CAPTAIN FAILED TO TAKE WARNING

A Fatal Collision of French Steamer Is Laid to Official

SAW BOATS COMING BUT KEPT COURSE

As a Result More Than a Hundred Persons Were Drowned

MARSEILLES, June 8.—More than a hundred persons, passengers and crew, were drowned near Marseilles today in the collision between the Insulaire and the Liban, passenger steamers belonging to the Franeset Steamship Company of Marseilles. The Liban sank and seventy-five passengers and seventeen of the crew were saved, while the remainder perished.

The steamer Liban left Marseilles this morning on her regular passenger trip to Bastia, Corsica, and was run down and sunk by the Insulaire of the Maire Islands.

The collision was witnessed by the pilot boat Blechamp, which was about two miles distant. The Blechamp immediately repaired to the spot to render assistance. The force of the collision had cut a great hole in the Liban's side and she was taking water rapidly. The captain saw that the only chance was to run the steamer aground, and the Liban was headed full speed for the shore, but within a few minutes after the collision and while still in deep water the fore part of the steamer plunged beneath the waves and in a few minutes she disappeared.

In the meantime the Blechamp and the steamer Balkan, also belonging to the Franeset Company, and other vessels had been near, making desperate efforts to rescue those on board. The Blechamp picked up forty persons, many of whom were at the point of exhaustion. The Balkan rescued thirty-seven persons, and up to the present it is known that, in addition to the passengers, seventeen of the crew were also saved.

TERRIBLE SCENE

Officers of the steamer Balkan describe the scene just before the Liban disappeared as a terrible one. As the vessel was striking she was inclined to such an angle that her masts struck the water, causing an eddy, which made the work of rescue most difficult. A mass of human beings were clinging to the foundering vessel and uttering despairing cries as she went down. At the same time the boilers exploded, intensifying the horrors. For a few minutes the victims were seen struggling in the sea, then they were closed over them and all was silent. Of about two hundred passengers who were aboard the Liban, it is believed over half were drowned.

CAUSE OF COLLISION

It is stated that the collision was due to the following circumstances: The Liban was putting out to sea just as the steamer Insulaire was making for the harbor. Maitres Island, which lies off the entrance to the port, hid the vessels from each other until it was too late to avoid a collision. One of the survivors, a passenger, gives these details of the disaster:

CAPTAIN BLUNDERED

"The weather was splendid when we steamed out of Marseilles harbor, and all the passengers were below at table when the shrieking whistles gave the alarm. On coming on deck I saw the Insulaire approaching us at full speed. The captain gave several orders, but no attempt apparently was made to change the steamer's course. Some of the passengers reproached the captain for his negligence in this matter. When the Insulaire crashed into us a great panic prevailed on board. Attempts were made to lower the boats, but only one boat was got away, and in that I and a few others escaped to the Blechamp. The vessel sank bow first, the passengers took refuge in an awning. This, as the Liban founder, became a cage, in which the passengers were caught and dragged down beneath the waters."

PECULIAR CLOSING OF BRENHAM SALOON

BRENHAM, Texas, June 7.—The Oak Hall saloon is closed. This in itself affords the most sensation that it created, for the Oak Hall is (or was) a popular resort, looked upon as one of the fixtures of the city; but it is the alleged manner of its closing that calls for the bulk of comment heard about the matter on the streets. Even greater interest attaches to it through the statement made by the saloon's proprietor, E. Mittendorf, to the effect that a big damage suit will be the outcome.

The trouble seems to have originated over a difference of some kind that exists between Mittendorf and the City Brewing Company of San Antonio. The former alleges that on last Friday night, Frank Braun, traveling auditor for the aforesaid brewery peremptorily and unceremoniously seized the state and United States revenue tax receipts belonging to Mittendorf and removed them from the saloon, thus forcing it to close its doors.

ARMOUR'S MEN GO OUT ON A STRIKE

CHICAGO, June 8.—Dissatisfied with the wage scale, 300 men belonging to a loading gang at Armour & Co.'s stockyards plant have struck. A wage scale was agreed on last week, and the men worked until Friday night, when they expressed dissatisfaction with the agreement. It is said that efforts will be made by the officers of the Packing Trades' Council to persuade the men to return to work and fulfill their part of the agreement.

NEGRO IS LYNCHED AT BELLEVILLE, ILL.

ST. LOUIS, June 8.—County School Superintendent Charles Hertel of St. Clair county was fatally shot in his office at Belleville, Ill., Saturday evening just before 6 o'clock by W. T. Wyatt, a colored school teacher of East St. Louis, whose certificate to teach he had refused to renew.

Two hours later Wyatt was taken from the county jail by a determined mob of citizens, and despite the appeals of the mayor of Belleville and other officials, hanged for his crime. The mob was an orderly one, but the little band of policemen detailed to the jail was so far outnumbered that resistance was useless, and the negro was dragged from his cell to his death.

OFFICIALS DISCOVER MISSING DIAMONDS

NEW YORK, June 8.—George D. Widener, prominent in financial circles in Philadelphia and a son of the traction magnate, has just returned from Europe with his family. When he reached the pier an official of the treasury department asked him the meaning of a telegram from the other side which stated that the financier had purchased a considerable number of diamonds of value. The interrogation was made because no purchase of diamonds was mentioned in the declaration of baggage made by Mr. Widener to the customs officials who boarded the ship at quarantine.

WATERSPOUT HITS AN ELEVATED TRAIN

NEW YORK, June 8.—Rushing in from the sea, a waterspout traveling at great speed, struck a train on the Brooklyn elevated road, bound cityward from Rockaway Beach. The motorman saw the spout just as the train reached a trestle over Broad Channel, Jamaica Bay. He threw on full power in an effort to get past but the flood of water struck between the third and fourth cars. The platforms were crowded with persons unable to get inside the cars. These were almost swept off into the bay, but managed to hold fast to the railings. The flood rushed down the aisles and caused a wild scramble. Hundreds of pleasure seekers were drenched to the skin. No one was seriously injured, however, and despite the fact that tons of water struck the cars they did not leave the rails.

PAPER MILLS ARE IN THROES OF A STRIKE

HOLYOKE, Mass., June 8.—Employees in the finishing rooms in all the coarse paper mills here struck today because of dissatisfaction with the schedule presented by the American Writing Paper Company.

MAN DROPS DEAD IN PLACE OF HIS HORSE

NEW YORK, June 8.—Tugging between the shafts of the wagon from which his horse had been taken because he was beating it Alfonso De Luca, an Italian peddler, has fallen dead in a Brooklyn street. De Luca had been beating his horse and, on complaint of a woman member of the S. P. C. A., the animal was taken from the shafts by a policeman. De Luca got between the shafts and drew the vehicle to the curb. Just as he reached it, he fell dead.

WOULD SEND MEN TO VISIT CZAR

New York Clergymen Propose Appointment of a Committee of Twenty to Lodge a Formal Protest

NEW YORK, June 8.—At an enthusiastic meeting in the Temple Beth-El Rev. Dr. G. C. Lorimer has proposed that a committee of twenty, composed of both Jews and Gentiles, be elected in the United States and sent to Russia to wait on the czar and "protest against the massacres at Kishineff in the name of God and humanity."

Notwithstanding the enthusiasm that was aroused nothing definite toward forming a committee was done. Dr. Lorimer declared that it was most important that this committee be formed at once. Whereupon M. S. Stern, grand master of the United States Independent Order of the Free Sons of Israel, under whose auspices the meeting was held, announced that at the next meeting of the executive board Dr. Lorimer's proposal will be laid before the grand lodge for immediate action. Several speakers coincided with Dr. Lorimer.

MINNESOTA LABOR FEDERATION MEETS

LITTLE FALLS, Minn., June 8.—Men of brains and brawn, upwards of 200 in number, filled the courthouse today when the twenty-first convention of the Minnesota State Federation of Labor was called to order by President M. E. Neary of Minneapolis. The roll call developed the fact that the convention is the largest in the history of the organization. Not only Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth, but many of the smaller cities of Minnesota are represented.

The opening session was occupied with preliminary business, including the appointment of the necessary committees. The annual report of Secretary W. E. McEwen shows that the union labor movement has made great strides in the state during the past twelve months and that the situation generally is satisfactory.

NEGRO KILLED IN THE ELECTRIC CHAIR

OSKINSING, N. Y., June 8.—After being twice reprieved by the governor, Arthur Flanagan, a negro, was put to death today in Sing Sing prison. After the current had been turned on twice, Flanagan was pronounced dead.

Arthur Flanagan killed Keeper Hugh McGovern in the prison attached to the West Fifty-fourth street police court, New York city. He and another negro, named Frank Emerson, in escaping from the prison on October 29, 1900, killed McGovern with an iron bar, which they had sawed from the window.

AUTOMOBILE CAUSES ANOTHER FATALITY

GREENLAW, L. I., June 8.—Frightened by the approach of a big automobile, a horse driven by John D. Tanges, a wealthy resident of this place, swerved from the road, upsetting the cart, and Mrs. Tanges was thrown into the ditch, receiving a fracture of the skull, from which she died about twenty minutes later.

AMERICAN HENS LAY COMPETITORS IN SHADE

NEW YORK, June 8.—At the international egg laying contest now in progress in an agricultural college near Sidney, Australia, the coops of American hens stand first, second and fourth in a list in which all nations of the world are represented. So rapidly grew the pile of white eggs from the three American coops when the word "go" was given, that inside of a week the English, French, German and other nationalities were left hopelessly in the rear. So great is the aggregate score of the industriously American hens that the victory is plainly theirs. A poultry fancier this week received word from Sidney that the triumph would result in a great demand all over Europe for American hens.

FLUCTUATION IN YEAR'S COMMERCE

Report of the Bureau of Statistics Regarding Internal Movements Shows Great Falling Off in Hogs

WASHINGTON, June 8.—There has been considerable fluctuation of internal commerce during the first four months of the current year, as is shown by the compilations of the bureau of statistics. Notwithstanding favorable conditions in the west there has been a marked falling off of live-stock receipts, particularly of hogs. These receipts show an increase over the same period of last year. Live navigation appears to have opened up later than a year ago, although considerably earlier than in 1901. The general commerce, reviewed in detail, follows:

LIVE STOCK

The five leading live stock markets of the interior, for the first four months of 1903, report receipts of 10,069,769 head, as compared with 10,230,516 head in the same months of 1902, and 10,203,259 head in the first four months of 1901. From this it appears that there has been a continuous decline in quantity. The chief loss, however, has been in the receipts of hogs. The market considered, 6,009,148 head in 1903, 6,095,490 head in 1902, and 5,938,428 head in the present year. Thus far this year, therefore, receipts of hogs have been almost a million head short of the receipts in the first third of 1901. Gains have been made in the receipts of cattle and sheep, compared with either of the two preceding years.

WHEAT

What receipts at eight markets to the end of April are reported as amounting to 23,385,862 bushels. To the corresponding date last year receipts were 24,981,866, and in 1901, only 19,736,822 bushels. Minnesota has received this season thus far 7,747,429 bushels, or more than half the total receipts at the four spring wheat markets of Minnesota, Milwaukee, Duluth and Chicago.

