SPOTTED COACH DOGS.

The Breed Has Become Practically Extinct In This Country.

What has become of the old black and white spotted Dalmatian dogs, better known as "coach dogs," that were so numerous and popular throughout the United States from 1869 to 1882 inclusive? The breed appears to have become extinct in this country, having, like the Newfoundland, which has shared the same fate, gone out of style and are no longer popular. These dogs were white in color and spotted over every part of the body with small black spots the size of a dime.

They were first brought to England from the Austrian province of Dalmatia, and are still popular to a certain extent in that country, from which the first specimens, were brought to the United States shortly after the civil war. One of the reasons why this dog disappeared so quickly was no doubt the fact that he had no particular use other than to pose as a showy animal and to trot along by one's carriage or coach and attract attention by his striking color and markings. Aside from this the Dalmatian dog was completely worthless. He could neither hunt, serve as a watchdog, catch rats, fight, or do anything else that other dogs are capable of doing, and for this reason, no doubt, he died out .- Washington Post.

Directions In London.

In London and throughout the tight little island the words "up" and "down" have a peculiar significance. In going to London from any part of England you go "up." In traveling in any direction from the capital you go "down." So in London itself everything goes "up" if it goes in the direction of the bank-that is, the Bank of England-and going from that center toward any of the points of the compass is to go "down."

The word bank, which is not only always spelled with a capital "B," but is always uttered with an impressiveness that suggests an initial letter of the largest type, may be said to be in a sense interchangeable with city, a term of equal dignity and value in the eyes of Englishmen, and likewise invariably adorned with a capital "C." The City does not mean London by any means. It means a certain limited section of London, the part where business is mainly carried on and where the great financial institutions stand.

DEALING OUT DEATH

FOUR LIVES LOST AT STEPHEN-VILLE, AND FEARS FOR MANY MORE ARE ENTERTAINED

CLINGING TO THE HOUSETOP

Are Two Women, One of Whom Witnesses the Death of Her Husband and the Men Who Had Started to Their Rescue

A long distance telephone message from Stephenville to the Mail-Telegram at 2 p. m. today conveys the information that it commenced raining hard there at 4 o'clock this morning, the hardest and heaviest rain that has fallen since 1882. The Bosque river, which skirts Stephenville, is raging out of its banks and much damage is resulting to all things animate and inanimate in its wake, several deaths had already been sported from drowning, and four of these were right in the edge of Stephenville, southeast. Among the drowned are C. C. Goodner, assistant county attorney.

The story is that the house of Buck Whitley was flooded, and water was rising rapidly. Whitley left his wifeand another woman in the house and attempted to ride through the flood to town to secure a boat or help to rescue the women. His horse became entangled in a wire fence. Whitley undertook to swim to safety but sank and was drowned. The horse was carried further on and was also drowned.

Mr. Goodner and two Mexicans rigged up a frail and improvised boat to go to the rescue of those in Whitley's house, and when about half way out the craft struck a fence post and was capsized. Mr. Goodner is said to have been a good swimmer, and struck out for shore, but was seen to sink. His cries for help were heard, but he could not be reached, and it is supposed that he, too, became entangled in the wire and could not extricate himself. The Mexicans with him were drowned. evidently not being able to swim at

At the hour the message was received men were working as fast as they possibly could constructing substantial boats to use in rescuing others in dis-

Mrs. Whitley and the woman with her managed to get to the roof of the house, and from there witnessed the drowning of Mr. Goodner and the Mexicans who were endeavoring to rescue It is thought the rise was at its height, and that the house would withstand the strain until a rescuing party could reach them.

Reports to Stephenville from the country through which the Bosque runs are appalling. Many other drownings are reported, but names could not be

THE HEAVIEST RAIN KNOWN IN MANY YEARS

Dublin Reports Restless Creek Out of Its Bounds and Doing Much Damage -Passenger Train Stranded

Dublin, Tex., July 25 .- (Special.) The heaviest rain known in years fell in this section this morning between 4 and 10 o'clock, swelling the streams and doing much damage.

Restless creek, which runs through Dublin, was the highest in its history forcing families living in the low lands to abandon their houses.

The Texas Central railroad was washed out in two places a few miles east. A passenger train which left here at 8 a. m. is tied up between them. Bosque river bridge of the Texas Central is under water.

The east end of Stephenville is reported under water from the overflow from Bosque river in places being three quarters of a mile wide. A number of houses were washed away and one life is reported lost. It is still raining

MANY LIVES WERE LOST AT STEPHENVILLE

Ten or Eleven Persons, Five of Them White, Were Drowned in the Big Flood Caused by the Overflow of Bosque River

Stephenville, Tex., July 25 .- (Special.) Ten or eleven people, five white, were lost in the flood caused by the overflow from the Bosque river in the east and southeast part of Stephenville. The list of drowned is not obtainable at this time.

C. C. Goodner, assistant county attorney of Erath, and Buck Whitley are among the victims. Goodners started in a boat to where houses in the low were being carried away, and to rescue a woman and child, refuged in a tree top. The boat struck a fence and capsized. Goodner was carried swiftly down stream and thrown into a drift pile. He cried for help and sank. His body has not yet been recovered. His companion swam to the tree and with the woman and child was gin in several hours.

Raging Flood Roaring Over the Dams, Spreading Out in City Park and Running Bank Full Below the Junction-West rork Not In It

There were heavy rains throughout this region last night. In the city there were several showers during the early part of the night, beginning about 8 o'clock. At 2 o'clock it began to rain hard, and it rained almost continuously until after 7 o'clock. The Trinity river is showing the effects of the showers. The Clear Fork is booming, a perfect flood coming down that is not only rushing and foaming over all of the dams, but is roaring over the abuttments and spreading out over the city park.

Assistant Chief of Police Allen and his force this morning notified the people living in the Cotton Belt bottoms near the bridge to be prepared for emergencies, and in case of a sudden overflow to be ready to seek safety. No immediate danger in this quarter is apprehended at present, though the water is steadily rising and the overflow may come at any time. The long bridge north of the court house was thronged all day with crows watching the swirling waters.

