Old P. P. Robb is a sly cuss, but even at that he is rather generous. In the last few days he has given away any number of new hats, and because there was an extra one in the shipment he gave me one. I thought that was mighty nice of Robb considering the fact that I have written some pretty hateful things about him in years past, especially concerning his big mouth that was always giving forth with noise. Now he has made me feel ashamed of my naughty remarks, I apologize, fact of the matter is I sort of appreciated his popping off, and Tom Davis' too. What I meant by Robb being sly is the fact that the hats that he has been giving away are made of cotton and it is his own way of waging a campaign to make more people conscious of the fact that they should use more cotton goods. According to our information the hats are made of 82 percent cotton and the material is fabricated in the new Rawls cotton processing plant with a hat manufacturer in Oklahoma making the finished product. We live in a cotton producing area and our economy depends to a large extent on the production and sale of the fibre, it is to our benefit to use, and to promote the use of cotton. Thanks Robb. Thanks Robb, anything else made of cotton that you think I should have send it along.

I had read some about the individualized car license tags, but hadn't given it any thought until I learned of a couple of local applicants who had either received or had approval for individual tags. Sheriff Jack Cartwright was given tags with the word "HOSS", and Joe Carver had confirmation on his application for tags bearing the word "PILL", he is a pharmacist. The tags cost $10.00 and will carry up to a six letter word.

Most Dimmitt business firms will be closed Monday, Labor Day.

We told you last week that we were switching over to offset printing this week. We hope you like your paper produced by the new process, but we are sure that there will be a number of improvements we can make as we become more familiar with the change of operation.

Nazareth Swifts Prepare For Big Season With New Coaches

Nazareth High School kicked off one 48-0. At that time the town preparations for its ninth season played six-man football. In 1957, Nazareth competed for the first time in regular high school football as it played nine games. Home games were played in neighboring towns with the first one being in Dimmitt. Nazareth beat Pettit in that one.

Nazareth moved up to eight-man football in 1960 and suffered through a dismal season after attaining district champion the previous season in six-man. It was in eight-man, however, that the Swifts gained football recognition in 1963 when the team walked away with the district title with a 6-0 mark. Nazareth rolled over Welman in bi-district 38-24 before falling to a great Darrouzett team which stopped the Swifts 28-6. The Swifts also played four eleven man games that season, winning one, losing two, and tying one.

Nazareth's football history thus continues this season as the Swifts prepare for a nine game schedule in district 1B.

Double Wedding Solemnized

The Rev. Raymond Reich, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Hamilton, officiated at the double wedding Saturday, August 14, at 7 p.m. of the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Endebrock.

Dawn Endebrock of Dimmitt was united in marriage to Darless Goolsby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arless Goolsby of Dimmitt in the double wedding. Other couple wed was Sharon Endebrock and James Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Young of Jonesboro.

The double ring ceremonies were performed before an altar decorated with baskets of greenery and palms. Candelabras were enhanced with red roses and white bows. Candlelighters were Linsae Snider and Dale Lilljedahl, niece and nephew of the brides.

The prelude, recessional and processional were played by Mrs. Bryan Battlinger, organist. She also accompanied Mrs. James Ellis who sang "The Lord's Prayer".

The brides were escorted to the altar individually by their father, where he simultaneously gave them in marriage.

Mrs. Goolsby was dressed in a serene classic floor length formal gown of Italian linen. The straight lines of the gown flowed into a fish tail skirt. The sleeveless bodice featured a self-fabric bow. The cathedral length train fell from the empire line of the gown bodice. French illusion formed the shoulder length veil.

She wore something old, grandmother's ring tied in the bridal sash; something new, her ensemble; something borrowed and something blue, a garter; and a penny in her shoe.

The bridal bouquet of white rose buds and trailing English ivy encircled a white orchid.

The courtier cut gown of sumptuous satin was lavished with triple panels of clung lace on the skirt. The lace was repeated in the cap sleeves. The cathedral length curved train plunged from the empire line on the bodice. The tiered elbow length veil of tulle circled a crown of clung lace. The bridal bouquet was identical to her sister's bouquet.

She wore for something old and borrowed, a single strand of pearls; something new, her ensemble; and something blue, a garter.

