COMPLICATIONS IN REAL LIFE

DEVELOPMENTS IN A STORY OF LOVE AND CRIME.

Florence Burns, Exonerated of Murder of Her Sweetheart Last April, Just Married to Young Man Named Wildeck, Who Has a Sensational Past of His Own.

(Special to The Telegram.) NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—It has just developed that Florence Burns, the young Brooklyn woman who was accused of, but later exonerated of the murder of her sweetheart, Walter Brooks, at a hotel in this city some months ago, was married last week to Charles Wildeck.

The trial of Miss Burns was sensational and attracted widespread attention. Wildeck was arrested last April charged with passing bad checks. He was accompanied by Mabel Strong, a wealthy young woman of Cleveland, Ohio.

Her father came to New York after the daughter, but Miss Strong would not leave Wildeck in the hands of a prison. Miss Strong died in a hospital of consumption.

AN ULTIMATUM FROM GEN. NORD

(By Associated Press.) PORT AU PRINCE, Nov. 28.—General Nord, who was the war minister of the provisional government, and who is at St. Marie with 10,000 men from Genaveles, has sent an ultimatum to the government here demanding revocation of the election of deputies who are members of the party headed by M. Firmin, the self-exiled leader in the recent rebellion.

If the chamber refuses to cancel the election of these deputies, the outbreak of another civil war is probable. The general opinion is that the chamber will reject General Nord's demands. Preparations are being made to avoid the city from General Nord's possible attack.

(By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Evening World prints a story that Charles F. Kelley, former speaker House of Delegates at St. Louis, landed from steamer Celtic today. Kelley said he had heard of son's death at St. Louis.

Kelley, it is charged, is the man who distributed forty-seven thousand dollars booby fund among members of house combine.

IRRIGATION RESERVOIR FULL.

(Special to The Telegram.) WICHITA FALLS, Tex., Nov. 27.—

BIG PACKING MERGER WILL NOT GO THROUGH

PROPOSED BEEF TRUST NOT TO BE ORGANIZED

THREE GOOD REASONS

THE GOVERNMENT, THE CATTLE RAISERS, AND THE PUBLIC TOO DETERMINED

THEIR OPPOSITION FEARED

The Discovery Made That the Country Is In No Mood to Tolerate Another Gigantic Trust. Nor Absorb $200,000,000 Common Stock

(Special to The Telegram.) CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—The merger of the beef packing firms has been indefinitely postponed. This is not rumor; it is an authoritatively confirmed fact. Stock "tickers" in La Salle street offices gave out the following information:

"The beef combine has been dropped indefinitely."

The message was shown to the head of one of the big packing houses for confirmation. He said:

"I guess that is about right." Tight money, an uncertain condition of affairs in Wall street and an underwriting syndicate dubious of results have all combined to cause the postponement.

There are other reasons. Chief among them is the notice served in an unofficial way from the White House that the beef merger would certainly be attacked by the government the moment it was launched.

Again, the public pulse has been "felt" and found to be in no condition to absorb the $200,000,000 common stock, largely of a liquid character, which the merger proposes to float.

MAKES A LONG JUMP TO DEATH

(By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Believing that a shot from his revolver had killed Mrs. Julia Gerber, who refused to elope with him, Max Sukawatsky, an Austrian, leaped through the window of her apartments in East Seventy-fourth street and fell seven stories to the sidewalk below, literally mashed to pieces.

Before jumping to his death the man shot the young woman through the arm and shoulder. He had made violent love to Mrs. Gerber.

KILLS HIMSELF ON WEDDING DAY

PARTY ASSEMBLED BUT GROOM DID NOT APPEAR

HIS MIND WAS UNBALANCED

The Dead Man Leaves a Message Bidding Farewell to His Affianced, But Gave no Explanation for His Act—His Body Found When Parents Returned Home

(By Associated Press.) DES MOINES, Iowa, Nov. 28.—The body of Bert McNutt, aged 26, was found dead at his home shortly after midnight. He had committed suicide by shooting himself through the head while his parents awaited him at the home of Miss Maggie Guth, whom he was to have married yesterday noon.

The wedding party assembled but young McNutt did not appear or send any explanation for his absence. Mr. McNutt's parents remained at the Guth home with other guests until midnight when they returned to their home and found their son's body.

Young McNutt left a note bidding farewell to his affianced but giving no explanation of his suicide. Friends believe his mind was unbalanced.

BOER GENERAL HAS ARRIVED

COMES BY THE ST. LOUIS TODAY FROM ENGLAND

HIS NAME IS BEN VILGOEN

Was One of the Prominent Commanders in the Latter Part of the War—His Purpose Here Is to Deliver a Series of Lectures for Boer Fund

(Special to The Telegram.) NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Among the passengers arriving on the American liner St. Louis today was General Ben Vilgoen, the ex-Boer commander. During the latter part of the recent war in South Africa General Vilgoen was one of the most prominent military figures on the Boer side.

As a young man he was a policeman in Johannesburg and later became editor of a newspaper and a member of the national legislative assembly. In the legislative chamber his speeches were always moderate in tone, but when hostilities became inevitable he was one of the first to organize a command and proceed to the front. Though one of the youngest commanders, he speedily gained distinction on the field and was successful in a number of important engagements. His purpose in coming to America is to deliver a series of lectures for the benefit of the Boer relief fund.

Kidney Disease Kills. Its Victims Numbered by the Hundreds of Thousands.

Kidney disease should be attended to at once, for almost 90 per cent of our unexpected deaths of today are from that cause. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is the only sure cure known for diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia and chronic constipation. It is marvelous how it stops that pain in the back, relieves the necessity of urinating so often at night, drives away that scalding pain in passing water, corrects the bad effects of whisky and beer and shows its beneficial effects on the system in an incredibly short time.

George L. Smith, fore-man of the Holley Manufacturing Company's Works, Lockport, N. Y., says in a recent letter:

"I have used Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy with the most beneficial results. I was troubled with gravel and kidney complaint very severely; it bothered me a great deal, and have found great relief from its use, and cheerfully recommend it."

All druggists sell Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy in the New 50 Cent Size and the regular $1.00 size bottles.

SHE WILL SOON BE WELL

Dr. Lorenz Says Operation on Lolita Armour Was Successful. (Special to The Telegram.)

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—Dr. Adolph Lorenz returned to Chicago from St. Louis at 8 o'clock and an hour later he stood at the residence of J. O. Order Armour. For the next thirty minutes Little Lolita Armour, heiress to millions, walked before the eminent surgeon and submitted to a critical examination. The physician's eyes never left her. He observed her step and when he told her to sit down he turned to the child's parents and said: "The operation is successful. You need have no fear."

Then Dr. Lorenz, who but a few weeks ago operated upon the child, entered a carriage and was driven to the Auditorium hotel. He was smiling as he entered the elevator. "How do I feel?" he answered in response to a query. "I could not but feel good, for I have succeeded in what I came to this country for. The little girl had congenital hip dislocation. I return to my home with the knowledge that she will soon be well."

Dr. Lorenz and his assistant, Dr. Frederick Mueller, were travel stained, but the Vienna specialist was so pleased with his trip to the Armours that he waived the dust and grime and continued to talk about the successful operation.

"The only thing to guard against now is the premature removal of the cast. If that is removed too soon it is possible the good results of the operation may come to naught. But I will guard against that. Miss Armour is coming to Vienna. Yes, she is coming there to have the cast removed. She will remain there until she has entirely recovered and when she returns home there will be no indication that there was ever anything wrong."

"And when will she go to Vienna?" "About the first of April or maybe about the middle of the month. The cast should remain not less than five months and sometimes it should not be removed before six months."

WEST POINT'S CAPTAIN ELKS' FAIR HAS PRIZES LEFT

Doughty Pigskin Chieftain Who Leads Uncle Sam's Soldier Boys in Their Gridiron Battle Tomorrow.

Because they belong to Uncle Sam, as well as because of their high standing among the second grade of football elevens, the gridiron fortunes of the West Point Military Academy Football Eleven are followed with great interest by the whole country. Their game with the Naval Cadets on November 29, at which President Roosevelt will be present is one of the big events of the football year.

