SOUTH TURNS OUT EN MASSE FOR LABOR DAY

AN UNUSUAL CELEBRATION IS TO BE NOTED

HOLIDAY IS GENERAL

BUSINESS IS SUSPENDED AND PARADES ARE LARGEST ON RECORD

MONEY THROWN INTO STREET

Novel Feature in the Procession in Chicago Where Coins Are Tossed to Marchers for Striking Miners

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 1.—Labor Day is being more generally celebrated in Southern cities than ever before.

The parade here was the largest on record. Banks and post offices closed and exchanges present a holiday appearance.

At Birmingham and throughout Alabama the mining and manufacturing region, the day was given over to parade and recreation.

At New Orleans President Sam Houston of the American Federation of Labor, reviewed an immense parade of organized labor. It was the first celebration under the new law making the first Monday in September Labor Day. Banks, exchanges and public buildings and many business houses were closed. President Gompers delivered an oration at the big picnic given by the Central Trades Council.

Louisville, Atlanta, Nashville and other Southern cities report unusually elaborate celebration of the day.

At Chicago more than half the usual business is at a standstill in honor of Labor Day.

During the morning hours great throngs of workmen passed in review through the downtown streets.

A novel feature of this parade was the contribution of money for the striking anthracite miners thrown into a number of stretched union flags which were borne along the route by several of the unions.

AGAIN IN ERUPTION

MONT PELEE BELCHES FORTH FIRE AND LAVA

Clouds of Dust Cover Adjacent Islands and Loud Discharges Even Alarm the Inhabitants — The Latest News Received

Pointe-a-Pitre, Guadeloupe, Sept. 1.—This port has been covered with a cloud of fine dust since 5 o'clock Sunday morning and the populace is pan-stricken. Fine ashes are falling continually in a slight drizzle. Semidarkness is over the sea and the ships in the harbor are enveloped in a cloud of smoke.

Advisers from Basse Terre, Guadeloupe, assert that since daybreak the entire island has been covered with a cloud of dust coming from the southeast, the direction of the island of Martinique. The population of Basse Terre is greatly alarmed.

A severe eruption of Mont Pelee, Martinique, was reported to have occurred at noon Aug. 21. This report was brought to Guadeloupe, island of St. Lucia, by officers of the French steamship Dasham. This eruption was followed by total darkness five miles away from the volcano.

A dispatch received from St. Thomas, D. W. I., Aug. 26, said that between 10 o'clock in the morning and 3 in the afternoon of Aug. 25 clouds of dust were seen in the direction of Mont Pelee from the island of Dominica. Derogations were heard and there were light showers of volcanic dust.

The following message was received from Dominica, Tuesday, the 26th: Since this morning prolonged rumbling noises in quick succession have been heard from the southwest. There is every indication that Mont Pelee is in violent eruption.

A dispatch from Paris dated Aug. 25 said the latest dispatches received at the ministry of the colonies from Port de France, island of Martinique, were dated Monday, Aug. 25.

They made no mention of the reported eruptions of Mont Pelee. The Paris dispatch said also that the cables to Martinique both north and south continued to be interrupted. Efforts to communicate by cable direct with the island of Martinique have proved unsuccessful. Telegraphic communication with that island from New York is still interrupted.

CAPTAIN RICHMOND P. HOBSON

The public still has Capt. Richmond P. Hobson in its eye. The above is a recent portrait of the hero of the Merrimac. Madam Grandy has not yet definitely determined what there is in the story that Hobson has become engaged to Miss Stevenson, the daughter of the once vice-presidential candidate. The friends of Hobson believe it would be characteristic of the gallant captain to become privately engaged to Miss Stevenson.

FILIPINOS TO SELECT OWN GOVERNMENT

Manila, Sept. 1.—Gov. Taft was given a banquet by the American chamber of commerce of Manila last Saturday night. In an address replying to a toast, the governor discussed the future of the Philippines. He said the United States would retain the islands indefinitely with a view of educating the Filipinos to a state of self government and other conditions which would enable them to decide whether they desired to become independent or made interstate like Canada or Australia under Great Britain.

Gov. Taft said he believed the relationship between the two peoples would be continued and that the Americans were here for the benefit of the Filipinos. He said the Americans did not desire the islands for selfish purposes. He promised that American capital would get fair treatment here.

CRUISER OLYMPIA STARTS BALL ROLLING

Woodhole, Mass., Sept. 1.—The United States cruiser Olympia dashed into this port this morning, landed a force and seized all the telegraph and telephone cable stations, thereby cutting off all communications with Martha's Vineyard and Elizabeth Island.

MIMIC GAME OF WAR
This is the first real move of the game of war. It looks as though the navy had scored the "first blood."

Last night under cover of fog the North Atlantic squadron, commanded by Admiral Higginson, put out to sea. The little game of mimic war will be all along the Southern New England coast.

On land from Fort Rodman, New Bedford, to Fort Wright at Fishers Island every fortification is manned and patrolled by artillerymen. They are looking for the imaginary enemy and incidentally seek to uphold the honor of the army and not allow the ships to make a landing. The land forces are under the supreme command of Major General MacArthur.

Last night when taps were sounded at all the forts, nearly 5000 artillerymen went to sleep on their arms. Sharp eyed signal men swept the sea with their night glasses, feverishly anxious lest the light of a hostile war vessel might be taken for that of a friendly merchant craft.

There are nearly 5000 men afloat and it was Admiral Higginson's endeavor to land his marines at some exposed point of shore defense without being discovered. He seems to have done so in an admirable manner and has scored first "blood." He has seriously crippled HIGGINSON MAKES A CAPTURE.

Block Island, R. I., Sept. 1.—After a bombardment of two hours and a quarter Admiral Higginson today captured the signal and wireless telegraph stations on Boston hill and is now holding Great Salt Pond. The harbor signal corps abandoned the station and escaped.

The feet under Admiral Higginson is anchored off Breakwater.

MORE CABLE CUTTING.
Vineyard Haven, Mass., Sept. 1.—The United States cruiser Olympia has landed a detachment of men at Gay Head and the cable from that point to Pasque Island has been cut in connection with the war maneuvers.

however, as very few people were on the streets and no attention was paid to the workmen or the soldiers.

SMITH COUNTY GOES DRY
Majority Is Over 600 In Favor of Local Option
Tyler, Tex., Sept. 1.—Smith county Tyler, Tex., Aug. 30.—Smith county went dry Friday by a majority of 600 to 800. The city of Tyler gave a majority of twenty-four to the pros. Hundreds of ladies of Tyler stood at the polls throughout the day while others served lunch and sang songs. When the result was announced after the polls closed a crowd of 500 people gathered at the polls and sang "Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow." This is the first instance in the history of Smith county when women worked at an election.

AUTO CONVENTION GOSSIP FROM THE STATE OF OHIO

Cleveland's Mayor and His Friends Will Dictate Adoption of Platform Endorsing Kansas City Plank and Bryan

Sandusky, O., Sept. 1.—There is no doubt but that Mayor Tom Johnson of Cleveland and his friends will be in absolute control of the state Democratic convention when it assembles here in preliminary meeting tomorrow and meets formally Wednesday.

McLean men have made no fight for the delegations but will try to secure a majority of the state committee.

The state ticket and platform will be dictated by Johnson.

