

FROM JAIL TO ALTAR

AN UNUSUAL WEDDING IN FORT WORTH YESTERDAY

A GIRL RUNAWAY

MAY WAGNER, DAUGHTER OF GOOD DALLAS FAMILY, MARRIES A WAITER

SHE IS ONLY FIFTEEN

Arrested Here, Her Father Comes to Take Her Home, but After Interview With Her Seeks Mark Milford, Who Promptly Agrees to Marry the Girl

"You're going down the line pretty fast, aren't you?" asked Chief of Detective Steve Potts yesterday morning of a brown-haired, brown-eyed slip of a girl of 15 who had passed the night in the city calaboose.

"Done gone," said the girl, smiling, and starting a reckless double-shuffle on the hard cement floor. On a cot in the corner of the dingy cell lay a woman calmly fending. The girl and the woman were the only occupants of the woman's department of the calaboose.

Four hours later the girl was united in marriage to Mark Milford, a waiter in a local restaurant, who is said, upon occasion, to essay the profession of high diving as a side line.

RAN AWAY FROM HOME

May Wagner ran away from her comfortable home in Dallas two weeks ago. She permitted her friends to believe that she was going to San Antonio. Instead she came to Fort Worth. She is very pretty and is just beginning to develop into a woman. She went to work in a small restaurant on lower Main street. In another restaurant a short distance away Mark Milford was employed as a waiter. He met the girl, who promptly fell head over heels in love with him, as she admitted yesterday.

After she had been here a few days her mother came to Fort Worth in search of her. Failing to locate her daughter, Mrs. Wagner gave a description of her to the police and went home. Several days ago the police found the girl.

DARING ESCAPE

She was living in a cheap hotel. When an officer started upstairs after her she fled down a long hall which led out onto a porch. From the porch it was a daring jump to a telegraph pole on the sidewalk, but the officer was close upon her and she made the leap. Luckily she clutched the pole, and she lost no time in sliding down to the ground and running away.

At another time, when an officer entered the restaurant to arrest her, she jumped through a window and escaped. A third time she locked herself in a room at the hotel and refused to open the door when the officer commanded her to do so. Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock Officer Cone surprised her in the restaurant, and by holding onto her managed to land her in the calaboose.

FATHER NOTIFIED

Word was sent at once to the girl's father, Mr. Wagner, who is the representative of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Company at Dallas. He arrived in the city yesterday morning. He sought his daughter in the jail and interviewed her. She told him she was willing to marry Milford, and she added that he was willing to marry her. The father did not know whether he wanted a wedding or take place, but he found Milford and after a talk with the young man decided that the best thing to be done was to have a wedding. Milford promptly agreed to marry the girl.

WEDDING PREPARATIONS

So preparations for the unusual nuptials were inaugurated. Mr. Wagner bought some ribbons and things, not forgetting a new bonnet with a lot of flowers on it, which pleased his daughter as much as it became her. Mr. Wagner was assisted by his friend, Henry Steinfeldt, in arranging with a justice of the peace to marry the couple. Mr. Steinfeldt engaged Justice Terrell to perform the ceremony and also introduced Mr. Wagner to Walter King, who issues the marriage licenses. Meanwhile Milford had applied to the police station. When all was ready Officer Bert Thomasson, himself a recent benedict, escorted Milford and Miss Wagner to the courthouse. There they were met by the girl's father and Mr. Steinfeldt. After obtaining the license the wedding party adjourned to Justice Terrell's courtroom, where the ceremony was performed. There was no kissing bee at the conclusion of the ceremony, and as the young couple left the courtroom the girl wasn't laughing, for the first time during the day.

PRELIMINARY TRIAL AT TEXARKANA ENDS

TEXARKANA, Tex., May 2.—The preliminary trial of Napoleon McDaniels and son, Dave, charged with the killing of an old man named Larue, was finished today. Both men were released.

HE HAS TWO HEARTS THAT BEAT AS ONE

PATERSON, N. J., May 2.—John Firman, 25 years old, living here, has two hearts beating in his own breast. He is a fine specimen of physical manhood and constantly enjoys good health. In 1898 it was discovered that he had a double heart, when he was examined for enlistment with the Second regiment at Paterson. Since then Firman has been more or less interesting to physicians. An X-ray photograph shows the most peculiar heart formation the doctors of Paterson have ever seen or heard of.

A DOZEN KILLED IN TERRIFIC EXPLOSION

CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 2.—The Kohl torpedo factory blew up shortly after noon today, resulting in the loss of several lives. A large number of persons were injured. The explosion was terrific and the factory was completely demolished. Several near-by buildings were also destroyed and the windows broken throughout the entire neighborhood. Later reports give the list of dead as at least twelve, possibly more. The injured number from fifty to seventy-five. Thirty three were working in the factory at the time of the explosion, and no trace of them can be found.

GERMAN CONSUL HAS NARROW ESCAPE

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 2.—The acting German consul at Salonica had a narrow escape from a dynamite cartridge, which destroyed the Ottoman bank. He was in the adjoining club, which was wrecked by the explosion of the bomb. The German charge d'affaires here made vigorous representations to the porte and is holding the government responsible for the damage done the German schools at Salonica. The consul at Salonica reports forty persons killed or wounded on both sides as a result of bomb-throwing, including three Germans, four Italians and one Swiss killed.

TO PROTECT AUSTRIAN INTERESTS VIENNA, May 2.—The Austrian squadron, consisting of three ships, arrived at Salonica yesterday.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 2.—James Lavan, well known citizen and employe of the Bradstreet Mercantile Agency for thirty-six years, is dead; aged 60 years.

HIS ORANGE ROBE EXCITES COMMENT

CHICAGO, Ill., May 2.—H. Dharmapala, who represented Buddhism at the Chicago world's parliament of religions, has arrived here from San Francisco on an educational mission for the benefit of the many millions of illiterate natives of India. He wears a flowing silken robe of orange and his appearance excited considerable curiosity.

"My mission," he said, "has nothing to do with religion. I have been appalled by the wretched condition of the people of India and have come to this country to interest manufacturers, merchants and capitalists in a plan to establish a number of manual training schools in India. It is not charity that I ask, for if the people of India are raised to a higher level they will need many things that the industries of this country can supply." Andrew Carnegie, John D. Rockefeller and Booker T. Washington are among those whom the Buddhist missionary intends to see while in this country. He will particularly study the lives of these three men, that upon his return he may point to them as examples of what can be accomplished by individuals in a democracy.

KING EDWARD SEES THE SOLDIERS OF FRANCE

PARIS, May 2.—King Edward today witnessed the maneuvers of 14,000 picked French troops on the parade grounds at Vincennes.

TO VISIT FARMERS

AGRICULTURISTS FROM GERMANY ARRIVE

FORTY IN PARTY

WILL COME TO TEXAS TO LEARN ABOUT RICE CULTURE—WILL VISIT OTHER STATES

TO FIND OUT THE REASON

"If the American Ability to Undersell the German Farmer in His Own Market Comes from Natural Resources, We Want to Know," Reason for Coming

NEW YORK, May 2.—The German farmers who came on the Pretoria were stranded just outside the harbor and had to remain there until this morning, as the steamer arrived too late for them to land.

The Arlon Society, which had prepared a special dinner in their honor, however, celebrated their arrival without any of them being present. Mayor Low and President Furness and other guests of honor invited by the society arrived promptly and during the evening the mayor made a humorous speech, in which he expressed sympathy for the guests who, by the inclement weather, were forced to spend another night on the stormy waves instead of in the midst of their German-American friends, and the celebration proceeded exactly as scheduled. But everyone felt that this was a case of the play of "Hamlet" with Hamlet left out.

Finally at 9 o'clock this morning the steamer Pretoria arrived at her Hoboken pier, and forty-three members of the Deutsche Landwirtschafts Gesellschaft ran down the gangplank, loudly expressing their joy over finally having arrived in the land of unlimited possibilities. It is the purpose of the delegation to make a thorough inspection of American farming methods.

They will visit the corn fields of Ohio, Illinois, Indiana and Kansas, the wheat farms of the northwest, the dairy farms of Wisconsin, the cotton plantations of Texas and Georgia and the other southern states; the tobacco and stock farms of Kentucky and Tennessee.

One of the delegation, when asked as to the truth of the report that the real object of their visit was to obtain material for the agrarian agitation against the introduction of American farm products into Germany, said:

"Why, that is the veriest bosh. We recognize in Germany that America is a wonderful country with wonderful methods. We are here to see how it is that the American farmer can undersell the German farmer in his own markets, though handicapped by 4,000 miles of freight rates. If this ability comes from natural resources with which we cannot compete we want to know it!"

CONFEDERATES TO HEAR J. H. ROGERS

ARKANSAS ORATOR IS SELECTED FOR NEW ORLEANS REUNION—GORDON'S SPONSOR IS MISS ETHEL HEARD

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 2.—Judge John H. Rogers of Fort Smith, Ark., has been selected as orator of the Confederate reunion. He is considered one of the most distinguished speakers in the South.

General Gordon's sponsor is Miss Ethel Tillman Heard of Auburn, Ala., and her maids of honor are Miss Louisiana Gibson of Lexington, Ky., a niece of the late General Randall Lee Gibson of Louisiana, and Miss Anna Castleman of this city. Money for the reunion fund is coming in more freely and the whole of the $100,000 will be raised before the reunion begins. The committee in charge is listing rooms and making a thorough canvass of the city. A number of people are offering to entertain the veterans free and many people will entertain friends. The social feature will be greater than ever before. All the buildings are ready and the plans for the feeding and housing of veterans are about complete.

SAN ANTONIO MEN GO BACK TO WORK

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, May 2.—The threatened strike of the brewery workers was called off and satisfactory settlement made. All the men went back to work.

PHONOGRAPH REPEATS POPE'S BENEDICTION

NOTRE DAME, Ind., May 2.—By the aid of a phonograph the faculty and students of the university yesterday heard the voice of Pope Leo XIII in solemn benediction and responses sung by the cardinals and the members of the papal court as they occurred at his jubilee celebration in March in Rome. The cylinder was presented to Dr. Zahn by M. Bethlin, the scientist, the day the doctor left for Paris. The one condition on which he permitted the cylinders to be made was that they should not be used for commercial purposes. Yesterday's recital was the first given in America.

FINDS MOTHER IN SERVANT'S PLACE

A Wealthy Woman Wanders Away Remembers Nothing of Past

GRIEF UNHINGES MIND

NEWARK, N. J., May 2.—Mrs. Emma Wallace, a wealthy resident of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., who disappeared from her home soon after the death of her husband, about five months ago, has been found by her daughter, living as a servant in the home of a resident of this city.

Although Mrs. Wallace recognized her daughter, she remembered nothing of her home or her life before she came to Newark. She does not even know how she got to this city.

When Mrs. Wallace's husband died she became the sole owner of his estate, valued at about $100,000. His death so preyed on her mind that she became mentally unbalanced and wandered away from home. When she appeared in this city seeking employment, she could not tell her own name or the names of any members of her family. All she knew was that she was in Newark and wished to get work to keep from starving.

The family with which she found took her in and found her as competent a servant as if she had been bred to that calling. She was willing and uncomplaining and apparently was in possession of all of her mental faculties except memory. After the disappearance of Mrs. Wallace from Wilkes-Barre every effort was made to find her. After a long search the police and all of her relatives, except her daughter, came to the conclusion she had met death by suicide or in some other way and she was never heard of again. But her daughter did not despair, she followed every clue, no matter how little it might promise. It was a clue of the slenderest sort that led her to this city.

W. D. WILLIAMS ON LANHAM'S MESSAGE

Representative W. D. Williams was returned from Austin. When he was asked for an expression concerning Governor Lanham's message, printed in yesterday's papers, he smiled. "Governor Lanham has the appropriation bill before him; he has the opportunity to cut out what he considers should not remain," said Mr. Williams. "We desired to cut it down, too, but we were unable to find any place to begin cutting and I rather expect that is the problem which the governor finds himself unable to solve. We itemized the bill as far as possible. The building appropriation was lumped because, of course, we could not figure out in advance just what sum was to go for stones, just what sum for concrete, and so forth. The appropriation bill is not perfect, but we tinkered at it a long time and did the very best we could."

TOO MUCH FROST NOT ENOUGH RAIN

According to the monthly meteorological summary of weather in Fort Worth issued by the local weather bureau, April was an exceedingly dry month. In the entire month only a little over half an inch of rain fell in this city. To be exact the precipitation amounted to .59 of an inch. There were nineteen clear days, nine partly cloudy and two cloudy. There were light frosts on April 4, 14, 15 and 30. The heavy frost did not come until May 1. The highest wind velocity was forty-four miles per hour; it came from the west on April 3. The average rainfall for nine years in April was 2.53 inches; this includes the April just ended. In 1900 no less than 7.34 inches of rain fell in April. In April, 1895, only one-tenth of an inch blessed Fort Worth. Other Aprils produced from 1.81 to 3.32 inches. The mean average temperature was 64.4; the average for nine years was 65.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES CHOSEN AT CHICO

CHICO, Texas, May 2.—In the contest for school trustees in the Chico independent school district the following were victorious: H. H. Robinson, J. S. Wallace, A. V. Hanna and Joe Murray. The following are the hold-overs for another year: A. J. Allen, W. F. Trippett and W. N. Pruitt.

SOLON'S SALARIES ARE SAWSH SHORT

Per Diem Payments No Longer Worry Watchdogs of the Treasury

AUSTIN, Texas, May 2.—The legislature is a thing of the past for this session at least. Adjournment was taken at 10 o'clock Friday night. There will be no further called sessions. The closing was characterized by good fellowship and the singing of "Home, Sweet Home." The general appropriation bill was passed, but it does not meet the views of Governor Lanham. The total of the appropriations made by this legislature amounted to $1,105,478. The total appropriations amounted to $5,523,337. The total estimated income available for appropriation amounts to $7,527,000.

Governor Lanham, in his farewell message to the legislature, speaks out in plain terms of his disapproval of the course of the legislature on the appropriations. He states that it will be necessary for him to use the pruning hook to keep the expenditures within the $7,500,000 and adds that he will not fear to do so. The governor makes this pertinent observation: "I have never learned that system of finance or method of mathematics that will discharge a seven and one-half dollar debt with six dollars and fifty cents, nor do I believe it is good policy in an individual or government to contract beyond their ability to pay."

PIERSON TAKES PIPER'S PLACE

Gallant Swains Pay Husband For Dancing With His Wife

PERTH AMBOY, N. J., May 2.—Miss Mary Yest and John Pierse were married here in the early evening and following the nuptial event, a dance took place. There was quite a party present and according to the local custom, all the men who dance with a bride are expected to pay the bridegroom for the privilege. The bride in this instance was exceptionally handsome and all the young men coveted the chance to trip the light fantastic toe with her. During the evening the gallant swains went down in their pockets several times and as a result the young bride was kept on her feet for more than two hours, while the bridegroom sat gathering in the shakels. Finally she protested against the perpetual motion, but to no avail, her husband insisting on her keeping it up. She started to dance again and after waltzing for nearly half an hour, fell to the floor in a faint. Physicians were summoned and the bride was restored to consciousness.

ELECTRIC FORCES MAY HAVE A WAR

Gigantic Combination of the Leading Manufacturers of Electrical Supplies in World Being Formed

(Special cable, copyright, 1903, by W. R. Hearst.) BERLIN, May 2.—Two gigantic combinations are forming to divide the world's business. One will be composed of the general electric company, of America, the Thompson-Houston company of England and the Allgemeine Electricische Gesellschaft, of Germany. The other combination will be the Westinghouse company of America and England and the Siemens-Halske-Schuckert company of Germany. Messrs. Potter of the general Electric and Clark of the Thompson-Houston, will arrive soon to form a still closer alliance with the two great German companies, and then will be created an American-German combine with a huge capital. Westinghouse is coming to arrange with the Siemens-Halske-Schuckert company for a defensive combination against the first combine. If the giants begin to fight, the combat will be Titanic, for America and Germany are the greatest producers of electric supplies in the world and can divide the business if they work in harmony.

DALLAS DECIDES TO HOLD THE FAIR

DALLAS, Tex., May 2.—At a mass meeting of merchants at the Commercial club tonight it was determined the state fair should be held next fall on dates originally made. The necessary money was guaranteed to the fair association.

PAUL REVERE'S BELL HAS TO BE RECAST

TROY, N. Y., May 2.—The bell which was cast by Paul Revere has been received in this city to be recast. The bell weighed about 1,300 pounds and hung in the Congregational church at Leominster, Mass. It was a short time ago, when the building was destroyed by fire. It had been in continuous use from the time it was first cast. It was damaged by the fire that its inscription is illegible. Its exact age is not known.

VANDERBILT HAS RAISED A STORM

(Copyright, 1903, by W. R. Hearst.) LONDON, May 2.—The sentiment of the ecclesiastics is opposed to such marriages as Vanderbilt's. The latter has occupied an unusual amount of space in the papers. The organs of the church denounce Chancellor Tristram and Vicar Hadden roundly for lending their aid. Henry Washington, vicar of St. Saviour, the fashionable west end church, who signed a letter of protest to the bishop of London against Tristram's and Hadden's action, said to your correspondent today: "The fact that the idea of writing the letter read by the bishop of London at the diocesan convention, was my own, shows you pretty plainly what my views are. Never before has a bishop of London risen to the occasion and so ably and strongly expressed his views on this subject. He deserves the thanks of all people and I hope there are many in America who will write him, expressing their gratitude for his fearless words. I myself, connected as I am with the first president of the United States and bearing his arms, which are the arms of the states, the star and stripes, appeal to my fellow churchmen in America to unite against the re-marriage of divorced persons in our churches."

PRESS ASSOCIATION AT WAXAHACHIE

WAXAHACHIE, Texas, May 2.—Clarence N. Ousley, president of the Texas Press Association, was in the city today, conferring with the local committees with reference to the meeting of the association here May 21 and 22. All the details for the meeting have been arranged and a large attendance is expected.

LITTLE AFFAIR OF HONOR IS SETTLED

HOUSTON, Tex., May 2.—As a result of disagreement of some standing the watchman J. M. Haley tonight shot and killed a man named Green at the creosote works near this city. Green drew first but Haley fired twice before he could be fired on, both bullets striking vital parts in Green's body. Another member of the jury in discussing the testimony, said: "The testimony that appealed most strongly to those of the jury who were in favor of conviction was that given by Mrs. Pope, Wilson's mother-in-law; Bell the barber, Mrs. Hampton and Mr. Matthews. Mrs. Pope testified that she noticed the wide trousers worn by one of the two men as they ran away after shooting and robbing Wilson. Her description particularly fitted Wolf. Mrs. Hampton almost positively identified Lawrence as the man she saw on the Fourth ward school lot shortly before the crime was committed. Bell testified that he saw Wolf and Lawrence lounging around the Turf Exchange and vicinity on the afternoon before the crime was committed. Lawrence denied that he was there. Of course, we were obliged to accept Bell's story as the truth. Matthews saw the two men who committed the crime, as they ran down Cherry street, and he was almost positive that Lawrence and Wolf were the men. The testimony of these witnesses had great weight with the jury."

CROPS INJURED NEAR ABILENE

Friday Morning's Frost Did Much Damage to All Growing Fruit and Grain—Cotton Suffering the Worst

ABILENE, Texas, May 2.—Reports from all over the adjacent Abilene country tell of a killing frost Friday morning. Considerable damage was done to all crops and in many cases they were killed outright. Wheat and oats were damaged less than anything else, yet in some sections they suffered considerably and in isolated cases were completely killed. A great deal of fruit was lost. Cotton was killed very generally where it was up, and in numerous cases whole fields of it were above the ground. Messrs. Hayden & Harvey, grocers of this place, disclosed partners yesterday. Mr. Harvey retiring from the business, which will be continued by Mr. Hayden. Miss Jewell Roberts and Otto Melton visited friends in Baird yesterday. Yesterday was field day at Simmons College. An interesting and varied program was witnessed by a large crowd from town, everyone indulging in luscious cheers for his favorite in the contests. A very interesting feature was a game of basket ball played by the college girls, the contestants being members of rival literary societies. A game of baseball was played between the college and town boys. The game was very hotly contested to the seventh inning, when the score stood 7 to 6 in the college boys' favor, but in the last two innings a few runs on each side changed the result to 14 to 12 in favor of the town boys. Work has been begun on a new three-story brick building at Simmons College. The building will be used as a girls' dormitory and president's home, and will cost about $5,000. Under the present management this college is flourishing at a very gratifying rate and promises to be a leading educational institution in the west.

LAWRENCE JURY FAILS

TEN FOR CONVICTION AND TWO FOR ACQUITTAL

IS DISCHARGED

FIRST BALLOT SEVEN FOR CONVICTION, FOUR FOR ACQUITTAL, ONE NOT VOTING

WAS OUT OVER 71 HOURS

Story of the Long Discussion in the Jury-Room—Testimony of Mrs. Pope, Messrs. Bell and Matthews and Mrs. Hampton of Great Weight

At 4:30 yesterday afternoon the jury in the Joe Lawrence case was discharged. It was unable to agree upon a verdict. It stood ten for conviction and two for acquittal. There had been no change in the balloting in the twenty-four hours last preceding its discharge.

When Judge M. E. Smith summoned the jury to appear before him, it had been out seventy-one and one-half hours. When the twelve tired and shavenless men were assembled in front of the bench Judge Smith asked John C. Bardin of near Arlington, the foreman of the jury, if a verdict had been reached. He answered in the negative. "Is there any hope of a verdict?" "I believe not."

"Without stating how you are divided numerically, state whether you are nearly evenly divided."

After querying each juror separately and asking whether there was a perfect understanding among them as to the testimony of the witnesses and the instructions of the court, to which the reply was in the affirmative, Judge Smith discharged the jury.

Before the jury was brought in Joe Lawrence, the defendant, was conducted from his cell in the county jail to the courtroom. His face was flushed and he seemed more nervous than at any time during the trial.

As soon as the jury was discharged the members were surrounded by a crowd eager to learn the details of what transpired in the jury-room. It had been unanimously agreed among the men that the names of the two jurors who held out for acquittal should not be disclosed.

John C. Bardin, foreman of the jury, submitted to a brief interview. "I do not know how many ballots we took. We started to count them, but lost the count somewhere along in the fifties. On the first ballot we stood seven for conviction, four for acquittal and one not voting. On the second ballot we stood eight for conviction and four for acquittal. We stood this way until nearly noon Thursday, when those for acquittal lost one vote and those for conviction gained one, making the ballots stand 9 to 3. Thursday evening another one joined those in favor of conviction and there were no more changes, and I don't believe there would have been another change if the jury had remained out a year. I don't know how the jury stood in regard to inflicting the death penalty. We did not discuss that phase. Of course, if we found Lawrence guilty we would have inflicted either a life sentence or the death penalty under the court's instructions, but as I say, I don't know which it would have been, as we never got that far."

Another member of the jury in discussing the testimony, said: "The testimony that appealed most strongly to those of the jury who were in favor of conviction was that given by Mrs. Pope, Wilson's mother-in-law; Bell the barber, Mrs. Hampton and Mr. Matthews. Mrs. Pope testified that she noticed the wide trousers worn by one of the two men as they ran away after shooting and robbing Wilson. Her description particularly fitted Wolf. Mrs. Hampton almost positively identified Lawrence as the man she saw on the Fourth ward school lot shortly before the crime was committed. Bell testified that he saw Wolf and Lawrence lounging around the Turf Exchange and vicinity on the afternoon before the crime was committed. Lawrence denied that he was there. Of course, we were obliged to accept Bell's story as the truth. Matthews saw the two men who committed the crime, as they ran down Cherry street, and he was almost positive that Lawrence and Wolf were the men. The testimony of these witnesses had great weight with the jury."

Lawrence declined to make a statement after being informed of how the jury stood, except to say that he was innocent. Judge Shropshire, his attorney, expressed surprise.

County Attorney Lattimore and Chief of Police Reed, who are confident they have the right men, were fairly well satisfied with the result of their efforts. They expect to have two strong witnesses for the state at the next trial of Lawrence, whom they were unable to find in this trial.

The trial of Joe Wolf for murder in the same case will be begun tomorrow morning in the same courtroom.

