PACKERS LOSE BRITISH TRADE

SOUTH AMERICAN BEEF INVADING THE ENGLISH MARKET

HAVE LEARNED TO CHILL IT

The Argentine Republic Dealers and Shippers Have Finally Learned How to Treat Their Beef So That It Finds Favor With Consumers—Sold at Slightly Lower Price

(Special to The Telegram.) LONDON, Nov. 19.—The position of the beef trade in Great Britain is in an interesting state at present. Although smaller quantities of dressed meat have been shipped recently from the United States, yet prices have not been maintained successfully by the great American houses in the Smithfield market. This is on account of new competition from South American meat shippers, which has become, to the satisfaction of the English element in Smithfield, of a formidable nature.

Finding they were prevented by the English board of agriculture from shipping their beef to England, the South American houses some months ago set to work in earnest to ship dressed meat. At first they tried freezing it but with poor success, for the carcasses came to market in much the same state as Australian frozen meat, and although not outlived by the American chilled beef, the latest shipment from South America, however, was practically as fine in condition as the American chilled beef, and it sold at prices only a shade below those of the American commodity.

The problem of cheaper meat also is brought nearer to solution by the news that Argentina has agreed to accept the terms of the board of agriculture so long stipulated as the only condition upon which British ports could be reopened to live stock from that country.

TEMPERANCE ELEMENT IS ALERT AT DENTON

Cause the Arrest of a Fort Worth Dealer for Shipping Liquor C. O. D. to That City, and Then Go After the Employee Who Attended to It

(Special to The Telegram.) DENTON, Tex., Nov. 19.—George Stoneham, manager for J. N. Ivey, proprietor of a saloon in Fort Worth and one in Dallas, and also of the Richfield hotel in the former place, was arrested by W. S. Fry, city marshal of Denton, at Fort Worth yesterday for shipping whiskey c. o. d. to Denton about two weeks ago.

Mr. Ivey, as proprietor of the saloon from which the whiskey was shipped, pleaded guilty him of the violation at the time of the transaction, but that did not satisfy the enforcers of the law in Denton county, and they decided they would take Mr. Stoneham, who personally attended to shipping the whiskey, in out of the "wet" too.

Mr. Stoneham was released by giving bond for his appearance before the court in Denton in the sum of $100.

Welbourne Pearce of Temple and Hon. O. W. Gillespie are defending the motion and County Attorney Lattimore is defending the verdict. It is understood that if the motion is denied the case will be appealed.

THE GREETING OF GENERALS

TOUCHING SCENE AT A UNION LEAGUE BANQUET

FELL ON THEIR NECKS

Chaffee and Wheaton Meet for the First Time at a Chicago Celebration Since They Parted on the Jungles of Luzon in the Philippines

(By Associated Press.) Chicago, Nov. 19.—"As a soldier boy who has served many years, I know how honors such as those that have been bestowed upon me come. They come to individuals as they have come to me, through the loyal devotion and service of other officers and soldiers—that great mass of men who compose the army of the United States. They have helped me to my honor, and they helped my loyal friend Wheaton to his honor, and no man is more free to acknowledge it than that prince of soldiers."

With this tribute to the American soldier Major General Chaffee fitted a climax to a touching demonstration of the comradeship of barrack and camp life at Tuesday night's banquet at the Union League club. The hero of El Caney and General Lloyd Wheaton, conqueror of the Moros, had met for the first time since they parted in the jungles of Luzon, and, unabashed by the presence of the 450 guests, they had shown the warmth of a soldier's greeting.

General Wheaton had been invited to sit with the guest of honor at the banquet's table, but modestly made him late. General Chaffee saw him first as he threaded his way among the tables. He arose, and reaching over the table beckoned him to approach.

General Wheaton made his way around the board, and General Chaffee fell upon his neck without further ceremony. He threw his arm over the other's shoulders and hugged him, while General Wheaton blushed modestly through his beard and dropped his head to hide the tears that coursed down his cheeks.

What they said was drowned by the cheers and salves of the guests, and then General Wheaton sat down, with in sight of his former commanding officer. In his speech General Chaffee referred often to the loyalty of his former subordinate, giving him his share in the honors, and each time General Wheaton had his bronzed face behind his hand and wiped away further tears.

(Special to The Telegram.) AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 19.—The above is the state that quite a number of the worthy politicians agreed upon as being some of the likely appointees of Governor-elect Lanham. The list embraces the most important of his probable appointments, but not all of them by any means. Those preparing the above slate are candid to admit that Governor-elect Lanham has given no cause to think that they are correct in their predictions. In fact he will not give any of them any satisfaction as to what his intentions are in the premises.

When asked for an authorized statement the governor-elect said: "You may state as coming from me that I don't know when I will give out my list of appointments, and anyone who says or predicts that I will give them out at a certain time or who I will appoint, don't know what he is talking about."

"I have now devoted thirteen days and over and the nights of those days to hearing applicants and their friends for the different appointive offices at my disposal when I shall be governor. I have endeavored to give every man patient and courteous hearing, as I thought it my duty to do. There must be an end to all things. I have all these matters under advisement and will, as soon as I can, announce my conclusion in whole or in part. I now most respectfully request that hearings be considered closed. While I have no desire to exclude any man from consideration, I hope that, except in cases already arranged by me, I will now be left to my own reflections and allowed an opportunity to determine for myself what I shall do in the premises."

TRAPS SET FOR RICH GIRLS BY RASCALS

(By Associated Press.) PARIS, Nov. 19.—Two partners in another heiresses' trust, who call themselves Professor Guillemin and Dr. Jodobert, are under arrest and have made a confession. The trust, it is said, had agents all over the continent who reported on all fortunes, age, character and habits of heiresses. Whenever a silly girl with a rich father was discovered the trust sent a handsome young rascal out to capture her, furnishing him with bogus references and sufficient money to carry on his intrigue.

If the consent of the parents was not obtainable the rogue eloped with the girl taking her to Switzerland, where "Rev. Father" Rosenberg, an ex-priest dismissed by the Church, married them according to the religious creed of the bride, Rosenberg impersonating a Catholic, Protestant or orthodox priest or rabbi, as the case might demand.

After the marriage the parents of the girl were blackmailed into parting with a large marriage portion, of which the trust received the lion's share. The persons under arrest confess that during the past few years they have swindled in this manner some twenty rich families of France, thirty of Germany, forty-five of Italy, many Spaniards, Swedes, Belgians, etc. They were about to extend their activity to the United States when a novel entitled "Canon Moses" appeared that gave away the whole story in the guise of fiction.

A victim of the trust reading the story, appealed to the police. Rosenberg is still at large.

PEACE NEGOTIATIONS HAVE FALLEN THROUGH

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Nov. 19.—Passengers from Colon say that from certain recent events it would seem that all peace negotiations will fall through, and from present appearance matters will have to be decided by fighting.

Regarding the insurgent, General Herrera's movements, it is rumored that part of his army, as an advance guard, is stationed in Chorrera, under the command of General Julio Plaza, and that General Herrera is also advancing with 5,000 men. If these reports prove true there will be developments within a week.

General Velasco has established his headquarters, with about 800 men, in Tavernilla and San Pablo, occupying all the canal buildings of that section, that is, about half way between Panama and Colon, controlling also the Barbacoas bridge.

General Navarro occupies the heights of Gulebra with about 650 men, with artillery which, properly managed, could control the Paraiso Valley. Pedro Miguel and Miraflores villages.

In Miraflores there are about 400 men; in Empire about 500 and smaller detachments in other parts of the line. There are still many important points left uncovered and considerable illness and mortality are already existing, especially in the Empire section.

ENGLISH TOWNS HURT BY AMERICAN INVASION

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—While the talk about the American invasion has ceased in the press, there is no lack of evidence of active competition in many lines of manufactures. The provincial hotels are filled with American commercial travelers and agents of manufacturing firms, and there is a large increase in the number of branch houses established for permanent operations in the United Kingdom. The results of this destructive competition are noticeable in the Midland towns, like Northampton and Leicester, which have been dependent for their prosperity upon the boot and shoe trade.

The fortunes of these towns might have been retrieved if the shoe manufacturers had kept abreast of American enterprise and equipped their factories with labor saving appliances. They neglected these matters, however, and American boots and shoes are now sold in England at prices which could not be met, either at Leicester or Northampton.

