GREAT SUFFERING IN THE SOUTH ATLANTIC STATES

COLD WAVE OF UTMOST SEVERITY FOLLOWS YESTERDAY'S STORM

HEAVY WINDS BLOW

IN SEVERAL LOCALITIES THEY REACH THE PROPORTIONS OF A TORNADO

PEOPLE KILLED AND INJURED

Great Damage Is Done to Live Stock, but It Is Not Thought the Florida Fruit Crop Is Killed—Large Part of the Town of Bowman, on the Southern Railway, Blown Away—Wind Sixty Miles an Hour

(By Associated Press.) MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 17.—Following yesterday's storm of rain, sleet and snow, which prevailed over the southern states, a cold wave bringing the severest weather of winter holds the South Atlantic and gulf states in its grasp today. The sudden drop in temperature throughout the storm-visited area last night was accompanied by high winds, which caused serious damage in many places to property and was responsible for reported loss of life.

A windstorm in Atlanta, Ga., during the night reached a velocity of sixty miles an hour, breaking all records of the weather bureau. Other towns throughout Georgia had a heavy loss, caused by wind, which assumed the proportions of a blizzard in some communities.

At Bowman, a small station on the Southern railway, the greater portion of the town was blown away, several buildings being completely destroyed. General storms in that section have crippled all telegraphic communication so that the loss of life and property cannot be estimated.

At Macon a windstorm that reached the proportions of a hurricane damaged the telegraph lines, and was blowing sixty miles an hour. A tornado at Hones Path, S. C., demolished several farmhouses and caused severe loss to stock raisers.

PEOPLE ARE KILLED Bert Austin and Ed McGhee were killed by falling walls and A. C. Stone and Edgar McDonald were seriously if not fatally hurt.

Severe windstorms visited Florida, but communication is uncertain. It is said that the fruit crop of Florida escaped serious injury.

Tennessee, Alabama and Kentucky report the lowest temperatures of the season. Trains are delayed in every direction on account of yesterday's storm.

NEW YORK GETS OFF LIGHTLY (By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—The blizzard of last night left New York in better shape than was expected today. The predicted drop in temperature did not occur. Up to 9 o'clock this morning the total snowfall was nearly ten inches, by far the heaviest of the season.

At Boston the worst storm of the winter raged. Snow is falling today. Railroad and street car service is badly hampered.

Several trans-Atlantic steamers are overdue here.

Chicago is shivering today with the coldest weather of the season. The thermometer registered last night from 15 to 19 degrees below zero. The intense cold has practically cut off that city from the world this morning.

Buffalo reports zero weather, while New York state points report ten inches of snow, with intensely cold weather.

COLORADO CALLS IT SEVERE (By Associated Press.) DENVER, Col., Feb. 17.—The most severe snow and wind storm experienced in years prevails in South Park, on the Gunnison and Leadville branches of the Colorado and Southern railroad. The Leadville branch is snowbound between Como and Breckenridge for distances of thirty miles. Passenger trains are stalled in drifts between these points. Unprotected live stock throughout the Park is reported to be suffering terribly.

ONE ABOVE AT LOUISVILLE (By Associated Press.) LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 17.—Following thirty-six hours of rain and a half day's record-breaking snowfall, Louisville this morning experienced the coldest weather of the winter. The temperature is 1 degree above zero.

COLDER AT SAN ANTONIO (Special to The Telegram.) SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Feb. 17.—It is colder this morning than yesterday. The mercury dropped to 19.8 degrees.

ONE MAN FROZEN AT EL PASO (Special to The Telegram.) EL PASO, Texas, Feb. 17.—Last night was the coldest of the season and there was ice on the street puddles this morning that would bear a man's weight. The recent rains have put water in the Rio Grande and skating is possible this morning for the first time in a dozen years or more. Snow is still plentifully in evidence.

Billy Garbanson, a hack driver, was frozen to death last night as the result of the extreme cold. There is a shortage of coal and many large buildings are without steam.

An Important Announcement for Telegram Readers and Advertisers

THE TELEGRAM announces today a change in one of its customs that marks a big step in its progress toward a position in the first rank of American newspapers. No advertisements will hereafter appear on the front page of the paper. This space is to be given over entirely to news.

Since time immemorial in southern cities and particularly in Fort Worth, the first page of the newspapers has been recognized as the own particular property of the advertiser. A few of the most prominent of these allotted the best of it to themselves, leaving what was left, if there were any, for news matter.

Under this scheme news was always subordinated to advertising, and never appeared to advantage because of the haphazard way it had to be filled in, with no thought to arrangement until all the advertisements were nicely tucked away. Then the news was thrown in, whether important or not, as a filler.

Now, with all respect to the advertiser, without whom the modern newspaper could not exist, a fact that no one reckons on any more than the publisher, The Telegram believes that the news in a paper is paramount to all else. Of first importance is it to get it, and then equally important is it that it be placed attractively where it can be seen readily by the reader.

The people take a paper primarily and principally for the news, consequently they have the first call for consideration. As a paper pleases its readers, its circulation will grow, and as its circulation grows, so does its value to the advertiser. Therefore it will be seen that in the change announced today, The Telegram's advertisers will be indirectly benefited as much as the readers are directly.

If The Telegram had thought only for its present prosperity, it might be content to leave the advertisers occupying their present positions. But such a policy would be shortsighted in the extreme. For no one appreciates more than The Telegram's managers, what a magnificent field there is here in Fort Worth for an evening paper that is a newspaper, first, last and all the time.

There are 25,000 people within reach of this city that are waiting, simply waiting, for a newspaper that will reach them in the evening or the next morning with the day's market quotations and news of the world while they are fresh enough to be of value to them in their business. These people don't want an eight-page hodge-podge of miscellany, scant news and advertisements, all thrown together, as it were, with a pitch-fork; they want a clean-appearing, well-filled, modern, metropolitan newspaper.

Such a paper The Telegram purposes to be, and within the next two years it confidently expects to have all or nearly all of these 25,000 readers on its subscription list. It will give them because it is going after them; it will give them what they want. And when it gets them, it will give them and the paper's advertisers the kind of value for their money that no paper in the Southwest has hitherto been able to.

The Telegram makes this announcement only after mature consideration. It has felt that its first page advertisers, notably Parker-Lowe, G. Y. Smith, The Columbia and The Fair, might feel that in some way the paper was not appreciative of all the patronage given it in the past, a position decidedly unpleasant to be in. And were it not that it believes the proprietors of these progressive houses will be quick to appreciate the like progressiveness of this paper and the good that is sure to come to all concerned by the change, its reluctance in making it would be the greater.

But it had to come. Texas is too great an empire not to be entitled to the best, and its people are too intelligent not to know when they are not getting it. In The Telegram, within two years, they will have as good a paper as is published in Kansas City, Memphis, or any city in the Great Southwest.

KANSAS CITY PLATFORM WILL BE REAFFIRMED

SO SAYS W. J. BRYAN IN AN INTERVIEW THIS MORNING

SPINDLE TOP OIL AT $1

BEAUMONT, Texas, Feb. 17.—A reliable producer of oil, who controls the output of four wells on Spindle Top heights, stated that he stands ready to contract with any reliable consumer or combination of consumers to sell the output of his four wells for 80 cents a barrel during the life of the wells. It looks now like oil will be selling at $1 a barrel soon. If it does go to that price the consumers are going to quit using it for fuel. This it is admitted, is exactly what the Standard Oil company desires. If the consumer can be frightened away and scared so badly that he will not return to the use of oil, even though it fall back to a price at which he can well afford to use it, the Standard Oil company will have the producers at its mercy, and oil men know full well what that means. There is no denying that the Standard Oil company makes the price on oil, and it is claimed by those who should know that the by-products the Standard gets from crude oil makes the oil cost the Standard nothing. It would seem that the proper thing for the consumer to do now is to contract with producers for the output of their wells at the top price they can pay for crude for fuel purposes.

Another step in the commercial annexation of Canada is the taking by New Yorkers of 5,000 shares at $250 each in the Royal Bank of the Dominion.