TEST FOR YOURSELF THE WONDERFUL CURATIVE PROPERTIES OF SWAMP-ROOT

To Prove What SWAMP-ROOT, the Great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy, Will Do for YOU, Every Reader of The Telegram May Have a Sample Bottle FREE.

Convincing Letters From Texas Men and Women Cured By This Wonderful Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy.

D. H. DEAN, 1808 State Street, Houston, Texas.
Suffered from Rheumatism for Nearly 20 Years; Cured by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

To the Editor of The Telegram:

I suffered from rheumatism for nearly 20 years, during which time I was treated by the best physicians in my home city without any relief. Seeing an advertisement of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, I decided to try it.

After taking several bottles I now enjoy better health than I have before in many years. I can not speak too highly in praise of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and am recommending it to every one whom I see troubled the same as I was.

You have my full permission to publish my photo and above as you may desire for the benefit of other sufferers. Yours very truly, D. H. DEAN,

MARSHALL, TEX., Sept. 27, 1902.

Gentlemen—I have used Swamp-Root and can cheerfully recommend it as the very best remedy I have ever used for kidney trouble. I gladly recommend it to my friends who are afflicted with this disease. Swamp-Root is a most reliable remedy.

HOW TO FIND OUT IF YOU NEED SWAMP-ROOT

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for more sickness and suffering than any other disease, therefore when through neglect or other cause kidney trouble is permitted to continue, fatal results are sure to follow.

Your other organs may need attention—but your kidneys most because they do most and need attention first.

If you are sick or "feel badly" begin taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince any one.

Kidney trouble irritates the nerves, makes you dizzy, restless, sleepless and irritable. Makes you pass water often during the day and obliges you to get up many times during the night. Unhealthy kidneys cause rheumatism, gravel, catarrh of the bladder, pain or dull ache in the back, joints and muscles, makes your head ache and back ache, causes indigestion, stomach and liver trouble, you get a sallow, yellow complexion, makes you feel as though you had heart trouble; you may have plenty of ambition, but no strength; get weak and waste away, scanty supply of urine, frequent desire to pass it night or day, with scalding or burning sensation—these are all unmistakable signs of kidney or bladder trouble and prove you need Swamp-Root.

If there is any doubt in your mind as to your condition, take from your urine on rising about four ounces, place it in a glass or bottle and let it stand twenty-four hours. If on examination it is milky or cloudy, if there is a brick dust settling, or if small particles float about in it, your kidneys are in need of immediate attention.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is used in the leading hospitals, recommended by physicians in their private practice and is taken by doctors themselves because they recognize in Swamp-Root the greatest and most successful remedy that science has ever been able to compound.

No matter how many doctors you have tried—no matter how much money you have spent on other medicines, you really owe it to yourself to at least give Swamp-Root a trial. Its staunchest friends today are those who had almost given up hope of ever becoming well again.

If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need you can purchase the regular 50 cent and $1.00 bottles at the drug stores everywhere. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root—Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

An Influential Marshall Merchant Testifies to the Merits of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

MARSHALL, TEX., Sept. 27, 1902.

To the Editor of The Telegram:

Gentlemen—For two years I neglected to give proper attention to the moving and shooting pains in my back and bladder. I did not then know the symptoms which sick kidneys develop, and therefore was ignorant of the cause of these pains.

Awaiting my turn in the barber shop I carelessly picked up a newspaper and as luck would have it the first thing that caught my eye was an advertisement of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, in which there was a testimonial of a man who said he was cured by this remedy, explaining his symptoms, which were similar to my own. I then realized for the first time that I had kidney trouble. I asked my druggist about it and requested him to recommend a cure. He advised me to try Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. I took his advice and never regretted it.

The first bottle I took had the effect of removing from my bladder a good sized diamond shaped stone, and with it two or three small pea shaped stones. With them came a discharge of blood. I consumed three bottles, and today am as well as I ever was in my life. This is all due to the wonderful remedy, Swamp-Root.

I have always been anxious to tell of this before for the benefit of other sufferers, but modesty held me back.

Whenever I hear of any of my friends suffering from kidney disease I am always ready to recommend Swamp-Root, which has done so much for me.

A Well-Known Physician of Forty-five Years' Practice Recommends SWAMP-ROOT.

To the Editor of The Telegram: KAUFMAN, TEX., Nov. 18, 1902.

Gentlemen—I have been engaged as a practicing physician in Kaufman, Tex. for the past forty-five years.

About four or five years ago several of my friends repeatedly called my attention to the results they had obtained from the use of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. At that time my own kidneys were giving me considerable trouble, and, unable to find more than temporary relief by the use of ordinary remedies, I began to use Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root as an experiment, and was surprised to find that in a short time it relieved me and effected a permanent cure.

I have since recommended and prescribed it to my patients, many of whom have been cured of serious kidney trouble.

It is these cures, and others that have come to my notice here and in Dallas, that have given me the utmost confidence in the reliability and curative powers of Swamp-Root, and while it may be an unusual thing for a physician, yet I do not hesitate, in fact am glad to be able, to give my experience for this great remedy.

I will continue to recommend your remedy to all those who apply for an absolute cure for kidney and liver trouble. Yours truly,

H. J. SNOW, M. D.

Mr. John C. Graves, a druggist of Kaufman, Tex., says: "I know the above statement to be true, as I sold Dr. Snow the Swamp-Root and know that he has recommended it to many who have purchased it from me."

Messrs. T. S. Pyle and Bro., another well known drug firm in Kaufman, Tex., says:

"We know the above statement to be true and correct."

A Prominent Texas Lady Testifies to the Benefits of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

The following testimonial is from Mrs. M. T. Pankey, wife of M. T. Pankey, a well and favorably known merchant who for the past ten years has been in the mercantile business on the corner of Peach and Elm streets, Fort Worth, Texas.

Fort Worth, Tex., Nov. 22, 1902.

To the Editor of The Telegram:

Dear Sir—Last summer, while my husband and I were attending the great ex-Confederate reunion at Dallas, Tex., I was taken seriously ill with what was pronounced by the best physicians as Bright's disease of the kidneys in its worst form. I was carried home and the best medical aid summoned. After a consultation between skilled physicians they decided my case would prove fatal.

About this time an old girlhood friend of mine, Mrs. Rev. J. R. Abernathy of Plano, Tex., sent me word that a relative of hers had been taken ill the same way as myself and she was cured by "Swamp-Root," and she knew of many similar cases.

Mrs. Collins of this city, a neighbor of ours, also recommended it very highly.

I bought and commenced taking Swamp-Root, and dispensed with services of the physician who was attending me regularly. I commenced to improve as soon as I began taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. I now feel entirely well, and can not speak too highly in praise of Dr. Kilmer's great remedy for kidney troubles, "Swamp-Root." Very sincerely,

MRS. M. T. PANKEY,
317 North Elm street.

MRS. M. L. COE.

To the Editor of The Telegram:

I feel so grateful for Swamp-Root that I can not help writing you. I had inflammation of the bladder and other troubles. I became weak and run down, sleepless at nights and tired mornings, was in poor health off and on for over five years. I had four or five different doctors to treat me. They gave me some relief for a while, but I never felt that I was cured. The doctors did not seem to think that I had any kidney trouble, but somehow I felt differently about it, and having heard so much about Swamp-Root I concluded to send for sample bottle and the effect was so pleasing that I sent to town and got a large dollar bottle. I began taking it, and have had only two light spells since. Then I got the second bottle and took that, and have not been so well in five years. I cannot say enough in praise of Swamp-Root and what it has done for me, and how much better in every way I feel.

MRS. M. L. COE.

101 S. Santa Fe St., El Paso, Texas.

SAMPLE BOTTLE WILL BE SENT FREE BY MAIL

EDITORIAL NOTE—No matter how many doctors you may have tried—no matter how much money you may have spent on other medicines—you really owe it to yourself to at least give SWAMP-ROOT a trial. Its staunchest friends today are those who had almost given up hope of ever becoming well again. If you have the slightest symptoms of kidney, liver or bladder trouble or if there is any trace of it in your family history, send at once to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., who will gladly send you by mail, immediately, without cost to you, a sample bottle of Swamp-Root and a book containing many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from men and women cured by Swamp-Root. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure to say you read this generous offer in The Fort Worth Daily Telegram.

You can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one dollar size bottles at the drug stores everywhere. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

PRETTY CHEEKS.

A Food That Makes Girls Sweet to Look Upon.

The right food for young ladies is of the greatest importance to their looks, to say nothing of the health. Thin, sallow girls don't get the right food you may be absolutely certain. A Brooklyn girl says: "For a long time in spite of all I could do I was thin, skinny and nervous. My cheeks were so sunken my friends used to remark how bad I looked. I couldn't seem to get strength from my food—meat, potatoes, bread, etc. So I tried various medicines without help."

"I often read about Grape-Nuts, but never tried the food until one day something impressed me that perhaps if I would eat Grape-Nuts for my nerves and brain I could digest and get the good of my food. So I started in. The food with cream was fascinating to my taste and I went in for it regularly twice a day."

"Well, I began to improve and now while on my third package I have changed so my friends congratulate me warmly, ask me what in the world I have taken, etc., etc. My cheeks are plump and rosy and I feel so strong and well. I sleep sound and it seems as though I couldn't get enough to eat. Thank you sincerely for making Grape-Nuts." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.
There's a reason for Grape-Nuts.

Miss Hulda Gylfe at 905 Summit avenue, gave a birthday party Friday evening. About 50 friends were present. Prizes were won as follows: First, Miss Alma Collins; second, John Widecrantz; third, Miss Lilly Johnson. E. J. Ellenwood and D. D. Dewey, special deputies of the Columbia league have received orders to report at headquarters, Detroit, Mich., and will depart in a few days. Special Deputy P. J. Pool will remain here several weeks.

Y. M. C. A. PLANS A HARD WEEK'S WORK

Matters have been rather quiet at the Y. M. C. A. this week owing to the illness of Secretary Reeves. He is now convalescent and hopes he will be able to take up full work next week. In this event all the regular features of the week will be carried out, namely: Bible study on Monday night at 8 o'clock; under the instruction of Dr. Ray; and male chorus practice at 9 o'clock; athletics will receive usual attention; and the Saturday night "Pop" will be arranged for next week. The men's meeting this afternoon will be addressed by Rev. Walter T. Hillsman. Mr. John Bradley has kindly consented to sing.

The board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. who have inaugurated a campaign to secure 500 new members by the 1st of June will have their committees at work early in the week and a report of the work will be given each day. This is considered a big undertaking, but the directors feel it is possible as there are so many young men in the city who need the association privileges.

STRONG, HEALTHY, AND FULL OF VIGOR AT 104. SIXTY-FIVE GRANDCHILDREN LIVING AND MARRIED.

Mr. Ralph Bullock of Brooklyn, N. Y., Who Is In His 105th Year, Says He Is as Young and Active as Any of His Grandchildren--He Weighs 175 Pounds, and His Only Medicine Is

DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY

"I was always fond of life," said Mr. Bullock to a reporter last evening. "I saw a great deal of it when I was young, and to this day I can laugh as heartily as the youngest of my grandchildren. I am good for some more years, and I scarcely feel my age. My vigorous constitution and remarkable freedom from disease is due to the daily use for many years of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. Though I am past 104 years of age, I feel as young and hearty as forty years ago. I weigh 175 pounds, my appetite is good, and I still do all the chores. I cannot say too much in favor of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, which is indeed a blessing to old people and invalids. I know it has prolonged my life many years."

Mr. Bullock's wife died twenty years ago, and he is living with one of his grandchildren. Sixty-five grandchildren are married, and they are all strong and healthy. His descendants who live in Fort Hamilton, Brooklyn and Manhattan are the McDonald, Watts, Hurst, Bullock and Clark families.

The health and vigor of Mr. Bullock's children and grandchildren show that their father thought of his descendants and kept his constitution strong and vigorous with a pure stimulant and tonic, leaving all kinds of drugs and medicine alone. So it is with a woman; she should keep herself healthy and strong. If the fathers and mothers kept their constitutions strong and free from disease, there would be no sickly, puny children. It is an easy matter to keep the body in a state of normal health by using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, the only absolutely pure stimulant and tonic which is free from fusel oil and other dangerous ingredients. Do not fill your system with patent medicines and drugs.

There are thousands of cases similar to that of Mr. Bullock's, and if every one used Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey as directed, the average life would be prolonged at least twenty years.

Caution.—When you ask for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. Unscrupulous dealers, mindful of the excellence of this preparation, will try to sell you cheap imitations, and so-called Malt Whiskey substitutes, which are put on the market for profit only, and which, far from relieving the sick, are positively harmful. Demand "Duffy's" and be sure you get it. It is the only absolutely pure malt whiskey which contains medicinal, health-giving qualities. Look for the trade-mark, "The Old Chemist," on the label.

It is the only whiskey recognized by the government as a medicine. This is a guarantee. The genuine at all druggists and grocers, or direct, $1.00 a bottle. Medical booklet free. Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.

GUATEMALA HAS A LIVELY VOLCANO

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., May 2.—Santa Marie, a volcano in Guatemala, has broken out again. The news was brought by the steamer San Juan, which left Champerico April 17. Couriers from the interior brought word that the volcano is sending out a storm of ashes and the inhabitants of the surrounding country are panic-stricken.

CAPITAL STOCK $50,000

Incorporated Under the Laws of Texas.

THIS COMPANY HAS BEEN ORGANIZED FOR THE PURPOSE OF BUYING, IMPROVING AND SELLING REAL ESTATE IN FORT WORTH AND NORTH FORT WORTH. ITS OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS ARE NOTED FOR THEIR CONSERVATIVE IDEAS AND SAFE BUSINESS METHODS. EACH OF THEM HAS LIVED IN FORT WORTH SINCE IT WAS A SMALL TOWN AND HAS SEEN IT GROW TO A CITY. THEY ARE THOROUGHLY ACQUAINTED WITH REAL ESTATE VALUES, AND THEIR JUDGMENT IS OF GREAT IMPORTANCE IN THE CONDUCT OF THIS BUSINESS.

WE BELIEVE THAT FORT WORTH WILL GROW VERY RAPIDLY AND BECOME A LARGE CITY IN A FEW YEARS. REAL ESTATE IS NOW CHEAP, BUT IT WILL BECOME MORE VALUABLE AS THE CITY INCREASES IN SIZE. BY BUYING NOW THE STOCKHOLDERS OF THIS COMPANY REAP THE PROFITS OF THIS INCREASE IN VALUE. IT IS INTENDED TO OFFER A LIMITED AMOUNT OF THE CAPITAL STOCK FOR SALE.

Shares Are $50 Each, Payable $10 Cash and $10 Per Month Until the Balance is Paid

WE BELIEVE THIS IS A SAFE AND PROFITABLE INVESTMENT. SAFE, BECAUSE IT IS IN THE HANDS OF SAFE MEN. PROFITABLE, BECAUSE EACH STOCKHOLDER, NO MATTER HOW SMALL HIS HOLDINGS, HAS THE BENEFIT OF THE COMBINED CAPITAL OF THE COMPANY AND THE EXPERIENCE OF MEN WHOSE KNOWLEDGE IS WORTH MONEY.

THE SUBSCRIPTION BOOKS WILL BE OPEN AT THE OFFICE OF THE COMPANY, ON WEDNESDAY, MAY 6, AND STOCK WILL BE OFFERED TO THE PUBLIC FOR A SHORT TIME.

STOCK MOVING SALE OF THE GREATEST MAGNITUDE!

2 1-2c Lawns 2 1-2
2,000 yards of Lawn Remnants, 1 to 10 yard lengths, light and dark colors, pretty designs, regular, 10c quality. Remnant price, per yard, 2 1-2c.

Linen Remnants
About 200 Remnants of Pure Linen Table Damask, from 1 1/2 to 3 1/2 yards, all marked low for rapid selling.

Its to be really a forced sale—and every person knows what that means—the literal sacrifice of stocks for what they will bring. Early spring saw the greatest buying the Columbia has ever done—the backward season has left much in every department which should have gone out—and this sale has been arranged to effect a speedy closing out of the stocks which remains—to bring the stock level down to what it should be at this time—the price inducement will be used to the utmost—and the dollar has never bought more and better than it will be able to during this great stock reducing sale. The best proof of this will be a visit to the big store tomorrow or during the week and we promise a treat such as will eclipse the most advantageous offerings ever put forth by any Fort Worth store. Read every item in this ad, it tells you of worthy goods for less money than you pay for inferior grades. Sale the entire week, starting tomorrow morning.

COUNTRESS PLANS HELPING THE POOR

(Copyright, 1903, by W. R. Hearst.)
 LONDON, May 2.—The countess of Warwick intends to introduce the management of a licensed public house to her other activities for the amelioration of the condition of working people in the neighborhood of her Essex country house. The countess has bought the Saracens Head hotel, near Dunow, famous for its stich and, desiring to promote temperance, intends to present soft drinks and food as attractively to her customers as beer and whisky. Perhaps when the countess' system has been tried in Dunow the resulting enhancement of domestic bills will produce an additional crop of applicants for the historic fitch of bacon. The countess paid £5,000 for the house. The management of the place will make the countess the busiest person in the realm, as she already controls a medal firm and runs an embroidery shop in Bond street.

TINY TERRIER IS TRUE TO HIS TRUST

CHICAGO, Ill., May 2.—Little 7-year-old runt Paszowski, who had been missing five days, was found today by his tiny pet dog in a shallow grave on the edge of the Cragin forest. In the little fellow's temple was a bullet wound.

Two playmates of the dead child are in custody. The police have information that one of the boys, Julius Wilcock, threatened to shoot the Paszowski boy with his air rifle. Willie Black, aged 11, is also under arrest. Both boys declare they are innocent. The entire neighborhood where the little boy lived had been searching for the child for five days. Today some of the searchers went near the forest and heard the whining of the little fox terrier. The dog was scratching and digging at the hill of loose earth in which the body lay.

KAISER WILHELM IN PROPHECY'S ROLE

(Copyright, 1903, by W. R. Hearst.)
 BERLIN, May 2.—News from Metz brings proof of the kaiser's proverbial modesty. The new Christ doorway of the Metz cathedral, upon which the sculptors have been working one hundred years, has just been unveiled. Four gigantic figures of prophets upholding the arch is a striking feature.

FEW PEOPLE SEE BRONCHO RIDING

William Conners of Pell Plain, Col.; K. C. McMillan of Sterling, Col.; and Jack McGuire of Sheridan, Wyo., were awarded the prizes in the broncho busting exhibition last evening.

Few people were present either at the matinee or in the evening, much to the disappointment of the management, which had anticipated a large crowd at the evening exhibition, especially.

The ponies and their riders comprise the best aggregation of this nature to be found in the United States.

In the afternoon Jack McGuire of Sheridan, Wyo., gave the first exhibition. In his drawing for a horse Tracey fell to his lot. Tracey was entered by James Forbes of Tie Siding, Wyo. McGuire was thrown from his mount after the first few jumps, and narrowly escaped injury. It was not his inability as a rider that permitted Tracey, one of the wildest horses in the bunch, to throw him. The horse ran into a tent pole.

The most vicious bucking broncho in the matinee performance was a horse from Smith's ranch, ten miles west of Fort Worth. The animal was ridden by Curtis Jackson, and afterward Curtis and Otis Jackson mounted him and both men were entertained for a time.

The evening performance concluded with the riding of Happy Hoogan, a mule, by William Conners.

J. H. and L. J. Polk and Messrs. Cooke and Simmons were the judges.

Miss Ruth Winfield will talk on "Buds and Branches" in the young people's room of the library Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

C. E. Greenwell, manager for the Harris Dry Goods company, has gone East on a business trip for his firm, to be absent about ten days.

RATHER SHUT UP THAN PAY LICENSE

NEW YORK, May 2.—High license went into effect in this city yesterday and, as a result, 718 hotel and saloonkeepers in Manhattan and Bronx will go out of business. In Brooklyn there was a falling off of 123 in the applications for licenses compared with last year. The receipts for license fees amounted to $10,135,787 from the three boroughs, an increase of $2,945,037 over last year. In Manhattan and the Bronx 8,860 licenses were issued and the receipts were $7,000,022. In Brooklyn 2,632 licenses were issued and the receipts were $3,134,865.

In Manhattan the license fee was raised from $800 to $1,200, and in Brooklyn from $600 to $900.

STORK TO VISIT PRINCESS SOON

Erring Princess Louise of Saxony About to Become Mother—Living in Virtual Imprisonment

COURT TO TAKE INFANT

(Copyright, 1903, by W. R. Hearst.)
 VIENNA, May 2.—Preparations have been made for the accomplishment of the unfortunate princess of Saxony.

The grand duchess of Tuscany, her mother, is ministering solicitously to her daughter's need. The princess remains secluded in virtual imprisonment at the Chateau at Lindau.

An official has been sent from the court of Saxony to be present at the birth. When the infant is a month old it will be taken from its mother to the Saxon court, where it will be reared.

By order of the king the crown prince has settled £1,500 a year from his private fortune upon the erring princess, who has agreed to all the terms submitted by the court.

She will never see Giron again. The latter is in Brussels, writing a play. The Princess Louise's mysterious disappearance occurred in December last.

SECOND JURY GIVES NEWMAN TEN YEARS

FIRST ONE IMPOSED SENTENCE OF FORTY YEARS

High Points of Law Result in W. Weller Case Being Dismissed for Want of Jurisdiction—Motion for New Trial in Kennon Case

The jury in the A. M. Newman murder case reported a verdict in the Seventeenth district court at 11:45 yesterday morning.

The verdict gave Newman ten years in the penitentiary. He was charged with killing O. R. Wartenbee, a fellow railroad man, by drugging him and then dumping him from a buggy on the north side, near Hermann park. The crime was committed last August. No poison was found in Wartenbee's stomach.

This was Newman's second trial. In the first one, he was given forty years in the penitentiary. An error by the jury in giving weight to the fact that the defendant was not placed on the witness stand resulted in a new trial. It is likely that Newman will accept the present verdict, although his lawyers are inclined to believe they could secure their client's acquittal by taking the case up.

FINE POINTS

Five points of law were argued before Judge M. E. Smith in the Seventeenth district court yesterday afternoon during the trial of B. Weller of Hill county, who was charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. After the testimony was heard the question of jurisdiction was raised by counsel for the plaintiff. The jury retired during the argument that followed. Judge Smith finally took the case away from the jury and dismissed the case, holding that he did not have jurisdiction. The allegations in the indictment were that Weller made a slight draft on Frank Hovenkamp for $150 to obtain payment for a certain number of hogs; that the latter were never delivered, although the money was paid. The question at issue was whether the money came into possession of Weller in Hill county or in Tarrant, the state holding that the money became Weller's as soon as Hovenkamp parted with it. Judge Smith held that the law was that the defendant should be prosecuted in the county where he acquired the money, and that he acquired it in Hill county.

KENNON CASE

In the Forty-eighth district court a motion for a new trial was argued and submitted in the Bob Kennon case. Judge Dunklin took the matter under advisement.

FASTEST FEET TO WIN FAIR BRIDE

NEW YORK, May 2.—Tom Dalton and James Rosen are to run a 40-mile race, the winner to get for a bride. Ray Bernstein, a pretty east side milliner.

The race will be run at the outing of the Young Men's Waldorf Club, to be held tomorrow. The fair trophy says she really does not care which of the young men is the victor. She loves them both. The young men love her desperately. They would run their legs off for her. Dalton is an insurance agent and Rosen is a drummer. There is little difference in their ages, both being about 20. The object of their athletic affections is 19.

The young men met Miss Bernstein at a club entertainment about six weeks ago. The other day a member of the club suggested that they run a foot race for her. The proposition was readily accepted and the contest was set for tomorrow.

THROWS LOG AND KILLS GRAND CHILD

PARIS, Texas, May 2.—H. G. George of Paeo, Delta county, accidentally killed his grandchild today. He was working on the road, carrying a log and threw it in a ditch on the child. He had sent the child home, but it had evidently disobeyed or had returned.