ELKS' FAIR HAS PRIZES LEFT

WORK OF DISMANTLING ELLIS HALL IN PROGRESS.

SOME ARE UNCALLED FOR

A Few of the Valuable Articles Drawn Are Yet at the Hall and Winners Are Asked to Come for Them—Full Amount Has Been Raised.

"You can say that the Elks' have raised the $4000 they set out to," said W. A. Tuley of the executive committee this morning when asked how the fair had "come out." "And the Free Kindergarten and Fort Worth Benevolent Home will each get $1000," added Secretary R. J. Littlejohn of the same committee.

While the exact sum raised by the fair is not yet known it is now known that the $4000 has been secured and therefore the Elks have more than reason for congratulation. Only the Elks could have raised $4000 by a week's work, handicapped at that by bad weather nearly every night, and by a half several blocks away from the central part of the city. But they set out to do it and succeeded.

This morning Messrs. Tuley and Littlejohn were hard at work in the hall, helping move the Elks' paraphernalia back to the hall, and disposing of material left. Some of the prize winners called for their drawings, but some are still left on hand. The work of tearing down the booths and decorations is still unfinished, and it will take a bit of work to complete it and put the hall in original shape.

Some Prize Winners.
Owing to an unfortunate mistake, the ticket winning the $500 piano was announced as 504, instead of 540, which was the case. Miss Donna Lee Carter is the holder of 540, and is the proud possessor of the piano. Mrs. E. P. Cocheannour, holding ticket No. 53 won the $300 Venetian mirror. W. P. Wiggins of Sherman, holding ticket "D" won the point lace collar.

Other articles on hand will be announced later.

In yesterday's Telegram G. M. Morris was credited with having 279 votes for most popular traveling man, when as a matter of fact, he received 729 votes, winning by a large majority.

OUR CLOTHING STORE

H. C. Stipling
THE PRICE IS THE THING

And a reason for claiming your patronage in MEN'S WEARING APPAREL. It is always been a rule with this store to sell any and all articles of merchandise at the very smallest margin of profit. In other words, we put into practice years ago, the QUICK SALES AND SMALL PROFIT IDEA.

This means a great deal to the patrons of a clothing store. These days, business is done on confidence and it is easy to get from $3.00 to $5.00 more for a fine suit of clothes than it should actually sell for. We claim your confidence and patronage by never asking one cent more for a suit of clothes or any other article than what it should really sell for with a small legitimate profit. There are thousands in Fort Worth who can testify to the honesty of this statement.

This fall we are showing a much better grade of clothing than at any previous season. We have perfect fitting garments from two of New York's best clothing manufacturers, at prices, at least twenty per cent below that of other clothiers.

POULTRY POINTERS.
The best eggs are the result of a meat diet. Weak legs come from forced growth, high feeding and close confinement. Use no deformed or weak fowls for breeding and do not keep the same cock more than one season. A molting hen seldom lays. She cannot be supplying eggs while the strain of growing new feathers is upon her. A very fat hen seldom lays anything but soft shelled eggs. Apoplexy and egg bound are the result of excessive fat. Leaves and hay chaff, make excellent litter for the floors, and by throwing grain among it fowls are often kept busy scratching. Keep the fowls away from the barns, stables and carriage houses. In such places they are nuisances; besides they are more comfortable in a place by themselves. Hens must have carbonate and phosphate of lime for their shells, and these will be found in old plastering, broken oyster shells and bones, with some of the meat and gristle attached. Authorities of British Columbia have established traveling libraries for the benefit of the numerous lumber and mining camps in that province.

Fertile Cuba.
In Cuba cabbages frequently weigh as much as twenty pounds. All vegetables do well. Radishes may be eaten from fourteen to eighteen days after sowing, lettuce in five weeks after sowing, while corn produces three crops per year. Sweet potatoes are perpetual. The natives dig up the tubers, cut them off and plant the old vines, which produce a new crop in three months. All sorts of fruit, horticultural and greenhouse plants and bulbous stock are also grown. Three hundred and sixty pick-pockets are known by the Japanese police at Tokio. Two hundred of the thieves do their pilfering in the trains. Another bottle-nosed shark, seven feet in length, has been captured in the herring nets of a Yarmouth, Eng., fishing boat. QUARANTINE OF CATTLE

IMPORTANT ORDER FROM SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE

AFFECTS THE RAILROADS

Transportation Companies, Stockmen and Others Notified That Exportations from Boston Are Prohibited—Foot and Mouth Diseases Alarming in New England

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, Nov. 28.—Secretary of Agriculture Wilson has issued a sweeping order directed to the managers and agents of railroads and transportation companies of the United States, stockmen and others, notifying them of the establishment of a quarantine on cattle, sheep and other ruminants and swine in the New England states and prohibiting the exportation of such animals from the port of Boston until further orders.

Recent investigations in the department of agriculture disclosed the fact that what is known as foot and mouth disease exists to an alarming extent in Connecticut, Rhode Island, Massachusetts and Vermont. The expert of the department, Dr. Mohler, Dr. Leonard Pearson of the University of Pennsylvania and James Law of Cornell university, investigated the infected districts and united in a recommendation that in order to prevent the spread of the disease a quarantine should immediately be established.

Secretary Wilson said that this is the most serious matter the department has had to handle for some time, but all the resources of the department would be employed in stamping out the disease. He declared that if it should spread west of the Hudson river it would be nothing short of a national calamity.

The orders, which are dated Thursday and numbered 99 and 100 respectively, are as follows:

To the Managers and Agents of Railroads and Transportation Companies of the United States, Stockmen and Oothers: In accordance with section 7 of the act of congress approved May 29, 1884, entitled an act for the exportation of diseased cattle, and to provide means for the suppression and extirpation of pleuro pneumonia and other contagious diseases, among domestic animals, and with the act of congress approved June 3, 1902, making appropriations for the department of agriculture for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1903, you are hereby notified that the contagious disease known as foot and mouth disease exists among animals in the states of Connecticut, Rhode Island, Massachusetts and Vermont and that the cattle, sheep and other ruminants and swine of said states have been exposed to the contagion of said disease; therefore

It is hereby ordered that to prevent the spread of the disease from the states of Connecticut, Rhode Island, Massachusetts and Vermont into other states or foreign countries, and to aid in its eradication, no cattle, sheep or other ruminants, or swine shall be moved or be permitted to move from or across the territory of any one of the states named into any other state or foreign territory. Any person, company or corporation violating this order will be prosecuted against as provided for in the act of congress above referred to.

It is hoped that all transportation companies, cattle shippers and others interested in the welfare of our animal industry will co-operate with the department of agriculture in enforcing this order to the end that the restriction on traffic may have the desired effect and be removed in the shortest possible time.

JAMES WILSON, Secretary. Whereas, a highly contagious disease known as foot and mouth disease exists among cattle in the state of Massachusetts and the routes of transportation on, possibly may have been contaminated, and in order to protect the export trade in live animals by preventing the exportation of animals which are diseased or which have been exposed to disease.

It is hereby ordered that no cattle, sheep or other ruminants or swine shall be permitted to be exported from the port of Boston until further orders.

JAMES WILSON, Secretary.

Fifty Cattle Affected.

P. H. Duffy, of Ashley, Ill., writes, "This is to certify that I have taken two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure and it has helped me more than any other medicine. Before commencing its use I was in such a shape that I could hardly get up when once down." Sold by Reeves' Pharmacy, Ward Pharmacy and Arlington Drug Co.

A POLICEMAN'S TESTIMONY.

J. N. Patterson, night policeman of Nashua, Ia., writes, "Last winter I had a bad cold on my lungs and tried at least a half dozen advertised cough medicines and had treatment from two physicians without getting any benefit. A friend recommended Foley's Honey and Tar and two-thirds of a bottle cured me. I consider it the greatest cough and lung medicine in the world." (Special to The Telegram.)

Austin, Nov. 28.—In the presence of 8000 people the Agricultural and Mechanical college eleven of Bryan Thursday defeated the famous team of the Texas university by a score of 11 to 0. The game was most exciting from start to finish and but for errors at critical moments on the part of Texas university that team would have changed the score very materially. As it was the Agricultural and Mechanical team outplayed them all through, catching every false move through of the university and availing themselves of it.

