The Texas railroad commission, it is stated at Austin, has been advised that the Rock Island will soon furnish that body with a copy of the trackage agreement.

It is further stated that the agreement includes not only the entry into Galveston, but also the Southern Kansas and the Texas Valley lines and the line west of Albuquerque, N. M.

"DEPUTY JACKSON DID RIGHT," SAYS SHERIFF

Deputy Sheriff Tom Jackson, who fired the shot at a negro who was fleeing from him in the business district of the city yesterday afternoon, one of which shots struck the fugitive in the back, passed through his body and emerged from his action by Sheriff John T. Hones.

"Mr. Jackson did just what I would have desired him to do if I had been present," said Sheriff Hones today. "The negro was running from him and refused to halt when commanded to do so; therefore the deputy stopped him with a bullet."

TURKEY IS UNABLE TO PROTECT LEGATIONS

POWERS ARE ADVISED THE PORTE IS UNABLE TO GUARANTEE THE SAFETY OF DIPLOMATIC REPRESENTATIVES IN CONSTANTINOPLE—GERMANY REGARDS THE SITUATION AS HAVING ASSUMED AN ACUTE PHASE

BERLIN, Sept. 5.—The Turkish government, according to information received from the foreign minister by the Associated Press, has notified the powers the porte cannot guarantee the safety of legations at Constantinople.

This extraordinary statement is communicated without explanation or qualifying details in response to an inquiry as to whether German marines are among those United States Minister Leishman reported as having been landed at Constantinople.

It is rumored here, however, conditions at the Turkish capital are not so bad as the sultan's notification implies, but the legations have been warned to look out for their own safety.

The Associated Press correspondent learned from sources outside of the foreign office that the German government regards the Turko-Balkan affairs as having entered on an acute phase. The porte's inability to take energetic action to hold Macedonia in subjection is checked in the worst feature.

There is unrest in Constantinople. The tendency is decidedly against war, the unrest among the military element and in certain sections, Mussulman, civil population has markedly increased during the last few days.

EMBASSY IN DANGER PARIS, Sept. 5.—Ambassador Constant's latest report from Constantinople says the embassy there is constantly in danger of being attacked by agitators or fanatics, but it does not mention the landing of the marines.

INSANE MAN MAKES THREAT AGAINST HAY

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Francis M. Beuque, 41 years old, photographer, was committed to Bellevue hospital today to be examined as to his sanity.

Beuque had been arrested for writing a letter to Secretary of State John Hay, in which he threatened the secretary if a claim of $41,000 is not paid.

Detective Muller of the Washington police force, who made the arrest, explained that Beuque had been in the photograph business in Hamburg, but to go away with the office, and then by oring out his business at a great sacrifice.

Italians Lose Their Stilletos As They Crowd Through the Doors When the Shooting Commenced—Chase Down Fire Escape for Prisoner

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Angered because his brother-in-law failed to pay money he had loaned to him, Alberto Camelo has shot and probably fatally wounded Joseph Carlo.

Two hundred girls employed in the factory were thrown into a panic by the shooting and rushed out over the body of the wounded man and down the stairway.

Camelo went to the factory, walked to Carlo's machine, touched his brother-in-law on the shoulder and said he wanted to talk with him in the hallway on business.

A policeman heard the shots and ran up the stairway. Camelo jumped through a window and fled down the fire escape.

Several times he attempted to fire at the officer, who was coming down the ladder after him, but the revolver failed to go off.

Fort Worth, Tex., September 5, 1903.

DEAR SIR:

The supply of cattle at this point throughout the week has been very liberal, there being 10,586 head on the market, and it now looks like the Western Texas run has begun in earnest, which will keep us at least equal to the past week's receipts for some months. Many sections in Northern Texas are very dry and cattle owners have been forced to ship for lack of grass and water. A large percentage of the cattle coming are very thin and common, but heavy receipts and lack of rain have put all kinds lower until we are fully 10c lower than last week's close on all kinds. 600-lb. to 800-lb. stoker steers of fairly good quality are selling at from $1.50 to $2.00; 800 to 950-lb. feeders from $2.00 to $2.50; veal calves from $2.00 to $3.25; butcher cows from $1.60 to $2.25 per 100 lbs. It now takes a real choice load of grass cows to bring $2.25 per 100 lbs. If we have rains in the near future we expect to see a marked improvement in the feeder trade and advise the trade to hold back all steers except the well fattened kind until we have had plenty of rain and the oil mills start up.

Hog receipts for the past week were 1,426 head. The market opened Monday steady to strong with last week's close and continued to advance until Wednesday, when top hogs sold for $6.55 for some 236-lb. extra good Oklahoma hogs. This high price was caused however, by the scarcity and outside buyers being on the market, which made competition very strong. On Thursday the market declined 15c to 20c; Friday there was another decline in prices, and today (Saturday) we are quoting our top hogs at from $6.20 to $6.30 for something weighing around 200 lbs.; lighter hogs, $6.00 to $6.20. The market for stockers continues good at from $5.00 to $6.00 per 100 lbs., according to weight and quality.

Sheep receipts for the past week were 915 head. We could sell some good sheep at from $3.00 to $3.25; good lambs, $3.50 to $3.75; stockers, $2.00 to $2.50 per 100 lbs.

We give below a few of our representative sales for the past week:

WEEK'S ENDING IS LIFELESS

No Southern Cattle Received This Morning—Hog Market Closes Steady

NORTH FORT WORTH, Sept. 5.—The first week of September after breaking the record for receipts and sales, closed dully, with no Southern cattle received. Trading this morning was confined to a few left-overs and some feeder steers. Several loads of cars were received in the northern pens for feeding and reshipment. The cattle market for the week ends steady with a loss for the week of 15 cents. Good fat fed steers weighing from 1,100 to 1,200 pounds are quotable at $2.75 to $2.90. Best grass steers weighing from 950 to 1,050 pounds will bring from $2.00 to $2.50. A load of extra fat cows brought $2.65 one day during the week, but quotations for the best averaging from $2.25 to $2.50. Medium weight cows running from 850 to 900 pounds are worth from $1.90 to $2.15. Poor grassers will bring all the way from $1.00 to $1.40. The best calves will sell at from $3.00 to $3.25 with the average sort fetching from $2.75 to $3.00.