BIG GUNS GO OFF FOR THE GRADUATES

NEW YORK, May 2.—The graduating class of the West Point Military Academy visited the proving grounds at Sandy Hook today and witnessed the experimental working and firing of the large seacoast guns and also the latest rapid-fire guns. The firing included shells loaded with high explosive from twelve-inch guns at the fort. Many targets were destroyed. The heavy guns and carriages were moved by electric power.

CONGREGATIONAL SERVICE IN TENT

Pending the securing of more permanent headquarters for meeting, the new organization of the Congregational church will commence its regular services at 11 o'clock this morning in a tent just erected on Henderson street near Pennsylvania avenue. Preaching by the pastor, Rev. George W. Ray, at the morning service and at 8 o'clock. Also every evening this week except Saturday at 8 o'clock Rev. Mr. Ray will preach, assisted by Rev. Luther Rees of Dallas. The new organization will begin probably with a membership of forty or fifty. A cordial invitation is given to all.

BRUTAL MURDER BY BARBAROUS NEGROES

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 2.—A special to the States from Vicksburg, Miss., says William Leck, a prominent planter living at Adams' landing, west of Redwood, Miss., was enticed to a burning ginhouse last night, set upon by negroes and shot down in cold blood. A posse from Redwood, Oak Ridge and Adams counties is scouring the country for three negroes suspected of the murder. A wholesale lynching is probable if they are caught.

FIRE LOSS IS NOW MILLION DOLLARS

COULDESPORT, Pa., May 2.—The charred body of Edward Hill was found today on the road near Olean. He evidently met death in forest fires which swept the Kettle Creek territory yesterday. His horse was also burned to death. Great damage has been wrought by the forest fires in this vicinity. The town of Cross Forks is threatened with destruction.

The saw and planing mill of the Lackawanna Lumber Company was destroyed, together with several buildings in the southern section of town. The loss thus far is estimated at $1,000,000.

TWO BARN BURN THE LOSS IS $500

Last night about 9:30 o'clock, and during the performance of the broncho busting, quite a little excitement was created over a fire alarm. The larger portion of the crowd rushed down to the fire from the tent, and for awhile looked as if the show would be deserted, but after the blaze was extinguished most of the crowd returned.

Two barns at the rear of 114 and 116 South Calhoun street were burned, loss about $500. It is thought that the fire originated from cigarette stubs thrown down by boys who had been around the buildings. This is the third time fire has been discovered in one or the other of these barns during the past month.

The property is owned by Sam Garrett of Galveston avenue, W. C. Fife resides at the former number and Richard Perkins at the latter.

WEDDINGS.

BROWN-CASTLE

One of the happiest weddings of the week was that of Al H. Brown of Fort Worth and Miss Eva Castle, one of the favorite girls in the society of Shreveport, La. Immediately after the ceremony the young couple came to Fort Worth. They are stopping temporarily at the Hotel Rosen. The groom has been a resident of Fort Worth for about two years, having come to this city from Shreveport. He is a prominent Eagle and has a wide circle of friends, both here and in Shreveport. Mr. and Mrs. Brown will make Fort Worth their home.

ENCIRCLE EARTH WITHIN FORTY SECONDS

MONTCCLAIR, N. J., May 2.—An official of the Postal Telegraph company who is a resident of this place says that on July 4, in connection with the opening of the new cable, the insular possessions of the United States an effort which now gives promise of success will be made to circle the globe in forty seconds. The message will be sent from the main office of the company in New York and it is hoped will be received on the opposite side of the room within forty seconds after the operator sends on the other. This feat will immediately follow the exchange of messages between President Roosevelt and Governor Taft at Manila. The message will probably travel over only two lines. These will be the land and ocean wires of the Postal and the Commercial Cable company which may be considered one, and those of the Eastern Telegraph company.

The message will go from New York to the Pacific coast by the land lines of the Postal and thence to Manila by the Commercial Cable lines. At Manila it will be taken up by the Eastern and hurried on to London, where it will be again turned into the lines of the Commercial Cable company for transmission under the Atlantic. To make the time calculated on there will have to be instant communication between the various relays.

CONSPIRACY CASE IS AGAIN REVIVED

EL PASO, Texas, May 2.—The cases against C. T. Richardson and William Mason, alleged to have entered into a conspiracy to defraud the New York Life Insurance Company, through the murder of policy holders, was opened this afternoon. The Mexican government filed the papers in the case, alleging that the men are guilty of numerous murders in Chihuahua and other places in Mexico. The Mexican representatives' instructions are to the effect that a request be made of the United States government that the cases be heard before the United States commissioner at Pecos, Reeves county, in view of the fact that Commissioner Howe has already passed on the case.

Mason, Richardson and Dr. Harle were tried once before on the question of extradition to Mexico, the two former being ordered held here while Dr. Harle was ordered extradited. The Mexican officials claim they have secured direct evidence on which they state they can convict both Richardson and Mason without the testimony of Dr. Harle, who testified here that he aided in the murders charged.

UNCLE WARREN GOOD TO HIS NEPHEWS

NEW YORK, May 2.—According to the will of Warren B. Smith the multi-millionaire and traveller which has just been filed at White Plains, an estate estimated at $32,500,000 is divided between his sister, nephews and nieces, cousins, charitable institutions, servants and old employees.

The most remarkable thing about the document is the bequest of $1,000,000 to each five nephews and nieces.

Mr. Smith died in Tunis, Algiers about a month ago and the body was brought to this country and buried in Woodlawn cemetery. The entire estate consists of bonds, mortgages, stocks and shares of the Smith Carpet company. Eva S. Cochran, widow of Wm. F. Cochran, who left $12,000,000 to her is given only $100,000 by Mr. Smith, who was her brother. The residuary of the estate, which is estimated at $19,000,000 to $14,000,000 goes to Alexander Smith Cochran, the pet nephew and a son of Mrs. Cochran. Five nephews and nieces, three of them sons and daughters of Mrs. Cochran, each are given $1,000,000 outright.

CARL MARR WILL PAINT HIS PICTURE

CHICAGO, Ill., May 2.—A portrait of Professor Hermann E. Von Holst, for ten years head of the department of history at the University of Chicago, painted by Carl Marr of Munich, is to be presented to the university. The sum of $4,000, which is to be paid to the painter, is being raised by subscription among admirers of Professor Von Holst in Chicago, New York and Germany, under direction of Professor J. Laurence Laughlin, appointed by the university senate. Professor Von Holst is at present in Freiburg, Germany, where the artist has secured his preliminary sketches.

TERRIBLE TRAGEDY IN A CATHEDRAL

VIENNA, May 2.—St. Stephens' cathedral has just been the scene of a terrible crime. During mass, when the church was filled with people, a young man suddenly rushed his way to the altar and, drawing a revolver, fired three shots among the worshippers. The first two bullets failed to do any damage, but the third hit Professor Jacob Guroszek in the breast, and he sank to the ground in a dying condition. Some of the congregation then seized the man and, after a severe struggle, wrested the weapon from his grasp. Meanwhile a panic ensued in the church and during the general rush for the doors several women were knocked down and injured.

On being examined by the police the man was identified as an electrician named Carl Friedrich Ragon. There is evidence that he is mentally deranged. After the shooting the church was reconsecrated.

FIVE HUNDRED MEN ADDED TO STRIKERS

ELMIRA, N. Y., May 2.—Five hundred workmen, affiliated with the Building Trades Council, are on strike for recognition of their unions by employers, increase in wages, and an eight-hour working day. Those on strike include nearly all the carpenters, masons, bricklayers, plasterers, painters, paper hangers, decorators and sheet metal workers in the city.

The contractors will make an effort to secure men to complete contracts on hand.

ASSAILANT OF AGED WOMAN IS CAUGHT

DEARBORN, Mich., May 2.—Joseph Brown, who attacked and fatally wounded Mrs. John Ellis, an aged woman here yesterday morning, was found last night at Woodbury, Mich. He had been arrested at that place late in the afternoon on the alleged charge of snatching a pocketbook.

EVEN PARAGUAY IS AHEAD OF TEXAS

NEW YORK, May 2.—The government of Paraguay has accepted an invitation to take part in the St. Louis exposition, carries an Assuncion correspondent. A committee has been appointed to solicit exhibits. Mr. Rufin, the American consul, has charge of one section of the territory to be canvassed.

NEGRO INSULTS WOMEN AND GIRLS

CHICAGO, Ill., May 2.—All Evanston is searching for a negro thug. It caught by any resident at night he is likely to be killed. Captain Merach and his policemen have searched the city several days for a trace of this man who has brutally attacked young girls and women.

The past seven days this negro has kept the women in terror. They have not dared to venture into the streets at night. Five women and girls have been insulted and reported the matter to the police. That others have been victims, but have refrained from publishing their misfortune, is believed by the officers.

Last Saturday night Clara and Sophie Schroeder, ages 17 and 15, respectively, were attacked by this negro and a companion. The girls say they were followed by a short, heavy-set negro, who was joined soon by a second negro.

The girls ran toward Church street. As they turned away from the electric light the negroes sprang upon them. Clara was thrown to the ground and dragged into the alley. Sophie screamed and ran to the middle of the street. A stranger passing in a buggy, dropped the reins and ran to the rescue of the girls and the negroes fled.

Miss Catherine Fee, 20 years of age, was attacked last Thursday night. She pluckily beat off the colored man and then pursued him for two blocks, when he disappeared in an alley.

Miss Anna Carlson, 19 years old, of Grand Haven, Mich., who is visiting friends here, was struck several times by a man answering the description of the unknown negro on Church street last Monday night.

HUDSON REFUSES PAY FOR TIME ILL

AUSTIN, Texas, May 2.—When the twenty-eighth legislature met here Hon. L. L. Hudson, representative from Tarrant county, was ill at his home, and more than forty days of the session had expired before he appeared to take the oath of office. After reaching Austin he convalesced slowly, and was frequently absent, although during the latter part of the session he took a conspicuous part in legislation, particularly upon the land bill. During Mr. Hudson's absence the house voted to pay him all of his salary. Mr. Hudson did the quite unusual thing of refusing this pay, being the only member of the legislature who has pursued this course, although many of them have frequently been absent.

In announcing to the house that he had refused the warrants Mr. Hudson said: "As a matter of personal privilege, I wish to say that in my absence some days ago, during the regular session, you adopted a resolution declaring that I was entitled to pay for the days that sickness kept me away from the sittings of this house.

"This evidence of your generosity I am compelled to decline. I have been away from this house during the greater part of the session. My usefulness to my people has been very much impaired. All the circumstances considered, I cannot accept of the state of Texas pay for days that I was not in her service. I have refused warrants for $364, which represents pay for the days that I was not able to be present, and I here hand them back to you.

"Permit me to say that I am proud of the confidence of the great constituency that I represent, and had not misfortune intervened I should have entered her service as well as that of the state of Texas, with all the fidelity and earnestness that I possess. I should have offered my resignation to the end that the people of the One Hundred and Eighth district, composed of the counties of Cooke, Denton, Tarrant and Wise, could have elected my successor and have been fully represented, had it not been for an illusive hope of quick-returning health and the further consideration of the cost of a special election in a district composed of four populous counties.

"Gentlemen, I thank you individually and collectively for your uniform courtesies. You have sympathized with me by resolution spread upon your journal, and since I came from my bed to this capital and found bills five hundred high piled in confusion upon my desk your many kindly suggestions have helped me materially in the service."

The announcement was received with some applause.

SPARKING IN SCHOOL TOPIC OF TEACHERS

The last meeting of the Tarrant County Teachers' Association until next fall was held yesterday in the office of Superintendent Moore. The first topic on the program proved so interesting, especially to the ladies, that all were loath to leave it, and so it took up most of the session.

"Sparking in School" was the title of the topic and G. T. Bludworth of Grapevine made the principal talk on it.

He held that sparking was natural, and therefore right, and that it was among the first sciences acquired by the young. It was impossible to stop it; therefore the best thing to be done was to regulate it as far as possible. He said that co-education as it existed in all the county schools, "kid" parties, as he termed them, prayer meetings and "singings" were greatly productive of sparking. In churches, especially, the young people should be prevented from sliding into pews in the dark in the rear of the edifices and there sparking by means of notes, gestures, and so forth.

Other topics which aroused general interest were "Playground Discipline," by W. G. Corbett of Euwatt, and "Is the Demand for Corporal Punishment on the Decrease?" by Miss Anna Bridges of Arlington and Professor Smith of Handley. The demand was found to be on the decrease, but none thought the abolishment of corporal punishment near.

FARSON IS HUNTING THAT GOOD GIRL YET

(Copyright, 1903, by W. R. Hearst.)
 NEW YORK, May 2.—His search for a good servant maid has brought John Farson, multi-millionaire and philanthropist, to the Waldorf-Astoria. The Chicago banker could not find in all Chicago or the western country a girl who was willing to accept his offer of a million dollars bonus in addition to good wages and an ideal home, to enter his household service and agree to remain in the family until he dies. He is now 45 years old. There is no trick about this million-dollar offer. Mr. Farson is eager and anxious to find someone to accept it. He has not given up hope of securing what he wants, but if he fails to find the ideal domestic on his present trip to New York he admits he will be discouraged.

BE DIRECTED BY LARGER LINE

Announced That Southern Pacific Will Assume Direct Management of the Houston and Texas Central

HOUSTON, Texas, May 2.—It is officially announced that the affairs of the Houston and Texas Central road will be directed from the Southern Pacific, and the work is now going on. In order to make the change a number of joint officials will resign from either one road or another and the new men will take hold. An entirely separate auditing department has been installed, the skeleton of the Central's organization having been preserved. This results from the determination of the Southern Pacific to operate the newly completed Texas and New Orleans extension from Dallas and Houston, the law making it necessary, as the two properties are competing.

GORLSTON'S VICAR ESSAYS THE DRAMA

(Copyright, 1903, by W. R. Hearst.) LONDON, May 2.—Mrs. Brown Potter has begun the rehearsals of the play written for her by Rev. Forbes Phillips, the vicar of Gorleston, entitled "Church and Stage." The play is a society drama in four acts. The author declares it is to be a drama of the heart, illustrating the power of love to elevate and educate. The piece depicts a frivolous woman of the stage, who captures a rector and is white-washed by the bishop. The vicar says the characters are real people, his aim being to show how through the fierce fires of temptation the actress and rector at length rose to higher things. Mrs. Potter plays the actress. It was in Gorleston church that Mrs. Potter created a sensation by reciting Tennyson's "Wild Swans" one New Year's at midnight. Some of the knotty problems of the church are threshed out in the vicar's play in a startling manner. The vicar is versatile. A spy on the day he was ordained told him he would change his profession three times. He has turned his hand to journalism and now tries the drama. "I'm a preacher, not an actor," he said when asked if he intended to play with Mrs. Potter, "and so must give my sermon to others to interpret."

SAY BALKAN CRISIS IS NEAR AT HAND

(Copyright, 1903, by W. R. Hearst.) BERLIN, May 2.—The expected has happened, and in well-informed circles here it is believed that the beginning of the end of the Balkan troubles is at hand. It is said on what appears to be good authority, that formal notice has been served on the ports that unless the disorders in Macedonia and Albania are promptly ended, Russia and Austria, in the interests of humanity, will be compelled to send troops into the disaffected regions and restore order. This is held here to mean one of three things: Either the permanent occupation of European Turkey with its ultimate division and absorption by Austria and Russia; a general European war, or the backing for them of the intervening powers, of those who object. The feeling in official circles is friendly to Turkey, but whether this friendliness will go to the point of supporting the sultan in resisting aggression is a question. In the meantime, warships of all the powers are proceeding to Salonica to watch developments.

WARSHIPS TO WATCH FIRST FISHERMEN

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., May 2.—French and British warships are expected at Bay St. George, N. F., next week to supervise the annual opening of the fishing season. The coast folk at Bay St. George recently held a large public meeting, at which they petitioned the colonial government to endeavor to secure for them this season better treatment than they have hitherto enjoyed; in the past, they declare, they have been harassed by the crews of the warships and subjected to serious ill treatment.

GIRL WITH FORTUNE ENGAGED TO MARRY

NEW YORK, May 2.—The engagement is announced of Miss Gladys Crocker of the California family of that name, to Powers Gouard of London. Miss Crocker is the daughter of Mrs. Jackson Gouard, who, before her first marriage, was a Miss Crocker of San Francisco. She married Porter Ashe, who was the father of Miss Gladys Crocker. After her mother obtained a divorce from Mr. Ashe the daughter assumed her mother's maiden name. The fiancé is the brother of her stepfather. Miss Crocker inherited a large fortune from her grandmother.

WANT DREYFUS CASE RENEWED

(Copyright, 1903, by W. R. Hearst.) PARIS, May 2.—Discussing with your correspondent, the reopening of the Dreyfus case, Leon Dreyfus, the captain's brother said: "Justice should be independent of politics or religions; if it were my brother would not have been condemned or at least would have been long since rehabilitated. It is not necessary or advisable that there should be any agitation. The case is one of the judiciary. We wish to have it brought before the court of cassation or the supreme court; in order to do this, some new fact was necessary. "We have two. One is that Dreyfus was condemned at Rennes upon the evidence of a document which is forged and which was not shown to the defense. The other is the false testimony of an ex-officer of the Austrian army. "Czeranski, General Mercier had at Rennes and carried in his pocket a forged document. This is the paper said to have been annotated by the Kaiser. Mercier showed it to the judges privately in order to influence them. He has probably burned this forged document so it is not likely it will be found among the documents bearing upon the Dreyfus case. "But we have evidence enough to establish the two facts. My brother's career has been broken. "The least that ought to be done now is to remove the legal stain resting upon him. Morally, he is rehabilitated because nobody believed him guilty. He is living quietly in Paris. There seems to be no future for him. His one great desire now is that his children should not be branded as the children of a traitor. "My brother Mathieu who was so active in bringing about the last trial, is now in Alaska, but he will return in time. We do not desire agitation. We hope for a peaceful rehabilitation."

AMERICAN CONSUL OBEYS GERMAN LAW

(Copyright, 1903, by W. R. Hearst.) SOUTH SOLINGEN, May 2.—J. J. Langer, the American consul here, has found out to his sorrow that even a man of his position has to obey the law. Langer was subpoenaed as a witness in a civil suit of minor importance but did not appear and was therefore brought into court and fined 30 marks. Langer protested and said that as an American official he cared nothing for German law and refused to pay the fine. Though warned several times, he continued abusing the members of the court until the judge finally lost patience and committed him to jail for three days. Swearing like a trooper and vowing vengeance, he was carried away by the police and is now locked up in the city prison, where he still assures the keepers that nothing less than a war can wipe out the insult to the United States in the person.

HOMES WANTED FOR SEVEN BABIES

Rev. I. Z. T. Morris said in the Telegram yesterday: "I have as many as seven boy babies in my care wanting homes. They have all been placed in my hands by their friends, with the request to see that they get good homes. I have had them well cared for and want persons who will take them for the children's sake. Call 908 and get information necessary about them."

OAKES-McCLELLAND CASE IS SETTLED

WACO, Texas, May 2.—In the case of Oakes vs. the McClelland estate, which has been on trial the past two weeks, the jury today gave judgment for the defendants. The suit involved $100,000 worth of property on the corner of Austin and Fourth streets.

BUILT ON A ROCK

Fort Worth is built upon a rock and not upon shifting sands. The city is central and within a few inches of the surface and is seen cropping out everywhere. This limestone "crop" may prove to be a very profitable investment one, for lime can be manufactured here in inexhaustible quantities and of good quality, at the smallest possible expense. In road making this limestone is very useful, and also the gravel, which is found everywhere near the city. In constructing the packing houses all the gravel and sharp sand used were procured on the site, and all the lime needed could have been made from rock near by. To the coast region of Texas stone and gravel must be hauled for hundreds of miles. In Tarrant county the best road-making material lies close at hand, and this county has probably more miles of good road than any other in the state. This means much when it comes to hauling heavy loads of wood, hay and grain to the city, and in the near future when to avoid trouble and expense of shipment, hundreds of wagon loads of hogs, chickens, etc., will be brought here to the packing houses, which offer top-notch prices for all animal and animal products, good, dry roads are worth thousands of dollars on any section, and with such fine material on hand and a large fund from taxation at the disposal of the county commissioners, Fort Worth will have the best wagon load market of any city in the Southwest.

Some Salt Water Ghosts

(Copyright, 1902, by H. S. Hale.) In March, 1862, the bark Schuykill of Philadelphia encountered a brig, the Speedwell, in the bay of Biscay with a signal of distress flying. The Speedwell had a cargo of coal for Gibraltar. She was also a new craft, this being her third voyage. While lying in the Downs at anchor at night the crew had been frightened by a moaning in the forecastle. At dark, on the night before the Schuykill came up, mates and all went away in the longboat and left the captain alone. In June, 1868, I ran away from the Marblehead whaler Josiah Bomis in the port of Port St. Louis, island of Mauritius. A week after she had sailed away there came into port a ship called the Golden Horn, owned by an English firm in Bombay. She had touched at a port in Ceylon and was bound for Liverpool, and the crew had forced the captain to put in at St. Louis on account of the ship being haunted. Very little of the story leaked out when the six of us who had deserted the whaler shipped aboard of her. The captain and both mates were English, and there were two English sailors in the forecastle. Of the thirteen men forward there were five Portuguese. The cook was a negro and the steward an Irishman. Of those arriving in the ship at Port St. Louis only the captain and first mate remained. Cook, steward and all others were new hands. Four of the Americans were educated young men who had shipped for a whaling cruise in a spirit of adventure. The captain and both mates were above the ordinary, and even the cook was a man of considerable education who had been driven to sea by hard luck ashore. I tell you this because we had a mystery aboard, and superstition played no part in it. Such of us as had heard the gossip about the ghost from the old crew had forgotten it when the Golden Horn was three or four days out. She was a fast craft, well found in every particular, and there was nothing to find fault with. One night, while I was acting as lookout on the bows, the hour being between 1 and 2 o'clock, I turned my face for a moment and saw a man standing about five feet away. I was in the captain's watch, which is really the second mate's watch, and Mr. Leslie, the second mate, was pacing the quarter deck, as I could see. It being a quiet night, with all sails full, the other men of the watch on deck were lying about to catch a wink of sleep, but ready to spring up at a call. I at first thought the man to be the captain, though it would be strange if he came forward. Looking closer, I saw that he was a total stranger. He was a tall, heavy man and had on oilskins, though the night was fine. If masquerading was not almost a crime on shipboard, I might have thought it the cook or steward dressed up to play a joke. I could see the man at the wheel, and the mate and I looked about and counted the men in the watch. Then I advanced upon the stranger, and he backed up a few feet, glided to the port rail and swung himself over and out of sight. I listened for the splash, but none came. I climbed upon the rail, but no one was in sight. I was still looking and wondering when Mr. Leslie came forward, and when he had heard my story he admitted that it was the ghost that had driven the other crew away. The spook had been seen by every man who stood watch from midnight to 2 o'clock, but by no one else and at no other time. I promised to say nothing to any of the men, and I kept my word, but next night it was seen by the lookout just as I had seen it, and after two or three days more the thing was out. The Portuguese flunked at once and almost threatened mutiny, but the others of us, assisted by the officers, went coolly at work to solve the mystery. Not one of us was a believer even in dreams. We stretched ropes across the deck, but the shadow passed to the rail and over just the same. We stretched a net along the rail, but it went through the net as a puff of smoke would. We lighted the binnacle light for a few minutes, but it made no difference. On one occasion every man in the ship stood on the spot and swung his arms and sought to grasp something, but the ghost came and stood and disappeared just the same. At Cape Town the Portuguese cut sticks, and four English sailors were shipped. We were now all English speaking and all white men except the cook. We were determined to "lay" that ghost, and for at least twenty nights after leaving Cape Town we experimented. Not one of us was afraid, but the whole thing was considered a lark. Do what we would, that shadowy figure appeared. It came as we lay becalmed, and it came as we were lying to in a gale. No man saw its face. You simply saw a man there. As you started forward he stepped back and then to his left. There was no sound of feet, no noise at the rail. From forehead down to throat was a darker spot in the shadow, as if veiled. The arms seemed to hang down, but you also lost sight of the hands in the shadow. Captain, mates, steward, cook, every man aboard, went on looking and saw the ghost. We took the ship into port, but no one wanted any more of her. The story got out, and for six months she was idle. Then she got a charter for Australia. She was spoken twenty-two days out and after that was never heard of again. M. QUAD.