Sharon's attendants were Miss Wanda Watson of Martin, Mary Stone of Tyler, college friends, and Joy Lilljedahl of Port Neches, niece of the brides. They were dressed in red poise de soie sheath dresses with red short Chantilly lace jackets. Headpieces were double circles of poise de soie draped with net illusion. Each carried a long-stemmed white rose.

Flower girls were Laine Snider and Kim Hollingsworth. They wore white eyelet A-line dresses with scalloped necklines and hemlines. They wore red accessories. Ring bearer was Mark Yows.

Serving as best man for Mr. Goolsby was Sammy Kirk of Dimmitt. Groomsman were Carl Lee Kemp of Dimmitt and Don Warren of Dimmitt. Best man for Mr. Young was his brother, Charles Young. Groomsman were Edd Watson and Stanley Young.

Ushers were Donald Lilley and Hulon Shotwell. Guests were registered by Mrs. David Satterwhite.

The mother of the brides wore a beige lace dress and beige accessories. Mrs. Goolsby chose blue lace for her son's wedding. Mrs. Young was attired in a blue silk suit. All had corsages composed of white rosebuds.

The reception was held in the church parlor. The table was laid in cutwork linen and appointments were crystal. The cake, which featured many steps to two sets of brides and grooms, was served by Miss Lisa May of Lulin and Mrs. Helen Cole of Houston. Miss Jane Sommerfeld of Dallas and Miss Mary Ann Uzzell of Houston poured punch.

For traveling, Dawn wore a navy blue silk suit and navy and white accessories. She wore an orchid corsage lifted from the bridal bouquet.

For her honeymoon trip, Sharon left in a turquoise silk suit with black accessories and an orchid corsage.

The brides and Mr. Young are graduates of Jonesboro High School and Sam Houston State College. Mr. Goolsby is a graduate of Dimmitt High School and attended West Texas State University.

TIPS for OUTDOORSMEN

by Vern Sanford

Convenient Care for Ammo
 New plastic cigarette packs make an ammunition case that is just the right size to hold nine .30/06 shells in your pocket and keeps them from rattling.

Netting the 'Hoppers
 Cheesecloth about six feet by four feet makes a handy gadget for catching grasshoppers. Let two men hold the cloth... one at each end... and make a quick pass through tall grass. Jumping 'hoppers will hit the cloth and get stuck there.

Solves Sticky Worm Problem
 Store plastic worms in small plastic bags, individually. This prevents them from sticking together in the tackle box.

Protects Trailer Hitch Ball
 To prevent the trailer hitch on your boat trailer from corrosion during the winter lay-up, slit a tennis ball almost in half and slip it over the hitch ball. Aluminum foil bunched around the hitch ball is almost as good.

Scrubbing Brightens Lures
 Take an old toothbrush, a dish of hot soapy water, and scrub down those plugs, spoons, and feathered lures occasionally. It makes 'em bright as new.

Deepfreeze Ice Before Trip
 If you want a block of ice to last longer in camp, put it in your deepfreeze a couple of days before leaving home. It will last twice as long because you've lowered its temperature and it gives off more cold.

Varnishing the Rod
 When refinishing your fishing rod, remember that a pipe cleaner is just the right size to varnish under the guides where small brushes won't reach.

Talcum Treat Your Lures
 Before putting your tackle away for a long time, sprinkle talcum powder over the artificial baits. By absorbing all moisture the powder keeps rust to a minimum. First toss of lure overboard next spring washes away all signs of powder.

Drinking Cup for Dog
 If you're on a hunting trip and want to water your dog, but have no container, try using a hubcap off your car as a saucer. Works swell. Always handy.

Cleaning Rod Handles
 To clean grips on fishing rods, use a good cleanser and a pad of soft steel wool. It does the job fast.

Refrigerating Hoppers
 Before taking a supply of grasshoppers fishing, try putting them in the refrigerator overnight. They'll be loggy, less likely to escape and easier to put the hook.

Carry Camera in Canteen Holder
 A U.S. Army canteen holder makes a strong, light case in which to carry your small camera. Provides good protection, keeps it handy for instant use, yet holds snugly to your belt. You can obtain one for pennies at any Army surplus store.

