Her popularity, however, and her success in other countries, especially in the United States, were such that she became a national favorite. Among her leading roles were Francesca da Rimini, Stuart, Pia del Tolomei, Myrrha, Judith and Lady Macbeth. Her character she played in London with Edwin Booth. FORMER SENATOR DIES SUDDENLY AT SEATTLE

(By Associated Press.) SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 29.—Former United States Senator John Beard Allen died suddenly last night at his residence here, of angina pectoris.

MOLASSES IS FED TO BROOKLYN HORSES

SAID TO BE A MORE NUTRITIOUS FOOD THAN FODDER AND OATS

(By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Between four thousand and five thousand horses in Brooklyn are being fed on molasses because it is cheaper and better than oats. This statement is made by a veterinary surgeon, who adds that horses in harness from twelve to fourteen hours a day do not take time to masticate and properly prepare dry oats and other dry fodder. The result is that the animals receive little nutritive value from their food. Molasses, if properly diluted and mixed with cut hay, bran and meal in proper proportion, is in a digestible condition and ready for assimilation from the moment it enters the mouth. Its nutritive value, therefore, is quite apparent. It is not only a better and a more nutritious food than oats, but is much cheaper in the end.

LARGEST STEAMSHIP BEGINS FIRST VOYAGE TOMORROW

(By Associated Press.) LONDON, Jan. 29.—The Cedric, the latest addition to the White Star fleet, and the largest steamer in the world, is practically completed and will leave Belfast tomorrow for Liverpool to prepare for her maiden voyage to New York early next month. This huge vessel, 700 feet long, is the second steamer to exceed 20,000 tons, her sister ship, the Celtic being the first. The Cedric will have accommodations for 3,000, but as she has not been built for speed she will not attempt to lower the Atlantic record.

Pelt, living three miles northwest of here, met with a sad accident about 4 o'clock this evening by getting badly burned. Dr. Dunn was summoned and reports the case as serious. GERMAN OFFICERS MAKE SOUNDINGS AT HAVANA

(By Associated Press.) HAVANA, Jan. 29.—It is reported that several German army and naval officers, passengers on the steamer Moltke, which has arrived here on a cruise through the West Indies, made extensive soundings in Havana harbor, near Santa Clara battery, garrisoned by American troops. It is said they also took photographs of the fortifications. In view of the attitude of Germany in Venezuela, this is regarded as significant. A report that Minister Squires had informed President Palma of the actions of the Germans was denied by the minister, who said he had heard only rumors. The Moltke sailed yesterday for Nassau and will arrive in New York Feb. 1. The German officials aboard the Moltke were sent on the cruise by the German government, and, it is understood, have been making soundings secretly all over the West Indies.

BLAME BALFOUR MINISTRY FOR ALLIANCE

NO DOUBT AS TO THEIR RESPONSIBILITY FOR GERMAN AGREEMENT

(By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Writing with reference to the Venezuelan affairs, the London correspondent of the Tribune says it is immaterial whether the first suggestion for joint action by Germany and Great Britain came from England in July or even in February of 1902. What cannot be denied by the apologists of the Balfour ministry is that an iron-clad alliance was made by which England was deprived of independence of action and committed against withdrawal until the German claims were settled. It is incredible that the precise form of this alliance was not made in Germany. Wherever the first proposal for joint action originated, whether the British minister forged their own chains or accepted the German patent, they tied their hands and exposed themselves to the serious risk of affronting the United States. F. C. Gould hits off the situation in a clever cartoon, representing John Bull as explaining to Brother Jonathan that the German emperor is too "malifistic," but that they have gone into the business together and he cannot drop his partner.

DESTRUCTION HANGS OVER VANDERBILT HOME

(By Associated Press.) SAVILLE, L. I., Jan. 29.—It is said that Idle Hour, the mansion of William K. Vanderbilt at Oakdale, is in constant danger of destruction. Although the house, which was built to replace the one destroyed by fire some years ago, had been supposed to be finished, a large number of mechanics have for several weeks been employed on it. It was given out that some alterations were in progress, but it is now said that the workmen have been engaged in repairing damage resulting from the settling of the main building. The walls, both inside and outside, are said to have cracked at times, and the damage has been so extensive as to call for the spending of a large sum of money.

LOCKADE IS STILL ON

Report of its Being Raised is Premature

Associated Press.) London, Jan. 29.—It was said at the office Wednesday that there was a change in the Venezuelan blockade situation. The reports that it will be raised immediately are premature. The blockade depends on the compliance of the Venezuelan government with the terms laid down by the representatives of the powers that have engaged in the blockade. The claims of the powers that have engaged in the blockade will not be included in the terms of the arrangement by which 30 per cent of the customs will from the foreign office officials intimate the counter proposals for the withdrawal of their ships. It is understood that the German ships will refrain from entering Maracaibo.

In the course of the debate he furnished some interesting statistics on the subject of Indian education designed to show that the more money the government spent the more helpless the Indians became.

STANDS UP FOR THE DEMOCRATS

SENATOR CARMACK DEFENDS MEMBERS OF HIS PARTY

TENNESSEAN GETS WARM

Characterizes the Charge That They Were Assailing the Army as the Meanest and Dirtiest of All That Has Been Made, and That Those Responsible for it Are Aware of This Fact

(By Associated Press.) Washington, Jan. 29.—A sharp debate was precipitated in the senate Wednesday when Mr. Rawlins called up his resolution offered Tuesday directing the secretary of war to furnish the senate the proceedings of a number of court martials in the Philippines. In the course of his remarks Mr. Rawlins referred to the death of Father Augustine, and said he was murdered in cold blood.

This aroused the ire of Mr. Beveridge, who demanded specifically to know who had committed the cold-blooded murder.

Mr. Carmack entered the debate and characterized the charge, which he said repeatedly had been made that the Democrats were assailing the army as the "meanest, as the dirtiest," of any that had been made against the party.

In the course of his remarks, Senator Carmack said: "Jake Smith is no more the American army than the senator from Indiana is the American senate, and not half as much as he thinks he is."

Mr. Carmack characterized the charge that the Democrats were assailing the army as the "meanest and dirtiest of all that had been made."

"It had been the very vermin," he said, "of this debate, and I am a little surprised to find it crawling in the hair of the honorable senator from Indiana."

Whoever made the charge, he said, consciously took a falsehood upon his lips when he spoke it. He declared that the senate committee on the Philippines had refused to investigate the facts of the murder of Father Augustine. There had been a policy of suppression, he asserted, and in the case of witness, who he said had testified falsely before the committee, he had been allowed to go until punished.

He insisted that whatever had been taken by the president and war department, had been because they were driven to it by the minority of the senate, and that even then no single fact was brought to light.

Mr. Proctor defended Captain Cornelius M. Brownell, who had been mentioned in the Rawlins resolution as being responsible for Father Augustine's death.

The statehood bill was taken up at 2 o'clock.

Mr. Lodge spoke in opposition to it for two and one-half hours.

Indians Have Captured Mining Town in Mexico

Cannanea, Mex., Jan. 29.—The Yaquis have attacked the town of San Marcial, the mining center of the state, and almost taken possession of it. L. Schutt, and George Carroll. It is stated that there were a number of Americans on the side of the Yaquis.

THE PANTHER DID NOT FIRE FIRST ON SAN CARLOS

Caracas, Jan. 29.—Every one here expects the blockade to be raised at any moment.