FARMER IS GORED BY VICIOUS BULL

Wooten, a prohibition speaker and evangelist, will speak at the city hall this afternoon at 3 o'clock on "The Wild Animal of Texas and What He is Doing." Rev. Mr. Wooten will also speak at St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church at 7:45 p. m.

SERVICES OF THE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

for the time being, will be held in a tent just erected on Henderson street, near Pennsylvania avenue. Preaching by the pastor, Rev. George W. Ray, this morning at 11 o'clock and at night at 8 o'clock. Bring your Bibles. Take City Belt cars. The protracted meeting at the Church of Christ, Jennings and Cannon avenues is growing in interest and will continue through this week. Elder Holt preaches Friday night that the preachers more than anyone else, are to blame for the errors that are being taught and which cause the Bible not to be understood by all alike. He said that all understood and told the same thing until Christ gave his last commission to the apostles, then they split. Elder Holt's subject for this morning is: "Sabbath, or Lord's Day—Which?" Tonight: "Conversion of Cornelius."

DENISON, Texas, May 2.—Federal authorities in the Indian Territory have taken decisive steps to wipe out the Cherokee society of full-bloods, known as the Ketowahs. Ketowahs have always resented allotment and resisted in every way possible. They are to the Cherokees what Crazy Snake and his followers were to the Creeks. They oppose allotment to full-bloods and have murdered several who have gone to the land office at Vinita to take allotments. The United States commissioner and a posse of men in command of the United States marshal have gone to the field and the Ketowahs are to be shipped into the future. There will be trouble, but the Federal authorities have decided that so long as the Ketowahs are in existence there will be trouble and the posse has been instructed to put in jail every member of the society who is known to have taken any part in resisting Federal power.

THE VOICE OF EXPERIENCE

The bride's mother was visiting by and together they sat in the sewing room. The bride was fixing the sleeve lining of her husband's overcoat. "Well, I think that's a neat job," remarked the bride, as she finished her task. The mother examined it and shook her head solemnly. "You don't like it?" suggested the bride. "It's too well done," was the reply. "Too well done?" "Yes; it's a tailor's job." "But if I can do it as well as a tailor?" "Why, then, of course, you'll have to keep on doing things that sort. Oh, I know all about it. I tried it myself when I was first married, and later I had to ruin two more before I could learn my father of the art of bringing everything to a close. Listen to the voice of experience, and make a bungling job of it. Now, if you have to tear it all out and do it over again, it's no trouble to get it straightened him out. It's all the same to me, so later, if you should be a tailor, you should be a tailor." "I don't know what you mean," said the bride, "but I'll do it as well as I can."

HELEN GOULD OPENS ANOTHER NEW SCHOOL

(Copyright, 1903, by W. R. Hearst.) NEW YORK, May 2.—Miss Helen Gould today opened her new cooking school for poor girls in the neighborhood of her home at Lyndhurst and incidentally took cooking lessons herself. Miss Gould takes such an interest in the girls of Irvington that she has provided a two-story building on her estate, with new ranges and the latest ovens and other baking appliances. She has engaged two experienced cooks from Manhattan and today Miss Gould, surrounded by her girls, took the first practical lesson in cooking and baking. She wore a white apron. When the Shamrock II was tried she practically sailed in the same trim so far as internal fittings are concerned, as when she sailed the actual race. She was a mere shell. When the trials here were completed she was elaborately braced before she was sent to New York. The present challenger is already fitted with extra strengthening braces and sailed the trials at Weymouth with them. She was fitted with the braces before the launching, so in all her trials she has been handicapped by this excess of weight of hull, therefore the trials were really better than the time showed.

RELIANCE SHOWS SHE'S A SAILOR

(Copyright, 1903, by W. R. Hearst.) NEW YORK, May 2.—The reliance proved herself today in her first trip on Long Island sound to be a wonderful sea boat. She sailed in what sound sailors call a gale. A great crowd along the shore near New Rochelle watched the spin. The wind was blowing from the northeast at a fifteen-knot clip and against the tide kicked up a choppy sea. But the Defender was little, if any, bothered and stood up under an immense pressure of canvas in marvelous form. There was just enough sea coming in from the Long Island shore to make the Reliance show what she could do. SHAMROCK SOON READY GLASGOW, May 2.—The Shamrock III probably will be ready to renew her trials within ten days. The work of refitting is progressing with unusual rapidity. Your correspondent discovered that Lipton had a card up his sleeve in an important feature in the construction of the challenger, which has hitherto escaped the notice of the critics, notwithstanding that less secrecy has been observed about her than about the previous Shamrocks. Internal fittings of the challenger are practically the same as before her voyage to New York. When the Shamrock II was tried she practically sailed in the same trim so far as internal fittings are concerned, as when she sailed the actual race. She was a mere shell. When the trials here were completed she was elaborately braced before she was sent to New York. The present challenger is already fitted with extra strengthening braces and sailed the trials at Weymouth with them. She was fitted with the braces before the launching, so in all her trials she has been handicapped by this excess of weight of hull, therefore the trials were really better than the time showed.

FINDS FOR THE PRO'S

In the court of civil appeals for the Second supreme judicial district, sitting in Fort Worth yesterday, a decision was rendered in a local option case which makes Haskell county dry. This ends, for the time being at least, one of the most interesting local option fights ever waged in Texas. The prohibitionists were victorious in the election but the district court first enjoined the pros from carrying the result into effect and then held the election to be illegal. Under the title of Oscar Martin, et al vs. Rush Martin et al, the case reached the appellate court and yesterday was reversed and rendered which means that the district court's ruling is set aside and the pros are given full authority to enforce the verdict of the people as expressed at the polls.

The proceedings in the court of civil appeals yesterday were as follows:
Motions submitted—C. R. I. & T. Ry. Co. vs. Armes, for rehearing. T. & P. Ry. Co. vs. Klepper, for rehearing. Boles et al. vs. Walton, for rehearing.
Motions overruled—Halsted vs. Allen, for rehearing. Roller vs. Zundelwitz, for rehearing. C. R. I. & T. Ry. Co. vs. Long, for rehearing. T. & P. Ry. Co. vs. Klepper, for rehearing. M. K. & T. Ry. Co. vs. Taff, for rehearing. Martin et al. vs. Mitchell et al, to strike out bill of exception. Earnest vs. Glaser, to rehear motion for certiorari. Davis vs. Tiller, to strike out part of the record.
Affirmed—Monroe Davis vs. Ben J. Tillar, from Scurry county. O. J. Watrous et al. vs. T. H. Hammon et al, from Palo Pinto county. T. & P. Ry. Co. vs. E. A. Ried, from Taylor county. C. R. I. & T. Ry. Co. vs. H. H. Halsell, from Wise county. C. W. Walker et al. vs. S. B. Walker et al, from Montague county. J. R. Price vs. John Bates et al, from Wilbarger county.
Reversed and rendered—C. H. Earnest vs. E. G. Glaser, from Lubbock. Oscar Martin et al. vs. Rush Mitchell et al, from Haskell. J. W. Mitchell vs. C. A. Johnson, from Borden.
Reversed and remanded—Salle Binion vs. John Harris, from Scurry. J. T. Franklin vs. S. G. Kerlin, from Lubbock.
Cases submitted—Western Union Telegraph company vs. L. G. Barefoot, from Cooke. Mary B. Davis vs. Thomas Jones, from Hardeman. John R. Johnson vs. Robert T. Bibb, from Jones. Parlin & Orendorff Co. vs. estate of W. E. Davis, from Tarrant. W. H. Gaines vs. T. C. Hindman, from Palo Pinto. M. M. Hines vs. C. P. Shafer, from Mitchell. M. L. Roddy vs. Charles White et al, from Ector. G. W. Stice et al. vs. J. M. Parker, from Cooke.

GET RIGHT!

There is no denying the fact that we are selling good groceries at lower prices than any other retailer in North Texas. We buy direct from headquarters and sell to consumers which cuts out the middle profit, and the consumer gets the benefit. This "razzle" about fancy goods at fancy prices don't go. Our goods are the best money can buy, and the increase in our sales from month to month proves to us conclusively that the consumers appreciate GOOD GOODS AT RIGHT PRICES.

FORT WORTH, TEXAS, SUNDAY, MAY 3, 1903.

THE SOCIAL SEASON

And what we learned about the things we ride in that go on wheels! There were coaches and drags and gigs; there were runabouts and traps and broughams, traps, spiders and phaetons. Undoubtedly many of us know things now that we did not one short week ago.

Horse show week brought us all sorts of sensations. We had first the novelty, the show itself, then the baby show, and, by no means least, we had in the columns of the Morning Register an amazing parade on the conduct and manners of the patrons of the show and criticism on its management.

Among the things that all the world loves, surely a baby comes first. At least that is what one would naturally think after seeing the one hundred and sixty babies that were entered at the baby show last Thursday, and the thousand women, several hundred boys and a few men that filled the horse show tent.

But by far the most important discovery of the week was that, in the future, the Fort Worth Morning Register will direct the manners and behavior of our social set, and pass judgment upon all social aspirations, according to a code located within the secret recesses of the Morning Register's Complete Guide to Good Manners at the Horse Show and Elsewhere.

MISS ELIZABETH TARLTON

Miss Elizabeth Tarlton, who has been appointed first maid of honor to Miss McLean, sponsor for Texas at the New Orleans reunion, is considered one of the handsomest girls in the state, and she is unquestionably one of the most popular here at home.

The Fort Worth woman needs no defence from anybody, in church, club and in society she is her own best answer to the shafts dipped in the venom of spite and sent by the hand of disappointed social ambition. In many cases church, club and society leader is united in one and the same person, and the result is a woman whom to know is a liberal education; to have for a friend one of the joys of life that is above the price of gold or rubies.

prevails all along the line of leadership. The voice of suspicion and envious gossip is silenced before the loyal wife and discreet daughter, whose first and chief object is to hold above suspicion and above reproach her uprisings and down sittings on all and every occasion, at home and abroad. On the outer fringe there may be exceptions, but within the circle of our best society the rule is universal, and no one knows it better than the men who are a part of its existence.

But since the Morning Register has issued its remarkable ultimatum concerning the well bred and cultured men and women who constitute the best social life of Fort Worth, it may not be amiss to recall a bit of newspaper history. It may refresh the memory of that esteemed sheet, as well as the memories of a considerable portion of the public at large.

Worth has undertaken an enterprise of dignity and importance, not for anybody's special advancement, but for the pleasure of the general public. Fort Worth, the center of the cattle industry, with many handsome horses owned by private individuals, seemed to be a fitting place to show the pride of fancy stables. Local men, not moneyed men either, but lovers of the horse beautiful, but their money, or took chances in having it to do, into the horse show. The social element determined that it would see the show to the limit of its income. The prices of the seats and boxes were put at figures according to the expense of bringing on costly studs. Considering the number of times during the theatrical season the public has paid $2 and $3 for an evening's opportunity to see scant skirts on abnor-

DUKES, MARQUISES AND EARLS OFFERED

AMERICAN GIRLS HAVE STILL MANY TITLES TO PICK FROM EUROPEAN ROYAL TREES — KAISER WILHELM CARRIES A COMIC OPERA GUARD ALONG WHEN HE GOES A-JOURNEYING

BY MAX O'RELL.
(Copyright, 1903, by W. R. Hearst.)
PARIS, May 2.—King Victor Emanuel of Italy is very fond of automobiles. Recently his auto broke down in a small Italian village.
A crowd gathered around the King and Queen, who was with him.
Two Englishmen, who evidently thought that no one understood them, conversed in their mother tongue loud enough for any one to hear them.
"Say, that is a fine automobile and a beautiful woman."
"Yes, she is much too good looking for her husband."
"Did you ever see such a small man in such a big auto?"
"Do you know that we have very little gasoline left; maybe he can lend us some. I will ask him for some in French."
"I shall be very glad to help you out," promptly responded Victor Emanuel in very good English.
When the two had helped themselves to gasoline, the King added smilingly: "Now if I can help you in any other way my whole kingdom is at your service—and it is not quite as small as its king."

red rosebud that comes out in the beautiful gardens of the castle, as a poetic souvenir of the bloody wars between the red and white rose.
More prosaic is the rent paid by the tenant of Bouburg, from whom King Edward receives 1,300 eggs and 140 chickens every year at Easter.

HIS TALL GUARD.
Kaiser William is decidedly a great imperialist. In the journey which he is contemplating taking in Italy he will be accompanied by a suite, intended, no doubt, to give the Italians an idea of the greatness and power of Germany.
It will be one such as Rome has never seen, even in the time of Tacitus, when the size of the Germans used to excite the admiration and wonder of the people.

He will take with him Lieutenant Colonel von Pluskow, who is over seven feet high, and who, at the funeral of the late President Faure, caused so many Parisians to get a st. neck; then Lieutenant General von Scholl, who is six feet ten inches, and Major von Kleist, who is very nearly seven feet tall.

To accentuate the whole effect he will have an escort of cuirassiers, the smallest of whom is over six feet six inches.
Altogether the Kaiser's escort will be 720 feet high, that is to say, very nearly the height of the tower Eiffel.

Altogether, I cannot say that this comic opera display will be in the very best taste, because it so happens that the Kaiser's host, King Victor-Emanuel, is a very short man.
And will the Italians be struck with awe? They may even remember that Julius Caesar was a little bald gentleman only five feet four inches.

They may also remember that Napoleon I. conquered Italy he looked like a very insignificant little man.
Germany is the ally of Italy, and William II. wants to show what kind of warriors he is at the head of. What a stage manager he is!

MATCHES ON SALE.
Since the daughters of American millionaires are buying all our marquises, earls, dukes and barons—"barren" ones especially—why should not the daughters of American millionaires aspire to catch roly princes, grand dukes and arch-dukes?
Young ladies, prepare your photographs. I will give you the list of those who are in the market.

First of all, the Grand Duke Michael of Russia, who, if the present Czar gets no son, will be one day Emperor of all the Russias.
Then there is the Crown Prince of Germany, a future Kaiser, and his brother, Prince Elitel Frederick; the Duke of Montpenzier, brother of the Duke of Orleans, himself King of France, though without subjects.

I have on my list a reigning prince, the Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, and a reigning king, Alfonso of Spain.
Then the eldest son of the Crown Prince of Sweden, the Grand Duke Cyril and Boris of Russia, the Count of Turin and the Duke of Abruzzi, respectively brother and cousin of the King of Italy, and the young Grand Duke of Mecklenburg-

Schwern, and the Duke of Oporto, son of the King of Portugal.
There is also a general in the Russian army, who might be one day Emperor of the French (although I should not like you to take that as a probability), Prince Louis Bonaparte.

Some of us Europeans would like to see our sovereigns cease to marry their cousins.
We should like to see young, healthy blood infused into royal veins.

Besides, in order to get a reigning prince, ladies, I feel sure your millionaire fathers would not object to paying cash down from fifty to a hundred million dollars, and we taxpayers would get the benefit of it.
Please do try to get some of the young men I have mentioned to you.

SPIRITUALISM DEMONSTRATED.
Today at 8 p. m. at Red Men's hall, 610 Main street, the Fort Worth Spiritualist Society will conduct their usual service.
Fred Tatum, the speaker, will lecture, give his usual tests of mind-reading and will give you communications from those you call dead, and will close the service with materialization, when you will realize that there is no death. All are welcome. Doors open at 7:30.

FROST DAMAGING IN WISE COUNTY.
BOYD, Texas, May 1.—Jack frost played sad havoc with cotton, corn and gardens here last night. A great deal of cotton will have to be replanted. Corn is badly "bit," but may come out again. Cotton was all planted here and corn all plowed over, once and some had been twice plowed.

Johnson grass that would have been cut in ten days is perfectly black today and is delayed two or three weeks. All garden plants of a tender nature are killed. Potatoes look bad, but may not be permanently injured.

PEOPLE'S PULPIT.
A MISLEADING ADVERTISEMENT.
DALLAS, Tex., May 2.—Fort Worth Telegram: Reading an advertisement in the Dallas News while in Denison, Tex., last Wednesday, to the effect that "able-bodied laboring men, with families preferred, for steady inside work; wages $1.50 to $2.75 per day, experience unnecessary," were wanted by G. W. Anderson at Alba, Wood county, Texas. I went to Alba, supposing that the work offered was some kind of factory work, and to my surprise I found when I reached there that it was coal sought. I am an all-round skilled laborer, but I am not a coal miner, and when I reached Alba I found that the work referred to in the advertisement was mining coal at 25 cents a ton, at which price the most skillful miner that I met there, after paying for the powder and oil used, did not make over $1.65 a day. I learned from the business men of Alba that men like myself had been attracted there by the advertisement referred to, nearly every day witnessing the arrival of men who could ill afford the expense of the trip, expecting work, which they were willing and anxious to do on the supposition that it was work above ground, who could not be hired at any price for underground work. It is a well known fact that of the average working man not more than one in ten makes a competent miner, on account of the fear and dread of underground work; and it is certainly highly dangerous for inexperienced men to undertake the mining of coal. I am prompted to make this statement from my desire to protect fellow workmen from being deceived by the advertisement referred to.

OUTLOOK GOOD IN SPITE OF FROST.
PUTNAM, Texas, May 1.—This section of the country was visited by a big frost last night, which will do considerable damage to cotton that was up, also to Irish potatoes and other tender garden plants.

We have had very good rains here the past few days, which will insure fine wheat and oat crops. In view of the above fact, one firm has sold about fifteen new grain harvesters at this place.
R. D. Williams and J. M. Cunningham have several cars of fat cattle they expect to ship to market in a few days.

The Social Season

mal female forms, and to hear stupid and common lines set to more or less stupid music, one dollar and a half to see the horse show does not seem to be out of all proportion to the entertainment. But the Register takes the occasion to deliver the management of the horse show a reprimand, forgetting the local pride and loyalty that has made it possible for the Register to exist, and placing itself in the position of having a considerable number of people set to wondering what would have been the fate of the Register if no helping hand had been held out in its hour of need.

Not satisfied with its attacks on the horse show management, the Register turns its attention to the people who, collectively and individually, have stood behind it in its efforts, those who gave it paid subscriptions, and who furnished it with the news that was its capital in the days when it had no telegraphic service and a pair of scissors to fill up its pages. These people went to the horse show wearing good clothes. They behaved as ladies and gentlemen do on all public ocasions. What does the Register do? It treats the public to a dissertation that one would read the pages of the reputable press of the country in vain for a counterpart, and which has never perhaps been equalled save in the columns of the Kansas City Sun, that late unlamented sheet.

The friends of the '93 club who attended the club's annual reception at the residence of Mrs. B. C. Rhome last Monday afternoon came away debating as to which attracted the most admiring attention, the cordial welcome and informal hospitality of Mrs. Rhome and all the members of the club who constituted the house party, or the beautiful interior which, under the touch of an artist, had been transformed into a house garden, wherein the rose, from the deepest blood red of the Jacqueminot to the palest tint of the maiden's blush, had for companion maiden-hair ferns, asparagus ferns, smilax from the hearthstone, and the smilax that comes from the forests of the eastern part of the state, their varying beauties being united by deft touches into a picture of surpassing loveliness.

In the hall, stands of artistic potteries held palms, and the grille work that divided the front and back halls was intertwined with southern smilax. At the door a quartet of tiny maids, Lillian and Virginia Jackson, Joyce Hudson, and Elizabeth Johnson, received the cards, while Mrs. A. L. Jackson and Mrs. J. D.

Covert introduced to the receiving line in the parlor. Here the first greeting was extended to Mrs. Rhome, who had headed the retiring line of the club. Miss John M. Adams, the others in line being Mesdames Johnston, Clements, Bowley, Merrill, Crittenden, Fikes, Capps, Burgher, Dunham, Shelton and Cowen.

In this room the fragrance of the La France rose was dominant, masses of the silvery pink favorite adorning the mantel, while numerous vases held those of longer stems. In the dining room the table was an object of universal admiration. The cloth was of sheerest muslin, with fluted edgings and a fluted ruff above. Between them was a vine of hot-house smilax, which also made a graceful border at the edge of the table. Folds upon folds of white maline were laid upon the top of the table, with many fronds of maiden-hair ferns scattered over it in delicate contrast. The silver mounted reflector was encircled with smilax, while on it stood an unusually large cut glass vase with several dozen La France roses. Where the strands of smilax from the chandelier met the corners of the table they were fastened with a bouquet of the same rose. From the chandelier the long spray of asparagus ferns were used. At opposite corners of the table were silver candelabra, each burning six tapers under pink shades in silver shade holders. The sideboards and china cabinets had the same arrangement of roses. On the mantel a bank of roses reached to the mirror and extended across the mantel, and above the mirror ferns fell in careless grace, with here and there a single rose as a reminder of the reigning favorite. Over the windows branches of fragrant honeysuckle contributed to the general effect.

In this room were Mesdames Vincent, Gross, Bibb, Prewett and Thomas, Misses Matlock, Millican, Hunt, Tomlinson and Elv. The refreshment plate, with its ices and cake, had across it a La France rose, the souvenir for each guest. As the caller passed from the dining room to the hall, Mrs. French directed to the punch room, where Misses Crittenden, Horsley, Day of Dallas and Garrett served at the punch table. The punch bowl stood on a silver salver surrounded by a border of "Jack" roses. Overhead the chandelier shone under a shade of natural roses of the same rich hue. The punch table stood in the recess of a bay window lined throughout with vines of honeysuckle and sprays of syringa. The shades of the gold mounted candelabra were of deep red and harmonized with the bouquets of "Jack" roses that were their near neighbors.

In the front hall Mrs. Johnson, Misses Roe and Howard received the adieux of the guests, who paused, however, for a final word with Mrs. Rhome, whose courtesy to her club was appreciated also by the club's friends.

The admiration bestowed upon the decorations was so extreme that inquiry as to their inspiration was frequently heard. It was learned that Mrs. Dunklin, the newly elected president, was chairman of the decoration committee, her compliments were enthusiastically expressed. Mrs. Johnson of Greenville, state secretary of the Federation of Clubs, Mrs. Hollingsworth of Sherman, Mrs. B. C. Rhome, Jr., and Mrs. Joe Rhome were among the out-of-town guests.

Mrs. Z. E. B. Nash entertained with a luncheon last Wednesday in honor of Mrs. Wolcott of Velasco. Mrs. Wolcott was once a resident of Fort Worth, and to meet her Mrs. Nash had as guests several of those former friends who in the changes that twenty years have brought do not meet as often as they once did. The table was decorated with red and white roses, and little fans at each place had the name of the guest placed within its folds.

Mrs. Nash's guests, besides Mrs. Wolcott, were: Mrs. Newby, the sister of the guest of honor; Mrs. William Montgomery, Mrs. B. B. Paddock, Mrs. T. A. Tidball, Mrs. D. C. Bennett, Mrs. Leonard Volk of Dallas, the daughter of a former citizen of Fort Worth; Mrs. Ed Want, Mrs. Wilkins and Mrs. Newlin.

At the presentation of "Damon and Pythias" at the theater last Wednesday evening, Professor Hecht's presented Mr. and Mrs. Lehane with a box for the use of themselves and their friends. In the cast of the play Jack, Jr., and Miss Katie had prominent parts and were the recipients of many compliments. The guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lehane were Judge and Mrs. Tarlton, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Edrington, Mr. and Mrs. Covert, and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Calhoun.

Mrs. R. L. Ellison and Mrs. D. W. Goheen have issued cards for a reception for the afternoon of Thursday, the 7th, at the European, the hours to be from 3 to 6.

Cards have been issued for the annual reception to be given by the Current Literature Club at the residence of Mrs. L. H. Dubose, Wednesday afternoon, May 6, from 4 to 6.

Miss Fales will entertain with an informal tea tomorrow afternoon from 4 to 6.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Rosson entertained a few of their friends at progressive whist Wednesday evening. Refreshments were served by Miss Lisco, and prizes were awarded the lucky contestants. Miss Nellie Barnhardt was the successful winner of a beautiful etching and Miss Lisco won a spoon.