BANKER WILL DINE 125 WIDOWS TONIGHT

AN UNIQUE CELEBRATION OF HIS 82ND BIRTHDAY — HE WILL BE ONLY MAN PRESENT

(Special to The Telegram.) SYRACUSE, N. Y., Feb. 17.—A. A. Howlett, the veteran bank president and business man and the original of David Harum, has completed arrangements for his dinner tonight in celebration of his eighty-second birthday. One hundred and twenty-five widows have been invited, but no man will be there save the host. Every widow whose husband Mr. Howlett has known has been asked. Mr. Howlett says: "Widows are too often left out of society. I've been in business ever since 1840 and I know a great many widows. There'll be widows from New York, Chicago, Oswego, Duluth and other places. And they'll all be prominent people. We won't have a man in the house in all its appropriateness. Mr. Howlett has engaged a ladies' orchestra, a woman caterer and waitresses.

CROKER IS AFRAID TO RETURN TO NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—According to a published statement Richard Croker has reconsidered his intention of coming to New York for a visit before 1904. A letter received at Tammany hall announced the postponement of his visit. It said that Croker had looked forward to a visit to New York this spring, and was sorry to have to alter his plans. "But," said the letter, "I know that any return of mine to New York before a campaign would be misconstrued by some and might be deliberately distorted as to motive by others. I do not wish to unwittingly harm the interests of the organization. So I have postponed my coming."

TOLSTOI'S RESURRECTION TO BE PRESENTED TONIGHT

(Special to The Telegram.) NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—The dramatic event of the week in the metropolis is the initial presentation tonight at the Victoria theater of Tolstoy's play, "The Resurrection." Preparations for the production have been making since last summer, and it is heralded as one of the most superb productions the American stage has seen in a long time. The large cast is headed by Blanche Walsh, who has the part of Maslova.

IT LOOKS BAD FOR THE CORONER'S JOB

As the result of the conference it was resolved to recommend such legislation as will abolish the office of coroner and distribute the duties to other city and county departments.

NO CHANGE POSSIBLE

NEW QUESTIONS ARISING SINCE 1900 WILL, OF COURSE, BE PROVIDED FOR

JUDGE PARKER'S CANDIDACY

Bryan Doesn't Care to Say Anything on This Subject, but States That the Man Who is Nominated Will Be Supported for What He Thinks and Not Because of the Locality Whence He Comes

(By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—William J. Bryan will go from here to Baltimore today, in an interview printed this morning he is quoted as answering the question: "What attitude will you take in the event of a candidate of the old school of democracy being named for president?" by saying: "I will not assume that there can be such a revolution in the party as would place the men who have been against it in control next year. 'The platform, in my opinion, will, in ever essential particular reaffirm the principles of the Kansas City platform. I firmly believe it will be along these lines, of course, covering the new additional questions that have arisen or may arise. I do not believe the platform of 1900 will be repudiated.' 'If an eastern man is nominated will you support him?' 'It depends on what he thinks, not where he is found.' 'Do you think the nomination of Judge Parker would be satisfactory?' 'I prefer not to say anything about Judge Parker now,' was the reply.

METHODISTS CHOOSE LOS ANGELES FOR CONFERENCE

(By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—The Methodist boom committee has decided that the next meeting place of the quadrennial conference of that body shall be Los Angeles, in May, 1904. Methodists in all countries, numbering over three millions, will be represented in the conference by 750 delegates. A member of the committee said that until just before a decision was reached all believed that the conference would meet in the east, but a bonus of $10,000 was offered by the California city and that decided the committee. The total cost of holding the conference, it is said will be nearly $100,000.

HE WANTED HIS SLAW WITHOUT ANY DRESSING

(Special to The Telegram.) BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Feb. 17.—Fred Herrick, a wealthy lumberman, was acquitted in the criminal court here, having appealed from a 1-cent fine imposed in the police court. Herrick went into the Morris cafe here several months ago and among other things ordered cold slaw without dressing. The slaw was served, but with dressing on it. He refused to pay for the slaw and an officer called and Herrick was arrested. He refused to make bond and laid in jail. A suit for personal damages is intimated.

SENATOR CHILTON SELLS HIS VALUABLE HOME

(Special to The Telegram.) TYLER, Texas, Feb. 17.—Ex-United States Senator Horace Chilton has sold his handsome home in South Tyler to J. Lipstade, the merchant, for $10,000 cash. The sale was perfected by Frank De Shong, a real estate man. Mr. Lipstade got the best bargain that has been offered in real estate in Tyler for several years, and this was only due to the fact that Mr. Chilton and family have removed to Beaumont and expect to make the Greasy city their future home. The Chilton home is strictly of southern design and plan, possessing the wide verandas and large columns. It is equipped with all modern conveniences.

MISS ROOSEVELT WILL DANCE TONIGHT AT NEW ORLEANS

HONDURAS HOLDS AMERICANS AS PRISONERS

PARTY OF TEN BUSINESS MEN ARE CAPTURED BY NATIVE SOLDIERS AND TREATED HARSHLY

(By Associated Press.) NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 17.—Charles Kuttler of Dubuque, Iowa, has arrived here from Puerto Cortez, Honduras, with the news that he and a party of ten businessmen of Cleveland, Ohio, and other cities had been held temporarily as prisoners of the government of Honduras.

The party was on an American schooner bound for the mouth of the Patuxa river to look after timber and fruit land investments. Off the north coast a Honduras iron clad gunboat stopped the schooner, put a number of sailors on board and searched the ship for contraband goods.

"While a band of soldier sailors were going through our clothes and others searching the schooner, a platoon from the gunboat stood on the deck of the boat with rifles leveled at us," Mr. Kuttler said. "We had to throw up our hands, and when the searching was over we were taken to Puerto Cortez as prisoners of war. We were finally released after experiencing many hardships."

The commander of the gunboat attempted to smooth the matter over by inviting Kuttler and his party to a luncheon at his plantation across the bay from Puerto Cortez. He also entertained them on board the warship.

PROHIBITION IS A LIVE ISSUE IN MISSISSIPPI

(By Associated Press.) JACKSON, Miss., Feb. 17.—Prohibition is to be a very live issue in the next state campaign, judging from the enthusiasm displayed at the state mass convention which began in Jackson today. Nearly every county in the state is represented, the delegates and visitors including many prominent prohibition and W. C. T. U. leaders. The convention will discuss plans for a vigorous campaign and also will memorialize the legislature to pass laws prohibiting the sale, manufacture or importation of alcoholic liquors for beverage purposes.

THE CZAR'S WILL IS THE UNKNOWN FACTOR IN THE EASTERN QUESTION

LONDON, Feb. 17.—The unknown factor in the eastern question is the czar's will. The arrest of Macedonian conspirators in Bulgaria is attributed to pressure from the Russian court, but there is no decisive proof that the movement for the emancipation of the Balkan peninsula, which received a great stimulus from the festivities at Shipka and Sofia last year, has been condemned in St. Petersburg. The principality of Bulgaria, which was created by the congress of Berlin, remains nominally a tributary state of the Turkish empire under European protection, and the ministers at Sofia are compelled to restrain the activities of the intrigues while the Russian and Austrian proposals for reform are under consideration by the powers. A premature outbreak of hostilities would create prejudice against the movement when the sultan has not been allowed an opportunity for complying with the reasonable demands of the powers. The Bulgarian ministry is probably acting on its own initiative in suppressing the recruiting of irregular bands of volunteers and in locking up the noisiest agitators, but it is not clear that either it or the Russian government has gone further to deprive the sultan of a plausible pretext for rejecting a pacific method of settling the Macedonian question.

CHEMICAL ANALYSIS

Reveals That "Pe-ru-na is Calculated to Tone up the System, Restore the Functions and Procure Health."

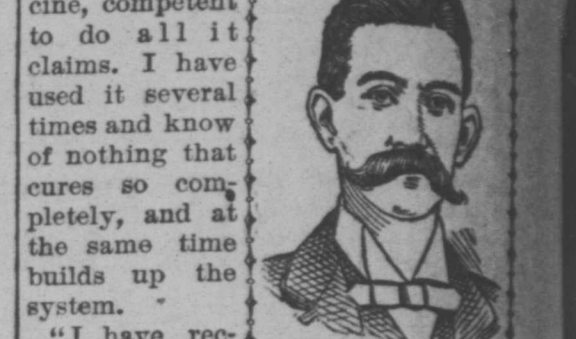

SO SAYS PROF. L. J. MILLER, CHEMIST.

