DR. E. D. CAPP'S TAKES THE STAND IN TRIAL OF THE HOSKINS CASE TODAY

TELLS OF TORTURES TO WHICH YOUNG MAN WAS SUBJECTED BEFORE HE CAME TOO AT PROTESTANT SANITARIUM

COL. WYNNE TALKS

Much of Sensational Testimony Is Repeated--Crowded Court Room Watches Progress of the Case

The taking of testimony in the case of the state against Mrs. Nellie Hoskins, charged together with her son, with conspiracy to swindle a railroad company, was begun late yesterday afternoon and was continued today.

Colonel Wynne was called to the stand by Judge Seay for the purpose of obtaining from Mr. Carlock an expression as to the change in Hoskins' appearance, but the young man was not to be found about the building, so Mr. Lattimore was compelled to forego the little scene.

Once during the morning--when Mr. Lattimore was reading extracts from Mrs. Hoskins' testimony as given in the civil suit when she and her son obtained a judgment for $35,000--Mrs. Hoskins wept quietly.

THIS MORNING'S SESSION When court opened at 9 o'clock this morning Colonel Wynne again took the stand, Judge Seay asked the privilege of causing the cross-examination of Colonel Wynne until later in the trial, which request was granted.

The re-direct examination then was requested by Mr. Lattimore, asked Colonel Wynne to again tell why he put off exposing the case until the last moment.

"Because I knew if court adjourned, the case would go to the higher court and that in that court it would stand on the record and exposure would not affect the decision of the higher court."

Colonel Wynne then said it was the regret of his life that he did not tell "that unfortunate woman" in his office that if she brought the suit he would expose her, but this was ruled out of the record.

CARLOCK TESTIFIES R. L. Carlock was the next witness. He said in answer to questions that the firm of Carlock & Gillespie was employed by Mrs. Nellie Hoskins to bring suit against the Fort Worth and Rio Grande on September 17, 1902, the accident to Oran Hoskins taking place on the preceding August 25.

Judge Seay objected to the asking of any question of fact as to what occurred between Mr. Carlock and his client, Mrs. Hoskins.

Judge Smith said he was inclined to think the objection not well taken and Judge Seay thereupon argued the matter, elucidating the reasons for his objection.

The objection was overruled. Mr. Carlock then gave the substance of his first conference with Mrs. Hoskins. He told of her describing the alleged accident and that her son was at the sanitarium. She told him of her son's convulsions and said she later had her son become unconscious.

She told him that he was in the hands of the doctors. Her purpose in telephoning to him to come to her residence was satiation was sprung, which was the day before Wynne's statement was made in court.

THIS WAS RULED OUT The question: "Why did you sever your connection with the Hoskins case?" was ruled out, but the witness was permitted to say that the firm of Carlock & Gillespie was no longer connected with the case. He also was permitted to testify that it was after the motion for a new trial was granted that Oran Hoskins came too. He came too several weeks after the motion for a new trial was granted, according to Mr. Carlock's recollection.

He was asked what passed between his firm and Mrs. Hoskins when the firm withdrew from the case and replied that the firm simply informed her it would not be further connected with the case.

The original and amended petitions in the civil suit were offered in evidence. M. Seougaie, stenographer in the Forty-eighth district court, was called to identify his report of Mrs. Hoskins' testimony and Mr. Lattimore then read her testimony as given at the civil trial.

GILLESPIE ON STAND O. W. Gillespie next was put on the stand. He said that the first time he saw Mrs. Hoskins was after the contract between the woman and his firm, by which the firm was to bring suit, had been signed. He saw Oran Hoskins several times preceding both trials. The first time he saw him he appeared to be in a profound sleep or stupor. The expression on his face was between that of an idiot and an infant. His mother arose from his bed, pulling down his lower eyelids, exclaiming that that was the way the doctors did it. She manifested no feeling, but generally in discussing the case would weep and seem greatly disturbed.

Mr. Gillespie referred to the conversation between Colonel Wynne and himself on the day before Wynne made his statement in court and said that immediately after the conversation with Wynne he repaired to the house where Oran Hoskins was stopping. He remarked that Mrs. Hoskins told her son looked more healthy, took a seat where he could watch the expression of the young man's face and then proceeded to make the disclosures to Mrs. Hoskins which Colonel Wynne had made to him. He said that young Hoskins did not appear to realize what he was saying and played with a little pet dog in a childish way, all the while. He noticed that when the dog tried to lick Hoskins' face the latter would flinch and he remarked to Mrs. Hoskins that that was an indication that the boy was improving mentally.

AN INCIDENT At this point there was a little incident. Mr. Gillespie told of Hoskins putting the dog's foot and tail in his mouth. "Did he display any other symptoms of intelligence?" asked Mr. Lattimore. "No, sir," was the reply. Mr. Gillespie said that that was the last time he saw Hoskins until yesterday, when he saw him in the court room.

On cross-examination he was asked by Judge Seay if the civil action was based on the testimony of eye witnesses or on what Mrs. Hoskins said. He replied that it was based on what the eye witnesses said and on what Messrs. Carlock and Gillespie themselves saw and what the doctors said. He said that Hoskins' pulse while at the hospital was very low, but did not remember being told that it was as low as 40.

Dr. E. D. Capps, one of the physicians present when Hoskins was put through the tests at the sanitarium which brought him too, was next called. He said that his connection with the case ceased some months ago; he had not been connected with the case since Hoskins came too.

At this point Judge Seay interrupted and asked permission to question the witness to bring out certain points on which he intended to base objections to the testimony. Permission being granted he proceeded to question Dr. Capps with reference to the so-called "tortures," to which Hoskins was subjected in the operating room at the sanitarium.

"Did you split his feet?" was asked. "No," answered the witness, with a smile. "We tickled his feet and probed them with pins. We also touched the lining of his eye to see if he was under the influence of the ether, and pinched his legs for the same purpose."

DID NOT THINK HIM DYING "Isn't it true that at one time you thought him dying?" "No, sir." "Didn't he become black and blue in the face from the ether administered?" Witness replied that he became dark in the face because Dr. Walker held his hands over his mouth and nose.

"Did you give him strychnine?" "No, sir. We made him believe we were giving him strychnine, but we were only giving him water."

"Was he told you were going to cut his head open?" "We talked of trephining."

"Was he put on the operating table?" "Yes, sir."

CHARGED WITH POSING AS MULTO-MILLIONAIRE'S SON NEW YORK, Oct. 5.--Clippings from several newspapers telling of the escapades of a man who has a habit of calling himself the son of such prominent citizens as J. Pierpont Morgan, Marcus A. Hanna and other wealthy men, seem likely to involve a prisoner of the local police in a tangle with the authorities of several cities.

The man gives his name as Albert L. Brown, and the clippings tell of clever thefts committed all over the country by a man known as Louis C. McDowell. Ho was arrested here while posing in a Fifth avenue shop as J. P. Morgan, Jr. Having selected a $300 opera cloak, he said he would take it along in his carriage and the money would be forwarded from his office. The clerk became suspicious and after some parleying Brown made a dash for the street with the cloak. Two detectives happened nearby and caught him. They believe he is the man referred to in the clippings and that he has operated in Cleveland, Chicago, St. Louis, Milwaukee and many other places.

FRISCO ABOUT TO COMMENCE ITSEXTENSION

Learned Today That Work Between Brady and San Antonio Will Start Soon

While no particulars can be learned here, it is definitely learned that work on the extension of the Frisco from Brady to San Antonio will soon commence. It has been known for some time that the Frisco company contemplated building the road on to the Alamo City, but not until yesterday was it learned that actual work was to commence within a short time. The contractor who is to have charge of the extension, was in Fort Worth and left here yesterday for Brady, where he will take charge of the work personally.

The company has never denied that the extension was to be made, but any details touching the building of the line have always been withheld from the public.

"What was put in his nose?" "A bad smelling gas."