Assistant Superintendent Cates of the Railway Mail Service was last night officially advised of the Southern Pacific wreck at Devers, fifty miles east of Houston. The wreck occurred during yesterday, a passenger train running into an open switch, the engine going into the ditch, turning completely over. The baggage, express and three day coaches left the Eleven passengers were reported injured, but none killed. Engineer Burt was pinned under his engine and Fireman Floyd seriously hurt.

The three Pullman cars remained on the track. A wrecking train with surgeons went to the scene from Houston. The injured were then taken to Houston hospitals. Clerk Milton C. Balance, including through registered pouches, was buried deep under heavy wreckage. The work of clearing the wreck was carried on all of last night, said Mr. Hackett.

Tonight at a Grand Banquet the President Will Express the Nation's Gratitude for the Work General Wright Has Done and Express Congratulations on His Safe and Honorable Return.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 19.—President Roosevelt and party arrived in Memphis shortly after 9 o'clock this morning. A large crowd was assembled, and when the reception committee, composed of one hundred representative citizens, escorted the president to his carriage a great cheer went up.

The parade formed on Calhoun street and proceeded up Main to Exchange, down Second to Court and down Court to the Cayoso hotel.

The president is here to join in the celebration in honor of General Luke Wright, vice-governor of the Philippines, who returned to his native city last night. After the arrival at the hotel a reception was held and the president given a half-hour's rest.

Promptly at 11 o'clock the ladies of Memphis called upon the president and escorted him to the private banquet hall of the hotel, where a delightful breakfast was served by them. The decorations were beautiful. Mrs. S. S. Hammond acted as master of ceremonies and the luncheon was one of the most pleasant incidents of the president's trip.

Promptly at 2 o'clock the committee escorted the president and General Wright to the auditorium, where negroes carried out a well prepared program. The party returned to the hotel amid the plaudits of the crowd.

Tonight a grand banquet is to be tendered General Wright, at which two hundred covers will be laid. The president, Judge Lorton of Tennessee and Alexander Cochran, of Missouri are among the speakers.

ALMOST TIME FOR PISTOLS

Anderson-Allen Row in Kansas Becoming Warm

(Special to The Telegram.)

TOPEKA, Nov. 19.—Trouble has broken out between Major Tom Anderson of Topeka, and Henry J. Allen of the Ottawa Herald, chairman of the state board of charities, and it looks now as though it will take a duel under the French code to settle it. Some time ago Anderson, as secretary of the Topeka Commercial club, took a rap at the state board of charities for purchasing supplies from business houses in other states. Allen, in reply, produced a statement showing that the board bought nearly everything in Kansas. In fact, it showed that of the $1,000,000 spent annually for supplies, only $50,000 went to houses outside the state. In rebuttal Anderson declared that $90,000 was too much to be spent outside the state and proceeded to do some more roasting. He finished his last attack as follows: "Mr. Allen, the chairman, can now take a day off and jump on the secretary of the Topeka Commercial club."

To this Allen replied: "Tom Anderson, in an interview, invites the editor of the Herald to 'jump on' to him. We decline. We never cared to ride a Jackass."

AMUSEMENTS

A Stranger in New York

Played to a fair matinee and good evening crowd yesterday. Plot—one of Hoyt's standbys, giving opportunity for plenty of new songs. Cast—usually heavy. William Keller Mack and Jack Campbell do the comedy work and please the audience well. Amusing situations are well shared by all members of the company and E. E. Beamish as Baron Sands comes in for a little more of the applause. Good features, new songs and plenty of action. A first-class show for the price. This afternoon and tonight at Greenwall's the same company matinee and evening in Hoyt's "A Trip to Chinatown."

"At The Old Cross Roads"

The poetry and sensuous languorous beauty of the dreamy South has been at all times a prolific field for the pen of writers of fiction and the drama. In "At The Old Cross Roads" which will be seen here at Greenwall's Opera House, Friday night, Nov. 21, the author has conceived an intensely interesting drama of real life of that period, and the characters have been drawn with a master hand. The company is a splendid one and will be headed by Estha Williams who last season gave such a remarkable performance of the role of "Parepa," the octoroon, and popular romantic actor. Despite the fact that the play gave the best of satisfaction, Manager Arthur C. Aiston, who is always looking to better his attractions, has engaged as a special feature the "Bachelor Club Quartet," one of vaudeville's best known headliners, for the past few years.

"Lord Strathmore." The theater goes throughout the United States in all first-class theaters demand that each season there be provided for their delectation some innovation with one or more surprising scenes and situations, and with sufficient thrill distributed at various points throughout the performance to keep their emotions on edge. They ask that this play be magnificently staged, excellently costumed and thoroughly well acted. When these conditions are met they usually through the theater in which the attraction is offered, and make it an overwhelming success.

From all accounts "Lord Strathmore" is the drama this season that is meeting with their special favor, and as it is being presented by David Traflet's Company throughout the East and South, this famous production is now to be sent here to Greenwall's Opera House Saturday matinee and night, November 22, with the original cast including Miss Virginia Drew Prescott in her extraordinary characterization of "Lady Vavasour."

Grau's Marvelous Production Theater goes have a grand operatic treat in store for them when the greatest of all comic opera successes "The Wizard of the Nile" will be presented for the first time in this city at Greenwall's Opera House, Monday night, November 24 and matinee Tuesday. Manager Grau has for years tried to secure this big attraction and has at last succeeded in doing so.

Grau will also present Sousa's "El Capitán" Tuesday night. This is the grandest treat known here in years as the Wizard has never been seen anywhere under $1.50 a seat.

THE LAST WEEK

OPPORTUNITY GONE AFTER SATURDAY TO BUY A HIGH GRADE PIANO AT FACTORY COST.

PIANO

AT FACTORY COST.

NUMEROUS PEOPLE OF FORT WORTH AND VICINITY WERE CUSTOMERS LAST WEEK.

$100 TO $200 SAVED—EASY PAYMENTS TO ALL—SALES ROOM 300 MAIN ST.

Many people evidenced their appreciation of our high grade factory sale of pianos last week and no doubt nearly, if not quite all of these fine instruments will go this week at the actual factory cost with freights added.

The quality, the price, and terms, together with a positive guarantee is the incentive. People are just beginning to realize the enormous profit dealers make on pianos, and they are availing themselves of the opportunity to get a piano at factory cost.

There is no use for a customer to pay $350 for a good piano when they can get one at our factory sale for $197, or what comfort would there be in paying $440 for one when you can get one of the same grade of us for $247, and it would be almost suicidal to pay $525 for one of the best pianos in the world, when you can get it at our factory sale for $296. Don't read this ad and say its a fairy tale, and pianos can't be sold at such figures, but come and see; facts are stubborn things.

Remember this sale is now in progress at 300 Main street, and will be concluded Saturday night at 9 o'clock.

THE CHICAGOANS ARE HOME AGAIN

BACK IN THE WNDY CITY AFTER A FORTNIGHT'S TRIP

PLEASSED WITH THE SOUTH

Express Themselves to the Effect That the Common Interests of Chicago and the South Have Been Served By the Trip and That Their Views Have Been Broadened

(Special to The Telegram.) CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Smiling in complacent recollection of many bounteous dinners, with arms aching a little from the effects of a thousand handshakes and ears still ringing with the re-echoes of a hundred orations of welcome, the forty prominent business men of Chicago who steamed away a fortnight ago to invade the Sunny South, are at home again. The trip in their special train had been unmarred by any casualties. The train itself had lacked but few of all the comforts of home, and they had had a really splendid time. The route followed by the invaders began at Wichita, Kan., and trailed thence through Oklahoma, Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Tennessee. At every stop they were met by committees of citizens, lunched, dined, taken on trolley parties, steamboat excursions and tall-ho junks, given the freedom of many clubs, and occasionally serenaded. Senator Bailey of Texas met them at the state line and gave them a special reception when they reached Austin.

The governor of Mississippi liked them so much that after his reception of them was over he boarded their train and rode through a whole day, saying as he finally bade them farewell that nothing but a sense of duty prevented him from permanently joining them. As they traveled from the belt of wheat, corn and cattle southward to the fields of rice, oil and cotton, most of them realized for the first time the tremendous resources of the territory through which they were passing. Best of all, they came home feeling that their object, which was the forging of closer commercial ties with the great southwest, was in a fair way of practical achievement.

"We were whisked from one good time to another with such rapidity and brevity of interval," said William H. Bush, "that distinct impressions are as yet somewhat confused with the mass. We didn't go down to do any actual business, and we didn't toot any horns, except those of friendship and hospitality; but we saw enough to convince the most skeptical among us—if there were any skeptics—that the Southwest has the big, booming, prosperous future. We want its business—and we are going to get it."