PROVISIONS

Provision shipments to May 2 were 434,726 tons this year, compared with 446,035 tons last year and 276,617 tons in 1901.

CUT MEATS

Stocks of cut meats at the five markets reporting on April 30 this year were 238,321,035 pounds, compared with 264,928,560 pounds on April 30, 1902, a reduction of 14.2 per cent.

SEABOARD SHIPMENTS

At the North Atlantic seaboard the receipts of grain at Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore in the four months ending with April this year were 87,873 bushels, including flour reduced to bushels. The total for the corresponding period of 1902 was 83,023,198 bushels. At New York four months' receipts were 38,991,514 bushels this year, compared with 20,115,629 bushels last year. At Boston the corresponding receipts were 12,173,242 bushels and 8,948,983 bushels; at Philadelphia, 13,222,565 bushels, compared with 13,157,425 bushels; at Baltimore, 20,320,400 bushels, compared with 10,847,245 bushels. Inspected receipts at Portland, Me., for four months ending with April, were 4,202,581 bushels, of which 817,588 bushels were from American and 3,384,993 bushels from Canadian sources.

COTTON

The first eight months of the cotton year show that of 10,018,123 bales sight receipts 7,369,629 bales were port receipts. Overland receipts netted 1,066,963 bales, and southern mill takings equalled 1,581,530 bales. Of these receipts, 3,509,513 bales were derived from the Atlantic states, 3,375,588 bales from the Gulf states, and 2,733,022 bales from Texas.

The grain trade at the Gulf ports and Galveston indicates marked gains over last season. Four months of 1903 shows, at New Orleans, 18,564,350 bushels received; in 1902, 4,191,942 bushels; at Galveston, 3,593,167 bushels, compared with 484,822 bushels.

FRUITS

Shipments of oranges and lemons from Southern California by rail in the first twenty-six weeks of 1903 reached 13,872 cars; last year, 12,397 cars, and in same weeks of 1901, 17,360 cars.

LURED TO DEATH BY COUNTRYMEN

Police Believe This to Have Been the Fate of Austrian Woman Whose Body Has Been Found Near Chicago

CHICAGO, Ill., June 8.—Lured from home by fellow countrymen who believed she carried a large amount of money, robbed of $50 and then murdered, it is believed by the police to have been the fate of Mrs. Marie Danilovsky, whose body has been found in a lonely spot on the Illinois and Michigan canal.

When the body was discovered there was a bullet hole in the woman's left temple and her clothing was in disorder. Her money and one of the gold rings were gone.

Mrs. Danilovsky was last seen by her friends near her home in Eighteenth place Thursday morning. She was with a strange woman who had visited her a week before, and whose husband is known to have besought her to lend him money. It is this strange woman and her husband that the police are seeking.

The police also are hunting for Edward Danilovsky, nephew of the murdered woman, who is believed to know something about her disappearance. An expressman also is being sought.

SYRIAN MISSIONARY TALKS OF TURKEY

NEW YORK, June 8.—Rev. Henry H. Jessup, D. D., who for the last forty-seven years has been engaged in Christian missionary work in Beirut, Syria, is here on a furlough. In a sermon at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church, he spoke of the criticisms and social conditions in Turkey and the work missionaries had accomplished in the emancipation of woman, and in conclusion said:

"I do not claim to be versed in the political aspect with regard to this matter, but the German emperor is now throwing a steel band across this country from Constantinople to Bagdad, and in the face of the commercial and industrial opportunities which may be opened, I do not think Turkey will be allowed to go to pieces."

ASKS FIVE HUNDRED EACH FOR KISSES

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 8.—Three kisses at $500 each, total $1,500. That is the bill that has been presented by Mrs. Anna Sletten, of West Superior to Frederick Madison, a cattle dealer here. The bill has not been paid and now the question is being litigated in the circuit court. Mrs. Sletten's story in substance is this:

Madison, who was visiting her husband at their home, came out into the kitchen to make amorous advances to her. She claims that he succeeded to the extent that he snatched three kisses from her.

NATIONAL OFFICERS KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

NEW HAVEN, June 8.—The Knights of Columbus elected these officers: Supreme knight, Edward L. Hearn, of South Framington, Mass.; deputy supreme knight, Patrick L. McArville, of Chicago; national secretary, Daniel C. O'Connell, of New Haven; national treasurer, Patrick J. Brady, of Cleveland, Ohio; national physician, Dr. William T. McManis, of New York city; national advocate, James E. McConnell, of Pittsburgh, Mass.; directors, J. C. Peletier, of Boston; William S. McKay, of Boston; Dr. A. Smith, of Brooklyn; Charles E. Weber, of Brooklyn.

DEPUTY SHERIFF DIES FROM WOUND

GLASGOW, Mont., June 8.—Jack Williams, the deputy sheriff who was shot by George Pierce, one of the escaped prisoners, on Saturday night is dead. The posse has not found any of the four men. They stole two horses when they crossed the river, and at last accounts two men were making for the bad lands. Sheriff Coe is of the opinion that one of them is still in the brush near town. All available men are well armed and Sheriff Coe expects to have a large posse out tomorrow, determined to capture the escaped prisoners.

MISS HELEN GOULD HAS DOG FROM MEXICO

IRVINGTON - ON - THE - HUDSON, June 8.—Miss Helen M. Gould is the proud possessor of the smallest Mexican dog in this state, which she has just received from a little girl in Mexico, whom she aided in her many charities. It is a miniature greyhound of the Chihuahua breed, with a silky coat of hair. The dog is called Chiquita and weighs just forty-two ounces. It is so delicate and young that Miss Gould has turned it over to Walter Johnston, the kennel master for Franks J. Gould. Nearly every day Miss Gould drives to the kennels to see her pet, which was shipped by the child from Mexico in a little basket she had made herself.

CHEMICAL WIZARDS AND WIERD METAL

BERLIN, June 8.—At Saturday's session of the chemical congress Professor Markwald of Berlin showed to the electro-chemical and physical section a smudge of dark powder on a piece of paper, which was the first time that any of these eminent scientists had seen the metal polonium, discovered by Professor and Mme. Curie of Paris. The latter doubted whether polonium was a primary element or related to bismuth, but Professor Markwald determined that it was indeed a primary element. He exhibited a bit of metal weighing 15-160 of a grain, which was produced from two tons of uranium at a cost of $75. It is more sparsely distributed in uranium than xenon, the most purified gas in the atmosphere.

Professor Markwald proceeded to give a marvelous exhibition of the powers of his speck of polonium. It intercepted a strong current of electricity passing through the air from the generator to the receiver, the air ceasing to be a conductor for the flashes. The room was then darkened, and pieces of barium, platinum and zinc blended with the solution in glowing with a bright greenish light. The assemblage of chemists were thrilled with astonishment. It appeared to be a miracle.

In the section of organic preparations, Professor Proskauer of Berlin read a paper on the sterilization of drinking water with ozone and on ozone water works. The German electricians have succeeded in producing at small cost a concentrated solution of ozone. The speaker, with Professor Ohmüller and Professor Prall of the imperial health office, made exhaustive experiments with the solution in purifying water. The experiments included tests with water artificially impregnated with the deadliest disease germs, like typhus, cholera and dysentery. Such water was pumped through the so-called ozonizing tower and then rigidly analyzed. All the germs were found to be killed, whereas the ordinary method of sand filters left the germs living. Moreover, the water was greatly improved in quality through the increase of oxygen from the ozone.

Professor Proskauer said the ozonizing plant was cheaper than the sand filtering system usually used in city waterworks; hence the time had come for the general introduction of ozone plants. The town of Wiesbaden, added the professor, already has one of these plants, which sterilizes 250 cubic centimeters of water hourly.

LADY SOMERSET IS NOT TO BE PRESENT

BOSTON, Mass., June 8.—The press committee of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union has received a copy of the program of the World's Woman's Christian Temperance Union, which opened at Geneva today and which will continue through Thursday. In the absence of Lady Henry Somerset, whose health will not permit her to attend the convention, of which she is president, Mrs. Lillian M. Stevens of Portland, Me., vice president at large, will preside. The business sessions will be interspersed with public meetings, at which a number of speakers known widely in connection with the temperance movement, will appear.

STOCK CONDITIONS AT CLARENDON GOOD

CLARENDON, Texas, June 8.—Fine rains have fallen in these parts and our farmers are delighted. Several good showers have fallen since they first set in several days ago, and it has been raining more or less all day today, and is still raining with prospect for a "wet spell."

While crops are a little late on account of the lateness of the spring, there will be fine harvests if the season continues as for some time past.

There is quite a stir among the stockmen for the past few weeks and trades have been numerous. Grass is fine and cattle are in good condition.

YEAR'S BUSINESS FOR SUEZ CANAL

LONDON, June 8.—A parliamentary paper, giving particulars of the shipping which passed through the Suez canal last year, shows that the net tonnage increased 424,672 tons over 1901, and 1,510,251 tons over 1900. The transit receipts were $20,744,064, the highest since the opening of the canal. Three thousand seven hundred and eight vessels passed through the canal last year, and of that number 3,165 carried the British flag.

LEIBEL IS HELD TO GRAND JURY

DAUGHTER, FIRST HIS ACCUSER, NOW HIS DEFENDER

DENIES THAT HE IS GUILTY

LAURA LEIBEL ON WITNESS STAND SAYS SHE LIED IN HER SWORN STATEMENT

TESTIMONY IS SALAGIOUS

Rowland's Courtroom Packed by Crowd Interested in Case—Bella McLeod, Whom Laura Leibel Charges With Exercising Strange Influence, Testifies

One of the most unusual cases on record in Fort Worth is that of the State vs. Joseph C. Leibel, which was heard in Justice Charles P. Rowland's courtroom this morning. Leibel is charged with attempted criminal assault upon his daughter, Laura. She made a sworn statement in the county attorney's office last Friday, charging her father with the offense.

On the witness stand today she denied all her previous assertions, and pronounced them lies. She gave as her reason for telling the "lies" that she was threatened with bodily harm, even death, by neighbors in Glenwood if she did not say that the statements were true. She positively denied that her father was guilty of any of the offenses with which she had charged him, and she swore that she was 15 years old, whereas she swore in the county attorney's office that she was 13. She swore that a girl named Bella McLeod exercised a strange hypnotic influence over her and caused her to tell the lies about her father.

NEIGHBORS' TESTIMONY

Opposed to the girl's testimony was that of neighbors and officers. Mrs. Hardin, Mrs. Bowen and Bella McLeod, a pretty 14-year-old girl, were put on the stand. They described how the girl came to their homes crying and describing what her father had done to her. They said that the girl told them of improprieties and indignities on the part of her father toward herself, extending back to the time when she was 5 or 6 years old; Mrs. Hardin testified that the girl slept at her house three nights in order to be away from her father. According to the girl's statement last Friday night in the county attorney's office and last Friday evening when she was being examined by Dr. O. L. Jones, the county physician, the girl's mother sought in various ways to protect her daughter from Leibel, even forbidding the girl to leave home with him. The girl told of various times and places where indignities were heaped upon her.