It has been learned from an officer of the United States gunboat Marietta, which anchored at La Guayra, that the German commodore, Scheder on arriving at Willemstad with the Vincta said:

"The Panther did not fire first on Fort San Carlos on Jan. 17. She was obliged by a storm to take refuge inside the bar and on coming near the fortress, she tried to land a boat flying a red flag. This signal was misinterpreted by the fort which subsequently fired on the boat."

A Little Boy's Life Saved

I have a few words to say regarding Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It saved my little boy's life and I feel that I can not praise it enough. I bought a bottle of it from A. E. Steere of Goodwin, S. D., and when I got home with it the poor baby could hardly breathe. I gave the medicine as directed every ten minutes until he "threw up" and then I thought sure he was going to choke to death. We had to pull the plegm out of his mouth in great long strings. I am positive that if I had not got that bottle of cough medicine, my boy would not be on earth today.—Joel Demont, Inwood, Iowa. FORT WORTH, TEX., JAN. 29, 1903.

This is the kind of weather that makes one wish the baseball season was on. A seat on the "bleachers" at 1:30 p. m. on a day like yesterday, with two men out and the bases full, would add a zest to living that nothing else can.

Prizes amounting to $3,000 are to be given for the live stock show at El Paso in March. This, added to the fact that the cattlemen's convention will be held there at the same time, will undoubtedly draw a large and attractive lot of entries.

Secretary Shaw says the world produces a higher type of womanhood than it does of manhood. He attempts to prove it by his assertion that, "in any town there are more women whom you would welcome into your homes as daughters-in-law than men you would welcome as sons-in-law."

Spend every dollar you can with Fort Worth merchants. The mall order men who do business from St. Louis, Chicago and New York don't care anything about Fort Worth more than to draw a few dollars from each of its inhabitants, but the merchants who have stores in this city live here and employ people who live here. All these go to make the city what it is, and as they flourish they will make Fort Worth greater. If the town had to depend for its growth on what Sears, Roebuck & Co. or Montgomery Ward do for it, it would move along about as rapidly as a snail crawls when he is in no hurry.

The sentiment of the people of Fort Worth seems to be largely in favor of a thoroughly representative exhibit for Texas at the world's fair at St. Louis. The preliminary work of preparation for the big exposition indicates that it will be a record breaker among affairs of the kind, even eclipsing that held at Chicago in 1893. So it behooves Texas to be in line with the other states, and if she be in line at all, there is but one place for her—near the head. Texas never has and never will, probably, take a back seat in anything, and certainly there is no reason for her to now. Let the legislators arrange for a creditable representation. And even if it costs something.

IRRIGATION The acceptance by congress of the principle of federal aid in the construction of irrigation works in the western states has given a great impetus to every industry in that section of the country. The people of the eastern states are just beginning to realize the opportunities offered in the territory to be opened up. As the proposition develops, a tide of immigration will inevitably set in and this region will become one of the most populous and prosperous in the country. With large areas of reclaimable land, Texas especially will be benefited by the measure.

The actual work of surveying, locating and constructing reservoirs and other irrigation works will be done by the geological survey. In order to obtain a better understanding of the present extent of irrigation the location of the areas irrigated, and to gain other information useful in this work, the fifty-seventh congress authorized the director of the census to bring down to date the irrigation statistics obtained in 1900 by that office. Letters of inquiry and schedules are now being sent out to secure the necessary information. All interested in irrigation should answer as fully and as promptly as possible any inquiries they may receive so that the merits of the various sections of the country may become known. Irrigators who do not receive blanks within a reasonable time should notify the census office at Washington and they will be supplied.

RELIEF FOR BRAZOS FARMERS

Among the most interesting propositions that will come before the present legislature is the matter of providing relief for the farmers and people living along the Brazos river, who are desirous of securing some sort of protection against the floods of each spring and fall that wreak so much havoc in their midst. A delegation of Brazos county farmers is at Austin headed by Colonel Clint Giddings of Brenham and the aim will be to secure speedy action in the matter of securing relief for the Brazos county farmers. Their scheme is twofold. They first contemplate an appropriation looking to a survey of the Brazos river by expert engineers to ascertain what will prove the best methods of controlling the overflows. Once that is decided the second proposition will be that each county along the river front be allowed local government to the extent of local taxation especially for the purpose of providing a fund for levee work and the like. It will be necessary to have a constitutional amendment to bring about this request, but considering the aims to be accomplished it is believed that the request will meet with hearty approbation at the hands of all. At any rate both propositions will be presented to the forthcoming session for consideration.

A NEW ERA IN SOUTH CAROLINA

The inauguration of Duncan Heyward as governor of South Carolina is the beginning of a new era, at least a hopeful one, for the state which for many years has been disgraced and troubled by "Tillmanism." The latest outbreak was the assassination of N. G. Gonzales; by the then lieutenant governor of the state, J. H. Tillman, a nephew and protégé of "Pitchfork" Tillman. The cowardly and odious assassination of Editor Gonzales has disgraced South Carolina and the entire country. When Heyward became governor young Tillman was succeeded by James T. Sloan. Governor Heyward is a decent representative of the law-abiding and law-loving citizens of his state, and his election was a blow to the mistaken idea that has apparently been prevalent in South Carolina, that a man should be given office because he happened to be a particularly blatant and pestiferous demagogue. Mr. Heyward is reported by the press to be a man who stands pre-eminently well with the people of his state. He is a planter, a college graduate, and has never before held office of any kind. The whole south—the whole country—congratulates South Carolina on the new era that seems to have been opened up before it, politically at least.

JULIAN RALPH'S FUNERAL

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—The funeral of Julian Ralph, which took place at an Episcopal church in upper Broadway, was the occasion for another gathering of pretty nearly all kinds of people. Besides the mourners, who included the wife, children and aged mother of the dead journalist, there was such a gathering as is rarely to be observed even in New York. There were artists, writers, editors, capitalists, railroad men, politicians and citizens of the world. Ralph was a man of wider scope than of sympathies in his work. His most notable achievement was in the south African war, where he offended many of his former friends by his obvious sympathy with the British. But no word was ever uttered in derogation of his honesty. He belonged to that robust school of journalism which the Sun has done much to preserve; for that journal he did his best work, including such feats as the Great funeral, the blizzard of 1888 and the Dewey parade—often writing a page, or seven columns, of nearly or quite 1,500 words each, for a single issue. Such work, with its fine continuity of interest and admirable sense of proportion, contrasts finely with some of the humdrum-jumble feats of the "new journalism," where so many reporters are often set to work on the same job that neither they nor their readers are able to see the town for the houses or the wood for the trees.

An Attack of Pneumonia Warded Off

"Some time ago my daughter caught a severe cold. She complained of pains in her chest and had a bad cough. I gave her Chamberlain's Cough Remedy according to directions and in two days she was well and able to go to school. I have used this remedy in my family for the past seven years and have never known it to fail," says James Prendergast, merchant, Anna Bay, Jamaica, West India Islands. The pains in the chest indicated an approaching attack of pneumonia, which in this instance was undoubtedly warded off by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It counteracts any tendency of a cold toward pneumonia. Sold by N. E. Grammer, druggist.

Pneumonia and Lap Grippe Coughs cured quickly by Peley's Honey and Tar. Refuse substitutes. Reeves' Pharmacy, Ward's Pharmacy and Arlington Drug Co.