"If any of us came away without a good idea of the indefinite variety of the resources in the states we visited," said Charles H. Conover, "he must have been blind. The panorama of paying industries unfolded for us as simply amazing. It was not hard to be convinced that we are in just as good standing with the people of the South as the merchants of New York. The hospitality extended to us was enthusiastic and sincere and helped to put our future relations on an immediate basis of good feeling. Everybody seems to be making something pay down there, and if they like us well enough to send their outside business this way we shall have cause for congratulation."

JEALOUSY BRINGS ON MURDER IN MEXICO

Plantation Bookkeeper Is Dangerously Wounded and Noted Man Dies From Injuries

(By Associated Press.) City of Mexico, Nov. 19.—G. H. Heel, head bookkeeper and general overseer of the Motzorongo plantation, near Cordoba, has been dangerously shot by station Agent Fernandez, in the employ of the Vera Cruz and Pacific railway. The men met in the depot at Motzorongo where Fernandez, who is said to have entertained a grudge against Heel for alleged advances to his wife, shot him twice through the chest, one bullet passing close to the heart. Fernandez was arrested and Heel taken to the railway hospital at Cordoba, where he lies in a perilous condition.

Eduardo Ruiz, a member of the supreme court and formerly attorney general of the republic, was thrown from his horse while riding at Uruapan, receiving injuries from which he died. He had written several works on the Indians of Michoacan, being partly of the Tarascan race. He also translated Morchoff's "Politicians for Young Americans" into Spanish for use in the Mexican schools.

DIED ON A PORCH OF CONGESTIVE CHILL

(Special to The Telegram.) Galveston, Nov. 19.—Thomas Kelley, aged about 50, from Fort Worth, died here Tuesday morning from congestive chill. He was seen Monday evening, when he bought a cup of coffee at a restaurant on Twenty-eighth and Mechanic streets, and said he had a chill.

The dead body was found on the porch of a house at the above locality, and the coroner's verdict was death from congestive chill. He was a cripple in the left leg and was identified by a man who knew him in Fort Worth.

Former Minister Barrett Cables This Information From the Orient to Miss Helen Gould, Who Was Instrumental in Having Them Put Under The Ban of Directors

(By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—That no dance labeled Asiatic is to be exploited in the midway at the St. Louis exposition has greatly pleased the Orient, according to a despatch received by Miss Helen Gould from John Barrett, former minister to Siam, who is representing the exposition in the far East. The despatch was read at a meeting of the Board of Lady Managers of the Exposition, held at Miss Gould's home in this city. No decision has been reached by a committee of artists appointed to select a design for the official emblem of the St. Louis exposition. The jury found two hundred and fifty designs most of which were framed oil paintings, and word was received that there were more which had not yet passed through the custom house. Artists from all over the world have competed for the $2,000 prize.

SECOND DAY OF THE HOUSTON CARNIVAL

(Special to The Telegram.)

Houston, Nov. 19.—The second day of the carnival week opened clear and cool. The topic of greatest interest was the illuminated street parade at night, and it turned out to be a very brilliant success. The crowd on the sidewalks bulged away out upon the driveway, and with difficulty the way was kept open for the passage of the splendid allegorical floats that constituted the parade.

The parade was headed by King Nottoc IV, and his princes on a magnificent regal float.

SLEEPING VOLCANOES

Those who live near a volcano know that beneath the calm exterior of the sleeping giant is a raging sea of fire, molten rock and sulphurous gases, but the thin vapory smoke lazily ascending from its crater is perhaps the only external sign of the commotion and tumult within. Living in this atmosphere of danger they soon become insensible to fear and are only aroused to a sense of their peril by the rumblings and quakings which foretell the coming eruption and downpour of heated rock and ashes, scalding mud, blinding, suffocating smoke and sulphurous gases. They were living in fancied security when the sleeping volcano awoke, and they were lost.

Thousands of Blood Poison sufferers are living upon a sleeping volcano, and are taking desperate chances. Under the Mercury and Potash treatment, the external evidences of the disease disappear and the deluded victim believes the cure complete. But the fires of contagion and the deadly virus have only been smothered in the system. The little sore that now and then makes its appearance in the mouth, the slight rheumatic pains in muscles and joints and the red rash that occasionally breaks out upon the body, are warning symptoms, which often go unheeded. Then the rumblings grow louder, the smouldering poison bursts out and the body is soon covered with sores and copper colored spots and pimples, and all the old symptoms return—sore mouth and tongue, ulcerated throat, swollen glands, and many others that the sufferer believed had been uprooted and destroyed by the Mercury and Potash treatment. Not only do these minerals fail to cure the disease, but work the greatest injury to the system. Mercurial Rheumatism, Necrosis or death of the bones, deep and offensive Ulcers, Salivation, Inflammation of the Bowels and Stomach are some of the horrible effects of Mercury and Potash.

The use of S. S. S. in Contagious Blood Poison cases is never followed by such results. We offer One Thousand Dollars for proof that it contains one particle of Mercury, Potash, or other mineral, but is guaranteed a strictly vegetable remedy. It cures even where the worst symptoms have developed, and the patient, to all appearances, was hopelessly incurable. S. S. S. is an antidote for Contagious Blood Poison, and the only radical and permanent cure known. This has been proven by an experience of nearly fifty years, during which thousands have been restored to sound and vigorous health when it seemed nothing could stop the ravages of the disease and save them from a most horrible fate. S. S. S. destroys and eliminates every atom of poison from the system—purifies, strengthens and builds up the blood, and the smouldering fires of this terrible disease are extinguished, and no signs of a return are ever seen.

Our special book on Contagious Blood Poison will be sent free on application. It describes fully all the symptoms and stages of the disease, with complete directions for treating the same. Medical advice or any special information desired is furnished by our physicians without charge.

INDIANAPOLIS GRAVE ROBBERY DISCLOSURES

A Lump of Coal Was the Marker the Marauders Used in Their Depredations

(By Associated Press.) Indianapolis, Nov. 19.—Mayor Bookwalter and Rufus Cantrell, the grave robber, had a conference in the grand jury room Tuesday. The mayor went to see Cantrell in answer to an appeal from a mother who feared that her son's body had been stolen. Before he left Cantrell made a confidant of the mayor. "If what Cantrell told me is true, half of this grave-robbing business has not been disclosed," said the mayor when he returned to his office.

Minnie Weddel of St. Louis had appealed to the mayor to find out whether the body of her son, Walter, had been stolen from Mount Jackson cemetery. She could not afford the trip to Indianapolis. Cantrell gave the mayor an exhibition of his unusually retentive memory. He immediately recalled the date of the lad's burial and the location of the grave.

"But we did not take that body," said he. "It was too small. I could only sell four bodies of children in a year, for the colleges only needed that many."

"Are you sure of this case?" the mayor asked.

"Sure? Well, I should say I am," answered the ghoul. "If you will go to Mount Jackson you will find a lump of coal at the head of the grave."

"The night after the boy was buried," continued Cantrell, "I went to Mount Jackson to get another body. I took the coal along as a marker. It is a sign understood by all grave-robbers."

Bullitt, counsel for Colonel Campbell Stemp, the Republican candidate for congress in the Ninth district, entered a plea for a writ of mandamus to prevent the state board of canvassers from awarding the certificate of election to the Democratic candidate, Congressman W. F. Rhea, and to compel the county commissioners of Scott, Russell, Wythe and Washington counties to count the votes of the several precincts which were thrown out by them, and which, if counted, the petitioner claims, will change the result and elect Colonel Stemp congressman. The case was submitted to the court. Congressman Rhea did not oppose the petition nor was he represented by counsel when it was presented.

BOWLING GREEN, Ky., March 24, 1902. GENTLEMEN: For over four years I suffered greatly from a severe case of Contagious Blood Poison. I went to Hot Springs, staying there four months. I then consulted physicians, who prescribed Mercury. Nothing did me any good, in fact the treatment proved more harmful than beneficial. Thus I continued to suffer for four years. I mentioned my case to a friend, who told me that S. S. S. had certainly cured him. I at once commenced its use, and in a few months could find no trace of the disease whatever, and I can truthfully say I am entirely well. I recommend S. S. ## GETS THROUGH WITH MITCHELL

MADE NOTHING OFF HIM

Lawyer MacVeigh's Aim in Questioning Him Was to Show That the Union Because of its Alleged Acts of Violence Was not a Fit Party to a Contract

(By Associated Press.)