The invited guests were: Misses Barnhardt, Gibson, Nellie Barnhardt, Lisco, Fay Rosson and Ethel Rosson; Messrs: J. W. Conway, G. W. Barnhardt, G. Stovall, L. Scribner and W. Hickman, and Mr. and Mrs. Carraw.

The week, with all its gaieties, had nothing more enjoyable than the high-five party given by Miss Annie Laurie Rainey Friday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Catherine Williams of Cleburne. Mrs. Dorr Cobb assisted in receiving and entertaining the

THE MOTHER'S MISSION.

A GREAT Emperor once asked one of his noble subjects what would secure his country the first place among the nations of the earth. The nobleman's grand reply was, "Good Mothers." Now, what constitutes a good mother? The answer is conclusive: She who, regarding the future welfare of her child, seeks every available means that may offer to promote a sound physical development, to the end that her offspring may not be deficient in any single faculty, more likely to affect the future disposition of the child than that of teaching, producing as it does fretfulness, moroseness of mind, etc., which if not checked will manifest itself in after days.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup

is unquestionably one of the greatest remedial agents in existence, both for the prevention and cure of the alarming symptoms which so often manifest themselves during the teething period, such as griping in the bowels, wind colic, etc. It is also the best and surest remedy in the world in all cases of diarrhea in children, whether it arises from teething or any other cause. Twenty-five cents a bottle, and for sale in all parts of the world, being the best remedy for children known of.

Mothers! Mothers!!!

THE BEST OF ALL—
Mrs. Winslow's SOOTHING SYRUP has been used for over SIXTY YEARS by MILLIONS of MOTHERS for their CHILDREN while TEETHING, with PERFECT SUCCESS. IT SOOTHES the CHILD, SOFTENS the GUMS, ALLAYS all PAIN; CURES WIND COLIC, and is the best remedy for DIARRHEA. Sold by Druggists in every part of the world. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

guests that included a large number of popular matrons and maids.

The rose was chosen for chief decoration. La France being in the parlor and American beauties in the library and dining room, while deep-hued, crimson lilies were shown in profusion in the hall.

Fourteen tables were given over to high-five and three to flinch. Mrs. Menefee winning the first high-five prize, a cut-glass rose bowl, and Mrs. Olive Edrington Scott the second, a water-color sketch. Miss Fikes won a water color as the flinch prize, and a Japanese picture went to Miss Bragg of Hillsboro as the scores' favor. Miss Green of Dallas also handling the marker.

Fruit punch was served during the game and a luncheon afterward.

The guests were: Mesdames W. D. Thompson, E. W. Taylor, Connerly, J. D. Mitchell, Trammell, Howell of Bryan, the Edrington Scott, Glass of Texas, H. C. Edrington, W. P. Mrs. J. M. Haines of Toledo was the hostess of a box party at the Horse Show on the opening night, her guests being Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Nail, Miss Lathrop and Frank Haines.

Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Cooper had a flinch party Tuesday that closed with music and general merriment. Books were the prizes awarded to Mrs. Conlisk and to Mr. Irwin for their success at the game. Berries, ices and cake proved acceptable refreshments. The guests were: Mrs. Conlisk, Mr. and Mrs. George Monnig, Misses Richards, Eubank, Phenix and Becher; Messrs: Hubbard, Irwin, King of Chicago, Osborne and Wilkins of Chicago.

The card party given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. R. E. L. Miller, Mrs. Anna R. Loebnitz, Mrs. W. T. Camp, Mrs. E. G. Rall, Mrs. James E. Mitchell, Mrs. T. A. McDowell and Miss Roy in the club rooms was the third of the series of parties given by the wives and daughters of the local Elks. The handsome invitations that were issued last week gave hint of the elegance of the appointments for yesterday afternoon's party, a hint that was more than realized when the

CURES WHEN DOCTORS FAIL.
Mrs. Frank Chasson, Patterson, La. writes June 8, 1901: "I had malaria fever in very bad form, was under treatment by doctors, but as soon as I stopped taking their medicine the fever would return. I used a sample bottle of Herbine, found it helped me. Then bought two bottles, which completely cured me. I feel grateful to you for furnishing such a splendid medicine, and can honestly recommend it to those suffering from malaria, as it will surely cure them." Herbine, 50c bottle at H. T. guests assembled and saw the beautiful decorations, were handed the score cards, water color studies of elk heads, the work of Miss Christina McLean.

When the costly and tasteful prizes were awarded there was a general murmur of admiration, for possibly there have seldom been given here prizes that surpassed in beauty and design those that went to the favorites of the game played yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Beckham won the first prize, a cut-glass bowl, and Mrs. Galbreath, a hand-painted tankard. The souvenir went to Mrs. Paddock, while Miss Ethel Evans, who was one of the maidens who served the fruit nectar, got a carved ivory fan.

The invitation list included Mesdames McElwee, N. P. Anderson, Berney, Menefee, Goode, Burke, Burns, Connerly, W. R. Thompson, Sanguinet, Starling, Walker, Jerry Ellis, Van Zandt, McVeigh, Aller, Duvell, Howell, J. W. News comes to Fort Worth of the marriage in Denver on April 25 of Miss Azile Swann to Dr. A. M. Holmes, a prominent Denver physician. Miss Swann has been a guest in Fort Worth and was admired here as elsewhere for her great beauty and charms of manner. Dr. and Mrs. Holmes will be at home on their return from a trip to California and Europe at the Metropole.

At 8:30 last Wednesday evening, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Otto Monnig, Miss Lulu Monnig was married to Mr. Lee Standley, the bridesmaids being Misses Emma Hubbard and Ethel Standley; the groomsmen, Paul Monnig and John Irving. American beauty roses were the feature of the decorations in the wedding suite, as well as in the dining room. There a supper was served. The bride's wedding gown was a white chiffon, elaborately trimmed with handsome lace, and an elegant cloth gown for traveling. They started on a wedding tour of the Rocky mountain cities immediately after the ceremony, bearing with them the congratulations of family and friends who equal in number their words of good wishes.

At the german at the Commercial club Thursday evening, the dancers were: Misses Tarlton, Leake of Dallas; Barton of Dallas, Starr of Palestine, Davenport, Carter, White, Pendleton, Martin, Hollingsworth, Nita Holmgrenworth, Lingco, Boland, Harrison, Fowler of Paris, Wilkes, Bragg of Hillsboro, Greene of Dallas, Oxsheer, Polk, Labatt, Croom, Hunter, Laing, Cannon, Woodcock.

Major Elliott, Messrs. Leake of Houston, Adams, Fain, Saunders, Oxsheer, Lingco, Ridgeway, Elliott of Dallas, Williams, Martin, Galloway, Reynolds, Davis, Collett, Bauer, Maddox, Beck, Bishop, Henderson, Walker, Kolp, Nixon, Wilkinson, Andrews, Sanson, Decker of Iowa, Dr. Irion and Barber.

The dance was given in honor of the visiting ladies.

A wedding wherein the love of a wide circle of friends showed itself in the hearty handclasp and words of truest friendship was that last Tuesday evening when Miss Cora Fender was wedded to John H. Van Zandt. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. M. A. Fender, and was only attended by the immediate relatives and a few intimate friends. The entrance hall was made into a veritable bower by the use of a profusion of Southern smilax and fragrant honeysuckle. Leading into the parlor was a semi-circle filled with greenery, in which hung a fern ball tied with bows of white satin ribbon. It was here that the bride and groom stood during the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. J. W. Caldwell of the Taylor street Presbyterian church. Within the pastor's arms held their regal heads over mounds of ferns and wreaths of smilax. The piano was backed with palms, tall and stately lilies standing out against its green background.

Within the dining room the table, with sheerest cover over which was draped many layers of white maline, had for its decorative feature fronds of maidenhair ferns scattered all over

Wise Words to Sufferers From a Woman of Notre Dame, Ind.

I will mail, free of any charge, this Home Treatment with full instructions and the history of my own case to any lady suffering from female trouble. You can cure yourself at home without the aid of any physician. It will cost you nothing to give the treatment a trial, and if you decide to continue it will only cost you about twelve cents a week. It will not interfere with your work or occupation. Write nothing to sell. Tell other sufferers of it—that is all I ask. It cures all, young or old.

Thousands besides myself have cured themselves with it. I send it in plain wrappers. TO MOTHERS OF DAUGHTERS I will explain a simple Home Treatment which specifically and effectually cures Leucorrhoea, Green Discharge and Painful or Irregular Menstruation in young ladies. It will save you anxiety and expense and save your daughter the humiliation of explaining her troubles to others. Pimpiness and health always result from it.

Wherever you live I can refer you to the nearest Home Treatment really cures all diseased conditions of the delicate female organism, thoroughly strengthens relaxed muscles and ligaments which cause displacement, and makes women well. Write to-day, as this offer will not be made again. Address: MRS. N. SUMMERS, Notre Dame, Ind., U. S. A.

FRIDAY NIGHT AT HORSE SHOW

WEATHER MARS PLEASURE, BUT ENTERTAINMENT IS GOOD.

Many Local Entries Contest for the Prizes and Several Classes Are Closely Contested—Potato Race Excites Much Merit—Thistledown the Sole Jumper.

While the weather was not as pleasant as it could have been, the last performance of the Fort Worth Horse Show Friday evening was attended by a fair-sized, but enthusiastic audience. One of the most amusing entries was the potato race, with the contestants riding mules, which brought forth much laughter and applause. In the classes for ladies the winners were all greeted with applause and showers of flowers.

The attendance for the past week has not been what was expected, but the show has been a success from first to last. The people of Fort Worth now know what a horse show is and will be in a better position to appreciate the one to be given next season.

FRIDAY EVENING'S PROGRAM.

The performance opened with an exhibition of Thomas Witten's milk-white fillies, Mimsie and Buehler, driven to a runabout. They were given the blue ribbon as a special prize.

HARNESS HORSES.

Park horses, over 14 hands, 1 inch, and not exceeding 15 hands, 1 inch, to be shown before a suitable vehicle. First prize, $50; second prize, $30; third prize, $20.

The entries were: More Than King, ch. g., exhibitor, Jack Cudahy; All But King, b. h., exhibitor, Jack Cudahy; Marie, exhibitor, A. E. Ashbrook; Sid, ch. g., exhibitor, F. R. Cochran; All But King, second, More Than King, second, and Marie, third.

LADY DRIVER.

Best lady driver, all things considered. Special prize. The contestants were: Mrs. F. R. Cochran, Miss Teddie Edington, Mrs. Morris Birney, Miss Frances Tarlton, Mrs. E. H. Lowe and Mrs. Robert Beckham. Every one of the ladies handled her horses well and it took some time for the judges to pick the winner. The first prize went to Mrs. Morris Birney, the second to Miss Ted Edington, and the third to Mrs. R. H. Beckham.

ROADSTERS, PACERS (OWNED IN TEXAS).

Horse, three years old or over. First prize, $40; second prize, $20; third prize, $10.

Entries: Hal Bostie, br. h., exhibitor, L. J. Polk; Lady Blanche, b. m., exhibitor, F. M. Salee; Dock A., blk. g., exhibitor, L. August; Dollie Bashaw, 2:10 1/4, exhibitor, Hiram Knox; Braid, 2:10 1/4, exhibitor, Ed R. Burns; Deacon Post, exhibitor, J. P. McMurphy; Mamie Rice, exhibitor, B. L. Anderson; Luitie K., exhibitor, T. A. Williams.

SADDLE PONIES, OWNED IN TEXAS.

Saddle ponies, class 37, pony not exceeding 48 inches, ridden by boy or girl not over 12 years of age. First prize, $10; second prize, $5; third prize, ribbon.

Out of the thirteen entries, John T. Heed, riding Gypsy, won first; Edna Drycus, on Cate, second; and Ardon Judd, riding Trixie, third. The other entries were: Gertrude Robinson, Nigger; Hallie Orloff, Bones; Maurice Williams, Billie; Mabel Lewis, Dan; Pauline Wynne, Unnamed; Lenora Johnson, Princess; Fred Leggett, Dan; Allen McDonald, Maude; Mabel Ross, Daisy; and Richard Pettinger, Patsey.

HARNESS HORSES.

Harness horses, class 24—Pair of park horses over 14 hands, 1 inch. First prize, $50; second prize, $30; third prize, $20.

Sen A. E. Ashbrook, and Sensation, br. g., driver, A. E. Ashbrook; Rule Flirt, br. g., and Filletation, br. g., driver, Bob English; All But King, b. h., and More Than King, ch. h., driver, Bork.

LADY RIDERS. (LOCAL).

Best lady rider. First, the nattiest appearance; second, the best seat; third, the best reinwoman; fourth, the best and most graceful rider. First prize, $10; second prize, $5; third prize, $5.

Those contesting were: Misses Gertrude Robinson, Hallie Orloff, Mamie Williams, Mabel Ross, and Nellie Ford. Several of the young ladies were barred on account of over-sized horses. The winners were: Miss Mamie Williams, first; Miss Nellie Ford, second; and Miss Mabel Ross, third.

DECORATED VEHICLE.

Decorated vehicle—The only entry in this class was one of William McVeigh's huge floats, drawn by six horses and decorated to represent a century's growth of the United States. The lower base sides were decorated with miniature steamboats, and on the terrace above were small engines and cars, representing the various railroads entering Fort Worth. Above all of this was a real horse and rider, and still towering higher was a model of a flying machine.

DECORATED DELIVERY WAGONS.

This being a special class, only three entries were made. Swift's Company entering two and the Carter-Battle Grocery Company one. Swift's horses were both fine, young iron grays and were just recently purchased from the country. The drivers were both in uniform and their wagons won them first and second money. The Carter-Battle company was awarded third place.

PAIR TO DELIVERY WAGON.

Class 44—Best pair to delivery wagon. All things considered. First prize, ribbon; second prize, ribbon; third prize, ribbon; $10 to driver of winning pair.

THE AWARDS WERE AS FOLLOWS:

Stock yards pair of bays to a wagon belonging to Armour & Co.; Swift & Co., pair of dapple grays to Swift wagon; Carter-Battle, pair of grays to firm's wagon.

DECORATED VEHICLE.

The only one contesting in this class was little Miss Eula Dyeux, exhibiting her pony, Cate, to a handsomely decorated pony carriage. She was given the special blue ribbon prize.

Tired Out Women

I can truly say that Wine of Cardui is a wonderful medicine for women. I suffered for many years with female trouble in various forms and tried so many different remedies without relief that I got tired and thought I was to be in that health to the end of my days. I read so many times about the women who had been benefited through the use of Wine of Cardui that I determined to try it for my health. The first bottle made me feel much better and stronger and I did not get up every morning with a headache and that all without feeling any. I kept on taking it, growing better and stronger each week, and at the end of four months I was well and strong, and since then I have been regular and have not had to go to bed each month as heretofore. I can truly say that I could not wish for better health than I have now. I am happy to testify to the merit of Wine of Cardui for the use of women.

Mrs. Fay Lewis

Women should know that a continually worn out feeling and severe periodical headache indicate dangerous trouble and serious weakness. Bearing-down pains, ovarian troubles, irritation and other symptoms of female weakness wear on the nervous system, making sleepless nights and drowsy, fretful days. This wearing on weakened nerves produces the worn-out feeling and nervous headache.

If you get up in the morning feeling all tired out, if you feel nervous and suffer from headache or backache you need Wine of Cardui, that great medicine which cured Mrs. Lewis.

With Wine of Cardui within your grasp to-day, health may be yours. You can soon be a perfectly well woman. Ask your druggist for a $1.00 bottle to-day.

In cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, "The Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Bright's Disease and Diabetes Cured

University Chemist Acting as Judge.

Irvine K. Mott, M. D., of Cincinnati, O. demonstrated before the editorial board of the Evening Post, one of the leading papers of Cincinnati, the power of his remedy to cure the worst forms of kidney diseases. Later a public test was instituted under the auspices of the Post, and five cases of Bright's Disease and Diabetes were selected by them and placed under Dr. Mott's care. In three months' time all were pronounced cured, one of them is now devoting herself. She has found out how to get good streets. She has also acquired the secret of the art, most prominent universities in the United States having been chosen by the Post to make examination of the cases before and after treatment.

Anyone desiring to read the details of this public test, obtain copies of the papers by writing to Dr. Mott for them.

This public demonstration gave Dr. Mott an international reputation that has brought him into correspondence with people all over the world, and several noted Europeans are numbered among those who have taken his treatment and been cured.

The doctor will correspond with those who are suffering with Bright's Disease, Diabetes, or any kidney trouble, either in the first, intermediate or last stages, and will be pleased to give his expert opinion free to those who will send him a description of their symptoms. An essay which the doctor has prepared about kidney troubles and describing his new method of treatment will also be mailed by him. Correspondence for this purpose should be addressed to IRVINE K. MOTT, M. D., 161 Mitchell Building, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Hyomei Goes to the Root of the Disease and Makes Astonishing Cures. Catarrh cannot be cured by the use of pills, liquid medicines and so-called systems. Only such treatment that reaches the germ of the disease will still live and multiply.

Hyomei is the only scientific and thorough way to cure catarrh. Killing the germs in the air passages, it enters the blood in the blood and effectually drives from the system all traces of catarrhal poison.

Thousands of testimonials have been given as to the astonishing cures made by this remedy. J. S. Nugent, treasurer of the American Union Life Insurance Co. of New York City, writes: "Hyomei has completely cured my daughter of catarrh from which she has been suffering for years."

Probably the strongest evidence that can be offered as to the powers of Hyomei to cure catarrh is the fact that Weaver's Pharmacy, 504 Main Street, will agree to refund the money if you say Hyomei has not cured you.

LETTER TO TELEGRAM

THORP SPRINGS, Tex., April 25.—The Telegram, Fort Worth, Tex.—Gentlemen: Day before yesterday I was in Granbury, passing the time with friends in the store of Jefferson Davis Cross, when Miss Addie Harris came in with a copy of The Telegram in her hand, all smiles and looking as pretty as a pink, saying: "I want you to subscribe for The Fort Worth Telegram. I am a contestant for the awards offered by The Telegram to the one who will get the most votes by a given time."

Mr. Cross gave Miss Addie 50 cents. She had 50 cents that the Morgan Drug company had given her. Miss Addie suggested that the paper be sent me for three months. It was agreeable all around, for which I am quite thankful. I have just received my first copy and I am simply delighted over my good luck, and will now stand in the front ranks of an up-to-date newspaper for the next 30 days at least.

Success to you and Miss Addie. Our farmers are all rejoicing this morning over the cloudy weather, which has checked the blasting process of wheat, oats and garden truck. We had a gentle shower this morning, which will be good for the crops.

Last Saturday I attended the meeting of the Truck Growers' association of Hood county, which met at Granbury. I found them to be enthusiastic, honest and intelligent. Mr. Robinson, who is president of the association, had with him Mr. Wright, the industrial agent for the "Frisco" system. In an interesting talk he urged the association to diversify crops by planting more for man and beast to eat and less cotton and corn. It was made very noticeable at this meeting that the farmers, commission and railroad men must all pull together for mutual benefits. It makes my heart swell with gladness and patriotic emotions to contemplate this part of Texas looking to Fort Worth as the great livestock market for Texas.

His college is in excellent condition, considering the two dry years. The present session will close May 22. Everybody is looking forward with pleasure to commencement times.

Wishing the Fort Worth Telegram every possible success, I beg to remain, Yours very truly, L. J. CARAWAY.

GREASER IS SHOT BY THOMAS EVANS

An obstinate Mexican was shot in the left leg and seriously wounded about 6 o'clock yesterday morning by Tom Evans. The shooting took place near Mr. Evans' home, which is near the Frisco yards. The Mexican had been lounging around the neighborhood all night. He was barefoot and evidently had been in a fight, as his head was swathed in bandages.

He refused to depart when ordered away and when Evans became urgent began to bombard him with rocks. Evans drew his pistol and ordered the Mexican to stop. Just as he did so the Mexican hurled another rock and Evans fired. The bullet entered the Mexican's left leg and he dropped to the ground, but even after he was down he continued to throw rocks until forcibly overpowered by Evans. A result: Sheriff McEuff, who ran up on hearing the shot. The man was returned to the county jail where his wound was dressed.

"And you won't rent the rooms to us because we have a child?" "Sorry, ma'am, but we can't admit children into this apartment house."

"You seem to have forgotten that you were a child once!" "Yes, but that was before the day of 'progress' houses, ma'am."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

CHIROPODISTS IN BERLIN ARE HAPPY

(Copyright, 1903, by W. R. Hearst.) BY MALCOLM CLARK. BERLIN, May 2.—The chiropodists confess to rich profits growing out of the fashionable Berlin women's "barefoot fad," which I mentioned a few weeks ago. Isadora Duncan, the American mistress of the classic dance, is responsible for the innovation, which is the more potent as the dancer has for her chief patroness Countess von Buelow, wife of the Kaiser's chancellor.

Contrary to first expectations, the fad is likely to prove lasting. Miss Duncan has opened a private school in which she teaches aristocratic young girls her style of dancing, and is further backed with German capital to the extent of $250,000 to build a theater for Greek drama, which will be named after her.

The whole town seems to have gone crazy on the subject of classic dancing. Criticisms that the exhibition of bare feet, even bare knees, is "immoral," fall on deaf ears. In her school Miss Duncan goes still further. She insists on the body of the pupil being wholly untrammelled save by a short, loose tunic suspended by ribbons from the shoulders.

"A dancer," she says, "should move with the freedom of the winds and waves." Many fashionable Berlin ladies are wearing sandals at their smaller functions, and the malicious say this is because the chiropodist has not yet brought their pinched toes into presentable shape.

Weather Conditions

The temperature in Texas has risen decidedly and is now well above the freezing point at all stations; similar conditions prevail in Oklahoma and Arkansas and thence northward to the Missouri river.

The cold wave has drifted eastward, causing frost in northern Louisiana and eastward from the northern portion of the cotton belt.

Light showers occurred in portions of the lower Mississippi valley, where a light rain is falling this morning. No rain occurred in the cotton belt during the last twenty-four hours.

Men Who Smoke in Company of Women By Ella Wheeler Wilcox

(Copyright, 1903, by W. R. Hearst.) GENTLE LITTLE lady asked me recently to write a word of appeal to men about the smoking habit. She did not expect men to stop the use of the weed when she disliked the odor of tobacco but she hoped a few of them might be a little more thoughtful about when and where they indulged the habit. Tobacco smoke renders some women ill, even when they have no objection to the weed from a moral or social standpoint. I have known a number of such women, and I have heard men ask the conventional "I hope you do not object to smoking," and I have seen women hesitate and reply "Oh, no, certainly not," rather than seem narrow or whimsical and deny the men a pleasure, yet they have grown pale and looked distressed as soon as the fumes of the cigar reached them. If a man does not know a woman's taste in this matter he should not smoke in her presence or suggest so doing unless she first gives him permission, unsolicited. In a cafe where smoking is allowed, or in a car, where ladies cannot find retirement, the really refined man will seek to avoid blowing his cigar smoke in feminine faces, while he may not forego the pleasure of his weed. There is always a way to be considerate and unobtrusive in such a matter, whatever the situation, and there is also a way to be offensive and disgusting.

I believe most women try to be liberal and broad in this respect, and I fear few men think enough about it to be very delicate in the acceptance of woman's liberality. Few women know how to breathe, and for this reason as well as others they are more sensitive to the influence of odors than men are. Children's lungs and digestive organs are often seriously affected by the too early inhalation of tobacco smoke, blown into their helpless faces by loving and thoughtless fathers and brothers. Try and take an unselfish view of this matter, dear sir. When your wife or sweetheart wants you to sit with her and enjoy your cigar, do it, but do not suppose because she enjoys it that every woman you encounter is pleased to have your cigar smoke puffed in her face; and do not forget to be a refined and considerate gentleman, even in a public cafe or open car where smoking is allowed.

