SAD BRITISH WERE DEFEATED

Report That Thirty-Nine Officers Were Killed in Fighting the Mad Mullah

TWO THOUSAND ARE TAKEN PRISONERS

Report of Disaster Comes From Paris, But Is Denied in London

PARIS, June 27.—A dispatch from Jibuti, Abyssinia, says that the Mad Mullah has destroyed five British posts between Burao and Bohote in Somaliland. Thirty-nine British officers and forty-two white men were killed in the engagements. Two thousand native soldiers were made prisoners.

A dispatch from Aden ten days ago stated that the British lines of communication between Berbera and Bohote were then threatened by the rebellious Mad Mullah and his forces.

Reinforcements comprising three companies of the Hampshire regiment and 400 native soldiers had been ordered to proceed from Aden to Somaliland on June 20.

About 14,000 native Abyssinians have been cooperating with the British forces in their efforts to check the Mad Mullah. The campaign of Brigadier General W. H. Manning, who was sent to Somaliland last November after reverses suffered by Colonel Seayne, having proved unsuccessful, he was ordered to be superseded June 21 by Major General C. E. Egerton, in command at the Punjab frontier.

It is reported from Aden on June 23, that General Manning and Colonel Cobbe, who it is feared had been cut off near Damot, succeeded in joining their forces and reached Bohote in safety.

Operations against the Mad Mullah have already cost the British government more than $2,000,000 and considerable loss of life.

The last news of the Mad Mullah was that he was entering eastward of the British forces, threatening the lines between Burao and Bohote, which were the only British means of communication with the coast. General Manning was expected to reach Bohote on June 26 with reinforcements.

STUDYING NEW METHODS

Superintendent Hogg Visiting in the East

Alexander Hogg, superintendent of public schools in Fort Worth, departed yesterday for the east. He goes as a member of the National Education Association, which is in session in Boston. Before going there he will stop at Louisville, Ky., where he has in press a new edition of his popular work, "The Railroad Book." This book has reached its fifteenth edition. The object of the professor, however, reaches still further. He is a warm advocate of manual training—hand work, as he calls it, as the equal cultivation of the head, the heart and the hand. The professor will spend some time among the public schools where this department of manual instruction is made a part of the regular course. The technical school proper is not what he wishes to look into, but the instruction suitable to the public school generally.

WANT TO STAND THE PRESSURE?

Startling Question Regarding Brown's Ten Million Dollar Cotton Corner Is Being Asked on Every Hand by Well Informed Business Men

MILLS MAY CLOSE DOWN

Eighty Thousand Bales Hurdled at Leaders of the Clique Yesterday and They Were Taken Without Flinching—Friends Claim He Can Stand the Brunt

NEW YORK, June 27.—What is Cotton King Brown, who came up from New Orleans and cornered the market here, going to do with the $10,000,000 worth of baled cotton that is being delivered to him, if all the big cotton mills of New England shut down, as they threaten to do? This is the question agitating the men in the cotton market, in the great cotton mills and in the dry goods interests.

All are concerned. To Mr. Brown the answer is of vital interest. The threat of the manufacturers comes at the critical stage of Mr. Brown's deal, when cotton brokers all over the country are hurrying deliveries at him in the hope of swamping him and breaking the market. For twenty-four hours an advance of cotton has swept in on the New Orleans cotton manipulator. Eighty thousand bales were hurled at him yesterday and he accepted them. As many more were tendered him today. If he takes them he will have $10,000,000 in cash to settle on July 1. If he refuses, he has the capital back of him to accept every bale of cotton produced in the United States this year. With his July deal completed, Brown will have a million dollars in cash, a band of poison furnished by the "doctor." She is awaiting trial.

France would perish through you. Your work is splendid. It is the work of those who have won a golden book which all should read. I would like to see the list of your laurels posted in every community in France."

