THE STONE OF THE CORNER

EXERCISES HELD AT POLYTECHNIC COLLEGE THIS MORNING

Many Were Present at Ceremonies in Connection With Building of Institution's New Recitation Hall

The corner stone of the new Polytechnic college building on the college grounds was laid this morning shortly after 10 o'clock by Rev. O. F. Sensabaugh of Waxahatchie, who has been connected with the institution ever since his first year in the state of Texas, and who has been one of the hardest workers for its upbuilding and success.

There were probably about 300 present at the exercises, the number including members of the faculty, visiting clergymen, college students and the children of the Mission Orphans' home, who came in a body.

The new president of the institution, Rev. H. A. Boaz, presided for the first part of the exercises, being followed by Rev. Mr. Sensabaugh. Mr. Boaz spoke briefly of the growth of the school, its location, opportunities, and field before it and the place it could fill. He said that the present prospects for enrollment exceeded those of any previous year, and he said he believed the laying of the new building's corner stone marked an era in its history and would be but a beginning of good things for it.

Following the president's remarks, the doxology was sung by the congregation. Rev. R. C. Armstrong led in prayer and was followed by the singing of "How Firm a Foundation."

REV. SENSABAUGH'S ADDRESS. Dr. S. C. Rankin, editor of the Texas Christian Advocate, was expected to deliver the principal address, but owing to sickness he was unable to come. Rev. Mr. Sensabaugh delivered the principal address. He spoke of the authorization of the college by the Northwest conference of the Methodist church, South, and of the plan for the college's future. Referring to the need for Christian education he said that Polytechnic college will fill its proper place in the southwest. He said that during the past year the work of the Methodist church had been as successful as that of any period in its history and the great number of converts resulting required training and instruction. He pointed out that the new building meant enlargement for the school and said that he believed the school was of God's planting and that if the authorities in charge carried out God's plan it could not fail to be a success.

THE CORNER STONE. The corner stone is situated at the southwest corner of the new building. On the south face are engraved the names of the members of the board of trustees as follows: Bishop Joseph Key, president; W. J. Boaz, vice president; R. C. Armstrong, O. F. Sensabaugh, B. R. Bolton, G. W. Owens, J. G. Putnam, J. Duncan, G. S. Wyatt, G. H. Mulkey, T. H. Conner. On the west face is cut the inscription: "Polytechnic College, M. E. C. S., Rev. H. A. Boaz, M. A. Pres. 1902."

In a little wooden box under the corner stone were placed the following articles: A Bible, catalogue of Polytechnic college, a copy of the Polytechnic Bulletin, a $3 Confederate bill given by Mrs. C. G. Quillan of Dublin. List of subscribers to new building fund, copies of The Telegram, Register and Dallas News, a Canadian half dime, given by Jessie Boaz; a Mexican coin, card of the Philosophian Literary society, constitution and by-laws of the Adkissonian society, 22d annual report of the Women's Home Missionary society, a W. C. T. U. white ribbon, given by Miss Fanny Armstrong; an Epworth league badge of the Mulkey Memorial church, card of the Susan M. Key Literary society, the college colors, cards of several visitors, a copy

USEFUL ANYWHERE A Way to Prevent Car Sickness

A gentleman describes how he prevents car sickness. He says, "About one year ago I took a trip to California for my health. I had always suffered greatly when traveling and have been unable to eat ordinary food. A friend who knew this advised me to take Grape-Nuts with me and I purchased a number of packages.

During the entire journey of five days I ate nothing but Grape-Nuts prepared with milk and sugar and I gained strength steadily and suffered no illness whatever, besides at the end of my journey I found to my delight that I had gained five pounds in weight.

I consider Grape-Nuts the best food in the world, it keeps perfectly, is not bulky and is easily digested, is strength-giving and far preferable in strength to ordinary food." Name given by the Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There is one sure way to prove whether or not Grape-Nuts does rebuild and strengthen the brain. Try it ten days or two weeks. Thousands know it does, from actual experience but everyone should make the trial himself.