Pennsylvania Victorious. Philadelphia, Nov. 28.—University of Pennsylvania football eleven defeated the Cornell team 12 to 11. The Ithacans kicked a goal from placement and score a touchdown from which a goal resulted in the first half, while Pennsylvania scored two touchdowns and kicked two goals in the second half. Never has a more intensely exciting and uncertain contest been witnessed on Franklin field.

Mississippians Win. New Orleans, Nov. 28.—University of Mississippi defeated Tulane university 10 to 0. The visitors proved the stronger team and made some sensational plays around the ends. The only chance to score was given when Green made a sprint of fifty yards, as time was called at the end of the first half.

ANSWERS CHARGES ABOUT SOUTHERN APPOINTMENTS

RECOGNIZES COLORED MEN

Says That It Has Been His Policy to Make Appointments of Negroes When They Are Known to be of Good Repute and Standing in the Community

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, Nov. 28.—A prominent citizen of Charleston, S. C., wrote a letter to President Roosevelt relative to the appointment of Dr. Crum as collector of the port of Charleston. In his reply the president said he would carefully consider the charges. The writer said Dr. Crum was a negro, and thought that ought to bar him. The chief executive says:

"It has been my consistent policy in every state where their numbers warranted it to recognize colored men of good repute and standing in making appointments to office. These appointments of colored men in no state made more than a small proportion of the total number of appointments. I am unable to see how I can legitimately be asked to make an exception for South Carolina."

INTERESTING FACTS

For Nearly Every Man, Woman or Child

A short time ago we published an article recommending to our readers the new discovery for the cure of dyspepsia, called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and the claims then made regarding the wonderful curative properties of the remedy have been abundantly sustained by the facts. People who were cautious about trying new remedies advertised in the newspapers and were finally induced to give Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets a trial were surprised and delighted at the results. In many cases a single package costing but 50 cents at any drug store made a complete cure and in every instance the most beneficial results were reported. From a hundred or more received we have space to publish only a few of the large, but assure our readers we receive so many complimentary letters that we shall publish each week a fresh list of genuine, unsolicited testimonials and never publish the same one twice.

From James Yenneteler, LaCrosse, Wis.: Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are doing me more good than anything I ever tried and I was so pleased at results that I gave away several boxes to my friends who have also had the same benefits.

From Jacob Anthony, Portmurray, New Jersey: I have taken Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets with the best results. I had dyspepsia for six years and had taken a great deal of medicine, but the Tablets seem to take right a hold and I feel good. I am a farmer and lime burner and I heartily recommend to everyone who has any trouble with his stomach to use these Tablets.

From Mrs. M. K. West, Preston, Minn.: I have received surprisingly good effects from using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I gave one-half of my last box to a friend who also suffered from indigestion and she had the same good results.

From Mrs. Agnes K. Ralston, Cadillac, Mich.: I have been taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and I am very much better, and feel very grateful for the great benefit I have received in so short a time.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a certain cure for all forms of indigestion. They are not claimed to be a cure-all but are prepared for stomach troubles only, and physicians and druggists everywhere recommend them to all persons suffering from Nervous Dyspepsia, sour or acid stomach, heartburn, bloating or wind on stomach and similar disorders.

HEARTY AT SEVENTY

AFTER SUFFERING HALF A LIFETIME WITH RHEUMATISM

Another Remarkable Cure Added to the Many Accomplished by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

After suffering nearly half her lifetime with rheumatism, Mrs. Jenett E. Hart, of Sea Bright, Cal., now past seventy years of age, was cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. She says:

"I began to suffer with rheumatism thirty-five years ago and nothing that I tried seemed to help me. It grew worse and worse until I was badly crippled with it. Sometimes it was so severe that I had to take to my bed. About a year ago an article in the paper induced me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and I could notice a change for the better by the time I had taken the first box. Five boxes cured me and I have had no return of the trouble since. I can work and sew and get about, as well as many a woman much younger than myself. I am now over seventy years and I firmly believe that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are the cause of my being so well."

The real cause of rheumatism is the presence of acid in the blood, which irritates the sensitive tissues that unite the points and cover the muscles, thus causing those indescribable tortures which rheumatic sufferers endure. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People go directly to the seat of the trouble, exerting a powerful influence in purifying and enriching the blood by eliminating poisonous elements and renewing health-giving force, thus making a potent remedy for curing this disease.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are an unfailing specific for all diseases arising from impoverished blood or shattered nerves. They cure not only rheumatism but locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, nervous headache, after-effects of grip, of fevers and of other acute diseases, palpitation of the heart, anaemia, pale and sallow complexions, and all forms of weakness. At all druggists, or direct from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y., fifty cents per box; six boxes for two dollars and a half.

A Thanksgiving Dinner. Heavy eating is usually the first cause of indigestion. Repeated attacks inflame the mucous membranes lining the stomach, exposing the nerves of the stomach, producing a swelling after eating, heartburn, headache, sour risings and finally catarrh of the stomach. Kodol relieves the inflammation, protects the nerves and cures the catarrh. Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia, all stomach troubles by cleansing and sweetening the glands of the stomach.

NEW ORLEANS MAY HAVE

A BIG UNION DEPOT

(By Associated Press.)

New Orleans, Nov. 28.—The passenger traffic situation of the south is affecting the New Orleans gateway, and assumed a decidedly interesting phase Thursday, when it was learned that the Southern Pacific and Illinois Central railroads would join in a union depot at New Orleans, and the probable effect will be to force the Louisville and Nashville, the Queen and Crescent and Texas and Pacific into the same plan. Due to the fact that all the railroad depots at New Orleans are miles apart, much difficulty has been experienced in handling through business. Though the largest city in the south, New Orleans has been without adequate and modern railway depot facilities for a through business. The plan is scheduled to go into effect before Jan. 1.

Engine Rolls Down An Embankment Killing the Engineer, and Cars Are Turned Over

(By Associated Press.)

Prescott, Ark., Nov. 28.—Northbound passenger train No. 4, en route from Texarkana to St. Louis on the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern railroad, was wrecked near here Thursday morning. Engineer Asbury E. Archibald was killed, Fireman Geo. Hayes saved his life by jumping. The recent heavy rains caused the rails to spread and engine No. 104 which was pulling the train, rolled down a six-foot embankment where the accident occurred and was turned completely over. Engineer Archibald was pinned under the wreckage of his engine and met death instantly. The mail and baggage car also left the track and turned over, and a mail clerk, whose name could not be ascertained, was slightly injured. The smoker following the mail car was thrown directly across the right of way. None of the passengers were injured.

EVERYTHING QUIET IN STATES OF COLOMBIA

(By Associated Press.)

San Francisco, Nov. 28.—Surgeon F. X. Varsand of the steamer City of Panama, which arrived from Panama says that on a trip into the interior of Colombia he found things quiet enough as far as the revolution was concerned, but saw on every hand the effects of the fever, which he says is killing scores of persons. So great was the mortality in some places, through which he passed, that no attempt was made to give burial to the victims. As they died, says Dr. Varsand, their bodies were taken out of doors and left for buzzards. The health conditions in Panama itself, the doctor says, are good.

Hazleton, Pa., Nov. 28.—Coxe Bros. & Co. and their striking employes settled their differences, and work will be resumed at the seven collieries of that company on Monday. The Coxes are the last of the individual operators to come to terms with their employes.

SCROFULA

Is an hereditary disease, and one for which a tainted ancestry or blood poisoning percentage is responsible. It is transmitted through the blood and shows itself in swelling and ulceration of the glands of the neck, catarrh of the head, weak eyes, sores, abscesses and skin eruptions, with a gradual wasting away of strength and vitality. It also attacks the bones and joints, resulting in white swelling, hip disease and deformities of every kind. We see the effects of this awful blood taint every day, but it exists in so many forms that often it passes for something else and is treated as another disease. Scrofula robs the blood of its nutritive qualities, and it becomes too poor to produce healthy growth and development, and thin, emaciated bodies and pallid, waxy complexions are the result. Only a constitutional remedy, one that works through the blood, can reach a disease that has been transmitted through generations or been lurking in the blood since birth.