"Wasn't that calculated to smother him?" "No, sir; if you have been initiated into many secret orders you probably know how it smells; it is very bad smelling, but not smothering."

Witness also testified that the physicians consulted among themselves in Hoskins' hearing as to whether they would better notify his mother of his condition. At this point Judge Seay made his objection to the witness being permitted to testify in regard to any confession made by Hoskins, on the ground that if such a confession was made, it was while Hoskins was in duress and suffering torture, and under the law such confessions had no standing.

Adjournment for the noon recess was taken while the argument was in progress.

WYNNE'S TESTIMONY CREATES EXCITEMENT IN THE COURT ROOM

Sensation followed on the heels of sensation when the introduction of testimony was begun yesterday afternoon. When Attorney W. A. Couston had concluded the reading of the lengthy indictment, to which a simple plea of "not guilty" was entered, Judge Smith said: "Who will you have, Mr. Lattimore?" "Call Colonel Wynne," responded the county attorney.

Colonel R. M. Wynne thereupon emerged from a jury room and made his way to the witness stand. He had only interrupted him by saying so loud that nearly every one in the crowded court room could hear:

"That isn't true, Colonel Wynne." Mrs. Hoskins' lawyers turned to quiet her and the court announced that she must not interrupt Colonel Wynne again. After that the defendant was quiet.

As the trial proceeded there were several exciting passages. For instance when Judge Seay's questions had become rather personal, Colonel Wynne concluded one of his answers by the remark:

"And I have a contempt for you." This was addressed to Judge Seay. Both the witness and the cross examiner are old Confederates and a moment later Colonel Wynne said:

"I desire to apologize for my remark that I have a contempt for you, Colonel Seay." Judge Seay arose and replied: "Keep your apologies to yourself. I do not care for your apologies and I do not care for you."

There the incident ended, as Colonel Wynne did not press the matter. WYNNE'S TESTIMONY On direct examination Colonel Wynne testified to the following:

"I have lived in Fort Worth and practiced law here for twenty years. I am acquainted with Mrs. Nellie Hoskins, who is here charged with conspiracy to defraud a railroad company by suing and obtaining a judgment for damages claimed to be due by reason of injuries alleged to have been sustained by her son, Oran Hoskins. I conferred with Mrs. Nellie Hoskins in regard to this case early in the summer of last year--in the latter part of June or in July.

"She came to my office and asked me what--" At this point Judge Seay arose and asked permission to interrupt the county attorney and propound a few questions. Permission was granted. Judge Seay asked the witness if Mrs. Hoskins was not a client of his on the occasion mentioned. He replied that some eighteen years ago he represented her in a land case in Panola county, and later represented her in an insurance case after her husband's death. Judge Seay then objected to the testimony on the grounds that Mrs. Hoskins was the client of Colonel Wynne and a lawyer could not be permitted to disclose what passed between a client and himself in the privacy of a consulting room in the said lawyer's office.

Judge Smith said that he considered this case an exception and would overrule the objection. Judge Seay asked that his

QUEEN IS CROWNED AND THE FREE FALL FESTIVAL IS FORMALLY OPENED

BEAUTIFUL CEREMONIES MARK OPENING OF CAR-NIVAL AT THE STADIUM--THOUSANDS WITNESS THE EVENT

KING PRISCUS HERE

Whistles Blown in Honor of the Distinguished Guest Who Arrived Promptly at Noon Today

The crowning of the beautiful queen of the carnival was the main feature of the opening of carnival week last night at 8 o'clock, within the enclosure of the Stadium, and the event was witnessed by at least 1,500 people, who had preceded the royal procession at least an hour. At the hour named the queen, accompanied by her retinue of attendants, trumpeters, etc., entered the main roadway to the Stadium and proceeded on to the platform in the center of the enclosure, followed by Mayor T. J. Powell, Assistant Adjutant General W. N. Wooten of New Orleans, on the staff of Commander-in-Chief Fayssoux of the National Sons of Confederate Veterans' Association; R. E. L. Costan, quartermaster on staff of Division Commander W. P. Lane of this city, the two latter being the chief escorts.

Then came the cushion bearer, little Charlotte Clayton, and the flower girls, George Colvin, Ethel Ramage, Mae Armstrong and Frie Nunnally. The latter scattered the pathway of the queen with beautiful flowers.

When the royal party had been comfortably seated on the platform the queen called upon Sir Knight Mac Templeton to read her proclamation. When the reading of the proclamation was ended Mayor Powell, in his usual pleasing manner, turned the keys of the city over to the queen, and handed her a beautiful bouquet of brides' roses and ferns, as the compliments of one of the chief escorts.

When these ceremonies had ended the opening of the festival was complete. The line of march was then taken up, the Penitentes, under command of Captain B. C. Carter, acting as escort to the queen and party, which later made up a box party at Greenwall's opera house to witness Tim Murphy and company.

ARRIVAL OF THE KING Promptly at 12 o'clock today every locomotive whistle in the Fort Worth railroad yards was sounded, announcing the coming of King Priscus on his special train.

The king arrived on the Cotton Belt. He rode in the private car Texas Ranger, and was accompanied by the reception committee composed of General Tiller, W. M. Austin, George L. Gause, W. A. Alvey, R. R. Durrach, J. A. Bennett and W. S. Miller. There was a large crowd at the station. The various bands in attendance on the carnival were present and as soon as the king's train arrived all began to play.

Mayor Powell received the king as he stepped from his royal coach, and with R. E. L. Costan, one of the escorts, and the mayor, the king passed through the crowd of his subjects and entered a carriage in waiting, occupied by the queen of the festival and W. L. Wooten of New Orleans, assistant adjutant general of the United States of Confederate Veterans.

A line of march was formed, led by a squad of police. It consisted of Lacombe's Union band, the carriage occupied by exception be noted and at several other points in Colonel Wynne's testimony he took similar exceptions. WYNNE PROCEEDS Colonel Wynne proceeded with his story.

"She asked me on this occasion that, supposing a young man of 23 or 24 years should get so badly hurt that he would lose the use of himself and his mind, in an accident on a railroad, how much could he recover. I replied that if the accident was not due to his own negligence he ought to get $50,000. Then she went away."

"A few weeks later she returned. This time she asked how suit would be brought in a case like the one she mentioned, and I told her that it would have to be brought through a guardian or by next friend. If the young man was rendered incapable by his accident, I asked her if she knew of such a case as the one she described. She replied: 'I'll see you later.'"

At this point Mrs. Hoskins interrupted with the remark quoted in the foregoing. "The next time I saw Mrs. Hoskins was at her residence," continued Colonel Wynne. "I went there in response to a telephone message. In front of the house I left my son in my buggy. Oran Hoskins and his mother were in the room. I bade them both good evening. Oran Hoskins told me he was going away on the 9:30 train that evening. He asked me what a young man could do to recover if he were to get hurt by a grain door falling on him. I replied that it would depend upon how badly he was hurt. I asked him what he meant, and he replied, 'You'll understand.' I then told Mrs. Hoskins that I thought she was contemplating a fraudulent case and that I would not have anything to do with the case. 'You would better not talk to me about it,' I said.

SHE CALLED AGAIN "On the Monday following she again came to my office. She said: 'We are going through with that suit,' or 'We are going to carry that suit through.' I told her she was making a mistake. I told her she would be exposed; that her son was a bright young man and able to support her. She said: 'We want your help--just this time; we will try it this time, get a start and then quit.' I told her that I would not have anything to do with the case for all the money that was ever dug out of the earth. She then asked me the way to Bob Carlock's office and left. As soon as she was gone I called Mr. Bowlin."

At this point a controversy arose in regard to where Mr. Bowlin was at the time Mrs. Hoskins was having her alleged conference with Colonel Wynne. The testimony was that he was in his office and that Mrs. Hoskins was compelled to pass his door in departing from Colonel Wynne's presence.

"This visit was on the Saturday before you saw the account of accident in the paper?" asked Mr. Lattimore. Colonel Wynne responded that the accident was reported to have occurred the Thursday following.