Assistant County Attorney Cummings questioned the girl this morning. The courtroom was densely packed by interested spectators, who eagerly hung upon every word of the salacious testimony.

"ALL LIES," SAYS LAURA

After the girl had successfully denied that her father was guilty of the various offenses, Mr. Cummings began a series of questions, beginning with "Did you not tell me" and "Did you not swear," and then he would name the acts related by the girl at various times Friday. The girl replied to all of them by saying that she had said what Mr. Cummings repeated. "It ain't true; it's all a lie," she would add.

"Then the county attorney would ask her why she told the lies, and she would say: 'It's all their fault; Bella McLeod made me do it.'"

"Bella McLeod told me that there was no God and that I would not be punished for telling lies about my father," said Laura at one time.

She said that when she started for the county attorney's office on Friday the neighbors were in their front windows and they shook their fists at her in token of what they would do to her if she did not tell what she did tell about her father.

Laura denied that anyone had threatened her since Friday and caused her to change her story.

"Didn't your mother tell you that your father would kill you unless you denied the story you told me Friday?" asked Mr. Cummings.

"No," she told me he would punish me if I continued to tell lies about him," said the girl.

Laura further testified that her father was an invalid and had been unable to work for three years.

BELLA McLEOD TESTIFIES

Bella McLeod was the next witness. She is a pretty 14-year-old girl. It would be easy to understand the hypnotic change if it were made by a young man instead of by a girl. She blushed furiously and hung her head several times when the lawyer propounded particularly searching questions. She denied that she was a hypnotist, clairvoyant or medium. She said that one evening, a month or six weeks ago, Laura Leibel came to her house crying, and wanted to remain all night. Her mother refused to let her stay. She told also how the girl described the acts of her father toward her. According to Bella McLeod, Laura told (Continued on page 2.)

MAY RAISE ROW OVER LEE STATUE

Coming Encampment of the Grand Army Will Probably Pass Resolution Asking Congress to Act on Matter

WASHINGTON, June 8.—It is believed by many politicians here that there will be more or less trouble and political capital made out of the proposition of the Virginia state legislature to put a statue of Robert E. Lee in the capitol at Washington. The Grand Army encampment is to be held in August at San Francisco and it is certain that some action will be taken there in regard to the statue. It has been noted that the various state commanders of the loyal legion and different Grand Army posts have been adopting resolutions of state condemning the proposition of Virginia and vigorously protesting against the Lee memorial having a place in the capitol. These resolutions are all addressed to the commander in chief of the G. A. R. and are intended to be brought up for consideration during the encampment. The law under which these statues are placed in the capitol gives the right to each state to honor two of its citizens in this way, no restrictions being placed on the place. Virginia has already placed a statue of George Washington in the gallery, thus reserved for American illustrious heroes. Some Virginians believe that Patrick Henry is entitled to the other vacancy, but it is destined to be filled by Robert E. Lee's likeness.

The Grand Army of the Republic encampment will probably pass resolutions calling on congress to amend the existing law so as to prohibit the acceptance of the statue of any man who has borne arms against the United States government. There was a great row a few years ago over the Perce-Marquette statue which the state of Minnesota sent to the capitol. The objection was based on religious grounds and was because Father Marquette was a Catholic.

FARMERS VICTIMS OF UNIQUE FRAUD

The United States government is endeavoring to expose a fraud of unique and daring character on the part of seedsmen in America and Europe and the agricultural department has issued a pamphlet on the subject. By advertising pearl millet, which sells at 15 cents a pound, as a newly propagated grass of marvelous quality the dealers are selling this seed at no less than $3 a pound. They call it "penicillaria" and the wonder forage plant. The investigations reveal that the fraud in America in time compared to that practiced with pearl millet seed this spring in Germany. There it is heralded as a new plant imported from America and is sold, not by the pound, but by the seed, or at the rate of $2 a pound. Five pounds being required to an acre. It is thus costing German farmers over $100 an acre to introduce a species of plant that has been grown ever since mankind began to cultivate the soil.

Last year seed catalogues of several dealers in America and Germany began to announce a new forage plant which promised to revolutionize the fodder crop of the world. It was described as most luxuriant, somewhat resembling young corn and possessed with a rapidity of growth unequalled among the sorghum species. The plant was advertised as "penicillaria." It was claimed that it would readily attain a growth of from

FLAG DAY CELEBRATION

An effort is being made to establish June 14 of each year as Flag day, because it was on this date that the thirteen stars and stripes was adopted as the national emblem. Another important day in the history of the country was the one on which the famous family medicine, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, was first introduced to the public, fifty years ago. Today it is recognized as our national remedy for stomach, liver and kidney complaints, because it has always proven reliable, often effecting a cure when other remedies have failed. If your stomach is out of order and you suffer from loss of appetite, belching, heartburn, insomnia, dyspepsia, indigestion or constipation, you will find a few doses of the Bitters will set the stomach right and cure these disorders. Try it and see.

FINE RAINS HELP CROPS AT AMARILLO

AMARILLO, Texas, June 5.—This section was visited by good rain last night, which, from reports, was general. It was accompanied by an electrical display during which the Methodist church building was struck by lightning, doing about $500 damage.

JACKIE'S PALACE IS TRULY REGAL

Home for Sailors Ashore in London Will Be Fitted to Suit Every Need — Americans Interested in Project

LONDON, June 7.—(Special Cable.)—American women in London have taken a conspicuous part in furnishing the "Sailors' Palace," or "Jack's Palace," as it is called in Whitechapel. "Jack's Palace" is in the heart of "sailor town," overlooking the great docks down the Thames, where ships from all the seven seas arrive and depart daily. The Prince and Princess of Wales opened this "Mills Hotel" for sailors and dozens of American women resident in London were present.

Besides contributing a large sum of money to the general building fund, the American women of London fitted up in most comfortable style one of the largest rooms in the home. It is to be known as "The American Room." Over the doorway hangs a huge silk American flag, presented by the ladies of the American society in London.

Beside the photographs of King Edward and Queen Alexandra is a large photograph of President Roosevelt, contributed by him. On all the china in this room the flag of the United States is entwined with the British flag. In one room of Jack's "snug harbor" is the piano that Queen Victoria had in her private rooms at Windsor Castle.

Ambassador Choate, at the opening, had the place of honor beside the Prince of Wales. Mr. Choate and the Prince have come to be great friends. They are chummy, indeed.

When the Prince wanted any point in any of the speeches explained, he appealed to the tall, slender, satirical looking American ambassador. To speak directly into the ear of a member of the royal family is "bad form," but Mr. Choate cares little for form, and to the amusement of the fashionable throng present he placed his mouth close to the Prince's head and whispered into the royal ear.

Mr. Choate must have told his royal highness a lot of good American stories for the Prince laughed heartily frequently.

Mr. Choate was the last of many distinguished men to speak, and the reporters present noticed with amusement that he omitted what all the distinguished speakers—the conventional and essential "May it please your Royal Highness."

POSTAL STEALINGS TO REACH MILLIONS

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Stealings from the postoffice departments undoubtedly will run into the millions. Instead of the reported "commission" stealage of 40 per cent on contracts in Machen's free delivery bureau amounting to $30,000 in round figures, so far investigation has shown an aggregate of $500,000 in the one department. Investigation of other branches of the postal service are predicted to result in doubling or even trebling these figures.

Within eighteen hours after his return from a 14,000-mile trip about the country, the president received in cabinet meeting a full report of the post-office scandals and the results of investigations. To him was revealed the enormity of the frauds heretofore kept from the public. The president, it is said, insisted on further and more immediate action. He insists on summary suspension or removal of all officials under suspicion.

LEARNER THINGS

We Are All in the Apprentice Class

When a simple change of diet brings back health and happiness the story is briefly told. A lady of Springfield, Ill., says: "After being afflicted for years with nervousness and heart trouble, I received a shock four years ago that left me despondent. I could get no relief from doctors nor from the numberless heart and nerve medicines I tried, because I didn't know that the coffee was daily putting me back more than the doctors could put me ahead."

that skirt the miles of East End London docks. The ancient Duke of Cambridge might have been seen at a reception the other night 'chatting vivaciously with Miss Marie Corelli, the pretty blonde novelist, who is defending Stratford-on-Avon, the birthplace of Shakespeare, from vandal buildings.

The Duke of Cambridge is the oldest man in London who is active socially. He is eighty-four. His face is almost purple, in contrast with which his snowy mustache is very prominent.

The Duke is a good liver and eats with gusto through all the courses of a long, elaborate public dinner. He isn't rich, but he holds a number of "soft snaps," like the post of Ranger of Hyde Park, that bring him in a very handsome income.

There are only a few men older than the Duke among the royalties of Europe. They and their ages are: The Grand Duke of Luxembourg, 86; King Christian IX. of Denmark, 85; the Grand Duke of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, 84; the Regent of Bavaria, 82; the Grand Duke of Baden, 77; the Emperor of Austria, 73.

Miss Marie Corelli, who is the most successful novelist in England, so far as income goes, is a slight, well dressed woman, with pretty blonde hair, well moulded features and big, impressive eyes.

She lives and works in Stratford-on-Avon, and has made herself the defender of the Shakespeare relics. Miss Corelli is an industrious writer and the income from her novels is larger than Kipling's.

A new Corelli novel always commands a first edition of 150,000 in England. Miss Corelli turns out her copy on the typewriter and when she starts a new novel takes little relaxation until it is finished.

She doesn't come to London often, preferring the quietude of Stratford-on-Avon, where she is rarely disturbed except by autograph hunting American tourists.

Despite his devotion to automobilism, King Edward hasn't altogether abandoned cycling, and when he is at Windsor or Sandringham is often to be seen taking exercise on a tricycle.

He keeps a machine always at his command in the country, and depends upon it wholly for exercise and for reducing his fat, for his majesty is recovering the flesh he lost during his severe illness last year.

Queen Alexandra has never ridden a bicycle, but the Prince of Wales and his Princess ride bicycles frequently when they are at their country houses. London society has abandoned the bicycle for the motor car, and one rarely sees a fashionable man riding a bicycle in Mayfair or Belgravia.

The government has found an excellent minister of agriculture in Lord Onslow, who succeeds the late Mr. R. W. Hanbury.

That energetic and resourceful minister, popularly known as the "Farmers' Friend," was not an easy man to follow, and the choice was further restricted by the government's reluctance to make an appointment which would necessitate a by-election. Therefore the new minister had to be a peer.

Lord Onslow is able and hardworking, and has served his country well at home and abroad.

When governor of New Zealand he set himself the task of conciliating the Maoris, who were then on the verge of rebellion.

One of his sons to Cerberus was the christening of his son, born in the colony, by the Maori name of Hui.

The delighted natives publicly adopted the baby with quaint and barbarous ceremonies.

After leaving the colony the ex-governor was presented by the chiefs with an illuminated address in a beautiful carved frame of native workmanship.

Lord Onslow, who is just fifty, is the fourth earl of a creation of 1801.

