DEAR SIR:

Fort Worth, Texas, August 29, 1903.

We have had 10.060 head of cattle on the market this week. The market opened Monday morning about steady with last week's close on all kinds of cattle except light stocker steers, which have been lower all of the week. There were 2,858 head on Monday's market, although the market held steady until Thursday, when we had a 10c break on cows and steers and 25c per 100 lbs. on calves. The market was weak to 5c lower Friday, and closes today, Saturday, about 15c lower than Monday's opening. Prices next week will depend altogether on the run, which at this writing can hardly be estimated, as many of the railroads are short on cars and their ability to furnish same will, to a great measure, govern prices. With a light run next week we will have a stronger market, but if the shippers are able to procure cars we expect no improvement and can only hope for a steady market. There are a good many desirable feeder steers coming, and would say to the feeders who contemplate buying in the near future, that during this dry weather is the most favorable time to get their requirements at this point. We quote 800-lb. feeders at from $2.25 to $2.70; 900-lbs. and up, $2.50 to $3.00; feeder bulls, $1.75 to $2.00.

The hog run was light, as usual, this week, there being 1,010 head on the market, and with light receipts we have had another advance of from 15c to 25c per 100 lbs. since the close of the week on all classes of liogs. The market is closing strong for the week at this advance. We quote top hogs, weighing from 175 lbs. to 250 lbs. at from $6.15 to $6.25, we having sold two loads this week for the latter price. We still look for the hog market to advance right along, as they are very scarce and there is no prospect of the receipts improving very much.

Sheep receipts were also very light this week, in fact, not enough to test the market. We could sell some good sheep at from $3.00 to $3.25; good lambs $3.50 to $3.75; stockers, $2.00 to $2.50 per 100 lbs. We give below a few of our representative sales for the past week:

He is the same Chinaman who marketed three good to choice heavy, $5.45@5.55; ough thousand heads of cabbage this year and On his farm a few miles southeast of the city he has a fine lake of water that covers fifteen acres of ground. He has made application to the government for several hundred black bass and other fish and will establish a fishery of no small proportions. On the waters of this lake he will place several boats, one of which will be a steam launch. Near the lake he will erect a fine pavilion, large enough in capacity to accommodate the crowds on all occasions. He will add everything necessary to make it a pleasure resort superior to anything of the kind in Texas. He has commenced the preliminaries and aims to open this big establishment by next season.

MACEDONIAN "REFORMS."

Reference is occasionally made to the scheme of so-called reforms recently prescribed for the Macedonian administration by Austria-Hungary and Russia and, it is understood, accepted by the Sublime Porte. It is said that the Macedonians thould have accepted these reforms in latisfaction of their demands, or at least should have given them a fair trial before resorting to rebellion, says the New York Tribune. There is reason to believe that the Bulgarian conspirators, led by Sarafoff and others, feared that the Macedonians would do so, and for that reason and in order to prevent such a settlement they hastened the outbreak. On the other hand, it is pretty well known that the Albanians and others started disturbances against the reforms, regarding them as entirely too favorable to the Christians. It may be worth while to recall what those reforms were.

The chief proposition was that there should be an inspector general, appointed for three years, with practically autocratic lot 19. Monis & Bass addition, love powers, to supervise the whole adminis- and affection tration of Macedonia. But it was left for the porte to select and appoint that func tionary, and it was not stipulated that he should be a Christian or favorably disposed toward the Christians. He might be the most fanatical of Moslems. Next it | H. Rosedale addition, $750. was provided that the police and gendspecialists," but the selection of these specialists was also left to the porte. The porte was urged to find means for compelling the Albanians to be lawabiding, but no means were prescribed, mate than any other affliction, cured by and the matter was left entirely to the Prescription No. 2851, by Eimer & Amend. porte's discretion. A general amnesty and jail delivery of all persons under arrest for political offenses were prescribed, but there was no mention of the way in which set for them. Finally, it was advised that the financial administration should be reget each year for each vilayet, that the local needs. But the whole administration was still to be left in the hands of the Turkish officials.

Such were the "reforms," continues the Tribune. In theory, some of them were good. Practically they must be regarded as illusory and inefficient. They did not There was no reason for the Albanians to rise in revolt against them, lest they should deliver Islam into Giaour hands. Neither was there reason for the Bulgarians to rebel in advance, lest the application of them should so satisfy the people as to preclude insurrection thereafter. Not by such vague and colorless suggestions are the troubles of the Balkan to be settled. For all practical purposes the reform scheme may be entirely ignored. It has not gone into effect, and probably will not, and it would have made no material Afference if it had.

A SEXTON'S HABIT

[Original.]

Old Pollock, sexton of St. James' church, and his wife were childless. Mrs. Pollock pined because she had not a girl to keep her company and Pol-

Pollock had a habit of stepping to his door every night before going to bed to take a look at his church, not that he expected to see anything unusualit was a mere matter of habit. His wife told him that it was a habit and begged him to break it up. He gathered his resolution for an effort to do so. This effort took place one night in November. At 10 o'clock Pollock put out the lights in the house and went to bed. This was only the beginning of it. No sleep came to him, and he tossed about struggling with a desire to get up, go to the door and look at the church, after which he knew he would go back to bed and to sleep. It was near 2 o'clock in the morning before he gave way; then, rising, he the church and was about to turn when he saw or thought he saw a flash of light at one of the windows.

THE HANDLEY DANCES

Among the popular amusements indulged in by Fort Worth people during popular approval as the dances given on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights at Lake Eric Park Pavilion. The management has deserved all the success that has attended its efforts to make the dances popular. No reasonable expense has been spared, and in addition, successful efforts have been made to maintain a high standard of patronage. Many of the best people of Fort Worth and Dallas are constantly seen at the dances. Disorder, should any appear, would be immediately suppressed.