Kingsize Cubes Last Longer
 Going on a camping trip and need some long-lasting cubes for your ice chest? Freeze up a batch using your wife's muffin pans. Each cube will be king-sized and will last much longer.

Foil Amplifies Light
 Aluminum foil can be pinned across the back of your tent to reflect lantern light. Makes the lantern's glow much brighter.

Shear Pin Stakeout
 Ever get out on a lake or a stream, shear a pin and find you can't locate your extra supply? Tape a reserve supply of one or two to your outboard motor's handle. It's a handy place to keep them—and you'll be constantly reminded that they're there.

Quick Attaching Sinkers
 Attach your sinkers to a pipe cleaner, cut in half. Then you can twist one on the line in less time than it takes to tell it.

Prepare 'em in one, two and three-sinker sets and keep 'em handy in the tackle box. They're easy to remove... and re-use.

Solves Snelled Hook Problem
 A good way to keep snelled hooks in your tackle box or pocket is to coil the snell neatly and wrap hook and snell in masking tape. This way rigs won't deteriorate, won't get damaged or bruised and won't catch or tangle in clothes or other gear. Attach the used tape to the inside lid of your tackle box where it will keep dry. Then use the tape again later on for this and other purposes.

Good Use For Old Carpets
 Get a piece of old discarded carpet and put it in the bottom of your aluminum fishing boat. It resists dirt, makes the boat quieter, and protects the inside of your boat. Also gives it a jazzy look.

Reception Given To Honor Teachers

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Mr. B. M. Nelson
 Editor: Castro County News
 Dimmitt, Texas
 Dear Mr. Nelson,
 The tragic accident which claimed the lives of both my father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Dowell, recently affected the lives of so many people. I wish to express appreciation to the many wonderful friends in the Dimmitt area who helped in so many ways.
 Those who prepared meals for the families did it in such a wonderful way without attracting attention to themselves but providing an excellent service for those who would not have been able to prepare things for ourselves; the many who came by to share in our sorrow were so genuine in their coming. The men who joined together in a great force to plow the farmland which needed tilling were so thoughtful and so generous in giving their time.
 My heart was made glad to see the response of all those who helped in so many ways. So many of those who served and who plowed were such young adults. I can visualize a generation of community spirit second to none in the Dimmitt area.
 From the depths of my heart I appreciate my hometown people.
 Sincerely yours,
 Royce Dowell
 Minister of Music and Youth

Dear Blabby:

DON'T LET HER BEAT YOU

By Oma Siler

Dear Blabby: My wife is about to beat me... to something I've set my heart on for her. I found she wanted a Curtis-Mathis Color TV at ALLENS HOME FURNISHINGS, 315 N. Broadway and I figured I had the perfect birthday surprise for her. But yesterday I overheard her telling her mother that in another week or so she would have the money saved up to buy it. And I haven't another good birthday idea. What shall I do?—FRUSTRATED.

DEAR FRUSTRATED: Don't walk, run to ALLENS HOME FURNISHING and tell Mr. Allen your problem. He'll be glad to put a "Sold" tag on that TV and hold it till you want it delivered. Mr. Allen will keep your secret. She'll get what she wants. Your birthday surprise will be safe and everybody will be happy. Everybody's always happy, when they deal with ALLENS HOME FURNISHINGS at 315 N. Broadway.—BLABBY.

ATTEND CHURCH

GOD'S WILL

The greatest commandment is that we should love our God. This is a free choice that man has, but it is God's desire that all would seek Him. He is our heavenly Father, and desires only the best for us.

ATTEND CHURCH SUNDAY

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

The Castro County 4-H Council met Tuesday, August 24, at 7:30 p.m. in the County Extension Office.

Members present were Jana Cole, Chairman, Diana Adams, Patty Simpson, Ronnie Burks, Sandra Huseman, Debra Hochstein, O. R. Hughes, Arlie Petty, Dan Petty, Marilyn McLeroy and Linda Bennett.

Participation in the Youth Fair, operation of a concession stand during the carnival, possible activities for National 4-H Club Week and a possible date for the county awards program were discussed.