TEXAS AND PROHIBITION

Under Present Conditions, a Former Citizen Says It Would Carry

WACO, Tex., Jan. 29.—A former resident of Waco, who is now living in Missouri and who is here for a few days on business, spoke this morning regarding the prohibition situation in Texas, saying that, as he was an outsider and had a good chance to observe the trend of things while he had been away, his opinion might be better than many persons here at home. The gentleman in question said: "It is my opinion that prohibition in Texas is a dead sure thing, and yet, as you know, I am on the other side of the fence. I merely tell you what I see, or think I see. The prohibitionists set a regular deadfall in that harmless appearing, simple looking poll tax amendment, and I want to tell you that it caught everybody; it was a great thing for their cause.

"The business men wanted it because they figured that they were paying the poll tax of the fellows who had been escaping for years, and there were many other classes who voted for it on various grounds; and of course the prohibitionists voted almost solidly for it. That was a smooth piece of work, and the result is certain, as I see it. I predict that it will only be a comparatively short time before Texas will be enfolded by prohibition. As to whether it will be permanent is another question, but it's coming."

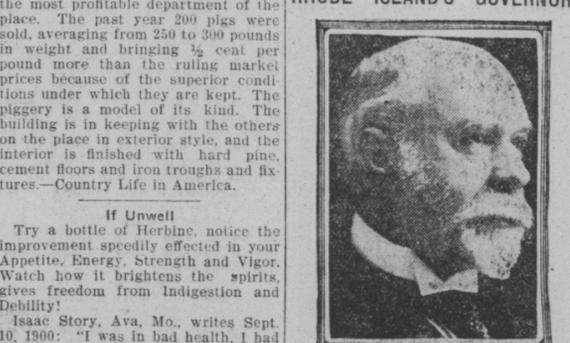

Rev. Carlisle P. B. Martin, L. L. D. Waverly, Tex., writes: "Of a morning, when first rising, I often find a troublesome collection of phlegm, which produces a cough, and is very hard to dislodge; but a small quantity of Ballard's Horehound Syrup will at once dislodge it, and the trouble is equal to it, and it is so pleasant to take. I can most cordially recommend it to all persons, needing a medicine for throat or lung troubles." Prices 25c, 50c and $1.00 bottle at H. T. Pangburn & Co's.

MONEY IN PIGS

How a Girl Began a Profitable Industry on a Great Farm

Six years ago a daughter of Dr. W. Seward Webb, in order to show her business ability and to obtain a little additional pocket money, took a little "fyer" in stock breeding on Shelburne farms. Dr. Webb's country seat on Lake Champlain. She invested $20 in a brood sow and with her father's permission made arrangements with the shepherd to care for the sow and pigs. As there was an abundance of skim milk this was given her without cost, but the grain fed was charged for at market prices. From this single investment she cleared $90 the first year, $200 the second and $300 the third. By this time the stock had so increased in numbers as to outgrow its quarters, and was proving so profitable that Dr. Webb thought it advisable to buy her out. So at the end of the fourth year he took over the stock at market prices and gave her a check for $700, which represented the year's profits. From this start the present piggery has been developed, which is the most profitable department of the place. The past year 200 pigs were sold, averaging from 250 to 300 pounds in weight and bringing 1/2 cent per pound more than the ruling market prices because of the superior conditions under which they are kept. The piggery is a model of its kind. The building is in keeping with the others on the place in exterior style, and the interior is finished with hard pine, cement floors and iron trunks and fixtures.—Country Life in America.

A SERIOUS EFFORT AGAINST THE TRUSTS

CONGRESS HAS AT LAST TAKEN UP THE QUESTION SERIOUSLY

Washington, Jan. 29.—(Special)—The most momentous question before this session of congress is not that which has so long occupied the attention of the senate, but it is the proposed trust legislation. At the beginning of the session there was talk of trust legislation, but no one seemed to take it very seriously. It was known that the house committee on judiciary would try to work out a plan, but no one in the senate thought anything would be done. Senator Hoar announced that the time was too short and Senator Aldrich said no one could tell just what was needed. Later Senator Hoar introduced a bill and Senator Aldrich acknowledged that some measure not too drastic would be passed. Senator Elkins first said that legislation was not likely, but he introduced a bill which is favored by what is known as the conservative element in the senate. The insistence of President Roosevelt accounts for the changed conditions. Finding that he was determined to have some measure passed, even the strongest opponents of trust legislation at first are now seeking some methods to bring it about on practical and constitutional lines and also in a manner which will not unsettle business conditions.

Statehood Repattee.

Senator Burton had concluded a statement incidental to the statehood bill.

"The senator has made two statements, one which is correct and the other incorrect," said Senator Beveridge.

"I am glad I have got one correct," responded Burton.

"So am I," said Beveridge, "and surprised."

"The senator," retorted Burton quickly, "is always surprised if any one except himself is right."

They Talked Horse.

The late Representative Tongue of Oregon was very fond of horses, and even after he entered actively upon the practice of law he maintained his farm and continued to raise horses. Some of the closest friends he had in congress were men who liked horses and had breeding farms. Senator Bailey of Texas, who is fond of good horses and an extensive breeder, became quite intimate with Tongue. Representative Sibley of Pennsylvania was another man who often talked with the Oregon representative about the breeding of horses. Soon after Representative Gardner came to congress he was sought out by Tongue, who wanted to know all that the Massachusetts man could tell him about horses, as he had been informed that Gardner was quite a horse fancier. Gardner told him, however, that his stud was not extensive, as he bred horses because he liked to see them grow and not on any large scale. Tongue frequently went to the big Kentucky studs, and he intended to go to Massachusetts and see the great stud of Thomas Lawson when this congress adjourned.

Grosvenor and Gaines Again.

General Grosvenor takes delight in having a little tilt with John Wesley Gaines of Tennessee, and the latter is always ready. "The gentleman from Iowa, Mr. Hepburn," said Grosvenor one day when the Philippines were being discussed, "stated that the gentleman from Tennessee was always accurate in his statements of fact, and the gentleman from Tennessee states that the Filipinos are now dying at the rate of 10,000,000 or 15,000,000 a clip."

"I made no such statement," replied Gaines hotly, and the house laughed.

"I said suffering," he added.

"Dying" was the word," persisted Grosvenor.

"If we continue your policy over there, they will die," retorted Gaines. "I do not know anybody more liable to slay his thousands than the gentleman from Tennessee," remarked Grosvenor dryly. Again the house laughed.

Population Doubled.

Some one was discoursing in the senate upon the rapid growth of the territories seeking admission. He remarked that the population had doubled in a year. "Not so extraordinary," said Senator Dietrich. "A station was established on a line of railroad in our country some years ago. A man was sent there to take charge of it and was accompanied by his wife. They were the sole occupants of the place. Before they had been there a month twins were born. The real estate man who was selling lots in the town advertised that his town had doubled its population in thirty days."

Legislative Topics.

The majority of the house committee on judiciary has reported favorably the bill increasing the salaries of the justices of the supreme court and some other judges. Representatives Smith of Kentucky, Clayton of Alabama, De Armond of Missouri and Henry of Texas have made a minority report saying the salaries are high enough.

Senator Hoar has introduced a bill to restore American citizenship to any woman who by marriage with a foreigner has suspended or lost such citizenship, but she must return and live a year in this country before the certificate of citizenship can be granted. ARTHUR W. DUNN.