S. S. S. cleanses the blood of all scrofulous matter and tubercular deposits, and when rich, pure, health-sustaining blood is again flowing in the veins there is a gradual disappearance of all the dangerous symptoms of Scrofula, strength returns, and a complete cure is effected. S. S. S. contains no strong minerals to further break down and derange the system, but can be taken by the very old, as well as the middle aged and young, with out any harmful after effects, or the least injury to the most delicate constitution.

If you have any signs of Scrofula, or your children are stunted or slow of growth, pale and sickly, write us, and our physicians will advise you free of charge. The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.

Either bank or train robbing has been found a very profitable profession lately. Young men starting out in life are advised of this fact. As yet no correspondence school has undertaken instruction in these departments, but any bright young man can readily pick up the necessary knowledge by himself. There is one drawback, though. The work isn't healthy. Very few have been able to stand the exposure longer than a half dozen years. Sometimes it results fatally, and sometimes it necessitates close confinement indoors the remainder of one's life.

As a cotton manufacturing center, according to the census of 1900, South Carolina ranked every state but Massachusetts. So wonderful has been the growth of this element of her industrial development that from 1880 to 1900, while Massachusetts added 84 per cent to the number of her spindles, the increase of South Carolina was from 82,000 spindles to 1,430,000, being 1650 per cent. This one manufacturing interest was represented in South Carolina, in 1900, by more than 30,000 employes and by nearly $40,000,000 of capital.

FOOTBALL AND BULL FIGHTING.

Kansas City and Springfield, Ill., were to have bull fights yesterday, but the authorities yielded to the outcry against them from people and pulp and announced that they wouldn't be permitted. There was nothing else they could do. Bull fights are inhuman and un-American.

It is true that these were not to be the genuine Spanish bull fights, with all the attendant cruelty, but neither was it alleged that they would be particularly enjoyable to the bulls. It is argued that so long as football playing is tolerated, consistency should allow bull fighting.

It is doubtless true that one is scarcely less brutal than the other; but the difference is in the fact that in bull fighting the presence of the bull is compulsory on that animal, while the football player can do as he pleases about indulging in the pastime of dislocating collar bones, wrenching knees, staving in ribs, twisting vertebrae, mashing noses, chewing ears, or having the same done to him.

GOOD ADVICE.

Houston is going to have a new charter, and the Daily Post of that town gives the following good advice: "The securing of a new charter is a matter of vital importance to the citizens of Houston. The affairs of a municipality should be conducted upon the plainest and simplest business principles, and the charter should be so framed as to promote such results. There should be no politics in it, and, above all, there should be no provision for deadhead officeholders. On the contrary, there should not be a single position provided for more than is absolutely necessary for the economical administration of the city's affairs. In a word, the people should not be taxed simply to make places for officeholders. Taxes are too high now; they should come down, and the only way to reduce them is to provide for cheaper government."

"A day's work!" grimly and promptly replied Mr. Converse.

Best Liniment on Earth

I. M. McHany, Greenville, Tex., writes, Nov. 2, 1900: "I had rheumatism last winter, was down in bed six weeks, tried everything, but got no relief, till a friend gave me a part of a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment. I used it, and got two more bottles. It cured me and I haven't felt any rheumatism since. I can recommend Snow Liniment to be the best liniment on earth for rheumatism." For rheumatic, sciatic or neuralgic pains, rub in Ballard's Snow Liniment, you will not suffer long, but will be gratified with a speedy and effective cure. 25c, 50c and $1 at H. T. LONDON'S LATEST ROYAL ROMANCE.

That Austin Chamberlain, postmaster-general of England and son of Colonial Secretary Joseph Chamberlain, is in love with Princess Victoria, daughter of King Edward, and that she returns his passion is the latest royal romance about which Europe is talking. If the story is true it will depend upon King Edward whether the young commoner will be allowed to wed a princess of the blood royal. Although one of the most democratic of rulers, it is deemed doubtful if the King will give his royal sanction to a step unprecedented in English history.

Storyettes

As a Matter of Record.

"Jack" Nevins, sitting in the lobby of the Continental hotel, one recent afternoon, listened indifferently to the arguments pro and con of a half-dozen friends who had nothing better to do than talk of the respective merits of M. S. Quay and David Martin as leaders. Every local battle for the past ten years was fought over again in argument and one of the group, turning to Nevins, asked if he didn't think Quay was perfectly justified in the attitude he assumed after the slating of Penrose in 1895.

"I sometimes try to think about such affairs," replied Nevins, weakly, "but can't keep it and preserve my sanity. Quay and Martin are like all other opponents of their kind—they always remind me of the ship's mate who, glancing surreptitiously through the captain's log for the day before and seeing the entry 'Mate drunk today,' promptly made this entry in his own log: 'Captain sober today.'"

The Psychological Moment.

The late Henry G. McCormick, at one time attorney-general of Pennsylvania, was known as a man who believed in carrying heavy life insurance, and for that reason was bothered considerably by the agents of various companies, whose experience it had been that men already heavily insured are generally willing, when able, to add to the amount carried. For some years before he died, however, he had not felt able to add to his load, and, therefore, always turned even the most eloquent solicitors away. Among themselves, the agents thought it a rare joke to send a new man to ask the lawyer to insure. Just seven months before his death, a new agent whose manner was rather rude was induced by a crowd of the older hands to importune Mr. McCormick while the latter was visiting Philadelphia. The solicitor seemed astonished when told the amount Mr. McCormick was carrying, and was about to retire when the latter suddenly said:

"See here—who sent you to call on me?"

The agent named a dozen old-time solicitors who had been turned down from year to year by the lawyer. The latter, after smilingly musing for a moment, said:

"Well, they have been playing a joke on you, but I guess I can stand a little more. Just send in my application for $25,000."

And McCormick, himself, took occasion to round up the jokers and ask their opinion of the new man's ability.

For the Sake of Accuracy.

Bishop Potter once came over to Philadelphia to deliver the sermon at the dedication of a new church building, and finished in such time that he felt that, with a little hurry, he could catch the next train back to New York city. As he was about leaving the rector's room, a reporter for a local newspaper entered and asked, as a favor, that the bishop would dictate to him some of the more important passages. As he had been ordered to get a full account of all that was said. The prelate replied:

"Why did you not attend the service and listen to the sermon?"

"I was there," answered the reporter, "but could not catch a word you said."

"There were seats in front for the press—right under the pulpit," explained the bishop.

"I was in the very front seat," protested the scribe; "but I could not understand you, you were so indistinct." The bishop, plainly nettled, picked up his grip and made for the door, saying as he went:

"Well, if you couldn't hear there, nobody could, and, if nobody heard, you have no means of being certain that what I should tell you, I said would be what I said. Besides, I'm in a hurry. Good evening."

More Power from Niagara

It has been decided to build a large power plant on the Canadian side of Niagara Falls, which when completed will enable the operators to furnish 200,000 horse power. A few years ago the idea of using Niagara's power would have seemed ridiculous, but the progress of invention during the past century has now made it possible. There has also been wonderful progress made in medicine during that time, the most noticeable being the introduction of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters about fifty years ago. This family medicine is for everybody, but more especially for those who are weak and sickly. It will strengthen the stomach and nerves and cure indigestion, dyspepsia, insomnia, constipation and malaria, fever and ague. Try it and see for yourself.

FREE RURAL MAIL SERVICE

IT IS NOW AN ESTABLISHED FACT EVERYWHERE

THE PEOPLE DEMAND IT

Nearly 12,000 Routes are Now in Operation and These are Being Increased as Fast as Possible. Deficits Will Gradually Disappear

When the Service is Better Known

Rural free-delivery service has become an established fact. It is no longer in the experimental stage, and undoubtedly congress will continue to increase the appropriation for this service until all the people of the country are reached, where it is thickly enough settled to warrant it.

The estimates of the department are to the effect that the available territory for this service embraces about 1,000,000 square miles, or one-third of the country's area exclusive of Alaska. The 11,550 routes now in operation cover about one-third of the available territory. From this it will be seen that it will require 27,000 employees additional to those now in the service to cover this territory. If congress shall make the necessary appropriations, it is believed that within the next three years the extension of the service will have been completed.