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 19.—Mr. MacVeigh, who began his cross-examination of Mr. Mitchell on Saturday, concluded at 11 o'clock Tuesday. The distinguished attorney centered most of his energies in trying to break down the miners' reasons for asking for a yearly agreement with the companies on hours of labor, wages and other conditions, which, if made, would be a recognition of the union. Mr. MacVeigh's principal aim throughout his questioning of Mr. Mitchell was to show that the mine workers' union, because of alleged acts of intimidation, violence and the use of the boycott by its members, proved itself unfit to be a party to a contract. Mr. Mitchell would not admit, nor even assume for the sake of illustrating points, that a reign of terror existed in the anthracite fields during the last six months. The recognition of the union is looked on as the most important question before the commission, and it is quite evident, from the trend of the proceedings thus far, that the companies will oppose it to their utmost ability.

Mr. Gowan and Mr. Ross questioned Mr. Mitchell principally regarding conditions existing at the collieries of the companies they represent. These questions were more or less technical. Mr. Mitchell's answers, as a rule, differed very little from the reasons given in his preliminary statement to the commission for improved conditions for the mine workers.

WILL MAKE FIGHT ON APOSTLE SMOOT

Ministerial Conference to Make It Hot For the Would Be Mormon Senator

Salt Lake City, Nov. 19.—The Ministerial Alliance of Salt Lake City is making preparation for a vigorous fight against the election of Apostle Reed Smoot to the United States senate, and falling in this, to carry the fight against him to the halls of congress. A plan for organized effort on this line it is said already has been outlined and will be taken up at the next meeting of the alliance. The general idea is to make a fight similar to that waged against Brigham H. Roberts in the house. Not only will the matter be brought before the legislature then an attempt will be made to make Mr. Smoot's election a national issue, and a petition will be drafted to congress asking that Mr. Smoot as a high official of the Mormon church be refused a seat in the senate.

ONE WOMAN KILLS ANOTHER

FEARFUL FATE OF A YOUNG LADY MUSIC TEACHER

SHE IS STABBED TO DEATH

Attacked in Her Fathers Home By Another Woman With a Knife—Pursued All Over the House By Her Assailant—Jealousy Thought to Be the Motive

(By Associated Press.)

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 19.—Miss Florence McFarlin, aged twenty-one years, a music teacher, was stabbed to death in her father's house here by another woman, and an hour later Mrs. Lulu Young, wife of Frank Young, at one time city purchasing agent, was arrested as being the supposed murderer. The woman who committed the deed rang the door bell of the McFarlin home Tuesday morning, and when Miss McFarlin answered it, attacked her with a knife. Miss McFarlin ran screaming through the hall into the kitchen closely pursued by her assailant. In the kitchen she stumbled, half turning. In a rash her pursuer was upon her, and with a rapid slash stabbed her five times. Miss McFarlin sank to the floor, dying instantly. The murderer fled. The only words she was heard to utter were: "She has become between myself and my husband, and I'm glad that she is dead."

The dead woman was the daughter of a railroad man. She was a person of refinement and good appearance. Mrs. Young made no statement after her arrest.

(By Associated Press.) Welsh, La., Nov. 19.—The famous Welsh well No. 4, which came in a mad gusher like a clap of thunder out of a clear sky and which has spouted oil and water incessantly 160 feet, at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening was boiling with greater force than at any other time. The gas pressure is stronger and the flow of oil much greater than at any previous time. With the valve almost closed and a hood placed over the cap, a stream of oil is being thrown into a slush pool 160 feet from the rick.

Y. M. C. A. LYCEUM

The Bostelmann String Quartet Will Provide the Fourth Number

The fourth number of the Y. M. C. A. Lyceum will be given in the city hall Thursday night. This is the first musical number in the course and a splendid one, too. It is the Bostelmann String Quartet assisted by Carl Crance, basso. The American Lyceum Union has this to say of this company:

"John C. Bostelmann was born in Hanover, Germany, in 1857. At an early age he began the study of music and his choice of instruments was the violin. He showed remarkable talent for a lad, and coming to this country with his parents, continued his studies. He became a member of Her Majesty's Opera Company, also the Majestic Opera Co. In 1886 he made a tour of the United States and Mexico with Madame Adelina Patti. His oldest son is a favorite pupil of Hausmann, in Berlin, and his family of six children have more than a local reputation as musicians of ability. The work of the string quartet is second to no other in this country. The mere mention of the fact that the artists are all members of one family, will serve to show the effects that can be produced by constant practice, together with the same musical temperaments. The company will please wherever booked."

How Two Irishmen Discovered This Interesting Fact

Two Irishmen were in New York City bound for the West. They had several railroad time-tables and were looking them over for the purpose of selecting a route thither. They finally discovered that some lines had more tracks than others and they concluded, very innocently, to take the one which had the greatest number of tracks. Hence they took the four-tracked New York Central. But their decision was based not upon the fact, but the fancy, in the premises. Said Mulligan to Pat: "Pat, we'll be atther takin' the four-tracker; for if she leps one track she lands on wan if the others an' loses no time; but if it's a one or two-tracker they'd beft to slow up and put on the brakes an' lift 'er back on an' we'd be a day late."

After 8 o'clock by Director General F. L. Crittenden, who made a short speech thanking the audience and expressing the gratitude of the Elks to the local merchants and to those from abroad who had contributed to the success of the entertainment. He then introduced Mayor Powell, who made a short speech on the beauty of charity, praised the work of the Benevolent Home and Kindergarten association and lauded the Elks for their charitable work. At the close of Mayor Powell's address, the firing of five pistol shots opened the fair for business.

Plenty of fun was furnished during the evening by the doings of the kangaroo court, the conviction and arrest of prisoners and the confinement of criminals in the Elks' jail, which is made of woven wire with meshes that are uncomfortably large for one who doesn't care to be seen behind them. The spellers for the sacred wampus, and sea monster, and the flaming ice booth, contributed their shouts to the general noise and times were lively till a late hour. If tonight's crowd is larger than that of last night, Ellis hall will have the biggest gathering in its history, for at many times last night it took several minutes to get from one end of the room to the other because of the jam. Nobody seemed in a hurry to get away, however, that is, till all his money was spent and then if he left, it was to return again tonight. 'his afternoon at 2 o'clock, the fair started again. Today is Kindergarten day and many ladies interested in the success of the fair from the standpoint of the Kindergartners, attended between the hours of 2 and 6. There are seven more nights of the fair, and if you aren't there six of them, well, you will have missed something.

ONE OF JOHN MORGAN'S MEN, NOW THE MOST FAMOUS DISTILLER WEST OF THE MISSISSIPPI RIVER. Mr. Geo. H. Shawhan, president of the Shawhan Distillery Company, belongs to the fourth generation of a famous family of distillers. His great-grandfather, Daniel Shawhan, having settled in Bourbon County, Ky., shortly after the revolutionary war, set up and operated there the first distillery in the state, and was the first to give to his product the name of "Bourbon" whiskey. The formula, skill and care used in making Shawhan whiskey in those early times are still used today. It may be of interest to our readers to know that Mr. Shawhan was one of John Morgan's men in the civil war. Physically, he is of herculean type, well proportioned, weighing 275 pounds and standing six feet four inches. In one of Morgan's raids Mr. Shawhan rode and slept in his saddle for eighteen consecutive days. He is still strong and active. He took the first prize at the Chicago World's Fair for the best butter-producer from his herd of Jersey cattle. His son, Leo, was the famous football player at the Missouri State University. No one who ever looked at the honest face of George Shawhan could doubt for a moment that he makes honest whiskey. To make a long story short and to give Shawhan Whiskey a wide introduction where its merits will be appreciated, we make the following offer: SEND US $3.20 and we will prepay express and send you in plain box, 4 Full Quarts of ten-year-old SHAWHAN WHISKEY. FRISCO SHORT ON EQUIPMENT Texas Central is Running Trains In Over Its Tracks to This City

Owing to the shortage of transportation equipment on the Fort Worth and Rio Grande (Frisco), the unusual condition exists of Texas Central trains running over that road to Fort Worth to get stock to connecting lines. The Frisco cannot furnish the cars or engines to haul the cattle from Dublin to this city, so almost daily for the past several days, regular Texas Central trains, engines, cars, crews and all complete, have been hauling cattle to Fort Worth over the Frisco track and thus moving the cattle which otherwise would have to remain at Dublin. At many other places to the west of here, similar conditions exist, but they cannot be remedied so easily.