Prof. L. J. Miller, late Professor of Chemistry and Botany of the High School of Ypsanti, Mich., writes from 3327 N. Clark Street, Chicago, Ill., as follows: "As several of my friends have spoken to me of the favorable results obtained through the use of Peruna, especially in cases of catarrh, I examined it most thoroughly to learn its contents."

DR. BELL'S PINE-TAR-HONEY. Is Guaranteed to Cure Coughs, Colds and LaGrippe. See that the Bell Trade Mark is on every bottle. There is none "Just as Good." ALL DRUGGISTS SELL IT IN 25c, 50c, AND $1.00 SIZES.

"Builds up the System." Hon. Joseph H. Ridgeway, Secretary of the American Anti-Treat Society, writes the following letter from the Grand Central Hotel, St. Paul, Minn.: "It is with great pleasure that I endorse Peruna as an honest medicine, competent to do all it claims. I have used it several times and know of nothing that cures so completely, and at the same time builds up the system."

"Feel Better Than for Five Years." Mr. James B. Taylor, Roberts, Ind., writes: "I am at the present time entirely well. I can eat anything I ever could. I took five bottles of Peruna, and feel better now than I have for five years. I have doctored with other doctors off and on for fifteen years, so I can recommend your medicine very highly for stomach troubles. I take great pleasure in thanking you for your free advice and Peruna."—James B. Taylor.

"I Enjoy my Meals as I Used to." Mr. J. W. Pritchard, Wolf Lake, Ind., writes: "I am pleased to say that I have been cured of catarrh of the stomach by Peruna. I could hardly eat anything that agreed with me. Before I would get half through my meal my stomach would fill with gas causing me much distress and unpleasant feelings for an hour or two after each meal. But, thanks to your Peruna, I am now completely cured, and can eat anything I want to without any of the distressing symptoms. I can now enjoy my meals as I used to, and it is all due to Dr. Hartman and his wonderful medicine, Peruna."

"It has been one year since I was cured, and I am all O. K. yet, so I know I am cured."—J. W. Pritchard.

Dyspepsia is a very common phase of summer catarrh. A remedy that will cure catarrh of one location will cure it anywhere. Peruna cures catarrh wherever located. That it is a prompt and permanent cure for catarrh of the stomach the above letters testify.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

INDIGNANT ABOUT MANUFACTURE OF DOLS

(By Associated Press.) PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 17.—Missionaries and ministers in this city are, it is said, annoyed over the announced contract entered into by a Philadelphia firm to ship Buddhist idols to Korea.

Mrs. W. H. H. Corlies, a returned missionary from China, said she was appalled at the idea that people in a Christian country could consent to manufacture idols for poor unenlightened heathens to worship.

Rev. Frederic Pool, also a returned missionary, said the affair showed the spirit of commercialism of the age and tended to put money-making above religious decency.

Bishop Cyrus D. Foss of the Methodist Episcopal church said he did not think it as bad as the British sending opium to India, or the United States sending beer and whiskey to the Philippines or other colonial possessions.

WILL START FOR THE ARCTICS AS SOON AS SUFFICIENT BACKING CAN BE ASSURED

(By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Robert E. Peary has announced his intention to, if possible, make another try for the north pole. Speaking of this to a correspondent he said:

"If I could obtain backing to the extent of $200,000 or $150,000 I should start again for the Arctic regions, and I am absolutely confident that with such backing I could reach the pole."

Supplementing Mr. Peary's statement, Dr. Frederick A. Cook said that, Peary Arctic Club is making every effort to raise the amount of money named, and has the hope that it will be able to fit out another expedition early in the spring.

TEXAS AND PACIFIC LINE TO THE COAST

President Gould of the Texas and Pacific is credited in El Paso, the western terminus of the road, with a determination to reach the Pacific coast, either by a traffic alliance, a purchase or construction.

The improvements now being made along the line and especially at the eastern end and in New Orleans are taken to indicate that President Gould's determination is to enter competition for Pacific coast business, which the Southern Pacific now controls.

It is pointed out that the Texas and Pacific is being ballasted and put in prime condition at all points and it is even rumored that there is an intention to double track the road from New Orleans to Shreveport.

New York dispatches say all New Jersey railroads will soon be compelled to place a third man on all engines of the mogul type pulling passenger trains. As a result of the agitation following the Jersey Central wreck at Westfield, a bill to this effect was introduced in the legislature and is expected to pass.

Railroad men say three men will be no better than one, arguing that a divided responsibility will not improve results.

Philip Baber and J. H. Bond of the auditing department of the Texas and Pacific are in the city checking up the local freight office.

L. Lisk of the Katy's auditing department is in the city.

One of the Denver's new consolidation freight engines arrived this morning and attracted considerable attention about the yards. Eleven of the kind have been ordered and will be the biggest in service on the Denver. Several of the six passenger engines bought have been received.

I. & G. N. WILL OPEN MARCH 15

The International and Great Northern will not begin operating trains between Fort Worth and Waco before March 15, according to the Waco Times-Herald.

Bad weather is given as the cause for the delay, since it has prevented the completion of the grade.

General Manager Leroy Trice will probably not be here when the line is opened, as he is said to be preparing to go to southern California for a month's rest.

He has been ill for several weeks from overwork. Dr. Jamieson and Mr. Trice's family will accompany him to California and remain with him there. Dr. Jamieson is chief surgeon of the International and Great Northern.

FOUR NEGROES IN THE WALDORF ASTORIA

SEAT THEMSELVES IN PALM ROOM AND CALL FOR DRINKS

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Four negroes, evidently looking for an insult or a discrimination on which to base a damage suit, made a tour of the Tenderloin in the afternoon, but met an expensive failure.

They proved, however, that negroes may be served at the very best hotels, including the Waldorf-Astoria, but they have to pay the price.

They first appeared in the Waldorf cafe, and as they seated themselves at a table all the white patrons departed.

They ordered a white waiter to bring them four whiskies, which the waiter quickly did, handing them a check for $3, or 75 cents for each drink. The regular price there is 20 cents.

One of the negroes, who said he was William H. Lewis, the Harvard football man, recently appointed an assistant district attorney for the United States in Boston, but who apparently was not, complained that the charge was excessive, but the waiter stood like a mummy and the negroes paid it and left the bar-room.

They walked through the corridors to the palm room, where a number of ladies were enjoying tea. As they seated themselves all the other patrons left the room.

They ordered four more whiskies, which were brought with a $3 check. After that they left the hotel, failing to be insulted, but being offensive to many others.

Then they went to the Imperial, where they ordered four Scotch highballs and were served in great haste and asked to pay a check for $2. This they paid and then went to the pink room, where there were a number of men and women.

The white people left the room at once and the negroes lit cigarettes and smoked awhile, and finding that the management was not disposed to insult them they left.

At the Marlborough the waiters would not wait on them, and as they threatened to make trouble with the three bartenders several southern patrons of the hotel stepped up to them and ordered them out of the place.

The order was so imperative that there was little dispute, and they departed without having any cause for action against the proprietors of the hotel.

GEORGE HUTCHISON KILLED IN CARLSBAD

FORMER FORT WORTH MAN MEETS DEATH IN STREET FIGHT

Trouble Was With Clabe Merchant, Who is Also Hurt—Hutchinson Ran Stock Yards Inn Here—Was Well Known Throughout City—Went to Carlsbad Four Years Ago

A special dispatch to The Telegram this morning says that George Hutchinson, formerly of Fort Worth, was killed in a street fight in Carlsbad, N. M.

Hutchinson left Fort Worth about four years ago. He lived here for many years and was well known. Just before going to Carlsbad he had charge of the Stock Yards Inn, in North Fort Worth, and prior to that worked for other hotels in the city. He was also in the employ of a newspaper for awhile.

The fight in Carlsbad was between him and Clabe Merchant. Merchant was badly hurt and Hutchinson was killed.

Hutchinson was about 65 years old, and so far as could be learned today has no relatives here.

HOUSTON, Texas, Feb. 17.—Charles Nix, well known in Galveston, was found unconscious on a seat last night and was carried to the police station on the charge of drunkenness.