With the carrier's salary fixed at $600 per annum the annual gross cost of the completed rural free-delivery service will approximate $24,000,000. After the service has been completed this increase ought not to exceed annually 8 to 10 per cent, or in about the same proportion as obtains in other branches of the service.

The people are demanding the service with impatient earnestness, and this demand is being vigorously supported by their representatives in congress.

The appropriation for the year ending June 30, 1903, will be so far used by January 1, next that no new routes can be established after that date, unless an additional appropriation is made by the congress that will be immediately available.

Farmers Brought Into Touch With the Markets

It was asserted that to bring the farmers into close touch with the markets would enable them to obtain better prices for their products. Specific instances have been brought to the attention of the department where the prompt delivery of livestock quotations, indicating a temporary glut in the market, to farmers intending to ship to the stockyards, by enabling them to hold back their shipments till the markets resumed their normal conditions, has saved to individual cattlemen more than the total cost of one year's rural delivery over the country. There has also been wonderful progress made in medicine during that time, the most noticeable being the introduction of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters about fifty years ago. This family medicine is for everybody, but more especially for those who are weak and sickly. It will strengthen the stomach and nerves and cure indigestion, dyspepsia, insomnia, constipation and malaria, fever and ague. Try it and see for yourself.

A WOMAN'S DEVOTION

[Original.]

One summer while on a bicycle tour I stopped at evening on the banks of a lake beautifully situated and looked about for a place to spend the night. A farmer came along driving a yoke of steers, and he told me there was but one house in the neighborhood that would be agreeable to me, Captain Laurence's, but the captain was a gentleman and did not take in strangers. Mounting my wheel, I rode around the lake till I came to the house in question.

It was one of the coziest homes I have ever seen, built on an angle formed by the lake and a stream. Great overhanging trees shaded it, and the house was covered with a vine. A gentleman sat on the porch reading a magazine. I spoke to him, told him my situation, and after going inside for a moment, to consult his wife, I suppose, he returned and invited me to be his guest till morning. I most gratefully accepted.

I sat down to a dainty supper with a family consisting of the captain, his wife, a refined woman with whose appearance I was especially struck, and several boys and girls of various ages. After the others had gone to bed the captain and I sat on a porch overhanging the lake, smoking.

"I know of a Captain Laurence," I said, "though I never saw him. You can't be he, because he went to the 'bad.'"

"Captain L. C. T. Laurence of the United States artillery?"

"Yes."

"I am the man."

I was astonished. The Laurence I referred to had been one of the most promising young officers in the army, but, having been caught cheating at cards, was cut by all his comrades and was forced to resign.

"If I had known that you had ever heard of me," said Captain Laurence, "I would not have invited you to stay over night. As it is, I may make it less embarrassing for you (for I have ceased to feel embarrassed about my disgrace) by telling you how it occurred. If you believe my story, you will rest more pleasantly tonight under my roof; if not, I will have done all in my power to make you comfortable."

"My early years in the army were spent in a somewhat fortification isolated, especially in winter, from the rest of the world. To pass the time we played poker, for awhile for money, but as the excitement of gambling was distasteful to me I finally declined to play for stakes, whereupon we played for chips. This not proving interesting, we began to cheat one another, studying different methods, some of us becoming quite expert. We would play a game of 'freeze out'—that is, any man caught cheating was ruled out, the others playing on till all had been caught but one, who was the winner. We played this game incessantly one winter and found it more exciting than a game for real stakes played legitimately. At the end of the season I was declared the best cheat of the party, having won more games than any of the others."

"In the spring I was ordered to one of the principal posts in the west, in which were located the headquarters of the department. There I met the daughter of the general commanding, to whom I became engaged. Poker is common in the army and was universally played at Fort — but my dislike to play the game was so great that I declined to play. However, one evening I was standing over a poker table, and the players looked so social that I decided to take a hand.

"Half an hour passed without any change whatever in my finances. In fact, the game proved so uninteresting to me that my thoughts wandered. I was thinking of the girl I had recently won and the happiness in store for me. I was soon to be ordered to the command of an arsenal, where I would have an opportunity to use my scientific knowledge and perfect a new gun I had invented. All these matters

CONGRESS MAY BE SHY
TEXAS REPRESENTATIVES
Sheppard and Russell, Elected to Succeed Sheppard and De Graffenreid, May Have to Wait

A Fort Worth attorney who keeps up on politics was today discussing the latter subject with members of the bar at the courthouse. He said that when congress met, Texas may be minus two of its representatives, and there will be no way to remedy the defect until December 13. Asked up on what authority he based his prediction, he said: "The two representatives who may be unable to take their seats are Morris Sheppard and J. G. Russell, who have been elected to fill the unexpired terms of John L. Sheppard and Reese C. De Graffenreid, deceased. Mr. Sheppard and Mr. De Graffenreid died some months ago, and Morris Sheppard, who is the son of the dead congressman, and Mr. Russell were elected to succeed them. They were also elected to the Fifty-eighth congress, and their title is clear to seats in that body, but not yet to seats in the Fifty-seventh.

"The Texas law prevents the issuance of election certificates until the lapse of forty days after the election. This makes no difference when the congressman-elect has, as is usually the case, a year to wait before taking his seat, but in this case it may keep them out of congress for two weeks. As there is no question, touching the election of Messrs. Sheppard and Russell, it is probable unanimous consent will be given to admit them pending the issuance of the required certificates from the state authorities."

SCHOOL WINS AT POLYTECHNIC

SCORE OF ELEVEN TO NOTHING AT CLOSE OF HALVES

TWO HUNDRED SEE GAME

Only Thanksgiving Game Played in Fort Worth and That is Poorly Attended on Account of Distance From the City. Features of the Game

While in other cities of the country thousands stood and hoarsely cheered the gains made by the contesting eleven on football fields, and spent their enthusiasm on the climax of the season's games, in Fort Worth a scant 200 stood on the chilly field at Polytechnic college and watched a game between the High school eleven and the second team of the college. To the credit of the players be it said they preserved the Thanksgiving tradition and played an exciting game. The score at the end was 11 to 0 in favor of the High school, that eleven having made two touchdowns and one goal.

Kellner made the first touchdown for the High school, seven minutes before the end of the first half, and Cunningham kicked goal. Brilliant features of the game were a 75-yard run by Lyons who would have made a touchdown, but he tripped and fell. White made good smashes into the Polytechnic center making gains for 5 or 6 yards every time. The line-up of the High school eleven was as follows:

- Cunningham Left End
- Trigg Left Tackle
- Crutchfield Left Guard
- Wilson Center Guard
- Montgomery Right Guard
- Ross Right Tackle
- Mitchell Right End
- Stokes Full Back
- Kellner Right Half Back
- Lyle Full Half Back
- White Full Back

National Commander-in-Chief Thos. P. Stone of the U. S. C. V., has written a letter to N. R. Tisdal of this city in which he states that although regretting it very much, he will be unable to attend the sessions of the Texas Division Daughters of the Confederacy convention which assembles here next week, owing to mixed dates and unusual pressure of business.

He states, however, that he will try to be present at least one day during the convention. Owing to his absence, he has authorized N. R. Tisdal of this city, Inspector-General of the U. S. C. RANCHING ON A LARGE SCALE

Biggest Concern in the Southwest Was Represented

Drovers' Telegram: Two loads of cattle from the big ranch of the Capital Freehold Investment company of Delhart, Tex., were marketed here today. This is said to be the biggest cattle ranch in that state or the entire Southwest, as it embraces three million acres of land. The company is reducing its possessions every year, but its size and the business it transacts in the cattle line is still enormously large, as the number of head of stock now on the ranch is 70,000. To handle this amount of stock and look after the business of the company, requires the employment of 125 men who are arranged in seven divisions. Each of these divisions is under a superintendent, and separate accounts are kept in each, and everything is transacted along strict business lines. At each of these division headquarters fine residences for the men employed are located, and other buildings suitable for handling their thoroughbred bulls and cows are conveniently arranged, and kept in good order.