The flood so far as confined to the Clear Fork. West Fork is a much longer stream and its waters do not rise at this point sometimes until after Clear Fork has boiled over and subsided again. Should its waters come down now in force on top of the Clear Fork flood the entire bottoms will probably be covered in a few days.

The small boy and those inclined to frolic gathered about the "pool" and had great sport during the morning hours. Some one with an eye to amusement caused to be placed at intervals signs of warning, some of which read "No fishing allowed," "Posted, no hunting permitted," "Divers would go to the bottom."

The sleeping-car that leaves Fort Worth on our night train is n to receive passengers at NINE o'clock, each evening, and this car is out at Colorado Springs for guests to vacate at their leisure. The where the car waits is only about six miles from the mountains, beatiful sight greets the wakers from that long, refreshing Co sleep-under blankets.

This night train also has a sleeper that goes into Denver, there at a comfortable rising time.

Both of our daily THRU TRAINS have those sleepers with "Large dies' Dressing rooms," also meals served in our own Cafe Dining ca a la carte service, 25c and up per individual. These special featur distinguishing excellence are among the characteristics that have, for some time, made appropriate the "Only-One-Road" - and "You Have-to-Apologize" verdict of persons who are capable of apprecia good service and making distinctions. WANT TO GO TO CLOUDCROFT? Well, we have the best and shortest line there, too.

ADVICE TO FARMERS

The First Essential Is to Select a Good Type of Animal, Then Provide Good Pasturage and Feed and Use Sanitary Precautions

Col. H. E. Singleton, president of the Texas Swine Breeders' association, is one of the most thoroughly posted men in the southwest on the problem of hog raising. In view of the fact that the farmers of Texas have now at their very doors one of the greatest markets in the country for hogs and cattle by reason of the two large Armour and Swift packing houses opening up in Fort Worth, it is of vital interest for the farmer to have all the information obtainable which can be to his advantage, and in view of the fact that Col. Singleton is an ample authority on such matters the Mail-Telegram takes pleasure in publishing the following article which bristles through and through with ideas very necessary to the man who contemplates increasing the hog product of his farm.

Mr. Singleton is proprietor of the Cedar Vale farm at McKinney, Tex. The paper herewith given was read by him to the Farmers' congress at College Station. It is as follows: How Can We Produce the Cheapest that one thing is to be practical. Notwithstanding the fact that a very light grain feed crop has been made in Texas this season, yet those who have continued feeding and breeding intelligently, have cause to feel easy and secure in the prospects of a profitable season's operations. From the present outlook for corn in the great corn growing states of the North and Northwest, we can confidently expect to reap a much richer harvest this fall with pork about the 8c and 9c mark, than under ordinary conditions when corn is worth but 25c per bushel. The railroads will bring the price of feedstuffs within our reach, wherever they are produced in the United States.

Pork? If there is one thing we would be, in treating a subject of this-character,

A Home Market Provided The great curers and packers of Chicago have come to our doors, and are now expending millions of dollars in the city of Fort Worth to handle our cattle and hogs; no less than 5000 head of hogs per day will satisfy them. Farmers of Texas, it is up to you, will you supply the demand?

We realize that in addressing the Texas Farmers' congress, we are in the presence of an intelligent, progressive, practical body of farmers. We realize also, that these farmers and feeders are here from the four quarters of the state of Texas, a very extensive territory in itself. They are here also from states and territories contiguous to Texas where the climate and soil environments are so diversified that the subject must be treated in a general manner, rather than to confine ourselves to what would make the cheapest pork in any one particular

The First Essential

The first essential is the selection of the type of animal that will grow into the size and conformation in greatest demand by the curers in the shortest possible time, and at the least expense. One with constitution and digestive organs capable of consuming the greatest amount of food at the same time assimilating the greatest per cent of food consumed. This type of animal can be found in most any of the improved breeds of today, not necessarily a pedigreed animal, neither is a pedigree sufficient evidence that the animal possesses the necessary qualifications to make a money maker.

Provide Good Pasturage The next in importance, if not the most important feature of the production of cheap pork, lies in having the farm divided up into fields or enclosures, where exercise and grazing can be supplied at all times of the year. It must not be inferred that the furnishing of good pasturage is all that will be required of the feeder at any period of his pigship's existence for it is during the season of the most luxuriant pasturage, that the greatest profit can be derived from the grain he may be induced to consume. The cheapest meat of any kind is always produced off good pasturage. The hog in his natural or wild state is an herbiverous animal, and this disposition could be encouraged as a protection against disease and as a producer, at less expense, and of an improved quality of product.

I might mention the different cereals such as wheat, oats, rye, barley, etc., the clovers and legumes, Bermuda and Johnson grass and the drouth resisting sorghums, but where alfalfa can be grown, it should be considered the first of them all. With such a list to draw from, a continuation of green pasturage can be supplied in average seasons the entire year, in any part of our broad state.

Sanitary Precautions

In the production of breeders, much can be said in favor of certain breeds and combinations, but for the production of cheap pork in this climate, where it is possible to have green feed 365 days in the year, to supplement this with either corn, wheat or barley, preferably soaked for 12 hours before feeding, the most satisfactory result can be obtained. Among our domestic animals there are none more susceptible to climatic changes, or suffer more from heat or cold than the hog. Therefore to obtain the greatest gain from feed consumed, his comforts must be considered by protection from heat in summer and cold blasts in winter. While the demands from the curers are for pounds, we should endeavor to bring the animal up to the required weight to command the top price in the markets at the least expense. It has been my experience and observation that this can be done the most successfully by forcing or crowding the youngsters from early pighood up to the required weight. The losses from disease can hardly be considered in Texas, as the hog is practically free from the diseases here that are so prevalent in other states. But since preventatives are so much more economical than cures, any precautionary measures that are employed are steps well taken. The feeding of sound grain, furnishing pure drinking water, changing feeding places in dry weather to avoid dust, and such other sanitary measures as may be applicable to the locality and surroundings should not be lost sight of.

To the successful production of pork, the wallow is an unnecessary appendage and a dangerous breeding ground of disease germs.

PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT

INSTANCES OF HOW KANSAS VIO-LATORS EVADE LAW

Texas May Bump Up Against Similar Propositions, But Then That Is Cast in the Play

A gentleman visiting in Fort Worth from Kansas was last night relating to a group of acquaintances stories connected with the prohibition fight in that state, the discussion arising over the predicted prohibition contest for the state of Texas at no very distant day. He says they are having all sorts of trouble in his state over the prosecutions and all sorts of loop holes present themselves for escape for the violators. He recited one trial in particular in which a jury returned a verdict of not guilty under most peculiar circumstances. Following is a brief synopsis of what transpired in the trial:

"Did you get anything to drink from the defendant in his place of business at such time?" (specifying the time) was asked of a witness.

"Yes, I did." "Did you pay for it?"

"Yes." "How much?"

"Either ten or fifteen cents, I do not remember which.'

"You paid the defendant for it, did "Yes, sir."

"Now please tell the court and jury what it was you got to drink at that time and place.

"Cold tea, sir." "What! Cold tea?"

"Yes, sir."

"And you paid ten or fifteen cents for a glass of cold tea? "Yes, sir."

"Are you sure it was co.d tea?" "That was what I called for, and it was poured out of a tea pot.'

"What did it taste like?" "It tasted like whisky."

"What color was it?" "It was the color of cold tea."

"What did it smell like?" "It smelled like whisky."

"Then, why do you say it was cold "Because I called for cold tea, and the defendant said he gave me cold "Did you not expect to get a glass of whisky when you called for cold, "Yes, sir; I did."

"Are you willing to swear positively that what you got then and there of the defendant was cold tea?"

"Well, as a matter of fact, was it not whisky?"

"I don't know." The Kansas gentleman said that three or four witnesses were sworn and testified in the case and gave similar answers to the same questions except that instead of calling for cold tea they called for cider, but that what they got tasted like whisky, smelled like whisky and affected them like whisky. There was no evidence introduced on behalf of the defendant. The jury was out three hours and returned a verdict which read:

"We, the jury impaneled and sworn in the above entitled case, do upon our oaths, find the defendant guilty of selling cider."

Of course this verdict could not be received, as it was not in conformity with the law, and the jury was sent back for further deliberation. After being out all night a verdict of "not guilty" was rendered.

REPULSIVE FEATURES.

Is it wet enough for you?

Colored citizens of Fort Worth have formed a friend in need society. The friend the average American citizen of African descent relies upon in time of need is his trusty razor.

The question now is, have the people who have been flooded out, grounds for damages against the good people who assembled publicly and prayed for rain, without specifying the amount, and thus brought on this great downpour.

The wise newspaper reader will take anything he sees about the Yaqui Indians with a grain of salt. The latest fake is that a Fort Worth man, an imaginary one at that, had seen thirty young Yaqui prisoners lined up and shot by Mexican soldiers.

No. anxious croviner, it was not at What's roof garden in Fort Worth but Madison Square roof garden in New York where a man laughed himself to death while witnessing a performance. In going to any roof garden though it would be well to take warning from this sad occurrence and take along a copy of one of the comic papers as an antidote.

The terrible slump in the Texas catlle market at Chicago this week has been a serious disappointment to shippers from the Lone Star state, who are just finishing the season for fed cattle. An unusual number of Texas cattle have been crowded on all the markets, and there has been a bad break all around the circle. Many of these cattle were not in a finished condition and could have been fed some weeks longer, no doubt, with profit to the owner, but the hot weather was coming on and there seemed to be a general desire to unload as rapidly as possible. The loss sustained by shippers on account of the overcrowded condition of the markets amounts to about 50@ 75 cents per hundred on the medium · class of steers. Had these receipts been distributed over another week or two the chances are that at least a part of the decline might have been avoided. Prices of good Texas steers in Chicago have dropped about a dollar since the good markets of two weeks ago.

A MODERN MARTYR

In a dingy little back room in South St. Joseph, Mo., this week, kept alive by the dole of public charity, Sarah Johnson died of consumption. Her's was a common, ordinary name for a woman, but it is the name of a dead heroine. As brother and sister, Sarah and Albert Johnson played together by a babbling brook near the Old Kentucky Home. Those were the only happy days these two ever knew. Their parents moved to Daviess county, Missouri, where they purchased a valuable homestead and shortly died. Then came other sorrows. Albert contracted la grippe which left an ugly abscess which he will carry to his grave. By the physician's advice Albert was taken to St. Joseph, where he was treated four years and discharged incurable. Meantime the farm had been sold. Then the physicians advised the mountains. The sister took Albert to Colorado. All these things were expensive. The money gave out eight years ago. Sarah had just enough to bring them back to St. Joseph.

And so for eight years the heroic sister has toiled as housekeeper and helper. Quick consumption came from exposure, and then death. When she was "laid out" in her coffin, the neighbors said: "What a beautiful girl she must have been!" Death and 42 years of sorrow could not obliterate the lines of comeliness. Ah, who but the dead one knew how many fond lovers have been turned away because strength and health must be given to "the little brother," as she always called him? As willingly as the martyrs to the fires went this well-born, high-spirted Kentucky girl to love's labors and desolate death. Like a Sidney on the battlefield of Zutphen this devoted sister on the greater battlefield of life, pushed the cup of water from her own lips because of a brother's thirst. -

It is a sweet name, after all, is it not, the name of Sarah Johnson?

PRESS COMMENT.

Marion Sansom, the well known cattle feeder of Texas, who is now at the yards, says that while the corn crop down there has proved a failure on account of the drouth, in some cases the corn of the first crop has been replanted, to grow a crop of fodder. It is only in the extreme south that corn can be matured early enough to be replanted to produce a second crop .-Drovers' Journal (Chicago.)

The failure of the corn crop in Texas has been a serious disappointment to many farmers down that way. While hog raising is not carried on as extensively as in the North, it is gradually expanding and becoming of more importance every succeeding year. Many hogs are being shipped from Texas to Oklahoma, where the corn crop has been fairly good. This is about the only thing to do, since there is nothing in Texas on which to fatten them. Hog culture will be greatly encouraged in Texas as soon as the farmers in that state find out that they can raise them easily and with profit.-Drovers' Journal (Chicago.)