REV. NEWELL DWIGHT HILLIS CALLS IT DAMNABLE HERESY

(By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—That we might be "saved from this new and damnable heresy that holds that this is a white man's country" was the prayer offered by Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis in Plymouth church, Brooklyn, Sunday night. The prayer was at the end of a sermon on "Lessons From the Birthday of Abraham Lincoln."

THOUSANDS HAVE KIDNEY TROUBLE AND DO NOT EVEN SUSPECT IT.

Do Not Neglect Your Kidneys, Because if Kidney Trouble is Permitted to Continue, Fatal Results Are Sure to Follow.

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly, your entire body is affected, and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

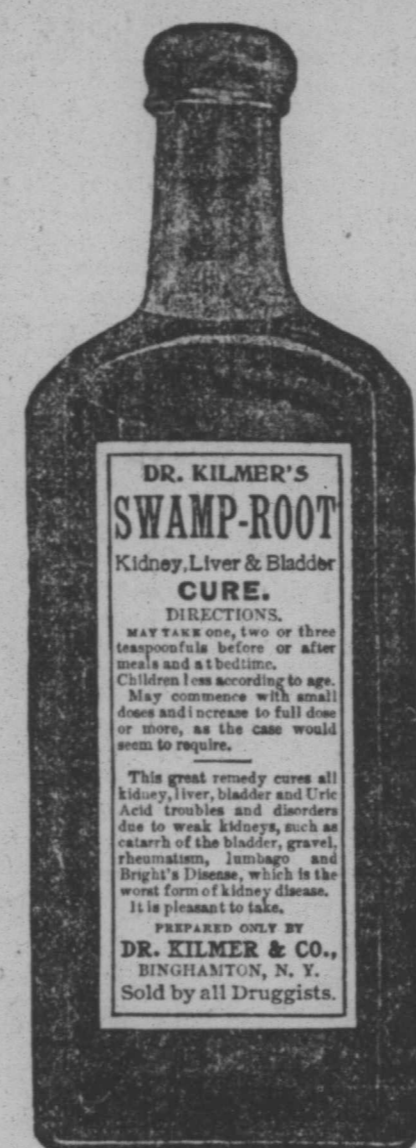

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

DID NOT KNOW I HAD KIDNEY TROUBLE

Gentlemen—About 18 months ago I was extremely sick for three weeks, and when I was able to leave my bed I was left with excruciating pains in my back. My water at times looked very much like coffee. I could pass but little at a time, and then only after suffering great pain. My physical condition was such that I had no strength and was all run down. The doctors said my kidneys were not affected and while I did not know I had kidney trouble, I somehow felt certain that my kidneys were the cause of my trouble. I procured a bottle of Swamp-Root and inside of three days commenced to get relief. I followed up that bottle with another, and at the completion of this one found I was completely cured. My cure is very gratifying to me."

Mrs. H. N. Wheeler

117 High Rock St., Lynn, Mass. Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for more sickness and suffering than any other disease, and if permitted to continue much suffering with fatal results are sure to follow. Kidney trouble irritates the nerves, makes you dizzy, restless, sleepless and irritable; makes you pass water often during the day and obliges you to get up many times during the night. Unhealthy kidneys cause rheumatism, gravel, catarrh of the bladder, pain or dull ache in the back joints or muscles; makes your head and back ache, causes indigestion, stomach and liver trouble, you get a sallow, yellow complexion, makes you feel as though you had heart trouble; you may have plenty of ambition, but no strength; get weak and waste away.

The cure for these troubles is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the world-famous kidney remedy. In taking Swamp-Root you afford natural help to Nature, for Swamp-Root is the most perfect healer and gentle aid to the kidneys that is known to medical science.

FIND OUT IF YOU NEED SWAMP-ROOT

If there is any doubt in your mind as to your condition, take from your urine on rising about four ounces, place it in a glass or bottle and let it stand twenty-four hours. If on examination it is milky or cloudy, or if there is a brick-dust settling, or if small particles float about in it, your kidneys are in need of immediate attention.

SWAMP-ROOT IS PURELY VEGETABLE

14 East 20th St., New York City. Dear Sirs—"I have been suffering severely from kidney trouble. All symptoms were on hand; my former strength and power had left me; I could hardly drag myself along. Even my mental capacity was giving out, and often I wished to die. It was then I saw an advertisement of yours in a New York paper, but would not have paid any attention to it, had it not promised a sworn guarantee with every bottle of your medicine, asserting that your Swamp-Root is purely vegetable, and does not contain any harmful drugs. I am seventy years and four months old and with a good conscience I can recommend Swamp-Root to all sufferers from kidney trouble. Four members of my family have been using Swamp-Root for four different kidney diseases, with the same good results."

With many thanks to you, I remain very truly yours,

GRINMAN THINKS PARLIAMENT IS DEATH PUTS END TO POISONING SUSPICIONS

LONDON, Feb. 17.—King Edward, accompanied by Queen Alexandra, the English King takes part in ceremony

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 17.—A dispatch from New Orleans announces the death in that city of Mrs. Georgia Emma Hooks after an operation for appendicitis. Mrs. Hooks was one of the wealthiest women of Memphis and figured probably in the most sensational murder trial in the history of this city.

She was indicted by the grand jury for poisoning her husband and brought to trial last spring. The trial lasted several weeks. The jury after being out two days reported that it could not agree.

Mrs. Hooks sold her palatial residence a short time ago and announced that she would go to Florida and Cuba on a trip. Her death came as a surprise to friends in this city, as it was not generally known that she was ill.

Secretary Root, it is rumored, will retire from the cabinet April 1 and resume the practice of law in New York.

The house naval committee's appropriation for twenty million dollars' worth of new warships this year is doing pretty well, but it will hardly satisfy the jingoes who want a navy that can lick all creation, and want it quick.

The West Virginia legislature last week took a compulsory education bill directed against the child labor law—a proceeding much to West Virginia's discredit.

Gov. Pennypacker of Pennsylvania wisely declares that "we have too much legislation," and that "the modern tendency to invent new crimes ought to be curbed."

The bituminous operators and miners have agreed upon an average advance of 14 per cent in the scale of wages, and thus all fear of a strike in the soft coal industry is averted.

The coal strike commission must have felt relieved when its investigation ended. During its sittings, extending through 51 days, it heard 566 witnesses and got 9,200 pages of testimony, of 2,300,000 words.

It is recalled that it is nothing new for the Standard Oil Company to make known its wants to the authorities at Washington, and that heretofore those wants have been promptly attended to.

The department of commerce and labor which was created the other day, and Private Secretary Cortelyou nominated to be at its head, adds a ninth member to the cabinet.

commerce and labor will include the bureau of navigation and similar bureaus; the census office, the immigration, labor, fish, statistical and other bureaus and commissions.

PEOPLE'S PULPIT

EXPLANATIONS OF LOVE, ACCORDING TO EXPERIENCE

Love is the very life-blood of true happiness. This delightful compound of sentiment and feelings enters into best, highest, deepest and purest joy of earth.

But love is of various kinds and qualities. In its lowest form love is hardly more than simple passion or lust. But its stay here is short; it ascends up into the region of sentiment and fancy, and there, by becoming aesthetic in nature, it next lays a strange hold upon the imagination.

This is an age when heart-life is apparently dying out, and passion, intense rivalry, cold heartless ambition or intellectual pre-eminence are seeking with desperate energy to usurp Love's throne.

A CRUSH

Bloobs—Well, yes, in a way. She's sitting on my hat.—Philadelphia Record.

ON THE HOOK

"But I don't see how that helps me," said the landlady.

"You surprise me," remarked the cheerful boarder, as he sawed industriously at the bit of steak before him.

CANCER CURED!

Mr. W. W. Prickett, Smithfield, Ill., writes, Sept. 16, 1901: "I had been suffering several years with cancer on my face, which gave me great annoyance and unbearable itching."

THE RED SEMAPHORE BY RALPH ENDERLY. COPYRIGHT, 1903, BY W. R. REARST. GREAT BRITAIN RIGHTS RESERVED.