This firm has bred up its herds until they have reached a high grade, and they market 25,000 head of stock annually, all of which comes to Kansas City.

HOW EL PASOAN DINE

Kansas City Filled With Wonder at the Customs of the Texas City

El Paso Times: Fred Fenchler of El Paso gave a dinner to five friends at a Kansas City hotel the other day. The dinner cost $50 per plate, with orchestral accompaniment. So much cash for a dinner filled the hotel and newspaper men of Kansas City with wonder, and the Star quotes Mr. Fenchler as saying:

"I do not care to talk about the dinner. It was not more elaborate than many that are given in El Paso and Mexico every year. Please do not mention it in the papers."

"That's right, Fred; give it to them good and strong. Hand it out to them until the city by the Kaw turns green with envy thinking about how the average El Pasoan chucks a fifty-dollar dinner under his vest any old day in the year he feels like eating amid a bower of fragrant flowers pouring forth a stream of melody.

As between President Shaffer and President Gompers, the public will be inclined to choose President Mitchell.

AMUSEMENTS

Janice Meredith

To those who had read the story the presentation of the dramatized version of Janice Meredith at Greenwall's last night, seemed but as four striking and animated pictures, such as some artists might have painted illustrating the story. Only the figures were real flesh and blood instead of oil and the fact that they all carried out their parts without marring the illustration, constituted the greatest charm of the play.

It is impossible to tell so loosely constructed story as Janice Meredith in four acts, and because of this, presentations of the play have been criticised. The various members of the cast could not have been improved upon and every one helped the success of the production.

William Morris as Charles Fownes and Miss Rose Stahl as Janice, held the leading roles ably and the work of Lewis Hemmingsway as Lord Clowes was well and carefully done. Inez Plummer as Tabitha Drinker gave a very pleasing interpretation.

Judged from the presentation of last night, however, the most conscientious acting of any member of the cast, was that of Frank A. Trenor as Philemon Hennion. From the grotesque love making of Janice in the first act, in which he was the source of nearly all the laughs the audience enjoyed, to his simple and beautiful farewell with Janice in the fourth act, his work was faultless. The farewell scene between Philemon and Janice, was the finest and purest bit of acting of the play, and to Trenor belongs most of the credit. Without taking anything from the work of the other members of the cast, Philemon is the only character whose story was told effectively and simply so that it stands out well, and Trenor's work is the gauge.

The unfortunate absence of William Bonelli was unknown to most of the audience and William Morris capably carried the leading male role. The audience was thoroughly pleased and the choice of such an attraction for a Thanksgiving day matinee and evening reflects creditably to the management. The next on the boards will be the brilliant comedy, "A Tyranny of Tears."

"The Tyranny of Tears."

Haddon Chambers' delicious comedy, "The Tyranny of Tears," derives its name from the tyrannical exercise of a woman's prerogative to resort to tears as a means of appeal, when all other arguments fail, against her husband, who she foolishly believes to be in love with his secretary, a hard headed, sensible girl. Paul Gilmore, supported by a strong company in "The Tyranny of Tears," is looked to appear at Greenwall's opera house, Saturday matinee and night, Nov. 29.

"Thelma"

Readers of popular books will rejoice to hear that Marie Corelli's much talked of novel "Thelma" has been dramatized and will be produced at Greenwall's opera house, Monday night, December 1, by Aiden Benedict's most excellent company. The version is by Mr. Chas. W. Chase and is undoubtedly destined to live a long and popular life.

"Miss Adelaide Thurston"

Those who saw Adelaide Thurston when she played "Sweet Clover" last season, will remember what a pretty and clever little actress she was. She is going to be seen here in a new play, "At Cozy Corners" at the Greenwall Opera House, Tuesday matinee and night, December 2, in which she has been starring with great success. The newspaper comments that have followed Miss Thurston indicate that the star, the company, and the play have been making a big hit everywhere. Miss Thurston's success last season in "Sweet Clover," has been duplicated this season with "At Cozy Corners," the latter being heralded everywhere as the better play.

Mr. Charles B. Hanford

There is probably no man who appears so new before the public who realizes more fully the best that is associated by tradition with the portrayal of the immortal actor's works. Mr. Hanford was under the tutelage of America's greatest actor, Edwin Booth. It was Mr. Booth who gave Mr. Hanford his first great opportunity, an opportunity of which he speedily showed himself worthy. Critics who have followed Mr. Hanford's work declare that he has now reached the crowning achievement of his career, by his magnificent work in "Much Ado About Nothing" which will be presented at Greenwall's opera house, Wednesday night, December 3, with great interest by the discriminating playgoers of this city. On Wednesday matinee, Dec. 3, Mr. Hanford will present "The Taming of the Shrew."

Quinlan & Wallis Minstrels

Five-years ago in New York City was organized "The Trocadero Quartet," the members being Joe Brunet, Jack Sample, Steve Pridcau and Walter Brower. Since then they have toured Europe, Australia and South America. On their return to this country they were quickly engaged by the Quinlan & Wallis Imperial Minstrels, that are to be at Greenwall's opera house, Thursday, December 4, matinee and night.

WHAT SCHOOLS SHOULD TEACH

DENTON TEACHERS WILL TAKE UP THE SUBJECT

SUPT. MARRS' OPINIONS

In an interview in This City Last Night With A Telegram Reporter He Tells of Some of the Modern Tendencies—Speaks of the Hope for the Future

There were quite a number of public school superintendents and teachers here last night and today en route to Denton where the North Texas Teachers' association convenes today. A Telegram representative met and talked with four from the Terrell schools, Superintendent S. M. N. Marrs and Misses Carrie Lee McDonald, Verlin Stovall and Jewell Monday. They remained over last night, the guest of friends. Superintendent Marrs said the indications pointed to this being the best session ever held by the association, and he believed it would be attended by more members. The program as arranged includes many papers upon subjects uppermost in the conduct of schools of today. Superintendent Marrs is on the program for this afternoon discussing the subject "What the Public Schools Should Teach the American Laborer." This is a subject which involves the thought of our ancestors, and the public school. Professor Marrs, in speaking of his paper briefly said: "Ideas have changed, and the schools that were once considered a necessary provision for the enlightenment of the poor have become the popular means of education for the masses. The rich and the poor alike are its patrons and its beneficiaries, and what ever may have been the thought of our ancestors, and the ultimate end desired by the public schools of today is to conduct our boys and girls to higher planes of thought and nobler living, thereby developing the best type of American citizenship.

"If the public school is efficient the three-fold nature of education must be considered—the physical, the mental and moral. In such a commonwealth as Texas, with its large rural population and the abundant opportunity afforded the children for physical exercise, little attention need be given to this phase of the subject. However, the erect form, the manly bearing and womanly dignity should be the care of all teachers. Habits of neatness in personal appearance and in procuring success in after life, for the good citizen is estimated in a great measure by the opinions of his fellow man.

"There are some people who seem to think that industrial training will be the panacea for all the ills that may result from the ignorance of the American boys and girls. I am not sure that its influence will be so potent. The pendulum of popular thought in education is vibrating between the humanities on the one side and the commercial abilities on the other; the one exemplified by the stress placed upon their study for special value and for a professional career—the other upheld as the sine qua non of commercial and industrial enterprises.

"In this great country, with its tremendous possibilities for acquiring and losing immense fortunes, where the blood is as blue in the veins of the honest son of toil as in those of the fair skinned, haughty aristocrat, the wheel of fortune is fickle, and the millionaire of today may be dependent upon the labor of his hands tomorrow. In view of these conditions it is well that in the management of our schools we should find the golden mean.

"Let no teacher so far lose sight of his or her duties in the training of citizens, as to believe for a moment that all efforts should be either for the trades or the professions. What we need in America today is men and women. In order to train intelligent citizens in the public schools the fundamental principles underlying a common school education must be thoroughly taught. The student who can read fluently, write legibly, use his mother tongue correctly with a wide vocabulary and has a good knowledge of arithmetic, geography, history and civics will be well along the road to success, whether or not he be able to derive Greek roots or to solve the various problems found in conic sections. What we need is more thoroughness in the primary and intermediate grades. We all know that in our cities and towns these grades are frequently crowded, and in the hands of inexperienced teachers, while in the country the children of the same degree of advancement are neglected in order that a few high school subjects may be taught.