The next meeting is Tuesday, September 14, at 7:30 p.m. in the Courthouse Assembly Room.

Mild cheddar cheese usually costs less than sharp cheese. Ever wonder why? It's because the sharper flavor comes from aging, and aging requires time and handling. According to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, a mild flavored cheddar is aged 30 to 90 days. To obtain a medium flavor, it takes 4 to 9 months. And a sharp cheddar requires more than 9 months under controlled temperature and moisture.

Try this quick and easy recipe for a velvety, moist cake, sure to please the whole family. At least, Mrs Hance and I thoroughly enjoy it.

PUMPKIN SPICE CAKE
 Substitute ¾ cup canned pumpkin for ¼ cup water when preparing spice cake mix as directed on package. Add 1 cup finely chopped nuts. Bake in a greased 2 quart ring mold or 9 inch baking pan, in pre-heated 350 degree oven for 40 to 45 minutes.
 Cool for 10 minutes; remove from pan. Glaze with mixture of 1 cup confectioners' sugar, 1 teaspoon lemon juice and ½ teaspoon grated lemon rind; add just enough cream to make glaze slightly runny. Drizzle the lemon glaze over top and sides of cake.

Heading the list of September "plentiful foods" are California table grapes - especially Flame Tokay and Thompson Seedless. Other foods on the list are frozen concentrated orange juice, turkeys and peanut butter.

September, Better Breakfast Month and back-to-school time have a happy relationship. It's the time to promote "foods for thought." As schools open, consider the importance of providing adequate breakfasts - good breakfast habits and balanced nutrition that will keep each child at the peak of learning efficiency throughout the day. Adults, too, need good breakfasts so their "doing" power doesn't wane at midday. A morning coffee break is no substitute.

It's a matter of research record that a sizable proportion of our population skimps on breakfast. Surveys show that people often cut down on breakfast because of late dinners, TV, and other entertainment that lead to tardy rising. "Not enough time" is the reason most folks give for slighting the morning meal.

A variety of foods for breakfast is important, and this variety can be provided within the basic breakfast pattern - fruit, cereal, eggs, bread, butter, milk - without extravagant cost. With a bit of advance planning, it takes no longer to prepare a good breakfast, than a poor one.

For fruit, consider the September abundance of frozen orange

PRODUCERS WINNING
Battle of the Boll Weevil!

BOLL WEEVIL CAN BE BEAT

The efficiency and effectiveness of the 1964 weevil control program, together with the continued support of producers, strongly points toward a complete High Plains victory over this most dreaded and costly of all cotton insects.

20% LESS REQUESTED FOR WAR CHEST

Economies effected in the first year's spraying, plus the fact that over 97% of producers helped finance it, made possible a substantial carryover of funds from 1964 to be used in 1965. This in turn has made it possible to reduce the requested producer contribution in 1965 from 50 cents to 40 cents a bale. And there is hope this can be further reduced in 1966.

The following is a financial report from the Boll Weevil Steering Committee of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. to those who are so wisely investing in this vital program:

Jerri Dowell - James Brandes Wed In Double Ring Ceremony Here

Jerri Dowell, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lester Dowell, Dimmitt and James M. Brandes, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Brandes of Plainview were wed Thursday evening, August 19, in the First Baptist Church of Dimmitt.

Rev. Frank Pollard, pastor, read the double ring ceremony before an altar of white satin. Candelabras filled with white candles and accented with pink satin bows and greenery enhanced the altar scene.

Miss Janice Mooney of Dimmitt played traditional wedding music at the organ. Bryce Dowell of Dimmitt, brother of the bride, sang "Because." "The Lord's Prayer" and "Walk Hand In Hand."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal wedding gown of Alencon lace and satin, designed with empire silhouette. The lace bodice was fashioned with a scalloped neckline and the empire waistline was marked with a banding of satin. A chapel train fell from a bow at center back. Her veil of silk illusion fell from a crown of seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses centered with an orchid atop a white Bible.

Dorothy Wright, Dimmitt served the bride as maid of honor. Bridesmaid was Miss Eloise Brandes of Plainview, sister of the groom. Junior bridesmaid was Melony Dowell of Dimmitt, niece of the bride. Flower girl was Tommie Ann Ormsby.