Both engines and cattle cars are needed on nearly every road entering Fort Worth. During the last visit of General Manager Leroy Trice of the International and Great Northern, it was stated by one of the party that the International and Great Northern has plenty of engines. It is about the only road entering Fort Worth of which the statement can be made.

At last night's session, a case which will be presented to the most popular Redman of Fort Worth at the coming bazaar, was on exhibition. The regular social evenings of the council, are the second Tuesdays of each month.

CONNECTION IS NOW COMPLETED

I. & G. N. EXTENSION IS FINISHED TODAY

MAKES THE FIRST TRIP

Supt. A. L. Bowers of Palestine Comes to Fort Worth on the First Train to Make the Trip Over the New Line—Trice Will Come Tomorrow

Some time about noon today the last rails on the International and Great Northern's connection between Fort Worth and Waco were laid. General Manager Leroy Trice who was to drive the 14-karat gold spike that marked the final ceremony was about 115 miles distant at the proper time for the ceremony, so that bit of the work was left undone.

The official of the road present at the laying of the last rail and driving the last spike was A. L. Bowers of Palestine, superintendent of the transportation department of the line. A train bearing Mr. Bowers went up the line from Waco to a point 15 miles beyond Venus, where the last gap remained. Mr. Bowers went up with the intention of staying until the rails were in condition to run over and then intended to come the rest of the way to Fort Worth, thus making the first trip over the new line. He was expected to arrive here late this afternoon.

General Manager Trice is not expected to come over the new line until some time tomorrow. J. W. Cunningham, right-of-way and land tax commissioner of the International and Great Northern, was at Venus this morning, but learning that there was little chance of getting to Fort Worth before night, went from there to Dallas with the intention of coming to Fort Worth on the Interurban and meeting Mr. Bowers here this evening.

The completion of the line to Fort Worth gives this city its tenth railroad and gives another direct outlet to Houston and Galveston. The work of building the line has extended a little over two years. The distance from here to Waco is about 90 miles. Regular trains will probably not be running before Dec. 1. Depots are to be built and telegraph connections must be made. As has been stated in The Telegram, Texas and Pacific terminals, freight houses, passenger station and telegraph office will be used here.

A GOOD SAMARITAN Being Helped Himself Wishes to Help Others

The papers were never so filled with advertisements of remedies that will cure every known disease, as they are today; these are invariably accompanied by letters from people, testifying in the strongest terms to the virtue and merit of the particular preparation advertised; but because so much is claimed for the medicine, it has come to the point where most readers regard such testimonials as pure "fakes" and made up out of whole cloth.

We are glad however to vouch for the reliability of the following from Mr. Wm. Lichtenwalter, proprietor of the largest printing house in Canton, Ohio, regarding the Pyramid Pile Cure, for which nothing is claimed except that it will cure any and every form of Piles.

"For several months past I have received so many inquiries from sufferers asking if my testimonial is authentic, that I am inclined to send in a bill to you for postage and stationery. It is now two years since I was last troubled, and my rectum is as clear and clean as any man who never had piles, although I suffered with protruding, bleeding and internal piles for twenty-seven years. I will not attempt to detail the agony I suffered, being too happy to say I believe I am cured, after two years of evidence.

What will cure one man will sometimes not cure another, whether it was the Pyramid Pile Cure that cured me. I cannot say; but I have been freed from piles for two years after using your treatment. I leave sufferers to draw their own conclusions. I will answer any communication that a sufferer may ask, and will refer to any business house, bank or manufacturer of Canton, Ohio, concerning my identity, among whom I have lived for forty-eight years."

Pyramid Pile Cure is sold by druggists for fifty cents a package, or will be mailed to any address by Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., upon receipt of price. Drop this firm a card asking for their little book describing the cause and cure of piles.

NAUGHT IS NOTHING BUT IT COUNTS

The Police Boys Will Give the Orphans 100 Per Cent Instead of 10—The Entire Proceeds of Coming Ball

The Telegram was made to say yesterday that the Police Benevolent association would give to the Orphans' Home 10 per cent of the proceeds of the ball announced for the night of Jan. 8. It should have read 100 per cent—or the entire proceeds. The association's action is a most commendable one. But this is not the first time this association has donated liberally from the proceeds of similar entertainments. Each year the police give a ball, and the hall is always crowded, last year Miller's hall being inadequate to accommodate the dancers in comfort. The boys hope to realize at least $500 for the orphans at the coming ball, and every cent over and above expenses goes to the children. The proposition was thoroughly discussed at the meeting of the association last Sunday, and Chief Rea, Officers Maddox and Zimmerman were appointed a committee to secure a hall, and in all probability Ellis' hall will be secured. The music committee is composed of Messrs. Howard, Snow and Orr. The printing committee includes Messrs. Newby, Allen and Hilderback. Tickets will at once be printed and offered for sale.

T. P. LENOIR'S BOND HAD LARGER REPRESENTATION

Nine and a Quarter Millions to Secure a Notary Public Bond for One Thousand Dollars

"Say, young man, I want you to correct that statement you made in The Telegram last Sunday that County Treasurer Ball had represented on his bond more money than was ever before on a bond in Tarrant county." "Show me," said the reporter. "I can do it, and here you are: My name is T. P. Lenoir, sir, and I want you to know, sir, that in 1890 I was appointed a notary public in this county. The bond was for only $1,000, but I had on it John R. Hoxie, ($8,000,000), Robert Maddox ($250,000), E. B. Harrold ($1,000,000). There, you have $9,250,000. See?" "I see. Have you got change for a half dollar?" "I have," said Mr. Lenoir, feeling for the change. "Loan me two bits."

ANXIOUS MOMENTS.

Some of the most anxious hours of a mother's life are those when the little ones of the household have the croup. There is no other medicine so effective in this terrible malady as Foley's Honey and Tar. It is a household favorite for throat and lung troubles, and as it contains no opiates or other poisons, it can be safely given. Sold by Reeves' Pharmacy, Ward Pharmacy and Arlington Drug Co.

A crowd of ex-county officials will leave Fort Worth tomorrow morning for a week's hunt. If they find any bear they will telegraph Teddy. Judge M. B. Harris, Sterling P. Clark, Eugene Brock, "Lucy" Dillard, J. E. Fridge and others will compose the party.

There are men who when they sit down at a table d'hote dinner, eat voraciously, regardless of their stomachs, being moved by a purpose to "get their money's worth." There are advertisers of the same mind. They buy space and think they are cheated if they do not crowd it with reading matter.

FORT WORTH'S GROWTH

During the last year Fort Worth increased in population nearly 5,000. This is 16 per cent. At this rate, in six years it will double in population. On this basis, then, it will have 70,000 people in 1908. It will have jumped from its position among the numberless smaller cities to one among the comparatively few. It will really be a city in all that the word implies.

But Fort Worth will grow at a faster rate than 16 per cent. That is what it did last year, when the big packing houses were only being built. When they are in actual operation people will be drawn here by the thousands, not alone by the expectation of employment in them, but by the suction that always follows enterprises of this magnitude. A conservative estimate of the number of people who will come here to live in the next twelve months is 10,000. That will mean that dwelling houses must go up at a much faster rate than they have in the past, and new business houses must be built to accommodate the demands for new stores and larger quarters for those already here. For more people means more business.

People who own property, either business or residence, should hold to it. Prices will advance several times the money rate of interest. This is a consideration aside from the fact that every one ought to own some real estate, preferably a home. If you own such property, you have an investment that panics and hard times can not imperil.

THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC DEAL

The recent deal whereby Edward H. Harriman routed the Keene forces and obtained controlling interest in the Southern Pacific railroad, stamps him as one of the greatest railroad and financial strategists in history. It was a tremendous deal, the greatest, perhaps, in the history of the country.