THEY PAY A LAST TRIBUTE

REMAINS OF DEAD CONGRESSMAN AT REST

THOUSANDS ATTEND

Funeral Train Carrying Body of R. C. DeGraffenreid Reaches Longview and Burial Follows After Services at Court House

Longview, Tex., Sept. 3.—The remains of Congressman DeGraffenreid reached Longview Tuesday afternoon and were laid to rest in Greenwood cemetery, while thousands of admiring and sorrowing friends and acquaintances surrounded the grave.

The funeral train came in at 3:30 p. m. and was met at the depot by a large crowd. The remains were accompanied by Deputy Sergeant-at-Arms Pierce, Miss Kennedy, R. C. DeGraffenreid and Roy DeGraffenreid, nephews of deceased, of Washington; S. C. DeGraffenreid of Franklin, Tenn., and Richard Bartholdt, congressman from St. Louis, Mo., in a special car.

The body was borne to the courthouse, where deceased achieved no little of his fame as a lawyer and where he began the work that made him an honored member of the American congress. The remains were placed just inside one of the doors and the crowd stood up in the court yard, the addresses being made from the courthouse steps. R. D. Levy, judge of this judicial district, and a close friend of the deceased, was master of ceremonies.

A prayer was offered by Rev. Gallagher of the Presbyterian church, after which Miss Burns of Tyler sang "Near, My God, to Thee." Then Mr. Barnwell of Gilmer paid a tribute to the deceased. Following, Judge C. L. Brockfield and Jack Burns spoke of his party loyalty, after which Congressman Slayden spoke of his work in congress. He was followed by Cone Johnson of Tyler, Congressman Bartholdt of St. Louis, a Republican member of congress, also spoke highly of his party loyalty, after which Congressman Randall of Texas delivered a eulogy.

Rev. Tardy of Nacogdoches then conducted religious services, speaking of the honesty and generosity of the dead congressman. "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," was sung by a selected choir, and then prayer was offered by Dr. Alexander, when those wishing to view the remains passed by and out from the four sides of the courthouse.

The floral decorations were beautiful and profuse. Among them was a bed of flowers representing a broken column, consisting of a column about three feet high abruptly broken off and covered with roses and vines.

The crowd which attended the funeral numbered about 6000, many of whom were visitors from different points in Texas. Among those present were Gordon Russell, Cone Johnson of Tyler, T. M. Campbell of Palestine, Jack O. Burns of Gladewater, J. L. Brockfield of Henderson and Mr. Barnwell of Gilmer.

Large delegations of Masons attended from surrounding towns. The remains were laid to rest with Masonic honors just as the sun sank in the horizon.

All stores and banks closed at noon and business was suspended, the streets being entirely deserted.

Waco, Tex., Sept. 3.—Joe Anthony, colored, employed on the farm of Messrs. Howard and Westly Mann, six miles south of Waco, was killed by lightning, while driving a team of four mules hitched to a wagon. One of the mules was killed and another severely shocked. On investigating he found Joe, the driver, sitting on the wagon seat dead, still holding the lines.

Freak of Lightning.

Orange, Tex., Sept. 3.—Tuesday lightning struck the stovepipe of John Sifzick's house, came through the roof, setting fire to the ceiling, followed the wall around to where the bench sat with three washtubs half filled with water, struck the bench, cut off the four legs so evenly that the bench settled to the floor without spilling a drop of water. A shivered house block at one corner of the building showed where the fluid escaped to the ground.