The Kansas City platform will be readopted and Bryan endorsed.

The Democratic convention that nominated Col. James Kilbourn for governor last year did not mention Bryan or the Kansas City platform.

A YOUNG TEXAN IS FOUND DEAD

P. C. Gwin of San Angelo Seemed Well When He Went to His Room
Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 1.—A young man about 30 years old, whose name appears from papers and receipts found in his pockets, to be P. C. Gwin, of Guinn, of San Angelo, Tex., was found dead in a lodging house. A thorough investigation of the clothing and the room failed to disclose anything indicating that death was caused by suicide. It was determined to hold a post mortem examination this afternoon.

On a chair there was a package containing two headache powders. When Gwin applied for the room last night he appeared to be well. He asked for a twenty-five cent room, and it took all of his money to pay for it.

PARKS PRESENT ANIMATION

Dancing, Feasting, Speechmaking and Athletic Sports Will Each Offer in Making up a Program in Honor of Labor Day

The headquarters for and pleasantly packed Labor Day program is now being held at the city hall. It will be a most successful one of any kind ever held in this city. It is expected that an early hour this morning, thousands of organized labor bodies were seen hurrying hither and thither preparing arrangements for a place in the parade.

Thousands of people flocked the streets, and especially crowded the sidewalks on each side of Main street and the side street approaches for the entire distance from Weatherford to Front and on awnings and windows there was a leaning point of vantage to view the parade.

At the great court house, the Texas and Pacific union station, at the other end of Main street, were masses of animation, and the crowds stirred in all the gala costumes in keeping with the day were as enthusiastic as were those in the procession. The thousands that flocked the sidewalks about and streets in carriages were lined in their applause and as each section arrived at various given points cheer after cheer followed.

The line was a little tardy, as is usual, in starting, but by ten o'clock all assignments had been made, and the line moved, starting at Weatherford street, moving south to Front, around the Al Haynes drinking fountain back up Main to Weatherford and Bellman and there disbursing. The line reached from the court house to the depot and half way back again, and even the full length both ways was filled out by private carriages. Some organizations mentioned heretofore in the line of parade were unable to secure carriages, hence did not go in. Among these were the barbers. They however, did a magnanimous act, and worked a half day, donating their earnings to the striking coal miners.

The parade was led by Sheriff Clark's and Police Chief Rea's forces, mounted, followed by the mayor, president of the trades assembly and speakers in carriages. The delegates to the trades assembly came next afoot. Then came George Connor's band of twenty-five pieces. The other organizations followed in the order named: Plumber's union, iron moulders, leather workers, painters and decorators, windmill and water supply workers, carpenters and joiners, brewer workers, retail clerks, team drivers, and many others.

The parade was a most successful one, and the day was spent in a most enjoyable manner. The day was a most successful one, and the day was spent in a most enjoyable manner.

LOCALS WIN THE MATCH

YOUNG BUSINESS MEN'S BALL GAME LANDED BY LOCALS

Thirteen to Twelve Was the Score That But Feebly Tells the Tale of Struggle for Victory - Good Attendance

The Fort Worth "Winfrey Whirlwinds" defeated the Dallas "Estes Endeavorers" at the Haines ball park this morning by a score of 13 to 12 in a game that lasted from 10 o'clock to 12:30...

The game was between nine of Dallas' young bankers and an equal number of Fort Worth's young bankers and business men. Once in a while there was a sensational feature, like Chetham's one-handed catch.

In the first half of the first, Bibb and Henderson each made one run. D. Geen of Dallas did a lot of stealing and finally came home. Williams was forced out on first. Martin made a good assist in putting out R. Geen on first and the first inning closed with 2 to 1 in Fort Worth's favor.

In the second McKinley did enough stealing to scandalize any bank clerk and finally got home on a passed ball. Bibb succeeded in stealing home and Fort Worth's half closed with two more runs. Harris and Estes were the only ones making runs for Dallas.

Walton started the third by being hit by a ball. In spite of his injury (?) he made a run, and was followed by Winfrey and Chetham. In the last half of the third there were many changes. W. B. McComb, an umpire, who wore a green necktie, was giving dissatisfaction and was replaced by Ernest Glenn.

After Wharton for Dallas had struck out, and Williams was on second, R. Geen pounded a fly towards Chetham who caught it with one hand and threw to Walton, putting Williams out, making the only double play of the game. Score 7 to 3.

In the fourth Henderson and Walton made runs. Then the Dallas players did things. First, D. Geen came home. Lawhorn was next; then R. Geen and Ruby, who ran for Kelly, came home together. Harris and Estes also did the trick, making six runs and tying the score—9 to 9.

Martin made Fort Worth's only run in the first half of the fifth. Wharton did the same for Dallas and the score again tied, 10 to 10. Many left the grandstand at this time believing that the game would be called off on account of the heat and the threatening clouds.

In the eighth Bibb was tired out, but got to second from where Winfrey ran for him and finally landed a score. Dallas failed to score, making the score 12 to 10.

Neither Fort Worth or Dallas scored in the seventh. In the eighth R. Geen and Wharton made runs apiece tying the score for the third time. Hardly any one was left in the bleachers at the beginning of the ninth. Martin made the last run and the score was 13 to 10. Then Dallas took a final brace. R. Geen and Wharton each drew a run, scaring the locals badly, but the necessary three were put out in time and the score remained 13 to 12 in favor of Fort Worth.

The lineup: Fort Worth—Bibb, c. f.; Poindexter, r. f.; Henderson, 2b.; Walton, 3b.; Winfrey, l. f.; Chetham, s. s.; McKinley, c.; Sandidge, 1b.; Martin, p. Dallas—A. Lawhorn, c.; D. Geen, p.; N. Williams, 1b.; L. Wharton, 3b.; R. Geen, s. s.; R. Harris, l. f.; J. Estes, c. f.; M. Mummert, r. f.

Umpires, McComb and Glenn. Time, 1 hour and 30 minutes. Attendance, 150. Double play, Chetham, Walton. Struck out by Geen 7, by Martin 1. Hit by pitched ball, Walton, Williams, Henderson, Martin.

PREACHER'S CHILDREN Same as Others

The wife of a prominent divine tried the food cure with her little daughter. She says, "I feel sure that our experience with Grape-Nuts food would be useful to many mothers. Our little daughter 8 years old, was subject to bowel trouble which we did not then understand and which the doctor's prescriptions failed to cure."

"We had been using different cereals for breakfast and finally becoming discouraged I said, 'I will try an experiment, I will discard all other cereals and use only Grape-Nuts for breakfast.' The three children all like it better than anything else and are so fond of it that I hardly let them have all they want. In a short time I could see an improvement in the bowel trouble."

"We began using Grape-Nuts five months ago and now not only has the bowel trouble disappeared but the child has grown so plump and well-in fact was never so fleshy before—that all our friends notice and remark about it. We think we have an ideal breakfast which consists of whole wheat bread with butter, Postum Cereal Coffee and Grape-Nuts. This is all we care for and I think it would be hard to find many families so invariably healthy as is ours." Name given by the Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

The first was won by heavy batting, and ended with Dallas having twelve runs to six of Fort Worth. Jarvis was somewhat wild in his pitching. The second game was better. McKay held the Dallas players down to ten hits, all of which were made in the first and seventh innings. The second game which was one postponed from a week ago, and then on a tie of one to one after twelve innings play, was also taken by Dallas, the score being six to three.