In appearance he is hardly a typical peer, being short and stout, with a dark beard of anything but aristocratic cut.

He leaves the colonial office to become president of the board of agriculture, having been since 1900 the trusted lieutenant of Joseph Chamberlain.

A most extraordinary old man has just died in Paris.

Monsieur Bauer started life as a Jew, and in the forties of the last century was very active on the Paris bourse.

In 1855 he created a sensation in Israeliite and financial circles by embracing the Christian faith and being ordained a Roman Catholic priest.

His abilities procured him a place at the court of Napoleon III, and he became the father confessor of the Empress Eugenie, Pope Pius IX. afterwards making him a monsignor.

Monsieur Bauer, a few years ago, put the finishing touches to his amazing career by taking to himself a wife.

EL RENO, Ok., June 8.—Mrs. Mary Slocum, a widow lady residing on South Bickford avenue, committed suicide last Thursday morning while laboring under a temporary fit of insanity.

The facts as near as can be learned about Mrs. Slocum arose at an early hour and, taking a can of gasoline out into the front yard and pouring the contents of the can all over her person, then deliberately set herself on fire.

While burning the poor woman made no outcry whatever, not even her next door neighbor knowing anything of the circumstances.

Mrs. Slocum has been in poor health for some time and it is thought that this was the reason for the commission of the deplorable act. She leaves a son and two daughters—Frank E. Slocum, foreman in Kraft's meat market; Ida M. and Ruth Slocum.

NEW YORK, June 8.—A little girl, gaily dressed and bearing many flowers, who sat near Mayor Low in the reviewing stand and whose life was saved by one of the medal receiving heroes, was the most interesting feature of the great parade and review of the firemen of this city Saturday.

The fireman was Joseph J. Mooney, of hook and ladder truck No. 14, and the girl was Gertrude Schwennenger. The rescue was made just after midnight on the morning of May 8, 1901, during the fire which gutted a part of the apartment house on the corner of Sixtieth street and Lexington avenue.

The Schwennengers lived on the fourth floor. Mooney helped Mr. and Mrs. Schwennenger out of the rooms and down the fire escape. When the family reached the street Mrs. Schwennenger for the first time thought of her eldest daughter, Gertrude, then only 11 year old. With wild cries, she implored the fireman to save the child. And Mooney, without a moment's hesitation, dashed back up the ladder, although by that time flames were striking out of the windows of the house.

Creeping along the floor and protecting himself as well as he might, he finally found the little girl. With her clothes burning in a dozen places and almost overcome with the terrific heat and the stinging smoke, he got down to the street with the little girl. The crowd applauded enthusiastically. Even the firemen at work cheered Mooney and it is not often that they stop in a fire to cheer even a rescue made at the risk of life.

ISADORA SHOCKS THE NAUGHTY PARISIENNES (Special cable. Copyright, 1903, by W. R. Hearst.) PARIS, June 8.—Isadora Duncan, the California danseuse, has out-Paris-ed even the Parisiennes, but should a modern tyrant fall in love with her she will as of them the head of Prefect of Police Lepine be brought to her in a basket. For Lepine has notified Miss Duncan that he will not permit her to dance in Paris if she does not don more clothing. Miss Duncan is an exponent of the dancer of ancient Greece, not only in grace, but in drapery. The police do not appreciate Miss Duncan's art, hence the prefect notified her she must use more drapery, or, if she defies orders, leave the stage. Miss Duncan's drapery is diaphanous, and Paris isn't prudish.

GETS THE MONEY BUT LOSES MAN

A London Society Girl Asks Would-Be Suitor For Thousands and Dollars to Pay Bridge Debts and Is Humiliated

(Special cable. Copyright, 1903, by W. R. Hearst.) LONDON, June 8.—The crusade against bridge continues. Truth this week tells of a noted woman who has been winning so persistently that her friends deserted the game. She now is compelled to play with young girls, whom she plucks relentlessly. It also cites the case of a girl who rejected a proposal of marriage several months ago. Recently, owing to the large debts incurred at bridge she was compelled to write the man, accepting the proposal and requesting a check for 200 pounds to pay pressing bridge debts. The man enclosed the check, expressing his regrets, stating he had become engaged to another girl. Truth comments on the humiliation of the wretched girl and says: "Nevertheless, girls and young married women are driven by gambling to do worse things than borrowing money."

There was a rush to get off the car, and in the scramble Mrs. Evelline Downs, a bookkeeper, living at No. 343 West Twenty-second street, was trampled on and her left leg crushed. Dr. Plumy, who removed the woman to Bellevue hospital, said that the leg was fractured. Other passengers who were injured would not accept medical aid.

NEW YORK, June 8.—The team of beautiful chestnut Russian horses that were brought all the way from St. Petersburg as a wedding gift to Miss Ruth Hanna on the occasion of her prospective marriage to Joseph Medill McCormick will arrive in Chicago shortly after the coming of Ambassador and Mrs. R. S. McCormick.

During the voyage the rumor was spread that the steeds were to be presented to the president as a gift of the czar. Every passenger aboard visited the stalls built especially for the horses and fed them with sugar and dainties until there was danger that their health would be impaired by the surfeit of sweets.

The noninees are scouring the city for votes. They will be to see you.

MORGAN'S MONEY IS SCORNFUL BY ROAD (Special cable. Copyright, 1903, by W. R. Hearst.) PARIS, June 8.—J. P. Morgan left Aix les Bains in temper and is not likely to return again. His indignation is that he could not rent or otherwise obtain a special private car from the railway company, which declined to make concession to the Croesus, and would not even have sold him a whole train had he wanted it. As a result of the obstinacy of the railway men, Morgan and his party had to leave Aix les Bains traveling like ordinary mortals in an ordinary car.

The Morgan departure is a loss to the town, for they have been the mainstay of Aix during the opening weeks of the season. Morgan's exit is in wide contrast to his arrival. When he arrived he was met by the mayor; at departing he could not rent a private car. Mr. Morgan has been a visitor to Aix for fifteen years.

Mr. Noah Heap, the well-known carriage dealer of Wiseville, is visiting in the city. At present Mr. Heap is establishing new repositories in the chief cities of the state. Mr. Heap is an authority of high rank in all matters pertaining to vehicles, and The Telegram regrets that he finds it inexpedient to locate here. Interviewed by a Telegram reporter, Mr. Heap said: "I came to your beautiful city with the idea of putting in a high class retail buggy business, but upon a careful examination of the situation I think I know a heap too much to attempt it. I find that sells a little better buggy for a little less money than I would be willing to do, and, as he is so rapidly getting control of practically all of the buggy trade in this section, I shall deem myself fortunate if I can prevent his remarkable buggy bargains from attracting my own trade from Wiseville."

THIRTY-SEVEN FEET AT THREE O'CLOCK

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 8.—All the whistles in Madison were blown to arouse citizens for rescue work as soon as the fact became known that a colony of persons were at the mercy of the flood. J. P. Elder, superintendent of the American Car and Foundry Works, said at 3 o'clock that he personally saw nine of the men plunge into the water and drown.

RIVER BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The Missouri river is falling, except over the extreme lower portion and the Mississippi is also falling north of Hannibal. At St. Louis the stage this morning is 37.5 feet, a rise since Sunday morning of 1.2 feet.

CAROLINA VICTIMS SUFFER

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 8.—According to the local weather bureau, relief seems in sight for the flooded district in the vicinity of St. Louis. This morning the stage recorded by the government gauge was 37.5 feet, a rise during the past twenty-four hours of 1.2 feet.

WORK OF SAVING THE REFUGEES IS GREAT

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 8.—The entire group of castles lying just north of East St. Louis, Ill., and including Venice, Madison, West Madison, Newport, Brooklyn and Granite City, is under from ten to eighteen feet of water, which is still rising, and deaths from drowning are variously estimated at from five to twenty.

WORK OF THE PRESS

Recently the New York World, which few would hesitate about declaring one of the "great" newspapers of the country, issued the largest anniversary edition ever printed by a newspaper in the United States in celebration of the achievements of the past twenty years of its history.

The edition was remarkable in many particulars, in none more so than the expressions of appreciation for the work of the World during the period, written by some of the most famous men of the country and printed in the anniversary issue.

Since its widespread distribution the number has been unstintingly praised, together with its founder and present head, Joseph Pulitzer.

It was in appreciation of these words of praise that Mr. Pulitzer has written a letter to the World. Considering that the writer of the letter for the past sixteen years has been deprived of his eyesight, that he cannot read his own newspaper, and has been so tortured by ill health as to be unable to visit his own office, some of the statements deserve more than a note in passing.

Among others, the writer says: "Justice Brewer of the United States supreme court, in his masterly and impressive statement of the great power of the press, written to the World, said of the problems involved in our social conditions that the nation is 'wrestling with these problems—it is in the throes and sweat of struggle,' and that in assisting in their solution the press does mighty work."

"The press, thus presented as a great factor in our problems, is unfortunately not of one type; nor does it unanimously accept the same standards of public honor. There are exceptions. There are, I am sorry to say, newspapers which advocate dangerous fallacies and falsehoods, appealing to ignorance, to partisanship, to passion, to popular prejudice, to poverty, to hatred of the rich, to socialism, sowing the seeds of discontent—eventually sure, if unchecked, to produce lawlessness and bloodshed."

"On the other hand, by far the larger portion of the American press is showing a steadily growing independence, a steady diminishing partisanship, a steadily augmenting opposition to privileged classes, to inequality, injustice and every form of oppression of the people.

Conscious of its great responsibility, the American press as a whole strives to help, to lead, enlighten, guide and encourage the people in all good aspirations."

In the way of special editions, the "house warming" number of the Memphis Scimitar will perhaps surpass any effort ever attempted in the South. The illustrated supplement to the regular edition of May 27, celebrating the Scimitar's occupancy of its handsome new building, contained over a hundred pages, richly illustrated and as nearly perfect as modern newspaper skill can produce. The Scimitar is but another example of the achievement of evening newspapers in the South and the prosperity that is coming their way.

Telegram readers yesterday received an accurate idea of conditions in Kishineff as seen by Michael Davitt, special correspondent for W. R. Hearst, who went from London to the scene of the massacre. This was the first report furnished by a correspondent who has visited Kishineff since the massacre, published in any Texas newspaper, further comment being unnecessary.

The third illustrated anniversary edition of the Mineral Wells Index has been received. It consists of twenty-four pages and cover, and is neatly arranged with a view toward the symmetry that delights the heart of a printer. The descriptive matter is admirably written and the issue is creditable to the publishers and to Mineral Wells.

Don C. Curtis has retired from the management of the Gatesville Star-Forum and charge of that excellent newspaper has been assumed by R. W. Martin, formerly editor of the Messenger.

THE IDLER'S NOTE BOOK

I was riding downtown in a street car last night, that is, I stood in the center of the car and hung to the place where a strap ought to have been when I heard a bit of exquisite English.

A party of five young men had struggled into the car and one of the number handed the conductor a quarter. One of the five failed to see the transaction, and as the conductor was passing out handed him another nickel. Naturally it was taken without any comment.