BISHOP'S VIEWS

WILMINGTON, Del., June 27.—"We are willing to take our coat, mount our horse and ride nine and one-half miles into hell if necessary to see that the law is carried out. If one of our race outrages a white woman, we ought to be able to do the same in all my eyes. I am afraid the temple which has been built by Delaware will have a bad effect upon her sister states."

GENERAL WISTAR TALKS

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 27.—General Wistar, who has a summer home near Wilmington, Del., close to the scene of Monday night's lynching, declares there is no safety in Delaware. In an interview he said that he had seen a child who had been taken from his place to school, the distance of one-half mile, without being accompanied at least part of the way. This has been the case for many years. The state is over-run with unprincipled negroes from the south, who live with little or no work, but with chiefly on what they can earn out of politics.

He will say of the Wilmington affair: "Instead of holding meetings to denounce such a view of forever stopping these barbarous assaults on the women of our land. They are too frequent and what wonder human nature bursts out before such a bloody vista. The duty of men is to protect women. It is the duty of the hour and I trust I may not be overlooked by our colored citizens in their talk about racial prejudice."

DEGENERATING INTO INDIANS

Remarkable Declaration by J. S. Roberts Regarding Prevailing Tendency of the Americans of Today

A NEGRO BISHOP TALKS

Says He Wants to See Blacks Punished if They Outrage White Women, and Would Have Whites Likewise Dealt With—General Wistar Talks

LONDON, June 27.—None of the London papers commented on the Wilmington lynching, but J. S. Roberts of Richmond says to show that such outbreaks of savagery are signs that Americans are degenerating into Indians. Mr. Roberts says: "This lynching shows a change in the character of the American people which is capable of strange developments in the future. I have noticed that young men of America are steadily approaching a type which in its high cheek bones, piercing eyes, straight nose, hollow cheeks, long active limbs, recalls the Indian of the past. These warlike savages were notorious for cruelty, and we cannot accept the inference. Again, it is possible that the climate of the United States should ultimately cause a change in its inhabitants. If that country has once produced a race like the Indian with strong, marked characteristics, it may be that in course of time that its new inhabitants will be similarly affected. For the civilization of the world such an event will be a danger, most unpleasant to contemplate."

A London Writer Says That Now Is the Best Time to Live

LONDON, June 27.—A writer in Truth is convinced that Europe is on the threshold of momentous events. He says it is the opinion of many who have been behind the scenes in current history that we are entering a period which will be more interesting than any other in times. We have come to a meeting of systems. The medieval system and the modern cannot run together any better than a donkey and an automobile. Throughout Europe there are signs of fast-approaching troubles. It is hardly possible to decide will pass without those troubles coming to the front. It is probable that the nations of Europe will be for those taking an interest in interesting things this is the time to live. But it is America that is making history. The independence of the individual, the wealth of the country, the enterprise and energy of Americans and the fast-growing power of the United States are having an enormous influence on the present situation. If the Americans are like this, why are we so unlike them. Is the question which millions in the old world are asking. It is not the character or climate, but political conditions which give them the advantages, they argue.

LAST VERDICT WRONG

He held that the verdict of the last jury was contrary to law, that Wolf either be hanged or permitted to walk out of the court house free; that the murder of Wilson was a cold-blooded crime and that if the jury really believed that the man really did not have voted to hang him, not to sentence him to the penitentiary for life; that a life sentence was not the right punishment for a man who murdered Wilson.