Last February the Union Pacific syndicate, composed of Harriman, Rockefeller, Gould, Mills, Kuhn, Loeb & Co. and Speyer & Co. paid $70,000,000 for the Southern Pacific holdings of Collis P. Huntington, Leland Stanford estate and the Crocker holdings. That gave control to them, through being the largest minority holders of 9,604 miles of railroad owned, operated or leased by the Southern Pacific. Since then the syndicate has added to its holdings until at the inauguration of the present market crisis, it held $90,000,000 and was within $9,000,000 of owning a majority of stock. By the purchase of the $12,000,000 additional stock this week the syndicate now owns the road. James R. Keene endeavored to work on Harriman the same game Gates engineered so successfully in Louisville and Nashville when he ousted August Belmont from control. Quietly he and his associates have been getting together great blocks of the stock. It is said on the highest authority that the Keene pool has been forced to sell out to Harriman. The newspapers put the losses of the Keene pool at $17,000,000, and it has been dissolved, although Mr. Keene denies that he has disposed of his holdings in Southern Pacific. He hints he was betrayed by some of his associates who sold out when the struggle with Harriman became severe. The securing of complete control by Union Pacific means the postponement of dividends for about a year.

Heretofore Union Pacific has controlled Southern Pacific. This of course left it open to attacks by such combinations as the Western group, and evidently Mr. Harriman and his associates decided to take such steps as would prevent in their neck of the woods a repetition of the Louisville and Nashville deal. The entire capital stock of the Southern Pacific is $190,000,000, and as Mr. Harriman holds for Union Pacific about $102,000,000, the control cannot be taken from him. Just as W. K. Vanderbilt took advantage of the exigencies to take over from the Western speculators Chicago and Northwestern stock at prices $50 a share less than they paid for it, so Edward H. Harriman has forfeited his position by buying control outright. Hereafter Mr. Harriman need not sit up all night to watch his railroad system. It is out of the reach of the raiders and safe from attacks by speculative or covetous speculators.

It is reported that the Dallas Yacht club has offered the use of the Trinity river near that city for the American cup races next summer. Lipton is said to look on the Trinity with favor. It is believed his boat would stand a good show of winning in its waters.

ONLY A MILLION DOLLARS AT ISSUE

Sugar Trust Involved in a Suit for the Settlement of Claims to That Trifling Amount

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Arguments have been heard in the United States district court at Newark, N. J., in the suit brought by the American Sugar Refining company involving a trifle over $1,000,000 which the plaintiff asserts it paid the government under the ruling of the treasury department in excess of what it should have paid as government taxes for 1893, 1899 and 1900. The amounts were paid under protest pending the settlement of the question whether they were an overpayment of a property tax.

He came here from Kentucky. During the civil war he purchased commissary supplies for the Confederacy, he vowed that if the cause of the South were lost he would never cut his hair, and he kept his vow, although 83 years of age. A year ago he killed Kid Wingate in self-defense. He said he would live to see himself exonerated. He was acquitted at the trial this week and two days later died.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by E. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: E. J. THE IDLER'S NOTE BOOK

I went out to the city park last night. I had never been there before and I guess it was a joke. They told me to go out and get a good story about putting the animals into winter quarters; how the bear goes to sleep November 3 and doesn't wake again till February 27, and a lot more of that kind of stuff you read in the Sunday papers, which is usually written by the religious editor when there's nothing doing in the churches. I like bears and so I went out gladly. I almost had the story written up before I got off the car that is labeled "City Park" and doesn't go within a quarter of a mile of the place. While I walked down the middle of the road that leads to the park, I forgot all about my story and if a black bear had suddenly appeared in the woods, I would have bolted for town. I walked over the rickety bridge in fear and trepidation. I had rather gone over in a buggy so I wouldn't have seen the river running below. But I got over at last and reached the city park (alleged). Through the grass I tramped all over the park, but no animals were to be seen. Perhaps they have all hibernated, I thought, but I didn't see any holes that they might have crawled into, so was at a loss to account for the disappearance. Then I bethought me that bears sometimes climb trees and I got out very suddenly from under the one whose overshadowing branches covered me. I then walked about carefully looking at the trees to see if there were any bears up them, but while some of the trees were bare (forgive me) I didn't see any animals. Not even a gray squirrel showed himself and the woods were very silent. Texas woods must have learned silence from the prairies, for their stillness is complete. In Northern woods, there is the rustling of dry leaves, or the call of the jays, the chatter of squirrels, or the crackling of twigs as some larger animal scurries across, but the woods in the city park are silent as if the hundreds of varied and endearing noises had been suddenly smothered out. It isn't a lonesome silence, but it is rather weird near evening when the only sunlight comes slanting through the leaves. I stood still for several minutes. The quietness makes you want to disturb it. Then I came back to town, walked all the way, because there weren't any cars in sight and had to confess I didn't get any bear story. But I got something better. It was a sprig of mistletoe, and some night I'm going to use it.

This is a true story and therefore has a moral. You know, of course, that the difference between fiction and true stories is that the latter always have morals while it is commonly recognized that there are no morals in fiction. It was Sunday night about 8 o'clock, rather dark, and a chilly wind was blowing. A man who was a stranger in the city started out from one of the leading hotels to mail a letter. They told him to go down Main street to Ninth, then west two blocks, and then pretty soon he would come to the postoffice. He followed directions, went west to the corner of Ninth and Houston and first spied the Carnegie library. It looked dark but he tried all the doors, and as he turned away and came down the red stone steps he heard him mutter "awful religious town where they shut up the postoffice on Sunday." Then he saw a light in the city hall and went towards it gladly. The light streaming out the main hall seemed like a beacon to the stranger and he ran up the steps in his hurry to deposit the missive he was so anxious to send on his journey. I stood across the street and watched him try the door bearing the inscription "mayor," and then saw him come down the steps, looking sheepishly about to see if some stranger might be laughing. His next move showed him to be a man of determined mind. Instead of following the street he branched out on a voyage of discovery. He saw St. Patrick's cathedral and hurriedly walked towards it, hearing the letter in his hand. He almost ran around to the east side to try the entrance, but when he got a full front view of the structure and saw what manner of building it was, he cursed softly and then, crossing himself, came away. Then it was like a good angel, and remembering former wrestling-matches I had had with the postoffice myself, I gently piloted him to the right building, took him down the corridor and pointed out the right place to drop the dainty letter he so firmly held. He gratefully was intense, profuse, overwhelming. He rushed up to the proper place for depositing the letter and then suddenly looked at it, embarrassed. Discreetly I turned my back, thinking perhaps he wanted to kiss it. But when after a time, I looked again, he was still gazing at it dumbly. He had forgotten a stamp and the windows were all closed. —THE IDLER.

MARSHALSHIP FIGHT

A DESIRE TO GET EVEN Houston, Post: Recent dispatches from Washington are to the effect that a hard fight is being made on United States Marshal Green of the Northern district by the Hawley Green combine. It is a case of "get even" on the part of both of them, Green being one of the men who aided in the overthrow of E. H. R. Green two years ago, and as he supported the Lyon end of the controversy in the recent fight for control of the party in Texas. National Committeeman Hawley does not care to have him succeed himself. E. H. R. Green is said to have remarked recently that he didn't care about anything else in the way of appointments if he could oust Marshal Green and supply his place with someone thoroughly distasteful to the present marshal. There are no charges against the marshal, it is said, the only thing used against him being that he is a friend of John Grant. The remarks of Dr. Grant shortly after his removal from the office of marshal for the eastern district are still familiar to readers of The Post. The doctor's wrath is presumed to have been so warm that it aroused the enmity of the federal administration to his friends as well as himself. State Chairman Lyon is for Green to succeed himself. It is also said that all three of the federal judges in Texas favor the retention of the marshal because of the manner in which his work is performed, and that they have all taken occasion to endorse his application for reappointment. Chairman Lyon will shortly go to Washington to see about the reappointment of Marshal Green, and there will probably be "something doing" when he meets Hawley and E. H. R. Green and talks over the situation with them.

AMONG EXCHANGES

Shreveport Journal: Frog bones as big as those of oxen have been found in Oklahoma. They croaked in a prehistoric age as loudly as the present inhabitants of the Territory clamor for statehood.

Memphis News: They are criticizing John Drew for pronouncing the word valet just like it's spelled. John is right. What we want is plain talk in this country, we have no time for "parley vous." You wouldn't call a mallet a malay, would you?

Nacogdoches Sentinel: Why in the name of reason, can a Texas negro vote against the Democratic ticket? Texas, with her "brutal" Democratic majority, has done more to educate and elevate the colored people than any other state in the union.—Nacogdoches Sentinel.

Nacogdoches is certainly an authority on the "elevation of the negro."—Houston Post.

Houston Post: The mine workers have exactly the same right to organize as the operators. One has labor for sale and the other has coal for sale. And if the operators have the right to organize for the fixing of prices to the public, the miners have a right to organize in order that they may demand good wages. Baer and his associates select a poor time to try and embarrass the arbitration board with assertions of what they will and will not do.