Hogs put in a very uncertain week, but the close is strong. $5.30 was paid for a load averaging 191 pounds, and of the sort the packers paid top prices for three weeks ago. Since then heavier hogs have been more favored, but the medium weight stuff this morning brought as good a price as a load of 232-pound stuff. Outside buyers, however, are still on the market and quotations are hard to make.

The demand for sheep runs about a car load per day while good prices will be paid for fat stuff, poor and medium grade mutton is not wanted at any price. Yesterday some 72-pound sheep brought $2.50 and this morning 179 head averaging 84 pounds brought $3.00. Sheep have been much higher lately on the Chicago market, but prices here compare favorably with those paid anywhere and muttons will bring all they are worth here.

Cattlemen looking for feeders are sticking rather closely these days to the yards here and it is doubtful if a shipper having any feeders for sale could find a better market for them at the present time than is offered in Fort Worth. This morning, W. A. Briggs of Waxahachie bought thirty-seven steers averaging 750 pounds at $2.40 and paid $2.35 for eight head averaging 754. He also bought ten head averaging 922 at $2.40. John Farmer bought a small bunch of steers yesterday for feeding near this city, and buying of feeders during the week has been more active than for some time.

STOCK YARDS NOTES
T. W. McCullough of Porter, Tex., had eighty-two hogs, averaging 195, which brought $6.25 this morning.
Two car loads of mixed stuff, mostly cows, were bought at the yards this morning for J. Stein of Minco, I. T., who will feed them at that place. The price paid is understood to have been in the neighborhood of $1.50 per 100.
D. Sherman of Big Springs sent in nine car loads, 203 head of mixed hogs consigned to different feeders at Balco, Mo., to the northern pens today for feeding before reconignment.
R. L. Marshall, who has been employed at the yards as tagger, has resigned his position with the bureau of animal industry and has gone to Galveston to accept a position in the treasury department of the United States custom house.
Nothing further regarding the wireless telegraph instrument received at the office of Armour & Co. has been heard at the local office of the company. The instrument is as much of a mystery as ever and remains untouched, waiting further instructions or else a representative of the De Forrest company.

NEWS OF EVENTS AT STATE CAPITAL

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 5.—Adjutant General Hulen is formulating plans for an advanced movement in the organization of the Texas National Guard, which will not only lend interest to the state's military forces, but greatly increase the efficiency of the guard at the same time by rendering it much more complete.

It is proposed to organize an engineering corps in strict accordance with military regulations. The corps will consist of about forty men, under the direction of an experienced officer, and will have charge of the railways, pontoon bridges, abutments, fortifications and defensive works of this kind.

The plan is to give instruction in military works of this kind, just as is given to the other troops in other departments, and the engineering corps will be on the same basis with other companies.

The corps will be equipped with the most modern appliances, and organized on the most modern methods.

General Hulen does not think the engineering corps will necessarily increase the clerical force in his department.

The plans have not been fully crystallized. When such has been done an announcement will be made.

BANK IS ALL RIGHT
Ex-Gov. J. Lee Hogg arrived in Austin yesterday from Beaumont in his usual form of good cheer and buoyancy.

From the number of his friends who called at his apartments at the Avenue to shake hands with him his magnetism and popularity has not evaporated altogether.

"By gads, I am not going to open my mouth about farmers' organizations or politics while I am in Austin, so you reporters save your breath by not asking me questions."

"All right," a representative of The Telegram said; "let's talk a little business. How about the officers of the Citizens' National bank, of which you were a director?"

"All hunked-dore-ree, I am confident that all the depositors in the bank will be paid 100 cents on the dollar. To accomplish this will require some little time, and to get the affairs of the institution in shape."

Governor Hogg will remain here for a day or so before returning to Beaumont.

POLITICAL SLATE MAKERS
Slate makers and politicians around Austin are busy guessing, speculating and surmising as to the final conclusions now being tried in the field of politics, special reference being had to the position of attorney general. Up to date there are three avowed candidates, D. E. Simmons, Sherman, now in the department, Senator R. V. Davidson of Galveston and L. S. Schluter of Jefferson.

Some self-styled omniscient political slate-makers have written the name of Judge Schluter, some Judge Simmons and

WHEN WOMEN PLEAD TRUE MEN RESPOND

I wish to congratulate "New Comer" on his article in today's paper. It touched upon a question that has seriously annoyed nearly every lady in Fort Worth. I have myself experienced all the sensations of disgust at the fearful sanitary conditions of our public streets so graphically described by your contributor of today.

Being a woman I find it very much more difficult to make my way through the crowds of idle and shiftless men on Main and Houston streets than I would if I were a man. Evidences of the use of tobacco I have found on every sidewalk on Main street and it is literally true that I have sometimes had to be careful where I placed my feet, to say nothing of the risk of soiling my skirts. I believe that I voice the sentiment of every woman in the city when I bid you God speed in your work of giving the people a chance to express themselves freely and on so vital a subject as the public health.

I have lived in larger cities than Fort Worth where paved streets were kept clean, where men were arrested for expectorating on the sidewalks, and where various men and women, both negroes and whites, were made to know their place. I blush to mention the fact that I have even had occasion with my two daughters to pass that portion of Main street where negroes congregate so freely. We had to elbow our way through and endure the brazen stares of hideous black men and more horrible women. I shall not again pass that way, much less permit my children to do so.