NOTICE OF APPEAL GIVEN

Judge Shropshire Presents the New Testimony of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Speck and Carrie Mason, in the Form of Affidavits, But It Is Lightly Valued by Judge Dunklin

He held that the judge erred in denying the motion for severance. He referred to the testimony of Sam Johnson, who was not present at the last trial, and he charged that the county attorney had offered to dismiss several cases against Johnson providing the latter would return to this city and testify against Wolf. THE MURDER DESCRIBED. Counsel then drew a picture of the actions of the men in the Hemphill street house both before and after the murder. Wilson how they cleaned their pistols on Thursday of that week and told Mrs. Speck that they might leave that night; how one of them told her that he had a grudge against Wolf; how they returned to the house on Hemphill street that night between 7:30 and 8 o'clock, their mission unaccomplished. Then the next day, the agents told Mrs. Speck that they had probably had the murder that night. They went out again in the evening. Wilson was shot down and when Mrs. Speck, his mother-in-law, ran out and wanted to settle the matter, she saw the men, she said, "Nothing; it's only a dog." He connected this expression with the man's statement that he had a grudge against Wilson. The charge that Wilson also Wilson's first statement and he did not know who shot him and his statement a few minutes later that it was a comrade of Wilson's, the speaker taking the view that Wilson did know who shot him and knew that the shooting was the outgrowth of a grudge.

MY OPINION UNCHANGED

SAYS FOREMAN OF JURY

M. J. Lewis of 110 St. Louis avenue, who was foreman of the jury which rendered a verdict of guilty in the case of Wolf, said today that he was relative to his opinion of the developments which have come to light during the past few days, stated that he had read the entire statement of facts as printed in The Telegram, but had knowledge only from reading extracts from the Telegram story printed in other papers. According to what he had read, Mr. Lewis said, his opinion had undergone no change. "From what I know of the so-called recent developments there is nothing new which would have any bearing on the case as relating to either the guilt or innocence of Wolf and Lawrence," he said.

HAD NAUGHT TO SHIELD

Then a despatch from El Paso and Waco on the same night, they had nothing to conceal, in his opinion, and their actions that night so proved. An hour, or an hour and a half, after the killing they were sitting together within a few blocks of the scene of the murder, shouting to the officers who went by and who recognized them, but did not suspect that they were not innocent of the murder of Wilson were described as being dressed, and one was not tall and the other short. And after they found that they could not get a train for several hours they returned to the central portion of the city and were seen by officers again; they wandered about in the Acra and told everybody they knew that they were going to El Paso, and finally they went to that city.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS

Meeting for Completing Organization to Be Held Wednesday

Fort Worth veterans of the war with Spain are greatly interested in the organization of a chapter of the Spanish War Veterans, which it is expected will be completed at a meeting to be held Wednesday evening in the office of Justice J. L. Terrell at the courthouse.

A call for a meeting has been issued by Captain Lettler, chairman, and John Karberg, secretary of the temporary organization, and it is expected that several additions will be made to the charter membership roll, which already numbers about twenty names of prominent young men who served in the war.

Captain Lettler served with the volunteers and Secretary Karberg was a member of the Sixth United States cavalry, having enlisted in Philadelphia and serving actively in Cuba. With the other charter members they hope to perfect a strong organization of the Spanish War Veterans of the United States.

The national organization of Spanish War Veterans now has a membership of 128,000. Its scope and purpose is similar to that of the United Confederate Veterans and the Grand Army of the Republic.