Brenham Banner: It is reported that New York and Louisiana capitalists have combined to construct an irrigation canal sixty-four miles long, which will pass through about 200,000 acres of rice lands and the oil belt. An electric road is to be built along the bank. The source of supply is to be the Atchafalaya river, a branch of the Mississippi.

Austin Tribune: The Hagerman orchard at Roswell, in the Pecos valley of New Mexico, shipped this year 63,500 bushels of apples, enough either to make or keep all Chaves county citizens and younger barrels full for a year, and evaporated fruit was made in large quantities. The apple yield from 150 acres, with 40,000 trees, was 120,000 bushels. The first crop, last year, was 15,000 bushels. There are 20,000 more young trees next year. Shipments of from 200,000 to 250,000 bushels annually are expected in four years. The owner of the orchard paid this year for freight on boxes in and apples out, $25,000. The apples raised at Roswell are irrigated, and if fruit raisers in Texas could irrigate their orchards, the yield of fruit would be much greater.

Austin Current Issue: It is nothing uncommon to hear an old Texan say, "Well, sir, if I had only known as much twenty years ago as I know now I could have been independently rich." The land that we are standing on could have been bought for $1.00 per acre. Town lots that sold then for $500 are now worth $1,000 per front foot. So runs the world. Men drift aimlessly along, overlooking golden opportunities, which later on they bewail. There has never been in the history of Texas a period when such opportunities existed for desirable investments to larger extent than now. It is almost impossible to buy land in this state at current prices and make a bad investment. In almost every section prices will double in five years. Far seeing men from other states are quietly dropping into Texas and purchasing choice lands and other property, while hundreds of our own people with money to lend are standing on the streets, flooding the gutters with tobacco juice and cursing the trusts.

If it's for the kidneys, liver, bladder or blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia, chronic constipation, or the weaknesses peculiar to women, the best is Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, and a very simple way to find out if you need it, is to put some urine in a glass tumbler and let it stand 24 hours; if it has a sediment or a milky, cloudy appearance; if it is ropy or stringy, pale or discolored, you do not need a physician to tell you that your kidneys and bladder are badly affected.

The Rev. Theodore Hunter, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, Greensburg, Ky., writes us the following:

"It gives me much pleasure to state that I have received great benefit from the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. Some time ago I had a severe attack of kidney trouble, but a few bottles of 'Favorite Remedy' have entirely removed the malady."

The judge advocate read, looked puzzled, glanced up and cleared his throat. "You mean you want those summoned?" "No, they're here, in my office." The judge advocate turned to the orderly of the court, a soldier standing in full dress uniform at the door. The hallway even was blocked with lookers on. The windows to the south were occupied by curious citizens, gazing in from the wooden gallery. Those to the north, thrown wide open to let in the air, were clear, and looked out over a confused middle of shingled roofs and stovepipe chimneys. Hardly a whisper passed from lip to lip as the orderly hustled away. Members of the court fidgeted with their sash tassels or made pretense of writing.

Nevis, the sheriff's officer in close attendance, sat staring at the doorway, his face ashen and beginning to bead with sweat. Presently the people in the hall gave way right and left, and all eyes save those of Loring were intent upon the entrance. He sat coolly looking at the man whom six months before he had convicted in Arizona. There was a stir in the courtroom. Half the people rose to their feet and stared, for slowly entering upon the arm of a tall, slim, long legged lieutenant of infantry, a stranger to every man in the court, came a slender, shrinking little maid, whose heavy eyelashes swept her cheeks, whose dark, shapely head hung bashfully. Behind them, in the garb of some religious order, unknown to all save one or two in the crowded room, came a gentle faced woman, leaning on the arm of a field officer of the engineers, at sight of whom the president sprang from his chair, intending to bow, but the silence was suddenly broken by the quick, stern order, "Look out for your prisoner!" followed by a rush, a crashing of overturned chairs, as court and spectators, too, started to their feet—a general flurry to the northward windows, shouts of "Halt!" "Head him off!" "Stop him!" in the midst of which a light, supple form was seen to poise one instant on the sill, then go leaping into space.

"He's killed!" "He's not!" "He's up again!" "He's off!" were the cries, and with drawn revolver the deputy sheriff fought his way through the throng at the door, and with a dozen men at his heels darted down the hallway in vain pursuit of Nevis, now out of sight among the shanties half a block away. Of all that followed before court, when at last it came to order, there is little need to tell. The judge advocate would have been glad to drop the case then and there, but now the defense had the floor and kept it, though not a word of evidence was needed. The first witness sworn was Lieutenant Blake, who told of the trick by which he and his men, Loring's guards, had been lured from the camp at Sancho's ranch and of their finding Loring senseless, bleeding and robbed on their return.

The next was little Pancha, and Loring sat with his hand shading his blue eyes as the pallid maid, with piteously quivering lips at times, with brave effort to force back her tears, in English only a little better than that in which she had poured out her fears to Blake that eventful night at Gila Bend—sometimes, indeed, having to speak in Spanish with the gray sister sworn as her interpreter—told the plaintive story of her knowledge of and connection with Sancho's wicked band.

Her dear father and her stepmother were ruled by Sancho. She had seen Nevis there often, "him who had fled through the window." She gathered enough from what she heard about the ranch to realize that they were planning to rob the officer, "this officer," before he could get away with the diamonds.

NEW BUSINESS ON MAIN STREET

THOMAS WITTEN OPENS HIS UNDERTAKING PARLORS TODAY

IS HANDSOMELY FURNISHED

Furniture and Equipment Surpasses Anything in the Southwest and is of the Latest and Most Elegant Pattern—Firm is Now Ready for Patronage

After several weeks of busy preparation, the undertaking establishment of Thomas Witten at 1108 Main street was today thrown open for inspection and is now ready for business.

Without doubt the establishment is the finest of its kind in the entire southwest and no expense has been spared to make this result possible. The main parlor is large and is handsomely carpeted making it convenient for holding a funeral service in case of need, and at the same time affording one of the best show rooms in the city for the display of goods. All of the cases for the caskets are made of solid oak, finished antique and are rich and elegant in appearance. In a single case at one end of the parlor, is an exact duplicate of the solid cedar, copper lined casket used for the late President McKinley. It is finished in solid ebony with a heavy copper case which fits within. This case is made absolutely airtight and is by far the most perfect metallic casket made today. All of the latest designs in handsome caskets are shown and the stock, while complete, embraces only the very best patterns used today. It will be possible by means of curtains, to make the parlor private for a funeral service and accommodations have been provided for at least 75 people in case this is done.

In addition to the equipment of the parlor which has been done at great expense, Mr. Witten imported two funeral cars which have no rival in Texas. The car finished in ebony is the larger, and is of elegant pattern. All of the trimmings are silver, and the interior is finished in inlaid mahogany. The sides are of double French plate bevel glass and the upholstery is of satin broadcloth. Even the driver's seat is enclosed by a heavily draped apron and the effect is rich and massive. The car finished in white is equally rich in design and perfect in every detail. Both cars are of Cunningham make and have the very latest appliances for the convenient and perfect handling of caskets and they cannot be duplicated anywhere else in the southwest. Mr. Witten's famous teams, one pure white and the other jet black, will have two beautifully mounted sets of harness for use on funeral occasions, so that the whole equipment has been made perfect in detail and complete in finish.

In addition to the two funeral cars, a new and perfectly appointed body wagon has also been received, which is the latest in design and finish. All of the three bear Mr. Witten's name, the black car having it engraved on heavy silver plate, the white hearse has it hand-painted on the sides and the body wagon carries a plain gold leaf inscription, "Thomas Witten."

Mr. Witten has been known to Fort Worth citizens for twenty-eight years. He was formerly with the firm of Robertson & Witten for years, but has disposed of his entire interest to Mr. Robertson, but not his name, and has purchased an entirely new stock for his new location. He has had many years of experience as an undertaker and funeral director and such has always given the best of satisfaction.

J. S. Miles, expert embalmer and funeral director who has accepted a position with Mr. Witten is not an entire stranger in Fort Worth, as several of our business men have known him for years and with their recommendation we feel secure that Mr. Witten has the right man in the right place. Mr. Witten opened the parlors today and received many visitors who called to inspect them. Mr. Witten announces that he is now ready for business. The telephone number for the undertaking parlors is 1697. Residence telephone number is 1628.