"Did you give him a nickel?" "Sure, why not?" "Why? You blundered fool, you've already done gone been paid for," and the one thus addressed was too crushed for reply.

The editor of the Yeakum Times believes in a little thunder before the storm bursts, as evidenced by the following: "Some of these days 'patience' is going to cease to be a virtue with the Times, and then it is going to swat some of its friends (?) in a manner that they will not soon forget."

The progressive American who has invaded Mexico with his hot roasted peanuts and popcorn is reaping a harvest, and the crowd which congregates around the wagon seems to buy his goods simply for the privilege of watching the little man turn the peanuts.—Mexican Herald.

Speaking of sacred concerts, a conductor of a certain band yesterday imagined he had the church people in his audience all solid when he cut loose with "Hello, Central, Give Me Heaven."

(Taken from the Kansas City Floodgate.) The bride looked charming in a costume of india-rubber trimmed with pure gutta-percha and having deep rows of cork buttons. She wore a rubber head-dress and carried water lilies. The groom wore the conventional diving suit. The groom's favors were hip boots, while each of the bridesmaids received a combination hot water bottle and life preserver.

THE NEW BOSTON AFFAIR Hanging the governor in effigy didn't hurt the governor; but it was a slam on the decency of some people who live in Texas.—Austin Statesman.

A mob hung Governor Lanham in effigy at New Boston, Bowie county, Texas, Tuesday, because he refused to pardon a man convicted of murder there. Of course the mob was composed of a herd of irresponsible galoots who were in league with violators of the law. Such action should be made a felony and the participants given a term in the penitentiary.—Comanche Chief.

The hanging of Governor Lanham and the judicial authorities connected with the trial and conviction of a prisoner condemned to death was a bit of silliness of which those who engaged in it should be heartily ashamed. The governor brings to the consideration of all questions presented the clearness and force and strict impartiality of a judicial mind that is neither to be swayed by popular prejudice nor influenced by popular clamor.—San Antonio Light.

How many men may quickly cure himself after years of suffering from sexual weakness, lost vitality, night losses, varicocele, etc., and enlarge small weak organs to full size and vigor. Simply send your name and address to Dr. Knapp Medical Co., 1756 Hull building, Detroit, Mich., and they will gladly send free receipt with full directions so that any man may easily cure himself at home. This is certainly a most generous offer, and the following extracts taken from their daily mail show what men think of their generosity.

"Dear Sirs—Please accept my sincere thanks for yours of recent date. I have given your treatment a thorough test and the benefit has been extraordinary. It has completely braced me up. I am just as vigorous as when a boy and you cannot realize how happy I am."

"Dear Sirs—Your method worked beautifully. Results were exactly what I needed. Strength and vigor have completely returned and enlargement is entirely satisfactory."

"Dear Sirs—Yours was received and I had no trouble in making use of the receipt as directed, and can truthfully say it is a boon to weak men. I am greatly improved in size, strength and vigor."

All correspondence is strictly confidential, mailed in plain, sealed envelope. The receipt is free for the asking and they want every man to have it.

DAILY SHORT STORY

ROCKIES RESURRECTION

BY JAMES HAMPTON LEE (Copyright, 1903, by W. R. Hearst, Great Britain Rights Reserved.)

There was a tiny pillow, and I realized it was to be the resting place of the head of something—something dead! Was this casket to contain the dust of a human child—murdered perhaps, to obliterate the sin and the shame of its mother? "I see no crime," I said to myself; "can I be sure there is no crime?" I trembled in my tree at the thought! Then my thoughts were interrupted by the sight of "Jake" coming up to the casket with an oblong bundle in his arms. Slowly—sadly—Smilingly? Jake transferred the white bundle from his arms to the luminous looking steel chest; then actually grinning till his teeth showed, walked away. Full five minutes passed, and, being chilled on my perch in the palm tree, I began to descend. Pausing by way of precaution, I glanced once more toward the still open window; I saw a small milk-white sheet being spread over the casket; then a woman's slender, symmetrical hands tucked the overlapping edges in; I saw Jake shove the lid in with great effort to close it, the widow, I believe, grunted—the negro grinned! Simultaneously, the white hand of the woman and the black hand of the girl grabbed the strong cotton string attached to the shutter—and they were shut in with the corpse and I was shut out with my thoughts.

I had barely time to retire after reaching the ground, when, with the casket on his shoulder, Jake emerged from the cottage and took a path leading, apparently, to an adjacent forest. Evidently he would not go far before disposing of the casket, for its weight seemed to be so much increased by whatever had been put into it that he was hardly able to carry it. I followed him, therefore, anxious to solve the mystery. A huge black boulder ("Big Rock," Charlestonians call it commonly) loomed up in the edge of the palm grove ahead. It was really two rocks, now, the upper portions of which had come together in such a manner as to leave a large cave or cleft at the bottom. Into this Jake suddenly disappeared with the casket. At the end of an hour he reappeared without it, and took his way back to the cottage.

Eagerly—more eagerly than I can tell—I came up to the cavity of the great rock, and, stooping slightly, stepped within. I had to stand still for five minutes waiting for my eyes to adjust themselves to the more than semi-darkness of the cave—the tomb, speaking precisely. Then, cautiously guarding against the unexpected, I groped my way forward until I stumbled over a fresh mound of earth; it was the grave of the what? I proceeded at once to unearth the casket; it had been buried but a few feet deep, as I soon ascertained. With a crow bar which Jake had left I pried off the lid, uncovered the contents with most reverential care, looking at them a moment—looked at them again—and then launched a kick at the casket (which I had dug it) and, laughing—yes, laughing—

I had gone only a few steps, however, when, thinking of the sacrifice I had committed, I returned to fill up the grave again. Wishing to leave everything as I found it, if possible, I gathered up a few bunches of cotton and a small handkerchief of grayish chicken feathers, which must have come from the casket, and wadded them back into it, afterward refastening the lid. I then reentered it, and was soon sailing back to Charleston.

I could tell you exactly what I saw in the casket, but truth is always strange—so strange in this case that you will better appreciate it by a visit to "Big Rock." Take a taper or two along with you; light one when you enter the natural mausoleum, and on the rock wall over the grave ("In Memory of Rockie," it says), scrawl this inscription: "It's wrong to be sorry, I ought to be glad."

But he's the best birdie that ever I had. By the time you have finished reading your taper will have been burned out, but you will have no desire to remain longer. Do not leave the island, however, without going by the cottage of the widow French; for, doing so, you cannot fail to see into a very pretentious aviary. Among the birds I think you will notice one pretty Plymouth Rock pullet; she is the "daughter of her dead daddy."

Mrs. French says, and is named "Rockie"—in his honor.

It remains for me to state to those now unfamiliar with Big Rock that in 1885 ten years after the incident described here, the Charleston earthquake caused the cleft of "Big Rock" to close, since rests (let us not say roosts) in a truly tremendous tomb.

Up to this date the widow French has persistently declined to discuss the "sacred" secrets surrounding Rockie's life and death. "A woman must love something"—that is all she will say. For my part, I can bear witness to just this one thing, namely, that Rockie—Plymouth Rockie—had a gizzard. Whether he had anything to tell nearer to the immortal we can ascertain—at Rockie's resurrection.

FINE RAINS AT MERKEL MERKEL, Texas, June 8.—During the last three days fine rains have fallen here, covering a large territory where rain was badly needed. Prospects are flattering for farmers and stockmen.

The Texas and Pacific steel gang have reached this place with new ties and heavy steel and a large force are engaged grading for two additional side tracks.

LADIES AND CHILDREN INVITED All ladies and children who cannot stand the shocking strain of laxative syrups, cathartics, etc., are invited to try the famous Little Early Risers. They are different from all other pills. They do not purge the system. Even a double dose will not gripe, weaken or sicken; many people call them the Easy Pill. W. H. Howell, Houston, Texas, says nothing better can be used for constipation, sick headache, etc. Bob Moore, Lafayette, Ind., says all others gripe and sicken, while DeWitt's Little Early Risers do their work well and easy. AMERICAN GIRLS MAY WED PRINCES

Kaiser Wilhelm Decides That His Son May Marry for Money — Two Vacant Seats In French Academy

(Copyright, 1903, by W. R. Hearst.)

I hear from St. Petersburg that we may shortly expect to hear about the engagement between Grand Duke Michael Alexandrovitch, brother of the czar and heir to the throne of Russia, and one of the daughters of the Duke of Connaught, the brother of King Edward.

The king of England, it is said, will visit the czar some time in July. Of course the proposed engagement between the English princess and the Russian grand duke is no love match, but royal persons have learned to live without that feeling.

The match was arranged by the czar's empress and the Queen Alexandra during their late visit to Copenhagen, and was approved by the czar and the king of England.

It will be officially announced when King Edward comes to St. Petersburg.

Apropos of marrying without love—it seems that Emperor William is the only royal person who has dared to condemn the practice of marrying and mating young people of royal blood as if they were cattle.

Every one knows how serious the emperor takes his mission in life, how convinced he is that he is emperor by the grace of God and therefore the whole of Europe was stupefied when he announced that his sons at least should not be sacrificed upon the altar of diplomacy, but should be allowed to marry the choice of their hearts.

Now here is evidently the opening for the enterprising American girl. For why should not the kaiser's son fall in love with an American girl? It would certainly do no harm to get some red blood mixed with the too blue blood of European royalty.

But when you come to think deeper over the question, what a pity for our impoverished noblemen!

Their prospects will certainly be ruined. They may even have to work for a living, for of course no self-respecting American millionaire will think of marrying his daughter to a miserable duke or count as long as there is a single royal prince in the market.

Two seats are vacant in the French academy. There are ten candidates and one is really surprised that there are no more for even it has become fashionable among the younger set to express contempt for this old institution. It is nevertheless true that it is the highest goal of every ambitious artist to become an "immortal."

True, your membership in this famous club does not give you many opportunities for excitement. Poker and bacarat are unknown to its dignified members, but you are allowed to work on the "Dictionary" and to distribute prizes, and this of course may be very interesting.

And then, as Labiche says, you are fed. You receive invitations to more dinners than you can possibly attend and you are lionized by the hostess, who thinks that an Academician goes extremely well with lobster a la belleuve.

There is, however, some serious drawbacks which is not to be overlooked. It costs money to become an Immortal.

Edmond Rostand showed me some time ago his tailor's bill for his academician uniform. The coat cost 450 francs, the vest 50 francs, the trousers 50 francs, the hat 50 francs, the sword 45 francs, and the porte-epée 7 francs; a total of 650 francs.

It might as well be a million for many a poor artist or author who would like to be a candidate.

Some months ago the czar was horrified to find that a celebrated Stradivarius violin upon which his father used to play had been removed from the St. Petersburg museum and that a common fiddle of local make had been put in its place.

Strictest inquiries were made, and the seller of the cheap instrument alleged that the purchaser was a member of the czar's family.

This person, however, denied all knowledge of the transaction, and his word was believed.

Then followed a thorough search in every capital and likely city in Europe. For a long time it was without result and was about to be given up when Mr. Partello, a United States treasury agent in Berlin, who himself owns four "Stradivariuses" heard of the affair.