Dallas struggled to second place with twenty-four games won and twenty-two lost, its per centage standing being .523. Paris was third, eighteen won, twenty-seven lost, per centage .400 and Fort Worth held the finish last place winning only seventeen games out of forty-three; per centage .395.

The President's Double

If the president had been seeking a double of himself, he could not have come more closely to the mark than in the man selected for Secretary of the Navy, and while the resemblance may be very striking, there is no more possibility of his being taken for the Executive than there is of success in palming off a substitute remedy for Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It has become so well known as a cure for headache, nervousness, indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation and malaria that many unscrupulous dealers will refill the bottles with a bogus article and offer it as the genuine. Beware of such counterfeiters. The genuine Hostetter's Bitters has their Private Stamp unbroken over the neck of each bottle. Don't fail to try it.

LIFE CRUSHED OUT BY CARS

Paul Ford Walker, Brought Home a Mangled Corpse The mangled remains of Paul Ford Walker were brought to Fort Worth from Waco last night and taken to the home of his brother-in-law, B. M. Harding, 508 West Belknap street. From there this morning at 9 o'clock the funeral and burial was conducted, Rev. Mr. Cook officiating.

The story of this young man's demise and the accident which caused it is a particularly sad one. He was not quite 17 years old, and left Fort Worth a few days ago in company with other boys for the purpose of standing examination at Waco for apprentice in the naval service. He failed to pass the test, and was in the act of starting home when he was killed by a Katy engine, and died an hour later. Both legs were cut off. He was taken to a hospital and all done for him that surgery and medicine could suggest, but to no avail. His Fort Worth companions, Abner Cobb and Luke Huffman, witnessed the accident, but were compelled to go with the others of the boys entering for service, and it was Abner Cobb who telephoned the sad particulars to Paul's mother about noon yesterday.

Decased was a member of the Christian Tabernacle church, and was a son of A. C. Walker, who died here in September of 1900.

MALARIA An Incurable Enemy to Health

Means bad air, and whether it comes from the low lands and marshes of the country, or the filthy sewers and drain pipes of the cities and towns, its effect upon the human system is the same. These atmospheric poisons are breathed into the lungs and taken up by the blood, and the foundation of some long, debilitating illness is laid. Chills and fever, chronic dyspepsia, torpid and enlarged liver, kidney troubles, jaundice and biliousness are frequently due to that invisible foe, Malaria. Noxious gases and unhealthy matter collect in the system because the liver and kidneys fail to act, and are poured into the blood current until it becomes so polluted and sluggish that the poisons literally break through the skin, and carbuncles, boils, abscesses, ulcers and various eruptions of an indolent character appear, depleting the system, and threatening life itself. The germs and poisons that so oppress and weaken the body and destroy the life-giving properties of the blood, rendering it thin and watery, must be overcome and carried out of the system before the patient can hope to get rid of Malaria and its effects.

S. S. S. does this and quickly produces an entire change in the blood, reaching every organ and stimulating them to vigorous, healthy action. S. S. S. possesses not only purifying but tonic properties, and the general health improves, and the appetite increases almost from the first dose. There is no Mercury, Potash, Arsenic or other mineral in S. S. S. It is strictly and entirely a vegetable remedy. Write us about your case, and our physicians will gladly help you by their advice to regain your health. Book on blood and skin diseases sent free.

W. K. WILL QUIT SCORCHING Young Vanderbilt to Retire from Automobileing as a Sport New York, Sept. 1.—W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., who is credited with having driven an automobile faster for a mile than any other person, has announced, according to a Herald dispatch from Newport, R. I. his permanent retirement from automobileing as a sport. He is said to have sold his stable of high speed machines, which included some of the fastest and most costly automobiles ever built in France, Germany and the United States. Mr. Vanderbilt's friends assert that this decision was arrived at before he left Paris and that it was not caused by any effect upon himself and other members of his family of the Fair accident. Mr. Vanderbilt's greatest recent breaking accomplishment was performed in France, where he covered a mile in 48 2-5 seconds, only a fortnight before the accident to his brother-in-law. He is said to give as his reason the enactment of restrictive laws and the generally poor condition of roads.