Attendants wore formal gowns of white embossed satin and each carried a nosegay of pink roses. They wore pearl necklaces and short white gloves. The flower girl's dress was of white organza with trimmings of tucks and lace and featured a full skirt. She carried a white satin basket filled with rose petals.

Serving the groom as best man was John Zimmerman of Plainview. Groomsman was Benny Hood of Plainview. Junior groomsman was Johnny Brandes of Plainview, brother of the groom. Kris Dowell of Dimmitt, nephew of the bride served as ring bearer.

Candlelighters were Zane Shaw of Plainview and Jerry Robinson of Plainview.

Reception guests were received in Fellowship Hall of the church by members of the wedding party and the parents of the bride and groom following the ceremony. Traditional wedding cake and punch were served from a table decorated with a white cutwork linen cloth and an arrangement of pink roses and candles behind a miniature bride and groom. The bride chose a beige two-piece knit suit and beige and

Walter Rogers' WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

Washington, D. C., is unique among U. S. cities because ever American citizen "owns" a share of it and has a very vital stake in the vents that take place here. Because it is the Nation's Capital, every citizen can regard Washington as his city, regardless of his place or residence. Washington is the U. S. Federal City. The Federal Government is its reason for being it major industry and the major employer of the people who live here. The site of the city of Washington was an unpopulated woody marsh when George Washington, whose nearby home at Mount Vernon gave him a familiarity with lands along the Potomac River, selected the location for the Federal City. The founding fathers had determined that the seat of our National Government belonged in a Federal City in which no subordinate governmental authority could hold powers.

Now, Washington is again caught up in the emotional cry of "home rule." The objective, home rule advocates will tell you, is for the residents of the District of Columbia to be permitted to govern themselves. They want Congress, which was given authority by the Constitution to direct District affairs, to hand its powers over to an elected city council. At the same time, they want Congress to continue to provide massive sums to support District of Columbia government in the style to which Washington residents have become accustomed — and a style of city government I assure you, that many U. S. cities wish they could emulate.

"Home rule" sounds good. It is a catchy phrase. It is an emotional appeal to the normal American sense of fair play and belief in democracy. Yet, "home rule" as proposed in the bill which has passed the Senate and may come before the House is repugnant to the Constitution. In effect, it creates a new State, with this exception: The Federal Government will finance it.

I find these provisions of the "home rule" bill among the most brown accessories for going away. She wore a white orchid corsage. The couple will reside at House, New Mexico.

The bride is a graduate of Dimmitt High School and was a senior at Wayland Baptist College, Plainview.

The groom is a graduate of Wayland College, Plainview. He will be employed as a teacher in the House, N. M. High School.

objectionable:

It provides a built-in, automatic formula for computing the Federal dollar support of the district government. The formula is based upon amounts the Federal Government would pay in private taxes, personal property taxes, and business taxes. If it were a private industry. In addition, the Federal Government would continue to pay the District of Columbia water and sewer charges. To apply this formula, the D. C. assessor would be called upon to place an assessment on the U. S. Capitol. How would he do it? On what basis? Would he use current market value, the original cost, or the cost of replacement at today's prices? All three are well recognized methods of valuation. Imagine the D. C. assessor's problem in applying them to the Capitol, the White House, the Library of Congress, other Federal buildings in this city. The Federal Government would, under the terms of this bill, have to make a payment to the D. C. Government tantamount to an ad valorem property tax, even on post offices within the District of Columbia and on flags flying over the Capitol.

Completely opposed to the Constitution, in my view, is the provision of the bill that provides for a permanent annual appropriation of Federal funds based on the above formula. It is an unconstitutional delegation of the appropriation authority of Congress and of the House of Representatives which is the only body of Congress which can originate general appropriations bills.

I object also to the provision which provides for an elected D.

C. mayor, 14 councilmen from 14 wards with 5 more councilmen elected at large — with complete control of the Washington police department. I object to the fact that the bill makes the U. S. President a kind of supermayor, requiring him to oversee the acts of the city council and giving him, not the Congress, veto power over them.