Through a collector he traced the missing instrument to the south of France, and was authorized by the Russian government to buy it for $2,500, guaranteeing immunity from further inquiry to the vendor.

Germany must indeed be a very peculiar country to live in, or rather, to die in.

In the latest issue of the German Judicial Court Journal I have just read a story which shows how hopelessly a person may be tangled up in Prussian red tape.

A woman who disappeared from her home was adjudged dead after a time and her name was entered in the list of those who have left for a better world.

Three years later she reappeared—which I, of course, admit she had no right to do, and which showed very bad taste on her part; but she proved her identity beyond a doubt, and asked for a passport and other legal documents which embitter the lives of the German neighbor.

Now, for a dead person to ask for a passport is certainly more than absurd, and who can blame the authorities for refusing to give her the papers.

The court declared that she was as dead as a German can possibly be. She tried to appeal, but as there was no precedent to show that a dead person has a right to appeal, the appeal was denied. So now she has to make a living for herself, what is pretty unreasonable to demand from a dead person. She cannot emigrate, because she has no passport, and has lost all rights except the right to be buried or cremated, but this right she, strangely enough does not seem to care to make use of.

Ireland, or a portion of it, still believes that the earth is flat, and in the press of that country a fierce controversy is raging on the subject.

In Belfast the flat-earthians are painfully numerous. They declare the north to be the center of the plane, and the ice barrier AMERICAN GIRL—TWO, of the south, they say, marks the boundary line of light and darkness.

Water always keeps its level, they contend, and that "proves the earth is flat."

A mariner's compass will only wobble upon a dead level, and how could such conditions be maintained on a revolving globe?

There certainly seems to be a great deal of common sense in their arguments, even if you may have the idea that they have been used before.

"When a ship has disappeared from the unaided vision a powerful telescope will bring it back to view," and the author in an authoritative way, which allows no further debate, concludes his argument with the words that "telescopes do not penetrate a hill of water."

"The apparently circular horizon merely indicates that the range of the eye is the same in all directions." Finally it is declared that "circumnavigation does not prove globularity."

"Sailing around Ireland would not prove the rotundity of Ireland, and it is utterly impossible for water in its natural condition to assume a spherical shape or adhere to the surface of a rotary earth."

A young officer, barely twenty-six years of age, Lieutenant de Ganay, is the hero of Paris today.

About two weeks ago a tribe of fifteen hundred Moroccan Arabs at Taghbir attacked and carried away French convoy.

Lieutenant de Ganay, with a handful of cavalry witnessed the attack from a distance, and without a second's hesitation gave the order to pursue.

His men, who would at any time go through fire for their young commander, thought nothing of attacking a force fifty times the strength of their own.

With cries of "Vive la France" they swooped down upon the surprised Arabs and started to cutting them down like blades of grass, and actually routed them.

When the Arabs had fled some distance they looked behind them and realized that they had been attacked by only thirty men, whom they now saw slowly retreating.

Lieutenant de Ganay is sure of his Cross of the Legion of Honor, and the people of Paris are clamoring to see him in this city.

When a deed of bravery like this is heard of one realizes how deeply rooted is the love of the army in the hearts of the French nation.

A SWIM 900 FEET UNDER GROUND. Denver Republic: Swimming 900 feet under ground. Superintendent Frank J. May of Cripple Creek attempted to plug big holes through which water was pouring into the Gold King shaft of El Paso. Mr. May was lowered to the 900-foot level and with him went Henry Benton, Al Wincer and Alex McLean. All the men hooked at the water and concluded it would be safer to have the pumps worked a while longer before venturing into it.

The next morning they were lowered again to the level, and the superintendent asked the men if they would follow him. They said they would, and he struck out into the dark and dismal drift. They swam for seventy feet, and there found that as the level had been raised in driving they could stand in shallow water. Mr. May was lowered with him a number of sticks to plug up the holes from which it was supposed the water was flowing, and the men following had hammers. Plugs were driven into the rock where water was spouting out and the flow from those particular points was lessened.

TO ATTEND STATE MEETING AT WACO

BUTCHERS AND GROCERS LEAVE FORT WORTH TONIGHT

Large Local Representation Joined by Delegates From Various Towns in This Section of the State—Want Meeting Next Year at Fort Worth

Between forty and fifty members of the Retail Grocers' and Butchers' Association will leave Fort Worth at 8:15 this evening...

The delegation from Fort Worth tonight will comprise delegates from Fort Worth local, representatives of a number of wholesale firms of the city, and members of the association at Mineral Wells, Gainesville, Denton, Brownwood, Weatherford, Albany and Cisco.

They are going to participate in the convention, but primarily their object is to secure for Fort Worth the meeting of the state association in 1904.

The first state meeting was held in Fort Worth three years ago, on the same date on which the meeting is held this year.

The present state officers are J. P. Kline, president, and H. Brown, secretary, both of Texasarkana. There are at present nearly fifty locals in the state.

The delegates from the Fort Worth local are: Mack Bergman, Harry Adams, J. C. Martin, J. F. Luther, S. D. Stearns, H. H. Pitman, M. T. Pankey, C. W. Williams, J. H. Sears, A. S. Dinceo, L. Haberzette and R. H. Griffin.

Wholesale houses of the city will be represented as follows: McCord-Collins Grocery Company, F. Moriarity, Carter-Battle Grocery Company, Tom Price, Waples-Platter Grocery Company, J. L. Busby and Augustus Poute, A. E. Vant & Co., George R. Clayton, Fort Worth Produce Company, C. E. Harkrider, National Biscuit Company, L. S. Norvell and E. P. Galloway.

Besides the above, Swift & Co., Armour & Co., the Cameron Mills, the Anchor Mills, the Fort Worth Macaroni and Pasta factory, the National Coking Company, and Montgomery & Co. will also send representatives.

CARTER FUNERAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

The funeral of A. M. Carter, Jr., who was drowned at Arlington Heights Saturday night, was conducted from the residence of his parents, Hon. and Mrs. A. M. Carter, 929 Taylor street, yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, by Rev. Luth Little, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The loss of "Kinnie" Carter is the third in this family within the last eighteen months. The parents of the deceased are prostrated with grief. Of a large family of children, only four now survive.

Robert Garth, who was with Kinnie Carter when the accident occurred, remained at Arlington Heights until yesterday morning, when he was brought to the city. He had a narrow escape from death, but has fully recovered from the shock.

The boys were in a boat, and in place of oars were using a board with which they were paddling about. They were in the act of exchanging places in the boat when it capsize. The occupants were good swimmers and readily remained above water until they could get hold of the overturned boat. They could not right it and, after spending some time in the water Kinnie Carter struck out for the shore. When near the bank he encountered the moss which interfered with his further progress and which caused him to go down. Garth went to his assistance, but was unable to save his friend. He succeeded in calling assistance and was removed from the water. He was unconscious, in which condition he remained for five minutes.

Those who have examined The Telegram since its renovation declare it the prettiest paper that comes to Cleburne. A car of new oats shipped from Cleburne June 4 brought 33 cents a bushel. N. H. Halsell, state Epworth League president, addressed the societies of the First Methodist church Sunday.

The statistics of insurance, fire losses and salvage for the past year place Cleburne highest in the state in salvage, outside of Galveston. The Cleburne volunteer fire department is proud of this record.

Felix Jones, a traveling man from Gatesville, was injured here while en route to Clifton, in attempting to board a Santa Fe train. He fell and just by a lucky chance escaped being crushed to death. He was bruised and jarred and his left hand crushed. One finger was amputated in the hope of saving his hand.

The jury in the case of "Hammer" Lewis Hancock, charged with the murder of Arch Baird, brought in a verdict assessing the penalty at a term of forty years.

Dead—Mrs. S. B. Johnson, mother of Mrs. George D. Autrey and Mrs. B. H. Capps, at Cleburne, June 6.

PANTHERS ARE NOW TIED WITH DALLAS

PARIS MADE IT THREE STRAIGHT RATHER EASILY

Buchanan Pitched Well But His Support Was Demoralized by Injuries. Zook Loses Another Hard Game in Twelfth Inning, Dallas Winning

The disastrous series of games that closed yesterday at Haines Park, with the third straight victory of Paris over the Panthers, dropped Fort Worth from second place to a tie with Dallas in last place.

The worst of it is that the fans can only sit around and bemoan the hard fate that attends the local team; the defeats have not been due to poor playing, but simply to feebleness in all departments caused by injuries to members of the club.

While this excuse is advanced, and it is conceded that the club is about as good as the average Texas club, it must be added that it is not as good as the best and must be strengthened if it is to fight it out for the pennant with the others in the second championship series.

Now is the time for Manager Waru to begin to get ready for the second championship battle, and it is understood that he has his lines out for several promising players. The present championship race will end on June 25; unless the unforeseen happens, Paris will win, Corsicana probably will be second, as the crippled condition of the local club greatly weakens it.

With Schuetzke back at second and better men at one or two other points, and with the pitchers in good condition, it looks like Fort Worth will be able to give Paris a stiff argument for the pennant in the second series.

George Reitz, the new shortstop, is proving a tower of strength to the locals. His work is showing steady improvement.

BUCHANAN PITCHED. In yesterday's game Buchanan pitched a fine game, although his injured knee still pains him. Jarvis was slated to twirl, but he did not arrive at the park until the game was in progress. The game was started earlier than the advertised hour in the hope that it might be finished before the heavens began to weep, but the game was stopped in the second inning by the rain. After a five minutes' wait it was resumed and the last seven innings were played in a drizzle that made the grounds sticky and slippery. Every time the ball was hit on the ground it gathered hunk of mud on its way to the fielders.

Errors and three hits gave the visitors five runs in the second inning and the locals were not able to overcome the lead. Many fans had to wait in the rain for some time until the traction company provided enough cars to convey them from the grounds; about a hundred who became weary of waiting trudged home afoot through the mud and rain.

GAME AT DALLAS. Zook and Reagan tied up in a hot twelve-inning argument at Dallas yesterday. Pitcher Railing, who was playing center field for Dallas, won the game by knocking the ball over the fence. The score was 2 to 1. Things have not been breaking well for little Zook recently. He pitched an eleven inning game a few days ago after having been walloped by Fort Worth at his preceding appearance and yesterday he went twelve innings, only to lose again.

RACING BEGINS AT GROSSE POINT. DETROIT, Mich., June 8.—When Jacob J. Holt gives the signal to start at the Grosse Point track this afternoon there will be inaugurated what promises to be the best running meeting ever held under the auspices of the Detroit Jockey Club and one of the best ever witnessed in this part of the country. The meeting is to continue two weeks, during which time six stake events will be decided. The entries for these events are the most ambitious in number and class of anything ever held on any of the Detroit tracks. In the Camppu and other stakes are entered such crack horses as E. E. Smathers, McChesney, Charles E. Ellison's Harry New, and Ordunup, the winner of the Montgomery handicap. Bookmakers and horsemen of prominence are here from all parts of the country and the meeting opens under the most favorable auspices.