Typical Texas pluck has been manifested by the management of the Texas State fair to be held at Dallas in October in so promptly and undauntedly beginning the erection of temporary structures to take the place of those recently destroyed by fire. Not only this, but in at least one instance there is to be a large building erected, the dimensions of Machinery Hall being increased by some 200 or 300 feet. The people of Dallas and of all Texas are to be congratulated on this exhibition of the state spirit of indomitable enterprise. It is this spirit which has made Texas development one of the marvels of the age and which contains the sure promise of even greater development in the future.-St. Louis Republic.

LIVE STOCK ITEMS (H. M. Taylor in Strawn News.)

Live stock commission firms keep heir customers posted as to market conditions, advising them as to the best time to make shipments; and they see that stock consigned to them are properly cared for in the yards, and that they are sold at the best obtainable prices.

"Live and let live" is the rule to follow. There is good money to be made in stock raising in the southwest where conditions are favorable and as prices are effected by general business conditions, it is to the interest of producers that transportation and stock yard companies should share in their prosperity.

The live stock commission firms doing business at the Fort Worth stock yards can command millions of dollars to loan to reliable and capable parties for feeding purposes. It is the height of folly for farmers to haul their products to market when they can be more profitably utilized for feeding purposes

Southwestern stockmen look upon Fort Worth as a home city; it is the residence place of a number of the wealthiest and most popular cattlemen in Texas, and its people have always had their latchstrings out and welcomed visiting cowmen with open-handed

The establishment of the large packing plants at the Fort Worth stock yards will give an impetus to raising improved stock in the tributary country, which can always be sold when marketable at top prices. The production of forage crops for feeding purposes will be highly profitable.

A night's run on the cars will carry cattle from the most remote portion of the southwestern feeding belt to the Fort Worth stock yards, where they will be unloaded in prime condition free from fever engendered by the long runs to northern markets.

The bankers of Fort Worth have a practical knowledge of the cattle business and a just appreciation of its profitable character, when conducted by intelligent and conservative operators; and they will prove important factors in the upbuilding of the great Southwestern live stock market.

The managers of the Fort Worth railway lines have had years of experience in transporting live stock, and they are in full sympathy and accord with the movement which is rolling on like a tidal wave for the concentration at Fort Worth of the live stock business of Texas.

Abundant water has recently been obtained by wells sunk in portions of northern Mexico splendidly adapted for raising cattle for the Texas feeders who will fatten them for the Fort Worth market.

The consumption of beef is constautly being augmented by reason of the world's increase of population and wealth, and there is no danger of an overproduction of cattle which will sell for prices in harmony with other products, based on the laws of supply and in the Indian days, when men carried their lives in their hands and opened the way for the settlement of the country. The management of the Fort Worth stock yards show that they have a proper appreciation of the usefulness of southwestern newspapers as valuable factors in the success of the yards, by tendering their representatives a banquet August 4.

Texas cattlemen have been the pioneers of western civilization. They traversed the plains with their herds |

The Fort Worth stock yards is admirably located, and under its liberal and progressive management, with every up-to-date facility for the care and handling of stock, it will, without doubt, be deservedly popular with shippers.

Poisoning the System.

It is through the bowels that the body is cleansed of impurities. Constipation keeps these poisons in the system, causing headache, dulness and melancholia at first, then unsightly eruptions and finally serious illness unless a remedy is applied. A small and insignificant fire at the corner of Jones and Thirteenth streets called the fire companies out at 7 a. m. today. The fire was put out without hose connections, and the damage was slight. In crossing the street car track at Seventh and Jones Chief Maddox's rig suffered by the breaking of a spoke.

A young man named Bowles was picked up last night near the First Baptist church in an almost unconscious condition. Some young men who had been out calling found him, and he claims to have been sandbagged while en route home, on west Belknap street. After being aroused up he was able to proceed home, and the matter is being investigated.

John E. La Hines of New Orleans is here today en route to Panhandle City. Mr. La Hines is connected with the New Orleans Item in a reportorial capacity, and is now on a vacation. He will spend six weeks on a ranch near Panhandle City with friends, after which he will return to New Orleans and take up newspaper work again. He was accompanied this far by a fellow newspaper reporter, Frank B. Hight. Mr. Hight will probably remain in this city.

Walter Lee Casburn celebrated his fourteenth anniversary last evening at his parents' home, and quite a large number of his young friends were there by invitation to join him in the festivities of the occasion. It was strictly an indoor affair, on account of the damp weather, but was all the more enjoyable. Games pleasing to juvenile tastes were indulged in, and cake, ices and other goodies were served at an opportune time. Wafter received quite a number of souvenir

FREE METHODISTS

Meetings Will Continue at the Camp on East Side of the City 'till After Sunday

The Free Methodists who are camped in Sam Evans' grove east of the Rock Island track will continue their meetings tomorrow and Sunday. They expect to have a rousing time if it does not rain any more, as considerable Interest has already been manifested. There are in the camp people from all over the state. Some of the Salvation army people are also assisting them.

The Man He Wanted.

Senator Clark of Montana had occasion once out in Helena to hire a carriage driver. The roads were mountainous, and a skillful man was needed. On the appointed day the candidates for the position appeared. "You know where the road runs along the mountain, with the hill on one side and a gorge on the other, five miles from here?" asked Senator Clark, and all the men nodded affirmatively. "How near can you go to the edge of the road," was asked, "without upsetting my carriage?"

The first man said, "Four feet;" the next man answered, "Two feet;" the third man said that he would drive close to the edge, and the fourth man allowed that if one wheel was over the brink he could still turn the horses in time to save the carriage.

At last Mr. Clark turned to a brawny Irishman. "What would you do?" he "Begorra, Mr. Clark," said the Irishman, "I would keep as close to the side of the hill as I could without pulling off a wheel."

"You are the man I want," replied Mr. Clark, and the Irishman got the

The Box Tortoise.

Though the tortoise is slow of foot. It is quick to make the best of all its available modes of defense. The box tortoise possesses a singular defensive apparatus. The plastron or shell covering the under part of the body is so formed that its front segment can be drawn upward to protect the animal's head, the head meanwhile being drawn back under the carapace or shell on the back of the tortoise.

The upper and under shells then meet in front, forming a kind of box in which the creature is unassailable. When the danger is passed, the reptile relaxes a muscle, and the raised part of the plastron falls, allowing the head and fore feet to come forth. This movable plate is fastened to the plastron by a strong hinge of elastic ligament.