Our government is based on a dual sovereignty philosophy. In other words, each of the 5 states are separate and distinct sovereignties. Joined together, they constitute the Federal Government — the Federal sovereignty. To believe in "home rule" for the official Federal district is to do violence to the basic doctrine of our dual sovereignty government at form. D. C. "home rule" is extremely bad legislation.

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D.
Commissioner of Health

The teeth of Americans contain at least one billion cavities, each a potential source of toothache, dental authorities now estimate. They say tooth decay is so widespread that it involves 95 of every 100 persons and is still increasing.

A virtually incurable chronic disease which must be prevented if it is to be conquered at all, tooth decay is a particular nemesis of elementary school-age youngsters although all ages are vulnerable to its ravaging pain.

Children are said to develop cavities at about the same rate as do adults - approximately one per child per year. But scholarly surveys show that whereas one-third of the adult need for fillings is being met, only one-fifth of the cavities in children's teeth are being repaired.

The reason, Texas Health Department dental officials speculate is that so many parents still cling to the totally false notion that so-called "baby teeth" are unimportant because they are temporary. The frequent result is that good dental health for children is still a relatively scarce commodity.

In an attempt to reverse the trend toward almost universally poor dental health among youngsters - particularly in underprivileged homes - the dental division of the Texas State Department of Health gives financial and education support to dental clinics in selected local health departments around the State.

The addition of fluoride in carefully controlled amounts to public water supplies is known by dental researchers to be an efficient deterrent to dental decay. The State Board of Health has reaffirmed its belief that fluoridation is safe and effective, and recommended that local communities consider the practice wherever applicable and practicable.

There is one positive step all parents can take to avoid the fate of toothlessness among their children, dental scientists agree. It's a simple step, requiring only that youngsters be taken to a dentist for tooth and gum inspection before being enrolled in school each fall.

Before the visit is over, the dentist will have tutored the youngster in good dental hygiene at home, hoping the habits will take hold and last into adulthood.

When enough children have received such instruction, and make it a part of their daily lives, the blight of tooth decay may slowly fade from the American scene.

A university student was helping around his home between semesters. He got some pesticide, hooked up a spray and went to work. He sprayed the trees, bushes and all around the yard. He worked a good part of the afternoon in his shirt sleeves spraying into the wind part of the time. Not too long after he finished he began to get sick; he was nauseated and had headache.

Had this young man read the instructions on the label and follow the admonitions to wear protective clothing, to avoid breathing the spray or whatever he might well have avoided being sick.

The tremendous use of chemical poisons has proved to be a boon to man by helping him control agricultural pests and human disease vectors within the brief span of the last 20 years. But the use of these poisons has created an altogether new public health problem.

This modern innovation has its potential hazards just as do automobiles, electricity and airplanes. A particular problem with insecticides and pesticides, however, is their poisonous nature.

In every case of human death from pesticides, the cause has been accidental misuse of a chemical poison.

As a cardinal rule, be sure you read the label each time you use a pesticide. Then follow the directions exactly and store the container away from the reach of curious children.

Always wash your hands thoroughly after using these chemical poisons and before you eat, drink or smoke.

When you are through with a container, dispose of it in such a manner that children, pets or other wildlife will not be harmed unknowingly.

When you use pesticides, work in a well-ventilated area to avoid inhalation of fumes. And never spray into the wind. Pesticides can serve you well, protect you from disease carrying insects, save your crops or shrubs and many other things. But you must use these poisons wisely if they are to serve you well.

Senator YARBOROUGH'S REPORT

Dear Fellow Texans:
The Senate has passed two bills, the Public Works Appropriations Bill and the Military Construction Bill, which include money for major Texas projects.

The Public Works Appropriations Bill provides money for thirty-two Texas projects totalling nearly $95 million.

In addition to the thirty projects that were included in the House Bill, I was able to have $800,000 added to initiate and complete construction of a ship channel from the Gulf Intercoastal Waterway to Palacios, Texas with the co-operation of Congressman Waterway to Palacios, Texas with the co-operation of Congressman Clark Thompson. Another project put in the Senate Bill, but left out in the House Bill, was $150,000 to plan a $33 million flood control project for the protection of Abilene, Texas.