If such things are remedied elsewhere, can they not be remedied here? I know nothing of the city laws or police customs, but I do know that being forced to live in Fort Worth because of my husband's business, I should prefer to do so under passable sanitary conditions and less risk of insult when my duties force me to traverse your streets.

I have met many people who, like myself, have recently come to Fort Worth and I have been told that there are thousands more. I do not doubt that nearly all of these recent additions to your population are used to better things where they came from, and I modestly suggest that it is not unreasonable for us to ask for sanitary conditions that are certainly not impossible.

I am glad to see in my adopted home a paper like The Telegram, with men quick witted enough to so thoroughly grasp the situation as was evinced by your timely editorial of today, and remember that we women appreciate your good work.

I do not think it necessary to give my real name, so I will simply subscribe myself,

A WOMAN OF FORT WORTH.

PASSENGERS CLIMB FROM CAR WINDOWS

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 5.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Oregon, Ill., says: The St. Paul and Minneapolis limited which left Chicago at 6:30 on the Burlington road, was wrecked early today half a mile east of Chana, near this city. The fireman was thrown from his engine and instantly killed. The passengers received a severe shaking up and were badly scared, but none of them was seriously injured. Most of those in the sleeping cars climbed out of the windows. The engineer jumped and escaped with slight hurts.

Spreading rails were responsible for the accident, which happened when the train was making about thirty-five miles an hour. The engine, mail car and combination smoker and buffet car were thrown into the ditch. The two Pullman sleeping cars were derailed and thrown crosswise the track, but they remained upright.

Bob Hobart of Chicago, a passenger in the coach next to the rear, said that the rails were torn up and three of the four cars ahead were thrown across a ditch. He said the women were taken from the sleepers through the window. One mail clerk was buried under a mass of clay and it took some time to dig him out. The engine lay on its side in the ditch.

The attraction at Lake Erie last night was a walking contest between a professional—C. Baker—and five amateurs—Frank L. Utley, Solon Milten, Erik C. Baldwin, Edward Brande and T. S. Lange—and the sport furnished the audience, which included about 300 people, was thoroughly enjoyed.

In the eleventh round and crossed the tape in a trot. His finish was declared a foul by the judges. Baldwin was the last of the amateurs to enter the contest and started off on his sprint in regular professional style, walking side by side with Baker up to the eighth round, when he weakened.

GRIDIRON WARRIORS PREPARE FOR FRAY

With the coming of the first of September the hero of the gridiron once more returns to his home and unpacks his former uniform and paraphernalia, preparatory for the coming season. Some of the old equipment has now to be passed on to his younger brother, however, and with a bright recollection of former battles for his Alma Mater the modern player passes on his hard leather head-dress and other protections required by the new rule to his younger but aspiring brother.

A few of the colleges of the middle west which desire an undisputed championship for their trophy halls are already at work. The University of Illinois candidates are taking advantage of the cool weather of the week and are having preliminary practice. Spring Lake, Mich., 250 miles from the influence of the university buildings at Urbana, Ill., is the chosen battlefield of the Illinois. Thirty-five candidates, members of last year's squad, and a few of the promising freshmen, are receiving instruction from Coach Woodruff. The former Pennsylvanian is a firm believer in the conditioning of his men by light work for a couple of weeks before the opening of school.

The practice consists largely of kicking, catching and running down punts and getting under quarter-back kicks. Coach Woodruff looks after all the details and has brought a megaphone into use in coaching. He says that it is a great help when the men are scattered over the field.

The candidates for the Minnesota team are engaged in work at Clear Lake, Minn., some thirty miles from Minneapolis. A glance over the candidates shows that the Gopher team will be as big and powerful as usual. The reason for the early campaigning out of the Gophers is the Michigan game, which comes so early in the season.

Purdue has also quit the native state and has sent her Indiana Champions to the Tippecanoe river in Michigan, where many candidates are at work.

The remainder of the middle west teams have chosen Monday for their coming out days. The best piece of news for any of the western teams during the week was given to the adherents of the Wisconsin cardinal when Roy Chamberlain, the big guard of the 1899 and 1900 teams, announced his determination to return. He probably will be used at center to fill Skow's place.

Northwestern will again strive desperately to make good her right to be included among the "Big Nine." During the summer letters have been sent to different high school players which have borne quite a little fruit. Men from Illinois and the surrounding country and men as far north as Rochester, Minn., have signified their intentions of reporting Monday.

The Iowa, Wisconsin, Northwestern, Indiana and Michigan teams will commence work the beginning of the week.

JEFFRIES' OFFER

Champion Jim Jeffries' offer to stop Jack Monroe in four rounds and falling to do so forfeit $10,000 has not as yet been accepted by the sturdy ex-miner. The proposition is by thousands of dollars the best inducement ever held out to a fighter, or a would-be fighter, and if Jack knows on which side his bread is buttered he should jump at the offer.

It is only a year ago since Monroe bounded into fame by standing up four rounds before the champion, and on the strength of his so doing he was the talk of the pugilistic world. His press agent and manager, Clark Ball, did not overlook a trick where he could show him off to the best advantage without taking a chance of puncturing his reputation as a boxer.

He did stack him up against a few wrestling games, in which he showed about as good, but no better, than other big men. He was clever enough to sidetrack him from the fighters, so the sporting public today is no better acquainted with his fistie abilities than it was before he came into prominence. There was some talk of his fighting Tom Sharkey at Butte last June, but that, like last year's snow, is a thing of the past.