ers on horseback, printers and printing pressmen in carriages, electricians, machinists, stationary firemen, cigar makers, journeymen tailors, laborer's union coopers' two floats of blacksmiths, each having a horse in the float on which a horsehoer was engaged, boiler makers, with a huge boiler mounted and a score of boiler-makers and helpers pounding away on it. Being led by the boiler-makers were a couple of donkeys on which were banners reading, "Retired Boiler-makers." This ended the labor union line, but following it came "The Boys' Brigade" from the Broadway Presbyterian church. The boys were diked out in uniform, and carried guns, and were commanded by their instructor, Prof. Butte. The boys' bugle corps gave them quite a military air. They were the recipients of much applause. Every organization showed up well, and each received merited applause. The carpenters and joiners had the largest turnout, being by far the largest organization in the trades assembly. The painters and decorators loomed up in their white duck uniforms. The stationary firemen in neat new overalls made a creditable appearance, as did the brewery workers. The journeymen tailors in spick and span, neat fitting togery got a hand all along the route. The printers and printing pressmen had the swell turnout—nine rubber-tired carriages, and everybody took their hats off to the types. There was something doing for Ever-Present Swartz, the photographer, after the parade was over. On the north steps of the court house he "shot" in turn the carpenters' union; the officers of the day, mounted; the stationary firemen and a number of other organizations. Walter Stephens was grand marshal, aided by Messrs. J. J. Schiller, S. J. Thompson and John Aldridge. They kept the procession in good order throughout. During the Interim From 1 a. m. to 2 p. m. the crowds departed themselves as best suited their inclination, some going to the stock yards, some to Tyler's Lake and some to Hermann park to rest up for the afternoon program. At 2:30 p. m., Mayor T. J. Powell welcomed the gathering and discussed direct legislation, and how the people may help to secure progress and good government. MAYOR POWELL'S ADDRESS. Mayor Powell extended a hearty welcome to all who participated in the festivities of the day, and said that labor in Fort Worth had occasion to rejoice, because under peaceful conditions there was ample work for willing hands. He referred to the growth of the American republic, under a constitution which guarantees equal rights and liberty to the citizens, stating that in the beginning of this century America occupied a position higher than ever attained by any government on earth. He said that the industrial development of American since the civil war was the marvel of civilization of the nineteenth century, and that within the past few years England had surrendered the hegemony or control of the Anglo-Saxon into the hands of America, and that this was accomplished when England, impoverished and robbed of its flower of the army by the Boer war, was compelled to submit to the abrogation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, which permitted of the building of the Isthmian canal, which will eventually give full industrial supremacy to these United States. He briefly referred to the glory of American achievement during the past century, and said that new conditions and new problems presented themselves for solution at the beginning of this century. The great national problem of the present was the issue between capital and organized labor, and that upon the peaceful solution under the law lay the hope of the perpetuation of the American republic under the high ideal of its constitution. He said there were two dangers which threatened the American people—anarchy, with its forces of destruction on the one hand, and industrial despotism on the other. Reference was made to the present coal strike, the mayor stating that under the leadership of John Mitchell, whom he considered one of the brainy men of the country, and who counseled peace under the law at all hazards, public opinion in America was demanding at this time a peaceful and speedy settlement of the trouble. He also cited the fact that the leading divine of New York, Bishop Potter, and the leading politician of the dominant political party of America, Mr. Hanna, were both counseling a settlement of the strike by arbitration. The speaker traced the growth of the labor organizations as correlative to the growth of the great confederations and said that the greatest civic reward or crown that should be placed upon the brow of that man who presented and carried through the necessary legislation that would under peaceful methods secure to both labor and capital a just and fair return. He spoke of the fact that President Roosevelt in his utterances against the trusts, had gone against the traditions of his party, and that in Oliver Wendall Holmes he had placed upon the supreme bench of America for the first time an open and avowed friend of organized labor. "It is not for me," said the mayor, "to offer a solution of the great problem, but I think it can only be accomplished by peaceful and intelligent use of the elective franchise and in the direction of men and the passage of laws that will do equal and exact justice to both labor and capital." The mayor then took up the question of home rule for cities, earnestly advocating direct legislation for the passage of laws for the control of city governments. He said that the ideal municipal government, and upon that all writers agree, was that controlled by the town meetings in the early history of every town, and that when the towns grew too large for this method, statutes were enacted and charters formulated which gradually took from the citizens some rights of local self-government and placed it in the hands of legislative bodies, few in number. He showed the growth of cities and increase in urban population, which at present composes about 40 per cent of the population of America in cities of over 8000 population, and also said that to take into consideration the means of commerce by interurban railroads, that practically 75 per cent of the population of America was centered in the cities and towns and that this aggregation of people, had produced natural necessities which are called natural monopolies. which, he held, should be operated for the public good and not for private gain. He disclaimed any intention of making war on present institutions, and said the holders of all franchises should be protected to the limit of the law to the extent of the rights of their contract, but that in future the gift of franchise should be held for the use of the people and not given away, as in the past. They should be sold for favorable revenue producing contracts to the highest bidder, or operated under a limited period of years, and only upon a vote of the people, under direct legislation. The mayor said further that the right of voluntary movement in the enactment of laws in cities should reside with the citizen, as is done in a number of cities in recent charters, naming San Francisco among them. In conclusion, the speaker said that in his judgment the proper solution of the problem of city government could only be found under the system that gave to the citizen the right of local self-government, and the right of voluntary movement among the people in the securing of needed reforms which from time to time arose in the cities of our country. The mayor was closely followed throughout his address by the thousands in and about the pavilion, and his deep, conservative utterances met with the hearty approval of all, as was evidenced by the applause and at the close of his remarks hundreds crowded about him to give their personal approval to his eloquence. C. H. DUBOIS. Following Mayor Powell, C. H. Dubois, editor of the Union Banner began his speech in a humorous strain, as follows: "Mister Mayor yez have made a foine spache. It's dooly appreciated (Dooley of Chicago). There's an ould sayin' that some min put their fut in their mouth ivery toime they open it, but there's two objections to that on your part. Your mouth is too small and your fut is too large." Turing serious, Mr. Dubois said that remarks had been sometimes made with reference to the union cause by men whose mouths were too large and who talked too much. Previous Labor days furnished instances where the speaker said, "Sivril arrums had been talked off and other limbs dislocated." Referring to the feet, Mr. Dubois said that the laboring men believe in being "flat footed" and independent and that all had good "understanding," etc. Mr. Dubois made reference to the anthracite coal strike in Pennsylvania and other instances of overwork and under pay, asking that conditions for the future shall be made much better. Referring to the great benefits of unionism, he cited an instance given at the late golden jubilee of the Typographical union in Cincinnati where one man who had been a member of the union for 50 years calculated that the union had given to him $20,000 more wages than he otherwise would have received and that all the expense attending it had been less than $1000. "This," said the speaker, "is the profit of 20 per cent." The talk was interesting throughout and sparkled with flashes of wit that brought the speaker much applause. After the speeches there was a concert by the band and the different contests were commenced. Athletic Sports The afternoon, following the speaking, was devoted to athletic sports. The day's festivities will be closed by dancing, commencing at 8 p. m., closing when the pavilion is vacated.

of horseback, printers and printing pressmen in carriages, electricians, machinists, stationary firemen, cigar makers, journeymen tailors, laborer's union coopers' two floats of blacksmiths, each having a horse in the float on which a horsehoer was engaged, boiler makers, with a huge boiler mounted and a score of boiler-makers and helpers pounding away on it. Being led by the boiler-makers were a couple of donkeys on which were banners reading, "Retired Boiler-makers." This ended the labor union line, but following it came "The Boys' Brigade" from the Broadway Presbyterian church. The boys were diked out in uniform, and carried guns, and were commanded by their instructor, Prof. Butte. The boys' bugle corps gave them quite a military air. They were the recipients of much applause. Every organization showed up well, and each received merited applause. The carpenters and joiners had the largest turnout, being by far the largest organization in the trades assembly. The painters and decorators loomed up in their white duck uniforms. The stationary firemen in neat new overalls made a creditable appearance, as did the brewery workers. The journeymen tailors in spick and span, neat fitting togery got a hand all along the route. The printers and printing pressmen had the swell turnout—nine rubber-tired carriages, and everybody took their hats off to the types. There was something doing for Ever-Present Swartz, the photographer, after the parade was over. On the north steps of the court house he "shot" in turn the carpenters' union; the officers of the day, mounted; the stationary firemen and a number of other organizations. Walter Stephens was grand marshal, aided by Messrs. J. J. Schiller, S. J. Thompson and John Aldridge. They kept the procession in good order throughout. During the Interim From 1 a. m. to 2 p. m. the crowds departed themselves as best suited their inclination, some going to the stock yards, some to Tyler's Lake and some to Hermann park to rest up for the afternoon program. At 2:30 p. m., Mayor T. J. Powell welcomed the gathering and discussed direct legislation, and how the people may help to secure progress and good government. MAYOR POWELL'S ADDRESS. Mayor Powell extended a hearty welcome to all who participated in the festivities of the day, and said that labor in Fort Worth had occasion to rejoice, because under peaceful conditions there was ample work for willing hands. He referred to the growth of the American republic, under a constitution which guarantees equal rights and liberty to the citizens, stating that in the beginning of this century America occupied a position higher than ever attained by any government on earth. He said that the industrial development of American since the civil war was the marvel of civilization of the nineteenth century, and that within the past few years England had surrendered the hegemony or control of the Anglo-Saxon into the hands of America, and that this was accomplished when England, impoverished and robbed of its flower of the army by the Boer war, was compelled to submit to the abrogation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, which permitted of the building of the Isthmian canal, which will eventually give full industrial supremacy to these United States. He briefly referred to the glory of American achievement during the past century, and said that new conditions and new problems presented themselves for solution at the beginning of this century. The great national problem of the present was the issue between capital and organized labor, and that upon the peaceful solution under the law lay the hope of the perpetuation of the American republic under the high ideal of its constitution. He said there were two dangers which threatened the American people—anarchy, with its forces of destruction on the one hand, and industrial despotism on the other. Besides relatives of the deceased and officers of the house, there was present at the station a delegation from the several Masonic organizations of which the deceased was a member. Grand Commander George E. Carson of the District Knights Templars expressed regret that the Masonic orders had been unable to attend as a uniformed body. FORT WORTH, TEXAS, Sept. 1, 1902

ENGLAND CAPTURED BY BOERS.