Among the remaining public works projects was $17 million for improvement of the Sanford Reservoir on the Canadian River near Amarillo, Texas; $6 1/2 million for the Somerville Reservoir in the Brazos River System; $4 million for the Stillhouse Hollow Dam; and $4.1 million for hurricane protection in Texas City, Texas.

The Military Construction Appropriations Bill which was recently passed in the Senate included twenty-two Texas projects amounting to almost $49 million.

In addition to the twenty Texas projects included in the House Bill I was able to have $1,300,000 added for a Medical Laboratory at Brooks Army Medical Center and $492,000 added for a replacement building at Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio, with the co-operation of Congressman Henry B. Gonzales.

Texas is fortunate to have the two senior, ablest, and most influential members of the House Appropriations Committee, Congressman George Mahon of Lubbock and Congressman Albert Thomas of Houston. It is a privilege to work with these two fine Congressmen in getting the appropriations for deserving Texas projects.

The War on Poverty Bill has also passed the Senate. This is one of the major components of President Lyndon Johnson's Great Society, and it has made an im-

Box Seats Still Available For Boys Ranch Rodeo

Reserved box seats are still available for the 21st annual Boys Ranch Rodeo which will be held over the Labor Day weekend Sunday, September 5th, and Monday, September 6th, in the arena at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch near Amarillo.

Tickets may be purchased at the arena or in advance from the Boys Ranch office, Box 1890, Amarillo. Box seats are $2.50, general admission is $1.50, and children and servicemen's tickets are 75 cents.

Performances will begin at 2:30 both afternoons, and events will feature youngsters ranging in age from 4 to 18, riding professional rodeo stock in R. C. A. competition.

A special feature for visitors will be Texas-size barbecue beef sandwiches which will be prepared by the boys who are taking cooking as a vocation. Beef will come from the Ranch's own herd and a cold drink will be included for $1.00, including tax. Visitors are invited to come early and picnic before the action starts.

The Rodeo is the only one of its kind in the nation and all 336 boys who are making their home at the Ranch will have part in the events. The Ranch is located 36 miles northwest of Amarillo on Ranch Road 1061.

pressive record in its first year of operation.

The Senate supported by proposal to eliminate the Governor's veto power from locally sponsored projects such as community action programs, Neighborhood Youth Corps, and adult basic education projects. The elimination of this veto power gives control back to the local communities and encourages initiative on the city, county, and town level.

The $1.65 billion poverty bill presents an organized attack on one of man's oldest enemies - poverty.

I want to express my appreciation to Congressman Olin Teague of Bryan for scheduling hearings on the Cold War GI Bill to begin Tuesday, August 31st. Congressman Teague, Chairman of the powerful House Veterans' Affairs Committee generously invited me to be the lead off witness for the Cold War GI Bill, and I appreciate his thoughtfulness. This is an important measure which would allow 250,000 Texans to go to school if it passes.

Sen. John Tower's

Washington Report

Senator John Tower expressed his pleasure and satisfaction today over action by the Senate Education Subcommittee in addition to the 1965 Higher Education Bill a Tower amendment which will increase the utilization of federal funds by community colleges.

The committee incorporated in the Higher Education Bill the text of Senate Bill 2026 which Senator Tower proposed in May.

Here are Senator Tower's comments: As a former college professor, I am acutely aware of the need which our community and junior colleges have for increased financial support. I have been especially pleased with the efforts of Texas boards of education and of our Legislature in providing ever-greater funds to support education.

"I regard the federal government's participation in support of education to be that of a junior partner only, and I regard preservation of local control over education to be of prime importance, for these reasons I was pleased to see adoption of my bill which gives our State Education Agency greater freedom to decide how it will allocate and expend federal education grants. The law now dictates that the federal share of community college projects must include 40 percent of the state's top-priority project. This has meant that a few projects have been well funded while other projects were not assisted at all. Forty percent of a large, top-priority project can use up all or nearly all of the limited federal education grants.

"My bill, as adopted by the Education Subcommittee, removes that 40 percent restriction and leaves greater flexibility in the hands of State Education Agencies.

"State agencies now will be able to spread federal funds around to smaller community college projects, if such action meets the state's needs and is in line with its overall education plan.