What the fight follows now want of him, that is if he intends to remain in the center of the pugilistic game, is to come out and declare himself. Not as to offering counter propositions to Jeffries' $10,000 gift if he can repeat his Butte performance, but to accept it. There is not one man other than probably Monroe himself that believes he has one chance in a thousand to defeat Jeffries, but there are quite a number that would bet on him staying four rounds. Not on the strength of his ability as a fighter, but from the fact he may, by holding, slipping to the floor for limit counts, and indulging in other evasive tactics, worry through the four three-minute sessions. A match under those conditions would cause considerable interest, but at that the champion would be a top heavy favorite. Monroe is the biggest man in slight, excepting probably Sandy Ferguson, to hook up with Jeff, and the short end of the purse for him, not speaking of the extra $30,000 if he lives through four rounds, is not to be sneezed at. Jack had better make haste before the champion changes his mind and ignores him entirely.

ABOUT LOU DILLON

One would have thought that when the two-minute trotter, long hoped for in vain, arrived, harness horsemen would have been satisfied for the balance of the season, at least. Not so, however. Millard Sanders, who drove the first trotter that ever went the mile in two minutes flat, has no hesitation in expressing the opinion that great little Lou Dillon can clip another second or so from the record, and with the consent of Mr. Billings, the owner of the grand mare, he will send her over the line in 1:59 or better before he goes into a winter quarters. And there are many who saw the splendid performance at Readville who believe he can do it.

This has been a great season for the harness brigade, with both the pacing and trotting records beaten, and by animals that had plenty of go left when the feats were performed.

THE CHAMPION RUNNERS

While the supremacy of the harness world has been definitely settled, and a new king and queen duly crowned, the question as to which is the greatest of the runners is a settlement. If anything, the situation is more complicated than ever. It looked for a while as though Hermis and McChesney would meet at Saratoga. Both animals were declared on entry, and a great crowd gathered to see them try conclusions. But the very elements seem to be in the conspiracy to keep the top-notchers apart, for on the day set for the race, the floods came and beat upon the track. Shields and Smathers very properly declined to let Hermis and Big Mac race in mud fetlock deep, and there was another disappointment. Both owners are anxious for a match, and when Shields proposed a sweepstake of $5,000 or $10,000 a side, provided the Coney Island Jockey Club would hang up a similar amount, Smathers jumped at the chance. It was not to be, however, for the club promptly squelched the scheme by declining to be a party to the race. It may be set down as practically settled that there will be no special races arranged for the five horses who are considered the very best.

Much interest is felt among eastern horsemen in Dick Welles. Such good judges of a race horse as John W. Gates and his son Charles G. Gates, Charles H. Erb, Carroll Reid, Joseph Yeager, Woodford Clay and Charles R. Ellis, who believe that Respass has in Dick Welles the fastest horse the American turf has seen in many seasons.

DUFFY IS AFTER GARDNER

Marlin Duffy, the champion welterweight, had in Chicago clamored for a fifteen-round fight with Gas Gardner, who secured a ten-round draw the other night in Saginaw, Mich.

"I could only get a fifteen-round match with him," said Duffy. "I would agree to put him out in that time or forfeit $1,000. This proposition is based, of course, on the theory that we can get a competent and honest referee, neither of which is James Fallon, who refereed the contest Monday night."

Harry Gilmore, Jr., Duffy's manager, is also loud in his complaints. "If ever there was a robbery that was, it's this," he says. "It looks to me as if the Gardner party bought over the referee. Any fair-minded person who was at the ringside could plainly see that Duffy had Gardner beat at all stages of the game, and to do the bout a draw." "Duffy throughout the fight jabbed at Gardner's face and head, and to save himself in the mixups Gardner would repeatedly clinch. This is how he managed to stay the ten rounds."

"BIG MAC'S" LITTLE BROTHER

Indications are that the Oots Bros., Cincinnati turfmen, operating on the St. Louis tracks, have sprung another turf star. Oots Bros. bred the great McChesney.

First Mason is the name of the latest sensation, and he is a half brother to McChesney, being by First Mate-Manola Mason.

First Mason made his first start as a 3-year-old at Kinloch on August 22. The race was at a mile and he galloped the entire distance, winning pulled up in 1:43 3/4.

Three days later he was again entered at the same distance, with a better class of horses. Though he fell to his knees when the barrier went up, he managed to negotiate the distance in 1:41, and won by three lengths in an ordinary gallop. The time equals the record for the track.

First Mason started thirteen times as a 2-year-old, but, like his half brother, McChesney, showed nothing out of the ordinary.

He was campaigned on the northern circuit and at Latonia. His first start was at Fort Erie, when he finished fourth, four lengths behind Reservation, Duke Dashaway and Not Wisely, over a heavy track.

In his third out, over a fast track, he earned brackets from an ordinary field. Later in the season he recorded another victory, making it two out of thirteen trials. He was second twice and third three times.

Since the 1902 season closed Oots Bros. have been the horse under cover, and nothing was known of him until he was entered at Kinloch.

First Mason is built much on the same lines as McChesney. He is a trifle over sixteen hands high, but his excellent conformation makes him appear considerably smaller. In his two starts he has proven that he has speed and stamina. If his gameness is on a par with his other qualities, then, indeed, the turf has another star of the first magnitude.

After his second performance Pat Civil, owner of Sambo and other good ones, offered Oots Bros. $8,000 for the colt, but they refused to consider the proposition. The chances are he will bring double that amount when he leaves their barn.

THE KNOCK-OUT BLOW

Inasmuch as all boxing contests which terminate speedily are, as a rule, ended by a blow on the point of the jaw, the physiology of it is of great interest. A man struck with any degree of force upon the mental area of the jaw, although he may be in perfect physical condition, instantly collapses and falls to the ground. The attitude assumed in recovery, which may be instantaneous or delayed, some minutes, is most characteristic. He squirms about, raises his head, and rolls his eyes in an attempt to locate himself. He endeavors to rise upon his hands and knees. If he regains his feet he staggers like a drunken man, and should be prodded to reopen hostilities he is usually promptly "put out" by his adversary. The blow is practically never fatal, the heart's action is never unduly accelerated, the pulse and respiration are normal, the pupils are normal; there is no headache, no sweats, no cold extremities, no pallor—none of the ordinary signs of shock or concussion.