The cozy little "private bar" of the "Crown Inn" at Ringwood was crowded. Bookmakers and representatives of the betting fraternity from London and from the neighboring county town of Dunchester crowded in.

It was the first day of Ringwood races, the course being about half a mile from the village on the road from Dunchester. Of all the crowd who were taxing to the full the energy and patience of pretty Madge Ellerton, one there was who leaning with his elbow on the pewter-covered counter, with an air of semi-prophetic, had apparently eyes and ears only for the hand-maid daughter of the house.

Dick Rawson's occupation, or, rather, lack of it, was a mystery to most people, for, well if somewhat flashily dressed, well fed, and well provided with ready money, he seemed to be ever idle, to be always the man of means.

To the observant eye, he looked what he was, a dabbler in "prices," a dependent upon his own wits. Mrs. Ellerton detested, because she distrusted him, and lost no opportunity of plainly hinting to him her candid opinion.

His personal appearance was not prepossessing. Of middle height, lean of feature as of figure, his light lashed eyes had that shifty uneasiness which always creates suspicion in straightforward minds.

"Madge," he was whispering on this particular morning, "I shall want an answer from you today. I hear that a signalman chap from the railway is making up to you."

"Will Varge? And suppose he is, Mr. Rawson, that would be his business, not yours," she answered with spirit.

"I deny that! His love is nothing to mine; while I can give you ten times more in comfort, in money, in everything, will Varge?"

The tone of contempt in which he spoke his rival's name fairly roused the little beauty's anger.

"Mr. Rawson!" she said, almost loud enough for the others to hear, "I've known Will all my life. Of you I know nothing, beyond that which you choose to tell me. Well, since you have heard so much, I will tell you that Will Varge has asked me to marry him, and—" steam just appearing as the train entered upon the two miles of straight. Then Will heard it. "Madge!" he shrieked, "pull the 'red' lever! Pull hard, for God's sake!"

The girl was paralyzed with fear. Will's voice seemed to come through miles of space. "Only a mile away now."

"Madge! Pull the 'red' lever—now!" The last word, shot out with all the remaining force of despair, reached her. She woke to a realization of the truth.

Will—her Will!—in deadly struggle right in the path of the oncoming express; the passenger train waiting still in Dunchester station—her father's life, too, in peril!

She could almost feel the hot dry steam of the express engine on her cheek. Staying no more to dream or think, she seized the "red" lever, and pulling it back with all the strength of her little arms she heard the semaphore "lock up" into its place.

Then she faintly. The express pulled up within a score of feet of the two men. Will, uppermost, his fingers still on Rawson's throat.

One of the passengers by the express a big, bearded, elderly man, accompanied the guard to see what was the matter. "Why, it's Will Varge!" said the passenger.

Will heard him, and pointing to the signal box, said: "You had better go to Madge, if you are Mr. Ellerton!"

The father found his daughter unconscious in a heap on the floor of the box, by the lever handles.

It did not take him long to rouse her, and on the journey home she told him the whole tale and how that she was to blame for tempting Will from his duty.

However, nobody blamed her much, not even Will, who, as he had prophesied was discharged from the company's service.

It was satisfactory to know that Dick Rawson left Dunchester for London soon after his encounter with his rival; the latter place offered him a wider field for the shady operations in which his soul delighted.

As Mr. Ellerton returned with even a more than fair "pile," the order soon went forth for an evacuation of the Crown Inn and for the building of a comfortable house on the site of the cottage where he himself had been born.

Madge and Will were to be married on the day the house was finished. The happy pair were then to sail for the place in Queensland which Mr. Ellerton had left for his native land.

NO ARGUMENT NEEDED

Every Sufferer From Catarrh Needs That Salves, Lotions, Washes, Sprays and Douches Do Not Cure

Powders, lotions, salves, sprays and inhalers cannot really cure Catarrh, because this disease is a blood disease, and local applications, if they accomplish anything at all, simply give transient relief.

The catarrh poison is in the blood, and the mucus membrane of the nose, throat and trachea tries to relieve the system by secreting large quantities of mucus, the discharge sometimes closing up the nostrils, dropping into the throat, causing deafness by closing the Eustachian tubes, and after a time causing catarrh of stomach or serious throat and lung troubles.

A remedy to really cure catarrh must be an internal remedy which will cleanse the blood from catarrhical poison and remove the fever and congestion from the mucous membrane.

The best and most modern remedies for this purpose are antiseptics scientifically known as Red Gum, Blood Root and Hydrastin, and while each of these have been successfully used separately, yet it has been difficult to get them all combined in one palatable, convenient and efficient form.

The manufacturers of the new catarrh cure, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, have succeeded admirably in accomplishing this result. They are large pleasant tasting lozenges, to be dissolved in the mouth, thus reaching every part of the mucous membrane of the throat and finally the stomach.

Unlike many catarrh remedies, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets contain no cocaine, opiate or any injurious drug whatever and are equally beneficial for little children and adults.

Mr. C. R. Rembrandt of Rochester, N. Y., says: "I know of few people who have suffered as much as I from Catarrh of the head, throat and stomach. I used sprays, inhalers, and powders for months at a time, with only slight relief and had no hope of cure. I had not the means to make a change of climate, which seemed my only chance of cure."

"Last spring I read an account of some remarkable cures made by Stuart's Catarrh Tablets and promptly bought a fifty-cent box from my druggist and obtained such positive benefit from that one package that I continued to use them daily until I now consider myself entirely free from my ailment."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are sold by druggists at 50 cents for complete treatment and for convenience, safety and prompt results they are undoubtedly the long looked for catarrh cure.

City Engineer Hawley was at his office this morning after two days in bed with a hard cold. "I inspected a plant in Comanche last week when the icicles hung from the barbed wire fences," said Mr. Hawley. "Running in and out of a hot engine room gave me a bad cold."

The dock in the corporation court was almost empty this morning, only one arrest having been made during the night. "Bad ones are all frozen up," said Officer Garret, who has charge at the Central station nights during February.

Lewis G. Gilmore, who has been a probationer for six months past, was today appointed a permanent postal clerk on the run between Caldwell, Kan., and Fort Worth.

Assistant Postmaster W. C. W. McKee has nearly recovered from an attack of pneumonia and will be able to be around again in a few days. Mrs. M. E. Owens died last evening at 6 o'clock at the residence of T. E. Berry, 1016 West Weatherford street, at the age of 68 years. She was taken down with pneumonia a month ago and the disease developed into quick consumption.

Miss C. L. West, a wealth American resident of Florence, Italy, was a guest at the Worth hotel yesterday, en route to New Orleans from a tour of the north. She left for the Crescent City early in the evening. During her stay here Miss West had an unpleasant experience with a cabman who wanted to charge her $10 for conveying her from the union depot to the hotel because the train on which she arrived happened to be a little late, but finally compromised on a dollar upon being threatened with arrest.

Chief of Police Rea says there are few cases of destitution in the city so far as his reports show. The police in extreme weather usually heed all requests for aid and the agents of charitable societies were on the hunt all day yesterday for needy persons. The Telegram yesterday afternoon called attention to the case of the family of W. B. Watson at Fifth and Crump streets and before night they had received assistance through the activity of charitable people who went to see them.

SAYS THE TELEGRAM IS A FRIEND TO UNION LABOR

The Typographical Journal, which is the official organ of the union printers of the United States, in its latest number, has the following to say of the Telegram: "Since last July the Fort Worth Telegram has been under the management of C. D. Reimers, who was formerly connected in a managerial capacity with the Davenport (Iowa) Times. The allied printing trades label appears on the editorial page of every copy of the Telegram, and Mr. Reimers is in reality a friend to our organization. The force of the Telegram is composed of T. E. Win-dle, formerly of Davenport; J. Malone, formerly of Houston; Bert McCain, Joe Steiner, who is former man; John Geyer, once of Kansas City; and Edgar Shaw, formerly of Chicago, representing the typographical end, and Ed Roberts, pressman, and Al Burke, stereotyper."