Jekyll and Hyde Indians.

It is said that the Seri Indians are a tribe of Jekylls and Hydes. They spend a portion of the year in the neighborhood of the boundary line between northern and Lower California, when they dedicate themselves to peaceful pursuits and evidently adopt civilized customs, frequently working as farm hands on the haciendas. When the crops are in, however, they experience a remarkable change, like any of the lower animals with a change of season. It is then that they have a wild longing for a savage life and emigrate to Tiburon island, where they lead a barbarous existence, even indulging in cannibalism, it is averred.

BALLOTING

NO ONE WILLING TO JUMP IN-STRUCTIONS YET, AND THE MONOTONOUS GRIND GOES ON

LITTLE WORK DONE TODAY

Only 235 Ballots Taken This Morning -The Total Number Now Is 5735 Adjournment Talk is Revived -Gossip, Etc.

Dublin, Tex., July 25.—(Special.) The Twelfth district convention by agreement of the managers did not meet until 11 o'clock on account of the inclement weather.

Two hundred and thirty-five ballots were taken during the morning session, making a total of 5735 and no change in sight.

Adjournment talk is revived and it may be taken this afternoon. The delegates generally are tired of balloting but no one is willing to jump instructions.

CONVENTION GOSSIP IN ALLOPATHIC DOSES

One Thousand Ballots Taken Yesterday-All Eyes on Parker and Comanche-Powell's Speech Made a Good Impression - Refreshments, Etc.

Dublin, Tex., July 25 .- (Special.) One thousand ballots was the record made by the Twelfth district convention yesterday, bringing the total to 5500 upon adjournment which was taken at 4:30 o'clock. The result, Chairman Presler announced by way of parenthesis, was unchanged. It is predicted that by adjournment today the number will have exceeded 6500 roll calls unless some county changes front, and that appears to be unlikely. Stories were circulated yesterday that Parker had grown weary and would leave Gillespie. This Manager Carlock and those of the delegation denied, asserting that instructions would be rigidly complied with. Poindexter people hint strongly that Comanche will shortly do something, having no candidate and only instructed through convention for Riddle. Its seven votes would serve Gillespie but not Poindexter.

Frequent reference is made to a free-for-all race, but no substantial encouragement is given the movement. Comanche county, which in the past has been furnishing a Populist majority, does not fancy the idea for fear complications may be wrought in the race for county offices. It has been stated that to nominate Poindexter would be ruinous to the congressional ticket there, as the opposition would give a majority against him. On the other hand Gillespie would sweep the field in an individual contest and come near carrying things even with two other Democrats before the people. The fear of Poindexter's ability in this respect may have given rise to the assurances he presented in his speech of Tuesday. He said: "If elected, fellow Democrats,-and rest assured I will be if given the nomination, it shall be my one endeavor to work for the party and the people of this district."

Many compliments are being showered upon Mayor T. J. Powell over his speech of yesterday. It was an effort well worthy of the man and aside from being entertaining he gave political theme for new thought. It was entirely appropriate to present national issues and his address was in line, on the governmental expansion question, with the information presented by the latest student writers. In effect it bore the inquiry whether a government of a free people could successfully rule others. Instances in history support the nega-

SCROFULAG

I bequeath to my children Scrofula with all its attendant horrors, humiliation and suffering. This is a strange legacy to leave to posterity; a heavy burden to place upon the shoulders of the young.

This treacherous disease dwarfs the body and hinders the growth and development of the faculties, and the child born of blood poison, or scrofula-tainted parentage, is poorly equipped for life's duties.

Scrofula is a disease with numerous and varied symptoms; enlarged glands or tumors about the neck and armpits, catarrh of the head, weak eyes and dreadful skin eruptions upon different parts of the body show the presence of tubercular or scrofulous matter in the blood. This dangerous and stealthy disease entrenches itself securely in the system and attacks the bones and tissues, destroys the red corpuscles of the blood, resulting in white swelling, a pallid, waxy appearance of the skin, loss of strength and a gradual wasting away of the body.

S. S. S. combines both purifying and tonic properties, and is guaranteed entirely vegetable, making it the ideal remedy in all scrofulous affections. It purifies the deteriorated permanent cure is soon effected. S. S. S. Impletes the digestion and assimilation of food, restores the circulation, bringing a healthy lost properties to the blood and quickens the circulation, bringing a healthy

FOR THE GRAND LODGE

Arrangements Making Among the Pythian Lodges for It.

Active arrangements are already in progress among the local Pythian bodies for the meeting of the Grand Lodge to be held in Fort Worth next April.

At the meeting of Red Cross Lodge held last night a committee of four was appointed to act in conjunction with other similar committees. For Red Cross Lodge the committee is composed of Messrs. T. T. McDonald, W. L. Evans, J. Matt Perry and John M. Adams.

At the last meeting of Queen City Lodge a committee was named as follows: E. B. Randle, C. J. Taylor, R.

to name committees. These committees, will also act in conjunction with a committee of the uniform rank to arrange for the encampment of the Texas brigade of the uniform rank. As soon as all the Pythian orders have acted, a general meeting will be held for the purpose of discussing the work to be done and a plan of action announced, and then sub-committees will in all probability be named.

PRESIDENT DRAWS LINE

WILL NOT ALLOW KODAKS TRAINED ON HIS WIFE

Children Also Exempt-Mrs. Roosevelt Does Not Aspire to Shine in Literature

(From W. E. Curtis' Oyster Bay Letter.)

Yesterday Mrs. Roosevelt received a letter from the publisher of a rather sensational periodical inclosing a check for $500 and asking her to write a brief article for his next issue upon the management of a home, the training of children, the experience of a mistress of the White House, or any other subject she might find more "congenial," the "honorarium" therefor being inclosed. The letter and check were returned without comment. This is not a new experience, however. She never received a check before, but scarcely a day passes without an attempt of some enterprising editor to draw her into print. She is usually asked to name her own price and choose her own subject, and sometimes the editor offers to subscribe a liberal amount to any charity she may name if she will gratify his readers by forwarding a brief communication.