The enthusiastic welcome that the British government and people gave Generals Botha, DeWet and De la Rey during their recent visit in England brings from the American press many expressions of heightened regard for all concerned.

It is really hard to tell what all this show meant. It is admitted that the British leaders were willing to show hospitality to the Boers because they were glad the war had closed.

The best explanation seems to be that impulsive generosity is a characteristic of the British race just as much as stubborn brutality.

And so when white-winged peace spread her wings over the battle-scarred vaals of South Africa, they rejoiced because there had come an end to fighting, and with their rejoicing fame an impulsive glow of admiration for the foes who had fought them so sturdily and so they stretched out their hands in friendship.

CASE 113 By... Emile Gaboriau

Synopsis of Case No. 113 The morning of February 28, a man introducing himself as Count Louis de Clameran, an iron maker of Oloron, enters the bank of M. Fauvel and announces that he has come to draw 300,000 francs ($70,000) deposited in the bank by his late brother.

Under the name of M. Verduret, M. Lecq takes up his abode with Prosper and attempts to find more clues. Prosper receives a letter, the words of which have been cut from a prayer-book and pasted on a sheet of paper.

Verduret finds evidence to assure him that Lagors is an impostor and that Count Louis de Clameran was very poor before the mysterious death of his brother who had been a rich iron maker.

Verduret decides that De Clameran having some powerful influence over Mme. Fauvel gets the key to the safe from her, and overhearing a conversation between Prosper and his grisaille, ventures on the latter's name (Gipsy) and finds that it guards the secret combination.

At that very hour M. Verduret was taking the train at Tarascon, meditating upon the most advantageous plan to be adopted in pursuance of his discoveries, for he had discovered everything.

CHAPTER XII THE following is the statement as he wrote it out for the benefit of the judge of instruction, knowing that it would doubtless secure an indictment against the accused.

"Two leagues from Tarascon, on the left bank of the Rhone, stood the Chateau of Clameran. Here lived in 1841 the old marquis and his two sons, Gaston and Louis. A near neighbor was the Countess de la Verberie, with one daughter, Valentine, a lovely girl of eighteen. M. de Clameran detested the countess, and Mme. de la Verberie execrated the marquis. It was said that under the reign of Henry IV, a La Verberie had betrayed the affection of a fair daughter of the Clamerans.

"Gaston de Clameran met Valentine de la Verberie at an evening entertainment, and the two fell desperately in love. Gaston would often plunge into the Rhone at Clameran and rise out of the water at Verberie, where he would have a secret meeting with Valentine. In order to facilitate these meetings Gaston would place a light in his window immediately before starting which could be seen by Valentine at her home.

"One evening Gaston went into a cafe for a cup of coffee. Later, while playing billiards, hearing Valentine's name coupled with his own to her dishonor, he demanded a retraction, became embroiled and killed two men. He fled to the chateau, where he confessed to his father his intimacy with Valentine, declaring that he wished to marry her.

"Louis de Clameran, after an absence from home of eighteen years, returned, and from Mibonne, the maid who had been with Valentine at the time of her confinement, learned that his brother had not been drowned, that Valentine had had a son by Gaston and that she had subsequently married M. Fauvel. Impoverished by his excesses and unable to find a living honestly, Louis determined to use this information for the purpose of extorting money from Mme. Fauvel.

given up. All were pawned by Raoul. "Louis de Clameran was not satisfied to marry Madeleine while her heart was given to another. He determined to ruin Prosper, that she might lose her respect and her love for him. One night at a supper at which Raoul and Prosper were present Raoul heard Prosper, under the influence of wine, name the word (Gipsy) that would unlock the safe in M. Fauvel's bank. This he communicated to Clameran, also telling him that when M. Fauvel went out he always left the key to the safe in the drawer of his secretary in his chamber.

"Clameran then arranged that 300,000 francs should be kept in the bank over night ready for him to draw in the morning. That night Raoul, having been coached for the part by Clameran, went to Mme. Fauvel, told her that he was ruined and must have a large sum of money at once, threatening that if he did not get it he would blow out his brains. He told her that she must give him the key to the safe, which he would open, take what he needed and restore it on the morrow. Mme. Fauvel, in terror lest he should commit suicide and thinking that he did not know the word which, with the key, was necessary to open the safe, in order to gain time, gave him the key. Raoul went down the stairway, Mme. Fauvel following him in agony. Raoul opened the safe and took the money intended to be paid Clameran in the morning. Mme. Fauvel, astonished that he had succeeded, begged him to shut the safe, clinging to his arm and endeavoring to pull him away. The key was dragged from the lock and, slipping along the glossy varnish, made a long, deep scratch.

"The next day, after the robbery was discovered and Clameran had been paid the amount due him, he went to Mme. Fauvel and to Madeleine and told them that Raoul had secured the word necessary to open the safe from Prosper, who was to share in the plunder. Clameran, affecting to make a noble sacrifice for the two women, offered to restore the stolen money through them to M. Fauvel, but Madeleine, suspecting some hidden motive, declined the offer.

"Madeleine, believing that she and Mme. Fauvel would eventually get rid of the extortionists and vindicate Prosper, asked her uncle for 10,000 francs, to be used for a charitable purpose, and sent the amount to Prosper, with a letter made up of words cut out of a prayer book.

"Mme. Fauvel and Madeleine, owing to the extortions to which they had been subjected, became urgently pressed by tradesmen and others to whom they owed money and had nothing on which to keep up their position in society. They remained secluded for a time, but were at last obliged to appear in public at the Jandidier ball. Madeleine went to Vesinet to ask Raoul to return some of the money and jewels they had given him. On this occasion she was followed by M. Verduret and Prosper. Madeleine's effort was fruitless, though she finally forced Raoul by threats of exposure to surrender some of the pawn tickets.

"At last Clameran and Raoul found in the clown at the Jandidier ball an enemy who possessed the secret of their villainies and tried to murder him."

CAME BACK YESTERDAY

CHIEF MADDOX RETURNS FROM TRIP TO SHREVEPORT

Succeeded in Making Things Lively for Willy Euphrat and Says He Will Catch Him Yet — Chief Rea Also Comes Back

Without his man, with a week's time lost, and an expense account that comes out of his own pocket, Chief Maddox has returned home from Shreveport, angry at the way he was treated in regard to the man whom he went to get, and yet satisfied because he made things interesting and succeeded in placing a large healthy spike in Euphrat's guns at three places in the South.

"I'm out the trip," said the chief, "but I made it cost Euphrat some too. He is minus $200 for a lawyer whom he got to help him out, and he is short his $300 bonds. But better than that, I succeeded in stopping his work in New Orleans, Shreveport and Texarkana in each of which places he is getting out a book. Altogether it will be a rather expensive proceeding for him."

"But I'll get him yet," continued the chief. "We'll have him within thirty days. I have an idea where he has gone and when we get him the next time, we'll bring him here."

Regarding the way he was treated at Shreveport, Chief Maddox is justly sore. He argued his best with the judge, in order to get Euphrat's bond fixed at a higher figure than $300 or only $65 more than the amount he was wanted for, but his arguments went in a deaf ear.