DALLAS WOULD OPEN TRINITY WITH WARSHIPS

HER PLAN TO BRING THE BIG CRUISERS AND BATTLESHIPS UP FROM GALVESTON WHEN THE ATLANTIC SQUADRON VISITS THERE, HAS LEAKED OUT—THE ENTIRE CITY EXCITED AND THE INHABITANTS WATCH THE RISING WATERS OF THE TRINITY WITH REPRESSED EAGERNESS

Through the swollen Trinity river and the further swelling expected when the snow melts a great secret has leaked out of Dallas. She is planning to get the battleships away from Galveston this week and have them all to herself in the "great" Trinity. This is the way the leakage happened. A citizen of Fort Worth who happened to be in the other city last night saw a great crowd surrounding a billboard cheering wildly. He worked his way through the throng and read this notice: "Water 2 1/2 feet deep. Still rising."

PLANS ARE GREAT The idea, it is said, is to hold a great celebration of the "arrival of the sea" at Dallas. The battleships would be the feature, and it is hoped enough salt water might cling to their hulls to give those who could get near enough a faint odor of sea breezes. And this morning Trinity river is still rising. The latest report is that it has reached the three-foot mark. That's within 1 1/2 feet of the battleship line in the eyes of a Dallas man, and 19 1/2 feet less very much as a distance when it's all that separates you from the sea and "low freight rates."

FORT WORTH ESCAPED WORST OF THE STORM Fort Worth railroad men are beginning to breathe easy today for the first time since Sunday morning, when the big storm of night before last began to lay low the wires and freeze the switches of North Texas. Trains are all running today, although from one to seven hours late, and the reports are that they are slowly coming in show that Fort Worth escaped the worst of the blizzard by about ninety miles. Bowie and Amarillo, on the northwest, and Sherman and Gainesville, on the northeast, suffered most severely of the Texas points, and the lines beyond them are still in bad condition.

WIRES STILL DOWN On the Denver 135 telegraph poles are down south of Wichita Falls, and there is no wire between Bowie and Denver, the latter point being reached from Fort Worth by way of St. Louis and Kansas City. It will be days before the telegraph service is completely restored, though trains are getting through today.

FRISCO HAS TROUBLE Northeast of here on the Frisco the wires are open to Sherman. Between there and St. Louis there is no line working, and trains are getting through under difficulties.

WATER HIGH EAST East of here high water causes more trouble than prostrate wires. The Katy is probably the worst sufferer, a bridge being out on the Dallas line. All Katy trains yesterday and today reach Dallas by way of Fort Worth over the joint track and the Texas and Pacific.

FIVE BELOW ZERO The reports received at the Denver office this morning say the mercury reached 5 degrees below zero at Texline, that being the coldest point in the state. Between there and Vernon the snow was six inches deep and drifted badly Sunday night and yesterday morning. The road is open today, however.

BEGAN SUNDAY MORNING "Although the storm did not reach Fort Worth until Sunday night, we knew it was coming Sunday morning," said a tired railroad man this morning. "This is the first breathing spell we have had since then. The wind and sleet struck West and North Texas Sunday morning and the wires began popping then. We knew it as they went, and we could tell as the trouble came closer."

WORST ON RECORD In the office of the railway mail service at the Texas and Pacific station yesterday is considered a record-breaker. Thirty-three failures to make connection appear on the books, and today an extra force is busy making over the delayed mails. The office is piled high with sacks which are being sent out as fast as possible.

COVERED WITH THE SNOW The delayed trains which arrived late yesterday afternoon from the northwest and northeast looked as if they had been in the arctic regions. The snow was piled on the rooftops to the top of the smokestacks and long icicles hung from every projecting point.

REEDER IS CAUTIOUS After wrestling with a cold wave for a couple of days, Forecaster George Reeder is very conservative about making predictions about warm weather. He honestly believes that it will moderate quite materially between now and tomorrow evening, but does not announce that opinion officially. He predicts for tonight and Wednesday fair weather, which will be "not so cold, but freezing again, however."

PATH OF THE STORM "The cold wave reached the Atlantic coast on schedule time," said Mr. Reeder this morning. "It is now raging in that quarter and will freeze tonight as far south as Tampa, Fla. The wires in south Texas are still down, consequently San Antonio, Galveston, Corpus Christi, Dallas and Taylor are cut off—also Shreveport and Vicksburg. The blizzard struck New Orleans, as anticipated, the temperature falling from 72 to 28 in a few hours."

PRETTY COLD AGAIN Last night, in Fort Worth, the mercury went "way down again, touching a fraction below 12 degrees shortly before daylight. It is now about 12 above in Georgia, 2 above in Tennessee, 6 in Arkansas and in Texas it ranges from 6 to 25 above. The freezing zone extends well down into Mexico. In the northwest the temperature is slowly rising, but continues from 20 to 30 degrees above in the Dakotas, while it has risen about 10 degrees in the Rocky mountains.

WEATHER RECORD Following is the weather record for the last twenty-four hours—minimum and maximum temperature, wind in miles per hour at 8 a. m. and rainfall in inches:

Table with columns: Stations, Min., Max., Wind, Rain. Rows include Abilene, Amarillo, Bismarck, Chicago, Cincinnati, Denver, Detroit, Dodge City, El Paso, Fort Smith, Fort Worth, Huron, Kansas City, Lander, Little Rock, Marquette, Memphis, Miles City, Mobile, Modeno, Montgomery, Nashville, North Platte, New Orleans, Oklahoma, Omaha, Phoenix, Pittsburg, Pueblo, Rapid City, St. Louis, St. Paul, Salt Lake City, San Diego, Santa Fe.

PIPES IN BAD SHAPE The usual lamentations about bursted water pipes are heard, as they always are after a thaw, following a tight freeze. The out of door hydrants and pipes appear to have drawn the cold and were rendered useless about the first thing. When the sun shone brightly today the ice melted, but in many instances there were bad leaks, and the plumbers are busy repairing the damage.

HANDMADE PHILOSOPHY Ingenuously in a pretty girl is inguitiveness in a homely one. Some people show a friendly interest in our affairs, while others are trying to attend to our business. Some people seem to delight in learning how we are getting along and others want to know too much. Yet they all ask the same questions—

TIME IS MORE THAN HALF GONE

CITY OFFICIALS DUBIOUS REGARDING HOUSTON STREET PAVING

Parker-Washington Contract Expires March 1, Eleven Days Hence—Nothing Done So Far as Known Since Month's Extension Was Granted—Agent Not Seen

City officials are of the opinion that Houston street will not have a pavement very soon unless more activity is shown in closing contracts than is now apparent.

The contract of the city with the Parker-Washington Company expired Feb. 1, but the council, at its last meeting, granted an extension of time until March 1. The company's $2,000 deposit as a guarantee that it would be ready to begin work Feb. 1 is still in the hands of the city.

EXTENSION HALF GONE Of the twenty-eight additional days given the company for closing its contracts with the property owners, seventeen are gone, and so far as could be ascertained this morning nothing has been done.

"I'm beginning to think the Parker-Washington Company isn't going to do anything," said one official this morning. "I don't believe half the contracts for work on Houston street are closed, and there seems to be nothing doing."

AGENT NOT SEEN LATELY City Engineer Hawley was asked whether he had seen the agent of the paving company lately.

"He was here once for about three-quarters of an hour and showed me some contracts," said Mr. Hawley. "I approved the form of some of them and others I disapproved. That was about two weeks ago, and I haven't seen the agent since."

"Brown & Dabney have begun work on the unpaved half of the street between Fourth and Fifth streets, and that's all the paving in sight on Houston at present."

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE HELD AT RANGER

RANGER, Texas, Feb. 15.—Our town has held a successful teachers' institute. Many prominent teachers were present and were appreciated and royally entertained by the people of Ranger. We expected about sixty teachers, but owing to the bad weather we did not have quite that number.

Some noted teachers among them were the Hawkins twins, one principal of Eastland high school and the other holding a similar position in Breckenridge high school. Professor White, principal of Cleo is a fine man; so is Professor Britton of Carbon. The same can be said of Professors Judd and Peters, co-principals in Ranger.

Many subjects were discussed relating to teaching teachers and pupils, methods, co-operation, etc., government mood operandi and school questions in general. But the institute had requested Dr. Frost to deliver an address of welcome to the teachers. The doctor did himself and the teachers justice, as his speech from beginning to end was full of thought for the children's cause. He claimed this to be the most important school age in the world's history, and that teachers had greater and better facilities than ever before. But in proportion greater results are demanded of the educated. The doctor referred to pools, trusts, syndicates, monopolies, race problems, the irrigation problem and the question of capital and labor.