This annoys the president very much. He realizes that his wife and family must suffer a certain degree of notoriety, and is always willing to furnish legitimate information concerning them to newspaper writers, but the silly chatter about "Princess" Alice and the other children provokes him beyoud measure. The other day he sent for two newspaper correspondents representing influential journals that are giving him a cordial support, and "called them down," as they put it, for printing what he called "tommy-rot" about his children. He said he would have expected to see such stuff in certain papers that he named, but not in theirs, and was very much astonished that they would waste their time and space and disgust their readers with such stuff. "You can print anything you like about me," he said, "and Mrs. Roosevelt will stand a reasonable amount of notoriety, but for heaven's sake let the children alone." But he cannot be gratified. If Ethel falls off her pony, or if Kermet scratches his hand on a blackberry bush, or if Archie buys a glass of soda water at the village drug store, it goes into the daily chronicle of events, and the people are interested in reading about them.

Kodak Fiends Limited A photographer who arrived at Oyster Bay the other day asked permission to take some views. The president was amiable, and told him: "You are welcome to photograph anything you like except my wife and children, but if I catch you doing that I'll throw you off the place."

Those are the orders to the secret service men. They are authorized to permit kodakers to shoot at anything they see except Mrs. Roosevelt and the Curiosity is attracting a good many people to Oyster Bay. More and more are coming daily, and although the railroad company will not do anything to annoy the president, this place is becoming an attractive resort for excursionists and picnickers, and speculative geniuses among the natives are devising schemes by which they can make a profit from the president's presence. It would be inferred from the advertisements that he gave public receptions every day and welcomed all who come. One enterprising boatman has fitted up a little schooper and advertises that he will take people over to see the president for 25c. The handbills read as if an interview with the entire Roosevelt family is included in the program, but after a pleasant sail across the bay the boatman shifts about, lays to, and says in a dissatisfied voice: "I dassent go no closer this mornin' on account of them secret service men. They's so infernal mean and has got the big head so bad, that they act ez ef they owned the president, and won't let nobody go near him. There's a couple on 'em settin' there now. We'll lay by here a little, an' mebbe they'll go away, n' then we kin go ashore éz soon as they's gone. The president don't like 'em any more'n I do, but ye see the gov'ment cent 'em down here an' he's got to keep 'em."

After awhile the party gets impatient, and the boatman takes them back to town. The same game is worked on a new lot of sightseers every day. Rough Riders Numerous Rough riders are rather numerous. too. Every man who served in the First regiment of volunteers feels that he has a right to come down any time and camp on the colonel's porch, and the colonel is exceedingly patient and considerate toward them. Some of them come down simply to give him renewed proof of their devotion. Others have more selfish motives, and seem to consider that their service with the president during the war entitles them to any office they may aspire to. The president told one of them the other day that he'd already appointed large part of the regiment to office. and the rest of them would have to stand aside.

The indifference of the president and all his family to the weather is quite remarkable. Rain and wind, heat and cold, are all alike to them, and they never alter their plans for such trifles. Mrs. Roosevelt and the children will go out on horseback in a pouring rainstorm without the slightest hesttation, and no shower was ever heavy enough to make them abandon a walk they had planned. They will come in dripping, run up to their rooms, change their wet garments for dry, give themselves a good rubbing and feel all the better for it. The president has a theory that if the rain doesn't hurt animals it ought not to hurt human folks.

TEXAS MINERAL SURVEY FULLY DISCUSSED

An Elaborate Publication Sent Out By the University of Texas-Table of Contents Given in Detail

Bulletin No. 3, University of Texas, mineral survey, dealing especially with coal, lignite and asphalt rocks in Texas, has been issued and sent out. It contains 137 pages, and is elaborately illustrated.

William B. Phillips, the director, in his introductory remarks, announces that this forms the third of a series of economic publications relating to the mineral resources of the state. Bulletin No. 1 was on Texas petroleum, and bears date of July, 1901. Bulletin No. 2 was on quicksilver, oil and sulphur in trans-Pecos Texas, and was issued in February, 1902. The edition of these two bulletins has been completely exhausted and there are no more for distribution. There is now being prepared a special bulletin on the quicksilver district of Brewster county, and it is hoped to have it ready by September. B. F. Hill, assistant geologist, has this in hand and his report will be accompanied by a topographic map of that district, prepared by the United States geological survey. Arthur Stiles being in charge of the field work. Later in the year, possibly not before January, 1903, it is expected to issue a report dealing with the southwestern part of Brewster county and the southeastern part of Presidio county, accompanying this also by a topographic map covering about 600 square miles

The change that has been wrought in industrial circles by the introduction of fuel oil within the last year renders the publication of reliable data concerning the other fuels of the state especially pertinent at this time, No attempt has been made to cover the entire field, but merely to present the main features of a subject which is now attracting no little attention both at home and abroad.

Following is a synopsis of the contents of the very valuable publication: Chapter 1-Location of coal and lignite mines; Eocene coals; labor; cost of production; description of mines; sections of coal and lignite seams; Eagle Pass coal field; Cretaceous coal; Carboniferous coal; Bituminous, or soft coal; analyses of coals and lignites.

Chapter 2-Discussion of heat units: calculation of heat units; Prof. Denton's test of Beaumont oil; comparison of coal with oil as fuel; production of coal and lignite; railroad freights on coal, lignite and oil.

Chapter 3-Asphalt rocks of Montague, Cooke, Anderson, Jasper, Uvalde and Burnet counties; analyses of asphalt rocks.

Chapter 4-Uses of asphalt and asphalt rocks; production of asphalt and asphalt rocks; asphalt pavements; analyses of asphalt and asphalt rocks; utilization of asphalt rocks in Texas. Chapter 5-Chemistry of asphalt rocks of Texas; analytical methods: nomenclature; specimens examined: experimental part; investigation of the bitumen extracted from Texas asphalt rocks; summary of results.

THE BOSS WORM MEDICINE.