James G. Duncanson (British Medical Journal, April 4, 1903) believes the condition to be due entirely to a shaking up of the endothelium in the semi-circular canals. When the blow is administered there is a violent overtwisting of the head, which is held in its ante-posterior position by muscles which, compared with those inflicting the blow, are small and puny. The result is that the head flies around with a jerk and the fluid in the canals is subjected to a great disturbance. There is little reason to doubt that this is the interesting pathology of the well known but little understood coup de grace.—Medical News.

Music and Drama

The Hoyt comedy company presents "A Legal Wrong" better than any play which has been given by them this last week. The cast is stronger in this performance than throughout its entire five acts the audience is delighted with the unfolding of an interesting plot. Mr. Kelley is well suited to the lead in this play and the part which Miss Chandler has given her a fine opportunity to show her ability. She gowns the part beautifully.

The specialties were again a delightful feature of the performance. Arthur Browning in his dancing captured the audience. They are one of the best specialty teams on the road and the pleasure of those who see them is expressed by the continued applause which greets them.

When the performance had finished the contest between amateurs was arranged for. The judges were Dr. Brown, Marshall Spooner and James Hays Quarles.

The following took part in the children's class: Marguerite Bell, Bessie McKillen, Arthur Machtet, Margaret Johns, Bettie Barnes and Vera Graham, who each sang, and Fay Beck, who gave a recitation. All the children acquitted themselves well and received much applause, but the judges presented the prize to little Bessie McKillen, a pupil of Christine Pauline Stevenson, who both danced and sang, and the audience occurred in the judges' view.

In the adult class Miss Willie May Hunter rendered some illustrated songs. Miss Grace Twining sang and Charlie Ridge and Pat Burns gave a hilarious boxing match in barrels that simply convulsed the audience. Miss Twining, another pupil of Miss Stevenson's, secured the prize in this event, and again the audience was fully satisfied.

After the contest Baby Dot and the McFadden sisters gave specialties. Baby Dot received quite a number of coins, which were thrown to her from the audience.

THE HOLDEN COMEDY COMPANY

The Holden comedy company will make its first appearance at Greenwall's opera-house Monday night (Labor day), Sept. 7, presenting for the initial play, the Holden Brothers' special production

"Nobody's Claim." This old-time favorite has been before the public for a quarter of a century and has pleased more people than any play of its class now before the public. With a story of strong heart interest, replete with comedy and sensation, it is a production bound to please. It will be presented with special scenery and all accessories just the same as used by their big city production. A cast of unusual excellence has been secured for its presentation and will serve to show the strongest points of the Holden organization in this class of drama. John A. Preston will head the cast and is well known here. The plays to follow during their stay here will be announced later.

Katherine Field, who is well known throughout the East, is also with the Holden company.

Matinees are to be given daily at 2:30. Change of bill at each performance.

On Monday (Labor day) a special matinee will be given on which occasion "Forgiven" will be presented.

MOBILES FOR MAIL DELIVERY

LONDON, September 5.—The London post office authorities are engaged in an interesting experiment with a view to determining whether motor mail vans can be depended upon to give a more efficient service than the present horse-drawn vehicles. So far as the experiments have proceeded, it is evident that the horse will be slowly, but surely superseded by the motor. The first motor-van to be called into requisition was an electrically propelled vehicle, which was utilized to carry parcels from the general post office to Redhill. After some initial trouble the service was maintained in an admirable fashion. A petroleum driven vehicle was also put on trial route, and so far has not given the slightest trouble. The officials state this experimental service will undoubtedly lead to something permanent, although years may elapse before the horse vans are entirely superseded. As to the merits of electricity and petroleum for the vehicles, it is evident that both are equally reliable, so far as the postoffice experience goes.

PANHANDLE PRODUCTS FOR WORLD'S FAIR

A portion of the agricultural display that was collected up in the panhandle country by P. Graham, who has charge of the agricultural department of the Texas world's fair commission, has been opened up and placed on exhibition at collection headquarters on lower Jones street, which includes a fine display of fruits, cereals, etc., which were secured from points along the Denver road, commencing at Amarillo.

Much of the display will open the eyes of the incredulous when they visit the world's fair. Among some of the stuff collected by Mr. Graham is a splendid showing of corn, some of which is more than eighteen feet tall, well supplied with ears. Another collection is stalks of sorghum that stand fourteen feet in the air and were raised in the Wichita country.

A pumpkin weighing seventy-two pounds was raised by J. A. Frazier, near Henrietta, and is a monster.

Some of the other displays are wheat, rye, oats, barley, corn, some of which comes from the upper plains country, but a majority of it is from the Wichita country. In the vicinity of the irrigating plant, consequently will be very valuable as an advertising method to show the great possibilities of practical irrigation in Texas.

Mr. Graham brought with him some excellent samples of kafir corn and milo maize, which are to be used in decorating the Texas building, and also to be used for exhibition purposes.

Possibly the most interesting display brought in by Mr. Graham was that of macaroni wheat, which is the product of samples brought to this country by the government for the express purpose of testing the growth and durability of this class of cereal, which can only be used in the manufacture of macaroni. Those who have seen the display pronounce it an excellent product.

Mr. Graham says that the farmers in the upper panhandle country are raising great quantities of kafir corn, as they have discovered it is excellent feed and gives satisfaction. Many farmers and stockmen are feeding it almost exclusively, with excellent results. It is the intention of the Texas world's fair commission to make an extra showing of this Texas product at the exposition.

Another species of the kafir corn is known as Jerusalem corn, which grows luxuriantly in the panhandle. Mr. Graham brought with him a fine exhibit of this, which is being shaped up for the world's fair.