Some questions in regard to a telephone communication between Mrs. Hoskins and Colonel Wynne then followed. "She asked me what Mr. Bowlin meant by saying what he had said to Mr. Carlock. I told her I did not know what he meant, but that he knew all I did," said Colonel Wynne.

"Were you ever employed by Mrs. Hoskins?" (Continued on Page Eight.)

the king and queen, the ladies' band of Nocoora. The march was up Main street to the Worth hotel, where the royal visitors registered for a stay during the carnival.

The identity of the king is to be unknown until the grand ball. There was music by the bands, cheers and shouts.

A BAND OF YOUNG LADIES There is in attendance upon the carnival the Lone Star Ladies' Cornet band of Nocoora, Texas. It is of sixteen pieces and is a new organization, formed in June last. John J. Gecks, a band master of Gainesville, is the instructor of the band and accompanies them. The young ladies, and each and every one is young, are attired in uniforms of red. The members are Misses Grace Wilson, Jennie Cochran, Alma Russell, Laura Womack, Eula Moore, Eva Matlock, Oba Fetherree, Hattie Ute, Mabel March, Pearl Cook, Laura Matlock, Hattie Harper, Mattie McIntyre, Sallie McIntyre and Vay Horton. T. D. Barton is manager of the organization and Mesdames Ella Barton, R. B. Clark and Laura Campbell are chaperoning them. They make excellent music, and will be quite a feature of the carnival.

THE MATINEE WEDNESDAY The matinee at Greenwall's opera house tomorrow will occur at 2 p. m. This early hour is announced because the flower parade will be held at 4:30 o'clock, and it is desired to have the matinee close in time to allow all to see the parade. The Gagnon-Pollock company will present "The Dice of Death." This company will open an engagement tonight in repertoire.

TWO SPECIAL TRAINS The railroads brought in quite large crowds of people today. There were two special trains, one over the Rock Island from Jacksboro, Graham and Bridgeport, and one on the International and Great Northern.

Over 500 people came on the Rock Island special and in the neighborhood of 600 on the International.

MILLIONS ARE HAULED IN A FOUR WHEEL CAB

(By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, Oct. 6.--The city tax receipts for the first day of the annual collection have amounted to $10,225,000. This great sum was borne after night in a rickety four-wheeler to a bank in Wall street. The treasure was guarded by four policemen, some of whom were seated within the vehicle, waist deep amid bundles of checks and bags of currency. It was said to have been the biggest first day payment the tax office of Manhattan borough ever had, regardless of the fact that most of the large property holders failed to appear. The rush was due to an extra allowance in the way of rebates.

SETTLERS FROM THE SOUTH FOR THE NEW REALM

M. LeBaudy Would People His Empire in Liberia With American Negroes

(By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, Oct. 5.--The secret of M. LeBaudy's attempt to found an empire in Africa is out, says a Herald dispatch from London. The Daily Mail today asserts that the young French millionaire, who is now in London on business, desires first to obtain the consent of the European powers who claim to have influence over the territory on which he has designs, to establish along the northwest coast of Africa an empire larger than Rhodesia, to be entitled the United States of Liberia. Here, it is alleged, he proposes to found a state peopled by negroes from America, especially from the southern states, who would receive grants of land and be encouraged to found a country of their own. If M. LeBaudy obtains all the territory he desires he will have a country rich in minerals, India rubber and coffee.

LOCOMOTIVE IS WRECKED BY A CHARGE OF DYNAMITE

HELENA, Mont., Oct. 5.--The Northern Pacific suffered again last night from the work of dynamites. When an extra westbound freight was three miles west of Birdseye, a station eight miles west of Helena, an explosion occurred. A portion of the track was destroyed and the pilot and headlight of the engine were blown off. The engineer stopped the train in time to prevent its being ditches.

No one was hurt, but the roadbed was damaged and freight trains were tied up until repairs could be made.

News of the outrage was received here by the railroad detectives early today, and a special train left for the scene at once. Chief of Detectives McFetridge was in charge of a party composed of several detectives and six bloodhounds were taken

In the good old days the sexton announced a death in the community by a stroke on the church bell for every year of the life that was gone. People expected, then, to live to old age, and speculation at the first tap of the bell took a narrow range including only those who had lived the allotted time. There is no reason why people should not have the same expectancy of age to-day, except for the neglect and abuse of the one organ on which all the other organs depend—the stomach. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery enables men and women to be strong and healthy, by curing diseases of the stomach (and other organs of digestion and nutrition), which prevent the proper nourishment of the body.
 "I had been sick for two years with indigestion and nervous debility, and had taken medicine from a family doctor for a long time without much benefit," writes Mrs. W. H. Peck, of Lucknow, S. C. "I was induced by my husband to consult Dr. Pierce by letter. You advised me to take 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Favorite Prescription,' which I did, and, to my great surprise, after taking six bottles I was cured."

LAWTON LIKELY TO HAVE BOOM

Interest in Gold and Silver Mines Draws Thousands to Wichitas

W. R. McLaury, formerly an attorney in this city, now living in Oklahoma; is in the city for a few days' visit.
 Mr. McLaury is located twenty-nine miles west of Lawton, and reports that country dry as can be during the entire summer. Consequently the country is not in the best of shape. However, a fine crop of wheat and oats was made, but nothing else. The Judge says that despite the fact that the season has been very dry the health of the territory, that is, that portion around Lawton, has been exceptionally good.
 Referring to the prospects of that country developing into a great mining district, Judge McLaury said that everyone believes that it will be as great a mining country as any in the West. People, he says, are flocking to the Wichita Mountains by the hundreds, and as a result the country is rapidly settling up. Miners are flocking to the district, but few of them have located claims, as the government has not as yet made its ruling on the rights of mine entries over those of the homeseeker. This question has been before the department at Washington some time and an opinion is awaited with deep interest. On this ruling of the government depends, to a great extent, the settlement of the district as a mining camp. That there is good paying ore, both gold and silver, is an undisputed fact, and already several companies have been organized to develop claims. There are reduction works established in the district and others are to be erected at once.
 Judge McLaury says there is great excitement over the discoveries of good paying ore, which is said to be of the very best quality. He says reports are constantly coming in from the district of gold finds.
 Another proposition that the people generally of the Oklahoma country are deeply interested in is the prospective opening up to settlement of the 510,000 acres in the Comanche country. The tract is divided into three separate divisions, two of which are timber and the other pastureland.
 The matter is being looked into by different members of congress and Mr. McLaury says the information has come from the department that indicates the reservation will be opened up during the coming year. Secretary Hitchcock made a visit to the country to be opened during the past summer and he expressed himself favorably to throwing the reservation open to settlement, and it has been on his recommendation that the country is to be opened.
 Judge McLaury says that when the reservation is ready to be settled there will be another boom in the Oklahoma country similar to that when the opening occurred two years ago. "It will bring thousands of people to the Oklahoma country," said the judge. The country to be opened to actual settlement is said to be among the very best in that territory, and will be the means of attracting large numbers of people who are in the market for homes.
 Judge McLaury is very much interested in the building up of the territory and always has a good word for that section of the country. He will remain in Fort Worth several days on legal business.

J. L. Anderson of the North Side Files Suit Against Swift & Co

Nash Furniture company.
 J. L. Anderson versus Swift & Co., a suit for personal damages in the sum of $2,000, was filed in the district court this morning by plaintiff's attorney, S. O. Jones. His petition alleges that he was employed with Swift & Co. in the capacity of a cattle knocker, his duties being to knock down the cattle as they entered the packing house preparatory to being slaughtered. He was hurt last March in trying to separate a bunch of cattle which had become mixed with other cattle not ready for the killing room; that he was sent down to the pens in which the cattle were and given directions by the foreman to separate them; that he carried with him a long prod pole and when he entered the pen one of the animals in some way threw him against the pen, causing the pole which he carried to strike him in the eye and lacerate his face and head, and that he also sustained injuries about the back and spine that time has been unable to work and has been confined to his bed a greater portion of his time.
 VISITS HIS SON'S FRIENDS
 W. A. Lummis, father of Sam Lummis, who committed suicide on the North Side last month, visited some of his son's friends yesterday. Mr. Lummis came up to further investigate the death of his boy and if possible learn the cause of his rash act. Mr. Lummis said yesterday: "I have five boys and it has for a long time been my custom to give each of them $100 every year. I had paid the boys at home their money and had instructed my daughter to write Sam that his money was ready for him and for him to come home and make a short visit and get the money. We did not hear from him until I received a telegram stating that he was dead.
 "I just made a short trip here," he said. "To talk to some of his friends and see if any of them knew the cause of his dependency."
 Mr. Lummis returned home today.