H. P. Kumpe, druggist, Leighton, Ala., writes: "One of my customers had a child, which was sick, and threw up all food, could retain nothing on its stomach. He bought one bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge, and it brought up 119 worms from the child. It's the boss worm medicine in the world." White's Cream Vermifuge is also the children's tonic. It improves their digestion and assimilation of food, strengthens their nervous system and restores them to the health, vigor and elasticity of spirits natural to childhood. 25c at H. T. Pangburn &

SHE'S A FORT WORTH GIRL

Miss Edna Burchill Highly Complimented for Singing

The Bangor (Me.) Commercial of a recent date pays the following deserved compliment to Miss Edna Burchill of Fort Worth, daughter of Mrs. Belle M. Burchill, now residing here, and who for three terms served as postmaster of this city:

Miss Edna Burchill, the unique figure on the vaudeville stage who is known as The Texas Baritone, is a member of the Herald Square Comedy. company which is playing a week's engagement to large audiences at Riverside park and her act is one of the best on the highly excellent program-one of the best presented at the resort this season.

Miss Burchill, as her title signifies. has a baritone voice, an unusual thing for a woman, and so deep are her tones that many people who hear her will not be convinced that she is not a man disguised as a woman by a clever makeup. Up to within a few weeks she has been under Engagement in New York, and as soon as the regular dramatic season opens she will appear in the leading theaters in Boston, New York and other large cities for another long run.

Before appearing on the stage, Miss Burchill sings a verse of her opening song behind the scenes. Then she comes before the audience and all but those who are prepared exclaim with surprise that such a voice should come from a woman. It is a baritone of depth and sweetness and she is always heard with uncommon pleasure in all of her selections.

Miss Burchill is a native of Texas, and received her musical education with the foremost teachers of the middle West, most of her instruction having been received in St. Louis. During the past few years she has appeared in nearly all the leading theatrical centers of the country, and wherever she has been she has caused sensations in musical circles.

She has recently closed a long engagement at Hammerstein's famous roof garden in New York city and was to have been at Rockaway Beach for the summer, but the burning of the theater there canceled her engagement there. In the fire Miss Burchill lost all her jewelry, together with most of her other personal property. Immediately following the termina- 611 Main street.

tion of her engagement at Rockaway Beach she was engaged by Hon. Joseph J. Flynn for the summer parks in his circuit, and that Mr. Flynn secured a big drawing card is evident from the reception which she is accorded at her each appearance.

A DISTINGUISHED VISITOR

Hon. Frank R. Lubbock Guest of Relatives in the City.

Hon. Frank R. Lubbock, ex-governor of Texas, is a visitor in the city, guest of his relatives, the family of J. B. Davies, 1404 Hemphill street, Governor Lubbock will remain in the city for some time, and came here for a muchneeded rest. He was governor of Texas during the late civil war, serving through 1861, 1862 and 1863, and is called the "war governor." Aged as he is, he takes much interest in state and national issues, and discusses them with a wisdom which his long years of service and study has brought him. He was a delegate to the State Democratic convention held at Galveston recently and pronounces it a most remarkable gathering, and remarked upon the business-like manner in which it was conducted, and especially upon its brevity, emphasizing on that part of the program which cut out longwinded speeches and wrangling.

Governor Lubbock is in his 87th year. He will remain here until after the state meeting of the United Cohfederate veterans at Dallas, and will attend.

NEW OFFICIAL FOR COLORADO

OF RAILROADS

Troubles of Southwestern Passenger Association - Efforts Made to Revive It. Nothing in Rumors that the Moores will get Control of the Northwestern

W. E. Morse has been appointed general superintendent of the St. Louis, Kansas City and Colorado Railroad company, with headquarters at St. Louis, the announcement being made by George L. Sands, vice-president and general manager of the Colorado. Mr. Morse has been division superintendent of the Chicago and Northwestern at Chicago. The appointment is looked upon as temporary as the Rock Island's policy in abrogating the offices of the Choctaw will be extended to the Colorado, though action may be deferred until the completion of the road. It is thought that it will not be in operation into Kansas City for a year

The Rock Island is now a member of the Terminal association of St. Louis, and has about completed its purchases of property for terminal fa-

PASSENGER BUREAU TROUBLES

The Southwestern Association on Verge of Dissolution-Efforts to Patch Up

It is stated that the Southwestern passenger bureau has been on the verge of dissolution for some time past and at the last meeting held in St. Louis a few days ago efforts were made to patch up the rending differences without much prospect of success. Another meeting will be held soon with the same end in view. The Southern Pacific and Texas and Pacific systems are not taking active part in the meetings but manifest a willingness to remain in the organization provided all other southwestern roads will participate and live up to the rules laid down. The Texas and Pacific refused to be represented at the last meeting because James Barker, general passenger agent of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas, would not attend in person. The Texas and Pacific contends that unless all roads in this territory enter the association and then adhere strictly and uncompromisingly to the rules, all violations being impartially punished by the penalties provided, it is useless and worse than useless to attempt to maintain the organization. It is cited that violations on the part of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas caused fines to be entered against that road, but the penalties have not been paid and no attention given to the matter. When these are paid the Texas and Pacific stands ready to renew its membership and the Harriman lines will probably follow.

CHOCTAW'S TIME CARD

Names of New Stations and New

Names for Old Stations The Choctaw has issued a new time bard which gives the names of the new stations, together with new names for old stations as follows:

Havana is the name of Greenville, Fanshawe is known as Caston, Turkey Creek is now Hughes. Dublin is a new town just this side of Oklahoma City. Bear, the first station west of Weatherford, has been changed to Indianapolis.

The new statons west of Sayre, with their distances, are as fololws: Hext Ranch 634.7, Erick 841, Texola, Ok. 648.6, Quarantine, Tex., 650.4, Fuller 663.0, Shamrock 664.5, Story 670.9, Ramsdell 676.6, McLean 687.7, Alanreed 635.9, Evans 702.3, Mayfield 709.7, Groom 719.4, Victor 626.6, Raymond 747.1, Amarillo 762.2.

IMMENSE COMBINATION

Rumored Contemplated Consolidation of Several Rock Island Lines

From New York comes the story of a contemplated combination and consolidation in the west, under which the Rock Island will be reorganized and capitalized for hundreds of millions of dollars.

It will be the holding company under which the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Northern, Choctaw, Oklahoma and Gulf, Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific proposed lines between St. Louis and Chicago and St. Louis and Kansas City will be consolidated under one man-

The report also includes the interesting assertion that an offer has been made by the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe to sell its property to the Rock Island.