THE PRACTICE IS DANGEROUS ONE THE CITY PHYSICIAN GIVES SOME TIMELY SUGGESTIONS Does Not Approve of Action of Women to Establish Free Water Tanks in the City—Sets Forth His Reason, at Same Time Sounds an Alarm Dr. R. Chambers, city physician, does not approve of the plan which the members of the local Woman's Christian Temperance Union have adopted for establishing free public drinking places throughout the city. The ladies are now soliciting funds with which to place and maintain during the summer a number of barrels containing ice water in Fort Worth. "It shows a commendable spirit in the ladies," said Dr. Chambers in discussing the plan, "but it is a practice which is a menace to health and in some cities will not be tolerated. The danger lies in the excellent method which the practice of drinking at such places affords for the spreading of contagious diseases. "Physicians realize, perhaps, better than others wherein and to what extent this danger exists. They are fully aware of the inroads which such diseases are making, even against precaution. The public water supply, where the water is not filtered, is a source of danger, especially if the water is contaminated by the child or anyone who partakes of water from the same barrel. "The consumption, or, for instance, a patient who may just be in the proper stage of smallpox, drinks from one of the cups at the public barrel; he does not empty the cup in the draught which he has quaffed and the remainder is turned into the barrel. The saliva from the mouth of that person, even though small amount it may be, is turned into the barrel and the water therein becomes infected. "Dr. Chambers said he did not want to be understood as criticizing the action of the women other than to point out to them the danger which he referred to. He said he believed there is not one of them engaged in the Woman's Christian Temperance Union work, and in that of providing Fort Worth with free water, but that will see the danger, exactly as he has presented it if they will but stop to think about it and further investigate the question. It is a matter which the city has the authority to regulate, but the doctor did not believe that it will be necessary for any steps to be taken on the part of the authorities to prohibit the placing of water barrels on the streets. The records in other cities, if investigated, will convince those who are engaged in the work that it is not the proper thing to do, and it is a question which can be solved by anyone who will stop to consider for one moment what Dr. Chambers set forth in his objections to the idea of the ladies.

It is a matter which the city has the authority to regulate, but the doctor did not believe that it will be necessary for any steps to be taken on the part of the authorities to prohibit the placing of water barrels on the streets. The records in other cities, if investigated, will convince those who are engaged in the work that it is not the proper thing to do, and it is a question which can be solved by anyone who will stop to consider for one moment what Dr. Chambers set forth in his objections to the idea of the ladies.

THE PRACTICE IS DANGEROUS ONE THE CITY PHYSICIAN GIVES SOME TIMELY SUGGESTIONS Does Not Approve of Action of Women to Establish Free Water Tanks in the City—Sets Forth His Reason, at Same Time Sounds an Alarm Dr. R. Chambers, city physician, does not approve of the plan which the members of the local Woman's Christian Temperance Union have adopted for establishing free public drinking places throughout the city. The ladies are now soliciting funds with which to place and maintain during the summer a number of barrels containing ice water in Fort Worth. "It shows a commendable spirit in the ladies," said Dr. Chambers in discussing the plan, "but it is a practice which is a menace to health and in some cities will not be tolerated. The danger lies in the excellent method which the practice of drinking at such places affords for the spreading of contagious diseases. "Physicians realize, perhaps, better than others wherein and to what extent this danger exists. They are fully aware of the inroads which such diseases are making, even against precaution. The public water supply, where the water is not filtered, is a source of danger, especially if the water is contaminated by the child or anyone who partakes of water from the same barrel. "The consumption, or, for instance, a patient who may just be in the proper stage of smallpox, drinks from one of the cups at the public barrel; he does not empty the cup in the draught which he has quaffed and the remainder is turned into the barrel. The saliva from the mouth of that person, even though small amount it may be, is turned into the barrel and the water therein becomes infected. "Dr. Chambers said he did not want to be understood as criticizing the action of the women other than to point out to them the danger which he referred to. He said he believed there is not one of them engaged in the Woman's Christian Temperance Union work, and in that of providing Fort Worth with free water, but that will see the danger, exactly as he has presented it if they will but stop to think about it and further investigate the question. It is a matter which the city has the authority to regulate, but the doctor did not believe that it will be necessary for any steps to be taken on the part of the authorities to prohibit the placing of water barrels on the streets. The records in other cities, if investigated, will convince those who are engaged in the work that it is not the proper thing to do, and it is a question which can be solved by anyone who will stop to consider for one moment what Dr. Chambers set forth in his objections to the idea of the ladies.