LOCKHEAD NEARLY SHUT OUT DALLAS

FORT WORTH WON BY SCORE OF 3 TO 1

Lucid's Work at Second Was the Fielding Feature—Canfield's Wildness Gave Fort Worth the Lead and She Held It. Corsicana Beaten

(Special to The Telegram.) DALLAS, Texas, May 2.—Fort Worth took the conceit out of Dallas today, in a game that was about the best seen in Dallas thus far in 1903. The game was snappy from the start and close enough to make it interestingly uncertain. Canfield, for Dallas, started out unsteadily in his delivery, giving four bases on ball in the second inning. Fort Worth was smart enough to score two runs. Moran relieved Canfield and the game became an even thing on additional runs—one each. Lockhead was decidedly level-headed in his pitching for Fort Worth, as the four scattering hits attest. The usual large Saturday crowd witnessed the game, the fielding feature of which was contributed by Second Baseman Lucid of Fort Worth. The score:

THE CEREMONIES ENDED AT LAST

Industrial Parade Completes Dedication Ceremonies of World's Fair

THOUSANDS IN THE LINE

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 2.—A large assemblage was present at the liberal arts building this afternoon at the closing ceremonies attendant upon the dedication of the world's fair. Governor Odell was introduced and spoke as follows: "The past, with all its achievements, with all of its successes, is to us but an incentive and guide for the future progress of our country. America still beckons to the oppressed of all lands and holds out the gifts of freedom, and we at this time and upon this occasion, should renew our adherence to those policies which have made us great as a nation. The future is before us, and the patriotism and self-sacrifice of those who made the country's history so glorious, should be an inspiration to us all for higher ideals of citizenship."

CAPITAL AND LABOR "Capital and labor are the two great elements upon which the prosperity and happiness of our people rest, and when, therefore, aggregations of the one are met by combinations of the other, it should be the aim of all to prevent the clashing of these great interests. The products of toil are worthless unless there be some means by which they can be substituted or transferred for that which labor requires. The concrete form in which these transactions are conducted is the money power or the capital of the land. Without work all of the fertile fields, these teaming towns, would have been impossible, and without a desire to benefit and elevate humanity, its onward progress would have been useless.

"To work to labor, is man's bounden duty, and in the performance of the task which have been placed upon him he should be encouraged, and his greatest incentive should be the knowledge that he may transmit to his children and his children's children a higher civilization and greater advantages than he himself possessed."

THE PARADE The civic parade, the first of the ceremonies of the final day of the dedication of the world's fair, was begun at 10:30. Some delay was occasioned in the formation of the line. When the pageant moved off it was conservatively estimated that there were fully thirty thousand men in the line. Thousands of spectators lined Lindell boulevard westward and Grand avenue to the world's fair grounds, a distance of three miles.

The parade was led by the governors of the states, accompanied by their staffs and followed by a carriage containing the world's fair commissioners from the states and foreign countries. These distinguished guests all alighted at the reviewing stand.

Colonel Eugene Spencer, grand marshal, assisted by twenty-three aides, was in charge of the parade, which consisted of seventeen divisions, composed of mercantile, civic and fraternal societies.

COTTON OIL MILL FOR SWEETWATER The Sweetwater Cotton Oil Company of Sweetwater, two hundred miles west of Fort Worth, will be in operation by Sept. 15. The machinery for the plant has been contracted for, and will be placed during the summer.

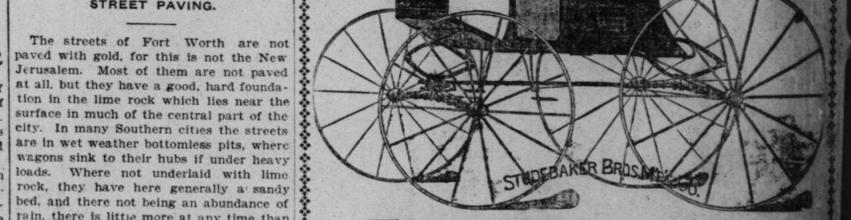

Sweetwater is located at the junction of the Texas and Pacific with the Oriental, which latter road is now being extended north a distance of thirty-five miles. This line will be completed by the time the cotton crop is ready to move, which will be about the time the new mill is to be put in operation.

David Boaz of this city, who is interested in the Sweetwater enterprise, said today that that country had recently been visited by a good rain, and the prospects for a large cotton crop there were never better. He said there has been 50 per cent more cotton planted this year in western Texas than in any year before in the history of that part of the state. One farmer there has 300 acres in cotton who never raised an acre of the product before.

STREET PAVING. The streets of Fort Worth are not paved with gold, for this is not the New Jerusalem. Most of them are not paved at all, but they have a good, hard foundation in the lime rock which lies near the surface in much of the central part of the city. In many Southern cities the streets are in wet weary bottomless pits, where wagons sink to their hubs if under heavy loads. Where not underlaid with lime rock, they have here generally a sandy bed, and there not being an abundance of rain, there is little more at any time than a thin layer of mud. Main street is paved with vitrified brick from the court house to the T. & P. station, and the paving is being extended down South Main. Pavement has been ordered on Houston street between the two handsome structures above named, and the work has been begun. An arrangement is being now perfected that will result probably in most of the street being paved with asphalt.

Fifteenth street has been ordered paved from the end of the viaduct, on Jennings avenue, to the Santa Fe depot, thus affording opportunity for reaching the principal jobbing houses, freight and passenger stations on pavements. Doubts have been expressed as to whether paving can be forced upon recalcitrant owners. City Attorney E. C. Orrick says: "From careful investigation of the law I have come to the conclusion that the city can get judgment and enforce it for the cost of paving in front of property that is not a homestead. On property that is we can get a judgment, but cannot collect it."

The Fort Worth city charter, enacted at the last session of the legislature, seems to cover the matter of paving, despite the decrepit old constitution of Texas, which dates back over a quarter of a century, and which stands in the way of the improvement of our cities. Whatever is done in Fort Worth as to any kind of building or improvement is done well. In a few years our principal business streets will be paved, kept clean and appear to excellent advantage.

Rousseau. Rousseau was a type of the melancholic temperament, assuming sometimes the symptoms of a veritable phantasm. He sought to realize his phantoms in the least susceptible circumstances. He saw everywhere enemies and conspirators, frequent in the first stages of insanity. Once, coming to his sailing vessel in England, he interpreted the unfavorable winds as a conspiracy against him, then mounted an elevation and began to harangue the people, although they did not understand a word he said. In addition to his fixed ideas and deliriant convictions Rousseau suffered from attacks of acute delirium, a sort of maniacal excitation. He died of an embolitic attack. Second Nature. The old schoolmaster was deeply affected. His scholars, noticing the lapsed appearance of his chair, presented him with a new one on his birthday. "My dear boys," said the kindly pedagogue, with tears in his eyes, can never hope to tell you how you have made me feel by this gift of your love for me. All I can do is thank you for the sacrifices you have made of your little purses for the sake of my comfort. If you have realized severe at times, I trust you realize it has always been for your own benefit. I hope to always have your full confidence, as you have ever had mine. As the old schoolmaster presented himself down in his new chair he consciously ran his hand over the search of bent pins. -New York

TRUCK GROWERS ARE TO GET NO RELIEF

COUNCIL FILES THEIR PETITION WITHOUT ACTION.

Radical Ordinance Proposed to Restrict House Moving—Glenwood School Board Wants City to Pay Taxes on Dumping Grounds—Cemetery Flower Thieves.

The petition for a market place submitted to the city council at its meeting Friday night by the Tarrant County Truck Growers' association was received and filed. This means that the truck growers are not to receive the relief from present conditions which they sought.

Other important matters were considered by the council Friday night. On motion of Alderman Moreland it was decided that hereafter new streets shall be of narrow width. The motion was unanimously adopted.

TOMLINSON LOTS.

Quite a long argument ensued when the council heard the report of City Attorney Orrick in the matter of the lots recently sold by the city to S. A. Tomlinson. The lots are situated adjacent to the viaduct across Jennings avenue from the Cameron Mill and Elevator company's plant.

HOUSE MOVING.

A proposed ordinance to amend Article 5 of the revised ordinances as follows was read: "To make it unlawful to move houses from one lot to another across city streets without a permit from the city engineer and street and alley committee; to make it unlawful to move houses across Throckmorton, Houston, Main and Rusk streets north of the Texas & Pacific reservation; to make it unlawful to move houses across any street or track except between the hours of midnight and 5 a. m., or under any electric wires without first serving the company owning such wires with written notice six hours before the time of such movement; the house movers to pay for all damages to such wires and for the time of the company employees in repairing same, and to make bond to the city in the sum of $500 each, and to indemnify the city against loss by suits for damages accruing by reason of such house moving; the ordinance to be effective from and after passage, and providing for fines of not less than $5 nor more than $100 for each offense."

STEAL FLOWERS FROM GRAVES.

The sexton of the new cemetery reported that people were stealing flowers from the cemetery and asked the council to order signs painted and posted in the cemetery to warn people of the law which prohibits such practices. The signs will be posted.

TRY A BOTTLE OF DR. BELL'S PINE-TAR-HONEY

A request was received from the Glenwood school board that the city pay taxes on the 34 acres which it owns within the corporate limits of the city. Attorney Orrick reported that, in his opinion, the 34 acres was public ground and therefore not taxable. The city secretary was instructed to inform the Glenwood school board of the city attorney's opinion.

DIRT FOR STREETS.

Alderman Dycus said he had been informed that the Santa Fe railroad was willing to permit the city to haul dirt from along its right of way in order to fill holes in streets and sidewalks.

BONDS OF CITY OFFICERS.

The bonds of the city officers, made with various trust companies for the ensuing terms, were approved. The occupant of a minor office found it impossible to get bond from a trust company on account of his occupation; his bond is a nominal one—only $250. Two Fort Worth citizens made bond for him.

THIS ORDINANCE IS STILL PENDING

The following contribution to The Telegram was submitted yesterday as being of interest to all city subscribers. It is self-explanatory:

- AN ORDINANCE. Be it ordained by the city council of the city of Fort Worth, convened in extraordinary session on this 17th day of May, 1903, by its creator and preserver, the Northern Texas Traction Company—that it shall hereafter be unlawful for any man, woman or child within the city limits of Fort Worth to walk, ride or drive or to propel any character of vehicle along or upon any of the streets, alleys or public thoroughfares, within the limits of said city between the hours of 5 a. m. and 11:30 p. m., without special permission of the said Northern Texas Traction Company, issued under its hand and seal.

CHEAP RATES TO ST. LOUIS

On account of the dedication of the Louisiana Exposition at St. Louis the Texas and Pacific railway will sell tickets to St. Louis and return at $21.40.

OKLAHOMA CITY MERCHANTS TO TOUR

On heavy, rich, dark brown paper, just the color of the fertile soil of Oklahoma, the Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce announces in bright green lettering, just the color of the beautiful prairies of Oklahoma, that it is going to make its third annual excursion, beginning May 11. On that day it will visit Mustang, Chickasha, Laverty, Cement, Elgin, Ft. Hill and Lawton. On May 12 it will visit Cache, Indianola, Snyder, Hedrick, Leger, Olton, Eldorado, Quannah, Chillicothe, Vernon, Harrold, Electra and Wichita Falls.

CHIEF OF CLEVELAND POLICE

CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 2.—Captain Frederick Kohler has been appointed chief of the Cleveland police department to succeed George Corner, who has been retired on pension because of physical disability.

Take a Look At Yourself and if you're not satisfied with the way your shirt, collar, cuffs and white waistcoat have been laundered, give us a try. Moderately speaking, if we fail, all others must fail. At any rate, give us a try—we'll run the risk. L. A. LAIRD, 1118 Jennings Avenue, Near Post Office.

CHARLES FAHEY WILL SUCCEED ROBBINS

NEW GENERAL PASSENGER AGENT NAMED FOR SOUTHERN PACIFIC

Houston and Texas Central Officials Resign—New Time Card Today on Rio Grande Division of the Frisco—Railroad Brief and Personal.

A special to The Telegram from San Antonio says Charles Fahey has been appointed division freight and passenger agent of the Southern Pacific, with headquarters at San Antonio. The new order will be in effect July 1. Officials circulars formally announcing the change it is said will be issued soon.

H. & T. C. OFFICIALS RESIGN

Passenger Traffic Manager S. F. R. Morse, Freight Traffic Manager H. A. Jones, General Freight Agent C. K. Dunlap and Assistant General Freight Agents Board and Christensen, of the Houston and Texas Central, at Houston, have resigned their respective positions with that road.

The separation of the offices and officials, it is said, has been made necessary on account of the Southern Pacific having taken up the operation of the Texas and New Orleans, Dallas extension. Under the laws of the state the Southern Pacific could not participate in the operation of both lines, they being competitive.

NEW TIME CARD ON FRISCO

A new time card is in effect on the Rio Grande division of the Frisco, dating from today. Besides the changes in the schedule of trains, the new order also provides for regular twenty-minute stops at Comanche for train No. 9, southbound, for supper, and for train No. 10, northbound, for breakfast.

On the Brady extension train No. 11 leaves Brownwood at 8:30 a. m. and arrives at Brady at 11 a. m. Train No. 12 leaves Brady at 4 p. m. and arrives at Brownwood at 6:30 p. m. This shortens the time on the Brady extension two and one-half hours.

Trains Nos. 11 and 12 will connect with night trains between Fort Worth and Brownwood. There are no changes in the arrival and departure of trains at Fort Worth.

RAILROAD BRIEFS AND PERSONALS

George B. Pentecost, traveling passenger agent of the Rock Island, is spending Sunday at home in this city. J. H. Hyman has accepted the position of stock clerk in the office of W. A. Tuley, general passenger agent of the Frisco, vice J. A. Chilton, who resigned to accept a position in the city ticket office of the Texas and Pacific.

C. W. Strain of Dallas, southwestern passenger agent of the Frisco, was in the city Saturday.

H. C. Flowers, formerly head machinist at Denison, has been appointed foreman of the shops of that road in this city, the change taking effect May 1.

W. C. Conner, Jr., of Houston, commercial agent of the Frisco, was in the city yesterday.

H. W. Adams of Dallas, commercial agent of the Frisco, was among the railroad visitors to Fort Worth last Saturday.

J. Patterson, with headquarters at Springfield, Mo., and Sherman, Texas, was in the city yesterday en route to Quannah and Vernon, terminals of the new extensions of that road.

The Coronado Beach band of San Diego, Cal., will be in Fort Worth tomorrow evening for the purpose of assisting in an advertising tour of that country, which is embraced in the coast line of the Santa Fe. Scientific pictures along the Santa Fe will be reproduced by means of stereopticon views. The exhibition will be given on the square in front of the Catholic church, at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening. The entertainment will be preceded by a parade and band concert.

WOMEN AND JEWELS. Jewels, candy, flowers, man—that is the order of a woman's preferences. Jewels form a magnet of mighty power to the average woman. Even that greatest of all jewels, health, is often ruined in the strenuous efforts to make or save the money to purchase them. If a woman will risk her health to get a coveted gem, then let her fortify herself against the insidious consequences of coughs, colds and bronchial affections by the regular use of Dr. Roschke's German Syrup. It will promptly arrest consumption in its early stages and heal the affected lungs and bronchial tubes and drive the dread disease from the system. It is not a cure-all, but it is a certain cure for coughs, colds and all bronchial troubles. You can get this reliable remedy at W. L. Smallwood's and Martin, Smallwood & Walkup's. Price 25c and 75c.

its surface, with single La France roses as companions here and there. Around the reflector were wreaths of ferns and on it stood a cut glass vase filled with roses. Pink and white ribbons were drawn from the chandelier to the corners of the table where they were fastened with long loops. On the sideboard and mantels were vases and pots with masses of pink geraniums in bloom.

Before the ceremony, Miss Pearl Callhoun sang the "You" which was followed by the March from Mendelssohn played by Miss Gussie Reynolds. Miss Joe Fender the bride's sister was the bridesmaid, and the groomsmen was the brother of the groom, Will Van Zandt.

The bride wore an allover point lace gown over an underslip of liberty satin, the skirt being finished by double accordion flounces of mousseline de sole. The gown was designed by a student of the Boston school of applied design and the work was executed by the bride. She carried a bouquet of lilacs and orange flowers.

The bridesmaid wore a pink frock of mousseline de sole with bodice of pink satin ribbon and fagotting, and Irish crochet, which was also used on the skirt with bands of tucks alternating.

Among the presents which were the objects of much admiration was a chest of silver from the office force of the Denver, and a silver tea service from the office force of the Frisco. A hall clock of massive and elegant design bore the cards of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Bradley and Mrs. Fakes. A family bible came from the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Isaac Van Zandt.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Zandt left for a visit to Mexico immediately after the ceremony, the bride wearing a handsome traveling gown of blue cloth and a tuscany straw trimmed with cornflowers.

The groom is not only one of a distinguished family, but in his own character embodies the highest honor, the strictest integrity and the noblest ideals that belong to the highest type of man, while all who know the bride know her gentle womanliness, her kindly heart and her unselfish disposition. There is no single wish that does not join in joy at their mutual happiness and wishes for every prosperity.

Among the coaching parties of horse show week none was merrier than that which took in Arlington Heights Thursday. Those going out were, Miss Edgington, Day of Dallas, Crawford of Dallas, Martin, Messrs. Lingo, W. C. Padgett of Dallas, J. Tom Padgett of Dallas, Quarles and Shultz of Dallas. Mrs. Googins was the chaperon.

CLUBS.

The Department club met in the parlors of the Worth yesterday afternoon, an interesting program preceding the business of the meeting which included the election of officers. This program consisted of a violin solo by Mrs. G. V. Morton, a vocal solo by Mrs. Googin with violin obligato by Mrs. Morton and accompanied by Mrs. Collins and an address by Mrs. Drew Fruit on the Italian renaissance.

The club instructed the president to appoint a committee to show in some suitable way their appreciation of the many courtesies of Mrs. Hardwick, which have been continuously shown during the year. Mrs. Wynne, Mrs. Goetz and Mrs. Duke Goodman were appointed.

Mrs. Andrews moved that a committee be appointed to draft suitable resolutions of sympathy for Mrs. McCarty and Mrs. Hunter, two club members who have suffered great bereavements since the last meeting. The president appointed Mrs. Andrews, Miss Mary Martin and Mrs. C. A. Boaz.

The business of electing officers followed with the following results: Mrs. Frank Brady, president, unanimous vote followed by the Chautauque salute; Mrs. R. M. Wynne, first vice president; Miss Mary Martin, second vice president; Mrs. L. K. Stanbery, recording secretary; Mrs. L. B. Comer, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Young Yates, treasurer.

The president was made the delegate to the district convention at Abilene. The reports of the departments were as follows:

Mrs. C. T. Frewett read the report of the literary department: For our first year's study we chose Texas History, adopting the text book of the public schools written by our talented State President, Mrs. Pennycuik. The members grew enthusiastic over the great events, which have characterized our imperial state, making its history unique in the annals of the world. We grew more to love those who gave us this grand commonwealth for a home. The glory crowned Alamo has become a sacred shrine and the men who gained within its gory stained walls their crowns of immortality we have learned to venerate.

We have been with Fannin at his massacre, and learned how great it is to die for one's country. We have paled at Mexican treachery, and grown heart sick at its cruelties.

We have beheld the single star rise in splendor over the victorious field of San Jacinto and thus on to the present day. This Section had for its birthday, the 16th of Dec., 1902, with a membership of eleven. The passing months brought us new funds until now we probably number thirty-two. Our meetings have been held Saturday afternoon in the Sunday school room of the Christian Tabernacle. We feel that these meetings have been both pleasant and profitable, for the next year's study we have chosen Southern literature and the programs are now being prepared. We have high aspirations and a hope has been born that our department shall move ever "Onward and upward" until the goal shall have been won.

Mrs. Goetz read the following for the music department:

The music department was organized under many difficulties; although we had the ten names necessary to form this section, only three ladies were present at the first meeting. Lacking a director, four meetings were merely social, but well attended. The last of February Miss Hendrick generously consented to act as director. She took up the history of music for the outline of our study. Each lesson is practically an illustrated lecture as the director brings out the proper interpretation of musical terms both by description and illustration upon the piano. We have completed the study up to the seventeenth century and at our next meeting, which will be held May 12th, in the studio of Miss Hendrick, 608 Burnett street, Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the following program will be given:

History of the Flemish school of music. Who was St. Phillip Neri? What particular means did he use to interest his congregation? Who were the English madrigal writers of Elizabeth's time? What composers did Spain furnish to the age of Palestrina? What was the progenitor of the present pipe organ? History of the pipe organ? What nation developed polyphony? What instruments were the preursors of the piano forte? How did the idea of the orchestra possibly originate? The story of the opera of Tannhauser. The story of Liszt's Elizabeth. Chopin, nocturne; Beethoven, largo; waltz song; Schubert, song.

Each member of this section feels that the study under such a capable director has been both an intellectual feast and a means to a deeper insight into music. For the next meeting there will be preparation for Tannhauser, the director delivering lecture on the opera, pianists playing the choruses and the singers in the department rendering the solos.

Mrs. C. M. Brown presented the art report, as follows:

The art department of the Department Club has closed its regular year's work in a charming and study of ancient art under the directorship of Miss Capper. The last hours were spent in general review and in adding the finishing touches to all work previously begun.

We were happily surprised to learn that our director is to return next fall and continue to instruct us.

The "farewell" for Miss Capper at the home of Miss Melton was greatly enjoyed by friends and club members, and the club is most grateful to Miss Melton and her parents for so thoughtfully and perfectly executing its desires.

The last meeting was a business meeting and social hour at the home of the chairman. The same officers were re-elected, except the vice chairman, Mrs. John Kee being elected to fill that office.

As it was decided to continue the club work during the summer in a different capacity—that of sketching from nature and art needlework—two new offices were created.

Miss Mattie K. Melton was elected director of the sketch class for the summer, also assistant director for the year. Her work in the latter capacity being to outline the literary part of the lesson each week, have charge of press reports and assist in various ways as the class increases in numbers.

Mrs. W. F. Esterley was elected director of art needlework. Her work is beautiful and the club is fortunate in securing so able a director. Two lessons each month—second and fourth Thursday—will be given at her home, corner of Annie and May streets. There are free lessons for club members. The sketch class will meet at Miss Melton's home, 215 North Burnett street, every first and third Thursday.

The object of continuing the class after other lines of club work are closed is not to add excessive labor to the months of rest, but to impart sweet diversion. Art is restful to mind and body. The harmony of color and design is as soothing as the harmony of music. The meetings will be held in the morning while the air is balmy and refreshing. We cordially invite all members of other departments who will be at liberty from their regular work to join us in a summer of profit and pleasure.

The annual report of the domestic science department was read by Mrs. Goetz in the absence of the chairman, Mrs. S. M. Hudson:

When we started work in the fall our first difficulty was in securing a suitable room in the location we wanted. At last we were able to get the room next the free kindergarten, 207 East Fifteenth street.

We sent invitations to the little girls and their mothers. This was well responded to and we served lemonade and wafers. About forty little girls were enrolled and these were divided into four classes of ten each, as we have only equipment sufficient for ten to work at a time. In this way there is the same lesson on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, but different children each day.

On Friday afternoon the younger children are taught sewing. Miss Belden has adapted the Swedish method to their needs and they are first taught the stitches with bright colored wool on canvas, very much like the sampler of our grandmothers' day. After the stitches are learned they are put into practice on a white apron intended for the small person herself. We have had many encouraging messages from the mothers of these little girls that tell of the pleasure the children take in putting what they have learned into practice at home.

We cannot but feel that there are other lessons beside cooking and sewing which these children must learn by coming in contact with Miss Belden—lessons in gentleness, patience and forbearance.

No child is turned away from the room and Miss Belden keeps slate and pencil and kindergarten material at hand, and when the little boys drop in they are welcomed, too, and given something to do. We must not fail to mention Miss Belden's work in the Boys' Club. As there is no apparatus for teaching these boys manual training as yet, Miss Belden offered to teach them cooking. They responded in a way to gladden the heart of any prospective bride and since then the cooking has gone merrily forward along with the games and songs.

It was in November that, following up a suggestion of Mrs. Swayne, we decided to serve lunches in the high school. The problem of providing the children with appetizing and digestible lunches is such an ever-present one that we were sure of encouragement. In the full burst of our enthusiasm we said, "We will give every student in the high school a bowl of soup the first day!" It was only when we took pencil and paper and multiplied 500 students by one-half pint of soup that we realized what we had undertaken.