"The children of the laboring classes are found in these grades—in a great many cases they go no further—then let us prepare them for the battle of life, by giving them confidence in their ability to master the ordinary problems. Let them not undertake to study the higher subjects until they have become proficient in those which will make the basis of their daily thought and conversation."

REAL CHINESE FUNERAL STORY

HOW A CELESTIAL IS PREPARED FOR THE LONG JOURNEY INTO THE GREAT HEREAFTER

Fixed Up With Grub and Cloths, Ferry Fare and Pharaohalia Which to Frighten the Evil One Away En Route—A Fort Worth Man Was Put Next.

"Say, did you ever attend a Chinese funeral?" asked a prominent Fort Worth insurance man just in from San Antonio, and who had bought a cigar for a pair of reporters and himself.

"None," replied both. "Did you?"

"Did I? Well, you'd think I had. You see, there is a Chinaman down there running a restaurant on Military plaza that was once in the laundry business in Fort Worth, and every time I go to San Antonio I go to see Lee Hop Sing."

"Have you placed a policy with him?" asked one of the reporters, winking at the other.

"Oh, I only write policies against fire, and a Chinaman is too great a risk." With the last four words the insurance man pointed significantly toward Satan's realm.

"But how about the funeral? Tell us about that."

"As what I was going to do. To begin with, my Chinaman friend put me 'next' and urged me to 'chum-ah-lone.' He then explained that a Chinaman 'bleen dead' and that they were going to fix him to send away, and, as I learned, the body of Hop Sing Lee will start on its long journey to Canton on next Sunday, and will find a final resting place in the sacred land of his ancestors. Instead of the unhalloved soil of America. The last rites and incantations were performed yesterday in an undertaking establishment where the body lies embalmed and prepared for the trip.

"Hop Sing Lee was a prominent person among his race, and died on November 16 at his laundry, but only Tuesday were the final ceremonies observed."

"Hop Lee is dressed in four suits of the best Chinese silk. His mouth is full of cooked rice for his sustenance until he is interred, and between his teeth is held a dime to pay the ferryman when he is rowed across the dark river. With him will be buried all his belongings.

"Clothed for a Long Journey.

"On his head is a little black cap, contrasting with the ashy drab appearance of the face. He holds in his hands his fan and on his breast lie his toothbrush, a fine comb, a coarser comb, and, wrapped with a piece of paper string, his playing cards, 52 in number, about the width of a fan rib and three inches long. So that Hop Lee will never get cold, his overcoat has been carefully folded and placed in the coffin.

"Besides these belongings Hop Lee will have many others, including his six chop sticks, black and showing signs of use, and six tea cuns, besides a quantity of cooked rice. There will be many victuals, too. A roasted chicken, a slice of cooked ham, a quart of dried almonds, about a pound of Chinese candy resembling light brown fudge, and a quantity of other Chinese viands. To quench his thirst Hop Lee will have a bottle of rice whisky wrapped in straw and bearing a label written in Chinese characters.

"To Scare the Devil Away.

"Finally, at his feet, are about 200 'devil flags,' perforated papers just about the size of his white and golden slipper. When the winds blow, they say, the papers will fly and flutter in the air and scare the devils away as he makes his entrance into the celestial beyond.

"About a dozen Chinamen participated in the last rites Tuesday. A big iron kettle was secured and, with much ceremony, all Hop Sing Lee's prayers, written on paper of different colors

A Persian Dinner.

A traveler in Persia thus describes a dinner served in the household of a wealthy Persian: "The chief dish consists of a fowl boiled to rags, surrounded by a toothsome mass of rice, hard boiled eggs, fried onions, almonds and raisins. There is a Shiraz wine, clear, golden red liquid that has traveled over the mountain passes on muleback in a huge glass carboy. Among the dessert manna has a conspicuous place. This delicacy is somewhat akin to nougat; it is studded with walnuts and almonds and is jaw sticking to the last degree. Like the mango, it is best eaten in private, for it renders the masticator speechless. It is made of gum that exudes from a tree and is said to be engendered by a worm."—Chicago News.

CUBAN RAILROAD OPENED TODAY

TRAFFIC BEGINS FROM HAVANA TO SANTIAGO

DISTANCE OF 500 MILES

It Will Be Made Now in Twenty-four Hours, Where Previously it Has Taken Three Days' Trip by Boat—Marks a New Career of Industrial and Commercial Greatness

(Special to The Telegram.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 28.—A dispatch from Havana says the Cuba Central railroad, from Havana to Santiago, will be opened for traffic today. The trip from Havana to Santiago, about 500 miles, will be made in about twenty-two hours, whereas three days are required by steamship, the only means of travel heretofore.

With the opening of this new railroad Cuba is expected to enter upon a new era—a career of industrial development and activity which is expected to result in the betterment of the inhabitants, commercial prosperity and the improvement of internal affairs. The main line of the road is of standard gauge and its bridges are of steel and masonry. The equipment generally is similar to that of the best American roads, it being intended to run through sleeping cars between Havana and Santiago. The line runs through the heart of the eastern part of the island, where there is much undeveloped mineral wealth in the mountainous districts, but want of capital has hitherto prevented its profitable production. Copper mines are of great extent and rich, and water power is plentiful. Along the route of the main line are to be found great areas of land of the richest description, well watered and suitable for raising sugar cane, tobacco, corn, cotton, coffee and all fruits of the tropical and sub-tropical regions, such as yams, oranges, mangoes, pine apples and bananas, all within a short distance of market.

A TALKING DETECTIVE ON THE PATRICK CASE.

Special to The Telegram.
 HOUSTON, Tex., Nov. 28.—Detective Mott alleges that he has in his possession a number of affidavits made by people in Houston who have talked with Charles F. Jones, the principal witness against Albert T. Patrick, and that all of these affidavits are to the effect that Jones told the affiant that he did not murder William M. Rice; that Patrick had nothing to do with his death, and that the old man died a natural death. The detective refused to disclose the names of the affiants, saying that the papers would be produced at the proper time when the matter came up in New York. Jones left Houston some time since and gave it out that he was going to Colorado Springs, but he went to California instead and is now in that state. The detective says his New York correspondent gave him instructions that Jones was not to be lost sight of for a minute, and the instructions are being carried out to the letter.

CORSICANA BARBER SHOT FROM BEHIND

Corsicana, Tex., Nov. 28.—The body of Nathan S. Jarrell, a barber, was found a mile south of town last night with six bullet holes in the body. He was shot from behind. Two shots from a .45 caliber revolver and four from his own weapon, a .38-caliber. There is no clew.

COURTS GRINDING THE USUAL GRIST

The various courts took up the thread of legislation this morning dropped Wednesday night, and are dealing out justice and considering legal matters in the same old way.

In the Federal court Judge Meek dismissed his jury for the day, with instructions to report tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Following this some non-jury business was taken up, and he listened to law points in certain cases argued by the attorneys interested.

In the district courts: Judge Dunklin and a jury in the Forty-eighth are hearing evidence in the partition suit styled Laura Graham et al vs. S. D. Graham.

There is nothing especially on in the Seventeenth. The jury having under consideration the merits of the case of C. M. Templeton vs. J. H. Armstrong et ux, trespass to try title was still out at the 2 p. m. convening hour. The jury had reported to Judge Smith that it was unable to agree, but he thought differently, at least he instructed that further consideration be given.

In the Forty-eighth district court, the case tried early in the week, styled J. W. Bicknell vs. Winfield Scott, a verdict was returned yesterday for the defendant.

Nothing doing of especial interest in either the county court or the justice's courts.

In the county clerk's office there was only one deed of importance of Main and Thirteenth street, west of Armstrong and John P. King to George T. Reynolds, for a consideration of $7425, transferring lot 14, block B3, Daggett's addition. This lot is 50 feet front by 100 deep, on the corner of Main and Thirteenth street, west side of Main.