One of the prettiest displays brought from the panhandle, was made up of the various grasses that grow up in that country in great profusion. Among some of the varieties are sage, blue and Johnson grass. Besides these there are several other varieties. These will be arranged in as attractive a manner as possible.

Alfalfa grows in abundance in the Amarillo country, and Mr. Graham has an excellent display of it for the Texas exhibit. He also secured some excellent samples of cotton in Hall and Donley counties, which will compare favorably with the staple grown in the old cotton-growing districts of the state.

Probably the best display of products from the panhandle country includes fruits, among which are the Elberta peaches from the Clarendon country. They are as fine as those which come from East Texas. Perfect in color and size.

The display of onions, squash, etc., from Clay county is very fine.

Mr. Graham says that he visited all the county seats between Fort Worth and Amarillo on the Denver road, and believes that he succeeded in getting displays of the principal products of the panhandle. He secured enough, at any rate, to make a fine display.

He will adopt the plan of using every road radiating from Fort Worth, and within the next few weeks will make trips out over all these lines, when he will endeavor to interest the people in the work of having Texas properly represented at the world's fair in so far as the products of Texas soil are concerned.

Mr. Graham will start next week on a trip through South Texas to secure displays from the rice fields of that part of the state, besides samples of tobacco and ribbon cane. He will also visit the Palestine fair, and if possible secure several of the displays that will be shown at that point.

The work, he says, is growing in interest among the Texas people, and believes that by the time the Texas exhibit is ready to be shipped to St. Louis no other state will surpass Texas.

General Manager Wortham of the Texas world's fair commission is in the city today. He said to The Telegram that he was endeavoring to bring about a reversal of the ruling of Chief Colburn, who has practically shut out from exhibition range cattle from the southwest, particularly from Texas. It is Mr. Wortham's opinion that he will have the ruling so modified that Texas cattle may be seen at the world's fair as they should be seen.

He had a conference while here with several of the Texas commissioners and returned to Dallas during the afternoon.

tion of the laws. It is impossible for us to separate our religious and our civil duties. In our country the people make the laws. They feel that this maladministration is wrong; that it does not represent their will. Ordinarily the people submit to the laws of these crimes, a crime that can hardly be defined, is committed, the people cannot always wait. They will not always wait. And who is to blame? This crime under the Mosaic law was punished with death, and there seems to have been no city of refuge provided, but the avenger slew the offender wherever found."

NEWS FROM CLEBURNE

CLEBURNE, Texas, Sept. 3.—There has from time to time been rumors that the Santa Fe contemplated making extensive improvements on their Weatherford division. The new superintendent, Mr. F. G. Pettibone, has made two recent trips over the branch from Cleburne and this seems to indicate there is truth in the rumors. One improvement to be made certainly is replacing the rails for those off the Beaumont division.

NEWS FROM AUSTIN

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 4.—State Health Officer Tamm writes the department from Monterey that he had left for Laredo, where he would look after quarantine matters.

The railroad commission ordered a "cabin interlocking" plant constructed at the intersection of the Sugarland and the Southern Pacific railways at Monterey. The state board of education made an appropriation of $500 for a manual training department of the Austin and Sherman public schools at a meeting today.

At a meeting of the labor unions of Austin last night "white plumes" for the Labor day parade next Monday were viciously and inexorably tabooed.

A STABBING AFFRAY

DALLAS, Texas, Sept. 4.—Jim Price, a negro, was stabbed in the abdomen, it is believed fatally, during an affray at Carroll avenue and Live Oak street last night. An affidavit charging Mose Taylor with assault to murder has been sworn out.

Sheriff Mason of Hunt county came to Dallas today to get Jim Price, wanted at Greenville on various charges.

Sheriff Mason says prohibition went into effect "good and hard" all over Hunt county yesterday.

THE NEW RUSSIAN SAINT

A most profound impression upon the Russian masses is being made produced by the participation of the czar and grand dukes in the stately removal of the relics of St. Seraphim from their temporary resting place in one of the churches of the monastery to the new marble tomb in which they are now permanently enshrined in the Uspensky cathedral at Saroff. His majesty and his imperial relatives all assisted in carrying the cedar-wood coffin through the vast crowds of kneeling and ecstatic worshippers. The czar, the czarina and the dowager empress were early and late at prayers in the monastery throughout their stay; they partook of holy communion together with the rest of the congregation, and they formed the central group at all the elaborate services, and in the processions gorgeously apparelled clergy and choristers outside the churches. The rich vestments covered with gold and silver embroidery which were worn by the metropolitan of St. Petersburg, the bishop and other priestly dignitaries present were the gift of the czar for this particular occasion.

Erigerand General Samuel S. Sumner, who becomes a major general this week, was on the staff of his father, General E. V. Sumner, during the campaign in Virginia in the '60s and was conspicuous for his bravery at the battle of Antietam.

THE GENUINE VS. COUNTERFEITS

The genuine is always better than a counterfeit, but the truth of this statement is never more forcibly realized or more thoroughly appreciated than when one compares the genuine De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve with the many counterfeits and worthless substitutes that are on the market. W. S. Ledbetter of Shreveport, La., says: "After using numerous other remedies without benefit, one box of De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me." For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles no remedy is equal to De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve. Sold by druggists.

LIFE'S UNCERTAINTIES

"While in Peckskill I went to call on two old friends—a widow and a maiden lady," said Chauncey Depew.

Said the widow: "Well, I married when I was quite young. My husband died and I had him cremated. In about two years I married again; he died and I had him cremated. I married a third time and lived to cremate him."

"Ah," answered the maiden lady, "wonderful are the ways of Providence. Here I've lived all these years and never have been able to get married to one man and you've had husbands to burn."