"The U. S. Office of Education has supported my proposal, and the House of Representatives already has incorporated this in its Higher Education Bill."

Over 60 percent of the nation's hogs are marketed from Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Minnesota and Missouri and they reported only 295 confirmed outbreaks for this year ending on June 30. Only 8 states and Puerto Rico, on July 11, 1965, had not passed the preparatory Phase I of the State-Federal program which is aimed at eradication of the disease.

"Grasshoppers Plaguing Area!"

When that caption heads a news story in your local newspaper let it be a tip to you to get out the old minnow seine or fish-landing net and round you up a batch of "hoppers."

It means the fish will go for hoppers.

In other words, the time to use insects as bait is when the insects are plentiful. This is true whether it's fly season, bug season, or any kind of insect season—including that period immediately following a rain when worms are driven out of the holes.

Fish are aware of these conditions. Therefore, they are less suspect of live bait or similarly-looking artificials.

All of which means—fish with artificial or live crickets when crickets are jumping about. Ditto for hoppers, hellgramites, horseflies—even field mice, bugs of all types, etc.

Fish aren't dumb. Not by a long shot! You can outsmart them by paying close attention to nature.

Expert fishermen pay close attention to the barometer, to wind velocity, bad and good weather conditions. They fish in keeping with seasons. They fish at night when the weather is hot. They fish during the daylight hours when the weather is cool. They check the temperature of the water to determine how deep to fish.

Yep, to the expert fisherman, angling is a science. They approach it scientifically. Even psychologically. In fact, sometimes superstitiously.

But they catch fish when you and I don't. So let's not argue with them. In fact, maybe we should adopt some of their traits. Then perhaps we, too, can become successful fishermen.

Walter Rogers'
WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

I was privileged to be at the White House on August 11 as President Johnson signed into law a bill we had passed in the House and Senate to step up research efforts in water desalination. As the Nation faces twin prospects of declining water reserves and growing population, it is essential that we find new, efficient, and economical ways to remove salt and minerals from sea water along our coasts and from brackish water inland.

During the Rose Garden ceremony, President Johnson expressed the hope that by 1970 a research breakthrough would be achieved making possible desalinating plants capable of producing 100 million gallons per day of potable water. This is a great long-dreamed-of, the country would benefit immeasurably were we able to provide desalinated municipal and industrial water supplies in quantity at low cost. However, there is no firm prospect that the goal is technologically obtainable.

In the past five years, approximately $80 million has been spent on what amounts to refinements of the age-old distillation process of purifying salt water. I helped originate the saline water conversion program

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"...And Nothing But The Truth"

The famous phrase has a round, rolling rhythm: "the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth." But does the witness, having uttered the words, obey their command?

It is an old, old problem. Almost 2400 years ago Euripides said:

"The tongue hath sworn, but the mind is unsworn."

How can we persuade a man's mind to deliver what his tongue has promised? In an earlier day, the law relied mainly on the witness' dread of immediate divine retribution. But few people nowadays are kept honest by the fear of a heavenly thunderbolt.

Accordingly, the law now seeks to harness the power of the witness' own conscience. To that end, the form of the oath may vary somewhat to fit the particular creed of the individual.

Thus a Christian may swear on the New Testament, a Jew on the Old Testament, and a Mohammedan on the Koran. And a Quaker to whom swearing is abhorrent may merely "affirm" that he will tell the truth.

On occasion, courts have even allowed such exotic procedures as blowing out a candle ("If I do not tell the truth, may I be snuffed out as was the candle.")

The modern oath has a further use, beyond engaging the conscience of the witness. It also serves to convert a lie into a crime. Lying under oath is the crime of perjury.

It is not often that a witness is convicted of perjury. The requirements for such a conviction are strict. For the law fears that, if the club of perjury is wielded too freely, it could frighten even an honest witness into silence.

Thus, it is not perjury to give false testimony without realizing its falsity—even if there is a degree of negligence on the part of the witness.

But if there is sufficient evidence of a deliberate lie, told with evil purpose, the courts take a serious view indeed of the matter.

For the witness who commits perjury not only offends his own conscience. And he not only breaks his own oath. He also, in the words of a federal court, "pollutes the stream of justice at its source."