STORM HEAVY AT TULSA

Sunday's Downpour Was Accompanied by a Heavy Wind
 (Special to The Telegram.)
 TULSA, I. T., Oct. 4.—Shortly after 3 o'clock this afternoon one of the most violent storms of recent years visited this district. The temperature fell several degrees in a few minutes. Rain began to fall and with it came a powerful wind. The rain and wind raged for three-quarters of an hour. There was great damage to property in town. Reports from the surrounding country have not yet come in.
 The implement house of Cline & Charter, on Main street near the Frisco track, was blown into the street. The loss has not yet been estimated. ARE YOUR KIDNEYS WEAK?

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

To Prove What the Great Kidney Remedy, Swamp Root, Will Do for YOU, Every Reader of The Telegram May Have a Sample Bottle Sent Absolutely Free by Mail.

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.
 The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work.
 Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected, and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.
 If you are sick or "feel badly" begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince any one.
 Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for many kinds of diseases, and if permitted to continue much suffering with fatal results are sure to follow. Kidney trouble irritates the nerves, makes you dizzy, restless, sleepless and irritable. Makes you pass water often during the day and obliges you to get up many times during the night. Unhealthy kidneys cause rheumatism, gravel, catarrh of the bladder, pain or dull ache in the back, joints and muscles; makes your head ache and back ache, causes indigestion, stomach and liver trouble, you get a sallow, yellow complexion, makes you feel as though you had heart trouble; you may have plenty of ambition, but no strength; get weak and waste away.
 The cure for these troubles is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the world-famous kidney remedy. In taking Swamp-Root you afford natural help to Nature, for Swamp-Root is the most perfect healer and gentle aid to the kidneys that is known to medical science.
 If there is any doubt in your mind as to your condition, take from your urine an rising about four ounces, place it in a glass or bottle and let it stand twenty-four hours. If on examination it is milky and cloudy, if there is a brick-dust settling, or if small particles float about in it, your kidneys are in need of immediate attention.
 Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is used in the leading hospitals, recommended by physicians in their private practice, and is taken by doctors themselves who have kidney ailments, because they recognize in it the greatest and most successful remedy for kidney, liver and bladder troubles.
 If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at the drug stores everywhere. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.
 (Swamp-Root is pleasant to take.)

SPECIAL STREET CARS FOR THE SHOP GIRLS
 NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—The Fulton street merchants in Brooklyn have petitioned the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company to have special trolley cars assigned for the use of their employees at the time for closing the stores at 1 o'clock. Within a few blocks of the thorough hall about 5,000 saleswomen are employed by the big department stores. The merchants want the company to have from fifty to seventy-five cars waiting for their accommodation in the vicinity of the hall. The employees want to march from the store in a body.
 The cars which pass up the street at that hour invariably are crowded to the limit, so it is not possible for the clerks to get aboard, to say nothing of getting a seat. Many of the girls are compelled to wait a long time or take long walks to some less crowded place before they can get on a car.

WINCHELL TELLS FRISCO'S PLANS
Road Will Specialize in Carrying Coal and Lumber Over Its Line

Regarding the combined interests of the Rock Island and the Frisco railroads, Vice President and General Manager Winchell of the latter road has just outlined two important plans that the combined system has under way. He tells them as follows to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat: "On the Frisco system we have coal at seven or eight points, far apart, but each near an important market. Our most important coal supply is obtained on the lines of eastern Illinois and in Greene and Sullivan counties, Illinois. It is the coal from these two counties that will be carried into the northwest. We believe that with the advantage of several hundred miles in our favor we should be able to make the tonnage pretty heavy—say, well in excess of 1,500,000 tons per annum. Previous to the purchase of Frisco by the Rock Island there was no trade in coal from this territory into the northwest. The Hocking Valley grades hold the market today. They reach the northwest by water and rail, from West Virginia and Ohio. By the purchase of the Evansville we reach a grade of coal that we believe will finally supersede the Hocking Valley grades up there."

COAL FOR NORTHWEST
"The northwest is a great coal-consuming country. The cold weather lasts long. There are great manufacturers. They all use coal, and nearly all use soft coal. The domestic supply of coal is necessarily heavier than what is used for the factories, etc., and it is to this demand we shall cater above all others. It is not to be understood that there is to be any invasion of the northwest. It is simply and solely a carrying out of the natural law that the nearest source of supply will be called upon in the long run to supply the demand, either in coal or in any other staple. We expect no sudden and sweeping change. We look for a gradual development of traffic toward the northwest in coal from Green and Sullivan counties. That is all."

"We carry Alabama coal to Memphis, Arkansas coal to the agricultural regions southwest and to Kansas City, and will carry Illinois and Evansville coal to St. Louis when the new cut-off is completed. In every case it is the nearest coal field supplying the wants of the region supplied."

SPECIALTY IN LUMBER
"The St. Louis and San Francisco is specializing on the lumber traffic. That is partly because we consider it about as good all-year-round tonnage as there is, and partly because when the system is completed we shall be carrying the principal part of our grain freight into and through lumber territory, and we know of no better return tonnage than lumber. We reach the southern timber belt in Arkansas, eastern Missouri, and by means of the Rock Island lines and local lines recently purchased by the Frisco, in Louisiana and Texas. We are not yet receiving by any means all the lumber tonnage that we expect to get—or rather that we shall get—from the Kirby limits. Attention is at present in position to bid for this traffic better than we can. There are, however, a great many mills on Southern Pacific lines along the gulf, and the lumber from these mills will come north over the Rock Island and Frisco lines in great part."

FRISCO EARNINGS
The following financial statement of the Frisco Railroad company, just issued from St. Louis headquarters, shows the company to have made satisfactory earnings: August, 1903—Miles operated, 4,862.22; gross earnings, $3,197,931.73; operating expenses, $1,959,442.57; net earnings, $1,238,489.16; miscellaneous income, $11,252.32; total net income, $1,250,741.48; taxes, rent and fixed charges, including guarantees July 1 to August 31, 1903—Miles operated, 4,851.09; gross earnings, $6,082,158.92; operating expenses, $4,759,053.33; net earnings, $1,323,105.59; miscellaneous income, $71,621.99; taxes, rent and fixed charges, including guarantees on stock, $1,683,662.61; surplus, $712,053.97.

GOULD LINES CONSOLIDATION
George J. Gould has made the announcement that he has a plan under consideration for the consolidation of all the Gould companies into one securities-holding corporation. The stockholders of the railroads controlled by Mr. Gould have been notified that a plan in compliance with the above will be submitted to them for their ratification. Inasmuch as the Gould family and affiliated interests own control of all the roads in the Gould system, there is little doubt of a prompt endorsement of the plan proposed.

The Gould system now comprises some 17,000 miles of road, and important additions to existing lines are now said to be under way. The largest part of the system is west of the Mississippi river, and it is said the system is to be divided into two groups—western and eastern—for the purpose of convenience in operation. The western system is likely to include the Missouri Pacific, Iron Mountain, Denver and Rio Grande, Rio Grande Western, International and Great Northern, Cotton Belt and the Texas and Pacific, while in the eastern division will be the Washburn, Wheeling and Lake Erie, with its Pittsburgh extension, now under construction; the Ann Arbor, Western Maryland, West Virginia Central and Pittsburgh, and some small Ohio and Virginia lines, making in all about 4,000 miles of railroad. President Ramsey is practically at the head of all these eastern lines, and is rapidly welding them into a compact system.