THE Mississippi Bubble

A NOVEL BY EMERSON HOUGH.

"Assuredly."

"Then, for the sake of precedent," said Law, "let me see. Well, then, I will take one gem, only one. Here, Henri, is the diamond which I brought with me when I came to Paris years ago. It was the sole jewel owned then by my brother and myself, though we had some what of gold between us, thanks to this same diamond. It was once my sole capital, in years gone by. Perhaps we may need a carriage through France, and this may serve to pay the hire of a vehicle from one of my late dukes or marquises. Or perhaps at least I may send this same stone across the channel to my brother Will, who has wisely gone to Scotland, or should have departed before this. So, very well, Henri, to oblige you I will take this single stone. Now, do you help yourself."

"Since monsieur limits himself to so little," said the Swiss, sturdily, "I shall not want more. This little pin will serve me, and I shall wear it long in memory of your many kindnesses."

Law rose to his feet and caught the good fellow by hand. "By heaven, I find you of good blood!" said he. "My friend, I thank you. And now put up the box. I shall not counsel you to take more than this. We shall leave the rest for those who will presently come to claim it."

"What! Are you, then, here?" he said, seeing the servant had disobeyed his instructions and was following those scores of servants, those hundreds of fawning nobles, those thousands of scowling souls who had but lately cringed before him, now accompanied the late master of France as he turned to leave the house in which he no longer held authority.

Without, but the door's thickness from where he stood, there arose a tumult of sound, shouts, cries, imprecations, entreaties, as though the walls of some asylum for the unfortunate had broken away and allowed its inmates to escape unrestrained, irremediable, impossible to control.

"Down with Jean L'as! Down with Jean L'as!" rose a cadenced, rhythmic shout, the accord of a mob of Paris shouting into its tones. And this steady burden was broken by the cries of "Ebert! Ebert! Break down the door! Kill the monster! Assassinate! Thief! Traitor!" No word of the vocabulary of scorn and loathing was wanting in their cries.

Hearing these cries, the face of this fighting man now grew hot with anger and now it paled with grief and sorrow. Yet he faltered not, but stepped on, confidently. The Swiss opened the door and stood at the head of the flight of stairs. Tall, calm, pale, fearless, John Law stood facing the angry mob, his eyes shining brightly. He laid his hand for an instant upon his sword, yet it was but to unhook the belt. The weapon he left leaning against the wall, and so stepped on down toward the crowd.

He was met by a rush of excited men and women, screaming, cursing, giving vent to inarticulate and indistinguishable speech. A man laid his hand upon his shoulder. Law caught the hand, and with a swift wrench of the wrist, threw the owner of it to the ground. At this the others gave back, and for half a moment silence ensued. The mob lacked just the touch of rage to hurl themselves upon him. He raised his hand and motioned them aside.

"Are you not Jean L'as?" cried one dame, excitedly, waving in his face a handful of the paper shares of the latest issue in the Company of the Indies. "Are you not Jean L'as? Tell me, then, where is my money for these things? What shall I get for this rotten paper?"

"You are Jean L'as, the director general!" cried a man, pushing up to his side. "Twas you that ruined the company. See! Here is all that I have!" He wept as he shook his bunch of paper in John Law's face. "I had a week I was worth half a million!" He wept and tore across with impotent rage the bundle of worthless paper.

"Down with Jean L'as! Down with Jean L'as!" came the recurrent cry. A rush followed. The carriage, towering above the ring of the surrounding crowd, showed its coat-of-arms, and this was recognized. A paving stone crashed through its heavy window. A knife ripped up the velvets of the cushions.

The coachman was pulled from his box. The horses, plunging with terror, were cut loose from the pole and led away. With shouts and cries of rage and busy zeal, one madman vied with another in tearing, cutting and destroying the vehicle, until it stood around him who had late been master of all France.

"What do you want, my friends, asked he, calmly, as for an instant there came a lull in the tumult. He stood looking at them curiously in his dulling eyes regarding them, though they presented some new and interesting study. "What is it that you desire?" he repeated.

"We want our money," cried a score of voices. "We want back that which you have stolen."

"You are not exact," replied Law, calmly. "I have not your money, yet yet have I stolen it. If you have suffered by this foolish panic, you do not mend matters by this wrong way. By heaven, you go mad! Out of the way, you cannibals! Do you think I frighten me? I made you all. Now, do you think I frighten me, John Law?"

BAD BLACKTAIL AND TWO HOUNDS

EXCITING HUNTING STORY TOLD BY RETURNED SPORTSMEN

Party of Eleven Enthusiastic Hunters Passes Through the City Last Evening on Way Home From a Trip to the Davis Mountains—Heavy Snow When They Left

"This isn't much like the country we've just left," said R. C. Graves of Clarksville, in the lobby of the Worth last evening, as he noticed the wide-open doors and saw a bellboy in shirt-sleeves hurrying past with a pitcher of ice water.

"Why, when we left the Davis mountains the snow was a foot deep everywhere. We've been out in Red River county hunting deer and bear. We got five blacktail and one black bear, but the country has been overestimated."

"Anything exciting while you were there?" asked the reporter.

"Not much, except one day a big buck had some fun with a couple of our hounds. The dogs were necked together, and they succeeded in having one of the biggest blacktail I ever saw. He must have weighed 250 pounds. One of the party succeeded in wounding him, and then he got vicious. He made a lunge for the dogs and got one of his horns-prongs under the collar of the nearest hound. Of course the other dog being chained to his companion went too, so the big deer went plunging down the mountain side, carrying the two hounds on his chain. We managed to follow and finally succeeded in killing him, but not until he had nearly finished two of our best dogs."

Hunting in Style

The members of the party which was in the city last night, were R. C. Graves of Clarksville, Vol. Dooley, Jim Bryant, Richard Jones and Bud Ward of Detroit, Joe Ward of Woodlawn, Ab Carter of Manchester, Clovis Graves of Boxville, Bob Cooper of Clarksville, Tom Cox of Clarksville and A. C. Igo of Clarksville. They left for the mountains Jan. 9, arriving at Kent on the Texas and Pacific, three days later. They took their own wagons, teams, and camping equipment, as well as two negro cooks. Once at Kent, they struck out across the country and spent nearly three weeks of the best kind of hunting.

The party left the city this morning.

Weather Conditions

The Rocky mountain storm which was over Utah and Wyoming yesterday morning, moved eastward and is over the lakes this morning, resulting in high winds, rain, sleet and snow. Clearing and colder weather is following in its wake; it is 14 below zero in the upper portions of the Mississippi and Missouri valleys, 20 degrees above in the middle west and plateau region, and the line of 30 degrees is well down into the Panhandle. The weather in the cotton belt is mostly cloudy and warm, with light scattered showers in the eastern portion.

The weather will likely continue generally fair in Fort Worth vicinity tonight and Friday; it will be considerably colder, but the change is not likely to be severe.

GEORGE REEDER, Official in Charge.

BENEVOLENT HOME PLANS ORGANIZATION

A meeting of the new board of directors of the Benevolent Home, appointed recently by the board of commissioners of Tarrant county, held a meeting yesterday afternoon at the office of Attorney George Q. McGowan, in the Scott-Harrod building. Those present were E. L. Huffman, H. P. Echols, K. M. Van Zandt, W. C. Cook, George Q. McGowan, Rev. I. Z. T. Morris and the secretary, A. W. Samuels. These gentlemen elected George T. Reynolds and S. H. Cochran to the directorate, but permanent organization of the new governing body was deferred until next Tuesday afternoon at the same hour, when the board will again meet at Mr. McGowan's office.