KANSAS CITY, KAN., MOB GOES AFTER PRISONER

BUT THE WARY OFFICIALS HAD SPIRITED THE MAN FAR AWAY

Kansas City, Sept. 2.—A mob of 1000 people surrounded the jail in Kansas City, Kan., Tuesday night, and tried to get at Johnson and the three other men under arrest for the murder of Policeman Morris and the wounding of Watchman Minsker, in an attempt to rob the street railway car barn in Armourdale. The mob was unsuccessful, as the men under arrest had been spirited away early in the evening. The crowd would not believe the officers' statement to this effect, however, and requested permission to send a committee through the jail. This was granted and the men eagerly inspected the different cells. Later they repeated this performance at the county jail, but did not find them.

HOLD-UP WAS A FAILURE

BANDITS FOILED IN ATTEMPT ON INTERNATIONAL

A PLUCKY MESSENGER

Would Be Train Robbers Stop Train But They Find Nerve Man Aboard Who Opens Fire and They Skip

Tucson, Ariz., Sept. 3.—Reports have been received here of the daring attempt by three American bandits to hold up the International express on the Sonora road, three miles from Hermosillo, Mex., on Sunday. The explosion of a torpedo on the track caused the engineer to stop. Three Americans stepped out of the shelter of a grove of trees and covered the engine crew. Two of the robbers then went to the express car and demanded admittance. The messenger replied with a volley of shots through the door, the bandits returning the fire.

Several passengers armed themselves and were going to the aid of the plucky messenger when the highwaymen became frightened and gave up their attempt, disappearing into the orange groves where it was supposed they had horses in waiting. As soon as the train reached Hermosillo the alarm was given and a troop of rurales and a posse started in pursuit of the bandits.

CAMPAIGN BOOK.

Democratic Congressional Campaign Literature Issued from Washington.

Washington, Sept. 3.—The Democratic congressional campaign book which made its appearance Tuesday is a volume of 384 pages, the major portion of which is devoted to the discussion of imperialism and trusts, 240 pages being given to these two topics—115 to the former and 125 to the latter. Upon the title page is the Democratic slogan: "Equal rights to all; special privileges to none."

The volume opens with the platform of 1900 and the resolutions adopted by the Democratic members of the house at their conference June 19, arraigning the Republican party for failure to give relief to Cuba and to enact proper anti-trust legislation. Then follows an extended criticism of the Republican campaign book, many of the statements contained therein being challenged as to accuracy, especially those dealing with the trust question. Under the head of imperialism there is a long general review of the Philippine policy.

President Roosevelt Delivers More Speeches in East

Daleton, Mass., Sept. 3.—President Roosevelt took notice Tuesday on his return visit to Massachusetts by delivering at Fitchburg another speech on the trust question in order that he might fully answer his critics and to more clearly define his attitude on that subject. He also launched into a defense of the army in the Philippines during his speech at Springfield. The impression has gone forth that any views he might express regarding the acquisition of territory by the United States would be sure to be coldly received, but the demonstrations of approval which greeted his utterances dispelled this idea. Frequent stops were again made at various places Tuesday and at each place the president delivered a speech.

THE BIBLE IN SECTIONS. Some of the daily newspapers are trying the experiment of running a chapter from the Bible each day. It might serve the same end to present each reader of the paper with a Bible and then he would not have to get it on the installment plan.

Many to whom the whole Bible would do as well as a section, start with Genesis at the first of the year and try to get from the matchless story of the creation to the sublime closing vision of the Revelation within a twelve-month. For such the daily chapter is not published.

Professor George T. Ladd of the Philosophical Department of Yale had to postpone the meeting of his class one day for an hour. He ordered that the following placard be tacked to the door making the announcement:

Going home one afternoon last week a tired maiden boarded a trolley car, to find all the seats taken. The same day his plan was laid. As Raoul was walking out to Vesinet about midnight he was stopped at a lonely spot by three men, who asked him what o'clock it was. While looking at his watch the ruffians fell upon him suddenly.

But two days afterward, at a cafe which he frequented, a vulgar looking man, a stranger to him, after trying to provoke a quarrel, finally threw a card in his face, saying its owner was ready to grant him satisfaction.