The proposed consolidation of the Gould lines does not contemplate any additional issue of stock. A blanket mortgage may be spread over the properties, taking the place of the present bonded indebtedness of the different companies. New properties taken over will be paid for in new bonds.

Mr. Gould is said to have had this consolidation plan under consideration for two years, but until recently conditions have not been entirely favorable for its promulgation. It is said that George Gould has strengthened his financial position by his close affiliation with the Rockefeller and Harriman interests. This and other equally important steps have brought about the consolidation of the lines and made possible another step forward by one of the greatest railroad systems in the United States.

AN OLD-TIME PASS
W. F. McClure, general freight and passenger agent of the Galveston, Houston and Henderson, was in Fort Worth a few days ago and while in this part of the state came into possession of an old railroad pass which is a decided relic.

The pass was issued by the Texas and Pacific in 1873, just thirty years ago, when the yellow fever epidemic was at its height in Shreveport. The name of F. Shook appears on the pass, which is good for passage between Marshall and Shreveport.

Aside from its age, the pass tells a story of advancement in the ranks of railroad officials. The pass is signed by John F. Dickson, general superintendent, and countersigned by W. H. Newman, as general freight and passenger agent. Mr. Dickson is well known to Texans as the president of the Dickson car wheel works. Mr. Newman is now president of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern railway, with headquarters at New York.

NEW GENERAL MANAGER
The Houston Chronicle has the following to say regarding the reported appointment by President Harriman of H. G. Burt, now president of the Union Pacific, as acting general manager of the Southern Pacific, to succeed Julius Kruttschnitt, who will be relieved of the duties of general manager:

Mr. Kruttschnitt, it is said, will continue as fourth vice president and assistant to the president, which duties are sufficient to occupy his entire time.

The appointment is said to be scheduled to take place at the directors' meeting of the Harriman lines, to be held at Ogden, Utah, next month, and is offered in explanation of President Burt's many conferences with Mr. Harriman this summer and the frequent trips over the lines controlled by the Harriman syndicate.

MARSHALL
Construction Work on the Texas Southern Delayed by Rain

MARSHALL, Texas, Oct. 5.—The Texas Southern railroad has been very busy doing construction work during the past week. President L. E. Wasker stated to the Telegram's correspondent this morning that they had received twenty-four carloads of sixty-pound steel and that forty cars more were on the road to Marshall. This, he said, would be sufficient to replace the small steel now in use and to have the road laid with heavy steels from Marshall to Winshoro, a distance of twenty-four miles. The twenty-four carloads have been distributed along the road, and three miles of it laid in the place of light steel. There will also be enough to complete the extension to the south side of the city to the new depot grounds. Grading will be stopped for a few days on account of wet weather, but will be completed by November 1.

UNION OF THE CHURCHES

Judge Templeton Says He Sees No Reason for Failure of Proposed Plan
WAXAHACHIE, Tex., Oct. 6.—Judge M. B. Templeton returned Saturday night from St. Louis, where he had been as a member of a committee from the Cumberland Presbyterian church to meet with a committee from the Presbyterian church, the object of the meeting of the joint committee being to discuss and perfect plans for a unification of these two denominations. Judge Templeton says the two committees held a pleasant meeting and the deliberations throughout were entirely harmonious. He says that with the start that has been made, he sees no reason why the two great denominations should not unite their forces. Judge Templeton says there is yet much work to be done before final organization can be accomplished. The proceedings of this committee meeting must be reported to the different presbyteries of the two churches for ratification before the union can be made.

THEY ARE DIFFERENT NEGROES

Governor Northern of Georgia has something to say on the negro question, and he emphatically objects to deporting the black men. In his remarks he says:

"I have lived among negroes all my life, and I don't want to live where there are none. I will trust them in every relation far more confidently than I would the mongrel population of self-announced socialists, anarchists and outlaws who do the menial service of other sections. We do not want to deport the negroes and we would not if we so desired."

Such a sentiment is a tribute to a different class of negro than that which is in Texas at the present time. There was a time when the southern people would trust the negro with his home, his family and his gold. The negro of slavery days was such a character, and there is not a man living who remembers the days of the civil war but will echo the words of the distinguished Georgian. But times have changed. The negro as a general proposition is altogether different in the twentieth century. While there are some of his race who are worthy of good words, there are many who have brought the black people into disrepute because of the idle, shiftless characters which they have. They do not work, they produce nothing, they have little respect for law, and less for order, and a man would rather trust his family in a den of vipers than where one of these could exercise his own desires. It is this class of negroes which the south desires to have moved, transported or imprisoned. They are a menace to peace and safety. They will in some way be disposed of because the southern people will not live in terror of them.

NO NEED FOR ALARM

The Topeka State Journal believes there is some other mission for the Chicago University besides being the magnet to draw the Rockefeller millions from the safety deposit vaults. It has in training a corps of professors who are "sensational makers," and day to day shows another announcement from that source which is bordering on the alarming. There is no doubt President Harper has been shrewd in seeking and obtaining the endowment which Mr. Rockefeller has conferred, and thus was the great institution first brought into notice. Now it is noticed for other things. The State Journal says:

The reputation of the professors of Chicago University as sensation makers has reached to the farthest limits of the country. Evidently Chicago is tired of it for an editorial writer on the Chronicle discourses as follows on the latest "starliner":

In proportion to their numbers and the age of the institution professors of the University of Chicago can articulate more fully than the combined faculties of all American colleges. Iconoclasm is the dearest vice of the newest seat of learning.

Yesterday it was Shakespeare sent to sit below the master of the Tank. This morning Longfellow was cast out from among the poets, and tomorrow we are to fight with Germany. Professor Albion W. Small, who calls himself a "sociologist," is certain of it. He has just returned from the domain of the Kaiser and knows the dread inevitable.

It was prudent on Dr. Harper's part officially to promulgate an assurance that the institution is not responsible for articulations by its professors lacking the seal of the senate. Otherwise the university might be a synonym for bedlam. Professor Small is certain Germany is going to fight us on what may be designated general principles; she is alarmed at our advance and covets our trade in South America and the east.

It is hardly necessary for the United States to make preparations for this war, which has been discovered. The general public will not be convinced, that Germany has any such intention in mind, and it is certain that with America controlling to the extent she does the food and fuel supply of the world, that Germany would not attempt a contest on the sea or a passage at arms on land, especially terra firma so far away from the Fatherland.

Speaking of the vice president of the United States, the Kansas City Star says: "The constitution makes him the presiding officer of the senate, but since that body refuses him any authority, his only duty is to sit in silent contemplation of the senate while waiting for the president to die. This is an assignment which no competent man desires. It would probably have been better to leave the presidential succession entirely to the cabinet. To make anything out of the vice presidency as now constituted is practically out of the question." That is rather a mournful duty, which seldom results in success.

THE DELINEATOR FOR NOVEMBER

In the November issue, the Delineator sustains its recognized position as the foremost fashion publication and one of the high-class women's magazines. Excellent literary features and refined art supplement the display of winter fashions, which are more charming than at any previous time. In fiction there is the second installment of "The Evolution of a Club Woman," the bold narrative of a woman's experiences in clubdom, purporting to be fact; a clever short story by William MacLeod Ruess, entitled "An Unpromoted Engagement"; "An Interrupted Honeymoon," by Lillie Hamilton French, a pathetic incident of a little Yorkshire terrier; and a western story by Miona C. Smith. In the second of his remarkable photographic articles, J. C. Hemmett, the well-known illustrative photographer, relates some of his thrilling adventures with the camera. N. Hudson Moore has a strikingly-illustrated paper on "Carysanthemum," and in the "Midi" paper, Clara E. Laughlin writes of "Conflicting Tendencies" in early married life. "A House Small but Artistic" is pictured and described by Alice M. Kellogg, and in "Cautious and I," Miss Bradford tells the story of an old-fashioned Thanksgiving. For the children, there is a "Firelight Story," entertaining pastimes, an amusing story by C. V. C. Mathews, and a sewing lesson. In addition there are numerous articles by experts treating problems of the home and household.

