DR. KILMER & CO., Binghamton, N. Y.

Women suffer untold misery because the nature of their disease is not correctly understood; in many cases when doctoring, they are led to believe that womb trouble or female weakness of some sort is responsible for their ills when in fact disordered kidneys are the chief cause of their distressing troubles. The mild and extraordinary effect of the world-famous kidney and bladder remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. A trial will convince anyone—and you may have a sample bottle sent free, by mail.

LYTLE TO SUCCEED LOVING . It is considered almost certain that Capt. John T. Lytle of San Antonio will succeed the late J. C. Loving of this city as secretary of the Texas Cattle Raisers' association, which convenes at El Paso in March.

Capt. Lytle has strong support in Fort Worth and is regarded as a man of eminent qualifications for the position

C. L. Ware, a prominent cattleman of this city, said today: "Fort Worth will be glad to welcome Capt. Lytle as successor to Mr. Loving. He is a good, capable man, fully in touch with livestock conditions throughout the state and I would be most happy to see him

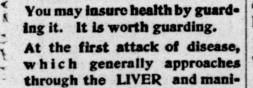

Capt. Lytle is represented as having no desire to enter into an active campaign to secure the place. He has long been identified with the association and its executive committee. Several members of the governing body are understood to have voluntarily pledged him their support.

Daughter's Health.

"All honor to woman I to her it is given To garden the earth with the roses of Heaven."

Tour daughter is the brightest ornament of your home; see to it that she is kept in the best possible health, that she may attain the high-est development and perfection of womanhood. Bear in mind that a weak and frail girlife, if continued, leads to an incomplete and unsat-isfactory woman-life. So much of woman's happiness and usefulness depends upon wo-manly health-structural and functional per-fection of the parts especially concerned in maternity, that it is a mistake, a sin that may even curse generations yet unborn, to neglect any departure from womanly perfection. Small ails should berighted before they become big ones; do not allow little ills to develop into real disease.

SETTLERS FOR THE SOUTHWEST

Plan of Southwestern Colonization Agency to Reach Farmers

Offices for the new southwestern colcnization agency, an organization formed by the railroads to build up the country from which it takes its name, have been established in St. Louis, where Capt. Steele, the commissioner, will be stationed to attend to the agency's business.

Capt. Steele now has in his possession names of over 100,000 farmers living in the middle west, that is the section east of the Mississippi river, which will soon be sorted and indexed. To them will be sent printed matter setting forth the advantages of the great southwest as a place to carry on their vocations.

A monthly paper will also be published from the St. Louis office. Its name has not yet been decided upon. This paper is to be distributed among the farmers on high-priced lands in the east, and any further information they may desire on any particular locality vill be furnished. It is thought this Officer Ralston went to the saloon a few minutes after 12 o'clock to arrest Daniels and Russell for making a disturbance. From what can be learned, he had no sooner entered the door than Daniels drew a revolver, but Ralston jumped forward and knocked the gun to one side. He then drew his own revolver and snapped it, but the cartridge failed to explode. Instantly Russell sprang at the officer and pinioning his arms made him helpless while Daniels wrested the revolver from his hands and struck him a staggering blow over the right temple. Ralston was stunned, but being released he started after Daniels when the latter with his companion started to run away. The noise of the struggle had attracted residents of the neighborhood and Officer Garret, who happened to be near, caught Russell. Turner was standing at Fifteenth and Main streets when he saw Daniels running and suspecting trouble caught the negro before he could go further.

A crowd of perhaps two hundred men and boys followed Turner and Daniels to the station, and though there were many threats expressed no violence was offered.

The cases of both Daniels and Russell will be transferred to the county. Coley Has Trouble

Officer Coley had trouble with one

John Allen, a negro, just about the same time Ralston was making his fight against strong odds. Coley was able to use his club, however, and arrested his man, bringing him to the station on foot. Officer Coley had several tussies with colored prisoners, difficulty.

All during the day the police were kept anxiously watching for possible outbreaks and the patrol wagon horses were kept on the gallop nearly all day. Last night the chances for disturbance had shrunk to the minimum and this morning things were comparatively quiet.

EXPECTS TO FIND A SILVER MINE

New Mexico Man Journeys to Brewster County, Texas

Mineral Wells Index: J. W. Prude a storekeeper on the Ruidoso, near the Mescallero Apache Indian agency of Lincoln county, New Mexico, is on his way to Brewster county, Texas, where he expects to find a fabulously rich silver mine that was worked for hundreds of years by the Indians. The legend says that they would go to the place and cut out chunks until their ponies were loaded and then go home and hammer out all kinds of trinkets,