If Euphrat was to lose $235 if brought here, and only $300 if not, he was desperate enough to risk the extra $65 and make a break for liberty. How desperate he is is shown by his conduct. The loss of three fat souvenir books at New Orleans, Shreveport and Texarkana, will be enough to set him thinking. And notices which have been sent over the country will not only stop his work wherever he may try it, but also make his capture almost certain if the department boys anywhere can lay hold of him.

The Euphrat incident may not yet be regarded as closed, say both Chief Maddox and Chief Rea and they intended to keep it open till it is settled satisfactorily to the local department.

As Viewed in Shreveport

The particulars as to why these two officials returned without their man has also been told, but a little additional light as given by the Shreveport Times of Saturday may be interesting. The Times of Saturday contains the following:

E. F. Euphrat, the souvenir advertising man, has folded his tent like the Arab, and silently stolen away. He has shaken the dust of Shreveport from his feet and none are here to mourn him but the big chief from Fort Worth and Chris O'Brien, the local chief, both of whom were unbooned by the smooth faker with the oily tongue.

The merchants who were deceived into the belief that they were helping the local fire fighters by advertising in the "souvenir book" are all very sore over having been handed a gold brick.

Euphrat has collected the most of the money due him from local merchants, many of whom paid the amounts simply because their signatures were affixed to the contracts, and then prepared to skip out. He had deposited a certified check for $300 with his attorney, Mr. Murff, to indemnify the latter for his appearance bond signed by the lawyer, and all day Thursday he tried to induce Fire Chief Maddox to accept the amount of this check in consideration of Maddox quashing the charges against him.

When he saw that Maddox was determined to take him back to Texas, and that he would have to face charges in Dallas as well as Fort Worth, and further knowing that Chief O'Brien was ready to swoop down on him here, Euphrat must have felt that the coils were getting too tight about him, and he determined to skip to pastures new.

About 3 o'clock he went to his boarding house on Milan street, and packing his grips he quietly left the house. It is not known where he boarded the train for it is known he did not take it at the depot, or buy a ticket there. The supposition is he hired a hack and drove to some way station and boarded the train.

Before leaving, the faker, with the idea of deceiving Maddox and the sheriff, entered the Pacific Express office and asked whether he could send some money to himself at Baton Rouge, announcing that he was going to Baton Rouge to fight the extradition proceedings.

He stated that his attorney would accompany him, but this proved untrue, for Mr. Murff was seen talking to Fire Chief Maddox yesterday evening.

It was not discovered that Euphrat had fled until yesterday noon. His bond requires that he report every morning to the sheriff, and, failing to show up, the sheriff and Mr. Maddox show up, the sheriff and Mr. Maddox started on a hunt for Euphrat, and found that their bird had flown. Mr. Maddox immediately wired to New Orleans, Texarkana, Memphis, Kansas City and other points to look for the fugitive, and states that he will follow him all over the country if necessary to apprehend him.

The requisition of the governor of Texas arrived at the sheriff's office yesterday morning and was mailed to Baton Rouge on the first outgoing train. The law officers are of the opinion that the document will never be used, and that if Euphrat is ever caught it will not be in Louisiana or Texas.

The only winner in the whole game is the school fund of the parish of Caddo, which will be the richer by $300, the amount of Euphrat's bond, which he has forfeited.

Fire Chief Maddox is very sore over the escape of Euphrat, but takes some consolation in the fact that he has broken up Euphrat in his "firemen's souvenir" business.

It might be stated that neither Fire Chief Maddox nor O'Brien will use the transportation to New York promised them by Euphrat.

COUNTY COURT CONVENED

VOLUMINOUS DOCKET FOR THE SEPTEMBER TERM

Cases Set for Hearing and Court Adjourned Until Tomorrow—Criminal Docket on—Other Court Notes of General Interest

Judge Harris convened the September term of the county court this morning and faced what is conceded to be the most voluminous docket ever yet made a record of in this county. It has required the constant work during vacation of the county attorney's force and the force in that branch of the county attorney's office to get the record in shape for today's opening.

There were many members of the bar present. The docket was called and cases set, and on account of it being Labor Day, court adjourned until tomorrow, at which time the criminal court docket will be taken up.

Jessie Dixon, colored, pleaded guilty to betting at dice, and was fined $10 and costs.

The court heard argument in a lunacy case in which Mrs. Julia Cook from near Killen, was tried. She was declared to be of unsound mind.

The county court departments kept "open house" today, but little other business was transacted.

Though no regular courts were in session, the two closing days of the past week were not without interest. The proceedings mainly were of the important order, but disposed entirely of some cases and arranged others in line for a beginning this week.

SEVEN INQUESTS FOR WEEK

There were seven deaths during the past week which required the formality of an inquest. The business has been about equally divided between Justice Mullins and Justice Terrell.

DEPUTIES SHERIFF "AT HOME"

The regular and special deputies sheriff from Sheriff Clark's office, who have been doing duty as special guards and watchmen in the service of the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railway company between Gainesville and Cleburne since the machinists' strike on the system was inaugurated, have been relieved of their special duty, and are now "at home" serving tax suit citations and getting ready for the September terms of the district and county court. The strike has been settled.

AUGUST A RECORD BREAKER

The August record at the county jail shows 118 prisoners. Of this number 84 are now confined. Many of those making the difference between 84 and 118 have gone to the county road and are giving a correct imitation of good roads making.

TWO MURDER COMPLAINTS

Two complaints were Saturday filed before Justice Terrell charging murder. The men against whom the complaints were filed are in jail, Newman and Perry, alias Robert Logan, who are thought to be responsible for or implicated in the responsibility for O. N. Wartenbee's death. An examination will be given this week.

A COM PLAIN FROM JANITOR

Complaint has been made by the janitor of the court house of boys who wantonly and mischievously move the hose used for sprinkling the lawn, causing not only annoyance to the official but injury to the lawn. If it is not stopped some of them will find themselves given an opportunity to explain to the court why they meddled.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.
 Ed Williams, colored, was Saturday arrested on a charge of carrying a pistol and a dirk. Ed has a criminal record.

M. R. Chilcutt, deputy district clerk, is back from a ten days' trip up in Indian Territory to his ranch, near Roff, where he went to assist his brother and partner in cutting out some cattle.

The Seventeenth district court convenes for its September term one week from today. All is in readiness. Judge Smith has not yet returned from his vacation, but is expected home daily—anyhow, in time for the Cleburne convention.

Some one Saturday drove Justice Mullins' horse and buggy away from the hitching rack near the courthouse. It is thought to have been a partially demented boy who sometimes does such things, and other things equally as annoying.

Sheriff H. G. Stephens of Memphis, Tex., was here Saturday on private and official business. He says everything is in good shape in his county and crops are especially good. Rain has not been profuse, but a sufficient quantity has fallen for all immediate wants.

Deputy Sheriff Brock has returned from Austin where he went to take an insane prisoner.

Sheriff McClure from Wise county was here Saturday en route home from Austin. He, too, had been there to take a demented man. He said there were four sheriffs there Friday from as many counties, each having a demented person.