Dr. Miles' Nerve Completely Cured Me.

Lucky the sufferer from nervous diseases whose symptoms are as plainly marked as those of Mr. Powell, as given below. Too often the symptoms are mistaken for some derangement of the digestive organs and the wrong treatment administered and continued until too late to make a change beneficial. Too many doctors make the mistake of trying to cure the symptoms instead of the disease. Dr. Miles' Nerve goes to the seat of the trouble, strengthens the nervous system, puts life and vigor into every muscle, every fibre, every tissue, every nerve cell. There is nothing so good for the nerves as Nerve.

"About four years ago I suffered from pains around my heart, and after the least exertion it would palpitate in such a manner as to cause me much distress. I had a feeling of oppression in my chest, was nervous, could not sleep, lost my appetite and flesh, had pains in back and shoulder, my food did not digest and I could not eat anything without causing distress. My feet were cold at times and I became exceedingly weak and all run down. I tried ten different doctors, one or two of whom gave me temporary relief. Finally I saw that Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve was advertised to cure sufferers from such nervous disorders as mine and procured a bottle. I am now permanently cured and I cannot say enough for the Restorative Nerve."—H. L. POWELL, Henderson, N. C. All druggists sell and guarantee first bottle Dr. Miles' Remedies. Broncho Jim, the Man from Missouri.....Mr. Tim Murphy John Barton, his friend, Congressman from Missouri.....Mr. John P. Wade Richard Darling, Postmaster General.....Mr. Wilber M. Roe Robert Penfield, a young American. Banker.....Mr. John Gorman Llewellyn Jack Manford of the Enfield Embassy.....Mr. Bernhard Niemeyer Lieut. Karl Baerhauptengraf of the German Embassy.....Mr. Wm. L. Gibson Senor Manuel de Castro, a promoter from Havana.....Mr. Elliott Dexter Henry, a servant.....Mr. J. J. Foley Silvio, proprietor of the "Rookery".....Mr. O. J. Griffin Mary Ashton, a friend of the family.....Miss Doris Dalton Mrs. Richard Darling, Miss Florence Davis Richard Darling's daughters: Charlotte.....Miss Louise Whitfield Margaret.....Miss Gertrude Dalton Senora Marco, a Cuban adventuress.....Miss Doris Dalton Helen Lentworth, Richard Darling's Niece.....Miss Dorothy Sherrod

Tim Murphy speaks one line in his new play, "The Man from Missouri," which justifies such a character being from that state, and that line is, "My ranch is on the line between Missouri and the Indian Territory, half in the territory and half in Missouri. I am half Indian and half Missourian."

Otherwise the character would be inconsistent, because there are no ranches in Missouri to turn out such men as "Broncho Jim." The play has to do altogether with Washington City. It is of the present because it has reference to an investigation of the postoffice department. It is entertaining because its central figure is a diamond in the rough, and such uncut stones always have entire attention of an audience, it matters not how small or how large. As Broncho Jim, the cowpuncher, Mr. Murphy brings into action much that is familiar in the bravery of the man out West, much that is gallant, and in his slow, dry humor, a characteristic, which is personal with him as an actor, he draws his auditors to him, so that from his first entrance as the rough and ready, to the last curtain, when he receives a great deal of applause, Mr. Murphy is a good actor, and although already a favorite here, he made many more admirers last night.

Mr. Dexter has the "heavy" part. He essays the character of a villain, and that he is hated by those who follow the action of the play is an indication that he is good. His dialect is good, his sneaking, villainous manner is true to what one imagines such creatures to be in real life, and throughout the entire action of the play he maintains a standard of efficiency which is commendable. His is one of the best parts of the piece, and it is to the credit of Mr. Murphy that at the close of the third act he divides the compliment of the curtain call with him. Mr. Dexter is a Texas product. Up to a few years ago he was a boy in Houston. This is his third season in the profession, and now, when he is scarcely past his majority, he shows such success that a future in the line of work he has adopted is assured.

Miss Dorothy Sherrod has the sweet, pretty part of the play, and she is the sweet, pretty girl one would have her. She was always attractive, and the season's passing does not appear to take from her any of the charm which she has always shown. That the western cowman should love her is but natural, because no man could resist such charms. There is a sincerity about Miss Florence Davis which attracts. While to all intents and purposes she is enamored of the Cuban adventuress, who seeks to enfold her in the folds of his villainous life, she is a devoted wife and responds to him only because he has persuaded her that her husband's safety is at stake. In all things she is a success, and her voice, her manner of speaking the lines and her expression all show the actress. The two young ladies, Misses Dalton and Whitfield, are delightfully charming, and there is so much of the real life about them that those in the audience sympathize that they have not better subjects for their love affairs.

The table scene in the third act, between Mr. Murphy and Mr. Dexter, is a very fine piece of stage business. Especially is this so of Mr. Murphy's expression, although only his profile can be seen.

The play is of the sensational order, filled with exciting situations and climaxes and was well rendered for this class of play. The specialties between acts were received with hearty applause by the audience.

MASON AND MASON

It is a pleasure to announce that Mason and Mason are sure to appear here in "Rudolph and Adolph." This is an attraction of a rather higher class than those usually labeled musical or farce comedies. Mason and Mason are very clever German comedians and the things they do and say are irresistibly funny, the more so because they appear to be unconscious of doing anything funny. The Masons are also good singers and dancers, their singing of German parodies on popular songs never failing to receive from ten to fifteen encores. In addition to the strong company supporting them, a large chorus of pretty girls also appears in the many specialties and musical numbers with which the piece abounds. Mason and Mason, in "Rudolph and Adolph," come to Greenwall's opera house Saturday, matinee and night, October 10. ELLIS & GREENE, Real Estate, 708 Main st. Phone 1922.

Has the Insurance Company Rejected You on Account of Kidney Disease?

DR. S. J. READE.

Dr. S. J. Reade of Buffalo, N. Y., Says More People Are Refused Life Insurance on Account of Kidney Troubles Than for All Other Causes Put Together.

Warner's Safe Cure

Secures Life Insurance for Thousands Once Rejected—"I Prescribe It in My Practice and Regard It as a Wonderful Specific in Kidney Diseases," he adds. Dr. Reade, a prominent physician of 1471 Seneca street, Buffalo, N. Y., who has been examining applicants for life insurance for years, states that more people are troubled with weak and imperfect kidneys than with any other form of disease, though few suspect the presence of kidney trouble. He emphatically adds Safe Cure is the most wonderful specific for kidney diseases known to science.

He writes: "For many years past I have prescribed Warner's Safe Cure in my own practice and with a marked degree of success. That is one reason why I believe so firmly in it. But my knowledge of its curative properties is not based alone upon my private practice.

"In the course of my work I have had occasion to examine thousands of people for life insurance. More were rejected on account of kidney troubles than for all other causes put together. Almost every other man has kidney trouble. Yet few suspect the presence of the disease when they came for examination.

"Many of those rejected returned later on cured and ready for re-examination and were accepted. I never failed to inquire as to the treatment used and almost without exception I was told that it was Safe Cure.

"From my own practice, from observation of the cases of a very large number of life insurance applicants, and from conversation with fellow physicians who prescribe Safe Cure, I can recommend it as a wonderful specific."

S. J. READE, M. D.

Kidney troubles creep into the system unawares. Before you know it they are deep seated. Do not neglect yourself if you have any of the following symptoms: pains in the small of the back, painful passing of urine, cloudy urine, a reddish, brick dust sediment in the urine after it stands 24 hours, pains in the back of the head and neck, rheumatic pains and swellings in any part of the body, eczema, drowsiness, loss of appetite; or if a woman bearing down sensation, painful periods, fainting and other so-called female troubles. These all tell you your kidneys have been diseased for several months, for outward symptoms seldom show themselves until the poison has penetrated the different organs and the danger point has been reached.