Our Gunboats Built in Japan

The United States government has ordered six gunboats to be built in Japan for coast protection in the Philippines. The receipt of an order of this kind is the best evidence of the wonderful progress made by the Japanese in the last half century. The best evidence of the progress made by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters during that time is found in the unequal record of cures back of it. Hundreds of people, including many prominent physicians, have voluntarily testified that the Bitters cured them of stomach, liver and kidney complaints when other medicines had failed. You will therefore make no mistake in trying it for heartburn, nausea, headache, indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation or biliousness. One bottle will convince you of its value.

OF SPECIAL INTEREST TO RAISERS OF STOCK

Chicago Drivers Journal: Judge Sam Cowan of Fort Worth, Tex., has been here for a few days looking after the interest of the Livestock Exchange in the case before the interstate commerce commission. Judge Cowan was well pleased with the case as presented by the exchange, and though the taking of testimony was not finished, the facts presented were enough to show which side was right. Stickney's irrelevant remarks about the exchange were given no weight by the commission, and the testimony of all the leading railroad men was to the effect that they would rather haul livestock than dead freight at the same rate. T. W. Tomlinson is convinced that the ruling of the commission will favor the exchange.

Located in Fort Worth
Amarillo Champion: J. W. Holman of this city has purchased a home in Fort Worth and will remove with his family to make his home there in the near future. The Champion greatly regrets that Mr. Holman finds it to his interest to leave Amarillo, but wishes him success in his new field, where he will engage in the livestock commission business. Speaking of Fort Worth Mr. Holman said he believes that there are to be but three great cattle markets in the United States—Chicago, Kansas City and Fort Worth—Amarillo Champion.

Big Mexican Ranch Sold
Capt. Charles Hunt of this city, completed the sale yesterday of the Santo Domingo ranch to W. T. Mead of San Francisco. The price paid is reported to have been about $200,000. The ranch contains 226,000 acres of grazing land, a large portion of which is sown in alfalfa and 10,000 cattle. The property is situated in Chihuahua, about 75 miles south of Juarez. D. G. Fleming, who represents the English owners of the ranch, signed the bill of sale.—El Paso News.

Shipping Steers to Market
George T. Reynolds returned last week from the bear hunt and his Kent ranch and spent a few days here before going on to his home in Fort Worth. He is buying a few steers and shipping to market.—Pecos News.

ANOTHER CASE THAT PUZZLES THE DOCTORS

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Della Mulligan, who came from Ireland in October, and secured work as a servant here, has lain in a state of coma all the 23 days. Her case is almost as puzzling and interesting to the doctors as that of Nellie Corcoran, who died after her three weeks' trance in St. Vincent's hospital. Only twice in the whole period has the girl spoken and then it was to mutter a few words which showed she was delirious. The girl was taken to the hospital suffering from partial asphyxiation due to blowing out the gas. The usual means of resuscitation were used. The only effect was to restore the patient's appetite. Her pulse and temperature also became normal. The state of coma has, however, resisted the doctors' best efforts and they have given up hope of restoring her to consciousness.

FORT WORTH GETS NEXT WOMENS' CLUBS MEETING

BEAUMONT, Tex., Nov. 19.—The Texas Federation of Women's clubs selected Fort Worth as the next meeting place. El Paso, Houston and Denison contended for the honor. There was no diminution of interest apparent on the part of the many delegates at the sessions of this final day of the gathering. Promptly this morning the sessions were resumed and for an hour or more the delegates listened to reports presented on behalf of the lecture committee, the committee on state constitutional amendments and other committees. Two interesting addresses were presented, one on the child labor question by Mrs. W. A. Callaway of Dallas, and the second by Mrs. Adele Looscan of Houston, who took as her subject, "Our Duty to the Old Missions." This afternoon and this evening have been set aside for the transaction of unfinished business and up to the hour of final adjournment the delegates will be kept busy with the affairs of the federation. A farewell reception has been planned to take place after the decks have been cleared of everything in the way of business.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS WILL HOLD ELECTIONS

After Him for His Reported Utterance in Favor of "Scab" Labor
(By Associated Press.)
NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 19.—The Federation of Labor today adopted a resolution condemning the recent reported utterances of President Eliot of Harvard college in favor of "scab" workmen.
Attention was called to the fact that the word "foremost" was used in connection with the university, and the committee changed it to "prominent" as they did not believe that an institution which would retain at its head a man capable of such expressions as those reported on President Eliot, could by any possibility be the foremost university in the country.

TO FOIL THE BOLL WEEVIL

(Special to The Telegram.)
HILLSBORO, Tex., Nov. 18.—The farmers who have been studying the boll weevil here have decided that if they can get cotton that will mature two or three weeks earlier than the native cotton they can raise it successfully. They are going to purchase seed for next year's crop from northern Indian Territory to try the experiment. The boll weevil does not usually attack the cotton until the season is well advanced.

KILLS ROBBER SAVES EXPRESS

HOLLIS W. SCHREIBER OF FORT WORTH, HERO OF HOLD-UP

FIGHTS THE BATTLE ALONE

Confronted By Five Dangerous Outlaws, He Opens Fire, Mortally Wounding One and Frightening the Others Till They Flee to the Mountains.

(Special to The Telegram.)
TRINIDAD, Col., Nov. 19.—Hollis W. Schreiber, the Wells-Fargo express messenger of Fort Worth, Tex., who confronted five desperate train robbers last night about 10 o'clock, and killed one, frightened the others away and saved an express car full of valuables, is today the hero of the town.

Trinidad is the end of Schreiber's run, and when he reached here late last night, the news of his encounter with the desperadoes had preceded him, and he was the unwilling recipient of an ovation. The passengers awakened by the fusillade of shots exchanged between the plucky messenger and the would-be robbers, were loud in their praise of the man whom they declared had saved them all from being robbed.

The hold-up occurred near Reshear, a small town about twelve miles from here. The train runs from Fort Worth and left there about 10 o'clock Monday night. There was no unusually large amount of valuables in the express car, and the money run was rather light, so why the robbers made their desperate attempt is unknown unless they were misinformed as to the value of the car's contents. The train was moving at a good speed, through a narrow gully, when the engineer, startled by the sight of a red lantern, suddenly reversed the engine, applied the air, and stopped the train. At the same minute two robbers sprang at the door of the express car, forced it partly open and confronted Schreiber, who little suspected a hold-up.

No sooner, however, did he hear the crash against the side of the door, than he whipped his revolver from their holsters and greeted the first man who appeared with a rapid fire. The man sank back mortally wounded, firing his revolver as he fell. His companion also shot at the messenger, but, though the bullets splattered against the sides of the car, Schreiber was unhurt. The noise of the encounter attracted the other robbers and they at once directed their fire to the express car, making the partly-opened door the target. In the darkness nothing could be seen of the robbers, but Schreiber continued firing and finally, supposing that there were several men in the car and doubtless fearing that the awakened passengers would join the battle, the robbers withdrew, taking their wounded companion with them. Members of the train crew pursued them into the brush, and finally they were forced to abandon them and flee for safety.

The wounded man was taken back to the train and brought to Trinidad, where he refused to give his name or anything about the other robbers. He died about noon today.

No passengers were hit during the exchange of bullets, and it is almost a miracle that Schreiber is unhurt.

Hollis W. Schreiber is Wells Fargo & Company's Express messenger from Fort Worth to Trinidad on the Fort Worth and Denver City and Colorado Southern. He is about 30 years old, has been with the company two years and boards in this city at 214 Missouri avenue. His parents live at Greenville, Tex. This morning he wired Local Agent McGinnis a brief message, stating he had been in a brush with train robbers and had killed one. That was all he said about his forty-minute fight with desperadoes.

A GREAT HEREFORD SALE.

The ranch men and breeders of Texas will be afforded an opportunity to buy Hereford cattle from three of the largest and best herds of Hereford cattle in the world, on Tuesday and Wednesday, November 25th and 26th at Ft. Worth, Texas. The cattle will be sold in the northern pens at the Ft. Worth stock yards, so buyers from north of the quarantine line will run no risk in buying the cattle. One of the consignors of the sale said, in speaking of the cattle to be sold, that they were the best lot that they had ever sold in Texas. This is saying a good deal, as this is the fourth sale these parties have made at Ft. Worth, and they have always sold an exceptionally good lot of cattle.

Parties wanting bulls or females to add to their herds should not miss this opportunity. Read their ad in this issue.