WASHOUT AT WEATHERFORD

Track Slides from a Dump-Unprecedented Flood at Big Springs. Trains Operating El Paso to

Midland The heavy rain of last night caused more trouble for the Texas and Pacific as it caused a dump one mile this side of Weatherford to give way and allow the track to slide off. Energetic efforts are being put forth to mend the place and it was expected this morning that the delayed trains would be able to come through by 2 o clock this afternoon. Train No. 6 that was due here at 6:30 o'clock this morning was hung up at Weatherford, also the Mineral Wells train. The great source of trouble is at Big Springs where the water was still rising. Nothing like the present mundation has ever been known there before. At 6 o'clock this morning it was reported that water was standing over the floor of the train dispatcher's office to a depth of 18 inches and in other offices it was five feet deep. Some doubt was expressed as to whether the line would be fully prepared for traffic within four or five days.

The passenger department here is hoping that the line will be open for through business by tomorrow night. At present, however, tickets are not being sold to points beyond Abilene.

The west end of the line is reported to be open from El Paso to Midland and is carrying on local business.

Heavy rains along the joint track last night are reported this morning. but no damages or delays have ensued. No trouble has been reported as a result of the floods from any of the other roads entering Fort Worth.

SPECIAL TRAIN TO GALVESTON

To Celebrate Arrival of First Morgan Steamship From New York, and Opening New Docks

The Houston and Texas Central will run a special excursion train to Galveston on August 8 on account of the arrival on that date of the first of the fleet, the majestic steamer El Norte, of the Morgan line, which will now establish its New York service from that point. It will also be the occasion of the opening of the great piers and mammoth warehouses of the Southern Pacific at Galveston. The train will leave Fort Worth at 7:20 a. m. Tickets will be sold on August 7. good going only on special train, but good returning on any train up to and including train leaving Galveston at 8:25 p. m. August 10. The rate from Fort Worth for the round trip is $4.50.

DIRECTORS' MEETING

Officials of Chicago, Rock Island and Texas in Session-Officials of the Mexican Line in Attendance A business meeting of the directors of the Chicago, Rock Island and Texas Railway company will be held at the general offices of the road in this city this afternoon. Among the directors present will be Vice President S. B. Hovey and Treasurer F. E. Dietrich of this city and J. T. Harris of Ringgold. The meeting will also be attended by Vice President and General Manager J. H. Conlen, General Passenger and Freight Agent J. Myers of the Chicago, Rock Island and Mexican Railroad company, headquarters at Dalhart, who have come for a conference upon matters of mutual interest to both lines.

ROCK ISLAND FREIGHT WRECK

Two Trains Came Together Entailing Small Loss and But Little Inconvenience to Traffic A small wreck occurred on the Rock Island last night at Newark, where two freight trains collided. No one was injured and but slight damage-resulted. The track was blockaded for some time but everything has been cleared up and trains are running through without interruption. One train came in last night over the Denver tracks from Bowie, but that was the extent of the inconvenience. The cause of the collision was greased brakes, so they did not act effectively.

THE MOORES NOT IN IT

W. K. Vanderbilt Still Controls the Northwestern and Will Keep It Rumors to the effect that the Moores are after the Northwestern and that they are liable to secure control of it have brought out a statement by one of the officials of that road to the effect that the controlling interest is owned by W. K. Vanderbilt, and his family who would not part with their holdings without the consent of W. K. Vanderbilt. As he has shown no disposition to release any of his stock there is no indication that the Moores or anybody else will soon take charge of the property.

FROM FRISCO TO KATY

R. R. Hammond Is to Make a Change of Employers August 1

St. Lou.s, July 25 .- R. R. Hammond, superintendent of maintenance of the Frisco system, has resigned to accept service with the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway company as assistant general manager. The resignaiton is effective August 1.

Notes and Personals

It is announced that the Frisco will build shops and a fine passenger station at Ardmore in the near future. The Syracuse Rapid Transit company of Syracuse, N. Y., has just received a car of Beaumont oil with a view to testing it in its power house. C. Foley Woods, assistant city ticket agent of the Sunset route at San Antonio, has been made traveling passenger agent of the Queen and Crescent, effective August 1. The Fort Worth and Denver has just paid its quarterly passenger tax for the quarter ending, June 30. The tax amounted to $826.84, being on gross passenger earnings of $82,874.63.

The one-fare round trip excursion rates to New York and Atlantic City have been withdrawn. The special rates to St. Louis and Kansas City and Hannibal are still in effect, however.

The railroad commission yesterday passed an order exempting the Sunset-Central system from the operation of the emergency rate on fruits and vegctables that was issued on Wednesday.

It is announced that freight traffic on the Fort Worth division of the International and Great Northern between Waco and Mertens would be inaugurated on July 24 and passenger service on August 1. It is reported on what is regarded reliable authority that the Velasco Terminal railroad is to change owners and be extended to Houston, making connection at Stoneham, in Grimes county, with the proposed road to be built from Houston to that point.

The Denver, Northwestern and Pacific, David H. Moffatt's new enterprise, has secured from the Burlington the right of way through South Boulder canon on the old survey and right of way of the Denver, Utah and Pacific which had been acquired by the Burlington.

The new station of Leroy, on the Fort Worth division of the International and Great Northern, was opened yesterday and the event was appropriately celebrated by a grand barbecue and sale of town lots which attracted large crowds from the surrounding The cheap rates that have been on from Chicago and St. Louis to Atlantic coast points were abrogated at a special meeting of the Central Passenger association held at Chicago this week. The slate is wiped clean and excursion rates will be made on the same basis as has prevailed in former years.

Leroy Trice, general manager of the International and Great Northern, says that students from the Agricultural and Mechanical college at Bryan, who have been employed in the machine shops of that road have proven themselves to be competent machinists and command best prices in their lines.

General managers of roads centering in Chicago are considering the advisability of establishing a labor board with full powers. They are of opinion that such a body will save time and expense to both railroad officials and employes, especially if the employes and unions would organize a similar board with similar powers.

James Barker of St. Louis, general passenger agent of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas system, and W. O. Crush of Dallas, general passenger agent of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas, were in the city last night and left this morning at 8 o'clock over the Fort Worth and Denver track for Wichita Falls. From there they will go to Gainesville and thence to Dallas.