WILL OPEN NEW DEPOT JULY 1 STATION WILL BE KNOWN AS BELT JUNCTION Joint Track's Increased Facilities for Caring for Its Business to and From the Packing-Houses—John Dolan and J. S. Oakley in Charge The new depot at Belt Junction, a station now being established by the joint track three miles east of the Texas and Pacific passenger station, will be formally opened July 1. During the day time the office will be in charge of John Dolan of this city and at night in charge of J. S. Oakley, formerly of Denton. The object of the new station is to enable the joint track to better handle its business to and from the packing-houses. The Belt Line Railway Company has rebuilt the old line from the packing-houses to the joint track, thus giving the connection for its freight business. The joint track has been switched to the Rock Island do its switching in the past. Besides the business of the joint track, which includes the Texas and Pacific and the Katy, the business of the International and Great Northern to and from the packing-houses will also be handled over this route. The Texas and Pacific has arrangements with the International and Great Northern for the same. The business which is to be handled through the new station is quite voluminous. It will necessitate the maintenance of two switching crews, one for the day work and the other for the night. CAN BUILD ANYWHERE HARTFORD, Conn., June 27.—Chas. W. Gross and Arthur L. Shipman have filed with the secretary of state a certificate of incorporation of the Manila Railway and Lighting company, with $5,000,000 capital. The company has the right to build any kind of railroad anywhere, to run steamship lines and to establish gas and electric plants outside of Connecticut. The backers of the new company are said to be New York capitalists.

TO FORM JOINT BOARD Chicago Employers and Employees Get Together CHICAGO, Ill., June 27.—Conciliation and arbitration are to be used by the building contractors and their organized employes to bring to an end the constant jurisdictional strife that has been the bane of the industry. Representatives of both employers and employes at a meeting last night formed a joint board to take up and adjust all complaints. It will be given power to enforce its decisions, which are to be binding. During the last two years, since the close of the Building Trades Council lockout, there have been constant factional disputes between the unions. Important building projects have been delayed and much money has been lost.

DUNKLIN DENIES A NEW TRIAL (Continued from page 1.) and no incriminating evidence found. They were not connected with the plot to kill the diamonds, the money of which the defendants were one, and yet the witnesses all testified that one of the two murderers of Wilson was one. LATTIMORE REPLIES The speaker argued at length, analyzed and explained, and examined the testimony from his viewpoint, named over the many witnesses who testified as to the disparity in the sizes of the murderers, and then Mr. Lattimore took the floor. He spoke briefly and Judge Dunklin asked him to rehearse the principal points made by the state, which he did. He referred to Judge Shropshire's whole argument as flimsy and baseless, and said that the two men in the Hemphill street room did just what any sensible grafter would have done—they got up and left when they heard of the killing of Wilson. It was the height of absurdity to suppose that any sensible man would pay any attention to such reasoning as counsel for the prisoner had just poured forth. Wolf and Lawrence were seen in and around the poolroom on Thursday evening and Friday morning; one of them wore a cap; they saw Wilson receive a package of money on Friday morning from an express messenger, and they saw him place the bills in his pocket. He said that the state's witnesses testified that one of the men had thin shoulders, was long-legged and wore big pants, so big as to be conspicuous. He said that when the officers were in the back and passed Wolf and Lawrence at the Adams street crossing, they were riding to the Rio Grande yards in response to a message that the murderers were surrounded. Judge Lattimore said as they passed: "There's Joe Wolf; I'd as soon believe he did it as not." He told how they went out of Fort Worth in the ice box of a refrigerator car. He coupled this testimony with the testimony of the nurse, Blakeney, who testified that Wilson told him that Wolf was one of the men. He told how Wolf and Lawrence were running from their crime here; how they were identified by Mrs. Hampton; at least Lawrence was identified as being on the schoolhouse lot just before the killing and by his own testimony coupled himself with Wolf. Mr. Lattimore then closed and Judge Shropshire again spoke briefly. He followed by introducing some authorities and the decision followed. TRIAL OF LAWRENCE The trial of Joe Lawrence, who is jointly accused with Joe Wolf of the murder of Wilson, will come on in the nineteenth district court next Wednesday. Judge Shropshire declared last night that he was confident he would be able to get the testimony of Mr. and Mrs. Speck before the jury. "It is a case that must be made on circumstantial evidence," he