COLORADO CITY JAIL DELIVERY

Prisoner Held Awaiting Trial Makes Escape Easily

NEWS OF WEST TEXAS

Col. C. S. Slaughter Sells 4,000 Head of Cattle—Sheep Becoming More Popular

COLORADO, Tex., Oct. 5.—A considerable sensation was created in town this morning from the announcement of the escape from jail of a county prisoner early Saturday night. The prisoner who made his escape was Ben Gray, who had been in jail since June on a charge of criminal assault. Saturday evening about 8 o'clock some one unfastened the window screen, raised the window and went into the sheriff's residence, which is the lower story of the jail, and got possession of the jail key from one of the bureau drawers, where the sheriff usually kept it, walked up the jail steps, deliberately opened the jail door and let Gray out, who seemed to be ready and looking for some one on such a mission. The door was again locked, still retaining the other three prisoners behind the bars, and the key left on the window-sill down stairs, through which the accomplice had a few moments before entered to secure the key.

CHILDRESS

Denver Road Plans Construction of Another Big Reservoir

CHILDRESS, Texas, Oct. 5.—Superintendent Welsh of the Denver road has moved his office from Fort Worth to Childress. This move will add several families to the population of Childress.

The Denver road last Friday located the site for another dam for the storage of water. The reservoir, when completed, will hold several times the amount of the present reservoir of the road at this place.

A heavy rain is needed in this section. The farmers are not able to sow as much wheat as they would like to, on account of the dry weather. Stock water is also getting scarce.

Cotton is turning out better than was expected for awhile. The boll weevil has not made their appearance in this section of the state, and it is claimed by experts that as there is no timber for the weevil to winter in the pest will not thrive here. Cotton is one sure crop of this section, and if the boll weevil does not thrive here our farmers are to be congratulated.

Chief Dispatcher Neil of the Denver road has resigned, the same to take effect as soon as the road secures another man to take his place.

Abe Mulkey began a revival at Childress last Friday night. The meetings are being attended by persons from many miles in the country. At this writing the meetings have become very enthusiastic and large crowds are present at each service.

FOR BRIGHTEST FICTION

"Just get The Delineator"

The cleverest story writers assist in making The Delineator's pages entertaining. In November Lillie Hamilton French tells of "An Interrupted Honeymoon"; Minna C. Smith of "The Little Mail Carrier"; William MacLeod Raine of "An Unpremeditated Engagement"; and then the serial story, "The Evolution of a Club Woman," about which everybody is talking, is continued.

FOR HOUSEHOLD HELPS

"Just get The Delineator"

"Household Helps" is a trite expression. Far from trite are the helps continually offered in The Delineator by able writers who suggest new thoughts in cooking, happy arrangements in furnishing and short cuts in all branches of housekeeping.

FOR WOMAN'S SOCIAL DOINGS

"Just get The Delineator"

Woman's clubs, her entertainments, her obligations to society, and her various occupations, are delightfully treated from various view points.

For Children's Stories and Pastimes

"Just get The Delineator"

The Delineator's juvenile stories can be really enjoyed by children who read or are read to. The many suggestions offered keep little hands amusingly occupied, and teach while they amuse.

FOR ATTRACTIVE ILLUSTRATIONS

"Just get The Delineator"

The world's best illustrators make the Delineator's pages attractive. The second of J. C. Hemment's remarkable photographic articles, an uncommon story of Mr. Hemment's uncommon doings, is in the November number, and the work of Guerin, Rosenmeyer, Keller, Ashe, Lowell, Aylward, Leyendecker and Eaton appears monthly.

REGARDING A RECENT TRIP MADE OVER THE NEW YORK CENTRAL

Charles Buttell Loomis writes:

"Allow me to tell you what a pleasant trip I had over your lines. With a good book and with the country that lies outside the window panes to look at and the characters that sit alongside the same panes to study and the thought of the dining car, traveling is such a pleasant thing that I wonder the whole world does not travel all the time."

kings in connection with that suit?" asked Mr. Lattimore.

"No sir," was the vehement reply.

CROSS EXAMINATION

The cross examination then was taken up. Colonel Wynne said in reply to Judge Seay that the first conversation in regard to the case, between witness and Mrs. Hoskins, took place in the latter part of June or in July. He had told her that if the young man in the hypothetical case she stated was guilty of no contributory negligence he ought to recover $50,000. Judge Seay asked how long she talked with him on this first occasion. He replied that he did not recollect, but it was not over thirty minutes.

"Did she discuss a lawyer's fee?" "No sir."

"She talked the entire time about this hypothetical case?" "So far as I recollect, yes."

Colonel Seay, after dwelling on the length of time required to repeat the conversation, as far as Colonel Wynne reported it, took up the second conference. After going over the ground covered by

Mr. Lattimore, he again asked if there was any talk in regard to a lawyer's fee. "I have detailed to you all I recollect of the conversation," said Colonel Wynne. "This is the second time you have testified to these conferences," said Judge Seay. "Now, if there is any further statement made at these two conferences this is the time for you to tell about it. States it now."

Colonel Wynne replied that he had given all that took place so far as he knew.

THIRD CONFERENCE

The third conference—the one at Mrs. Hoskins' home—then was considered. "She wrote you a note to call at her home," asked Judge Seay.

"No, she telephoned," was the reply. The witness then went on to repeat his testimony as given in reply to Mr. Lattimore's questions. When he concluded, Judge Seay asked him if that was all he remembered.

"That is all I recollect."

"Didn't Oran Hoskins tell you he was going to Brownwood?"

"Yes."

"What time was it?"

"About 8 o'clock in the evening."

Judge Seay again asked if there was nothing else that transpired at the meeting, to which Colonel Wynne replied that he remembered nothing else.

"In Mrs. Hoskins' statement of the hypothetical case did she mention the name of any one?"

"No, she did not mention the name of any one, I don't see that that's material."

"It's a whole passed of material as to whether any one's name was mentioned," said Judge Seay sharply.

HIS ADVICE TO HER

"Did you advise her that she ought not to bring such a suit?" was asked.

"I did. I admonished her and told her that such a suit would never be made to succeed."

"Did she then ask you where Mr. Carlock's office was?"

"She did."

"Did she ask you who would bring suit for her?"

"She did, and I replied, 'You'll have to get Bob Carlock to bring that sort of a suit.'"

In answer to other questions Colonel Wynne stated that he had no idea Carlock would bring the suit, but that he did make the remark at that time to Mrs. Hoskins; he further said that he regretted making the remark and would not have repeated it in his testimony if he had not been pressed by Judge Seay. He went on to say that it was then that Mrs. Hoskins asked him where Carlock's office was and he replied by giving her the desired information.

"Did you ever tell before that you told her to go to Carlock's office?"

"No."

"Did you ever tell before that you told her where Carlock's office was?"

"Yes."

"Carlock and Gillespie were partners at that time?"

"Yes."

WHY HE KEPT QUIET

Judge Seay then asked some questions going to show by the answers the length of time that elapsed between the time of the accident and the time Colonel Wynne made his first sensational statement in the case. He brought out that the suit was filed some time after the accident, and that there was a hung jury and that later there was another trial in which defendant's son obtained a judgment for $35,000.

"And you never said anything about this until after the motion for a new trial was overruled?"

"As she told me everything, I naturally supposed she told Carlock the same thing. I didn't say anything for the reason that I thought Carlock knew; another reason was that I did not wish to figure in a sensation; another was that I thought it would be exposed without my intervention."

He went on to say that he went to Oscar Gillespie and told him what he knew about the case.

"He told me he would leave doubt my word as he would his mother's, and told me I ought to tell what I knew," said Colonel Wynne.

In answer to another question he quoted Mr. Gillespie as saying:

"I believe the boy's hurt and I'm going to stay with that woman till h— freezes over."