The entire speech was enthusiastically received and will do great good. A subject that brought out a good discussion was a resolution by Dr. Frost on corporal punishment. It was in form as follows: Resolved, that corporal punishment in school room is a relic of barbarous age and should be abolished.

He also demanded the best teachers and attention for the children from 8 to 17 years of age.

ANAEMOTROPHY

Do You Recognize It? When land is used and not fertilized it soon becomes worked out and the crops will be poor and small. So when poor or not well selected food is used, the body runs down and the blood becomes impoverished.

Physicians call it Anaemotrophy. It may show itself in the form of rheumatism, dyspepsia and bowel troubles, general weakness, fainting spells or other ways, all accompanied by nervousness.

"About two months ago my wife not having been fed on properly selected food became very ill and her physician, after a thorough examination, declared her to be suffering from Anaemotrophy, (deficient blood). It was necessary to change the food to enrich the blood and strengthen the organs and muscles and brace up the nervous system with a good diet. Her stomach and entire system were in revolt against pasty indigestible compounds and partly cooked cereals and the overworked organs protested against being longer overburdened."

"One day I bought a package of Grape-Nuts and she began using them at once. Not only did she relish the delicate flavor, but the stomach received them without protest."

"At breakfast and supper this was her only food save occasionally a cracker with jelly. In a week or so her checks had taken on their healthy color and her strength had visibly increased. The doctor congratulated himself and her upon her recovery. He could hardly believe it possible then, but now he is a steady user of Grape-Nuts himself. Today her general health is vastly improved, her weight has increased eleven pounds and she is eating whatever she likes, her digestion being perfect."

"I attribute this to the increased nourishment and rest given to the digestive organs by the use of Grape-Nuts. We cannot say too much in honest and well merited praise of it." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

The average European is five feet six and seven-tenths inches high; the average American five feet seven and eight-tenths. The respective weights are 138 and 141 pounds.

AMUSEMENTS

"HAPPY HOOLIGAN" "Happy Hooligan" is the first case where a cartoonist's stock figure is dramatized. Dramatized is hardly the word to use, but it will do. In the production which was given before a top-heavy house at Greenwall's last night Opper's familiar character is surrounded by a conglomeration of farcical musical comedy and a few specialties. Of the latter a German dialogue sketch by Frank Otto and Ernest Whalen was rather the best of the show.

For the rest, a moderately pretty chorus and a quartet compose its chief excuse for being presented. The quartet had one member, J. Francis Leonard, who had a voice which got lost in the fleas several times in the course of the evening, but a small boy behind the scenes got it down again.

As hush "Happy Hooligan" is not unpalatable, but Happy's adventures in next Sunday's Telegram will be much more amusing.

"WHEN KNIGHTHOOD WAS IN FLOWER"

Houses packed to the doors continue to be the rule in every city visited this season by Effie Ellsler in Julia Marlowe's complete original spectacular production of "When Knighthood Was in Flower." No drama of the present decade has equaled this remarkable chivalric romance of sixteenth century England in point of artistic and financial success. Since its dramatization by Paul Kester and its production at the Criterion theater, New York, season before last the production has netted Mr. Kester in royalties $25,000, Miss Marlowe herself $125,000 and her manager an immense sum. The book has already had a sale of over 300,000 copies and the demand has not diminished.

The present tour under the direction of Frank L. Perley bids fair to equal the preceding ones, artistically and financially, and Miss Ellsler has achieved the success of successes in the difficult role of Mary Tudor. "When Knighthood Was in Flower" comes to Greenwall's opera-house Thursday night, Feb. 19.

"SIDE-TRACKED"

Local theatergoers are to be favored with an entirely new production of Jules Walters' famous comedy "Side-Track" at Greenwall's opera-house, Saturday matinee and night, Feb. 21. The only thing that will be recognized is the tramp, Horatio Xerxes Booth, and, like good wine, this character improves with age. The best recommendation any play can have is imitation, and it is safe to say that "Side-Track" is more widely copied than any play in America. Matinee prices, adults 50 cents, children 25 cents. Night prices, 25, 35 and 50 cents.

NEW DEPARTMENT FEARED BY TRUSTS

Washington, Feb. 12.—[Special.]—The new department of commerce is a monument to the industry and perseverance of Knute Nelson of Minnesota. Others, including W. P. Hepburn of Iowa, have done good work on the bill, but the work of Nelson made it possible. In the last stages of the bill there was considerable opposition from the giant corporations of the country. It had been stated by the leaders of the senate that there would be "mild" trust legislation, but many concerns regard the provision in the new department bill as altogether too drastic; but the bill could not be defeated.

Senator Hoar's Hereditary Interest. The senate was discussing a proposition to have the committee on Indian affairs investigate the condition of the Seneca Indians in New York. Senator Hoar wanted his old friend Senator Platt of Connecticut a member of the committee and explained why he interested himself in these Indians. He said: "I feel a little hereditary interest in the Seneca Indian matter because of one of my earliest memories. When I was a boy ten or fifteen years old, my father was appointed by the governor of Massachusetts as a commissioner to look after some attempt to get away the land of the Seneca Indians by a person who was then coveting it, and the commonwealth of Massachusetts thought he saved the Indians at that time from wrongdoing. I feel a little hereditary interest on that account, though knowing little about this present matter. I should like very much to have the senators who have been somewhat familiar with this subject, like the senator from Connecticut, on the committee if they are to investigate it, and that is the point of my question."

For the Blind. Representative Boutwell of Illinois has reported from the committee on post-offices a bill allowing all reading matter for the blind to be circulated free of postage through the mails. The census shows that there are about 80,000 blind persons in the United States, and the report upon the bill explains that a great expense is attached to printing and reading matter for blind persons. The object of the bill is to allow such reading matter to be sent from one person to another so that all may share in the enjoyment of literature at a moderate expense. It is shown that only rich persons are now able to procure reading matter for the blind.

Next on the List. In the effort made to compromise the statehood bill many of the eastern senators said that it would be a good thing to effect a consolidation making New Mexico and Arizona one state and Oklahoma and the Indian Territory another. "If that could be done," remarked Senator Aldrich, "it would settle the territorial question. It would be the end, and we would be through with it."

"Don't you believe it," answered Senator Hansbrough of North Dakota. "Alaska is next on the list." "Oh, never!" said Aldrich. "That's the trouble with you eastern fellows," said Hansbrough. "You don't understand the development of the west. Inside of ten years Alaska will have a very large population and will be down here knocking at the doors for admission as a state. We are going to give them liberal land laws and encourage immigration, and the development of the territory in resources and population will be something astonishing. You will not be through with the admission of states with Alaska still out even if the other four are taken in now."

But Senator Aldrich shook his head. No Leave to Print. Senator Mason rose the other day and asked consent to print in the Record a speech he had prepared "to save the time of the senate."

"Much as I would like to accommodate the senator," remarked Senator Platt of Connecticut, "that is something that has never been done. We have never granted leave to print speeches here."

After some discussion it was arranged that the Illinois senator could print his speech as a document, which would accomplish the same purpose. It was an argument showing that congress had authority under the "general welfare" clause of the constitution to seize and operate the coal mines.

CLEAR FORK WATER IS NOW A RICH BROWN

Clear Fork is a muddy fork this week, and as a result the people of Fort Worth may gaze upon the water when it is brown in their glasses.

Heavy rains have caused a rise of more than two feet in the stream and it is still rising. The disappearance of the snow is expected to cause a continuance of conditions for several days.

Debris is being brought down from above the city and the stream, which is usually clear, is in a Missouri river state of muddiness.

"If it were not for that one-third artesian there would be more mud in the supply than there is," said Superintendent Scoble of the city waterworks this morning. "When the artesian wells now being put down are completed we shall not be troubled with muddy water any more. The Clear Fork will then be used only in cases of emergency."

COMPLETED IN MAY
The artesian system will probably be ready for use in May. "It isn't mud that has caused us the most trouble in the past," said Mr. Scoble. "The Clear Fork was more apt to get too low than too high, and it was lack of water rather than abundance of mud that caused trouble. It will all be over when the wells are done."