Judge Moore, Judge Parker and Judge Frank of Stephenville, Erath county, are here today on legal business before the court of civil appeals.

Sheriff's Force Mugged

In order, perhaps, that he might give an accurate description of any member of his force who might, in the discharging of an official duty, be lost, strayed or stolen, Sheriff Honea yesterday had all the bunch "mugged" in group. Mr. Honea is conscientiously in the center, and about him is a posse of a lot of deputies as ever served a paper, carried a cannon or landed a prisoner. They're a good-looking bunch, too, and add luster to the office surroundings in which they were "shot."

Remains Sent to Iowa

The remains of Z. M. Smith have been sent to Greenfield, Iowa, by Undertaker Gause. Smith is the man who was killed by J. J. Murrell on Tuesday afternoon, nine miles northwest of Fort Worth.

Miss Edna Smith of Edna, Okla., a niece of the dead man, came down yesterday and took charge of affairs. Miss Smith formerly resided with her uncle. She will accompany the remains to Greenfield.

CUBA MAY ACCEPT RECIPROCITY TREATY

(By Associated Press.)

HAVANA, Nov. 28.—If the Cuban reciprocity treaty as now proposed concedes a 25 per cent reduction in tariff duties there is a strong probability of its acceptance by President Palma and the senate.

Secretary of State Zaldo and Secretary of the Treasury Montes, the commission on the part of the Cuban government to negotiate the treaty submitted five objections. Three of these are conceded by the United States. The fourth relates to Puerto Rican coffee and it is believed can be conceded by the United States without difficulty. These leaves only the question of the amount of reduction in the United States tariff. If the proposed 20 per cent is increased to 25 per cent, President Palma likely will send the treaty to the senate for ratification.

ACRE WILL NOT YIELD TO POWER OF BOLIVIA

(By Associated Press.)

RIO JANEIRO, Brazil, Nov. 28.—Col. Rogias and other Bolivians who were captured recently in Acre have arrived in Manaus. They were accompanied by Rodrigo Carvalho, the chief of the revolutionists and his staff.

Three Bolivian officers, twenty-five men and twelve women will start for Bolivia, while one officer and twelve men will remain in the Manaus Hospital.

Dino Romero one of the Bolivian officers wrote to President Pando advising him to abandon Acre as the inhabitants of the territory will never become Bolivians. He answered that he was on the verge of death and was resolved to tell the truth and warn his countrymen against a dangerous adventure.

HILLIS TAKES UP THE QUESTION OF LABOR

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—In the course of his Thanksgiving sermon at Plymouth church Dr. N. D. Hillis took up the labor question.

"Because the working people of this country are the most intelligent folk in the world," said he, "the labor question is not settled and never will be settled. It is because our schools, academies and colleges are within the reach of the common people. If you want to settle the labor question then keep the working people at a standstill.

Editors, preachers, scholars, business men are all sighing over the trouble we have today. What we want is trouble, only we want the right kind of men to meet it. Let us be grateful for all this ceaseless agitation. There is not a single invention that does not benefit the common people. The rich today are growing richer slowly, while the poor are growing richer at a greater percentage. Every tendency of society is toward the diffusion of bounties."

GOTHAM AWAITS COLORADO BEAUTY

The arrival of Miss Gladys Sutton Crosby from Colorado Springs is awaited by New York society with interest. Miss Crosby by will make her debut in December, and her fame rests entirely upon her beauty. Fashionable folk remember a lovely child who led a bull terrier every afternoon in Fifth avenue five years ago. Her nurse walked a few paces behind, and the child gazed stolidly at passing crowds, unconscious of the fact that her beauty caused such craning of necks. That child has grown into a radiant girl of the West.

There will be a fashionable outpouring at her grandfather's reception when Miss Crosby is introduced formally. Her mother was Miss Louise Sutton, one of the "three beautiful Sutton girls," who were contemporaneous with the Jerome girls. Her father, Walter Floyd Crosby, was accounted one of the handsomest men in New York. Therefore the extraordinary beauty of Miss Gladys Crosby is not surprising.

In the West it was suggested that she be the model of the statue that crowned the capitol building in Denver, but this dubious distinction was spurned. Her father, however, is an ardent photographer, and has thousands of pictures of his daughter. Her elder sister, Nina, is the fiancée of James C. Rustis, son of the former ambassador to France.

Thoughtful Tommy.
 Mrs. Mann—Tommy, you have been a very naughty boy. When your papa comes home, I shall tell him about you.
 Tommy—I think, mamma, it will be more interesting if you remind him of those happy days when your loves were young and fresh. A man likes to hear sweet things when he comes home at night tired and weary.

Rough on Father.
 Perdita—If you continue much longer to play cards with my father, I won't marry you.
 Jack Dashing—If your father continues to play cards much longer with me, I won't need to marry you.—New York News.

If a man has a new story, better let him tell it and get it over with. He will not be satisfied until he does.—Atchison Globe.

WICHITA FALLS SUICIDE.
 Son of a Physician There Shoots Himself in the Head.
 (By Associated Press.)

WICHITA FALLS, Tex., Nov. 27.—News has just reached here that Harry Judd, living on Red River, eighteen miles from this city, committed suicide about noon today. He is said to have locked himself up in a house and then shot himself in the head.

Judd is a son of Dr. John H. Judd of this city, and has a family. No cause is assigned for the act.

Girl Caught Bullet With Her Teeth

Rosa J. Starrett, a thirteen-year-old girl of Bath, Me., is the heroine of a most remarkable feat. Rosa actually caught with her teeth a .32 caliber bullet fired from a pistol held within two feet of her face, and that shapeless piece of metal dropped harmless from her mouth as the frightened child recovered from the shock and cried out to her mother.

Rosa is the daughter of Woodbury Starrett, a carpenter, and assists her mother at light housework when not at school. Mr. and Mrs. William Lounsbury, who had been boarding at the Starrett house, recently removed to another part of the city. Immediately upon the departure of Mrs. Lounsbury, Rosa, accompanied by her brother Royal, eleven years of age, went to the vacant room. The boy noticed a revolver on the bureau. Rosa picked up the weapon, saw that it was loaded and replaced it, but the little brother took it up and moved to the window to examine it.

As they stood, scarcely two feet apart, the boy pulled the trigger, and the self acting revolver was discharged.

The bullet entered at the right side of the girl's mouth, cutting a furrow nearly an inch in length along the top of the lower lip, and struck the eye-tooth in the jaw. The tooth was splintered into fine pieces, while the next tooth was removed as smoothly and artistically as it could have been pulled by the highest priced dentist.

Two more teeth were knocked from the jaw, but not completely severed, and there the bullet stopped.

Surgical skill has already removed most of the powder marks from her face, and only a scar where the bullet entered her lip and the vacancy caused by the loss of the four teeth will remain as permanent reminders of an accident which could not be repeated without fatal results once in a million times.

The bullet is flattened to a ragged piece of metal, showing clearly the marks of the broken teeth. But for the remarkable fact that it struck the jaw exactly in line with the row of teeth and proceeded along that line so accurately that it struck each succeeding tooth squarely, and so did not swerve to either side, it must have made a terrible wound.

Hare and Dog Both Dead.
 Last year during one of the courses run for the Waterloo cup a dog was seen to collapse suddenly and lie down. On reaching the spot the judges found that the animal was quite dead. Heart disease had killed it. More remarkable still, a few yards in front lay the hare, untouched, but also stone dead from a similar cause.

THE MISSISSIPPI BUBBLE

HEARTS COURAGEOUS BY MISS RIVES

An interesting compilation of reports from the prominent book stores of the six best selling books of the month was printed in the Bookman Magazine for last month. "The Mississippi Bubble" led all others as the best selling novel in the United States.

"The Mississippi Bubble" is one of the truly great romances. It is truth and art combined.—The Boston Journal.

"Hearts Courageous," the love story of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, is a most delightful and convincing romance. We meet Patrick Henry, Baron Fairfax, Jefferson, Franklin and La Fayette. Every portrait is instinct with life and vigor. As a story of the times, we do not know where in literature to find its superior.—Baltimore Sun.

Miss Rives' Novel, Hearts Courageous, is growing in favor every day.