COULD USE HIS FISTS St. Louis Capitalist Pushed a Pair of Would-Be Mashed NEW YORK, June 27.—Because he punished a couple of would-be masher who insulted his wife and attacked him on Broadway, James Van S. Barrett, a capitalist of St. Louis, found out what the inside of a police station looked like. Mr. Barrett and his wife, with a Mr. and Mrs. Walters, were walking up Broadway and were near Thirty-second street when two men approached, and one, Mr. Barrett said, insulted his wife. Mr. Barrett stepped forward and one of them struck him on the back of the head. Mr. Barrett rushed and struck the man squarely between the eyes. He dropped as if shot and the blood oozed from his mouth and ears. The other man attacked Mr. Barrett, and he also was knocked down. The unconscious man was taken to the hospital and the other to the station, where he said he was Richard Collins, a waiter, of Portland, Me., and that his friend was Henry La Pointe, an architect. Mr. Barrett was also arrested, but was later released. Collins was locked up, but La Pointe, the first man Mr. Barrett struck, left the hospital when he regained consciousness and could not be found. NEWS OF ABILENE ABILENE, Tex., June 27.—The barbecue, cornerstone laying and installation of Masonic officers on the Simmons College campus near Abilene on the 25th was a great success, about 6,000 or 7,000 people being present. Speeches were made by Rev. Lee Scarborough, Hon. Fred Cockrill and Dr. Cooper of the college. There was an abundance of barbecued meats and loaf bread; in fact, enough for almost twice the people present. Fort Worth won the game of baseball over Abilene by a score of 8 to 4. SAY WE ARE INCITING THEM Colombians Abroad Express Belief That United States Funds Are Being Supplied to Stir Up Revolution (Special cable. Copyright, 1903, by W. R. Hearst.) LONDON, June 27.—An agent of the Colombian government, in London, informs your correspondent that America's agents have been secretly at work among the people of the isthmus for months conducting a campaign of education to inspire the isthmians with a desire for independence. "Shake off the Colombian yoke and govern yourselves," they preached until now the fiery temperament of the people has been aroused to a point of action. It is believed the time is not distant when the people will be ready to rise and proclaim their independence, as did the Cubans. The Colombians in London believe that if the Colombian congress refuses to accept the American terms for the canal, the isthmians will revolt against the present government. This, all the Colombians here assert, is the object of the American secret campaign of education. They believe that Pan-America will revolt and ask its independence, proclaiming it with American guns and ammunition. They are convinced Washington is supplying funds for propagating the revolt and destroying the opposition to the acceptance of the American terms of the canal. It is believed here that Generals Reyes and Velez have sufficient money and arms to unseat President Marroquin. Reyes does not oppose the construction of the canal by the United States, but is convinced that the American terms are unjust to Colombia. As a protest against submitting to the terms, Colombians here declare, Reyes is prepared to fight to the end. The Colombians suspect the United States is willing to go to any length to impose its will upon the Colombian congress and that American agents on the isthmus are menacing congress with a revolt of the people and a declaration of an independent state. If congress does not accede to the Washington terms, the summer normal for the Abilene district opened here Thursday with F. W. Chatfield of Abilene as conductor, and three instructors, including S. W. Lackey of the Abilene High school and Miss Florence Montgomery. Sixty are already enrolled and a number more are expected. The deciding game of baseball in a series of three games between the Fort Worth Amateurs and Abilene was played at the fair grounds yesterday. Score: Abilene 8, Fort Worth 1. The game was interesting, yet easily Abilene's game from the start. Not until the ninth inning did Fort Worth make a safe hit off Faucett, the Abilene pitcher. The people have begun to thresh the small grain here. So far as can be learned, the crop seems to be yielding from 15 to 25 bushels per acre, while oats are running from 50 to 80 bushels. One farmer in this county threshed 60 bushels per acre from volunteer oats. A Mr. Sifers of near Roby was here recently and reported oats good in his part of Fisher county, he having a neighbor with a large crop that was estimated at 100 bushels per acre. HILL ASSAULTS NEW UMPIRE