Matters relating to the future of the home were informally discussed and it was decided to establish a room in the home where destitute women with children, who are temporarily out of employment, may be accommodated.

An auditing committee was appointed, consisting of H. B. Francis, E. L. Huffman and H. P. Echols, who will examine the books of the secretary and treasurer and report at the next meeting. Secretary Samuels will at that time submit an itemized statement of the income and expenses for the year.

The number of children who can be comfortably accommodated at the home is about forty, though as many as sixty have been quartered there. At present twenty-nine boys and girls are enjoying its hospitality.

A MORNING'S WORK IN CORPORATION COURT

She was black as a Zulu maiden, and her darkness so melted into the dusky hues of her dress and shawl that from across the dimly-lighted court room one could scarcely tell where face ended and dress began.

"It could only be seen that she appeared to be asleep. At intervals she would wake up and give vent to a well-developed sob, just to let the other prisoners know she had troubles of her own."

"They say you've been sleeping in a public place, Viola," said the court not unkindly, when she had been wakened up and had been led in front of the bench. "Where were you sleeping?"

"Front and Houston streets," admitted Viola.

"What? Both at once?" exclaimed the court. "Impossible. Tell me about it, officer."

"She was sleeping in front of a bay shed on Houston street," said the officer. "That's all she was doing. At least all I know about."

"One dollar and costs," said the court, and Viola promptly went to sleep again.

Were Anxious to Fight

One was named Sadie and the other Lucinda. Both were by no means delicate in appearance, so when the clerk read the charge of affray, the court looked both carefully over to see if there were any tangle results of the conflict.

Sadie wore a blue gingham skirt, a raglan and a blue fascinator. Lucinda was gowned in a red and white figured calico, a short jacket and a white fascinator. According to the stories of eye-witnesses, when the red, blue, white and pink got together there was such a color mixture it looked like a yellow cyclone.

Both plead guilty and each were fined $2 and costs.

"They tried to fight even after I'd arrested them," said the officer in regard to the difficulty, after the fines had been assessed.

"I wish I'd known that sooner," said the court. "You're getting off very easy, girls."

Found Trouble in Plenty

He was so tall that he loomed up above the other prisoners in the dock like the Texas and Pacific station clock tower above the rest of the building. When arrested, he said his name was Jack Sorrow. He was charged with abusive language and also with sleeping in a public place.

Whether or not he had been talking in his sleep was not brought on in the testimony, for after thinking it over solemnly, he pleaded guilty to both charges and was fined $5 and costs on one charge and $1 and costs on the other. Both fines and the costs will amount to over $20, which, freely translated, means "forty days."

that will stop the thing till about October."

Dr. J. B. Cranfill, nominee for vice president of the United States on the prohibition ticket in the campaign of 1892, stated last night that he believed the cause of prohibition was worth a vote on any occasion. He said:

"While I consider this election in Dallas county rather premature and will not take the stump against the liquor traffic, yet I shall cast my ballot on Feb. 17 and believe that all other prohibitionists throughout the county should do likewise. I am of the opinion that Dallas county stands a better chance of going 'dry' than I did of getting elected when my name appeared on the national ticket."

A LOCAL OPTION BATTLE AT DALLAS

DOCTOR CRANFILL SAYS THE COUNTY HAS CHANCE OF GOING "DRY"

(Special to The Telegram.) DALLAS, Tex., Jan. 29.—J. H. Webster, leader of the local prohibition movement, said today:

"The local option campaign is moving on nicely, and in a quiet way the people seem to be getting ready for the next election day. Some of our prohibition friends claim they are not ready for the election, that the calling of the same was inopportune. In order that they may get ready we have decided to arrange for another election on about the last of May, 1903. We offer this to relieve the brethren who have gone off at a 2-40 gal, with hair disheveled, crying, 'Stop! Stop the thing!' Again, they cry, 'Webster has flushed the game and ruined the cause of prohibition throughout Texas.' Just as soon as we can overtake these good men in their flight we shall offer reconciliation by asking them to sign another petition for a prohibition election in Dallas county, covering all the county except South Park district. If I possess any distinct trait of character it is that of fairness. Hence I intend to see that the 'pro' who cries 'Stop! Stop!' 'Inopportune! Oh, do stop the thing!' shall have time to load his guns and get ready, and thus be prepared to shoot the thing next May. With me, there is nothing settled till the right, and about the only thing that will prevent the May election from being pulled off on time will be a majority vote for prohibition on the 17th of February, and probably

WAR DEPARTMENT IS INQUIRING

WANTS TO KNOW ABOUT THE REMAINS OF LATE MAJ. ARNOLD

Steps Once Taken to Suitably Mark Last Resting Place of Founder of Fort Worth, but Matter Has Been Neglected for More Than a Year. Something Must Be Done

Unless the city of Fort Worth takes some immediate action relative to a suitable memorial to the late Major Ripley A. Arnold and accord to his remains more honor than they now are shown the war department has given notice that the ashes of the distinguished soldier will be removed from an almost unmarked grave in the city cemetery and taken to the national cemetery at San Antonio.

The matter was agitated about a year ago and at that time, urged by inquiries from the war department, a promise was made to accord some honor to Major Arnold's ashes, but the matter was allowed to pass by apparently, as nothing visible has resulted. Recently the war department has again begun correspondence relative to the matter and some satisfactory answer must be made or the war department's intention will be carried out.

Founded the City

The story of Major Arnold and what he did for Fort Worth is familiar, yet seems to be regarded with little importance.

A United States post was established here in 1848 and Major Ripley A. Arnold was placed in command. In honor of his commander in the Mexican war Major Arnold named the post Fort Worth. Major Arnold superintended the building of the first house erected here and occupied it when it was completed. Colonel Abe Harris of this city helped in the building. Major Arnold remained here three years. In 1854 he was killed by an insane seaman at Fort Graham and at his own request his body was brought back to Fort Worth for burial. It has lain for nearly fifty years with not even a simple stone to mark the grave. The war department has expressed a desire to remove the remains to San Antonio and there reinter them with suitable military honors, but the protest of Fort Worth citizens, coupled with the promise to suitably reinter Major Arnold's remains, caused the war department to consent to their being left here.

Dames of 1846

The movement for suitably marking the grave of Major Arnold has been in charge of the Dames of 1846, who, in 1891, brought the matter before the public so strongly that it was taken up in the city council. It was suggested at that time that the triangular park near the postoffice would be a good place to reinter the body and to erect a monument.

The Dames of 1846 secured permission of the county commissioners to reinter the body in the courthouse lawn and a movement was started to raise the funds for erecting a monument, but it has never amounted to anything.

Must Be Done Soon

The war department is not content to let the neglect of the body of Fort Worth's founder rest with the city, because of the distinguished gallantry of the soldier who was brevetted major while serving as a captain in the Mexican war.

Major Arnold's services to the early settlers in this vicinity can hardly be estimated and but for his work Fort Worth might never have existed. If any steps are to be taken by the city or by citizens to atone for the neglect that has been made of Major Arnold's remains, they must be made soon for the war department will not accept any promises from the city a second time.