BATTLES WITH DEATH TO OBTAIN DEGREE. NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 8.—Remarkable deathbed honors were paid by Yale university to Thomas B. Cronan, an academic student, whose funeral was held Saturday. Young Cronan, a zealous pupil, was to have obtained a degree at the coming commencement, but he was a victim of tuberculosis and a week or so ago his condition became so bad that he realized he could scarcely live to achieve his ambition.

Several of the dying boy's student friends knew that he would die happy if the coveted degree were conferred upon him. These youths informed members of the faculty and then followed the unusual action. The faculty held a meeting and unanimously decided to confer the degree to Cronan in advance of commencement. Moreover, the faculty sent a delegate to the young man's bedside to notify him. His gratitude was intense. He had bravely fought off death for hours after he had been expected to expire in the hope of living until commencement. Within twelve hours after the faculty had taken action he died.

CAPTURE FUGITIVE FROM JACKSON, MISS. Assistant Chief Jim Allen and Detective Jim Thomson at 6 o'clock last night placed Aubrey Landis under arrest, at his boarding house on West Weatherford street. Landis is an engineer. He is said to be a fugitive from justice, wanted at Jackson, Miss., for obtaining money under false pretenses and for seduction.

The authorities at Jackson have been notified that Landis is in custody and an officer has started from there to take charge of him.

MANY CASES IN CORPORATION COURT. There was a large number of cases on the corporation court docket this morning. Drunkenness, vagrancy and fighting being the principal charges. Nearly all the cases were passed for one or more days.

Lucile West pleaded guilty to an old charge of disturbing the peace and was fined $1 and costs. J. F. Dougherty was assessed a dollar and costs on a charge of intoxication.

W. C. Wilson who was charged with carrying a pistol, did not appear when his name was called and his bond was forfeited.

DEPOT LOCATION IS NOW SETTLED. The depot of the Trinity and Brazos Valley railroad will be located in East Cleburne, and thus the much mooted question is settled. Chief Engineer Thompson of that road was at Cleburne Saturday in conference with the contractors and citizens of that place. The grading will be within 400 feet of the city limits. Bridge building has been begun on the south end. By July 1 the rails will be placed in position.

HEAVIER STEEL AND NEW YARDS. The Santa Fe will re-lay the Weatherford branch with 35-pound steel rails, and will also re-lay and re-arrange the Cleburne yards for the accommodation of heavy engines and longer trains.

RAILROAD BRIEFS AND PERSONALS. Alfred Hanney, son of Conductor W. M. Hanney, of the H. and T. C., has gone to Washington, D. C., to visit relatives.

G. B. Keller, formerly assistant city passenger and ticket agent of the H. and T. C., at Waco, has accepted a similar position with that road in the local office under Col. W. H. Smith, vice C. G. Gates, resigned.

The family of Superintendent J. D. Welsh of the Fort Worth and Denver City railroad, arrived here Saturday evening from Denver, Colorado. They have taken apartments at the Hotel Worth.

SEXTONS STRIKE IN SAN FRANCISCO. CHICAGO, June 8.—A dispatch from San Francisco says: Two acts of vandalism have been committed by the striking grave diggers at Cypress Lawn cemetery, near this city. A grave which had been dug by the assistant superintendent and one workman for a funeral was filled with water, with the result that the funeral had to wait while the grave was baled out. A more serious outrage was perpetrated at the crematory. There a body was to be incinerated, but when the furnace was lighted it blew up, seriously injuring two men and wrecking a part of the plant. It was found that crude oil had been spilled over the furnace so as to cause an explosion.

BANKING FIRM IS FORCED TO YIELD. BALTIMORE, June 8.—On the request of creditors and upon its own admission of insolvency receivers have been appointed for the City Trust and Banking Company. President Whostly states the suspension was made necessary by the withdrawal of deposits recently, and the failure of the bank to realize upon securities. He says he believes depositors can be paid in full. It is stated that the liabilities are $500,000, assets about the same. The suspended firm did a banking and storage business.

THRESHING TO START SOON AT RHOME, TEX. RHOME, Texas, June 6.—We have had favorable weather for the harvesters for the past few days, and the farmers have taken advantage of it. About three-fourths of the wheat in this community has been cut and shocked. If the weather continues as at present four or five more days will be long enough to enable the harvesters to complete their work in this section of the county. It will only be a few days until the thrashing machines will be in operation.

SONORA RANCHES IN GOOD SHAPE

Prospects For Mexican Cattle Are Excellent — Early Rains Help Grazing and Forage Is Plentiful

"In spite of reports to the contrary, conditions in the state of Sonora climatologically are not such as to indicate that there will be a drouth this year," says James A. Lonsberry, who is in the city on mining business. "Sonora has been favored by an early rain, which occurred during the month of April, and as a consequence grass has been very abundant for cattle. The regular rains come in the summer, and it is hardly time for them now, much less any need of them. Last year there was a drouth in Sonora and as a result of it there were great losses of cattle, but the conditions differ in a marked degree this year from those of last year."

"Thousands of cattle are now upon the ranges in the northern part of the state and they are all rolling with fat due to the splendid grazing. When the summer rains come the prosperity of the cattle ranchers of the state will reach a climax. Never in previous years have there been so many cattle on the ranges as there are now."

"Every large company, at least in the northern part of the state, has increased its holdings by bringing cattle in from the adjoining states and from the United States. In contemplation of a good season in Sonora, The Cananea Cattle Company alone has stocked its ranges with an additional 25,000 head of cattle of the better breeds. As this company refrained from stocking its ranch last year because of the bad outlook on account of the lack of rains, its action this year shows that it is confident that there is no danger of drouth."

"As to the crops in Sonora, I can say that from the information which I have been given I am convinced that they will not suffer. The orange crop is already harvested and it has been one of great profit to the planters. The crops of corn and beans along the Sonora and Yaqui valleys are in good condition. Three months ago the wheat which was harvested in the valley of the Yaqui was so abundant that it sold for the very small sum of 41 per quintal, delivered at the side of vessels. There is no danger that there will be any shortage of the wheat crop during the rest of the year. Such crops as those of peas and beans are safe and it may be safely predicted that the farmers and ranchers of Sonora will be more flourishing at the end of this year than ever before."—Mexican Herald.

LAND DONATED FOR USE OF VETERANS. At the regular meeting of R. E. Lee camp, United Confederate Veterans, yesterday afternoon, Captain Sam Evans offered the camp the use of a thirty-acre tract of land at the foot of East Belknap street, for a period of fifteen years, to be used as the camp may determine as a source of revenue. A committee composed of Captain Taylor, Dr. Jackson and Judge Terrell was appointed to investigate the proposition and report to the camp at its next meeting.

L. C. Vaughn was named yesterday to succeed L. J. Marshall as chairman of the executive committee.

Colonel Abe Harris requested yesterday that his name be stricken from the roll of membership of R. E. Lee camp, United Confederate Veterans, the action being the result of the disposition of a matter which Colonel Harris brought before the camp. He submitted the names of a number of ladies for honorary membership. The commander ruled him out of order. The decision was sustained by the camp.

Colonel Harris withdrew the names, asked that his own name be stricken from the camp roll and then retired from the room.

The camp is taking the necessary action to get two aged Confederate veterans, who are at present at the county poor farm, into the Confederate home.

Messrs. McConnell, Taylor and Terrell were appointed a committee for the purpose of drafting resolutions on the death of J. C. Ramm.

Members of the camp whose records are deficient will be asked to correct them. There was no meeting of the sons yesterday.

WANT US TO MAKE THE INITIAL MOVE

GERMANS WAITING FOR AMERICA'S COURSE IN COMPELLING RUSSIA TO MAINTAIN THE OPEN DOOR IN CHINA

(Copyright, 1903, W. R. Hearst.)

BERLIN, June 8.—(Special cable).—All eyes diplomatic are fixed on the government at Washington. The more indications there are pointing directly toward Russian official complicity in outrages upon the Jews, the more it is appreciated that all the nations of Europe look to the United States for the cue that will mean a protest which the czar cannot overlook.

Inasmuch as the massacre at Kishineff was inspired by the desire of the Russian government to direct attention away from the aggressions in Manchuria, the opinion is fixed that the protests of the civilized world on behalf of the Jews will resolve themselves into measures to force the czar to stand by his promise to maintain the "open door" in China.

In this no government has so large material interest as the United States. The American newspapers, which are exerting themselves to bring out the facts respecting Russian oppression of the Jews while collecting contributions for the benefit of the victims' families, are recognized here to be giving the best service possible in ripening the time for diplomatic, and even more serious, action on the part of the United States government.

Everyone is comparing the situation with that shortly prior to the Cuban war. Then the government paid no attention to the Spanish oppression of the Cubans, although the scene was so close at hand, until the press had inflamed the entire population of the country to a point where it would welcome any retaliatory measure that the government might adopt.

From the look of things from this standpoint, the people of the United States are already in a state of mind to support their government in measures to stop the eastward progress of the czar. Japan is fairly sizzling with eagerness to fly at the throat of the power which robbed her of the fruits of her victory over China. With England for an ally, she knows that all that is necessary for the government at Washington to assert itself. Germany has large accounts to settle with Russia, and as she is not able to take satisfaction personally, she is waiting with an eagerness scarcely less than that of Japan for Uncle Sam to cry "Halt!" to the Russian emperor.

Several of the kaisers' most beautiful young officers are agitating the male beauty show scheme for Berlin, on the lines of the one which lately closed at Vienna. There is quite a rivalry between German and Austrian military men respecting their different charms in the eyes of the women. They admit that none of them are able to quite live up to the Austrian officers' standard of arrogance, but they maintain that for depth of chest—padding not mentioned—and slenderness of waist—special make of corsets not stipulated—the average German lieutenant is not to be mentioned in the same breath with the inferior Austrian breed.

The Berlin male beauty show, if the populace would stand for it, will be purely aesthetic in its scope. The German officers engaging in promoting it characterize as exceedingly coarse the speech of the president of the Vienna show, in which he remarked that efforts had been made for a long time to improve the breed of cattle, horses and dogs, and that now it was the turn of human beings.

The kaiser and his family are about starting for Strassburg, in Alsace, where Schloss Urville has been refurbished in preparation for the Imperial visit. The empress expects to stay there with her children for two weeks. The Imperial family will then return to the new palace at Postdam, where extensive alterations are nearing completion.

The kaiserin was deeply disappointed not to have her eldest son with her on his twenty-first birthday, a great event in every German family, and much greater in the case of the future kaiser. So plebeian an obstacle as an attack of the measles, which both young princes contracted during their travels, interfered with their Imperial mother's plans, and, woman-like, the disappointment sticks in her mind most uncomfortably. Her health, however, has much improved lately.

Rheumatism Is Not a Skin Disease.

Most people have an idea that rheumatism is contracted like a cold, that the damp, chilly air penetrates the muscles and joints and causes the terrible aches and pains, or that it is something like a skin disease to be rubbed away with liniment or drawn out with plasters; but Rheumatism originates in the blood and is caused by Urea, or Uric Acid, an irritating, corroding poison that settles in muscles, joints and nerves, producing inflammation and soreness and the sharp, cutting pains peculiar to this distressing disease.