CORSICANA SHORTSTOP HITS HIM WHEN CALLED OUT

He is Fined and Also Arrested—Fort Worth Wins a Slugging Contest From Corsicana—Dallas Wins Two Straight From Waco

The kicking tactics over every decision which the Corsicana team adopted in the game yesterday ended in an assault by Shortstop Hill upon the new umpire, Mr. Ladd. The act was the consequence of Ladd's decision on a drive made by Coyle along the third-base line in the eighth inning, when there were two men on the bases. Ladd called the ball fair and the Corsicana team doubled its abuse. Coyle then hit to Combs, who threw home in time to catch O'Connor, who had been on third. Hill then came to bat and knocked an easy one to Reitz, who threw him out at first.

After the umpire called him out and the Fort Worth team started in toward the bench Hill walked up to Ladd and struck him with his cap. The blow caught Ladd full in the face. Before he could recover Hill swung at him again with his free hand. He just barely reached him, hitting him on the side of the mouth. Before he could hit again the crowd had reached the middle of the field and surrounded the men.

It would have gone badly with Hill had not a policeman been one of the first to reach him. He was arrested, but remained on the grounds until after the game, as there was no way of bringing him into the city. He gave bond for his appearance in court Monday morning. Ladd imposed the heaviest penalty that was in his power—$2 fine—and retired him from the game. Ladd is the umpire who was appointed yesterday to take the place of Tilford, who resigned Friday night.

BATTING CONTEST The game yesterday was a batting contest, in which the Panthers had all the best of the visitors. The Fort Worth team hit the ball for thirteen safes and seemed to thrive on that number, as they finished with the score, 5 to 1 in their favor.

Fort Worth took the lead in the second inning. Penderlost started off with a single. Reitz sacrificed him to second and Dewey hit a sharp one to Hill, who was unable to handle it at all, and Penderlost scored. Combs hit safely, but Peer, the next man, struck out. With two men on the bases, Jarvis drove a clean two-base hit to right field and both men scored. Jarvis died on base when Barrett struck out.

Corsicana scored another in the fourth. Maloney singled and was advanced to second on a sacrifice. He took third on Dewey's error of Penderlost's fly and started for home. Dewey picked the ball up and threw it perfectly, so as to get it home on the bounce, but the ball hit an obstruction and went wide. In the latter half of this inning Fort Worth added two more to her score. After one went out, Combs hit safely to the right field fence for two bases. Peer followed with a hit and then a sacrifice. Jarvis struck out and Coyle threw the ball to second on the third strike, to catch Peer, but the ball went on to center field and Combs scored. A hit by Barrett scored Penderlost.

The last scoring was done in the sixth, each side getting three runs. The inning started with a safe hit by Spencer to first. Dewey and Penderlost got tangled up in chasing it, and Spencer made it into a double. Thebo followed with a drive against the right field fence for two bases, scoring Spencer. A long fly from O'Connor, but being in the way of Barrett's hands, he dropped it, and Thebo scored. "Mike" getting to second, Hill, the next man, knocked a high one to Barrett, who hit it down the line, and O'Connor scored, making it 5 to 2. That ended their scoring, as the next man went out easily on infield hits.

In their half of the inning the Panthers added three runs to their score and broke the tie. Dewey led off with a single and took second on Combs' sacrifice. Hill made his second error on Peer's hit and Dewey went to third. On the first ball pitched Peer started for second and Coyle threw the ball to catch him. Dewey started for home, and the result was that he scored without anyone trying to stop the runner. On this play Jarvis followed with another hit, which sent Peer to third. Barrett drove his second single to right, and both men scored.