Those present at the meeting were Milton Player, who presided; J. L. Corbett, the secretary, and the following other representatives of roads: J. W. Hogsett, joint car inspector, Fort Worth; J. W. Addis, Texas and Pacific, Marshall; T. J. Barton, Houston and Texas Central, Fort Worth; John Doyle, Katy, Denton; George W. Deat, Texas and Pacific, Fort Worth; J. T. Several officials prominently identified with the equipment of the Texas and Pacific railroad are in the city today, including W. D. Mitten of Marshall, master car builder, and J. Patton of Big Springs, master mechanic. J. W. Addis, general superintendent of rolling stock and machinery, with headquarters at Marshall, was here for a short time last evening. Plans for the betterment of the car service were discussed.

FLORODORA ACCEPTABLY GIVEN

Performance Pleases, But Arouses No Particular Enthusiasm

No musical extravaganza or comic opera of the season has displayed so elaborate or beautiful scenery as was shown last evening in the presentation of "Florodora." An excellent "sex-tette" and good players for the leading roles were the other strong features of the production.

Of the ladies of the cast, Isadore Rush as Lady Holyrood, and Miss Grace Hazard as Angela Gilman, were both well chosen, each winning encores at their every appearance. "Corinne," who is familiar to nearly every theatergoer of recent years, took the part of Dolores acceptably.

Among the men, Alf O. Wheelan as Anthony Tweedepunch, proved to be a far better impersonator than an original comedian. His impersonations as leader of a chorus and as a drunk man were very well done, and were greatly enjoyed by the audience.

Alfred Cahill as Leandro seemed to get little credit from the crowd for his work, which was much above the average.

Chiefest of "Florodora's" charms are its songs, and of these, "Under the Shade of Palms," sung by "Abercree," was very pretty. "Tell Me Pretty Maiden" brought repeated encores, and the songs of Isadore Rush and Grace Hazard were also good for recalls.

The performance could suffer nothing by comparison with other productions by former companies.

Two Splendid Artists in a Great Play

A play that is unique in plot and construction, full of life and action and containing scenes that arouse the best emotions, will be found in "Sherlock Holmes." This remarkable play, which was the sensation for many months both in New York and London, will be seen at Greenwall's opera house Monday night, Feb. 2, with Herbert Kelcey and Miss Effie Shannon in the leading roles, supported by a company of players of national reputation.

Mr. Daniel W. Arthur, who is directing the tour, has made the production one of the most elaborate and expensive now on the road, carrying four expert electricians and an entire electric lighting plant, besides many other novel scenic effects. That Mr. Kelcey and Miss Shannon will be greeted by one of the largest and most fashionable audiences of the year already is assured.

THEY MUST SHIP ONLY FAT STOCK

THIS, IT IS URGED, IS ONLY SOLUTION FOR THE SOUTH TEXAS PROBLEM

Claridge's Stock Farmer: In the matter of cattle quarantine, it has always been a difficult matter to decide where fairness ends and selfishness begins on both sides of the line. There be those above the line who would, had they the power, establish perpetual quarantine against south Texas cattle, while there be those below the line who would make the open season continuous. It was hoped by fair-minded people that a short winter open season would settle the matter, but it seems not, as it is claimed that South Texas ticks are dangerous any time of the year. Only a few days ago Judge Brockenbrow of Brewster county, who has no interest in the matter, which should bias him, if he could be biased, by self interest, told a Stock Farmer representative that he had suffered severe loss by pasturing cattle from south Texas brought to his pasture in the dead of winter. The question will, perhaps, never be settled till the south Texas people ship only fat cattle. That is the logical and only practical solution of the quarantine question.

The way to do it is to improve the pastures by every means possible, have not so many, and better cattle, grow dry weather feed crops for them, and give them the care which they can afford to give to that class of cattle. Reminds the writer that a La Salle county ranchman told him the other day that he even failed on sugar cane this year, and finally admitted that some years he can grow feed world without end, and that it keeps good for years.

Anyhow, it is like the story the fellow told about seeing the wolf climb a tree. He was told that a wolf can't climb a tree, and exclaimed: "I tell you it had to climb; the dogs were about to nail him!"

There will soon be no territory into which to dump our wobbly legged cattle. The quarantines are making more trouble every year, and we see nothing that the south Texas cattlemen can do but to make himself independent along the line so long pointed out by the Stock Farmer. In other words, they have got to the point where they "have to climb."

RESIGNATION OF DR. LEWIS

Leaves His Duties as Inspector for State Live Stock Sanitary Board

COLORADO, Tex., Jan. 29.—Dr. W. K. Lewis, inspector at this point for the state live stock sanitary board, and state supervisor of quarantine lines, has tendered his resignation to the board and it was promptly accepted. Dr. Lewis says the object of his resignation was in order to obtain time to look after his private business affairs, which are greatly in need of his personal attention.

Dr. W. K. Lewis has been connected with the sanitary board in the enforcement of its quarantine rules and regulations for the past six years, and has made many warm friends throughout west Texas who will learn of his retirement with much regret, says the West Texas Stockman. He has been faithful and conscientious in the discharge of every duty, and has handled the work of a very trying position with such tact and ability as to inspire confidence and esteem in the hearts of all who had business dealings with him.

Mr. T. H. Benson, of Quanah, has been appointed to succeed Dr. Lewis and has arrived here and assumed the duties of the position. Mr. Benson has the reputation of being a pleasant and reliable gentleman, and as such will receive a cordial welcome to west Texas and Colorado. Dr. Lewis will be greatly missed in the field where he has so long been actively at work.

WHEN THE MILLENIUM COMES

A Beautiful Picture of What West Texas Will Be Then

West Texas Stockman: With the quarantine line abolished, the lease law retired from business, all leases summarily cancelled and the public lands of the state presented to the man who could cover them the quickest west Texas would become the idyllic spot in the dreams of the man to whom Texas owes a home. There would be no more dry weather, no more burning winds from the southwest and no more crop failures. Mesquite trees would grow long staple cotton, fine corn would be plucked from the cactus, and waving whiskered wheat could be threshed from the sedge grass. The cowman and his pesky white-faced and shorthorned cattle is all that stands between the hungry homeseeker and the doors of Eden, and surely the legislature now in session at Austin will see and appreciate its opportunity.

Best Rain in Years

Speaking of the recent heavy rains that fell all over Texas, the San Angelo Standard, referring to the counties in the southwest end of the state, says:

It was the best rain this country has had for years, and its good results are already being experienced. It means more for this country than can be told in the mere limits of a newspaper article; it means early and abundant grass, and grass means prosperity; it means prosperity for the stockmen, the farmers, the business men, the laborers, and for every interest in the west; even the newspaper man will come in for his share.

Cattle Are Wintering Well

Hereford Brand: The outlook for the ensuing year is prosperous. Cattle are wintering well, stockmen have plenty of feed, farmers have a good season in the ground, merchants are thereby assured of a good business, which will enable them to contribute liberally to any cause which is calculated to build up the town and county. Do you not want to reside in a community of this sort?

Sensible and Timely Suggestion

Amarillo Champion: Let every cowman above or below the line, who is in favor of utilizing the experience and assembled wisdom of a generation of those who have carefully studied the conditions incident to spenic fever, let every one, we say, write to his representative and induce him to use his best efforts in the present session of the legislature to preserve the integrity of our present quarantine regulations. Holdings in north and west Texas to the value of millions, depend upon the action of our lawmakers in regard to this matter.