TIMBER BENT WITH ICE AND ALL WIRES DOWN

PUTNAM, Texas, Feb. 16.—We are having the worst spell of weather we have had for years. It rained for about three days, then sleeted and froze on the timber and wire so the timber is bent with ice and the telephone wires are all down. The telegraph operator was unable to get his wires to work this morning, so we are entirely shut off from the outside world. To cap the climax we had about four inches of snow last night, and it is awful cold this morning. The sun is shining a little, but it is too cold for the ice to melt.

This is the worst spell of weather on stock we have had for several years. But the farmers say it is just what we need to insure us good crops this year.

G. H. Clifford, cashier of the street railway company of Fort Worth, was called by telephone to the bedside of his sick step-brother, Mr. Alls Williams, a few days ago.

Alls Williams departed this life about 10 o'clock last night. He was one of the most promising young men in all this country. He was the perfection of honesty, and loved and respected by everybody. He will be buried by the Woodmen of the World, of which order he was a consistent member.

SHOTS FIRED AT SOUND OF BURGLARS

"If you hear a burglar or think you hear a burglar, shoot," is the rule which was observed on Lamar street last night, and as a result Officer George made a flying trip from the Central station, only to come back empty handed.

It was just a little before midnight that several pistol shots disturbed the quiet of the station and sent thoughts of highwaymen and murder through the minds of the men on duty there.

NOISE WAS ALL
Officer George started in pursuit of the shots and found nothing—but shots. Two ladies on Lamar street had thought they heard burglars in the house and, to scare them, had fired a sishooter out the window, according to reports at the station this morning. Officer George failed to find any trace of the marauders and the noise went so fast he could not arrest it.

PRISON DOORS TO OPEN FOR C. A. BEELER

MAN WHO SKIPPED WITH $52,000 OF WELLS-FARGO FUNDS WILL SOON BE FREE

AUSTIN, Texas, Feb. 17.—Charles A. Beeler, who robbed the Wells-Fargo Express Company of $52,000 at San Antonio four years ago, will be released from the state penitentiary within the next day or two, when he will have served out his sentence of five years, with time allowed for good conduct deducted.

Beeler must have about $50,000 of the stolen money.

At least he is supposed to know where it is, as only $70 which was found on his person when arrested, was ever recovered.

The money is supposed to be safely hidden or in the hands of some unknown accomplice, who will turn a big share of it over to Beeler when the latter gains his liberty.

It is known that the express company has engaged detectives to watch every movement of Beeler from the time he leaves the prison doors, with a view of locating the stolen money or some part of it.

Since Beeler's imprisonment the company has sued him and obtained judgment in the sum of $50,000.

THE CRIME ALLEGED
Charles A. Beeler had been with the Wells-Fargo Express Company for many years, working up from an insignificant post to that of driver of the money order wagon.

The funds in question consisted of a large shipment of cash from Houston to San Antonio for the purpose of paying off the employees of the Southern Pacific road west of that city, and it was consigned to the paymaster there.

Beeler took it from the safe in the office, duly receipted for it early in the morning and drove off, ostensibly to deliver it to the paymaster, whose car was to start west later in the day.

WAGON AND TEAM FOUND
That was the last seen of him, and the supposition was that the delivery had been made until along about the middle of the afternoon, when the paymaster telephoned to the express company asking that the money be hurried to his car, as he was ready to start.

The supposition then was that Beeler had simply been delayed in making the delivery, but about night when his wagon and team were driven to the local office of the Wells-Fargo Company in San Antonio by an old negro, who had found the horse wandering about the chaparral west of town, genuine alarm existed and prompt search was made, it being at first supposed that he had met with foul play.

CAPTURED AND CONVICTED
Beeler finally made his way to Mexico, where he was landed after a long search. The money could never be found and when his trial came up in the courts he estopped a plea of the facts by entering a plea of guilty to the charge of embezzlement, and the jury awarded him only a light sentence.

Since being in the penitentiary the hardest character of work, such as coal mining has fallen to his lot and his health has continued good and now all the law's criminal demands have been complied with and he is at the door of freedom.

While the officials of the express company have never ceased to search for the money they have secured no trace of it.

Many believe Beeler has spent it, while others say it is securely hidden.

The degree of confidence placed in Beeler by banks and other financial concerns at San Antonio rendered it an easy matter for him to work the scheme.

But few men in any calling possessed a greater degree of affability than did Beeler, and he was known to every man, woman and child in the town.

No man ever saw him angered, and he always had a cheerful word for every one, from the bank president to the street gamin.

Officials and others have never succeeded in having him even discuss the matter, he at all times treating the entire affair as a great joke and returning threats and entreaties alike with derisive smiles and tantalizing indifference.

REV. DR. WILSON TALKS OF BOB TAYLOR

FORMER FORT WORTH DIVINE THINKS HIM AN IDEAL PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE

AUSTIN, Texas, Feb. 17.—Rev. Dr. Homer T. Wilson, pastor of the First Christian church of San Antonio, is one of the most distinguished divines in the country. Formerly of Fort Worth, he built a magnificent church there, and was then called to San Antonio, where he succeeded in less than a year in erecting one of the handsomest church edifices in the south. It is nearing completion and will be dedicated in about five weeks.

For many years Dr. Wilson was national chaplain of the Travelers' Protective association, and at present retains the chaplaincy of the state organization. He has for several years or ever since the inauguration of the Texas-Colorado chautauqua, at Boulder, been a lecturer and instructor there, and last summer was the general superintendent, meeting with the greatest success in his management thereof.

Dr. Wilson is a most pleasing talker and is a noted lecturer. At present he is engaged by the bureau arranging lectures for ex-Governor Bob Taylor of Tennessee, George Wendling and many other noted men who have gained national fame on the rostrum. He is a Kentuckian, a true gentleman of the southern school, and while by no means to be considered a politician, he always takes a deep interest in all things concerning good government for the country.

Asked last evening what he thought of the presidential boom started for William E. Hearst as democratic candidate for president, he did not reply directly, but in response to the question he did say much. "Do you know who is the logical candidate for president?" he asked.

On being answered that any good democrat from the east would be all right he said: "There it is—the question of location again, but despite that, Bob Taylor of Tennessee would make the ideal candidate. By a recent little incident at the White House the prejudice against taking a candidate from south of Mason and Dixon's line has been very much lessened, and this feeling is going to grow from now until the next election."

"The issues between the two parties are not much at variance," he continued. "What is wanted in the next campaign is a man who will attract by his strong personality, a man over whom the people can enthuse, a man whom they can love; that man is Bob Taylor. It is hard to find one of the old leaders against whom all kinds of charges would not be made. Here is a man absolutely pure in mind and character, a man against whom nothing could or would be said, a man who would appeal to all that is good in the citizenship of the country."

"As I stated, this talk of prejudice against a southern man for the presidency has about passed out, and I believe that if a man south of the line does not receive a nomination for this presidency, this section will at least be given second place on the ticket. I do not mix up in politics, but if Bob Taylor should be nominated, you know I should feel very much like getting out and making a few speeches, and there are many more who feel just about as I do."

RAILROADS RACE FOR A RICH STAKE

TRAINS TO RUSH FROM NEW YORK TO CHICAGO FOR SIX MILLION DOLLAR CONTRACT

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Thundering across the country two trains on two of the greatest railroads in the world will make a test of speed with a prize of $6,000,000 at stake.

Out from New York and across the Empire state a train on the New York Central will rush to make connection with the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern, which, in turn, will speed on into the night and with the break of morn will arrive in Chicago.

It is safe to predict that the record of the famous Twentieth Century Limited will be broken by the fast mail. For between the Lake Shore and the Pennsylvania roads a contest of speed will be under way for two long months. At the end the government will decide who gets the New York-Chicago mail contract.

For years the Lake Shore has won. In fact, its emblem is a mail pouch. The road must win the next contract, the officials say. In answer the Pennsylvania declares it is its turn and within two months the mail business shall be its.

Officials of both roads are preparing for the contest. The test, it is announced, will be started in a few days. Officials from the railway mail service will be on each train and keep exact time on the speed, delays and make a report on each trip.