The soup bone meat was delivered in large dry goods boxes and we sliced onions, and wept, and flavored the soup with the salt of our tears. We began making soup in kettles, but when we were through we had it in tanks and wash boilers. However, at 12 o'clock we had a bowl of good, hot soup for every student and had soup left. Since then we have had something—soup, stew, cocoa or ice cream—every school day and have made a reasonable profit. Professor Williams and all the teachers' have been most kind and helpful.

The money problem is never far from any of us, and in March we realized that we had exhausted our one large donation and must do something to raise more money.

It was then that Mrs. Fakes had the inspiration in regard to the Baby Show. We cannot say too much in praise of the way Mrs. Fakes "came, saw and conquered" the Baby Show. It was through her that the Horse Show made us their generous offer to take us with them for one of the matinees. She planned the committees, and with the help of much good advice from Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Lowe, who had had experience in Baby Shows, she anticipated all difficulties and overcame them. Neither must we forget to mention the efficient work of our secretary, Miss Ray Saunders, who kept track successfully of all the babies, all the mothers and all the prizes. We feel, too, under great obligations to her assistants, who tended babies of all sizes, complexions and tempers as if to the manner born.

Last, not least, let us thank our business men, who, notwithstanding the many calls upon them, responded so generously and courteously when we asked for prizes.

We wish also to thank the press for its hearty co-operation at home, and our advertising committee—Mrs. Swayne and Mrs. Hutchinson—for their good work in the outside advertising.

We feel that it is owing to the faithful work and helpful kindness of all these, our good friends, that we can write the word "success" in large letters opposite the Baby Show—1903.

The Parents and Teachers' club of the First ward met last Thursday afternoon at the First ward school. Mrs. Capps read a paper on "Keeping Children in After School." There were a number of recitations and some music by pupils of the schools, and Mrs. H. Brann read a paper on "Politeness in School Children and How to Secure It." The paper was so thoroughly in sympathy with the work of the teachers and the parents that its publication was unanimously requested.

The paper was as follows: Ladies and Gentlemen: At the last meeting of the Mothers and Teachers' club the duty was assigned to me to speak a few words on a theme concerning children and I chose "Teaching Our Children Good Manners at Home," because good manners in children are my hobby.

I must ask your pardon for my inability to do the matter full justice, caused by lack of time in performing the various duties of a housewife and mother, but I have taken at least that much time to gather my thoughts on the subject and submit them to paper, which I will now read to you.

No doubt you all are aware of the fact that the teachers of our public schools complain frequently at the lack of good manners of the pupils. How can we overcome this? A place for everything, and everything in its place, and they will be some orderly and prompt in their habits. Teach them to take off their hats when entering the house; teach them to be kind to younger sisters and brothers, whom to assist in every way possible should be their duty.

Teach the children that the best place to play and romp about is their home and not the street. Teach them that what you do for them is prompted merely by your desire to make good people of them, and good citizens, and that you are not prompted by ill will or bad feeling. Teach your child that the school teacher takes the place of mother during school hours, that you have implicit confidence in the teachers, and that their orders must be strictly obeyed.

If your child comes home from school with tears in the eyes and with the complaint, so often heard of all of us, "Teacher has got it in for me and she did not promote me," do not take your child's version immediately. Say you will investigate it. Be impartial. And when you take the pains to ask the teacher, you will invariably get an unbiased and unprejudiced statement of the true standing of your child.

And when the principal of a school has been compelled to whip your boy for very bad behavior, don't take your child's part; don't promise him to go immediately to the principal and kill him. Be impartial and have some confidence in your teacher and his justice. It is the mother who condemns the teacher and his action that makes the burden of our teachers much harder than necessary.

Another bad habit of our school children is the use of incorrect language and slang. This is also the fault of the mothers, who at first laugh at the cute sayings of the children while they are little tots, and who afterwards become so much accustomed to this guiseance that they fail to notice it at all.

Ladies, it is just as easy for all of us to speak a good and correct English as a bad one, full of abominable slang. Let us all strive to overcome this bad habit. Let us teach our children that the use of good English is a part of good manners.

I cannot close this little essay without adding that it should also be the duty of our teachers to show that they have good manners themselves. The teacher should never fall to politely thank the children when they have done anything for the teacher. Children are close observers and great imitators. I know from personal experience that some of our public school teachers, in their intercourse with the children, are very careless in their language, and would use as much slang and speak as incorrect an English as the average street gamin. This is wrong, and teachers should by all means set an ex-

Learning Is The Only True Wealth

By Opie Read

(Copyright, 1903, by W. R. Hearst.) TEXAS man, after writing the following, took his own life:

"I was taught to believe that education was all; but after having been a student for more than forty years, I find that it is money that not only rules the world but sets up the standard of respectability."

And so he killed himself. But surely he must have been a long time in deciding upon money as the chief factor in the affairs of the world. Had he been as much of an observer as he was a student he would have discovered long ago—indeed, early in life—that in comparison with money, learning, except by the few, is looked upon with contempt.

Knowledge is power. Yes, but what sort of knowledge? The understanding of Plato or the market? John J. Ingalls said that if he could live over again his life he would devote his talents to the acquisition of money. Hundreds of men, humiliated in the presence of the rich, scorned by porter and mistreated by landlord, have thought the same thing. But that money is all powerful is no new idea. Money was born powerful. Learning was of humble birth. Money is the lion of life; learning, the lamb.

But there is no greater truth than learning and no greater lie than money. Money promises happiness and is a cheat. Learning promises to humble servants that she will bring to them a deep pleasure and never fails to keep her word. In the civilized world the masses are intelligent, the few intellectual, and it is not to be expected that the few should be so powerful as the many.

A thousand men of ordinary mind are greater than one man of superior mind, they believe; but 50,000 men possessed of $20,000 apiece do not presume to think that they are as great as one man who has accumulated fifty millions. We may well believe in the sincerity of the old negro preacher, who, after falling to persuade his salary from the pockets of a cool congregation, lifted his hands and prayed: "Lawd, sweep inter de everlastin' sea o' blivion every dollar dar is in dis cussed world—eider do dat, Lawd, or give ter yo' old sarvent a few wagin loads of whut money dar is."

It is generally agreed that money is a necessity.

It is a necessity with the most of us. It would be rather enjoyable to sit about in a grove, listening to birds and studying the immortal words of some ponderous philosopher who while he lived lent money at outrageous rates of interest. Then the jealousies and envies would be intellectual differences, criticisms which after a few centuries might be smoothed over to break out afresh in the century following. Money has a clearing house to square its differences but the polite arts never reach a settlement.

When a man finds that in business he is a failure, he decides against money. This has influenced my decision. I hate all money—that I do not possess, and that means about all. Money usually comes too late and always goes too soon. And, not until it is gone, do some of us realize that we needed it. But money is a great civilizer, a discoverer. It discovered America. It discovered Mr. Rockefeller, and now it is seeking to discover a cure for jaded digestion.

Money is the essence of physical energy, hence the activity of the bill collector. If missionaries were as active and as persistent as bill collectors the gospel would long since have been spread throughout the world. Once the lawyer was a statesman, a star orator, traveling from one jury to another, saving necks here and hanging men there, an emotionalist, a tragedian; but now he is too often a collector of weary debts.

If the world were one vast university of learning, its end would be in sight. Strife keeps the world alive, desire to do something, to be powerful; and out of this desire, even if it be directed solely toward the getting of money, much good may come. The rich man, after awhile realizing that life is short, may attempt to square some of his earlier "thrifths" and give to the poor a park with a monument of himself reared in the center of it. There the children may be kept off the grass. "Do you know why I have given so much money to the needy?" said an old man, looking proudly at a building intended for the public. "Yes," someone replied. "Because you can't take it with you."

And this is the cause of a great deal of the world's generosity. What a blessed thing it is that money cannot be ferried over the dark river. Why, the strain on the gold reserve would be so great as to keep the country in a constant panic. But some men come near hedging on death. They can and often do leave their money where it does the most harm.

Some publicists have thought that all big fortunes should be left to the state. But that would necessitate a wiser administration of affairs than is now known to us. So long as the United States senator holds a prerogative and a power beyond the reach of the people, this plan would not be safe. Senators would talk men to death in order to administer upon their estates.

The senate was once a learned body of students, constitutional lawyers, but now it is almost a money aristocracy. Those of the senators who are not millionaires are dominated by those who are. When a learned man talks, critics, few in number, may call him wise. But when money speaks the country, struggling to seize upon dollars, says: "Great."

Let those of us who are financial failures remember that the world's greatest men were poor. It is rather a poor consolation for the most of us, but it belongs to us and it is no more than just that we should lay claim to it. Remember that one day you will own as much as Morgan.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox Says

You Can Be Happy Though Married

(Copyright, 1903, by W. R. Hearst.) HAPPINESS in married life is to be gained just as enduring happiness in any other phase of existence on earth is to be found—by the use of the old-fashioned virtues of unselfishness, consideration for others, politeness and kindness, all based on love and capped by common sense.

Like the old recipe for cooking the hare, which begins, "First catch your hare," a happy marriage for a woman begins with "First select a MAN." Not an ideal made seraph—not an ossified brain, not a mere animal, but a MAN capable of loving and appreciating a woman's love.

Of course, he will be more or less selfish. That is the way parents rear their sons to be. It is your task to bear with this selfishness at first until you can tactfully teach him how beautiful is thoughtfulness for others, and in a very sweet but very dignified way show him that you expect the same treatment you give.

In the meantime you must recollect that you are a faulty woman—and probably spoiled by your parents if you are an American woman—and you must not assume a superior air over your husband when you find out his faults, merely because they are unlike your own.

Whenever he does or says anything which annoys or pains you, say to yourself: "I must avoid ever saying or doing that in my treatment of him."

Then some day, when he tells you a fault you possess, put your arm about his shoulder and say: "Let us enter into a Mutual Improvement Society. I want to be everything you admire—you want to be everything I admire. I will try and do my part and you must do yours. We are business associates for life, in God's Great Syndicate of Love—let us work together for a perfectly happy marriage."

If your husband has whims—harmless whims, such as wanting his meals at certain hours promptly or wanting you to be ready on time when you are going out, make every effort to gratify him. Be willing to sacrifice yourself to some extent to do this; but if you do as he wishes eight times without any word of approval from him and fall twice, and he is irritable in consequence, remind him gently of his lack of reasonableness, and tell him that you need encouragement for your good deeds as well as reproofs for your short comings. Then persist in your efforts to please him.

Believe in your husband, and expect him to be everything your heart desires. Say to yourself every day that he loves you, that he is good, loyal, kind, worthy and successful. Praise him and pet him, sympathize with his business life, his aims, pleasures and occupations.

Be his friend and comrade as well as his sweetheart and home keeper. Remember that a woman makes the atmosphere of the home.

I have seen a cheerful, optimistic woman, who saw a humorous side to every trouble in life, utterly transform a gloomy and fretful natured man into a jolly and good humored being.

If a man is certain he will find cheer, peace, mirthfulness, order, sympathy and love at home he is certain to set his sail for that port with the same anticipation with which the mariner seeks his own harbor after a stormy voyage.

Of course we must make allowances for the occasional lawless and drunken mariner who sends his ship on the rocks and the worthless husband who does not appreciate life's best gifts.

There are men whom no woman on God's earth could keep loyal or honest; but they are exceptions.

Be clean, neat and coquettish in your dress at home and in the privacy of your rooms with your husband. Never let him see you in soiled or careless garments—and let him realize (tactfully) that you expect the same refinements from him. Nothing is commonplace in the daily associations of life to two people who love each other if they do not allow themselves to fall into vulgarities.

Mystery, romance and charm can hang forever about the wife, as well as about the mistress, if the wife so chooses. The husband can always, at every approach, be the Prince Charming to anchor the enchanted Princess with his first kiss if he is skilled enough in love's arts and refined enough to wish to keep the interesting role.

And in all love's ways man is much given to following woman's lead.

If you have no independent income of your own have an understanding in your honeymoon with regard to money matters. Ask for an allowance to be set apart for your use, in order that no humiliating and indelicate discussions need ever occur between you on this subject. Then study to be economical and thrifty—and wise in your use of your allowance.

Love, sense and patience. Those are the three important elements necessary to happiness in marriage.

Helping The Crippled

By Winifred Oliver

FIFTY-EIGHT BRIGHT, animated little faces, fifty-eight cruelly distorted, misshapen little bodies. I sat in the hallway of the School of Cripple Children watching the little ones climb the stairs leading from the floor below. As each face appeared at the top of the stairs I said to myself: "Surely no bodily pain ever mars the brightness of that face." But oh, the pitiful little arched bodies that supported the bright faces, the little impatient feet, held down by iron frames, the weary little backs that must forever carry their burden of pain.

The sweet-faced young superintendent stood beside me, and each child, as it reached the landing, called out merrily, "Good morning." Half the time they were breathless, for it is not easy work climbing up stairs with an eight-pound brace attached to each foot or a plaster jacket tightly swathing one from hip to shoulder.

One, a boy of fourteen, alas! was not able to walk, and he was carried, but his greeting was just as cheerful as those of his more fortunate companions.

The school is not large, it can only accommodate the fifty-eight children who are already there, and the majority of them have been pupils since it first opened, October, 1900. A kind friend has lately presented the school with a larger house, and next Autumn the facilities for accommodation will be much enlarged. An omnibus calls for the children every morning at 9 o'clock and takes them home at 3 in the afternoon. At noon a good, hot dinner is given to them.

All the children from the babies in the kindergarten to the big boys in the manual training class, are happy and contented. True it is that occasionally a look of unspeakable weariness dims one of the bright faces, pain that should be unknown to childhood furrows a smooth forehead, but that soon passes, and the sunshine that shines in these children's souls, if not on their lives, soon reasserts itself. Just at present they are preparing for an Easter sale. The girls, who are taught to be clever little needlewomen, are fashioning wonderfully dainty trifles in fancy work and useful garments. The boys do most excellent work in wood carving and fire etching. The younger children are taught basket weaving and do remarkably well. It is no charity to buy the work of these children. They are thoroughly trained, and the buyer gets full value for his money. A percentage on the sale of his work is paid to each child, and he is thus made to realize that, though crippled, he can become a self-supporting member of society. His mind is in every way led upward. Ambition to excel is constantly fostered and rewarded. Sometimes life's handicap is too heavy for the brave little soldiers to carry and they fall by the wayside. Such was the case with a 10-year-old girl whose needlework was the pride of the school. Because of the plaster jacket and braces she wore she was unable to sit down. She was also afflicted with abscesses. She was motherless, and did the housework and cooking for her father and brother before going to school in the morning and after she got home in the afternoon. In spite of all this she was happy and fast becoming a very expert seamstress, but the burden proved too heavy and the weary little sufferer laid it down. The last three years of her pain-racked life were made happy by the love and teaching she received in the school. Every summer the children are transferred, bag and baggage, to the country. They spend the entire summer in the fresh air and green fields, where the healthful surroundings prove strong tonics. Most of the day is spent out of doors, even the most helpless lying under the shade of the trees. Most wonderful treat of all, each child has its own garden patch. In the fall they come back invigorated and ready for the winter's work.

Their parents appreciate the work that is being done for them. One mother who lives downtown manages to pay board for her child in the neighborhood of the school from Monday till Friday. Another mother sews in the evenings in order to pay car fare for herself and child, as they are too far from the school for the omnibus to call for them. Life must even be a struggle for these children. Handicapped by poverty and ill-health, the odds are largely against them. Who shall say that this is not a most worthy and beautiful charity, deserving of all the success which it is to be hoped will attend it. To the men and women who are impatient under the restrictions laid upon their lives, physical or otherwise, I say go and see the crippled children and come away, ashamed of every discontented thought that assails you.

The THEATER

SCENE FROM "SWEET CLOVER."

The public's attention is centered on the opening of Fort Worth's summer theater. This popular resort will be opened to the public tomorrow night, and judging from the great interest displayed by the amusement lovers, the company will receive a hearty reception. Mr. Wheat has gone to a big expense in putting the garden in a first class condition, and is leaving nothing undone to make it the finest family resort in Texas. A very pleasing feature is the canvas roof covering, which is movable and can be raised or lowered at will, and performances can be given in all sorts of weather. The opening attraction will be the ever popular "Sweet Clover" company. In the four-act society drama, "The Senator's Daughter," a very interesting play, dealing with society life at Washington, D. C. The presentation of this play will permit the company to be seen in roles that gives each artist an opportunity to display the company's strength. Miss Marie Dale, a clever actress, well known to every theater-goer in Texas, will appear in the title role, a part splendidly suited to her versatility. The play also gives her a chance to display several rich and handsome gowns.

High class vaudeville features will be presented between the acts. The management takes great pride in announcing that for this week they have secured a special head-liner the world's famous comedian, Frank Cushman, the greatest entertainer of the day. Mr. Cushman will be seen at each performance in his latest talking and singing act. Mr. Cushman comes here direct from Proctor's, in New York. A grand garden concert will be given from 7:30 to 8:30. The sale of seats opened at the Wheat building lobby Saturday morning.

A RUNAWAY BICYCLE

Terminated with an ugly cut on the leg of J. R. Orner, Franklin Grove, Ill. It developed a stubborn ulcer, unyielding to doctors and remedies for four years. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured. It's just as good for Burns, Scalds, Skin Eruptions and Piles. Use at J. W. Fisher's Drug Store.

"PRISONER OF ZENDA."

"The Prisoner of Zenda" will be the attraction at Greenwall's opera house Wednesday night, May 6. This is a play of heroism and royalty and love and the other dreams that stir men's imagination. The story is well known by this time, yet it is a story of such consummate force, and is so absolutely confined to the realms of romance, that it impresses again even those who have seen it played once or twice, and at the same time, by reason of its rigid divorce from reality, seems new again, as one seldom remembers the details of romances.

Of course, in the "Prisoner of Zenda," the real king gets drunk and is a very mean sort of fellow, while the impersonator has the noble soul and unselfishly gives up his princess and power and everything else in order that the drunken king may come to his own. Both characters are taken very ably in the present production by Harry Leighton, who is informed by study and discretion, has a pleasing presence and does not detract from his work by ranting or mouthing. The only outburst that he permits himself is handled forcibly and yet with becoming restraint.

MR. OTIS B. THAYER, IN "SWEET CLOVER."

The above named artist will be seen in the beautiful play mentioned in this city at Greenwall's opera house Saturday matinee and night, May 9. Mr. Thayer claims to be in "Sweet Clover" in more ways than the one suggested. He is in "Sweet Clover" this season more than ever, because the theater-goers of the better class, wherever he has appeared with his popular play and clever company, have demonstrated by their increased attendance and warm approval of his work, that both the play and himself have grown in the esteem and admiration of the public. He also feels that he is still in more "Sweet Clover" because he has with him, as the leading member of his company, and the interpreter of the beautiful but exacting part of "Lois," the very handsome and accomplished daughter of the South, Miss Estelle Carter. A native of Nashville, Tenn., in which city, at the famous Belmont College, Miss Carter received her education, her name is one more added to many others from the South that have brought fame and fortune to themselves and exceptional credit to their native states. Miss Carter will be seen with Mr. Thayer and his company in the production of "Sweet Clover," as above stated, and her many friends and admirers will then have the opportunity to witness the rapid advancement she has made in her chosen profession.

Of Life Renewed After Terrible Suffering From Heart Disease. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure Gave Me Health.

"Some years ago I suffered greatly with heart disease. I tried the best doctors in our county and got no relief until I began the use of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. I used three bottles and have not had occasion to call a doctor since. It restored my heart to healthy activity and has given me a new lease of life. Prior to taking the remedy I was very restless and got but a few hours sleep during the night, felt tired out, had no ambition, was completely discouraged and had given up all hopes of getting better. I had taken so much medicine without relief that I had little faith when I began taking the Heart Cure, but after taking one bottle I could rest well. My stomach did not trouble me and in three months my health was completely restored. It is nearly six years since I stopped taking the Heart Cure and have had no return of the old symptoms and I know my cure is permanent.—LEWIS LAWRENCE, Ft. Worth, Texas.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure pleases every one who tries it. Taken, primarily, to strengthen the heart, the patient is pleasantly surprised to find that after a short time, his stomach is in better condition, his nerves are steadier, his color better, his strength greater, his appetite is improved and that he rests better at night. The reason is plain. It cures the symptoms by removing the cause. Stop doctoring your symptoms. Remove the cause with Heart Cure, the great heart and blood tonic. All druggists sell and guarantee first bottle Dr. Miles' Remedies. Send for free book on Nervous and Heart Diseases. Address Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

Lace Bedecked Short Coats Will Be Worn This Spring by Miss New York

Never have summer styles offered more charming tone of materials for top-coats, theater coats and rainy-day raglans. The little saque bolero appears to be gaining favor as a summer coat. Besides being made in the lightweight cloths and tweeds, it is shown in pongee, foulard, taffeta and, to match summer gowns, in embroidered lincas and canvas. The loose Chinese sleeves grace most all of these jackets, with under-sleeves of net, chiffon, or other fluffly material. Tucked Eton blouses are in good style and can be made with or without the black plait. The new stole collar is a feature of the mode, when circular capes are abandoned. One of the new jacket sleeves, to be made of soft material, has a Turkish puff. It is made full length, with a deep cuff, or in three-quarter length with a band. The name Monte Carlo seems to cover a multitude of new creations. Early in the season was introduced the Monte Carlo short waist, and now appears the Monte Carlo coat. This coat is intended to be made of silk, nun's veiling, or, if to accompany a summer gown, of fine linen with terebinth lace. Most of them are plaited and fall quite full with a sailor collar which forms a stole in front. The sleeves are plaited and have enormous bishop puffs and fancy wristbands, decorated to correspond with the trimming on the jacket. The box coat is always in favor. It is rather trying, though, and should only be worn by the woman who has the proper figure to carry it. A short, stout woman looks badly in one of these coats. It takes a tall, slender figure to show them off to good advantage. Beautiful evening coats are shown made of staining French voile, white broadcloth and other dainty materials. A handsome evening coat is shown in the cut, made of white broadcloth. The entire coat is strapped with circular bands attached in white, with a split fringe of the cloth. The neck is left round and perfectly plain. Few of the coats have collars this season. The Dutch round neck seems to have found its way to outside garments as well as short waists. A dainty little jacket of pongee is shown. It is cut very loose, a little on the Monte Carlo order, and is trimmed only on the sleeves and sailor collar with silk band and antique medallions. Oyster white melton, of a very light weight, is converted into a stunning coat, combined with a fancy white silk cord with pipings of delft blue velvet. The Chinese sleeves are opened at the seam a little way, with revers faced in peau de sole and piped with the blue. It is ornamented with silk ornaments of a ball and chain design in blue and white. Bohemian cloth of gold is extensively used for lightweight coats. It is a thin material, and has a silky, shimmering finish. A coat of this cloth is shown in the cut, finished at the neck and cuffs with a Bulgarian design and a black velvet collar. The stole ends are finished with silk cord and tassels. A very thin lining of liberty silk makes it cool and comfortable, and it will not crush a thin gown. The long stole collars finish nearly all the fashionable coats, and especially the short coats. One of these jackets is shown in the picture. It is trimmed with ecru guipure with medallions to match. An elaborate evening coat is made entirely of Irish crochet lace, lined with a very delicate blue liberty silk. The Queen Anne collar is wired to flare. The fronts are double faced with lace. A soft black taffeta saque bolero is pictured. It has an antique lace collar, with a short stole piped with black. The sleeves are laid in box plaits, as is the entire coat, and ornamented with silk braid medallions. A handsome white broadcloth coat is trimmed with black and white fagoting, with strappings of black velvet ribbon. A few full-length coats are shown in gray melton, but the short and three-quarter lengths seem to be more popular.