OAK CLIFF TO BE WITHOUT INSURANCE PROTECTION

(Special to The Telegram.)

OAK CLIFF, Tex., Jan. 29.—There is considerable feeling and concern being felt over the action of some of the insurance companies in notifying their policy holders that they would have to look elsewhere for protection, as they have been instructed by the general office to withdraw all business from Oak Cliff. Several Oak Cliff citizens have received a notice of this kind and it is reported that several other companies are going to follow the action of the companies now withdrawing.

There are some who are charging this to the annexationists, claiming that they are doing it, or having it done, for the purpose of carrying their point. But the more conservative ones are looking at it in a different light, as it is not reasonable that the local agents would or could do anything of this kind without giving notice to the general office. Besides, they would be hurting their local business, and it is not reasonable that those who are not interested in the annexation of two towns would lose their business for a matter of this kind.

A FORMER BEAUTY NOW HOPELESS DRUNKARD

SISTER OF MINISTER BOWEN'S WIFE, ONCE REIGNING SOUTHERN BELLE

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—On the day that Mrs. Herbert Bowen, wife of the brilliant young diplomat whose skill in handling the Venezuelan episode has brought him international fame, was being honored by the ladies of the cabinet circle her unfortunate sister, Mrs. Anna Clegg Taylor, was sentenced in the Harlem court to six months in the Magdalen home. The woman time to time an habitual drunkard, and her commitment was at the intercession of a relative, who wished to keep her from a life on the streets.

Mrs. Taylor, despite her dissipation, retains traces of her former striking beauty and her well-bred air has not altogether deserted her. She begged pitiously not to be sent away to the corrective institution, and in her hysteria betrayed her relationship to Carolyn Bowen, the diplomat's wife.

After a visit to the New Orleans Mardi Gras, where her striking beauty made a sensation even in that city of beautiful women, Miss Anna Clegg married a wealthy cattle owner named Wood.

They were not congenial, and after a little while Mrs. Wood secured a divorce. She then married Thomas Taylor, a cotton magnate of Galveston.

It was at the Hotel Imperial that the fascination for drink took hold on Mrs. Taylor. At one time she made an exhibition of herself in the dining-room that would have resulted in her exclusion from the house but for the kindly feeling of the management for her husband.

Her spree became so frequent that her husband was forced to take her from the hotel and later he had to leave her.

Finally Mr. Taylor secured a divorce, which the wife did not oppose. An allowance was made for her voluntarily, but it has been withdrawn recently on account of Mrs. Taylor's many public escapades.

LAND IS MAKING ALONG THE BEACH

GALVESTON COAST LINE ASSUMING FORMER CONDITION, AIDED BY NATURE

(Special to The Telegram.)

GALVESTON, Tex., Jan. 29.—Immediately after the great storm of Sept. 8, 1900, the beach of Galveston island presented the most forlorn picture possible to imagine. It had to all appearances been utterly destroyed. The waves had caused great erosion, and where there had been dry land there was several feet of water. The forces of nature, however, set to work to restore what they had taken away, and for the past two years the land along the gulf shore has been gradually making up until at the present the beach is gradually being restored to its old position. Although at some points the shore line has not yet reached the point it occupied in former years, still there is now at ordinary tides a broad, smooth beach unexcelled for walking or driving. The land is rapidly making at the east end of the island in the neighborhood of the south jetty, and now only a shallow inlet separates Port San Jacinto from the main portion of the island. In front of Port Crockett in the Denver resurvey the land is also being restored by natural forces, and there is now a good beach between the fortifications and the waters of the gulf. It is confidently expected that within a few years all the land—and possibly more—cut away by the action of the gulf waters will have been restored.

A TEXAS NEGRESS WHO IS NOW 110 YEARS OLD

PARIS, Tex., Jan. 29.—There is an old negro woman named Nancy Young, living in Tudor Grove, near the old canning factory, who is said to be considerably more than a hundred years old. She makes her home with her daughter, Jennie Shelton.

There seems to be pretty good authority for the claim, however, that Aunt Nancy is more than a hundred years old. Citizens of Paris have known her for many years, and she was an old woman then. It is claimed that she is 110 years old.

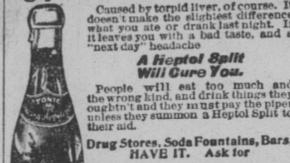

In slavery times she was owned by the father of Dan Waggoner, the millionaire cattleman of Decatur, Tex., who died a few months ago in Colorado. A short time before his death Mr. Waggoner wrote a letter about Aunt Nancy in which he reckoned her age at about 110 years.

JAPS HAVE ARRIVED TO WORK ON RICE PLANTATIONS

Nine of Them Come Direct From Their Native Land and Their Families Are to Follow

(Special to The Telegram.)

HOUSTON, Tex., Jan. 29.—Nine Japanese have arrived in Houston direct from their native land, by way of San Francisco. Under the charge of Ross L. Clark they proceeded to Port Lavaca, there to engage in the cultivation of seed rice and vegetables on the immense estate of the planter.

The families of the nine Japs will shortly follow them, and when the colony is complete will be composed of about twenty-five people. They are the first of that nationality to come to Texas for the purpose of engaging in agriculture. Their labor is skilled.

One hundred acres of land have been set apart for them and upon it they will grow truck. The rest of the immense estate will be devoted to the growing of the finest quality of rice. A reservoir covering 2,000 acres and twenty feet in depth has been constructed on the plantation to hold the water supply.

Quarters for the expert laborers of Japan have already been constructed and the work will be commenced at once. Their specialty will be the raising of seed rice.

Letters from Women

Cured by the use of Kodol are received daily. Their troubles nearly all begin with indigestion or other stomach disorder. If the food you eat fails to give strength to your body, it is because the juices secreted by the stomach and digestive organs are inadequate to transform the nutrient properties of the food into blood. That is indigestion. The system is deprived of the amount of nourishment required to keep up the strength, and the result is that one or more of the delicate organs gradually grows weak, and then weaker, until finally it is diseased. Here a great mistake is made. That of treating the diseased organ. The best doctors in the land make this very mistake. Why should they? It is so easy to see that the trouble is not there.

Kodol Cures

This famous remedy puts the stomach and digestive organs in a healthy condition so that rich, red blood is sent coursing through the veins and arteries of every muscle, tissue and fiber throughout every organ of the entire body, and by Nature's law of health, full strength and vigor is soon restored to each. Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders.

I have taken Kodol for nearly two months after each meal and it is the only remedy that gave relief from the terrible pains I endure. After a time I would take it but once a day, and now, while I keep a bottle handy I seldom need it, as it has cured me. Mrs. J. W. COOLBAUGH, Milo Center, N. Y.

BILL FRAMED FOR THE CATTLE ROPERS

PROSPECT THAT THE LEGISLATURE WILL INTERFERE WITH THIS INTERESTING SPORT

(Special to The Telegram.) AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 29.—It is quite probable that a bill will be introduced in the house within a few days to prohibit cattle roping contests. It is said that not only is the Humane society desirous that such a measure be passed, but that the cattlemen also want it.

It is said that in order to accomplish the roping and tying of steers in the shortest time, the contestants throw the animals hard, so as to stun them and render them incapable of resistance. Sometimes the hard fall knocks the breath out of the animals, or breaks their backs or shoulders. It is claimed by the Humane society people that the contests are more brutal than bull fighting.