Men Who Do and Don't

Men, after all, are, and always will be, of two kinds—the men who accomplish and the men who don't. The other day there was an important conference at the office of one of the biggest men in American finance. It began early in the morning, and at noon it was not concluded. Promptly at half past 12 the clerks went out to lunch. The financier apologized to one of his stenographers for keeping him ten minutes after his regular hour—indeed, if it had occurred often the stenographer would have indignantly sought another position. He did not, however, apologize to the other seven or eight millionaires who sat about his desk until well after 7 o'clock, with no thought of luncheon or dinner. These men were willing to make the sacrifice which success demands, says the Cosmopolitan. There is no dearth of openings for the man who will fit himself to accomplish. The fact is that the development of business has been more rapid than the development of men, and today there is a greater need of men of the right sort than ever, and every great business is looking for them.

Pumice Stone For Building. Pumice stone is used for building purposes in the Canary islands, where it is difficult and expensive to procure stone of any other description. The loose cinder dug from the sides of the volcanic cones is also used for the manufacture of huge blocks of concrete for the harbor works at Las Palmas and Santa Cruz. Pumice stone was originally used for the dome of the mosque of St. Sophia on account of its lightness, but even this proved to be unsafe, and the building has been reconstructed.

In Ceylon the most useful building stone is "craobok," a species of pumice. Scientifically it is known as laterite and occurs in beds lying between basaltic and other lava flows, from the decomposition of which it has resulted. At the foot of Vesuvius there are large building quarries of basaltic lava, and at the same spot, as well as near Rome, a volcanic ash or pumice called "pozzolana" is wrought for the same purpose.

Too Clever For Exclusion. Thomas B. Reed often related an incident which happened when he first sought to be admitted to the bar. Mr. Reed and a young southerner were before Judge Wallace of the state supreme court to be quizzed on their knowledge of the law. Turning first to the southerner the judge asked abruptly, "Is the civil rights bill constitutional?" "No, sir," replied the young man. Turning to Reed, the judge pronounced the same question. "Yes, sir," replied Reed. Whereupon Judge Wallace looked gravely from one to the other before he spoke. "You are both admitted," he finally announced. "Two young men who can handle constitutional questions in an offhand manner like that can't be kept out of the bar."

The Case Stated. "Did U. Miss. Mc., Pa.," said the loving and convalescent wife, "when I was so ill? I had to have the M. D."

"More than tongue Kan, tell," replied the husband. "Not for the Ind. would I have it so again."

"La," said the wife. "I hope the woman did the Wash. all right. When I get out, I'm afraid I'll look like I came out of the Ark. And all that Mass. of stuff the doctor gave me! O, you must take me to Del.'s and let me have a feast Ala, curte."

And then he sadly thought that even in the sacredness of home there are Conn. games.—Baltimore American.

At the Matrimonial Office. Agent—Now, please state what conditions you require on the part of the lady.

Suitor—A pleasant exterior, 20,000 marks dowry, domestic training and 6 1/2 size gloves.

Agent—May I ask why you fix upon the last named condition?

Suitor—Well, you see, a few years ago I won six pairs of ladies' gloves, 6 1/2 size, in an exhibition lottery, and you can't expect me to throw them away.—From the German.

Juvenile Theology. Two little girls, aged respectively six and eight years, were discussing religious matters, relates the Christian Register. The older one said to her sister, "Which would you rather do, live or die and go to heaven?"

"Why," the young one said, "I would rather live." Whereupon the older one burst out with the emphatic question, "Sarah B., what does your religion amount to?"—Troy Times.

Well Behaved. Mother—I don't like the looks of that boy I saw you playing with on the street. You must not play with bad little boys, you know.

Son—Oh, he ain't a bad little boy, mamma. He's a good little boy. He's been to the reform school two times, and they've let him out each time on account of good behavior.

A Sense of Certainty. "Is you sio' he loves you?" asked Miss Miami Brown.

"Is I sho'?" rejoined the other pittingly. "Is I sho'! Didn't he refuse a invitation to a dog fight so's he could come a-courtin' las' Wednesday night?"—Washington Star

SHOW WOMEN ARE OLDER

Statistics Cause Commotion Among Female Students at Midway University CHICAGO, Sept. 4.—Dean Tufts of the University of Chicago has nearly lost his popularity with the women students of his institution as a result of statistics of the senior class which he read at the senior class exercises. The figures which caused the commotion among the women are as follows:

Men, Women. Average age of class... 25 1/2 28 1/2 Medium age of class... 25 30 "It isn't true," exclaimed one coed. "That table of ages is incorrect. I know."

"But I collected the ages from the students themselves," replied the dean. "See, here is your own reply to my inquiry, and you acknowledge 32 years."

"How careless of me," was the reply. "I meant to have put down 23 and I got the figures twisted."

"Well, it's too late to correct that now," said the dean, and the coed went away almost crying with mortification. The entire student body had assembled in the chapel of the university to listen to the class day exercises of the graduating class. Several speeches of farewell on the part of the faculty and the under classes had been made to the departing seniors when Dean Tufts rose to read the class statistics. The figures showed that there are sixty-seven candidates for degrees this summer, forty of whom are women. The number of men and women in each department of the university was recorded and a table of the "intended occupations" was read. Then came the figures on ages.

The revelation that the women of the graduating class are older than the men was received first in silence, which soon changed to a broad smile, deepening into a shout of laughter. The women graduates glanced first at the male members of the class, then at each other and finally at the floor. Most of them flushed and only the few whose youth was of a quality to be unquestioned went through the ordeal unflushed.

AN INCENDIARY FIRE President of Barkeepers' Union Dead in the Ruins

BEAUMONT, Texas, Sept. 4.—It has developed that the fire which burned the saloon at the corner of Crockett and Trinity streets this morning was incendiary in origin and Karl Elmquist, whose body was found in the ruins, had been murdered. His clothing was bloody, and there is evidence that the room had been saturated with oil. The dead man had a roll of money last night and was to have left for St. Louis this morning. He was president of the Barkeepers' union.