In the eighth inning Thebo, the first man up for Corsicana, flew out. O'Connor made a two-bagger and Hise singled. Then followed the hit of Coyle that was destined to cause a double.

The game between the Panthers and Corsicana on Friday, which opened the new series, resulted in a victory for Corsicana by a score of 5 to 2. The fielding of the Fort Worth team was of the ragged order and the game was practically a gift to Corsicana. Dallas defeated Waco the same day by the score of 4 to 2.

A NEW CHURCH FOR FORT WORTH

PLANS OF THE BROADWAY BAPTIST SOCIETY

New Structure Will Have Seating Capacity of Three Thousand—A Roof Garden for Summer Services and Auditoriums for Large Conventions

The congregation of the Broadway Baptist church is preparing to build a new house of worship. The prospective building is to be 110 by 100 feet. There will be two auditoriums, a ground floor and a roof garden. Around the ground floor there will be a porch twenty feet wide, leaving a space 100 by 60 feet for the lower auditorium. From this lower auditorium there will be taken twenty feet from the length, having an auditorium with floor space of 80 by 60 feet. Around this will be a gallery ten feet wide, making altogether a seating space of 7,000 square feet, giving a seating capacity of 1,200. In addition to this there will be a Sunday school assembly room upstairs on a level with the gallery, which will have a seating space of 2,400 square feet or seats for 400, making a total of 1,600 seats in the lower auditorium.

THE ROOF GARDEN The roof garden will cover the space occupied by the main auditorium and, in addition, the porch space surrounding the main auditorium, or the whole space of 140 by 100 feet, which will give it a seating capacity of 14,000 square feet, or accommodations for 2,666 people. Over this roof garden will be another roof supported by columns.

There is a double purpose in undertaking to erect so large an auditorium as the roof garden will be. First it is an effort to solve the problem of comfort during the hot summer nights. It is also an effort to supply Fort Worth with an auditorium dedicated to religious work sufficient to hold the great religious gatherings that may want to come here. Such an auditorium would make Fort Worth the greatest convention city in Texas. The great denominations are wisely discarding the free entertainment plan and they have thus become to any city a matter of financial interest.

WILMINGTON NOW QUIET

Closing of Saloons Has Effect of Stilling Disturbance. WILMINGTON, Del., June 27.—This city today is in its normal condition. The excitement over the lynching of George White and the events following the burning having entirely disappeared. The closing of the saloons last night had a good effect. There were no drunken brawls during the night and the police were not called upon to quell any disturbances. By order of the police commissioners all saloons will again close their doors for the night at 6 p. m. today. There was apprehension Saturday night would see more disorder, but the closing of the saloons, it is thought, will have the effect of keeping disorder at a minimum. A detail of 18 men of the First Regiment of the National Guard is on duty at the armory, protecting arms and ammunition in the building.

The population of New York in 1900 was 3,377,292, of whom more than three-fourths were foreign born or of foreign parentage.

24 SUNDAY SCHOOL ROOMS In addition to the two auditoriums, this building will have over the porch surrounding the ground floor auditorium and on a level with the gallery of the auditorium, twenty-four separate Sunday school rooms, each of these rooms having a door leading into the gallery of the auditorium and an outside window.

Between these columns will be a rolling steel wall, which can be rolled down so as to make the garden an auditorium for winter use when it is necessary so to have a double purpose in undertaking to erect so large an auditorium as the roof garden will be. First it is an effort to solve the problem of comfort during the hot summer nights. It is also an effort to supply Fort Worth with an auditorium dedicated to religious work sufficient to hold the great religious gatherings that may want to come here. Such an auditorium would make Fort Worth the greatest convention city in Texas. The great denominations are wisely discarding the free entertainment plan and they have thus become to any city a matter of financial interest.