The cattlemen desire legislation upon the subject, because it is said that young men who desire to compete in the roping contests go out upon the range and practice upon the herds, killing many animals. In quite a number of instances there have been indictments for offenses of this character, but as it is impossible to detect the culprits in many instances, the prohibition of the contests which give rise to the cruelties perpetrated on the great plains is sought.

THE NATIONAL COMPACT

Details of Printing Trades Agreement Ratified

Indianapolis, Jan. 29.—At the session of the national conference of representatives of the printing trades of the United States the final details of the national compact which has been entered into were arranged. A joint board of appeals will be organized, which will probably consist of the presidents of the International Typographical union, of the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants' union, of the International Brotherhood of Bookbinders and of the International Stereotypers and Electrotypers' union.

Under the new agreement, which takes place of the old tripartite agreement which was abrogated at the Birmingham convention last year, each of the organizations will maintain an individual existence, but all disputes which may arise concerning the use of the union label or sympathetic strikes will be referred to the board of appeals. No organization is bound to enter upon a sympathetic strike unless called upon to do so by the executive board of its organization. The board of appeals has no power to call a strike.

In all matters of dispute submitted to the board of appeals the International Typographical union will have three votes, the Stereotypers and Electrotypers' union one vote and the Pressmen and Assistants' Union one vote.

KLEBERG WANTS NO LIVESTOCK LAWS

SAYS THE PRESENT REGULATIONS ARE BEST FOR CATTLE INTERESTS

(Special to The Telegram.) AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 28.—"If the live stock interests of Texas are to be consulted this legislature will kill every measure bearing on the subject that is now before them." Thus spoke Chairman Kleberg of the Texas live stock sanitary commission yesterday morning.

During the past week or ten days there have been several bills introduced in both houses touching upon the live stock industry of Texas, defining new lines governing the movement of cattle and the like, and all of them are objectionable to the live stock sanitary commission, as the representatives of the live stock interests of the state. Chairman Kleberg stated yesterday that this was a subject that should not be legislated upon at present. That it is for the best interests of the state and its live stock trade that the commission be let entirely alone just as it stood. All that they wanted was some money to operate on and the law as it now stands. His argument was that any legislation at present at the hands of the Texas legislature would be attended with more harm than good. He presented the proposition that no law governing Texas could effect the situation in Kansas and if our legislature was to pass an emphatic utterance as to what could be done with Texas cattle in the matter of passing over "the line," Kansas, Illinois and other market states for Texas cattle might offer strenuous objections and reject Texas cattle entirely. That the plan now in operation was decidedly the best. He said that the commissions of the various states held a meeting once a year, which was attended by a representative from the United States department of agriculture and live stock, and that said meeting formulated rules and regulations covering the entire situation. That they were in a position to make these rules and regulations and they were fair alike to one and all. That the Texas legislature could not pass a law that would apply all over the cattle district, and it would undoubtedly rebound to the undoing of Texas cattle interests if it marked in any particular of dictation. In order to be on the safe side, therefore, Mr. Kleberg is of the opinion that all legislation upon live stock interests should cease, the live stock commission should be given sufficient money to operate on and then let alone. He contends further that conditions are not always the same, and, therefore, the commission should not be handicapped with laws that are arbitrary and leaves them no discretion in the premises. Mr. Kleberg is accompanied by his colleague, Mr. Moore, also of the commission, and they are here to protest against any legislation upon the live stock interests for the reasons outlined above.

A REBUILT LAWYER

Food That Put Him Right

It is easy to correct the bad effect of wrong eating if one will give it a little thought. Scientific food is just as pleasant to the palate, and in the case of Grape-Nuts is more delicious than improper food and it makes a world of difference in health and spirits. "Some three months ago," writes Mr. E. L. Saunders of Boston, Mass., "I suffered terribly with indigestion, all kinds of food distressed me; sometimes I had a feeling of suffocation about the heart, especially at night. My sleep was broken and I lost flesh rapidly. "I commenced using Grape-Nuts and the relief from indigestion was almost immediate, and in a short time entirely disappeared. My heart resumed its normal condition, and I attribute the cure entirely to Grape-Nuts. "A well-known lawyer of this city told me that he suffered from excessive nervousness, and before entering the courtroom to try a case was obliged to resort to stimulants. I urged him to try Grape-Nuts, which he did with almost marvelous results; he not only gained flesh, but the nervousness left and his former strength and confidence returned. "I am convinced that Grape-Nuts gives strength to the body and vigor to the brain. It is worthy of the highest praise and I will cheerfully answer all letters seeking information in regard to the food." Remember Grape-Nuts food is most emphatically not a medicated food in any sense of the term; it is made of wheat and barley by scientific processes and the only reason it helps cure people is that they quit improper food and take a food in which the strong brain and nerve building elements of Nature's grains are preserved and presented to the digestive machinery in a form that can be quietly and surely digested,

BIG BATTLESHIPS COMING TO TEXAS

GALVESTON EXPECTS TO ENTERTAIN NORTH ATLANTIC SQUADRON

(Special to The Telegram.) GALVESTON, Tex., Jan. 29.—A few of the battle ships of the north Atlantic squadron are expected to arrive off Galveston Feb. 18, and the question which is now worrying the Business League of Galveston is the rate of transportation boatmen will charge to convey people to and from the battleships.

If the boat owners of Galveston insist on a 50-cent rate, it is feared that the railroads will retaliate by refusing to put on a sufficiently low rate to induce people to come to Galveston. The railroads will not do any advertising of the coming of the squadron until the question of rates to and from the battleships is definitely adjusted.

BUILDING SUMMER HOMES

That Is Getting to Be a Great Fad Among Wealthier Classes

(Special to The Telegram.) WACO, Tex., Jan. 29.—The building of country or summer homes by the wealthier classes of Waco is getting to be something of a fad, and announcements of this character come with a good deal of regularity now.

The latest summer home to be announced is that of Mr. and Mrs. William Waldo Cameron, the latter the son of the late lumber king, William Cameron.

The summer home will be located west of north of the city, on the road to Bosqueville, and the location is an ideal one, having been carefully selected.

Work begins at once. The home will be on the old colonial style, with large pillars, wide galleries, and an air of roominess and comfort, combined with all the modern accessories, the whole to be set off by spacious grounds.

There will be bowling alleys, golf links, etc., and the society folk are already picturing the good times which will be had in this summer home when completed.

Immense reserves guarantee the indefinite continuance of this quality.

TEXAS FRUIT ORCHARDS

Backwardness of the Trees Among Well for a Large Yield

(Special to The Telegram.) WACO, Tex., Jan. 29.—Mr. C. Faulkner of this city, who is one of the largest individual fruit growers in the southwest, was asked if there was anything as to possibilities in the fruit line which were definite enough to discuss.

"It is most too early to speculate on the matter," said Mr. Faulkner, "but the trees are not making much effort to put out, which is a good indication as far as it goes. The cool nights have contributed to bring this about, as it has checked the circulation of the sap. At one time before Christmas there was more tendency to forwardness than is now observable. Of course, however, the critical time is yet ahead of us. We have had three or four very good fruit years and it will be unusual if this is a good year."

"I find that people are using more fruit than ever before, and customers who were formerly insignificant now buy many times the quantity consumed a few years ago. The local demand is getting much heavier and the black land belt consumes large lots of fruit. I used to ship north, but what with the demand in the black belt and the rapid settlement of the coast country, I rarely ship to Chicago and such points."