ADVICE TO... THE LOVELORN

By Beatrice Fairfax
DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: I am a girl of 20 and have been going with a young man for six months. He has asked me to marry him, but I cannot decide whether I love him or not; when with him I think I do, but when I am away from him I hardly think of him.
ANXIOUS LU.
 "Out of sight, out of mind" should bear no part in love. If you never think of him when he is absent, I most certainly think that you are not very much in love with him. Do not marry him until you are quite sure that you love him. Wait until you have known him a little longer and better and perhaps it will be easier to decide the question.
DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: I am 20 years of age and want your advice. I am very much in love with a gentleman that I met

Health and Beauty Talks By... Louise Chapelle

DEAR MISS CHAPELLE: I am very desirous of making my hair lighter in color, and I might as well tell you frankly that it is because I contemplate going on the stage, and I am told that a girl with light hair gets along much better in the profession than one with dark locks. I wish you would tell me how to go about it. Should I use peroxide of hydrogen?
MABEL W.
 The idea that light-haired girls succeed best on the stage is a false one. There have been notable examples of light-haired girls meeting with great success with me I will be so with you, and say in the summer just after I came from my home in the south. Now he calls most every evening, also takes me out and very often to see his mother. I love him dearly, but don't trust him as he has told me so many stories. I am of a very jealous disposition and think that he goes out with a neighbor's daughter once in awhile. I have had so many admirers that I always thought it fun to get them in love with me and then turn them down. Now I see how foolish I was and am afraid all the time I will be turned down. Do you think it wise to be too much in love with him?
GOLDIE.
 To quote a homely, old-fashioned phrase, it really seems in your case as though "chickens had come home to roost." Love without faith is a poor thing. Unless you can trust the young man, I would advise you to have nothing to do with him. At the same time I do not think that his calling on a neighbor's daughter is a very serious offense. I am sorry for you, but let this be a lesson not to encourage young men to fall in love with you for the sole pleasure of "throwing them down." Do not let yourself fall too deeply in love with him until you are sure that you can trust him.
DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: I am very much in love with a party whose ties and obligations make it absolutely impossible for anything to exist between us. I have endeavored to forget the party, by avoiding all places where we might meet, but I find I am only more miserable. Kindly state what you would advise, as by seeing the person I injure no one but myself and feel better.
E. E.
 I think the best course for you to pursue would be to avoid meeting this person entirely. You say you injure no one but yourself. How about your duty towards yourself? You are only prolonging the pain and you cannot be sure that you are not injuring the other person. Be brave and put this love out of your heart as much as possible. Time softens all things and after a while your love, even if it should not grow less, will be more easy to bear.
MY DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: I am a young man still in my teens and am quite fond of a young lady a few years my junior. I would like to become acquainted with her so as to take her to different places of amusement. I am too young to think of matrimony or any other thing really serious, but being fond of company, her's especially, I appeal to you, and ask you to advise me how I might make her acquaintance.
G. R. F.
 If you are a friend of her brother's, why not ask him if he will introduce you to his sister? As you are so young no one will think for a moment that you have any idea of matrimony. Tell the brother that you are anxious to meet his sister and ask him if he thinks his parents will allow you to call.

Velvet in all of its forms is prettily combined with chiffon, or crepe de chine, in dressy blouses for spring wear. The combination may be carried out in a number of delightful ways, but the most popular style is to cut the velvet form, finishing the edges with a lace motif or embroidery, which is worn over a tucked or pleated blouse of the crepe de chine or chiffon. There may be a contrast of color, or two shades of the same color, the latter being especially smart if the skirt is of the same color also.

MARKET REVIEW

NORTH FORT WORTH, May 2.—The cattle receipts for the past week have been very liberal and were ample to supply all the wants of the packers. All choice stuff has sold firm with the common and medium grades 10c to 15c off. About 70 per cent of the cattle receipts have been cows and considering the heavy runs have held at good prices, only the common class suffering a decline. With the exception of Thursday, best steers every day last week brought $4.50, with best cows Thursday and Friday at $3.40. Calves have suffered a 10c to 15c decline from last week, and are now quoted at $4.50. The receipts of hogs this week were about 5,000, with a large percentage of pigs and stockers. Beginning Monday the market declined 5c to 10c every day until Thursday. Northern dispatches report of the markets 5c to 15c higher, which had a tendency to hold this market steady. The best sale this week was Monday for seventy-seven Oklahoma hogs averaging 226 pounds at $4.95. The northern markets yesterday were all reported strong to higher, which gives encouragement for this market next week. While the sheep receipts last week were heavy, most of them were shipped here with a northern privilege and loaded out. The market has been steady to slow, best sheep bringing $4, with lambs at $4.75. The prospects for a better market this week are good.

was some stronger. Best sheep averaging 90 pounds brought $4, with a small bunch of lambs at $4.75. The sales: No. Ave. Price. No. Ave. Price. 250.... 91 $4.00 127.... 91 $4.60 123.... 90 4.00 6.... 80 4.00 5.... 74 4.75

The supply of sheep has been large and prices lower. The market was generally slow and weak.

The Interstate and the Panhandle Live Stock Commission Companies, new firms, have moved into the exchange building and will be ready for business this week. E. P. Jersig of San Antonio was at the yards yesterday en route home from the Osage nation, where he shipped two train loads of cattle for spring and summer pasturage.

Elmer Villant, a cowman from Comfort, is in the city and was a visitor at the yards yesterday. G. A. Welkhouer of Enclinal was at the market yesterday with four cars of cattle consigned to this market with a privilege. Mr. Welkhouer decided not to sell them here and loaded them out for Kansas City.

T. B. Nichols, a prominent merchant and ranchman from Chillicothe, Texas, accompanied by his wife, was visiting the yards and packing plants yesterday. They have been in Galveston for the past three months, taking a vacation. Mr. Nichols reports south Texas in fine condition. Hebrouville was represented on the cattle market yesterday by Harris & McGill with one car. J. N. Morris of Detroit, Texas, had in one mixed car of hogs and cattle yesterday.

P. Slade, a regular shipper to this market, was in Saturday with five cars of south Texas cattle shipped from Alice. On the market last week, Armour & Co. bought 1,586 cattle, 744 hogs, 748 sheep and 39 calves. Swift & Co. bought 1,460 cattle, 1,687 hogs, 998 sheep, 272 pigs and 132 calves.

The cattle receipts last week showed a decrease of 2,514 cattle, an increase of 809 hogs, a decrease of 3,929 sheep and a decrease of 13 calves. The hog market last week closed 20c to 50c lower with a favorable outlook for better prices this week.

The following market summaries were taken from the weekly letters issued by commission men from their various offices yesterday:

CAMPBELL & ROSSON. Cattle receipts for the week were 7,200. The market opened Monday with prices steady with the close of last week, and a good share of the cattle sold briskly. Continued heavy runs Tuesday and Wednesday made the market a little draggy, but all good fat stuff brought steady prices, while common and medium grades sold mostly 5c to 10c lower, and some salesmen considered the decline 15c on this kind. Thursday very light receipts made the demand a little better and the close of the week shows very little change on good stuff.

Calves are about 50c lower than the best time last week. It takes extra choice veals to bring $4@4.50. Bulls, 10c to 25c higher on all grades. Canners and common yearlings very dull and hard to sell.

The cattle supply this week has been more than plentiful, Monday and Tuesday together footing up more than 5,000 head for the two days. There has been a steady run each day, and even today on Saturday's market, there is something over twenty cars. Prices were fairly steady until Friday, when all cow stuff lost 10c to 15c, and we expect to see next week on a lower basis if this run continues. Strictly choice stuff, however, is affected very little and is likely to hold up at steady prices for another week.

As the receipts of hogs have been very liberal, prices have declined from 15c to 25c since we issued our last market letter, making our best hogs bring $3.95.

GEORGE W. SAUNDERS. Receipts of cattle have been light the latter part of this week, and everything that came to hand found ready sale at fair prices, and the market closes this week about bare of cattle, with prices steady to strong at quotations, and we look for a good, active market next week. The hog market everywhere has been declining generally for the past two weeks, but now seems to have about reached the bottom, as an upward tendency in prices was noticed at the close today, and is quoted steady to 10c higher.

The best steers and cows there is an advance of about 10c per hundred. Parts of the week quick sales generally prevailed and the market was active. The offerings were of much better quality than last week. The best sale of fed steers averaged 1,116 pounds and sold Wednesday at $4.50.

The supply of sheep has been large and prices lower. The market was generally slow and weak.

These quotations were furnished by the Watkins Hay and Grain Company: Prairie hay, $12@14 per ton; Johnson grass, $13 per ton; bran, $1.10 per 100 pounds; corn, 60c per bushel, shelled; oats, 50c per bushel; chops, $1.15 per 100 pounds; rice bran, $16 per ton.

These quotations were furnished by Bolser & Reelin: Eggs, case, $2.50; butter, 18@20c, according to grade; chickens, $4@4.50 per doz; geese, $4.50 per doz; turkeys, 12c per doz; ducks, $3.25 per dozen.

The following report of the live stock markets is prepared daily for The Telegram by the Fort Worth office of the Evans-Spider-Buel Commission Company, from special reports received by wire:

CHICAGO, Ill., May 2.—Cattle—Receipts, 750, including 400 Texans; market steady; heaves, $4.65@5.40; stockers and feeders, $2.50@4.70; Texas steers, $3.85@4.70; cows and heifers, $2.40@3.90; calves, $7 to $12 per head.

Hogs—Receipts, 1,500; market steady to strong; natives, $4.75@5.75; Texas sheep, $5.75@6.75; lambs, $5.50@7.50.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 2.—Cattle—Receipts, 200; market steady. Hogs—Receipts, 2,000; market steady to strong; mixed and butchers, $6.70@6.90; good to choice heavy, $6.90@7; rough heavy, $6.85@6.90; light, $6.60@6.80; bulk, $6.75@6.95; pigs, $4@6.50.

Sheep—Receipts, 500; market steady. NATIONAL STOCK YARDS, Ill., May 2.—Cattle—Receipts, 1,500; market steady. Hogs—Receipts, 1,500; market steady. Sheep—Receipts, 100; market steady.

GRAIN—PROVISIONS. CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS. CHICAGO, Ill., May 2.—The grain and provisions markets today ranged as follows:

Table with columns: Wheat, Open, High, Low, Close. Rows: September, May, July, Corn, September, May, July, Oats, May, July, Lard, July, May, Pork, July, May, Ribs, July, May.

GRAIN LETTER. (Special to F. G. McPeak & Co.) CHICAGO, Ill., May 2.—Wheat—Liverpool 1/4@1/2 higher; Paris holiday; Antwerp unchanged. Primary receipts, 254,000, against 335,000; shipments, 423,000, against 404,000; clearances, 554,000. The market here was very quiet and firm. While the news on the whole was strong, there was enough profit taking to prevent any marked advance. Cables indicate that the outlook for the French and German crops is still poor. In the Duluth movement there was a good export business being done and Minneapolis reported large sales of flour. Interior stocks in the northwest are practically exhausted. Spring wheat seeding has been checked at the moment by cool weather. Good authorities estimate that from 70 to 80 per cent of it has already been done in the northwest. The Pacific coast is renewing its complaints of unfavorable conditions there and there are predictions of a crop no bigger than last year. Nothing definite in the way of the effect of the recent frost on winter wheat is yet known. The situation seems to us to have gained something in strength during the week, and we are inclined to look for better prices the coming week. Estimated cars, 3,400 higher. Liverpool unchanged to 1/4 higher. Primary receipts, 270,000 bushels against 334,000; shipments, 218,000 bushels, against 168,000; clearances, 218,000. The market here was very quiet and steady. There was nothing in the speculative trade worthy of comment and the cash position seems about good. The indications are, we think, that the local stock of No. 2 corn will likely decrease in the near future. The deliveries of May stuff went into the hands of scattered holders. Buyers in the country report some increase in offerings, but they are not large. Estimated cars, 225.

COTTON LETTER

(Special to F. G. McPeak & Co.) NEW ORLEANS, La., May 2.—The passing of another week has made no material change in the strong statistical position of cotton, the visible supply of American still showing a deficit of 526,000 bales when compared with the holdings of a year ago. The movement continues liberal, but cotton manages to disappear just as fast as it is brought to market. In fact, spinners' takings during the past week were as much as 190,000 American, against 181,000 last year. Developments show that there is no relaxation in spinners' takings, which at the moment are running on a basis of 11,354,000 bales, against an in-sight basis of 10,936,000. In other words, consumption is keeping pace with the increase in receipts over last year, which serves to keep the deficit of American well above the 500,000 mark when compared with a year ago. The available tonnage standing at 1,978,000 against 2,504,000. A noteworthy feature of this situation is located in the fact that of this shortage 320,000 is represented by the United States where port and visible interiors stocks are only 521,000 bales, against 841,000 a year ago.

The following comparisons show how poorly supplied are the principal towns of the south: Stock at Little Rock, 16,635, against 22,926 last year; Memphis, 31,018, against 41,734; Augusta, 6,562, against 31,771; St. Louis, 16,068, against 36,133, and Houston, 15,768, against 34,169. In addition to this the contract markets of the country are as bad off. New York holding but 88,089, against 195,228 last year. Here in New Orleans there is but $6,986 in warehouses, against 156,125 a year ago. Of this amount there are some 40,000 at railroad depots, 25,000 of which are at inland points awaiting shipment. Of the 47,000 in warehouses a good portion is not for sale and another portion is held by exporters, while a good percentage consists of low undesirable cottons, which some say are unfit for delivery on contracts. This is a strong situation for this period of the season and to make it doubly so, the recent frolic temperatures in the northwestern sections of the belt and unusually low temperatures in all other sections of the south have in some cases seriously injured young cotton and retarded the growth of the plant everywhere it was above ground. The rains of the latter part of the week will materially help along the late planted by permitting germination of the seed. The season, however, was already late by two or three weeks and the coming at this date of record-breaking cold weather will only throw it back that much more. According to the replies received by the New York Journal of Commerce there will be an increase in the acreage of about 2 1/2 per cent. Nothing further in an official way will be received until June 3, when the government will issue its report on condition and acreage.

GRAIN LETTER. (Special to F. G. McPeak & Co.) CHICAGO, Ill., May 2.—Wheat—Liverpool 1/4@1/2 higher; Paris holiday; Antwerp unchanged. Primary receipts, 254,000, against 335,000; shipments, 423,000, against 404,000; clearances, 554,000. The market here was very quiet and firm. While the news on the whole was strong, there was enough profit taking to prevent any marked advance. Cables indicate that the outlook for the French and German crops is still poor. In the Duluth movement there was a good export business being done and Minneapolis reported large sales of flour. Interior stocks in the northwest are practically exhausted. Spring wheat seeding has been checked at the moment by cool weather. Good authorities estimate that from 70 to 80 per cent of it has already been done in the northwest. The Pacific coast is renewing its complaints of unfavorable conditions there and there are predictions of a crop no bigger than last year. Nothing definite in the way of the effect of the recent frost on winter wheat is yet known. The situation seems to us to have gained something in strength during the week, and we are inclined to look for better prices the coming week. Estimated cars, 3,400 higher. Liverpool unchanged to 1/4 higher. Primary receipts, 270,000 bushels against 334,000; shipments, 218,000 bushels, against 168,000; clearances, 218,000. The market here was very quiet and steady. There was nothing in the speculative trade worthy of comment and the cash position seems about good. The indications are, we think, that the local stock of No. 2 corn will likely decrease in the near future. The deliveries of May stuff went into the hands of scattered holders. KING'S VISIT PLEASES ALL

Cements Friendly Relation Between Two Countries More Firmly

RECALLS QUEEN'S VISIT

BY PAUL LAMBETH.
(Copyright, 1903, by W. R. Hearst.)
LONDON, May 2.—The visit of the King to Paris on May 2 is considered on both sides of the channel the starting point of a new era in the relations between France and England.

Never since the days of Napoleon III. and the Crimean war have the two nations been such good friends, and this is regarded as entirely due to the graceful tact of King Edward.

It is interesting to remember that his visit to France will be the first official visit paid to the head of the French state by an English king since Henry VIII. and Francois I. met on the Field of the Cloth of Gold in 1520.

It was 323 years later that another British sovereign landed in France. This time it was the young Queen Victoria, who, six years after her accession, visited King Louis-Philippe at the Chateau d'Eau, in Normandy.

The visit was regarded by the whole of Europe as one of extreme political importance, and yet there were but six journalists—four Frenchmen and two Englishmen—sent by their respective papers to see her majesty's arrival.

It was upon this visit that the Queen received the nickname which France will always remember her, of "Little Queen Delicieuse."

Her majesty came back to France, to Paris this time, twelve years later, and visited Napoleon III. and Eugenie. It was a return visit for that which the French Emperor and Empress had paid to her the year before, and in its honor a magnificent state ball was given at Versailles, which had not been used for such a function since Marie Antoinette's day.

It was an incident which occurred during the second visit of Queen Victoria to France which gave the French dressmakers the supremacy which they have ever since enjoyed. The Empress Eugenie was horrified to notice that charming as "La Petite Reine Delicieuse" was, she dressed extremely badly.

Not wishing to offend her majesty, and on the other hand, longing to prove to her what clothes could do, Eugenie, remembering her fondness for dolls, had one made of the Queen's own height and size, and provided with a magnificent trousseau. Queen Victoria took the hint and dolly lost her dresses, which appeared to even more advantage on her majesty herself.

KING'S HEAD BARE.
Native feeling in India is quite disturbed because the King's head on the new rupee is bare. On the old coinage Queen Victoria was presented crowned, and the feeling is that King Edward should be presented crowned also.

In India it is generally regarded as a mark of disrespect for man or woman to appear with uncovered head, the only exceptions to this rule being found in those few places which have barely been touched by the wave of Mohammedan invasion.

In Eastern lands a man is accustomed to uncover his head only in the privacy of his chamber.

One of the most confusing titles which exists is that of Duchess of Manchester, for there are no less than four ladies of that ilk.

The Queen's little godson will, if he lives, one day be the tenth Duke of Manchester, and the widows of six, seven, eighth and eighth dukes, and the wife of the ninth duke, are all living.

The widow of the sixth duke, whose marriage took place in 1850, has been twice widowed; the widow of the seventh duke is the Duchess of Devonshire; and the widow of the eighth duke is Consuelo, the mother of the present holder of the title.

Consuelo, Duchess of Manchester, is a great friend of the Queen, and it is probably to this fact that her infant grandson owes the honor of having her majesty for his godmother.

The Queen's gift to her little godson was a silver gilt porringer, with cover and spoon, and on it was inscribed: "To Alexander George, Viscount Mandeville, from Alexandra Regina."

The spectacle of a prince in his shirt sleeves working hard along with ordinary roopers in a cavalry stable is rather astonishing, but it has lately been witnessed at Hampton Court barracks, near London. Prince Alexander of Teck is the prince.

He is brother of the present Duke of Teck and of the Princess of Wales, and though only twenty-nine, has had a distinguished military career.

The Prince's regiment, the Seventh Hussars, is stationed in South Africa, and the reserve squadron at home has been called upon to supply so many drafts of fresh men that its ranks have been reduced to seven privates.

There are eighty-four horses in the stables, and the work of attending to the animals has of course been far beyond the capacity of seven men, even when every other duty was dispensed with; so the non-commissioned officers turned to and helped with the horses, and the officer in command, Prince Alexander, seeing his men so overworked, felt bound to do what he could to lighten the burden.

Noblesse oblige. And lighten it he certainly did, for he worked as hard as any trooper, and one of the sergeants re-

STOCK MARKET DULL AND QUIET

NEW YORK, May 2.—The stock market has been dull and listless throughout the week, and changes from the lower level of prices was not long maintained. Some temporary effect was produced by the declared validity of the New York franchise tax, the fluctuations in the copper and silver markets, the freezing weather in the west, the reports of earnings by various railroad systems, and the export of gold.

The prevailing restraint upon the speculation seems to be due to the conviction of the necessity of conserving money resources for future needs of corporation loans and the moving of the crops.

MAY DELIVERIES
CHICAGO, Ill., May 2.—The deliveries were the smallest in years. The amount of grain sent around on May contracts proved much lighter than anyone expected. On the early morning delivery about 500,000 bushels of wheat went around and Armour paid for 400,000 bushels. In the afternoon about 200,000 bushels of wheat went around, part of it the redelivery of grain which was put out in the morning. The net wheat deliveries were about 660,000 bushels and Armour took most of it.

The corn deliveries were about 800,000 bushels, of which 500,000 bushels was put out in the morning. There were 600,000 bushels on the afternoon delivery, part of it redeliveries. Armour paid for some corn and in the afternoon Logan and Bryan paid for 300,000 bushels. About 200,000 bushels of oats went around. It is expected that by Monday the southwest will be able to tell whether its wheat was hurt by those freezing temperatures of Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. The claims to decide instantly as to injury or escape is not regarded as made in good faith. It will take sunshine and mild temperatures to settle whether the mercury in the twenties the Kansas wheat suffered Wednesday night and Thursday morning. It is assumed that where wheat was jointed the freeze will result in loss.

WHEAT CONDITIONS
CHICAGO, May 2.—Commission houses seem to be selling wheat around 71c. The July trade is retarded.

GLEN WALKER & CO.
Offer attractive and liberal propositions in the following properties:

DIAMOND HILL
The closest residence property to the great Armour and Swift packing houses; just the location for their employees; offering building sites within a stone's throw from their work, or a mile from same—offering sites in the valley or on beautiful hills overlooking the whole country side. Property bound to double in value.

LAKE VIEW
Adjoining Tylor's lake and pleasure resort. High and dry; commanding a beautiful view of the city.

McConnell's Addition
Three blocks from Missouri Avenue street car; adjoins Union Depot addition; high, pretty, well drained lots.

IF YOU WANT A HOME
And will build, we will give you a great big reduction in the price of our lots, or if we can not convince you the reduction is ample (and you are building the right kind of a home) WE WILL GIVE YOU A LOT GRATIS.
Or if you have insufficient cash to pay for a home, we will sell you your lot entirely on credit and lend you one-third of the cost of the house to help you build it.

IF YOU WANT AN INVESTMENT
We will sell you a lot for eight dollars a month and GUARANTEE THAT THERE WILL BE 20 PER CENT INCREASE IN ITS VALUE AT EXPIRATION. One year from the date of purchase—based on the price at which we will then be selling similar lots—or we will refund all the money you have paid us, with 10 per cent interest.

IF YOU WANT A SPECULATION
We will sell you one lot or a hundred lots; for all cash, granting substantial discount, or no cash—simply easy monthly payments.

IF YOU NEED FUNDS
And have purchased from us, we will at any time make you a loan on the property.

IF YOU DIE
With payments still due on your lot, we will give your heirs a deed to it without further cost to them.

IF YOU WANT TO RENT
And will take a year's lease, we will build you a cottage home, neat, comfortable and attractive.

WE OWN OR CONTROL THE ABOVE PROPERTIES
So if none of the above propositions suit you CALL ON US and we will doubtless be able to make you one that will, as we expect to make the broadest and most liberal terms ever offered in Texas.

CLAIRVOYANT AND PALMIST, ANDRE ZANZIC will for one week longer give his full $5 readings for $1. This will positively be the last week you can obtain a reading at this price, as after that date full rates will be charged.

The famous young adviser does all that he advertises and he makes no charge for his service in causing a change and success, as you desire, until finished.

TELLS FULL NAME, AGE, ETC., OF CALLERS FREE.

Fortune telling by cards, stars, uneducated palmists, clairvoyants, and those who make guesses may amuse you. BUT if you are serious and want help and truth, call on Professor Zanzic, who has a reputation among the most prominent families in Europe and America as

KING OF LIFE ADVISERS He advises and causes to be just what you desire, telling you what you may expect regarding anyone or anything—love, marriage, health, divorce, deaths, business, property, speculations, lawsuits, estates, absent friends, family troubles, children, parents, wills, deeds, mining, mortgages, etc. You can secretly control the acts, thoughts or habits of anyone even miles away. You can be successful in your undertakings. You can control those you love. You can remove the influence of secret enemies; you can become prominent and influential; all through natural psychic power as mediated by Zanzic. If you do not believe in these powers, call on him. IT IS BECAUSE YOU HAVE NOT INVESTIGATED.

and you are ignorant of nature's secret forces, without and within. Professor Zanzic is president of the International Association of Palmists, director of London Occult College and member of Hindu Temple of Sun and Moon of Calcutta, India.

All correspondence and business is attended personally by Professor Zanzic, and is held most sacred. He has been patronized and publicly endorsed by Lord Bromley, Sir Robert Salisbury, Hon.