FIRES INTO WEDDING PARTY

Kenosha Youth Shoots at Sister's Husband at Altar in Her Home WENOSHA, Wis., Sept. 4.—One of the most tragic events ever known in Kenosha occurred at the home of R. H. Marshall, in Emery street, when a son, Earl Marshall, 29 years of age, fired two shots into a wedding party. It is supposed he intended to take the life of J. W. Roberts of Dudley, Iowa, who had just been married to Marshall's sister.

In the confusion Marshall ran from the house and escaped. Miss Nellie Marshall was the bride.

and about thirty friends and relatives of the family had gathered to witness the nuptial ceremony. The guests had gathered in the parlor of the house for the ceremony, but the face of young Marshall was missing. He had been asked to attend the ceremony, but on account of his opposition to the wedding had declined the invitation.

Just as the ceremony was concluded, young Marshall entered and began firing. His shots went wild and no one was hurt. One of the bullets whizzed past the head of the groom, narrowly missing the minister, while the other passed over his father's head.

BOLD THIEF IS CAPTURED

Snatches Bills From Teller's Window in Bank, But Falls to Escape MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 4.—A bold sneak thief, thought to be a professional, snatched $500 in bills from the paying teller's window in the German National bank and escaped. He was chased into a basement, captured and the money recovered. He gave the name of George J. Johnston, and it is thought he had a confederate. The bookkeeper and paying teller were both called to the telephone, and then Johnston fished a package of bills through the window with a bent wire. When Bookkeeper Best jumped to the window as he saw the bills vanishing he was confronted by a large revolver in the hands of Johnston.

At the command "throw up your hands" spoken very quietly, Mr. Best dropped to the floor and the thief ran away, closely pursued by bank employees and others. His pursuers, including Barrett store, and Detectives Wallerman, Peck and Mulholland found him hidden there.

Johnston has been identified by Luke Colleen of Chicago as a man wanted there and in New York for bank robberies. His name is supposed to be Bailey, though he has many aliases. He is believed to be the man who robbed Otto Young's store on State street, Chicago, three years ago, and to have lived in that city with "Diamond Lil," a notorious character.

DESERTS BRIDE AT ALTAR

Miss Edith Ganser's Fiance Says Loss of Fortune in Speculation Is Cause MISHAWAKA, Ind., Sept. 4.—Miss Edith Catherine Ganser, daughter of this city's most prominent merchant, and niece of Rev. Father John Ganser, pastor of St. Ignatius church, Chicago, will not become a bride, contrary to expectations. Her affianced husband, Thomas W. Lally, son of a wealthy Michigan millowner, sent her a letter by a special messenger stating that he had lost all his money in stock market operations, and could not marry her on that account.

The young woman, surrounded by many guests from other cities and attired in bridal raiment amidst wedding gifts, is in a state of coma and it is feared the result of the shock will prove serious. Lally had a fortune a year ago. The bans had been published at high mass in the local Catholic church for three Sundays. The unexpected developments created consternation.

DIVINE UPHOLDS LYNCHING

Georgia Preacher Says It is Founded on the Law of Moses MACON, Ga., Sept. 4.—A sensation has been created here by the sermon preached at the East Macon Baptist church by Rev. J. D. Hillier, one of the most eminent Baptist divines in the South, in which he upheld lynch law, declaring that it was much more like the administration of God's law under Moses than the present jury system in vogue in this country with "its never-ending appeals and delays."

Mr. Hillier declared that the present methods of the courts do more to prevent the enforcement of laws than to enforce them and that under them there is no surety of any man's being punished for a crime. He also spoke of the great tendency of pardoning boards to forget a man's crime when worked upon for reasons of political interest. In closing he said:

"In a time like this we need to remember that we are servants of the most high God; that he has placed us here in a free country, and that he has committed to us the making and the execution

ENGLISHMAN KNEW HIM
Chauncey Depew is not above telling a story at his own expense. His latest of that kind is of traveling on an English railroad during his recent trip abroad with Mrs. Depew. In the same little compartment with them was a dull-looking Britisher to whom Chauncey told a story, saying as he finished it: "That is the way that American fellow Depew tells it." The Englishman asked: "What does this Depew look like?" "My dear," said the senator, turning to his wife, "what does Depew look like?" "Very much such a looking man as you are, I imagine." "Surely, madam," remarked the Englishman, with a gesture of sad expostulation, "you don't do your husband justice." Later the senator discovered that the Englishman knew him all the time.

ANDERSON'S WORK WINS THE GAME

Waco Plays Errorless Game,
But Fails to Solve Slants of the Red-Haired Man

In a good exhibition of ball, Dallas again defeated Waco yesterday by a score of 3 to 1. Mulkey who was knocked out of the box in Thursday's game, asked to be allowed to face the local aggregation again, and while his pitching was more effective, he was found for eight safe hits, netting Dallas three earned runs. Johnson who usually makes three swipes at the air is credited with two home runs.

The Orphans could do nothing with Anderson's curves. Wolfe, Rettz and McKay being the only batters who found him for singles.

In the seventh inning Wolfe hit safe and rested on first. Walsh who followed, struck out, but Berry failing to catch the third strike Walsh landed on first ahead of the ball, only to be called out by Mackey. Sullivan objected to this decision and quite a little argument took place. Mackey explaining that by the new rule when first base was occupied and a man struck out, the batter was out regardless of whether or not the catcher caught the ball. Sullivan was still in doubt but Mackey had his way.

Instead of playing on Labor Day as was scheduled, there will be two games on Sunday and Dallas has to win one to cinch the championship.