Deeds of trust filed with the county clerk Saturday amounted to $16,098; miscellaneous vendors' lien notes filed the same day, amounted to $1084; chattel mortgages filed amounted to $1457.20, and real estate transfers amounted to $9229.

WHAT WOMEN ADMIRE IN MEN

By Lady COLIN CAMPBELL

WOMEN abhor cowards and still more sneaks, though I regret to say they often endure cads in a way that belies their intelligence and good taste.

THEY HAVE A QUITE PATHETIC DESIRE TO LOOK UP TO MEN, TO FEEL MEN THEIR SUPERIORS IN STRENGTH OF BODY AND OF MIND, IN CALMNESS OF JUDGMENT AND CLEARNESS OF INTELLECT.

And it is indeed a pity that men so often seem to go out of their way to destroy their most cherished illusions.

ABOVE EVERYTHING ELSE A WOMAN ADMIRES STRENGTH IN A MAN. It may be strength of body—she will worship a Hercules with the brain of a guinea pig; it may be strength of intellect—she will adore a savant with the body of a gibbon monkey; it may be strength of character—she will break her heart for a politician or financier who is unswervingly wrapped up in dreams of personal advancement and who possesses no more heart than an oyster.

BUT STRENGTH IN SOME FORM SHE CRAVES UNCEASINGLY. IT IS A HEREDITARY INSTINCT THAT HAS BEEN BEQUEATHED TO HER THROUGH EVE'S FIRST DISAPPOINTMENT WHEN ADAM WAS TRIED IN THE BALANCE AND FOUND WANTING.

Woman, secretly conscious of her own physical weakness and lack of intellectual strength, demands strength from man to make up for her deficiencies. Even the strongest women, strong in body and mind, well balanced as Athene herself, though they may shield and protect the weakness of the men they love and stoop to help them, will never do so without a secret feeling of contempt which is destruction of all ideals.

Man, in spite of that deplorable start made by Adam, was intended to be woman's protector and refuge from all harm, upon whom she could lean and rely in every event of life's pilgrimage, and when the roles are reversed, as they often so unfortunately are, it is a bad thing both for man and woman.

WOMEN AND THE MILLENNIUM

By Sir EDWIN ARNOLD, Poet

Women especially the mere sound of peace must always be dear and welcome, since it is the watchword of their social dominion, the password of their power, the master word of their best interests and highest desires. And it is a curious fact to reflect upon that WOMEN, IF THEY WERE SO MINDED AND WERE RESOLUTE AND UNITED, COULD PROBABLY MAKE UNIVERSAL PEACE SOONER AND MORE CERTAINLY THAN IF ALL THE POWERS HAD THE MILLENNIUM FOR THEIR POLICY.

IF WOMEN WERE AWARE OF THEIR POWER, THERE IS MANY A WAR WHICH THEY COULD AND WOULD STOP IN SOME WAY OR OTHER.

As for the methods to be employed, there is no need to enter upon those; it is enough that she who rocks the cradle rules the world, and the proverb says with truth that THAT WHICH WOMEN WISH THE GODS ALSO WISH. THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN WAR AND PEACE FOR THEM IS GREATER THAN IT IS FOR MEN.

America's Great Debt To the Mother Country

By ANDREW CARNEGIE

We live in a whirl these days—things move so fast! Consider for a moment what I, in my short span, have already seen. WHEN A BOY, I SAW THE FIRST LOCOMOTIVE BROUGHT TO PITTSBURG ON A CANALBOAT, no railroad being constructed. I SAW THE FIRST TELEGRAPH WIRE FROM THE EAST STRETCHED INTO THE TOWN—no telegraph beyond or in any other direction. But, stranger than these, as a messenger boy I HAVE DELIVERED TELEGRAMS TO THE FIRST WHITE MAN BORN WEST OF THE OHIO RIVER. Today the center of population in the United States of America is 600 miles west of the Ohio at Pittsburg, which means that in the area in which there had not been a white man born until this Pittsburger came at least 40,000,000 people live today, all Americans and now of the English speaking race, whatever their origin.

THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE AMERICAN UNION HAS JUST BEGUN, FOR LESS THAN THIRTY PEOPLE TO THE SQUARE MILE INHABIT IT, WHILE THE OLD HOME, ENGLAND AND WALES, HAS 500.

What has rendered such unprecedented development possible? To Arkwright and Hargreaves and their colleagues the republic owes its manufacturing development in textiles; to Nelson and Cort, to Bessemer and Siemens and Thomas its extraordinary development in iron and steel. Its railroad system, which until a few years ago was one-half of the railroad mileage of the world, we owe, of course, to Stephenson. The first locomotives and carriages were imported from Great Britain, and I have in my possession, presented by a brother of the inventor, a piece of the first T rail ever rolled, made by the Guests in England and laid upon the line between New York and Philadelphia. The material progress of America and indeed of the world has for its base the invention of my fellow countryman, the Scotch hammer man, Watt.

THUS THE NEW HAS USED THE INVENTIONS OF THE OLD HOME, AND THUS TO THE PARENT THE GIANT CHILD CHIEFLY OWES ITS POSITION.

The sleeping-car that leaves Fort Worth on our night train is ready to receive passengers at NINE o'clock, each evening, and this car is set out at Colorado Springs for guests to vacate at their leisure. The place where the car waits is only about six miles from the mountains, and a beautiful sight greets the wakers from that long, refreshing Colorado sleep—under blankets.

This night train also has a sleeper that goes into Denver, reaching there at a comfortable rising time.

Both of our daily THRU TRAINS have those sleepers with "Large, Ladies' Dressing rooms," also meals served in our own Cafe Dining cars, a la carte service, 25c and up per individual. These special features of a distinguishing excellence are among the characteristics that have, now for some time, made appropriate the "Only-One-Road" — and "You-Don't-Have-to-Apologize" verdict of persons who are capable of appreciating good service and making distinctions.

DON'T GET MORBID.

It is Not a Difficult Matter to Think Yourself to Death.

Thousands of people actually think themselves to death every year by allowing their minds to dwell on morbid subjects. As a rule, the thought that kills relates to something the individual dreads more than anything else in the world. There is the germ of fatal thought in ninety-nine persons in every hundred, and the exception is only proof against the thought disease by having been inoculated with the lymph of optimism or philosophy.

The idea that one has some incipient disease in one's system, the thought of financial ruin, that one is getting on in life without improving prospects—any of them or a thousand similar thoughts may carry a healthy man to a premature grave. A melancholy thought that fixes itself upon one's mind needs as much "doctoring" as physical disease. It needs to be eradicated from the mind or it will have just the same result as a neglected disease would have. The thought disease sometimes cures itself after running its course; so does smallpox. But who would settle down to suffer from smallpox and chance recovery, as thousands of foolish persons settle down to let the thought disease, which has attacked them, do its worst?

Every melancholy thought, every morbid notion and every nagging worry should be resisted to the utmost, and the patient should be physicked by cheerful thoughts, of which there is a store in every one's possession, bright companions—cheaper than drugs and pleasant.

There have occurred scores of dozens of cases where healthy persons have thought themselves into having tumors and cancers—cases which admit of no doubt whatever that the diseases resulted from constant morbid fear. There might possibly be fewer cases of cancer if some great doctors could assure the world that it is not a hereditary disease, but morbid minded persons on hearing that there is cancer in their families generally do the very worst thing they can do under the circumstances—they conceive an awful dread that they will be afflicted with it. They dwell upon the fear constantly, and every trifling ailment which troubles them is at first mistaken for the premonitory symptoms of cancer.

