attract a wild turkey into the open by using an artificial call. Although a call has to be pretty bad not to work at all, most gobblers are often heard and not seen.

county if directors so desire. The county junior winners do not spell in the Regional Bee, but are special guests of the sponsors and will be recognized and awarded trophies.

The booklet, "Words of the Champions," containing more than 3,000 words and prepared by the national sponsors, is used in most school events and county contests. The booklet is available from the Amarillo Globe-News and is priced at only 40 cents each. Orders should be mailed to Spelling Bee Editor, Amarillo Globe-News, Box 2091, Amarillo, 79166.