AT WYNNES RESIDENCE

Judge Seay then went back a year or so to the time Mrs. Hoskins paid a visit to Colonel Wynne's residence.

"Yes; it was the evening before I went to Beaumont—in May, 1901."

Mr. Lattimore objected on the ground that the question and answer were not material. After some argument, Judge Seay started on another line of questions:

"What was your motive for telling about these conferences with Mrs. Hoskins when you did tell?"

Colonel Wynne replied that it was a question of conscience with him, and that he was unwilling to go to his grave the custodian of such a secret.

"You never failed to get all you could out of the railroads, did you?" asked Judge Seay.

"All I could, honestly."

"What interest had you in this particular road?"

"None whatever."

"You got nothing whatever for making this statement and getting the judgment set aside?"

COLONEL WYNNES PRACTICE

Colonel Wynne then was asked if his business was not confined to that of bringing suits against railroads in personal injury cases. He replied that it was confined to such cases, but that his business in the main consisted of that class of cases.

SCHOOL BOARD IN REGULAR SESSION

The school board held a meeting yesterday afternoon and approved the pay roll of the teachers for the first two weeks of the session. This salary is to be paid after the council approves the action of the board and the warrants are ordered.

The teachers petitioned for a full month's pay because they were required to attend for two weeks at the institute prior to the school opening, but it was decided by the board that the funds on hand will not justify the expenditure. Some of the board were in favor of paying the amount if the funds would warrant it.

James Riley was appointed janitor of the Seventh ward building and G. W. Harris for the Sixth ward.

R. C. Armstrong petitioned the board to allow the children of persons living outside the city limits, who are taxpayers in the city, to attend schools without tuition. The petition was referred to a committee to have Mr. Armstrong show why such procedure should be followed.

A new room was provided in the Sixth ward and Misses Peacecock and Gardner were appointed teachers.

Misses Cora Russell and Bessie McFadden were appointed to fill vacancies in the Second ward, and Misses Aline Spencer and Mamie Beasley were appointed to fill vacancies in the Fifth ward.

J. C. F. Davis presented a petition asking the privilege of selling lunches and sandwiches to the children of the First ward at or near the school grounds. Referred to the principal of that ward, with power to act.

Curtains and shelves were ordered for the new room in the Fifth ward.

LITERARY MAN WOULD LIKE A SITUATION

The Board of Trade has received a letter from a gentleman in Indiana, making inquiry about the establishment of a factory in Fort Worth to make furniture. Captain Paddock, the secretary, has given the gentleman all the necessary information on the matter.

Another letter came from a St. Louis literary man, who wants to know of the Board of Trade if that organization would like to employ the service of "an up-to-date" writer to compile a book about the greatness of Fort Worth and her future. This inquiry, also was replied to, says the secretary, but he was unable to hold out anything that might look encouraging.

or a system, was maintained whereby to pay for such cases and to employ men to get such cases for the firm.

"This was objected to."

"Did you ever get anything before out of a railroad for settling a case in this way?"

"The first case of the kind in which he had figured."

"Is this the first case in which you have failed to get anything out of a railroad in a case of this kind?"

Colonel Wynne shook his head and looked ominous.

"Were you out on a fishing trip this year?"

"Yes; I went to Brady on a fishing trip."

"Who went with you?"

"Ross Bowlin."

SIX OR EIGHT PASSES

Other questions elicited the statement that Mrs. Wynne and her friends also went out on a trip, the total number of passes obtained from the Frisco road being six or eight.

Judge Seay then indulged in some sarcastic questions, during which he asked if the tickets were given by the Frisco, "for love and affection."

"Why did you ask them for the passes?"

"Because I wanted to go fishing."

Colonel Wynne stated that he could get passes from any of the railroads, notwithstanding the fact that he was continually bringing suits against them. "I have a pass from the city to my home and back over the Rock Island now, and only a few days ago I took a party, consisting of myself and three other men over the Texas and Pacific."

"Do you know why the Frisco gave you these passes?"

"I don't know, except that all the roads are willing to give them to me."

At this point Judge Smith asked Judge Seay how near through he was with the cross examination.

"About half way, your honor," was the reply.

As it was then 5:30, Judge Smith adjourned court till this morning at 9 o'clock.

Fort Worth Has the Largest Dancing Academy in the South

Prof. Harry Foote, its owner, is State Supervisor for the International Association Masters of Dancing, the Normal School Western Association of Dancing, and the Western Association of Dancing Teachers.

A person visiting Prof. Foote's Dancing Academy on Jennings avenue, and becoming acquainted with the business methods used in operating a first class school of instruction, would not be surprised at the immense business done at this academy. Mr. Foote believes that "he who teaches well, must first have learned well," and this fact is proven by three association certificates, or diplomas, framed and hung in the office of his academy, which tell of the rigid examinations he has passed in order to become a competent teacher.

A person posing as a dancing teacher without a certificate, is the same as a person practicing medicine without a diploma, and he would be called a quack.

Mr. Foote is one of our leading young business men and is connected during the summer months with the Northern Texas Traction company as manager of Lake Erie Park and pavilion at Handley.

Dances are given regularly every Tuesday and Saturday night at his academy.

Captain Cumble of the Salvation Army has in his charge a boy, 14 years of age, who is bright and able to work, and a girl, aged 20, who is able to work in a family. He is anxious to find homes for these two. His address is 303 Rusk street.

The families of twenty-six miners passed through here yesterday afternoon, en route to Bonanza, Ark. The party, consisting of women and children, arrived from Thurber at 4:30 o'clock in charge of Organizer W. M. Wardjon of the United Mine Workers. The husbands had gone in the party of three hundred sent from the Thurber vicinity by the United Mine Workers and having become settled in their new homes, the families go to join them. They remained several hours at the union station between trains.

The house committee of the Country Club has decided that there will be no usual Thursday night reception and dance this week. It is feared that the circus will be too heavy a counter attraction. On account of the Commercial Club dance on Thursday, October 15, the usual Thursday night Country Club party will be held on Tuesday evening, October 13. It is requested that the members will take proper notice of these changes in the dates.

The Telegram called on Chairman Henderson of the police committee of the council this morning to know if he had made any investigation of the affair of yesterday, which was fully reported in the Telegram yesterday afternoon.

Chairman Henderson replied: "I was at the police court this morning and heard the evidence in the case. The man was convicted. After that I went to the store of Mr. Edilbrook, where the affair occurred, and made inquiry of the proprietor and those employed there. They told me that not only was the language of the cripple abusive in the extreme, but that it was in a loud voice and at a time when ladies were passing. One lady was in the store and heard every word said, and it was as vile as a man's tongue could utter. Of course I know that a limit should be put on the use of the blivet by an officer, and I know that it does not look exactly right for a strong man to hit a cripple, but a cripple must be silenced in some way, when his language is too vile for the ears of ladies. I have sympathy for every man who is unfortunate, and as long as I am chairman of the police committee I will use my best efforts to see that every citizen and stranger, cripple or strong man, is properly treated. But what is an officer to do? A decent officer will not allow vile language in the presence of ladies."

GRIPPLE CURSES BEFORE LADIES

Chairman Henderson Making an Investigation of the Affair

"I have not abandoned the investigation, however, and if it is found necessary to put the matter before the committee I will do so."

Chief Rea was asked about the matter. He regrets it very much, but is undecided what he will do. His instructions are that the club shall be a last resort, and he does not care to have an officer use it. "Officer Clark, who is involved in this affair, is one of the best men on the force," said the chief. "He regretted his action the moment it was done, but he was exasperated and I suppose acted under the sting of heaping insult in the presence of ladies. I will look into the matter thoroughly, and whatever course should be followed, will be taken. We cannot very well spare an officer from the force this week, even if it was decided that the officer involved in the affair should be disciplined."

The cripple was tried in the police court this morning. He pleaded not guilty, and was fined $15 to which the costs will be added.