The morbid condition of mind produces a morbid condition of body, and if the disease does happen to be in the system it receives every encouragement to develop.

Devoured by Worms

Children often cry, not from pain, but from hunger, although fed abundantly. The entire trouble arises from inanition, their food is not assimilated, but devoured by worms. A few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge will cause them to cease crying and begin to thrive at once, very much to the surprise and joy of the mother. 25 cents at H. T. Pangburn & Co's.

OPENING OF OPERA HOUSE

PERUCHI-BELDEN COMPANY HERE SEPT. 8

An Exceptionally High Class and Strong Popular Priced Organization Is to Play Here for One Week

The offering at the opera house for the opening week commencing Monday night, September 8, promises to be one of the best ever presented to the clientele of this popular house. This excellent attraction is the Peruchi-Belden company, an established favorite in Fort Worth and unexceptionally the highest class and strongest popular price organization in the South today. The company is headed by the long-established favorites, Cnelso D. Peruchi, Miss Ella Belden and the international famous Carleton Sisters. These well known stars are supported by a carefully selected company of recognized metropolitan artists, both dramatic and vaudeville, whose names alone are an earnest of the intrinsic excellence of the organization. Among them are: Ralph McDonald, an emotional leading man of continental reputation; Frank Fahey, the popular eccentric and slinging comedian; Henry Crosby, a polished and powerful heavy man; Will J. Irvin, a recognized artist in emotional and genteel characters; Pere S. Whitman, a matinee idol in juvenile parts; Miss Cooke, whose character impersonations have been applauded from coast to coast; Master Arthur Walker, the phenomenal boy tenor and an all professional minor part supporting cast.

This high class company is provided with a repertoire of tried and successful plays, many of which are seen for the first time at popular prices. Among them are "Liberty and Love," "The Slaves of Russia," "The Heart of Paris," "Broken Links," "The Judge," "A Bowery Boy," "Jesse James, the Bandit King," the only historically truthful play on this subject now on the boards and a long list of other popular successes, all of which are up to the highest standard of popular taste and staged in all the completeness of electrical, mechanical and general stage effects, which characterize the best New York productions. Matinees daily, except Monday.

GEORGIA MINSTRELS.

The famous Georgia minstrels starring Billy Kersands, the recognized king of negro burnt cork artists will appear at Greenwall's opera house Friday matinee and night, Sept. 12.

THE COUNTY SCHOOL TEACHERS TO MEET

Next Saturday Set as the Day for Association to Get Together for Organization

Superintendent Moore of the county schools announces that the County School Teachers' association will meet at his office next Saturday morning at 10 o'clock for the purpose of reorganization, to elect officers, and to decide upon a course of studies, and also to discuss institute work for the term.

Superintendent Moore insists that there be a full attendance, as the matters to be discussed and decided upon are very important to the teachers, and affect materially the work which they are about to undertake.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

WON'T BUILD THE OIL MILL

Winfield Scott and Associates Figure on New Enterprise

It is probable that Winfield Scott and associates will not undertake the erection of a cotton seed oil mill in East St. Louis, as was contemplated several weeks ago. After a thorough investigation of the field, and the cost of starting the enterprise, the latter is regarded as too large to justify it. Desirable land there sells for $1000 and $1500 per acre. It is believed however, returns from such a mill would yield satisfactory results.

EL PASO HAS A GRAIN ELEVATOR

J. Rosenbaum Company Puts up Building Having 50,000 Bushels Capacity—Mexico Distributing Point

The J. Rosenbaum Grain company of Chicago and Fort Worth, has completed its elevator in El Paso, and was to have opened it today. The capacity is 50,000 bushels. The building is located in the yards of the El Paso and Northwestern railroad, convenient for loading for all directions.

It is the company's intention to use El Paso as a distributing point for the southwest and, under certain conditions, for Mexico. Officers say the enterprise is regarded in the nature of an experiment, it being the only one on the border. The grain business to Mexico some seasons is of remarkable magnitude, and El Paso is one of the best points to ship from. This, however, only obtains when the duty on grain imports is removed by the Mexican government, which is usually on account of a crop shortage or market manipulation by the dealers as was the case about a year ago.

VETERANS OF THE CONFEDERACY IN SESSION

Interesting Discussion Indulged in by Participants of a Cause That is Dear—Information Wanted

At the meeting of the R. E. Lee Camp of United Confederate Veterans held at the courthouse yesterday the attendance was fairly good, considering the extremely hot weather. Commander Taylor presided. Comrades Terrell, Richardson and Darcy reported favorably upon the applications for membership of J. M. Loftis, C. C. Poole, Joseph MacDonald and Joseph H. Young. These comrades were elected.

Under a standing order of the Camp the mortuary list was read, following which a resolution was adopted reading as follows:

"Resolved, that the surviving members of the families of the following persons, be requested to furnish any information in their possession tending to establish the fact that they were Confederate soldiers, to the adjutant of this Camp, in order that their graves may be marked as those of Confederate soldiers."

Following is a list of whom information is desired:

Anderson, Wm.; Bostwick, Chas.;

BUILDING IS WELL ALONG

ONE GROUP OF BUILDINGS FOR ARMOUR & CO. NEARLY COMPLETED

Swift & Co. Ready for Roofers on Part of Buildings—Power House Machinery Going Into Place—Viaduct and Cattle Chute

Construction work on Armour & Co.'s fine row of brick buildings, which includes the beef cooler, the freezer, the hog cooler and the ham house, is practically completed. The roofers finished their work on time Saturday with the exception of graveling the beef cooler. This will be done on Tuesday. The brickmasons and carpenters were to complete their work also Saturday night by quitting time. These buildings are now ready for the doors and windows and iron shutters. The insulation on the end walls, consisting of successive layers of flooring laid to a thickness of eight inches against the brick, has been finished. This is to aid in preventing outside heat from affecting the inside temperature. The mineral wood packing has been placed in the walls and the next thing in order is the calking of the floors, which will be begun at once, and the installation of machinery.

The work of excavating along the east side of these buildings, between them and the railroad track, for the subway beneath the loading platform has been begun and is well under way. Across the track the second row of slaughter house was completed to a connection with the building before the workmen quit last night, though there is still some work to be done on it.

A long line of masons was at work along the top of the east wall of the big row of buildings in an effort to complete the coping before night.

The southern end of these buildings is left in such a condition that an extension to the southward can be easily made, a temporary wooden wall extending over part of it and the brick walls are so constructed that stringers and joists can be readily attached. It was remarked yesterday that the Swift packing houses at St. Joe, the finest heretofore in the system, were constructed in this manner and extensions made later. Also that these buildings are taller than those at St. Joe.

The big hoisting tower that has traveled all around and through this chain of structures has now been taken across the big excavation and the railroad tracks to the refinery and will engage in the construction of the eastern row of buildings.

The Stock Yards company is building a big pile driver which will be at work in a few days sticking down piles for a viaduct leading over the railroad tracks from the new yards to the Swift plant. There is a great deal of new or made ground there which would cause the vents to settle if placed on any other kind of supports.