Exposure to bad weather or sudden chilling of the body will hasten an attack of Rheumatism after the blood and system are in the right condition for it to develop, but have nothing to do with the real true cause of Rheumatism, which are internal and not external. Liniments, plasters and rubbing will sometimes reduce the inflammation and swelling and ease the pain for a time, but fail to relieve permanently because they do not reach the seat of the trouble. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism because it attacks it in the blood, and the Uric Acid poison is neutralized, the sluggish circulation stimulated and quickened, and soon the system is purified and cleansed, the aching muscles and joints are relieved of all irritating matter and a lasting cure of this most painful disease effected.

S. S. S. is a harmless vegetable remedy, unequalled as a blood purifier and an invigorating, pleasant tonic. Book on Rheumatism will be mailed free.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

and the arm she broke while riding in the Greenwood forest two months ago is as strong as ever.

Already thus early in the season the Alps have begun to claim their annual tribute of human lives. Dispatches from Geneva tell of the death a few days ago of Herr Schmutz, one of the most famous Alpinists of Europe, who at the age of sixty years still retains his passion for attaining peaks supposed to be unattainable.

Herr Schmutz climbed Mont Salève, whose peak looks down upon Geneva from a height of nearly 4,000 feet. As from a height of nearly 4,000 feet, he did not return when expected, his body was found mangled remains at the foot of a precipice 500 feet high. A bit of wet ground on which he had slipped had ended his career of the veteran mountain climber.

Disciples of Richard Wagner and all lovers of his music will be interested to know that the performers of Wagnerian music are the chief diversion of a Utopian society which has established itself in Asconia, a little place on the borders of Italy and Switzerland.

The little society which numbers thirty-eight individuals, including sixteen women, seeks to solve the problem of how to live happily. The members are pledged to observe several simple rules of living, which they have carried out now for three years. They eat no meat, but live principally on fruits and herbs, and they wear one simple garment only and no hats.

They know no laws save those of nature, and as already mentioned, music is the only art which they cultivate. The founder of the colony is a Belgian. All that is necessary for one to belong to the colony is to produce sufficient money to buy a plot of land and to exhibit willingness to cultivate it for his support.

The society for the Reformation of Discharged Prisoners of Berlin, announces its intention of assisting its charges to emigrate to foreign countries. Aid will be granted to such men as shall after six months' trial, have shown themselves worthy of it. During the six months they will receive instruction in the language of the country to which they are intended to be sent.

Since the United States has barred by law the immigration of criminals, South America, England and the British colonies, especially Canada, will probably be selected as the dumping ground of these men. It is estimated that it will cost a matter of from $125 to $150 per head to send out the discharged prisoners.

Herr Ballin, the director-general of the Hamburg-American line, is a member of the society, and is very much interested in the scheme.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S SOCIETY SOCIAL

Preparations are all made for the union social of all the young people's church societies in the city to be held on the Y. M. C. A. lawn Tuesday night.

This will be one of the largest social gatherings of young people ever held in the city. All members of young people's societies are expected and tickets will be furnished a large number of their friends. The society presidents have the tickets and will furnish them free to those who apply at their respective meetings this evening. All the entertaining features cannot be given, but among other things will be phonographic renditions, a large number of games, poster guessing contests and handshakes. The reception committee consists of about forty of the best social workers in the city. Refreshments will be served.

POSTAL COMPANY TO PENSION EMPLOYEES

NEW YORK, June 8.—Announcement has been made of the intention of the Postal Telegraph Cable Company to institute at an early date a pension system for the benefit of old employees needing aid. The provisions of the plan are thus set forth in a circular issued by the management to the company's employees:

It was the earnest desire of our late president, John W. Mackay, that some provision should be made by the company for the benefit of faithful employees who had grown old in the service and whose usefulness had been impaired by age or misfortune. In furtherance of this beneficent desire, the officers of the company have had the matter under long and careful consideration, and, while they have not been able to formulate a systematic plan of pensions, they are authorized to make the following announcement: Any employee of the Postal Telegraph Cable Company who has been continuously in its service for a period of fifteen years, and who, through no indiscretion of his own, has become incapacitated for work, may apply for relief to the person under whose immediate direction he is employed. Upon the recommendation of such person, and of the superintendent of the district in which the employee is located, and with the approval of the general superintendent of the division, and of the executive committee, such employee may be allowed, in monthly payments, an amount not exceeding 20 per cent of the regular salary pertaining to his position.

In the case of an employee who has been more than fifteen years in continuous service of the company an additional 3 per cent may be allowed for each additional year of service up to twenty-five years, making the maximum allowance 50 per cent.

HON. W. B. WARE WILL MOVE TO CLARENDON

DALHART, June 8.—The Sun says: "Hon. W. B. Ware of Clarendon, a prominent and influential attorney and representative of this district, was here Wednesday and gave out the information that he had been employed as general attorney for the Chicago, Rock Island and Mexico Railway Company, and would move with his family to Dalhart to make this their permanent home. He said that he was assured before accepting the attorneyship that the Rock Island would not only move nothing away from Dalhart, but would continue to make such additional improvements as business demanded. Mr. Ware has not yet closed a deal for a home. He may decide to build."

DO YOU ENJOY WHAT YOU EAT? If you don't your food does not do you much good. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the remedy that everyone should take when there is anything wrong with the stomach. There is no way to maintain the health and strength of mind and body except by nourishment. There is no way to purify except through the stomach. The stomach must be kept healthy, pure and sweet or the strength will let down and disease will set up. No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, sour risings, indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach troubles are quickly cured by the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. Sold by all druggists.

LIGHTNING BLOCKS PLANS FOR WEDDING

CLEVELAND, O., June 8.—Lightning struck a tower on the Northwest corner of St. Paul's church, Case and Euclid avenue Saturday morning, a spire being torn to pieces. Two 500 pound blocks of stone crashed through the roof, crushing a section of pews. The western portion of the slate work is badly damaged. The interior of the edifice is filled with debris. It will require weeks to repair the damage which is estimated at $4,000. The Hanna-McCormick wedding which was scheduled to take place at St. Paul's church Wednesday at noon may be transferred to another church, and many of the plans may be changed.

A DELIGHTFUL PLACE TO SPEND THE SUMMER

In the highlands and mountains of Tennessee and Georgia, along the line of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis Railway may be found many health and pleasure resorts, such as Monteagle, Sevierville, Lookout Mountain, Berrysheba Springs, Bon Aqua Springs, East Brook Springs, Estill Springs, Nicholson Springs and many others. The bracing climate, splendid mineral waters, romantic and varied scenery combine to make these resorts unusually attractive to those in search of rest and health.

A beautifully illustrated folder has been issued by the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis Railway and will be sent to anyone free of charge.

SHOCKING STORY OF NEGLIGENCE

Young Wife Dead After Intense Suffering — Husband Lodged in Jail — Criminal Neglect Is Charged

CLARENDON, Texas, June 8.—A story of brutal neglect, so shocking in its details that the community is stirred to the highest pitch of excitement, and of which some of the circumstances are unfit to be retold, comes here from Rowe, a small station twelve miles east of here. Excitement is so great in the outraged community that the facts are hard to get other than that a young man named Preston Smith has been placed in the Armstrong county jail, while his wife, who was hardly more than a girl, is dead, as the result of criminal neglect.

The circumstances as related from the most reliable sources are briefly as follows: Smith and his wife lived near Rowe. About twelve days before her death, the young wife became dangerously ill and after intense suffering for several days gave premature birth to a child. The report says that during all the time she was ill, the husband left her entirely alone, continuing his work in the field, and stubbornly refusing to call a physician.

Neighbors learning of the state of affairs took the matter up and insisted that the husband send for a doctor, but even then, it is stated, he only was willing to call at a drug store and ask for some medicine.

The druggist refused the request and insisted that a doctor be sent. When the physician did arrive he was too late and though he made several trips and heroically tried to save the young woman's life, it was unavailing and she died after lingering a few more days.

HUSBAND GUARDED By this time the excitement in the neighborhood had reached fever heat. The night after his wife's death, the husband was kept in the room beside her body under a special guard, fears of violence being entertained by the officials. He was then brought to jail at Clarendon, but later at his own request was transferred to the Armstrong county jail.

SAD STORY It is said that the unhappy circumstances of the young wife's death followed a marriage against her parents' consent a few years ago, she having come here from the Indian Territory. Her broken hearted father reached here after her death and after the husband had been placed in jail. The dead woman leaves a child about one and a half years old.

Weather Conditions

Federal Building, Fort Worth, Monday, June 8.—The forecast until 8 p. m. Tuesday, for Fort Worth and vicinity: Occasional showers tonight and Tuesday; moderate temperature.

TEXAS EAST OF 100TH MERIDIAN Issued at New Orleans: Tonight and Tuesday, probably scattered showers.

WEATHER CONDITIONS Clear weather prevails in the Mississippi valley and the lower portion of the Missouri valley, and generally throughout the middle west.

Moderate to good showers fell over the northern half of western Texas during the past forty-eight hours, and the western and northern portion of east Texas last evening and night.

The rain area is moving slowly eastward. Temperatures do not differ greatly from the seasonal average in any locality, and, as a rule, have changed but slightly.

Occasional showers are indicated for Fort Worth and vicinity during the succeeding thirty-six hours.

ANOTHER STORY OF ALEXANDER TRAGEDY

DUBLIN, Texas, June 8.—It is stated that the name of the farmer who was drowned, together with his sister-in-law and her two children in a small stream near Alexander Saturday afternoon, was Parrish instead of Purvis. A heavy rain had swollen the stream until it was unsafe for crossing. Two members of the party, an old lady and a boy, were saved, but the other four were drowned. The team was also lost.

EXPECTS CARS TO RUN IN TWO MONTHS

HILLSBORO, Texas, June 8.—Colonel R. H. Baker of Austin, general manager of the Trinity and Brazos Valley railroad, was here yesterday and today. He came over the route from Cleburne in a private conveyance to inspect the progress of the work of construction. He is pleased with the progress and expects to see cars running on the road in two months.

The officers made an arrest yesterday on a charge of violating the Sunday law. A keeper of a restaurant was arrested on the charge of selling cigars and the complaint was filed in the county court. That is the only instance of an alleged violation of the law yesterday.

The fine showers that fell almost every day are very encouraging for the corn crop. The corn is growing very rapidly and cotton is also. There is some danger, however, that the showers may injure wheat and oats in the shock.

REFUSES TO STOP PRINTING OF NEWS

NEW YORK, June 8.—The Hudson county grand jury Friday appeared before Judge Blair at Jersey City. Michael Kallisher, the foreman, said that the grand jury had been greatly hampered by the local newspapers, which persisted in publishing statements concerning indictments before they were handed into court. He asked the court to order the practice stopped.

Judge Blair said that while he believed the complaint to be well founded, it was impossible for the court to make the order asked for. He believed, however, that the newspapers would realize the error they had fallen into and refrain from giving further offense. The grand jury then adjourned until next Tuesday.
